

Concert Highlights Greek Weekend

Jazz Concert To Feature Virginia Beach Combo

National recording star Tommy Gwaltney brings his popular "Stars of the Virginia Beach Jazz Festival" concert to East Carolina Saturday, April 29. The show will be held in the afternoon starting at two o'clock.

Featured in the concert with Gwaltney will be vocalist Ann Rayburn, the Newton Thomas Trio and Clarinetist-Vibraphonist Norman "Jeep" Bennett. The leader will lead his Dixieland Band and will be featured with the Thomas Trio and perform his popular clarinet and vibes duos with Bennett.

The concert has just completed successful engagements at the Lafayette Country Club in Norfolk, the Cape Colony and the Princess Aune Country Club in Virginia Beach, and William and Mary College in Williamsburg.

Gwaltney, producer of the festival, got his break on a national scale when he joined Sol Yaged's Combo in New York's Greenwich Village after his discharge from the army at the end of the war. He joined Bobby Hackett's Band in 1955 and remained for two years after which he formed his own trio. Then he played a year with Billy Butterfield's Band. In 1958 he returned to the Norfolk area and formed his own combo and orchestra. In 1959, he organized the Virginia Beach Jazz Festival which has become one of the most popular summer festivals on the east coast.

Gwaltney's newest album, "Return to Kansas City" was released last week on Riverside records and already shows signs of becoming a best seller. His own albums include, "Gotham Jazz Scene" on Capitol; "Billy Meets Bix" on Columbia, and "Concert By the Sea . . . East Coast" on Vee Bee records.

Anne Rayburn has worked the night club circuit from Miami Beach to Washington and is now featured with Gwaltney's groups on radio, TV and in Tidewater area clubs.

The Thomas Trio featuring the leader on piano, has been hailed as one of the most promising "small jazz units" in the music business today after completing a recent engagement in New York's famous Birdland.

Bennett, a native of Rocky Mount, North Carolina, was a featured instrumentalist with the Jimmy Dorsey and Charlie Barnet Bands until he came to Norfolk and settled down for a steady engagement at Norfolk's Candlelight Club.

"Stars of the Virginia Beach Jazz Festival" contest is produced by Gwaltney, directed by A. M. Randolph and emceed by Bob Gheza of radio station WBOF in Norfolk-Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Garren, Rowe Star In Greek Tragedy

Leading characters, Lois Garren and H. D. Rowe, of Separate Tables, have undertaken the same task in the next and last Playhouse production, Jean Anouilh's translation of Sophocles' Antigone. The first Greek tragedy will be presented May 9, 10 and 11.

Claude Garren, directing his first playhouse production has selected a cast of eleven to perform in the contemporary adaptation.

In the starring roles of Antigone and Creon, Mrs. Garren and Dr. Rowe will be surrounded by several veteran East Carolina actors and actresses. Performing as Ismene, Antigone's sister, will be Sue Stocks Taylor, who recently had a supporting role in Separate Tables. The bearded character of The Lady's Not For Burning, Sanford Peele, has been cast as Haemon, Creon's son. Charlotte Donat, the wisecracking comedienne of Philadelphia Story, will portray the nurse and the chorus is being handled by Tom Hull and Dr. Ralph Rives.

Three guards, Ray Tolley, John Quinn, and Alton Holloman; a messenger, Bob Christensen; and Eurydice, Shirley Morris round out the cast.

Although Anouilh's adaption is a modern version, The Playhouse will combine the Greek authenticity of scenery and costumes with the contemporary language of Anouilh.

Club Joins Fraternity

The English club on campus has joined the National English Fraternity, Sigma Theta Delta. The local group will be called the Omicron Theta chapter.

The chapter is in the process of forming a constitution and will accept pledges next year. Membership will be open to English majors and minors and professors.

Greeks Await Bacchus Weekend; Feature Music Of Count Basie

By ADA JANE KIVETTE

The Bacchus, annually celebrated weekend by campus Greeks, is planned for the weekend of April 28. Betty Rose Frazier of A D Pi, and Jerry Wildins of Pi K A are representing Panhellenic and the Interfraternity Council respectively and working as co-chairmen of the weekend.

Bacchus entertainment will feature an afternoon, outdoor concert at the Greenville Airport and Count Basie will play for the semi-formal dance beginning at 8:00 pm Saturday night. Bids will be issued for all events and persons selling their bids will be held responsible for the conduct of the purchaser. Only one bid is necessary for admittance per couple.

Bacchus Queen
During intermission of the Bacchus dance, which will be held in the New Carolina Warehouse, trophies and awards will be presented to various sororities and fraternities. The highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the Bacchus Queen to be chosen by fraternity men from girls nominated by each sorority. Buddy Weis, president of the Inter-fraternity Council, will crown the queen and together they will lead a figure dance.

Committee Chairmen
Serving as chairmen of various committees are Alpha Omicron Pi,

Leading Educators To Visit Campus

Speech and hearing deficiencies and what can be done to alleviate or correct them will be discussed at a meeting of the North Carolina Speech and Hearing Association here Saturday, April 22. The event will bring to the campus as speakers a group of leading North Carolina educators and specialists.

Director Bernard Jackson of the College Speech and Hearing Clinic has announced the program. Members of the association throughout the state and other interested people are invited to attend the sessions.

With Mrs. Bess Colville, president of the state organization, as presiding officer, a general session at 10 a.m. in the Rawl building will open the day's events. President Leo W. Jenkins will welcome guests.

Guest Speakers
Speakers at discussion meetings in the Rawl building during the morning will include Mrs. Pearl Ramos, state consultant in speech and hearing and Felix S. Barker, supervisor of education for exceptional children, both of the State Department of Public Instruction, Raleigh. Mrs. Ramos' topic will be "Trends and Certification in American Speech and Hearing." Mr. Barker will discuss "The Future of Speech and Hearing Therapy in North Carolina."

Panel Speakers
A panel on "Organic Factors of Articulation," with Mrs. Colville as moderator, will have as speakers Dr. Joseph S. Kennan, assistant director of the Hearing and Speech Center of the N. C. Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem; Dr. Jackson; and Mrs. Dorothy L. Clem; speech therapist in Burlington City Schools.

Dr. M. P. Hoot of Greenville, director of the Eastern N. C. Speech and Hearing Clinic and consultant in special education here at the college, will be featured speaker at a luncheon in the college cafeteria at 12:30 pm. He will discuss "Auditory Factors in Articulatory Disorders."

Special Events
Among special events of the day will be a demonstration of the stethophone now being developed by Mrs. Clem with the cooperation of Bell Laboratories to provide for public school use a cheap, portable device for helping the speech defective individual to hear his own speech better.

A post-luncheon tour of the Speech and Hearing Clinic will conclude the program.

Lovely Ann Rayburn, popular jazz vocalist known for her many club dates from Florida to Washington, is now featured with Tommy Gwaltney.

Seniors Recommend Commencement Changes; Approvements Maintain Dignity Of Affair

The faculty approved a recommendation suggested by the senior class and the commencement committee, which states that seniors henceforth will graduate symbolically rather than individually.

The approved recommendation states that there will be a representative for each type degree being offered. This representative will go across the stage and receive a diploma for the entire section.

Reasons for the change of the graduation procedure, as presented by the commencement committee are:

1. To shorten the period of time it takes to go through the procedures, allowing more traveling time for those students who have a long way to travel.
2. To maintain the dignity of the affair.

In reference to this, the students now are allowed only three seconds to receive their degree; the person calling out the names often mispronounces them. Problems arise when the speaker gets ahead of the students going across the stage and the students are receiving their diplomas when someone else's name is being called.

"Families who leave as soon as their son or daughter's name has been called present a ludicrous and irritating situation. Due to the poor visibility from the stands, parents do not recognize their children, when dressed in the robes, and the name calling loses its significance," explained Dempsey Williams, Senior Class President.

"The Commencement Committee is doing its utmost for the best interest of the students and endeavor to provide them a meaningful, memorable, and dignified ceremony, which they will treasure always," commented Dempsey Williams.

Another change in the commencement program, as announced by Dr. Robert L. Holt, Dean of Instruction, will be the addition of Summa Cum Laude, with highest honors having a 2.9 average or higher, and Magna Cum Laude, with high honors, having a 2.6-2.89 average, on the diploma and the program. This was introduced by the senior class, then the policy committee and later the entire faculty voted on the change.

Graduation rehearsal is set for Saturday preceding the graduation, at 9:00 am. The commencement exercises will begin at 5:30.

Seniors will receive a list of instructions from Mr. Wendell Smiley, head of the commencement committee, informing them as to the procedure to follow concerning the graduation exercise.

Debate Session To Follow 'Operation Abolition'

SGA Schedules Controversial Film; Suggests CU Additions

By TOM JACKSON

Student Government Association President Otis Strother announced at the regular S.G.A. meeting Monday night that the movie "Operation Abolition" will be shown on the East Carolina campus.

The movie, which is scheduled for Austin Auditorium Friday, April 28 at 8:30, will be shown and explained by Fulton Lewis III. Following the movie, Mr. Lewis will hold a debate-question-answer session for the audience.

Past showings of this film have proved to be very controversial on campuses across the country and have sparked editorials from many student papers. The film deals with the House Un-American Activities Committee and communist activities in the U. S.

Student government officers and members urge the student body to see this film.

Measures Approved
Also at the regular Monday night meeting the S.G.A. approved measures left unfinished at the last meeting due to lack of a quorum.

Included in these measures was a letter to the college administration recommending additions and modifications to Wright building. The recommendations call for College Union additions, a dance floor to accommodate 500 couples, and an improved theatre with permanent seats.

Following this, the Student senate approved standing committee appointments for the coming year. Appointed were: Bill Eyerman, Extension Affairs; Margaret Cude, Points Com-

"Operation Abolition" is scheduled to be shown on campus Friday, April 28 at 8:30 p.m. in Austin Auditorium.

Fulton Lewis III, member of the House Committee on Un-American activities, will appear in a debate with an EC faculty member to be named later this week.

The showing of the film comes in the midst of presentations on many campuses of this film and "Communism on the Map".

On a leave of absence, Lewis will begin a tour of Southern schools early next week and will make his appearance here while he is visiting other schools in the state. Lewis has visited over one hundred colleges and universities since January, showing the film and discussing and defending the Committee.

committee; Woody Sheperd, Elections Committee; and co-chairman appointed to the Entertainment Committee were: Tommy Mallison, Mr. Earl Beach, and Cathy Shesso.

Other appointments include: Publicity Committee, Tom Jackson; Productions Committee, Zuill Bailey and Edward Smith; Handbook Editor, Marcelle Vogel; and co-chairman to the special events committee; Jayne Chandler, Jim Speight, Sara Smiley, and Gene Hodges.

Completing the list of appointments are: Ring Committee, Merle Summers; and Chaplains, Peggy Wynn and Frosty Smith.

Amendment Passed

An amendment to the S. G. A. by-laws was passed which reads as follows:

Article I—Standing Committees
Section 4—Entertainment Committee
a. The members of the Entertainment Committee shall be as follows:

1. Eight interested representatives from the student body and three faculty or staff members elected by the Student Senate upon nomination of the Executive Council.

2. The co-chairman of the Entertainment Committee shall consist of a member from the faculty and the student body; these members shall be approved by the Student Senate upon nomination of the S.G.A. president.

3. The faculty advisors of the committee shall be considered members of the committee with the privilege of voting.

4. When vacancies occur members shall be elected to fill the unexpired terms by the Student Senate upon recommendation of the Executive Council.

5. A committee of students planning to attend summer school shall be appointed by the pre-

Howard Receives Scholarship From Canadian School

Westley Howard, has been named recipient of a scholarship granted by Laval University in Quebec to the Department of Foreign Languages at East Carolina. The scholarship will pay half the expenses for the 1961 summer session.

Wes, a freshman, is majoring in foreign languages. He participates in activities of the EC Playhouse and college dramatics club.

Located in the heart of French Canada, Laval is one of the oldest universities in North America. Founded in 1663, it is the oldest French language school on this continent, with French still used in all classes. The twenty-odd colleges and schools of this university are attended by thousands of students from Canada, the United States, and Latin America.

The now-famous French summer school was inaugurated in 1938, for the purpose of a wider dissemination of French culture on this continent. It has gradually become one of the most popular summer school programs, attracting around a thousand students each year, and offering the services of many distinguished teachers and scholars from here and abroad. The students usually live with French families; they agree at the time of matriculation to speak only the French language during the course of the term.

Lecturer Returns From Africa

Former Head Of Home Ec Department Delivers Lectures

Recent first-hand observations in Africa and the role of home economics in a changing world will be discussed by one of this country's leading home economists in a series of four lectures, Wednesday and Thursday, April 26-27.

Dr. Katharine Holtzclaw of the International Cooperation Administration, Washington, D. C., will visit the college under the sponsorship of the department of home economics and the Danforth Foundation Project of the college. She was for several years head of the department of home economics at East Carolina and is known to hundreds of former students throughout the state.

Fraternity Installs Eleven New Members

Beta Psi Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national honorary fraternity for women in the field of music, initiated eleven new members recently.

They are Olive Herring, Elizabeth A. Dock, Martha Jones, Mrs. Cleveland Bradner, Mrs. Alison H. Moss, Faydene Jernigan, Linda Hanson, Craig Daughtridge, Elizabeth Richardson, Mrs. Carol Landen, and Sally Mewborn. All are music majors.

The fraternity observed an informal initiation at the home of Mrs. Earl Beach, one of the patronesses of SAI, in March. This was followed by a formal initiation ceremony.

Dr. Bessie McNeil, director of the home economics department, has announced that the four lectures in the series will take place in the Austin auditorium and will be open to the public.

"Home Economics: What It Is and What It Does" will be the topic of the opening meeting Wednesday at 9:00 a.m. Dr. Holtzclaw, addressing college students of home economics, teachers of the subject and home demonstration agents in this part of the state, and others at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, will discuss "Home Economics in a Changing World." The subject of a lecture Thursday at 10:00 a.m. has not yet been announced.

Just returned from a tour of duty in Africa, Dr. Holtzclaw will give timely first-hand observations of conditions on the troubled continent in her closing talk Thursday at 7:30 p.m. The topic will be "Africa As I Saw It."

Dr. Holtzclaw attended Agnes Scott College, is a B.S. and M.A. graduate of George Peabody College, and holds the doctor's degree from New York University.

She began her career as a teacher in Whiteville, N. C.; and was a faculty member at Virginia Polytechnic Institute or a year. With the late Mrs. Adelaide E. Bloxton she organized the home economics department at East Carolina and acted as head of the department for a number of years. After leaving East Carolina, she was director of home economics at Georgia State College for Women.

At the close of World War II she went to Germany for several years as an advisor to the U. S. Office of Military Government in the teaching of home economics and the training of homemakers there. Since that time she has been in government service and has been on duty in countries around the world.

In 1958 Dr. Holtzclaw devised a hand-operated wooden washing machine for areas at home and abroad that lack electricity and gas. Plans for the easily constructed machine were sent to 64 foreign countries participating in the program of the International Cooperation Administration. Many in this country saw Dr. Holtzclaw demonstrate it on the Dave Garrovey TV show.

Jackson Wins 1960 Safety Contest

Thomas T. Jackson, senior at East Carolina and former editor of the East Carolinian, has been announced as a winner in the 1960 national college newspaper traffic safety contest sponsored by Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company, a division of the Kemper Insurance Company.

Eighty-nine colleges and universities from 35 states submitted 53 entries in the contest, which was originated in 1948, as a means of stimulating student leadership in the promotion of safe driving among college students. After these entries were judged, student publications and journalists from fourteen colleges and universities shared prizes totaling $2400.

Tom and Edward R. Lucas of New Mexico State University tied for second and third prizes in editorial writing. In the national contest they were among twelve individual student journalists who won awards for the best editorials, features, cartoons, or photographs developing the idea of traffic safety.

J. P. Green of Raleigh, district manager of Lumbermens, presented the award to Tom in a ceremony conducted in the campus office of the East Carolinian.

Tom, an English major, is scheduled to receive the A. B. degree at commencement exercises May 21. As a student journalist, he has received the Charlotte Observer's News Award, the McCall's Magazine Editorial Award, and the Newswriting Trophy of the East Carolinian.

He is a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Delta Zeta Initiates New Sorority Sisters

Delta Zeta, social sorority, initiated eight women students as new members, Saturday, March 25, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Greenville.

After the mid-morning initiation service the sisters attended a luncheon at the Episcopal Church.

Science Foundation Names Recipients Of Study Grants

Four members of the department of mathematics have received grants from the National Science Foundation for graduate study at U. S. colleges or universities during the summer months. A National Defense Fellowship, available for three years, has also been accepted by a member of the department.

Mrs. Mildred Derrick, James C. Pleasant, Milan F. Johnson, and John B. Davis have been appointed as participants in summer mathematics institutes sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

James C. Pleasant has received a grant for summer study from the NSF and also a National Defense Fellowship for three years of graduate study.

All of the appointees hold the Master's degree in mathematics from East Carolina College.

Participant in NSF Mrs. Derrick has been designated as a participant in the NSF Institute at the Georgia Institute of Technology June 19-July 28. The institute will be conducted primarily for the instruction of teachers of college and junior college mathematics and science, with special emphasis on the fundamental concepts of the first two years of college mathematics.

Mr. Johnson will attend the NSF Institute for Teachers of Mathematics at the University of New Mexico June 12-August 4. The course of study offered there will introduce participants to methods and concepts needed by their students who will do graduate work in mathematics.

Teacher Graduate Courses Mr. Davis will participate in a summer institute in mathematics sponsored by the NSF at the University of Alabama. He will be enrolled in graduate courses for teachers of mathematics.

At Iowa State University June 5-August 18, Mr. Pleasant will be a member of an NSF Institute for college teachers of statistics. In September he will enter the graduate school of the University of South Carolina to continue his graduate work. As recipient of a National Defense Scholarship, he plans to remain there for three years, serving during this period as a part-time instructor and studying for the doctorate in mathematics.

Scholarships In Music Contest Open For Entries; $500 First Award

F. E. Olds & Son announces its fourth annual "Scholarships in Music" contest which will be open for entries from April 15th to June 15th, 1961.

Past winners of Olds contest have used their scholarship awards to continue their academic careers, and many winning these have been published by the "F. E. Olds & Sons Music Education Library" and are now a permanent part of music department libraries across the country.

This contest is open to all juniors, seniors and graduate students in accredited schools or departments of music at the college level. The scholarships are awarded for the theses, term papers or articles completed during the current academic year judged to show the greatest evidence of original thinking, sound research and intelligent objectives, on any subject related to instrumental music.

The first scholarship award is $500, the second award is $350 and the third award is $200. These amounts will be paid on request to any accredited music school or college with accredited music departments against tuition costs of further study.

If a graduate winner has received his advanced degree between the date of his contest entry and the date of the award, the award will be made in cash.

The 1961 Olds Scholarship Judging Committee consists of G. C. Bal-num, Director Emeritus, Northwestern University Bands, Chairman; and James Berdahl, Director of Bands, University of California, Berkeley, California; Frederick C. Ebbs, Director of Bands, University of Iowa, Ia. City, Iowa; Frederick C. Fennell, Conductor-Eastman Wind Ensemble, Department, Eastman School of Music, Rochester, New York.

Further information can be obtained from literature sent to your music school or music department in care of the Dean or Department Head, or by writing to the F. E. Olds & Son Scholarship Committee, 7373 N. Cicero, Chicago 46, Illinois.

CU Board Elects Taylor President

The College Union Student Board and Committee Members met last Thursday and elected officers for next year. The new officers for the coming year are: President, Jimmy Taylor; Vice President, Glenn Boyd; Recording Secretary, Elaine Gitelson; Corresponding Secretary, Carolyn Shearin; and Reporter, J. W. Gaddy.

A Lost and Found Sale will be held Wednesday, April 26, in the College Union from 8:00 until 10:00 p.m.

The College Union serves as the Campus Lost and Found Center and for quite some time, numerous articles have been accumulating in the Lost and Found.

It is a policy of the Union that found items held for two weeks, still unclaimed, will be returned to the finder or disposed of by the College Union.

The College Union feels that this sale is an appropriate way of disposing of these items," said President, Jimmy Taylor. Such items to be sold include umbrellas, records in grab bag style, gloves, pens, and a collection of miscellaneous jewelry.

Home Ec Club Holds Adult Education Classes

A series of Adult Education classes sponsored by the Home Economics Department began on April 12.

The first of these classes was held in room 101 of Flanagan Building on "Styling and Designing Hats." Bonnie Burch Hicks, Elizabeth Wilson, Carolyn Dougherty and June Barra gave tips on hat styles for different face shapes and construction details. Hats designed and made by the girls were on exhibit.

Automobile Regulations Passes; To Be Effective Fall Quarter

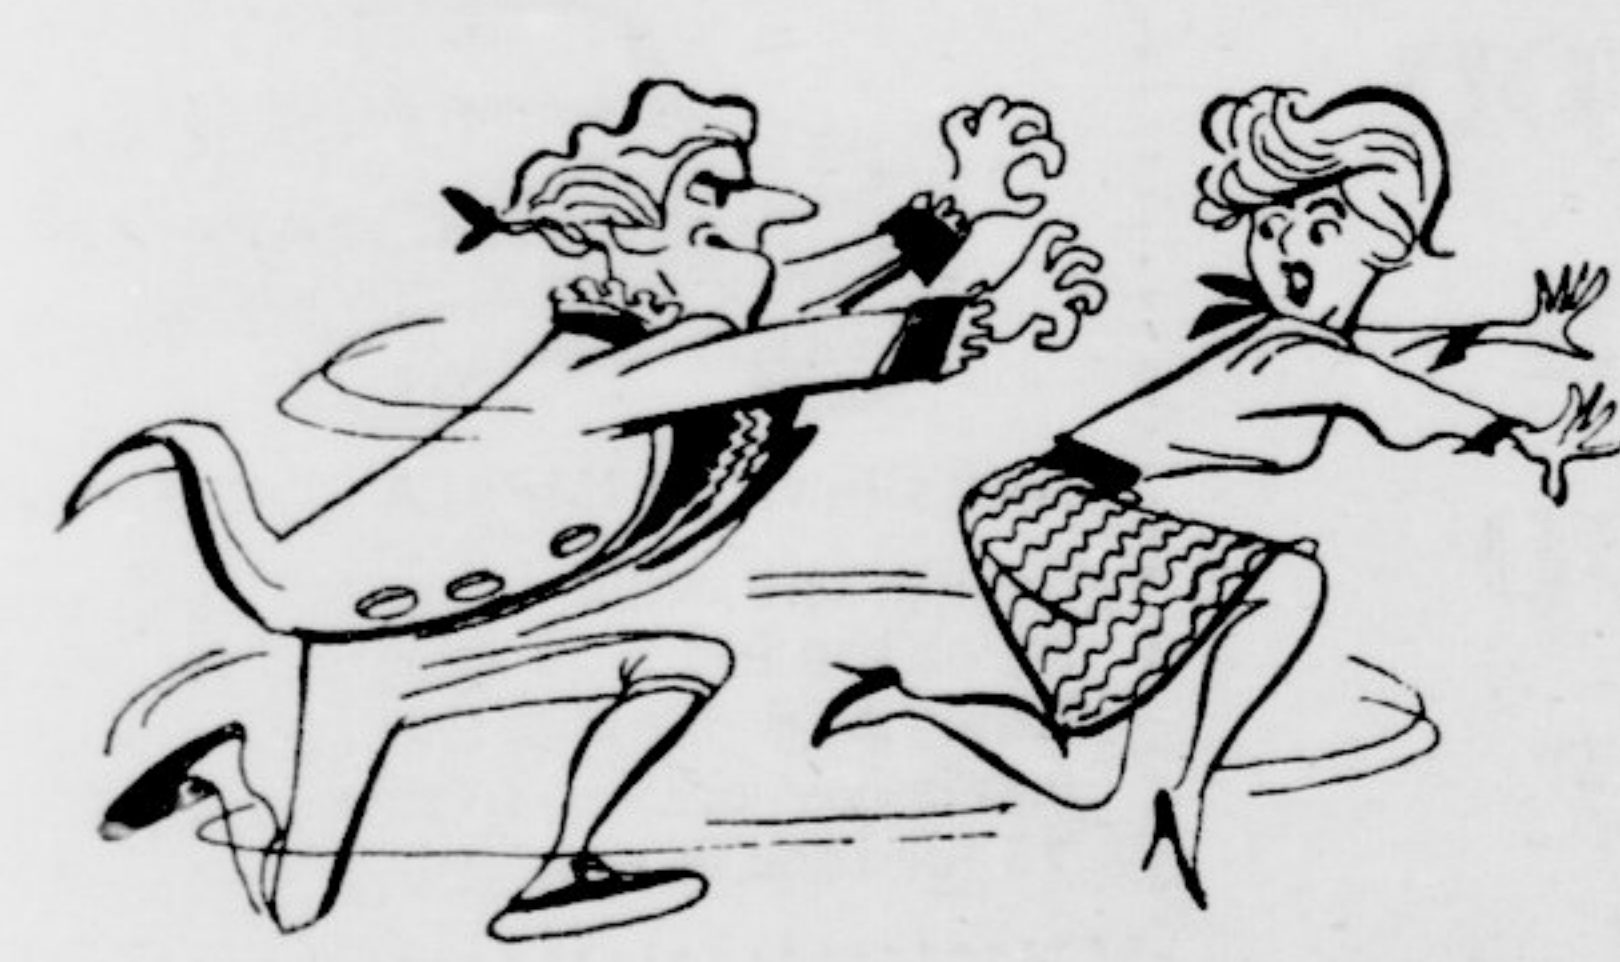

Beginning with the fall quarter, 1961, freshmen and those students who do not have as much as a "C" average will not be allowed to keep automobiles at the college. The following regulation will be in effect: 1. No freshman student at East Carolina College is permitted to have and/or operate an automobile on the East Carolina College campus or in the Greenville area.

2. No student having less than a "C" average or who is on disciplinary probation at East Carolina College is permitted to have and/or operate an automobile on the East Carolina College campus or in the Greenville area. 3. Exceptions: (1) Those students who are considered commuters in that they reside with their parents or guardians outside of the city of Greenville and travel to and from the East Carolina College campus. Dr. Jenkins, in discussing the regulation, said: "I am very happy to state that this ruling has the endorsement of the Student Government Association, and want to thank the members of the organization for their promise to help enforce it." The regulation followed a recommendation from the Student Senate presented last month.

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS: DEAR DR. FROOD!

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: The best defense is a good offense, unless you're weak or cowardly, in which case a good hiding place is unbeatable.

DEAR DR. FROOD: Every guy I go out with thinks he's Casanova. What should a girl do?

Chased

DEAR CHASED: Ask each one to roll up his sleeve. If there is a small birthmark just above the left elbow, you've got the real Casanova.

DEAR DR. FROOD: A tackle on the football team likes the same girl I do. He says that if I see her any more, he'll mop up the floor with me. I refuse to be intimidated! What should I do?

Ninety-nine Pounder

DEAR NINETY-NINE: You'd better let your hair grow long.

FROOD TO WASHINGTON! Dr. Frood has been called by government officials to unveil his extraordinary "Luckies for Peace Plan." Questioned about this plan, Frood replied: "The extra-ordinary "Luckies, but it all started when I discovered that college students smoke details are still classified, but it all started when I discovered that college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular. This led me to believe that if all the world's peoples would but lean back and light up a Lucky, they would be too happy to be belligerent."

DEAR DR. FROOD: I am a sophomore majoring in architecture. Our college has just completed a magnificent carillon tower. Yesterday, while examining the blueprints, I was horrified to discover that the tower will collapse at 3:30 P.M., June 3, 1964. I have taken my calculations to the dean, to the architects, to the builders, to the president of the college. No one will pay any attention to me. I am desperate. What can I do to avert disaster?

Frantic

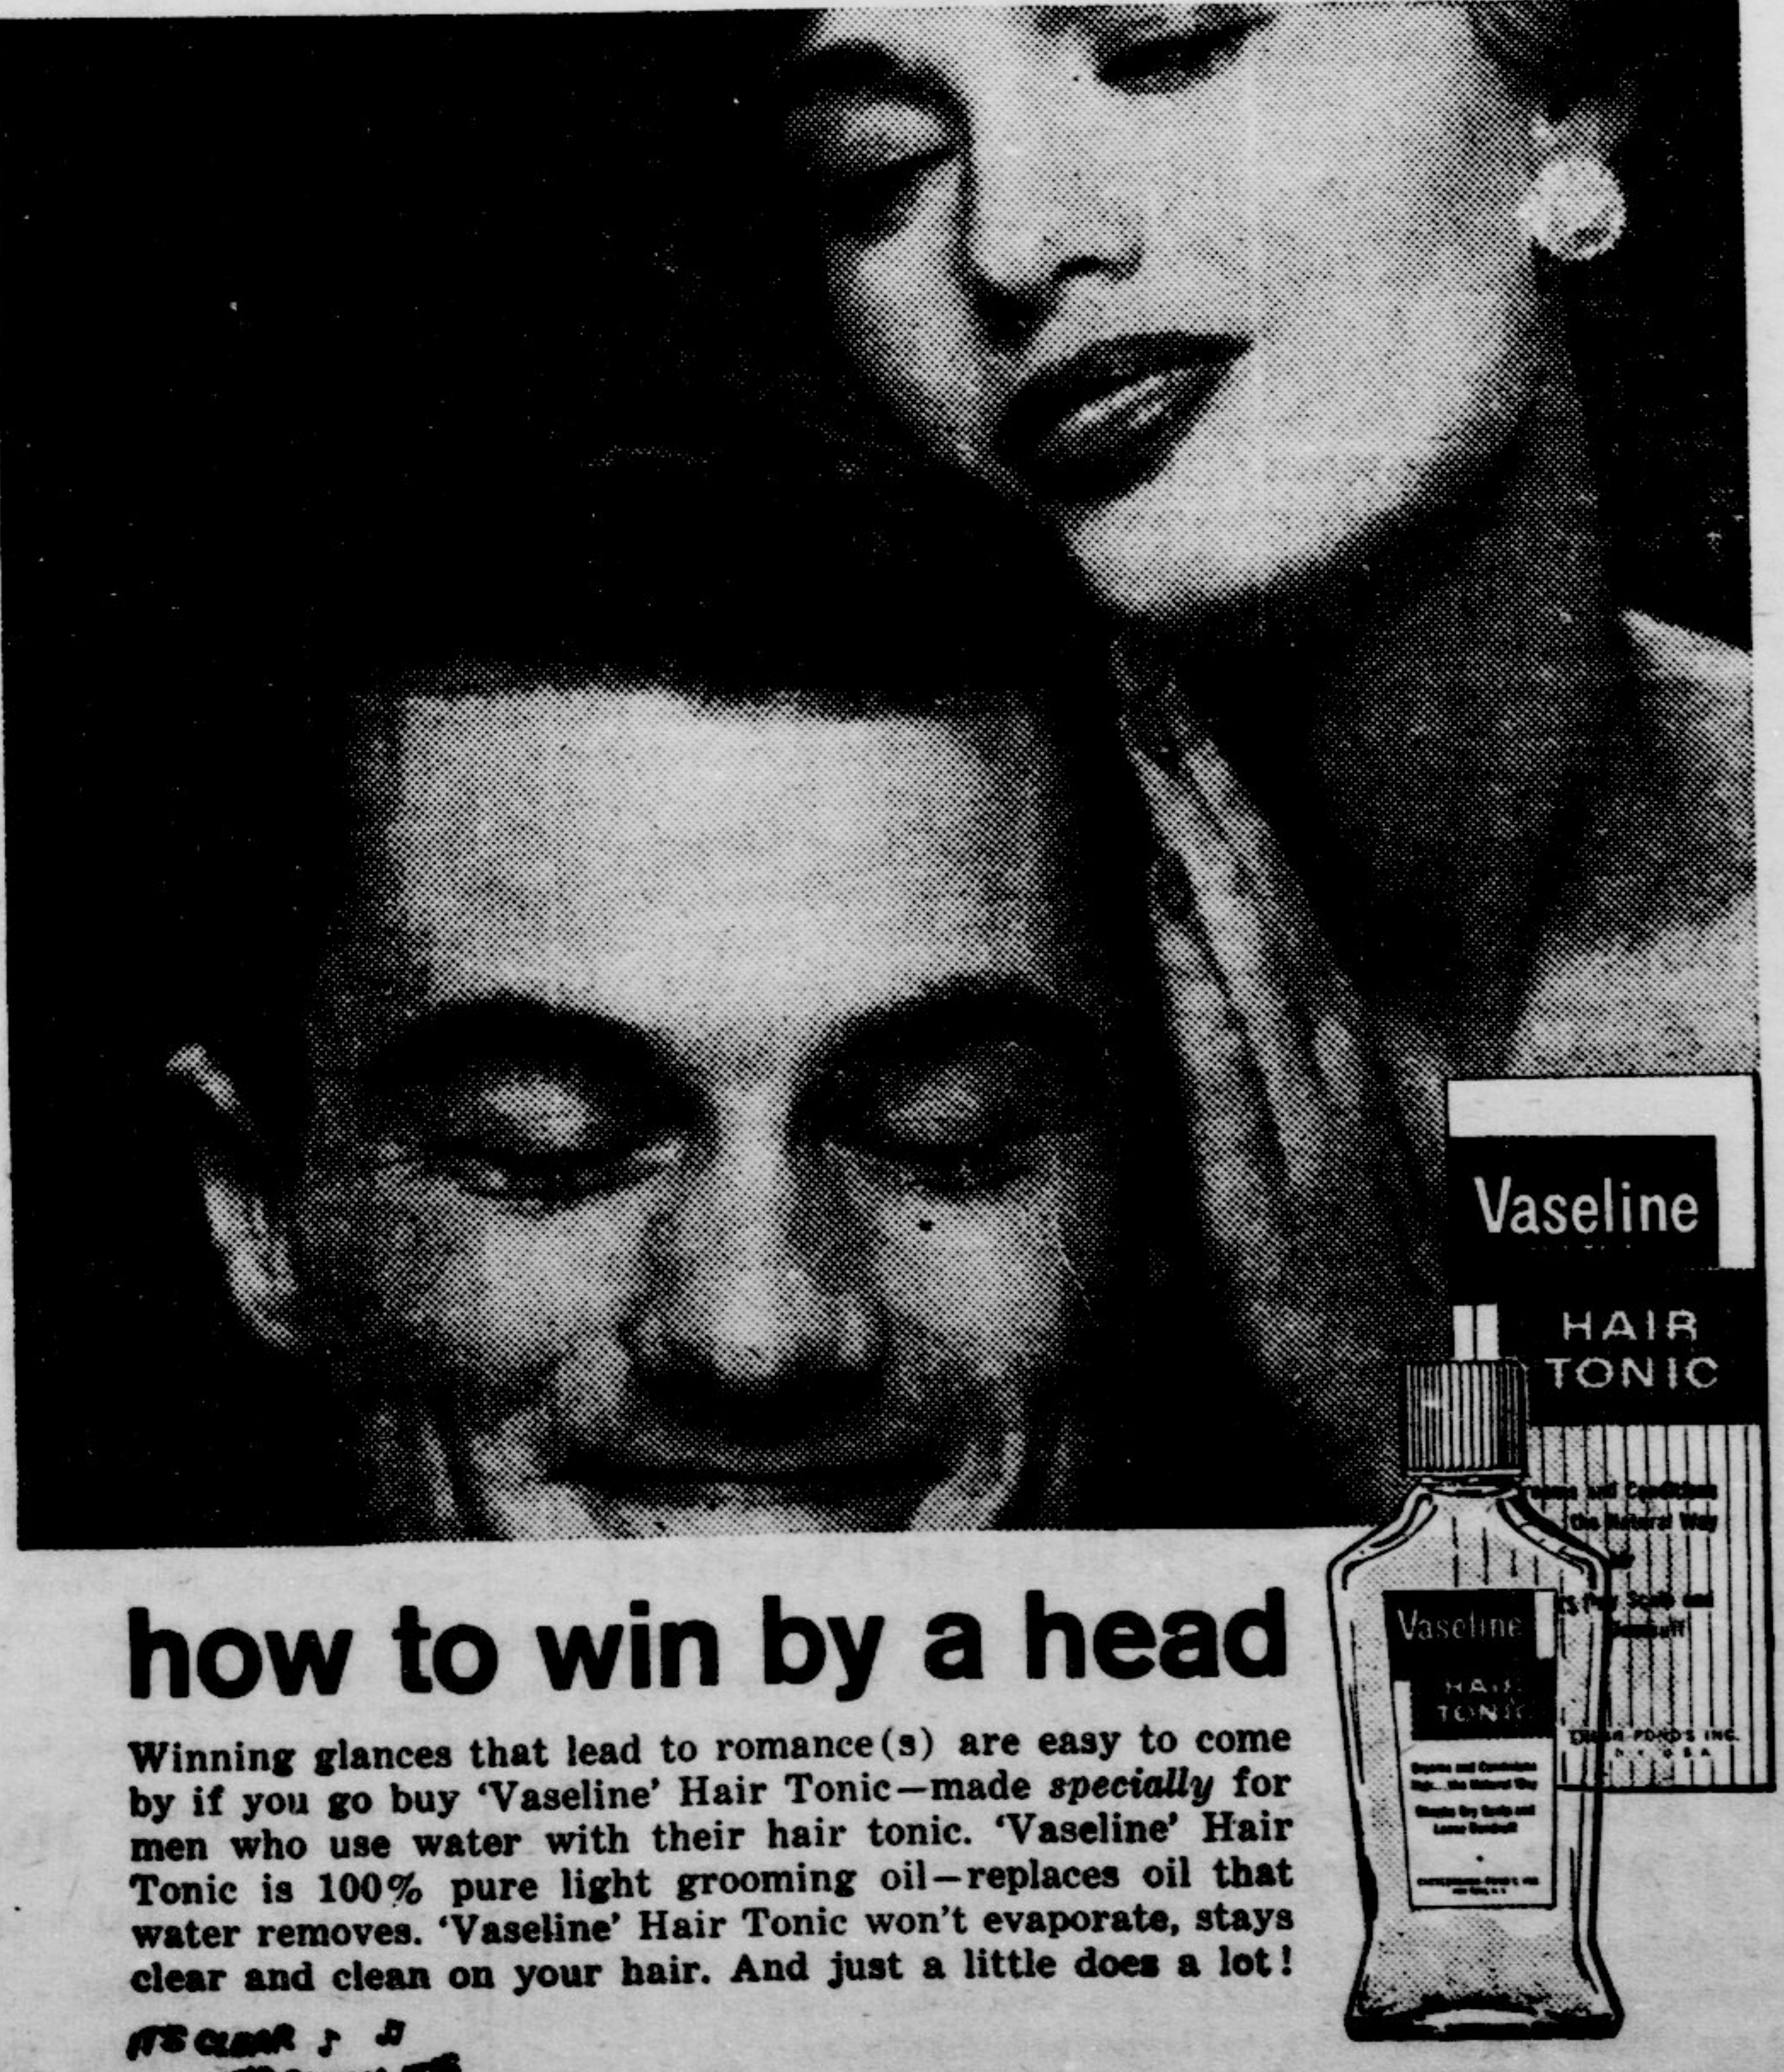

DEAR FRANTIC: You've done your best, son. Now, for your own peace of mind, won't you join me in a short trip to Las Vegas to see what kind of odds we can get?

DEAR DR. FROOD: I've been writing poems to a certain girl for about five months. Yesterday I found out that this girl and her friends get together to read my poems and laugh at them. Do you think I should stop writing to her?

Upset

DEAR UPSET: Definitely not. There are all too few humorous poets writing today.

Also elected were Tommy Reese, vice president; Camilla Henderson, secretary; and Benny Bowes, treasurer.

Hal Smith and Phillip Williamson were elected male senators, and Jewel Callihan and Betty Lane were chosen as women senators.

Cloyce Anders was elected as president of the Junior class. He was opposed by David Nanny.

Other officers of the junior class are: Johnny Waters, vice president; Anne Allen, secretary; and Diane Foster, treasurer. Male senators are John Matthews, and Ken Moore. Ken was selected after a run-off with Jerry Cummings. Woman senator is Kathryn Raynor.

Bill Eyerman defeated Buddy Murray and Robert Christesen for president of the Sophomore class.

Billy Braswell was elected vice president, Margaret Adkins, secretary; and Karen Kast treasurer. Tommy Mallison was unopposed for the office of male senator of the sophomore class, and Brenda Reges was elected as woman senator. Day student senators are Edward Lee, and Becky Basnight.

Woody Shepherd served as chairman of elections for the Student Government Association.

Frazier Serves As Club President

Rose Frazier, Audrey Holloman, and Annie Marie Riddick represented the Home Economics club delegates to the annual college division workshop of the N.C. Home Economics Association.

This year the event was conducted at Eastern Carolina College in Greenville, North Carolina. These girls accompanied by their club advisor, Miss Lillah Gaut and Miss Madgherty.

Workshops consist of representatives from fifteen colleges meeting to share interests and discuss problems of their respective schools. One of the highlights of the workshop was a tour of Biltmore Park in Asheville after which a luncheon was held at the Biltmore Hotel.

Rose Frazier, president of the Home Economics club, was a state reporter of the year. Audrey Holloman and Annie Riddick were recently elected president and treasurer, respectively for the East Carolina organization.

National Prexy Visits Sigma Delta Sorority

By TONY KATSIAS
The local Gamma Sigma Chapter of Sigma Delta Sorority recently was visited by their national president, Mrs. E. B. Harris, of Virginia.

Representatives Interview Students

Representatives from the following firms will be on campus at the end of April to interview for jobs:

Firms who are registered with the placement bureau may go by the office of the Administration during office hours and sign an interview. The schools and firms will be:

Delaware; Baltimore; Maryland; Burlington; North Carolina; Richmond; Cumberland County, N.C.; and Queen Anne's County, Maryland.

Positions are: Credit Corporation; and Belk.

Club Observes National Library Week

The club observed National Library Week at its monthly meeting on April 17. Dr. Corinne was the feature speaker, discussing research made for her paper "A Witchcraft in England."

Dr. Rickert mentioned the British Museum, the Lincoln Palace, and the Bodleian Library from which she obtained her research information.

Cafeterias Receive Names; East Cafeteria Remodeled

In order to avoid confusion which has existed in designating the various cafeterias, a new name has been given each cafeteria and signs will be placed over each of the cafeterias in the near future, identifying them.

The present South Cafeteria will be designated as the East Cafeteria, and the present New South Cafeteria will be designated as the South Cafeteria.

Buccaneer Room
The present East Cafeteria which is now used occasionally as a cafeteria is to be improved in appearance and designated as the Buccaneer Room. A paneled wall to match the existing walls in this room is being erected across the end where the cafeteria counter is now located. This wall will allow thirty-six inches of space beyond the cafeteria counter and will have a door at each end which may be left open when the room is used as a cafeteria.

For other occasions the doors will be closed so that the cafeteria counter and all of the food serving facilities will be hidden, and the room will make a better appearance for special dinners and banquets for the student groups, sororities, fraternities and other special purposes.

More Air Conditioning
"A consulting engineer is now preparing plans and specifications to air condition the South Cafeteria (formerly designated as the New South Cafeteria) and the Bookstore," said Mr. F. D. Duncan.

He added, "It is hoped that this air conditioning will be in operation by the beginning of summer school. This will provide two air conditioned cafeterias and it is hoped that the Buccaneer room can be air conditioned during the summer."

Art Department Exhibits Paintings

Three traveling art exhibitions, including the work of both students and faculty members, are now hung in banks in Greenville, Rocky Mount, and Goldsboro, and will be on view for the remainder of the month.

The art shows, sponsored by the college and its Department of Art, are presented with the idea of sharing with the public in Eastern North Carolina some of the cultural advantages of the college.

The project of the traveling exhibitions was put into operation through the encouragement of a committee of forty citizens from all parts of Eastern North Carolina who met at the college last January to discuss ways in which the college might help in developing the cultural potential of the area which it serves.

A series of exhibitions has been staged since that time in banks in Rocky Mount, Wilson, Goldsboro, Washington and Greenville.

The art shows from the college, April 18, are as follows:

Oil Painting by Donald Sexauer of the faculty, Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., Greenville; Casein Paintings by Freshman Students, Peoples' Bank and Trust Co., Rocky Mount; Oil and Casein Paintings by Advanced Students of Art, American Bank, Goldsboro.

Murray Conducts Kindergarten Shop

Annie Mae Murray, director of the kindergarten, will participate this month in two workshops at which the care and training of young children will be discussed.

Miss Murray conducted a workshop at Wake Forest April 19 on "Music for Early Childhood." The event was presented on the program of a "Day Care Workshop" sponsored by the N.C. State Board of Public Welfare April 19-20 for people interested in day-care services in Orange, Durham, and Wake counties. The music workshop was conducted in the Ruby Reid Child Care Center, Southeastern Seminary, at Wake Forest.

Miss Murray will go to Fort Bragg April 28-29 to conduct a workshop for kindergarten and primary teachers in the area. Programs will include discussions of "Science for Early Childhood" and "The Creative Arts in Early Childhood."

Sigma Phi Epsilon Becomes Seventh Social Fraternity At EC

In ceremonies conducted over the weekend, Sigma Phi Epsilon became the seventh social fraternity to "go national" at East Carolina College. Twenty-four members became "brothers" in the national organization, and were initiated by members of Sigma Phi Epsilon from N. C. State and Atlantic Christian College.

Officers of the newly installed N. C. Kappa Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon are: Giles D. Hopkins, president; Phillip Williamson, vice president; William H. Williams, comptroller; Sam A. James, historian; Jack Riddick, secretary; James Ferrell, guard; Charles Mitchell, junior marshal.

At a banquet Saturday night in the college cafeteria, new members, were charged by Dean of Men James Malory to "go on to greater heights in your fine climb to the top and instill in your members the assurance that East Carolina College is behind them all the way."

Chief Speaker
Chief speaker was Sigma Phi Epsilon National Grand President C. Maynard Turner of Cincinnati, Ohio. He told members: "You must be

Fraternity House Moms Enjoy Occupation

How would you like to be a fraternity housemother? Nerve wracking? Problems? Worries? No, not according to five ladies who are presently housemothers of social fraternities here at the college.

The identical response of each of the five when referring to her position was "I just love it."

As housemothers, the ladies serve as second mothers for the boys when they are away from home and staying in fraternity houses. They are there to give counsel, discipline, just as a mother would, and to serve as chaperones during parties and social events that the fraternity may have.

Likes Her Job
"I like being a housemother very much, and I think the harmony and fellowship derived from being a fraternity member is very beneficial to the boys throughout their college years and in later life," stated Sigma Nu fraternity's Mrs. J. F. Thigpen former Dean of Women at Chowan College.

In all of the fraternity houses the housemothers have the best of living quarters. "We treat our housemothers with the same respect we treat our mothers and we want them to have the best," stated Lambda Chi International member, Emmanuel Katsias of Virginia Beach, Va.

Circle K Club Receives Foundation Certificate

Circle K International, one of whose clubs serves the EC campus, has been awarded an Honor Certificate by the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge for its work on behalf of good citizenship it was announced today by Benny Bowes, president.

Specifically, Circle K's work in promoting the Citizenship Quotient program on behalf of individual citizenship responsibility was singled out for praise by Freedom Foundation. A Freedoms Foundation award enjoys the same prestige and significance in the community service field that the famed "Oscar" does in the motion picture industry and the "Emmy" in TV.

Though Circle K International is a relatively new organization — now in its sixth year — it already numbers more than six thousand members on about three hundred college campuses in the United States and Canada.

Circle K is a service club on the campus whose members voluntarily assume leadership responsibilities in their respective colleges and host communities.

mother to 40 or 50 boys, but I love it."

Fraternity housemothers deserve a lot of credit for they are the ones who have 40 or 50 boys to look after instead of two or three.

"If all fraternity members were like my boys, I'm sure every woman would like to be a housemother," voiced Mrs. Delphis Corbette of Greenville, of Pi Kappa Alpha, first fraternity on campus to have a housemother.

It seems evident that being a fraternity housemother can be very rewarding. Ladies, don't give up! There are still fraternities on campus that may need a housemother soon, and you may be the lucky one.

Crayton Hurls No Hitter As EC Wins Twice

SPORTS REVIEW

By RICHARD BOYD

The Baseball Scene

Coach Jim Mallory's ECC baseball nine possess a lineup filled with veterans at each position. The Buc mentor was fortunate in having lettermen returning at the beginning of the season at every spot with the exception of third base. But at the hot corner position the Pirates have rookie Floyd Wicker coming through in tremendous fashion. The rangy basketball player from Coach Earl Smith's crew has demonstrated in early contest that he definitely has what it takes for a college infielder.

The lefthanded hitting Wicker has not been the only pleasantries for Coach Mallory this Spring. The slugging of Wally Cockrell, superb defensive play by the Buc infield, and the tight pitching of Larry Crayton has been going true to form. EC baseball followers cannot overlook the fine catching of Charlie Johnson, or the twin killing ability of veterans Glenn Bass at short stop and Spencer Gaylord at second base.

First baseman Jim Martin has held down the initial sack in fine style and has demonstrated that he can hit the long ball when given his pitch. Martin, who throws right handed, but hits from the left side smashed the Buc's first grand slammer of the young campaign with a 330 foot drive down the right field line against Delaware that cleared the fence with the bases loaded.

Speaking of power, who can leave out left fielder Gary Pierce, or a hard hitting Larry Crayton. The latter being a pitcher and his bat speaks like an outfielder would. Pierce is the big Buc slugger from the past two seasons, who hits in the cleanup position. Crayton, a tricky lefthander on the mound, turned slugger at the expense of Delaware during the first frame with a two run homer over the leftfield fence.

Where the Bucs could be the weakest is depth on the mound. Coach Mallory has Crayton, Green, West, Boykins, and Dunn, but only Crayton and Green have established themselves as definite starters, although West, Boykins, and Dunn have shown good promise. It appears to be an interesting season for the EC baseballers, and what appears to be another championship outfit.

Youthful Track Team

In the field of track the Pirates are having it different from the diamonders. A strong Washington-Lee team from Lexington, Virginia defeated the Bucs in their opener, and the cindermen lost a tri-meet to High Point and Elon last Saturday.

But the track men are loaded with freshmen talent led by Ned Pickford, a speedster in the 220 and 100 yard dashes. The Washington, D. C. freshmen is a half-back on the football squad, showing tremendous speed in the Purple-Gold encounter this Spring. The 165 pounder used his swiftness on the cinder path Saturday when he won the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Tennis In The Spotlight

The tennis team led by tri-Captains Bert Stafford from Hamilton, Al Webb from Kinston, and Elton Roberson, a native of Robersonville accomplished an important win for the team and vital prestige for the school when Coach Wendell Carr's netters defeated Wake Forest last week. It was the fourth victory for the Bucs against three setbacks.

While still on the subject of tennis, we must mention the high school tennis tournament held on the ECC courts last weekend. The successful program engineered by tennis coach Wendell Carr saw some of the better netmen from the state showing their talents.

Intramural Highlight

Coach Carr is a hard working gentleman in the Spring. Besides being the varsity tennis coach, the former Wake Forest graduate is also intramural director. This is a job in which he has served the school since last year. An intramural tennis tournament, a badminton tournament, horse shoe competition, and the daily softball games highlight this program.

The softball games have been coming along in good fashion, but there has been an abundance of forfeits. This is due mainly to a mix-up in the league schedule or the word not getting around that there is a scheduled game for the player's respective teams.

The basketball champions of the intramural league happened to be a strong Wyatt Earp quint. The same players practically are representing their team in softball and under a different name. These players call themselves the Roundballers. The team thought that this would be a good idea since the majority of the boys are basketball players.

The Roundballers were off to a good start last week as they defeated The Country Gentlemen by a slim 5-4 margin. Richard LeFevre was the winning pitcher, and the contest was one of the best played of the season in big ball competition.

Holiday Table Tennis Champion

Charles Holliday won his second Men's Singles Table Tennis Tournament of the school year by defeating Charlie Munn in straight games, scores 21-16, 21-8, 21-9. Holliday's fast topspin attack easily overcame Munn's defensive blocking style.

Nelson Tugwell gave Holliday trouble in the semi-finals and took the second game by 21-16 after dropping the first match 21-14. Holliday's consistency and control were the deciding factors in his victory in the final game as he pulled away from Tugwell to go on to the finals by score 21-16.

Bowie Martin gave Holliday little trouble in the quarter finals (21-19, 21-8), but Whitey Matthews took the first game of their matches from him 21-18; Holliday took the next game 21-11, 23-21.

Munn met Malcolm Griffith in the semi-finals. Spin expert Griffith had difficulty with Munn's topspin attack and played very good defense. Munn won the first match 21-19, 18-21, 21-11, 22-20.

Stancel in the quarter finals 22-29, 21-17, and defensive player Fleetwood Lilley dropped two straight games to Munn (21-16, 21-18); Munn defeated Phillip Bates in the first round (22-20, 21-15).

Tugwell defeated Dan Ray, Jim Stoton, and Cliff Gentry in the first rounds. Griffith defeated Zuill Bailey, Louis Marcus, and James Branton before losing to Munn.

The most interesting games of the tournament were played between Ron Crawley and defensive player Fleetwood Lilley. Crawley's slamming attack was no match for the fine footwork and retrieving by Lilley. Lilley moved from the table by as much as 15 to 20 feet to return Crawley's slams. Lilley also performed many counterdrives, both backhand and forehand, from 10 to 15 feet back. Both players were rewarded with many rounds of applause and a good audience was present. Lilley took the second and last games after losing the first match (19-21, 21-11, 22-20).

Jim Martin hit his second 'bases loaded' homer of the young season Tuesday. His latest grand slammer was at the expense of Appalachian in the first game of a twinbill. ECC won the first contest on Crayton's no hitter 6-0, and blanked the visitors in the night-cap on Green's two hitter, 13-0.

Apps Lose 6-0, 13-0

Martin, Green, Clayton Also Star In Wins

By PARKER CHESSON

Led by the no-hit pitching of ace left-handed Larry Crayton, the East Carolina Pirates defeated the visiting Appalachian App's 6-0 in the first game of a doubleheader played at College Stadium Monday afternoon.

Nathan Green nearly equaled Crayton's effort in the second game, shutting out the App's on just two hits, 13-0.

Crayton, finest hurler in East Carolina history, was superb in his seven inning workout. Mixing his fast ball, curves, and change-up deliveries masterfully, the shonky southpaw had the Appalachian hitters 'beating out of his hand' the entire game. Although he walked four enemy batters, and his teammates committed two errors, Crayton held his matchless poise and pulled himself out of each jam untouched.

Larry struck-out eleven App hitters. This was the southpaw's first collegiate no-hitter, although he has come close on several previous occasions.

Offensive Punch

First baseman Jimmy Martin and rightfielder "Cotton" Clayton provided the only offensive punch for the Bucs. When Martin, the Pirate's RBI leader, came to bat in the first inning, the bases were full by way of walks. He promptly picked out the App hurler's second delivery and laced it over the right-field fence for his second grand-slammer of the season. The homer hit the top of the fence and fell over.

Clayton, all-conference basketballer, accounted for the other two Pirate runs with a tremendous blast over the scoreboard in right field scoring a teammate ahead of him. These were the only hits the Buc hitters could muster in the first game.

Shut Out

In the second game, Green again shut-out the visiting team, 13-0. He allowed just two hits, a double in the third inning, and a single in the fifth inning. The strongarmed right hander did not allow a single runner to reach third base.

Spencer Gaylord started the scoring for the Pirate's by slapping a two-run double in the second inning. In the third inning Gary Pierce, the Bucs' big left fielder, came to bat with the bases loaded and lined a hard shot over the third baseman's head into left field. When the ball slipped through the fielder's legs, all three runners raced home.

Before the visiting nine could retire the side, three more runs scored by way of base on balls and errors. The local boys rounded out their scoring for the day by adding one run in the fourth inning and four more in the fifth frame. In all, the Pirates collected twelve hits and were aided in their scoring by numerous Appalachian errors and mental lapses.

Other Contests

These games were the first conference contests for the Bucs. Last week's game with the rival Atlantic Christian Bulldogs was postponed and, according to Coach Jim Mallory, will be rescheduled at a later date. East Carolina goes on the road for the next six games. They have scheduled a double-header with Western Carolina on Saturday, one game with Catawba on Monday, one game with the Wake Forest Deacons on Tuesday and another double-header with High Point on Wednesday.

Captain Al Webb has been highly responsible for the crack EC tennis team's winning campaign thus far in the season.

Pirate Netters In Victory Over Wake Forest

Coach Wendell Carr's 1961 tennis team defeated Wake Forest's Demon Deacons last week by a 7 1/2 to 1 1/2 score. The Atlantic Coast Conference representative, playing on EC's home court, could not match the Pirate netters. The half points resulted when the match was called, due to darkness.

Harry Felton and Jerry Muecke of East Carolina and Wake's Paul Caldwell and Frank Fishburne had divided sets 6-2 and 11-13, when the match was called. The teams divided the fifth tally.

The Bucs won five of six matches and the latter two doubles to take the victory. It was the fourth Pirate win in seven starts, and the second in succession for Coach Carr's crew.

The summary:

Singles: Felton (ECC) d. Fishburne, 1-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Blairnie Tanner (ECC) d. Caldwell, 6-4, 6-4.

Al Webb (ECC) d. Jim Batterson, 6-2, 6-3.

Davis Bowen (WF) d. Muecke, 6-2, 6-4.

Bert Stafford (ECC) d. Alva Terrell, 6-4, 6-1.

Elbert Roberson (ECC) d. Jack Hambrick, 6-2, 6-1.

Doubles:

Tanner and Webb (ECC) d. Batterson and Bowen, 6-2, 6-1.

Stafford and Roberson (ECC) d. Terrell and Hambrick, 6-4, 7-5.

Felton and Muecke (ECC) versus Fishburne and Caldwell, 6-2, 11-13 (tie).

Intra Mural Activities

Tennis players in intramural competition are urged to contact their opponents as soon as possible. The matches will be held from now until the end of the quarter.

Badminton play will be from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. The horseshoe activities will be delayed until the stakes arrive.

A high school invitational tournament in the field of tennis was held Friday and Saturday on the campus. Teams were represented from North Carolina and Virginia.

Softball play has been underway for some time now. One of the stronger teams in the league will be the Wyatt Earp team, who also were powerful in basketball, being undefeated champions. The Earp softball ballers defeated the Country Gentlemen 5-4 Tuesday with Richard LeFevre going all the way for the winners and recording the win.

The weight room is a popular recreational area for EC students. The utility room started out very small, but has grown a great deal during the past two years.

Weight Room Becomes Popular Student Recreational Area

Four years ago ECC did not have a weight room. A small room downstairs in the gymnasium, located adjacent to the dancing room, served for this purpose. It was here a handful of students would bring their own bar bells and other weight equipment.

During the past two years this utility room has grown into one of the most popular recreation centers on campus. This movement has been under the influence of Dr. Martinez, Mr. McDonald, and Ronald Hendrix, who is at the present time in charge of the weight room.

With the initial investment of two thousand dollars the athletic department has purchased four thousand pounds of York Bar Bells. The equipment consists of the following: thirty-five bars ranging in the weight of thirty-five to one hundred and fifty pounds, two squat racks, eight hundred pounds of Olympic weights, two head gears, two leg benches, six additional benches for presses, and one horizontal chin bar.

Under the supervision of Mr. Hendrix the weights in the department have been classified by colors according to their individual weight. The weight room has been evaluated by President Duncan, of the Southern Conference as being "one of the finest" he has seen in the South.

gray, which represents the middle-weight, and dark green for the heavy weights.

Every Tuesday and Thursday at 3:00 p.m. Hendrix teaches a one hour class adaptive activities. This helps in weight-training and body building. Next year there will be a course in weight-training.

With the beginning of classes next year, under the direction of Dr. Haurich, there will be a weight-training club available to the students. The weight room has been evaluated by President Duncan, of the Southern Conference as being "one of the finest" he has seen in the South.
