Debaters Gather In Flanagan For Tournament

Today an assembly of debaters and coaches are meeting in Flanagan Auditorium. Dr. George Cook is in charge of the district high school tournament debates and the administrative details.

Five affirmative and eight negative teams are meeting at 1:00 p.m. and at 1:30 p.m. Drs. Clay, A. Jenkins, and Price will choose four teams for the affirmative side from Columbia, Gatesville, New Bern, Perquimans, and Scotland Neck High Schools which will meet in room 212 Flanagan.

Dr. Howell, Miss Hardison, and Dr. Keesey will choose four negative teams from the Bath, Chicod, Elizabeth City, and Scotland Neck schools. These schools will meet in room 211 Flanagan.

In the library at this same time, four negative teams from Columbia, Gatesville, New Bern, and Perquimans schools will meet. Dr. Brewster, Mr. Wolfe, and Dr. Greer will choose two teams to go on to the next round at 3:30 p.m.

Alternate judges for the 1:30-3:30 debates are Mrs. Goodman, Dr. Herbin, and Mr. Paysinger.

In the second round, the affirmative winning teams from room 212 in Flanagan will compete versus the two winning negative teams from the library. These will be judged by Mr. Capwell, Dr. Prince, and Dr. Winkler.

At this time, Dr. E. Jenkins, Mr. S. Moore, and Dr. Kilpatrick will judge the two other winning affirmative teams from room 212 in Flanagan versus the two negative winning teams from room 211 in Flanagan. The alternate judges for this round are Mr. Fagan, Dr. Poindexter, and Dr. K. White.

Then the final round will be in Flanagan Auditorium at 7:20 p.m. This round will be two full debates with the winning affirmative team from Flanagan 211 against the winning negative team from Flanagan 212. The other debate is between the other winning affirmative and negative teams from these same rooms. The judges will be Dr. Hirschberg, Mr. Napp, and Mrs. Reynolds. The better affirmative and negative teams will be chosen for the state competition. The trophy for the state competition is the Aycock cup.

Everyone is urged to attend the debates, particularly the finals.

Gayle Davenport Represents EC In Contest

Gayle Davenport of Portsmouth, Virginia, will be ECC's representative of fashion in the Glamour magazine contest of "10 Best Dressed Girls in America."

Gayle, who was approved both by faculty and students, as being the best dressed coed on campus has submitted photographs (by photographer Jimmy Kirkland) to the editors of Glamour magazine.

The campus contest has been active in collegiate affairs, and recently was chosen to be one of the marshals for next year.

The magazine editors will select the ten winners who will then be photographed on their respective campuses and in June will be flown to New York as "Glamour's guests." During their visit to New York they will stay at the Waldorf Astoria, will participate in "Glamour's College Fashion Show" and will be interviewed and entertained by the editors.

'Carousel' To Open Tuesday, April 15

Practicing For 'Carousel'

It takes the whole stage when performers for Carousel get together for practice. The outstanding cast includes Dottie Jo James, Steve Farish, Barbara Harris, and George Knight.

James, Farish, Harris, Knight Hold Leads

The SGA production of Carousel is expected to draw crowds from eastern North Carolina similar to "Oklahoma," when an estimated 3,000 people were turned away. Students will be admitted upon the presentation of ID cards.

"Carousel," with music by Richard Rodgers and lyrics by Oscar Hammerstein, ranks along with "Oklahoma" as one of the outstanding Broadway musicals. According to Rodgers and Hammerstein, "This is their finest creation. 'Carousel' is based on Molnar's 'Lilium.'"

The time is 1873—the place, a small town on the coast of Maine. Julie Jordan, a factory girl, falls in love for the first time with Billy Bigelow, a carousel Barker. Billy, who has always had as many girls as he chooses, settles down to married life with Julie. Their happiness is short-lived due to the fact that Billy is unemployed and becomes irritable. When Billy learns that he is to be a father, he endeavors to get money for the baby by holding up the rich mill owner, Mr. Bascombe. Failing in his attempt, Billy kills himself rather than be captured.

The ending is beautifully written with Billy observing from the celestial heavens the growth of his daughter Louise. The curtains close as the chorus sings "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Comedy in the musical is furnished primarily by Carrie Pipperidge and her husband, Enoch Snow, and their nine children! Also adding spice to the production are Mrs. Mullin, a woman of questionable repute and the owner of the carousel, and the villain Jigger, a toughened, die-hard character.

The musical score of Carousel is lively and expressive. Highlighting the production is an outstanding cast of twenty-five with Dottie Jo James, Steve Farish, Barbara Harris, and George Knight playing the leading roles—a forty piece orchestra, a thirty voice chorus, and the dancing chorus climaxed by the Carousel Ballet starring Carol Harris. The best known selections are "June is Busting Out All Over," "You'll Never Walk Alone," "A Real Nice Clambake," and "If I Loved You."

Costumes are ordered from a professional costume house. An actual carousel, "The Wonder Bread Merry-Go-Round," is being loaned to the production by the Continental Baking Company. The sets are designed and built under the direction of Tommy Hull and Linwood Pittman. The main set is a waterfront scene that is adaptable to various scene sequences which take place.

Production staff for "Carousel" is: Dr. Kenneth N. Cuthbert, Director and Music Director; Dr. Elizabeth Utterback, Dramatics Director; Linwood Pittman, Technical Director and Co-chairman of Production Committee; Charles Shearon, choreographer; Ralph Shumaker, Assistant Music Director and Co-chairman of Production Committee; and Sue Heath, Assistant Dramatics Director.

Three Buildings' Additions Receive Contract Approval

Contracts for additions to three buildings at East Carolina College, to be constructed at a total cost of $385,309, have been awarded, F. D. Duncan, vice-president in charge of business, has just announced.

Buildings which will have new wings and the total amounts provided in contracts for each addition are: the Administration Building, $147,592; Music Hall, $72,409; and the college cafeteria, $165,308.

A two-story addition to the Administration Building, doubling its present size, will be constructed at the west end of the building. The Administration Building, erected in 1930, when the college was approximately one-fourth its size today, is no longer adequate to provide office space for administrative departments. The new wing will relieve crowded conditions and provide offices for administrative personnel now working in temporary quarters in other buildings on the campus, he said.

General contractors will be the North State Construction Co. of Rocky Mount. The new wing was designed by Harry Harless, Rocky Mount architect.

Music Hall, originally the college library, will have a new wing at the north side of the building. The addition, also designed by Mr. Harless, will face Fifth Street in Greenville and run parallel to it. It will include ten teaching studios, twelve practice rooms, a rehearsal room for choral groups, and two small classrooms.

Dr. Kenneth N. Cuthbert, music department head, explained that Music Hall does not provide adequate instructional facilities for the rapidly growing department, which now has a staff of nineteen members and 140 students who are majoring in music.

The general contract for construction was awarded to the North State Construction Co. of Rocky Mount.

A cafeteria which will provide service and eating space for 300 people will be added to existing dining hall facilities. The new structure will be connected with the college kitchen, which now serves the three cafeterias in use on the campus, so that no additional facilities for food preparation will be required.

The new wing will extend to the south toward Eighth Street. It will include a basement which could, if need should arise, be used for lunchroom service.

General contractors will be the Dunn Building Co. of Greenville. Plans were drawn by Architect F. Carter Williams of Raleigh.

Barbara Harris

Wins Second AAUW Award

Miss Barbara Harris, of Beaufort, graduating senior in voice in the Music Department of East Carolina College, was selected Monday by the Foreign Study Scholarship Committee of the American Association of University Women as the recipient of the second $650 scholarship awarded an ECC woman by the Greenville Branch of the Association for study abroad.

The selection of Miss Harris was announced by Mrs. Austin Perry, chairman of the Foreign Study Scholarship Committee of the Association, and Miss Lois Grigsby, chairman of the Selections Committee, who also announced the appointment of Miss Janet Hodges, senior in social studies, as alternate.

Miss Harris plans to study in Munich at the State Academy of Music under the noted teacher of Voice, Fran Hedwig Fichtmueller. She is at present studying voice at the college with Prof. Paul Hickfang, who himself recently studied for two years in Germany.

The first such AAUW scholarship was awarded last year to Miss Ann Mayo of Plymouth, a French Major, who studied at the University of Paris last summer.

Other members of the Selections Committee for the AAUW were Dr. Elizabeth Utterback, president of the Greenville Branch of AAUW, Miss Nell Stallings, Mrs. James L. Fleming, Jr., Mrs. J. E. Winslow, and Mrs. E. L. Humber.

Notice

Friday, April 5, is High School Day on campus. Dr. Ed Carter requests that all students and faculty not bring their cars on campus for this day. All entrances to the college will be chained from 7:30 AM to 4:30 PM.

Workers Named For Spiritual Emphasis Week

Traditionally Religious Emphasis Week, next year's week of campus-wide inspiration has been renamed Spiritual Emphasis Week, according to Anne Page Brooks, chairman of the 1959 Steering Committee.

Working with Anne Page in the launching of this program next February are Steering Committee officers: Betty Bonner Britt, secretary; Fred Kaminski, treasurer; Dr. Cleveland Bradner, advisor; and chairmen of the various subcommittees: Elizabeth Bowman and Mattie Lou Harris, Publicity; Carolyn Aycock and Ann Jessup, Hospitality; Fred Kaminski, Arrangements and Assemblies; Betty Bonner Britt, Organized House and Personal Conferences; Margaret Rose Powell and Barbara Davenport, Classroom Visitation; Flora Ruth Brown and Sue Lassiter, Open Forums; Martha Wilson and Pat Biggs, Worship; Barbara Wilson and Rose Rich, Music; and Cynthia James and Lois Farmer, Literature.

"Religious Commitment: So What?" is to be the theme of Spiritual Emphasis Week. Two months ago plans began to formulate around this central idea. Several speakers are in the process of being selected by the Steering Committee—one main platform speaker for the mass assemblies and three or four others to centralize their thoughts in the various departments of the curriculum.

Investigation Needed In Post Office Policies

It has been called to our attention that some type of investigation should be carried on by the administration as to the service received by students, faculty, and staff from the campus post office staff. Not only whose fault for late delivery, spoiled food by ants, misplaced mail, and such items, but also corrective measures should be discussed and instigated. Possibly the existing staff of the post office is doing their best—but their best certainly could be improved upon. The existing system which causes students to share mail boxes is not the best, nor is it exactly proper. The post office should be enlarged as soon as possible and a larger, or more efficient staff hired.

Men Say: Time To Form A Club

(ACP)—These terrifying figures come from the Ohio State university LANTERN.

There are more than 19,000,000 unmarried women in this country and every last one of them is out to get a man.

Last year women spent $59,000,000 for perfume. How much more they spent for lipstick, rouge, eyebrow pencil and false eyelashes is not known.

On the basis of these facts a number of eligible men throughout the country has organized into a Bachelors' Protective Association to insure themselves against marriage.

THE BPA is currently circulating its literature on our campus. For a small fee the BPA insures unmarried men against marriage for a full year.

That is probably the "catch" to the whole organization. Insurance is costly and if you want insurance you will have to shell out. What price freedom?

East Carolina College is a co-educational college maintained by the State of North Carolina for the purpose of giving young men and women training that will enable them to earn a Bachelor of Science, a Bachelor of Arts, a Bachelor of Music, or a Master of Arts degree. The physical plant of the college consists of approximately 130 acres and 25 buildings appropriate to the work of the college. Enrollment for the 1957-58 school year is in excess of 3700 and includes students from nearly all of North Carolina's 100 counties and adjoining states.

A sound general education program is offered as the foundation on which specialized training may be based. Pre-professional training and Secretarial Science are also available. Students may take work in the following fields: Art, Education, Business Education, English, Foreign Language, Geography, Health and Physical Education, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, Library Science, Mathematics, Music, Psychology, Science, and Social Studies. An Air Force ROTC unit located at the college provides an opportunity for men, upon graduation, to be commissioned as Second Lieutenants in the Air Force after which they may enter flight training and earn their wings.

Additional information may be obtained by writing to the Registrar, East Carolina College, Greenville, N. C.

Editorially Speaking

By JAN RABY

We didn't realize how effective our last cartoon was—until someone remarked that they recognized one of the characters immediately . . . well—if the shoe fits . . .

This is our last issue until April 17—due to Spring holidays. Hope you enjoy your Easter and the vacation from studies. As for the editor—drop me a card at 3577 Norland Court, Norfolk 13, Va. or Norfolk General Hospital. Barring a bad cold, one bad set of tonsils will depart on Easter Monday.

Measles are going around—this past week-end our managing editor, Kathryn Johnson came down with them. It wasn't so long ago that the SGA president, Jimmy Phelps, had them. There's not much you can do about keeping from having them (if you haven't had them before) if you come in contact with someone in the contagious stage says Nurse Hales over at the infirmary.

We wouldn't be at all surprised if half of ECC was down at Wilmington for the Azalea Festival, regardless of the fact that the Azaleas have yet to bloom. At least they got out of our rainy weather. President Messick and his wife were looking their usual charming selves. We've got the best looking college president around these parts.

Did they ever find the lost ECC coed, is my question. They were paging for her whereabouts over the TV station—and referring, as usual, to us as East Carolina Teachers College. When will they ever learn?

The "new look" in fashions doesn't show President Messick much. When asked what he thought of the "sack", he replied, "I don't care for it. The fashions of the past three or four years are the best that I've seen."

According to information here, the Publications Board will meet April 10, Thursday, to select the editors of the Buccaneer and the East Carolinian for next year.

Another item of information . . . the Awards ceremony will be held Tuesday, April 15, at 4:00 p.m. in Austin Auditorium. There are Departmental awards, SGA awards, and Publications awards, which means that East Carolinian staff members should meet at Austin for the usual staff meeting, but at 1 p.m.

People are quick to criticize, but slow to praise. Wonder why it's so hard to find something to praise?

We'll pause and review the school year in the issue of May 15 and see just how this SGA administration looks, in reflection. Also we'll have some idea of what next year's SGA is capable of, as shown by its four meetings this year.

There's a nice little lady who runs one of the local eating establishments who makes life a little more pleasurable for her patrons with her comments (and good food). It's interesting to hear how she sees the college students . . .

Installation of the new SGA officers is open to the student body. Why don't you come and watch the ceremony? That's April 15, at 4:30 in Austin.

We hope that while organizations are electing their officers for next year they will select an East Carolinian reporter and also that this reporter either have prior journalism experience or come up and obtain some information the rest of this year.

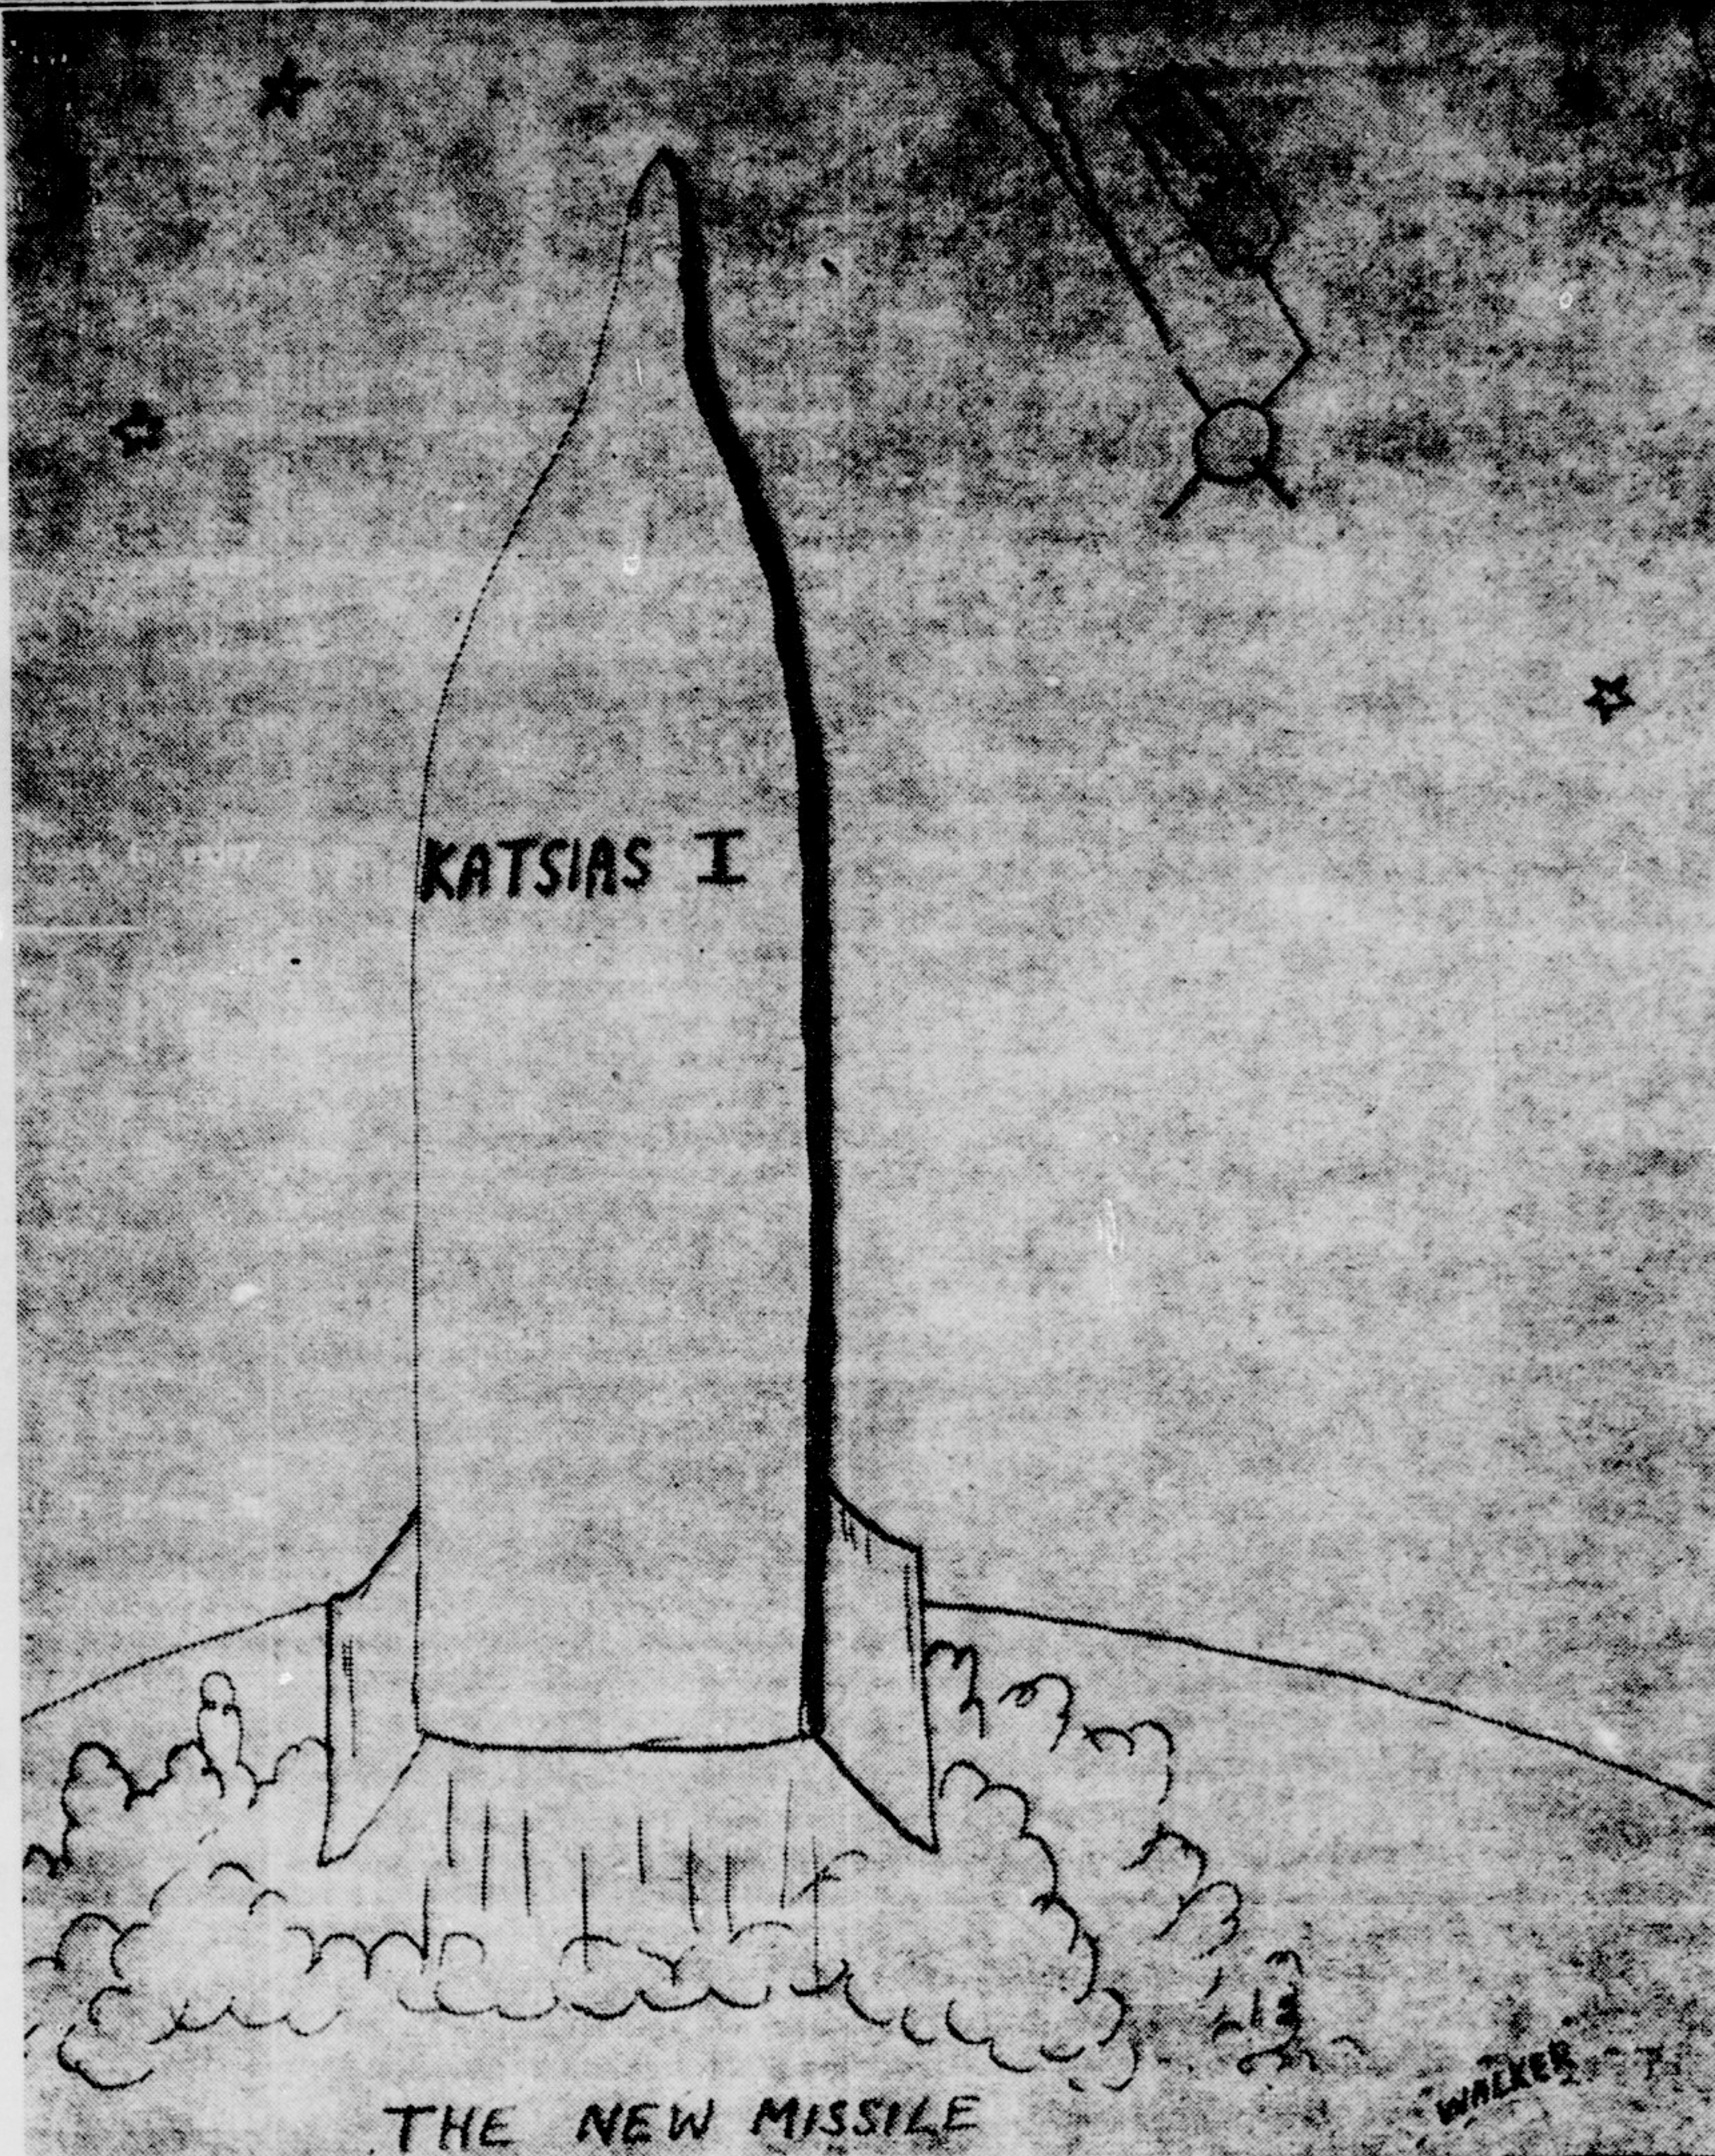

The business manager of the paper has stated that the remainder of the advertising money should be turned over to the newspaper in order to return to six page editions. The editor heartily concurs. How about it Budget Committee? We would like to feature additional departments on campus, but cannot, at present, due to the limited space. Also we would like to print the SGA committee reports for the year.

Fate's gift to ECC . . . Dr. Thomas M. Stritch in the Psychology Department and Dr. Martha M. Pingel Wolf in the English Department.

. . . and now we're losing her. How long will we be able to keep such brilliant professors (as Dr. George Patti) unless Raleigh gives them better pay?

WOULD SOMEONE PLEASE RETURN a sign that belongs on my desk. It has sentimental value as I was given it in the service. It is a piece of triangular shaped wood about a foot long with the name Janice Raby in black letters.

It's nice to see some of our graduates around campus. They're lucky enough to have longer Spring holidays than ECC. Miss Lydia Turner, who is teaching at Norview High School, Norfolk, Va. was here on Monday. We also talked to Miss Eleanor Sanderson who was back on campus. Due to come in from the University of Kansas is Miss Peggy Lou Stewart.

Letter To The Editor

How soon we forget. Possibly we don't want to remember. I have just heard that Friday April 4 has been set aside as High School Day at East Carolina College. This is in 1958.

Many years ago this day was the darkest of all days for the Christian World. This was the day of Christ's Crucifixion—known to us as Good Friday. Churches all over the world will be holding services of prayer and meditation commemorating the three hours Our Lord hung on the Cross and died for our sins.

Why must we offer additional competition to those who might like to remember the despicable drama of that first Good Friday? Why must a college that professes to be an institution of higher learning composed predominantly of Christians, schedule an event that not only involves increased extra curricular activity among the college students, but places added impetus in surrounding

EC Goes South For Festival

By ROSEMARY EAGLES

Azaleas were a wee bit sparse and the beaches weren't sunny, but everybody was there. The Azalea Festival has become the "collegiest" informal blast in the state and each higher institution of learning is well represented with East Carolina leading the pack.

Campus evacuation began Thursday and by late Friday afternoon there was a steady caravan from high schools as they make plans to attend High School Day.

Ignorance is no excuse. The exact dates for Easter and Good Friday are worked out to the year 2013. Maybe no one checked. Maybe no one cared. Maybe it's more important to look to the future growth of the student body of ECC than to pause in contemplative meditation on the past—the day of Christ's Crucifixion—High School Day at East Carolina College.

Summing up the "AZALEAN in abstract fashion: "Easter who?" "Did Eisenhower really play in the tournament?" "Has anybody seen my shoes?" "How did I get sand in my ear, I haven't been on the beach?" "Is Dean White really invited to our party tonight?" "Vote for the Bull Dog!" "Take my picture and I'll give you ten million dollars." "That's not a buzzard, it's a crow." "Don't let the marines in." "What day is this? Where am I? What lake is that out there?" "Who hung that communist symbol upside down?" "Good morning judge!" . . . Enfield's MACK WILLIAMS has written a one act play to be presented April 21. He contends that it is the best play he has written to this date . . . CARROLL WILLIAMSON took off the other night, said he was going around the world in eighty days. He got as far as Heaths.

A theatre usher was astounded to see a big brown bear sitting in the front row eating peanuts. "Hey," he whispered, "I thought the peanut machine was busted." (This did not happen at the Pitt.) . . . For the students who are planning to go Easter egg hunting over the holidays, don't forget to take your basket. If you are going in Pitt County take an umbrella along.

I can remember the time I came to ECC for high school day. The trip was really against my wishes; I had planned to cut all my classes and go fishing that day. It rained so I signed up for the trip. I rode down here with a car load of "hard-legs" and they talked all the way; talking about all the college women they were going to "snow." When we arrived on campus the sun was shining. (YES) A group of boys and girls lead us from building to building, explaining various functions of each department. I ate lunch at the Olde Towne Inn (apart from the group that ate at the cafeteria). Mid-afternoon Bob Lee played music for us to dance by. I met a girl. She couldn't dance very well so we drank up most of the punch that was placed on one of the registration tables. By nightfall my stomach was full of punch and I was tired of my companion telling me what she was going to do when she got to Peace College. I left the ECC campus with an impression, however, that caused me to come back to enroll for a BS degree.

(To whom: This is just a bit of information for those who don't know all they should about Bob Harper. Several days ago some girl walked up to me and started talking about a dance that was being given out of town. She finally asked me if I would take her to this dance. I was stunned. I thought everybody knew that I was a married man. I have been married for two and one-half years, and if my luck holds out I will be married eighty years from now.)

In recent issues of magazines such as Life, The Atlantic, The Saturday Review, not to mention the weeklies exclusively devoted to news commentaries, the American educational system has come in for a greater than average share of criticism. We "play" too much; we do not take our learning seriously enough. In the words of a Texas oilman, "We cover the ground without putting anything into it." Probably, if it had not been for Sputniks I and II, say these critics, our attention would never have been directed to the problems which our high schools and colleges face. Are these criticisms valid? The cliché expert says, "Where there's smoke, there's fire;" if there were nothing wrong with present day education, then we would not hear quite so many complaints about it. If Lifemanship, Sportsmanship, Healthmanship, and Hobbymanship (to parody a modern unnamed author) are the aims of education, then our system has not failed us. We have a healthier, livelier, more group-concerned set of students in school today than we had twenty years ago. They certainly play harder, live harder, and endure longer than their "ancestors." We have become so Practical Minded (with income tax deadline just around the corner, I suppose this is the wrong time to criticize practical mindedness) that it has come as something of a shock to learn that the seemingly impractical subjects, like mathematics, theoretical science, and the whole area of literature and the humanities, are actually the basis on which our so-called "practical" culture rests.

Education really is an INDIVIDUAL matter; it rests not on the courses a student takes or is required to take, but on the fundamental curiosity that all human beings share, on wanting answers to questions. From the first "why?" to the eventual "how?" man learns to think for himself, and it is only when thought is no longer necessary to learning that our system of education is in danger. In the last analysis, we must face the fact that not all of us have the same interests or the same abilities; therefore, we shouldn't try to be alike. We should learn to know our own capacities and to fulfill them. And if Johnny Jones gets an A in Algebra and a D in Lifemanship in the process, we shouldn't worry about his "normality." If all of us were of the same mold, we'd be a pretty monotonous mass (I almost said mess). And if we really want to throw a barb at education, let the only barb be to attack the tendency to "cast us all into one mold" instead of stimulating each individual to stand on his own merits and to accept responsibility for whatever he does or does not learn. If you like spinach, you eat it, and it becomes a part of you; if you like ice cream, ditto. But don't blame anybody except your self if you limit yourself only to what you like and are undernourished in the process.

But then again, who isn't? We can't tell yet, for the week is too young and we are a bit bushed. Time will tell and rain will fall and writers die young. Ask Mr. Keats. So if they burn themselves out before the flame really blazes—who panics?

Now this matter of intellectualism. I can read and write—spelling isn't the best—but I can go as far as long division in Math. In the first grade we experience our initial attempts at reading. Throughout our years of school, the course continues. By the time we leave college armed with diplomas and degrees, we are well versed in the mechanics of reading. The only thing lacking is interpretation. And when we read slams in writing, if it doesn't hit home we ignore it or try to find out just what was meant by the slams.

This writer would like to say that there is only admiration and respect for one individual who disagreed with the last article appearing under the caption Sidewalk Plato. However, this person had the guts to voice her opinions and talk them over with the author. That is much more than the others did who found reason to gripe.

This individual had a firm basis for her disagreement and the author derived much from the discussion. Too bad others aren't more like her.

Leftovers from Cussin and Discussin: The movie CYRANO DE BERGERAC will be held at the Pitt on April 3. We saw the movie years ago when we were in high school and if memory serves us right, it is one that shouldn't be missed. Mr. Ferrar's interpretation is both artistic and realistic. Also in the way of motion pictures, Miss Brigitte Bardot will appear in THE LIGHT ACROSS THE STREET. Miss Bardot makes her own publicity—so enough said.

UNLESS SOMEONE PULLS SOME HIDDEN PUNCHES, EAST CAROLINA'S TRACK TEAM SHOULD RETAIN THE TITLE OF NORTH STATE CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS.

It is true that they have officially lost one and tied one in meets thus far but it must be remembered that Hampden Sydney College has one of the better track teams in the state of Virginia and the University of Richmond is even stronger. (Hampden Sydney tied the Bucs 61-61 while Richmond defeated the Pirates by a score of 90½ to 40½.) The fact that the Richmond meet was held the day following the HS meet is some consolation. After a week's rest, the team of Coach Miller's took on Atlantic Christian College last Saturday in a practice meet. Although no actual score was kept, it was quite obvious that East Carolina dominated the scene as they took first place in every event but the high jump. LOOKING EXTRA GOOD FOR THE BUCS WERE BOB MAYNARD IN THE DASHES, FOSTER MORSE IN THE MILE RUN AND CLIFF BUCN AND BOBBY PATTERTON IN THE 880 YARD RUN. BOB HASKINS, A NEWCOMER TO THE SQUAD, ALSO STOOD OUT IN THE MILE RUN AS DID TOMMY EDWARDS IN THE 440 YARD RUN.

This domination of events by EC was done without the help of such boys as Jim Henderson and James Speigh, two top flight dash men.

Coach Mallory got a good look at his ball club under fire when they played Camp Lejeune in a series of games last Friday and Saturday. The games were of the practice variety so of course the scores didn't matter as far as record goes. Mallory was impressed by the booming bat of Marion Talton, the highly touted catcher who is a left handed hitter. He was also impressed by the hitting of his left fielder, Tommy Nance. Nance is a letterman while Talton is new to the squad. On the pitching side, Ben Baker and Leonard Lilly gave the best performances. The other bright spot was the playing of Jerry Stewart and Al Vaughn at the shortstop and second base positions respectively. This combination turned in some quick double plays to highlight the defensive action which was rather good as a whole. The scores of the contests were 3-2 and 2-1, both in favor of Camp Lejeune. What must be remembered though is that the EC club has had but two good days of hitting practice the entire spring due to adverse weather conditions and that the Lejeune Club was loaded with class A and B ballplayers.

SPORT NOTES

The EC track team has over a week to prepare for the next meet which is on April 11 with Guilford College at Guilford. Then on Saturday, the 12th, the squad journeys on to High Point for an encounter with High Point College and Pfeiffer in a triangular meet.

Joe Holmes almost fooled the officials when East Carolina met Richmond's track team at the Virginia capitol city. He hurled the shot-put and Earl it he did. In fact, he took a mighty step in the soggy mud and, in letting go, made it vanish. It was so muddy on the field that track officials had to get a shovel and dig the shot out of the ground.

The intramural softball league will see a new rule in action this year. The slow pitch rule has gone into effect. Rain has halted all action thus far but with this type of pitching, the teams had better have some mighty swift outfielders. One big reason for the change is because of the annual slow pitch tournament held during the summer at Rocky Mount. A group of intramural players from East Carolina's intramural leagues won this tournament last year, and with the rules that are used in the tournament in effect here, the EC intramural all stars rate high in the tournament again this year.

With major league baseball play getting under way after Easter, I will make numerous predictions on season winners, the batting title, RBI's, home runs, etc. in our next edition!

Timely Hitting By Newark Club Tops Bucs 4-1

By BILL BOYD

Sparked by the left handed pitching of Al Neighbor and the hitting of right fielder Dick Holten, the University of Delaware baseball team turned back East Carolina's bid for an opening season win by a score of 4 to 1 Tuesday evening in the Pirates' home park.

Lefty Ben Baker started for the Bucs, but was relieved in favor of Leonard Lilly during the second frame. Holten sent Baker from the box with a scorching double to left center to score two of his team mates. Delaware's third run was made in the eighth inning when second sacker Jim Smith singled, took third on two fielders choices and scampered home on an error by Al Vaughn. The last run for the Newark, Delaware squad came in the ninth inning as catcher Earl Alger doubled and later scored on a sacrifice fly by Lee Elia, the left fielder.

East Carolina scored its lone run in the third inning as Jerry Stewart singled, stole second, went to third on a sacrifice fly by Vaughn and came home on a passed ball by Alger.

Walks dominated the scene for the Bucs as they garnered nine off of Neighbor's offerings, but he gave up only three hits and struck out 11 men in going the route. Stewart had two of the three hits, both singles, while center fielder Tommy Land blasted out a double for the third. Inability to hit in the clutch was the downfall of the EC club.

Lilly was the bright spot on Mallory's squad as he gave up three hits in seven and one-third innings in addition to two runs, of which only one was earned.

The originally scheduled double header was called off by coaches Jim Mallory of East Carolina and Harold Raymond of Delaware. Delaware did play the Bucs in a three inning practice stint which saw EC score nine big runs to U. D.'s one. Bruce Shelly was impressive on the mound and also drove in two runs with a timely single. Jerry Phillips, Tommy Nance and Al Vaughn also had singles. Vaughn's drive scooted between the legs of the Delaware right fielder and he came in home standing up for an errored home run.

The line score of the regular nine inning contest is as follows:

Delaware	020	000	011 4 6 0
E. Carolina	001	000	000 1 3 2

Batteries: Del., Al Neighbor and Earl Alger; EC: Ben Baker, Leonard Lilly (2) and Marion Talton. Winning pitcher: Neighbor (1-0); Loser: Baker (0-1).

SEEN ABOVE IS ONE OF THE TOP MEN ON THE EAST CAROLINA GOLFING TEAM. He has been the number 3 man for the Pirates thus far this season and consistently shoots in the low 80's. Land is a 22 year old senior, hailing from High Point, N. C.

Sylvia Beasley Is WRA President

By PEGGY DAVIS

The Women's Recreational Association held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday night, March 27, 1958, at which time the officers for next year were voted on by secret ballot. The results of these elections were as follows:

President, Sylvia Beasley; Vice President, Peggy Davis; Secretary, Rita Mann; Treasurer, Ann Jessup; East Carolinian Reporter, Ella Tyson; Buconeer Reporter, Dot White; Publicity and Program Chairman, Ann Wilson.

Next month there will be a formal banquet at which time these new officers will take oath and then office.

The Softball season is getting under way now and all girls who are interested in playing are urged to see their dorm captains and get on a team immediately as the practice days are being set up and will be announced.

The winning dorm will receive a banner as did the winning dorm in basketball. It is hoped that the girls will become very interested in this sport and turn out for it.

Plans are also being made for tennis matches between the dorms if there is any interest shown at all.

All girls are reminded to keep a lookout for notices on their dorm bulletin boards and back doors in regard to the dates for softball practice.

BASEBALL TEAM TO PLAY FIVE GAMES NEXT WEEK

Mallory's squad will leave East Carolina for a three game road trip next week, with the University of South Carolina scheduled on Monday, Parris Island on Tuesday, and the Citadel on Wednesday. Upon returning home the Pirate baseball nine will play host to Western Carolina College on Friday and Saturday.

CHANGES IN TRACK SCHEDULE

Head track coach J. O. Miller recently announced the following changes in the 1958 East Carolina track schedule:

April 17—Duke and Wake Forest (triangular) at Durham

April 22—North Carolina State at Raleigh

April 22—Elon and Atlantic Christian Colleges (triangular) at Wilson, CANCELLED

April 24—Atlantic Christian College at Wilson

McDonald Makes Successful Debut As New Tennis Coach

By PAT HARVEY

Last week the East Carolina Tennis team started their season off with an overpowering victory over the Wake Forest six. The Pirates took every point except a half point which they received due to the last doubles match being called because of rain. The final score was 8½ to ½ thus giving Wake Forest the worst beating in ECC history.

This was Coach Bill McDonald's first assignment in coaching the Pirates. McDonald replaced successfully Coach Ralph Martinez of the swimming and tennis teams last year and fortunately, the Portsmouth, Virginia, native is blessed with a veteran team.

The team consists of 6 veterans. All of the players except one were regulars last year and he did see some action in the 1957 season. Members of the squad are: Maurice Everett, John West, Billy Hollowell, John Savage, Mike Katsias, and Lawrence Brown.

At present the iron six are scheduled for 17 matches. Last year they accomplished a 14-3 record, which was one of the best in the South. Among the top-flight competition slated for this year will be: Wake Forest (again), NC State, The Citadel, William and Mary, Geneva College of Beaver Falls, Penn., and the members of the North Carolina State Conference, such as: Elon, Guilford, High Point, Western Carolina, and Atlantic Christian Colleges.

Last year the Pirates were unable to be in the running for the NC State Conference title due to the fact that they did not play enough matches.

EVERETT TOP MAN

Maurice Everett, the sensational Number 1 man from Robersonville, is a senior and has been in this position for his entire 4 years at ECC. He should easily break the existing record of the most wins of any college net man on any college team. He now has 49 wins. Everett is a naturally gifted player, who possesses all the assets of a great player. He was the North State Conference champion for the last two years.

The Pirates will play Elon and Guilford away this week and will take their first stand on the home courts April 9 against William and Mary.

Pirate Golfers Downed By 45-12

For the second time this season, East Carolina's golf team met Pfeiffer College and again failed to win as they were beaten by a narrow 15 to 12 margin. Pfeiffer tied the Bucs in an earlier meeting by a score of 13½ to 13½.

The Misenheimer, N. C. College showed fine form in college court as they turned back Howard Porter's squad.

Paul Goodwin paced EC with a 79 and his team had three men in the 80 bracket. They were Ira Land, Howard Beale and Wayne Workman.

Workman and Goodwin lost their individual matches while Beale and Land won theirs.

Beale and Land also won their team match as Workman and Goodwin couldn't quite cope with the putting ability of Pfeiffer's Baucum and Walters.

Tommy Harris of EC won his 18 hole challenge but then lost the 9 hole match. The line score on the match is as follows:

Baucum (P) defeated Goodwin (EC) 3 to 0.
Workman (EC) lost to Walters (P) 3 to 0.
Team match: (P) over (EC) by 2½ to ½.
Land (EC) defeated Massich (P) 3 to 0.
Beale (EC) defeated Krimmenger (P) 3 to 0.
Team match: (EC) over (P) by 2 to 1.
Skomsky (P) defeated Holten (EC) 3 to 0.
Harris (EC) defeated Smith (P) 2 to 1.

Norman Kilpatrick Is Table Tennis Champion In Student Tournament

Finals of the spring quarter table tennis tournament, played Monday night in the College Union Recreation Area, saw transfer student Norman Kilpatrick defeat five times quarter champion Barney Strutton 21-19, 21-11, and 21-12. The first game saw Strutton trailing Kilpatrick 11-18, only to pull up to within one point at 19-20, before losing the final point. The next two games saw Strutton's defense tire, as Kilpatrick's steady backhand and forehand drives finally won the match.

The semi-finals saw Kilpatrick hit through Jim Camp 21-11, 21-9 and 21-13, while Strutton was winning an exciting match from Eugene Treadway 13-21, 21-12 and 23-21 and 21-18. Treadway's blasting forehand drives penetrated Strutton's deep defense defense easily in the first game, and put him ahead 20-19 in the third game, only to have Strutton hit several sudden forehand drives to pull the third game out of the fire, and finally break up Treadway's backhand defense in the fourth. Treadway had pulled the upset of the tourney by defeating Paul Maskalenko in five games. Treadway's forehand counter drives finally broke up Maskalenko's steady attack.

CAMPUS NOTES:

The East Carolina College Choir gave a program of music at a city-wide service Sunday in Wilmington, in connection with the Azalea Festival there. The community event took place at 4 p.m. in Brogden Hall.

Selections chosen by the choir for the Wilmington service included a processional and a recessional and two anthems, "Holy Radiant Light" by Gretcheninoff and the Silesian melody "Beautiful Saviour" in an arrangement by F. Melius Christensen.

The Choir was composed of fifty men and women who are now attending East Carolina College. All were carefully chosen for membership through auditions held last fall. Dr. Carl T. Hjortsvang of the college department of music was director of the Choir. After extensive study and wide experience in the field of music, he joined the faculty at East Carolina College last September. As singer, teacher, and choir director, he participates in activities of the department of music.

The Choir completed last month its fifth annual tour. Concerts presented in eight towns in North Carolina and Virginia were followed by the "home" concert given each spring on the campus here.

The National Congress of Sigma Pi Alpha, honorary foreign language fraternity, convened at Mitchell College in Statesville. Those attending from ECC's chapter were: Carole Robbins of Ahoskie, retiring president of the chapter; Artemis Kares, Greenville; Angela Harris, Greenville; John Farmer, and Hilda Sandgren of Bogota, Colombia. Mrs. James Fleming and Mr. Fred Wolf were the faculty members who attended.

The afternoon program included a business meeting followed by a coffee hour and a formal initiation ceremony conducted mainly by visiting professors of French, Spanish, and German. A Banquet and a Calypso dance was presented during the evening program. At the banquet the names of the recipients of the annual merit awards made to students with records attesting to high scholastic attainment were announced. Janet Elizabeth Hodges, Rachel Steinbeck, Dorothy A. Langston, Artemis Chris Kares and Carolyn C. Waters received awards.

Buccaneer Staff Travels To NYC For Convention

The Buccaneer, East Carolina's yearbook, was represented at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Convention in New York March 12 through 15 by four of its staff members. They were I. K. Williamson, Betty Freeman, Adolphus Spain, and Janice Pierce. They traveled by train and stayed at the Piccadilly Hotel during the convention.

Editor Williamson and his staffers ran into a little excitement during the train ride up. They had to wait around thirty minutes for the tracks to be cleared of a wreck that had occurred just before they got there.

It also snowed Thursday night and all day Friday in New York, so the delegates got to see the city in its winter glory.

The convention began with registration at noon Thursday, and the first meeting was at two o'clock. Meetings of main interest to the Buccaneer group were those concerning general make-up of yearbooks, preparing dummies, finances, and staff organization.

The convention was concluded with a luncheon Saturday at the Waldorf Astoria with Willie Ley, author of books concerning books of space travel, as principal speaker. The luncheon celebrated the thirty-fourth annual convention with a giant birthday cake.

Besides attending meetings, the delegates also saw two of the top five Broadway hits, "Bells Are Ringing" with Judy Holliday, and "New Girl in Town" with Thelma Ritter and Gwen Verdon.

They also toured Radio City, the Museum of Natural History, the Empire State Building, and the United Nations, and shopped in Macy's, Gimbel's and Saks.

College Choir ... Azalea Festival

The AFROTC Honor Drill Team of ECC competed with 50 other drill teams from all over the United States at the National Guard Armory in Washington, D. C. recently. This was part of the National Cherry Blossom Festival.

The Honor Drill Team performed for ten minutes doing precision drill movements.

While in Washington, D. C., the members of the drill team visited several places of interest.

The cadets stayed at Fort Meyers, Virginia. Transportation was furnished by Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, Goldsboro, N. C.

Cadets making the trip were Dallas C. Dixon, Harrell E. Mahe, Joseph M. Hoffman, Gordon E. Robinson, John D. Edwards, David G. Privitt, Jr., Robert C. Brown, John M. Walston, John M. Warren, George S. Coltrane, Jr., Richard A. Avery, Cecil J. Miller, Harold E. Yert, Jr., William R. Faulkner, William F. Newman, Jr., Floyd P. Jenkins, Jr., Harry P. Bayley, John W. Hooper, James T. Mason, Robert L. Neads, Gene G. Mercer, and Jackie Wilkins.

Jessup Presides At Frat Meet

Mary Blanch Jessup fulfilled her first duty as president of Tau Sigma Fraternity by presiding over her first meeting Thursday night, March 20. The following topics were discussed and decided upon:

NEW PLEDGES. The Tau Sigma Fraternity extends a cordial invitation to all who are interested to become a member of its organization. If you have above a three average and a sincere interest in learning practical ways to be of service you are eligible for membership. All persons interested in membership in Tau Sigma Fraternity should:

1. Talk with any member of the organization.
2. Write a letter to Gloria Hoffer, corresponding secretary, box 1210, stating your reasons for desiring membership in this fraternity.
3. State what other clubs and offices you might be holding at the present time.

CHANGE IN MEETINGS. Meetings shall be held once a week on Wednesday night at 5:00 p.m. in Graham 101. It was decided that the length of each meeting should be limited to one hour.

TRIP TO RALEIGH. The annual trip of Tau Sigma has been planned for an all day tour of Raleigh, with main point of interest being the State Mental Institution. A definite date will be discussed at the next meeting.

Noted Teacher To Speak Here

On April 21st through April 23rd, the Danforth project will present Dr. Meyer P. Nimmoff who is in charge of the Sociology Department at Florida State. Dr. Nimmoff is being brought to East Carolina as a sociologist who is a specialist in the field of family relations.

Born in New York City, Dr. Nimmoff received his A.B. degree from Boston University and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Southern California. Dr. Nimmoff has taught at Michigan State, University of Denver, University of Oregon, and the University of Southern California.

Former editor of "Marriage and Family Living," Dr. Nimmoff is now on the Advisory Board of "The American Journal of Sociology." He has written such books as "The Child, The Family" and "Marriage and the Family." Nimmoff is also co-author of "Introductory Text to Sociology."

Members of the Beta Psi Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota were highly honored when Miss Carroll Glenn and Mr. Eugene List accepted their invitation to a reception given in their honor following their recent joint recital on campus. Miss Glenn is an honorary member of the fraternity.

Mrs. J. D. Messick and Mrs. J. H. Waldrop were the hostesses of the reception which was held in the home of Mrs. J. D. Messick. The reception was very well planned and excellently managed.

Members of the fraternity sang several selections from their fraternity song book. Miss Glenn had a charming personality and talked personally with each member of the fraternity. Everyone seemed to enjoy the reception.

Fine Arts Ball To Be Given In Wright Building

"I've received word that some are coming as Sophies, Madame Butterfly, Woman who lived in a shoe and her children, and a can-can girl from Toulouse-Lotrec's Moulin Rouge," commented Mrs. J. H. B. Moore in connection with the Fine Arts Costume Ball, Friday night, April 11. The ball will begin at 9:00 in Wright Auditorium.

The ball is sponsored by the Fine Arts Festival committee and Mrs. Moore is the over-all chairman. College students can buy cut rate tickets for $5.00 from Miss Mendenhall at the Student Union.

Each person is requested to come portraying a character from a branch of the fine arts. Prizes will be given for costumes. Evening clothes are also permissible. An orchestra will provide music for dancing.

Ballet students of Mrs. Inez Laube from Rocky Mount will perform for the floorshow. Several campus singers will present special music. Mr. George Perry of the Music Department heads the floorshow committee.

Prizes for costumes will be presented to the best group of two or more, the most beautiful ladies costume, the most handsome men's costume, the most authentic and the most original costumes. Mrs. S. M. Crisp of Greenville is chairman of the judging and prizes.

The auditorium will be decorated as an art gallery and a festival. The sides will resemble a French cafe with small tables and candle light. Mr. William Persick of the Art Department heads the decorations and Miss Beatrice Chauncey of the music department will handle the refreshments.

Dr. George Cooke of the English Department and Mrs. Reid Perkins of Greenville are in charge of costumes. Anyone wishing to rent a costume should call Mrs. Perkins at 2970. Mrs. John Biggs of Greenville is in charge of the tickets.

"The people in town are so eager to know the college students and we want as many to come as can. This is our first ball and we want to have a large crowd," added Mrs. Moore.

and "Technology and the Changing Family."

For the past few summers Dr. Nimmoff and his wife have directed traveling seminars on "Marriage and the Family," sponsored by the National Council on Family Relations. These seminars have been taken to Europe, Scandinavia, the near East, and Mexico. This summer Dr. Nimmoff is presenting a paper titled "The Evolution of the Family" at a world gathering of family relations educators in Paris, France.

Professor Ralph Knapp is chairman of the local committee preparing the arrangements for lectures by Dr. Nimmoff here on campus.

Honorary Frat Commemorates 6th Birthday

Phi Omicron, the East Carolina College home economics honorary fraternity, celebrated its sixth birthday Tuesday night by initiating four new members, putting on the program at the Home Economics Club meeting, and then having a party and serving refreshments after the meeting.

At 6:30 p.m. in the reception room in Flanagan Building, Phi Omicron members gathered and initiated four new members. The new members of the fraternity, who were initiated in the candlelight ceremony are Ernestine Nichols, Patricia Herring, Edith Fitzgerald, and Flora Ruth Boseman. The initiation ceremony was conducted by Margie Price, president of Phi Omicron.

At 7:00 p.m. in Flanagan auditorium, Phi Omicron presented the program for the Home Economics Club meeting. The purpose in putting on the program was to explain how Phi Omicron was begun, what it stands for, its goals, and the qualifications for membership. This was done in skits with all members of the fraternity and Miss Ruth Lambie, advisor, participating.

After the program the members of the Home Economics Club were invited into the reception room and dining room, where a table was lavishly set. A lace table cover was used and flower arrangements of chrysanthemums and candles decorated the table. Lime punch and white cake with Phi Omicron's initials in green icing on top were served as refreshments.

On Thursday night Phi Omicron met again for a call meeting. The purpose of this meeting was to elect new officers for next year and to discuss the fraternity's business.

The officers elected for next year were Barbara Whichard, President; Ernestine Nichols, Vice-President; Glennie Ellis, Secretary-Treasurer; and Edith Fitzgerald, Reporter.

The members discussed the Student Union Carnival that will be held on April 24 and decided to sell cake slices at a "Phi Omicron Cake Cut Corner." Committees were set up to work on the project. It was then decided that the next meeting would be held on April 20, in Miss Ruth Lambie's apartment at the Faculty Apartments and at this time an installation service for the new officers would be held.

Phelps Presents Final SGA Talk

President Jimmy Phelps made his farewell address at this week's SGA meeting. Jimmy commended the officers and committee chairmen for their achievements this year and also thanked some of the faculty members for their help. He presented several ideas for next year's association, which he hoped would be useful to the newly elected president and other officers.

Bubba Driver congratulated Mr. Phelps for his successful year, as did Bucky Monroe, chairman of the House, who said that he had enjoyed working with Jimmy and believed that he should be congratulated for a job well done. The entire association gave Mr. Phelps a "hand" in token of their agreement.

According to Marcia Forbes the Senate proposal was passed by the students by 195 to 68. The administration made one change in the plan presented to the student body. Next year the day students will be represented by the Men and Women presidents and there will also be two delegates chosen by the senate, male and female.
