International Authority Speaks Here Twice Monday

Lecture Series Brings Priestly In Speeches On Two World Topics

Dr. S. E. Gerard Priestly, historian, author, lecturer and world traveler, will speak twice here Monday, according to an announcement by college President John D. Messick.

Dr. Priestly will appear under the auspices of the Lecture Series; and his talks will be the fifth and last event included among these programs.

Topics on which he will lecture at the college have been announced tentatively as "America's Role in an Age of Crisis," at 10 a. m. in Austin auditorium, and "Will Asia Split America and Britain?" at 7:30 p. m. in Flanagan auditorium. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Dr. Priestly is especially interested in the fight against illiteracy, disease, hunger and poverty in the underdeveloped areas of the world and in the problems of land reform and has written extensively on these topics. He speaks from personal experience and observation in Eastern and Southern Europe, and the Near East and Latin America.

Educated in England and the United States, he holds four advanced degrees in history, political science, economics and theology. He has served on the faculty of New York University and as a visiting lecturer in Argentina, Peru and Chile.

As a leader in the field of international education, he is currently on a lecture tour which will take him to 20 college campuses across the United States.

Speaker Cites Teacher Merits At FTA Meet

Speaking to the members of the East Carolina FTA, Mr. Miles Hunt, Coordinator of Educational Organizations from the State Department of Public Instruction, said last week that the greatness of America is due to the contributions of its founding fathers.

Mr. Hunt went on to list the opportunities of the teaching profession "to help build an even greater America." He enumerated the outstanding qualifications that a teacher should have as goodness, knowledge and good professional training.

The meeting was conducted by the new president, Jane Ellen Riley. Other officers who have recently assumed their duties are Carol Lucas, secretary; Evelyn Taylor, treasurer; and Evelyn Sherman, vice-president.

Children On Campus To Attend Playhouse Work

Approximately 3,000 school children in Pitt County saw the annual spring play for young people produced by the Teachers Playhouse of East Carolina College and sponsored by the Greenville branch of the American Association of University Women.

"The Emperor's New Clothes," familiar and popular story by Hans Christian Anderson, was presented in three performances in the College Theatre last week and was attended by large groups of youngsters.

Three Students Attend ACE Study Conference At St. Paul, Minnesota

Three officers and their faculty advisor from the East Carolina branch of the Association for Childhood Education attended the International Study Conference of ACE in St. Paul, Minn. April 18-23.

Pat Corbett, president; Audrey Phillips, vice-president; Patricia Stanley, corresponding secretary and Dr. Eva Williamson of the education department participated in laboratory work, special study groups and visited the public schools during their stay in St. Paul.

They will report to the students on the conference at the next meeting of the ACE.

Oppelt Takes Top Position In NCAST For Coming Year

Dr. J. L. Oppelt, director of student teaching and placement here, has been elected president of the North Carolina Association for Student Teaching and will begin his duties in the office this summer.

Dr. Oppelt was chosen as president at a meeting of the association held last weekend at Salem College.

The North Carolina Association for Student Teachers is an organization of 89 members who are associated in their work with 20 colleges in the state. Belonging to it are administrative officers in charge of student teaching, supervisors and supervising teachers.

Those from East Carolina College who attended the meeting at Salem College are Dr. Elizabeth Uterback, supervisor of student teaching in the department of English; Eunice McGee, Mrs. Myrtle Clark, Mary Thomas Smith, and Mrs. Ellen Carroll, supervising teachers in the Laboratory School on the college campus; and Dr. Oppelt.

Methodists Offer Jobs In Religion

Students interested in summer service through the church are offered a opportunity in the Youth Caravans under the Methodist Student Movement.

Mami J. Chandler, director of the Wesley Foundation, has just received a communication from Dr. Harvey C. Brown, chairman of the committee on personnel for the Caravan Program, stating that local churches have requested 45 regular caravan teams and there are still openings for students who are interested.

Requirements for Youth Caravan Service are: at least two years of college, experience in youth work in local church and good health. The caravans serve for eight weeks during the summer, including a two-week training period at the expense of The Methodist Student Movement. Students pay their own travel to Caravan training center and back home from last point of service, but other travel and living expense is paid by the MSM.

Anyone interested in this Youth Caravan Service may get all information from Miss Chandler at the Methodist Student Center.

Wesley Players Hold Initiation Banquet

Alpha Zeta Chapter, Wesley Players, will hold its annual Initiation Banquet Thursday, May 6, in the Fellowship Hall of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church. Pledges who will be initiated are: Pearl May, Jarahnee Hinson, Laurie Holmes, Faye Lanier, Walter Johnson, Bobby Mann, H. W. Smith and Lorraine Estes.

Student Attends Meet On Christian Faith

The Christian faith, as a significant factor in choosing and conducting one's life work, was stressed at a student conference attended by an East Carolina College student in Richmond, Va. March 19-21.

Participating in the conference concerned with "The Christian and His Daily Work" was Joe Rex Wallace of Clayton.

During the convalescence 74 college men, representing 27 southern and eastern schools heard leaders from various vocational fields emphasize a "commitment to Christ" as the starting point in selecting a life work.

College Accepts Low Bids To Begin New Men's Dormitory

Bids were received at East Carolina College last week for the construction of a new dormitory for men, according to an announcement by President John D. Messick and Business Manager F. D. Duncan.

The bids were reasonable and within the funds available, Mr. Duncan states.

Approval of the State Budget Bureau in Raleigh must be secured, he explains, before contracts can formally be awarded; but it is hoped that the go-ahead signal will soon be received here.

The new dormitory will face Tenth Street and will be situated between Slay Hall and Tenth. Designed by Eric G. Flanagan of Henderson, it will be a red brick building and will provide accommodations for 302 men students.

Low bids announced today by Mr. Duncan were received as follows: General Contract—T. A. Lovjng and Co., Goldsboro, $478,985; Plumbing—C. L. Russ Plumbing and Heating Co., Greenville, $83,543; Heating—Bolton Heating Co., Raleigh, $24,790; Electricity—C. J. DeMers, New Bern, $28,315.

Directors, Chorists, Students Here

College Operates Music Camp

Music directors, church choir directors and students from high schools and junior high schools will be included among those attending the first Summer Music Camp here.

The camp will be in operation June 14-25. Four workshops, class work and private instruction, rehearsals of choral and instrumental groups and a series of recreation events are included in the schedule.

Two concerts, June 19 and 25, will present programs by the Camp Band, the Camp Chorus and the Majorettes. These events will be held on the College Athletic Field and will be open to the public.

Workshops are scheduled as follows: Choral Directors, June 14-19; Band Directors, June 21-25; Music for Elementary Teachers, June 22-23; and Majorettes, June 14-19.

Dr. Kenneth N. Cutbert, director of the department of music, will be camp director. Eight members of the college faculty will be instructors in band, chorus, theory, music literature, voice, instrumental music, conducting and other subjects.

Mark Hindsley, band director at the University of Illinois, will serve as band director June 21-25. Toni Gill of Salem College and Shirley Leary of Woman's College UNC, both of Elizabeth City, will be instructors of majorettes.

College dormitories and cafeterias will be open to those attending the camp. The services of the college physician and the facilities of the campus infirmary will also be available.

Democrats Adopt New Constitution

The Young Democratic Club adopted a new constitution at a special meeting last Monday night. James Limmer reported the constitution out of committee and it was accepted unanimously by the body. Carrying the reorganization movement farther, a committee was appointed to revise the by-laws and report back to the club at the regular May meeting.

The move to rejuvenate the club's constitution and by-laws is being pushed to completion this year in contemplation of an active and early beginning next fall. The club will present its record to Young Democrats from all over the state early next fall at the annual state convention.

Methodist Plan Party For Fellow Graduates

A party honoring all Methodist students who will graduate this Commencement will be given Monday, May 3, in Fellowship Hall of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church.

Patsy Davis, newly elected chairman of recreation for the Wesley Foundation, with members of her commission, are planning a celebration for the seniors.

Wesley Players Hold Initiation Banquet

Alpha Zeta Chapter, Wesley Players, will hold its annual Initiation Banquet Thursday, May 6, in the Fellowship Hall of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church. Pledges who will be initiated are: Pearl May, Jarahnee Hinson, Laurie Holmes, Faye Lanier, Walter Johnson, Bobby Mann, H. W. Smith and Lorraine Estes.

NC Governor, Editor Speak At Commencement

The Governor of North Carolina and one of this country's most outstanding religious leaders will speak at commencement exercises at East Carolina College in May, according to an announcement by college President John D. Messick.

Governor William B. Umstead will address 1954 graduates and guests of the college Monday morning, May 24, at 10:30. Exercises will be held in the Wright auditorium and will include the conferring of degrees on approximately 350 seniors and graduate students.

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, editor of the Christian Herald, will preach the commencement sermon, Sunday, May 23, at 11 a. m., also in the Wright auditorium.

Dr. Poling is noted as a minister, editor, novelist, radio speaker, leader of civic movements, counselor of philanthropists, and friend of youth.

A dynamic religious leader, he has served as president of the International Society of Christian Endeavor Union.

For ten years he was pastor at the Marble Collegiate Church in New York City. In 1936 he went to the Baptist Temple in Philadelphia. He continues there as Chaplain of the Chapel of Four Chaplains, and interfaith memorial to the four young clergymen of three faiths who lost their lives in the sinking of the "S. S. Dorchester." His son, the Rev. Clark V. Poling, was one of those Chaplains.

He is the author of 23 books, including four novels. His book reviews, numbering more than 300 annually, are widely quoted; and his syndicated column, "Americans All," appears in leading daily journals of the country.

In recognition of Dr. Poling's six

Annual May Day Celebration Set For Saturday On Athletic Field

1953-54 May Queen . . .

. . . Kitty Brinson

Queen Kitty Brinson Reigns Over Day's Fete After Crowning At 3:30

The crowning of the May Queen, Kitty Geringer Brinson of Draper, will highlight the May Day program to be held on the athletic field at 3:30 p. m. Saturday, May 1.

Margaret Sabeel, SGA president for the 1953-1954 term, will crown Mrs. Brinson as Queen.

Mrs. Brinson will have Gail Dorsey as her Maid of Honor. Other attendants to the Queen are Mary Frances Peterson, Barbara Moore, Carolyn Burnette and Anise Kelly representing the Senior Class; Barbara Coghill, Ann Siler, Pat Dawson, and Willa Dean Lindsay from the Junior Class; Pat Shipp and Shirley Moose of the Sophomore Class; and Pat Wilson and Janie Millikin representing the Freshman Class.

Also participating in the court will be Sue Worthington and Martha Lou Murphy, heralds; Dottie Ann Matthews, crown bearer; and Vivian Talley and Nancy White, flower girls.

After the crowning of the Queen, attention will be centered around the theme "The Passing of the Four Seasons." Dances to the tunes of "Blue Skies," "September Song," "White Christmas," and "Easter Parade," will be performed before the Queen and her attendants.

Another attraction of the program will be a traditional May pole dance performed by members of the Queen's Court. Songs, dances and costumes are to represent the four seasons of the year. There will be approximately 75 people participating in the program.

Music, under the direction of Robert Gray of the faculty, will be furnished by the Brass Ensemble. Recorded music will be used also. Charles Huffman, past SGA first vice-president, will act as master of ceremonies in natural science. First and second prizes of $25 and $15 will be awarded students presenting papers judged best at the Collegiate Academy meeting here.

EC students who will appear on the program have been announced as follows: Charles A. Edwards, Margaret Ann McIntosh and Joe Rowland.

Science Academy Meets Here For Annual Session

Organization of a Collegiate Academy of Science, sponsored by the North Carolina Academy of Science and composed of undergraduate students of science in colleges and universities of the state, will be among items of the annual meeting of the Academy at East Carolina College May 7 and 8.

The organizational meeting will take place Friday, May 7, at 2 p. m. in the Flanagan auditorium. Dr. Donald B. Anderson of State College, president of the North Carolina Academy of Science, will preside. A president, a vice-president and a secretary-editor will be elected by students.

A program of eleven papers by undergraduates in seven N. C. colleges and universities will be included on the program offered at East Carolina by the Collegiate Academy. Papers will be based either on original research or on reading done on specific subjects in natural science. First and second prizes of $25 and $15 will be awarded students presenting papers judged best at the Collegiate Academy meeting here.

EC students who will appear on the program have been announced as follows: Charles A. Edwards, Margaret Ann McIntosh and Joe Rowland.

Sophomore Plays In Piano Recital

Jack Williford of Farmville, sophomore, will be presented Sunday afternoon by the college music department in a recital of works for the piano.

A pupil of Elizabeth Drake of the faculty, Williford is one of a small number of undergraduate students chosen to give recitals during the present school year.

Sunday afternoon's program is scheduled for 4 o'clock in the Austin auditorium. The public is invited.

Williford will play Beethoven's Sonata, op. 31 no. 2 (The Tempest) and Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 6. Other numbers on the program will include compositions by Bach, Schubert, Prokofieff, Khachaturian, and Gluck.

FBLA Members Cop State Offices At High Point Meeting

Bobbie Lou Avant of Whiteville was recently elected state president of the Future Business Leaders of America and Shirley Newton of Farmville was elected treasurer.

Dr. James L. White, state advisor of FBLA in North Carolina, and seven FBLA members attended an organizational meeting of the FBLA in North Carolina, April 23-24, at High Point College. Members attending were Bobbie Lou Avant, Ed Gore, Jarahnee Hinson, Jack Latta, Shirley Newton, Howard Rooks and Belinda Newsome.

The High Point Chapter of FBLA entertained at a banquet and dance Friday night.

The purpose of this meeting was to form a state chapter of FBLA. The Future Business Leaders of America is sponsored by the United Business Education Association.

A constitution, drawn up by members from East Carolina, was submitted at the meeting for approval and state officers were elected. President Bobbie Lou Avant will be one of the two state delegates to attend the National Convention in Dallas, Texas, June 13-15. Plans are being made to sponsor the movie "Rhapsody" at the Pitt theatre May 9-10. The purpose is to raise money to send delegates from the local club to the National convention.

Group Completes Central NC Tour

Thirty-five members of the Science Club at East Carolina College made their annual spring educational tour last Saturday. They were accompanied by their faculty advisors, Dr. Christine Wilton and Dr. J. O. Derrick.

The group traveled by chartered bus and visited various points of interest in the state. The trip took them to Morrow Mountain State Park near Albemarle, the Aluminum Company of America at Badin, and the power plants there; and the Planetarium at Chapel Hill, where they saw the Easter show.

The trip was arranged by Ray Kirby, president, Lois Ann Tucker, vice president, Pete Williams, tour chairman and other officers of the Science Club.

Those who made the tour are active participants in the club program during the school year and students with no unexcused absences from their classes. Funds were raised at the annual celebration on the campus of Sadie Hawkins Day, a project of the Science Club.

SPORTS ECHO

by Bob Hilldrup

There wasn't much of a crowd on hand at College Field Saturday but those that were there saw some of the worst baseball and some of the more amusing spectator antics observed in these parts for some time.

The campus was virtually deserted, as is generally the case on week-ends, but of those who stayed behind a goodly portion journeyed at one time or another during the afternoon to the baseball diamond where East Carolina and Atlantic Christian were engaging in another fray.

Pitching for the Bulldogs was "Long John Marley," so called because of his six foot, ten inch frame. Marley, who by the time he has finished his wind-up practically hands the ball to the catcher, had beaten the Pirates earlier in the year. Saturday was not his day however, as the Bucs clubbed him from the mound after five and two thirds innings of play.

After practically everyone on the playing field had had a chance to make an error (16 were committed in all) the meeting adjourned but in between the "Play Ball" cry and the final putout the Pirate rooters had a field day at the expense of Atlantic Christian players fans, and especially one Offie Lockamy.

Marley came in for his share of razzing because he played against the Bucs in basketball, the other AC players and fans caught a little Buceaner sarcasm on general principles but poor Lockamy suffered a ventral barrage from 2:30 til nearly dusk.

An ex-East Carolina student, Lockamy transferred to arch-rival Atlantic Christian about a year back, leaving numerous friends and fraternity brothers behind. Never one to avoid an argument, Lockamy, who currently is serving as manager for the Atlantic club, had a job on his hands when the entire Pirate cheering section got on his back.

Despite the endless stream of verbal abuse tossed at our visitors we feel that this is an expected part of any athletic contest. Spectators cannot be expected to sit silently during the course of a game but we also hope that this practice will not be carried too far.

Saturday's jockeying was without malice. We hope it was taken in the same spirit and that, when the time comes, East Carolina's players and students can "take it" with the same good humor as did Atlantic Christian.

Tract Team At State, Bucs Defeat ACC

First Meet In History Slated For Tomorrow; As Bucs Face Wolfpack

by J. W. Browning

Coach Leon Ellis' track team will open its season at North Carolina State in Raleigh tomorrow. The local tracksters have been practicing for a month and should be in top shape for the State Wolfpack. State has been defeated by Carolina, 172-14, and by Duke by a score of 156-15. Interest is high concerning the new track team at East Carolina for this is the first season in the history of the school that there has been a track squad.

The tracksters will not run the low and high hurdles. Below is a summary of the events and participants of each:

100-yd. dash—Bobby Perry, Emo Boado and "Topsy" Hayes.

220-yd. dash—Bobby Perry, "Topsy" Hayes and Bob Chambers.

440-yd. dash—Emo Boado, Tommie Thompson, Bob Chambers and Jack Pickett.

880-yd. dash—O'Bryhm Edwards and Don Fratio.

1 Mile—Garland Tuton, Willard Roberts, "Topsy" Hayes, Emo Boado and Bobby Perry.

Javelin—Eddie Hurst.

Pole vault—Eddie Hurst.

Discus—Dave Lee and Tommie Thompson.

Shot—Dave Lee.

Broad jump—"Topsy" Hayes and Bobby Perry.

High jump—Don Harris, Jack Pickett and Eddie Hurst.

Football Squad Looks To Good Season

by Bruce Phillips

The school year is rapidly drawing to a close, ringing down the curtain on the most successful sports year ever enjoyed by Pirate teams. The most repeated question now is "What about next year." This is the first in a three-part series of articles on next year's football, basketball and baseball expectations.

Coach Jack Boone's power-packed gridiron will again unveil a smashing gridiron machine from all reports when the chalk lines unravel next fall. Barring unforeseen interference from Uncle Sam during the coming summer months, the defending North State Champions will welcome back 26 lettermen in a reporting squad of around 50 players, including incoming freshmen. Included in the lettermen, are five All-Conference performers—Tackle Willie Holland, Guard David Lee, Center Louis Hallow, Fullback Claude King, and Quarterback Dick Cherry. Even higher honors went to Cherry and Halfback Paul Gay as they pulled down All-State honors. The sensational Cherry also was placed on the Little All-American team.

Coach Boone has seven ends returning for duty. Larry Rhodes, 6-1 pass-snagger from High Point, showed sparks of brilliance last season with his outstanding catching and fine defensive tactics. J. D. Bradford, a returning junior from Fayetteville, will probably see plenty of clock time at one of the flanks. Last season he proved himself a fiery defensive performer. The plentiful source of endsmen include Bob Chambers of Salisbury and Harry Rainey of Lexington, both rising juniors who should get into the show for the Pirates next fall. Freshmen Ray Pennington and Charles Helms, two big fellows who weigh in around 200 pounds and stand well above six feet are outstanding men to watch. Pennington, particularly, has great dexterity and ability to move.

Big, Bad Tackles

The weight and fight of the Pirate tackles that'll return would make any "big" college coach let out an envious sigh. Leading the middle men will be Willie Holland, All-Conference tackle from Wilson. The 220-lb. hustler will be a senior next year and you can bet your bottom dollar his gridiron performances will be in graduate style. Coach Boone will depend upon this year's superb freshman for next season's starters. Among the candidates are Chester Rogerson, Don Larimore, Ray "Bull" Overton, and Charles Smith. All are hefty, rock-ribbed individuals who play football more like seniors than yearlings.

The guards make the tutoring staff come forth smiling. Here, East Carolina can match player for player with any club in the state. Heading the boat of Grade-A performers will be David Lee, All-Conference from Tarboro. Lee has two more years of eligibility and already is one of the finest guards in the South. Another lineman who draws acclaim from those who really know football is Don Burton. This rock'em, sock'em junior from Roanoke Rapids is the kind of player every coach dreams about—a hustler and a lover of contact. He has demanded by his give-and-take style of play the admiration and respect of every opponent the Pirates encounter. Others who can jar you into next week with their smashing line play are George Tucker, Dickerson, George Rice, Paul Popov, Tim Krmon, William Chadwick, and Anwer Joseph.

Selected All-Conference and honorable mention All-State was Louis Hallow who will be back next year at center. This outstanding linebacker is gaining the reputation as the most savage tackler in North Carolina. Gaither Cline, senior from Gastonia, is another center who will contribute much to the Pirates' fortunes next fall. Waverly Ohesson also will be groomed for plenty of action at the snapper-back post.

Honorable mention Little All-America, All-State, All-Conference are the banners that go with Dick Cherry's name. The blond quarterbacking genius will be returning for two more years of gridiron wars and we submit only one word in connection with Cherry's football aptitude—class! Boyd Webb, another senior from Gastonia, enjoyed his best year last season and will return for the second-in-command position under the center. Milt Collier, who proved himself as a passer last year will also return.

The halfbacks will number many and the calibre will be terrific. Among them will be All-Stater Paul Gay, Topsy Hayes, Emo Boado, Tom Allsbrook, Jim Stanley, Bobby Gay, Jerry Holt, Harold O'Kelly and newcomer Gary Maddox are the swiftest that you should keep an eye on.

The schedule for next year calls for West Chester in the opener. Lenoir Rhyne in Hickory is the second affair. We saw a 32-13 victory for the Pirates. Coach Clyde Biggers brings his vengeance-bent eleven here on October 2. We guess a 14-12 squeaker for the Pirates. Next Elon furnishes the opposition in Burlington. We expect a 36-0 win for the Pirates. On October 16 WCTC comes to town to taste a 26-12 defeat. East Tennessee comes further East on October 23. A 32-12 win for the Pirates. The Pirates motor to Appalachian on October 30. We believe something like an 18-0 win for the Pirates. Tampa will be heated by a 28-6 thrashing from the Pirates on this Florida trip. Stetson will bow in College Stadium by a 42-0 count on November 13.

Two more runners reached base and then Coach Earl Smith called on freshman Mac Cherry to relieve Piner. Cherry forced James Gray to ground out to save the win for Piner.

A total of sixteen errors were committed in the shoddy and loosely played contest. Ten were charged to East Carolina with third baseman Ray Pennington committing four.

The fielding gem of the day came in the eighth inning when Atlantic Christian's Ronald Percise drove a screeching fly ball to deep center field. The Buc's Major Hooper scuttled back in time to make a leaping, one-hand catch to cut down a potential extra-base blow.

Piner surrendered ten hits in pitching the win while East Carolina could collect but nine. Williams, in addition to his triple, reached Piner for a homer and two singles in five trips to the plate.

Hooper, Cecil Heath, Jones and W. C. Sanders each collected two hits for the Pirates.

The win gave the Bucs a 5-2 record in the Eastern Division of the North State Conference.

Wednesday the two teams meet again when the Quakers come back to Greenville for another contest. A week from tomorrow the final contest of the year between the two clubs will be played at Guilford.

Following the series with Guilford the Pirates will have only three more games on their slate. A doubleheader at Elon May 8 may well decide the division's top position. Elon currently owns an 8-1 mark with their only setback coming at the hands of East Carolina.

The final game of the year will be played here against arch-rival Atlantic Christian with the Bohunk Trophy once more at stake.

Piner Pitches Triumph As Buccaners Regain Bohunk From Bulldogs

Senior Righthander Jim Piner, out with a sore arm for much of the season, pitched East Carolina to a 9-7 win over Atlantic Christian College here Saturday in a game marred by 16 errors.

The win brought the Bohunk Trophy, the victors' prize in contests between the two schools, back to East Carolina.

East Carolina jumped on the Bulldogs six foot, ten inch hurler, John Marley in the last of the third for four runs. The Bulldogs came back for two in the top of the fourth but the Pirates matched it in the latter half of the same inning.

Errors gave the Bulldogs two more in the top of the sixth but a three run outburst by the Bucs in the same inning provided the winning margin. Paul Jones singled home Piner and Cecil Heath scored from third when the ACC catcher dropped a third strike on Bob Penley. Jones and Penley then combined for a double steal to give the Bucs their third run.

In the ninth inning, however, the Bulldogs threatened to pull the contest out of the fire. Successive Pirate errors put Ronald Percise and James Davis on base and then Jerry Williams, the day's batting star, tripled home both runners. Williams was out, however, trying to stretch the blow into a home run.

Two more runners reached base and then Coach Earl Smith called on freshman Mac Cherry to relieve Piner. Cherry forced James Gray to ground out to save the win for Piner.

A total of sixteen errors were committed in the shoddy and loosely played contest. Ten were charged to East Carolina with third baseman Ray Pennington committing four.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason... enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco... light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better... always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

When buddies ask me for a smoke, "What do they get from me?" "He's finer smoking pal," I say, "Cause L.S./M.F.T!"

State Downs Buc Tennis Squad

North Carolina State defeated East Carolina, 7-2, in a tennis match at the victor's home courts Monday. It was the third loss of the season for the Bucs against an equal number of victories. Gene Russell came through for the only singles win the Pirates could obtain. He defeated State's Brinkley, 6-2, 2-6, 6-1, in an exciting marathon which lasted almost two hours. Paul Cameron and Bob Williams defeated Copperfield and Henry, 6-1, 6-2, for the only other point the Pirates could obtain.

The Pirates play host to High Point here next Thursday and Friday in two matches that will have a serious bearing on the loop championship. On Saturday, Wake Forest will come to Greenville for the last match of the season for the local netters.

Phi Sigma Pi Members Elect New Officers; Junior Takes Top Post

Other officers chosen were Keith Goodson, vice-president; Clarence Brown, secretary; and Dalton Mann, assistant secretary. Percy Wilkins was elected treasurer and J. C. Thomas sergeant-at-arms.

The new officers will assume their duties after installation at a Founders Day Banquet to be held at the country club on May 6.

Colson will replace outgoing president James Ellis.

No Dance

There will be no May Day dance Saturday night. Rumor on campus this week was that Ray Anthony would be down. However, members of the May Day Committee confirmed that there would be no dance.

A dance had been considered, but a band could not be secured.

News Briefs From Other Colleges

PEEVED, ANYONE
(ACP)—At the University of Toledo, Ohio, the Campus Collegian's inquiring reporter sought students' and faculty members' pet peeves. Here are some of the results:

"Teachers fail to realize that they have been teaching the same subject for a number of years," says one student. "They think we should know as much as they do in a much shorter time."

"For the most part," complains an English professor, it is the lack of curiosity which I object to. Students are not interested in learning just for the sake of knowing something. Everything must have a practical application."

Another professor terms "laziness" his pet peeve. "College students are the only people in the world," he says, "who pay for something and then do their best to cheat themselves out of it."

NO FIGHTS FOR THE GIRLS

(ACP)—A time-honored spring tradition bit dry dust at the University of Washington recently when sororities officially outlawed water fighting.

The sororities are to be governed by a Panhellenic ruling that says, "Any sorority participating in, or encouraging in any way, water fights is subject to a minimum penalty of $1 to $5 a member and a maximum penalty of $1 a member and social probation for one quarter."

But just because the women don't want to fight is no sign the men are ready to quit.

The interfraternity council has no policy on water fights, "unless they become violent."

THEN THERE WAS THE PROF WHO

(ACP)—How absent-minded can a professor be?

A class at Oregon State College organized one day to find out. By prearrangement, they protested to a professor that he had failed to announce a test he was scheduled to give them.

Startled—and clearly confused—by the mass argument, the professor postponed his test.

Home Economics Frat Installs New Officers

Phi Omicron, home economics honorary fraternity, at its last meeting installed officers for the coming year.

With the club secretary Anna Lou Laughton presiding, Sally Crede was installed as president.

Other officers are Lannie Crocker, vice-president; Sadie Francis, secretary-treasurer; and Jeanne Williams, reporter. Miss Ruth Lambie is advisor of the club.

The club will hold a weiner roast May 12 at the gym. All members are invited to attend.

Student Receives Rank From Regular Air Force

Orders have been received by the Air Force ROTC Detachment here placing David Crowell Williamson of Whiteville, on active duty in the grade of second lieutenant in the United States Air Force.

Lt. Williamson will report to Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, for processing and subsequent assignment to an Air Force Technical School.

Baptist Student Union Here Presents Program At Pembroke College

A group of BSU'ers are visiting Pembroke State College today to present a chapel program entitled "Education in Three Dimensions," states Gloria H. Blanton, Counselor.

Those taking part in the program are Sarah Bryson, Catherine Cook, Kay Hargrove, Grey Ward, E. J. Hines, Carolyn Bullard, Sandra Melford, Sybill Neese, Shirley Alfred, Norman Hines, Mary Green, Patricia Cope and Mary Hughes.

This is part of an annual visitation program with Pembroke. On March 15, a delegation from Pembroke came to the Student Center to give a program.

Alphi Phi Omega Frat Installs Emmett Prexy At Recent Ceremonies

Installation services for the 1954-55 officers of the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity were held Monday night in the Alumni-Faculty House. Members of the organization and their dates attended the event.

The following officers were installed: president, Paul Emmett; vice-president, Jack Hudson; recording secretary, Billy Glover; Alumni secretary, Kenneth Cole; corresponding secretary, Curtis Hendrix; sergeant-at-arms, Charles Harrell and co-chairmen of the advisory committee, Dr. Clinton Prewett and James W. Butler.

A social hour followed the installation ceremony.

WAA Girls Win Honors At Wake Forest Play Day

Sixteen members of the Womens Athletic Association participated in the annual Play Day held at Wake Forest two weeks ago.

On the were tennis, golf, softball and badminton. With Barbara Guyton pitching, the ECC girls buried Meredith under a 10-1 score and held ACC 5-0.

Betty Russel and Jean Brake came in second place, playing doubles, in badminton.

EC gained another second place in golf; Martha Benton Moye representing the group, Joyce Jones, Ann Webb and Bonnie Togleman also came in second in tennis.

ACC placed first in the over all tally of the scores of the various events, with the ECC girls placing a close second. Miss Nell Stallings was the advisor of the group at the play day.

Plans for other WAA events: April 29—last regular meeting, gym.

May 8—High School Play Day at ECC.

ton Prewett and James W. Butler.

A social hour followed the installation ceremony.

"Fifteen required texts for this course and he has to fire an open-book quiz."
