

Nebraska were exposed to paralysis when a grade teacher rooming in their house became ill with the West collegiate ski meet, teams of Dartmouth College, University of Washington, promoted for Idaho's specimen Valley course.

WELLS YOU WILL ENJOY

Eating With Your Friends

at AUTARES

When you shop for Peanut Butter Whenever you feel that one made under the name of the appetite.

Peanut Butter COMPANY

You might be the most attractive, but you don't get introduced...

How much you give until someone is satisfied.

Cheerfields... they've... li.

Wade... lawr

The clock was installed during the latter part of the Spring Quarter, and well represents our college motto — "On time every time."

564

WELCOME ALUMNAE

The TECO ECHO

EAST CAROLINA TEACHERS COLLEGE

WELCOME ALUMNAE

VOLUME XIV

GREENVILLE, N. C., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1937

Number 2

Famous Diplomat To Be Here October 20

Will Lecture On "This Business of Diplomacy"

MRS. OWENS IS FORMER MINISTER TO DENMARK

Diplomat is Daughter of William Jennings Bryan

Ruth Bryan Owens, one of America's foremost political leaders, will lecture at the Wright Auditorium, Wednesday evening, October 20, on "This Business of Diplomacy."

Famous not only as the daughter of that silver-tongued orator William Jennings Bryan, but in her own right as a former member of congress and the first woman to represent the United States at a foreign court, Mrs. Owens, now Mrs. Baerge Roddie in private life, is admitted to be one of the most charming speakers on the platform today.

Mrs. Owens' wide and varied experience makes her a world-wide authority on diplomatic relationships, and certainly because of the straining of diplomatic relations all over the world at the present time, this topic will be very interesting.

This famous lecturer gained her first experience in public speaking by making political speeches for her father in his later campaigns for the presidency of the United States.

After the death of her second husband, Major Reginald Owen, an Englishman, at their home in Florida, she fought her oratorical battles to become a congresswoman from Florida, and served two terms in the House of Representatives.

Her next honor was her appointment as Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary to Denmark, where in less than a year she became one of the most popular diplomats representing the United States.

Since her marriage in Denmark to Captain Boenge Roddie, of King Christian's Guards, she has completed her work in Denmark and has returned to this country on a lecture tour.

PHI SIGMA PI DISCUSS PLANS FOR COMING YEAR

At the meeting of Monday night, October 11, the 8 active members of Phi Sigma Pi, Tau Chapter, together with Dr. Boesher Flanagan, faculty adviser, discussed plans for the forthcoming year.

The desirable pledges, or desired new members were listed, and will be pledged if their qualifications are suitable.

A committee composed of the secretary, the president and the faculty sponsor was given the duty of passing on the pledge's qualifications. The secretary was also asked to secure a date for a fraternity-sponsored entertainment.

The active members of the Tau Chapter of Phi Sigma Pi are Francis Ferebee, Primrose Carpenter, Lewis Rebarber, Leo Burks, Jr., Eddie Hodges, Howard Aman, Thornton Stovall, and Vance Chadwick.

Sheer irony — freshman at the University of Michigan are no longer required to wear "pots." But the class of '41 has donned them again in an effort to unify the class in order to win the class games from the sophomores.

On Time Every Time

The new clock in Cotten Hall, that settles all questions as to the exact time for signing in as well as leaving-time for dates, is the gift presented to the school by the Senior Normal Class of 1937, as the last of the "D" Classes, to be graduated from here.

The clock was installed during the latter part of the Spring Quarter, and well represents our college motto — "On time every time."

RUTH BRYAN OWENS

FREDDIE JOHNSON WILL PLAY FOR COMING DANCE

Floor Show To Be Given As Added Entertainment

Freddie Johnson and his Tar Heels will play for the Homecoming dance which the Lanier Society and the students' social committee will sponsor in the Robert H. Wright auditorium, Saturday night, October 23.

The dance will be the last of a series of events planned for the weekend and will bring to a close the Homecoming celebration.

The decorations for the dance will be carried out in the colors of green and lavender, representing the typical East Carolina vineyard.

Those sponsoring the dance will be Mrs. L. L. Stancill, president of the alumnae association; Miss Elizabeth Smith, alumnae secretary; Margaret Guy Overman, Lanier Society president; and Josie Hall, Chairman of the Social Committee.

Entertainment in the form of a floor show will include that dancing little lady, Carolyn Hamrick, and that one and only master of songs, James Dudley Simpson.

GREETINGS, ALUMNAE

Greetings, East Carolina Teachers College Alumnae and Alumni:

I am happy to repeat to you the invitation extended at commencement — the invitation to come home to your Alma Mater on October 23 and share together a day of pleasures prepared by our college for our enjoyment.

I would take this opportunity too, to impress upon you this fact: your Alma Mater is following with interest your every endeavor to live up to her ideals. East Carolina Teachers College is proud of your achievements. I know that some of our sister and brother graduates are achieving distinction in their chosen fields.

It is our intention to publish, probably next spring, some findings on the subject of our outstanding East Carolina Teachers College graduates. Will you, if you have heard of any new field into which a graduate is entering, or any distinctive efforts being put forth by one of "our boys" or one of "our girls," will you, I say, forward this information to our Alumnae Editor here at the college. Write of your own doings and plans, too. It is our desire to recognize the earnest efforts which are being put forth in any situation. I repeat — your Alma Mater is proud of your smallest achievement — if you let it be known!

Do something, too, about organizing an Alumnae Branch (Please turn to page three)

YWCA GIVES IMPRESSIVE CANDLE-LIGHT SERVICE

Takes Place of Usual Sunday Vesper Service

MEMBERS ENCIRCLE CROSS AND QUOTE WORDS OF HYMN

Men's Quartet Sings Hymn

One of the most beautiful and impressive candlelight services in the history of the college was held Sunday evening, October 17 by the Young Woman's Christian Association at the College Athletic Field.

This service took the place of the usual Sunday night Vesper Service.

The members of the YWCA assembled in front of the Wright Auditorium, where they formed into groups and led by Elizabeth Copeland, president of the Association, marched to the Athletic field. Entering by the main entrance the procession marched on the field encircling a burning cross — after which the groups took their respective places. The president of the YWCA stood in front of the cross and quoted the words of that beautiful hymn "In the Cross of Christ I Glory." After which a concealed men's quartet sang softly the words of the hymn. Then the leader of each group stepped forward and standing before the cross, quoted a stanza of scripture to which the president responded, as she lighted the torch of the leader. Moving back to her group, the leader lit the torches of her members who joined in singing a hymn. After each group had performed the rites of the ceremony, the president led the recessional through the Davis Arboretum. As they marched they sang the Association song. When they reached the Wright Building, they put out their torches and they formed a semi-circle about the steps. On the steps was a cross formed by members of the association, carrying lighted torches. The light of this cross was the only light on the campus. The members of the Association standing in a semi-circle about the cross, sang "Draw Me Nearer to The Cross," after which the service was closed.

LANIER SOCIETY ENTERTAIN FROSH

The Lanier Society entertained the freshmen in the Robert H. Wright Building on Thursday afternoon, October 7. The president, Margaret Guy Overman, greeted the guests at the door and presented them with goats made of green paper on which they wrote their names for identification. Miss Overman then made a short talk to the freshmen in which she gave them an idea of the significance of the three societies, and particularly the Lanier Society.

Several games were played under the direction of Emily Brendle, vice president of the Laniers. After a social hour together refreshments consisting of doughnuts and orange ade were served the group.

Placement Bureau Report

From 177 graduates of 1936-37, 166 are reported to have been placed by September 23, 1937. These graduates are divided into two groups; namely, the A.B. group and the "D" group. Of the 144 A.B. graduates teaching, 51 are primary, 50 are grammar grade, and 43 are high school teachers. Of the 22 "D" graduates teaching, 11 are primary and 11 are grammar grade teachers.

Eleven of the 177 graduates were married, during the summer. Graduates of 1936-37 reported placed to date, September 23, 1937.

A.B. Graduates — Marybland Albritton, Maury High; Ella T. Atkins, Long Hill; Tressie Auman, Wesley Chapel; Mary Rose Badgett, Norwood High; Lucille Bailey, Stem High; Wesley Bankston, Clayton High; Evangeline Barfield, Hobucken; Frances Barnes, Ayden; Verdie Barrow, Powells Point; Myrtle Bass, Seven Springs; Ellie M. Batten, Pine Level; Frances Boyette, Luema.

Host To Alumnae

PRES. LEON MEADOWS

TO ALUMNAE

Dear Alumnae and Alumni:

On Saturday, October 23, in Greenville, East Carolina Teachers College will observe Homecoming Day. On this occasion we want you, along with every former student, to be with us. Give up your work for a day and come back home. We need you and we hope you still feel that your Alma Mater can be of service to you. Bring with you an ample store of experiences which have been yours since you left us; we want to hear all about the good things you have been accomplishing and of your plans for the future. Let us know, now that you have had the opportunity to find out, just what we should have done that we did not do for you; by so doing you may save other teachers many an embarrassing moment, as the college can adjust its work to the needs of teachers and communities as you have discovered them. Then, too, if you have problems which you have been unable to solve, you should be able to secure help from college teachers who are more experienced in the field of education than many other to whom you might go. In this way, our meeting October 23, will be mutually helpful to the college and to her children.

For luncheon the college will kill for her wandering but, we trust happily returning offspring not the proverbial "fatted calf" but enough plump "shoots" to provide barbecue for all who come; this, with all the trimmings, should furnish ample strength for college songs and yells to be delivered with proper spirit at the football game, which will be played in the afternoon with Western Carolina Teachers College. After the game has been won by E.C.T.C. you will have a chance to visit old friends and old places as well as meet with new friends and learn about new places — if the game is not won by E.C.T.C. you can do this just the same.

In the evening, the college will give a dance in your honor; if you do not dance, join that large concourse of onlookers (Please turn to page three)

COLLEGE ENROLLMENT BREAKS ALL RECORDS

Registration Brought To Close With 1,104 Students Enrolled

MEN STUDENTS ATTAIN 119 TO SHATTER ALL RECORDS

Pitt Heads Counties With Enrollment of 221

At the close of registration last week, the enrollment at East Carolina Teachers College had attained a new all-time record of 1,104 students for the fall quarter.

This record surpasses the 1935 enrollment of 1,071, and the 1936 enrollment of 1,075.

With 119 men enrolled, a number which shatters all previous records, East Carolina Teachers College is definitely established as the co-educational institution which its founders intended it to be.

This record breaking enrollment is remarkable in view of the fact that the two-year normal course has been discontinued.

Seventy North Carolina counties and six states are represented. Pitt with 221 leads with the highest enrollment of counties while Northampton with 42 and Johnston with 39 run second and third, respectively. Duplin, Nash, and Wayne with 37 each tie for fourth place. Sampson with 33, Wake with 31, Vance with 29, Beaufort, Lenoir, and Granville with 27 each are also among the leaders.

Of the six states represented South Carolina sends seven students, New York six, Virginia four, Tennessee and Florida two each, and Georgia one.

There are 858 students in the dormitories, 823 women and 35 men. There are 236 day students, 152 women and 84 boys.

There are 106 transfer students representing 32 colleges, the largest number coming from Campbell and Louisburg with 13 each.

The Baptists with 431 lead in denominational representation. The Methodists come next with 357, Presbyterians with 85, Christians, with 83, Episcopalians with 44, Catholics with 5, Christian Scientists (Please turn to page three)

7TH GRADE VISITS FAIR AT RALEIGH

On Wednesday, October 13, Miss Kathleen Plumb's seventh grade, spent a very thrilling day in Raleigh visiting the State Fair, the Capitol and other points of interest.

All the children under thirteen years of age went on the train to Raleigh. Mr. Ricks, of the college, met them at the station and carried them to the fair grounds on a bus. This experience proved to be a new one for most of the group. Those above thirteen years went in cars, a student teacher chaperoning each group.

This trip was planned by the class and carried out as a project. It proved helpful as well as entertaining to those who took part.

HOMECOMING DAY SET FOR OCTOBER 23

Alumnae President

MRS. L. L. STANCILL

PRES. MEADOWS SPEAKS AT CHAPEL EXERCISE

President Uses "Environment" As Theme of Chapel Program

On Friday morning, October 15, President Leon R. Meadows made his first talk of the year at the College chapel service, taking as his theme the one word "Environment."

In the beginning of his address President Meadows defined heredity as that which the Lord gives us to help ourselves along, and environment as that by which we help ourselves along.

Dr. Meadows divided his speech into two main headings; first, we can change or make over our environment and second, our environment can change or make over us.

In illustrating the first the speaker used as an example a run down farm completely made over, saying: "A person can even change his environment in his profession by helping remake the ideals of the profession."

"Then," continued the speaker, "Our environment can change us, as physical surroundings have changed the color of the arctic fox and the polar bear." As an example, he told how a freshman is made over by the environment in which he lives during his four years in College.

In conclusion Dr. Meadows told of a comment made by a visitor at the College last year, "I have visited every teacher's college in America and most of the large institutions of this country, and have not seen so fine a spirit anywhere else as I have found on this campus."

Reminding the students of some of the things that might help undermine this spirit on the campus, he appealed to the students, first, to guard the changed physical environment, that is, keep the newly painted walls and floors clean and beautiful, and to cultivate contacts with the faculty here, so that their mental environment can be made over by these contacts.

COLLEGE LIBRARIANS ATTEND LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

The two librarians, Mr. Gullege and Miss Sammon attended the annual meeting of the State Library Association which was held in Chapel Hill last week.

Mr. Gullege was active secretary for the college section. He has served on the Committee of College Librarians for the past year.

"All freshmen must ask permission of a member of the Student Court for every date." This new ruling elicited groans of despair from freshmen at Midland College, Fremont, Nebraska.

President Meadows To Extend Greetings To Homecoming Alumnae

LUNCHEON TO FOLLOW PROGRAM IN ROBERT H. WRIGHT BUILDING

Homecoming To Be Announced Through State Papers and Radio

On Saturday, October 23, the college will be hostess to the alumnae for the annual homecoming celebration. The faculty committee for arrangements of the day is composed of Dr. Carl Adams, Chairman, Dr. R. J. Slay and Miss Maria D. Graham. Instead of having formal exercises of set speeches, the events of the day will be varied and such that opportunity will be given for the old graduates to see each other and renew their acquaintances with the faculty and members of the campus, and join in activity with the students.

The visitors will assemble in the Robert H. Wright auditorium at 11:00 o'clock in the morning, where they will be greeted by President Meadows. Guests of honor will be presented also. A short program will follow, and the announcements for the day will be made. Following President Meadows' greeting a barbeque luncheon will be held at 1:00 o'clock on the back campus, where the alumnae will have a chance to mingle with the students, faculty, and other members of the staff.

A football game between the EC TC Pirates and West Carolina Teachers' College is scheduled at 2:30 in the afternoon.

The big social event of the day is the dance in the Robert H. Wright Building that night. The visiting Alumnae can secure cards for the dance from Miss Morton's office.

Announcements of the day are to be made through the state papers and over the radio.

Last year homecoming day was inaugurated by the homecoming alumnae themselves, and they felt they made a successful beginning. Dr. Meadows at that time appointed a faculty committee to make plans for the second homecoming. All the Alumnae are urged to register.

REV. W. A. RYAN SPEAKS TO YWCA

"What Does Education Mean to You?" was the topic of an enlightening talk at the YWCA Vesper Service, Sunday evening, October 10, by the Reverend W. A. Ryan, pastor of the Eighth Street Christian Church.

"Most of us go to school for a definite purpose," began Mr. Ryan, "usually to acquire an education."

The speaker then went on to explain the true purpose and real value of education, saying, "The world has no use for people, educated or otherwise, who have abilities and do nothing with them."

With colorful illustrations, he explained some of the many uses of education and showed how one can use his education to the best advantage.

"You're here," continued the speaker, "and you're going to be educated, we hope; but I do wish you would remember that education is a process." (Please turn to page three)

New Curtains

The beautiful new duobonnet curtains in Austin Auditorium are the gift of last Spring's A.B. Class.

The curtains are of a durable plush and have been stoutly lined. The valance which stretches across the top of the stage is ornamented with a single streak of white satin.

The auditorium has been freshly painted, and with the curtains, the looks of our class room building has been greatly improved.

756

The Observer Looks Things Over

Why can't mass meetings be made shorter?

Shouldn't the minor sports, such as tennis, track, shuffleboard, ping-pong, etc., be emphasized for those who don't participate in the major sports?

ECTC nomination for "Joe College"—Charles Cobb.

Here and Leander have nothing on Hampton and Louise.

To any ECTC organization hunting for a memorial to its name: a victrola, open at all times to responsible parties, should create an ever grateful feeling in the student body.

One night there weren't enough seats for all the studious souls assembled in the library. Within 10 minutes all had seats.

ANSWER: Those who didn't look enough like "Joe Serious" or "Suzy Studious" were asked to come back some other night when they would be able to concentrate.

A question as to whether we should change the picture-show from Saturday to Friday came up in a recent mass meeting. What occasioned the necessity of even bringing the question up? Never, before, in the memory of Joe Blow, has a dance of this type been the cause of changing days for the show.

Hard times are here again; only 8 girls to a boy's coterie now.

THIS COLLEGIATE WORLD

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

Charter members of a unique club at the University of West Virginia are still smacking their lips. The eleven boys, embryo foresters, are snake eaters.

It all came about in this wise. At the university forestry camp, one of the boys brought back a six foot black snake. They didn't want the meat to go to waste, so the camp cook wrestled with it for a while and at dinner produced black snake roast as the main course.

The eleven charter members, who had agreed each to eat an equal portion of the meat, sat around the table, a little doubtful, but anxious to prove their sportsmanship.

To everyone's surprise the dish proved extremely popular—in fact the cook dashed in and recovered as the main course.

At the Syracuse University they have—or rather had—a real fraternity man. In his enthusiasm for the life of a "Greek" he pledged and was initiated into two different organizations.

Apparently the dual affiliation met with complications, for both Alpha Sigma Phi and Sigma Phi Epsilon, the victims, found that he had brought them probation with the Interfraternity Council. Now the enthusiast, a tackle on the football squad, is concentrating his efforts on the gridiron again—minus two pins.

They have clever frosh at Indiana University.

The tough lieutenant was addressing his men after the first long grind around the parade ground. "All those who feel unable to march around again step forward."

All the lads except one freshie stepped ahead. The "lokie" looked at him and commented, "Well, I'm glad I have one man that likes to march."

"Say, lieutenant, I'm so plum tuckered I can't even take that step forward," came the weak voice from the rear.

Student organizations at the University of North Carolina have banned the hectic "big apple."

Some said the floor on which most student dances are held was too frail to withstand the stomping.

But the chief reason seemed to be, as one boy expressed it: "The Students are just getting fed up on the big apple."

Books Added to the Library

EDITOR'S NOTE: Through the cooperation of Mr. James R. Gallegher, head librarian here, we are able to submit a list of books added to the college library recently.

Anden, W. H.—"On this island." Random House, 1937.

Bacharach, A. L. ed. "Lives of the great composers." Dutton, 1936.

Benet, S. V. "The burning city." Farrar, 1936.

Bolithe, Hector. "King Edward VIII." Lippincott, 1937. "Mr. Bolithe's biography is frank yet in good taste, informative and intimate yet polite, revealing yet restrained."—Current History, June, 1937.

Brinig, Myron. "The sisters." Farrar, 1937.

Brown, R. W. "Next door to a poet." Appleton, 1937. "An intimate portrait of the late E. A. Robinson."—Library Journal, February 15, 1937.

Case, S. J.—"Makers of Christianity." Holt, 1934.

Chesterson, G. K. "As I was saying." Dodd, 1936.

Churchill, W. L. S. "Amid these storms." Scribner, 1932.

Clinton, D. J. "Gomez—Tyrant of the Andes." Morrow, 1936. "No one can read this book without forever afterward keeping his eye on the newspapers for dispatches from Venezuela."—N. Y. Times, September 29, 1936.

De la Roche, M. "The master of Jaha." Macmillan.

Dinsmore, C. A. "Great poets and the meaning of life." Houghton, 1937.

Elsen, E. E. "Our country from the air." Wheeler Publishing Co., 1937.

Eurich, A. C. & Wilson, E. C. In 1936. Holt, 1937. "Outstanding events of the year, at home and abroad." Booklist, March, 1937.

Folde, Jehan. "Street of the fishing cat." Farrar, 1936.

Gray, W. S. comp. "Tests and measurements in higher education." University of Chicago, 1936.

Hagood, Johnson. "We can defend America." Doubleday, 1936.

Hart, Moss and Kaufman, G. S. "You can't take it with you; a play." Farrar, 1937.

Hudson, A. P. "Folksongs of Mississippi." University of N. C. Press, 1936.

Landau, Rom. "God is my adventure." A book on modern mystics, masters and teachers. Knopf, 1936.

Langdon-Davies, John. "Behind the Spanish Barriades." McBride, 1937.

Lawrence, Margaret. "School of femininity." Stokes, 1936.

Lomax, J. A. "Negro folk songs as sung by Lead Belly." Macmillan, 1936.

Lovell, Maud. "Charming Sally." Day, 1932.

Lynd, R. S. and H. M. "Middle-town in transition, a study in cultural conflicts." Harcourt, 1937.

McAdoo, Mrs. Eleanor Randolph. "The Woodrow Wilsons." Macmillan, 1936.

Mann, Mary P. "Life of Horace Mann." National Education Association, 1937.

Marquand, J. P. "The late George Apley; a novel in the form of a memoir." Little, 1937.

ALUMNAE WEDDINGS

Miss Helen Carlton of Warsaw and Mr. Daniel Dixon Sparkman of Kinston were married September 28.

Miss Mary Williams Carr and Herace Stewart, Jr., were married October 3, and are making their home in Wallace, N. C.

Miss Lucy Whitfield Britt and George William Daughtry, Jr., were married September 22, and are living in Goldsboro.

Miss Virginia Woodbury and Robert McDougall were married September 19, at Leland, N. C. They are making their home in Wilmington, N. C.

Hazel Ainsley and Young L. Brown were married September 25 at South Mills, N. C. They are at home in Columbia, S. C.

Miss Lou Pitts and Samuel Watkins were married in May, at Miss Pitts' home in Creedmoor. Mr. Watkins is continuing to teach at Millbrook school, Wake County.

Miss Kathryn Barnett of Waynesville and Mr. John Royal Hodges of Greenville, N. C., were married September 18. They are both former students at ECTC.

Betsy Whittemore Grubb to Mr. Carl Preston Lenn of Salisbury on September 12.

Miss Margaret Whitehead of Morehead City and Mr. Stuart Bowen of Burgaw were married this past summer.

Notice

Graduates with names from A to P which were omitted in the first issue of the paper due to a mistake, will find their names on page one under the Placement Bureau.

The human propensity for taking seats in the back row, prompted Professor Scott at the University of Minnesota to request his students to move forward and use up the front seats. All came forward except one lad who kept his remote seat. "Move down to the front, please," said the prof. "I can't," the boy said, "I tore my pants."

Chairman

DR. CARL ADAMS

The Homecoming Committee is composed of Dr. Carl Adams, Chairman; Dr. R. J. Stay and Miss Maria D. Graham.

"INNER EAR" TO AID DEAF AND DEAF-BLIND

Evanston, Ill. — (ACP) — Development of a mechanical "inner ear" to help deaf and deaf-blind persons to learn to speak was announced recently at Northwestern University.

Dr. Louis D. Goodfellow of the psychology department devised the new "ear" and named it the Gault multi-tactor, for Dr. Robert H. Gault, professor of psychology at Northwestern and director-general of the American institute for the deaf-blind.

The device translates sound into vibrations, so the subject, unable to hear, can get the "feeling" of sounds and, by association, learn to produce them.

The machine contains thousands of strings which, its developer said, "analyze the human voice into its component tones, and this makes sound intelligible to the human mind."

QUOTABLE QUOTES

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

"There is little to be attained in thumbing a ride in the rumble seat of a college curriculum," warns Dean Guy Stanton Ford, acting president of the University of Minnesota. "It is not the business of a university to educate its students against their will. What you get out of college and out of life will be a measure of what you put in it."

"My personal grievance is that you are all too busy—you go, see, hear, play too much," President Ada L. Comstock told young women at the opening exercises of Radcliffe College. "... your lives are too broken by telephone calls, meetings, rehearsals and other distractions."

"The difficulty presented by delayed adolescence in college students can only be overcome by a desire on the part of the college to understand each individual and an attitude of cooperation on the part of the student in the enterprise of his education." Dean Herbert E. Hawkes, Columbia College, reports to Pres. Nicholas Murray Butler.

"Four years in the classroom and on the campus should engender confidence in the authority of your intellect while enabling you to judge between the valid emotional life which sustains reason, and the opposite, which drags it down." Princeton's president, Dr. Harold W. Dodds, tells his students that they must learn how to control their emotions with reason if mankind is not to experience a new dark age.

BUY WITH STYLE AND DISTINCTION

at

BLOOM'S

Exclusive But Inexpensive

ALUMNAE NEWS

Misses Marion and Ruth Wood; Virginia Shindler, Elizabeth Wilson, Onie Guene Cochrane, Dorothy Kiker, Beatrice Hammond, Elizabeth Dixon Johnson, and Genevieve Carrow were visitors on the campus last week.

Miss Dorothy Crumpler of Roseboro attended summer school at ECTC last summer.

Mrs. Margie Moore Phillips and Miss Lucy Fleming of Grifton were summer school students.

Miss Esther Royster of Bullock was here the first term of summer school.

Misses Beatrice Cherry, Hazel Cherry and Maude Moore of Stokes, former students at ECTC were here in school this past summer.

Mrs. Carl Pace, formerly Lida Taylor of the class of '16, who is not only an alumna, but was for two years a member of the faculty as critic teacher, was one of the leading hostesses at the reception given in honor of the Methodist girls last week. She is the president of the Women's Society of the Jarvis Memorial Church.

ALUMNAE BIRTHS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sugg, of Boston, Mass., a son, on October 11. Mrs. Sugg was Evelyn Wright, class of 1932, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Wright.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. David Evans of Greenville, a son, on October 12. Mrs. Evans was Miss Myrtle Hughes, class of 1933.

This adv. and 8c will buy any 10c Toilet Goods item at GRANT'S 5c and 10c Store Good until November 7

ENJOY Our Meals and Fountain Service LAUTARES Where Friends Meet

DRESSES, COATS, SUITS, HATS, EVENING DRESSES AND ACCESSORIES

Visit us and see what's new

WILLIAM'S

The Ladies' Store

TEACHERS, GROUP HEALTH AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE

Officially endorsed by The North Carolina Education Association

LIFE INSURANCE AND ANNUITIES

MAMIE RUTH TUNSTALL

112 Grand Avenue GREENVILLE, N. C.

PHONE 280

"What's your pick for the ALL-STAR..Eddie"

"That's a cinch Paul ..I'm 100% right on this one"

With smokers in every part of the country Chesterfields stand ace high.

It's a cinch they've got what smokers like. You'll find them milder... you'll enjoy that Chesterfield taste.

Chesterfield

...Ace of them all for MILDNESS and TASTE

YOUR PHOTOGRAPH See our display for attractive new styles BAKER'S STUDIO

TRA WIT

VOLUME XIV

Improve Subject To Ho

President Meadows By Mrs. L. L. S

PRESIDENT TELLS C RECENT IMPR

Cites Increase of St From 1933-3

Improvements of the buildings of the faculty, a ident Meadows' add alumnae here at Home

Mrs. L. L. Standish, the Alumnae Association, President Meadows, recognized delegations chapters of the alumnae

In extending a w alumnae, President M pared their return with ful homecoming he of in a private home when children returned home tended absence. It w to have the alumnae in their reunion as w

Improvements President Meadows a recent improvements such as the newly paid the library auditorium of the dormitories a curtains for the stage

Auditorium, the new of the dormitories and pus, new shrubbery driveways. He also increase in the size of body and the faculty, from 1933 to 1937 the crease of 68 per cent same five years, the fa creased 34 per cent, p student body increase faculty members were year. The president fact that the teachers colleges and come from

The speaker then his audience some of the school. Among the new dormitories, one one for girls, another building, more faculty ditional unit of training a gymnasium. He audience that this y first time, students a

(Continued from pa

ACE TO MEET NOVEMBER

On Tuesday night, the Association for Education will meet.

This year this branch plans to work in groups of music, story-telling around, sewing, cooking Plans for each group pressed by leaders of the Our branch of the distinction of being a dent branch in North

NINE HIGH SCHOOL ATTEND JOURNALISM

Nine students of Greenville School and V. M. Mulhollor school principal, tended the thirteenth annual of the Southern In Press Association at Le

This is the second year, Green Lights h presented at the conven was sponsored by the Journalism at Washington University. Last year, won second honors for class C standing and a medal.

Those attending the were V. M. Mulhollor Whitfield and Thornton editors-in-chief, Louise Blount, Earle Hellen, Elizabeth Meadows, Ma and Bert Darden.

Members of the Associated Press, magazine newspaper editors and cators and other prom of the journalistic world ical speakers on the pro was of keen interest to ested in journalistic wo