STUDENT BODY GOES TO POLLS TUESDAY

Deal Chosen Tecoan Editor

Mass Meet Casts Unanimous Vote For Lone Nominee

Mildred McDonald
Originates Motion
For Endorsement

At a mass meeting of the student body of East Carolina Teachers College, Friday night, February 24, Harvey Deal, only candidate submitted by the publications board, was unanimously elected editor of the college yearbook, The Tecoan. Mildred McDonald, present business manager of the Tecoan, made the motion that Deal's election be unanimous.

Deal graduated from Greenville High School in 1936 and enrolled here that fall. Since he has been in school here he has held various positions on the campus. During his first year here he was a member of the Mens Student Council and a reporter on the Teco Echo staff. In his second year on the campus he was an associate editor of the Teco Echo. For the past year, Deal has been an associate editor of the Tecoan, vice president of the English Club, and vice president of the Tau Chapter of Phi Sigma Fraternity. He has also taken an active interest in dramatics on the campus and is a member of the Mens Glee Club and the band.

College Students Say 'Thumbs Down' On Hitler's Plan

Poll Reveals Opposition To Return of Colonies

Austin, Texas, March 10. — American sentiment against Hitler is pointed out in another way, this time among college students of the nation. The latest poll of the Student Opinion Surveys of America reveals an overwhelming majority of students opposing the return to Germany of the colonies taken from her after the World War.

Although German colonial demands have faded into the background while Mussolini's Tunisian aspirations occupy the center of the European stage, Hitler has many times made it known that he will accept no substitutes for territory. Some observers believe Der Fuehrer desires the African colonies not so much for their resources as for new military bases.

Whatever Hitler's motives are, American college students, members of the group that supplied many fighters for the last war, oppose the idea as shown by their answers to the question, "Should the colonies taken from Germany after the World War be returned to her?" Survey staff members for the Teco Echo and the other eighty-four member publications found students consistent in their opinions everywhere. The national totals:

Return the colonies, said... 28.1
Keep them, said... 71.9
Percentages of student opinion tally closely with those found by polls of all voters in the United States.

Biennial Convention Of Phi Sigma Pi Elects Flanagan National Historian

Dr. Beecher Flanagan of the Sociology department was unanimously elected to succeed Dr. E. A. Reams of State Teachers College, Bloomburg, Pa., as National Historian of the Phi Sigma Pi Fraternity at the biennial convention in Cleveland Ohio, February 25, 1939.

Dr. Flanagan's name was presented to the nominating committee by Dr. Wood of Missouri State Teachers College. Dr. Wood spoke of his former classmate and colleague as "a true scholar and an excellent man for the position."

Christian Student Is Program Topic In YWCA Vesper

Wake Forest Team
Is Guest of Local Organization

A group of young men from Wake Forest College were guest speakers at the Sunday evening Vesper Services of the Young Women's Christian Association at the college last Sunday evening. "The Christian Student" was the theme of the program.

"The Christian Student in the Classroom" was discussed by Earl Pearson. In the classroom, he said, one must learn to be companionable with the teacher and students. It is necessary to have an open mind—to be honest intellectually with yourself.

"The Christian Student and His Roommate" was discussed by Robert Hart. He said that each student must learn to live the best Christian life, to create the best Christian atmosphere that he can for his roommate. If one is successful in living with his roommate, he will very likely be successful with the people that he is associated with after his college days.

James Varion concluded the program, giving his views on the "Christian Student and His Convictions." His first attribute of a conviction was that it must be personal, and it must be dogmatic. He named three convictions that are (Please turn to page two)

Engel Lund Gives Folk Song Recital

Engel Lund, presenting a program of folk songs here, gave her audience an insight into the folklore of many lands as she presented this in the music which is typical of the various countries.

Among the languages represented in the program which Miss Lund gave, there was only one of which she is not the master, this one being Yiddish.

She does not, however, like to sing in languages which she is unable to speak, and for this reason rarely does so. Icelandic is her native tongue, and besides this she learned six other languages while in undergraduate school in Denmark.

Folk songs are, Miss Lund believes, true to the country from which they come. Many of those in her collection she gathered from their native settings. Others have been sent to her and given to her after performances.

Men To Vote

At a mass meeting of the men students of East Carolina Teachers College Monday, March 6, the following were nominated for Men's Student Government Association offices: Bill Shelton, Louis Wilkerson, Jack Daniels, president; Matt Phillips, Jerome Donaldson, Charles Frizelle, vice president; James Whitfield, Bernard Roper, Brantley Deloatche, Robert Musselwhite, secretary and treasurer.

These candidates will be voted on Saturday, March 11, from 9:00 until 12:00 o'clock noon.

Meadows, McGinnis Attend Meeting of School Leaders

National Educational Association Convenes
In Cleveland

President Leon R. Meadows and Dr. Howard McGinnis, registrar of the college, attended the annual meeting of the National Education Association in Cleveland, Ohio, February 24, through March 2.

The main meeting consisted of several parts. The division of the American Association of Teachers Colleges met February 24 and 25, preceding the meeting of the Association of School Administrators which met on Sunday, February 26 and continued through Thursday, March 2.

"This was one of the most helpful meetings held," stated Dr. Meadows in an interview. "The program was very good and there was a great deal of interest manifested."

Two hundred exhibits of articles, processes, methods, and paraphernalia, that may be used in the classroom were shown. In addition there were numerous demonstrations of school work.

In all there were a total of two hundred and fifty speakers on the various programs which were held in the city auditorium and the adjoining rooms.

The chief topics of discussion were democracy and education, the child of the future, meeting the needs of education, under present conditions, and better trained teachers for better citizens.

The meetings were suitably interspersed with excellent entertainments by a large number of radio stars who appeared before the audience from time to time and rendered good programs.

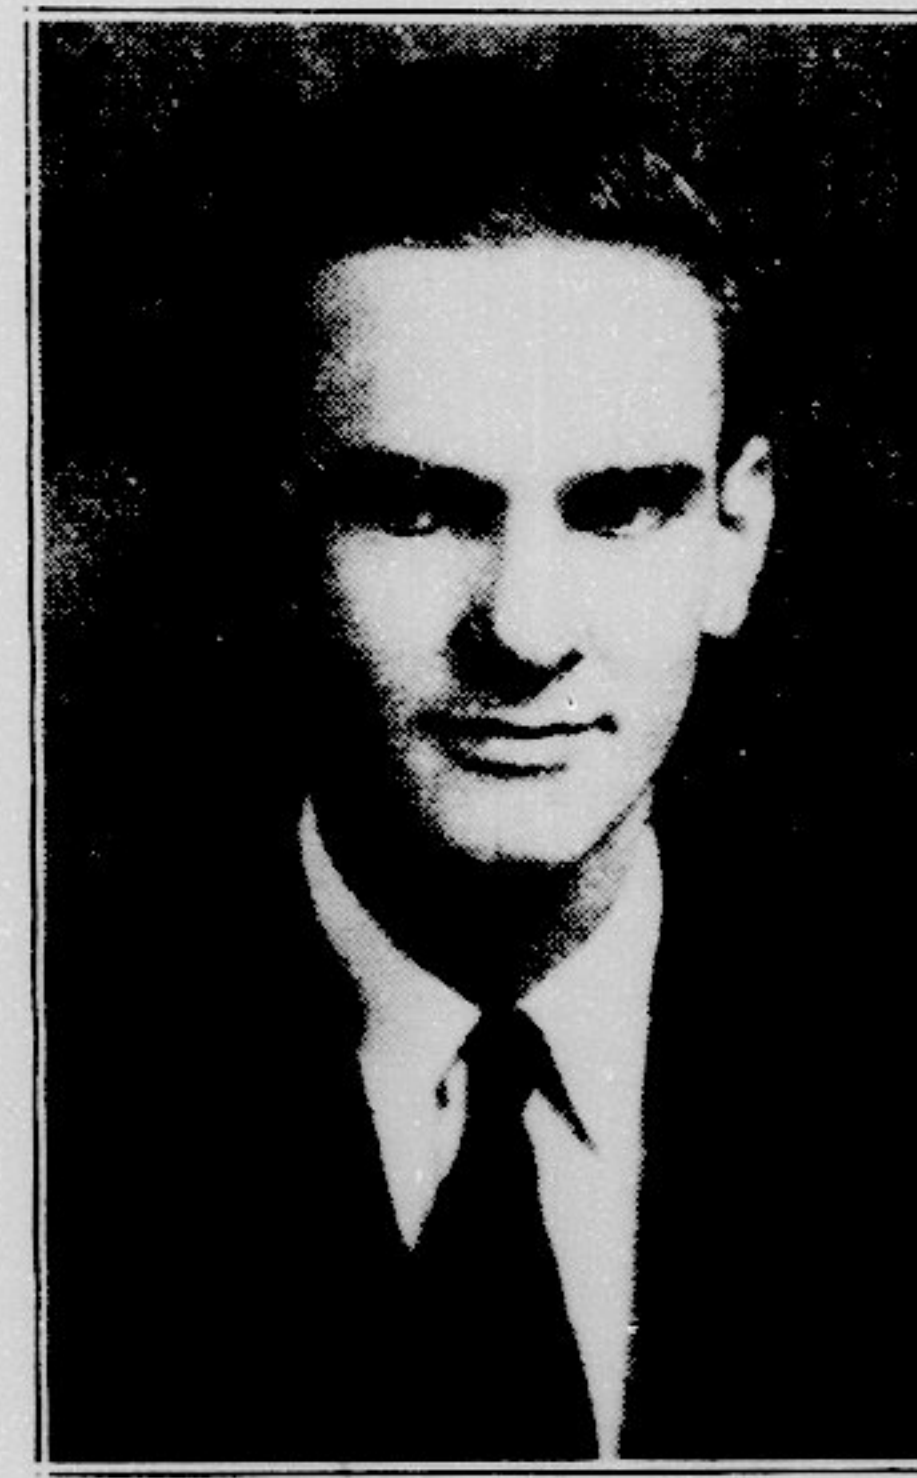

Varsity Clubbers To Sponsor Dance

Set for April 1, the second annual Varsity Club dance will be given by the members of the organization.

Full details are not yet worked out, but it is ascertained that Jimmy Hamner and his orchestra will furnish music for the affair.

Decorations, according to the present plans of the committee, will be representative of a ship's deck.

Led by Bill Shelton, president of the Varsity Club, followed by Earl Smith, vice president, Bill Merner, secretary and treasurer, and other members of the club with their dates, there will be a figure during intermission.

Publications Board Approves Four As Candidates For Teco Echo Editor

Nominees To Be Voted Upon In
Tuesday Elections

Four candidates were certified by the Publications Board as nominees for the position of editor of the Teco Echo for the school year 1939-40. Dorothy Hollar, Jack Daniels, John David Bridgers, and Lindsay Whichard are the candidates who will be voted upon in the Student Government elections which will be held Tuesday, March 14.

Although the present constitution contains no information regarding the question of whether a majority or a plurality is necessary for election, student government officers and candidates have agreed that a majority vote for any one candidate will be essential for election. In view of these circumstances, campus political observers are of the opinion that a second race will be necessary before the editor is selected.

The present election is the first (Please turn to page two)

Delay Necessary In Music Festival

According to information received from Dean Tabor the Music Festival will be postponed to May 5 due to conflicts with different high school programs in the state.

When asked about further developments in the music department, Mr. Tabor stated that he was planning a joint recital by Hilda Tew, contralto, and Jean Abeyounis, lyric soprano, at the first part of next quarter. A group of voice students are working on several selections from the opera, Maritana, and plan to give a program of excerpts from the opera in the near future. Students helping with this are Maude Melvin, Bo Kerr, and Hilda Tew, directed by Mr. Tabor.

Mr. Tabor wished to announce that any students interested in band for next year see him. They are brassing a class in woodwind and brass instruments. He is primarily interested in freshman and sophomores but needs more clarinet players from these classes.

Seniors Play Host To Sophs Saturday

Tomorrow night a dance will be given by the Senior Class in honor of the Sophomore Class in the Robert H. Wright building.

A figure led by Lucille Lewis, president of the Senior Class, will take place during the intermission. Kiwanis Club Hears McHenry Address

Mr. William H. McHenry spoke to the Greenville Kiwanis Club on Friday, February 17, on the purpose of Industrial Arts in education.

According to Mr. McHenry, education is a continuous process of participation in a system of cooperative living. Industrial Arts as a subject for educative purposes, is a study of changes made by man in the forms of material to increase their values, and the problems of life related to those changes. The nine objectives of Industrial Arts according to Dr. Warner of the University of Ohio are as follows: Exploration, general guidance, household mechanics, avocations, hobbies, social habits, and insight, consumer's knowledge and appreciation, a degree of skill, correlation or integration, and vocational purposes. Mr. McHenry further stated the divisions of Industrial Arts and explained to the club members some of the work done by NYA workers under his direction here at the college.

ALMA MATER

Praise to your name, so fair,
Dear old East Carolina,
Your joy we'll all share,
And your friends we'll always be.
We pledge our loyalty
And our hearts to devotion.
To thee, our Alma Mater,
Love and praise.

PURPLE AND GOLD

Marching onward, straight down
The field we go
Marching forward proudly to meet
The foe.
Halting never—forward forever,
For we're marching to victory.

Chorus:

For when the sons and daughters
Of East Carolina
March with shoulders pressed close
Together,
That's a certain sign there's always
Fair weather
For our colors, the purple and the Gold.
For when we're marching forward,
Keep close together,
Heads up high, through any old
Weather,
For our college teams we're marching together,
Heading straight down the field to Victory.

A DUTY AND A PRIVILEGE

Within the next few days, students of this college will go to the polls to choose officers for the ensuing year. The editors and business managers of both campus publications, and leading members of the Men's and Women's Student Government Associations will be elected at this time.

QUESTION STILL UNANSWERED

The student mass meeting held February 9 sent a request to the Administration that the privilege of dancing six nights per week be restored. The reply to the request was given in a letter from the President which read in part as follows: "I have conferred with Mr. Tabor, . . . and Mr. Alexander and have the assurance from them that beginning with Tuesday, February 21, that the students will be given the privilege of dancing in the Wright Building regularly on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday nights."

"THANK YOU, SO MUCH!"

A word of hearty commendation is in order for the Administration of this college and the dining hall authorities for the improvement in the quality and preparation of meals served recently. This manner of meeting the students more than half-way on the part of the college authorities is a source of satisfaction to discerning students.

EYES ON THE PURSE STRINGS

In the interest of democratic student government, the suggestion that the appropriations made by the Budget Committee be approved by the student body as a whole is especially pertinent. Under the old Constitution, a committee was created to divide the funds derived from Student Activity Fees and make apportionments to the various agencies carrying on the work of the Student Body.

MUSIC STOCK GOING UP!

Recent contributions by the Music Department to the enjoyment and activity of the entire student body are worthy of commendable note. In addition to furnishing a band and classical orchestra, members of the Music Department have written an Alma Mater and a "fight" song to add much to the expression of school spirit.

Whichard Proves That Past Editors Really Had 'Something On The Ball'

From the dark and dusty files of The Teco Echo, Lindsay Whichard dug out items which are an insight into the past of the humorous side of life on ECTC's campus. They are presented below:
OCTOBER 8, 1928. PICTURE SHOW DELIGHTS ENTIRE STUDENT BODY
Freshmen were cheered up Saturday night by a picture show. It is needless to say that the comedy, "What Women Did For Me," was enjoyed by everyone. We were rather surprised to find that men of that type do really and truly exist today. The main picture, "Forbidden Women," also made a big hit.

NOVEMBER 3, 1928. Sign on a FORD: "GOD bless our hum."
FEBRUARY 9, 1929. FRESHMAN: Say, where's the funnies?
OTHER DITTO: Today ain't Sunday. I told you not to take that bath last night.
MARCH 9, 1929. "I can't give you anything but love, baby," said the young man as he gazed down the barrel of the female thief's twenty-two.
MARCH 25, 1929. A college paper is a grand invention. For the school gets all the fame; the printer gets all the money, and the staff gets all the blame.
MARCH 25, 1929. Getting out a college paper is a picnic.

Hodges, Chadwick Attend Frat Meet

E.C.T.C. had as representatives to the Biennial Convention of the Phi Sigma Pi Fraternity held at Cleveland, Ohio, February 25, Fodie Hodges and Vance Chadwick. The president, Dr. J. M. McCallister, had the delegates from each of the fifteen chapters represented give a report of their functions on their respective campuses. Committees were appointed to work on various problems; Chadwick served on the committee working on the duties of the sponsor, and Hodges worked on the Lampadion, the fraternity magazine.

Home Ec Club Hears Mrs. Ethel Smith

Mrs. Estelle T. Smith, southeast district supervisor for Home Demonstration Work, gave a talk to the Home Economics Club at its regular meeting, Tuesday evening, March 7. The speaker congratulated those present for having taken Home Economics and stated that they were unable to meet the demand for well-trained Home Economics teachers.

"The greatest service that Home Demonstration Work has ever rendered was opening the way for girls to attend college financed through loans by the clubs," Mrs. Smith stated in her address. As a challenge to those going out in the field of Home Economics, the supervisor urged that the girls "give of themselves and their knowledge to the fullest extent."

FRENCH FASHION ADS

By BARBARA KEUZENKAMP
Gaiety and laughter is in the air, and Paris sends you some more spring news. Sparkling eyes peeping up at you from under saucy little hats that are made from most everything and almost nothing. Perhaps you would like a jaunty, flat draped silk jersey sailor hat, or perhaps you prefer, Mademoiselle, a bit of white silk wound in a flat circle and topped with a big cluster of black velvet bows? Everywhere they're swathing the face and neck in veils, and some of the veils even fall almost to your waist. If you prefer felts, you can get one of the new ones ranging in color from natural to burnt tones. Sailors, with slightly turned up brims are heralds of spring. Crowns are shallow in front and high towards the back.
For evening, when you're dancing, wear a mantilla of lace. Your evening dress for less formal wear, can be made of enchanting light cottons, pique, dotted Swiss, organdy, or even linen if you like a tailored evening dress. They are so fresh looking and simple to keep that way. So when you buy your new Easter evening dress, choose one of cotton if you want to be ultrasmart.
Amusez-vous bien!

MISS NAN MORGAN
Miss Nan Morgan of Ruston, Louisiana, began her work as the second Baptist Student Secretary at E.C.T.C., February 20. Miss Morgan is taking the place of Mrs. J. E. Savage, formerly Miss Anne Downey, who came to the college May 1, 1938. The new secretary has been serving as B.S.U. Field Worker for the Education Department of the Louisiana Baptist Convention since March, 1938. She was graduated from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute and has done graduate work at Louisiana State University.

POLITICAL NOTICE: This column is all for Harvey Deal as Editor of next year's Tecocan. It may be a bit on the radical side, but nevertheless we shall back young Deal.

UNPOLITICAL NOTICE: Whoever can stand this column past this column inch is doing so on his own responsibility and we assume no responsibility.

WITHOUT PREJUDICE, I can't see why Vic Romano, Billy Daniels and Orville Morton don't shave. Every time they speak you think you're being ambushed.

TOBACCO ROAD MIGHT have been vulgar, but it reformed the workers in this fair staff room. Why the language around here is even becoming rank lately. That's much better than it was before the dramatic "dirty joke" hit our campus.

CAMPUS BREVITIES

The History Club was entertained by an informal party celebrating George Washington's birthday Tuesday, February 27 at 6:30 in the Y hut. Games and contests were held. Dr. Frank winning the contest, "Going to Jerusalem." Other guests were Mr. Holler, Miss Rose, Helen M. Cain, and Elizabeth Wilson who gave a reading on Washington. Helen Flanagan, vice president, was in charge of the program.

Phi Sigma held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday night and voted in new members who were eligible to join the organization.

The Lanier Society met last night and nominated officers for the coming year. "Hobbies" were discussed, and the club divided into hobby groups.

The club also agreed to start a scrap book on Sidney Lanier, a collection of epitaphs, and a collection of seals from different colleges.

Mr. Deal spoke to the Poe Society at its meeting last night. Officers for the coming year were nominated.

Work on the new building being constructed at East Carolina Teachers College was halted last week by heavy rains. By the end of last week the water was over a foot deep in some places, bringing work to an absolute standstill.

Laborers were temporarily dismissed until weather permits further work. As soon as the equinoctial rains cease the steel work will begin.

Mr. E. C. Holler addressed the Pitt County Association of Colored Teachers, Saturday morning, February 24, at the Fleming Street Colored School. His subject was "Some Observations and Corrections Concerning Education."

Wayne Oates, the state B.S.U. president for the coming school year, was the guest of the Baptist students on Thursday evening, February 23, when he spoke to them on "Humility."

Mr. Oates, now a junior at Wake Forest College, took part in B.S.U. work when he was at Mars Hill Junior College for two years.

time in several years that more than two candidates have been nominated for editorship of the campus publication. The fact that the present election places four nominees in the running has led campus politicians to expect a whirlwind campaign with a heavy vote as a result. The race for Business Manager of the Teco Echo offers two candidates. Helen Flanagan and Ethel Padgett were nominated by the Publications Board for that position, and will also be voted upon in the March 16 elections.

IN MR. TABOR'S new school song, there stands a line saying something about the East Carolina students standing with shoulders pressed together. According to the new rules on association between the sexes Mr. Tabor's idea is undoubtedly a shipping offense even though it does have its better points.

AND SPEAKING of ideas, the best one I can think of right now that wouldn't be offensive to anybody is for me to stop writing; so ADIEU!

Campus Camera

Student-On-The-Stand

ARE YOU IN FAVOR OF THE POINT SYSTEM?
Joyce Harrell, Senior, History and Commerce:—"Yes, I think the point system is advisable if it functions properly, because it gives more students a chance to take part in campus activities. However, the present point system does not seem to be functioning efficiently."

Emily Brendle, Senior, History and English:—"Yes, because it distributes the work among a greater number of students and prevents one person from being overworked."

Hampton Noe, Senior, Science and History:—"No. On our campus we now have the point system. Some students naturally are better leaders than others. We want to have well organized groups on our campus, and as long as we don't let the best leader be in charge, we cannot do so. I vote to do away with the point system and have the good leader lead the group."

Becky Nicholson, Senior, Primary:—"I am in favor of the point system if it functions properly and the points are given where they are deserved. It keeps one person from holding too many offices and crowding out other students."

Marguerite Hutchinson, Junior, Math and French:—"Yes. Even though some students are more capable than others, it is not fair to overburden them with work."

Katherine P. Lewis, Junior, History and French:—"No, because as it is now some of the office-holders receive too many points for the office they hold, whereas, they couldn't hold another office no matter how capable they were."

I SEE BY the Papers C. RAY PRUETTE

It is with a great deal of enthusiasm that I read of Cardinal Pacelli's election as Pope, not because I know him personally or because I have seen him, but because of his stand on world peace. It was with a great deal of anxiety that I waited for news of his speech, and when I read the message I saw that there was a challenge of which both Hitler and Mussolini must take notice.

Of the studious mind, well versed in Vatican as well as international affairs, a traveler of some consequence, he is, according to all sources, the man for the position. His greatest desire was to have his own diocese, to preach, to find an outlet for his enthusiasm, but during the World War his energies were needed elsewhere and he failed to have his wish fulfilled. May this suppressed energy be fanned, guided in the right channel, and with the fiery force of an Attila, yet with the forcefulness and calm of a Franciscan, be used in all its might against dictators and people of the demagogic type.

It seems that the National Labor Relations Board has its hands full these days. Besides dealing with unfair labor practices between employers and employees, it is burdened suddenly with a "hips" case. It all came about when a model for a well known salon in New York was fired without notice because her hips were out of proportion to the dresses she was modeling.

The young lady, head of a modelers' union, has forwarded the case to the National Labor Relations Board charging unfair practices on part of employer. It is the job of that board to ascertain whether "mother nature" is at fault or whether her employer had another person for the job.

It was brought to my attention the other day that the motto of a B-liars, humbugs, demagogues, and dastards."

As to the standards of living in this country compared with those of other countries, I find through a great deal of studying that the American standards of living are head and shoulders above all other nations in food production, automobiles used, cosmetics used, etc. The reasons for the standards of higher living in America as compared to other countries are:
(1) Abundance of resources.
(2) Mass production.
(3) Education of its citizens.
(4) Higher wage scale.

Lassies End Perfect Season; Bucs Cop Finale

ALONG THE SIDELINES With Jack Daniels

Congrats

With their victory over Charleston last Saturday, the feminine branch of ECTC's basketball excellence climaxed a glorious season with a record of five wins in five games. Under the skippering of their able Chief Norton, the lassies handed down very decisive defeats to Blackstone (twice), Charleston (also twice), and Louisburg. Such records are not at all common, and to the team that achieves such perfection, we offer our "Congrats."

Preview

Big doings are in store, athletically speaking, for the damsels when they return from the Spring Loaf-days. Soft-ball intramurals get right off to a bang on March 27. Norton says there'll be from four to six teams in the three-week scrap. Nothing definite has been done yet about inter-scholastic ball, but there's a tentative game in the offing with Blackstone. . . . Tennis begins with the tournament slated for the first two weeks in April. Anybody can enter. From the winners, they expect to pick the Varsity team for intercollegiate matches. . . . So far three matches have been written on the calendar as definite. No dates have been settled but the fits are with Blackstone (two matches) and Long Island University, who will be on a tour. . . . Only three veterans returned this year. . . . Nancy Albright. . . . Mary Frances Byrd. . . . and Ruth Parker. . . . Miss Norton has plans for hockey intramurals. . . . but the weather man had other ideas. . . . so rather than play in mud. . . . the girls are forgetting the whole matter.

His Name Still Lives

And then there was the man, who hunted for diamonds far and wide, and finally found them in his own back yard. . . . We, of younger crop, often go through college oblivious to the "diamonds" that are a part of our everyday life. . . . Here is an article we came across commending very highly the career of one of ECTC's old stand-bys who is in the graduate school here. . . . The well known character is. . . . Boley Farley. . . . former Pirate Mentor.

We quote from a Danville, Va., newspaper: "When Washington and Lee's Blue Comets come to Danville tomorrow for their Southern conference battle with Wake Forest, Danville supporters who once idolized Boley Farley, a Danville boy who became an all-southern guard at Duke, will see very suggestive flashes of 'Boley' in Ronnie Thompson."

The article went on to cite the familiarities of Thompson's style and flash to the glorified Farley. It stated the peculiar likeness of the two boys in physical size, temperament, and visage. Several well known coaches have frequently commented on the likeness of the athletes.

This just goes to show us that we are in constant contact with the eagerly sought "diamonds" and, unfortunately never realize it. Don't feel bad folks! . . . We didn't know it either!

Iron Man

When the graduating class leaves ECTC this year, there will be in that group a man who takes with him one of the finest records of service on the campus. . . . He entered here in the Spring of '35, and since that day has served the college in football, basketball, and baseball for four years. He isn't the dashing, spectacular athlete who gets volleys of cheers from the grandstand, but he's always "in there," doing a vital piece of the work for dear old ECTC. . . . His ambition is not to "star" . . . but to serve. . . . Although he takes a very active part in athletics. . . . he still has time to be active in the Varsity and Phi Sigma Pi. . . . When he walks out of the gate at ECTC he is going to be missed. . . . because he served. . . . Trenton Uniques Win Tournament

Students of East Carolina rejoiced Friday night, February 24, when they saw the Trenton "Uniques" down Atlantic Christian's Bulldogs, 42-30, to cop the finals of the East Carolina Independent Invitational Tournament. The cause for jubilation was the fact that the Buc-Basketeers Brock, Shelton, and Smith played a very large part in defeating the bitter rivals of Pirate-land, aided and abetted by Cecil Longest, U.N.C. veteran, and Jack Brock, brother to Don, N. C. State star.

The game waxed hot in the first few minutes of play, but the Trentons turned on the steam and ran the score up to 24-14 at the intermission. A.C. rallied in the opening of the second period and rang five points before the Trentons scored. Then the Champs opened fire with all guns and when the score-board razzed the Bulldogs, "42-30," which was time to blow the whistle.

The tournament began with the first round on Tuesday, with ten teams playing games and Trenton, Windsor and Williamston drawing byes. In the first round were A.C.C. vs. Colerain Red Devils, Williams-ton Aces vs. Aurora Truckers, Washington Independents vs. Naval Base, ECTC Outlaws vs. Morehead Baptists, and Kinston Key Kagers vs. Winterville All Stars. Those surviving the initial affrays were A.C.C., Aurora, Washington, ECTC Outlaws, and Winterville, who on Wednesday mixed with the teams drawing byes for the quarter-finals. A.C.C. and ECTC Outlaws won their games to meet in the semi-finals on Thursday, and Trenton was to meet Williamston. In the semi-finals, the Outlaws lost to the Bulldogs, and Trenton swamped Williamston, which brought the two teams to the finals. Williamston triumphed over the Outlaws to take third place.

At the close of the final game trophies were awarded by J. D. Alexander to the winners and runners-up. The judges in choosing the All-tournament team, named Holloman (ACC), and Longest

Pirates Victors In 18 Conflicts For Season Record

With their victory over Wilson Teachers College last Tuesday night, the Buccaneers closed their inter-collegiate basketball season with the enviable record of 18 victories out of 28 starts.

Although the Pirates tackled a tougher schedule this year than ever before, playing colleges who, previously, have been far above East Carolina's class, their record shows marked improvement over last year when they took eight games and yielded nine. In their more extensive seafarings this year, the Buccaneers met new and strong adversaries in their skirmishes with Wake Forest Rebels, Wilson Teachers, Lynchburg, and Elon.

The toughest games of the year were with High Point and Elon. The Bucs dropped two games to each foe by short margins. They added feathers to their caps when they defeated Wake Forest Rebels, Wilson Teachers, Lynchburg, Naval Base, and Rocky Mount YMCA. The record book shows that the Bucs' well outscored their opponents by ringing up a season total of 1,075 points against their opponents' total of 935 tallies. Their seasonal percentage of games won is .642. The Corsairs make their last appearance this year in a post-season game with the House of David here on March 22.

Burgaw Pugilists Take First Place In High Tourney

"Primmy" Carpenter's boxing team from Burgaw High School returned home last Friday night with championships in six weight classes after battling their way through two days and nights of the second annual East Carolina Invitational Boxing Tournament held here. Thirty-one fighters represented eight high schools. Burgaw won two of their championships by forfeit along the ladder toward the finals. In the finals they won three combats and one forfeit.

Kinston ran second in the honors by clinching four of the titles, all by the combat route. Ayden High and Greenville High took one title each. Thirty-one fighters represented eight high schools in twelve weights. Each of the finalists was awarded a handsome trophy in the form of tiny golden gloves.

A summary of finals:

Sextette Humbles Charleston Team For Fifth Victory

Game Played In Charleston; 32-25 Is Score

Coach Lucille Norton's Pirate Lassies capped a perfect cage season last Saturday night when they downed the College of Charleston on the enemy territory with a score of 32-25. This was the East Carolinians fifth win out of five starts, chalking up for them a seasonal percentage of 1000.

Nosing out an early lead, the Sea Roverettes kept just ahead of the South Carolinians during the first quarter, but as the second period rolled around they gradually pulled away from their hosts and at intermission, the score read 17-9.

It was in the third quarter that offensive tactics by both teams were brought to an almost complete standstill, the defensive walls of both teams nearly impenetrable. The invaders' defense yielded two field goals, while the Charleston bulwark blocked all field shots and yielded only one point on a free throw. With the score reading 18-13 at the opening of the final period, both aggregations staged a scoring marathon which raged for the entire quarter with the East Carolinians emerging victors at the final whistle 32-25.

Jenkins, of Charleston, led the floor in scoring honors, gathering 15 tallies, followed closely by Eileen Tomlinson's total of 14. Hopkins rang second for the Lady Bucs with 10 and Kim Tomlinson and Butler chalked up 4 points each.

Coach Norton used ten players to take her second victory of the year over the girls of the historic city. The Charlestonians played eight. The Teachers made 24 of their points by the field goal route, yielding only eight field goals to their foes.

Letter Men Report For Diamond Drills

Baseball got under way at East Carolina Teachers College this week with ten lettermen returning to train under the guiding hand of Coach Gordon Gilbert. The Coach has begun sending his proteges through the initial pre-season warm ups with his vigilant eye on the opening game with Campbell College at Buie's Creek on April Fools' Day.

On April 3, the Bucs lay siege to Atlantic Christian, in Wilson, at which time they will decide whether they keep the "Bo-Hunk Trophy" or yield it to their rival. The Bucs' first home-ground appearance is a double-header slated for April 8 with Ohio Wesleyan University.

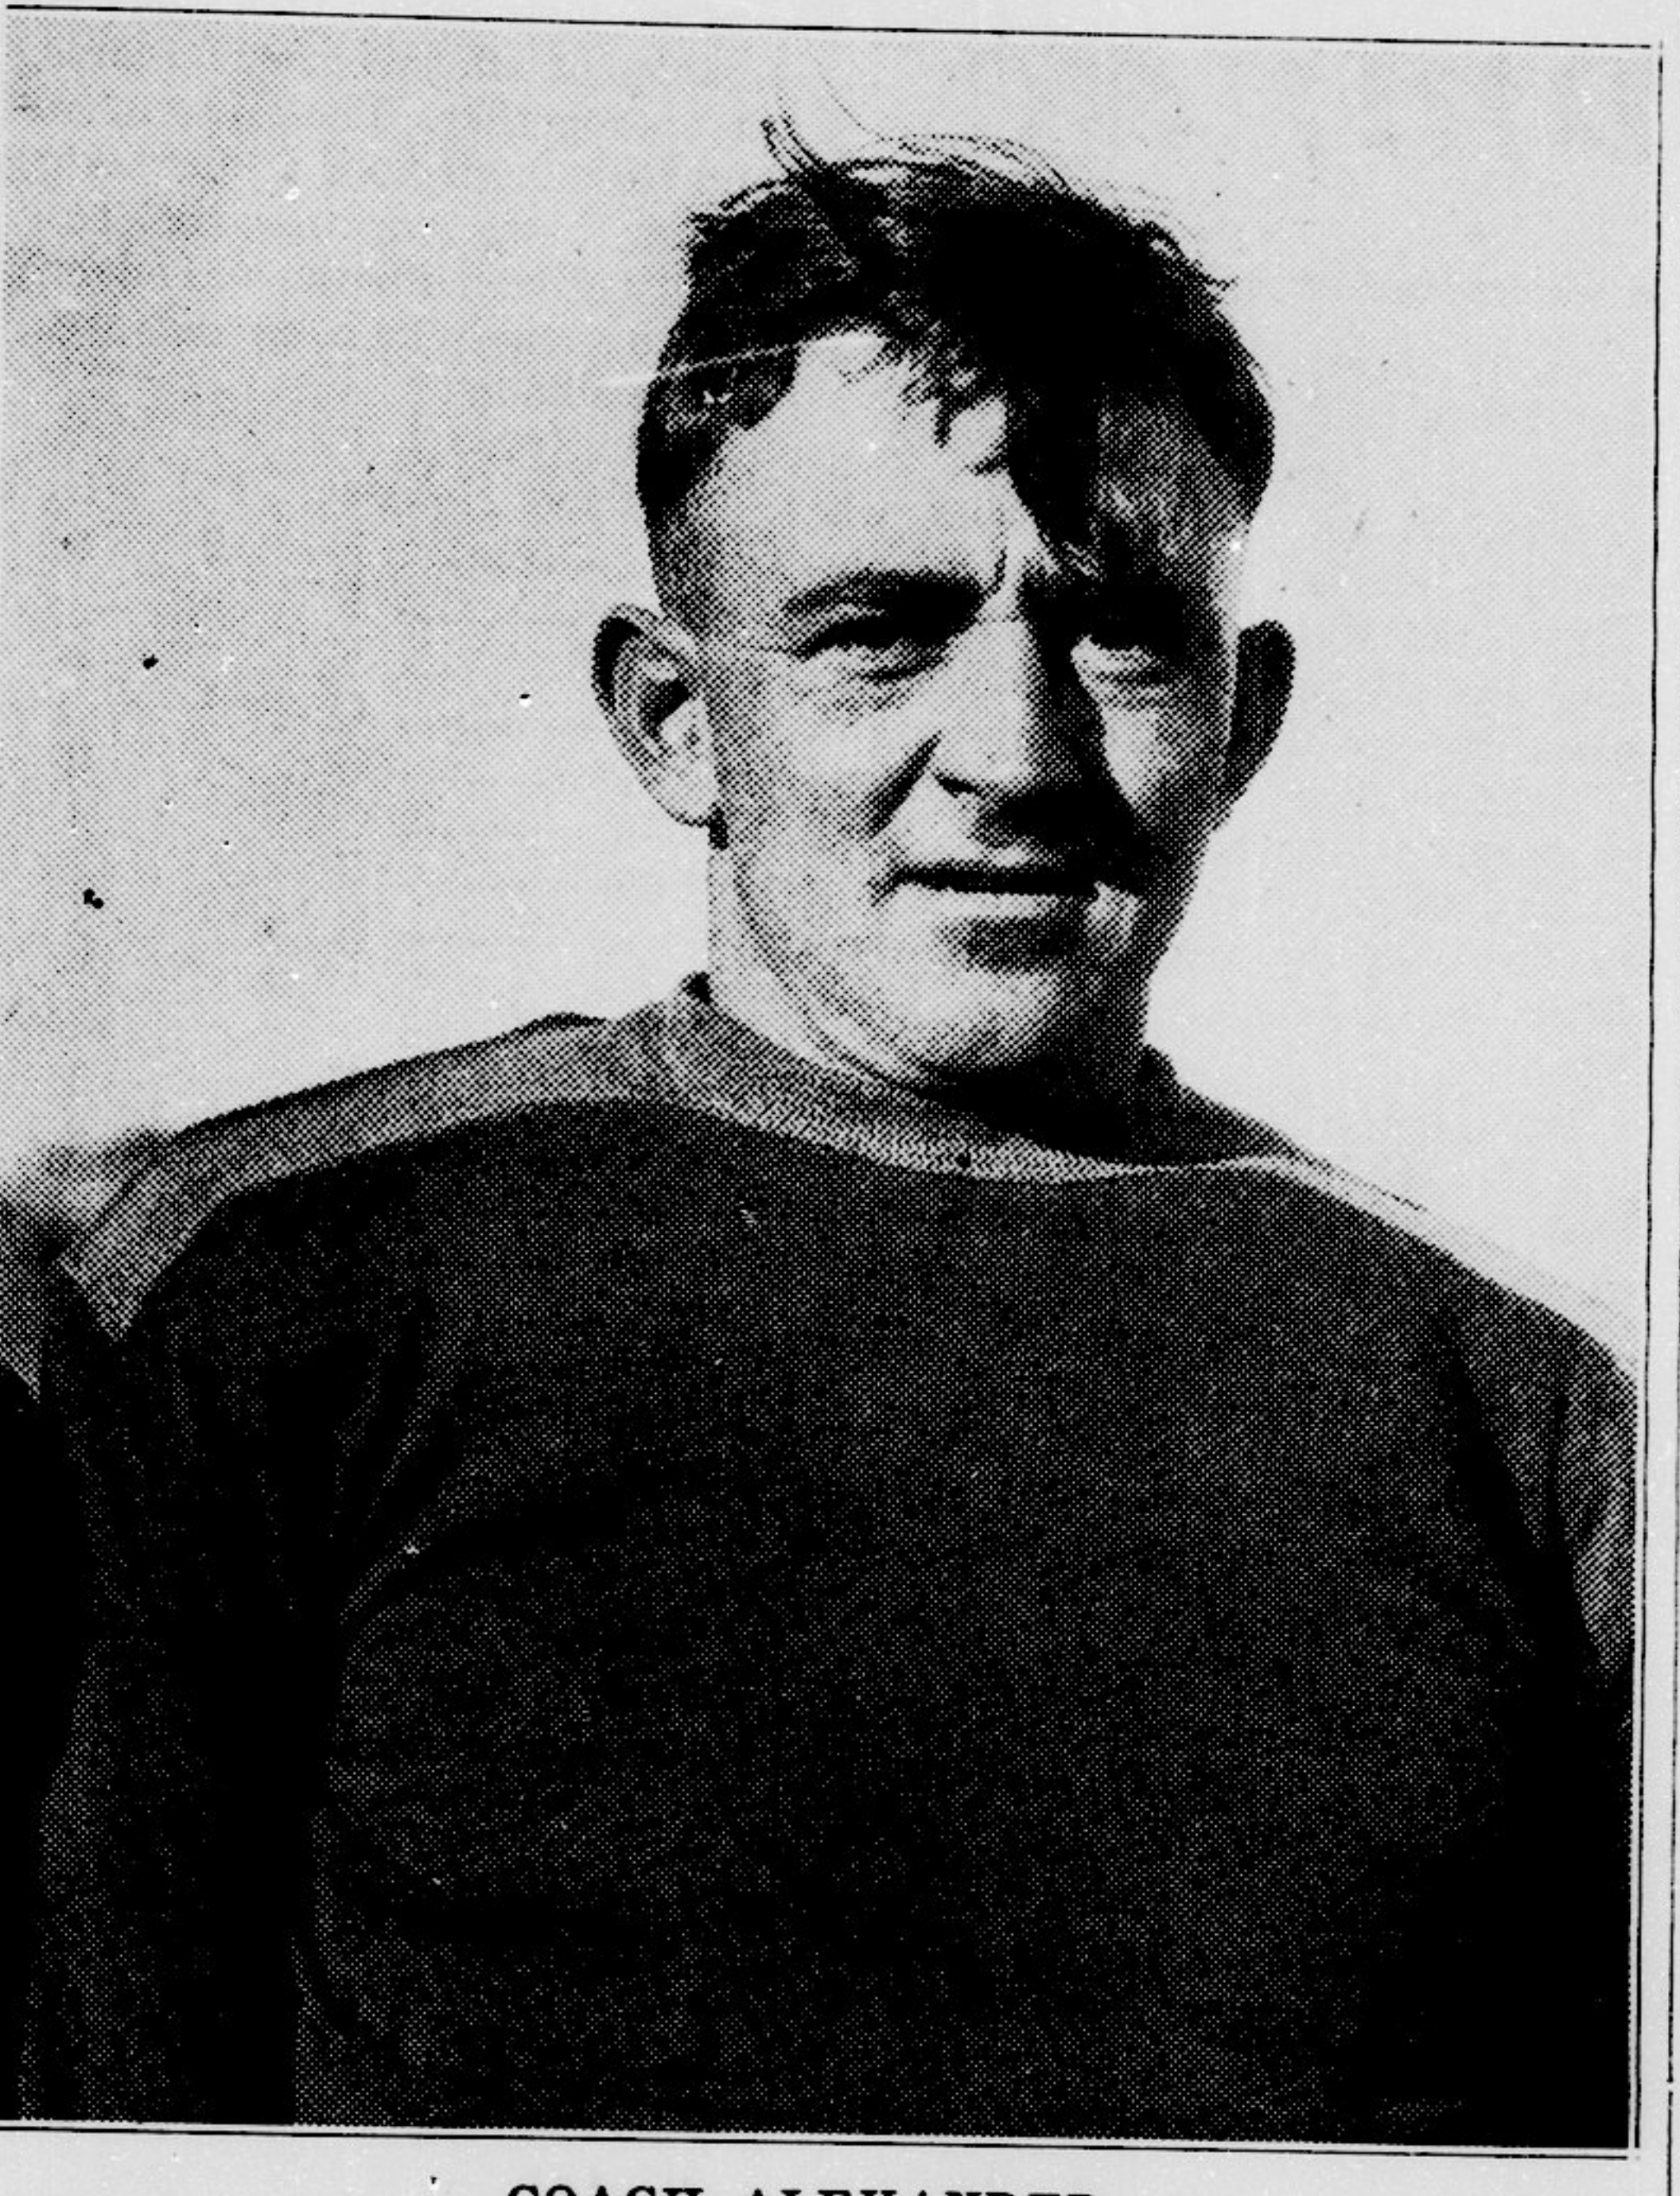

Of the ten letter-men answering roll, four are pitchers. They are Kelly Martin, Willy Phillips, Ed Wells and Dave (Lightnin') Breece, who also does pretty well at the No. 1 bag. "Jew" Ayers, veteran of many seasons, will probably hold down the other end of the battery. For infielders, Gilbert has Hinton, Ridenhour, Shelton and Smith. Fielders are lacking on the Bucs' returning squad. Joe Hatem will probably hold down one berth, but the Pirates will miss Jim Johnson, and Fran Ferebee.

Coach Gilbert stated, "A favorable amount of new material has also turned out and with the returning men, our chances for a good season look great!"

Alexander Announces Resignation As Director of Athletic Department

Coach Accepts Texas Position; To Leave At Close of Winter Term

J. D. (Swede) Alexander has recently announced his resignation from his post as Director of Physical Education at East Carolina Teachers College, to become effective at the close of the winter quarter. When interviewed by a Teco Echo staff reporter, "Coach" stated that his reasons for resignation were wrapped up in a position offered to him by Swinson Estates, located in Oklahoma and Texas. Mr. Alexander's job will be the management of approximately 150 farms, scattered through twenty-three counties of Oklahoma and twenty-eight counties of Texas, and will require much traveling. Coach was asked why he was giving up physical education for a rural life in the "old Wild West." He replied, "I like physical education, but an increase of eight hundred dollars a year isn't to be sneezed at."

Mr. Alexander came to ECTC from Lincoln Memorial University in Tennessee. Since his arrival in the fall of 1937, the athletic program of East Carolina has shown marked strides of progress. His ability as a promoter, as well as a coach and instructor, brought to the college many new phases of physical education.

Coach Alexander will leave for his new home near Clarksville, Texas, on the first day of spring holidays, March 16. His successor has not yet been named by the administration, but authorities stated that the position had been tentatively filled pending final acceptance; the selection will probably be made public at the beginning of the Spring Term.

Second Victory Over Washington Quintet

Before a large crowd of cheering fans, East Carolina's Buccaneers closed their basketball season by completely snuffing Wilson Teachers College Tuesday night to the tune of 53-30. This was the Pirates' second victory of the season over the Washington, D. C. quint. The first game, played in Washington, was a close one ending 41-38.

Donald "Duck" Brock lead the Corsair conquest in the first stanza by peppering the visitors' goal for 14 tallies which brought the half time score to 26-10. Coach Gilbert started the second period with his reserve squad who ably matched their talents with the Congressmen, and kept the Pirate 16 point lead until they were replaced by the first string in the last few minutes. Following their spark-plug, Bill Shelton, the "Senior Bucs," rolled over the vanquished Capitolists in the remaining moments to run the final score up to 53-30.

The fans were startled with the weak showing the visiting quint made in the local gym. After their near-victory performance against the Pirates in Washington, the Congressmen were expected to put up a tough battle here. Wilson brought the same team against the Corsairs this time; Clark taking scoring honors with 12 markers. Realizing that this was their last intercollegiate appearance for the season, the East Carolinians seemed (Please turn to page four)

Among the Alumnae

Elizabeth Copeland

With the coming of spring, the secretary is anxious to have some new Alumnae Chapters organized. She urges that any school, town or county with as many as ten graduates of this college meet and start a unit of our Alumnae Association. If any help is needed in the organization the secretary will be glad to come at any time and assist as much as she can. Commencement will be here soon and of course all alumnae are expected back for that occasion, and everyone will be happy to hear reports from new chapters as well as the old. So, call your fellow graduates together and even if you do not meet but once or twice a year, from a local unit, and help our college to grow by keeping a wide awake Alumnae Association.

A number of 1938 graduates have been recent visitors on the campus, among them, Misses Maggie Crumpler of Tabor City, Margaret Davis of Wilmington, Lillian and Josephine Ambrose of Belhaven, Hannah Martin of Asheville, Louise Martin of Warsaw, Studie Williamson of Williams, Bernice Alston of Harnettsville, Grace Spencer of Harnettsville, Doris Mewborn of Murfreesboro, Messrs. Chauncey Calfee of Elm City, Primrose Carpenter of Burgaw, Alvah Page of Trenton, Joseph Braxton of Rock Ridge, John Jenkins of Franklinton and Thornton Stovall of Winterville.

Mrs. J. B. Spilman, who was recently elected an honorary member of the Raleigh Alumnae Chapter, was the speaker at the regular monthly meeting, Monday night, February 27, when the members gathered at the home of Mrs. Max Miller, 2225 Crescent Road. Joint hostesses with Mrs. Miller, were Miss Pattie Jenkins and Mrs. Irene Fleming.

During the business hour, preceding Mrs. Spilman's talk, plans were completed for a luncheon to be held at the Woman's Club on Friday, March 17, at 1:00 o'clock, during the State Teachers Meeting.

Following Mrs. Spilman's very interesting talk, bridge was enjoyed at six tables and the hostess served a sweet course.

Special attention is called to the luncheon for East Carolina Teachers College alumnae and alumni, during the State Teachers Meeting, at the Woman's Club in Raleigh, March 17. Former students of this college may call in their reservations, while at the meeting, to Mrs. J. M. Newsome, 115 Woodburn Road (telephone 5214). Cover charges will be 40 cents. Charter members of the college faculty and president Leon P. Meadows are to be guests of the Raleigh Chapter.

Meeting of Christian Associations Terminates In Racial Alliance

One of the most significant conferences in the history of the YM-YWCA of North Carolina was held in Durham, Sunday, February 26, at the North Carolina College for Negroes. Its significance lies in the fact at this meeting the YM-YWCA joined the Negro YM-YWCA, making it one international movement. Brooks Patten, president of the state YM-YWCA presided over the meeting, with the "Y" organizations of the North Carolina College for Negroes acting as hosts to the delegates from fifteen colleges over the state. The morning session began with a Worship Service conducted by Jack Price of State College, assisted by delegates from Shaw University.

Mr. Kirby Page, a lecturer, an author, and a recognized authority on the economical political condition of the world today, addressed the group twice, at the morning session and at the afternoon meeting. In his morning address, "Why so Contemporary Civilizations so Desperately Sink?" he set forth the ailments of the sick civilization as suggested remedies which he thought would bring about a better spiritual and physical world. "Religious Resources for Personal Living and Socialization" was the topic for his afternoon address.

Jamesville Boys, Green Hope Girls Win Cage Titles

By outpointing a field of forty-five boys' and girls' basketball teams the Jamesville boys and Green Hope girls took this year's annual East Carolina Invitational High School Tournament. The Jamesville cagers took the Stokes team, last year's champs, on February 18, under control to win the cup, while the Green Hope sextet bested the Dunn contingent, who tied for top honors with Green Hope last year, in the final affray.

Emma Sicktoo Confined to Infirmary And Life Takes On New Cargo of Worry

By LOIS HUGHES

Emma Sicktoo finally had to give in to her feelings. The flu had it hold. She was destined to go to the infirmary.

"Don't mind the thought of missing only a week," comforted her roommate. "You won't have any trouble making up the lessons you'll miss. Just rest and forget everything, even Jack. He doesn't really like that red-head. He just goes with her when you are not around."

So Emma went to the infirmary for rest and rest is what she got. From morning until night, she was kept in a spotlessly white bed, fed fruit juices, and given pills regularly, very regularly. When the numeral amounted to twenty, she slyly washed them down the sink.

"Rest" her roommate said, so Emma slept all afternoon, but when night came—Oh! for a glass of Ovaltine! Now she knew the truth of those advertisements.

A few days later, Emma walked into the "Y" store to find her roommate and learn all the news.

"Nothing much happened," her roommate replied cheerfully, "Your Jack is an awful scoundrel. He left school to marry that red-headed hussy and you only have three tests, two themes, and a project to make-up."

Where is Emma these days? Why back in the infirmary with a nervous breakdown.
