

College Offers Scholarships To Forty High School Students

$100 each will soon be awarded by East Carolina College to promising high school seniors who need financial assistance in order to attend college. Dr. Clinton R. Prewett, chairman of the college scholarship committee, has announced.

Awards will be made by April 1, and recipients will be notified by April 15. The scholarships will be effective for the 1954-1955 term.

scholarships each year. "We hope," and we hope that they will prove to be a valuable factor in assisting outstanding students to complete their college work."

Basis for awarding the scholarships are need of financial assistance, total high school record, promise as a college student and citizenship qualities, according to Dr. Prewett.

High school principals throughout North Carolina have been informed about the availability of these scholarships to outstanding seniors in their schools. Already, Dr. Prewett states, a number of applications have been received from young men and women who desire to obtain a college education.

Any student who wishes to apply for a scholarship, Dr. Prewett has announced, should obtain an application form from him, record the proper information and return it to him as soon as possible.

200 SUMMER JOBS AVAILABLE TO STUDENTS

Approximately 200 work opportunities are available for Baptist college students in North Carolina this summer. The rewards for these jobs are valuable experience, some remuneration, and the means of rendering Christian service, states Gloria Blanton of the Baptist Student Union.

Two summer assemblies, Fruitland in the mountains near Hendersonville and Caswell on the beach near Southport, offer staff jobs for about ten weeks to 60 to 75 students. In various churches several types of work include that of minister of music, educational director, pastor's assistant and church secretary. Associational work involves teaching study courses, teaching and directing Bible schools and taking religious census. The State Training Union and Sunday school departments provide six weeks of work for students interested in teaching study courses, making surveys and training leaders.

Application blanks are now available for those interested in any of these various types of employment. They may be secured from Miss Blanton, Baptist Student Union counselor. Personal conference may be arranged with her at her office at the Center, by any student interested in learning more about these summer opportunities.

Weed Company Appoint Joyner Representative On Campus For Year

Max Joyner, sophomore of Greenville, has been appointed campus Phillip Morris cigarette representative, according to an announcement by Jim North, division manager of Phillip Morris and Co.

Max will assume his position Monday and will distribute sample cigarettes to students on campus. He replaces Dwight Garrett, who resigned in November.

Christian Living Provides Theme For Canterbury

Sunday night at the regular Canterbury Club meeting, Dr. Wallace I. Wolverton, rector of St. Paul's Church and Episcopal college chaplain, will present the introductory session of a four week series on the "Fundamentals of Christian Living."

The purpose of this series is to discover how the early Christians lived by going back to accounts of this in the Holy Writ and relating these accounts to lives today.

The reason for this program is to fulfill a need expressed by a number of students to find what is distinctive in being a Christian. By using the letters of St. John as a basis, it is hoped that answers to problems will result rather than just more problems being stated, Richard Ottaway, student worker of the church, said.

Adams Explains Electricity Functions To Industrial Arts

Frank C. Adams of Rocky Mount, senior at East Carolina College, presented a program on electricity at the January meeting of the student Industrial Arts Club of the college, held Tuesday in the Flanagan building. The meeting combined the program and a social gathering for members.

Adams' talk was given to create an interest among members in unusual functions of electricity. He gave a demonstration of an induction coil called a Thompson Apparatus, explained the use of a hand generator and demonstrated how to magnetize an iron bar with the earth's magnetism and how to play a radio by electromagnetic induction.

He: Yes.
She: Would you cry if I died?
He: Yes.
She: Show me how much you would cry.
He: Die first.

Alumni News

BURLINGTON-ALAMANCE JANUARY MEET

The East Carolina College Alumni of Burlington-Alamance chapter held the January meeting at the Bason home on West Front Street in Burlington with Misses Ida Walters and Helen Johnson as hostesses.

A short business meeting was presided over by President William C. Council. Mrs. Jennings Bryan gave the treasurer's report. Samples of the All-Occasion cards were displayed and orders taken for them.

The suite of rooms where bridge and canasta were enjoyed was beautifully decorated with growing plants. Mrs. Helen Pope and Mrs. Thomas Foley won high score prize, respectively. At the conclusion of the games all members played bridge rummy with Mrs. Jennings Bryan and Miss Martha Moseley as winners.

The hostess duo served a delectable sweet course with nuts and coffee.

1. Pilot training begins at Lackland Air Force Base, where Aviation Cadets get 3 months of officer indoctrination.

2. It's a hard grind, but Cadets also find time to relax.

3. In primary training the Cadet flies his first planes, a Piper Cub, and this T-6. Later he will fly the more advanced T-28.

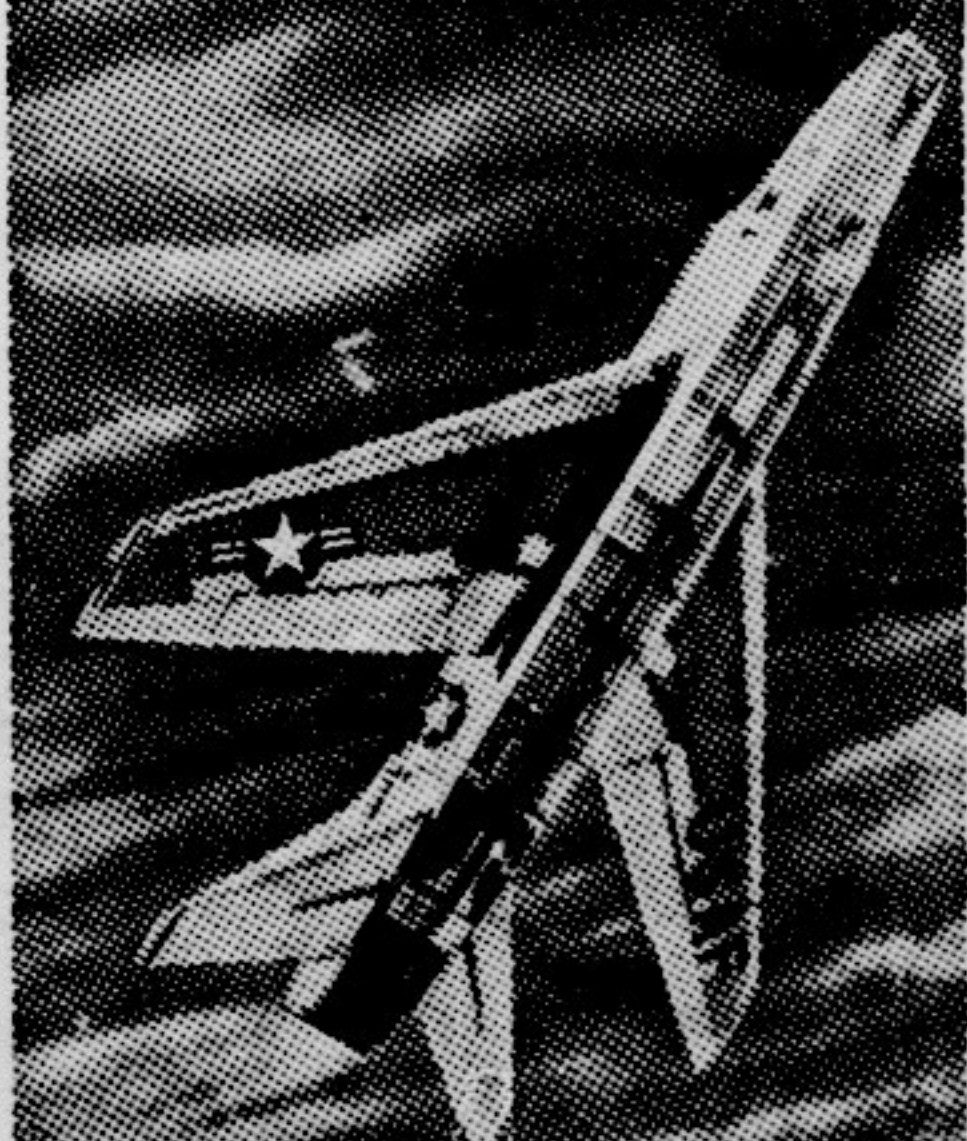

4. After flying conventional planes, he moves on to jets... going up with an instructor in this T-33 trainer.

5. He wins his wings as an Air Force officer, earning over $5,000 a year.

How to qualify for Pilot Training as an Aviation Cadet!
To qualify, you must be at least a high school graduate. However, you will be of more value to the Air Force if you stay in college, graduate, and then volunteer for training. In addition, you must be between the ages of 19 and 26½, and in top physical condition. If you think you are eligible, here's what you do: Take your high school diploma or certificate of graduation together with a copy of your birth certificate down to your nearest Air Force base or recruiting station. Fill out the application they give you. If you pass your physical and other tests, you will be scheduled for an Aviation Cadet Training Class.

6. Then winds up his training with the latest and fastest planes in the air

7. He's tested those silver wings... And won the respect and admiration that go to every jet pilot in the United States Air Force! From now on he'll rule the skies in an Air Force jet.

WHERE TO GET MORE DETAILS:
Contact your nearest Aviation Cadet Selection Team, Air Force ROTC Unit, or Air Force Recruiting Officer. Or write to: Aviation Cadet, Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Washington 25, D. C.
