Miss Grace Outland

Death Overtakes Infirmary Head Monday Night

Grace Outland Dies From Heart Attack

Miss Grace Mendenhall Outland, 50, superintendent of the infirmary at East Carolina College, died at 10 o'clock Monday night in Pitt Memorial Hospital. She suffered a heart attack Saturday and had been confined to the hospital since that time.

Funeral services and burial took place in Rich Square yesterday.

Miss Outland joined the staff at East Carolina College in July, 1953, and since that time had served as superintendent of the infirmary. She had lived in Greenville since 1945 and had carried on her professional duties in various positions in the city.

Born and reared near Rich Square, N. C., Miss Outland was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas Outland, who with six brothers and two sisters survive her.

After her graduation from the Rich Square High School, she attended the Westtown School in Pennsylvania and the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, and after a year of teaching, received her training as a nurse at the Norfolk General Hospital, Norfolk, Va.

At the Norfolk hospital she served as supervisor of surgical nursing, night superintendent, and supervisor of the Emergency Room and Out Patient Department.

She was a member of Cedar Grove Society of Friends at Woodland, N. C. Among professional organizations with which she was affiliated were the Virginia State Nurses Association, the North Carolina State Nurses Association, the Alumnae Association of Norfolk General Hospital, and the Pitt County Nurses Association.

In Greenville, where she had a wide circle of friends, she had been associated with a number of civic organizations. She served as president of the Aries Book Club and as a member of the Public Affairs Committee of the Business and Professional Women's Club, and was a member of the Pitt County Executives Club.

Surviving are her parents; six brothers, Ira D. Outland of Norris-town, Pa., E. Frank Outland of Jackson, N. C., Charles H. Outland of Ward, Pa., William W. Outland of Winona, Ohio, Stanley Outland of near Rich Square, and Edward Outland of Greenville; and two sisters, Mrs. Tommasina Outland Whitfield of Asheville, N. C., and Miss Rachel Outland of near Rich Square.

Delegates Leave To Attend SGA State Meeting In Raleigh

Fourteen representatives of East Carolina College left today for Raleigh to attend the State Student Government Assembly. They will remain in the capital until Saturday morning. The group left this morning after the regular campus SGA meet last night.

At the November 10th meeting of the SGA Milton Foley reported on the investigation he had made concerning more pay phones on campus. He reported that two or more circuits were open on campus. Foley suggested to the telephone personnel here in Greenville that a telephone be installed in Slay Hall. They reported that a phone could be installed if some campus organization would guarantee the phone itself.

F. D. Duncan, treasurer and business manager of the college, recommended to Foley that the SGA take responsibility of the safety of the phone.

This recommendation was brought before the SGA and they agreed to abide by the wishes of the phone company in guaranteeing the safety of the phone which will be installed on third floor of Slay Hall. The college administration will back the SGA in upholding this guarantee.

The committee will remain in action to investigate having more phones for various locations where they are needed.

Ruby Edwards reported that there was still no possibility of having a drink machine in Autin or the near vicinity; however, there is a possibility of having a cigarette machine. If a cigarette machine is secured it will be placed just inside the dining hall lobby.

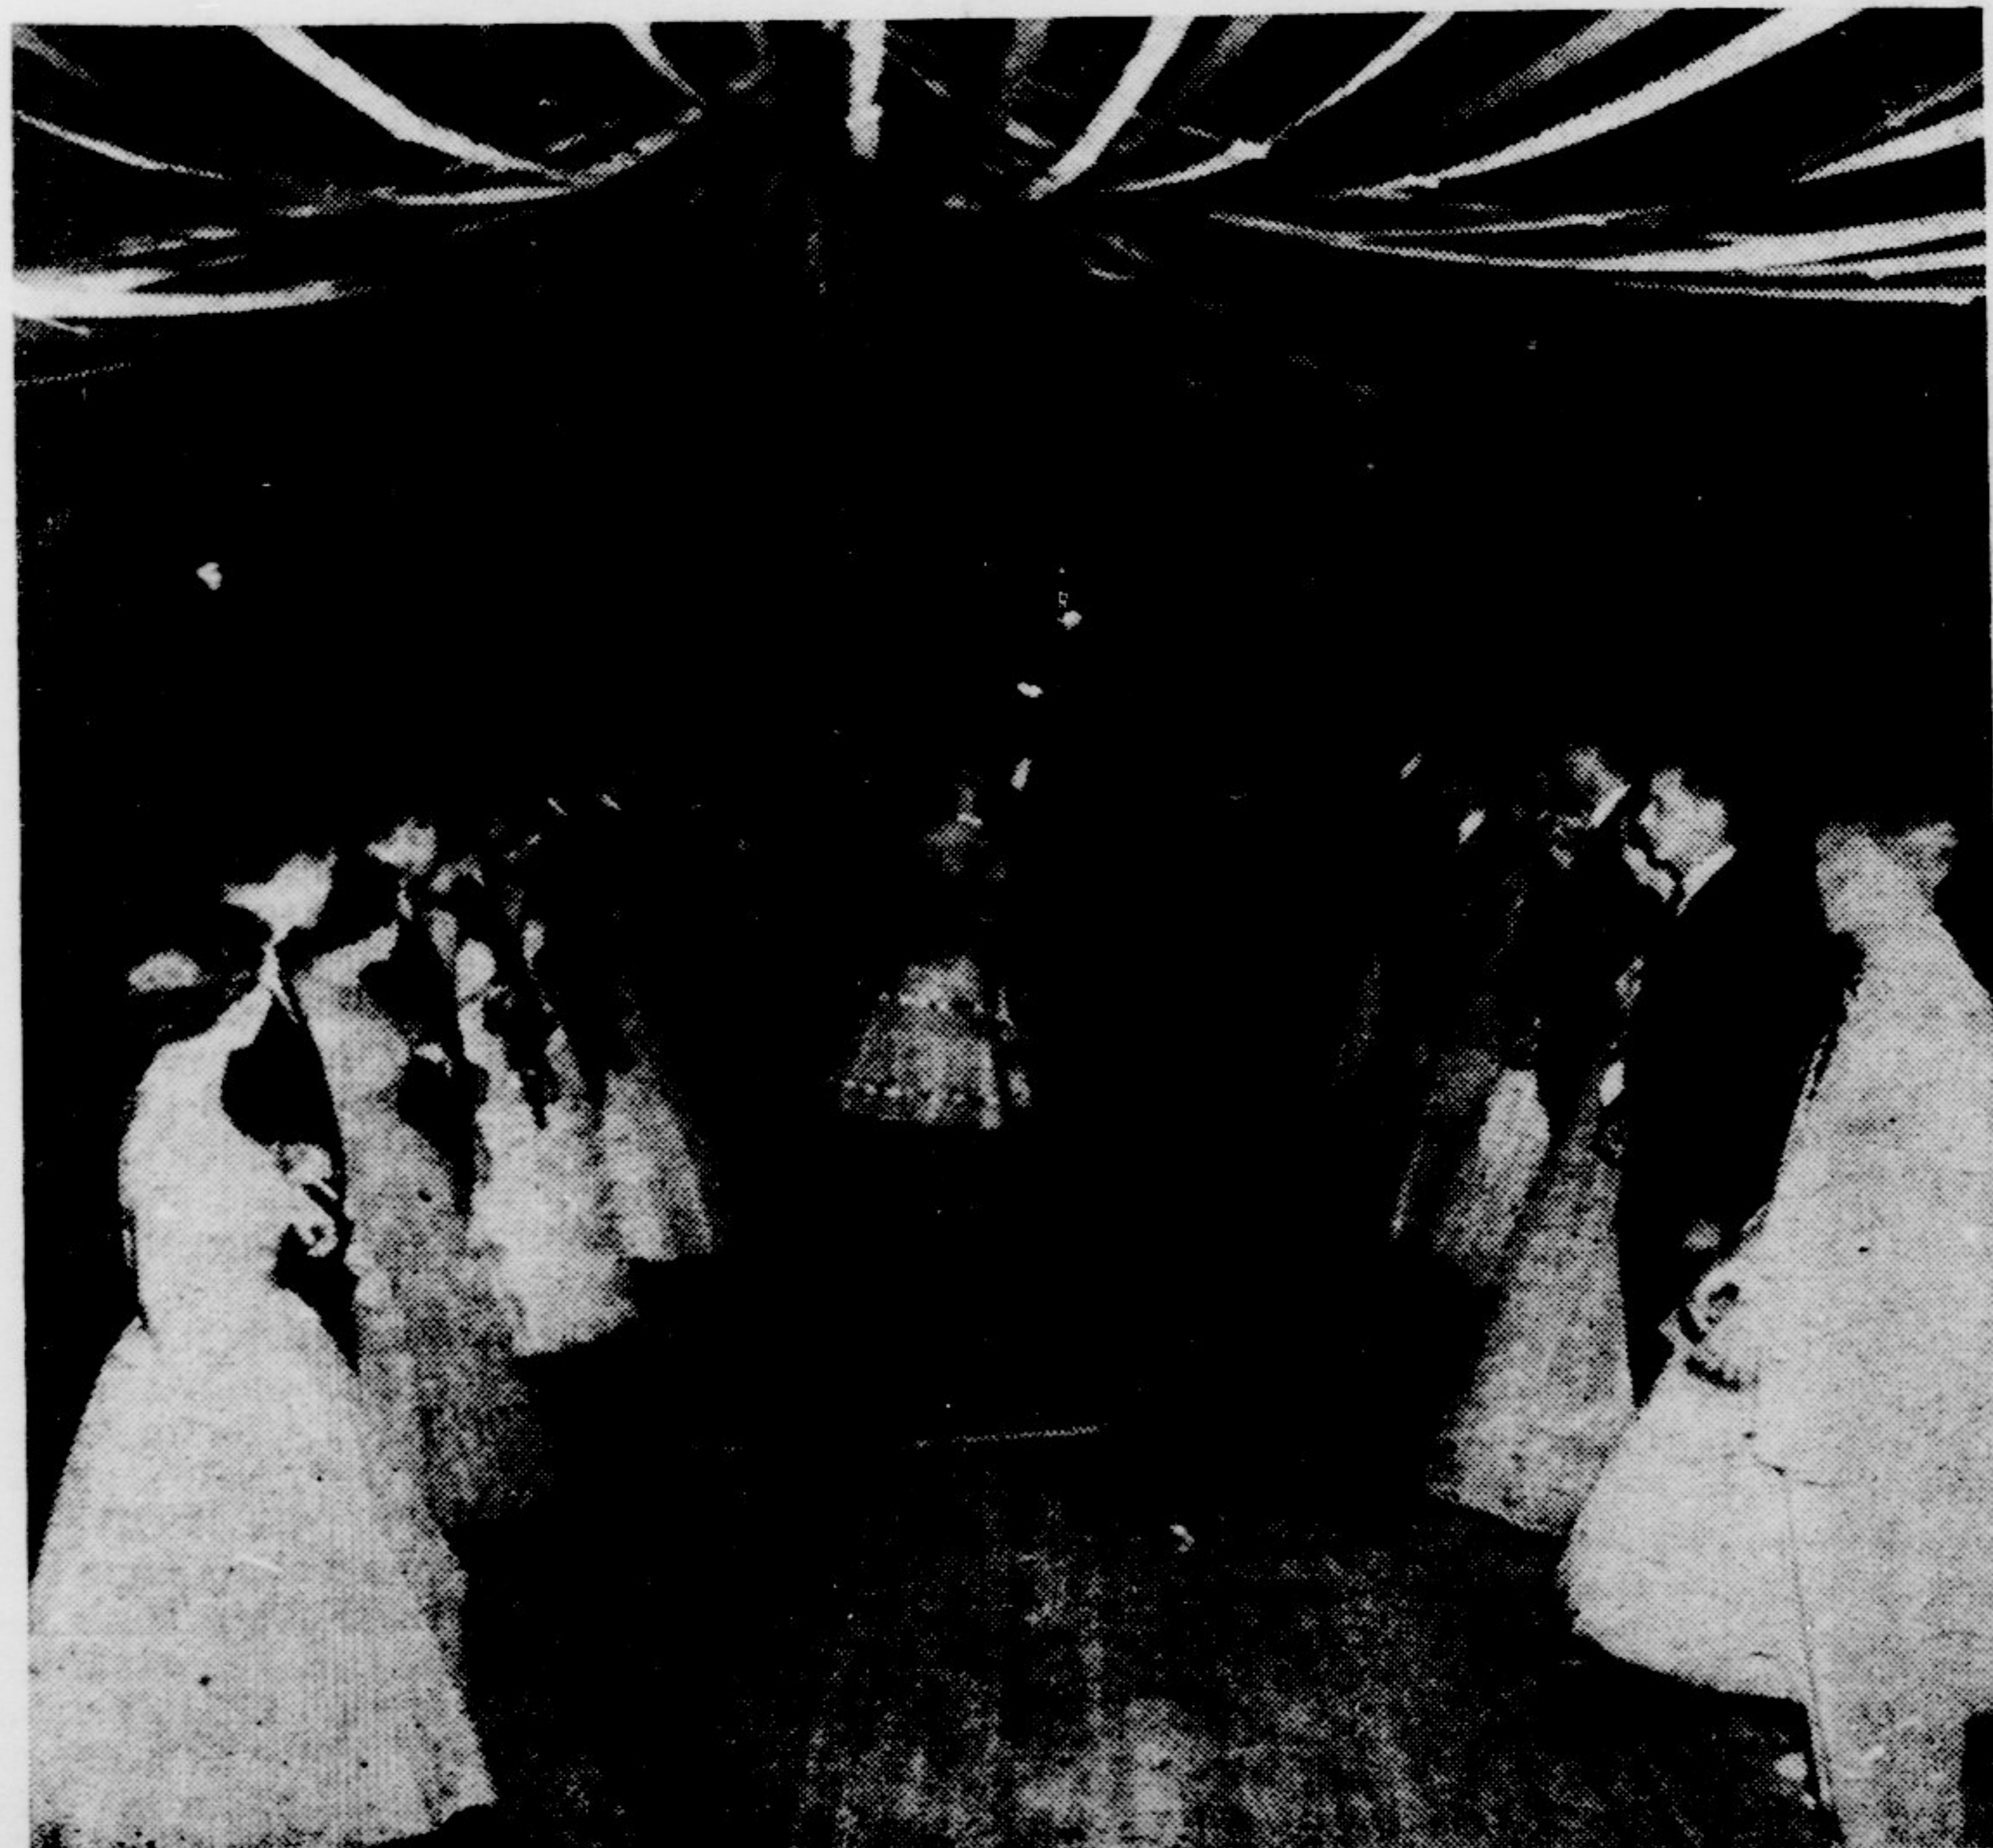

According to Dr. Jorgensen, Saturday afternoon swimming has been discontinued due to the lack of interest.

Dean Prewett personally thanked the students for their conduct during the hurricane. He reported that everyone conducted themselves quite well.

The secretary, Barbara Stickland, has been instructed to write a letter of condolence to the family of the late Governor William B. Umstead.

Barbara will also write a letter to Appalachian congratulating them on winning the North State Championship in football.

The Lady Gets A Kiss . . . And A Crown!

Approximately 250 people attended the Sweetheart Ball in Wright Saturday night. Ann Butt, wife of Lucius Calvin Butt who is a member of the Phi Sigma Pi Fraternity which sponsored the dance, was crowned queen of the Ball. The members of the figure watch as the gentleman kisses his lady after the crowning.

Office Of Registrar Renders Multiple Services To East Carolina Students

by Sylvia Farmer

The registrar at East Carolina College, Orval L. Phillips, is one who goes beyond his duties to be of service here. His office renders services to students which is not required of it. Students appreciate the "little things" such as the checklists of course, to complete before graduation and aids to follow in making for a simpler formality of registering for work. The extra hours of work put in by the registrar saves many students extra quarters at college.

Dr. Phillips has worked for a simplified and quicker registration procedure and has achieved that aim.

Other things among the duties of his office are keeping recorded all scholastic records, health examinations, freshman tests and disciplinary records. Dr. Phillips acts as admission officer and determines whether students can enroll. He evaluates all transcripts of transfer students and sends them out to other colleges or wherever the student wishes them to be sent.

All enrollment statistics come from his office. Here all drop-ad slips are filed and a careful check is made on the number of hours for which a student enrolls. All withdrawals from college are made in the registrar's office and applications for graduation are received there also. The office assistants order diplomas and prepare them for delivery to the seniors.

In the registrar's office scholastic records are watched and carbon copies of letters are sent to parents about their child's record. Selective service form 109 required by all draft boards in the state is sent from this office to give boys' scholastic standing. Each month a report has to be sent to the Veterans Administration on each Korean veteran enrolled at the college.

Dr. Phillips received his Master's degree from North Texas State College and his Doctor's degree from Columbia University in New York City. He received 13 months training at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. At Louisiana State University he was an instructor in math and later was the head of the math department at Mississippi Southern College. After being a supervisor for practice teachers at Columbia University, he came to work at East Carolina College as registrar. Dr. Phillips served in the South Pacific and in the Aleutians as Lieutenant Senior grade in the Navy during World War II and was a weather officer there. During 1953-'54 he acted as president of the North Carolina Registrar's Association.

Dr. Phillips endeavors to make all students feel that his office is a friendly one, and a place where he can get information on registering, the course of study he should follow, his grades, his records and practically anything he wants to know. Members of the office staff are Mrs. Rebecca Starkey, assistant registrar; Mrs. Eleanor Coleman, information; Mrs. Doris Lamb, secretary; Mrs. Pat Dollar, transcript clerk; and Janet Latta, Grace Jones, Willa Dean Lindsay and Joan Ashley, student assistants.

Student Group News

Wesley
The Alpha Zeta Chapter of Wesley Players gave a supper at the Methodist Student Center on Monday evening for the new pledges to the Chapter. Supper was served at five o'clock by members of the Chapter. After supper all were invited into the Little Chapel for the Pledge ceremony. Mamie Chandler, sponsor for the Chapter, told something of the history of Wesley Players and interpreted the meaning of pledging. Joan Crawford, president of the Chapter, gave the pledge to the incoming members.

Pledges accepted were: Luke Alexander, Statesville; Joyce Boyd, New Bern; Jerry Crawford, Jacksonville, Florida; Patricia Daniels, Beaufort; James Daugherty, Kinston; June Goldston, Wallace; Sadie Harris, Beaufort; Council Jarman, Kinston; Dot Linberry, Lloyd Bray, Greenville; Quay Roseman, Statesville; Ralph Shumaker, Bishopville, S. C.; Jackie Rouse, Havelock; Doug Mitchell, Greenville.

Sigma Phi Alpha English Club
The Sigma Phi Alpha, foreign language fraternity, held its regular monthly meeting with the English Club. Harvey Davis, president of the English Club, presided.

Pauline Catel, student from Lyons, France, spoke to the group on industry and education in her country. She concluded her remarks by telling something about a small town in France.

Vets
The final meeting of the quarter for the Veterans Club was in the form of a supper meeting held at the Town House Restaurant last Thursday.

Harvey Davis, chairman of the program committee, presided over a discussion of lack of interest in the club and measures which might arouse new interest.

The next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, December 2.

Phi Omicron
The Phi Omicron held its November meeting on Tuesday, November 8. After the regular business session, Lannie Crocker, program chairman, presented Dr. John B. Bennett, campus religious director, who enlightened the club on the Christian views of segregation.

In a nutshell, Dr. Bennett said that in general there are three views of segregation which different Christian groups set forth. One is that God punished the descendants of certain of Noah's children, putting them in perpetual servitude to others. Another view is that God has seen fit to make people of different races and capacities in accordance with His will. A third view is that discrimination between people upon any basis is wrong. In considering these views, Dr. Bennett pointed out, church groups need to wake up and supply love, goodwill and courage in eliminating barriers that exist between people.

A.C.E.
Mrs. B. L. Tyson, a former school-teacher in a nearby school, was the guest speaker at the A.C.E. monthly meeting held in the Training School Cafeteria last Tuesday.

Miss Patsy Pappendick, president, presided over the meeting of approximately 65 members.

Home Ec
A skit entitled "The Trial of Miss Oso Uninformed and Miss Hattie Home Ec" was recently presented by the Home Ec Club members.

A report of the coming Bazaar in December was given by Jo Bryson. The president, Marcelline Aycock, appointed a secretary to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Betty Boyette House. The annual budget was presented and approved.

Orchestra, Glee Club Combine In Musical Presentation Sunday

The East Carolina Orchestra, a student and community organization, and the Varsity Men's Glee Club will be presented in a concert Sunday, November 21, at 3:30 p.m. in the College Theatre.

The glee club will present Herbert's Roman Life with Miss Jeanne Pritchard, soprano soloist, and Tchaikovsky's waltz from "Sleeping Beauty."

Miss Janet Watson and Mr. Jack Williford will play Mozart's Concerto in E Flat Major, a piano duet. This is one of the most difficult pieces of music ever composed.

The East Carolina Orchestra draws its members from faculty members and students of music at the college and from musicians in Greenville and surrounding areas. Membership includes approximately 65 men and women. The group is a member of the American Symphony Orchestra League and is now in its third year under Dr. Cuthbert's direction. The Varsity Men's Glee Club is composed of 33 college students, also under the direction of Dr. Cuthbert. It is an organization giving class credit to those desiring; however, most members consider it as an extracurricular activity.

'Who's Who' List Includes Top Rate College Students

Thirty-two students at East Carolina College will represent the college in the 1954-1955 edition of "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges," nationally circulated yearbook. This annual publication lists and gives biographical sketches of student leaders in educational institutions throughout the nation.

Selections of students for this year's volume was made at East Carolina by a student-faculty committee. Bases determining the choice of representatives were excellence in scholarship, leadership and participation in extracurricular and academic activities, citizenship and service to the school, and promise of future usefulness to business and society.

East Carolina's contribution to the 1954-1955 "Who's Who" and the areas in which they have made some of their most outstanding achievements are:

SGA: James Walter Alexander, parliamentarian; Kristen Anderson, vice chairman, Men's Judiciary; Wade Hampton Cooper, president; Don Ruby Edwards, historian; Donald A. King, Awards Committee; Shirley Jean Lassiter, secretary, summer school; Elsie Leigh Lawson, president, Women's Judiciary; William Howard Rooks, treasurer; A. Louis Singleton, first vice president this year and president last summer; and Louis Erwin Clark, homecoming chairman.

Home Economics: Marcelline Aycock.

Publications: Emily Stewart Boyce and Faye Batten O'Neal, newspaper; Martha Jane Kanoy and Mildred Marie Reynolds, annual.

Religious work: Benjamin Bedford, YMCA, and Willa Dean Lindsay, YWCA.

Athletics: Emma Jean Brake, Woman's Athletic Association; John "Topsy" Hayes, football; Cecil A. Heath, basketball; George Marion Tucker, football; and Anne DeLee Siler, cheerleader.

Fraternities: Harold Colson, president, Phi Sigma Pi; Keith Goodson, treasurer of Phi Omega Pi and secretary of Phi Sigma Pi; John W. Hudson, president, Pi Omega Pi.

Clubs and organizations: Gene D. Lanier, Library Club; Arthur Irving Maynard, International Relations Club; Patsy Pool Pappendick, ACE; and Dalton Lee Maan, Mathematics. Others: Lucius Calvin Butt, AFROTC Cadet Colonel; Patricia Ann Dawson, Chief Marshal; and Mildred Rouse Suits, Citizenship.

All these students will be featured in the college yearbook. Selection to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" is considered the most spectacular award presented to college men and women by most people.

Claude King Collects Pair Of Scores In Final Contest

Football bowed out at College Stadium Saturday night, leaving East Carolina with a better than .500 mark but still a disappointing record as compared with 1953.

This was to have been THE year for Pirate football and yet, perhaps the so-so season has its advantages also. Last year East Carolina ripped through a nine-game schedule, losing only to Tampa University. And Pirate supporters had a ready answer for that loss in the absence of Dick Cherry.

Folks around Greenville were beginning to talk in terms of a new era in East Carolina athletics, one in which Pirate teams would run roughshod over all comers. Perhaps 1954 has served its purpose in bursting that bubble.

There is little question in our minds that the past several seasons have inaugurated a new and brighter era for East Carolina, both in athletics and otherwise, but even the most hopeful rosters must realize that the mediocre pace of 1954 cannot be explained by the absence of Cherry or another other single performer.

The success of 1953 had people talking of games with N. C. State, Carolina, V.P.I. and other larger and established schools and of immediate entry into the Southern Conference. Those ambitions are commendable but cannot be attained overnight.

We feel sure that when the Southern Conference does admit new members East Carolina will be among them but until such time as that happens we trust that East Carolina fans will be loyal to the Pirates of the North State Conference and place the concept of playing a good game, win or lose, ahead of more ambitious schedules or entry into higher ranked conferences.

Saturday's finale with Stetson was certainly a pleasing game from the Pirate standpoint. East Carolina gained better than 400 yards on the ground alone and exhibited what appeared to be its best team play of the year.

Particularly outstanding were two senior backs, Claude King and Tom Allsbrook. King, whose kicking this year has been sensational to say the least, booted some beauties in addition to turning in what may have been his best running game. Allsbrook closed out his college career with the evening's first touchdown and also turned in some of his finest runs.

Senior fullback Claude King scored two touchdowns and picked up 108 yards rushing Saturday as East Carolina College closed out its 1954 football season with a 26-7 win over Stetson University from Deland, Fla.

The game, played at College Stadium, found the Pirates unleashing a brutal running game which netted 404 yards.

East Carolina got its first touchdown with less than four minutes gone in the opening period. The Bucs received the kickoff on their own 30 yard line and immediately drove 70 yards for the tally. Halfback Tom Allsbrook did the honors with a twisting, 14-yard run. King added the point from placement.

Five minutes later the Pirates had their second touchdown, this one coming on a 49-yard drive. King made the final yardage by diving over the left side of the Stetson line from two yards out. His attempted conversion was low.

quarter opened. Freshman quarterback Dick Saltrick directed the attack, which stemmed from a spread formation and gave the Pirates considerable trouble.

Saltrick completed eight passes, in the third quarter alone, mainly to end Tom Haffard and halfback Gene Stephenson. He finished the night with 15 completions in 33 attempts and would have had half a dozen more had his receivers been able to hold on.

The third quarter play resulted in a scoreless deadlock but both teams managed a tally in the final quarter. East Carolina went over first when sophomore quarterback Gary Mattocks, running the option play, elected to pitch out to James Henderson. The fleet Virginian headed for the sidelines and outraced the Hatter secondary for 43 yards and the touchdown. Mattocks' placement wobbled over for the 26th point.

Hatters Tally

With only moments remaining in the contest Saltrick's good right arm paved the Stetson way to a score. The Hatters returned the kickoff following Henderson's tally to near midfield. Saltrick then pitched for five completions which moved the ball to the one-yard line. He scored from there on a quarterback sneak and then passed to Haffard in the end zone for the score.

For East Carolina the win meant a 5-4-1 season. Stetson now owns a mark of 1-7.

Several players on both teams turned in outstanding games. For Stetson, in addition to Saltrick, linemen Hollingsworth, Hoffard and Shamrock played outstanding games

Davidson First For Buccaneer Swim Team

by Billy Arnold

A new varsity sport is being launched at East Carolina which could overshadow the big three of baseball, basketball and football that now dominate the Pirate scene. That is a tremendous statement, but one which can be made with reasonable assurance after studying Coach Ray Martinez's up-and-coming swimming team. This is the college's first attempt to enter into the field of water competition.

Martinez is a tall, husky, and determined young man who has had swimming experience at Louisiana State University, in the A.A.U., and in the Air Force. This is his first stab at coaching on a college level and he seems eager and able to produce a winning team.

"We have some very good boys," he said of his squad, "and most of them are freshmen and sophomores, which means they will be improving all the time."

Several meets are already listed, however, the schedule is not complete as yet. The Pirate pool-men will compete at Davidson on the 3rd of December and at The Citadel on the 18th. They will also match their speed and ability against Clemson, Virginia Military Institute, and possibly North Carolina State. Negotiations for contests with Duke, North Carolina, and V.P.I. are being held.

It is early to determine the positions and abilities of the entire squad as yet, but Martinez says, "We'll probably be strongest in the breaststroke competition." There are sixteen members forming the team at present, of which three are divers.

Powerful Dickie Denton leads the group of free-style swimmers with an extremely fast exhibition of the American Crawl. "We all have a lot of work to do," smiled Martinez, "but Denton should show up well. He's looked good in practice."

The sixteen swimmers are led by another promising prospect, Ronnie (The Nose) Rose, who wears a contraption to aid breathing while in the water. Other members of the squad are Garland Tuton, Wade Cooper, Ed Mathews, William Gartman, Frank Moore, Joe Rex Wallace, Phillip Weaver, William West, Benton White, Jan Cayton, El Ramey, Thomas Anthony, and Claude Tyson.

North State Conference Ends Season With Weekend Games

Three games this weekend, none of them conference contests, wind up the North State Conference regular season.

Tomorrow night Guilford's Quakers journey to Danville, Va. for a battle with Hampden-Sydney. Then, on Saturday, Appalachian travels to Florida to meet the University of Tampa while Elon winds up its campaign at Davidson.

Two surprises highlighted last week's action, the first being Appalachian's 14-7 loss to Presbyterian of South Carolina's Little Three and the second, Catawba's 33-7 pounding of Guilford. The Quakers had been decided favorites over a Catawba team which had won only once in nine games.

Other games last week found Western Carolina exploding for a 64-7 win over Newport News Apprentice, Elon defeating Lenoir Rhyne, 14-6, and East Carolina closing out its season by downing Stetson, 26-7.

The standings:

CONFERENCE GAMES	W	L	T	Pct	Pts	Op
Appalachian	6	0	0	1.000	121	53
Elon	4	1	1	.700	116	77
E. Carolina	3	2	0	.600	73	59
W. Carolina	2	2	1	.500	97	106

Guilford	1	3	0	.250	40	79
Catawba	1	4	0	.200	79	122
Lenoir Rhyne	0	5	0	.000	52	77

(The games count half game won, half game lost in conference.)

Etiquette For Men

According to Dr. John Messick an etiquette class for boys will be offered winter quarter under the direction of Miss Nancy Wilmore, dormitory counselor. Because of the experimental nature of this class, it will be an elective non-credit course. Material for the class will be based on the interest of the members. The first session will meet at 6:30 p.m. Monday, November 29, in the Radio Studio of the Library. Miss Wilmore would appreciate any boys who are interested in a course of this type coming by her office in Jarvis Hall before then.

AAUW Offers Women Opportunity To Study At Oxford University

An opportunity now exists for American women to study at Oxford University in England, according to a recent publication by the American Association of University Women, through its Committee on Applications. The AAUW Committee on Applications for Oxford is an official link between Oxford and American women. As its name implies, it is the medium by which applications may be filed by American women wishing to study at Oxford University.

Applicants may be Fulbright Award winners. In the event of this, it is to their advantage to file an application with the AAUW Committee, since these applications are normally considered prior to those made by Fulbright candidates. All AAUW Committee candidates are required to finance themselves for two years at the University in case they fail to receive a Fulbright or other award.

Applications and inquiries should be directed to Dr. Margaret C. Honour, Chairman of the Committee on Applications for Oxford, 428 East 22nd Street, Brooklyn 26, N. Y.

Religious Groups Plan Emphasis Week In January

Religious Emphasis week at East Carolina College, annual observance on the campus, will begin January 23, 1955, according to an announcement by Dr. John B. Sennett, director of religious activities at the college.

The event is sponsored each year by the Inter-Religious Council at East Carolina, an organization made up of representatives of the YMCA, the YWCA, and other student religious groups. Sara Giles of Linden, president, and various committees of the council are cooperating with Dr. Sennett in planning the program for the event.

Five visiting speakers will participate January 23-27 in a series of assemblies and of meetings for informal discussion and will hold conferences with student groups and individual students, according to present plans. By special arrangements with departments of instruction, they will also speak before various classes at the college.

Lovejoy visiting professor of sociology at Greensboro and Guilford Colleges; and Dr. Howard P. Powell, pastor of the Edenton Street Methodist Church, Raleigh, have been announced as members of the visiting group of religious leaders, who will be present at East Carolina for Religious Emphasis Week.

A consultant from the Danforth Foundation will work with faculty groups. Discussion will center attention upon a five-year project on Religion in Teacher Education which is now being conducted at East Carolina and 14 other pilot centers in the United States under the sponsorship of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

Jeanette quickly recalls her most embarrassing incident. "When I called J. B. Christmas to thank him for his gift he never did mention his present at all. I just figured he didn't like it. I found out later he didn't receive it until the day after Christmas."

J. B. says his most embarrassing incident was when he visited Jeanette's home during the Azalea Festival. Jeanette says he was scared to meet her mother.

Jeanette plans to graduate in the summer of '56 with a degree in Grammar Education while J. B. plans to graduate in the spring of '57 with a degree in Business Education. By the way, J. B. is a local boy, while Jeanette hails from the Wilmington. Twenty-five years from now we see Jeanette and J. B. happily married with five cute little children (all boys). J. B. has used his business education very well in setting up his own business. And Jeanette, she is also well applying her knowledge as she has her own kindergarten for her children!

ECC Student Dies On Hunting Trip

Clayton Overton, 19, a freshman at East Carolina, was drowned Saturday morning when he fell from a boat into the Roanoke River. He was returning from squirrel hunting. It was reported that he fell from the boat about 11 a.m. Persons who witnessed the tragedy said that he disappeared beneath the water immediately. The body was recovered at 1:30 p.m. The boat did not capsize, and several squirrels he had shot, his gun and his dog were found in the boat.

The accident occurred near Jamesville, the home of the youth, who was spending the weekend with his parents.

RALEIGH-WAKE ALUMNI HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

Miss Mamie E. Jenkins of Raleigh, retired charter faculty member of East Carolina College, received special recognition at the annual banquet of the Raleigh-Wake County chapter of the East Carolina College Alumni Association held Wednesday night at the Carolina Country Club. James L. Whitfield of Raleigh, president of the General Alumni Association, brought greetings from the association and gave the invocation. Special guests from the college in addition to Butler and Perry were Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Agnes Barrett, secretary to President John D. Messick.

November 15

Carolina Power and Light Company Building, the meeting of alumni heard a progress report of the college. Mrs. Hazel K. Way, New Hanover alumni chapter president, presided over the session.

Held in the assembly room of the Butler also commended the alumni of the area for its support and noted that the 1954 alumni award of East Carolina College was presented Mrs. Hazel K. Way for distinguished service to education.

Plans were developed at the meeting for a dinner session for Southeastern North Carolina alumni to be held in Wilmington in January as a part of the Founders' Day observance. Committees will be announced soon for this project.

Students Pampered Asserts Old Grad Williston Glum, Class of '18, snorted yesterday at the luxuries afforded present-day collegians. "In my time," said Alumn Glum, "we used to have to walk for blocks to get a cold Dr. Pepper. It was worth it, of course, even the Day of the Big Wind, April 2nd, 1916, that was. Today's students don't appreciate what they've got. Why, within easy walking distance of any spot on the campus Dr. Pepper is available... and it's always frosty cold—you know, with tiny flakes of ice in it. Yeah, that's mighty convenient! I wish I could go back to the good old days. "Hang no!" shouted Alumn Glum. "I'd rather be living now when you can always, easily... Wake up your taste with frosty cold Dr. Pepper."

Cartoon strip with panels: FEARLESS FOSDICK, THAT'S ANYFACE, MASTER OF A MILLION DISGUISES, BRAZEN CRIMINAL, I'LL SHOOT YOU IN THE GAS-TANK, NO SELF-RESPECTING HELICOPTER WOULD GO JOY-RIDING WITH LOOSE DANDRUFF, GET WILDROOT CREAM-OIL, CHARLIE, BUT THAT WOULD BE ILLEGAL! MY NAME IS ORSON, MY NAME IS FOSDICK AND YOU WILL NOTE HOW NON-ALCOHOLIC WILDROOT CREAM-OIL KEEPS MY HAIR NEAT BUT NOT SLIGHTLY GREASY.

Photographs of Diana Lynn, David Wayne, and Mrs. Laddie Sanford with captions: Filmom's Diana Lynn: "I think the Miracle Tip is the most modern filter... and L&M the best-tasting filter cigarette." David Wayne, Stage & Screen: "L&Ms have the best filter of them all. Miracle Tip is right! There's nothing like it." Mrs. Laddie Sanford, Socialite Sportswoman: "I love L&Ms. Wonderful filter—exceptional taste!"

No filter compares with L&M'S MIRACLE TIP for Quality or Effectiveness. Isn't it time you tried the cigarette that is sweeping the country... breaking record after record... winning more smokers in less time than any cigarette ever did! Why such success for L&M? It's the filter that counts, and L&M has the best. You get much more flavor, much less nicotine... a light and mild smoke... because only L&M's Miracle Tip gives you the effective filtration you need. Enjoy L&M's king size or regular... both at the same low price. Like thousands, you'll say—"They're just what the doctor ordered." More Flavor Less Nicotine Best Filter Cigarette!
