Tucker Band Plays For Dance, Concert In Wright Friday Night

Tommy Tucker and his "Sing For Your Supper" orchestra will play in Wright Auditorium tomorrow night. The attraction will feature Clare Nelson, a lovely MGM singing star. Tucker is known throughout the nation as one of the finest dance performers and recording artists. He and his orchestra have delighted audiences the country over in hotels, theaters, ballrooms and clubs. Top engagements at the Hotel Astor in New York, the Roosevelt Hotel in Washington, Copley Plaza in Boston, the Essex House in New York, Statler in Cleveland, Wardman Park Hotel in Washington, El Patio Ballroom, San Francisco and Elitch's Gardens in Denver among many others have brought world wide acclaim.

Band Plans Schedule Of TV And Concert Performances

East Carolina's Concert Band will begin a busy winter schedule this month with programs in Kinston and Rocky Mount, an appearance on television, and the annual winter concert on the college campus.

The band, an organization of seventy selected student musicians is directed by Herbert L. Carter of the faculty.

In its first appearance on television, the band will play Sunday, January 27, on the program "Impact," sponsored by the college and presented weekly over the facilities of WITN of Washington, Channel 7, at 2:30 p. m.

The thirty-minute program, Mr. Carter has announced, will include a group of spirited marches; Lyndol Mitchell's "Railroad Suite," based on familiar railroad songs; Mozart's "Impressario" overture; and selections by other composers ranging from Bach and Beethoven to Vincent Youmans.

Three concerts have been scheduled in Kinston and Rocky Mount. An afternoon program at the Grainger High School, Kinston, will be presented Thursday, January 31. In Rocky Mount the group will appear Friday, February 1 at the Junior High School in a morning concert, and at the Senior High School in an afternoon program.

The annual winter concert at East Carolina College, an event which each year attracts a large audience from the campus and elsewhere, will take place Friday, February 8, at 8 p. m. in the Wright auditorium. The program will be presented as an attraction of the Eastern Division of the All-State Band Clinic, which will be in session during the weekend with high-school bands from the eastern part of the state in attendance.

Student Legislature Approves Proposed Amendment Changes

Bill Concerning Editor Selection Change Withdrawn

Legislators Wednesday night overwhelmingly approved two constitutional amendments dealing with the college Entertainment Committee and representation on the Summer School Student Government Association.

The introduction of an amendment concerning the editor-selection method of the East Carolinian which was scheduled for debate was withheld.

President Dock Smith received a solid backing in his efforts to revise a portion of the third section of Article 17 in the constitution concerning the members and duties of the entertainment committee.

Kappa Sigma Nu President Jimmy Phelps withdrew his previous notice concerning a change in the editor-selection method of the East Carolinian because of the "general disinterest of the student legislature and because these legislators had accepted false information on other bills." He said he would not present it again.

Approval

Solons approved the addition of "after a majority of the Entertainment Committee members have voted in favor of it at a meeting when a quorum was present" to the third section of Article 17 which states, "The chairman of the committee shall sign all contracts for entertainment booked by the committee."

Smith, when he presented his previous notice last week, explained that he felt there was a defect in the constitution because it was possible for a few to select the school's entertainment programs.

Jimmy Phelps, who is also a member of the Entertainment Committee, introduced a motion asking that the bill be referred to a committee so as to obtain "true facts and true opinion." It failed to receive a second.

Phelps pointed out that it had been quite a problem obtaining students who were willing to serve on the committee and stated that the Entertainment Committee had not been consulted concerning the matter.

He told members of the legislature Smith was turning his back on the committee and explained, "People don't like to have their throat cut."

Smith Comments

President Smith told the newspaper it wasn't his intention to cut throats but felt it was something that needed attention.

Mr. James W. Butler, who is chairman of the committee, was on hand at the meeting, also. He said it was becoming increasingly difficult to obtain top dance bands because they were refusing to make road trips. The Alumni Secretary pointed out, too, that his committee had received reports of entertainment available next year and that the majority of it was made up of foreign groups.

The approval of the change in Article 21, Section 3 provides for the addition of officers on the SGA during the summer term.

Pre-Registration

Pre-registration will be held January 28 through January 31 for spring quarter of 1967, according to Dean Leo W. Jenkins. He asks that all students check with their major advisors or departmental bulletin boards for specific instructions.

Pre-registration is a definite part of the total registration program. Everyone who plans to be in attendance during the spring quarter must pre-register. If a student does not plan to be here during the spring, he is requested to bring the fact to the attention of his major advisor. Students who do not pre-register will be stopped in all classes beginning Monday, February 4, 1967.

Late evening classes that will be offered spring quarter include Art 115 and 217, Business 366, English 210, 318, 319G, Health 125 and 244, Physical Education 117, Industrial Arts 122, Library Science 225, Psychology 103, 205, and 275, and Science 45.

Final plans are being completed for Religious Emphasis Week which will be held February 3-7. The activities are under the direction of Ralph LaMm of Wilson, right, student chairman of the week's events and president of the Inter-Religious Council. Dr. John B. Bennett, left, Director of Religious Activities, is serving as advisor to the group. President John D. Messick has been named honorary chairman. (Nora Willis photo)

WWWS Begins Testing Program; Awaits Broadcasting Permission From FCC

WWWS, East Carolina's FM radio station, has begun testing, according to an announcement by Mr. Wendell Smiley, radio librarian in charge of technical operations. Permission to begin actual broadcasting has not been cleared through the Federal Communications Commission as of this date. However, their approval is expected in the near future.

WWWS can be heard at 19.3 on the FM dial. It will operate on a power of 3 kilowatts and can be heard for a radius of approximately 40 miles. The first broadcast scheduled for early January was postponed because of technical difficulties. Faulty parts were discovered in some of the equipment recently received and new ones had to be made.

Progress

Despite minor difficulties which hampered the opening of the station since operations began, the Radio and TV committee has made tremendous progress towards the realization of broadcasting from the campus. Recently the studios were moved from Austin Building to Joyner Library. Also a direct wire has been constructed from the gym to the new studios. The wire was constructed for the purpose of broadcasting college athletic events taking place in the gym.

Steady progress in the programming department is making headway under the supervision of Miss Rosalind Raulston, Chairman of the ECC Radio and TV committee. When the station begins broadcasting, it will operate three hours a day from 2:00 to 3:00 p. m. and from 5:00 to 7:00 p. m. A program in music appreciation has been scheduled and a series of programs in connection with foundation day is also being planned, according to Miss Raulston.

A huge 135-foot tower was erected atop Joyner Library early in November. The total cost of the FM station was estimated by Mr. Smiley as $22,400.

WWWS will be operated entirely by faculty and student volunteers. The radio and TV committee of East Carolina college directs and supervises the programming, planning, and policy of the radio and TV activity connected with the college. Members of the present committee are: Miss Raulston, chairman, Dr. A. D. Frank, Dr. Kenneth Bing, Dr. John Navarra, Dr. Martha Pingel, Miss Mary Greene, and Mr. Smiley.

Inter-Fraternity Council Chooses Tucker As Advisor

By OLIVER WILLIAMS

Representatives from four social fraternities on campus met earlier this week and began formulation of plans for an interfraternity council.

At the initial meeting, the representatives chose Dr. James H. Tucker, Dean of Men, as advisor for the group.

It was also decided at the first meeting that representatives from other fraternity councils in the state would be contacted before the local group made any definite plans for a constitution or elected officers.

Commenting on the probationary period which the fraternities are now undergoing, Dean Jenkins, who spoke to the representatives at the first meeting, said he thought the Board of Trustees would do their part in obtaining fraternities if the boys will do their part.

"I do not think they would have gone this far if they did not plan to go further," Jenkins stated.

Also discussed were the possibilities of fraternity houses and fraternity halls in the dormitories.

Dr. Jenkins told the representatives that these matters would have to come before the Board of Trustees, but since they worked on a very loose agenda, he thought that it could possibly be mentioned at the next board meeting.

The Dean seemed very optimistic about the possibilities of fraternity halls in the dormitories, but stated that not only would it need approval from the Trustees but would also create problems that would have to be worked out with the housing director.

Dean Jenkins also told the boys that the Trustees had requested that an administrator work with the group in the position as an advisor. He recommended that Dean Tucker be selected for this office. The group gave unanimous approval to the request.

Dean Jenkins also reminded them that most people who are in college now are here for business. He asked them to remember this in planning for their activities and initiations.

Pygmalion Director Says

Rehearsals Coming Along Nicely

By JERRY MILLS

Rehearsals are "coming along nicely," according to Pat Baker, student director of "Pygmalion," and as the play nears its final polished form the value of the coordination existing among the various committees becomes more and more apparent.

Tommy Hull's technical staff and the properties committee, under Margaret Starnes, are faced with the execution of Sydna Cash's plans for the set design. Their duties consist of assembling the various props, building the sets, handling sound effects, lighting, and the myriad technical problems involved in the production. Although most of the outstanding difficulties have been met, there still remain such problems as the procurement of a model of the human larynx, says Miss Starnes.

Members of the cast have not been without their troubles, the greatest of which has proved to be the cultivation of a British accent. In the role of Eliza exists an especially pressing linguistic challenge, as her metamorphosis demands an appropriate manner of speaking for each of its stages. This involves a cockney dialect, an impeccable continental speech and everything in between. Wh. asked to comment on this role, Alice Anne Horne declared it the "hardest, yet most rewarding" she had ever played. "I love it," she added.

Baker Comments

Pat Baker further commented that all concerned have worked very hard and put in a great many hours, and that cooperation has been splendid. Observers stated that Lloyd Bray,

Business Head Named Education Counsellor

Dr. Elmer R. Browning, director of the department of business education, has been named educational counsellor for the Southern Institute of Management and the American Institute of Management, SIM executive vice president Howard C. Bowles has announced.

Mr. Bowles said in his announcement that Dr. Browning is one of 15 Southern educators who qualified last summer at the Administrative Staff College at Princeton, N. J., to teach "The Executive Course" of SIM and AIM. The Staff College is maintained jointly by these two not-for-profit foundations.

Duties of the educational counsellor, Bowles said, include the handling of arrangements and details for establishing and instructing "The Executive Course" among management executive groups, with SIM's cooperation approval and selection. Dr. Browning will be responsible for conducting the course within his geographic area.

Education
A native of Logan, W. Va., Dr. Browning was educated at Bowling Green Business University; Marshall

Dr. Browning

College, Duke University, where he received his master's degree in education; and Colorado State College of Education, where he received his doctorate in education.

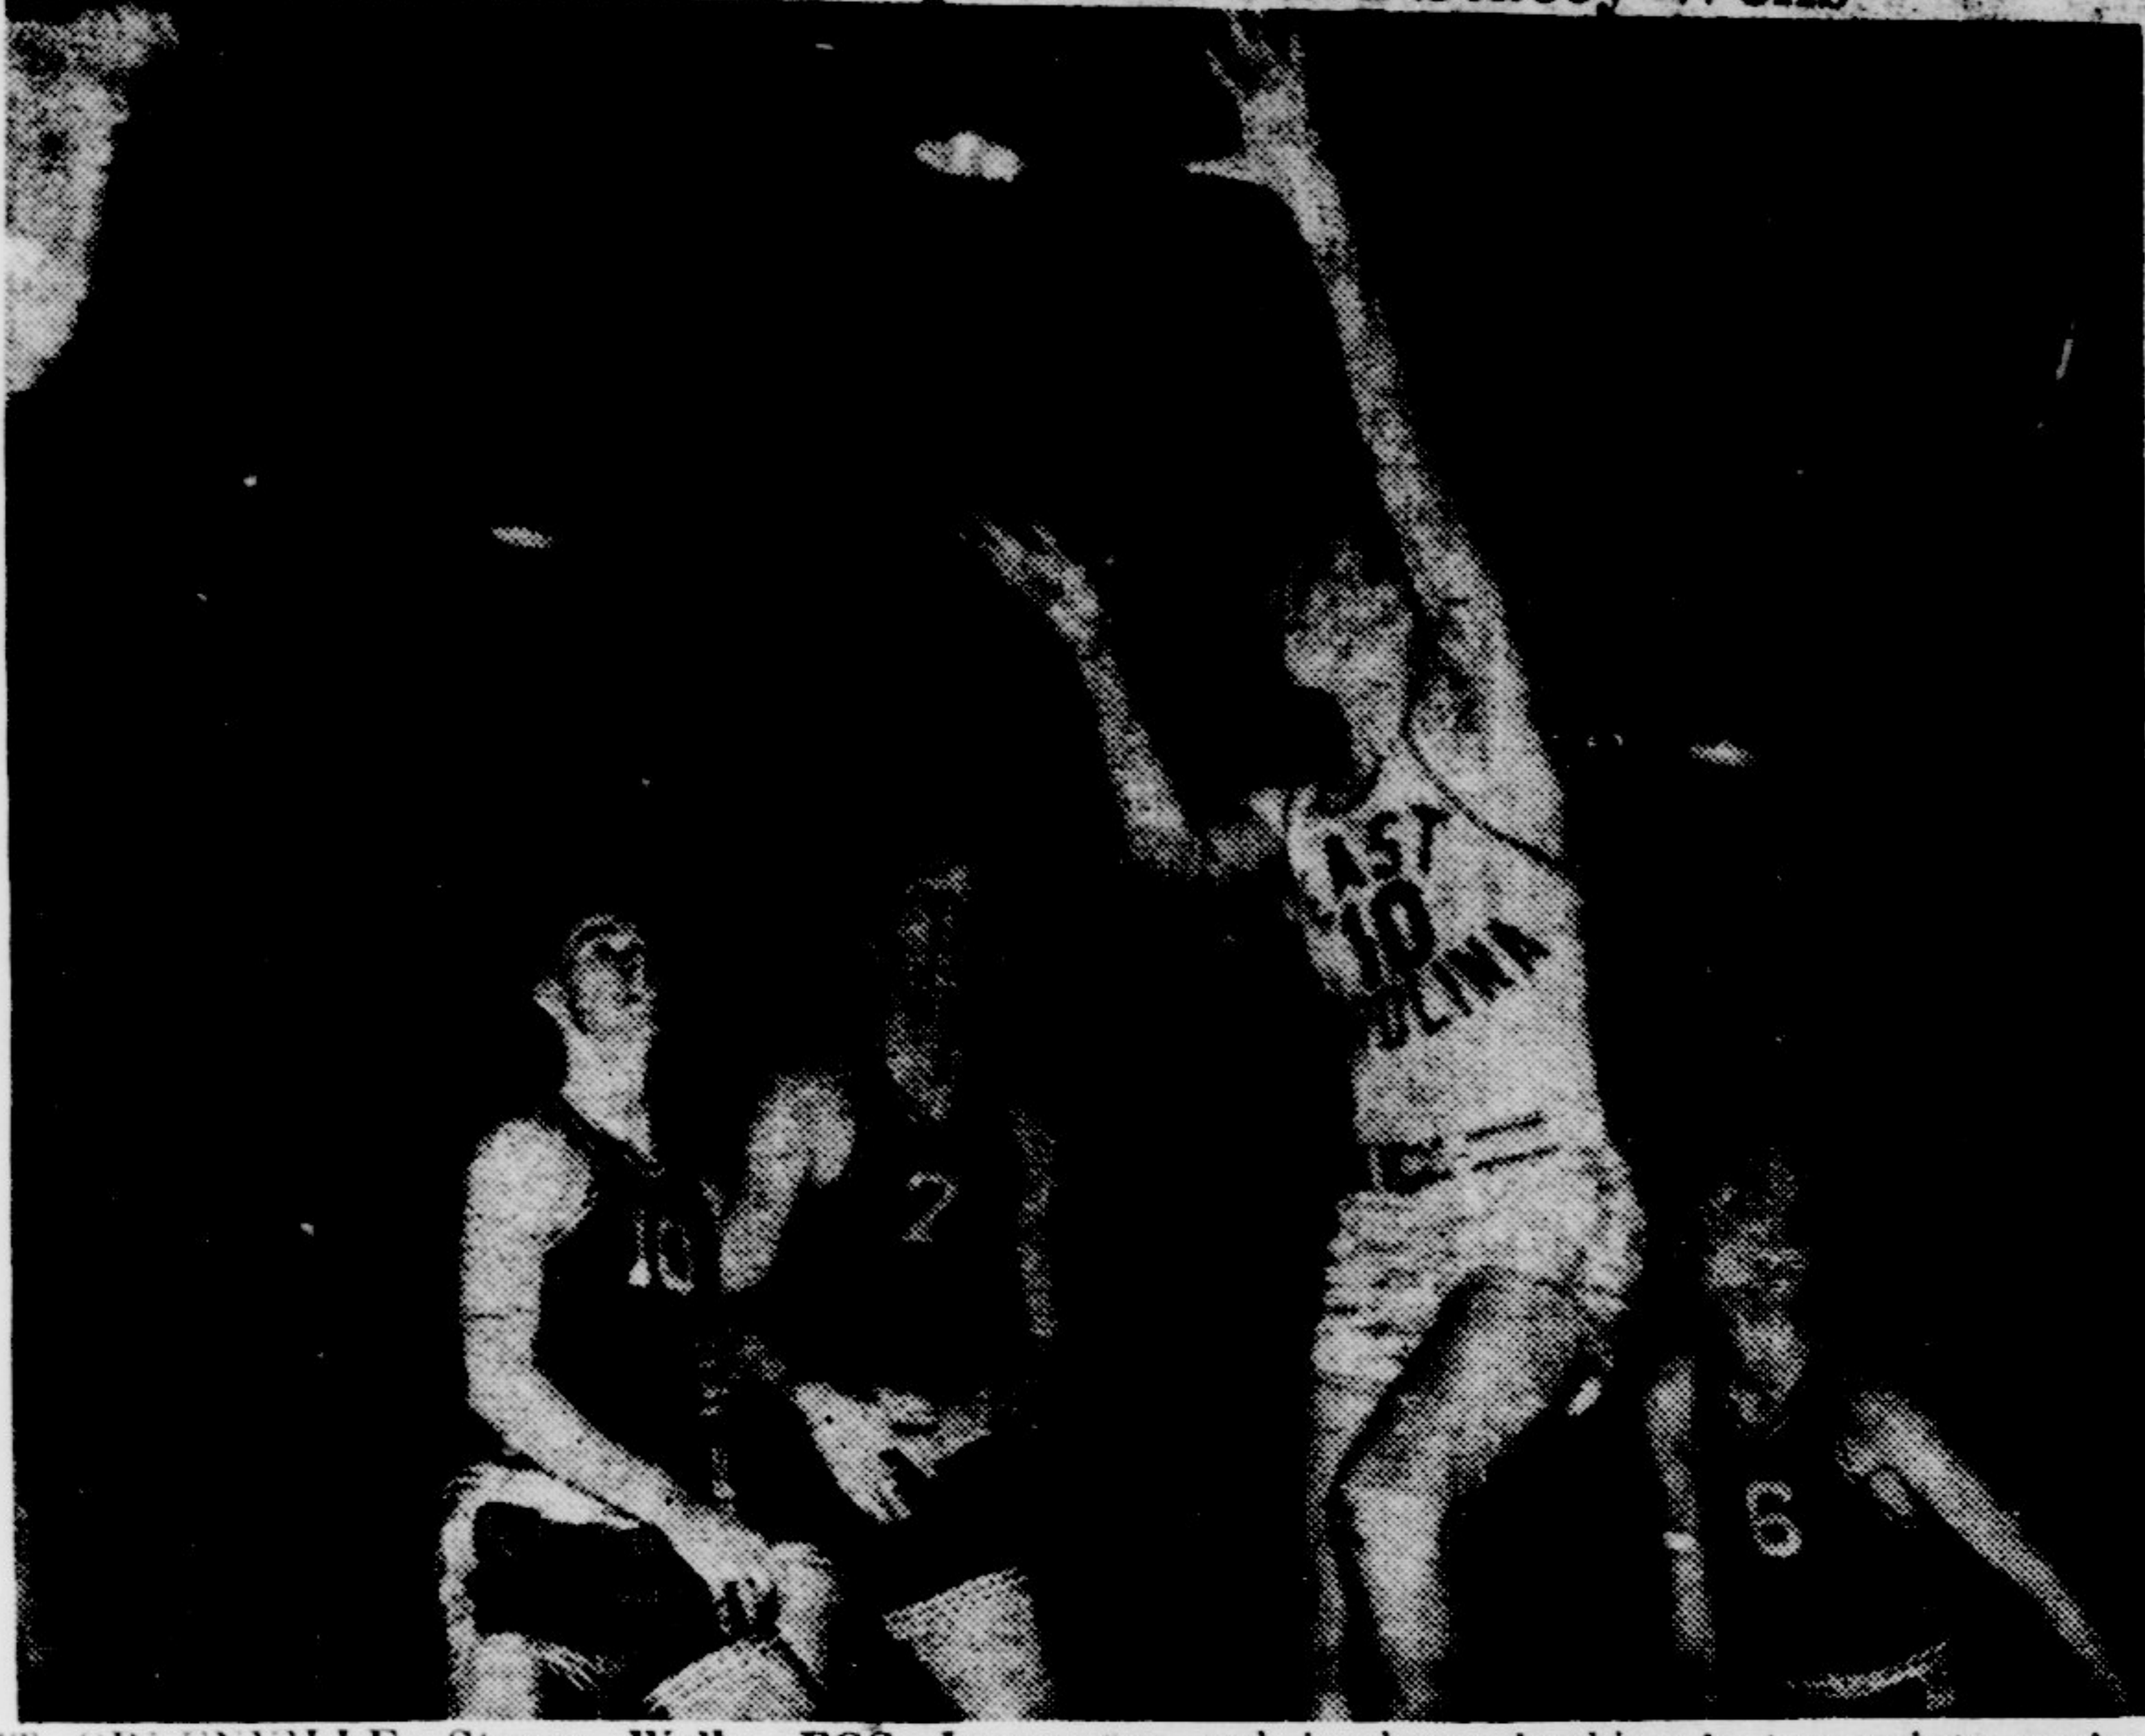

He was a high school teacher for two years and a principal eight years before joining the East Carolina faculty in 1936. He was a visiting professor at Woman's College in 1946 and at the University of Montana in 1950. During World War II, he served with the Information and Education Division of the War Department at Shrinvenham American University in England and at Biarritz American University in France.

Foundations
Dr. Browning is a member of the Greenville Rotary Club, a member of the Research Committee of North Carolina College Conference, and chairman of North Carolina College Conference survey of student teaching practices in the state. He conducts a weekly television review of business conditions called "This Is Your Business" on station WNCT.

SIM is an affiliate of AIM and is its regional office in the South. These two foundations have developed the executive technique used by executives in business education, in institutions and any and all organizations. The foundations also make Management Audits and evaluations of managements, conducts "The Executive Course", publish a yearly Manual of Excellent Managements and serve as information centers for good management practices and as the service organization for the executive profession and those concerned with its results.

Bucs At Belmont Abbey

Pirates Picked 6-Points Under Belmont Outfit

Buzzed from a disastrous road trip that netted them two straight losses, Coach Howard Porter's cagers will take time off from their North State conference duties to travel to Belmont Abbey Saturday night. Time off from the gruelling loop race that is fast becoming the toughest in many years, should ease the tension that has been building up and should also give Nick Nichols' dislocated shoulder a chance to heal. Nichols pulled his shoulder out of position again Monday night at Western Carolina and did not play but five minutes. Coach Porter may decide to keep the Leaksville junior on the bench again against the Abbey. The Pirates have topped the Belmont Abbey club once this season, trimming them at Memorial gymnasium, Saturday night, on the Crusaders' court, they will be rated to lose. Porter's Crew Bows 66-64 On WCC Home Court

CULLOWHEE—Western Carolina's third-ranking Catamounts toppled East Carolina 66-64, Monday night here, in a North State Conference game. The Bucs jumped to an early 11-4 lead, but fell behind and stayed that way. It was 34-30 at halftime. With three minutes left in the game, shots by Don Harris, Charlie Adams and Guy Mendenhall pushed the Bucs closer at 64-60. A field goal by Mendenhall made it 64-62, but Catamount Bill Bowen added two more for the hosts. ECC guard Roy Dennis dropped in two free throws to make it 66-64. It ended that way. Meet Saturday

The second annual East Carolina High School Swimming Meet will be held in Memorial gym Saturday. Qualifications will start at 10:00 and finals will begin at 2:30.

ECC Swimmers Progress To Top In Three Years Of Competition

Under the guidance of Coach Ray Martinez, the Pirate swimmers in the short span of three years have emerged as one of the outstanding swimming powers in the South. Only the powerful duo of North Carolina State and North Carolina University rank above the Pirate mermen in the Tar Heel state. Outside this domain, the name of East Carolina takes on added significance. With Martinez at the helm, the first season of swimming for the Pirates in 1954, was one minus the victory cluster. The second season was a different story. Blessed with a host of strong newcomers, the Pirate swimming machine ran roughshod over such formidable opponents as Davidson, William & Mary, Washington University, and Clemson. The third edition under Martinez proved strong but experts wondered if his supposedly weak reserve strength would pull him through the gruelling schedule of the coming campaign. By comparing the opponents' past records, Martinez is able to figure out mathematically whether his men have a chance of defeating the opposition. In the past two years, on paper, with determination, the Pirate mermen have substantiated their coach's predictions. Best Yet To date, this year's aggregation has risen to the heights of victory beyond expectation. Among the foes who have felt the winning sting of the men from East Carolina this year are William & Mary, Davidson, and V. M. I. Another away trip for the swimmers took them to Athens, Georgia to meet the Southeastern conference champions of the University of Georgia. The final outcome was a 43 to 43 tie against this strong foe. Standouts Among the standouts on this year's squad are Jimmy Meads, the speed merchant of the 100 and 50 yd. dash events; Harold McKee, a vital performer in the distance events; Bob Sawyer, a sophomore who excels in the backstroke for the Pirates; Jack Koerberling, a breastroker of great ability; Sidney Oliver, a freshman who is coming along strongly in the butterfly event; Ted "Anchor" Gartman, one of the seasoned veterans on the team; Dickie Denton, the lone diver on this year's squad; Ken Middleton, a diver who gains more stature with each meet; Mike Williamson, who along with McKee dominates the distance picture for the Pirates; Steve Wilkerson, Mead's dash mate; Herb Consolvo, a Norfolk boy who continually shows improvement; and Glenn Dyer, the nifty little diver who teams with Midyette. A. B. Benfield does a very excellent and outstanding job as manager of the Pirates of 1957. Remaining on the Purple and Gold's agenda away from the friendly atmosphere of Memorial Pool are V.P.I., Wake Forest College, and the North Carolina Invitational fray. Pirate fans will have an opportunity to witness home meets against Wake Forest College and Duke University. The completion of this year's schedule will mark the finish to the most ambitious undertaking of Martinez and his charges to date. Minor Miracle Without the assistance of scholarships or any other gifts to lure outstanding newcomers, it is a minor sports miracle that the Pirates have accomplished as much as they have in such a short span of time. Each team under the tutelage of Martinez has been one of talent, determination, and the result of long strenuous practice sessions. In recent home meets, the Pirate fans have been present in capacity attendance to cheer their team to victory. A growing regard has been stimulated for the sports program of East Carolina College, much of it can be attributed to Coach Ray Martinez and his talented swimming team.

On their own court, the Crusaders will be 6-point favorites. Coach Porter will probably use Guy Mendenhall and Charlie Adams at guards, Saturday, with Don Harris and Harold Ingram at forwards and Tanky Joe Plaster at center. At the present time, since the Western Carolina tilt, East Carolina's loop record stands at 4-5, while their overall mark is 8-7. In last week's play, the Country Gentlemen defeated the Rebels 48-28 to notch another win. Gary Trion was high for the winners with 15 points. Dean Robbins added 13. Hinton collected 14 for the Rebels. The EPO dropped the Bootleggers, 46-43, in a close one. Mattocks and Patterson had 14 and 12 respectively for EPO. Singleton notched 15 for the losers. The ROTC handed the first defeat of the season to the EPO club, 56-46, with Nixon and McArthur pacing the way. They both scored 16 points. Taylor, McArthur and Swain were outstanding on defense for ROTC. For the EPO, Mattocks collected 20 and Patterson had 12. The ROTC also defeated the YMCA. Independent League In the Independent league, a two-way tie for top honors has taken the spotlight, with the Black Hawks moving up to match the Hot Shot record at 6-1. One of the most exciting games of the week was the 72-37 victory of the Angels over the Delta Sigma Rho, Jr. It marked the highest scoring contest of the season. The Hard Timers handed the spectacular Hot Shots their first loss, 42-38. White, of the winners, posted 23 points, while Hot Shot Smith got 17. Also on the league slate was a 36-30 Tidewater Terror win over the Kappa Sigma Nu cagers.

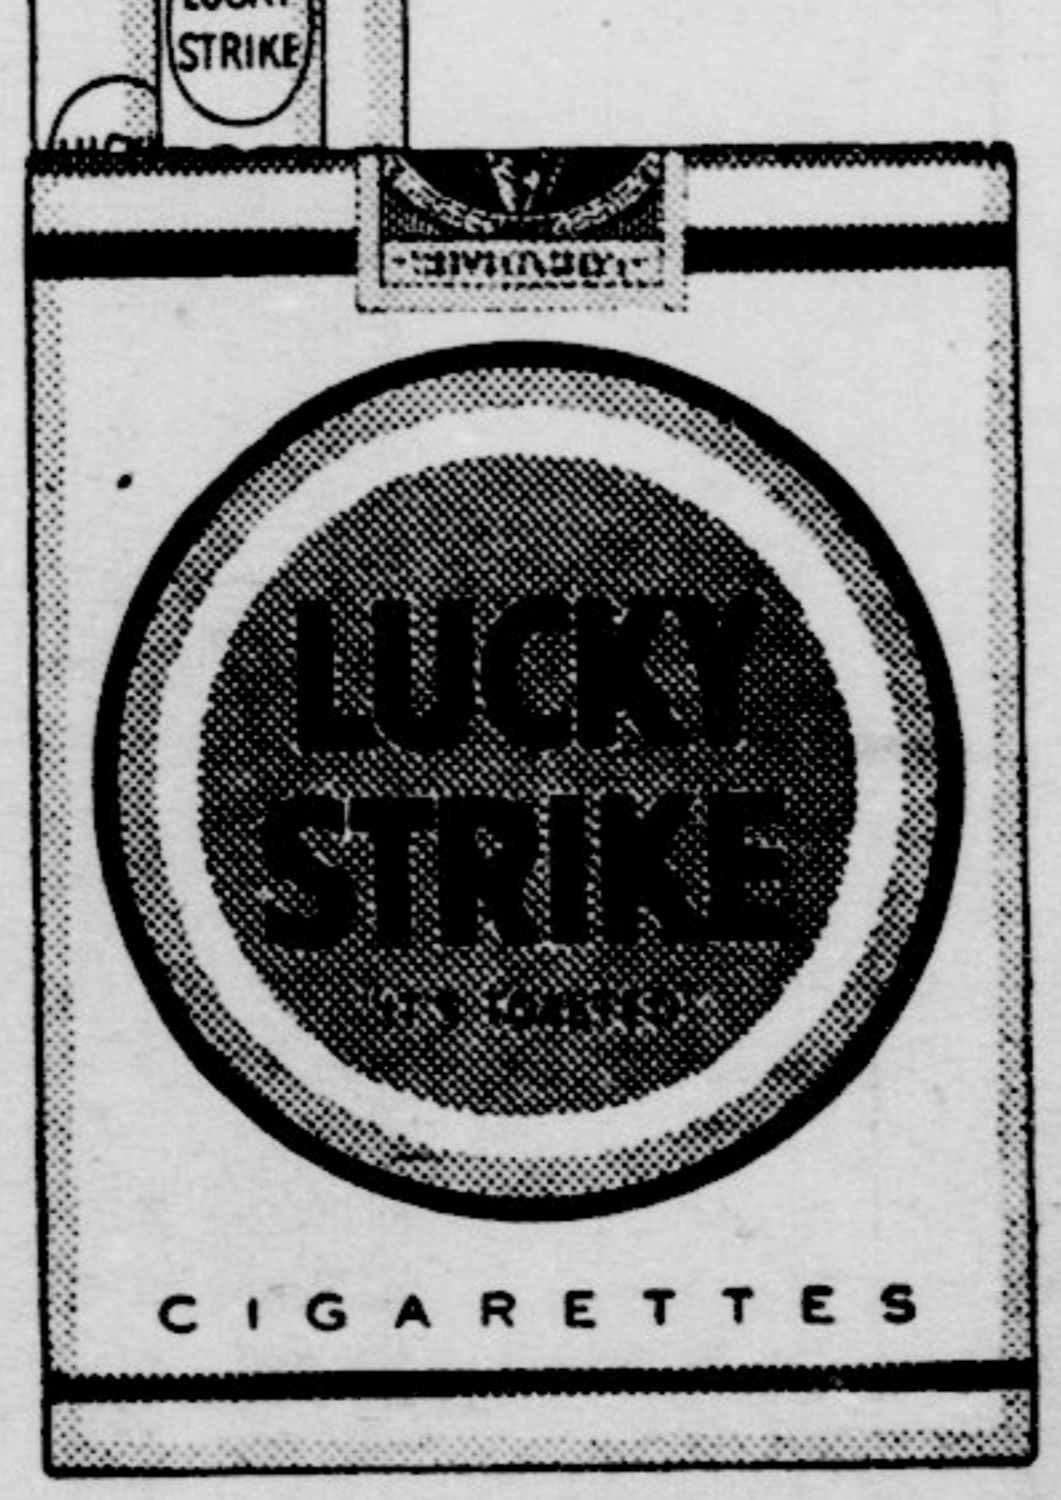

Undeclared ECC Jayvees Meet Sixth Opponent Under the tutelage of Coach Earl Smith, the East Carolina Jayvees have rolled through a five-game schedule (as of when this goes to press) without a defeat. Smith's crew has met and toppled Cowan, Edwards Military Institute, Wilmington Junior College, Durham high school and Greenville high school. Their next slated contest is set for January 25, at Wilmington Junior college. Big guns in the junior Pirate attack thus far this year have been Ike Riddick, Dennis O'Brien, Wallace Lewis, Tim Smothers, Maurice Everett, Stacey Wells, Connie Hoffman, Durwood Hoffman, Frank Warren, and Waddell Solomon.

Registrar Reveals That Men Outnumber Women This Term

Total Enrollment Reaches 3,052 During First Two Quarters

East Carolina's enrollment for the fall and winter quarters of the present school year includes 3052 individual students who registered for work in courses taught on the campus, a report just released by Registrar Orval L. Phillips indicates.

This total does not include students enrolled in extension courses offered during each of the two quarters of the 1956-1957 term in various off-campus centers in the state.

Approximately 70% of the 3502 East Carolina students, or 2449 men and women, registered for work leading toward degrees in teacher education. This group includes 709 students who are specializing in elementary education, the largest number ever to enroll in this curriculum within a similar period at the college. Twenty of those taking elementary education are men.

Other Students

Other students, classified according to the type of work which they are taking, include 593 candidates for the liberal arts degree; five candidates for the bachelor of music degree; 172 enrolled in pre-professional courses in such areas as dentistry, medicine, law, engineering, and nursing; 185 in the two-year business course; and 98 unclassified students.

By classes the group includes 1228

Blue Ridge Assembly Lists Summer Jobs For College Students

Summer job openings for the junior staff of the Blue Ridge Assembly, Blue Ridge, N. C., are now available. Such positions are stenographic, housekeeping, waitresses, life guards, store clerks, and program assistants must be filled by 75 men and women students who have finished high school and preferably one year of college.

Blue Ridge Assembly, owned and operated by the YMCA's of the ten southern states, is a conference and vacation center. The season is June 5 through August 31, 1957. Such compensation as meals, lodging, recreation facilities, health and accident insurance, an equal share in the Appreciation Fund, $25.00 per month cash stipend and $15.00 bonus for the season to all who complete their contract is offered. The daily schedule is set up as normal schedule 48 hours per week, Sunday work and some overtime is unavoidable.

Located in the heart of Blue Ridge Mountains, it is 15 miles east of Asheville and across the valley from the Blue Ridge Parkway. The Executive Secretary stated that the Blue Ridge Assembly is not only interested in finding persons for specific assignments but wants young men and women who enjoy living in a Christian atmosphere such as we try to maintain here in the beautiful mountains of western North Carolina.

Application blanks may be had upon request.

Women Outnumbered

Men outnumber women this term at East Carolina, Dr. Phillips' report shows. Those registering for the first two quarters of the school year include 1804 men and 1698 women.

Total enrollment figures for each of the two quarters of the present school year are: fall, 3267; and winter, 3141. Both of these figures exceed those for the 1955-1956 term by approximately 300 students each quarter. Last year's enrollment for the same period was: fall, 2940; and winter, 2815.

Cuban Student Sees Snow For First Time

By MARTHA WILON

Remember when it snowed last week? For freshman Hector Santana it was quite an occasion. Down in sunny Havana where Hector is from, it never snows.

It was at 10:20 a. m. in Dr. Posey's English I class that Hector saw his first flakes of snow come drifting down. But by the time class adjourned they had ceased to fall, Hector plodded to the library to keep vigil before the large windows over there. Sure enough, at 11:15 it began to snow again. Out he joyously bounded into the frosty face. A passing student remarked he was surely going to catch cold.

Hector was quite impressed with all the snow and ice and icicles. Here before his only acquaintance with such had been through magazines and moving pictures.

Before his enrollment here this winter Hector had been completing three years in Cuba's Naval Academy. He is a pre-engineering student. Of the future he is not sure, "I live only in the present."

When asked if he had ever been interviewed before for a story, Hector chuckled, "No, I am not Hollywood or scientific."

East Carolina's Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Kenneth N. Cuthbert, will present concerts in Washington, Kinston, Tarboro, and Greenville and appear in a television program during February and March. Programs will be given for both students and townspeople and will attract audiences estimated at 15,000 people.

Featured selection on the children's concert will be "Peter and the Wolf" by Prokofieff. Lloyd Bray and August Laube, both of Greenville, will be narrators.

The high school choruses from Greenville, Kinston, and Washington will sing with the orchestra in evening concerts in those communities. At Kinston a massed women's chorus from towns near Kinston will also appear on the program.

Schedule

The schedule of concerts has been announced by Dr. Cuthbert as follows: Jan. 29, John Small auditorium, Washington, 2:15 p. m. and 8:15 p. m.; Feb. 14, Grainger High School, Kinston, 1:25 p. m. and 8:15 p. m.; Feb. 15, Tarboro High School, 12 noon; March 12, Wright auditorium, East Carolina College, 1:30 p. m. for Pitt County school children; March 15, Greenville High School, 8:50 a. m., and Wright auditorium at the college 1:30 p. m., for Greenville elementary school children.

The orchestra will perform "Peter and the Wolf" over television March 17. The facilities of WNCT of Greenville will be used.

Before coming to Greenville, Dr. Cuthbert was assistant director of bands at the University of Wisconsin, conductor of the Laboratory Orchestra at Columbia University, and conductor of the Bloomington-Normal Symphony in Illinois. He has studied with Albert Spalding and Pierre Monteux and has conducted festivals in North Carolina, South Carolina, and Virginia. He holds offices in a number of regional and national music organizations.

In ceremonies last week Cadet Lt. Colonel Lloyd Chason, Cadet Lt. Colonel Ernest McFarland, and Cadet Major Charles Lovelace were appointed as Distinguished AFOTC cadets and were awarded medals to this effect.

Clare Nelson, Miss Pennsylvania of 1951, is the lovely vocalist who will accompany Tommy Tucker when they appear here tomorrow night.

After walking away with all the honors at the "Miss Pennsylvania" contest of 1951 she was on demand for a peformance in all parts of the country. As Miss Pennsylvania, she introduced the 1952 Ford and Packard cars, did a command performance for Veep Alben Barkley and was the feature attraction at the grand opening of the Pennsylvania Turnpike extension to the west.

The band is being brought to East Carolina as a regular attraction in the College Entertainment Series.

Cadet Chason Takes Command of AFOTC During Ceremony

Cadet Major Lloyd R. Chason was installed as the new commander of the E. C. C. AFOTC Cadet Group in a ceremony held on Thursday the tenth of January.

Mr. Chason was appointed as commander with the accompanying rank of Cadet Lt. Colonel and took over his command at twelve o'clock Thursday. The command position was previously held by Cadet Lt. Colonel Ernest L. McFarland.

At the same ceremony Cadet Lt. Colonel Chason, along with Cadet Lt. Colonel McFarland and Cadet Major Charles K. Lovelace were appointed as Distinguished AFOTC Cadets and were awarded medals to this effect.

Others attending the change in command and awards exercises were the Detachment Staff, E. C. C. Officials and the AFOTC Sponsors. For the benefit of all present the ceremony was brought to a close with a pass in review by the Cadet Group.

THE '57 CHEVROLET... sweet, smooth and sassy!

It doesn't just look like it loves the road, clings to curves and laughs at hills. That's the way it goes. Come on in and see what it does for driving fun!

It's not just a coincidence that Chevy handles and acts like a sports car. Chevrolet engineers planned it that way.
They set out to build a car that would take to the road with crisp, solid steering and quicksilver responsiveness. A car with up to 245 h.p.* Come try it!

*Special high-performance 270-h.p. engine also available at extra cost.

IT'S FOR REAL! by Chester Field

I'M THE WORLD'S GREATEST POET IT'S EASY TO SEE...

From my tie to my toes, I reek poetry!
Most poets praise one lousy moon at a time
But me, I get dozens of moons in a rhyme.
If one moon's poetic, why you can just bet
A sky full of moons is poetic-er yet!

MORAL: Like a sky full of moons a Chesterfield King is out of this world, 'cause it's got everything... big length, big flavor, the smoothest smoke today because it's packed more smoothly by Accu-Ray.

Like your pleasure BIG?
A Chesterfield King has everything!
