Frosh Play

An all freshmen group is producing the play, "Years Ago," which will be given in its last performance tonight at 8 o'clock in the College Theatre.

Fall Term Exams Schedule Starts Tests On Monday

Two Hour Test Periods For Five Hour Classes

Final examinations for the fall term at East Carolina College will begin Monday afternoon, November 22, through noon Wednesday, November 24, according to an announcement by Dean Leo W. Jenkins.

Examinations will be held at the college on Wednesday afternoon until 8 a. m. Monday, November 29, when the winter quarter will begin.

Examinations are scheduled over the term so as to allow two periods of study. Examinations for tests in classes giving three, four, and five hours of credit. In other classes, one-period examinations have been scheduled.

The schedule for final examinations is as follows: Monday afternoon, 2:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m. Monday through sixth period; Seventh period exams will be held seventh through eighth periods, Monday night through seven o'clock. On Tuesday morning the classes meeting second through fourth periods will have assemblies during the first and second and third and fourth periods respectively. Tuesday afternoon's assemblies place exams for the sixth through eighth periods on the same two hour basis. Classes usually meeting first and third periods will have one hour examinations consecutively on Wednesday morning.

Fresh Production In Final Showing

"Years ago," a comedy by Ruth Gordon, will be presented in its final performance tonight at 8:15 in the College Theatre.

The Teachers Playhouse production is characterized by an all-freshmen cast. New students compose all cast members. The committees are: Secretary, John W. Shaw, chairman; Treasurer, Sinclair; Costumes, Marcia Milne; Make-up, Betty Sue Gay; Hairman, Audrey Powell; Agnes; Proprietor, Properties, Jack Cherry; Proprietor, Agnes Mausham; Blaire; Proprietor, Marcia Milne; Lighting, Bill; Proprietor, Bart Ritter; Publicity, Dot Lloyd, chairman; Becky Gay; Proprietor, Carmel Chesson; Jane Lingle of 214 Grove and Margaret Lou Frye of Carthage, both sophomores, are co-directors. Dr. Joseph A. Withy, director of dramatic arts in the department of English, is faculty consultant to the production.

The plot involves the ambition and determination of a stage-struck girl, Jackie McDaniel of Fayetteville, who will play the role of "Me," or Ruth Gordon Jones, "My Father" will be portrayed by Lloyd Bray, Jr., of Greenville, and Annie Jones, "My Mother" by Patricia L. Simonds of New Bern.

Appearing in other roles are Marcia Milne, Farmville; Florence Baker, Elizabeth City; Henry "Quay" Roseman, Satesville; John Edwin Bass, Newton Grove; George Bagley, Hobbesville; and Martha Johnston, Paw Creek.

Methodist Students Presents Play Sunday

"The Builders," a one-act play by Frances Dyer Eckhardt, will be presented in the Sanctuary of Jarvis Memorial Church, by the Alpha Zeta Chapter of Wesley Players, on Sunday, November 14, at 7:30 o'clock.

The setting of the play is the interior of a little country church, and the time is the present.

The cast of characters are as follows: The Boy, Luke Alexander; The Man, Jerry Crawford; Mr. Higgins, Lloyd Bray; The Son, James Dougherty; The Husband, Ralph Shumaker; The Wife, Joyce Boyd; Miss Patterson, Pat Daniels; The Janitor, Council Jarman; Mama, Saddle Harris; and the Verse-Speaking Choir under the direction of Jerry Crawford.

Douglas Mitchell is directing the production, assisted by Joan Crawford. The Wesley Choir will furnish the music.

Scientific Fellowships Available Through NAS For 1955-56

Fellowships in the natural and medical sciences for the academic year 1955-56 that are administered or recommended by the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council are now open for application between December 10 and January 3.

The National Science Foundation plans to award approximately 700 graduate and 130 postdoctoral fellowships to individuals planning to undertake graduate study in the sciences during 1955-56. Awards will be announced on March 15, 1955. Fellowships will be awarded in the mathematical, physical, medical, biological, and engineering sciences, including anthropology, psychology (including clinical psychology), geography, and certain interdisciplinary fields.

Graduate awards include awards to individuals studying for either masters' or doctoral degrees. First year fellowships are for students entering graduate school for the first time or those who will have completed less than one normal year of graduate study. College seniors who expect to receive a baccalaureate degree during the 1954-1955 academic year and other individuals who can produce evidence that they are acceptable as regular graduate students in an accredited non-profit institution of higher learning are eligible for such first year fellowships.

Intermediate fellowships will be made to students who have completed as of the beginning of their fellowships, an amount of graduate training considered by the institution at which they are in attendance to be a normal year of graduate study,

ECC Placement Office Reports Location Of 1953-54 Graduates

Through the assistance of the Placement Office at East Carolina College, 287 men and women, graduates of 1953-1954, are now holding positions in North Carolina schools, according to a report on the work of the office just issued by its director, Dr. J. L. Oppelt.

East Carolina granted 495 degrees to students during 1953-1954, the report shows. Among graduates, 322, or approximately 65% of the total number, have begun their careers in the field of education. Those who are teaching include 66 men and 256 women. In addition to those holding school positions in North Carolina, Dr. Oppelt states, 35 graduates are located in schools in Georgia, New Jersey, Ohio, South Carolina, Texas, Virginia, and the Canal Zone.

The 322 graduates who are now teaching include 243 out of 367 receiving the bachelor of science, or professional teaching, degree; 76 out of 92 receiving the master of arts degree, also at the college; a degree in education; and three out of 36 receiving the bachelor of arts, or liberal arts, degree. Two men were granted both the B.S. and the M.A.

Student Government News

The size of the delegation to the State Student Government Assembly, which is to be held in Raleigh November 18-20, has been changed. As it now stands each school is allowed three delegates to the Senate and for the house they are allowed three delegates for the first thousand students enrolled and one for each 400 afterwards. East Carolina had planned on sending a delegate to the House for each 500 students enrolled.

Due to this change an elimination of part of the delegates listed in the November 4 issue of this paper will be necessary. The correct list of delegates will be released later.

On November 7 Wade Cooper and Louis Singleton, president and first vice president, respectively, of the campus SGA, attended an inter-council meeting in Raleigh to discuss convention work.

The Hall Assembly will open on Thursday, Nov. 18, with a caucus meeting. The meet will close Saturday morning, November 20.

East Carolina's SGA plans to introduce two bills. One urges a scientific test for determining the extent of alcohol on a driver.

A bill concerned with different phases of education, such as teachers' salaries and scholarships, will also be introduced.

Governor Hodges will give the opening address for this meeting, which is the only one of its type in

Phi Sigma Pi Sweetheart Dance Set Tomorrow Night In Wright

ECC Delegates At Young Democrat's Convention

Collegians Play For Annual Dance Until 12 O'clock

The annual Sweetheart Ball, a function of the Phi Sigma Pi, is slated to begin in Wright Auditorium tomorrow night at eight o'clock. The Collegians, under the direction of Charlie Klutz, will provide music for the dance. Women students have late permission for the affair.

Decorations will be in purple and gold, the fraternity colors of the Phi Sigma Pi. The "Sweetheart" theme, with the usual candlelight and rose trellis ornamentation, will be woven into the decoration. Just prior to intermission the fraternity Sweetheart will be crowned by fraternity president Harold Colson. She will be elected by votes of the members of the organization.

Tables will be placed on the side of the dance floor, although no smoking will be allowed inside the main auditorium. Ice will be furnished and refreshments will be available. A photographer will be furnished by the fraternity who will make shots of individuals, couples, or groups for the price of one dollar.

The Phi Sigma Pi is one of the oldest fraternities on campus, having been founded in the 1930's. Requirements for membership in this national honorary society are leadership, fellowship, and scholarship, according to a spokesman of the club, Dr. Judson White, now a member of the Psychology Department here, was a Charter Member. The late Dr. Beecher Flanagan, a former member of the staff here, was national president of the organization. Twenty-four men students make up this year's membership. Dr. Richard Todd is faculty advisor for the group. Meetings are held once a month.

The officers of Phi Sigma Pi this year include Harold Colson, president; Keith Goodson, vice president; and Clarence Brown, secretary.

Frosh Reading Tests Reveal East Carolina Student Has Ability Of Photographic Mind

Out of the 965 freshmen participating in the testing program this fall, Benne Jean Bendler, Gary, Ind., was one of the students to rank highest—that is, college senior or better, in the reading test.

Benne possesses the rare ability to read down the middle of a page, grasping only a few words, and yet understanding and remembering all that is printed. Through this ability Benne can read books much more quickly than ordinary readers, and retain more of the content as the result. She began reading at the age of three and one-half and at the age of 14, Benne read the complete Compton's Encyclopedia in one year.

"I like historical novels best of all," answered Benne, when asked what types of books she preferred. "Among these, 'Gone With the Wind' and 'Matiny on the Bounty' are my favorites."

"I was coming from Goldsboro to Kinston, last December, and somehow missed the turn and found myself in Greenville. After riding around for awhile, I saw the college and so when I decided to come to college last spring, I thought again of East Carolina," was Benne's answer to the common question she often hears, "Why did you come so far to college?" Benne also wanted to attend a college in North Carolina so

McCarthy Faction Gets Battle Hymn Written

(ACP)—What with elections, recommendations for censure and all else that comprises the wonderful field of politics hovering about us, the Ivory Tower supplement of the Minnesota Daily passes the following verses along.

FIRST VERSE
Mine eyes have seen the glory of Wisconsin's jumping Joe,
He is tramping on the Communist and Gen'ral's, too, you know,
Gen'ral Ike and Gen'ral welfare feel the weight of Joseph's toe,
McCarthy's marching on!

CHORUS
Unity within the Party!
Unity within the Party!
Unity within the Party!
We've got to march with Joe!

SECOND VERSE
I have seen him coming forward with committees at his heels,
They have builded him a party made of little Texas wheels,
And they gather at his altar with their clamorous appeals,
McCarthy's marching on!

THIRD VERSE
He has sounded forth his trumpet with a slightly sour note,
And will fling his reckless charge just to win a single vote,
He's the only party member who will always rock the boat,
McCarthy's marching on!

Pay Fees Early
Students may secure their permits to register and pay their fees for the winter quarter at any time up until the end of this quarter, according to reports from the offices of the treasurer and registrar. Paying fees early will eliminate hours of time waiting in lines on Registration Day. "Those who pay their fees and have their card stamped 'paid' may enter the auditorium of Wright Building through the North door and go directly to work on their schedule," says Dr. Orval L. Phillips, Registrar.

Student Group News

Teachers Playhouse
A new name, "East Carolina Playhouse," was unanimously chosen by the Teachers Playhouse in a meeting on October 27.

The change was voted by the campus dramatic group because "Teachers Playhouse" was no longer considered accurate.

Organized in 1938 as the Chi Pi Players, the group has been known for several years as the Teachers Playhouse. At present the club has approximately 46 members. Patricia Goodwin of Memphis, Tenn. is president and Dr. J. A. Withey of the English department is faculty advisor.

Four major productions are presented each year with minor productions known as "workshop plays." Recently the group has given radio and television shows.

Of the four major yearly plays one is given each quarter and a children's play is given in the spring for Pitt County children.

As its fall production this year the Playhouse presented "The Male Animal" by James Thurber and Elliott Nugent.

FTA
Eleven students at East Carolina College represented the Robert H. Wright Chapter of the Future Teachers of America at the fall convention of the State FTA at Duke University, Durham, Saturday, November 6.

The group was accompanied by Emma L. Hooper and Dr. Woodrow Flannery, faculty members at the college and sponsors of the Robert H. Wright Chapter.

Jane Ellen Riley of Fuquay Springs, president of the college FTA here, and Carol Lucas of West End, secretary of the organization and state vice president of the FTA were among those participating in events of the convention at Duke.

Others who attended included Joan Creech, Snow Hill; Evelyn Taylor, Kinston; Gloria Taylor, Siler City; Elsie Clapp, Whitsett; Joy Harris, Washington; Sally Rogers, Wilson; Evelyn Sherman, Fuquay Springs; Frances Poe, Varina; and Frances Horton, Apex.

Cadet Officers
Newly-elected president for the advanced Cadet Officers Club at East Carolina College for 1954-55 is Joseph O. Clark of Greenville, N. C.

The first meeting of the year was called to order by the Cadet Group Adjutant Harold G. Colson of Hertford, with Group Executive Officer Bob Julian of Norfolk, Va. conducting the elections.

Edward Earle Jernigan of Windsor was elected vice president and Clarence Brown of Hickory will act as secretary while treasurer will be Clifton Boyd of Aurora. Sherril Willis of Coats was elected reporter.

Main objective of the Cadet Officers Club is to provide entertainment for the Cadets during the school year, with the annual Military Ball climaxing the entertainment for the group. Also there is a dinner for the senior Cadets and their dates.

Plans are already under way for the Military Ball and the college dance band has been selected to play for the event.

What was to have been the most successful football season in East Carolina's history draws to a close here Saturday night when the Pirates attempt to get over the .500 mark for good.

Though East Carolina's mediocre record is a definite disappointment to many, there is much that can be said in a positive vein. There can be little doubt that the pre-season injury to Dick Cherry was a disastrous blow to the Pirates' chances but all credit to the Pirate quarterbacks—Bud Wash, Milton Collier and Gary Matlock—have done well.

It was an ambitious schedule that was undertaken this year and we feel that the majority of irate supporters had rather see East Carolina lose close football games to teams of established power and reputation than to win from inadequate opposition.

Without attempt to alibi and defeat, it appears that this has been the case in at least three games this year.

The loss at Tampa was a disappointment both to the team and to the student body. The Spartans, who undoubtedly will play in the Cigar Bowl once more, were favored by two touchdowns and, in the end, won by just that margin.

But East Carolina did a much better job than the score indicates and, except for defensive lapses in the opening and closing minutes, might have had a win instead of a defeat.

Tampa, of course, has an excellent club. No team can run up the scores that it has without having an extremely potent offense.

Saturday's game with Stetson should be the best of the year at College Stadium. For the last two years the Pirates have made the trip to Deland, Fla. for the game but finally the Athletic Department was able to get the Hatters to come to Greenville.

The Hatters should be "up" for this game for on both East Carolina trips to Deland the Pirates ruined a Homecoming for Stetson. Regardless of this we see East Carolina coming out on top, probably by two touchdowns.

Two League Games Set For Saturday

Catawba is at Guilford and Lenoir Rhyne at Elon in North State Conference football games this weekend.

Neither of the contests has any bearing on the top position. Appalachian's Mountaineers, the undefeated loop champs, take on outside opposition in the form of Presbyterian. Other non-league games find Western Carolina playing host to Newport News Apprentice School and Stetson playing East Carolina at Greenville.

Feature game of last week's play was the Guilford-Elon clash in which the Christians scored in the final minute for a 20-13 win over the Quakers. Catawba lost to Davidson, 32-12; Tampa defeated East Carolina, 27-14; Emory and Henry beat Western Carolina, 16-0, and Wofford conquered Lenoir Rhyne, 21-13, in other games involving league teams.

Pirates Seeking To Better Mark Of .500 Per Cent

A chance for a better than .500 grid season presents itself to East Carolina here Saturday night when the Pirates are hosts to Stetson University in the final game of the year.

The Pirates, rated by many as capable of going unbeaten this year, dropped their fourth game against as many wins at Tampa, Fla. last week. Saturday's contest with the Hatters, also a Florida team, will find East Carolina slightly favored on the basis of comparative scores. Tampa defeated the Pirates 27-14 while blasting Stetson, 59-8.

Last Minute Tie

The contest will be the third between the two schools. In 1952, halfback Paul Gay ran 88 yards in the closing minutes at Deland, Fla. for the tying score as the Bucs and the Hatters battled to a 19-19 deadlock. Last year's game, also played at Deland, saw East Carolina swamp Stetson, 40-6, on a rain-soaked field. Not since 1949 when East Carolina followed on successive Saturdays to Hampden-Sydney, Elon and Western Carolina, have the Pirates been held for more than three weekends without a win. The loss to Tampa, coupled with a defeat by Appalachian and a tie with East Tennessee, puts East Carolina in the same position for the Stetson game.

This year's Hatter team has fallen on evil days in the process of a rebuilding program. Latest defeat for the Florida team came Friday at the hands of Presbyterian, 14-7.

Starting Team

The same Pirate lineup which opened the season against Norfolk Navy should take the field Saturday night. Boyd Webb at quarterback, Toppy Hayes and Emo Boado at the halves and Claude King at fullback should make up the backfield. Ends Larry Rhodes and J. D. Bradford will anchor the line composed of tackles Willie Holland and George Tucker, guards David Lee and Don Burton and center Louis Hallow.

The game will be the last of the year for three of the four starting backs and five of the seven starting linemen.

Tampa University's Spartans stormed to two quick fourth quarter touchdowns Friday to break a 14-14 deadlock and claim a 27-14 win over East Carolina's underdog Pirates in the Cigar Bowl at Tampa.

While a crowd of some 6,000 persons shivered in un-Florida like weather, the Spartans racked up two first period scores to take a 14-0 lead. The Pirates narrowed this by seven points shortly before halftime when a 74-yard march ended with Milton Collier flipping an 18-yard scoring pass to right half Emo Boado. Fullback Claude King added the point.

The Spartans opened the game by scoring twice with relative ease. A 34-yard pass from quarterback Bill Minahan to halfback Don Herndon accounted for the first tally after two minutes of play. A couple of minutes later Tampa drove 82 yards with Minahan passing to Joe Knight for the second score. Reggie Colvard converted after both touchdowns.

Following the second half kickoff the two teams battled through the third period with neither one being able to put together a sustained drive. Moments after the fourth period opened, however, East Carolina suddenly found itself back in the game when Harold O'Kelly broke through the center of the line, found himself in the open and scooted 91 yards for a touchdown. Milton Collier converted following O'Kelly's sensational gallop.

With three minutes to play in the game the Spartans struck with a 54-yard drive that gave them their third score. Bob Gambrell did the honors on a five yard burst. Colvard's attempted conversion was blocked by Bobby Gay.

Immediately following the kickoff, Tampa tallied the clinching touchdown when a Collier pass, intended for Bobby Perry in the flat on the East Carolina 21, was intercepted by Gambrell. The fleet halfback raced the distance to score, giving the Spartans a 26-14 lead. Colvard converted.

Tampa, which had been favored by two touchdowns, ran its mark for the year to five wins and one defeat. The loss gave East Carolina a 4-4-1 mark.

Local sportswriters called the game one of the most thrilling ever played in the Cigar Bowl. Claude King, until he was injured in the third period, led the Buccaneer offense. The big fullback carried 11 times from scrimmage and picked up 74 yards. The entire Pirate line played outstanding ball.

Phil Fedders, chemistry student, announced what may prove to be the greatest discovery since the Hydrogen Bomb. Fedders claims to have invented a Taste Tingleometer that measures the degree Dr. Pepper Wakes Up Your Taste.

Fedders maintains Dr. Pepper is exceptionally good-tasting and that the 'tingle' in the taste imparts the Wake Up Flavor. This tingle, he claims, increases as Dr. Pepper's temperature nears the frosty cold mark. "When there are little flecks of ice floating in Dr. Pepper, the Fedder Taste Tingleometer nearly flips its lid," he said. "That's pretty tingly" added Fedders, swigging his frosty cold Dr. Pepper.

For solution see paragraph below.

ACCORDING TO THE LARGEST and latest coast-to-coast college survey, college smokers prefer Luckies—and by a wide margin. The No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better. Thousands of students appreciate Luckies' better taste almost as much as the pair in the Droodle above, titled: Sweethearts attempting to kiss and enjoy better-tasting Luckies at same time. Luckies taste better for good reasons. First of all, Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, "It's Toasted" to taste better. This famous Lucky Strike process tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better—cleaner, fresher, smoother. So, enjoy the better-tasting cigarette... Lucky Strike.

Sadie Hawkins Day Celebration Set With Race, Costume Contest, Dance

by Roy McGinnis, Jr.

In the midst of a busy exam schedule, East Carolinians are going to take time out to run a foot race. The annual Sadie Hawkins Day celebration is coming up on campus, and all the guys and gals are preparing for it in their respective manners; the fellows wondering how to get caught by the right girls and the girls just preparing to catch some fellow. The shindig is going to be a colorful break with guns shooting and people hollering and everything in general going haywire for one happy hour.

Since the beginning of time, when woman first started chasing man, the female aspect of life has wanted to add a little legality to the man-chasing custom. Time passed on, however, until 18 years ago when Mayor Hezekiah Hawkins of Dogpatch, in a desperate effort to marry off his uncommonly ugly daughter Sadie, hit upon a scheme that finally ended Sadie's 35 years of single cussedness. His Honor decreed a foot-race to be held between all unwed males and females and ordained that any miserable man caught by a gal must marry her. Flourishing a Blunderbuss, he gave the fear-crazed bachelors a head start, then fired a second volley for the "howlin' mess of unwed gals to go asereechin' and acaawin' after 'em.

Sadie took off in a cloud of dust that temporarily obscured her uncomely face and permanently netted her a mate. From that day, a Dogpatcher's life was a dog's life on Sadie Hawkins day . . . and Lil' Abner, whose brawny good looks made him the unhappy fugitive from a Jane gang.

For over 10 years, Lil' Abner, who confined his passions to a dressmaker's dummy and a cockroach, managed to elude the glamorous belles—particularly Daisy Mae, the gal he "despised the least." However, his luck finally ran out and today he is happily married to Daisy Mae, and they have a youngster, Honest Abe Yokum.

The East Carolina campus event, presented by the Science Club Saturday, November 20, will be composed of three main features, the race that Saturday afternoon at 3:30, a dance that night with round and square dancing, and during the dance a costume contest in which all are invited to enter, with four $5 gift certificates from local merchants as prizes for the best costumes, of any character, two in the girls division and two in the boys'. Those planning to enter the costume contest should commence preparations as there is just one week remaining before the event.

School Children Get 'On The Scene' History Course In Williamsburg

School children from all over the nation are flocking to colonial Williamsburg to get a history lesson "on the scene" according to a recent release from this Virginia city.

Some 48,000 students from more than 900 schools toured Williamsburg during the past school year. Of this total, 2,531 were North Carolinians. Besides North Carolina, 27 other states were represented.

Why Do People Buy Diamonds From Us?

Here is part of the answer:

1. We are the only American Gem Society Registered Jewelers in Greenville.
2. We are the only jewelers in Greenville having complete diamond grading equipment.
3. We have the only trained diamond expert in Greenville.
4. We buy diamonds unset, direct from a diamond cutter and set them in our store.
5. We sell two grades of diamonds—top quality AAA-1 flawless, and second quality slightly imperfect. Suppose you were buying a $225.00 diamond, we could give you a flawless AAA-1 one-third carat stone, or a second quality one-half carat stone for the same money. To the naked eye they both look the same.
6. Our prices are way below the national retail average. You could pay as much as $350.00 for the one-third carat stone mentioned above. Our price for the same stone is $225.00, and our diamond is registered with the American Gem Society as a flawless stone.

We know diamonds. We know the diamond market. We can save you money. If this ad has not convinced you, talk to one of our many satisfied customers. They know and appreciate the fact that WE SAVED THEM MONEY; in some cases as much as 50%.

Armchair Football Predictions

by Henry Hathaway

Every week during the football season a football pool was sponsored by Larry's Shoe Store of Greenville. It cost nothing to enter and the prize was a new pair of shoes. Last week's pool was won by Mary Ann Bryant of Greenville. She had four misuses and predicted Tampa would win over East Carolina by a score of 20-7.

During last week 178 football forecasts were turned in. Douglas Schaffor of ECC hit the Tampa-ECC score on the nose at 27-14. Of the 178 turned in, the following is a breakdown of the Tampa-ECC predictions: Fifty-one predicted ECC would win. One hundred and seventeen predicted Tampa would win. Ten predicted ties.

It appears from these figures that the armchair fullbacks are pretty much in the know on this game of football.

Church News For Students

Interdenominational

The second part of a three part movie being sponsored by the B.S.U. will be shown on campus at the "Y" Hut on Monday, November 15th, at 5:30 and again at 7:00. The movie being shown, "The Bible Spreads Across Europe," is a history of the Bible. This documentary film traces the gospel story from the first century writings of the Apostles down to the recent revision in 1952. More than 250 actors, which include men and women of many races, colors, and historic periods from ancient Hebrews to American Sunday school children of today, participate in the film.

It is history on film contains episodes concerning the Emperor Constantine, Martin Luther, William Tyndale, and King James I of England. Relating the story of Jerome and the Latin Vulgate, authorized text of the Roman Catholic Church.

Baptist

At the Baptist Student Convention in Salisbury last weekend, the E.C.C. delegation was the second largest delegation attending. Students from our campus who acted as conveners were Fan Green and Ralph Smiley. Ann Van Andel, from the Netherlands, and Pauline Catel, France, were among those from E.C.C. Three Atlantic Christian College students accompanied the local delegation.

Talk to a friend and seem sincere. Then flirt with her fellow if he comes near.
How could she!
Promise her mother she'd be in by ten.
But when good night is said, it's eleven again.
How could she!
Sing millions of songs when studying time's near.
But she'll sing a note when in choir she appears.
How could she!
Promise her sweetheart she'd always be true.
And believe it or not, that is just what she'd do.
How could she!

I like CHESTERFIELD best!

says Tab Hunter

Appearing in "Track of the Cat", a Warner Bros. Production in CinemaScope and Color

BEST FOR YOU . . . no cigarette can satisfy you like a Chesterfield, because Chesterfield has the right combination of the world's best tobaccos. Only the tobaccos that are highest in quality, low in nicotine, and the most pleasure to smoke.

Change to Chesterfields now. Smoke them regular or king size. You'll understand why Chesterfield is the largest selling cigarette in America's Colleges.

In the whole wide world—no cigarette satisfies like a
