Work Continues On Teachers' Dormitory

The photo of the construction of the new teachers' dormitory was taken earlier in the quarter, but when one passes by the building now they can notice that much more work has been completed for there are two stories of the building erected now.

Entertainment Schedule

Four Promising Young Singers Appear In 'Rodgers And Hammerstein Nights'

Four of America's most promising young singers, personally selected by musically astute Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II, will be heard as soloists in James A. Davidson's presentation of "Rodgers and Hammerstein Nights" on December 8 at East Carolina college in Wright auditorium at 8 p.m.

The singers are Leigh Allen, soprano; Earl William, tenor; Carol Jones, mezzo soprano; and Andrew Giney, baritone. They will be accompanied by a chorus of fourteen and a concert orchestra of 32 musicians in especially arranged programs of music from Rodgers and Hammerstein stage successes, including "Oklahoma," "Carousel," "Allegro," "South Pacific" and the film "State Fair."

Star From Hit
Lough Allen comes straight from the east of the current Rodgers and Hammerstein Broadway smash hit, "South Pacific." She arrived at that point in her life via an early musical education in her native California, a job as soprano soloist with a Lithuanian chorus in New York and two extensive tours in musicals, one in "The Great Waltz" and the other in "Brigadoon." It was her performance in the Broadway production of "Great to Be Alive" which first brought her to the attention of Mr. Rodgers.

Earl William, a highly versatile performer, has sung at one time or another in concert, opera, Oratorio, vaudeville, musical comedy, radio and television. He is Cleveland-born and served in the Navy during the war. Important guest spots on radio programs, appearances at the Radio City Music hall and leading roles in Broadway operettas were the result of intensive training and ever-increasing voice perfection. He has sung in more than a dozen musicals with the St. Louis Municipal opera, the Louisville Light opera, the Indianapolis Starlight opera and the Paper Mill playhouse.

Grid Coach Talks Before Members Of Kinston Club

East Carolina's head grid coach, Bill Dole, was the main speaker at the Kinston Touchdown club's weekly meeting last Monday night at Emma Webb park in Kinston. Movies of the Pirate-Lenoir Rhyme football contest were shown to the some 60 members present.

After a dinner of roast turkey with all the trimmings, Coach Dole was introduced by Amos Sexton, an East Carolina graduate who is now coaching basketball at Grainger high school. Dole gave an informative and interesting talk in which he commented on the local athletic program and the problems his team has faced this year.

Accompanying Dole on the trip were four Kinston boys who are students at the college. Jessie Aldridge, defensive guard, Bobby Hoigens, offensive end, Pete Meadows, center, and Lloyd Whitfield, sports editor of the TECO ECHO.

Opera Singer

The youngest of six musically-gifted children, Carol Jones first sang opera in Chattanooga, Tenn., close to her birthplace. She has appeared as soloist with the New York Oratorio society, at Carnegie hall and at Town hall. During extensive tours she sang lead roles in the operas "Martha" and "The Barber of Seville." The Robert Shaw Chorus, of which she was recently a member, propelled her into the many musical activities of that group — radio, television and recording. She has also recorded selections from Gilbert and Sullivan.

A young singer to be watched is baritone Andrew Giney. He has sung at the famed Central City, Colorado, Opera festival and with the New York City Opera company, the American Opera company, the San Antonio Civic opera and the Denver symphony. After serving with the Air corps during World War II, he made his concert debut at New York's Town hall and appeared with the New York Philharmonic symphony. In his repertoire are leading roles in Gian-Carlo Menotti's "The Old Maid and the Thief," "Carmen," "Cavalleria Rusticana," "Pagliacci" and "Romeo and Juliet." Broadway audiences applauded his Petroccio in the Broadway musical, "Kiss Me Kate."

Phillips Releases Registration Schedule For Winter Quarter

Registrar Orval L. Phillips released this week several steps to be followed on registration day, November 26. The East Carolina registrar stated that if these steps were followed it would facilitate the registration schedules.

The first time-saving step that the registrar wished to put before the students is the securing of permits and the paying of fees before the end of the present quarter. By doing this the students will save having to stand in two lines. Second, if application for 19 or 20 hours has been filed and approved, secure the approved application from the Registrar's table near the door in the Wright auditorium.

Dr. Phillips further added that students are to secure schedule cards from the adviser and then turn back in the Adviser's card when everything is complete. The instructor of each class must sign the schedule cards. After everything is complete, the student registering should go to the check-out table. All the blanks on the cards should be filled in with ink. Concerning the handing in of the cards, Dr. Phillips commented that you are not enrolled in school until your cards are received by the Registrar's office.

Monday, December 3, 1951, will be the last date to drop a course and add another course. The Drop-Add slips must be returned to the Registrar's office by 4:30 p.m. on this date if the student expects to receive credit for the course.

Tuesday, January 8, 1952, will be the last date to drop a course with-

May Announces Practice Sessions For Rifle Squad

Major Lomax L. May, professor of air science and tactics at East Carolina, has announced that the Rifle Marksmanship team will begin practice November 26.

Postal matches have already been scheduled with eight teams. In addition, the team will be up against national competition by competing for the William Randolph Hurst trophy. This award is given to the most outstanding Army, Navy or Air Force ROTC rifle team in the country.

The unit has twelve Remington target rifles and will have two teams of five men each with three alternates. The range is located in the Flanagan supply room and is equipped with the most modern lighting facilities available.

Major James N. McDill, who is assisted by Sgt. Ira Barry, has announced that all interested cadets in either the basic or advanced classes are eligible.

Teams to be met via the postal matches are as follows: University of Miami, University of Mississippi, University of Georgia, Texas A&M college, Duke university, North Carolina State college and The Citadel.

Registrar

out receiving a "5" on the subject. The Drop slip must be returned to the Registrar's office not later than 4:30 p.m. on this date or a "5" will be given on the course.

The schedule to be followed on the registration day for the Winter quarter's work at East Carolina college is as follows:

- 8-11 a.m.—Seniors, Practice Teachers and Transfers
  - 9 a.m.-12 noon—Juniors
  - 11 a.m.-3 p.m.—Sophomores
  - 1-5 p.m.—Freshmen
- Graduate students will be permitted to register at any time during the day.

Sadie Hawkins' Events To Begin Here Tomorrow

Sadie Hawkins day will be celebrated on the East Carolina college campus tomorrow with a race staged on the campus in the afternoon and a dance in the Wright auditorium in the evening. The event, held each year at the college, will be sponsored by the student Science club, of which Jennie E. Cannon of Wilmington is president.

The race, following the famous Al Capp contest of the comic strips, will be open to all students, and will be held at 3:30 in the afternoon. William H. Rowland of Raleigh, Dolores Eisele of Statesville and Dolores Gregory of Pamlico are in charge of arrangements.

For the evening entertainment, the Wright building will be decorated in Dogpatch style under the direction of Peggy Barnhill of Greenville. Guests will be costumed to impersonate the Yokums and their circle.

A five-piece string orchestra will provide music for square dancing. A wedding, with a campus Marryin' Sam performing the ceremony, will be an attraction at the intermission. Prizes will be offered for the best student Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner.

Among members of the Science club who are assisting with plans for the Sadie Hawkins day celebration are Robert Linderoth, Red Bank, N.J.; Edward A. Mackie, Belhaven; and Ernest Sylvant, Snow Hill.

Students Serve As Sunday School Ushers For Term

Nine students from East Carolina college have served as ushers during the past quarter for the Student Sunday School class which meets at Jarvis Memorial Methodist church. These students are members of the Wesley foundation, official organization of Methodist students on the college campus.

The group is headed by Marvin Brown of Rockingham, who is assisted by William Rogers of Tabor City, Paul Cameron of Kinston and Charles L. Minchew of Fremont.

The following boys have served as ushers during the fall quarter: James L. Rogers, Albemarle; Thomas Pierce, Rocky Mount; Gene A. Russell, Dover; Norvil Messick, Greenville; and James Robert Gardner, Rocky Mount.

Messick Heads Six Educators Doing Evaluation

President John D. Messick of East Carolina college headed a committee of six educators who last week conducted an evaluation of work at Bluefield State college in West Virginia in the interests of the American association of Colleges for Teacher Education. Dr. J. K. Long, director of the department of education at East Carolina, accompanied Dr. Messick to Bluefield and served as a member of the committee.

On their return trip, both Dr. Messick and Dr. Long went to Greensboro to attend Friday and Saturday of last week the annual meeting of the North Carolina College conference.

Campus Calendar

Sunday—The Inter-Religious council will sponsor the annual Thanksgiving service in the Austin auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Robert Holt will deliver the message to the group.

Monday—The Greenville Service league will hold its rehearsal for the Follies.

The Pi Omega Pi will convene in the basement of the Flanagan building at 7 p.m.

The Westminister fellowship meets at 5:30 in the afternoon at the Manse on 401 E. Ninth street.

Vesper services will be held at the Methodist Student center from 10-10:15 p.m.

Inter-Religious Council Sponsors First Program In Series Sunday

Play Rehearsals For Dramateers' Comedy Continue

Rehearsals are progressing for "You Can't Take It With You," a three-act comedy by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, which will be presented in the College theater December 12, 13 and 14 at 8 p.m.

Principals taking part in the production are Janet Waters, Larry Williams, Elaine Elium and Clarkson White. Also included in the cast are Catherine Stephenson, Edna Massad, Joe Hodges, Lloyd Whitfield, J. W. Browning, Percy Wilkins, Pete Williams, Garland Jackson, Geraldine Weathers, Ralph Rives, Carolyn Clapp, Bobby Davis and Bill Penuel.

Dr. Lucile H. Charles of the faculty, director of dramatic arts at the college, will direct the production. Garland Jackson will assist Dr. Charles as student director. Lloyd Whitfield will head the technical staff with Joan Edwards, printing manager; Catherine Coston, costumes; Imogene Jennette, ticket sales; Julianne Leimone, properties; Wade Jordan, lights; Marian Chessons, make-up; Gwenn Williams, publicity, and Joan Johnson, prompter, completing the technical staff. Rudolph Alexander will head the business staff with Carolyn Clapp assisting.

According to Rudolph, posters will be printed by Thanksgiving so students on the publicity committee can start their campaign. If events run as planned the large advertising program will be a success.

Tickets will be distributed and students will be admitted free on each of the three nights. Admission for the public will be one dollar for adults and fifty cents for children and high school students.

English Teacher Delivers Speech To Schoolmasters

Edward J. Rutan, faculty member of the department of English at East Carolina college, was principal speaker at a meeting in Hertford last Monday evening, November 12, of the Albemarle Schoolmasters club. Discussing the topic "Presenting Subject Matter to High School Students," the East Carolina professor spoke at an annual dinner held this week by members of the organization at the Perquimans high school.

Mr. Rutan focused attention on the ideas that materials should be presented to students in language which they can understand and that learning is most effective when accompanied by related activity. He advocated student participation in such activities as editing a school newspaper and presenting demonstrations in the science laboratory.

Henderson To Replace Modlin On BSU Council

Mildred Henderson of Longhurst has been elected as secretary of the East Carolina Baptist Student Union Executive council to replace Rachel Modlin, who resigned because of illness.

Pay Fees!

Students are urged to pay fees for the Winter quarter and get "permit to register" approved before the end of this quarter. F. D. Duncan, Treasurer

Self, Hurst Represent College At Fall Term Of Student Councils

Charles Self, president of the Student Government association at East Carolina college, and Alec Hurst, SGA social chairman, will represent the college tomorrow at the annual fall meeting of the North State Student council at Appalachian State Teachers college in Boone. Both East Carolina representatives are from Greensboro.

The North State Student council, composed of nine schools in the North State conference, meets twice each year for discussion of common problems and for formulation of plans to improve relationships among member institutions. Delegates represent student government organizations in the nine colleges.

Radio Schedule

Sunday evening, Nov. 18
8:00-8:15—News and Sports-cast
8:15-8:30—FTA program in observance of American Education week
9:30-9:45—Bernie Ham show
9:45-10:00—Dr. George Pasti will interview Professor Joseph Schwarz.

College Students To See 'Follies' At Reduced Price

"The Follies of 1951," sponsored by the Greenville Service league, will be presented to college students at a reduced price Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Austin auditorium.

The program combines songs, dances and skits and is directed by John Farrow of New York. The cast includes residents of this city.

Tuesday and Wednesday nights are the dates set for the production, but college students will be permitted to attend the dress rehearsal Monday night for 50 cents. The regular price of tickets is $1.50. Proceeds will be used toward the Laughinghouse hospital fund.

Included in the musical numbers will be a mountain ballet, a Chinese dance, a mock ballet composed entirely of men, a Charleston sextette, and a St. Louis Blues number. In addition to these the show will contain various solos, duets, novelty acts and skits.

According to Mrs. K. B. Pace, talent chairman, "the rehearsal Monday night should prove both enjoyable and interesting. The audience will have an opportunity to see just how the theatre works and how a show is put together, since Mr. Farrow will halt each number if there are mistakes and point out the errors. Everyone should have a good time, as well as gain some valuable knowledge of the theatre."

Baptists Sponsor Ping-Pong Tourney At Student Center

A table tennis tournament will be sponsored by the Baptist Student union at the center on Eighth street beginning December 3. The manager for the tourney is L. B. Ginn. Students can sign up for the event in the College Post office lobby or at the Baptist Student center. The deadline for signing up for the ping-pong tournament is November 28. Participants must pay a ten cent reservation fee, which will be collected at the beginning of the first game.

Competition will include matches for both doubles and singles and prizes will be awarded by the BSU to the winners of both events.

Relaxation

Dr. Robert and faculty of Chapel services Tuesday

A member of the college here since 1949, she has several workshops at East for teachers interested in education, especially as it relates to speech and hearing difficulties. She has talked at various educational groups and last week spoke at a meeting of the Teacher association

Speech Therapist Talks On Program At Regional Meet

Mrs. Dorothy W. Perkins, speech therapist and hearing consultant at East Carolina college, has been invited to appear on the program at Eastern Region III meeting of International council for Exceptional Children and the Third Annual Educational convention of East Carolina. These groups will jointly in Raleigh November 18-20, 1951.

At the Raleigh meeting Mrs. Perkins is scheduled to discuss the correction of articulation faults in children.

Evening Service For Thanksgiving On Tap In Austin

The annual Thanksgiving services, the first in a series of three religious services to be sponsored by the Inter-Religious council of East Carolina college this year, will be held Sunday evening from 7:30 til 8:30 in the Austin auditorium. Robert L. Holt, director of religious activities on the college campus, will deliver the Thanksgiving message.

Music for the program will be furnished by George Perry, organist. The group will join in together to sing several Thanksgiving songs.

Holt To Speak
According to Dr. Holt, "The services are primarily for the campus community, students and faculty, and arise from a request from the students; but the public is invited to attend if they would like to."

During the program, the people attending will be given an opportunity to contribute to Religious Emphasis week expenses and all left over will be given to the International Christian university in Japan.

Jack Painter, president of the Inter-Religious council, announced that the other two programs to be sponsored this year by that organization will be an Easter service and a service to begin Religious Emphasis week. Jack is chairman of the Thanksgiving program and others working with him are Margie Smith, music; Sara Jo Hege, arrangements; and Janet Kirkland, publicity.

Council Meets

The Inter-Religious council met on Tuesday of this week in the "Y" reading room in the basement of the Austin building. Jack presided as the group completed the plans for the annual Thanksgiving services. Other business taken up was concerned with the changing of the name of Religious Emphasis week to Christian Evaluation week, but after discussion of the matter was carried on by the council, it was decided to leave the name as it is at the present.

The IRC mentioned the possibilities of sponsoring a float in next year's Homecoming parade, but there was no definite decision made.

SPORTS ECHO

BY LLOYD WHITFIELD

Man alive, who says that Sandy Siler cannot pass that pig-skin. Why it was wonderful the way that junior from Siler City and the number one Pirate quarterback was slinging that ball against the Cherry Point Flyers last Saturday afternoon. With the speed of a bullet and the accuracy of an old pro, he threw that ball for five or six consecutive completions. All in all he heaved seven passes and hit the receivers six times for a total passing yardage of 151.

Sandy has played some mighty fine football this year and Coach Dole is proud of the way he has handled himself. He has taken a bad beating from the opposition in many games when they broke through like a bull to hit him—in fact he has taken a beating that no other East Carolina quarterback has had to take. He should be just right for those Citadel Bulldogs, and we are counting on his prize arm to continue its slinging.

Dole Uses Everything

Coach Dole used everything but the bench in defeating the Flyers last week 45-0 and in doing so unveiled a scoring attack that has not been seen all season. Nothing went wrong from the spectators' standpoints, unless the Marines were peeved at the locals for spoiling the Marine corps birthday which they were celebrating.

The backs, all of them—Paul Gay, Jack Benzie, Jack Britt, Mike Kovack, Lyn Grissom and Claude King—ran that ball to perfection and there was no stopping them. They scored almost at will behind beautiful blocking. The defensive unit had its best day of the year as it held back the Flyers' hard running backs for a shutout.

Coach Dole had this to say about the impressive victory, "I was pleased with the way the boys played at Cherry Point. I was pleased with the hustle and morale of the team. Due to the fact that we had seven freshmen on the starting defensive team along with two seniors, one junior and one sophomore, and four freshmen, six juniors and one sophomore on the offensive eleven, I think we played even better. They played a good ball game to indicate they are gaining valuable experience for the years to follow." Dole was rightfully proud of his squad, and now he turns his thoughts toward a strong Southern conference foe, The Citadel, the team that the Pirates face November 24.

Open Date This Week

The Bucs have an open date this weekend and were given last Tuesday and today off from practice, but they will remain on campus through the holidays for drills.

It is quite a task taking on such clubs as The Citadel for they have played against some of the top teams in the country and through those games have gained valuable experience. Dole hopes that his boys will profit by the same.

We wonder just how many of you students have ever heard Coach Dole speak at a meeting or the like? If you have not you are really missing something for he is one of the most interesting speakers that this writer has heard. He has the personality to capture the audience even if his speech is boring which is never. Over in Kingston the other night he was the speaker for the city's weekly Touchdown club supper and it was amazing the way he held the attention of all those who were present.

Basketball Season Begins

Coach Howard Porter moves his cagers into the sporting spotlight this weekend when he takes his quint up to Virginia for a battle with the Norfolk Air station to open a rough 23-game schedule. As a matter of fact, it is the hardest schedule ever attempted here.

The local coach has some good material on hand this season and some mighty impressive freshmen who could develop into troublemakers in the North State conference. However, there is quite a difference between high school ball where these lads stood out and college ball, so it will take a couple of years to prepare them.

Sonny Russell, Toddy Fennell, Lou Collie, Richard Blake, John Postas, Paul Jones and Charlie Huffman are among the returning lettermen, and they are expected to lead the team again this season. Watch the next edition of the paper for a round-up of Buc cagers and the 1951-52 prospects.

These Seniors Wind Up Collegiate Career Against Citadel

Pirates Set For Citadel!

Buccaneers Drill For Contest With Southern Conference Foe

Sporting a 45-0 victory over the Cherry Point Marines, Coach Bill Dole and his East Carolina Pirates prepared to remain on campus through the Thanksgiving holidays and go through extensive drills for the non-conference encounter with The Citadel Saturday, November 24, in Charleston, S.C. Both clubs will wind up the 1951 football season in that contest, with the Southern conference foe favored in the first meeting of the two schools on a gridiron. Gametime has been set for 2:30 at the Johnson Hobgood stadium.

The Pirates have an open date this week end and were given Tuesday and today off from drills, but things are to settle down tomorrow when Dole will open up with defensive drills to be used against the Bulldog cadets.

Dole hopes that the Buccaneers will be in top shape for what is expected to be a colorful and largely attended event, but it is hard to say because any number of injuries could pop up in practice. The locals have been hit hard by injuries this season with six men being sent out of action permanently.

Citadel Plays Army

The Citadel has long been noted for its football achievements and the Buc mentor has taken on a rather ambitious schedule in meeting the cadets. Although they are rested in the number twelve spot in the Southern conference which has 17 teams, they have met some of the nation's top ball clubs this season and have gained valuable experience from it. Only last week they locked horns with the West Point eleven and lost out by a 27-6 score.

The cadets have a conference record of one win against two losses while they have scored 55 points, holding the opposition to 75. The losses came at the hands of South Carolina and Furman. They recently defeated a strong Davidson team which was defeated by Leinor Rhyne earlier in the season. The Bulldogs have an overall record of three wins and five defeats, to rank below NC State and the University of North Carolina in standings.

Cadets Impressive

The Cadets have been rather impressive in several games this season, particularly on the ground. Against Presbyterian, whom they defeated 35-0, the Decker-coached lads piled up 319 yards on the ground behind some solid blocking. There was a halfback in that contest, John Mamajek, who ran for 124 yards to lead the way for the victory. In that contest the Bulldog defense had the strength of a lion as they held the losers to 37 yards all evening.

Meanwhile, Coach Dole, who is widely known for compiling a rugged schedule, is looking forward to the contest with enthusiasm and hopes his boys will be in top shape for the season's final game. "The Citadel has 22 seniors, and they have a tough schedule, and although we will be outmanned, you can rest assured that we will hustle all the way," remarked Dole.

Yippee!

Doctors at Duke hospital released two East Carolina gridders Tuesday and said that they were in fine condition, enabling them to return to action in the Pirates' last grid battle against The Citadel in Charleston November 24. Mard Yarborough, the hard-charging halfback who sparked Dole's running attack in the opening games before giving way to a knee injury, reported for practice Wednesday along with Thurston Callahan, a defensive tackle who has been a mainstay on the Buccaneer squad. Callahan had missed one game due to a wrenched knee.

Athlete Of The Week

by Frazier Bruton

Sandy Siler, a sandy-haired junior from Siler City, took the spotlight in last Saturday's game with Cherry Point, and for his remarkable play he also takes the spotlight in this column. In the Pirate-Flyers engagement, Siler took command of Dole's offensive crew like a five-star general by puncturing seven aerials in the Marines' secondary and connecting on six to lift his overall percentage for the year near the .500 mark.

When Siler entered East Carolina in the fall of the '49 season, Dole used him for two years as a defensive halfback.

Siler, who tips the scales at 195, is heavy for a T-quarterback passer, but his slick handling of the ball, keen judgment and his needle-threading tosses make him a "pointed out" player by his opponents in every game. The Marines, incidentally, did not have Siler in mind, but when the game was a few minutes old, a clear picture of him was stamped in their minds as Siler passed to Dwight Shoe for the first touchdown.

No later than the second quarter Siler cradled the pigskin in the arms of Halfback Jack Benzie, who broke the backs of the Flyers by scampering 59 yards with the Pirates' third six-pointer. Then in the third quarter the 19-year-old junior uncorked his last touchdown pass by pitching a pass to sophomore halfback Tom Allsbrook who ran the remaining 30 yards for a touchdown.

The three scoring passes by Siler netted East Carolina a total of 106 yards while the other three bullet-like aerials consumed 45 yards for a grand total of 151 yards, an outstanding exhibition of passing from any T-quarterback.

Cage Squad Season Opens Saturday Night At Norfolk

Intramural Play To Get Underway With Nine Teams

Dr. N. M. Jorgenson, head of the department of physical education at East Carolina, has announced that play in the intramural basketball league is slated to begin at the beginning of the winter quarter.

Contrary to last year, this year's league is to be divided into two divisions. The A section, composed of players who have had experience playing basketball, and the B section, made up of boys who are somewhat less skillful.

Nine teams have already announced the names of its players. Among these are the defending champions of last year's tournament, "The Orphans."

Each team is requested to elect a reporter whose duty shall be to report the results of all games to the TECO ECHO.

The team rosters follow: The Orphans—Alston Burke, W.C. Sanderson, Robert Oliver, Julian Butler, James Corbin, Larry Stewart and Art King.

The Ball Hawks—Earl Davenport, Charlie Buck, Jimmy McCormick, Bill Tucker, Ola Porter, Hugh Hardee, Guy Wilson, Harold Edwards, Joe Cooper and Wade Davis.

The Seven Aces—Tippy Hayes, Jimmy Bazemore, Kris Anderson, Pete Williams, Jack Pickett, Paul Cameron, Gene Russell and Bob Julian.

Globetrotters—Jimmy Harris, Edgar Tadlock, Frank Hemingway, Earl Castellow, Leo Horner, Royce Jordan, Donald Rhodes, Tom Allsbrook, Tommy Perry and Billy Lamb.

Mac Eure's Team—Norman Clark, Mike Kovack, George Graybill, Bob Moye, Larry Kincaid, Metz Bizzell, Jesse Aldridge and Buck Hardee.

Berney Stevens' Team—Jack Huggins, Carl Beaman, Kenneth Holt, Johnny Haire, Billy White, Charles Henderson, Harper Wetherington, Berney Stevens, George Rose and Horace King.

Unnamed—Donald King, Paul Marness, Calvin Butte, Harold Colson, Dave Pennington, Bill Smith, Bob Anderson, Jimmy Ellis, J. W. Brown and Dallas Foscoe.

Unnamed—Blacky Trevathan, John Kennedy, Mickey Berman, Tommy Bullock, Leo Bishop, Russell James, William May, Harry Boyd and Flip Noble.

The Thunder Head—Larry Rhodes, Billy Lester, Nick Kanos, Boyd Webb, Gene Russ, Bert Crowley, Claude King, Gaither Cline, Paul Gay and V. M. Morrison.

Basketball will shove the favorite winter sport, football, into the background tomorrow night as Coach Howard Porter takes his East Carolina cagers to Norfolk, Va. to open a rugged 23-game slate against the highly regarded Norfolk Air station five.

In opening the 1951-52 campaign, the North State conference members will be undertaking its toughest schedule yet as they meet the conference members twice and take on several potent outsiders, including a Southern conference member, The Citadel. There are still two open dates on the Pirate schedule; however, Porter hopes that they can be filled soon.

Eight Lettermen Return

Porter has eight returning lettermen on this year's squad, and five newcomers that promise to be plenty of help to the Buccaneers. Returning are Lou Collie, Charles Butler, Sonny Russell, Paul Jones, Charlie Huffman, Toddy Fennell, Richard Blake and John Postas. Those out for the first time include Clyde Owens, Larry French, Cecil Heath, Carl King, Jack Carr and Leonard Sullivan. Bobby Hodges, a member of last year's potent squad, is currently on the football team, but he may report later in the season along with another griddier, Nick Kanos from Fayetteville.

No one was lost from last year's tall and sharpshooting aggregation which wound up in fifth place in the final standings, but retaliated in the tournament to walk off with runner-up laurels and advance into the finals of the Carolinas National association of Intercollegiate Basketball only to lose to High Point. However, last year the Bucs had a group of inexperienced freshmen leading the way.

Stars In Tourney

In the North State conference tournament last season, Porter's cagers delighted the fans with their brilliant style of play and placed four men on the All-tournament team, while Bobby Hodges was being named the tourney's most valuable player. Collie, Fennell, Russell and Hodges gained berths on the mythical squad.

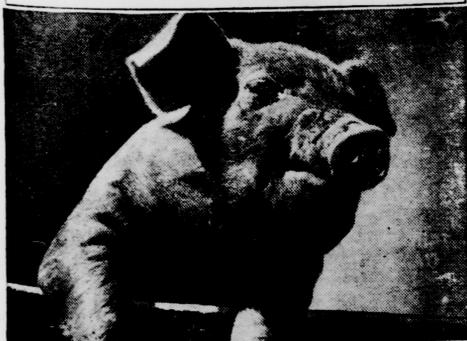

Porter has little to say about the outlook for the onrushing cage season, but he is delighted to have a group of experienced men around to work with, plus such outstanding freshmen as Carr and Heath.

The Pirate cagers will leave Greenville tomorrow at lunch for the Norfolk battle. Composing the traveling squad are Russell, Carr, Huffman, Collie, Fennell, Heath, Blake, Postas, Jones, King and Butler.

Next game on tap for the local five is December 1 when they open North State conference play against the Guilford Cadets and then take on Catawba December 4.

J. Paul Shеды* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

WHENEVER SHEDDY gave a gal the glad ham she turned up her snoot. Poor Paul took pen and oink and wrote a letter home: "I'm sty-mied. All the gals think I'm a boar. To get a date is a pig's feast!" His mother wrote back: "Even a dullard like you should know enough to borrow his roommate's Wildroot Cream-Oil! It's non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Makes your hair look neat and well-groomed." That was the pig-me-up Shеды needed. Now he's important... hogs and kisses all the girls. Better try Wildroot Cream-Oil yourself. Get it at your favorite drug or toilet goods counter—and ask for professional applications at your barber chop!

Backfield Runs Wild As Bucs Hi-Jack Flyers

The East Carolina college Pirates unleashed an impressive offensive attack to smother Cherry Point's Flyers 45-0, before some 3,000 fans at Varsity field Saturday afternoon. The victory marked the fourth against five defeats for the season.

After this punt the Marines took over but the Pirate line held and East Carolina gained possession once again when big Bobby Hodges broke through to partially block the Flyers' Tony Kapelewski's punt.

Paul Gay, assisted by a penalty, moved the ball to the East Carolina 48. On four plays Claude King and Tom Allbrook took turns carrying and moved to the Cherry Point 24. After John Daughtry gained two yards through the middle, Siler pitched out to King who plunged to the eight. Allbrook made a yard off right end, and Siler rifled a pass to Sloe who gathered in the pigskin all alone in the end zone. King's placement was blocked and the Bucs led 6-0.

After Bobby Hodges' kickoff the Marines were unable to move and Kapelewski kicked out to the ECC 49 where the locals started another drive. On two plays King carried to the CP 38. Benzie and King moved to the 25 on two thrusts. King gained six more and Siler passed to Shoe who was stopped two yards short of the goal line. The Bucs then lost 15 yards on a penalty but Benzie moved to the 10 after taking a pass from Siler. This pass preceded the "statue of liberty" play which saw Siler hand off to King who scampered the distance for the Pirates' second score.

The Pirates held a 25-0 halftime lead by virtue of two second period TDs. The first started when Hodges recovered the ball after Holland had blocked the Marines' attempted punt on the Cherry Point 20. Benzie plunged over from the one, five plays later. Again King's attempted conversion was blocked.

King then kicked off to the Marines who in turn kicked out of bounds on the ECC 41. On the first play Siler dropped back and threw a perfect strike to Benzie on the Marines' 40 from which point the blond halfback sprinted the rest of the way untouched for the score. Hawk Grissom came in and successfully converted the placement.

The Bucs scored one touchdown in the third period and then seemed to cool off. MacKenzie recovered a Marine fumble on the ECC 48. After Gay and King gained five yards on two plays, Siler passed to Allbrook and the Scotland Neck speedster outran three Marine tacklers to the goal line. This time Grissom's placement was blocked.

Jack Britt scored two fourth quarter touchdowns to close out the scoring for the Pirates. He capped off a 76 yard march by wiggling and twisting 43 yards through the entire Marine team for his first score and dashed eight yards for the second.

Lenoir Rhyne Takes NS Lead By Beating Christians 48-14

To the delight of some 8,200 partisan fans, Lenoir Rhyne ran circles around a highly publicized Elon eleven in Hickory last Saturday night in a convincing 48-14 surprise win to virtually assure the Bears of the North State championship. Only Catawba stands in the way of Clarence Stasavich's charges when the two clubs meet in Hickory Thanksgiving day to wind up North State grid play.

By registering the brilliant victory, Lenoir Rhyne became the first North Carolina college to receive bowl bids as they were invited to participate in the Pythian bowl at Salisbury on December 8 against a yet unnamed foe. The Burley bowl of Tennessee also had representatives on hand and extended an invitation to the Bears to meet Morris Harvey college on Thanksgiving day. This invitation was turned down due to an affair with Catawba on the same day. However, the Bears referred action on the Pythian bowl to their faculty committee.

Steve Trudnak, the potential All-

American from Lenoir Rhyne, came within one point of breaking the North State scoring record. He went into the game with 91 points and scored one touchdown plus six conversions to give him 103 points.

In other league play last weekend, Catawba had to push across a last quarter tally to defeat underdog Guilford 20-14. Guilford has not defeated Catawba since 1929.

East Carolina finally unleashed a powerful scoring punch as they ran roughshod over Cherry Point 45-0. The Bucs were demons on the ground and in the air and their defense was better than it has been all season. Appalachian, spearheaded by Jack Groce, marched to a 20-0 win over Erskine while Western Carolina dropped a 13-7 decision to a non-conference foe, Emory and Henry.

East Carolina Choir Renders 'The Messiah'

"The Messiah," the famous oratorio by George Frederick Handel, will be sung by the 46 members of the East Carolina college choir Thursday night, December 6, at 8 o'clock in the Austin auditorium.

Dr. Karl V. Gilbert, director of the choir, will conduct the performance and George Perry of the music faculty will be at the organ. Soloists for the production will be Carolyn Eisele, Statesville; Jeanine Emma Dunn; Alison Hearne, Greenville; George Starling, Roxboro; Leonard Starling, Rocky Mount; and Bernard Ham, Portsmouth, Va.

"Pop, will I look like you when I grow up?"
"Everybody seems to think so."
