Henry Qualifies As Specialist In Speech

Dr. Frances V. Henry, professor of special education at East Carolina College, has been added to the roster of speech pathologists in North Carolina. One of the few specialists so qualified in this state, Dr. Henry received notification of her appointment from Dr. C. B. Kendall of the State Board.

As an approved speech pathologist, Dr. Henry may examine and diagnose children having speech and hearing difficulties and disorders. She holds the doctorate from the University of Michigan and has taught there. After several summers spent as director of summer speech and hearing clinics at East Carolina College, she joined the faculty last September as a member of the department of education.

Final Grades Mailed Home

Students are reminded by Dr. Orval Phillips, Registrar, that their grades will be sent home to their parents and they should notify them of any forwarding address. This will save time and confusion.

Fleming Family Presents Sterling Silver Service

Given in memory of the late James Lawson Fleming of Greenville, state senator from Pitt County, a sterling silver service has been presented by members of his family to Fleming Hall at East Carolina College. The dormitory, a residence hall for women students, is named in his honor.

Donors of the silver service, a gift appropriately made during the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the college, are Mrs. James Lawson Fleming, Sr., of

ROTC Cadets Attend Camp

Approximately twenty-one East Carolina ROTC cadets will be attending summer training at various Air Force Bases throughout the country, it was reported by Captain J. M. Crane of the college ROTC unit.

At Griffis AFB, Rome, N. Y., from June 16 through July 13, John L. Gray, Jr. will receive special training.

Cadet Edward P. Monice, Jr. will attend the summer program at Ellington AFB, Houston, Texas, during July 21 to August 17.

Three cadets will go to Craig AFB, Selma, Alabama, from July 21 through August 17. They are: Robert O. Ballance, Jr., Paul L. Singleton, and Robert T. Smith.

Summer training at MacDill AFB, Tampa, Florida, from June 16 to July 13 will occupy the time of Max F. Cameron, James W. Clark, Pat B. Harmon, David E. Lane, Charles W. McNeill, John R. Parker, and James A. Smith.

Nine students will leave for the training at MacDill from July 21 to August 17. They are Dallas C. Dixon, James L. Gearhart, Wallace L. Giles, Joseph M. Hoffman, Howard W. Nixon, Eugene F. Olive, James E. Phelps, Jr., William P. Speight, and Jackie Wilkins.

Greenville, widow of Senator Fleming, and their children—James L. Fleming, director of the department of foreign languages at East Carolina College; Miss Louise Fleming, dean of women at Meredith College, Raleigh; and Mrs. J. L. Winstead of Greenville. The six-piece silver service, designed in the Westminster pattern, will be used by students living in Fleming Hall at teas and other social affairs.

House President in Fleming Hall, Dot Culbertson is shown thanking Mrs. Fleming for the silver service as dorm counselor Mrs. Ruth Garner looks on.

Chanticleers Appear Here In Austin Tonight For Entertainment Series

The four Chanticleers will sing as the first Entertainment Series event in Austin tonight at 8 p. m.

East Carolina Entertainment Summer Series will offer tonight in Austin Auditorium at 8 p. m. "the Chanticleers" with Raymond Keast, baritone; William Diard, tenor; Richard Wright, tenor; and James Martindale, bass.

The group will feature both solo selections and quartet numbers in a blend of wit, sparkling color, and dynamic range. The Chanticleers present an approach to concert that departs from standard formula without compromise with quality, performing in vital contemporary fashion. They have won acclaim for their work throughout North America.

Duo-Piano Team

Next on the Entertainment Series will be the duo-piano team of Stecher and Horowitz bringing their own grand Steinways on July 17. Melvin Stecher and Norman Horowitz will present a varied program of traditional and church music, American folk numbers, and Broadway musical tunes by the composer of the songs from "My Fair Lady."

The team with their twin pianos have previously appeared at East Carolina and were very well received.

Does Character Sketches

Last in the Series for the summer sessions will be the original character sketch artist, Marcia Robie, appearing in Austin Auditorium August 1, at 8 p. m. A dramatist and actress with an accent on humor, the charming and talented performer is well known on radio and television and has appeared extensively in leading roles throughout the East in summer stock. She has created over 100 original sketches in a program designed for every type audience from the Republican State Convention to the Brooklyn Academy, both of which she has played.

Director, and Director of the ECC Department of Music; Herbert L. Carter, Camp Band Director, Director of Bands at ECC; and Robert Carter, piano, piano instructor at ECC.

Guest instructors are: James Hall, Kingston, Camp Choir Director; Victor Waller, Boys Counsellor, Band Director, Cheraw, S. C.; Louise Winstead, Camp Girls Counsellor, Band and Choir Director, Elm City, N. C.; Loy Wagner, Band Director, Bannwell, S. C.; William Troxell, Band Director, Ashland, Va.; William Tritt, Orchestra Director, Concord, N. C.; Lee Rogers, Smithfield, N. C.; James Rodgers, Band Director, Greenville, N. C.; William Basden, Band Director, Manning, S. C.; George Baird, Band Director, Roanoke Rapids, N. C.; William Adcock, Band Director, Wilmington, N. C.

General Assembly Starts Scholarship Loan Fund

High school and college students who are interested in obtaining a loan in order to attend East Carolina College will be interested in the information that the General Assembly of North Carolina recently established a revolving loan fund known as the "Scholarship Loan Fund for Prospective Teachers."

From this fund a limited number of $350 scholarship loans will be granted annually to prospective teachers. Those who receive these scholarship loans will have $350 credited toward repayment of their loans for each year they teach in the public schools of North Carolina after receiving their teaching certificates. A student who receives a scholarship loan for four years and upon graduation teaches for four years in the state of North Carolina will have his obligation for repayment of the loan canceled and the loan considered paid in full.

Anyone interested in applying for one of these scholarship loans should write to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Raleigh, North Carolina. In the granting of these scholarship loans, due consideration will be given to such factors and circumstances as: aptitude, purposefulness, scholarship, character, financial need, and areas or subjects of instruction in which the demands for teachers are greatest.

Education Dept. Makes Changes In Schedule

Changes in the Education courses for second session will include the addition of two teachers and four courses, it was announced by Dr. J. K. Long, newly appointed Dean of Instruction.

Education 424, High School Curriculum, will be taught by Dr. Flanary first period and he will also teach Math 219, Methods, second period.

Dr. Ed Carter, who has been appointed Director of the Education Department, will teach Education 409, High School Administration, second period.

Dr. James Tucker will teach Education 223e, Methods of Teaching in High School, second period.

Other education courses as listed in the catalog will remain the same.

Exhibit In Flanagan

Dr. K. L. Bing of the Industrial Arts Department announces an exhibit will be held July 5 in Flanagan Building in room 125 and the public is invited.

Fourth Annual Music Camp Biggest Ever

The largest number of high school students yet will attend the fourth annual East Carolina Summer Music Camp with 340 students signed up, stated Dr. Kenneth N. Cuthbert of the Music Department. The camp will be held July 14-27, for students interested in band, orchestra, choir, majorette, drum major, and piano activities.

A gala concert is scheduled for the entire Music Camp July 27 at 5 p. m. at the Sylvan Theatre.

Music teachers may earn three hours of credit by enrolling in the camp course of study.

The summer music camp staff includes Dr. Kenneth N. Cuthbert, Camp Director, Camp Orchestra

We Praise Thee

In every life there are factors, whether of institutions or personalities, that shape and mold, enrich and broaden. The association with an influential character may start us on the pathway where success may be met. A chance word may set ideas in motion which for years have been lying dormant. The mental touch of a cultured personality may give us that thing which we needed to become somebody of worth and importance. Many times we are totally unaware when these touches were felt or spoken. For these services rendered we thank the unseen powers which made our pathways meet for even so brief a time.

To our college many of us can render thanks for services rendered—services that developed in us such valuable possessions as a humanitarian outlook on life, a love for beauty in literature and in reality, a just estimate of the value of pure friendship, and an unselfish desire to be of service in our little world.

It is well for us to pause briefly and at occasional intervals to see what East Carolina College has meant to us. Our heads bow when we think of the manifold blessings of friendship that have come to us through our college. There have been many teachers who gave to us the benefits of well spent lives and who imparted to us the greatest thing that any teacher can give—Inspiration.

The years can give us no greater satisfaction than the joy derived from student friendships made in college. Life brings no pleasanter memories than those of hours spent with instructors who secretly smiled at, yet openly encouraged our attempts to "remake the world."

For ideals that have enabled us to attempt to find beauty in every commonplace activity and to render service where no praise will ever be known, we thank our college.

We may not grow to be intellectual giants or powers behind thrones, but we shall always feel keenly and gratefully that any good growing out of us has been in part the influence of East Carolina upon our lives.

"Praise to your name so fair . . ."

Student Code

THE STUDENTS CREED from October 28, 1938 issue, Teco Echo.

I will never bring disgrace to the student body of my college by any act of dishonesty or cowardice. I will always show myself to be trustworthy. I will respect and fight for the property, the ideals and spirit of my school, both alone and with others. I will respect and obey the regulations and constantly work for the improvement of student life on the campus. I will do my best to incite a like respect and honor in those about me who are prone to set them at naught. I will strive to do my whole duty as a citizen of the school society, and thus in all these ways to transmit this college greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to me.

Coed Skater Comes Here

By MARGIE DAVIS

While we don't see much ice skating around here, East Carolina is the proud possessor of a champion ice skater of the fairer sex. "Emmie" Sauer from Badmauchheim, Hessen, Germany, has been skating for ten years and really knows her way around the ice rinks. In 1954 she won the Junior ice skating championship for the federal state of Hesson and again in 1955 she won the senior ice skating title.

A cute little auburn haired coed, the summer school resident of Cotten Hall, she is taking English and tennis this session and is presently debating whether to major in foreign languages or home economics.

When asked what she thought of ECC, she replied, "I like it very much! I like the atmosphere. Everyone is so helpful."

Emmie's first problem was to get adjusted to the American food. Now, however, everything has settled down. Her favorite food is "southern fried" chicken and she's quite fond of lemon chiffon pie. She really misses the delicious German bread, so if anyone knows where it can be purchased, she'd like to know.

Her reply to what she thought of the current rage, Elvis Presly was an emphatic "nothing."

The boys will be interested in learning that Emmie thinks that American boys are very nice.

Emmie has an older sister who is studying to be a doctor and a younger brother who wants to be a racer, and also a younger sister.

Very fond of farm life, until her return to ECC in the fall, she plans to spend the rest of the summer on a farm in Sumter, S. C.

Emmie has many interests from collecting pictures of kittens and "doggies," to knitting and all sports. But she thinks "American football is too rough." In Germany, ice hockey is their favorite sport.

Emmie's friendly smile and charming manner are winning her many friends here. We're glad to have her on campus and we hope she'll really enjoy her stay here.

Four New Bikes Arrive For Use

By GEORGIA MORRIS

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! For some time there has been a desire from students for the College Union to buy some bicycles. This summer the College Union asked the SGA for enough money to purchase four bikes. The money was granted by the SGA so now we have bicycles as another feature of our College Union.

These bikes may be used all day for only 25 cents. If you are wondering why 25 cents has been added to your ride it is because the College Union is responsible for keeping those bicycles rideable.

If you are planning a picnic, to or from a hike, or just a pleasant ride I'm sure you will enjoy your new bikes. Maybe the girls are wondering about the attire for the wheels. The girls may wear Bermudas while riding the bike, but the raincoat or skirt must be worn over the Bermudas from the dorm to the College Union and from the College Union back to the dorm.

So, trade your raincoat or skirt for a bike and let's go for a ride, and when you return from a pleasant trip return the bike for your skirt or raincoat.

In the future maybe we can purchase more bicycles if the desire and interest is kept up with the four new bikes we have now.

Emmie Sauer

Pot Pourri

By JAN RABY

This is our last issue for first session and so far no plans have been made for a newspaper for second session. We're proud that we were able to put out three issues in one session as the record in the past has been one issue per session. It's been fun, but a lot of hard work.

TAKING A TRIP . . . are President Messick and Lt. Col. Maloney who are flying up to Rome, N. Y., to visit the summer ROTC camp there for a few days this week. Col. Maloney takes over as commanding officer of the college ROTC unit as Col. Partidge leaves for Shaw AFB, S. C.

DELICIOUS . . . were the reports of those attending the first watermelon cutting held last week when approximately 100 watermelons were brought out beside the college dining hall.

I WONDER . . . who wanted air conditioning in his office, but didn't get it. Well, the East Carolinian would settle just for a fan. The office could stand a little paint and fixing up, too. Someone in the Maintenance Department came over and ripped out some fixtures and left us some holes in the wall.

IT'S NICE . . . to see that we have four bicycles for some fifteen hundred students to ride. I just wonder what will happen in the Fall when there's three thousand students. I'll take my ride now since I have a class over in the Gym this session.

PARKING . . . is still a problem and no one has come up with a solution that will please everyone. We're expecting to hear at anytime that some of the cars will have to be left off campus or home.

LOST . . . Martha Ann Martin of Kinston lost her high school ring out on the baseball diamond. If anyone has found it, she can be reached in Cotten dorm.

WHY DON'T . . . the graduate students get together and have a weiner roast? The one last summer was a big success.

THE DANCE . . . was a big success, but it seems like entertainment as a program for the summer sure is lagging. Here's hoping second session will be more lively. We'd still like to see (next summer) Miss Summer School elected during the first session when there are more people in school.

SO LONG . . . for the summer and we'll be back in the Fall, full size. Don't forget to come help us. If you want publicity for your organization, then let us have the news. In the meantime, have fun, be good, and don't melt away!

Grades

By PEGGY LOU STEWART

What is the importance of grades? One strives for the self satisfaction of obtaining a good grade for many reasons.

First, the letter grade itself may be required under the assumption that if a feasible amount of work is accomplished, an average grade will result. The question might arise as to how all grading systems, as numerous as they are, can be accurate in every case.

Secondly, one may go to any measure to have a certain grade placed on his record disregarding the related knowledge that he has gained from a course. Cheating, apple polishing, and rote memorization result when the emphasis is placed too strongly on a final grade.

Thirdly, one may have acquired a thirst for knowledge, and if he has accomplished a great deal in a course, he expects his grade to be a true representation of his efforts and achievements. Thus, the grading system itself and its fairness becomes very important.

Fourth, one gets a self satisfaction from knowing that he earned a good grade. One may gain self satisfaction, however, by merely seeing a grade registered on a record. False values can very easily slip into ones reasoning and should be guarded against.

A goal toward which to strive might be one that would embrace a desire to learn and appreciate the substance of a course, rather than the grade which actually means very little. For in later life, the worry exerted toward a grade would be far less beneficial than the concern about theoretical and applied learning. Why not put all ones effort and emphasis upon the truly meaningful aspect of college classes and let the grades take care of themselves?

A Look At

Your Soda Shop Crew

By LINDA PERRY

"I've been standing here an hour." "I'm late for class." Have you ever made these remarks? If you are guilty, let me remind you of a few jobs behind the scene that must be done before that "pepsi" can be put on the counter before you. The cups have to be brought from the back, then how does that ice get out front? And oddly enough that Pepsi syrup does give out.

Many of you students don't seem to realize that while you are socializing in the booths that you are depriving others of a table at which they may eat. The lounge is the place for socializing. Another little reminder, don't you think it would be just as easy to put your trash in the trash can when you get up to leave? This would keep our soda shop looking much nicer.

Clean-up Time

Often the question has arisen, "Why does the soda shop close at ten o'clock?" There are many little odd jobs that must be done before the soda shop can be opened the next day. Those ashes and that paper on the floor has to be swept up and the trash cans emptied, those "messy" tables have to be cleaned, the ash trays, that sometimes have pepsi, little bits of paper, and etc. in them, have to be washed. The juice machines have to be filled. Cigarettes, candy, cookies, etc. have to be replaced on the shelves.

All of these services are given to you by nineteen people working together. For those of you who do not know all of these people; I am going to introduce them to you.

Heads Staff

Mr. Lloyd Bray is Director of the Student Union.

Mr. Harry Rainey, Mr. Bray's assistant, is seen almost every night locking the doors and keeping things going in the soda shop.

Mrs. Dorothy Waters serves as Supervisor and Director of the employees, helping them whenever she is called on.

Willie Hester is the well liked janitor by every student at East Carolina.

"Zeek" Cobb does part time work on the week ends.

Mitchell Waters, son of Mrs. Dorothy Waters also assists the employees in the afternoons and on week ends.

Student Help

Dot Knight, a senior from Cerro Gordo, has been seen behind the counter for three years. Dot has blue eyes, brown hair, and is six feet tall. We are losing Dot at the end of this session of summer school. She plans to teach in Denver, Colorado. She enjoys meeting students in an informal manner and dislikes cute remarks made by the customers.

Phina Nance, also from Cerro Gordo and a senior Primary Education major, has been working for two years. Her choice for working in the soda shop is the friendly atmosphere between the workers and the customers. Phina doesn't like some of the student's language and conduct.

Like Social Life

Geneva Hinson from Whiteville, is a Home Economics major. She has hazel eyes, brown hair, and is five feet seven inches tall. Geneva likes working in the soda shop because of the social life. She dislikes customers who do not give all of their order at once.

Pat Reynolds, a senior from Wilmington, has been working in the soda shop for one year. She is an English Major; has hazel eyes, brown hair, and is five feet three inches tall. Pat's only complaint is that of people beating their money on the counter.

Mrs. Sarah Adams Murphy is a Business Major from China Grove. She is five feet six inches tall, with blue eyes, and blonde hair.

A Watermelon Feast

Watermelon's the thing as everyone including Miss Cynthia Mendenhall, digs in the ice cold melons.

Let's Go For A Ride

Trying out the College Union's bicycles are Vickie Cooke, Barney Strutton, Charlotte Fitchett, Don Dunson, Jean Mitchell, and Hilda Roberts.

Sarah, who has been working for four years (off and on) dislikes the rushes that so often come into the soda shop.

Assistant Manager

J. W. Tadlock, a Math and Science major is from Rockingham. He is a senior, six feet tall, blue eyes, and brown hair. J. W. serves as manager when Harry Rainey is not present. He has been working in the soda shop for one year.

Margie Davis, a five feet two, blue eyed, blonde has been in the soda shop for two years. She is a junior from Warsaw and is majoring in Social Studies. Margie dislikes cleaning off the tables, her only complaint for working in the soda shop.

Rosy Montcastle, from Norfolk, Virginia, has been working in the soda shop for one year. She is a strawberry blonde with blue eyes and is five feet six inches tall. Rosy is a Physical Education major. She likes to see what people are really like and she dislikes impatient people.

Ernestine Carrow, a sophomore from Chocowinity, is a Primary Education major. She stands five feet three inches, has brown eyes and brown hair. "Teeny's" only dislike about the soda shop is having to make milk shakes. She enjoys meeting all of the people.

Janice Gebbs from Chimecoteague, Virginia is a sophomore Social Studies major. Janice has been working for two quarters; is five feet four inches tall with brown eyes and dark brown hair. She likes making her own pepsis and dislikes wise boys.

Mrs. Carolyn Upchurch has just begun her work in the soda shop. She is a sophomore from Raleigh and is majoring in Primary Education. Carolyn is a hazel eyed, five feet eight inch, brunette. She doesn't like for boys to embarrass her but she likes working in the soda shop because she can wait on her own self.

Coleman Gentry, from Chapel Hill, is a sophomore majoring in Grammar Education. He has just started work this summer and Coleman dislikes cigarette ashes on the floor. He enjoys watching people.

Peggie Geddie, a senior with blue eyes, red hair, and is five feet five inches tall, is from Rocky Mount. She is an English major and has been working in the soda shop for one year. Peggy enjoys working with the people she works with; however, she dislikes all the noise and confusion.

Ann Benton, a five feet two inch, blue eyed, brown hair, sophomore is from Evergreen. A Primary Education major, Ann has been working for two quarters.

A Look At Our Art Dept.

By SHIRLEE M. SMITH

Art, like music, may be called the universal language of mankind, because through the ages, art has expressed and recorded that which lies within the artist. An artist is not limited in ways to express himself as we have seen from the various exhibits on campus. Those "mad-artists" who occupy the far right corner on the second floor of Austin building are not temperamental creatures endowed with magical power to create pictorial images on canvas or paper, but are striving pupils with a vivid imagination, a knack for using paint, and a desire to express an idea or feeling into a tangible object.

Most people tend to think only of an artist in terms of painting but the field is not limited but varied, interesting and attractive. A student of art may seek his fortune in the newer realm of TV. There are those who do not desire to teach and therefore go into commercial art, working with magazines, publishing houses, newspapers, letter printing, mural painting and many other fields. Theatrical companies hire an artist for stage designing and costume designing. The field of art is wide open with opportunities for ambitious and talented people.

Since the fall of '56 our Art Department at ECC has increased 21 per cent. An Art Club was organized and plans were made for art students to be able to exhibit their works from time to time. Dave Wheeler is the 1957 president.

Plans for a new building to be constructed that will house the Art Department, along with the Business, Psychology, and Educational Department, will have new equipment, and special lighting.

Seniors who graduate after the fall of '57 must have a senior exhibit during the year they graduate. These one-man exhibits may be in ceramics, graphic arts, painting, and sculpture.

A new graphic arts press has been purchased by the Art Department. It is only one of the important additions expected. The slide collection has been increased materially.

Other members of the department are Mr. Persick, Mr. Gordon, Mr. Neel, and Mrs. Persick.

FBLA

Workshop Set Up

From July 11-14 the Future Business Leaders of America organization will hold a workshop to study some of the problems of FBLA.

The agenda will include work on the 1958 convention; revision of the constitution; development of permanent rules and regulations for the contests, group meetings, and elections; promotion of new clubs.

While the State Executive Committee will form the nucleus of the workshop, all sponsors and local officers are invited and urged to attend.

Baptist Activities

By COLEMAN GENTRY

Would you like to spend the summer in the Great Northwest? Very few of us would turn down such an opportunity. Yet, a large number of us are not aware that each summer our fellow students leave the State and even the Nation to serve without salary as summer missionaries in just such localities.

Eugene Hayman, graduate of '57, from Coinjock, N. C. is now serving as director of religious education at a Baptist church in Portland, Oregon. We of East Carolina are fortunate to have Eugene represent the Baptist students of N. C. in the Washington-Oregon area. She enrolled for a summer of graduate study at Portland State College where her main concern is helping establish an effective Baptist Student Union for those students who have expressed their interest in the movement. This activity is entirely new and therefore represents a real challenge.

Although other highly qualified North Carolina students applied for the position, Eugene's maturity and her previous experience in all phases of the BSU activities here on our campus especially fitted her for this assignment. For those who are interested in writing, her address is Apt. 301, 1431 S. W. Park Ave., Portland, Oregon.

Angeline Gore, '57 graduate of the Highsmith School of Nursing from Warsaw, N. C. was selected to serve at a clinic in Nigeria for the summer.

Both of these highly qualified students were sent as summer missionaries with all expenses paid by the program which North Carolina Baptist Students began in 1953 named LISTEN—Love Impels Sacrifice Toward E-very N-eed. This highly successful campaign has made participating students all over the State more aware of the total needs of others.

LISTEN is training this college generation in the areas of world citizenship through a program of concern for others. Self-surrender and unselfishness is developed by daily giving of at least a penny each meal. Care for others is further taught by intercessory prayer. Announcements will be posted of forthcoming sacrificial luncheons and other activities for LISTEN. All are invited to participate.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto me." —Matt. 25:40.

The Ray Eberle Orchestra which appeared as the first SGA "name band" entertainment last Thursday night gives forth with some ex-Glenn Miller type of music.

Book Exhibit In Library

An exhibit of Junior Library Books is now on display in Joyner Library. The exhibit was placed in the circulation area on July 1 and will remain there until July 9. The collection contains 550 books from 25 outstanding publishing companies. A similar exhibition will be placed in the same place July 15-20.

The purpose of this service is to make available to schools and libraries a completely representative collection of Junior Library Books in organized exhibit form and thus make it possible for teachers and librarians, in seeing the best of the publishers' output, to select those books which best meet their particular needs.

WF Group Holds Weiner Roast

A weiner roast was held Monday, July 1 at Elm Street Park by the Westminster Fellowship. Sylvia Satterthwaite led the vesper program on the theme of "nature." Following supper a championship softball game was played by teams made up of members of the group and managed by Leonard Davis.

At a recent meeting Mack Berryhill of Charlotte was appointed treasurer for the summer. Mrs. Sara Davis is continuing her work as Christian Campus Life Worker for the Presbyterian students. Her office is located at the First Presbyterian Church.

Seven students are making plans now to attend the General Assembly Westminster Fellowship Conference at Montreat, North Carolina, the last week in August. They are: Ouida Reaves, Marian

Book Exhibit In Library

Morrison, Annette Capps, Sylvia Satterthwaite, Freddie James, Bill Shaw, and Gus Manos. Also attending will be Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Davis.

Sunday School for college students is being held on Sunday morning at 9:45, taught by Sara Davis and Elise Williams, senior at Flora MacDonald College.

Retailing Class Hears Speakers

During the summer, the retailing class had a variety of programs.

On June 17, Mr. Larry Averette, proprietor of Larry's Shoe Store, spoke on Retailing Practices and Principles as Applied to a Specialty Store. He discussed the necessity for keeping adequate records in the small store and the importance of promotion and advertising activities.

On June 24, a panel discussion was held by four Greenville businessmen: Mr. B. D. Johnston, manager Belk-Tyler; Mr. Frank Steinbeck, owner of Steinbeck's Men's Store; Mr. Dan Saieed, manager of Saieed's, Inc.; and Mr. W. L. Deavours, manager of the J. C. Penney Company.

On July 5, Mr. Arthur L. Tyler, executive vice-president of Belk-Tyler stores, will speak to the class of approximately 25 students.

FTA Meeting Held Here

Members of the Future Teachers of America held their monthly meeting recently in the Industrial Arts Department in Flanagan Building. Dr. Bing, head of the Industrial Arts Department was guest speaker of the evening.

Dr. Bing spoke of the need for more teachers and stressed the fact that the students of today want teachers who understand youth and who are able to explain things. In speaking of his department, he said that most people do not think of industrial arts as being cultural. He not only emphasized the fact that it is, but also said that industrial arts is for girls as well as for boys. At the end of his talk, Dr. Bing showed the group some of the interesting works on exhibit throughout the department, and a demonstration was given by one of his students.

Cotten Dormitory Entertains With Informal Supper

The Social Committee of Cotten Dormitory entertained its girls with a buffet supper last Wednesday at 6:00 p. m. An informal event, the girls gathered together in the hall where a spread of ham and pimento cheese sandwiches, potato chips, carrot twirls, pickles, iced tea, and cake had been prepared.

It was estimated that 250 girls attended.
