Increase In Enrollment Necessitates Additions and Changes In Faculty

Departments of English, Science, History, Geography, Government, and Physical Education Were Flooded

TWO VACANCIES FILLED BY NEW MEMBERS OF FACULTY

Dr. Simpson of the English Department Has a Degree in Music Also

Marking the further progress of East Carolina Teachers College, five additional teachers have been added to the faculty. The increase in fall quarter enrollment has necessitated these additions. The new faculty members are Dr. Claude Mitchell Simpson, Miss Jessie Maek, Miss Rachel McKee, Mr. Paul T. Ricks, and Dr. Frederick P. Brooks.

Dr. Simpson comes to the English Department with an excellent record. He is only twenty-five years old, and among his distinctions already are a scholarship medal for highest scholastic college average at Austin College, 1927-1928; graduation with honors from Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas; his B.A. and Bachelor of Music degrees there in 1930; and his Ph.D. degree from Harvard University last week. Dr. Simpson is married and has one child several months old.

Miss Jessie Maek comes to the Science Department. She taught in this college last year while Miss Catherine Cassidy was away on leave of absence. Miss Cassidy has returned to the Science Department. Miss Maek has been studying this summer at Teachers College, Columbia University.

Miss Rachel McKee comes to the departments of History and Geography. She is a former student of this college, graduating here in 1922. Miss McKee has her M.A. from Peabody College. For the past two years she has taught in Copperhill, Tenn.

Mr. Paul T. Ricks, who conducted the tours from this college during the summer terms, comes to the Department of History and Government as Assistant Professor. Mr. Ricks is continuing his studies here.

Dr. Frederick P. Brooks, Greenville Physician, is serving as Assistant College Physician and will probably teach here during the winter quarter. Dr. Brooks came to Greenville last winter from Detroit where he served his internship in the Henry Ford Hospital. For a number of years he taught at the University of North Carolina. He is the only person on the faculty of this college who has two Doctor's degrees—those of Ph.D. and M.D.

Several changes, other than additions have been made. Miss Marjorie Patchell, of Denton, Texas, is teaching art in the place of Miss Ruth Bonowitz, who is on leave of absence for one year. Miss Patchell took her B.S. degree from North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, Texas, and her M.A. from Columbia University. Last year she taught in North Texas State Teachers College.

Miss Lucille Norton, Goodlettsville, Tennessee, is serving in the capacity of teacher of Physical Education, taught last year by Miss Sara Somerville. Miss Norton took her M.A. degree from George Peabody College in Nashville, Tennessee. She taught last year in Mississippi.

STUDENTS RECEIVE THOROUGH
PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

Freshmen are undergoing a more thorough physical examination this year than has been given them before. Dr. J. E. Nobles and Dr. F. P. Brooks, with the help of the infirmary nurses and student assistants, are giving the examinations each night at the college infirmary. The freshmen are asked to fill in blanks as to their histories, both individual and family. So far 132 women students have been examined. Men students will be examined later. Examinations are expected to continue for several weeks.

TOURS FEATURED IN SUMMER SCHOOL ARE POPULAR

Three New England-Canadian and One New York-Washington
Tours Have Capacities

STUDY CREDITS ARE GIVEN FOR TRIPS

Instructors Accompanying Tours Express
Approval

The educational tours which were begun at this college the past summer proved to be very successful. Due to the large number of students desiring to make the tour it was necessary to have four tours instead of one, as was first anticipated.

The tour as has been stated, was an educational excursion giving each student six hours of credit. Three courses were included. They were American Literature, Geography and History. Besides the conductor of the tour, the party included three instructors.

The first three tours were under the conductorship of Mr. Paul T. Ricks. The instructors included Miss Hooper for English, Mr. Cummings, Geography and Mr. Hollar, History. They went with the first tour which left June 12. The instructors on the second tour, which left July 18, were Dr. Flanagan, Miss Haskett, English teacher in the Greenville High School and Miss Hyman. The third party left August 16. Miss Haskett and Mr. Ricks were the instructors.

These three parties made a tour of all the coastal states from North Carolina to Maine. From Maine they continued into Canada, going as far north as Quebec. Each party was gone for eighteen days.

The fourth tour was to New York, spending several days in Washington. Mr. M. L. Wright and Mrs. Savage, critic teacher at the Training School, were the instructors.

The parties went by bus and cars and from all reports the trips were not only educational but very interesting and enjoyable as well.

SATURDAY NIGHT PICTURES
TO BE SHOWN AS USUAL

Machine Has Been Temporarily
Prepared Pending Definite
Decision of Committee

Picture shows will continue to be given in Austin auditorium each Saturday night at 7:00 o'clock. The machine has been repaired so that the pictures can be satisfactorily shown. An investigating committee has been working towards a solution to the problem but has not definitely decided whether a new machine should be purchased or whether the present one should be further repaired. A definite announcement will appear in the next issue of THE TECO ECHO.

The picture for Saturday night, October 12, will be "Anne of Green Gables," with Anne Shirley.

Parents and even grand-parents are now given the opportunity to take regular college courses and earn university degrees in afternoon study under a new adult education plan developed at the University of Southern California.

I would as lief poison people as tell untruths about them.—Bishop Woodcock of Kentucky.

Notice

Any freshman who has had an appointment for a physical examination at the college infirmary previous to this time, but who has not yet reported to the infirmary, is asked to do so at once.

President Meadows

Dr. Leon R. Meadows, who officially welcomed the freshmen to East Carolina Teachers College, enters his second year as president of this institution.

President Welcomes Freshmen to E.C.T.C.

Student Council and Y. W. C. A.
Cabinet Members Aid Freshmen
in Adjustments

The period of Freshman Orientation was brought to a successful close, following a program similar to that used in previous years.

Campus leaders, including the president of the Student Government, student Council members, the Y. W. C. A. President and members of her cabinet, and THE TECO ECHO and TECOAN editors met the new students and helped them adjust themselves.

The program for Freshman Week was opened Tuesday afternoon, September 24, by Dr. Howard McGinnis who spoke on the purpose of the special program that was arranged for freshman week, and urged the new students to take advantage of the opportunity offered them in their orientation. Dr. McGinnis then introduced President Meadows, who as the main speaker extended a cordial welcome to every student.

After the singing of songs under the direction of Miss Knykendall, the students were divided into small groups and made tours of the campus under the supervision of upper classmen who acted as guides.

BOYS DORMITORY ATTRACTS LARGE NUMBER CO-EDS

Coch Mathis Will Room With Boys and Assist Council in Its Work

Although a large number of men students here graduated or transferred credit to other colleges since the Spring quarter of last year, the enrollment reached a new peak this Fall with a total of about 130 men. It is thought that the new Men's Dormitory, adjacent to Ragsdale Hall, was a decided incentive for new students.

For the first two weeks, improvised sleeping quarters in the Campus Building accommodated about fifty students until the Men's Dormitory was thrown open on Monday. The capacity of the dormitory was reached early this week when thirty-nine men were transferred from the Campus Building. New furniture, including beds, (Continued on page two)

OLD INFIRMARY IS CONVERTED INTO PRACTICE HOUSE

Change Allows Jarvis Hall to Be United and Use Parlor for Socials

The building which was formerly the infirmary and later a Co-ed Club Room, has now been converted into a modern house containing a living room, private parlor, dining room, kitchen, six bedrooms and bath. The change was made that the Home Economics Seniors might have an even better opportunity for their practical work.

Previously the middle section of Jarvis hall was furnished as a home and served as the Practice House. The new location is an improvement for the Home Economics Department in that it is a separate building and it is an improvement for Jarvis students in that it affords them a parlor in that dormitory.

The new Practice House is still incomplete in its furnishings. Mrs. Bloxton, the supervisor, spent the past week-end in Richmond selecting furniture and other equipment. Evelyn Grimsley, Hattie Pearl Mallard, Bettie Cooper Davis, and Margaret Martin are living in the Practice House this term.

SOCIAL TRAINING COURSE
PLACED IN CURRICULUM

Topics Discussed on Classes
Are Determined by Students

For the first time in the history of this college, a course planned by the students is offered. The catalogue number is Home Ec. 100 and is popularly called by the students "Social Training." Miss Holtzel is leader of the class, rather than teacher. At each class period a different member of the faculty will conduct the discussion. Any question or topic which a student desires will be discussed at some time during the term. A question box has been made in which the questions are dropped for future discussion. There will be no set form as the class procedure, but it will be very informal.

The course is planned for the men students as well as for the women. The discussions will depend on the makeup of the class. Anyone who wishes to visit the class is cordially invited to do so.

The enrollment is at present eighty-one, but many other students expressed a desire to register for the course, and it is not too late to do so. The class meets the first period on Saturday morning.

The Oxford Union style of debate, first introduced at Oxford University, is attracting increasing attention in the United States. Swarthmore College was the first school to introduce the system into American intercollegiate debating.

LA ARGENTINA TO DANCE HERE SOON

STUDENTS EXCEED ACCOMMODATIONS

Infirmary Was Used As Temporary
Abode For the First Week

LARGE DORMITORY ROOMS
HOLD THREE STUDENTS

Many Transfers Register and Large Number of Two Year
Graduates Return

One thousand and sixty-three students reported for classes when formal class work began on Friday morning, September 27. This is the highest number ever reached during the regular registration period, and is in excess of the previous fall enrollment of approximately one hundred students. The students are still coming in and will continue to do so until Thursday, October 10, when registration will close.

Every room in every dormitory is being occupied. At first it was necessary for some students to stay in the infirmary, but they were later placed in the dormitories. Not only the dormitories, but the classrooms as well, are overfilled and due to the record enrollment several new teachers have been engaged.

Besides a large number of freshmen, there are many students enrolled who are transfers from other colleges and quite a few members of the two year normal class have returned also.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS MADE IN BUILDINGS DURING YEAR

Austin Hall, the Campus Building and Cotten and Fleming Hall
Parlors Boast New Touches

The classroom work was pleasantly surprised when they returned to college this fall and found that a number of improvements had been made in the buildings. Some are not yet complete, but will be finished soon. The floors in Austin Hall have been done over. They have been scraped, shellacked, varnished, waxed and polished; they now look quite new, with all the beauty of fine maple and the inlays of mahogany in the entrance hall showing through for the first time in many years. There are now floors of composition tiling in the south and west corridors of the first floor.

The basement of Ragsdale Hall is being completed, to be used as a boys' dormitory. The space, which has never been divided into rooms, will be made into such, and plumbing has been installed. In the eleven years that this dormitory has been built, this is the first time that efforts have been made to finish it.

In the Campus Building the floor of the auditorium has been cleaned, shellacked, waxed and polished. The floor base-boarding, and stairs in the lobby have been painted.

In Cotten Hall parlor the walls and floors have been painted. In Fleming Hall parlor the floors have been scraped, shellacked, waxed and polished.

The convention will meet at Duke University on November 7, 8, and 9 and speakers for the various programs are being arranged with careful consideration being given to the subjects to be discussed.

It is fortunate as two important officers of the Association, both the President and the Treasurer are Duke students, that the convention will be held at Duke this fall.

It is suggested that East Carolina Teachers College delegates reserve their week-end and arrange their other activities so as to attend this convention. Formal notice together with tentative program will be forwarded all members in the near future.

Famed Dancer's Appearance
Here Is Among the First of Her
American Performances

CASTANETS PLAY IMPORTANT
ROLE IN HER DANCE DRAMA

Monday, October 21, at 8:30 o'clock

Students are Admitted on Season
Tickets

La Argentina, Spain's most glamorous of dancers, fresh from new triumphs in Europe, South America and Mexico, comes once more to this country for personal appearances. She will appear on the stage of this college, Monday evening, October 21, at 8:30 o'clock.

New dances and new costumes play an important part in her forthcoming coast to coast tour in a program of fascinating Spanish dances. The vague for Argentina has made her this country's most outstanding box office attraction. All admit her the greatest personality and interpreter of the dance since Pavlova.

Although born in Buenos Aires, Antonia Argentina is a pure blooded Spaniard, born of an Andalusian mother and a Castilian father. La Argentina gained from her father, professor of the bolero, the advantages of early individual training, so that, at the age of nine years, she made her debut in the ballet of the Royal Opera, Madrid. Soon she became premiere danseuse classique of this theater. The binding routine of the classic ballet could not long withhold from the world a true genius of the dance, destined to revive the folk music of ancient Iberia, in dances of her own creation. She has mastered the words of Albeniz, Granados, De Falla—the great trio of composers who have brought to a higher level the folk songs of Spain.

La Argentina is truly the greatest player of the castanets. The small shell-like concavities, held in the palm of her hand, play an important role in her dance dramas. They obtain, in her hands, their most eloquent expressiveness.

The celebrated pianist, Luis Galve, will be her accompanist at the coming performance.

Priees for the general public will be $1.10 and $1.55. Students will be admitted on their season tickets.

N. C. C. P. A. PLANS
NEAR COMPLETION

Word comes from Phillip Russell, treasurer of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association, that D. K. Cloninger has not returned to High Point College and will be unable to attend to the duties as President of the Association. Lamont Brown of Duke University, elected first Vice President, automatically assumes the duties of the President and has gone forward with plans for the best convention in recent history.

The convention will meet at Duke University on November 7, 8, and 9 and speakers for the various programs are being arranged with careful consideration being given to the subjects to be discussed.

It is fortunate as two important officers of the Association, both the President and the Treasurer are Duke students, that the convention will be held at Duke this fall.

It is suggested that East Carolina Teachers College delegates reserve their week-end and arrange their other activities so as to attend this convention. Formal notice together with tentative program will be forwarded all members in the near future.

Notice

All students in school who are interested in newspaper work of any kind, and who would like to become a member of the Teco Echo Staff, please meet the editor in Room 25, the Teco Echo office, at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday night, October 9th. If for some good reason you cannot attend this meeting, please drop a note to that effect in the local mail. The note should contain your name, room number, and P. O. Box number. Address it to the Editor of Teco Echo, Box 182.

Students Graduating In Summer School

At the close of the summer school, August 23, 1935 there were sixty-eight graduates who were awarded either diplomas or certificates. The number of A.B. graduates was thirty-two while the number completing the normal course was thirty-six, showing that the two classes were nearly equal.

The names of the August graduates are given below:

BIT FOR FRESHMEN

To the students who have entered school here for the first time this year we would like to give a bit of advice. In the first place, we hope you are forming a favorable opinion of the life here. It is that you may continue to like it here that we caution you at all.

When you have stayed here the two or four years that your course requires you will stop to reflect upon what you have gained. First in your mind will be your friends. And so we would suggest that you form friendships slowly. Mingle with everyone now. Don't confine yourselves to the small group rooming near you, or the other girls here from your town, or a few girls with whom you have classes. Let the foundations for your selections be based on better reasons than those. Study people you meet. Give them time to prove or disprove the opinions you form on them. And meanwhile, test yourself as to whether or not you can be as good a friend to them as you are requiring them to be to you.

STAFF POLICIES

This year the aim of the staff will be first to present impartial, accurate news that will be of interest to all persons interested in the college itself, and second, to express in the editorial column those favorable criticisms which distribute praise where praise has been earned. But not only that. We feel that the students of this school are, as a rule, far too content with everything here. Too content in that they may see clearly the need for a change yet remain quite passive except for discussions in the privacy of their rooms. We shall attempt to rouse the students to the point that they will consider for themselves whether or not their initiative could improve their surroundings. It is not our purpose to recommend changes merely for the sake of changing, but to print substantial evidence indicating the need for remedial action.

May we take this chance of stating here and now that any criticism directed against the Teco Echo will be deliberated by the staff and will be considered a source of calculable suggestions for the betterment of our work.

AMERICAN YOUTH DOESN'T WANT WAR

We, the young people of today, are faced with a world preparing for war. Italy is rapidly forcing the issue in Ethiopia; Great Britain is rushing her navy to the Mediterranean, the United States is steadily increasing its military expenditures and following policies which threaten to plunge us into the maelstrom. The League is a peace organization in name but is powerless to avert war unless Italy retreats and Italy will not retreat as long as there is a possible chance to gain land and resources. War in Europe seems inevitable.

The United States must not be drawn into the mess. The young men of America are too valuable to waste in a squabble between selfish nations in Europe; American resources are too valuable to blow up in gun powder.

We feel the need for constructive and dramatic demonstration against the rising war tendencies of our nation. We must bear down strongly on peace education. We must demonstrate our determination not to be cannon-fodder for future wars.—From Northeast Missourian, N. E. Mo State Teachers College.

GOVERNMENT SERVICE AND HIGHER EDUCATION

According to a recent issue of the Indiana Daily Student, the University of Indiana will in the future train students in direct preparation for entering government service. As some of the faculty members prominent in the move have stated: "The rapid extension of governmental activities during the past few years calling for many new types of service gives it not only a new opportunity but also a new responsibility to our colleges and universities. . . . To some extent the success or failure of the government in the performance of these new tasks depends upon the quality of the personnel which can be trained and recruited from our institutions of higher education.

"For nearly half a century England, Germany, and certain other foreign countries have had a definite policy of recruiting persons for government service from their universities. In the United States, however, government officials have not turned to colleges and universities in filling positions in the public service. As a result, the educational institutions in this country have had little incentive to prepare persons for government positions. With the spread of the merit system whereby persons are selected for government positions and promoted on the basis of their ability, cooperation between government officials and universities become more important."

This move, if kept strictly on a technical and non-partisan basis, has everything in its favor, and its progress at the University of Indiana may well be noted by those following advanced educational ideals.—From Normal College News, Ypsilanti, Mich.

TEACHERS SPEND VARIED VACATIONS

With the good grace of Fate most of our faculty has returned, untainted and unhurt, apparently eager for another year of struggling with the impossible, and to all appearances, still alive. Although Miss Charleston gave everybody quite a shock by letting the report get out that she was dead. But as Mark Twain said, when the same was reported to him, it was "greatly exaggerated." She fooled Greenville by making her presence known here in September and to this day Miss Charleston is still very much alive!

Several of our teachers conducted classes on the various tours, all of which proved quite popular and successful. Miss Hooper, Mr. Hollar, Mr. Cummings, Mr. Ricks, and Dr. Flannagan took this interesting way of teaching and going places at the same time. Dr. Flannagan, while in Toronto, bought a Boston terrier, named him Ton-ton, and spent the other five weeks on his vacation teaching Ton-ton to play ball.

Mr. Wright conducted a tour to New York, returning by Washington.

Miss Casaidy did further study on her degree at Western Reserve University, in Cleveland. Miss Meade met her in Washington in September and they drove down, stopping in Roanoke Rapids for a short visit with Frances Newsome and Elizabeth Overton, who are teaching there this year.

Miss Greene spent most of the summer at her home in South Carolina, where her father was critically ill for a while.

Miss Gray has also been ill in a sanatorium in Asheville since the first of August. We are glad to report that she is much better now and that she is planning to return in November.

Miss Graham went in for interior decorating. During the latter part of the summer she and her sister remodeled some apartments in Warrenton.

Miss Bonewitz had planned to go to Europe in October, but present conditions in European politics will prevent her going before December.

Miss Turner did research work at Chapel Hill, spending most of her time in the library there.

Miss Davis spent a pleasant summer at her home in the mountains of North Carolina. She watched the development of a sawmill and the cutting of hardwood timber in a virgin forest near her home. Through the efforts of Miss Davis and her sister, a road leading to their home was taken over by the state and is now one of the best country roads in North Carolina.

Miss Williams played golf all summer at her home in Louisville, Kentucky.

Dr. Frank visited in New York City for two weeks and then visited his father in western Tennessee for two weeks.

Miss Lewis visited her sister in New York City for a month and spent much time at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Mr. Deal, Miss Hunter, Miss Coates, Dr. Haynes and Dr. Adams taught here both terms of Summer School.

Miss Newell spent part of her vacation at her home in Salem, New Jersey. She visited also Ocean City, Atlantic City, and Camp Back Log, in the Adirondacks.

Mr. E. L. Henderson completed the work for his Ph.D. at Teachers College, Columbia University.

Dr. Slay taught at Duke University the first term of summer school.

Mr. Picklesimer studied at Peabody and then spent a short vacation at his home in Tennessee.

Mr. Fort studied towards his Ph.D. and visited his home in South Carolina.

Miss Jenkins stayed in Washington with her brother, who was seriously ill.

Miss Holtzelaw studied at the University of Chicago.

Dr. ReBarker went to Black Mountain for a two-weeks vacation.

The reporter found it impossible to interview the members of the faculty who have been omitted.

Penn State frosh are PAYING for the privilege of being rushed by fraternities this year!

Contrary to the time-worn tradition, the freshmen are being assessed a fee of fifty cents when they apply for date cards prior to the opening of the rushing season. Non-payment of the fee results in deferment of pledging for thirty days—should the yearling be asked to pledge.

The fraternity coffers will profit to the extent of about $350 as a result of the new method, which has been successfully used at the University of Michigan and the University of Wisconsin.

Privilege is as unbecoming in a society of nations as it is in a well-ordered society of individuals.—Nicholas Murray Butler.

EXCERPTS FROM THE SERPENT

Here it is—the column you've been searching for—gossip, scandal, and teasings. Material not of educational value but of interest to the curious, the lover of publicity, the jealous, and the humorist.

The freshmen are so numerous around here that a senior was overheard making such a statement as follows: "I see so many strange faces that I am about to believe I'm the freshman." 'Tis a fact that the freshmen have common bonds of sympathy which cause them to become acquainted quickly. For instance they're all having hideous dreams of forthcoming initiations and that's a point. One of the survivors of last year's initiations remarked that they didn't think the society initiations were bad at all, that the upperclassmen just enjoyed seeing them scared half to death. Oh well, if they didn't mind being shaky, all's well and good. They'll probably have good ideas to submit soon.

Some of the freshmen have unusual degrees of nerve. The little girl who's so recently cut her hair, for instance, 'Tis rumored she has no doubt about being able to hold the strings on Allen dear. Wonder, though, if the strings are a large enough cable to withstand breaking?

Then there's the young fellow who dances so well, with movements more graceful than the man on the flying trapeze. He's absolutely the most generous person with his attentions. One second it's this one and the next second it's that one. He's breaking hearts by car loads. The question is "On which girl will he concentrate?"

Of all the coeds now loitering around, the two most charming personalities seem to be the two smallest in size. Whenever you see that jacket with the big bulldog on the back you notice also that it is surrounded by females. The same situation applies to the young man with the amazing dimples. Those two fellows are taking everybody's girl.

Here are two from the V. M. I. Cadet:

Then there's the Scotchman who bought only one spur. He figured that if one side of the horse went the other side had to go too.

Teacher: Mary, what have you got to be thankful for?
Mary: I'm thankful for pretty blue eyes.

Teacher: Johnny, what have you got to be thankful for?
Johnny (freckle-face, red hair, minus two front teeth): Teacher, I ain't got nothing to be thankful for. God, he done pretty nigh ruin't me.

Students are not alone in liking to see Saturday afternoon arrive. So inspiring was the end of the past week that the faculty members who live in Ragsdale Hall packed some food for supper and went out to Fornos Dance Hall. They cooked bacon and made coffee over an open fire. The rest of the menu consisted of ham, pickles, tomatoes, buns, marshmallows, apples, and bananas.

We hear that Rowena had successes of many kinds on her summer tour. Does anybody know whether she's decided on the date yet or not?

HEAVY LUNCHES MAKE HEAVY HEADS ON FIFTH PERIOD CLASSES

(By Associated Collegiate Press)
You'll dispense with heavy lunches if you want to be alert for your afternoon classes. That is, you will if you heed the advice of Dr. Donald A. Laird, Colgate University psychologist.

While on a recent visit here, Dr. Laird had this to say about the effect of eating large meals at noon-time:

"Our experiments showed conclusively that brain, or cerebral, anemia, caused by the digestive organs drawing the blood away from the brain, is the cause of the sluggish mental condition which afflicts office workers after the noon lunch period, and that this condition results in a definite impairment of the speed and accuracy with which their minds work.

"When the brain is adequately supplied with blood, and literally 'in the pink of condition,' mental efficiency tends to be at its highest point. When the digestive system is called upon to digest a heavy meal and draws upon the blood supply of the brain, mental efficiency is lowered."

Twenty Mount Holyoke College freshmen will be allowed to take only two courses this year under rules set down for a unique educational experiment there.

Sometimes when I am low in the mind I think I'll end it all, by getting married.—Talullah Bankhead.

assembled again in the Campus Building. Mrs. Spilman explained the student's relationship to the Treasurer and Dr. McGinnis presented the relationship of a student to the Registrar. After the college song and yells, the student officers were introduced.

Wednesday morning was devoted to Freshmen Registration. Wednesday evening at 5:30 the students were entertained by the faculty at a barbecue supper on back campus. On the same night at 7:30 the freshmen met for further information concerning rules and regulations. Miss Morton opened the program with a discussion of college customs and traditions. Ellen Jenkins, president of the Student Government Association gave an explanation of rules and regulations. Jewel Cole, chief marshal, made a short talk on the students' conduct at entertainments.

Thursday night the entire student body saw the motion picture "Wings in the Dark," which was given in Austin Auditorium.

Freshman week was brought to a close on Saturday night when the Student Council and the Y. W. C. A. entertained the Student Body and the faculty members at a party in the campus building.

Barrow and Smith Are Elected As Assistant Managers of 1935 Team

Robert Dowd, a senior from Mt. Vernon Springs, N. C., has been elected student manager of football.

Coach Mathis

Coach G. L. "Doc" Mathis is beginning his second year here as Athletic Coach and director of Physical Education for men.

SCHEDULE

C. Hubert Haynes, faculty advisor of football, has announced the following schedule for the season.

The other games are: Oct. 26, Oak Ridge here. Nov. 2, Louisburg, there.

NINETEEN HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIVE IS VERY AMBITIOUS YEAR

Work, for the night is fleeting, and you won't be this young forever.

Outstanding achievements in chemistry, physics, short-story writing and other fields of creative work were used by Dr. Lehman as basis for his "batting average."

Thirty-five is the big year for production, Dr. Lehman found, although important "hits" were registered by men as young as 18 and as old as 69.

Chemists reached their highest batting average between the ages of 27 and 39, physicists were tops between 30 and 34, and masterminds in mathematics between 28 and 38.

Dr. Lehman points toward inventor Thomas Alva Edison as a prime example. Between the ages of 33 and 36 Edison took out a total of 312 patents, more than a fourth of all those he received during his lifetime.

Japan will have an opportunity to see American football this autumn. A squad of 34 former college players, from Tulsa University, the University of Chicago and various Pacific Coast schools will play a series of ten games in seven Japanese cities.

It's impossible to get a college degree in Italy now without proficiency in military science.

COLLEGE MEN NOT GOOD SALESMEN

(By Associated Collegiate Press) Bournemouth, England—College men are too diffident and refined to make good salesmen.

(By Associated Collegiate Press) "For 99 per cent of salesmen in their daily work, the university man has no advantage over the secondary schoolboy," he believes.

"What use is a knowledge of Latin or Greek, or higher mathematics, to a salesman who is selling soap to a small shop-keeper—or, for that matter, selling steel to a motor car manufacturer?"

"It is easy to talk in platitudes about a liberal education, but every employer of labor knows that the possession of a good academic record is absolutely no guarantee that commercial success will follow.

"I was tempted to wonder whether an education which continued into the early twenties does not tend to fuddle the mind rather than sharpen the wits," he concluded.

JOKER DISCOVERED IN RULES

(By Associated Collegiate Press) Coach Charles E. Dorais of the University of Detroit has discovered a "joker" in the football rules that may prove to be more important than a casual reading of the code might indicate.

This is an apparent contradiction of the body of the rule which reads: "The ball is dead when a player in possession and control of the ball goes out of bounds, cries 'down' or is so held that his forward progress is stopped or (except the holder of the ball in a place-kick) when any portion of his person except his hands or feet touches the ground."

As Coach Dorais sees it, much will depend upon how quickly the referee blows the whistle when the ball-carrier is held by an opponent and is still on his feet.

"It may be necessary before each game to find out from the referee just how he is going to interpret the rule," he added.

ADD YOUR PLUS AND MINUS SAYS DR. JENNINGS

(By Associated Collegiate Press) You may be a genius in spite of the fact that your parents' I. Q.'s were a bit on the minus side.

The difference between the "un-bright" lad and the boy—yes, and girl—genius is decided, according to Dr. Jennings, through the play of "supplementary genes," each responsible for some trait of inherited character in the offspring.

In the game of genetic factors, the genes may cancel one another. The end product or individual may then be brilliant or the reverse, depending upon those genes which have not been eliminated from the game by cancellation.

PIRATES TO MEET WINGATE IN FIRST GAME OF SEASON

be a threat to any team. Stowe entered school here last winter and was a regular player on the basketball and baseball team. Cunningham, a freshman, is a punter and passer of great ability. These two men and Gibson will likely do most of the ball carrying this season. Ferebee, a letterman, will be used as fullback and blocking back. He was one of the outstanding players on last year's team. Other backs who have been showing up good in practice are Northcutt, Price, A. Smith, Ayers. Northcutt, a letterman, has plenty of speed and he will likely see plenty of action this season. Ayers was a member of last year's baseball team. Price and Smith are freshmen. Price has not seen much action in scrimmages thus far due to an injured leg.

Five of the positions are filled by lettermen. Johnson, at center and Sinclair and Carpenter at guard are taking care of the center of the line. Davis and Holland are at tackle positions. Both of these men are showing promise of some excellent work this season. Davis entered here last year from Appalachian State. He was a forward on the basketball team.

There seems to be some uncertainty about the ends. Of the five men out for this position, two are lettermen, Lindsay and Kapelle. The other two men with Chesson have been alternating on the first team. The first and second team as they now are: First, Lindsay and Kapelle or Chesson, ends; Davis and Holland, tackles; Sinclair and Carpenter, guards; Johnson, center; Ferebee, fullback; Stowe and Cunningham, halfbacks and Gibson, quarterback. Second, Hinton and Hattell, ends; Smith and Dennis, tackle; Jordan and Haten, guard; Ridonhour, center; Northcutt, quarterback; Ayers and Price, halfbacks and Smith, fullback.

The first team has an average weight of 174 pounds. The line averages 180 and backs 168.

COLLEGE EDITORS TAKE NOTE

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

Famed newspapermen and advertising experts from all sections of the United States and foreign correspondents from the news centers of the world will address college newspaper editors and business managers who will gather here next month for the annual convention of the Associated Collegiate Press, national college press association.

Heading the list of famed newspapermen who will speak at the convention sessions to be held in Chicago's famed Medinah Athletic Club, October 17, 18 and 19, are Leland Stowe, Paris correspondent of the New York Herald-Tribune and Pulitzer prize winner, and Carroll Binder, distinguished foreign expert of the Chicago Daily News.

Among the outstanding speakers who will speak at the roundtable sessions for the convention which has as its theme "Building the College Newspaper" are:

Harry B. Rutledge, managing director of the National Editorial Association; Dr. Ralph D. Casey, dean of the University of Minnesota school of journalism; C. D. MacDougall, editor of the Easton News-Index and lecturer in journalism at Northwestern University; Prof. Kenneth E. Olson, director of the Rutgers University school of journalism; and Chester Oehler, of the Lord and Thomas advertising agency.

The highlight of the convention will be the annual banquet of the Association to be held in the beautiful grand dining room of the Medinah Club on Friday, October 18. Grant Olson, advertising manager of the Sheaffer Pen Company, will be the principle banquet speaker.

Subjects to be discussed by the speakers range from the elements of advertising solicitation and news coverage to the latest developments in advertiser servicing and news photography.

Around Washington

By ARNOLD SERWER
(Associated Collegiate Press Correspondent)

Washington, D. C.—At least once a day the secretary of any government executive of a New Deal agency, no matter how minor his ranking, finds a dozen letters in his mail from recent college graduates, running somewhat in this vein:

Dear Mr. Gleep:
One of my friends, a Mr. Smith, who is a friend of a friend of yours, Mr. Jones of the Covington Kentucky Joneses, has suggested that I write to you in regard to a job with your division, the legal division of the Federal Administration of Emergency Entomology.

Now although I am not a lawyer, let alone knowing anything about the laws having to do with entomology, I am a recent graduate of Oklahoma University, having majored in Anglo-Saxon and Norse. What I don't know about Beowulf never happened to him.

Well, I need a job badly. I never took entomology and what's more I don't know what you need a legal division in your bureau for, but I feel sure that what I know of the legal code of Athelthrotel the Allwet, king of the Northumbrians, would stand me in good stead in your department.

Or, I could be a useful office executive of some sort, engaging myself in working out methods to file paper clips correctly. Is there anything more annoying to a high powered man like yourself than to have to lose your dignity and your temper hunting through a howlful of seventeen different kinds of clips for an elliptical one, with only square, rectangular and round ones turning up?

I know I could be useful to you. And I am willing to study law or entomology, or both, at night. Please let me know if you can use me.

Very truly yours,
BAXTER MILBURY.

Mr. Milbury hasn't much of a chance with the New Deal agencies. For a minor clerical or office job he has to have either political sponsorship or, to get in some bureau, he has to have Civil Service status. For a better job he has to have technical or professional training of some sort and some proof of his ability in some specialized field from which men are being drawn.

If he is a fledgling lawyer, with good academic record, and more than that, a recommendation from one of his law professors to some one doing important executive work in Washington, his chance for a job in the capital is fairly good. The AAA, the FERA, the Resettlement Administration, the Department of Justice, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and a number of other bureaus may have something to offer in their legal divisions. Engineers' best opportunities are with the Resettlement Administration in their field offices, or with Rural Electrification, or with the offices of the Works Progress Administration. Architects, to a considerably lesser degree, may work with the planning sections of these departments.

Economists, with speaking knowledge of public utilities, labor conditions and problems, market prices, or statistics usually armed with letters from former professors to executives of the Securities Exchange Commission, the Department of Labor, the National Labor Relations Board, the AAA, the Farm Credit Administration, and to the WPA. The statisticians have been especially in demand in the past, and good ones always have an even chance. Mountains of statistics are compiled every day by government statisticians. The amount of statistical information about the trends of prices, employment, industrial activity, and this country, added in the past two years to what was already known, is staggering. It takes an army of statisticians to compile what is being done under the New Deal, month by month, in terms of employment and expenditures, and another army devoted to carrying out statistical research.

Accountants have been finding employment with the Department of Justice and the Treasury Department aiding in investigating tax returns. Every New Deal office has had occasion to use many of them steadily, others temporarily. In many cases investigators sent by such agencies as the FERA or the WPA, Rural Resettlement Administration are accountants, with some legal training.

Cotten and Jones Parlors to Be

Work to be Done By One of Advanced Home Economics Classes and Miss Katherine Holtzel

FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS APPROPRIATED FOR CAUSE

Plan Will Open Jarvis Parlor to Students For First Time

One of the advanced Home Economics classes, under the direction of Miss Holtzel, is taking the task of refurbishing the Jarvis Hall parlor and making it a part of the new vacant space in the building.

In regard to Cotten the plan is to decide which pieces of the furniture already there can be used and to discard the remainder for use in Jarvis. Since the curtains are the most new, they will be kept and regarded as the basis for the color scheme.

The class has been given four hundred dollars with which to buy whatever it deems most suitable. This sum will be spent for rugs, additional furniture, lamps, pictures, and the like.

The plans for a parlor in Jarvis have assumed no definite shape since Cotten must be considered first. However, it is hoped that to the furniture east off from Cotten parlor and the Old Practice House can be added such things as are necessary to equip a parlor in Jarvis both attractively and comfortably.

RAGSDALE TEACHERS ENTERTAIN CO-EDS

Men Students Were Thus Welcomed to Their New Abode

On Monday night, October 15, the members of the faculty who reside in Ragsdale Hall gave a party which was really a house warming in honor of the boys who are now occupying the newly completed ground floor of that building.

Those in the receiving line were Coach Mathis, George Willard, Miss Wilson, Miss Jenkins, Miss Davis and a number of the other faculty members.

As a means of introducing the teachers to the guests a shadow screen had been erected, behind which each teacher passed as her name was called. Jingles composed by Miss Ann Redwin cleverly brought out the characteristics of each and told where each was from.

Miss McKay had charge of the celebrity stunt, pinning the names of some celebrity on the back of each person and having him guess who he was. Mussolini, Hail Selassie, King George, Jan Garber, Ginger Rogers and Doctor Meadows were some of the outstanding representatives.

Comic songs, rounds, and action songs were enjoyable stunts of the evening. These were led by Miss Patchell, Norton and Rainwater.

Many interesting games were played, the crowd being divided up into small groups and going into separate rooms. Leaders went from room to room conducting games of a varied nature.

Delicious refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake, and salted nuts were served.

HATEM ELECTED CHEER LEADER

At a recent mass meeting Joe Hatem was elected cheer leader for the ensuing year. Since he is a Freshman, this is an unusual honor. Joe expects to have a pep rally on Friday night before our football team plays Oak Ridge here on Saturday. He is securing from Raleigh and from the University of Buffalo new yell which he plans to teach to the students. As yet he has not appointed his assistant cheer leaders.
