As AF ROTC Unit Undergoes Federal Inspection

Federal inspection of the Air Force ROTC unit on the campus was held Monday and Tuesday of this week. The top photo shows the staff personnel of the local unit. Left to right they are M. Sgt. Bruce C. Baxter; Major Lomax L. May, professor of air science and tactics here; T. Sgt. Robert W. Spicer; Major Alfred E. Baucum and Major James N. McDill. Not appearing in the picture is M. Sgt. William H. Wise. The second picture is of the Drill team, which is made up of advanced students. The bottom group is the boys who hear every Thursday beating the drums and playing the bugles, the Drum and Bugle corps. T. Sgt. Spicer is in charge of the Drill squad and the Drum and Bugle corps.

East Carolina Air Force ROTC Inspected By 14th AF Officers

Inspecting Officers Express Satisfaction With Work Here

by Tommie Lupton

Federal inspection of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps of East Carolina Teachers college was held on the campus Monday and Tuesday with Lt. Col. Fredrick J. Wesson from headquarters of the 14th Air Force at Robbins Air Force base in Georgia inspecting.

Assisting Lt. Col. Wesson on the inspection team were Capt. Clem Oehl and M. Sgt. C. W. Ingram. The inspecting officers expressed "great satisfaction" with the work being done by the local AF ROTC unit.

Cadets wore their uniforms the two days of inspection and were observed by the inspectors on the campus as well as in the classroom. Monday morning there was a review of the cadet group and inspection in ranks of the entire unit, which was followed by the inspection of flight drills.

The federal inspectors examined the facilities, the administration, the operations and training, and the supply house of the unit.

At present time there are approximately 275 students enrolled in the course offered by the AF ROTC unit on the campus. The deferment quota for the basic students is 173, but at the present time there are openings in this group because of the lack of quality points of some of the students. The deferment quota of the advanced class is 102 and all students in this group are deferred.

Indications are that there will be an increase of Air Force personnel and enrollment for next year.

The staff is now headed by Major Lomax L. May, who is professor of Air Science and Tactics here; Major Alfred E. Baucum; Major James N. McDill; M. Sgt. Bruce C. Baxter; T. Sgt. Robert W. Spicer; and M. Sgt. William H. Wise.

Students Accompany Oppelt To Goldsboro

Doris E. Pleasant of Angier, Mrs. Joyce Zeh of Vanceboro, Redwan E. David of Fayetteville, Ramona Sawyer of Washington and James L. Ratledge of Advance accompanied Dr. J. L. Oppelt, director of student teaching and placement, to Goldsboro today to participate in Career Day for the Wayne county schools.

This is an annual event, under the auspices of County Superintendent of Schools R. S. Proctor, in which a group of East Carolina Teachers college students has had an opportunity to participate in the last four years. The group will talk to high school juniors who are interested in the teaching profession.

Shorthand Group Gets Certificates For Contest Work

Twenty-seven students at East Carolina Teachers college who are enrolled in a course in shorthand for beginners have received certificates of merit as a result of participation in a national contest in Gregg shorthand penmanship. The competitive event is conducted annually by "Today's Secretary," professional magazine for secretaries and teachers.

A report of contest results was just received by Dr. Audrey V. Dempsey, faculty member of the college business education department, under whom the student award winners received instruction in shorthand during the present school year.

Five of the students attained the standard of writing style required for the Superior Merit certificate, and were awarded gold pins by the committee of examiners. They are Maggie Daniels, Wanchese; Maggie Gattin, Ermit; Christine Johnson, Kingston; Alice Liverman, Ransomville; and Lynne N. West, Carolina Beach. Certificates of Merit were awarded those students whose style of shorthand penmanship met the standard set by the committee of examiners. This group of award winners include: Ray Anderson, Goldsboro; Helen Grace Baker, Kenansville; Ann Baysden, Ermit; Yvonne Blackwell, Oxford; Marilyn Britt, Ahsokie; James R. Cherry, Stokes; Jack E. Miller, Washington; Louisiana Hurde, Sharpsho; Mary Helen Kilby, Bath; Dale Lawson, Orrum; Edelweiss Livingston, Clinton; Jewel McCoy, Cove City; Juanita McLeod, Broadway; Harry G. May, Norfolk, Va.; Rachel Modlin, Ahsokie; Ivey D. Piner, New Bern; Ruth Powell, New Bern; Carolyn Rowlett, Greenville; Teresa A. Sauced, Greenville; Paul D. Weeks Jr., Whitakers; Alfred F. Wotherington, Sliedersdale; and Larry P. Williams, Ocracoke.

Young Democrats See Legislature In Raleigh Trip

Thirty-two members of the campus Young Democratic club journeyed to Raleigh Thursday, March 29, in acceptance of an invitation from Governor W. Kerr Scott to visit the capital city in order to observe the state law-making processes in action. East Carolina's political neophytes, headed by Joseph Congleton and Charles Schackelford, past and present presidents of the organization, respectively, visited both the House of Representatives and the Senate. The group was recognized and welcomed by both legislative bodies. Faculty advisors Dr. Kathleen Stokes and James L. Fleming accompanied the club members.

After observing the procedure followed in enacting words into law, the party visited the governor's mansion which is said to possess the most beautiful interior of any governor's mansion in the 48 states.

Plans for the trip were made prior to the Easter holidays at a meeting of the club at the Bessess-James barbecue house at which time new officers were elected. They are as follows: Charles Schackelford of High Point, president; Daniel Larry Downing, Fayetteville, vice-president; LaRue McKinney, Scranton, secretary; and Sadie B. Deans, Nashville, treasurer.

A unique event occurred at the meeting. A constitutional change necessitated the adjournment of the regular meeting, the calling of a meeting of the executive committee and its adjournment, and the calling of a special meeting following its action. Members of the club were greatly amused at the formal procedure which saw three meetings in the space of a few minutes.

Faculty Members Serve As Judges For Contest

Several faculty members at East Carolina Teachers college acted as judges at the annual Recitation and Declamation contest sponsored by the Pender county Farm bureau and held in Burgaw Friday, March 31.

The six judges who participated as judges in the annual event were Dr. Paul A. Toll, Dr. Martha Pingel, Dr. Richard Todd, Francis Lee Neel, and Dr. Lucile Turner, all of the East Carolina faculty, and Mrs. Charles W. Reynolds of Greenville.

Workshops

The Teachers Playhouse discontinued workshop plays until after the production of the annual children's play "Alice in Wonderland" is completed. The workshop series will be resumed April 20.

Record-Breaking Group Of Students Visit Here

Janet Tyson Heads College Marshalls For Coming Year

Janet F. Tyson of Stantonsburg, sophomore at East Carolina Teachers college, will serve as chief marshal at the college during the 1951-1952 school term. Along with fifteen other women students at the college, she was recently chosen in student elections to serve as a college marshal. She was selected by the marshalls to head the group.

Elizabeth S. Walker of the East Carolina library staff will act as faculty advisor of the marshalls during the coming year. College marshalls act as ushers at programs and entertainments given on the campus, and election to the office of marshal is an honor sought by a large number of women students at the college.

Serving with Miss Tyson will be Elizabeth Gaddy, Wadesboro; Anne Whitehurst, Robersonville; Dorothy Boyette, Kenly; Patricia Banay, Belhaven; Peggy Harper, Kingston; Joyce Adams, Mt. Olive; Jane Brown, Clarkton; Rachel Wallace, Elizabethtown; Sara Jackson, Fayetteville; Dorothy Bradshaw, Elizabeth City; Mary Sue Bagley, Elizabeth City; Beth Baker, Spring Hope; Jeannette Tillet, Kill Devil Hill; Catherine Hill, Deep Run; and Delia Davenport, Deep Run.

Executive Council Of Baptist Union Elected Recently

The Baptist Student Union Executive council at East Carolina Teachers college has been elected for 1951-52.

Officers are: president, Jack Painter of Tarboro; enlistment vice-president, Frances Dixon of Henderson; social vice-president, Emily Faircloth of Fayetteville; devotional vice-president, Ramona Outlaw of Kingston; secretary, Rachel Modlin of Ahsokie; treasurer, Victor Tucker of Magnolia; visual aids chairman, Joe Stroud of Jonesville; publicity chairman, Elizabeth Pate of Black Creek; extension work chairman, Milan Johnson of Eure; poster chairman, Callie Marie Kinard of Oenona; music chairman, Seleta Tucker of Farmville; forum chairman, Frances Barnes of Kenly; and student center hostess, Janis Parker of Bunn Level.

Others include: co-hostess, Hettie McPhail of Rowland; student center host, George Starling of Roxboro; faculty advisor, Miss Ruth White, dean of women on the campus.

The council plans to attend the Spring Baptist Student union retreat in High Point April 13-14. There will be a special installation worship service for new officers Sunday evening, May 6.

Teachers Playhouse Stages Short Play For Visiting Seniors

Jeanne Ennis of Dunn headed the cast of a one-act play presented by the Teachers Playhouse of East Carolina Teachers college as part of an extensive program of entertainment for high school seniors visiting the campus here today. The light comedy "Goodnight, Caroline" was given in the College theatre this afternoon.

Ralph Rives of Enfield was student director of the play, and was assisted in staging the drama by Creighton Cuthrell of Louisburg. George McFadyen of Wilmington, technical director, was in charge of lighting effects.

Presentation of the gay comedy, which centers around the amusing events of a young girl's experiences with a burglar, afforded guests present for High School Day an opportunity to visit the College theatre, which was completed during the present school year and is said to be one of the most beautiful and well equipped playhouses in the state.

In addition to Miss Ennis, the cast of "Goodnight, Caroline" included Joseph Congleton of Littleton, Annette Hughes of Willard, and Roy Creech of Snow Hill.

3,000 High School Students Attend Ninth Annual Program

East Carolina Teachers college welcomed to the campus today a record-breaking number of public high school seniors who were attending the ninth annual High School Day at the college. Over 3,000 students were guests of the college today.

Chairman

Dr. Orval L. Phillips of the college Bureau of Field Services, chairman of the committee in charge of the event, has announced that acceptances to an invitation to visit East Carolina on High School Day had been received by Wednesday of this week from 128 schools in 42 North Carolina counties.

Last April approximately 2,400 students from 114 schools in 44 counties participated in East Carolina's eighth annual High School Day.

Much the same as it was last year, the full program arranged for the occasion combined both educational and recreational activities. Events of the day include visits to educational exhibits; a drill by the college Air Force ROTC unit on the campus drive; a concert by the college band; a one-net play by the Teachers Playhouse; programs of music by the College Chorus and the Women's Glee Club; an organ recital; a tea dance; and a baseball game between East Carolina and Guilford college. All departments of instruction, the college dormitories, the Nursery school and Kindergarten, and classes at the Training school where some of the student teaching is carried on were open to the guest.

Dance

The annual Senior-Sophomore dance will be held April 7 in the Wright auditorium. Music will be furnished by the Collegians. The Senior class will offer free refreshments. Admission 50 cents per couple and 50 cents stag.

Members Of Council Of Westminster Group Hold Bayview Retreat

The Council members of the Westminster Fellowship of East Carolina Teachers college held a retreat March 31-April 1 at Bayview, N.C.

Miss Eleanor Foxworth, from the Office for Student Work in Richmond, Va., aided the group in planning their work for the next school year. Miss Eleanor Godfrey, director of religious education at the First Presbyterian church of Greenville, and Janet Kirkland, incoming president of the Westminster fellowship, led the group discussions and planning sessions.

Officers for the WF for the next year are Miss Kirkland, Durham, president; Grace Giles, Linden, vice-president; Catherine Stephenson, Willow Springs, secretary; and Hilton Biggs, Williamston, treasurer.

Humber Is Main Speaker At French Teachers' Meet

Public School, College Representatives Here For Two-Day Session

Robert Lee Humber of Greenville, international lawyer and nationally known advocate of a plan of World Federation, will be principal speaker at the spring meeting of the North Carolina Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of French, being held at East Carolina Teachers college today and tomorrow. James L. Fleming, president of the state organization and director of the department of foreign languages at East Carolina, has announced a full program of events for the two-day session.

Representatives from various public schools, colleges, and universities in North Carolina are scheduled to attend. A number of high school teachers of French who were present here today for East Carolina's High School Day and are expected to remain on the campus for the AATF meeting.

Dr. Humber will speak Saturday morning at a general session scheduled for 9:30 in the Flanagan auditorium. A resident of France for a number of years, he will discuss "French Contributions to Western Culture."

Other speakers at the general session will include Genevieve Longeville White.

Course In Alcohol Will Be Offered In Summer Session

East Carolina Teachers college will offer a course entitled "Alcohol in Health Education" during the summer session of 1951. The course, which will be conducted as a workshop and will carry three quarter hours of credit, is scheduled for July 11 through July 21.

Materials covered in the course will deal with the effects of alcohol on the human body, and will include discussion of the sociological and economic implications of alcohol as they apply to everyday living. Classes will be in session five days each week during the period included in the course, and each meeting will cover three fifty-minute periods.

Laura Jane Wells of Whitwell, Tenn., will conduct the workshop in "Alcohol in Health Education." A visiting instructor for the summer session, Miss Wells is at present connected with the University of Chattanooga Laboratory school. She is a graduate of Peabody college and of the University of Tennessee.

Of Ussel, France, now a student at East Carolina; Mrs. Ken Funderburk of the Woman's college, Greensboro; Dr. A. V. Goldiere, Davidson college; Mrs. Tora Ladu, Nesham Broughton High school, Raleigh; Joe Wheeler, Statesville High school; and Captain F. Sidney Wall, the Citadel, Charleston, S. C.

Miss Longeville, who is a teacher in her native country, will speak in French on the topic "Impressions sur l'Amerique." Captain Wall's talk will deal with the use of the cinema and lantern slides in teaching French pronunciation. Other speakers will participate in a panel on the teaching of French grammar in the high schools.

A dinner meeting honoring delegates will take place this evening in the Parish house of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Greenville. Students of French at East Carolina will provide after-dinner entertainment with the presentation of a one-act comedy, "Les Femmes Parlent Trop," at 7:00 p.m.

Those taking part in the play are Priscilla Hynson, Ida Mae Garrington, Dorothy Bradshaw, Donald Blood, Norma Hughes, Jane Laughinghouse, Harry May, Joyce Proctor, Dorothy Pugh, Willie Mae Speivy and Clyde White.

VERSE OF THE WEEK

"Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man."—St. Matthew 15:11

The new Student legislature of East Carolina Teachers college for the year 1951-52 has been elected and installed. The Executive Council of the Legislature, the policy making body of the Student Government association, has met and new student officers are beginning to assume full responsibility for their various organizations.

The old is out and the new is in. A new year, a new beginning has been made. The possibilities for progress are unlimited. Wiser for their experience, old members of the Student Government association have been relieved of their duties. The new members, eager, expectant, hopeful, full of new ideas, are looking forward to a grand, new student administration.

The past year has seen much accomplished, many records broken. Problems have been tackled and overcome. Others have overcome the Student Government. Altogether the past year has been, so to speak, a year of progress and good student government which has been beneficial to the students and the reputation of the college. By and large, student officers have performed their duties with efficiency and dispatch. Student Government officers who have retired can look back on their experiences and accomplishments of the past year with fond memories and with pride.

All has not been a Utopia at East Carolina by any means, for there are always difficulties, oversights, slackers and inexperience to hinder progress. There has been much accomplished, much left undone. But this is to be expected. As someone has said, "There is always room for improvement." Thus it is that while the past Legislature has completed a commendable record, the new Legislature has before it responsibilities that it thought never existed and one year is really a short time in which to achieve all that it has in mind now, along with the situations which must be met when the time comes.

Members of the Legislature, elected by the Student body and by the various campus organizations, have many duties which they must perform. They will be responsible for the appropriating of thousands of dollars of the students' money to various and sundry purposes. They will represent the students to the faculty and the administration. They will represent the students and the college to other colleges and organizations. There is a tremendous responsibility if they expect to be true to the oath of office administered to them when they assumed office.

The Legislature to be effective must be in constant contact with the students it represents. President Charles Self has already made what could prove to be a very profitable suggestion if the presidents of campus clubs follow his advice. He expressed the desire that activities of the Legislature be carried to the individual club meetings and brought before the members so that the students would know what their Legislature was doing in their behalf. There are too many students at East Carolina unaware of the efforts behind many of the good things which they enjoy. The plan would also keep the Legislature on its toes.

The new Legislature can improve on procedure in its meetings by adhering to more formal procedure designed to speed up action. The elimination of unnecessary wrangling and irrelevant time-consuming talk will greatly aid the members in their struggle to overcome budgetary problems. It is hoped that the Legislature will be able to do this. By not using strict procedure, the Legislature is called for in the future. The Legislature should be able to do this. The Legislature should be able to do this. The Legislature should be able to do this.

ETAOIN and SHRDLU

by Rexford E. Piner

Dr. Orval L. Phillips, director of the Bureau of Field Services of the college, attended last week end the spring meeting of the National Council of the Teachers of Mathematics in Pittsburgh. He spoke to the national convention on "A Fifth Year Program for the Training of High School Mathematics."

The District High School Debating Contest will be held here Thursday, April 12. It has been the policy of the college to sponsor this event each year because as Dean Jenkins says, "We believe we are rendering a service to the high schools of this district." Dr. M. N. Posey of the college English department and advisor to the Jarvis Forensic club is in charge of the program.

Here's a good one we read recently, author unknown:
"Most of the troubles affecting the American people today are due to the failure of Americans to carry out collectively what they individually know to be sensible and right."
Makes sense doesn't it?

Now at last many students on the campus have a chance to rid themselves of books they are not using. Do you have any? Dr. Kathleen Stokes of the college social studies department is collecting them for the Greenville chapter of the American Association of University Women. The books are being collected for the benefit of various European countries. Books suited to the needs of children, students and scholars are needed and will be sent abroad by the national organization of the AAUW.

The Travelers Insurance company has just released a little booklet entitled "R. I. P." (Rest In Pieces) which presents in a very interesting and amusing manner statistics on street and highway accidents. It puts out the gruesome facts illustrated with a highly humorous touch. As the booklet describes itself, "it is a very funny book about a very unfunny subject."

It may seem unimportant to some of us that 35,000 strangers lost their lives in traffic accidents last year, but literature of this type is extremely worthwhile to those capable of absorbing its full meaning. Drivers under 25 years old make up 20 percent of the total numbers of drivers, but accounted for more than 27 percent of 1950's fatal accidents. Let us not become one of the statistics in such a booklet.

High school seniors came from far and wide to take part in the program of activities provided for them here today, but one little group has a certain unique distinction—they traveled part of the way to East Carolina by boat. The group was made up of nine students from the Cape Hattaras high school at Buxton, Cape Hattaras.

The Veterans club is holding a dinner meeting at Respos-James Barbecue Tuesday evening, April 10. If the meeting is like any of the other meetings of the organization, it will be a success and an enjoyable occasion. The Vets club is one of the few clubs on the campus which has seen the importance of having such meetings away from the drab classrooms where the students must sit all day. Meetings such as those held by the Veterans organization are friendly, congenial and in a pleasant atmosphere where a person can relax after dinner and enjoy his fellowship. The Circle K club and the Young Democratic club have also held very successful meetings at the popular eating place.

The Awards committee is well on its way towards completion of plans for the annual Awards Day, according to L. B. Starling, chairman. Nominations from departmental heads for departmental awards have been received by the committee, a man and a woman "Outstanding Citizen" have been elected by the Legislature, and other awards are being prepared for presentation. There still remains for the committee several details to be worked out before the day. For the time being, however, the committee is ready to receive nominations for the awards.

Who's Who At East Carolina

by Anne Jones

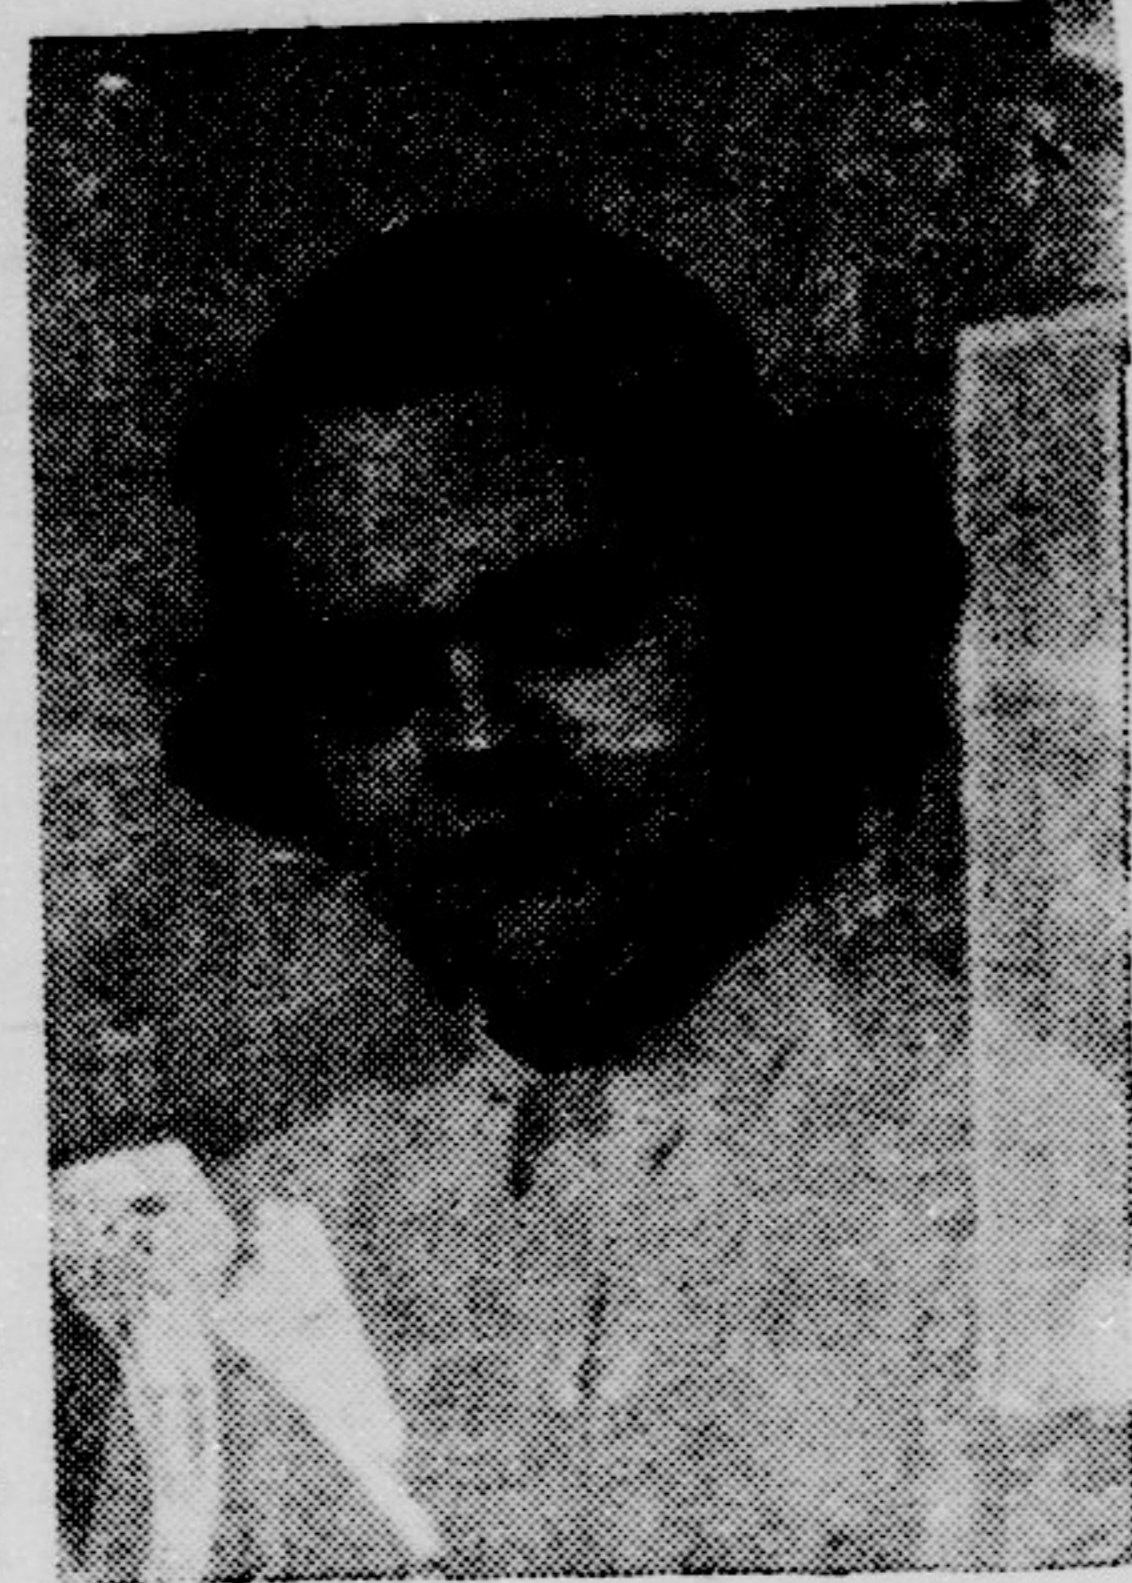

Friendly and attractive—these two words best describe Mary Wallace Foy, a senior here at East Carolina who has won her way into the hearts of all who know her. Her pleasant personality and charming manner have been a joy to all who have known and worked with her.

Mary Wallace is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Foy of Pollocksville, North Carolina, where she was born and raised. She started to school in Maysville, however, where her mother was her first grade teacher. After seven years in Maysville Miss Foy transferred to the Alex H. White High school in Pollocksville where she attended school for the next four years.

At the beginning of her senior year she once more started to school in Maysville where she graduated as the salutatorian of her class in the spring of 1947. While in high school she participated in the Junior class play, and was class historian during her senior year. While a junior, she and the other members of her class toured the nation's capital, Washington, D.C.

In the fall of 1947 Mary Wallace Foy found herself a freshman at East Carolina. Prior to this time she had planned to go in training to be a nurse. "I started taking piano lessons before entering college, my mind changed and I decided that I wanted to major in music, so I came here. I am crazy about the place too," she revealed.

Her four years here have not been idle ones either. Music is her specialty with a double major in piano and voice. Miss Foy graduates in May with a bachelor of science degree. During the winter quarter she did her practice teaching at Greenville

Mary Wallace Foy

High school and at West Greenville grammar school. "I like teaching a lot; I like working with the smaller children the best, but I do like the choral part of high school work also," she said. She plans to teach public school music but she would also like to teach some private lessons in both piano and voice.

At the present time Miss Foy is working on her two senior recitals, the one in voice is to be presented April 15 while the one in piano will be given May 7.

During the current school year Miss Foy has held the position of president of Jarvis hall. By virtue of this office she gained a seat on the Student legislature and the Woman's judiciary.

Her chief interest being music it is quite natural that her extra-curricular activities should be spent in the same pursuits. Miss Foy has been a member of the college choir for four years, serving as its secretary this year. She plays the clarinet in the college band and is a member of the College Singers. In connection with the work of the College Singers she has helped in several productions of the Teachers Playhouse.

She has also been active in the work of the Wesley foundation having served as chairman of music for this organization one year. Besides all these things she has appeared before many of the civic organizations, rendering vocal selections on the programs of these groups. Some of the ones she has appeared before in Greenville are the Lions club, Rotary club, Kiwanis club, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Foy commented favorably on the good times which she has had with her fellow students on several trips she has taken to represent the college at some event. The ones she mentioned were a trip to Burlington to participate in the Azalea festival. She is looking forward to the trip to Richmond with the College Choir April 19.

"I am a good ole Methodist," she stated, "because my favorite food is fried chicken." She likes pastel shades for her clothing. Her favorite flower is the red rose. Miss Foy lists her hobbies as swimming and fishing. She also likes to play softball and write letters.

During the summer months she usually works on the farm. She does not live on a farm herself but she helps her neighbors.

Miss Foy has roomed with the same girl, Annette Hughes, since her freshman days. They have had many classes together since they are both members of the college choir for four

ROUND THE CAMPUS

by Jean Head

AROUND THE CAMPUS welcomes the seniors today. High School Day is always a big day at East Carolina. Hope the seniors have enjoyed it, and we invite them to be one of us' next year!

The student body is very distressed about the illness of Dr. Flanagan. AROUND THE CAMPUS, in behalf of the students, hopes that Dr. Flanagan, one of the finest and best men that we know, will be back with us soon.

Easter has passed along with our last vacation. But soon the big vacation will be here. It may be a little early to be thinking about the summer holidays but from a survey of several people, the summer doesn't seem to be offering much vacation time. Over half of the people plan to work, but expect to find time for a few week ends at the beach.

Several of the boys here are going on an "extended tour" soon. Bobby Carter, Dewitt McGowan, M. B. Pope, and others have decided to go on an adventure with the National Guard. Good luck, boys.

The baseball team made a good showing last week on their trip to Elon and Guilford. Hope ole man weather will "let up" some for the remainder of the games so that the student attendance will be better.

Oscar Levant really drew quite a crowd for his concert Monday night. From where your reporter was sitting it seemed that everyone had everyone else's seat, and the marshals had quite a time straightening out things.

The almost summer weather that we had last weekend brought the sun bathers out. Elda Richmond, Gwen Suitt, Irene Steele, Ann Perry and several others still have a "glow on" (from the sun).

Tomorrow night the seniors are entertaining the sophomores at the Senior-Sophomore dance. Have you noticed the admission?—fifty cents stag, fifty cents per couple. So you raise and guys, it will be as cheap to get a date as not.

Seen in the News and Observer this week, "The traffic around Greenville Lake Sunday was equal to Times Square on New Year's Eve." No truer words were ever spoken, and to prove the point two East Carolina students were seen wandering around inquiring if anyone had seen their car! It was parked someplace but because of all the confusion they didn't remember where. Yes, the traffic was heavy.

MILES BEHIND THE MIKE

The Boston Pops Orchestra Monday night listening has added another great attraction to its NBC list. The Boston Pops orchestra under the direction of Arthur Fiedler can be heard from 10 to 11 (NYT). This splendid group of musicians, all of whom play in the Boston Symphony orchestra, help to make Monday nights the night for music on NBC.

High School Day This is the day the high school seniors reign supreme on our campus. We hope that all of the young people visiting us today are enjoying themselves and that they will be encouraged to make it their alma mater as we have done. We realize that we are trying to put a great deal into one day and that perhaps your heads will be swimming by the time you leave us at the close of this wonderful day. We do hope you will stop after you return home and read our literature and think seriously about the many opportunities which are available here at East Carolina. We have much to offer and we hope that you will join us in the fall for the most wonderful year of college life.

A coffee date only adds up to 14 cents, but one male student remarked, "You can't depend on getting a girl who doesn't eat." A guy buying a daily cup of coffee for himself and his "friend" would have spent about $5.60 so far this school year. And if he and his date smoke just two cigarettes a day, that would cost him another 80 cents.

The average cost of a date seemed to run about $2.50, which the majority of students agreed was worth the price. This would include bowling or a movie, and food. It might be interesting to see how these figures stack up against the average cost here.

TRADE BITS

by Tommie Lupton

"The Green Gander," humor magazine at Iowa State college, is facing a life-and-death dilemma. It has its choice of either cleaning up the magazine or discontinuing publication. Pressure from various groups on and off the campus have initiated a "clean-up" campaign, designed to revolutionize the content of the magazine. The Christmas issue of the magazine has been called specially offensive. At Duke university the publication of their humor magazine has been discontinued. If you have never seen one of the humor magazines, you should borrow one from a Duke or University of North Carolina friend. You have been missing some good jokes.

According to the "Clarkston Integrator," the mathematics department of the University of Akron is going to make it easy for students to get hold of old tests. The department is setting up a file system in the university library which will include the examinations of the previous year semesters. The head of the math department was quoted as saying that he felt this was a big step toward the creation of better feeling between faculty and student body. At least a student will be able to find out what type of test the teacher will be likely to give. That often times helps.

Did you know that (and now we are taking material from another column) this week is National Laugh Week. (HA, HA, HA!) It is also National Conservation Week.

The most thought provoking headline this week from the "Dakota Student," University of North Dakota reads . . . "Village Wives Have Social Week; Husbands Complian"

Scotland is a country where there are detours at all the toll gates. —The Bay City Daily Times.

A crank is very seldom found in an automobile these days—except under the steering wheel. —Fayetteville Observer

In connection with National Laugh Week, this column will be ended with a joke taken from the "Top O' The World," from Western State college in Gunnison, Colorado. Here goes:

A student had just been given a bottle of scotch. On his way across the street he was knocked down by an automobile. Picking himself up, he started to walk away when he felt something warm trickling down his pants leg. "Oh Lord!" he groaned. I hope that's blood."

Did You Know That---

--- the '51 "Tecoan" promises to be one of East Carolina's finest? Mr. Fleming of Lassiter Press, printers of the annual, says it shows promise of being one of the best they are printing this year—the U.N.C. "Yackety Yack" included! Barring some catastrophe, it will be ready for distribution about the first of May—says Mr. Fleming.

--- the once popular West Fifth Street "Buckingham Palace" (Servicemen's home) is now almost deserted? The register which last year showed a full house of students now has only six names gracing its pages. Its halls, once full of students and the accompanying sounds of actions, will be partially occupied by the Greenville Greencies, or Robins (or whatever their name will be) the city baseball team this year. Students to ball players—quite a change, eh? . . . Someone said it would probably be quieter.

--- the new SGA president, Charlie Self, plans to appoint a publicity committee for the Student legislature? The committee will cooperate with the two campus publications and Miss Mary Greene of the College News bureau. Says Self, "We are trying to stimulate more interest among the students." # SPORTS ECHO

BY LLOYD WHITFIELD

With spring sports in full swing East Carolina students should not have trouble finding anything to do in the afternoons if the weather stays clear for awhile. The athletics for the spring term at East Carolina consist of three intercollegiate sports—baseball, golf and tennis. The golf team is defending its North State conference championship, while the baseball and tennis teams have yet to capture a NS crown.

The golf team opened its schedule last week against the University of North Carolina and lost the match 2½ to 6½. The tennis team played its first match of the season against N. C. State and were whitewashed 9 to 0. This loss came as a surprise to most EC students. The local racket stars had been hoping for a winning team this year, and the local swatters still have time to develop into a winner.

RUSSELL, GRAYBILL AND WALLACE SLAP HOMERS

The Pirate baseball team has been making a pretty good account of itself with such sluggers around as Sonny Russell, George Graybill and Jack Wallace. Russell got a grand slammer in the opening conference test against Guilford to provide the Bucs with an 8 to 6 win. Graybill's circuit clout came against an intersectional foe, Montclair, N. J., while Wallace banged out a four bagger when the Pirate nine was in Virginia during the spring holidays.

No official statistics for Buc averages have been released yet, but Wallace is probably leading the sluggers. At one time he had 11 hits for 12 trips to the plate.

Coach Boone's baseball team has been looking pretty good so far this season, but he seems to have a hard-luck club. For instance the Elon game was lost 8 to 2 in the bottom of the fifteenth inning which could have meant the Bucs would be a pretty good bet to cop NS conference laurels. Elon is the defending champion.

The Pirates edged a victory over the Pirates in 1950 at Elon in the bottom of the ninth inning. The locals were leading going into the last of the ninth, but the champs managed to get a man on base and then an outfield error allowed the Christians to win the contest.

Incidentally, an article in the state's two leading newspapers last Monday morning stated that fans were beginning to wonder if Elon was as strong as they were in '50 after losing two non-conference games and then being out for 15 innings against the Pirates.

To the writer of that story this writer would like to ask if it ever occurred to him that East Carolina could be getting stronger. It seems that every time one of the western schools have a close call against a Pirate team there is some doubt as to their strength. People in the western schools like to see East Carolina come out on top in any athletic event. They had better become accustomed to staying mad because it will not be long before they will get the opportunity to bring out a crying towel and trust the score of the game with East Carolina.

WHY NOT CHANGE BASEBALL GAME TIME!

Back about five years ago there was poor attendance at the baseball games and one sports writer commented that over half of the fans left the game before it was over in order to eat supper in the college dining hall. That same situation exists today and will continue to exist until starting time of the games is changed.

Piner Hurls Bucs To 9-6 Win Over Montclair Diamond Nine

12 Errors Committed Between Both Teams During Loose Contest

Coach Jack Boone and his East Carolina Pirates took on their third intersectional baseball foe at the college stadium Wednesday afternoon when they emerged victorious over Montclair Teachers college, 9-6.

Sophomore hurler Jim Piner went the route for the Bucs and yielded only seven hits as he stayed out of trouble in every inning except the sixth. In that frame the New Jersey college collected three hits including a double that accounted for two of the three runs scored in the inning.

There was a total of 12 errors committed in the loosely played contest that saw eight of the miscues charged to the locals. The errors accounted for most of Montclair's runs. It was the first loss for the visiting squad on their current five-game road trip.

Jack Wallace, a hustling second baseman who sees action in the semi-pro circuits during the summer months, led the Pirates' nine-hit attack with three hits in five appearances at the plate. George Graybill, the big rightfielder for the Bucs, held one of Durkee's pitches in the third frame and lifted it into centerfield for an inside the park homer. Graybill's circuit clout tallied three runs, and was his second homer of the season.

Elon Edges Pirates In 15 Innings

Bucs Handed First Conference Defeat As Elon Wins 3 To 2

Elon, deeding North State conference champion, pushed a run across the plate in the bottom of the 15th inning at Elon last Saturday to edge out a 3-2 victory over East Carolina. It was the first league loss for the Bucs who had the day before beaten Guilford in the loop opener 8 to 6.

Lefthander Leon Taylor went the route for the victors, giving up seven hits and slipping the third strike past 17 batters. Taylor walked only two batters, and his strength was mounting as the game progressed.

Jimmy Byrd started on the mound for the locals and was relieved in the 12th inning by Jim Piner. Byrd, a freshman from Kinston, fanned six batters, but issued eight walks during his 12-inning stay on the mound.

The Christians scored the winning marker in the 15th frame when Taylor led off the inning by working Piner for a walk. Taylor advanced to third when Archie Brigman laid down a bunt and McSwain threw wild into center field. Shag Myers was given an intentional walk to fill the bases, but then the fatal blow came when Stewart slammed a base hit into right field, driving Taylor home with the winning marker.

Athlete Of The Week

East Carolina's ace golfer, Bill Stalls, participated in the Azalea Open Golf Tournament last week end during the Azalea festival held in Wilmington on the Cape Fear Country club golf course. The trip was made possible to Stalls by the gratuities of the college administration and faculty as well as several public minded citizens.

Stalls proved a picture of consistency for he repeated his last year's feat of walking off with second place laurels among the field of amateurs. His accomplishment this year however merits greater applause. Last year he shot rounds of 73, 75, 77 and 79 for an aggregate of 304. This year he shot rounds of 73, 76, 71 and 75 for an aggregate of 295 which is an improvement of nine strokes over last year.

This year the field was tougher, and too the Cape Fear layout proved a puzzle to several of the nation's top pro golfers. The high winds played havoc with the ball and the narrow fairway demanded pinpoint accuracy on every shot.

Stalls' name has been widespread over the South for accomplishments in the golf world, and his name is so firmly in the minds of golf fans and players that he will long be followed in the career.

The first time he got his hands on a golf club was in the thirties when he was a caddy at the Old Dominion golf course at Newport News, Va. Stalls was nine years old then and ever since he has been rapidly improving his skill until one would think the East Carolina golfer was weaned on a golf club.

He was discharged from the Navy in 1945 and after playing around his home town of Norfolk for a while he entered school here in '46. He was on the first East Carolina golf team which originated in 1947.

This is Stalls' last year of eligibility at the local college, but his name will live on as another one of the top flight athletes that East Carolina has produced. He plans to enter the pro ranks after graduation and the entire student body here knows he will succeed.

East Carolina Golfers Lose Season's Opener

East Carolina's golfers were defeated by a well balanced and undefeated University of North Carolina golf team by the score of 20½ to 6½ Friday, March 23, over Carolina's newly constructed Finley golf course.

The golf layout was in excellent condition and proved a difficult test for the Pirate linksters. Bill Stalls of the Pirates and R. Brown of the Tar Heels tied for medalist honors with sub par scores of 71.

Coach Porter of the Pirates had to make a last minute substitution when Joe Exum, East Carolina's number three man became seriously ill and had to be hospitalized.

Russell's Home Run Gives Pirate Nine NS Conference Win

Sonny Russell hit a grand slam home run in the seventh inning to give East Carolina's Pirates an 8 to 6 win in the first game of the season in North State conference play.

Russell led the Pirates at the plate with three for four, including a home run, a double and a single. Fred Soles, Pirate outfielder, was the only other Buc batter able to get more than one hit off two Guilford hurlers.

Martin Byrd, the local fastball hurler, gained credit for the victory, but had to be relieved by Stanley who in turn received help from the Pirate sensation, Jim Piner.

Two-Game Series With Catamounts Open At Cullowee

Coach Jack Boone and his East Carolina Pirates will depart Sunday morning for Western Carolina Teachers college where they will meet the Cata-mounts in a North State conference doubleheader Monday afternoon.

The Western Carolina nine has not met any conference competition this season, and nothing is known here of the strength of the Cats.

In last season's encounter between the two clubs, the local squad took a doubleheader from the visitors, and on the next day swept a two-game series from Wilson Teachers college of Washington, D. C.

Lenoir Rhyne was scheduled to be met on Wednesday during the return trip home, but the Hickory school had difficulty in arranging its schedule and was forced to cancel the contest.

The Pirates will return home on Tuesday and begin drills for Friday's all-important conference battle with Guilford college's Quakers. The Bucs defeated the Quakers earlier in the campaign when Sonny Russell slammed out a home run with the bases loaded.

For the trip to Western Carolina Boone will probably take a squad of 15 players and a manager. The probable starting lineup will be: McSwain, catcher; Russell, first base; Wallace, second base; Smith, shortstop; Sauls or Sandersen, third base; Aldridge, left field; Soles, center field; and Graybill, right field. The pitcher will not be named until the day of the game.

Spain Is Subject Of Dr. Stokes At IRC Meeting

"Spain: The European Question" was the topic of an address by Dr. Kathleen Stokes of the college social studies department before a meeting of approximately 35 members of the International Relations club Tuesday evening, April 3.

Dr. Stokes stated that Spain has not been a major power for more than a century, but at the present time she is assuming tremendous military value because of her strategic location. Spain is the bridge between Europe and Africa and the Atlantic and Mediterranean worlds.

"Our relations with Spain have been hampered by a conflict in ideologies as Spain is the last remaining fascist state," she said. The San Francisco decision made shortly before the establishment of the United Nations denied Spain membership in the world organization because of her form of government.

According to Dr. Stokes, the standard of living in Spain is much lower than in any other country in Europe. The civil war of 1936 drained the country of one million men of the 28 million population. Spain is now a country of widows, orphans and homeless people, many of whom do not get enough to eat, as can be seen by the cost of living strikes in Madrid and Barcelona. Even after 12 years of controlled economy and assistance from Argentina, the Spanish government is still bankrupt.

While the United States objects to Franco's totalitarian regime, Dr. Stokes continued, overthrow would not result in a Spanish democracy, but in a Moscow controlled republic. As the story goes, on leaving Barcelona in 1939 the Russians took many trainloads of Spanish children away to Moscow to be trained as Communists. They are now coming back to Spain to try to organize a resistance movement to Franco.

It is Dr. Stokes' belief that we have no other choice but to compromise with some of our principles and prevent the collapse of Franco's government. Spain stands as a bastion of defense and with her aid, our chances for success in the imminent conflict is much greater.

Southeastern District Meeting
Mrs. Hazel Kimrey Way, district vice-president of the Southeastern district, was in charge of the arrangements for the Coffee Hour which was held last Saturday in Wilmington as a part of the Azalea Festival. Members of the New Hanover chapter assisted.

Mrs. Everett Huggins (Hulda Noles) greeted the guests and presented them to Mrs. Way and Mrs. Clem Garner (Ruth Blanchard), alumni secretary.

Presiding at the punch bowl and coffee urn were Mrs. John D. Charlton (Erma Hinnaat) and Mrs. Heywood Bellamy (Mary Cameron Dixon). Mrs. Fred Smith (Lucy Pearson) directed the serving. Assisting her were members of the younger set, some of whom were alumni daughters: Laura Bordeaux, Barbara Bordeaux, Barbara Eason, Rita Hodges and Jean Bennett.

Music was furnished by Jean Bennett, daughter of Mrs. R. O. Bennett (Martha Morton) and Mrs. Milton J. Humphry (Julia Bordeaux).

Mrs. Edith Morton Hall, who was in charge of the decorations, emphasized the college colors in the floral arrangements.

Members of the Nash-Edgecombe chapter met recently at the home of Mrs. J. C. Bush (Sallie Norwood) in Rocky Mount, with Ella and Millie Moore as joint hostesses.

Jessie Flythe reported that she had contacted legislators in Nash and in Edgecombe counties and had urged them to support the program of the United Forces in Education and the building program at the college.

Ella Moore, chapter president, appointed a nominating committee for chapter officers.

Wilson Chapter
Mrs. W. M. Rogers (Elsie Morgan) delightfully entertained members of the Wilson chapter at a dinner meeting March 29 at the Baptist Barn in Wilson with Dr. J. K. Long, college registrar, as guest speaker.

Mrs. Rogers gave the dinner in honor of Mrs. DuBose Bullard (Mildred Harrison) and Mrs. George Crawley (Ethel Vick), both chapter members who are president and immediate past president of the General Alumni association. Two other past presidents were also recognized.

Mrs. O. K. Joyner (Christine Vick), who is now teaching in Wilson, and Mrs. Clem Garner (Ruth Blanchard), alumni secretary, Mrs. Long, wife of the speaker, was presented.

Mrs. Crawley, newly elected president of the chapter, presided.

Famous Pianist Oscar Levant Performs Here

Oscar Levant, famous pianist and one of the most colorful personalities in American music, made a personal appearance at East Carolina Teachers college Monday evening, April 2 in the Wright auditorium.

The piano star of "Who Sings That?" "Information Please," and other popular radio and TV programs appeared on the campus under the auspices of the college Entertainment committee in a "Program of Piano Music with Comments."

The versatile pianist has delighted many audiences with his remarkable memory and his verbal address on radio programs. His piano recordings have placed him high among the record sellers of the country. His motion pictures, which include Rhapsody in Blue, "The Barkleys of Broadway," and "Kiss the Boys Goodbye," have further impressed his old personality upon the public. His personal appearance at East Carolina combined varied talents of the artist and entertainer.

Levant is a musician of 19th-century fame. He has appeared as concert artist in cities throughout the nation and as guest soloist with the New York Philharmonic, the Philadelphia orchestra, the NBC symphony, and the orchestras of San Francisco, Indianapolis, Pittsburg, Cleveland, Washington, and Rochester.

Plus NO UNPLEASANT AFTER-TASTE

OVER 1500 PROMINENT TOBACCO GROWERS SAY:

"When I apply the standard tobacco growers' test to cigarettes I find Chesterfield is the one that smells milder and smokes milder."

A WELL-KNOWN INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH ORGANIZATION REPORTS:

"Chesterfield is the only cigarette in which members of our taste panel found no unpleasant after-taste."
