1956 May Court

Fourteen lovely coeds will reign over the annual May Day festivities to be held on the front lawn Saturday, May 12. A May Day dance will follow Saturday night. This year's court includes, from left to right, Ann Cooke, Laura Credle, Lou Murphy, Martha House, Marcia Forbes, Matron of Honor Barbara Kenney Foley, Jeannette McIntyre, Queen Barbara Strickland, Alice Anne Horne, Ann Mayo, Mary Ann Marshbourne, Louise Yelverton, Shirley Summers, and Jane Credle. (page 1 photos by J. D. Henry.)

Twelve Other Coeds In Court

Barbara Strickland Elected May Queen; Barbara Foley Named Matron Of Honor

by Martha Wilson

Barbara Strickland, senior from Clifton, has been elected Queen of the May Day festivities to be held Saturday, May 12.

"I just wish everybody could be as happy as I am right now," exclaimed Miss Strickland upon receiving the news. Co-reigning over the annual event will be Matron of Honor Barbara Kenney Foley, a senior from Raleigh.

Other senior class representatives in the May Court are Louise Yelverton, Saratoga; Mary Ann Marshbourne, Spring Hope; and Jane Credle and Laura Credle, sisters from New Holland.

From the junior class are Ann

Cooke, Mt. Olive; Shirley Summers, Gibsonville; Lou Murphy, Louisburg; and Ann Mayo, Plymouth.

Martha House of Wilson and Marcia Forbes of Farmville represent the sophomore class; and Jeannette McIntyre, Rocky Mount, and Alice Anne Horne, Tabor City, the freshman class.

Strickland

May Queen Barbara Strickland has been a Homecoming Sponsor for two years and was East Carolina's representative in the Azalea Festival in 1955. She is a Kappa Delta Pi member, Pi Omega Pi member, state PBLA secretary, and SGA secretary for the past two years. "Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities" lists Miss Strickland's name.

Coronation Plans Changed

According to Jimmy Phelps, chairman of the May Day Committee, the time of the coronation exercises has been changed to three o'clock Saturday afternoon, May 12, on the front lawn by the administration building.

First on the program will be an introduction of the May Day attendants followed by the crowning of the Queen. The third grade from the Wash-Coates Training School will present a Maypole dance. There will be a figure by the May Court and also a special number.

The attendants will be arrayed in aqua dresses with matching hats, while the Matron of Honor will wear pink and the Queen a white dress with a train. There will be special flowers for the entire court.

Previous to last year the coronation always has been held in the afternoon in the college stadium. In case of rain the event will be staged in Wright Auditorium.

The May Day dance, semi-formal, is scheduled from 8 p.m. until 12, Saturday, May 12, in Wright Auditorium. Calvin Chesson and his Dreamers will furnish music; refreshments will be served. A special dance for the May Court and their escorts will be held just prior to intermission.

May Day Committee

Following are the special May Day committees: flowers, Mary Lou Parker; program, Ann Adams and Ann Peel; decorations and props, Garland Teton, David Bennett, Mac Edmondson, Fred James and Bill Hardee; and publicity, Dot Laughinghouse and Diana Johnson. Overall chairman is Jimmy Phelps.

Junior-Senior Set For Wright Saturday Night

The annual Junior-Senior Dance will be held in Wright Auditorium Saturday night from 9 until midnight. Music for the formal affair will be furnished by Duke University's Duke Ambassadors.

Highlighting the dance will be a figure formed by junior and senior class officers and their dates. Present junior class officers include: Lock Smith, Princeton, president; Mack Edmondson, Kinston, vice-president; Ann Mayo, Plymouth, secretary; Greenville Banks, Maple, treasurer; Pat Everton, Columbia, SGA representative.

The 1955-56 senior class officers include Garland Teton, Whiteville, president; Bill Hardee, Wilmington, vice-president; Lou Manning, Bailey, secretary; Philip Weaver, Whiteville, treasurer; and Peggy Moore, Franklinton, SGA representative.

Ann Mayo has been placed in charge of the figure. Ann Cooke heads the refreshments committee and Dock Smith is arranging the table settings.

Junior class president Smith announced that Dr. Courtney Stromsta, Mr. Earl Smith, Dr. P. C. Scott, Mr. C. A. Scroggs, Dr. James Stewart, Dr. Kathleen Stokes, Miss Roberta Stokes, Miss Mary Lois Staton, and Dr. Richard C. Todd, class advisor, will serve as chaperones. Decorations committee chairman Edith Rogers reported that the dance's theme would be "Davy Jones' Locker." She and her committee, J. B. Nichols, Eddie Harris, Tommy Davis, Pat Everton and Jean Fisher, are planning appropriate decorations. President Smith emphasized that flowers were not to be given.

Changes In Present Cut System To Be Recommended At Faculty Meeting By Evaluation Committee

by Oliver Williams

The committee appointed by President Messick to study and evaluate the cut system now in effect here will make several recommendations for changes in the present system at the next faculty meeting to be held sometime in early May. The committee headed by Dr. W. E. Marshall of the Social Studies Department and composed of students and faculty members has held several meetings during the last two quarters. During this time they have drawn up the proposals that they will recommend to the faculty.

Dr. Marshall stated that he felt that the recommendations would be an improvement in the present system. "In some respects I think that recommendations of the committee are more liberal than the present system; in other respects it is more stiffer," he went on to say.

Will Recommend Following Changes

The following recommendations concerning the number of cuts allowed will be presented to the faculty:

1. Students shall be permitted as many cuts in each class as the number of hours that the class meets per week. However, each department head shall determine the number of cuts that will be allowed in respect to laboratory periods.

2. No excuse shall be granted a student upon the request of a faculty member for any activity on the campus, nor for the preparation of any activity either on or off the campus, except in special case which shall be determined by the Dean responsible.

3. First-quarter freshmen shall be entitled only to one unexcused cut per class; second-quarter freshmen, two unexcused cuts per class; third-quarter freshmen, three unexcused cuts per class, but in no case shall the number of cuts allowed be greater than the number of hours the class meets per week. Thereafter, number one immediately preceding shall be followed by the Dean responsible.

Also to be recommended by this committee at the same meeting will be a new procedure for getting class cuts excused. The request for an excuse shall be secured from the proper Dean who will initial it. The student will then present the initialed blank to the proper professors who will initial it and return it to the Dean. Or in case duplicates are made, the professors concerned shall initial a copy and file it—the Dean filing the original which will serve as a part of the student's permanent record.

This change will eliminate the list of absentees regularly compiled by the Deans and forwarded to the professors to check.

The statements already in the catalogue are recommended by the committee to remain as stated.

The committee which will present these recommended changes is made up of Dr. W. E. Marshall, chairman, Dean J. H. Tucker, Dean Ruth White, Mr. J. B. Cummings, Mr. George Perry, Miss Nell Stallings, Mr. Donald Umstead, past president SGA, and Miss Ann Bowles, chairman of Women's Judiciary.

Faculty to Discuss Fraternities Also, at the next meeting the faculty will discuss social fraternities. A preliminary meeting was held last week at which social fraternities were discussed. At this meeting it was decided that the students should be well informed of the activities of such fraternities. It was recommended that students should discuss the pros and cons of social fraternities in the East Carolinian before the faculty acted upon them.

Play Leads In 'Macbeth'

Dr. Larry Eckles of the department of English will play the title role in the "Macbeth" production which is scheduled for three performances in the new Flanagan Sylvan Theater beginning May 10. Alice Anne Horne, freshman from Tabor City and a big hit in the playhouse production of "Blithe Spirit" earlier this year, will play Lady Macbeth.

Dr. Larry Eckles, Alice Anne Horne Play "Macbeth" Leads

The new Flanagan Sylvan Theater will be opened with a production of Shakespeare's tragedy "Macbeth" scheduled for three performances May 10, 11 and 12 at 8 p.m.

Dr. Larry Eckles of the department of English will play the title role; and Alice Horne, Tabor City freshman, will be Lady Macbeth.

The theater, now nearing completion, is a gift to the college by Mrs. Rosa H. Flanagan of Greenville, Greenville businesswoman and, for a number of years, a member of the East Carolina College Board of Trustees.

Located on the West Campus, it is a brick and concrete structure with a seating capacity of approximately 800.

Dr. Joseph A. Withey of the East Carolina department of English will direct the production. Nancy Cooke, junior from Dunn, will act as his assistant.

Dr. James Poindexter, chairman of arrangements, and Dr. J. D. Allison, consultant in interpretation, both of the department of English, are members of a large staff now completing plans for the presentation of the drama.

Scenic effects will be designed by John Gordon of the department of art and a staff of students. William C. Dixon Jr. of Kinston, East Carolina sophomore, will handle lighting.

The cast will be made up of both students and members of the faculty. In addition to the principals other members just announced by Dr. Withey include Dr. Floyd Overly as Duncan; Dr. Kelly Crockett as Malcolm; Lloyd Bray Jr., Greenville sophomore, as Banquo; James Simpson as Macduff; Dr. Edgar Hirschberg as the porter; Mrs. James Poindexter as Lady Macduff; and Beatrice Chauncey, Mrs. Agnes Barrett, and Mrs. Edgar Hirschberg as the three witches.

Plans Announced For 47th Annual Commencement Here

Plans have been announced for the East Carolina College 47th Annual Commencement on the campus. Events, including Alumni Day and Graduation exercises, will cover the two-day period of Saturday, May 19, and Sunday, May 20. Dr. Hiden Ramsey of Asheville, chairman of the State Board of Higher Education of North Carolina, will make the commencement address.

The two-day schedule is an innovation at the college, which for many years has had Alumni Day on Saturday, the commencement sermon on Sunday, and graduation exercises on Monday.

Dr. Ramsey will address graduates Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the Wright auditorium. Formerly general manager of the Asheville Citizen-Times, he is widely known throughout North Carolina because of distinguished service in journalism, education, the political life of the state, and other fields. The conferring of degrees will follow his address.

Saturday will be devoted to alumni affairs. Events of the day are now being planned by James W. Butler, alumni secretary at the college, and officers of the East Carolina Alumni Association.

The spring business meeting of the association will take place Saturday at 10 a. m. in the Austin auditorium. Of chief interest will be the announcement of the annual Alumni Award to an Outstanding Graduate of the college. Baxter Ridenhour of Durham, president of the association, will preside and extend greetings from the alumni to graduates of 1956.

The class of 1911 will receive special honor during the day as members celebrate the forty-fifth anniversary of their graduation. Nine other classes which will hold reunions during the day are those of 1916, 1921, 1926, 1931, 1936, 1941, 1946, 1951, and 1955.

Social events of the day will include a luncheon for alumni and guests of the college at 12:15 p. m. in the North Dining Room on the campus and a tea at 3 p. m. to be held in the Mamie E. Jenkins Faculty-Alumni House. Guests will be alumni, graduates, and staff members at the college.

The East Carolina College Band will give its annual lawn concert at 4 p. m. Saturday as closing event of the Alumni Day program.

East Carolina Concert Band To Play In McGinnis May 9

East Carolina's Concert Band will appear in its annual spring program of music Wednesday, May 9, at 8 p.m. in the McGinnis Auditorium. The ensemble of sixty-five selected student musicians will play light, popular music under the direction of Herbert L. Carter of the faculty.

Four seniors, chosen for their talent as musicians, will act as student conductors of selections included on the program. Each will direct the band in the performance of one composition. Those honored by this recognition are Earl H. Peterson Jr. of New Bern, James Page of Williamson, Joseph Secest of Morganton, and G. Neil Williams of Rocky Mount.

Among featured numbers on the program will be a cornet trio "The Three Cardinals" by Davis. Mr. Peterson, Herbert J. Ireland Jr. of Greenville, and Billy A. McAdams of Fayetteville compose the group.

Included among selections for the concert will be the tone poem "Aller Seelen" by Strauss; "Rompin' Stomp" by Gillis; the popular "Merry Wives of Windsor" overture by Nicolai; and a group of lively marches suited to band performance.

The concert May 9 will be followed May 19 by the annual lawn concert given on Alumni Day at East Carolina as part of commencement exercises at the college and as final appearance of the band for the 1956-1957 term.

Band Rehearses For May 9 Concert

East Carolina's Concert Band is shown rehearsing for its annual spring program which will be presented Wednesday, May 9, at 8 p. m. in the McGinnis Auditorium.

Results Of Junior English Examination Available Soon

The English examination required of all juniors here this year for the first time, which was administered late in March, has now been scored and the information tabulated by Dr. Hazel Taylor of the department of psychology, director of testing at the college.

The examination during the junior year is similar to the one given in a large number of colleges and universities in this country. The purpose is to help students find and correct before their senior year deficiencies in reading and English usage and to keep them aware of the need to carry over into habitual use what they learned in freshman composition courses.

Lois Grigsby, faculty member of the department of English, serves as chairman of the English Usage Committee, at the request of which the college administration inaugurated the examination.

Results are being prepared by Director of Student Personnel James H. Tucker for distribution to the faculty and will be in the hands of faculty advisors of students before the close of the present spring term.

Individual juniors may learn of results of the tests through their advisors either late this spring or early in the fall.

Opportunity will be given for those juniors who were unable to take the examination in March to complete the requirement later. The date will be announced by Vice President Leo W. Jenkins, under whose supervision the testing program was set up.

Some comparative studies of results are being made by Dr. Taylor and Dr. Tucker. Others are planned by Dr. James Poindexter and Dr. James Allison, members of the department of English and of the English Usage Committee of the college.

Bucs Finish Home Schedule

East Carolina's baseball nine will face Catawba's unpredictable Indians here Saturday for the last home game of the '56 campaign. Game time is slated for 2:30 p.m. The Bucs have to beat Catawba to remain in the race for the North State baseball crown. In their last outing with Catawba, of Salisbury, Coach Jim Mallory's crew found themselves on the short end of a 5-3 score.

McPherson or Cherry
Probable pitchers for East Carolina are Crane McPherson or Mack Cherry. Barney Stevens, hard hitting right fielder, will be counted on to supply most of the power at the plate along with Nick Smothers, Rocky Reep and Sandy Sanderson. Stevens is presently leading the ball club in the hitting department with an unofficial mark of .350.

The starting lineup will consist of Smothers at first, Sanderson at second, Reep at the hot corner and Stewart at the shortstop position. Huntington or Clark will be in left field, Turner in center and Stevens in right. Mallory will employ Bowen, Zelling or Watts behind the plate.

Reserves that possibly might see action are infielders Tommy Harris, Gary Treron, Bob Lewis and Worth Barnard, Joe Long, Bob Lilley and Bill Boyd are outfielders that might be called on to see limited action.

Last Home Game
Although there are seven remaining games on the schedule, the Catawba contest is the last regularly scheduled home game. From then on, the Pirates will be on the road. Besides having to make up a game with Atlantic Christian, they will face High Point on May 10, Appalachian on May 11 and 12, High Point on May 14, and Guilford on May 15. All of these are away. In order to keep their title as North State League defending champions, the Pirates will have to win practically all of these games. After getting off to a slow start, it is hoped that the young Bucs can play the ball they are capable of and again emerge as holders of the North State Baseball Crown.

Recent Losses Give Pirates Sixth Notch In North State Loop

East Carolina's baseball team, apparently in a slump, dropped two conference decisions last weekend while winning one. The Pirates' victory was a 7-0 win over Guilford last Friday evening. The losses came at the hands of Catawba, last Monday, and Elon Saturday evening.

Pirate Hitter

BERMEY STEVENS—East Carolina's hustling little right fielder Bermevy Stevens is currently leading the Bucs at the plate, with an unofficial average of over .350. The hard-hitting righthander is one of the outstanding men in the league, both offensively and defensively.

Right-hander Charlie Russell pitched the Bucs to their third conference win with a neat 4-hit 7-0 victory over Guilford College. Russell turned in the top pitching performance of the year as he chalked up his second win against no defeats. Nick "Big Klu" Smothers provided the offensive punch with three hits in four trips to the plate. Jerry Stewart and Gene Turner collected two hits each.

Despite an eighth inning home run by Gene Turner, Catawba was able to hold onto an early lead and hand the Pirates a 5-3 loss. Turner's blast came with nobody on base. Mack Cherry was charged with the loss, his second of the season.

Ach-rival Elon evened the Bucs' conference record at 3-3 last Saturday evening with an 11-5 win. The Christians chased three Pirate pitchers for 10 hits while Bill Ross and Gilbert Watts scattered eight hits among ECC batters. Berny Stevens collected two doubles and a triple for the Pirates in four trips to the plate. Lefty Tom Harkey was the losing pitcher.

STANDINGS (Monday)

Team	Won	Lost
Lenoir Rhyne	3	1
High Point	5	2
Western Carolina	5	2
Catawba	6	3
Elon	6	4
East Carolina	3	3
Guilford	3	7
Atlantic Christian	2	5

Note: Lenoir Rhyne lost Monday to Appalachian.

Buc Netters Nearing League Championship

As the paper went to press, East Carolina's tennis team was on its way to Guilford to face the Quakers in a North State Conference tilt that might pave the way to a League Crown for the Bucs.

Coach Ray Martinez' boys, before the Guilford contest, boast a 4-1 loop mark, which is good enough to give them the title, providing they conquer their last two remaining North State opponents—the Quaker match and a tilt with Atlantic Christian.

An East Carolina team has yet to win the North State tennis championship in all its years of existence, however, Coach Martinez seems to think that this is the big year for the Pirates.

On Monday, the Bucs lost a close 5-4 decision to the Wolfpack netters of North Carolina State. In an earlier meeting of the two squads, State had posted a 6-3 triumph.

Winning for ECC in the singles events were Maurice Everette and Al Webb. Both Webb and Everette are sophomores and lettermen from last season's outfit.

Two doubles combinations won for the Buccaneer team. Mike Katsias and Gene Lilley won as a duo, while Gil Underwood and Joel Farrar posted another victory for the Pirates.

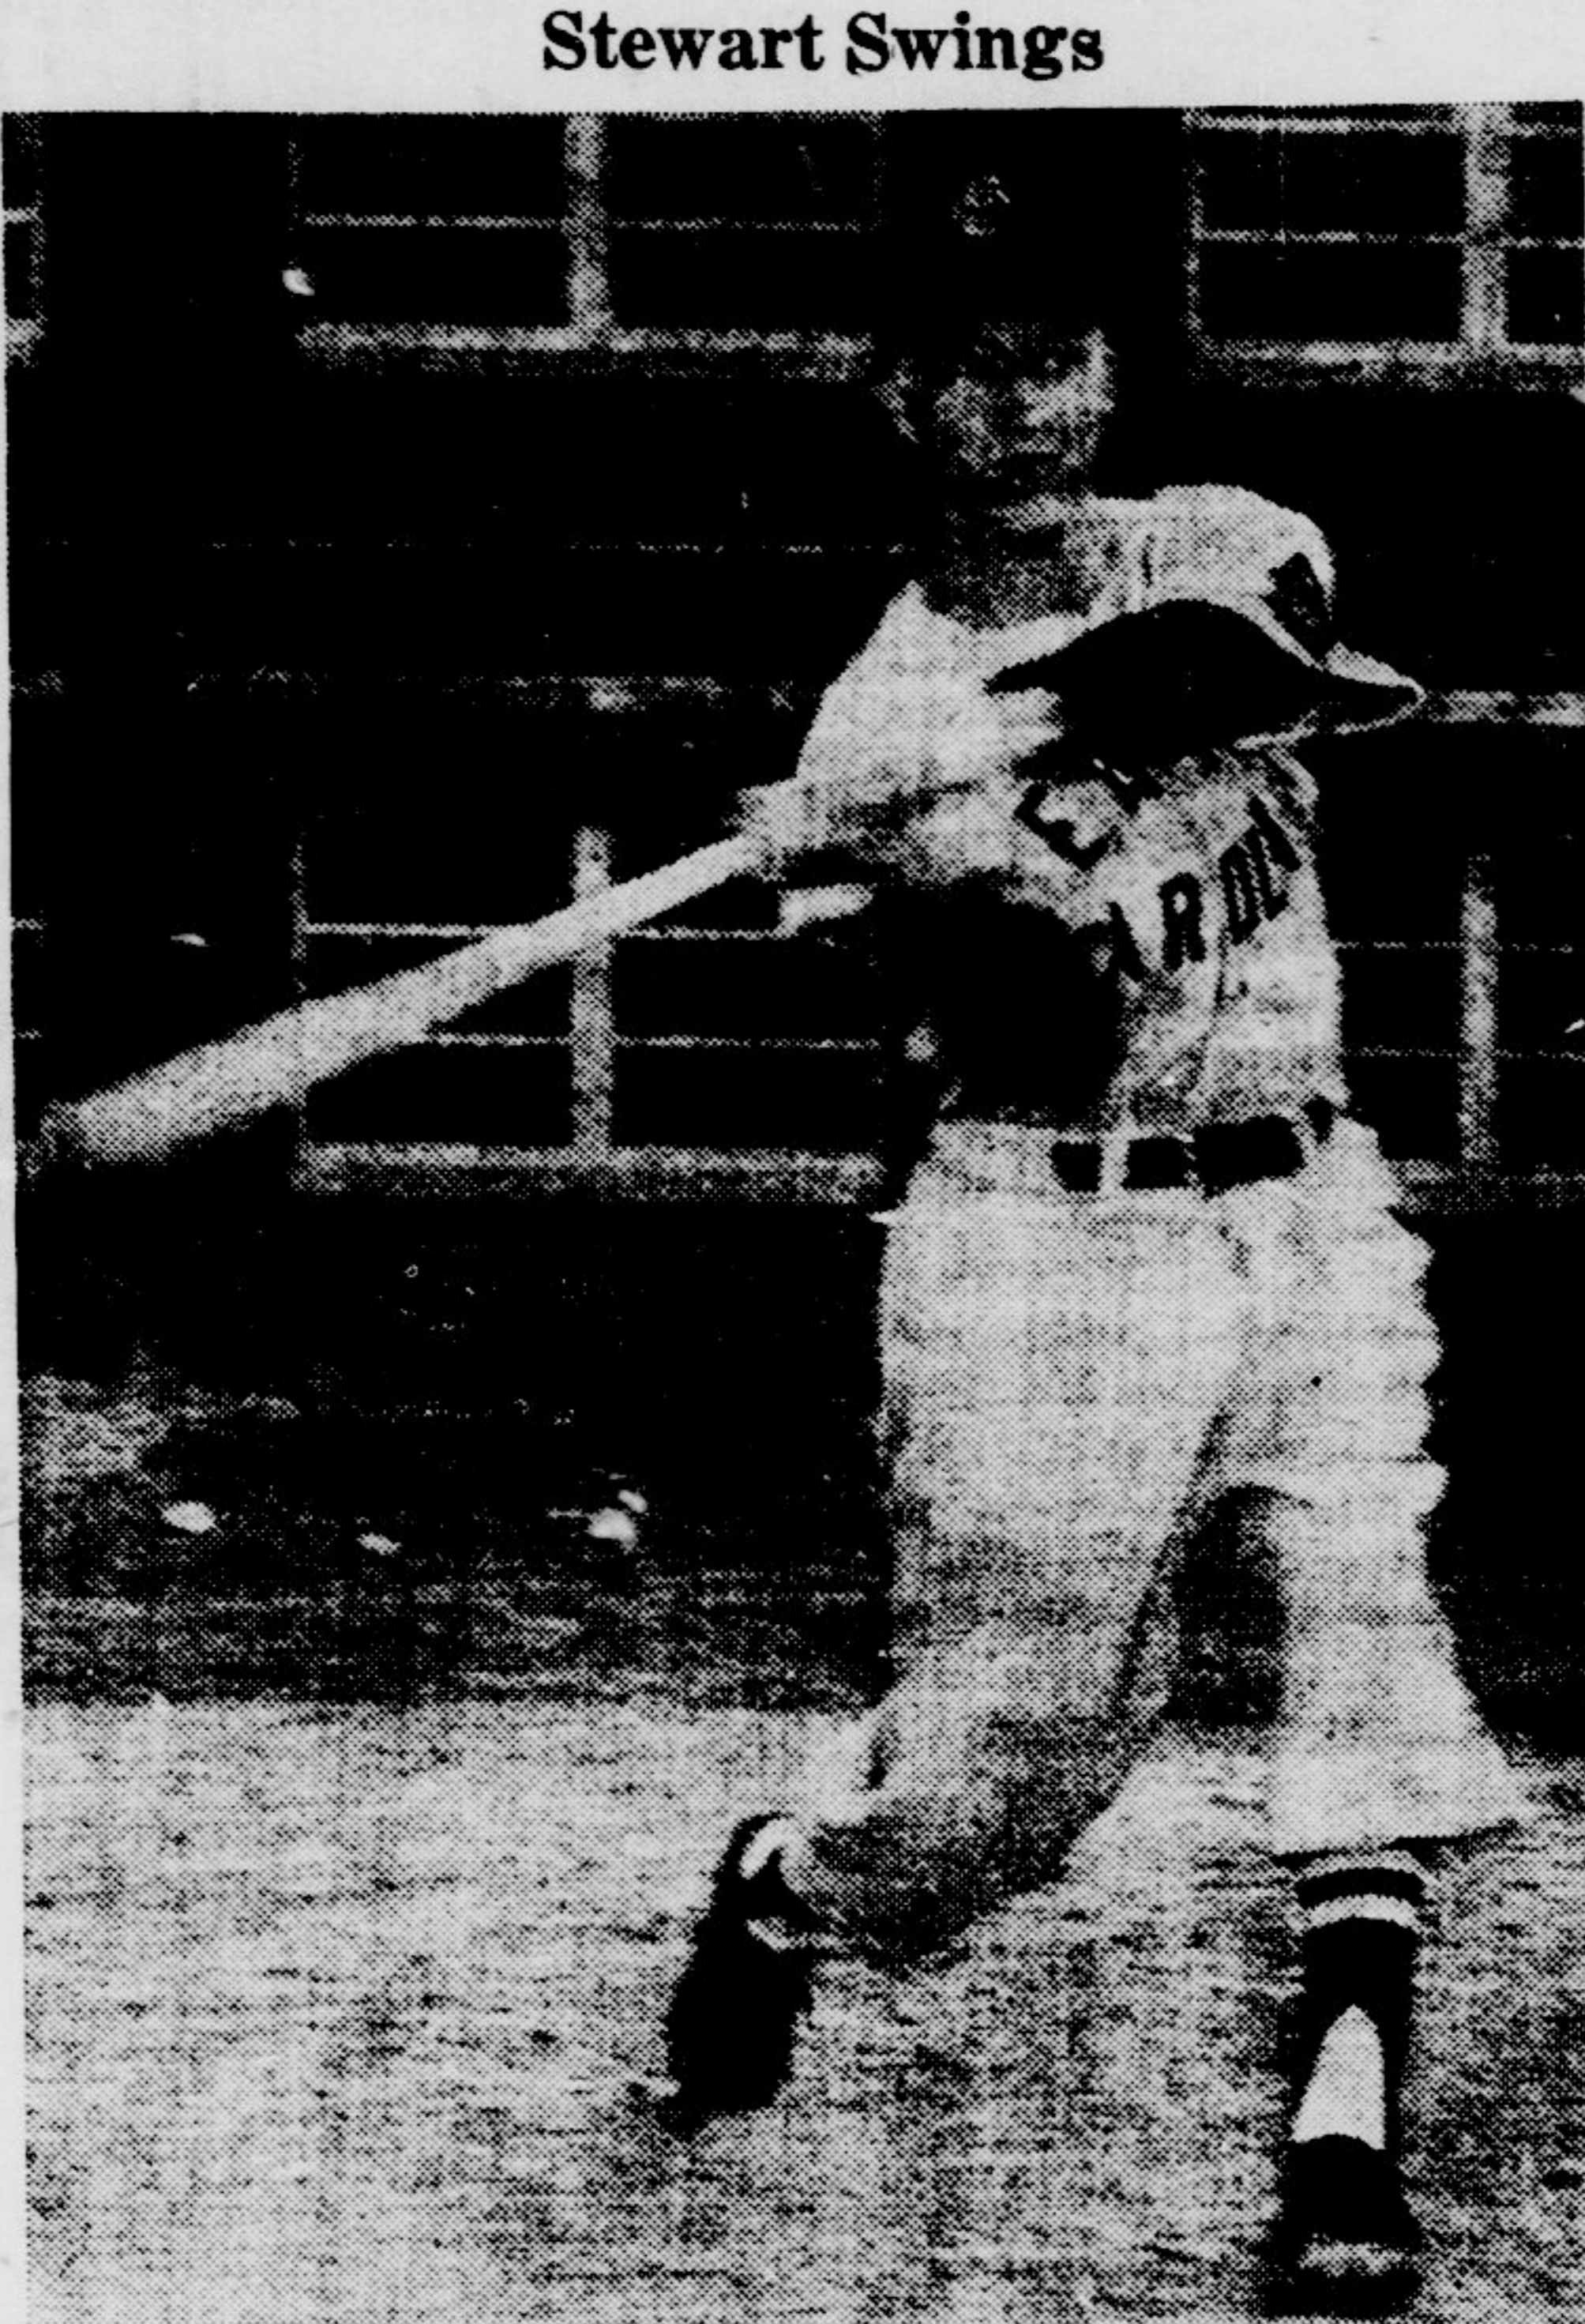

The Pirates, with or without the win over Guilford, have posted a fairly good season. Their losses have come at the hands of some of the top tennis teams in the East, namely State, Kenyon (of Ohio), Wake Forest. Their only loss in conference play has come in a contest with High Point, the defending champs, who have held the title for five years.

ECC Tracksters Travel To Norfolk To Meet Navy Crew

East Carolina's harrier, truck to well against such teams as N. C. State, Wake Forest and Atlantic Christian.

The last meet for the Pirates will be with the Tigers of Hampden-Sydney next Tuesday at Hampden-Sydney. The following Saturday will find the Purple and Gold participating in the North State Conference Meet.

The Pirates possess one of their better track teams this year. Led by the likes of sensational "Injun Jim" Henderson, they have played strongly in every event this year. To capture the North State trophy from arch rival Elon will be no easy task; it will take a combined team effort.

JERRY STEWART—this free-swinging sophomore, who has been ECC's regular shortstop ever since he enrolled here, has been one of the best fielders ever to work on a Mallory-coached club. He was a big wheel in helping the Bucs win the North State title last year.

Red Cross Holds Clinic Here For The Handicapped

Richard L. Brown, assistant director of Water Safety for the American National Red Cross, directed a swimming clinic here Friday and Saturday dealing with programs of work with the handicapped and disabled. The event was attended by representatives from several South Atlantic states.

Ray Martinez, faculty member of the East Carolina health and physical education department, who was in charge of local arrangement, in which handicapped students of ages ranging from 10 to 19 participated.

The clinic was sponsored by the East Carolina Aquatic Club, student organization, and the American Red Cross.

Inter-Religious Officers
Officers of the East Carolina Inter-Religious Council for 1956-57 will be headed by President Bobbi Harrell representing the Episcopal group. A Unitarian, John Quinn, is the new vice president. Martha Johnson from the Free Will Baptist will act as secretary, and Kenneth Harper of the Church of Latter Day Saints will serve as treasurer.

Summer Sessions Include Workshops, Clinics, Tour

The 1956 summer session, opening Monday, June 4, will include as special features a number of workshops and clinics planned largely for teachers and school administrators.

In addition, a series of one-day conferences, exhibits, and demonstrations are being planned for teachers, school administrators, parents, and others. These events will cover a wide area of educational interest.

The 1956 summer session will be divided into two terms. The first will extend from June 4 through July 10; the second, from July 11 through August 17.

Workshops and clinics for the first term have been scheduled in the fields of resource-use education; special education; health and physical education; and business education. A workshop for kindergarten teachers will take place during the second term.

Dr. Ed J. Carter of the Bureau of Field Services will direct the Resource-Use Workshop, June 4-July 10. Offered under the direction of the college department of education, this course of study will direct attention to analyzing the community, planning programs of community action, evaluating resource-use programs, and other phases of working cooperatively in a community.

Students in a Workshop in Clinical Experiences in Special Education, June 4-July 10, will have opportunity to work with and observe a group of selected children with speech and hearing difficulties. These young people will be at the college as members of a clinic in special education. Dr. Courtney Stromsta of the department of education will be instructor in the workshop and director of the clinic.

Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, head of the department of health and physical education, will direct a workshop, June 5-15, on Alcoholism in Health Education. The effect of alcohol on the human body and the social and economic implications of alcoholism will receive emphasis. State and national authorities on alcoholism will act as guest lecturers and consultants.

Charles E. Zoubek of the Gregg Publishing Company, editor, author, and noted authority on shorthand, will participate in a two-weeks workshop, June 4-15, on Improvement of Instruction in Gregg Shorthand. The workshop, offered by the East Carolina department of business education, will be directed by Dr. James L. White of the college faculty.

Coaches Jack Boone, James Malory, and Earl Smith of the physical education department will serve as leaders in a two-day clinic on football, baseball, and basketball, June 14-15. Discussions and demonstrations have been planned to interest and aid resident coaches as well as coaches and other interested individuals in the field.

During the second term Annie Mae Murray, director of the East Carolina kindergarten, will be in charge of a workshop for kindergarten teachers, August 6-August 10. Activities have been planned to benefit teachers both in kindergarten and in the primary grades. Those enrolled will work during the week with a group of children attending the East Carolina kindergarten.

Other attractions of the second term will be East Carolina's Third Annual Summer Music Camp July 15-29, and a travel-study tour to the West Coast, July 11-August 14. More than 200 junior and senior high school musicians are expected to participate in varied activities during the camp and to appear in two public concerts. The five-weeks tour will combine academic work with sight-seeing over a wide area of the United States.

Organizational News

College Union Board Elects President

Dacoma Byrd, who has been on the College Union Student Board since she entered East Carolina College, was re-elected president for the second consecutive year. Miss Byrd, a junior from Garner, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Byrd of St. Petersburg, Florida. She has been active in other campus activities as well as the CUSB. She is a member of the Future Teachers of America, a dormitory representative for that organization, has served on the SGA for two and a half years, and is a pledge of Tau Beta Sigma.

Other officers elected were: Dot Lloyd, secretary, and Bill Slot, treasurer. The committee chairmen are as follows: Norma Jea Siler, Social Committee; Charles Simmons, House Committee; Sally McKay, Publicity Committee; Greenville Banks, Music and Dance Committee; Eddie Dennis, Games Committee; and Jack Beaman, Fine Arts Committee.

Among the projects that the CUSB has sponsored this year are: quarterly ping pong tournaments, duplicate bridge nights, the student directory, a publicity brochure, dancing on the terrace, and a tea for foreign students on campus.

The CUSB is now working to have the kitchen equipped so that students may have suppers or socials here.

East Carolina Playhouse
Bill Dixon of Kinston is the president of the East Carolina Playhouse for the coming school year. Also selected to serve as officers of the college dramatic group are: vice president, Ken West; recording secretary, Jackie McDaniels; corresponding secretary, Marcia Forbes; and treasurer, Lloyd Bray.

The group has voted to have a redecoration of the Green Room. Also under consideration at this time is an invitation from N. C. State College to present a three-act play there next fall.

Veteran's Club

The Veteran's Club met at a dinner dance Thursday, April 12, for the installation of officers. The meeting took place at Respass-James' at West End Circle.

The officers installed were the following: Jesse Riddle, a junior from Durham, is president; Jack Neilson, Greenville, is vice-president in charge of concessions; Jack Edwards, Williamson, is vice-president in charge of projects; Bundy King, Jacksonville, is vice-president in charge of programs; Henry Stanley, Kinston, is treasurer; Tom Nixon, Winston-Salem, secretary; Richard Conder, Hamlet, is reporter; Jack Yates, Hamlet, is loan fund chairman.

Home Economics

Newly-elected officers for 1956-57 for the ECC Home Economics Club are as follows:

Serving as president next year will be Shirley Hargrove, and Ruth Turnage will take over as vice president. Selected to be secretary is Nancy Whitley. Treasurer for the club will be Betty Smith.

East Carolinian reporter is Lou Ann Rouse; the Buccaneer reporter is Janet Dawson Manning. Shirley Hargrove and Neel Dupree and Eunice Castellow recently attended the state workshop of college home economics with advisors Miss Lillah Gaut and Dr. Bessie McNeil at WCUNC, Greensboro, N. C.

Delta Sigma Pi

Delta Zeta Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi held a dance Saturday night, April 28, in honor of its new brothers. This occasion followed a pledge period in which the new members were orientated into the functions of the fraternity. Formal initiation was held on Saturday evening and was followed by a dinner held in honor of the pledges.

The new members of Delta Sigma Pi are as follows: Herbert S. Corey, Jack Edwards, Jack S. Everton, Edgar Delamar, Eugene Brown, Carl Wilkison, Clifton Gaskins.

Canterbury Club

Members of the Canterbury Club and their guests plan to go to Camp Leach for their annual outing. On the weekend of April 27th, the Canterburyans are looking forward to a time of relaxation, swimming, and boating at the Episcopal Church camp near Washington, N. C. The weekend will be brought to a close on Sunday, April 29 by a Chapel service conducted by Dr. James E. Poindexter, Advisor to the Canterbury Club.

The officers for the forthcoming year will be elected at the May 6th meeting of the club at St. Paul's House.

Bobbie Harrell, sophomore from Raleigh, has previously been elected vice-president of the Canterbury Club and she will act as representative to the Inter-Religious Council and serve in the capacity of president of this Council.

Presbyterian Westminster Fellowship
During the month of April and May the Westminster Fellowship has been sending out visitation teams to different churches in the outlying area around Greenville. Each team is composed of three or four members of the Fellowship.

A team participates in one of the Sunday services of the church, which issued an invitation. Each person on the team conducts some portion of the service. Also, a talk is given about what the Westminster Fellowship is, its purposes and projects.

Another project of this organization has been to help to organize a colored Sunday School just outside of Greenville. The members alternate in going out and teaching the Sunday School classes and working with their leaders in making plans for the growth of this church. Plans are now underway to begin work on improving the church grounds, and it is hoped that soon construction of a church will be underway.

Raulston Likes Work Here

Pacific who heard her programs. Part of "The Service Houseparty" was a salute to heroes who appeared in person as their stories were told in interview or drama. She wrote one hero story too many, she says, because before she knew it she was in the WAC!

For three years and nine months she was stationed in Georgia where she wrote the book, "History of the Infantry School," published by the Infantry Journal. Also, during this time she directed the musical, "Oklahoma!" which re-awakened her interest in music, particularly composition.

After much consideration, Miss Raulston then decided to enter the College of Music of the University of Colorado on the GI Bill. While she was at the University, a new radio station was built—and she became the program director of KBOL!

TV Director

However, when she discovered that musical composition was not her major talent, she went to Detroit where she entered television as a director of WXYZ-TV. However, ever since she had directed an informal radio workshop in Tallahassee, Florida, she had wanted to return to Boston to get her bachelor's and master's degrees from Emerson College. She was accepted as a sophomore and as a teacher.

When she first started teaching at Emerson, she taught a night extension course which she says was a most enjoyable experience because she had a truck driver, an optometrist, and a doctor in her first class. Besides going to college plus teaching eight subjects, she was also working in radio in Boston at the same time. After receiving her M.A. degree, she became TV educational producer-director for United Community Services and also taught at Boston University. However, the cold winters in Boston influenced her to respond to an inquiry made at E. C. from Dr. Messick. (She says that she really enjoys not having to wear boots all winter!)

Likes Greenville

Miss Raulston says that she likes Greenville and the people here very much and that she is very happy to be here. Her jobs here at E.C.C. are those of a teacher of speech in the English Department and the director of radio and television. According to Miss Raulston, next fall there will be courses for credit in radio and TV techniques. Currently, students have organized in production crews to offer our E.C.C. special events to all radio stations that want to pick them up by line. Two television stations and thirteen radio stations are carrying our tape recorded programs. (The schedule for these programs is posted in the Student Union and various other places around the campus.)

Miss Raulston says that she has a personal quote which she took from an old Emerson quote: "What you do shouts so loud that I can't hear what you say."

We think that East Carolina is indeed lucky to have such an interesting and outstanding teacher as Miss Rosalind Raulston, and we sincerely hope that the little girl who DID become an actress will always enjoy teaching and working here at East Carolina College!

English Club Lists Winners In Creative Writing Contest

Mrs. Sonia M. Lyons and Betty Lou Small have been awarded first place prizes for their entries in the creative writing contest which appeared in last week's East Carolinian, according to English Club officials, sponsors of the project.

Mrs. Lyons received $5 in the prose division for her short story "The Day the Rooshians Came." Helen Lee, Jenn Littleton, and Rachel Lang's "The Call of the Sea" was awarded a $2.50 second prize.

In the poetry division, Betty Lou Small was awarded $5 for her poem "Self Portrait." "Why?" by Harry Morris received the $2.50 second prize.

"Corporal Rorie Reports, Sir" by William F. Rorie, Margaret Starnes' "A Prayer" and Patricia J. Wentz' "Rail Cargo" received honorable mention.

Glee Club And Chorus Presents Joint Concert

The Varsity Men's Glee Club and the Women's Chorus of East Carolina College will appear in a joint concert Sunday, May 6, at 8 p.m. in the McGinnis auditorium on the college campus. The public is invited to attend.

Dan E. Vornholt of the college department of music will direct the ensemble of 65 women's voices in a program of songs. James Simpson, also of the music faculty, will direct the glee club, as the 35 members present a group of selections.

As closing number on the program the two choral organizations will sing jointly "Give Me Your Tired and Your Poor," a song by Irving Berlin based on part of the inscription of the Statue of Liberty.

Girls Walked A Mile From J. Paul Sheedy* Till Wildroot Cream-Oil Gave Him Confidence

"Done anything tonight honey?" Sheedy asked his little desert flower. "Get lost!" she shrieked. "Your hair's too shaggy, Sheedy. Confidentially it's spinx!" Well, this was really insultant. So J. Paul got some Wildroot Cream-Oil. Now he's the picture of confidence because he knows his hair looks handsome and healthy the way Nature intended... neat but not greasy. Take Sheedy's advice. If you want to be popular, get a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. Nomad-der if your hair is straight or curly, thick or thin, a few drops of Wildroot Cream-Oil every morning will keep you looking your best. You'll agree Wildroot really keeps Sahara-n place all day long.
