

Duncan Announces New Building Plans And Improvements To Be Begun Soon

Plans for erecting new buildings and for improving existing facilities on the East Carolina Teachers college campus have been announced by P. D. Duncan, college business manager. A number of projects will get under way immediately.

Plans and specifications are now being prepared for improvements in existing facilities of dormitories on the campus. New fixtures will be installed and other work done in Wilson, Davis, Fleming, Cotton, and Thurgood halls. Work will begin soon and is expected to be completed during the summer.

A new workshop and warehouse for the maintenance department at the college will be constructed during the summer months, according to present plans. It will be situated east of the Flanagan building near the railroad spur track toward the rear of the campus. Plans for the building are now being drawn, and it is expected that work will begin soon.

A new gymnasium will be started this summer. Eric G. Flanagan of Henderson, architect, is now working on plans for the building. It will be located just south of the athletic field and will face Tenth Street.

Extensive improvements in the college power plant will be made. Construction for part of the work have already been let, and the other work will be contracted in the next sixty days, Mr. Duncan says. Most of the work will involve replacement of old and worn equipment. Two new 600 horse power boilers and one new 350 horse power boiler will be installed, along with other equipment.

Waterpipes in several of the older buildings will be replaced in the immediate future, and windows will be weatherstripped.

Bids will be received this month for two other projects, which it is hoped, will be begun this summer. Bids for rebuilding the baths in Wilson hall, men's dormitory, will be received on May 18, according to Mr. Duncan.

Bids for additions to the Training

School will be received on May 24. A kindergarten, an industrial arts workshop for elementary school children, a cafeteria for the Training School, and an auditorium are included in plans for the enlargement of the building and its facilities. Additions to be made to the present building will be located between the present Training School and the Wright building.

In the long-range building program to be carried out in the future a number of other buildings and improvements are now under consideration. Among these will be a new library, the conversion of the present library into a music building, a new home management house, additions to the laundry and the purchase of new equipment, a president's home, a dormitory-apartment building for teachers, the acoustical treatment of Wright and Austin auditoriums, the conversion of Ragsdale hall into a dormitory for students, conversion of the present home management house and the president's home into apartments, new equipment for the industrial arts department, a pipe organ for Austin auditorium, the conversion of part of the Wright building into a student union, and improvements on the college athletic field.

Funds for carrying out these projects were provided by the 1947 and the 1949 legislatures. Completion of all work will cover several years.

Budget

All organizations that are planning to request money for the 1949-50 school year for their operations are advised to make such request before May 14 according to Hugh H. Fox, student treasurer for 1949-50.

If all request are made by this time it will enable the budget committee to make-up a budget on time next fall.

Players Form Assembly Line To Make Change In Costume

With thirty seconds for Jerome Wesley, who played the part of the Scottish soldier in the Players' recent production of "The Hasty Heart," to make a change in costume, the Players organized a human assembly line. Three Players put their brains together to decide how the change could be made, not in thirty seconds but in twenty. Their plan was accomplished by each putting on one part of the Scottish uniform.

The play, which was composed of a cast of eight veterans and one woman, centered around the life of a Scottish soldier who had only six weeks to live because of a defective kidney. All action took place in a British hospital where five other soldiers were either resting or recovering from injuries.

Although the play drew relatively small audiences, it was well received. Opening with a morning scene in the British hospital, the play carried the audiences through the three acts. Besides Wesley, others around whom much of the action centered are Virgil Clark who played the part of Yank, a soldier from Georgia attached to the British ambulance division; Daniel Hunt, as Tommy, an English soldier; Shirley Cowburn who played the part of Margaret, a nurse; James Crawford, as Kiwi, a New Zealander; and Claude "Kip" West who played the part of Digger, an Australian soldier. Others in the cast included Donald Blood as the Orderly, Joseph Pollini as Blossom, and Elmer Williams as Colonel.

Scenery for the production was designed and painted by Francis Lee Neel of the college art department.

The play was acclaimed by many as the best ever produced by the Playhouse. The Greenville Chamber of Commerce sponsored the production and Dr. Lucile Charles of the college English department was director.

Dan Hunt

Elmer Williams

Virgil Clark

Governor To Speak

Governor W. Kerr Scott will address the students, faculty, and staff at a special assembly, Wednesday, May 11 at eleven o'clock in Austin auditorium. Classes will be excused.

Marshall Praises Students For Work During School Year

As the college year 1948-1949 draws to a close Dean W. E. Marshall declared that the year has been highly satisfactory. The students, he said, have shown not only willingness but also capacity to cooperate and enter into the life of the college in a most desirable manner.

Dean Marshall complimented and congratulated the student body as a whole on their wholehearted acceptance and implementation of the demerit system which is one of the many steps made this year in the direction of progress.

The students conduct of the Awards Day program was complimented by the Dean who said he believed that that movement was one of the most promising steps toward building up a desire for well-rounded academic, social, physical, political, and spiritual leadership in the history of East Carolina Teachers college.

When reviewing the High School Day, the Dean highly complimented the sixty or seventy hosts and hostesses who served during the highly successful celebration this year. The other students who participated in High School Day, such as the band, (See PRAISES on Page 4)

Ruth Bostian Seriously Hurt

Ruth Bostian, senior at East Carolina and secretary of the Veterans club, received a sustained spinal injury when she dived into shallow water at the Whitechard beach in Washington, N. C. Sunday afternoon, May 1.

Miss Bostian was immediately rushed to the Washington hospital where she was treated and then moved to Duke hospital in Durham. Although she has been conscious most of the time since her injury, Miss Bostian's condition is described as serious. A complete report of the extent of the injury, however, has not been released. Geraldine Amundson was with Miss Bostian at the time of the accident.

Players Review Highly Successful Year

With the ending of the 48-49 school year on May 13, the curtain closes on another highly successful year for the Teachers Playhouse. For the Playhouse, this has been a year of great expansion and much development. Many new members have been accepted into their dramatic group and old members have acquired unlimited talents through their numerous experiences on stage and back stage during productions.

Under the skilled, experienced, and well guided direction of Dr. Lucille Charles, director of speech and dramatics at East Carolina, the players have been a great success from their first production "As You Like It" by William Shakespeare, through their final production of "Sparkin'" by E. P. Conkle.

Many East Carolina students have benefitted immensely through their work with the Teachers Playhouse ranging from directing and acting, to technical staff work.

The Fall Quarter
The first production of the Players during the fall quarter was "As You Like It" by William Shakespeare and directed by Dr. Charles assisted by Helen Winslow as student director. This play was presented on Alumni Day, at a District Convention of the North Eastern Division of the N. C. Educational Association, for the English students at the college, and a troupe was made to the high school in Pantego, N. C.

Their major production for the fall quarter was the "Coventry Nativity Play" directed by Dr. Charles and assisted by Geraldine Weathers as

Shorthand Expert To Be Presented Here At Conference

A business education conference stressing the teaching of shorthand is being planned for June 24 at East Carolina Teachers college. The program for the day is being arranged primarily for the benefit of business education students and teachers and of secretaries and their employers. Dr. E. R. Browning, director of the business education department at the college, is serving as chairman and is in charge of scheduling the program for the day.

Events of the conference will include a panel, a shorthand demonstration, and a luncheon for those present.

Chief speaker will be Louis A. Leslie, author of more than twenty books on shorthand and of numerous contributions to periodicals. Formerly he was editor of the "Gregg News Letter" and associate editor of "Business Education World." He devised the standard word count for shorthand, which was first announced in 1931. As part of the conference program, he will teach a demonstration lesson in shorthand and will speak at the luncheon.

Graduation

All freshmen, sophomores, and juniors except those holding self-help positions, those who are marshals, ushers, members of the Women's Chorus, College Singers, orchestra, and instrumental ensemble may be excused from attending the commencement exercises.

Women seniors who are not graduating May 16, and who plan to attend the first session of summer school here or elsewhere, may be excused provided they report to Cotten Hall Office and get their excuse before noon Tuesday, May 19.

Men seniors who are not graduating May 16, and who plan to attend the first session of summer school here or elsewhere, may be excused provided they report to Dean W. E. Marshall and get their excuse before noon Tuesday, May 10.

All men and women students who leave early are expected to meet all obligations before leaving; rooms must be vacated by 10:00 A. M. Saturday, May 14.

All women students will file "Off-Campus" permits, leaving the "Expected to Return" space blank. These permits must be filed by noon Wednesday, May 11.

Women juniors who wish to remain for commencement may do so provided they make the necessary arrangements in Cotten Hall Office before noon Tuesday, May 10.

Leo W. Jenkins, Dean

Dr. John Dale Russell To Deliver Address To Graduates May 16

Commencement Speakers

Dr. Riley B. Montgomery

Dr. John Dale Russell

Dr. Montgomery To Preach Sermon In Wright May 14

Speakers for commencement exercises at East Carolina Teachers college have been announced by President John D. Messick. Dr. John Dale Russell, director of the Division of Higher Education of the U. S. Office of Education since 1946, will deliver the address to graduates on Monday morning, May 16. Dr. Riley B. Montgomery, president of Lynchburg College in Virginia, will preach the commencement sermon on Sunday morning, May 15. Exercises on both days will be held in the Wright auditorium.

Dr. Russell, a native of Indiana, has had a distinguished career as an educator. He received his education at the University of Indiana, where he received the doctor's degree, and at the universities of Kentucky and Chicago.

Early in his career he taught at the University of Indiana, the University of Kentucky, and Ball State Teachers college, Muncie, Indiana, and served as director of research for the Indiana State Department of Public Instruction and assistant director of surveys of Methodist Educational Institutions.

In 1931 he went to the University of Chicago, with which he was connected until 1945 as professor, secretary of the department of education, and dean of students. During 1944-1946 he was secretary of the Commission on Colleges and Universities in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. In 1946 he began his duties in the Division of Higher Education. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Phi (See ADDRESS on Page 4)

Five Standing Committees Of SGA Have Been Appointed

Organization of five standing committees of the Student Government Association at East Carolina Teachers college for the 1949-1950 term has been completed and members announced. Through these groups much of the business of the association is transacted.

The budget committee, in charge of student finances and of allocating funds to various campus organizations, is headed by Hugh Fox of Wilmington, student treasurer. Other members are Jane Frazelle, Richlands; Mary Lou Braxton, Greenville; Geraldine Amundson, New York City; Jane Cole, Sanford; William R. Farrell, Greenville; Hilton G. Stryon, Davis; and Lawrence Posey, Greenville.

Keith Kilpatrick of Kinston heads the awards committee, which is in charge of Awards Day at East Carolina. The occasion was observed this spring for the first time to honor outstanding seniors on the campus. Other members are Oliver P. Hedgpeth; Rocky Mount, and Carl G. Conner, Windsor.

The elections committee, which supervises the election of SGA officers is made up of William Sutton, New Bern; Gail Haines, Faison; and Carl G. Conner, Windsor.

Serving on the committee on constitutional changes are Elsie Carver of Washington, chairman; Lola Stephenson, Willow Springs; and Constantine T. Fokakis, Wilmington.

The Entertainment committee, which is in charge of a series of programs presented each year at the college, has eight student members. They are Patricia Davis, Manteo; Bernard Ham, Portsmouth, Va.; Lucy Hannaford, Greenville; Elizabeth Manning, Williamston; Richard Palmer, Montclair, N. J.; Christine Radford, Kenly; Jeanette Riggs, Cove City; and Roger Thrift, Carrboro.

Classes To End As Scheduled At 1 p. m. May 13

Classes will end Friday, May 13 at 1 o'clock as scheduled in the catalogue. Commencement exercises will begin Saturday, May 14 and extend through Monday, May 16, according to an announcement by President J. D. Messick.

The first quarter of summer school will begin on Monday, June 6 with registration in the Wright building. Classes will begin the following day at 8 a. m. Dr. Leo W. Jenkins will serve again this year as director of summer school. He has announced that the first term will end on June 15 and that the second term will begin on Monday, June 18.

During the summer, the college will be sponsoring several conferences, institutes, and workshops. Included in these extra activities will be a business education conference, a public relation conference, discussions and conferences on family relations, safety education, trends in higher education, science for elementary grades, and an English usage and speech conference.

All departments of the college will be in operation during the summer sessions. All courses offered carry degree credits.

Summer Editor

Milton Fields, pictured above was selected as editor-in-chief of the TECO ECHO for summer school at a meeting of the Student Legislature Wednesday of this week. During the past year Fields has served as editor-in-chief of the Tecoco. As yet no business manager has been named.

Alumni Day To Be Staged May 14 With Six Classes Meet

Alumni Day, to be held at East Carolina Teachers on Saturday, May 14 as part of commencement exercises, will include reunions of six classes, conferring of the annual alumni award on an outstanding graduate, alumni luncheon, a tea at the home of President and Mrs. John D. Messick, an allegiance service at which this year's graduates will be received as members of the Alumni association and the Music Department of East Carolina will give its 40th annual music recital. Mrs. Ruth Garner, alumni secretary at the college, is in charge of the arrangements.

Classes returning to the campus for reunions will be those of 1914, 1919, 1924, 1929, 1939 and 1948. This year's graduating class will be honor guests at events of the day.

The events of the day will begin with a program and business meeting at 10:00 o'clock, at which President Messick will talk. The award made annually by the alumni association to an outstanding graduate of the college will be presented to Dr. Malene Grant Irons, physician and specialist in childrens diseases here in Greenville. Dr. Howard J. McGinnis will make the presentation. Dr. Irons received an A. B. degree from this college in 1935 and earned her M. A. from Duke University in 1937. In 1941 she obtained her M. D. degree from the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond.

Dr. and Mrs. Messick will receive at a tea during the afternoon at which seniors, faculty members, and alumni are invited.

The annually held allegiance service will take place in the evening at 6:30 on the west campus, when seniors, led by their president, Willard Pendleton, will join the Alumni association. A recital by students of music at the college will close the program for the day.

Notice

All applications for membership in the Student Legislature for the summer quarter of 1949, must be received no later than May 13. Attention is directed to the fact that the election returns will be received by J. L. O'Connell, Treasurer.

The Teco Echo

Published Biweekly by the Students of East Carolina Teachers College

Entered as second-class matter December 3, 1925, at the U. S. Postoffice, Greenville, N. C., under the act of March 3, 1879.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — Carl G. Conner
Associate Editors — Josephine Pinnell, Curtis Nichols

Staff Assistants — Elizabeth Manning, Laura Williamson, Jean Powell, Muriel Shotwell, Margaret Davis, Annette Watson, Milton Sawyer, Ralph Rives, Bill Flanders.

Editorial Advisor — Miss Mary H. Greene

Typist — Evelyn Littleton

SPORTS STAFF

Sports Editor — Bill Lloyd

Associate Sports Editor — Jack Hedgepeth, Eugene Price

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager — Betsy Parkerson West

Associate Business Manager — Ella Francis Viola, Rachel Kirby, Jerney Minshew

Business Advisor — Dr. Beecher Flanagan

CIRCULATION STAFF

Frank Ceruzzi — Circulation Manager

DORMITORY MANAGERS

Sallie Jo Gurganus — Jarvis Hall
Virginia Floyd — Fleming Hall
Becky Holcomb — Cotton Hall

Member

Associated Collegiate Press

Columbia Scholastic Press Association

Kadet Kolumn

by "The Little Kolnel"

There's always a good joke that comes out of the green cadet and the inspecting officer. There is no exception in the local AROTC unit, either. Before the annual Federal inspection was held, the basic cadets were having a mock inspection and the impersonating inspecting officer was going down the ranks asking the cadets questions which they would most likely be quizzed about when the real thing came. The inspecting officer stopped in front of one nervous, wide-eyed basic cadet and asked, "Who is the President of East Carolina Teachers college?" The green cadet immediately replied with military dignity and smartness, "Colonel W. D. Brown, sir!" Of course, everyone knows that President John D. Messick is our lovable college prexy, and Colonel Brown is head of the local AROTC unit.

Come June 13th, Cadet First Lieutenant Milt Glover will have to say goodbye to Anne, Cadet Hedgepeth will have to kiss his newly acquired wife, Betsy, adios, Cadet "Buck" Wilson will say so long to Nita, and the "Little Colonel" will kiss his baby doll goodbye, as the thirty-three advanced cadets will have to say so long to their wives, girl friends, and relatives when they depart for six weeks of summer camp at Orlando, Florida. This is the first six weeks training period that the local unit has attended.

Cadet First Lieutenant Virgil Clark, the president of the Cadet Officers club, showed a technicolor film of the ROTC unit in action the other day and it proved that the local unit is pretty smart in their drills. However, it also proved they can make mistakes as outgoing prexy Fitz Whitfield turned to his left as the other ranks were turning to the right. The reverse showing of the film by Clark was the most interesting with the cadets marching backwards all over the place at break neck speed.

"They always show up around finals time."

Editor's Appreciation

Inasmuch as this is the last issue of the TECO ECHO for the year I would like to take this space to express my appreciation to the persons who have worked with me to make this year's work easier. At times the going has been hard, but I have always had someone on whom I could depend.

For a number one business manager we have had Mrs. Betsy Parkerson West. She has been dependable, prompt, and always on time with all of the business managing. My appreciation also goes to Ella Francis Viola, Jerney Minshew and Rachel Kirby for their work with Mrs. West. The four have composed one of the best business staffs the TECO ECHO has ever had.

My appreciation goes to Elizabeth Manning for the humor she has added to the paper, to Jean Powell for the feature writing in Ramblin' Thoughts, to Muriel Shotwell for the stories she has written and for the work she has done at the printers, to Bill Flanders for the writing of Do You Agree?, to Curtis Nichols for the many Spotlights he has written and for his faithful work on setting up the paper, and to the rest of the staff members who have worked in many ways to make sailing easier. To two of the best club reporters, James Briley and Wilton Joyner, I express my thanks.

To the sports staff that is always ready to do its share, I express my thanks. Bill has been one of the best sports editors, in my opinion, the TECO ECHO has ever had. It's a lot of work with little thanks. For assistant editors' work with Bill, I express my thanks—to Jack Hedgepeth and Eugene Price.

I would also like to express my thanks to a person who is not a member of the TECO ECHO staff but who has been more than just a help; he has been a real assistance. That person is the student treasurer, George Lassiter. I could not have asked for more cooperation in helping us with our budget and in the promptness in getting checks when we needed them.

Last but far from least, I express my thanks to a person who has been the faithful stand-by, our faculty advisor, Miss Mary H. Greene, of the college English department. She is the type of advisor more papers should have. Miss Greene has served as an advisor not as a dictator. She has been a word of wisdom and a hand of assistance; none can top her.

With this we close the year with hope of working with all of you again next year.
CARL G. CONNER, Editor

Bonus To Players For Producing Play

Bonus to the Teachers Playhouse for producing "The Hasty Heart," one of the best productions staged at East Carolina Teachers college in a long time. We are sorry indeed that more students did not see the very excellent play. The cast which was composed of eight veterans and one woman was casted in the best possible way. A better cast could not have been chosen.

Credit is to be given to Dr. Lucile Charles for the excellent directing, to Mr. Francis Lee Neel for painting, scenery that just fitted the play, its setting, and cast, and above all, to the entire cast.

We do not understand why more students did not attend the play; maybe it was because of finances, but in any case, they missed an entertainment well worth seeing. It is our opinion that the Student Government should underwrite more than just the one usual production next year; after all why shouldn't all of the students see our own talent. In many cases we feel that productions by the Players have been even better than some of the high price entertainments sponsored by the SGA.

Ramblin' Thoughts

by Ye Ole Rambler

Being at a complete loss for words this week (spring fever, etc.) we decided to print this poetical masterpiece which came to our attention. The poetess has strived to express her sensitive feeling towards men in general; and whereas we think she may have a warped attitude, she does have extraordinary talent.

On the Prowl

A sprig of mistletoe o'er each ear
And in each eye a big tear.
Cigarettes, cigarets, by the packs
I'm shakin' 'em all out o' their sacks
I'm out to git a man.

Ruby lips and star strewn eyes
All that stuff's just a heap o' lies
It takes more than that, believe me friend
To git a man and hold him in the end
I'm out to git a man.

They'll string you a line o'er a mile long
And croon to you, oh! such a sweet song
They'll beat you and kick up just like dirt
And believe me friend that begins to hurt
But, I'm out to git a man.

They're worthless and trifling, woman's No.
I curse
You pamper their needs and their wants
You nurse
But quick, like a cat out of a bag
You learn that to them you're just an ole hag.
But, I'm out to git a man.
(Oh, heck! Who wants one.)

—By R.W.A.

Educator Calling Students Undereducated Should Cause More Thought

The American college student is "unorganized and undereducated," according to Dr. Harold Taylor, president of Sarah Lawrence college. In a recent address at the University of Wisconsin, Dr. Taylor explained that college students are undereducated because they have been treated as intellectual children even though they do all the things adults do.

Our question should be, "Is it true that we are undereducated and if so why?" Dr. Taylor said that our present method of lecturing, testing, grading and presenting the material to the students is all wrong. This seems to us a bit of food for thought. Is it not true that tests only prove the mental condition of the student at the time he is tested? We wish a student to learn certain materials and test him to see if he has done so, but when advising him to review, he is told to review the volume, not just the essential information, or in other words the material he should know when he leaves our institutions. Often our lectures are based on the minute facts, with stress on material we all realize will never be of benefit to the average American citizen of tomorrow.

We believe that one solution to this situation would be to stress the important and that only. A wide span of general knowledge should be obtained by reading, traveling, and by association. The students that should learn will learn. Those that will not get the expanded background will not get it regardless of how much they are subjected to it, it only runs off like water off the duck's back. Again we would say, stress the essential, the luxury of knowledge will come by reading and association. Leave this to the scholar to get across.

Student Spotlight

by Carl G. Conner

Mrs. Betsy Parkerson West, the first married woman to adorn this column this year, moves across the page from her post of business manager of the TECO ECHO to beam into the limelight of the Spotlight. Betsy is the product of the year 1928, and of the 18th of May. Born in Greenville, she naturally attended Greenville high school where she was graduated in 1946. The same year Betsy packed up her credits, journeyed across the street, and enrolled at our own East Carolina Teachers college. As a student of East Carolina, Betsy became a primary major.

During her freshman year, Betsy played a clarinet in the college band and served as associate business manager of the TECO ECHO. The following year (1947-48) she stepped up to the business manager's position, a place which she has held for two years. As business manager, Betsy says, "Getting people to work on the staff has been the biggest problem." She added, however, that the staff this year has been the best she has seen in a long time.

In September of last year, Betsy relinquished the title of Miss and wedded Pete West of Greenville. When asked how Pete considered her as a cook, Betsy remarked that "he considers me!" Housekeeping, a husband, and the business management of the TECO ECHO seems to keep Betsy busy. To the words "a pass time" she could only reply, "Gosh knows I don't have one!" She immediately corrected this however, to say that going out with Pete was her pass time.

Besides managing the TECO ECHO's business affairs, Betsy has done very well for her self in the field of studying. She has made honor roll every quarter since enrolling at East Carolina. This coming November will find Betsy stepping out with a B. S. degree and a determination to teach the first grade. She says she loves children.

With three years' experience as a teacher behind her, Betsy intends to retire to the eventful life of homemaking. After living three years with children, Betsy says she wants three of her own.

With this issue of the paper, Betsy will give the reigns over to Ella Francis Viola. During the two years that I have known Betsy I have found her always pleasant, a hard worker, and a person whom I know will achieve the place as a homemaker she seeks. As to the retiring business manager of the TECO ECHO and as to a splendid student, the TECO ECHO wishes you the best of luck as a teacher, a housewife, and in any other field you may attempt. Betsy,

Support Bond Issue

Governor Kerr Scott is doing everything in his power to better the conditions of the schools and transportation in North Carolina. He stood solidly behind East Carolina Teachers college for the past session of the General Assembly. On June 4, the bond issue for schools and roads will be held. It will be for the good of the State if you will do all in your power to influence your parents and neighbors in voting for the buildings and roads. May we reemphasize that you work actively for these issues. They are not political but another forward step in the progress of our great State.

Do You Agree?

by Bill and Eloise

With the help of a very able assistant this writer is now bringing to a close this year's issue of Do You Agree? It sure has been lots of fun this past quarter finding out how the students of East Carolina feel about the different topics that have come up on the campus. There have been those that have agreed and those that have not agreed, but that was the purpose of this column. I feel that when people stop talking about this column, it has failed its purpose. So with happy thoughts of vacationing in good old Florida this summer I bid you all a very good goodbye until next year.

The closing question for this year is the same old standby, "In your opinion how is the best way to spend the summer vacation?"

- Do You Agree?
Brona Holder: Just stay at the beach the whole summer without any books.
Tody Thompson: To spend the summer working at Myrtle Beach.
Molly Leggett: I would like to spend the summer at Kinston, Oxford, and the beach.
Jack Hedgepeth: Six weeks in Orlando, Florida and the other six weeks here with "Bet" doing as little as possible.
Joyce Proctor: In the wide open spaces on a country farm where there is work and play among nature and plenty of good food.
Jack Klutz: I haven't had one in so long I don't really know, but this summer I'm going to spend it in Florida at the expense of Uncle Sam.
Martha Ben Gulleddge: Down at Nags Head just laying out on the beach without the worries of school.
Mac Lewis: I'm going to spend it in summer school, but that isn't the best way with all those good beaches around.
Ann Warren: Sleeping all day on the beach and dating Joe Munther at night.
Hugh Fox: First I'm going job hunting in Washington, D. C. (F.B.I.), then I'm going to spend the rest of the summer at dear ole East Carolina.
Frances Johnson: A nice peaceful summer at home and Nags Head.

Editor's Corner

Dear Students,

This is the last issue of the TECO ECHO for this year; I hope you have enjoyed them. It has been my sincere desire to please the student body this year, even though at times you may have thought otherwise. Each change I made was, I feel, made for the betterment of your paper, our college, and even for the degrees we are to receive from this institution. Many of you did not think I should take out "Scumming," yet, I saw fit to do so, not because I wanted to be stubborn or wanted to exercise my authority, but because I felt that it was for the improvement of your paper. The student body, the SGA, and the faculty have been splendid to work with this year; indeed, I could not have asked for more cooperation (as a whole) from any group. You have all helped in your way to make this one of the happiest years of my life. I have enjoyed working with and for you; I hope you can say the same.

As a way of review of this year, I would like to point out some of the changes and improvements this year's staff has inaugurated. I say staff because I realize that without them, this year would have been impossible. We have published four six page issues of the paper—the first since 1946. We have published one elections issue, we have published eleven four page issues—adding up to a total of sixteen issues. Last year we had thirteen issues.

In this issue you will find what I believe to be East Carolina's first picture review—we hope you like it. The TECO ECHO was awarded a first place rating at Columbia Scholastic Press convention this year. With the help of your SGA, Bill Lloyd, Curtis Nichols and I attended that convention. The Legislature purchased a new and much needed typewriter for our office. We have been fortunate in securing two file cabinets. For the first time in the history of the college, the TECO ECHO has a good staff room in which to hold its meetings. We have used more pictures than the TECO ECHO usually uses. It is our opinion that all of these things sum up to make a well rounded year. Again I say I feel that I have done my best and hope you can now see the plan of the entire year as it really was. With hopes of seeing each of you next year and wishing you a pleasant rest this summer, I close this year.

I would like to, in ending the year, personally express my thanks to the Teachers Playhouse, Veterans club, Jarvis Forensic, Pi Omega Pi, Varsity club, and to the many other smaller clubs for the splendid work they have done this year. As a whole, I feel that the year has been highly successful. In closing, I will be looking forward to working with you next year.

Very truly yours,

CARL G. CONNER
Editor-in-chief

SPORTS VIEW

BY BILL LLOYD

This year has passed quickly into the halls of the past, but it has left much to be looked forward to in the ways of sports at East Carolina. Next year we shall see a new football team under a new coach, the basketball team will undoubtedly play a leading role in the NS conference, the boxing program will flourish, tennis matches will improve, the golf team will go undefeated, baseball will better its '49 season, and you can rest easy in your new $7.50 seat in the newly constructed football stadium.

Review Of The College Sports Of 1948-1949

September 17, the Pirates launched their pigskin season in Rocky Mount Municipal Stadium losing to the Cherry Point Marines, 13-6. Coach Jack Boone started his year as new assistant grid mentor. . . . September 25, the Bucs lost to the Bears at Lenoir-Rhyne, 26-6, in their first conference game. . . . October 8, Elon edged the locals in a 6-0 football battle at Burlington. . . . October 15, rival teachers, WCTC, spoiled a well-planned homecoming program at Guy Smith Stadium, 39-0. . . . October 22, the Navy sank the Bucs at Norfolk, 26-6. . . . October 29, The Blue Imps of Duke downed the Pirates, 19-13, in a thriller as a pass from Darby to Maennle to Washington, good for 45 yards thrilled the home folks. It was a costly contest indeed, as Co-Captain John Wyatt sustained an injured shoulder that kept him out the rest of the season. . . . November 6, the Apps trounced the Pirates in the mud at Appalachian. . . . November 13, the Pirates lost again at Wilmington against High Point, 30-6, with the Buc lone tally coming on a brilliant 66 yard run by little Mike Kovach. . . . November 20, the coveted Bohunk Trophy was carried to Wilson as a result of ACC's win over the Bucs, 6-0, in the mud at Guy Smith Stadium. . . . Coach Jim Johnson resigned as head coach here with a successor to the position unnamed. . . . Coach Howard Porter's cage team started rounding into shape. . . . Pre-christmas cage tilts found the Bucs whipping last year's conference champions, Appalachian, by the score of 60-53 with Everton and Moye leading the way. . . . Boxing team started their schedule with Ken Stargardt and Redwan David as their leaders. . . . Freshmen Tanner's free throw provided the winning point in a thriller at Elon as the locals edged the Christians, 49-48. . . . ACC upset the Pirates in the tilt played in Wilson, 52-49. . . . Coach Porter's quint swarmed their opponents in beating Lenoir-Rhyne, 65-49; High Point, 50-48; WCTC, 61-31. . . . Coach Bill Dole of Fayetteville high school assumed the duties as head football coach here. . . . Stadium drive headed by Chairman Ed Rawls was in midst of eliciting funds. . . . Pirates entered the NS tournament at Elkin with No. 5 seeding. . . . Boxing team announced their winning ways over Elizabeth City. . . . The dark horse of the tournament at Elkin, East Carolina ousted the towering Catamounts of WCTC in the first round of play, 49-43. . . . Appalachian eliminated the locals in the semifinals, 69-52. . . . Louis Collie, Buc Forward, awarded winning first team of the all-tournament squad. Everton placed on second team. . . . Stadium began taking shape. . . . Baseballers under Coach Jack Boone launched baseball season splitting with Guilford, 9-3, 3-4. . . . Tennis team lead by Hudson, Heath, and Williams whipped Elon, 5-4 in a thrilling match. . . . Baseball team divided games with Norfolk Navy teams. . . . Duke held tryouts for '49 football squad with 25 high school seniors reporting. . . . Anne Hester pitches no-hitter against boy's softball team. . . . Veterans club sponsored Appreciation Banquet honoring Ed Rawls and his committee with Coach Bill Dole as guest speaker.

A Winning Team Forgotten—The Golf Team

Through the muck of reporting the news of the dismal results of the major teams of the college, we have forgotten the winningest team to date and that is the golf team lead by Bill Stall, the tall guy from Virginia who takes a terrific swing. The linksters who are composed of Stall, Molt Massey, Milt Zellin, Ben Harrison, Charlie B. Moye, and Curtis Perkins have had the best results of any college team this year. Coach by mentor Howard Porter, the team has played just for the fun of it because the college hasn't seen fit to finance the club. With aid in finances coming from some businessmen of Greenville who are golf enthusiasts such as Messers Perkins, May, Bill and Joe Taft, and a few others, the linksters have proved their worthiness of representing the college. Stall's lead in the first round of the NS golf tournament held at Starmount Forest in Greensboro, and was only edged by one stroke in the final round. And in the opinion of the pro golfer at Starmount, Stall is one of the two collegians who is worthy of going into the pro ranks. Yes, we'll have to apologize to a team that has been forgotten, but who should be recognized as the top winner in the intercollegiate sports of the college.

Athletes Turn Show Girlies As 16 Lettermen Initiated

President en Bauer and his crew of athletes who have already earned their monograms sent their sixteen new pledges to the Varsity club through their initiations April 25 and it seemed to be enjoyed by the whole student body.

Eddie Tanner, who was chairman of the initiation committee, along with his aide, son Ellis, really riled together some very interesting stunts for the sixteen new varsity men. Some posed as true-lovers, others as girls from Goldsboro, and modest Bob Shuford took charge of the dining hall at the evening meal as the head waiter. Everyone enjoyed gazing at the brawny boxers who were running around in their pajamas in the cool of the evening. Spanking paddies were brought to use by every member of the Varsity club on their much obliging pledges. After the stunts were over the brave (?) sixteen were taken on their traditional "Midnight ride of Paul Revere" which included such large cities as Bear Grass, Patulus, and Chocowinity.

The names of the sixteen new pledges include t n members of the boxing team with Trainer Johnny Long leading the way along with B. J. Hunter, Bill Torrains, Cleon Smith, Paul Hansell, Henry Bruton, Harvey Stull, Ken Stargardt, and Charlie Edwards. Six basketballers were included in the number with Fritz "Toddy" Fennell, Bob Shuford, Louis Collie, Jimmy Blake, Phil Brown, and Jimmy Fly.

Locals Split Pair With West Carolina

The Western Carolina Teachers won their first game in thirteen struts against East Carolina last Thursday in defeating the Bucs in the first game of a doubleheader, 10-2. East Carolina bounced back in the second game, however, behind the five hit pitching of Lefty Bob McCotter to shut out the Catamounts, 6-0. East Carolina scored a single run in the first inning of the second game which proved the winning margin. They added two more in the third and fifth innings and finished out with a lone tally in the seventh stanza of the abbreviated contest.

(First Game)
Score by innings: R H E
ECTC 200 000 2 3 5
WCTC 430 210 x-10 10 3
Batteries: Ricks, Stoffel (2), Jones (5), and Wynne; Gayle and Page.
(Second Game)
Score by innings: R H E
ECTC 102 020 1-6 9 1
WCTC 000 000 0-0 5 5
Batteries: McCotter and Wood; Par-due and Williamson.

MERIT SHOES
GOOD SHOES FOR LESS

Stalls Places Second In Golf Tourney Stadium Fund Committee Feted; Dole As Speaker

East Carolina Ace Led Four Strokes On Opening Day

Dave Mondy of Elon college captured the North State conference golf championship here Tuesday with a 154 total for the 36 holes of play at Starmount Forest Country club. He posted a one-under 70 Tuesday to edge favored Bill Stalls of East Carolina by a single stroke. Mondy came back strong after an 84 on opening day.

Rook Sappenfield of High Point college finished third at 156. Erdman Auman of High Point was fourth at 159.

Mondy put the pressure on Stalls on No. 18. He birdied the par five hole after Stalls was in the woods for a bogey 6. Mondy was two under par on the back nine after slipping one over on the front.

Stalls had a round of 78 for the day while Sappenfield posted a 77 and Auman a 79. Stalls lost a stroke from his opening day of 76 when he was penalized for a lost ball.

Table with 2 columns: Name and Score. Lists scores for various players including Dave Mondy, Bill Stalls, Rook Sappenfield, Erdman Auman, John Kupiec, etc.

Two members of the High Point golf team were tied for second after the first 18 holes of the 36-hole medal play event.

Rook Sappenfield and Erdman Auman both posted 79's. Sappenfield was out in 43, back in 36 while Auman had 40-39.

John Jones, Guilford's No. 1 man and John Kupiec of High Point posted 81's.

A field of 20 turned out for the first such event the conference has ever held. High Point East Carolina, Guilford, Catawba, and Elon were represented by teams of four men each.

A final 18 holes are scheduled today, players teeing off at 1:30 p. m. with the winner being declared conference champion. The team title is decided on the basis of season play.

Most of the field, unfamiliar with Starmount's lay-out, found the Par 71 course a little difficult with the result that even the 76 turned in by Stalls was five strokes over. The No. 1 man from East Carolina went into the tournament as the favorite. He is unbeaten in conference play this year.

Stalls was over par on four holes going out and on two coming in.

On the front nine, however, Stalls had a birdie two on the par three No. 3.

'Y' To Hold Vespers
The YMCA and YWCA will hold their regular commencement vespers service, Sunday night, May 15 at 7:30 p. m. in the Wright auditorium.

SEE--
OUR BATHING SUITS SHOP EARLY FOR LATEST STYLES

WILLIAMS
"Ladies Ready-to-Wear"

Pictured above are four members of this year's tennis team who will participate in the North State conference tennis tournament to be held at Elon college this weekend. Reading left to right are: Art Holland, No. 4; Paul Hansell, No. 6; Gorrell Bass, No. 3; and Bill Hales, No. 5. Pictures of John Heath and Bob Williams, the No. 1 and No. 2 respectively, were not available.

BATTING AVERAGES OF THE PIRATES

Table with 5 columns: Name, AB, R, H, E, Avg. Lists batting averages for players like Regan, Whitehurst, Kelly, Wood, etc.

NORTH STATE STANDING

Table with 4 columns: Team, W, L, Pct. Lists standings for Elon, Catawba, Lenoir-Rhyne, etc.

Teachers Playhouse To Give 'Sparkin'

"Sparkin", a comedy in one act, written by E. P. Conkle, will be presented for the third time by the Teachers Playhouse of East Carolina on May 10 at 8:00 p.m. in the Austin auditorium.

The play is directed by Geraldine Weathers and Dr. Lucile Charles. Members of the cast include: Lola Stephenson, Carrie Mae Smith, Susan Smith and Wilton Joyner.

"Sparkin" was presented to approximately 1000 high school students on high school day, April 14 and about 600 home demonstration members on home demonstration day 21 April.

East Carolina Netters Trounce Lenoir Rhyne In Match Here

East Carolina won their second North State conference tennis match in defeating the Lenoir-Rhyne Bears net team this afternoon by the score of 5-2. In the longest match of the day, Art Holland, No. 4 man of East Carolina bested Bill Goodson after two hours and ten minutes of play, 7-9, 6-4, 6-3.

Match results: singles: Heath (EC) defeated Brady, 6-3, 6-1; Williams (EC) defeated Peeler, 6-3, 6-1; Tate (LR) defeated Bass, 6-2, 6-4; Holland (EC) defeated Goodson, 7-9, 6-4, 6-3; Hales (EC) defeated Rhyne, 6-3, 6-4.

Doubles: Brady-Tate (LR) defeated Heath-Williams, 2-6, 6-0, 6-3; Moye-Harrison (EC) defeated Goodson-Peeler, 6-1, 6-3.

Appalachian State Defeats Pirates In 4-3 Thriller

The Appalachian State Teachers college defeated East Carolina, 4-3, in the first game of a scheduled double-header at Boone last Friday. The second game was called at the end of the second inning because of rain.

The opener was played in a steady drizzle. Bame, who hurled the route for the Mountaineers bested Whitehurst in a pitchers duel as he scattered eight hits to gain the decision. Hal Whitehurst of East Carolina limited the Apps to seven hits but they were bunched to give the Mounts the win.

Score by innings: R H E
ECTC 200 000 1-3 8 2
Appalachian 120 010 x-4 7 3
Batteries: Whitehurst and Wynne; Bame and Oldfield.

Veterans Banquet Draws Over 100; Grid Movies Shown

Chairman Ed Rawls and his 23-man committee which this year put a $25,000 stadium fund drive over for East Carolina Teachers college were honored at a banquet here last night by the college Veterans club.

Coach William E. Dole, who will assume head football coaching duties here in the fall, was guest speaker for the occasion which was celebrated by well over a hundred veterans and other students as well as faculty members.

The guest speaker as well as Veteran club officials were high in their praise of Rawls and his working committee for their success in accomplishing the $25,000 goal. The new stadium was recently completed and is now in readiness for the opening of the fall football schedule.

Pictures of the Fayetteville High school football season and the spring workouts at East Carolina were shown by Coach Dole. The new East Carolina grid mentor was for three years a successful coach at the Fayetteville high school.

North State Loop Meets In Salisbury

The spring meeting of the North State conference will be held at Salisbury Saturday, May 21, Dr. D. E. Faust of Catawba college, secretary, announced yesterday.

One of the major items of importance coming before the conference at the time will be the proposed merger of North and South Carolina small college conferences, Dr. Faust said.

Dr. E. G. Purdom of Guilford, president of the North State, and Dr. Faust plan to meet with South Carolina representatives prior to the Salisbury session. They will report at the May 21 meeting.

Bulldogs Invade Local Diamond In Bo-Hunk Contest

The Pirates of East Carolina played host to their arch rivals the Bulldogs of Atlantic Christian here this afternoon before a capacity crowd.

The coveted Bohunk Trophy was at stake and who would possess the treasured bucket until next fall depended on the outcome of the game.

Big J. D. Thorne, the ace right-hander of the Wilson lads, opposed stout Bob McCotter, the Bucs left-handed twirler, on the mound for the two teams.

In the previous game played at Wilson's Municipal stadium, the Bulldogs defeated the Pirates in a head-up game, 6-2.

This afternoon's game, the results were not available at press time, is the next to last game for the Bucs this year. They will play host to High Point here next Friday afternoon.

Try Our SANDWICHES, HOT DOGS, and HAMBURGERS DIXIE LUNCH

Belk-Tyler's POLO SHIRTS

Knitted of fine two ply combed cotton with crew neck. A large selection of colors for you to choose from. All sizes.

$1.98 BELK-TYLER'S "The Shopping Center"

Touch of Fashion Magic Fairyland Brooches

Extravaganza in crystal-clear lucite, rhinestones and make-believe pearls—these important jewels are conversation-making. For those who wear the Fairyland Hourglass of Eternal Youth, time stands still. And reigning beauties who would reign forever must wear the Fairyland Crown of Eternal Loveliness.

Magic Hourglass $25.00 Fairyland Crown $17.50 The Best
Lautares Bros. JEWELERS DIAMOND SPECIALISTS

We Now Have Picture Postal Cards of ECTC STUDENTS SUPPLY STORE STORE HOURS 9:30-12:30 and 2:30-4:30

Picture Review Of East Carolina

"Follies" In The Limelight

For the third year the Veterans club of this college staged their annual "Follies". Pictured above is one of the scenes taken during rehearsal.

"A Friend"

Ed E. Rawl
It's altogether fitting that this space be given to one of East Carolina's most outstanding friends, Ed E. Rawl. It was through his efforts that we now have a stadium on our campus.

Student Legislature Presidents

Raz Autry

Charles D. Connor

Floyd "Tom" Collins

Student presidents who have served this year are, from left to right: Raz Autry, elected as president for the 1949-50 school year; Charles D. Connor, who served in the fall and winter quarters of this year; and Floyd "Tom" Collins who served the spring quarter.

New Publications Officers

Editors and business managers elected recently by the Publications board for the 1949-50 term are, from left to right: Carl G. Conner, reappointed as editor-in-chief of the TECO ECHO; Rachel Kirby, business manager of the Pieces o' Eight; Elizabeth Manning, editor-in-chief of the Pieces o' Eight; George Morris, business manager of the Tecoan; Ella Frances Viola, business manager of the TECO ECHO; and John Pournaras, editor-in-chief of the Tecoan.

Citizenship

Ann Beddard

Citizenship

George Lassiter

For the first time in the history of East Carolina Teachers college an Awards Day was staged here this year. Students chosen to receive the citizenship awards were Ann Beddard, upper left and George Lassiter, upper right.

Pirates

Pictured above is East Carolina's football team for the past year.

East Carolina's ROTC On Drill

Above is our first ROTC unit. The new department which was inaugurated here this year has been under the direction of Colonel W. D. Brown.

French Student

Mlle. Jacqueline L. Meziat-Belouze

Slay Hall, New Men's Dormitory

Slay hall, shown in the architects drawing above was begun on our campus early this year. When completed the structure will be the second's men's dormitory on our campus.

New Head Coach Dole

At the close of this year's football season, East Carolina Teachers college was successful in securing William E. "Bill" Dole as head football coach.

Assistant Coach

John "Jack" Boone

New assistant coach who joined our staff this year is John "Jack" Boone, pictured above.

A Number One Band From A Number One College

For an all round band, give us East Carolina's under the capable direction of Herbert Carter. During the year it has played for many outstanding events throughout the state, including the inauguration of Governor Kerr Scott and the azalea festival held annually at Wilmington.

Teachers College For 1948-'49

East Carolina's Star Basketball Players For The Year

Eddie Tanner

Louis Collie

Ben Harrison

Jack Everton

Four of East Carolina's outstanding basketball players for the year have been reading from left to right, Eddie Tanner, Louis Collie Ben Harrison and Jack Everton.

Teachers Playhouse Has Successful Year

The Teachers Playhouse has completed a successful year with three major productions and several workshop productions. Members of the Coventry Navty cast and staff pictured above are, standing from left to right: Helen Winslow, Charles Williams, Carl G. Conner, Lorise Lewis and Curtis Phipps. Seated are Geraldine Weathers and Dr. Lucile H. Charles.

College Basketball Squad

East Carolina's "pirates," basketball team which finished with fifth place in the North State Conference with a record of seven wins and seven losses are reading from left to right, front row: Charlie "Bill" Moye, Bob Shuford, Frank Macnille, Jack Everton, Len Bauer, and Eddie Tanner. Second row: Max Garrell, junior manager, "Toddy" Fennell, Jimmy Fly, Coach Howard Porter, Louis Collie, Ben Harrison, and Jack Davis, senior manager.

"In Memory"

During the college year, one of East Carolina's largest buildings, the Classroom building, was named the Flanagan Building in memory of E. G. Flanagan, pictured left above. The new men's dormitory now under construction on the campus was named for the first Dean of East Carolina, the late Dr. Ronald J. Slay, pictured at right above.

Number One Entertainer of 1948-'49

Young Met. opera star, Rise Stevens.

New Class Presidents

Jeff Warner

Gilbert Carroll

Bill Sutton

President

A number one man, our own President John D. Messick, has successfully completed his second years as president of East Carolina Teachers college.

Stadium Grounds Breaking

Early in the spring quarter work was begun on our stadium, made possible by the business men of Greenville, friend of the college, the college staff and faculty and the students. Pictured in the ground breaking ceremony above are, from left to right, Dr. Howard McGinnis, Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, Mr. F. D. Duncan, Mr. E. E. Rawl, President John D. Messick, Coach Jack Boone, and Mr. C. D. Griffith of the contracting company.

Star Boxers

Two of East Carolina's star boxers for the year have been, upper left, Ken Stargardt, and Redwan David, right.

New York, Here We Come

TECO ECHO staff members who attended the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press convention held in New York City this year are, left to right, Bill Lloyd, sports editor, Carl G. Conner,

Teachers College For 1948-'49

East Carolina's Star Basketball Players For The Year

Eddie Tanner

Louis Collie

Ben Harrison

Jack Everton

Four of East Carolina's outstanding basketball players for the year have been reading from left to right, Eddie Tanner, Louis Collie Ben Harrison and Jack Everton.

Teachers Playhouse Has Successful Year

The Teachers Playhouse has completed a successful year with three major productions and several workshop productions. Members of the Coventry Navity cast and staff pictured above are, standing from left to right: Helen Winslow, Charles Williams, Carl G. Conner, Lorise Lewis and Curtis Phipps. Seated are Geraldine Weathers and Dr. Lucile H. Charles.

College Basketball Squad

East Carolina's "pirates," basketball team which finished with fifth place in the North State Conference with a record of seven wins and seven losses are reading from left to right, front row: Charlie "Bill" Moye, Bill Stahel, Frank Wasmole, Jack Everton, Len Bauer, and Eddie Tanner. Second row: Max Garrell, junior manager, "Tubby" Tennell, Jimmy Fly, Coach Howard Porter, Louis Collie, Ben Harrison, and Jack Davis, senior manager.

"In Memory"

During the college year, one of East Carolina's largest buildings, the Classroom building, was named the Flanagan Building in memory of E. G. Flanagan, pictured left above. The new men's dormitory now under construction on the campus was named for the first Dean of East Carolina, the late Dr. Ronald J. Slay, pictured at right above.

Number One Entertainer of 1948-'49

Young Met. opera star, Rise Stevens.

New Class Presidents

Jeff Warner

Gilbert Carroll

Bill Sutton

President

A number one man, our own President John D. Messick, has successfully completed his second years as president of East Carolina Teachers college.

New York, Here We Come

TECO ECHO staff members who attended the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press convention held in New York City this year are, left to right, Bill Lloyd, sports editor, Carl G. Conner, editor-in-chief, and Curtis Nichols, associate editor.

Stadium Grounds Breaking

Early in the spring quarter work was begun on our stadium, made possible by the business men of Greenburg, friend of the college, the college staff and faculty and the students. Pictured in the ground breaking ceremony above are, from left to right, Dr. Howard McGinnis, Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, Mr. F. D. Debeas, Mr. E. E. Conner, President John D. Messick, Coach Jack Boone, and Mr. C. D. Griffith of the contracting company.

Star Boxers

Two of East Carolina's star boxers for the year have been, upper left, Ken Stargardt, and Redwan Davis, right.

Cadet Captain Plumer Daniels, pictured above, has been the highest ranking cadet in the AROTC at East Carolina.

Dr. Meredith 'The Cook' Posey Has Recipe Printed In Mag.

Dr. Meredith N. Posey, professor of English and coach of the Jarvis Forensic club, has talents too long hidden from most East Carolinians.

They see him hard at work in his classroom, in the library, in his third-floor office, and in the headquarters of the college debate teams. They hear him lecture eloquently on Whitman, give samples of forceful public speaking, and expound the intricacies of poetic technique.

But the latest issue of "The Herb Grower," a Connecticut magazine for gardeners and gourmets, has brought to light the fact that Dr. Posey in his off moments is an expert in other fields. He is a cook of no small ability and the concocter of at least one palatable-sounding recipe.

Those who think that Dr. Posey goes home only to pour over texts in composition, American literature, or forensics have another think coming. He goes home and makes corn squirts. "The Herb Grower" from April carries the recipe and waxes eloquently over the delicacy—"so crunchy and new," "tawny" in hue, and "delectable" when consumed along with a tossed salad.

Dr. Posey is evidently a cook with the artistic touch. To make corn squirts, the chef needs some special equipment, namely an iron frying pan (a pot won't work, says Dr. P.) and a cake decorator (aluminum) with a sizable hole at the squirting end. With a cup each of yellow and white corn meal, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder and two of salt, and a modicum of milk—all whipped up to a proper consistency in a mixing bowl—and a frying pan of smoking grease sizzling on the stove, the cook can go to work. The idea is to squirt the mixture into the grease in fancy shapes, letting one's artistry have full play; to fry the squirts to a tawny stage; and then to sit down and regale one's self on the crisp and aromatic result.

Whether Dr. Posey wears a chef's cap and apron is not revealed by the magazine. At any rate, if "The Herb Grower" is to be trusted, he slings a mean skillet.

Science Students Spend Saturday At Morehead City

Twenty-five student members of the Science club at East Carolina Teachers college spent Saturday, April 30, making their annual field trip to the North Carolina coast. The students traveled by chartered bus to Morehead City and from there went by boat to Shackleford Banks and other points of interest. Most of the day was spent in observing and collecting specimens of marine life.

Officers of the club who were in charge of planning the trip were Sullivan Nelson of Jackson, president, and William Sutton of New Bern, secretary. Faculty members who accompanied the group were Dr. Christine Wilton, Dr. Mary G. Coughley, Dr. Harold C. Jones, Lucile Rice and J. O. Derrick, all members of the department of science.

Wedding

The faculty and students of East Carolina Teachers college are invited to attend the wedding of Martha Grace Butler to James Clifton Payne on Monday, May 16 at 3 p.m. at the Memorial Baptist church here in Greenville.

Wilton Joyner To Be President Of Forensic Club

Wilton Joyner, sophomore from Greenville, will serve as president of the Jarvis Forensic club at East Carolina during the fall quarter of 1949. He replaces Miles Buck of Syracuse, N.Y., who was president during the spring quarter this year.

Other recently elected officers of the group for the fall are James Crawford of Greenville, vice president; Lynell Beck of New Bern, secretary-treasurer; Elmer Williams of Washington, parliamentarian; Warren Jarvis of Havelock, sergeant-at-arms; and Geraldine Amundson of New York City, publicity chairman. Dr. M. N. Posey, professor of English, is faculty advisor of the club. Williams and Crawford represented East Carolina this spring in intercollegiate debates and speaking staged at the Grand National Forensic Tournament at Mary Washington college, Fredericksburg, Va.

Notice!

Due to the time required for a check to clear the bank, the budget office will close today. No checks will be accepted to be cashed after today. George Lassiter, Treasurer.

Better Shoes Reasonably Priced AT JACKSON'S SHOE STORE 511 Dickinson Avenue

Reasonable Prices ON Graduation Gifts

- BOYS: Reels, Tackle Boxes, Baseball Gloves, Golf Balls, Many Other Gifts
- GIRLS: Hair Dryers, Travel Irons, Tennis Rackets, Electric Clocks

C. H. Edwards Hardware House "WHERE QUALITY TELLS" Corner of Dickinson Ave. and Ninth Street Dial 2418

Student Guidance

Choosing A Career

Most guidance experts claim that a good program of self-evaluation is the first step in choosing a career. In effect, this means get to know yourself. It might prove advisable to ask yourself which of these activities you prefer: A. Working with things; B. working with people; C. working with ideas; D. working with a combination of the above three.

The next step in the process of self-evaluation is concerned with an analysis of your hobbies. What do you like to do on your own in your own spare time? A choice of a career may grow out of this type of activity.

Next, analyze your abilities. What type of things can you do? There's little point in planning a career in music, for example, if you have no musical ability. Remember it is all right to keep your head in the clouds provided your feet are on the ground. If you are uncertain about your abilities or interests, you may wish to consult Dr. Taylor about taking some aptitude or personality tests.

Consider your present choice of a career in terms of contentment, security, service, and health. If possible, get to feel, taste, see, smell, and hear all you can about your future career by visiting places wherein people are pursuing this type of work. Maybe there are some undesirable features about your future work with which you are not now acquainted. Most engineers, for example, are not outdoors working on fascinating construction projects nor are all lawyers involved continuously in dramatic court trials. Probably 95% of their time is spent preparing for these interesting situations.

Changing Your Course

It is important for everyone to know when to quit if the situation warrants such action. Success frequently begins at that moment when we learn that we are going in the wrong direction. If you find after having given the matter considerable thought that you are unhappy about your present choice of a career, now is the time to do something about it. Consult your advisor and make the change. It is better to lose a little time now than to spend the rest of your life at an unenjoyable task.

Don't pursue a "sympathetic" career. That which is good for your friends may not suit you. In other words, don't be talked into a career. Decide for yourself your choice of a life's work.

Finally, please remember that most folks work about one half of the time they are awake until they become 65. To spend this much time at some-

ALUMNI NEWS

Wilson

A program of popular songs was presented by Jackie Lewis, accompanied by Mrs. Carl Burton at the piano, at the meeting of the chapter held at the home of Mrs. Boise Barnes (Connie Bishop).

The program had been arranged by a committee consisting of Mrs. L. C. Woodall (Mary Bundy), chairman, Mrs. Don Bailey (Eva Dev), Miss Grace Ross and Mrs. D. H. West (Sonia Belle Lamm).

Mrs. DuBose Bullard (Mildred Harrison) presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. W. M. Rogers (Elsie Morgan). The members discussed Alumni Day, May 14. Mrs. Bullard urged as many as possible to attend this annual event.

After the meeting the hostesses invited the members into the dining room where the table, overlaid with lace cloth, was centered by a silver bowl of pink azaleas flanked by white tapers in silver candleabra. Silver platters held individual cakes iced in pink and green, and German scones, while iced punch was served from a bowl at one end of the table. Computes of salted nuts completed the table appointments.

Hostesses besides Mrs. Barnes were Mrs. Clyde Gardner (Lucy Ethridge), Mrs. Hubert Carter (Annie M. Whiteley), and Mrs. J. H. Rosser (Berta Lamm).

Approximately 35 members attended this meeting.

Burlington

Dr. A. D. Frank was guest speaker at the annual banquet of the Alumni chapter in Burlington last week.

Dr. Frank compared the college of today to the college of 22 years ago when he first became associated with it. He told of the progress which had been made at the college and in the public schools. In presenting a report of the recent action of the legislature, he showed how the college of tomorrow will be better able to serve the schools of the State. Baxter Ridenhour presented Dr. Frank. Lester Ridenhour served as toast master. He introduced other guests from the college and called on the members to present their guests.

Mrs. Estelle McClees Komerska was chairman of the banquet committee. Serving with her were Mrs. Helen Moseley Pope and Ida Walters.

Nash-Edgecombe Chapter

The alumni of Nash-Edgecombe chapter met Wednesday evening at the Y.M.C.A.

Miss Jessie Flythe, retiring president of the chapter presided. Miss Flythe gave a summary of the years work and an outline of the many acti-

ADDRESS

(Continued from Page 1)

Delta Kappa, honorary fraternities.

Dr. Montgomery, who has been president of Lynchburg College since 1936, is a native Virginian. He is a graduate of Lynchburg College, Vanderbilt University, and Yale University, at the last of which he received the doctor's degree.

As a minister of the Disciples of Christ, he has preached for churches in Virginia, Tennessee, and Connecticut, and in Chicago. He has been active leader among Disciples of Christ and has served as vice president of the International Convention in 1939 and a member of its executive committee from 1934 to 1937; as president of the Board of Higher Education; as a member of the Chaplaincy Endorsement Commission since 1941, and in other capacities. In interdenominational and unity work, he has also held various important offices and committee memberships.

Dr. Riley is the author of "The Education of Ministers of Disciples of Christ," published in 1931, and co-author of Vol. III of "The Education of American Ministers," published in 1934. He is a Rotarian, a member of the International Society of Theta Phi, the Omicron club, and Phi Delta Kappa.

Marshall Attends Meeting At NCS

Dean W. E. Marshall will represent the college tomorrow, May 7, at a meeting of the Council of Social Studies to be held at North Carolina State College. As representative of East Carolina, Dean Marshall will participate in a discussion of objectives in social studies in colleges.

The meeting is being held to bring social studies teachers of colleges and high schools together for a better understanding of their field. Dr. Gordon W. Blackwell will be moderator at the morning meeting.

Playhouse Chooses New Members Of Dramatic Club

The Teachers Playhouse at East Carolina Teachers college has chosen a group of new members of the student dramatic club, including thirteen students selected as active members and nineteen others as honorary members.

New active members were invited to join the organization because of their work on the recent production of the John Patrick comedy "The Hasty Heart" by the Teachers Playhouse. They are James Crawford, Greenville; Joe Polilli, Dover, Ohio; Daniel A. Hunt, Oxford; John Zeh, Hopewell, Va.; Helen Ayscue, Henderson; Dorothy Midgett, Waves; Betty Beard, Harrisburg; Jean Taylor, Kinston; Mary Neel Lindsley, Williamston; Jeannette Riggs, Cove City; Vivian Harper, Pikeville; Carl W. Smith, Washington; and James Vans, Tarboro.

Francis Lee Neel of the art department, Elizabeth S. Walker, faculty advisor of the college marshals, Henry Brown, treasurer of the Greenville Junior Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored "The Hasty Heart," and sixteen college marshals are the new honorary members of the organization.

QUALITY and QUANTITY IN CAROLINA DAIRY DELICIOUS MILK SHAKES AND ICE CREAM

Winners Of The Drawing FROM THE ECTC LUCKY BOX ON APRIL 28, 1949 WAS ELTON F. SAVAGE

Frances Sanderson Drew The Name THOSE PRESENT WERE: Ed Casey, Joan Smith, Jack Rich, Rose Hardison, and Patsy Grimes.

The FRANK WILSON Store "KING CLOTHIER SINCE 1895"

VISIT CAROLINA GRILL FOR REASONABLE PRICED 24 Hour Service BEER - DRINKS SANDWICHES - PLATES

PRaises

(Continued from page 5) The AROTC, the ROTC, and the numerous other organizations that have directed the students to do their best. As for the Student Budget committee, student committee, "Although there has been some criticism between the students and the faculty, the students of East Carolina Teachers college, "are to be congratulated for their type of young men and women who have united to represent the Student Legislature in the Budget committee. The many officers are continued after year, and the whole cooperate and carry on their many responsibilities as they have done the last year. Carolina Teachers college indeed."

COME IN AND SEE OUR SELECTION OF COTTON DRESSES LATEST STYLES BEST QUALITY C. HEBER FORBES

EAT and DRINK where all COLLEGE STUDENTS meet K A R E S

A SMASH HIT AT OUR COSMETIC COUNTER

New Tangee Glamourizer

LIPSTICK AND PERFUME-ATOMIZER IN ONE SMART METAL CASE

$1.50 plus tax

Patent Applied For

Blount & Harry "Eastern Carolina Shopping Center"