New Mens Dorm Work Underway; Second In Offing

By MARTHA WILSON

To the south side of Tenth Street will be moving five hundred and twenty men come February 1, 1959. According to Mr. F. D. Duncan, business manager and vice president of the college, the new dormitory would be completed by this date. Of contemporary architecture, this "H" shaped structure will have four stories plus a basement. There will be rooms enough to lodge all the men now living in Slay and Unstead Hall combined.

Dorm Cafeteria
Located in the basement of this building will be two recreation rooms and a cafeteria plant. The cafeteria and its employees, including self-help students, will be operated under the direction of Mr. Julian. And the boys will be expected to dress for breakfast.

Parking spaces surrounding the building and the road leading to the dorm will be paved, and sidewalks will be laid. Also tennis courts are expected to be built on the surrounding grounds.

Brubeck Quartet Comes Here Next Wednesday

Dave Brubeck's Quartet will bring a modern jazz concert to the East Carolina campus on February 5. Brubeck's group, considered the leading exponent of progressive jazz in America, is being presented by the Entertainment Committee. The concert will be at 8:00 p.m. in Wright Auditorium.

Brubeck, say some of the experts, came along and put jazz on the level of the intellectual. His music, though basically jazz, is shot through with "long-hair" or serious concepts. Combining the two, he comes up with good music.

The Quartet includes Brubeck at the piano, Paul Desmond on alto sax, Joe Morello on drums, and Norman Bates on bass. A great fan of Duke Ellington, Brubeck claims that this musician greatly influenced his view on jazz.

A native of Concord, California, Brubeck grew up in musical surroundings. He was sitting in with dance bands at the age of 14.

Challenge To Frats

East Carolina College has a challenge. It's not from any one person, but three hundred thousand—victims of polio. They need help. The question is, will East Carolina take time to hold its own March of Dimes Fund, a fund-raising campaign of the sort that might hold a candle to the one held recently by the Washington TV station in a fourteen hour drive that netted the usand seven hundred dollars from its viewers. Now East Carolina has well over three thousand students and about two hundred faculty members. Since the faculty could contribute more than a dollar as this counts as an income tax deduction, East Carolina should set a goal of $3500, and what's more, surpass it.

This is a worthwhile project for the social fraternities to undertake, if they are really campus leaders and if they really wish to be of service. This is one time asking for money from the students would be a worthwhile circumstance. Thousand of little children would benefit and ECC would chuk up another service to the community. THE EAST CAROLINIAN CHALLENGES THE SOCIAL FRATS. We dare you to undertake this project and complete it by March 1.

Southern Belle Ready, Raring To Win 'Best-Dressed' Title

Have y'all met Magnolia Beauregard? Maggie is a gal who is interested in capturing the title of the "Best-Dressed Girl of East Carolina" and winning an expense-paid trip to New York in June.

Miss Beauregard seems to think that she has the title in the proverbial bag. When interviewing Maggie, she told me, "Confidentially" that her sister, Essie Mae, a renowned Southern beauty, had captured the title of "best-dressed" at dear "ole gorgeous State." Not only that, but she also seems that Essie Mae has won Maggie the "scoop" on what the Glamour editors are looking for in what the winners will do in New York.

An I of Glamour editors will choose the "10 Best-Dressed College Girls in America" the first part of April.

As for how the "Best-Dressed Girl of East Carolina" will be chosen, a "Committee of Fourteen" will make pre-election nomination of ten girls and pictures will be run in the East Carolinian. A campus-wide election will follow.

Committee Named
The "Committee of Fourteen" includes staffers Martha Wilson, Kathryn Johnson, Carolyn Smith, Boots Jackson Arnold, and Bob Harper; SGA president Jimmy Phelps, Buccaneer editor I. K. Williamson, and faculty and administration members: Dean Ruth White, Dr. Clarence Monk, Dr. Martha Pingel Wolfe, Dr. Richard Todd, Miss Janice Hardison, Dr. Frank Hoskins, and Miss Mabel Dougherty.

Deadline
The "Committee of Fourteen" will have a deadline for nominations on February 14. A ballot of the ten finalists will be run in the East Carolinian issue of March 6 and results will be announced in the following issue. The ballots must be returned to the office in Wright Building or mailed to East Carolinian, P. O. box 1003, ECC by 4 PM March 10.

Now, Magnolia needs some competition, so start looking and passing the word around—"East Carolina's beauties are on parade."

Concert Band's Annual Program To Highlight All-State H. S. Clinic

East Carolina's Concert Band will present their Annual Winter Concert on Friday night, January 31. The performance will be held in McGinnis Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

The concert will be a highlight of the All-State Band Clinic for high school students, and these young musicians will be guests at the college concert band's performance.

Mr. Jacoby, outstanding trumpet soloist, will be guest soloist with the band. He will also be attending the clinic during the weekend, acting as consultant and giving demonstrations for the visiting high school students and band directors. Mr. Jacoby has been guest soloist with such outstanding bands as Annapolis, Washington and the Goldman Band, and has played in Carnegie Hall.

The select group of seventy musicians directed by Mr. Herbert Carter, will present a varied and enjoyable program of music, including several numbers by outstanding student musicians.

The East Carolina Concert Band will continue this year's schedule of performances with their annual tour, beginning the first week of February. They will tour Rockingham, Whiteville, and Wilmington. With them will be the Collegians and soloists.

Completing their year's program will be the Spring Concert and lawn concert later in the year, and the concert at commencement.

East Carolina College's Concert Band will present a series of four concerts in Rockingham, Whiteville, and Wilmington February 6 and 7. The solos to these North Carolina towns will make up the fifth annual tour of the band, which has played in both this state and Virginia on previous trips.

Seventy selected student musicians are included in the concert band. Herbert L. Carter of the college music department is director of the group. He is a past president of the North Carolina Bandmasters Association and is serving at present as secretary-treasurer of the Southern Division of the College Band Directors' National Association.

Concerts for this year's tour are scheduled as follows: Thursday, Feb. 6, Rockingham High School, at 2 p.m. for school children and at 8 p.m. for the public; Friday, Feb. 7, Whiteville High School, at 1 p.m.; and Friday, Feb. 7, New Hanover High School, Wilmington, at 8 p.m. for the public.

Selections chosen for the program range from the classics to modern popular music and novelty numbers. Opening with the "Apollo March" by Anton Bruckner the concerts will include Bach's "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor," the overtures to Rossini's "The Silken Ladder" and Bizet's "The Pearl Fishers," and R. Vaughan Williams' "Toccata Marziale."

Closing selection will be "Victory at Sea" by Richard Rodgers, who with Oscar Hammerstein turned out "Oklahoma" and other musicals. The selection, arranged by Robert Russell Bennett, who is noted for his Gershwin arrangements, was originally written for an NBC telecast and has become popular with concert bands capable of handling its difficulties.

Soloists on the tour will be xylophonist Steven L. Clements, freshman, and trombonist Jack M. Pindell, sophomore, both of Raleigh.

No Names

Pending completion of the hall, the East Carolina Board of Trustees will decide upon its name. Work on the new dormitory began last quarter. Steel pilings have been driven deep into the ground until rock has been struck. Due to quicksand on this tract of land, upon these pilings the foundation has been laid.

Plans for a second new dormitory for men are now in the offing. Mr. Duncan reports that East Carolina College is the recipient of a preliminary approval for a loan from the Federal Government's Housing and Home Financing Agency.

Architects are drawing up the blueprints now. This dormitory will follow the same general plan of the first, with four stories, a basement, and rooming capacity for five hundred and twenty men. A cafeteria will not be included however.

Also located across Tenth Street, his hall is expected to be finished within the next two years.

Winter Exam Schedule Devotes Two Days To Finals

Final examinations for winter quarter have been scheduled for Thursday, February 20, and Friday, February 21, it was announced this week.

Thursday and Friday will be devoted to double-period exams for all three-quarter courses, four quarter-hour courses, and five-quarter-hour courses.

All one-quarter-hour and two-quarter-hour classes meeting three or four times a week will be limited to one-hour examinations.

All one-quarter-hour and two-quarter-hour classes meeting one or two days a week will be limited to a one-hour examination, to be administered during the last regularly scheduled meeting of these classes prior to 8 AM on Thursday, February 20.

Monday night classes will have the examination on Monday, February 17 from 6:30-8:30 PM.

Tuesday night classes will have the examination on Tuesday, Febru-

Jr.-Sr. Theme Set By Class

Theme for the Junior-Senior dance has been decided upon by the Junior Class, but it is still being held a secret, it was announced this week.

Invitations for the dance which will be on May 10 in Wright Auditorium have been ordered and a band has been contracted for the event.

Committee chairmen include Mike Katsais, band; decorations, Jay Robbins and Betty Fleming; invitations, Purvis Boyette; refreshments, Mary Lou Parker.

Nominations for the May Court are: Gwen Clark, Gail Davenport, Mary Lou Wyrick, Betty Britt, Vicki Ehorn, Mary Lou Dickens, Patsy Bradshaw, Carolyn Aycock, Peggy Smith, and Martha J. Hammond. These girls are to hand in an eight by ten picture to Marsha Forbes, election chairman, within the next few days to be posted for election.

Editor Williamson Reports Buccaneer Sent To Printers

By BETTY MAYNOR

I. K. Williamson, editor of the Buccaneer, reports that the 1958 Buccaneer, featuring a Golden Anniversary theme, was sent to Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas, on January 21. This year's edition contains an increase of 52 pages over last year's. The largest increase is in conjunction with the Golden Anniversary feature which will constitute the first 59 pages of the book.

When questioned about the cover, I. K. stated, "We feel that this year's cover will be the prettiest cover used than on any previous volume of the Buccaneer. To keep in line with the Golden Anniversary theme, a black petal-grained cover with gold over-tone predominates. To bring out the fiftieth birthday of East Carolina, a die-cut of the college class ring appears on a solid black, diagonal band on the face of the cover. The name of the school appears on a white band across the bottom face of the book."

Concerning the contents of the yearbook, I. K. said, "I feel that the greatest improvement in the '58 volume over the preceding ones lies in four particular sections of the book—the campus departmental section, which is a new addition to this year's book; student life, which is much more extensive and also comes at the front of the book; fraternities; and athletics. Each of these major sections was given particular emphasis and should definitely be stronger in quality than heretofore."

Now that the work for this year's Buccaneer is finished, I. K. commented, "Naturally, it is a great relief to know that work is complete on another volume. Even at this, I am certain that this great book was only possible through the joint efforts of many people working very hard over a long period of time. I would like to pay personal thanks to my entire staff, especially those few who worked so tirelessly. I also appreciate the cooperation I received from the student body, faculty and administration. In short, thanks to everyone who had anything to do with the publication of the 1958 Buccaneer."

The Buccaneer is a member of the National School Yearbook Association, which will judge the book this summer. The rating, however, will not be received until next fall.

Bucs Seek Revenge Against W. Carolina

Carolina Swimmers Here Saturday; Bucs Heavy Underdogs

Another attraction to the East Carolina Sports Program for this week and has been added in that the Bucs Swimming Team will meet the University of North Carolina here on Saturday at 4:30 p.m. in the Memorial Gymnasium Pool.

VMI handed Coach Dr. De Shaw a rough 47 to 29 loss in the team's last meet. UNC is one of the top swimming powers in the United States and its team holds many NCAA records. Bob Sawyer is again expected to be the top point man for the Pirates. Young Sawyer is one of the best backstroke swimmers in the nation. Sidney Oliver and Ken Midgette are the other two leading point men for the EC squad. Oliver will enter the butterfly stroke event while Midgette is the top diver on the team.

It was only recently that at De Shaw's crew were edged out by the North Carolina State Athletic Club and the team will first win of the year against Virginia Coast Competition although the NC State Athletic Club did not represent State College in an official capacity.

Joe Plaster, center, will be one of the starters against Western Carolina tomorrow night. Plaster is a sophomore and has been ECC's leading rebounder.

ECC Returns To Action After Two Weeks Layoff

By BILL BOYD

"Wait until next time and the score will be different!" That is the remark that many of the Pirate Basketball players made after their last encounter with Western Carolina College of College, North Carolina. The Pirates were bitter at the score of 92 to 85 and will attempt to revenge themselves in tomorrow night's clash.

Howard Porter's crew are expected to squeeze by the Catamounts if the Blue Quint is in good physical shape. Captain Harold Ingram, Ike Riddick, Jessel Curry, Charlie Adams, Guy Mendenhall, Joe Plaster and Don Smith will all see action tomorrow. Adams is currently the hottest of the group in that he has been leading the ball club in the last few games in the average points per game column. Adams hit for 22 in the game with Western Carolina and did not play the entire game.

WRA Results

By PEGGY DAVIS

Keeping their first place lead the Blue Quint team of the WRA basketball squad met a win over the Indians last Tuesday night with a final score of 35-22.

It was a tight game until the last minutes of the game when "Booby" Harvey made the basket and when a free shot, giving the victory by a three-point margin to Reg-Eds.

High scorer for the losers was "Doc" Asworth with 15 points, while "Bo" Harvey hit for 16 for the winners.

A forfeit by the M.J.'s of Fleming won the Jarvis Bluebirds a win.

On Thursday night the Campus-esters took a 58-52 win over the Western III team. The victors were led by the sharp biting of Sylvio Bessley with 24 points. For the opposing team Jackie Edwards jumped in 20 points, or high scorer of the game.

WRA members are reminded that there will be an important WRA meeting tonight at 6:30 PM at the gym.

Tournament Thought

When the North State Tournament rolls around, East Carolina could be the favorite team with a psychological advantage which they have won in many previous tournaments. For the first time in many years we may have some supporters.

In the last three or four years and maybe even before then, exams were being given at ECC during the tournament. This has made it impossible for students to back the Pirates.

This year exams will finish up the week preceding the annual tournament and students will return to the campus at about the same time the tournament is in full swing. Arrangements should be made by the cheerleaders or other organization to get excused cuts for all those wanting to attend.

If the Bucs make the finals which is a good possibility, a bus could be chartered very easily. This could be worked out like the Richmond basketball team was and girls could be given permission.

Sad Sight

Western Carolina isn't too well known in the western part of the state and lack of attendance at the tournaments is a good sign of why. It has been a sad sight in past years when the largest school in the state, East Carolina, had only a handful of supporters while the rest of the crowd enjoyed "putting us down."

Lenoir Rhyne has made the biggest hit in the tournament as far as attendance is concerned. The Bears' followers and jazzed-up band, left quite an impression at the past tournaments and their teams play has always been a crowd for several nights.

Western papers have always excused ECC's support with distance as the problem. Yet, our next-door neighbors, Atlantic Christian, always had hundreds of rosters on hand. For a sports-loving school this should not be a problem.

This year our team will be given a good bet to be among the top teams. A large body of ECC students could really raise the prestige of the school of East Carolina. We are the largest school in the conference and should act it.

If tradition holds up to the past two seasons, the rest of the loop will be cheering against ECC. For this year's tournament, our spirit and support should outdo our foes and really show them that we deserve to be the largest sister in the North State.

Administration Unapproached

As far as we know, the Administration has not been approached concerning the coming tournament. They should be willing to work out something which would enable the students to attend the tournaments without being charged with cuts. HAS ECC EVER HAD A HOLIDAY TO CELEBRATE AN ATHLETIC AFFAIR?

ECC-WCC

Tomorrow night's scrap which puts the Bucs back into action against Western Carolina is a game which always draws interest.

These two teams have a knack for winning on their home courts. Western Carolina has won on their court for the past five years, upsetting the Pirates on two occasions. The Catamounts had not won in Memorial since its creation until last season.

The two coaches have not been on the friendliest terms also during the past years. Neither coach, Howard Porter or Jim Grudger, has been pleased with the officiating they have received on the home team's court.

Western Carolina fans, typical Mountaineers, have also aided the Pirates with their unsportsmanlike conduct. The crowd has continuously roared at ECC players during the game and there have been many near fights.

WCC has the laugh right now as their club posted a 92-85 win earlier this year in a game which saw nine men foul out.

Tomorrow night's game shares up to be one of the top tilts on the ECU state this year with the Cats visiting the Bucs Den with visions of the North State crown.

Decision Wrong

Coach Porter and his club will return from a 10-day lay-off. In a somewhat state due to the forfeits, the rest was probably done the ECC club and they should be recovered from their overnight shock by now.

No more has been done concerning the forfeits which forced ECC to lose three games, and it doesn't seem likely that further action will be taken. Dr. H. C. Hinshaw, Commissioner from High Point, did not go through the proper channels in reaching his decision and it should be "out of order." The Commissioner has made no known action to renew the case and carry it out according to the constitution.

ECC now has a 3-6 record in North State standings according to Hinshaw, but the NAIA rankings show the Bucs boasting a strong 9-3 mark. Anybody confused?

Caps Win

Raleigh's Needham Broughton High swiped off last Saturday, January 26, with their second straight win in the Third Annual East Carolina College High School Invitational Swimming Meet.

The preliminaries for the meet were held in Memorial Gym from 10 to 12. The finals were viewed in the afternoon from 2:30 until 5:00 by a fair sized crowd.

Myers Park of Charlotte came in behind the Raleigh school by only two points. In third place was the Greensboro High school team. Chapel Hill High and New Hanover High of Wilmington were the remaining schools in competition.

John Lautares of John Lautares Jewelers presented the coach and two co-captains of the winning team with a large trophy.

INTRAMURAL PLAY IDLE

Due to inter-fraternity council meetings last week, all intramural play was cancelled. The East Carolinian will have a full slate of results and standings in league play since that time. Team members are advised to watch the bulletin board for intramural play concerning their schedules. It is posted next to the book store in the Student Union.

The above action was taken from the ECC-Guilford game. The win by the Pirates was their last one. They enter Friday's tilt with a 9-3 mark according to NAIA records.

Charlie Adams plays a little defense above, but against Western Carolina he followed the Cary native hit for 22 points.

It is estimated that one in three of the 200,000 persons alive today who have had paralytic polio could still benefit from modern rehabilitation methods. Survival is not enough. Give to the 1958 March of Dimes.

Winter Drills

The gridiron sport, football, returned to the ECC Athletic Programs with the start of the past week when some 50 hopefuls turned out for winter practice.

Coach Boone and his coaching staff spent most of last week in getting the squad in shape. Rough work was expected to enter this week's schedule and was expected to continue for some time.

Many veterans have been on hand for the opening workouts along with some newcomers. The squad is expected to decrease in number as the winter drills progress.

One of the highlights of this year's drills is expected to be an Alumni-Varsity game to be staged sometime in March. Plans for the first game of this kind are now being worked on by Jerry Brooks, president of the Varsity Club.

Several new changes have been made in the existing football rules, and Boone and his staff will be trying to adjust the gridironers to the changes.

The One-Day Ping Pong Tournament held at the College Union Saturday, January 25 resulted in a newcomer, Elebert Pritchard, who is new in participation in tournaments—eliminating three-time champion Charlie Russell and meeting fall quarter runner-up, Paul Maskalenko, in the finals.

CAMPUS NOTES:

Seven Chosen

Phi Sigma Pi

Seven men students at East Carolina College who have completed organizational standards and initiation requirements have been accepted as members of the campus chapter of Phi Sigma Pi, national education fraternity based on leadership, fellowship, and scholarship.

Those initiated into the fraternity are:

Albert Baugh, science major; John Farmer, science major; Rufus Hughes, social studies major; James Laughlin, mathematics major; Robert E. Mitchell, social studies major; Adolphus Spain, social studies major; and Charles Youmans, science major.

In addition to the winter initiation, members of Phi Sigma Pi are busy making plans for the annual "Sweetheart Ball" which will be held during March.

Under the direction of Dr. Richard C. Todd, national president of Phi Sigma Pi and sponsor of the local Tau Chapter, the brothers are also taking preliminary steps for the organization of a Phi Sigma Pi Chapter at Atlantic Christian College.

Dr. Francis V. Henry, speech pathologist in the department of education, has accepted an invitation to speak at the Virginia State Conference for Special Education Teachers in Roanoke February 24. The meeting will be sponsored by the State Department of Special Education in Virginia.

Dr. Henry's topic will be "Developmental Disabilities for Children with Problems."

She is one of the few specialists included on the official roster of seven pathologists in North Carolina. She holds the doctorate from the University of Michigan and taught there before joining the E.C.C. faculty last September. For several years she has conducted summer clinics in speech and hearing here.

Mrs. Penelope Myers Freeman Ware, a senior, has been selected by members of the art faculty to exhibit her work in the college art gallery. Her exhibition, January 27 through February 7, will show, second to none in the college, work in art at the college level. It will be open to the public.

The exhibition will include drawings and paintings dealing with problems in advertising design.

At present Mrs. Ware is doing student teaching in art in the Rocky Mount City Schools. She had her first lesson in art as a sophomore and is now a candidate for the B.S. degree with a major in art and a minor in English.

Would you like to learn more about clothing selection and construction—how to fit and alter garments you have? The Home Economics Department is offering a course spring quarter, Home Economics 101, open to any girl on the campus. No prerequisites are required for this 3-quarter-hour course.

Some items to be included in the course will be basic principles of costume design as applied to pattern selection and clothing construction; selection of the fabrics suited to the style and occasion of wear of a garment; the use of patterns, sewing machine and other sewing equipment; fitting and alteration of garments as well as clothing construction. A dress or blouse and skirt may be constructed.

The subject of nutrition is or should be important for everyone—not Home Economics majors alone. "What Miss T eats becomes Miss T" is a true statement which applies to everyone throughout life. Nutrition knowledge is considered so important that many states are including the study of nutrition as one of the requirements for certification for teaching in the elementary school.

To further meet the needs of students the Department of Home Economics is offering an elective course Home Economics 105, Essentials of Nutrition. It will carry three quarter-hours of credit meeting three hours each week. Points to be considered besides the basic food needs will be: effects of deficiencies of essential food elements; food fads and fancies, including reducing diets; balanced meals when eating out; methods of encouraging good food habits; what college students eat. This last item may take the form of studies and surveys.

To expand student store services to students and faculty, and in the process reduce our student's overall book bill, the bookstore will start immediately buying and selling used textbooks where possible and feasible. Used books henceforth will be purchased over the counter in the store area, instead of in the dining hall as has been done previously.

The basis by which the bookstore will buy is as follows: for those books that can be used in our inventory for resale the store will pay one-half the purchase price; for those books that cannot be resold on our campus we will be governed by the national wholesale price as provided through a catalogue from one of the national used book dealers.

In order to provide the maximum amount of security for students and store, any student wishing to sell a textbook must identify himself with an official East Carolina College identification card.

The College Union will feature the second in a series of jam sessions Saturday, February 1, from 2-4 p. m. in the Union. The jazz quartet is composed of Fred Shehdan on the bass, E. W. Lee at the piano and featuring Willie Gillon on the alto sax, the baritone sax, and the flute. The featured guest will be Steve Clements on the vibra.

Phi Omicron News

The members of Phi Omicron, the honorary home economics fraternity at East Carolina College went on their annual field trip last week with half the members going on Monday, January 20, and half going on Tuesday, January 21. They toured the Full-Fashioned Hosiery Mill in Greenville and the owner gave the members a personal tour through the mill explaining how the different types of hosiery are made from the beginning through the finished product.

Final parts for the "Carouse!" casting have been announced.

The main characters are Barbara Harris, Carrie Pepperidge; Dottie Jo James, Julie Jordan; Alice Horne, Mrs. Mullin; Stephen Farish, Billie Bigelow; Dave Doolittle, David Bascombe; Peggy Griffin, Nettie Fowler; George Knight, Enoch Snow; Ralph Shamaker, Jigger Craig; Linwood Pittman, Starkeeper and Dr. Seldon; and Sue Heath (dramatic) and Carol Harris (dancer), Louise.

The following are cast in roles and, also, are members of the chorus: Nancy Caldwell, Bessie; Tommy Spry, Juggler; Ken Killebrew, 1st policeman and Jonathan; Dee Ann Dorsett, June girl; Janet Arnold, Hannah; Jerry Van Dyke, Boatwain; Caro-

Annual Children's Play

Final tryouts for the annual play presented by the East Carolina Playhouse for the school children of Pitt County will be held Monday at 7 P.M. in McGinnis Auditorium. All those interested in working on committees for makeup, lights and sound, properties, costumes and scenery should also come at this time. If more girls show an interest the play will be Sleeping Beauty; but if more men turn out, the group will present Treasure Island. It is expected that the Playhouse will take the children's play on tour this year.

Association To Sponsor Undergraduate Contest

The Intercollegiate Association for the study of the alcohol problem is sponsoring an editorial contest open to any full-time undergraduate in a college or university in the United States or Canada. The Roberts Awards include 60 cash prizes and 38 scholarships to the Intercollegiate School of Alcohol Studies at Waterloo College, Waterloo, Ontario, August 23-28.

Some of the questions that may be explored are "What are the motivations for drinking alcoholic beverages?" or "What are the effects on one's personality and his social standing in the community?"

The first prize is $150 in cash, a $30 scholarship and a travel grant up to $150. Local awards are offered to classes or groups in twenty different colleges where faculty members or leaders of student organizations undertake to submit 20 or more editorials in one lot to the Intercollegiate Association. This application for a group award will be granted on a priority basis of date received and the student participation in the writing program of the classes or groups.

The papers entered must be editorials of 500 to 800 words and those in excess of 800 will be disqualified.

Editorials will be judged according to the quality of research, originality, and editorial style.

Scholarship and travel grants are transferable to students in the same college, but cash awards must be received by the winners.

Deadline for group entries is April 15, 1958 and all others must be submitted by April 30, 1958.

This intercollegiate association is the only organization engaged solely in scientific education, among students, on the alcohol problem.

The Intercollegiate School of Alcohol Studies is a summer school for college students of the United States and Canada. The scholarship covers all expenses except the $10 registration fee.

Other intercollegiate association projects includes the "International Student," the only magazine that deals specifically in the problems of alcohol, and books and pamphlets on the entire field of alcohol studies, which are available to students.

If interested in entering the contest or obtaining information on the problems of alcohol, one can write to this address:

The Intercollegiate Association, Dr. Harry S. Warner, General Secretary, 12 North Third Street, Columbus 15, Ohio.

Eure Speaks At Gamma Pi Fraternity Dinner

By KATHRYN JOHNSON

"I say to you that I'm a fraternity man," Secretary of State Thad Eure declared to the members of Phi Gamma Pi Fraternity January 24 at a dinner meeting. The Honorable Mr. Eure spoke to the fraternity in connection with the possibility of their going Theta Chi, which is his fraternity. He promised that if he did petition this 102 year old national fraternity that he would sponsor them and write letters to the 129 Theta Chi chapters urging acceptance.

In closing he stated, "Fraternities will never make a man, but it's the men who make the fraternity." In speaking about his feelings concerning social fraternities Dr. John D. Messick, another guest, stated in a brief address, "I'm for fraternities, as long as their development is slow, steady and for the best interest of the students."

Also present was Bill Storch, Theta Chi national field representative from Raleigh, N. C., who discussed Theta Chi requirements for a chapter and Theta Chi today and yesterday.

An award for the greatest achievement was presented to William Howell, who made the highest grades in the fraternity last quarter. Rayburn Jenkins was presented the Outstanding Pledge award.

Jarvis Holds Service In Rebuilt Sanctuary

An event of great importance to Methodist students and faculty will take place next Sunday, February 2, when the rebuilt Sanctuary of Jarvis Memorial Church will open for its first service. College students will also return to the Fellowship Hall for the Sunday School Class, taught by Miss Mamie Chandler, Director of the Wesley Foundation.

The program for Sunday follows: 9:30 a. m. Sunday School; 10:30 a. m. Music on the Carillon; 10:45 a. m. Organ Music in the Sanctuary; 11:30 a. m. Processional, Morning Worship and Sermon; 3:00-5:00 p. m. Open House at the Church; 7:30 p. m. Recognition Service in the Sanctuary.

Coffee, Cocoa and Buns will be served to the students in Fellowship Hall, beginning promptly at 8:00 a. m., followed by a brief Class meeting. Cars will call for students at Campus Hall at 9:15 a. m. Representative students of the Wesley Foundation will assist at the social hour in Fellowship Hall in the afternoon.

Sticklers!

TAXI DRIVING, at best, is a checkered career. Some days, nothing seems to click—including the meter! Traffic crawls, motor stalls, horns bleat, bumpers meet. What a moment to reach for a Lucky—and discover (horrors!) you're fresh out. That's when the most genial driver turns into a Crabby Cabby. And why not? He's missing the best taste going... a cigarette that's light as they come. Luckies are all light tobacco—good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. Try 'em yourself. And step on it!

DON'T JUST STAND THERE... STICKLE! MAKE $25

Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (No drawings, please!) We'll shell out $25 for all we use—and for hundreds that never see print. So send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, New York.
