PEAK ENROLLMENT REACHED

Scholarships And Awards Presented At Exercises

Elsie West

Five scholarships and awards were presented to members of the Senior Class at the commencement exercises of the preceding school year.

The Andrews Scholarship, given each year by Alexander B. Andrews, a member of the Board of Trustees, was established in memory of his wife, Helen Sharples Andrews, and has been awarded annually since 1924. A gift of $100, the scholarship was awarded this year to Mary Cameron Dixon who was president of the student body.

James Gianokas, who was captain of Coach Christenbury's undefeated football team during the 1941-1942 college year, was awarded the Christenbury Memorial Award. This award is given in memory of John B. Christenbury, coach and teacher of physical education who lost his life while serving in World War II. The award is a cup to be kept at the college with the winner's name engraved on it each year.

This year, because of the war, the requirement that the winner be a member of varsity squad during his senior year was waived.

The James Fenly Spear, Jr., Memorial Award, an annual gift of $50 from Mrs. Nell Spear, in memory of her son, Fenly, a former student who was killed in World War II, is given a senior majoring in science. Nora Lee Hinnant an outstanding student leader was presented this award.

Elsie West, outstanding in scholarship, leadership, and service, walked off with double honors. She received the Medal to an Outstanding Senior of the Class of 1946 from the Class of 1943. Also, she received a $25 cash award, given by Beta Kappa Chapter of Pi Omega Pi, a national honorary business education fraternity. This is given the graduate who has the highest scholastic standing in four years of business education.

New Soda Shop Being Built On The Campus

Praise the Lord and pass out your compliments and thanks. The old "Y" Store is going out of existence; and in its place, we hope to have a new modern fountain in the Dining Hall Building which will be surpassed by no college or University soda shop in N. C. and few in the nation.

In the room between N & S dining halls, new doors will be cut—a new passage way will be made to the Post Office. A fountain and counter will be constructed facing West. A door will lead from the fountain onto a brick terrace where you will find a place to sit down to talk over your drinks.

Probably the complete goal can not be attained at the beginning of construction but as materials becomes more plentiful and the fountain starts operation, improvements can always be added. One of the proposed beautiful features of the terrace is that we have a fountain and pool surrounded by green grass in the patio.

This will be one of the prettiest spots in the country. East Carolina Teachers College is stepping out.

Entertains With Magic

The student body was feted to their first entertainment of the current summer term on Tuesday, June 25, when the Great Torrini and Phyllis presented a program of fun and mystery entitled "Magic at Its Best."

Torrini, a master of two arts—magic and lightning-fast cartooning—is now on a road tour of clubs, colleges, camps, churches and hotels throughout the United States. With an almost limitless repertoire of tricks and deceptions, Torrini and Phyllis provided a highly entertaining program.

"Honey while we're sitting out here in the moonlight, I want to ask you a question."

"Yes, My darling."

"Could we move over a little? I'm sitting on a nail."

Notice!

The staff of the Teco Echo has gone to much trouble and effort to give to you a summer edition of this paper. We are publishing a paper because we think that you want it and because we enjoy working with the paper. Realizing that many of you will not be back for the last six weeks and may want to read about those of us who are back; we would like for you to have a copy of the remaining issues of the summer.

It would be impossible for us to go to the files and look up each of your home addresses, so if you would like the papers, here is how you can get them. self-address three envelopes and place one cent, yes, just a one cent stamp on each envelope. You may hand these envelopes to either Joe Tew or Garlan Bailey and they will make every effort to have you a paper within a few days after it comes off the press. We wish to do this for you so please cooperate with us in this operation.

Pre-Engineering To Be Offered

Indications are that a pre-engineering course will be offered when the 1946-1947 school year opens in September, according to Dr. R. J. Slay, dean of the college.

Dr. Slay and Dr. Charles W. Reynolds, Department of Science, have conferred with B. F. Brown, dean of the Basic Division at N. C. State College, relative to the requirements and possibilities of such a program being established at the local institution.

The course in pre-engineering anticipated for East Carolina Teachers College would enable those receiving their basic engineering here for transfer to any other state institution offering engineering to complete their training.

"A course in pre-engineering has been in great demand at East Carolina Teachers College for several years," Dr. Slay stated, "and this demand has become even greater because of congested conditions in schools throughout the nation."

Dr. H. J. McGinnis Returns From N. Y.

Dr. Howard J. McGinnis has returned from Lake Chautauqua, New York where he represented the North Carolina Education Association at a national emergency conference on teacher preparation and supply.

Dr. McGinnis also attended a ten-day school for executives sponsored by the American Association of Teachers College, of which East Carolina Teachers College is a member. Approximately 300 college executives from all parts of the United States attended. Dr. McGinnis made the trip to and from New York by plane.

Is that all?

Official Enrollment 506 For Summer Term

Robert A. "Bob" Eason

Robert Eason Given Award

Robert A. "Bob" Eason, Class of '34, was presented the annual alumni award as the most outstanding graduate of the year. In accepting the award, Mr. Eason urged the alumni of East Carolina Teachers College to lend their efforts to establish a permanent peace and to outlaw war forever.

Dr. A. D. Frank, Head of the History Department, made the citation and showed how "Bob" had been successful in the teaching profession as well as in military service. After being called to active duty in 1940, he rose rapidly to the rank of lieutenant colonel. He saw action abroad as commander of a Field Artillery Unit in France, Belgium, Holland and Germany. He received the Bronze Star for meritorious service against the enemy. After his discharge, he returned to Rocky Mount where he has gone in business.

Charlton Has His Headaches

John D. Charlton has his share of headaches in the form of similar and identical names during the regular school year, and the summer term is no exception.

When the middle initial of Dorothy B. Jones of Snow Hill and Dorothy D. Jones of Farmville is omitted, these girls have to examine post marks. Confusion is sometimes caused by mail for Marjorie Louise Thomas of Contoe in Edgecombe county and Margery Lee Thomas of Warsaw. To avoid a conflict, Postmaster Charlton assigned the same box to Illmar Kearney and Wilmar Kearney. Other similar names include those of Arline Koonce and Irene Koonce.

SEE-SAW

The bathing-dress our Grandmas wore Looked like a Mothr Hubbard. But girls who swim today look more Like Mother Hubbard's cupboard.

An official enrollment figure of 506 was reached by the close of registration for the first term of the current summer session, it was announced from the office of Dr. R. J. Slay, dean of the college. The present enrollment exceeds that of the first summer term of the 1945 session by 149, and is the highest in several years.

One hundred men students are enrolled for summer work. Seventy-eight of this number are attending school under provisions of the G. I. Bill of Rights. This is the largest number of men students at the college since the outbreak of the war.

Sixty-three graduate students are enrolled at the college. Dr. Slay revealed that there is an increase in the number of graduate students in all departments. Dr. Charles W. Reynolds stated that the largest number of students in years are doing graduate work in the Department of Science.

The need for additional facilities in the Health and Physical Education Department to accommodate candidates for the Master's Degree in physical education was noted in the large number of requests for graduate work in the field of physical education.

Forty-five students are attending for the first time this summer. Of these, forty are transfers and fifteen are freshmen.

Students Welcome July 4th, With Dancing

Wednesday night, July 3rd saw a new milestone established at ECTC. The girls were allowed to remain out until one o'clock and did so dancing to the music of a band which played the music that you love to hear. Amid the decorations of red, white and blue carrying out the spirit of the fourth of July, the couples made their rounds of the dance floor. The high light of the evening came when members of the student government and the dance committee paraded to the center of the floor and formed the figure 4. Those taking part in the figure were: Miss Mary Buckmaster with Willie Warner, Miss Mary Wooten with Ben Brown, Dot Powell with Tommy Moore, Freda Caudell with Joe Tew, Frances Sutton with Garlan Bailey, Dorothy Harris with Richard Bailey, Doris Davis with Stewart Tripp, Ruth Krank with Bill Tucker, Alma Whitley with R. L. Shuford, Margery Thomas with James Dorsey, Dorothy B. Jones with James Harper, Margie Lewis with Everett Hudson, Ester Hines with G. T. Throne, Mamie Lee Fischel with Troy Rouse, Dr. and Mrs. Reynolds. Everyone seemed to be having fun and as a result, the dance in the latter six weeks will be looked forward to with even greater anticipation.

A woman's best asset is man's imagination.

Which Type Fits You?

WHAT'S in a handclasp. A bond of friendship that may or may not last for ages to come. I once met a person for the first time and upon being introduced, I stretched out my arm for the old friendly shake that is due all good friendships. I had just about as soon to have received a slap in the face with a cold fish.

The clash was loose and clammy like a well used dishrag. My opinion was formed of the person very quickly and until today that is the only person that I could not learn to appreciate in some way or other. Again, when you meet the person that gives out with a firm grasp and hearty shake, you feel that the person really appreciated meeting you. Take a look at yourself--Do not be the dishrag type of a person because you may regret it in later life. A good friend is worth having and that first handshake may be the beginning of your most worth while friendship.

Last Rites For Old Glory Long Overdue

Camly and proudly Old Glory flies. Its very sereness seems to say to us that while I am aloft you have naught to fear. It's forty-eight stars and thirteen stripes stand for our United States. The tribute of liberty and justice for all. The red represents the blood of our dead soldiers. When we stop to think of it, it is the most beautiful flag in the world, and we wouldn't trade it for any in the world.

"Sign of a nation, great and strong,
To ward her people from foreign wrong:
Pride and glory and her honor,—all
Live in the colors to stand or fall.

Someday soon won't you go out to our flag pole and see what is flying from it's mast. Pitiful isn't it? Tattered and torn, with faded colors, it still flies there. Doing duty when long ago the last rites should have been administered. It's condition is a shame nad disgrace to our school.

Is this the way to honor our dead? It is such a small thing and yet what it stands for is greater than anyone or all of us. To me it's frayed edges are an ill omen. How easy it is to forget so soon the price so recently paid for it. Less than a year ago our buddies and relatives were dying so that we could still fly

Reprinted from the July issue of Esquire

Old Glory. Have we lost so soon our pride and heritage for which they fought! I ask you, the student body of ECTC, are you going to sit calmly by and see this condition continue unchanged? I hope the answer is no. If the administration cannot afford to buy a decent flag, then take up a collection from the student body. It would mean that you would have to do without one of your cokes thaday.

Is it asking too much? What it represents means far more than money for money can't buy it. In time of war it would be almost an act of treason not to fly the colors, but, now, we can forget can't we?

Read this over and ponder the pledge to the Flag.

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag
And to the republic for which it stands
One nation indivisible
With liberty and justice for all.

Now you decide whether or not ECTC should have a new flag.

Thru-Tha Knothole

by Garlan Bailey

You have probably noticed that the chains on back campus remain up all of the time now. We who realized the danger that faced the students when cars raced up and down the straight-away back of the Halls, thank those of the administration responsible for leaving the street closed. Since the college campus is for the college students, they should be allowed the use of the street to walk in and not have the fear of being run down by an automobile just passing through. You girls who enjoy the traffic so much should appreciate the fact that the safety of one student is worth more than all the enjoyment you could get out of the cars at the expense of one accident.

The boys here at ECTC are in a position that they can really put a plug in for the college. They will give the college good publicity that will resound through out the state. Their position and attitude on the campus will largely determine the college's future as a coed school. The boys wish this as much as any one else connected with the school. Several of the boys have already persuaded others to enroll here and they are talking it up for still more. WHY? When another student enrolls here thru the persuasion of another student, it is in a purely unselfish attitude with the fact in mind that we have a good school where the college is a credit to the student and the student, to the college. The boys wish to co-operate fully with the administration and in return would like to have equal co-operation from the latter. We wish to have the best college in the nation and there is no material reason why it shouldn't be.

The Vets in Wilson have had a big laugh the past few weeks. It seems that President Fred Martin and committee of Wilson tried to get something done for the boys. The committee never could find out just where to go for the needed help. Everyone approached was always co-operative but had no authority to act—passing the buck (army slang) on to some one else. Most interesting was the fact that often the latter person approached would often refer the boys back to where they had started in the beginning. This of course caused confusion in their minds and when action finally comes about, the boys have no idea to whom they owe their thanks. Now the boys would like to know just who they can take their problems and receive some immediate action. The human nature of the boys resent promises made which are permitted to linger on for days and weeks and when investigated, they find out that nothing has been done.

With the coming of the new soda shop, someone ought to make arrangements for the purchase of a music box. The new location is in a most perfect spot and is far enough away from the class rooms that the music would not interfere with the class room work. Of course one so called music box could be rented from some company operating through this section, but why pay a large rental fee on a box when one would pay for itself in less than a year. Thereafter the profit would be 100 per cent. The records that are taken off the box could be passed on to the record player at the Campus building for dancing purposes.

Saturday, June 1st the ECTC Alumni Association met here on the campus. It seems to me that the meeting would have been just a little more complete if some action had been taken to honor East Carolina Teachers College's Gold Star war heroes. Each and every boy who gave his life for his country was a hero and should not be forgotten so readily. I think that it was an oversight on the Alumni and one which could and should be corrected. The Veterans who are now attending the college have not and will not forget these who were not so fortunate as themselves. A great part of the Alumni Association never saw more hardships during this past war than was faced right here on the home front. They should honor those fellow students who paid the supreme sacrifice by some type of recognition.

Scumming

By The Keyhole Korrespondent

Despite these sultry summer days, your "ole" Keyhole Korrespondent hasn't been sleeping all the time, so here's a little gossip to prove it.

Now, there is the story of Clark Stokes walking 60 feet on a 50 foot pier down at Wrightsville Beach—and Clark is still doing OK with that big automobile.

Is it true that you have the Bailey Ache, Dot?

M. Lewis and E. Hudson seem to be a regular twosome on campus and she is not to be here the second six weeks.

Jesse Lamn and Mary are always together.

Of course as the story goes, Garlan Bailey looks in all chairs before sitting down.

Congratulations, Jimmy!

Jerry and Joe Brown, morning, noon and night.

Willie W.?????

Joe Tew always asks a girl whether she is married before he starts making advances, but Joe she was so good looking.

Mildred Jordan and Otis P. will not go many days before they will manage to arrange another meeting.

Is it true that I. Kearney is interested in a certain boy with a beautiful yellow packard.

Doug, we will give you a question mark this week also????

Well, we finally hear the date has been set for "G" and Bob. Congratulations!

Freda, you really brought out the "gypsy" in Joe at the dance or should it be "tipsy".

Dug certainly seems to like blondes. We wonder who'll be next.

Margie and Dot are still dreaming about their trip to Thomasville. It must have been wonderful!!!!

Why is everybody calling "Judge" Hall the "Corner Girl"???

Why is it that Sybil W. never wants a man until someone else has him???

Thelma and Jack go together pretty well until he starts jitterbugging.

Mary C. and Jesse really have that love look in their eyes.

The softball games have attracted a nice crowd of spectators, but is it the games or the players???

The swimming pool business has increased since Clark and Bob are life guards.

Charlie Bill really has been the lone-wolf around campus lately.

Mary Buck is otherwise known as "Ester Williams" around the swimming pool for obvious reasons.

Troy and "Fish" dutifully go to the library every night, but they do their studying on the front steps!!!! Are the movies in Ayden better than the ones here, Garlan???

Why does Colleen K. insist on staying home Sunday nights when she has to break her neck for a 10 o'clock class Monday morning?

Why does Jack Edwards always date two gals at one time? Hoarding, maybe???

Well, we've about scraped the gutter bare, so if you guys and gals will do something exciting like standing on the corner, we'll do our best to scrape it up! See you next time.

Marshall Attends N. C. Motor Club

"In 1945 there were ten times as many accidents among sixteen-year-old drivers in the United States than among those of from 45 to 50 years of age," it was revealed at a seminar on driver education and training held recently at Columbia University, New York, according to W. E. Marshall, instructor in Government, who represented the North Carolina Motor Club at the seminar.

During the ten-day seminar, held under the sponsorship of the American Automobile Association in Cooperation with Columbia University, intensive training courses were given to supplement training for high school teachers in safety measures in driving, and society's responsibilities to drivers and pedestrians.

Professors of government and physical training instructors from twenty-seven colleges and universities from Florida to Vermont were in attendance to perpetuate an extensive campaign that has been inaugurated to foster safer driving and lower the accident among youthful drivers of the nation.

Mr. Marshall stated that East Carolina Teachers College is cooperating in the national program of highway safety and this fall will conduct a "behind-the-wheel" safety program. He explained that actual driving experience under qualified instructors would be offered to high school students.

Dr. Amos E. Neyhart, administrative head of the Institute of Public Safety at Pennsylvania State College, and also road training consultant for the American Automobile Association, was in charge of the seminar. Mr. Marshall praised the cooperation the North Carolina Motor Club and the AAA are giving the colleges in the safety program.

Alumni Association Bestows Honors

Miss Mamie E. Jenkins and Miss Kate W. Lewis, last two members of the original faculty to retire, were honored by the Alumni Association at the annual business meeting when a loan fund was established as an expression of appreciation for their services to the school.

Both teachers came to Greenville in 1909, when East Carolina Teachers Training school first opened its doors and have served for 36 years. Both have taken an active part in the development of the Alumni Association and have been on hand to welcome returning students on Alumni Day.

A sum of $600.00, to be called the Mamie E. Jenkins-Kate W. Lewis Loan Fund, has been turned over to

Jarvis Forensic Club Active This Summer

"Russia Today and Tomorrow" and "Congressional Reorganization" started the Jarvis Forensic Club this quarter into two of the hottest sessions of its history. Venturing out into the untried the Jarvis Forensic laid plans in the Spring Term to continue meetings throughout the summer. Early estimates proved correct and the club has operated full blast through the first summer session. So far this is the first club of this nature to attempt summer meetings.

Acting Presidnet, Joyce Strickland has expressed complete satisfaction with the summer meetings. "We have taken a new step and we have proven that campus clubs do not have to close because of summer vacations." We will be at the starting line when the fall term comes to serve the student body of ECTC.

The fall plans include an intensive membership drive so that the club can realize its aim of taking top honors in all the intercollegiate contests. Emphasis will also be placed on forum discussions, parliamentary procedure, and individual speaking ability.

Dorothy Wiggins Visits Campus

Miss Dorothy Wiggins, who graduated in the summer of 1942, has been making a name for herself in commercial aviation as a civilian flight instructor.

For the past year Miss Wiggins has been teaching discharged U. S. Army pilots who flew bombers in wartime to fly smaller craft. Miss Wiggins has received a new assignment in Maine. She dropped in on friends among the faculty en route to her home to spend a few days with her family.

Miss Wiggins received civilian flight instruction at Langley Field, Va., and in 1945 received a commercial pilots license and a license as a commercial flight instructor.

the College Treasurer, Mr. F. D. Duncan and will be available in the fall for a senior English major and a senior art major.

Homesick Katie Back On Visit

If I hadn't seen her yesterday, five minutes ago I could have told you, without ever seeing her, that she is here for a visit. Those wailing tones just outside the dining hall coming from around the piano could mean only one person and I'm not giving $64 for you to tell me who it is. I know already, Katie Earle is back "back to visit for a spell."

It seems that Katie was getting kinda homesick for "ole" ECTC so she decided to come visiting. For the benefit of those who haven't had the pleasure of making her acquaintance, she is Katie Earle Owen, president of the '45-'46 Senior Class, and a mighty fine "gal", even if I do say so myself.

It's nice seeing you again, Katie, so come to see us often.

Student Housing Vital Problem

"Not student housing, but ability to secure additional staff may, and probably will, determine the total student capacity of our colleges and universities," President Arthur Cutts Willard of the University of Illinois declared here.

Speaking as president of the National Association of State Universities, he opened the Association's fifty-first annual meeting in the Stevens Hotel. President Willard keynoted the two-day session by declaring that the state universities are facing "an emergency" without precedent in American Education.

The procurement of teachers is the greatest problem in meeting enrollment applications soaring 60 to 100 percent over pre-war highs, Willard said. He pointed out that our present overload faculties and staffs cannot absorb the great influx of new students.

"Every thousand students added above our existing capacity means we must find from 100 to 150 new teachers.

Nick Says Wife Is Difficult But Adept

Nick George of Waynesburg, Pa., graduate student, taught many pilots the fundamentals of flying during his two years as a flight instructor with the United States Marine Corps, but when he recently began to teach his wife to fly, he admits that she "is the most difficult student I ever had," George, who maintains a cub cruiser piper at the municipal airport here to teach flying, charter hops and sight seeing tours between classes attributes the difficulty in teaching his wife to fly in what he describes as a questioning attitude.

"When I give directions she always asks why," George exclaimed. "I trained pilots at Cherry Point, Greenville, and Kinston during the war, and never did have any of the boys ask me why they had to do this or that."

But George explained that Mrs. George, is a very adept pupil. She's learning to handle the plane nicely, according to George, and even though she questions some of his instructions, she's applying what his flight instruction and combat duty in New Guinea, Philippines, Okinawa and Manus in the Admiralty Islands have taught. George also saw service in China.

The "flying Georges" are living on the campus and are chalking up many flying hours to their credit.

16 Delegates Attend Methodist Conference

Sixteen delegates represented the Wesley Foundation at the Methodist Regional Conference being held at Lake Junaluska. Miss Mamie J. Chandler, director of the foundation on campus, headed the delegation to the conference, the first to be held since the war ended.

Besides Miss Chandler, the delegation included: Emily Roberson, Lorraine Dawson, Kay Mann, Frances Merritt, Ruth Stevens, Patsy Pridgen, Caroline Andrews, Mildred Oakes, Paul Craver, Earl Sawyer; and Ed

Pioneer Camp Is Held On Campus

Sixty young people assembled on the campus of East Carolina Teachers College for the first annual Pioneer Camp of the Albemarle Presbytery held July 1-6 under the direction of the Rev. Harold J. Dudley, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Wilson. The theme of the camp was "Growing Like Jesus."

The Albemarle Presbytery included an area that extends from New Bern to Rocky Mount. The ages of the delegates were from 12 to 14 years. Dormitory, dining room, and recreational facilities were made available to the young Presbyterians by the college.

Assisting Dr. Dudley with the camp were the Rev. Lewis Solomon, business manager, who is pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, Rocky Mount; Miss Kate McChesney, music director of religious education of the First Presbyterian Church, Wilson, and Fayette Dudley, daughter of Dr. Dudley, who served the camp as pianist.

Teachers of quest for the four clans that were organized by the delegates were: the Rev. Thomas H. Hamilton, Kinston; the Rev. Charles W. Solomon, Wilson county; Mrs. Sidney Crane, Greenville; and Miss Kate McChesney of Wilson.

Counselors for the clans: McAlpine Clan—Hurley Anthony of Wilson and Betty Martin Gaines of Tarboro; McDonald Clan—Sid Barnes of Wilson and Evelyn Cox, Greenville; McMillan Clan—Jean Crago, Rocky Mount, and Fayette Dudley, Wilson; McRae Clan—Jack Barnes and Mary Glenn Slater, both of Wilson.

AROUND THE TENNIS COURTS

There was the hot weather so hot that it was much more comfortable playing tennis after three o'clock and then came the rains which ran everyone off the courts for the past week. Weather has improved a little now and the game is going more smoothly. Thanks to Willie Warner, Richard Bailey, Bill Council, R. L. Shuford, and Everett Hudson, the lower courts have been in a playable condition. Stella, Smitty, Bax, and Stewart looked as if they were going to become regulars on the courts but softball has leaked in and the boys are not out quite so often. I do not know whether it is study or age that is keeping the quartette away. Two people we miss especially are Leo and Margaret. Leo is studying up at State College and Margaret doesn't seem to have the urge. She has only been out a couple times this summer. With Leo gone we do not have to even think who is our No. 1 player this summer. We gladly give it to Doug. Doug has been very helpful in helping those players who are not so good in improving their game. We all ought to at least be able to hit the ball after a few suggestions from Leon and Doug. By the way, Leon won a singles match the other day from Wilson. Harry Jarvis is still out there plugging and is doing a darn good job of it too; he is improving with every game. Sutton is still out on the courts nearly every day displaying the good tennis that she always plays. You should have seen the game the other week of the brains—Drs. Haynes, Oppelt, Posey and Mr. Farley. I don't remember now just who came out on top. Dr. Haynes did a nice job against Goldsboro in the tennis match the other week. He and Ben Harris defeated their opponents in short order. E. Hudson and G. Bailey have not decided as yet who is the best on the courts. They have broken about even in their last series of sets. The pool has about taken Clark Stokes from the courts, but he still manages to come out and reach over the net for his slam shot once in awhile. Jimmy Lockridge is finally putting his racket to good use. R. L. Shuford, the gentleman of the ECTC courts plays a very smooth game of tennis and it is a pleasure to play with or against him. Charlie Bracken still holds his racket in the wrong hand. Mary Gee, you are letting your racket decay. In closing, let me remind all you people who manage to come out on the upper courts right after the courts have been sprinkled, dragged, rolled and lined off for play each day. The two upper courts are prepared by those who wish to play and the only pay received for the work is the pleasure of playing tennis. There are more than five or six people playing on the courts so lets have more than that number around when the work is being done. The boys wish to thank the girls in backing them up in the right of playing without shirts. So long for now.

Professors Teach Clowns Lesson

The Professors got some free passes on the merry-go-round, and went around eight times before the Clowns could catch them and put them off. This was in the first inning of their first show in which they collected eleven trips all the way around, while the Clowns got three rides around for doing their days work. The Clowns were lucky that the old men ran themselves out in the first inning or they probably would have been gyped out some more round trips. Never-

Boneheads Lose To Jitterbugs 5-0 On Errors

The Jitterbugs scored five runs in the second inning of their second meeting with the Boneheads by making the most of five walks, four hits, and three errors; and went on to shut-out their opponents five to zero. Tom Cox, ace Jitterbug pitcher, held the Boneheads to four well scattered hits, while John Charlton, starting Bonehead pitcher, gave up a total of six hits. Jack Davis got three for four times at bat to lead the hitting for the winners; Garlan Bailey with two for three was the best for the losers.

Except for the rally in the second inning, both teams played tight ball with only four batters able to get to base in any inning after that. This was a brilliant showing on the part of the pitchers, who gave up only few hits, but had trouble with the errors made by their teammates. Charlton connected with the only extra-base hit of the game when he drove a fly into center field for a double.

High Point back in 1942 and while here played in the backfield for the famous unbeaten and untied football team of that year. During the basketball season he was not idle having performed at forward for the Pirates. Nick has not decided exactly whether he will be out trying for his old position on the football team this fall or not, but it is good to see him back on the campus. We hope to see him in a football uniform this September.

the less, the Clowns won something of a moral victory out of it, in that the Profs did not score as many runs against them as previous teams had.

Jitterbugs Take Clowns 14-3

The Jitterbugs staged a three ring circus with the Clowns, and went around the ring 14 times while the losers made it three times. This was the third performance for the Clowns who did everything in the book from turning cartwheels to playing tag, and still they lost. The Jitters blasted out an eleven run rally in the third inning and scored eleven runs before they got dizzy from running around in circles. Three more runs in the sixth really put the game on ice. The Clowns got hot in their half of the seventh inning, but they were cooled off after scoring three runs, so they layed down their clubs and went back to feeding the elephants.

During the batting practice in the third inning, all the Jitterbugs came to bat at least once and half of them made two trips. Everybody was hitting, Doug Jones even got two for three, but most of the runs were made while a Clown tried to catch a high fly while standing on his head. Some of the hits were made accidentally as the Clown pitcher began hitting the Jitters' bats with his accurately thrown balls. The winners finally left the "Big Top" victorious, and happy that they had redeemed themselves with a hard fought battle of wits, half-wits.

Cox And Purucker Pitch Today

Tom Cox who has been about campus for two quarters now after returning to school from the army is one of the leading pitchers in the softball league that is now in operation. Pitching for the Jitterbugs, he has won three games while losing twice to the Professors and those two games by one run each time. It is expected that he will be chunking for the Jitterbugs this afternoon when they meet the Professors. Purucker, winner of the other games will be throwing them in for the Profs.

Boneheads Beat Professors In Close Contest

The Boneheads continued their winning ways by setting the Professors down to a score of 7 to 5. The Professors scored nine hits off Charlton but the air tight fielding of the Boneheads often stymied the Professors on the bases. Cochrell and Purucker were the hitting stars of the Profs collecting two for three times at the bat. Hudson and Hunter had a perfect day at bat for the Boneheads, having two hits for two times at the bat. Competition was very keen thru-out the game and it was not until the last out was made that the winner was declared.

Preparations For Sept. Football Progressing

Lucas To Return In September

Information has been received from Bill Lucas, guard on the 1942 football team that he is about to receive his discharge from the U. S. Army Air Forces and will probably enroll at ECTC this fall. Bill is remembered as one of the best guards that the Buccaneers have ever produced and it will be a great help to the boys this fall if he could be persuaded to again don a set of cleats. Until recently, Lt. Lucas has been flying The Hump from India to China and was stationed at the same field with Everett Hudson before Hudson was recalled to the states. He is married to the former Ruth Tucker who graduated from ECTC in 1944.

Boneheads And Clowns Tie 18-18—4 Innings

With the Clowns living up to their names and a bunch of Bonehead plays by the Boneheads, the first meeting of the two teams ran to an 18 to 18 tie which lasted for only 4 innings at which time it had to be called because of darkness. The Clowns jumped to an early lead by scoring one run in the first inning. The Boneheads were not long in waiting however as they came back in the last half of the second inning to score ten runs. Then, they added 7 more in the third. With timely hitting and a few costly errors the Clowns came back with a strong 3rd inning and scored 13 runs in their half. Bailey and Lamm scored homeruns for the Boneheads while A. Brown held the batting honors for the Clowns.

Boneheads Win Playoff

In a play off game which the Clowns and Boneheads were forced into because of an 18 to 18 tie, the Boneheads proved to be the most effective team behind the excellent pitching of John Charlton. Charlton well scattered four hits to set the Clowns down with only three runs for the afternoon while his teammates were collecting a total of some fourteen runs. Lamm and Bailey had a field day at that having a perfect stand at bat

Baseball weather doesn't keep "Big Jim" Johnson of Raleigh, head coach from thinking in terms of football Coach Johnson has announced early fall practices for the Pirates would begin on September 1.

In discussing the preliminary fall training, Coach Johnson explained that he would use the T-formation that Don Faurat, now head coach at the University of Missouri, used so effectively when he coached the Iowa Sea Hawks in 1943. Johnson played tackle for the Sea Hawks in that year.

When the Pirate squad turns out for the practices, among the candidates will be Charles Brown of Portsmouth, Va., former all-southern high school football star, and Slade Phillips, also of Portsmouth, former all-state high school football star.

Brown will be seeking an end position. He played end as a member of the Duke University freshman team in 1941. He held the same berth on the woodrow Wilson high school football team in Portsmouth for four years. Brown served in the army during the war.

Phillips held a tail-back position on the William and Mary freshman eleven in 1942. He was in the backfield as a first-stringer and teammate of Brown during his high school days.

Coach Johnson will assume his coaching duties after he completes his work on the Master's Degree in physical education at the University of North Carolina in August.

Head Coach "Jim" Johnson announced a nine-game tentative football schedule for the Pirates.

- The schedule follows:
 September 28—Open.
 October 5—A. C. C., here.
 October 12—Eton College at Eton.
 October 19—Erskine, here.
 October 25—Naval Apprentices at Newport News, Va.
 November 2—Open.
 November 9—A. C. C. at Wilson.
 November 16—W. C. T. C. here.
 November 23—Lenoir-Rhyne at Hickory.

MAA Active This Summer

The men's Athletic Association has been active during the current summer term. Though the efforts of Everette Hudson, President, funds were obtained from the Budget Committee in order to run the club through the summer. The main issue for obtaining the funds was to buy sports equipment in order to start intramural athletics.

Thus far, enough equipment to outfit two softball teams has been obtained and put to very good use by the male members on the campus. Other equipment, such as volley balls and badminton sets, will be purchased for the use of the members of the association when it is available.

Keen interest has been shown by the men in the association in the intramural program. They have enjoyed playing together and have done a great deal in raising the school spirit.

Interest In Softball High

The boys decided that with a lot of spare time on their hands and a need of a little recreation, the best way to occupy this time and have a good time doing it was by organizing a softball league. They had no trouble finding enough players to form four teams and as a result a schedule was drawn up covering the balance of the time of the first six weeks. Three weeks have passed and a lot of interest has been shown by both the players and the spectators that go to the games. You who have not seen the teams in action and have not seen the friendly arguments over some play that the umps called that did not jive with some of the players thinking have really missed something. The teams have been playing for the fun of the game but they also play to win. A very good brand of ball has been the result and nearly a dozen softballs have been flattened out. Most all of the games have been very close and only in a couple innings of each game would the pitchers and the players allow runs to be scored. To say who has the best team is hard to do. To take credit away from the leaders would be an injustice to their team. As the teams now stand, it looks as if the Professors will come out on top. At the present time they have lost only one game, that being to the Boneheads who are in third place, just one game away from the Clowns who are covering the bottom spot at the present and only one game away from the Jitterbugs who are in second place right behind the Professors. Now there are two games yet to be played and those two games could change the whole picture of the standings. The Professors could drop as far as third spot and the Boneheads could take over the lead. All in all, these remaining games should prove to be very interesting and we advise you to come out to some of these games. The setup for the next six weeks has not been decided as yet.

Clowns Win First Game

The Clowns finally proved that they could win by running circles around the Boneheads in their second contest. They scored in all but one of the five innings played, with six of their total of fourteen runs coming in the third. Only two of the Clowns failed to get a hit off of Captain "Champ" Hudson, who was on the mound in the absence of his star pitcher. It seemed that the Clowns were sad, and played ball in this game instead of cutting up as they usually do. Otis Powell, star ECTC baseball player, was on the mound for the humble winners. The Boneheads were able to amass a total of eight runs, but this was not enough to frighten the rampaging Clowns in their first victory.

Purucker Wins From Charlton

The Professors won another ball game by wit instead of brawn when they met the Boneheads and defeated them six to one. Again the Prof used their psychological book learning in what might have proved to be a better match had there not been ladies present. The "winners" collected nine hits which was two better than the seven hits of the losers, who played the ball instead of the umpire. "The Duke of Purucker" was on the mound for the Pro team, while Charlton did the mound duties for the Boneheads. Brewer had a perfect day at bat getting three for three to lead the hitters.

James Whitfield

Whitfield Directs News Bureau

James Whitfield of Greenville, senior student, has been appointed director of the college news bureau for the summer quarter. He began work on June 4.

After spending four years in the army, partly in the Canal Zone and partly as a liaison representative with the Army War College in Washington, D. C., Whitfield returned to the college during the 1945-1946 term to continue his education.

Before entering the army Whitfield had considerable experience in newspaper work. At one time he was news editor of the Greenville News Leader and a correspondent in Greenville for the Raleigh News and Observer, the United Press, and papers in Norfolk, Va. He has also been publicity director for a number of community enterprises in Greenville, such as the Pitt County Chapter of the Red Cross, the Greenville Federal Art Gallery, and Christmas seal sales.

At the college he has been editor of the Teco Echo, college newspaper, and associate editor of Pieces o' Eight, college magazine, and has handled sports publicity at various times.

Examinations To Be Held Friday

Examinations will be held Friday, July 12, as the current summer term comes to an end.

Registration for the second term will begin on Monday, July 15, and will continue through July 22, which is the last day to register. Class work begins on Tuesday, July 16.

Numerous applications for dormitory rooms are coming into the administration every day according to Dr. Slay. It is advisable for those who plan to attend during the fall quarter to fill out their applications and pay the five dollar reservations fee immediately. Room reservations are being made under the policy of "first come, first served."

Campus Question Mark

The question is, just which one of the Kearneys is she? We know that her last name is Kearney and that she is a cute girl but if our life depended upon the correct first name, our names would be mud. There was heard down in Cotten Hall the other night something like this. "Yeh, we are dating the Kearney twins. Who is dating who? Dern if I know—don't suppose it makes much difference since they could swap us anywhere and we would not know the difference." Now, some people claim that they can distinguish one from the other and I imagine Illmar knows Wilmar and vice versa, but we are not going to step out on the limb and even try our luck at it. Right now, we would like to know if even the twins can tell who is who from this picture.

YWCA Delegate Goes To Camp Highland Lake

The YWCA participated in two summer conferences. Miss Jean Boston was the delegate to the YW-YMCA Regional Conference held at Camp Highland Lake, Hendersonville, June 2-9.

Miss Ann Beddard, Miss Christine Gray, and Miss Reva Lowery were delegates to the YW-YMCA Blue Ridge Conference held June 8-15.

Posey Attends Meeting

Dr. Meredith N. Posey of the English Department was in Chapel Hill on Tuesday, July 2, attending a meeting of the Professional Standards Committee of the North Carolina Teachers Association.

The meeting was held in connection with the closing of the North Carolina English Institute sponsored by the Association at the University of North Carolina.

Dance Program Presented Monday

In a program of modern theatre dances, Jan Veen with Erika Thimey were presented by the entertainment committee for the second entertainment of the current summer term.

A minority of students were on hand to enjoy the dances of the highly talented couple. The couple displayed superb vitality, rhythm and coordination, as a team or solo, in their dances of charm and distinction.

Wilson Sweetheart Wanders off On Fruitless Journey

The occupants of Wilson Hall were in an uproar several days ago when their sweetheart and first lady of the campus wandered off and was nowhere to be found. A systematic search of all nooks and corners was started by some of the fellows and numerous inquiries as to when she was last seen and which way was she headed was asked of everyone. This fair lady it seemed had vanished by magic and no traces of her could be found.

Ads were inserted in the local paper and her description was called-in to the radio station to be broadcast, so that everyone might join in the search. The faces of the men in W. H. looked haggard under the strain for they knew that many pitfalls might be encountered by the fair maiden who had led a very sheltered life.

At a time when their nerves were near the breaking point, the telephone began to ring. Bill Connaughton, with hopeful footsteps, rushed to the telephone to take what proved to be the long awaited call. Wilson Hall's sweetheart was safe—a kind family had seen her wandering aimlessly down Ninth Street and had taken her in, as if their own, to feed and care for until her guardians could be found.

Now she is back and W. H. is peaceful and quiet once again. However, the occupants of Wilson will always remember the hours of anxiety that they went through when "Happy", the first lady of the campus, wandered off.

A smart girl doesn't have to watch the speedometer to know what her boy friend is driving at.
