Educators Make Four-Day Study Paper, Annual Get New Names On Standards During Visit Here

Committeemen Praise College Achievements, Suggest Improvements

An eight-member committee representing the American association of Colleges for Teacher Education and made up of educators from Maryland, Kentucky and North Carolina, reported to faculty members and administrative officers of East Carolina college Wednesday the results of a four-day study of standards at the college here.

Achievements of East Carolina as a progressive educational institution received praise from committee members and suggestions for further examination leading to improvement of standards were made. Studies of all member institutions are conducted at three-year intervals by the AACTE.

Hawkins Chairman
President Earle Hawkins of the State Teachers college, Towson, Md., acted as chairman at the meeting Wednesday and introduced the committee members. Each of the visiting educators, following standards set up by the AACTE, discussed and evaluated a single phase of the work offered by East Carolina or the organization and administration of the college. President Hawkins announced that a final written report would be available within three weeks.

In an evaluation of Organization, Objectives and Purposes of East Carolina, Dr. Hawkins commended the spirit of cooperation found in relationships among students, faculty members, and administrative officers; the democratic procedures evident in the carrying on of the work of the college; the friendly atmosphere of the campus; and the interest shown in the development of spiritual and moral values in education. He reported also on the College Library.

Committees Work
Others who discussed AACTE standards as they apply to East Carolina are: who made recommendations for strengthening the college program were Dr. Marjorie Palmquist, Morehead State college, Morehead, Ky., Student Personnel Services; Dr. W. A. Hartley, Maryland State Teachers college, Preparation of the Faculty; President Charles Spain, Morehead state college, Teacher Load; Dean Kenneth Brown, Maryland State Teachers college, The Teacher Education Program; Dr. Monroe Wickers, Morehead State college, Professional Laboratory Experiences; Dr. Wilbur Dewhills, University of Maryland, The Program of Graduate Work.

Dr. James Hillman of the State Department of Public Instruction, Raleigh, who worked with the committee of visitors, was introduced to the East Carolina staff and spoke briefly on the work of the AACTE group.

President John D. Messick of East Carolina expressed appreciation to committee members for their work on the campus.

National Science Foundation Offers Fellowship Awards

The National Science foundation has announced a program of fellowship awards in sciences for 1953-54 on both the predoctoral and postdoctoral level. This program represents a development of importance to higher education in the United States.

Fellowships will be awarded to all levels of graduate study in mathematical, physical, medical biology and engineering sciences, including physical anthropology, experimental psychology and physical geography. However, there are no awards given to the study for a M.D. degree.

Students who have demonstrated ability and special aptitude for advanced training in the sciences and who are eligible to take up graduate work are eligible for the fellowship awards. College seniors who will graduate this academic year may apply.

All students interested in applying for these awards should contact Dean Leo Jenkins for application forms and further information.

Hold Annual Rush Banquet At Country Club

The Sigma Rho Phi, campus service fraternity, held their annual rush banquet last night at the Greenville Country club.

A total of 48 persons were present, among them being 16 student guests and 12 members of the East Carolina college faculty and administration.

The banquet hall was decorated in the Hallowe'en motif and each guest was served half a fried chicken with all the trimmings.

Entertainment for the meeting was provided by the Bernie Ham trio composed of Ham Ernie Black and Bill Hobbs.

Bob Robinson, president of the East Carolina SGA, spoke briefly. He also presented the organization with a check for $25; the prize for first place in the float exhibit during the Homecoming parade.

Retiring fraternity president, Bob Hughes, passed the gavel to Charlie Fishell to close out the meeting. Fishell, who formerly served as vice president, will hold the presidential office for the remainder of the year.

Dr. Todd Speaks To Church Group At Vesper Service

"It is a shame that the laws of God must be camouflaged and imitated to make laws which govern man's everyday life and actions." This was the central theme of Dr. Richard Todd's talk, "The Hand of God in History," given in the vesper service at the Methodist Student center Sunday.

Dr. Todd told the story of the creation of the world and of man up to the Jews going to Egypt and the Promised land. As the Jews were about to enter the Promised land, God gave Moses the Ten Commandments which form the basis for man's laws today. History is the story of man's existence; he has developed along three channels—economic, political and social. In each of these fields, we have rules governing behavior. In economic they are known as ethics; in the social field, they are known as etiquette; and in the political realm, they are known as protocol.

When everything goes well, man tends to turn away from God. "We should realize in rosy times that God is the source of all blessings."

Tomorrow Deadline To Apply For Next Selective Service Test

Selective Service officials reminded college students that the deadline for submitting applications for the December 4 Selective Service College Qualification test is midnight, November 1 (Saturday), and that applications postmarked after that time cannot be considered. Local draft boards have an adequate supply of test application blanks on hand for draft-eligible students.

To be eligible to apply for the college deferment test a student must (1) intend to request deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction; and (3) must not have previously taken the Selective Service College Qualification test.

Another Test Date
Another test will be held April 23, 1953, but Gen. Hershey emphasized that increasing manpower demands make it important that each draft-eligible student who has not taken the test do so as soon as possible.

Students whose academic year will end in January 1953 have been urged to take the December 4, 1952 test so they will have a test score in their cover sheets before the end of their academic year, at which time their boards will reopen and reconsider their cases to determine whether they should be deferred as students. The present criteria for deferment

Young Democrats Represent Club At District Rally

The Young Democrats club of East Carolina college, headed by Bettie Brewer of Raleigh, vice president of the North Carolina YDC, and Hal F. Haire of Elizabethtown, president of the campus division of young Democrats, was represented at the first congressional district rally in Robersonville last Thursday evening.

More than 50 students attended the rally and several faculty and administrative officials also were present for the Democratic party gathering.

Dr. J. D. Messick, president of ECC, and members of the department of social studies joined the Pitt county delegation.

The YDC of East Carolina college is sponsoring a campus rally next week, with a prominent speaker engaged for the meeting, President Haire said today.

Fuller Appoints Williams Colonel Of ROTC Cadets

Floyd C. Williams, of Wilmington, has been appointed Cadet Colonel in charge of the nearly 600-man Air Force ROTC Cadet wing at East Carolina college. The appointment was made by Lieutenant Colonel Roger G. Fuller, professor of air science and tactics of the detachment.

Cadet Colonel Williams' first official act was to publish promotion orders announcing the cadets who would serve on his staff. The Wing Vice Commander is Cadet Lieutenant Colonel William A. McLawhorn of Greenville.

Other officers are Wing Operations and Training Officer, Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Maurice H. Moore Jr. of Wilmington, Wing Adjutant, Cadet Major Eugene B. Williams of Kingston, Assistant Wing Adjutant, Cadet First Lieutenant Gene A. Russell of Dover, Wing Sergeant Major, Cadet Master Sergeant Edward M. Foley of Greenville, Wing Administrative Assistant, Cadet Technical Sergeant Nicholas C. Garner of Newport.

Industrial Arts Club Inducts New Members At Meet In Flanagan

Initiation of ten new members of the East Carolina college Industrial Arts club took place in the Flanagan building on the campus Monday evening of this week. President Robert E. Pennington of Rocky Mount conducted the ceremony with the assistance of the faculty advisors of the group, Dr. Kenneth Bing and Donald Amelon.

Those who were received as members of the departmental organization are Giles Dell, Kingston; W. Richard Frazier, High Point; Rupert G. Fitzgerald, Selma; Rudolph Gay, Whitakers; David A. Holder, Goldsboro; Clyde C. Lane, Hertford; A. V. Medina, Greenville; Carol Potter, New Bern; Gene T. Sanderson, Chatham; and John B. Styrton, Stacy.

Standards Flexible
General Hershey has emphasized many times that the criteria are a flexible yard stick and that the standards may be raised anytime necessary for manpower demands.

The two forthcoming administrations of the College Qualification test represent the eighth and ninth testing dates of the program. In the first series of tests 64 per cent of the students achieved a score of 70 or better. In the second series 68 per cent of the students made 70 or better. The tests in all three series are equivalent in difficulty.

Bloodmobile Unit Visits Here

During the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile unit to the campus last week, there were 304 pints of blood donated by the students and staff members of East Carolina college. The unit's visit was sponsored by the Air Force ROTC unit at the college.

Campus Blood Donors Surpass Quota Set By Red Cross Unit

Air Force ROTC men and other East Carolina college students pushed four pints above the 300 pint quota which was set at the two-day stand of the Red Cross Bloodmobile at the college last Thursday and Friday.

During the first day of blood collection at the college by the Red Cross, donors were almost entirely ROTC personnel. At this time, 202 pints were collected, leaving at least 98 pints to be collected the final day.

Donors came in slowly Friday, but the quota, and a few pints more, was collected during the last hour of the bloodmobile's stand. ROTC men continued to answer the call Friday with other college students and a small number of faculty members.

In addition to volunteer workers from the Service league, which included Mrs. J. T. Little, recruitment chairman, and Mrs. L. T. Shotwell,

Recital Features Faculty Member Playing Trombone

Robert Gray, faculty member at East Carolina college, will be presented by the college department of music in a recital of works for the trombone Thursday evening, November 6, at 8:15 in the College theatre. Elizabeth Drake, pianist, of the East Carolina faculty will be accompanist. The public is invited to be present.

Mr. Gray, who joined the East Carolina faculty this fall as a member of the department of music, teaches brass instruments and theory of music and directs several brass ensembles composed of student musicians. Before coming to East Carolina, he taught at the University of Arizona and at Duke university, where he was director of bands. He is a graduate of the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y.

For his recital next Thursday Mr. Gray has chosen works by eminent composers of music for the trombone. The program will begin with the Prelude from Bach's "Violin Cello Suite II," and will include sonatas for trombone and piano by J. E. Gaillard and G. F. McKay, and selections by J. E. Barat and Robert Clershe.

Industrial Arts Club Inducts New Members At Meet In Flanagan

Initiation of ten new members of the East Carolina college Industrial Arts club took place in the Flanagan building on the campus Monday evening of this week. President Robert E. Pennington of Rocky Mount conducted the ceremony with the assistance of the faculty advisors of the group, Dr. Kenneth Bing and Donald Amelon.

Those who were received as members of the departmental organization are Giles Dell, Kingston; W. Richard Frazier, High Point; Rupert G. Fitzgerald, Selma; Rudolph Gay, Whitakers; David A. Holder, Goldsboro; Clyde C. Lane, Hertford; A. V. Medina, Greenville; Carol Potter, New Bern; Gene T. Sanderson, Chatham; and John B. Styrton, Stacy.

Direct results of the election held on the East Carolina Campus Monday have written a new page in the history of the two publications at this college, as the names of the TECO ECHO and "Tecoan" were changed by the student vote. "East Carolinian" and "Buccaneer" will be the new names of the paper and annual, respectively, and the change will go into effect next week.

Local Fellowship Varies Programs Of Work, Worship

This year the Westminster fellowship of the Presbyterian church has undertaken a varied program of work, worship and entertainment.

Among the programs of worship have been several presented by guest speakers: the Rev. Leonard W. Topping, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Greenville; the Rev. Lee Willingham, pastor of Hollywood Presbyterian church; and Mrs. J. B. Spilman, civic worker of Greenville. The first few programs, concerning the Christian's life on a college campus, were directed especially to the freshmen.

Hobo-Work days, which were observed the past two Saturdays, and Morning Worship, held every morning at 7:40 in room 14 in Austin building, are two of the projects undertaken thus far by the group. A party has been planned for Wednesday, November 5, at 7:30 p.m.

Officers of the Westminster fellowship are: Grace Giles from Linden, president; Harvey McPhail from Dunn, vice president; Pat Corbett from Farmville, secretary; and Betty Poole from Durham, treasurer.

Red Cross Lifesaving

The Red Cross Senior and Instructor Life Saving courses will be offered during the month of December in the college pool. Students interested in securing these certificates should turn in their names to Miss Nell Stallings or Dr. Charles DeShaw. Candidates must be at least 18 years old.

Perry Plays On Organ Before Bethel Group

George E. Perry, faculty member of the music department at East Carolina college, will give a recital of works for the organ in Bethel Tuesday, November 4. He will act as accompanist for Nell Rankin, soprano of the Metropolitan opera, when she appears in concert in Wilson tonight.

Mr. Perry will play in Bethel under the sponsorship of the city music club there. The program will take place in the First Methodist church at 8 p.m. and will be open to the public. Selections will include compositions by Bach, Hayden, Handel, Weinberger, Arcadelt and Rossi.

America's Future Homemakers Hold Rally At East Carolina

Seventeen counties in eastern North Carolina were represented at the annual District I Rally of the Future Homemakers of America, held at East Carolina college Saturday of last week. Approximately 800 high school students of home economics attended, according to Mabel Lacy of the East Carolina faculty, district supervisor.

Counties included in District I are Beaufort, Bertie, Chowan, Currituck, Edgecombe, Gates, Halifax, Hertford, Hyde, Martin, Northampton, Pamlico, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Pitt, Tyrrell and Washington.

Develop Leadership
The theme of the Rally was based on Purpose VI of the organization: "To foster the development of creative leadership in home and community life." Two general meetings were held in the Austin auditorium on the college campus.

President John D. Messick of East Carolina college gave the principal address of the morning. At the same meeting Dr. Bessie McNiel, director of the home economics department at East Carolina, welcomed the Klitty Campen of the Edgecombe

The Publications board at the college met on Tuesday of last week and passed on two names for each publication to be presented to the Student Government association here for recommendation for a student election. The names presented to the SGA by the board were the present names and the two names to which the two publications have been changed.

SGA Adds Names
Meeting on last Wednesday, the legislature added three more names to the list to be voted on by the student body at the Monday election. "Pirates' Log," "Sea Chest" and "Pieces O' Eight" were the other names.

The reasons that were given for the recommendation for the changes were that the names TECO ECHO and "Tecoan" were coined names, chosen when this college had "Teachers" in the name. The name of the college was changed in April of 1951 and students had been talking about changing the names of the publications since that time.

No Action Taken
No action was taken last year, though the matter did come up before the Student Government association. One of the arguments was that the students and other readers of the publications did not know what the names meant.

There were 434 votes cast for the name change of the annual, while 423 expressed opinion to the college weekly name change.

Students Attend State Legislature In Capital City

Fourteen students at East Carolina have been elected to represent the college at the North Carolina Student legislature in Raleigh November 20-22. The choice of representatives was made by the legislature of the college Student Government association.

Selected as senators at the legislature are Robert A. Bostwick, Franklin Springs, Ga., who is president of the college Student Government association; Jerome Goldsboro; and Mitchell Greenville.

Representatives will be Lloyd White, Roy Creech of Statesville, and Cox of Mt. Olive. Other representatives are: Raleigh, Christ; berlake and J. Dudley.

Five alternates among those Student legislature are: Jordan of Kennedy, Cox of Magnolia, and Sore.

Business to be transacted at the rally included the election of the treasurer of the state FHA organization. Marjorie Wright of the chapter presented candidates to the audience Saturday morning and suits of the election were announced during the afternoon.

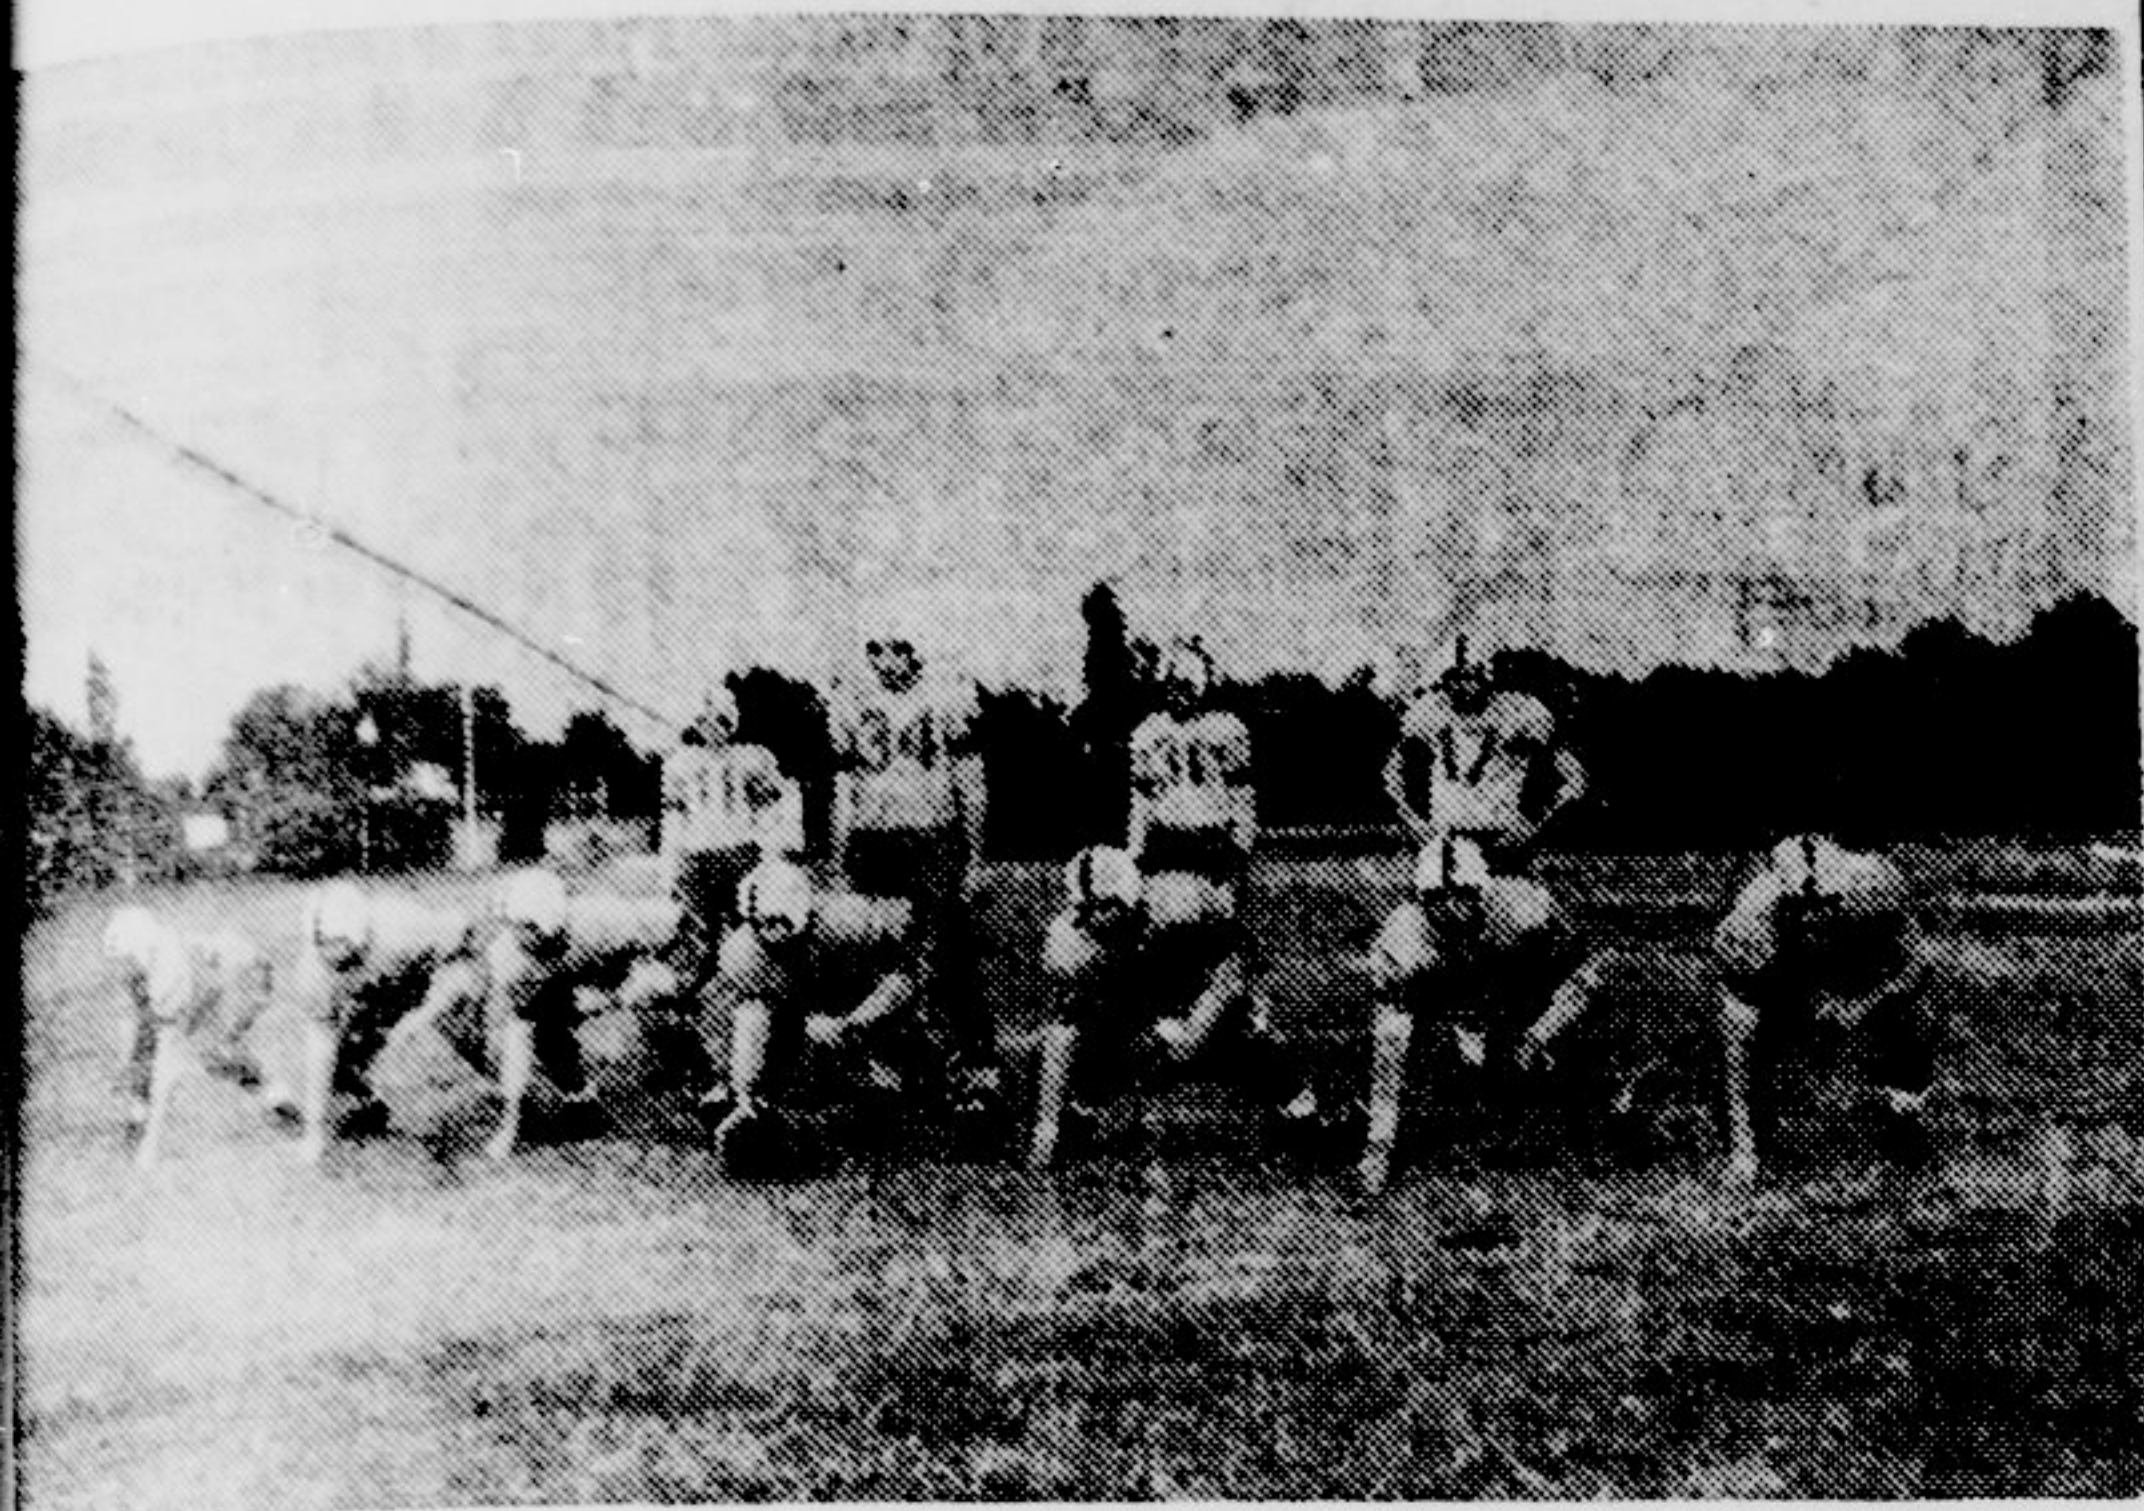

District officers of the organization are Kitty Campen, chapter, president; Woodland chapter, Hazel Pennington, secretary; and chapter, best. The chapter is the best of the home economics department at East Carolina, welcomed the Klitty Campen of the Edgecombe

Bucs Trample Guilford 41-0

Coach Jack Boone's East Carolina Pirates let loose an overpowering, scorching attack in Greensboro Saturday as they crushed a winless Guilford Quaker crew to the tune of 41-0.

Scoring in every period, the Bucs rolled at will over the hosts. The halftime score read 20-0. Five Pirates had a hand in the overall score. Paul Gay hit paydirt twice, Hal O'Kelley, Illard Yarborough, Dwight Shoe and Dick Cherry each adding one TD.

Two TD's Called Back Two ECC touchdowns were nullified by penalties. A 46-yard Sandy Siler to Jim Stanley pass and a nine yard Cherry to Hodges aerial were called back.

East Carolina scored early in the first period in a drive sparked by Yarborough and Claude King. The march started on the ECC 30 and ended with a 23-yard scamper by Yarborough.

Two more scores came in the second quarter. Tackle Bill McDonald recovered a Quaker fumble on the opponents' 15. A series of ground plays preceded Gay's three yard run into the end zone. Another fumble late in the quarter, recovered by guard Bobby Thomas, set up the third score. O'Kelley's one yard plunge did the trick. Hawk Grissom's placement was blocked after he had kicked true on the two previous attempts.

Gay Scores His Second In the third quarter the Guilford punter couldn't get off his kick and the Bucs were set again as they took over on the Quaker 19. ECC scored in three plays with Gay going over. Grissom converted. The next touchdown came in the same period on a Cherry pass. With the ball on the Guilford 27, Cherry hit Shoe on the 16 with Shoe going over from there. Grissom kicked his fourth.

The scoring final came in the last stanza. The Pirates marched from their 49 to the hosts' seven. Cherry then executed his bootleg play for the six-pointer.

East Carolina Completes Conference Play Tomorrow Afternoon Against Mountaineers

Eight Lettermen Report As Drills Begin For Cagers

Basketball practice at East Carolina college got underway Monday with eight lettermen and approximately 25 other prospects reporting to Coach Howard Porter. Several other players will report for practice after football season ends next month.

Returning lettermen include Warren "Sonny" Russell, Charlie Huffman, Cecil Heath, Richard Blake, Paul Jones, John Postas, Jack Carr and Carl King. Letterman Bobby Hodges will be among those reporting late.

Last season in North State conference play, the Pirates compiled a record of 10 wins and four losses which gave them third place in the final standings. In non-conference games, they won five while losing three, making their record 15-7 for the season. In tournament play, the Bucs advanced to the NAIB district finals before losing to Elon 75-67 and in the NS tournament lost their first-round game to Lenoir Rhyne 85-73.

During the first few days of practice, Coach Porter had the players running through some of the plays they used last year in addition to new ones they will probably employ this year. Full-scale scrimmages will not begin until the players are in better shape and familiar with the plays to be used by Coach Porter.

East Carolina college has scheduled 17 basketball games for the coming season, it has been announced by Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, East Carolina's athletic director.

The Pirates will open the schedule with a North State conference foe, Guilford college, in Greensboro on December 6.

Of the 17 games set so far, nine will be played at home in the new gymnasium which is to be dedicated during the winter months.

Athlete Of The Week

An indispensable ingredient in Coach Jack Boone's powerful concoction of gridiron strength is Paul Gay, sophomore halfback from Wilson.

A high geared performer for the last two seasons, the Buccaneer speedster is well-known and felt throughout the North State conference for his sensational "ball-toting." A 155-pound pound swashbuckling Pirate, Gay had a big hand in making Elon and WCTC walk the plank, and he didn't tarry a bit against hapless Guilford last Saturday night at Greensboro, either. The fancy stepping scat-back tallied twice and repeatedly flitted like a frightened phantom through the porous Guilford defense to set up scores.

In the second period he collaborated with Claude King to move down close to the home club's goal line. Gay then shot through for three yards and put EC out front, 14-0. Again, in the third quarter Gay crossed the double line-lines. This time he squirmed through a mass of would-be tacklers and set a course of clear, unmolested sailing for his fellow Pirates.

An All-Eastern conference player under Coach Hank Madden at Wilson and a top calibre performer for Coach Boone, Paul is a constant jeopardy to Mr. Opposition when he lugs the pigskin. Comparatively small as football players go, he relies on speed and pure finesse to compensate for size. His terrific ability to change pace is something every football player asks for in his prayers at night. Paul can practically stop on a dime and give you nine cents change!

One of the favorite gridironers on our campus, Gay is everyone's friend and his amicability makes him a great guy on and off the playing field. Majoring in physical education, Paul plans to coach high school sports following his graduation. Power to you, Paul Gay, ATHLETE OF THE WEEK.

Pirates Seek Initial Win Over Appalachian Squad On Boone Field

Writing an end to their 1952 North State conference schedule, the East Carolina Pirates travel to Boone this weekend for a battle with the Appalachian Mountaineers.

Currently in third place with a 3-1-1 loop slate, the Bucs will attempt to knock the fourth place Apps farther down the ladder. The opponent's conference record is 2-3. In the overall campaign the locals have compiled a neat 4-2 record while Appalachian sports a spotty 2-3-1 reading.

Top Loop Scorers East Carolina stands at the lead in the North State as far as scoring is concerned. The locals have run up 100 points while holding the opposition to a mere 30 markers. In the entire season the Bucs have totaled 142 to the competition's 48.

Coach Tom Huggin's App crew has a conference scoring record of 52 points while 54 markers have been tallied against them. The total Mountaineer scoring is 79 points to 81 for the opponents'. Coach Huggins, incidentally, is returning this season after a year in the Navy. Huggins was the North State Conference Coach of the Year in 1950.

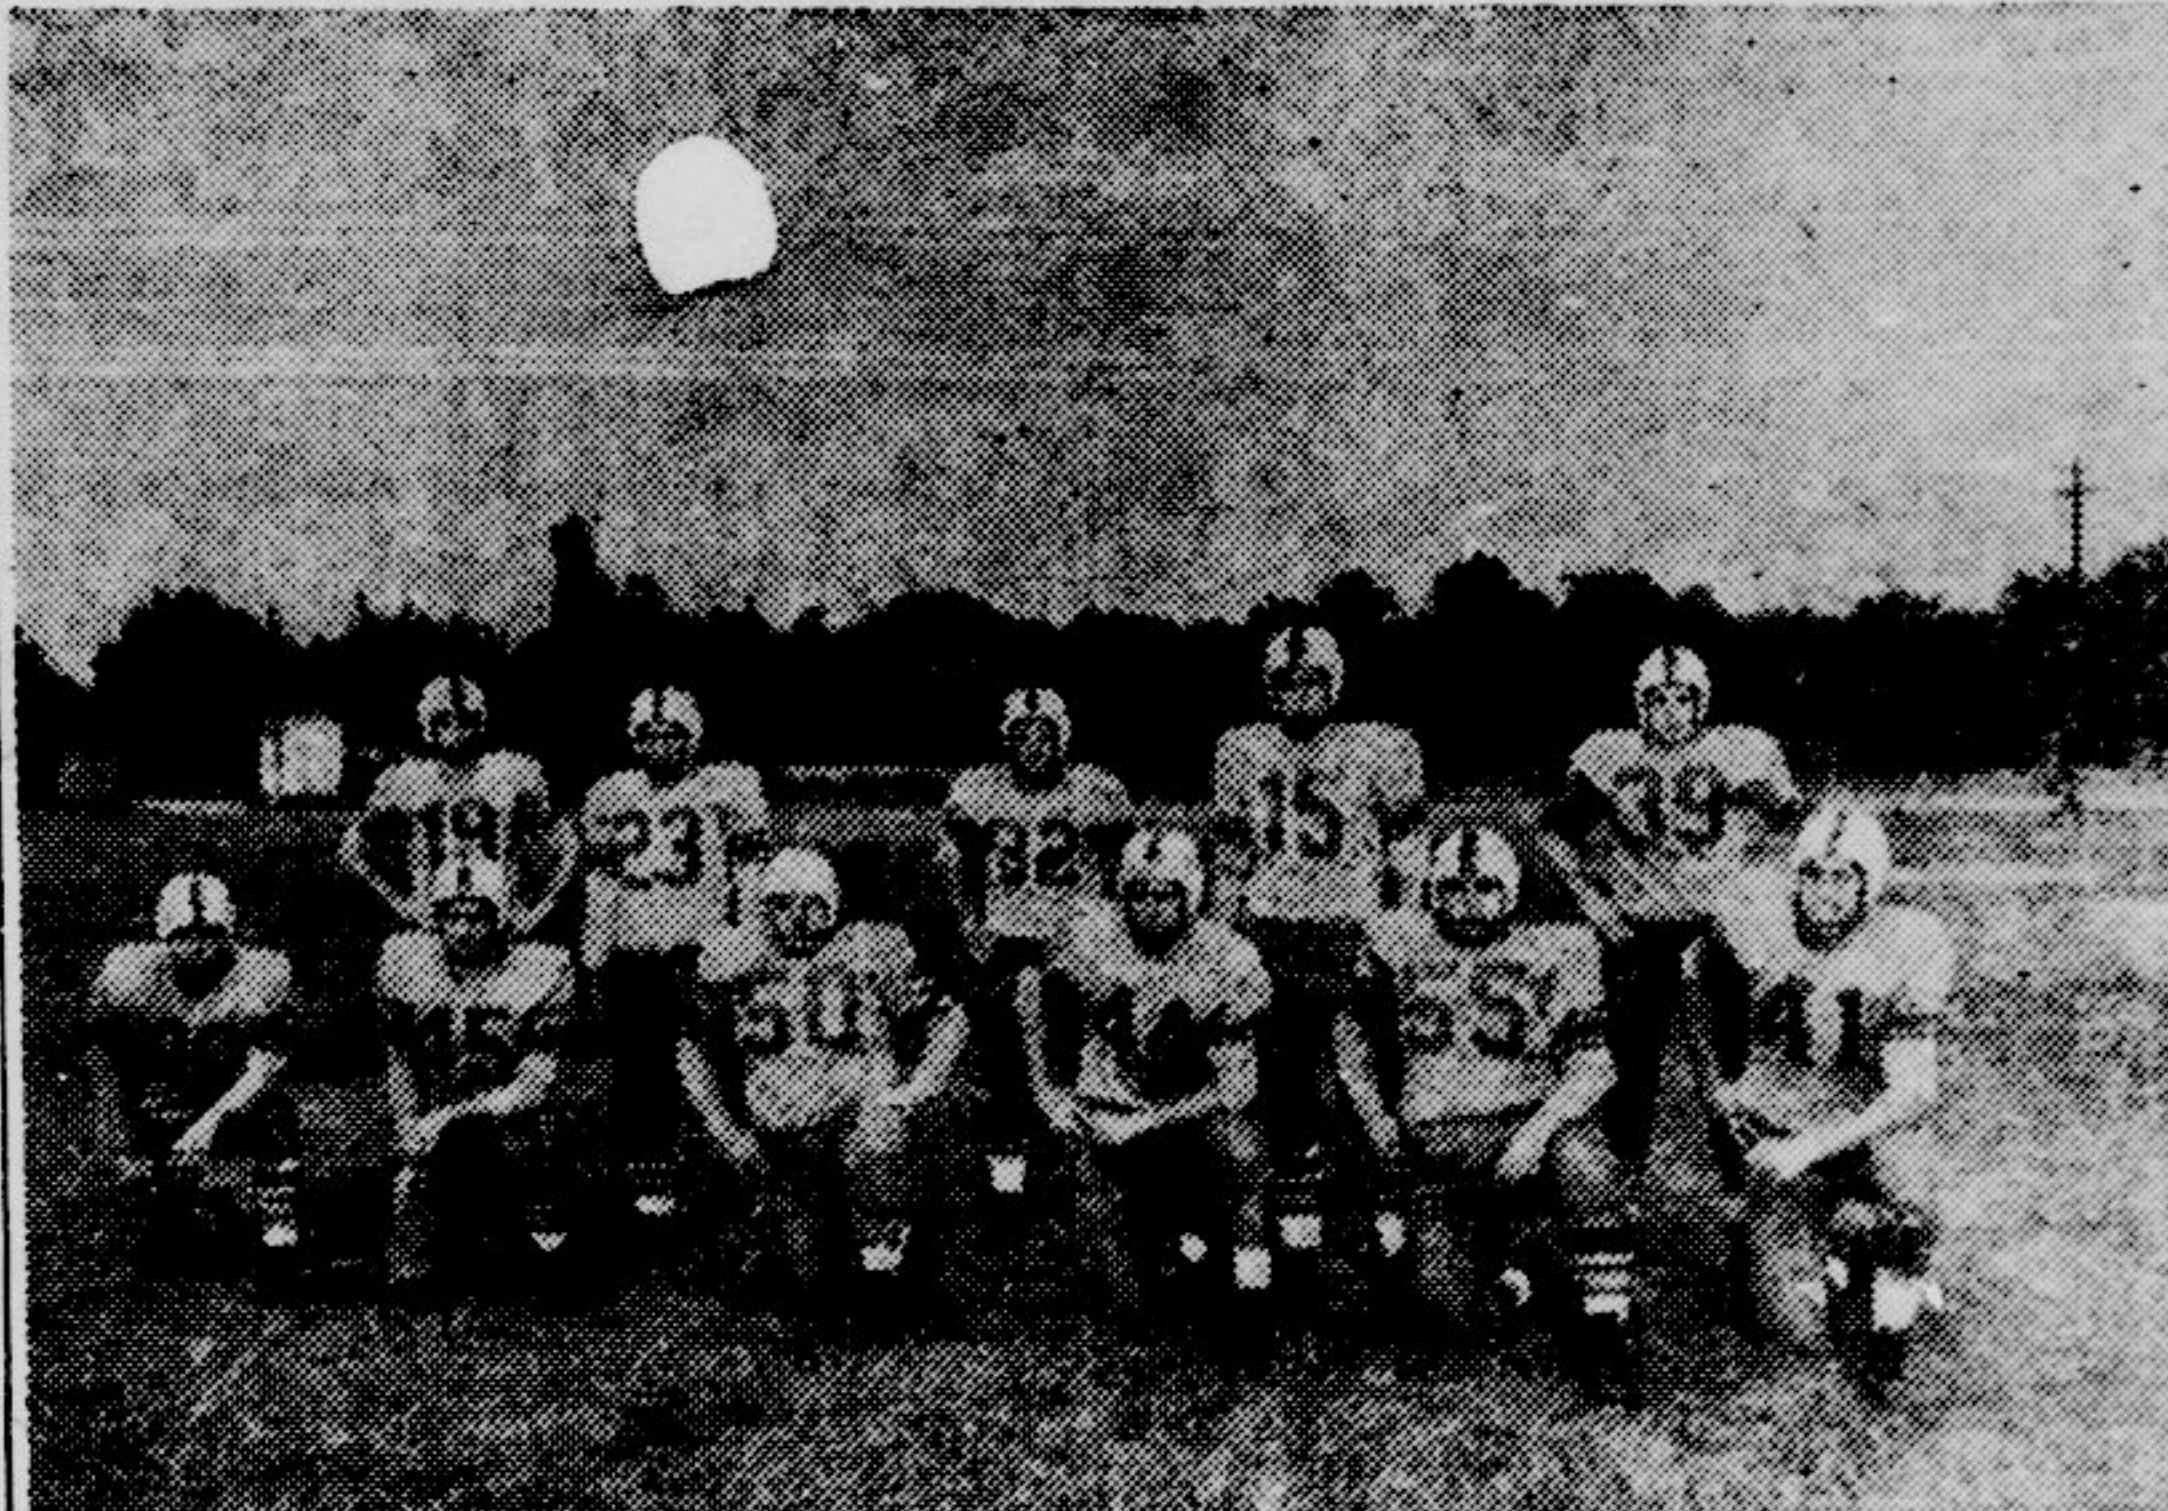

Pirates Favored Thus, as far as statistics go, the Pirates should be rated as favorites. But the Mountaineers are never to be ignored while playing in Boone.

The contest could very well turn into an offensive battle between ECC's Dick Cherry and the Apps' sensation, Jack Groce. Cherry, freshman quarterback from Washington, has hit for four touchdowns passes this year while running over two scores. Groce has been the Appalachian spark for the past two seasons and is respected throughout the loop for his all-around ability.

... As Defensive Pushes Them Back

And here is that formidable defensive unit drilled by new line coach, Clyde Biggers. These boys have allowed only 48 points to be scored for the opponents all season. In the line from left to right are Bradford, Holland, Thomas, Lee, Turner and Hodges. Linebackers are Madigan and Faircloth, with Hayes, Cherry and Barnes filling in the backfield.

Sports Echo by Whitt

East Carolina's offensive unit finally got rolling at Greensboro last Saturday night as the Pirates unmercifully walloped the small Guilford college club 41-0. Scoring in every period, the locals took advantage of every Quaker mistake, in packing up the impressive win as Coaches Jack Boone and Clyde Biggers used everything except the bench in the North State conference tangle.

The victory margin rally came as a surprise to the locals since the Guilford club was known to be potent and scrappy. Coach Boone had warned his club of cockiness for the losers had not tasted victory in five contests this season, but the defeats came by close scores. Even at halftime when the Bucs were out front 20-0, they were warned of what could happen in the second half.

Defense Important

Defense once again played an important factor in the triumph as the Quakers were able to penetrate into Bue territory only two or three times throughout the contest. In the second half, Coach Stuart Maynard's eleven never crossed the 50 yard stripe.

Perhaps Guilford was searching for a weak spot in the Pirate defensive wall. In past games the locals have been hit hard by injuries, particularly in the line. Time and time again the Quakers attempted to go over the guard positions, only to be raked.

Tomorrow afternoon the Pirates close out North State conference play at Boone against Appalachian in a crucial test. The Apps have one of the loop's better elevens and have always been hard to handle on their home field. They are currently resting in fourth spot in the league with a 2-3 record.

Last week the Apps were tied by East Tennessee 27-27 as Jack Groce and Ray Triplett were the big guns. Groce is an All-conference back and one of the fastest men in the loop. If the locals are to register a win, he will be the man to stop.

Homecoming For Apps It's Homecoming for the Appalachian school, and they have never been beaten by East Carolina on a gridiron, so it should be a thriller as the locals play their first afternoon game of the year. Next week's clash in Florida with Stetson university will also be a daytime battle.

Attendance around the league this season seems to be reaching a new high with the exception of Elon and Guilford. The Quaker school had only 500 fans on hand last Saturday in Greensboro. Lenoir Rhyne leads the loop in attendance with well over 30,000 in four games, followed closely by East Carolina. The Pirate gate shows a marked increase over that of past seasons and should soar above the 30,000 mark when the locals meet West Virginia Tech here November 15 in the season finale.

Pecking Away Football Medlies

by Bruce Phillips

The Guilford Quakers were passing around the smelling salts after suffering a terrific licking at the hands of the re-generated Buccaneers last Saturday evening at Greensboro. The Quakers were singing to the tune of "Have Mercy Baby" and the Pirates were jubilantly responding with "This Is the Beginning of The (Your) End."

The mammoth Senior stadium in Greensboro is one of the finest accommodating football parks for high school disposal that this writer has ever seen! With such a park East Carolina would certainly draw terrific crowds. Seems pathetic that we can't have such accommodations.

An interesting piece that appeared in Sunday's News and Observer: Dick

Cherry at his present rate of endeavor should easily be athlete of the year in the North State conference. Some of you may not be aware of the act that Dick reported to Wake Forest on September 1 and stayed three days. Although very impressive to the coaches there, he decided to leave and try out at a school nearer home. Just imagine how Tom Rogers and company feel about letting him get away!

There were about 1000 spectators at the Guilford game and about 100 of them East Carolina supporters. The noise made by our little group was astounding! It was a semblance of David and Goliath. Everyone was hitting it with great exuberance and "hanging loose" as the Pirates poured it on.

Buc Cage Schedule

December 6—Guilford, at Greensboro; 13—Lenoir Rhyne, at Greenville; 16—Catawba, at Greenville.

January 8—Appalachian, at Greenville; 10—Elon, at Elon college; 13—Guilford, at Greenville; 17—Lenoir Rhyne, at Hickory; 19—Western Carolina Teachers, at Cullowhee; 21—Catawba, at Salisbury; 28—High Point, at High Point; 30—Atlantic Christian, at Greenville; 31—Western Carolina Teachers, at Greenville.

February 2—Appalachian, at Boone; 7—McCrory's, at Greenville; 14—Elon, at Greenville; 18—High Point, at Greenville; 21—Atlantic Christian, at Wilson.

North State Conference Tournament dates are February 25-28, with the tourney scheduled to be held in Winston-Salem this season.

Math Majors Aid Weak Students

Seven senior mathematics majors have formed a coaching club to aid students in elementary college mathematics who need and desire help. Coaching classes will be held at night, each class consisting of not more than three students and lasting two hours. A fee of 50 cents an hour per student will be charged. This fee is to be paid at the conclusion of each class.

The instructors will hold classes as many nights each week as is desirable. A schedule of meetings will be drawn up and presented soon. Instructors are: Barry Eugene Harris, Russell Jarrett, Robert Oliver, Everette Whitley, William Pittman, Alton Blue and Joe Stroud.

Homemakers Elect Spruill Treasurer

Peggy Love Spruill, a student at Pamlico county high school, was elected treasurer of the North Carolina Future Homemakers of America at a Rally of District I of the organization at East Carolina college last weekend. Approximately 800 high school students of home economics, present on the campus for the Rally, participated in the election.

Alternates chosen are Joan Averett of Winterville, first, and Jane Crofton of Plymouth, second. Miss Averette and Miss Crofton are presidents of the FHA organizations in their localities this year. All three young women are members of the Beta club.

White Discusses Rules Of Christians At Meet

Why do Christians need rules or do they have any? These are some of the questions that will be covered in a discussion led by Miss Ruth White, dean of women, East Carolina, this Sunday evening at 6 o'clock at the Methodist Student center.

This fall the MSC has had some interesting and timely discussions led by faculty members of various departments and by other prominent citizens of Greenville. The attendance at Vespers on Sunday evenings has been unusual, according to club officers.

Reynolds Attends Meet

Dr. Charles W. Reynolds, director of the science department of East Carolina college, attended Friday in Chapel Hill a meeting of advisors of students in pre-medical courses.

NOSE, THROAT,

and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields — 10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
