

Charles Self Chosen New SGA President

Number Of Students Win Major Offices With No Opposition

Charles C. Self of Greensboro was elected president of the Student Government of East Carolina Teachers college in campus elections held Friday, March 16. He was opposed by Robert A. Robinson of Franklin Springs, Georgia.

All major elective offices of the SGA for the 1951-1952 school year were filled in Friday's elections. Campaigns against candidates this spring were quiet affairs as compared with heated contests of the past several years. A number of those who sought major posts were unopposed.

Self will assume his new duties later this spring, when he will take over the SGA presidency from Alexander E. Livsey of Emporia, Va., and Jack Mount A. Junior at East Carolina. Self is now president of the college Veterans club, a member of the college tennis team, and business manager of the Men's Glee club. He has held membership in various campus organizations, including the Circle K club, the Commerce club and the YMCA. In addition, he is cadet 1st lieutenant flight commander of the Air Force Reserves Officers Training corps at the college.

Other officers of the SGA for the coming year are Arthur Johnson, Greensboro, first vice-president; Cecil E. Winslow, Hertford, second vice-president; Sara Jo Hege, Winston-Salem, secretary; Thornton L. Staples, Richmond, Va., treasurer; Saddle Deans Nashville, first assistant treasurer; Herbert B. Rennie, Jr., Richmond, Va., second assistant treasurer; and Robert W. Wechter, Stumpy Point, historian.

Sarah Peedin of Selma will head the Women's Judiciary of the SGA. Working with her will be the following officers: Patricia Bundy, Belhaven, vice-chairman; Rachael Modlin, Ahsokie, secretary; Ann Osborne, Salisbury, treasurer; and Dorothy Jennings, Elizabeth City, member-at-large.

Robert Butler of Kelford will be the new chairman of the Men's Judiciary. Kenneth Stargardt of Richmond, Va., will serve as vice-chairman, and Donald Cox of Kinston as secretary-treasurer.

Robert Bradley Is Senior President For 1951-52 Class

Members of the Junior class elected Senior class officers for next year and discussed plans for the annual Junior-Senior dance at a class meeting Tuesday evening March 20.

Robert Bradley of Rocky Mount will be Senior class president next year. David Jones, Greenville, vice-president; Joyce Adams, Mt. Olive, secretary; Robert Robinson, Franklin Springs, Ga., treasurer; Dorothy Jennings, Elizabeth City, reporter; and Elizabeth Hedgpeath, Warrenton, S. G. A. representative, will assist Bradley. Dr. George Pasti will serve as Senior class advisor.

The class set May 5 as the date for the annual Junior-Senior dance. The dance is to be semi-formal and free to members of the Senior class.

Outdoor Education Workshop Planned For Summer School

Crabtree Reservation Near Raleigh To Serve As Camp During Course

Using the facilities of Crabtree Reservation near Raleigh, East Carolina Teachers college will offer during the summer months a course in camp counseling and a workshop in outdoor education. The college is being assisted in the two courses of study by the Resource-Use Education commission of North Carolina.

The camp counseling course will extend from May 21 through June 2, and the outdoor education workshop will be conducted from July 29 through August 11. Both will carry college credit.

Members of the East Carolina staff who will participate in the work will be Dr. Charles G. DeShaw of the department of health and physical education; Francis Lee Neel of the department of art; and Camille Clarke, dietitian.

Students who enroll in the camp counseling course or the outdoor education workshop will live during the period of study in cabins located at Crabtree Reservation, camp site 12 miles west of Raleigh on the Raleigh-Durham highway. Meals will be served in the camp dining hall. The arts and crafts lodge will be available for work in art. The camp includes a well-developed water front and recreational facilities of various types.

The camp counseling course is planned for the benefit of those who are interested in becoming camp counselors and in developing camp programs. Activities and subjects for study and discussion will include swimming; arts and crafts; athletics; such as softball, volleyball, archery, badminton and square dancing; nature study; camp leadership; and campfire programs.

The outdoor education workshop is offered to give teachers a better orientation of how they can use the outdoors to supplement work in the classroom. Instruction in the following areas will be given: social studies, science, including nature study; recreational activities; safety education; conservation; skills of outdoor living; and techniques in developing day camping for children.

Enrollment in the two courses of study will be limited. Further information may be obtained from Dean Leo W. Jenkins, director of the summer school, at East Carolina. Those who wish to enroll in either of the two courses should apply to Dr. Jenkins at once for admission and pay the reservation fee of $5.00.

Indian Services Need Elementary Profs For Work

The U. S. Civil Service commission has announced that there is still an urgent need for elementary teachers in the Indian service. The Commission announced an examination for elementary teachers in June 1950, but to date sufficient qualified candidates have not been recruited.

The jobs being filled from the Commission's examination pay $3,100 a year. Applicants will not be required to take a written examination. To qualify, they must show successful completion of a full 4-year course leading to a degree from an accredited college or university, including or supplemented by 24 semester hours in education of which 12 semester hours must be in elementary education. Applicants whose courses do not include two semester hours in methods of teaching elementary grades or two semester hours in practice teaching of elementary grades must have had one year of teaching at the elementary level.

More detailed information about requirements and other points of interest are given in the examination announcement. Information and applications may be obtained from most first- and second-class post offices, from Civil Service regional offices, or from the U. S. Civil Service commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications are being accepted now.

Home Economics Group Installs Weldon Girl As 1951-52 President

Betty Ann Shaw of Weldon became president of the Home Economics club of East Carolina Teachers college at installation ceremonies conducted last week. She will head the student departmental organization during the school year of 1951-1952.

Other officers who will direct activities of the Home Economics club for the coming year are Emily D. Faircloth of Stedman, vice-president; Mary Olive Owens of Goldsboro, secretary; Catherine Hill of Deep Run, treasurer; and Elizabeth Hedgpeath of Warrenton and Eleanor Powell of Clinton, reporters.

Browning Given Office Equipment For Long Service

In recognition of fifteen years of service as director of the department of business education at East Carolina Teachers college, Dr. E. R. Browning was presented Thursday evening, March 15, with a gift of office equipment. The token of esteem and appreciation was given by faculty members of the department and members of the Commerce club and the Beta Kappa chapter of Pi Omega Pi, student departmental organizations.

Allan Berman of Portsmouth, Va., president of the Commerce club, presented the gift to Dr. Browning at a conference of business education students held in the Flanagan auditorium on the campus.

Dr. Browning joined the East Carolina faculty in 1936 and has been instrumental in developing the department of business education from a small, new organization into one of the largest and most active departments at the college. In 1945 he was appointed as a teacher in the American GI schools abroad and was on leave of absence from East Carolina during 1945 and 1946, when he taught at the American universities at Shrivensham, England, and Biarritz, France.

High School Day Program Set For Students To Visit Here

Leaders Of Campus Language Fraternity

Winter Term Dean's List, Honor Roll Reveal Women Ahead Of Men In Grades

Statistics Show Rise In Total Percentages Of EC Honor Students

Dean's list and Honor roll for the winter quarter revealed that the women students at East Carolina are still ahead of the men in scholastic standings. Figures released by Registrar J. K. Long this week show that the men students are gaining ground on the women students, however. Twenty-four men made the Dean's list the winter quarter as compared to 17 the fall quarter while the top female students dropped from 48 the first term to 39 the second.

Men and women students both had more on the Honor roll the winter quarter than in the fall with 79 men and 140 women making grades high enough to be in the select group. The first grading period showed that 72 men and 148 women were on the Honor roll.

A total of 103 men were honor students the past term as compared to 187 women. The odds were in favor of the women the fall quarter as they outranked the men 188 to 89. All totaled, there were 290 honor students on the campus during the winter quarter while figures showed that there were only 277 the fall term.

During the past quarter 16.23 per cent of all students enrolled here were in the honor group, which was an increase over the fall quarter. Five students made straight ones during the past quarter, of which three were girls—Dorothy L. Sutton, Gertrude C. Whitehurst, Gloria A. Whitehurst, Allan H. Berman and Robert E. James.

Students who make at least two and one-half quality points per quarter hour credit with no grade below a "3" are qualified for the Dean's list. The Honor roll requires two quality points per quarter hour credit with no grade below a "3."

Practice teachers who are graded "superior" by both the critic teacher and the departmental supervisor and who make at least two and one-half quality points per credit hour on all work taken are placed on the Dean's list. Practice teachers who are graded "excellent" by both the critic teacher and the departmental supervisor and

Entrance Tests Will Be Given For Graduate Study

Two tests given to aid students of the eastern section of North Carolina who wish to enter medical or graduate schools will be given at East Carolina Teachers college during May. Dr. Hazel Taylor, director of the Testing Bureau at the college, will administer the examinations.

The Graduate Record Examination will be given Friday and Saturday, May 4 and 5. The Medical College Admission Test will be given Saturday, May 12.

Information may be obtained from Application blanks and bulletins of Dr. Taylor, Room 303, Graham building, East Carolina Teachers college. Application for the Graduate Record Examination must be made by April 4, and for the Medical College Admission Test by April 28. Students who wish to take either test should apply to the Educational Testing Service, P.O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey, and should inclose fees with the applications.

Anyone in the eastern section of North Carolina who has made proper arrangements may take the tests when they are administered at East Carolina. Dr. Taylor has announced. Similar tests have been given at the college here for several years under her direction, and East Carolina has become a testing center where residents of this section may conveniently take the examinations required for admission to graduate and medical colleges in this country.

Invitations

It is too late to order calling cards, but 200 extra invitations have been ordered. Leon Ellis, president of the senior class, has announced. He has asked seniors who have not ordered invitations but still want them to contact him at once at Slay hall, 108.

Student Models Display Fashions At Style Program

Twelve student models displayed the new spring fashions for teenage and college girls at a style show staged both Friday afternoon and evening, March 16, by the Home Economics club of East Carolina Teachers college.

The event, held in the Austin auditorium on the campus, was attended by a large number of college students and by visitors from home economics departments of public schools in this section, including Pantego, Belhaven, Bath, Chocowinity, Alliance, West Edgecombe, Chicod, Bethel, Farmville, South Edgecombe, Robersonville, Greenville and Scotland Neck. Representatives of several 4-H organizations were also present.

Cooperating with the college Home Economics club in presenting the fashion show were the McCall corporation and the Blount-Harvey company of Greenville. Betty Fell, stylist for McCall's, acted as commentator and introduced the student models.

Betty Ann Shaw of Weldon and Thelma Russ of Kelly welcomed the two audiences to the pre-Easter parade of fashions. Annette Hughes of Willard gave a program of organ music.

Students who modeled the spring wardrobe, which included costumes from sports outfits to formal evening attire, were: Audrey Beaman, Dudley; Jean Taylor, Wilson; Pauline Moore, Bath; Louise Pearce, Willow Springs; Thelma Russ, Kelly; Geraldine Harris, Essex; Grace Breedlove, Nashville; Helen Alderman, Elizabeth City; Frances Barnes, Kenly; Jean Crumpler, Roseboro; Helen Kleinert, Kenly; and Mary O. Owens, Goldsboro.

Harris Elected Cadet Officers' New President

Jack Harris of Kinston was elected president of the Air ROTC Cadet Officers club at a meeting held March 15 with Ken Stargardt, this year's top officer holder, presiding.

Al Smith of Greenville was chosen as next year's vice-president by the cadet officers while John Klutz of Goldsboro and Jimmy Mellon of Winterville were picked as new secretary and treasurer, respectively. Al Wadford of Wake Forest will serve as sergeant-at-arms and Edward Biggs of Everette will undertake the duties of public information officer.

Plans were discussed by the club concerning the possibility of having an outing or banquet later in the quarter for the members and their dates. A committee of six, headed by Otis G. Bain of Charlotte, was appointed by President Stargardt to investigate several possibilities for some such activity.

Earlier this year the club sponsored the annual Military Ball that was held in Wright auditorium. At the present time the entire corps is preparing for the annual federal inspection, which is to be held April 2 and 3.

Visiting Seniors To Get Glimpse Of College Life

Public school seniors who visit East Carolina Teachers college for High School Day on April 6 will participate in a full and varied program. Dr. Orval L. Phillips, director of the college Bureau of Field Service and Chairman of the High School Day committee, has announced the schedule of events for the day.

Invitations to attend have been sent to seniors in 450 schools in 75 counties of the state, and a large number of guests are expected to be present on the campus for High School Day. The program for visitors has been planned so as to give the high school seniors a glimpse of work and play on the campus and to acquaint them with the purposes and ideals of the college.

The day's events will begin at 9:00 in the morning with a tour of the campus grounds and buildings. A series of special exhibitions has been arranged by sixteen departments of instruction and will be on display both to entertain visitors and to inform them as to types of work now being done at the college.

Opportunities will be given the seniors to see the college nursery school and kindergarten; to observe student teaching in the Campus Training school; to get an idea of dormitory life through visits to the student residence halls; and to see a collection of visual aids of interest to those who wish to be teachers.

The Air Force ROTC unit at East Carolina will give a drill on the campus driveways at 11:00. Following this will be a program in the Wright auditorium. President John D. Messick will welcome the seniors to the campus at this time. The College Band and the College choir will provide special music, and a program of group singing will be included.

A barbecue luncheon, presentation of a one-act play, an organ recital, a concert by the Women's Chorus of the college, informal open house entertainments by the departments of instruction, a motion picture in the Austin auditorium, and a tea dance are included in plans for the afternoon.

Spring Figures Reveal Big Drop In EC Enrollment

Figures released by Registrar J. K. Long reveal that there was a drop of 203 students in the spring quarter's registration as there are 1584 students attending East Carolina this quarter compared to 1787 last term.

Women students outnumber the men by 176. Enrolled here this quarter are 880 women and 704 men. Of the 1584 students, 443 are freshmen; 556, sophomores; 307, juniors; 335, seniors; 131, graduate; and 12, special students.

The effect of the draft can readily be seen in the enrollment statistics. Men and women students number approximately the same as last quarter in graduate work, in the Senior class, and in the Junior class, but the difference increases in the Sophomore and Freshman classes. The biggest margin of difference is 111 in the Freshman class. Freshman girls outnumber the boys 277 to 166.

There are more men who are seniors and graduate students, but the women are ahead in enrollment in all other groups.

Joint Music Recital Features Brooks, Owen Singing, Playing Piano

Louise Brooks of Falcon and Nell Dean Owen of Asheville, senior students of music at East Carolina Teachers college, were presented in a joint recital Monday evening, March 19, in the Austin auditorium. The program was sponsored by the department of music at the college and was the graduating recital of the two students.

Faculty Members Serve As Judges In Music Contests

Robert Carter and Herbert L. Carter, faculty members of the department of music at East Carolina Teachers college, have been acting as judges in district contests held preliminary to the State High School Music Festival in Greensboro scheduled for April 9-12.

They were present to hear and evaluate the performances of young musicians at six centers: Wilmington, March 8; Greenville, March 10; Salisbury, March 14; Raleigh, March 15; and Asheville, March 16. They judged at High Point last Saturday.

Robert Carter has judged contests in which he played compositions for the piano. Herbert L. Carter was one of the judges who evaluated those playing other instruments. He is president of the North Carolina Bandmasters association and a member of the Executive committee of the State High School Music Contest-Festival.

During the spring and early summer, Robert Carter will also serve as judge in various competitive events for student pianists. On March 24, he will judge contestants in Greenville who will participate in the annual contest sponsored by the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs. In May he will judge for the National Guild of Piano Teachers contestants for scholarships offered in piano by various colleges and universities. This work will take him to New York City and to Jackson and Memphis, Tenn.

Band To Take Part In Azalea Festival Parade March 31

The Band of East Carolina Teachers college will participate in the parade to be staged Saturday, March 31, as a special event of the Azalea Festival in Wilmington. The college group, with Herbert L. Carter of the faculty as conductor, has played at the Festival for the past two years.

Band members will wear their purple and gold uniforms in Wilmington and will be led by Drum Major Robert A. Robinson of Franklin Springs, Georgia, and four pretty majorettes.

This year, in addition to staging programs at both campus and off-campus athletic contests, the East Carolina Band has acted as host to the Eastern division of the All-State Band clinic at a recent meeting on the campus and has given a Christmas concert. A program in the Wright auditorium and a lawn concert are planned for the spring. The Band has also taken part in several civic events in Greenville during the school year. Maneuvers staged during football contests on the campus and elsewhere have been commended in the press and over the radio for their beauty and originality.

VERSE OF THE WEEK

"For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself. But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another." . . . Gal. 6:3-4.

LOYALTY OATHS

On all sides we are bombarded with Communist propaganda. Recently some of our soldiers were captured and indoctrinated with the Russian variety. They were given a first hand demonstration of the type of twisted and distorted information which is fed to the people inside the iron curtain. The soldiers thought most of the propaganda stupid.

In our own country our leaders who are supposed to be intelligent men are contributing fuel to Communist propaganda mills.

The three-ring circus which has been going on in New York recently is an excellent example of the sort of thing the Kremlin finds very useful for its misinformation service. We haven't been able to fathom the reason behind the congressional investigation which is going on in New York at a terrific expense to the tax payers of this country. It seems to us this sort of investigation might well be left to public agencies set up for the purpose of investigation and prosecuting crime in this country. It seems to us this is just another political football which, in the final analysis, will solve absolutely nothing.

We keep hearing about loyalty pledges especially in our universities and colleges across the country. The fact that a person signs one of these pledges to keep a job doesn't necessarily mean he believes the pledge which he has signed.

Every now and then an individual turns up who has the courage to stand up to college administrators and college boards by refusing to sign a mass of nonsensical mumbo-jumbo traveling under the name of test-oath of non-subversiveness.

The University of California has been a hot-bed since last July when the Regents board demanded these oaths of all of their instructors under the threat of dismissal. A number of instructors were fired as a result of not signing the oaths.

One of these academic bad boys who refused to knuckle under is Harold Winkler former professor of political science. Let us look at the man's any grounds for the statement which they leveled at him. They said he was "unfit to guide the minds of our gullible youth." Winkler is a member of Americans for Democratic Action, an organization of anti-Communist liberals. He is also former research director of the Council for Democracy, an organization whose money comes from the Luce and Rockefeller interests. He received the Bronze star for his Navy service in World War II.

What is this educator doing today, he is now on the faculty of Harvard university which still is willing to judge a man on his merits rather than upon his willingness to crawl upon his knees.

It seems to us that we are rapidly approaching, if we haven't already reached it, a point in our thinking where we are swayed by mass hysteria rather than by common sense. It seems to us in times of stress, such as we are undergoing at the present, that it would be well for us to stop and evaluate our outlook on current events instead of condemning the few people in this country that are still thinking even if their thinking is different and may not agree with our own. Certainly we owe our educators the opportunity to think clearly on all world problems.

It cannot afford to condemn a man because he is writing or speaking does not agree with the witch hunt which has been going on for the past two or three years.

Anyone who is a liberal and who says a man to think for himself if he happens to disagree with the majority, he might as well be a Communist.

I shall strive to uphold the responsibilities which have been bestowed upon me and at all times maintain the faith which has been placed in me. I might feel that I have been misled, but I shall not let that prevent me from doing my duty.

by Rexford E. Piner

Three members of the social studies department of the college were active last week on programs of Greenville book clubs. Dr. Kathleen Stokes was principal speaker before the End of the Century Book club. She presented to the members a talk on "Africa and Our Foreign Policy." She presented a picture of the Africa we think of as a dark continent and also Africa the land of enormous possibilities.

Dr. Richard Todd spoke to the Chatham Book club on "Hope for the West, and contrasted Communism and Democracy. He stated, "The battle is between the East and West, Communism against Democracy. The total scheme is individual freedom and private enterprise against collective enterprise."

"The battle is not Korea. Korea is a testing ground for the much larger battle that is taking shape in the world today. War perhaps will come, but it is hoped we will be prepared for it. In 1951 Communism has suffered a setback, and the civilized world is growing more capable every day of assuming a noble destiny," said Dr. Todd.

An informal talk was made by Dr. George Pasti at the meeting of the Clio Book club. His subject was "The Hundred Great Books Foundation." Dr. Pasti traced the work of the foundation from its beginning in 1919 at the University of Chicago to the present.

It began with a group collecting great books and discussing them. The movement grew over the years and in 1930 a panel was appointed by the University for the selection of the best great books. This selection is being published in 51 volumes.

In 1946 "The Hundred Great Books Foundation" was founded to carry the salvation of these books to adults. By making these books accessible to the public the Foundation is bringing to people the knowledge of thirty centuries. Great minds of the present have capitalized on the great minds of all time.

Dr. Pasti said people should study these books now as they are a record of the culture and many of the traditions have come to people because of the classics. These great books are still great today because in reviewing them, one finds the same parallels today. He also said the great books are a springboard to ideas and through them one can defeat the great American disease "Small Talk."

What next? First we have fountains that write under water, now we see in the papers that Willys-Overland engineers have water-proofed the "jeep" so that it can be driven in water 10 feet deep. What are they trying to do, equip an Army to cross from continent to continent on the ocean floor by way of vehicles? The jeeps may have a place in civilian life for fishermen. Anglers can jump in their jeeps and chase the fish to death. Anyhow the vehicle-under-water idea may be good for cooling off hot rods.

Garland Jackson has been elected president of the English club. Other new officers are: Mark Moore, vice-president; Betty Poole, secretary; Geraldine Sutton, treasurer; and Robert Wechter and Vernie Wilder, publicity. The English department of the college is holding its annual party to honor senior English majors Wednesday evening, March 28 at 8:00 p.m. in Ragsdale hall.

According to Student Government President Al Livesay, the new Legislature will take over March 28 at 7:00 p.m. in the Austin auditorium.

To The Editor

To the Editor:

I sincerely regard it as a great honor to have been a candidate for the presidency of the Student Government association in the recent elections. The assembly in which the candidates made campaign speeches did not draw a large number of students; nevertheless, I do feel the students showed more interest on election day.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude and thanks to each and every student for his part in the campaign.

I shall strive to uphold the responsibilities which have been bestowed upon me and at all times maintain the faith which has been placed in me. I might feel that I have been misled, but I shall not let that prevent me from doing my duty.

Who's Who At East Carolina

by Anne Jones

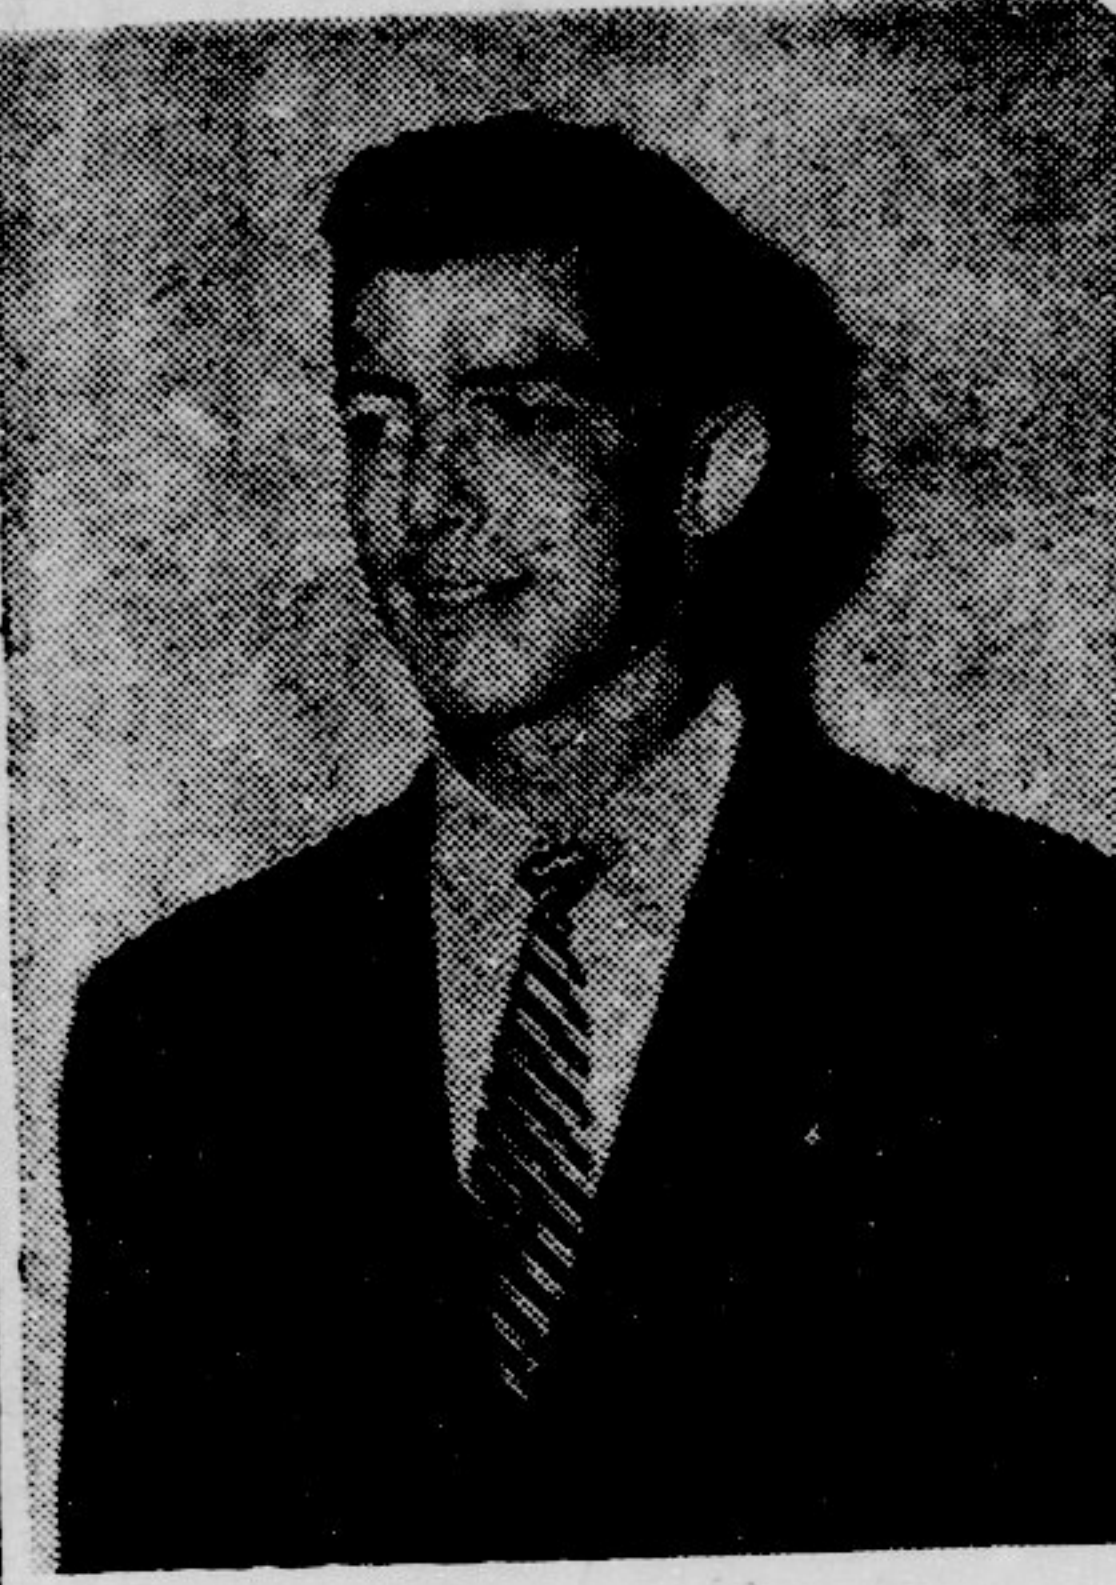

"I was very happy over the outcome of last Friday's election," commented Charles Self, newly-elected president of the Student Government association here at East Carolina. "As new president of the SGA I feel that it is a great honor which should be held with the highest esteem, and I shall strive to carry out the responsibilities of this office to the very best of my ability," he said.

Continuing, he stated, "I feel that the election was quite a success, the number of voters being larger than expected. I sincerely hope that the new Legislature can encourage more interest within the student body concerning Student Government affairs."

Charles Self hails from Greensboro, North Carolina. He had heard so much about this "institution" that he decided to come down and look the place over. He came, found himself amazed at the beauty of the campus, so he decided to enter school here in September, 1949.

After graduating from Greensboro High school he served in the Naval Air corps for one and a half years before coming here. Incidentally, Self was a flight commander with a first lieutenant's rating in the Air ROTC will receive his commission upon graduation and at that time he expects to go into active duty again.

Originally Self planned to major in business education but he changed his mind, in his own words, "because of lack of interest in accounting." While enrolled in this department he was a member of the Commerce club.

Now sergeant-at-arms of the Jarvis Forensic club he is a member of the debating squad of this organization. Along with the other members of the debating team he left Wednesday of this week to participate in the Grand National Debating tournament being held today at Mary Washington college, Fredericksburg, Va.

During the present school year Self has served as president of the Veterans club on the East Carolina campus. While he has served as president of this organization several projects worthy of mention here have been sponsored by the club. The Veterans club, during the Christmas season, collected money at ball games and in the dining hall to help needy families. This sum, which totaled $65, was turned over to the welfare board in Greenville for distribution. Another project which is still in progress is the acquiring of the bell which is to ring when our athletic teams are victorious. The sum of $350 is now in the treasury for this purpose.

Self is a social studies major and is drawing and sketching model homes and interior decorating. His favorite food is ham and eggs. He loves outdoor life and sunshine, especially the beach variety with plenty of adventure thrown in for good measure.

Other activities which he has participated in here are those of the Young Men's Christian association, the Circle K club, the College Choir in which he sings second bass, and the Men's Glee club of which he is business manager at present.

Self, who is seeking the bachelor of science degree, tentatively hopes to teach school some day. He is a junior this year and plans to graduate in May, 1952.

ROUND THE CAMPUS

by Jean Head

Spring holidays! they are really here, but it seems only yesterday that we had Christmas holidays. That's what East Carolina will do for you, the days DO slip by.

Sounds like there will be plenty of dancing going on after Easter. After the class meetings this week, reports are that the weekends are going to be pretty well filled; well, after all, isn't spring the time for dance? Ah! sweet springtime.

And have you noticed? The campus seems to be welcoming spring. The camellia bushes are sparked with red blooms, the red-bud trees are covered, and those willow trees over by the Administration building are full of tiny green leaves. At times, if we just stop and take all of this in, it makes us appreciate living.

There seems to be some question as to how the May Queen and May Court were picked this year. In the Constitution there is nothing mentioned concerning the May Court—how it is to be chosen, et cetera. Here's the story. . . Mrs. Dole was appointed by Dr. Messick as chairman of the May Day program. Mrs. Dole asked Al Livesay, student body president, to serve on the committee, but Al said he would rather appoint four students to the committee, which he did.

These students together with Mrs. Dole and three other faculty members set up the qualifications that a person in the May Court should have. Then a special committee selected eight seniors and six juniors for the May Court. This committee was made up of four class presidents, four class representatives and six members of the faculty. The May Queen was elected by the Student Body in the general election from the eight seniors in the Court. The senior receiving the highest number of votes becomes May Queen and the senior receiving the second highest is to be Maid of Honor.

The Student legislature called a special meeting March 13 and accepted the proceedings of the May Day committee under Mrs. Dole. Results of the election for May Queen have not yet been announced. Her identity will not be revealed until the May Day festivities begin.

Coach Dole's Physical Education 127 class seemed to enjoy their homework last week. Their assignment was to "go fly a kite." And so they did. Billy Smith took high honors by flying his kite the highest of all; and he made his own kite!

Economics students missed Dr. Flanagan last week. He had to miss class several days because of illness. It is good to see him "up and around again."

Azalea festival time, one of the biggest events in N. C., is nearing. According to a feature in the News and Observer this week, it's going to be a "big thing" this year.

MILES BEHIND THE MIKE

by Miles Buck

On Officials

In the three years we have been at East Carolina we have had our say on most issues either publicly or privately, generally both. We would like to take time here to pass out orchids to the boys that spent two or three nights a week officiating high school basketball games this season. The official is never right as far as the fans are concerned no matter how well he works a game. We had the opportunity to see a number of the fellows in action, and from where we were sitting they did a good job.

Lights In The Library

It's tough to get the freshmen to do anything these days except go to the library. This is open season for term papers. The parade of people with note cards, books and anything else they can get their hands on can be seen daily streaming toward the library. Mr. Smiley can hang up the SRO sign these days.

Crying Towel For Graduate Students

We are thinking seriously of hanging out a crying towel at 250 Slay for the graduate students. They congregate in our room at regular intervals for a mutual gripe session. It seems the instructors in the graduate school are pouring the coal to the boys this quarter. We have even heard some of them talking about getting Mr. Smiley to put in beds in the library so they can set up house-keeping, thereby saving them the long trek from the dorm to library. Boys, think how beautiful that MA will look come May.

Mac

Our spies tell us that Mac Eure is doing fine up at McQuire General. Some of the boys visited him last week and they say he has things under control up there. They say his room is like Grand Central station that glass."

at rush hour. Drop Mac a card; he'll be glad to hear from you.

The Passing of Another Milestone

Last Sunday the Inter-religious council held the first evening worship period since its organization last fall. We should have more of these Sunday night worship periods when we can get together with our fellow students for a period of Christian devotion and fellowship. It will make our college life more binding and will certainly help to cement lasting friendships.

Dr. Holt brought a challenging message. It caused those of us who were there to stop and think about our religion which most of us have taken for granted these many years.

He said that Christ was speaking to us and his message as revealed in the Sermon on the Mount was for this life and not for the life hereafter. He said we must take a possible approach to religion if it is to mean anything to us. That religion should add zest to our daily living instead of being something feared.

The Council has started something we would like to see continued.

"Oh, I forgot to tell you, Mazurkowitz, that's sulfuric acid in that glass."

TRADE BITS

by Tommie Lupton

East Carolina is a teachers college and nearly everyone thinks that he cannot get rich by teaching school, but there are always exceptions. James C. G. Conniff, who teaches at a small, eastern liberal arts college, is such an exception. He published an article in the Saturday Evening Post entitled, "I'm A Teacher Who's Getting Rich." His only trouble is that Conniff is not talking about money. He writes: "Taking boys and making men who can stand on their own two feet — that is the kind of spiritual property a man can occupy tax-free for a lifetime. . . . Once you possess it you can never go broke. . . . The above statement is food for thought for those of us at East Carolina will become teachers."

Random surveys of college students seem to be gaining popularity. At Syracuse, the "Daily Orange" polled 50 coeds and found that 70 per cent favored combining marriage and a career; 20 per cent favored marriage alone; and less than 10 per cent wanted a career with no marriage involved. However, even the most vehement opponents of outside work after marriage felt coeds should think of the future by choosing college courses that could be turned into earning power.

Meanwhile, the "State College News" from Albany, N. Y. reports that a survey of 18 women and 25 men produced the following information. Women get an average of 18 minutes sleep per day more than men. Women spend an average of one hour and 22 minutes on body care and grooming as opposed to an average of 52 minutes for men. Men average three minutes more a day at meals than women. Women spend six minutes more in class and 22 minutes less in study than men. The latter statement might be questionable on the campus here. Huh, boys?

The "Harvard Lampoon," campus humor magazine at Harvard university, finds itself in a very unfunny position. A state police lieutenant was recently assigned to investigate the "filthy, obscene and licentious" magazine which was confiscated by Massachusetts police. A district judge described the magazine as "not fit" to be taken into homes where there were mothers, fathers or sisters. The contents of the magazine, according to its editor, was a collection of cartoons and jokes from other college magazines. We clue you, journalistic work is really a rough life, for there is always someone on your back.

Did You Know That----

by Bob Robinson

--- there are only 46 school days and 10 Sundays and holidays — 56 days in all, 'til the end of the quarter, and incidently summer vacation? As they say in the old country "Tempus Fidgets, don't it?"

--- next weekend (March 30-April 1) is the date set for the annual Azalea Festival in Wilmington? The College band once more has accepted an invitation to march in the parade which is held Saturday, March 31 and will represent our college in this colorful spectacle. Our Azalea "Queen" this year, Carolyn Eisele, will also be present for the festivities.

--- Wednesday, March 21, was the first day of spring? Spring, that's the season of the year when a young man's fancies lightly turn to thoughts which have been bothering the young ladies all winter.

--- our President, Dr. J. D. Messick, is making a trip to Raleigh at least once a week? He's doing this in support of our budget which is now before the Legislature and he's doing a terrific job in our behalf. We can certainly be thankful for such a personality as Dr. Messick at the head of our school, and as long as he is here you can "bet your boots" we'll progress as much as is possible.

--- the Circle K was pretty busy this week? Tuesday evening they held elections of next year's officers at their regular supper meeting; Wednesday they conducted a city-wide canvass, soliciting funds from door to door for the local Red Cross chapter; then Thursday afternoon at 2:30 they held a "candy" Easter Egg hunt in the Arboretum for children in the 1st through the 3rd grades of the club and this is strictly a plug, but we know that we speak for the rest of the members when we say it was a pleasure to be of service to our school and community.

--- there is a "Pirates Den" on our campus? Yes sir, right here at East Carolina there is a fine "Den" where all you Pirates can go three times a week and participate in all sorts of table games—like bridge, canasta, checkers, etc.—and dance, too, if you like. It's located in the northeast basement of the Wright building and is open Monday and Wednesday evening from 7:00 to 8:30 or 9:00 p. m. The "Den" is also open on Saturday evening immediately after the campus movie is over and stays open until 11:00 p. m. See you there sometime, O. K.?

--- Oscar Levant is scheduled to appear on campus sometime next month? Levant is a concert pianist with an ability to be a comedian when the occasion calls for such. He played Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" with Paul Whitman's orchestra in the early 1930's; this was the first time the masterpiece had been played for an audience. Watch for the date and be sure to attend this event.

--- the work on our new gym is three weeks ahead of schedule at the present time? This sure sounds good to us, and we hope the workmen will keep up the pace. It will certainly be a wonderful building when it is finished and will add much to our campus which, by the way, "ain't too worse of a campus right now."

SPORTS ECHO

BY LLOYD WHITFIELD

The calendar says spring did not arrive until March 21—the baseball calendar for East Carolina called for the popular spring sport to get underway on March 20. Ole man winter could not quite see baseball hinging in on his record-breaking sport, basketball, therefore he issued a call for rain last Tuesday afternoon to break up the opening of the 1951 diamond season for the Bucs.

Coach Boone's charges were all ready to go against an intersectional foe, Upsala college of New Jersey, when the rains began to fall Monday, Tuesday afternoon by game time the field was so wet that Boone cancelled the game and Upsala moved on over to Elon for a contest with the defending North State champions on Wednesday.

However, Boone held a practice session Tuesday afternoon in an attempt to get his boys ready for another intersectional clash with Wilson Teachers college of Washington, D.C. Friday afternoon. Today's clash serves as the 1951 campaign opener and a warm-up contest for the Pirates who depart tomorrow morning for Norfolk, Va. where they will spend the spring holidays meeting some of the best military teams in the nation.

PITCHERS AHEAD OF BATTERS

The North State conference members will carry approximately 20 players to the Cavalier state. Leading the Pirate ship into the Tidewater country will be a pitching staff that Coach Boone says is well ahead of the batters. Not too much is to be expected from the inexperienced hurlers yet, however, but with 1950 veterans Martin Byrd and Richard Hobbs plus several outstanding newcomers, the Buc pitching staff will not be easy pickings for the hefty sluggers in the conference. Leading the freshmen hurlers is Jimmy Byrd from Kinston. Byrd is an All-stater from prep school, pitching his high school alma mater to two consecutive North Carolina state titles. The hustling pitcher boasts a fast breaking curve ball with plenty of speed behind it.

Martin Byrd, the returnee from last year's squad, could be the man to whiff that ball by many opposing batters this year with his blazing curve ball which has all his weight behind it. A great hurler with good form, the formidable arm of Martin Byrd is counted on to carry the Bucs' hopes for finishing in the first division of the conference.

FRED SOLES EXPECTED TO LEAD PIRATES AT BAT

Expected to swing a heavy stick for the local nine when the batters get in full swing is Fred Soles, a letterman who led the squad last year with a mark somewhere in the .400 vicinity. Also there is the hard-hitting of Sonny Russell and Jack Wallace, two infielders who can handle themselves well at the plate. Aiding Russell and Co-captain Wallace in the infield will be Billy Smith at second and George Sauls. Both are tight defensive players, but were a little weak at the plate last season.

The outfield will see the familiar face of the other Buc co-captain, Leon Jones, who saw duty both as a catcher and an outfielder in the 1950 season. Jones is a power hitter who is able to plug a few hits into rightfield although he is a right-handed hitter. Dwight Shoe will probably hold down the centerfield position. Shoe is fast and covers his position well. Soles is the other outfielder who is a demon in his territory.

The catching duties could be rather uncertain at the time with such likely choices as Leon Jones, George Gsabyll and George McSwain proving to be very capable of doing a splendid job. The outfield suffered a serious blow last Friday when newcomer Dewey Harris chipped an elbow in an intrasquad contest that saw Squad B defeat Squad A 5-3. Harris is a transfer student from Appalachian and will probably be out of action for a month or six weeks.

ELON PRE-SEASON FAVORITES FOR LOOP TITLE

Pre-season dopsters are picking Elon as the team to take the North State title again in 1951. The Christians have won the title for the last two years and reports have it that Coach Jim Mallory has assembled another crop of players that is mighty strong, tackling a rough 25-game schedule. They are to meet each conference member twice and have outside competition against such outstanding clubs as Ohio university and Springfield college.

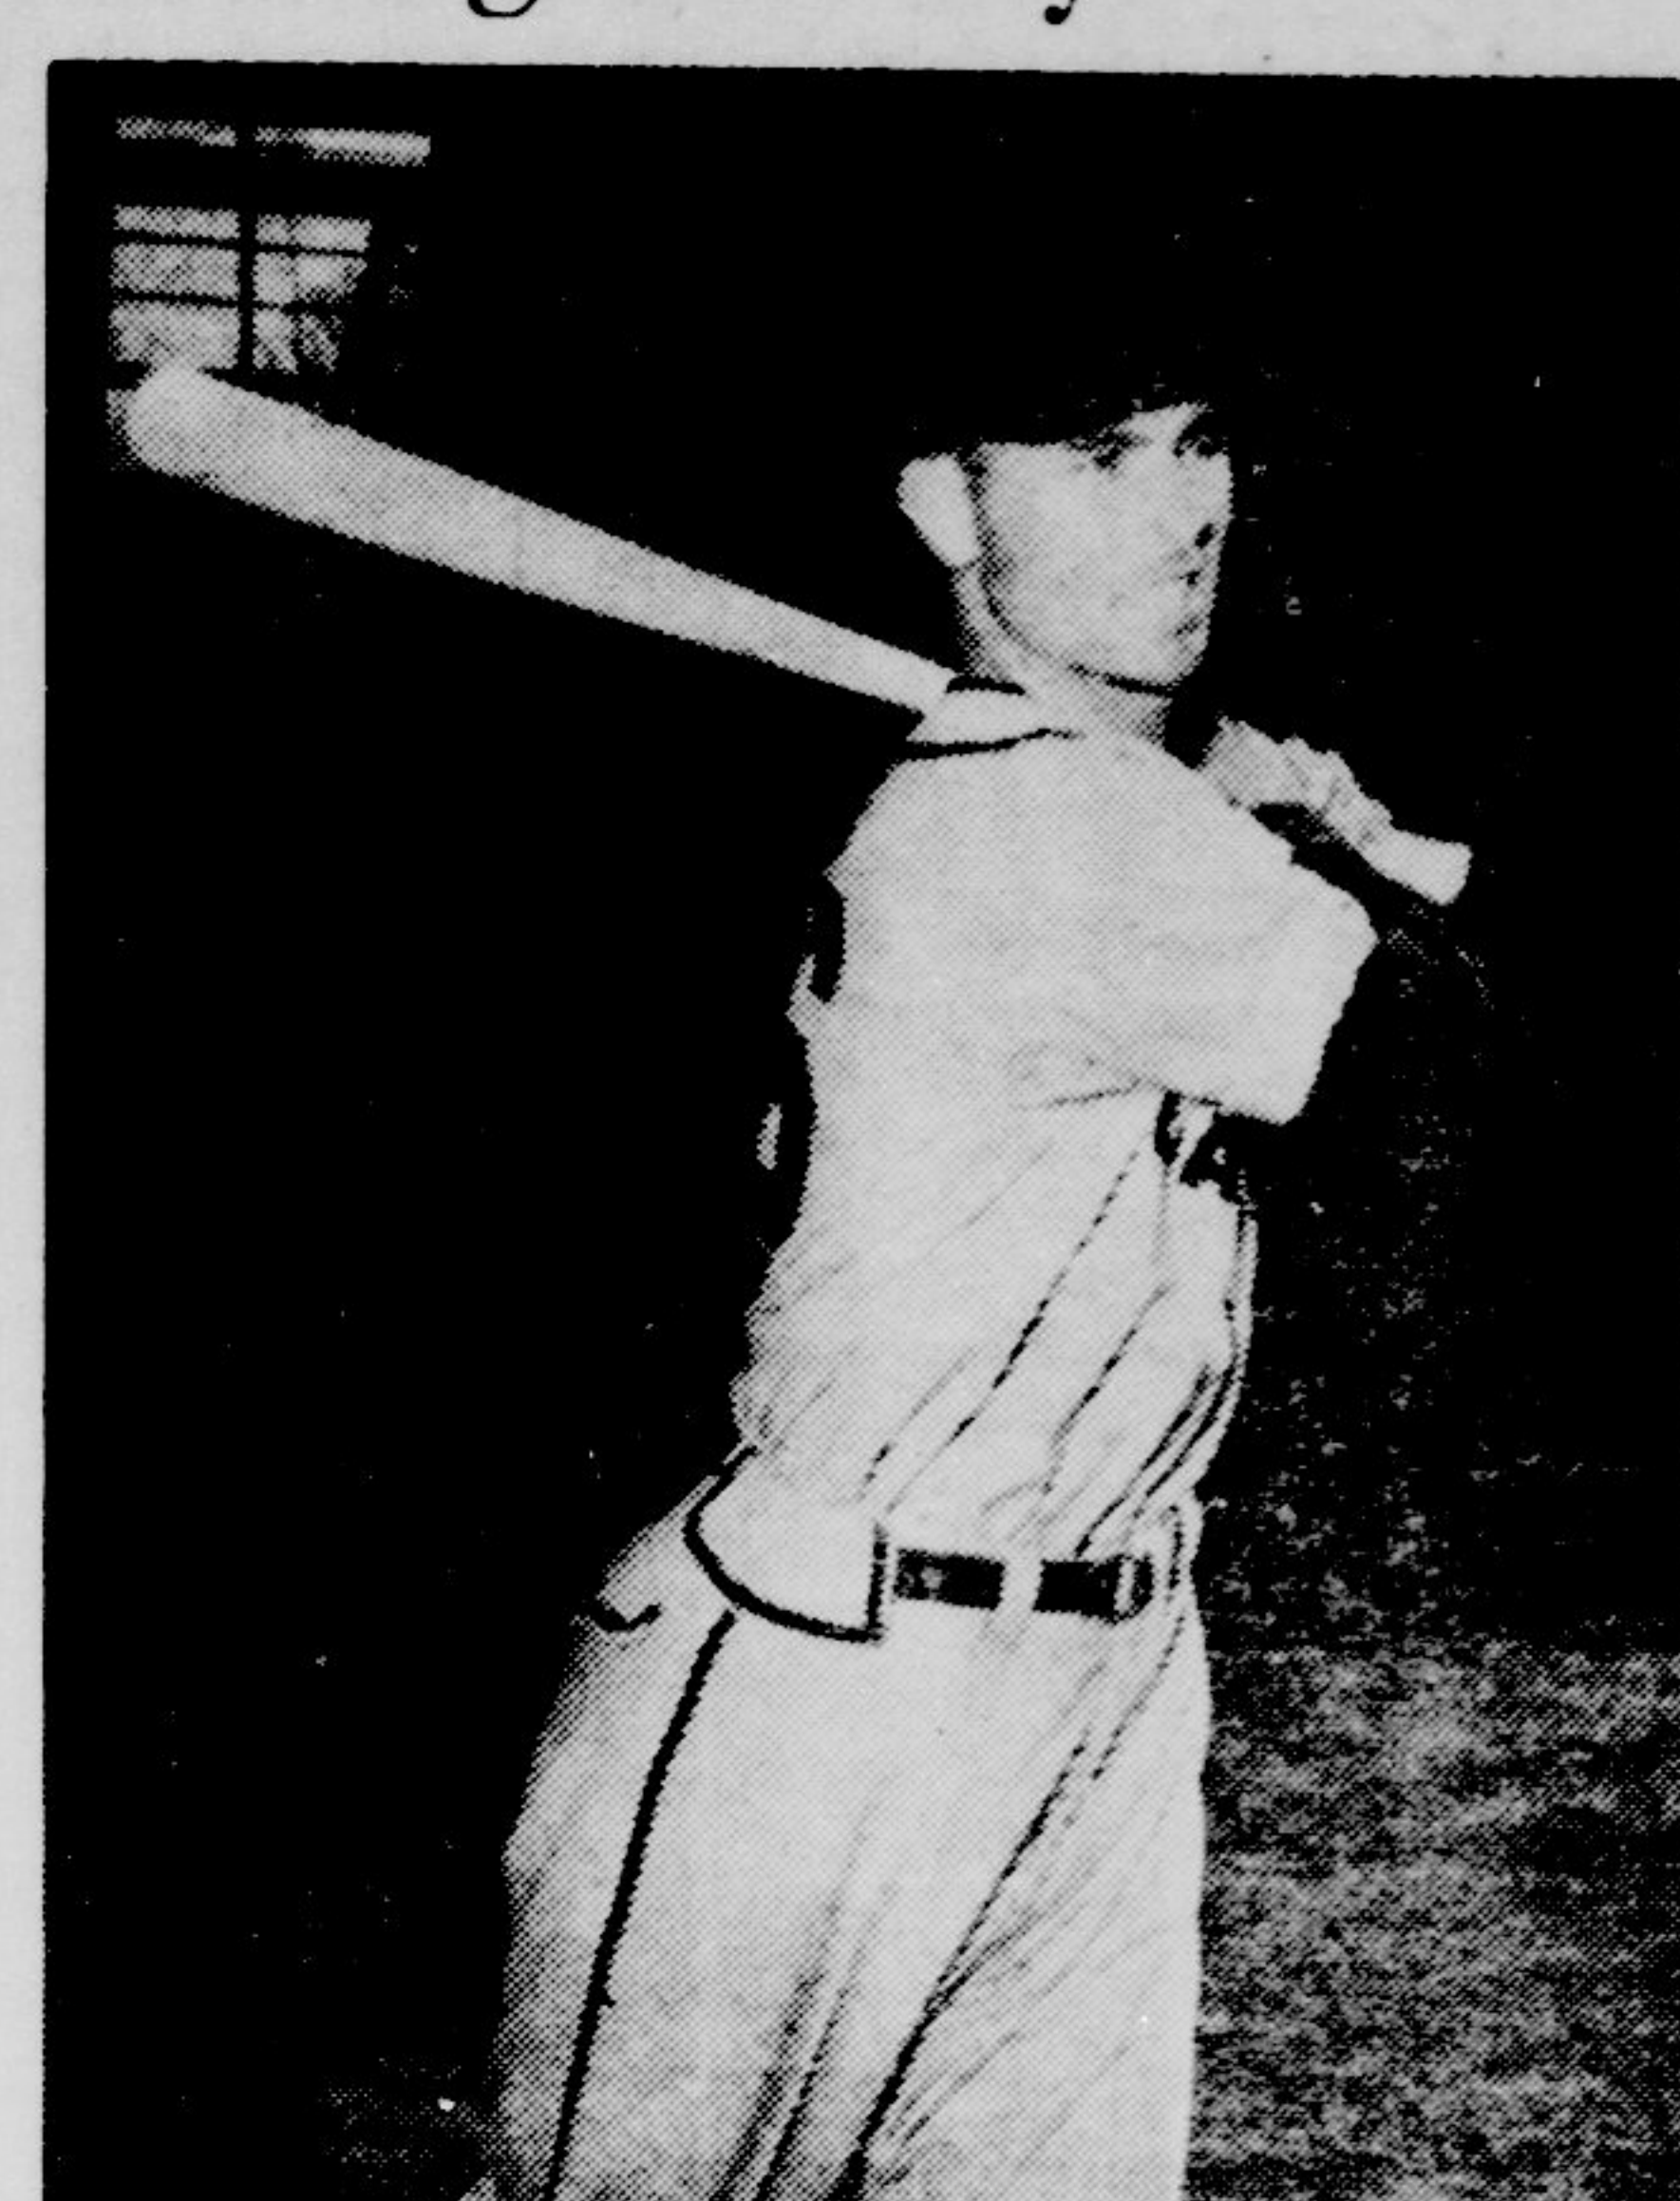

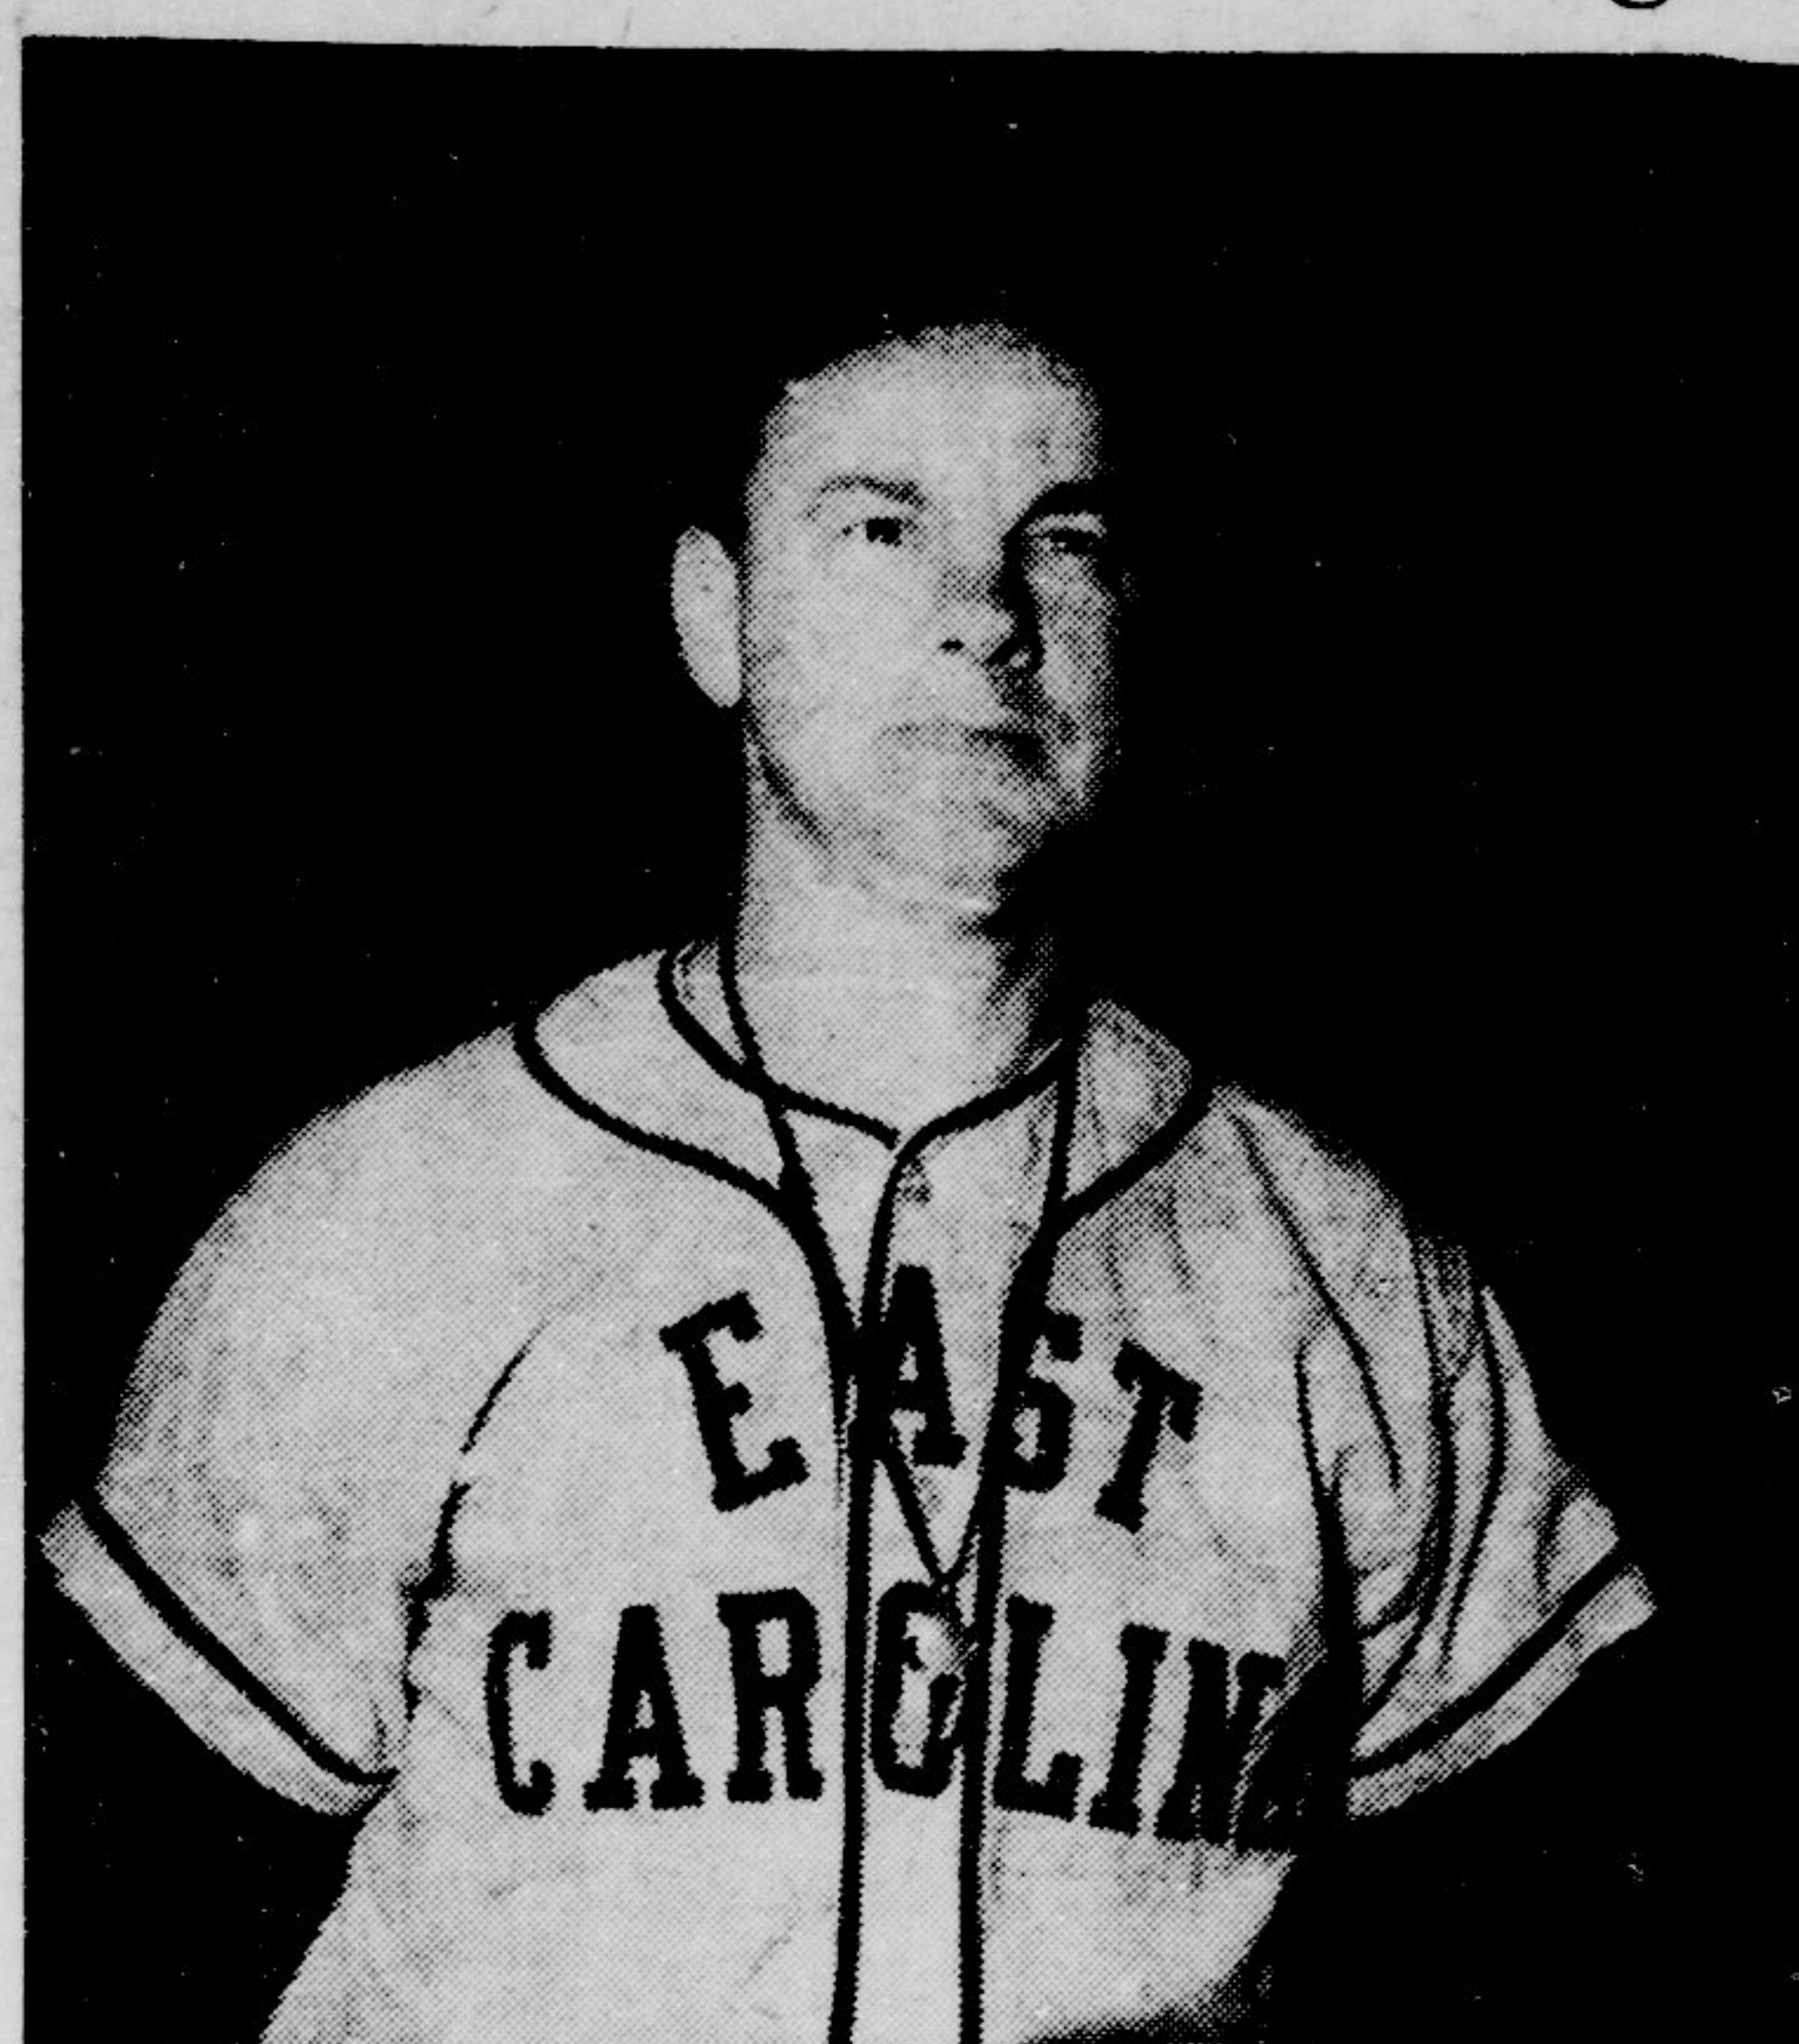

Meanwhile the local schedule suffered a setback last week when Lenoir Rhyne for some unknown reason could not agree on playing terms with East Carolina and went so far as to cancel the games. Appalachian is the only other school in the conference not on the Pirate schedule.

THIS AND THAT

The sports editor wishes to apologize for a serious mistake made in last week's lead story on the intramural tourney! The story commented that George Graybill was the tournament's second highest scorer with 58 points. Truthfully it was big Norman Clarke who had collected 59 points to rank next to Mike Kovack in the scoring.

Still no help on the sports staff! It would be nice for someone to drop around who could write up the baseball games. This scribe has afternoon classes and cannot make it.

They Lead Buc Diamond Nine Into Virginia During Holidays

Fred Soles (right), Coach Jack Boone (center) and Martin Byrd will lead East Carolina's hustling baseball team into the Cavalier state during the spring holidays where they will meet some of the leading service teams of the country. During the four day tour the local nine will meet the Norfolk Air station and the Norfolk Recruiting station. Soles, who led the Buc batters in the 1950 season with an average somewhere in the .400 vicinity, is expected to continue the torrid batting pace he was enjoying at the close of the season last year. Boone who is entering his third year here as head baseball coach, is keeping quiet on the prospects of the 1951 squad. On the left is the Pirate's number one mound ace, Martin Byrd. The husky hurler, with the exception of Dick Hobbs, is the only pitcher remaining from last year's squad. He throws a blazing fast ball, mixing his pitches well to fool the batters.

Pirates To Meet Naval Teams

Boone Begins Third Season As Pirate Baseball Mentor

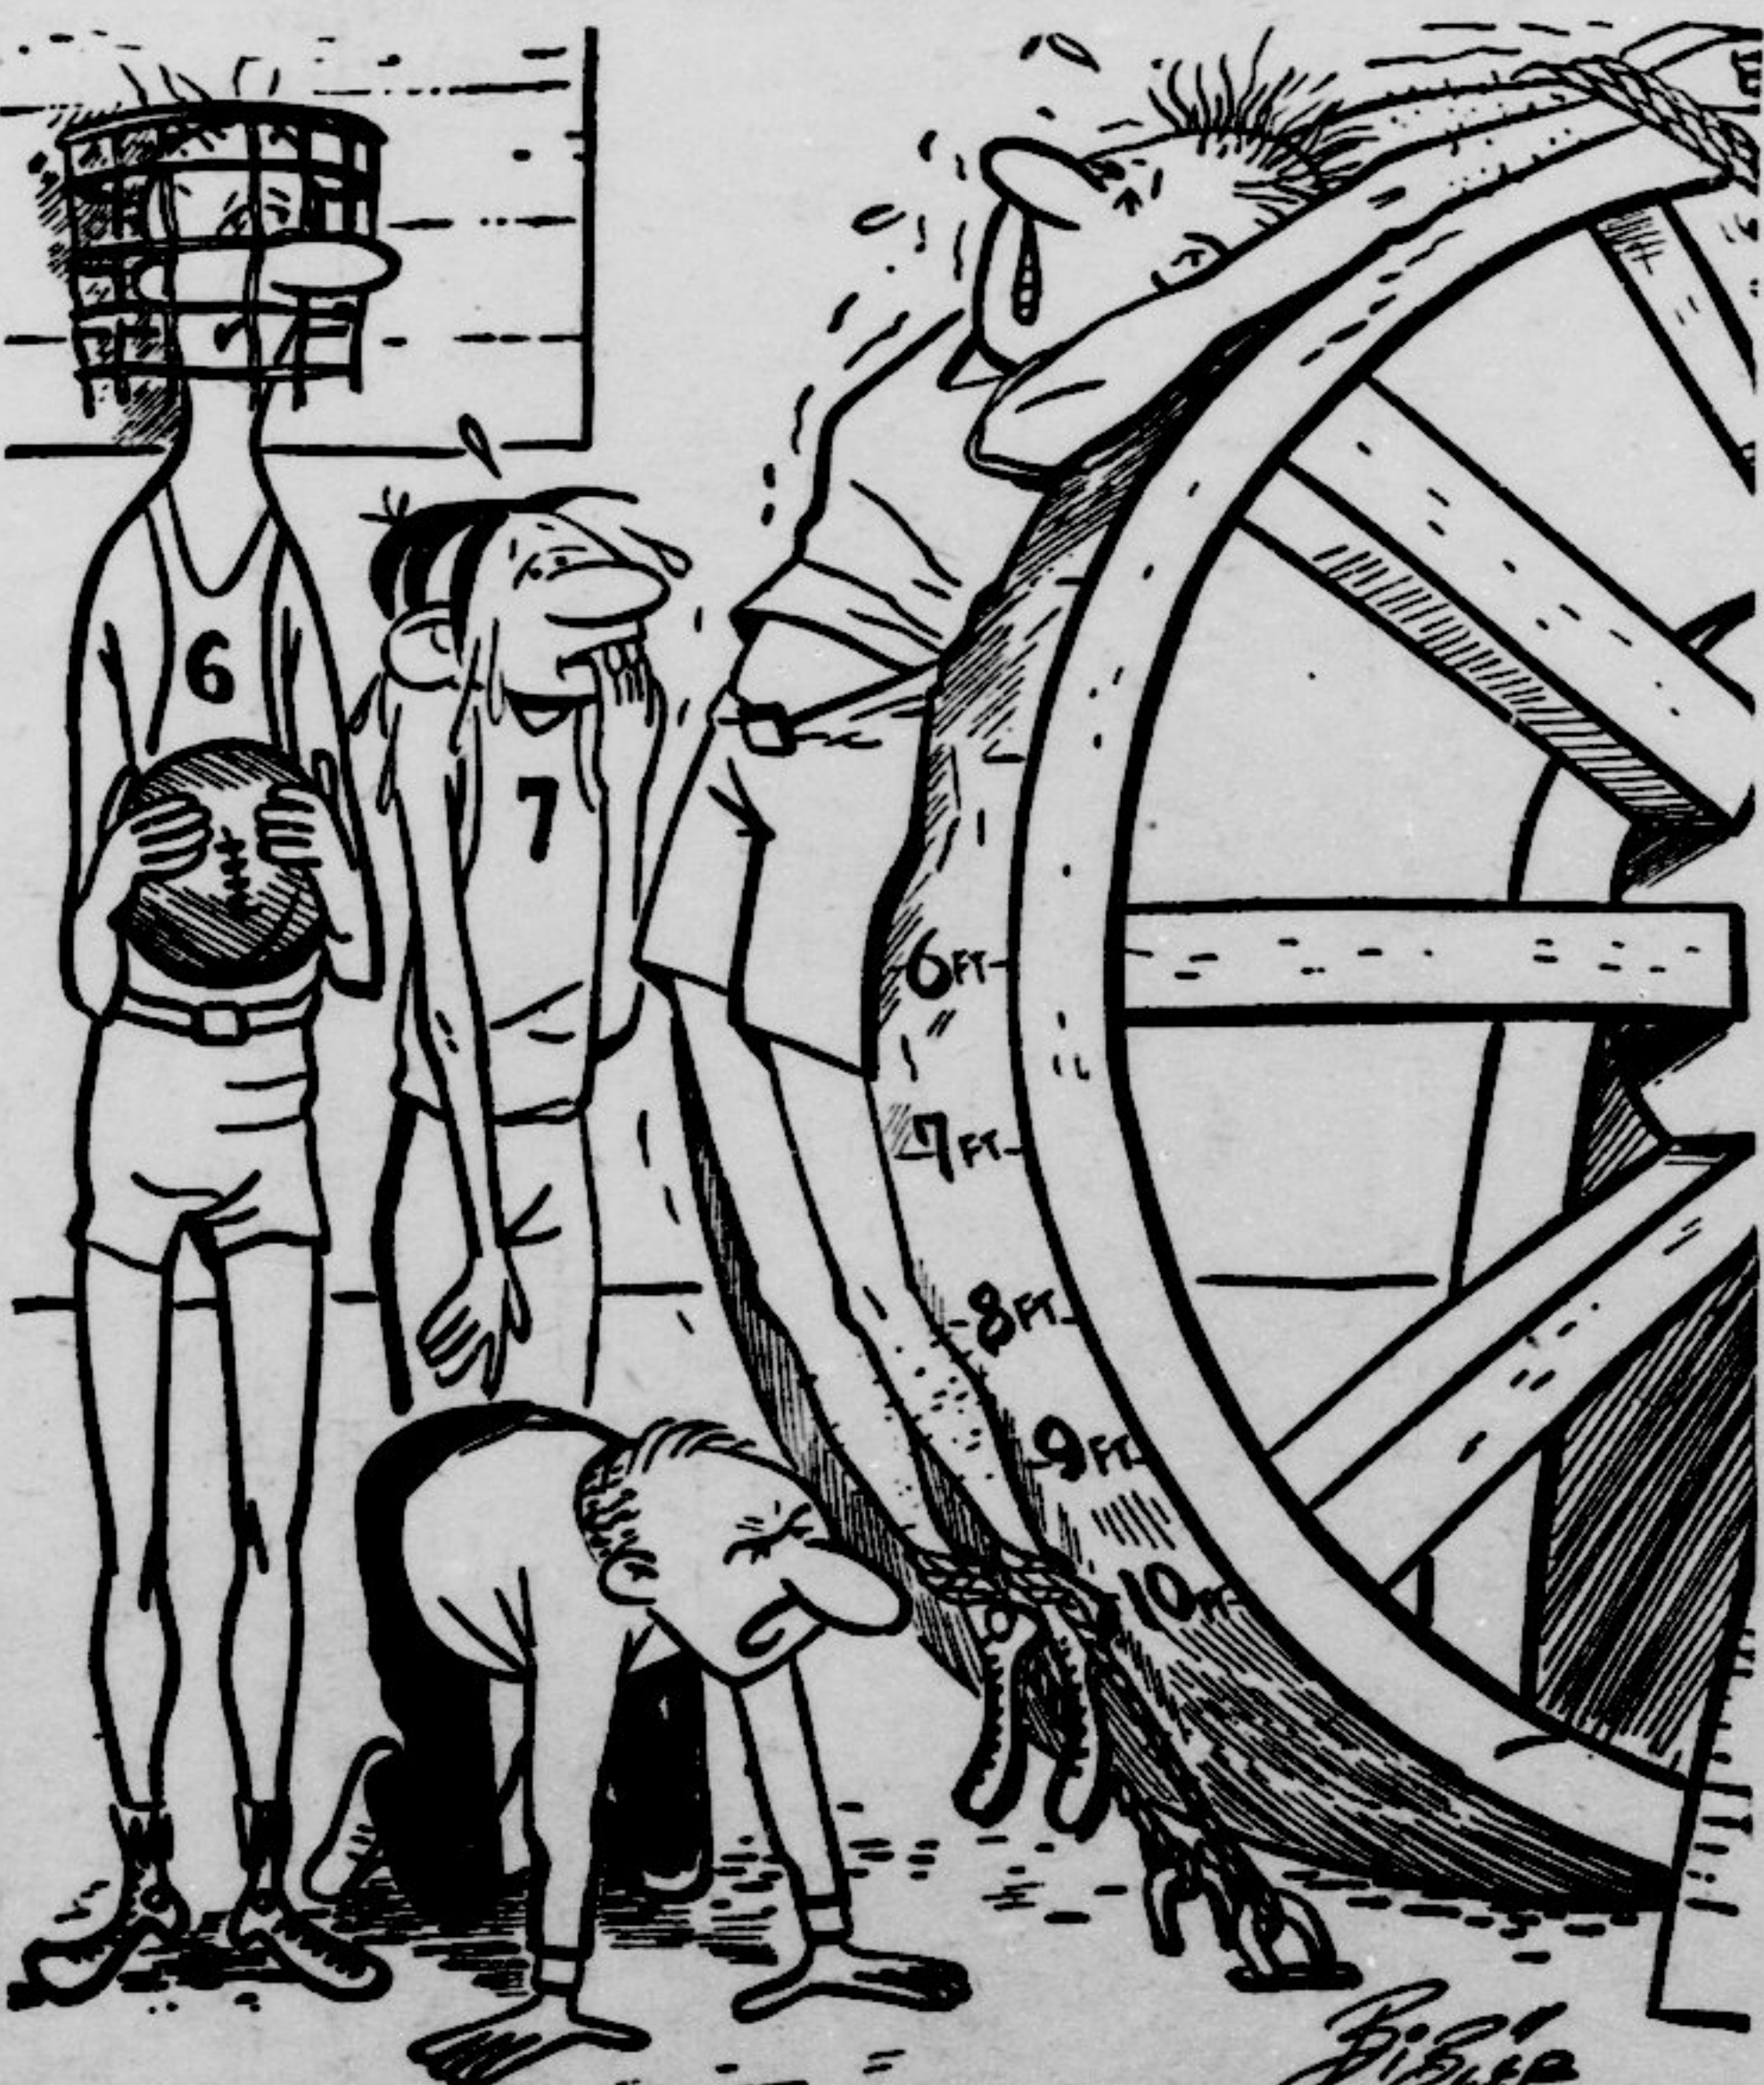

by Tom Cox

Robert Lee (Jack) Boone, popular team coach of the East Carolina baseball team, is entering his third season as head mentor of the Buccaneer nine.

Assuming the baseball reins after arriving at East Carolina in the fall of 1948, he produced a team the following spring that broke even by winning six games and losing the same number. Last season, his diamondmen bettered this record by winning 12, losing 10, and tying two, and his 1951 edition, now in session, has in mind the further improvement of this won-lost record.

Coach Boone graduated from sports-famous Woodrow Wilson High school in Portsmouth, Virginia, his home town. After having played three years of football, he was named an All-state halfback his senior year. He played baseball all four of his prep years and captained the squad as a senior. More and higher honors came his way at Elon college, where he starred for three years with the Christian football eleven. He was three times chosen All-conference halfback, made All-state one year, and was named captain of the All-conference team in 1941. His greatest grid honor came in the same year when he won a highly-coveted halfback position on the Little All-American team. After graduating from Elon in 1941, Boone played one year of professional football with the Cleveland Rams before being called into the service. In 1944, while in the Navy, he coached the backfield and played halfback with a Navy service

EC Tennis Team Misses Practice Due To Weather

Tempo on the local tennis courts has been slowed down considerably this week, due to the prevailing weather conditions, and has kept the East Carolina tennis team from getting in top shape in time for its opening match of the season against N. C. State here next Friday.

Bob Williamson, assistant coach and a likely choice for the top-seeded spot, has expressed optimism in this year's squad which looks a great deal better than any in the past. With such returning lettermen as Art Holland, Dick Palmer, Dave Jones and Vernon Tyson on hand the Bucs seem to be well stocked with veterans. Aiding the swatters in tackling one of their most ambitious schedules in years will be the brilliant play of Joe Hallow, currently seeded in the number two spot. Hallow is a freshman from Goldsboro High school and never lost a match in scholastic competition.

P. A. Cameron is another newcomer from Kinston where he starred in high school and was runner-up in the Men's city tournament. Also a newcomer is Ted Williams from Wilmington. Williams has been seeded number nine in the pre-season ratings. Two boys who have been around the tennis courts a long time, but have not entered into intercollegiate competition until this year, are Arthur Johnson and Bill Mulligan. Both boys will probably see plenty of action this year.

The doubles team should be exceptionally strong with several racketeers expressing a desire to play doubles only. Thus far Al Paggioli, Tom Murdoch and Larry Kincaid are out for the doubles team. Kincaid is out for the team for the first time after engaging in baseball last spring.

Untried Pirate Golfers Open Campaign Against North Carolina Squad

In an inauguration ceremony at Fenley Golf course in Chapel Hill the untried East Carolina golf team faced its first opponent of the season Wednesday afternoon when they teed-off against an undefeated University of North Carolina team. Results were not known at press time.

Coach Porter's linksters were composed of Captain Bill Stalls, the team's number one man, Walter Wells, number two, Joe Exum, number three, Dave Martin, number four, and Lonnie Nelms, number five. Number six position is a toss-up between Knott Proctor and Johnny Morgan. This year's aggregation, which is defending North State champion, is sorely in need of experience and Coach Porter has his work cut out for him if he hopes to retain the loop title. However, he is optimistic that the team will continue to improve as the season gets fully underway against conference competition.

Three Norfolk Naval Nines To Be Met During Holidays

The East Carolina Pirates' baseball season will get in full swing during the spring holidays when they take a four-day jaunt into Virginia for contests with some of the leading service teams of the country. The Bucs will depart for the Cavalier state Saturday morning at 8 o'clock and will meet their first military opposition in the afternoon when they tangle with the Norfolk Recruiting station.

Top Scoring Honors In Cage Conference Go To Panther Star

Ronald Rogers, the Western Carolina scoring demon who set a North State scoring record for one season when he collected 528 points during the past basketball season, no longer rules as the conference scoring champion. Ed Sueta, a versatile scorer from High Point college, hit for 15 points in the Panthers' appearance in the NAIB tourney at Kansas City, pushing his point total to 529 and establishing himself as the highest scorer in North State history.

However, Rogers is still the champ on the basis of average points per contest. The Catamount star has 20.3 mark while Sueta averages 17.6. It is almost incredible that Rogers, who had just one month ago left North State fans gasping when he became the first conference player to mass 500 points in one season, held his title only two weeks.

East Carolina's Sonny Russell finished the season with a point average of 16.9 to rank next to Sueta in the final scoring averages compiled by the Greensboro Daily News. Russell ripped the cords for 435 points in 26 ball games which was good enough to place him on the Daily News' All-state collegiate team.

Charlie Huffman and Bobby Hodges were the other scoring leaders for the Pirates. Huffman collected 342 points in 26 ball games for a 13.5 average while Hodges was getting 348 in 25 contests for a 13.9 average.

Here is the final list of the North State's top 25 scorers:

Moving over to the Norfolk Air station Monday, Coach Boone's nine will make a two-day stand against the Flyers, playing Monday and Tuesday afternoons. The Pirates will return to the home diamond on Wednesday in time to meet another top-flight intersectional foe, Montclair of New Jersey. On Friday, March 30, North State conference competition will get underway when the Guilford Quakers are host to the Pirates.

Against the Naval teams in Norfolk Coach Boone will probably be facing some of his stiffest competition of the season. The service teams have been strengthened considerably due to the current world situation and have drawn some of the nation's top players.

In the 1950 season when the Bucs journeyed to Norfolk they were beaten once, tied twice and brought home one victory. The loss came in the ninth inning, with the scored tied, when the Naval team squeezed in a run on a bunt. The two ties were called in extra innings because of darkness.

Boone will probably take about twenty players with him to Virginia, including Manager Bob Price and Al Wadford, sports writer. Missing the trip will be Dewey Harris, a transfer from Appalachian, who chipped an elbow in an intra-squad contest last Friday. The sophomore was expected to see action in the outfield before his injury which will probably keep him out of action for about four weeks.

Starting pitching assignments while in Norfolk will probably go to Martin Byrd, Jimmy Byrd, Bob Stanley, Richard Hobb and Jim Piner. Jimmy Byrd, Stanley and Piner are all newcomers to the squad while Martin Byrd and Hobbs are veterans of the 1950 nine.

Hardy Is Elected New ACE President, Succeeds Pleasant

Dowdy Hardy of LaGrange has been elected president of the East Carolina branch of the ACE for the 1951-52 term. Miss Hardy, who served as second vice-president for the organization this year, succeeds Doris Pleasant.

Other officers elected were: Betsy Carroll, June Prichard and Barbara Eisele, first, second, and third vice-presidents, respectively; Ann Whitehurst, secretary-treasurer; Lillian Hardy, publications; Janice Meekins, corresponding secretary; Mary Mad-drey, publicity; Jerry Worrells, historian; Betty Cole, Tecocan reporter; Pat Corbett, John Fristoe and Verona Sparrow, members-at-large.

At the election meeting Dr. E. J. Carter, director of the Duck Derby, reported that the project cleared almost $800. This is to be used for the Elementary Scholarship fund.

Faculty Lecture Club Hears Dr. Paul A. Toll Talk On Man's Conduct

Dr. Paul A. Toll, faculty member of the social studies department of East Carolina Teachers college, traced a number of man's conduct patterns of the present day back to their origins in primitive societies in a talk Monday evening, March 19, before the Faculty Lecture club of the college. He indicated that the urge to create and to preserve life lay at the basis of several primitive practices, some traces of which are observable in the concepts and behavior of men today.

Dr. Toll, whose classes at East Carolina include work in social and cultural anthropology and who is a member of the American Anthropological association, was introduced to his audience by J. O. Derrick, president of the Faculty Lecture club. An audience of members of the organization and of student guests was present to hear the talk.

Dean's List, Honor Roll

(Continued from Page 1) who make at least two quality points per credit hour on all work taken are placed on the Honor roll. The following students were listed on the Dean's list:

Mrs. Bertha J. Adams, Janice Albritton, Mr. Iris Smith Aldridge, Margaret Andrews, Robert Bacchus, Lewis Barnes, Gloria Ann Baysden, Frances Bendall, Allan Berman, Robert Biggs, Carey Brown, Charles Brown, Alice Bullard, Alice Bynum, Bobbie Caldwell, Herbert Carlton, Mrs. Garland R. Carr, Loyce Carr, Robert Chick, Mrs. Hazel K. Corey and Robert Craft.

Others listed included Donald Evans, Joe Exum, Mary Forehand, Joyce Gurley, Alice Haddock, Mrs. Barbara H. Hatch, Madeline Hodges, Earl Hubbard, Dessie Jackson, Robert James, Lois Johnson, Betsy Jones, Wade Jordan, Leland King, Irene Lee, Genevieve Longevialle, Betty Loughlin, Launa McCoy, Leah McGlohn, Francis Madigan, Shirley Melton, Rachael Modlin, Anne Osborne, Annie Frances Riddick, Carolyn Rowlett, Mrs. Hazel Roberts Smith, Dot Stauffer and Dorothy Sutton.

Harry Thomas, Ava Jeanette Tillet, Vernon Tyson, Ronald Underwood, Paul Waldrop, Marilyn Watkins, Phyllis Weaver, Nell Wechter, Alfred Wetherington, Clarkson White, Clyde White, Gertrude Whitehurst, Gloria Whitehurst and Vernie Bert Wilder qualified for the Dean's list.

ALUMNI NEWS

South Piedmont District

Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, dean of instruction at the college, was guest speaker at a district luncheon meeting held Saturday in Charlotte. Alumni from — counties were invited to be present.

The Charlotte chapter of the Alumni association sponsored the get-together. Mrs. Guy Bradford (Betsy Hutchinson), district vice-president of the South Piedmont area, presided during the luncheon.

Katherine Hinson, Charlotte chapter president, gave the welcome.

Dr. Jenkins, who was introduced by Lucy Hanks, told the alumni what is going on in the college. He showed how times have changed and suggested ways in which alumni can serve their Alma Mater.

During the short business session, a motion was made that the legislators in this section of the State be contacted and told about the "needs" of East Carolina.

Other guests present were Mrs. DuBose Bullard (Mildred Harrison), president of the Alumni association, Ruth White, dean of women at the college and also treasurer of the Alumni association, and Mrs. Clem Garner (Ruth Blanchard), alumni secretary.

Southeastern District Plans

Mrs. Hazel Kimrey Way, vice-president of the Southeastern district of the East Carolina Alumni association, has announced that members of the New Hanover chapter will assist with a district meeting to be held in Wilmington in connection with the Azalea Festival. Plans are underway for a Coffee Hour to be given Saturday, March 31, from 12:30 to 1:30 at the YWCA, 708 Market street in Wilmington.

"Invitations have been mailed to about 1200 alumni living in 13 counties of the Southeastern district," said Mrs. Way.

Kinston-Lenoir Chapter

Jesse A. Jones, prominent Kinston lawyer, was speaker at the annual banquet of the Kinston-Lenoir chapter, which was held in the First Baptist church there last Thursday.

Mr. Jones made a challenging talk on world affairs. He urged the alumni to use their influence in bringing about world peace.

Mrs. Randolph Spear (Annie Blanche Herring) presented the speaker, Margaret Carol Banks, president of the chapter, acted as master of ceremonies.

Ruth White, dean of women, brought greetings from the college and Mrs. Clem Garner (Ruth Blanchard), alumni secretary, gave plans for the spring in alumni work.

Vance County Chapter

"The alumni of Vance county have met only twice, but we feel that we're really accomplishing our goal in these meetings," writes Mrs. Julian Pernel (Elsie Hunt), secretary-treasurer of the chapter.

At the first meeting, officers were elected and a committee chosen to decide time and place of future meetings.

Dr. Orval L. Phillips, director of the Bureau of Field Services, and Mrs. Ruth Blanchard Garner, alumni secretary, discussed services and progress of the college.

At the second meeting, Nell Finch Murphy, chapter president, gave a vivid description of the present campus—even the new rules and regulations. "Of course," says Mrs. Pernel, "we ended in a discussion asking about the teachers and students we had known when we were there."

Plans were made for a dinner meeting to be held April 23.

Zebulon-Wendell Area

Plans are being made to organize a chapter in the Zebulon-Wendell area. The first meeting of the group was held at the home of Mrs. Hardin Hinton (Rebecca Horton) in Zebulon. The second meeting will be with Mrs. Carlton Mitchell (Miriam Sexton) at the Baptist parsonage in Zebulon Monday, April 2.

GET WITH IT GANG!

THOUSANDS of students all over the country are making this test—proving for themselves Chesterfield smells milder, smokes milder than any other cigarette.

THEY KNOW TOO . . . Chesterfield gives them more for their money . . . Chesterfield leaves no unpleasant after-taste! That's right, More-for-Your-Money . . .
