Burmese Attraction Premieres Thursday

The EC Playhouse will present "The Wages of Sin" by U Nu, Prime Minister of Burma, February 22, 23, 24, as a major attraction of this year's program of dramas and as a gesture of international friendship and cultural exchange.

Three performances, the first to be given in this country, are scheduled for 8:30 p.m. in the McGinnis auditorium.

Ambassador As Honor Guest

His Excellency U On Sein, Ambassador from Burma to the United States, and members of his staff at the Burmese Embassy in Washington, D. C., will be honor guests at the February 24 performance. Also invited to attend are state and national officials from North Carolina and military officers from nearby bases.

The play, a moralistic drama with a modern political background, deals with the evils of Communism. The plot centers around U Po Lone, Burmese Home Minister, whose vices make him unworthy of his position and a danger to his party and to the democratic government in his country.

In a discussion of Communism among visitors in Po Lone's house, U Tun says, "Democracy gives man his dignity . . . Put the two ideologies together before the people and they are bound to choose Democracy every time. That's why we need have no fear that Communism will prevail."

U Mone answers, "Not if the leaders on Democracy's side become depraved . . . debauched leaders can never fight Communism, they can only pave the way for it."

This idea voiced by U Mone is developed in the career of U Po Lone, drunkard, briber, gambler, and seducer of women.

Dr. Withey To Direct

Dr. J. A. Withey, Director of the Playhouse, became interested in the drama by the statesman-playwright during 1960-1961 when he was a Fulbright scholar in theater arts at the University of Mandalay. His request to give the play its premiere in the United States was granted by U Nu in December. Rehearsals began in late January.

Diket Plays Lead

"The Wages of Sin" will be presented here with a cast of more than thirty students and two faculty members. Dr. Albert Diket, faculty member of the social studies department, who has had experience with the New Orleans Little Theater and with semi-professional groups in Washington, D. C., is cast in the leading role of U Po Lone.

Costumes for the production by Mrs. Lois Garren of Greenville, follow designs of the Burmese national dress. Scenery is based on original plans by Dr. Withey.

In the interest of authenticity, Daw Mya Sein, Burmese educator, historian, and former representative to the United Nations, will act as consultant to the Playhouse for four days preceding the opening performance. Her visit to the campus and her role as advisor was made possible by a grant from the Asia Foundation.

U Nu Author Of Numerous Works

Prime Minister U Nu, champion of democracy, and head of the Burmese government during most of its 14 years of independence, is author of a number of works, including "Burma Under the Japanese" and his play "The People Win Through," written shortly after World War II and presented in this country in 1955 by the Pasadena Playhouse, and the recent drama "The Wages of Sin." He has translated such diverse works as Marx's "Das Kapital" and Dale Carnegie's "How To Win Friends and Influence People."

U Nu

At the February 22 and 23 performances no seats will be reserved. Reserve-seat tickets for the February 24 performance will be sold at $1.00 each.

Jenkins Confirms USC Consideration

By JEAN PEACE

President Leo W. Jenkins confirmed the rumor that he is being considered for the Presidency of the University of South Carolina. He commented in an interview yesterday morning, "I have had correspondence from and conference with a representative of a committee seeking a new President for the University of South Carolina and I would not like to comment beyond that point at this time."

Chairman of the EC Board of Trustees, J. H. Waldrop related, "Dr. Jenkins has done an excellent job since he has been here and is making real progress for the college. We hope he will not consider a change at this time. He has the support of the Board of Trustees, the faculty and the student body of the college."

Dr. Jenkins assumed the EC Presidential duties January 5, 1960. He has served on the administrative staff since 1947, he has been with the college during its years of remarkable growth and expansion. EC has reached an enrollment of 5,280, constructed new dormitories, and acquired new lands under his leadership. He devoted his time and talents to the passage of the Bond Issue to aid education and on the night of its defeat, he calmed the student demonstration and persuaded them to direct their energies toward raising the money for the much needed stadium themselves.

He has brought prestige to EC by ably serving on state educational committees.

Enrollment at USC is approximately 5,557. It is a state university located in Columbia, S. C. which was established in 1801. In 1957 Dr. Robert L. Sumwalt was named acting President of the University and his appointment was made permanent in 1959. No reason has been released concerning the presidential change.

Jean Peace

Board Elects Peace 'East Carolinian' Editor

Elected by the Publications Board last Wednesday, Jean Peace, co-managing editor of the East Carolinian, will assume the duties of editor of the newspaper beginning Spring Quarter and through Fall and Winter Quarters of the 1962-63 school year. She will fill the position vacated by outgoing editor Patsy Elliott.

Outstanding as a feature writer, Jean held the position of feature editor for two quarters before promotion to co-managing editor at the beginning of this quarter.

Improve Quality

Before the Publications Board, Jean stated, "I do not advocate any great changes in the East Carolinian . . . we've just made one by switching to a twice weekly. However, I hope to improve on the new tabloid as far as quality is concerned. We have a lot of work to do in this area, and with a competent staff, I hope we can be successful."

Continue To Grow

"In addition," Jean commented, "I will try to see that the East Carolinian continues to grow with the rest of our expanding college, and further inform students of campus news and stimulate them intellectually."

Jean is a sophomore English major from Norfolk, Va. Active in campus affairs, she is a member of the College Union Board, Campus Radio Staff, and has worked with the college News Bureau.

Semi-Weekly Approved

Other action taken by the Publications Board included approval of a twice weekly campus newspaper. On a temporary semi-weekly basis for the Winter Quarter, the publication's success during this period prompted official action to strike the "temporary" from its approval.

Correction

The foreign film, "Gervaise," previously scheduled for Wednesday, February 21 will be postponed until Thursday, March 15, at 7:00 p.m., in Austin Auditorium.

Applications for student teaching, fall quarter 1962, must be filed by 4:30 p.m., Monday, March 12.

Secondary Majors will file applications with their department supervisors of student teaching. Elementary Majors who have preregistered for Ed. 304 or Ed. 311 spring quarter will be provided application blanks for student teaching during the first meeting of these classes on Wednesday, March 7. Other Elementary Majors, who have had the prerequisites, desiring to file application should contact Dr. Holmes (if intermediate) or Dr. Modlin (if primary) before the above deadline.

Bucknell To See Burmese Scenes

EC's Playhouse has accepted an invitation to present selected scenes from "Wages of Sin" by Prime Minister U Nu of Burma at the Fourteenth Annual Burma-Bucknell Program at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.

The performance, scheduled as a special event of Saturday, March 3, will take place at 3 p.m. in the Vaughan Literature Auditorium at Bucknell University.

The Burma-Bucknell Program is a university Christian Association in cooperation with the Embassy of Burma, the Asia Foundation, the U. S. Department of State, and U. S. Information Service. It is a three-day event, March 2-4. It is sponsored by the Bucknell Uni-

Would Surely Benefit Any College

EC's Rumored Loss Astonishes Campus

Voting procedures, library noises, and other aspects of a college community seem rather trivial when we start to calculate the meaning of losing an enthusiastic and energetic leader (we are at loss for words when we try to describe him and his importance to us) . . . East Carolina's President, Dr. Leo W. Jenkins.

Although rumors were only confirmed to the effect that he had conferred with members of a committee "which is seeking a new president for the University of South Carolina," we are afraid that it is true that he is being considered for the presidency from a narrowing number of able men.

Were Dr. Jenkins to accept this position, South Carolina would acquire a great man with an extra sense of perception that enables him to understand immediately the basic needs of students, faculty, and a college staff. And with this understanding, he possesses the drive to accomplish the ends to such needs. These things he has displayed here, and would surely benefit any campus.

East Carolina faces the possibility of losing a leader who has already achieved much for the school. The name of East Carolina he has carried beyond the immediate area across the state, the South, and the nation. We have seen our college gain prestige among educators, politicians, laymen, and parents in the short two years that he has been in office.

Among the many projects now underway that we can attribute to him are entrance into the Southern Conference, a stadium befitting a school of the Conference, a widely acclaimed head football coach, investigation into a fraternity and sorority row, and a long list which could continue for pages.

This sudden announcement of a possible resignation leaves us to wonder what will become of these projects, yet unfinished. However, the progress of our school that we can attribute to Dr. Jenkins remains . . . we are grateful.

Should he decide to go, East Carolina's loss will be immense and the University of South Carolina's gain will be great.

We are flattered to think the University is considering our President, but we will be more than flattered if he remains with us. Our efforts here to depict the importance of Dr. Jenkins to us are meager, but well meant in spite of their failings.

Possible Departure Brings Stunning Reaction

By JEAN PEACE

Women dormitory students came stumbling out of their rooms awakened from their afternoon naps to find why there was so much commotion in the halls.

It seemed THE DAILY REFLECTOR had just been delivered to the dormitories and President Jenkins' picture was on the front page with a headline reading, "Jenkins Considered For Univ. of S. C. Prexy." Soon most every girl on the hall was gathered with the others while one girl read word for word the article as it appeared in the paper. All was quiet and still. Each girl was contemplating what would happen if President Jenkins did leave EC.

The news probably reached other students in the same manner. When the student first heard of the news he was stunned and had that "it can't be true look." But let's consider for a moment that it is true that he will leave EC for another post. What would happen to EC? Have we been making him hold our future entirely? Have we been merely following not helping and now don't know what to do that the leader may no longer be with us? These are questions that we might consider. Have we given him the support that he has needed and now realize all too late that we haven't? Perhaps this is the reason behind our reaction to the news.

Of course we are honored that he is being considered and it does give our school a little more prestige and distinction. But in the past, President Jenkins has given us more cause to be proud of him as a leader, while we took for granted his leadership. The main point of the whole matter is that we need President Jenkins, his drive, and his enthusiasm. We also need to work a little more closely with him because we do share the common goals—to make our growing EC grow, not only in the ways he can help, but also from outside as well.

If President Jenkins does not leave, this may well be one of the best lessons we have ever learned.

Teachers Needed In East Africa

Teachers College, Columbia University is now recruiting secondary school teachers for service in East Africa.

These teachers will join 150 Americans already serving in Tanganyika, Kenya, Uganda, and Zansibar.

Kenneth H. Toepfer, Coordinator of the East Africa Project, says, "Participation in the Teachers for East Africa project provides graduating seniors and alumni who are interested in teaching as a career with an outstanding opportunity for service abroad."

Majors in the fields of Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Mathematics, English, History, and Geography are needed. Both experienced and unexperienced teachers with B. S. and A. B. degrees will be considered.

All accepted candidates will receive training fellowships at Teachers College, and Makerere College, Kampala, Uganda. On completion candidates will receive two year appointments as salaried education officers in East Africa.

Any interested student may get further information by writing Teachers For East Africa, Teachers College, and Makerere College, New York 27, New York.

Editor To Speak At NEA Meet

Dr. Amos Abrams, editor of North Carolina Education, will address the student NEA tomorrow night at 7:00 p.m. in Rawl Auditorium. Anyone interested in the meeting is invited to attend.

Poetry Society Compiles Fifth College Anthology

The American College Poetry Society recently announced its fifth semesterly anthology of outstanding college poetry being compiled for publication in May.

Contributions must be original work of the student (who shall retain all rights to the material) and school on each page. Poems, which may refer to subject, should not exceed nor may individuals submit more than five poems.

Entries that are not for publication will be returned if accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope.

The Society, this year, will offer Recognition Awards of $5.00 each, to the five outstanding college poets. Poems will not be otherwise acknowledged, nor will the Society compensate students for the work that is published.

Contributions should be sent to Richard A. Briand, Executive Secretary of The American College Poetry Society, Box 10, Los Angeles 24, Calif.

Entries must be postmarked later than Thursday, April 19, 1962, to be considered.

Fort Lauderdale Prepares For Spring Invasion

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the long lower Atlantic coast city, is now making ready for 1962 visitation of college students in March and April.

Public spirited citizens are working zealously with municipal officials to offer vacationing college graduates an interesting and varied recreation and entertainment program. Even the Yankees will train there each year, will play 15 exhibition games between March 10 and April 1.

With few exceptions, all day and night activities will be on Fort Lauderdale's well known beach.

The city's recreation department will construct a large state-of-the-art stand, which during the day will be utilized for bathing beauty contests and other forms of entertainment, including the popular twist and limbo.

On arrival students will be greeted at "Hello Booths" in the beach locations, where housing passes will be issued and housing information distributed.

The hospitality passes, issued at the presentation of college identification or current registration cards, will entitle students to admittance to all of the recreation and entertainment events.

Joining students here this spring will be the presidents and deans of several universities and colleges. The educators will be guests of the city's leading hotels.

Dr. Clem E. Binninger, chairman of the civic planning group, envisions the development of a closer relationship between students and residents in 1962 by offering the latter the opportunity to bring the young visitors into homes, clubs and churches.

As in the past, the city will force its customary traffic regulations and ordinances governing good conduct.

Music Students Give Joint Recitals

Two senior music students will appear in a joint graduating recital Thursday, February 22, at 3 p.m. in the Austin auditorium.

Sponsored by the department of music, the program will present Irene Patten, pianist; and Jerry Liles, trombonist, each in a series of selections by outstanding composers.

Ferrante And Teicher

Ferrante-Teicher Stage Duo 'Musical Fun Show' Thursday

Ferrante and Teicher, duo pianists and popular concert, radio, TV, and recording artists, will be here Thursday in a "musical fun show" at 8:15 p.m. in Wright.

Arthur Ferrante and Louis

Teicher are two energetic young concert pianists who through their recordings, concerts, and broadcasts have become widely known as an exciting and popular duo.

Their performances combine classical music with their own arrangements of tunes of Gershwin, Rodgers, Kern, Porter, and other popular composers, often with new sound effects, for which they have devised original gadgets to extend the total range of their pianos.

Both pianists graduated from the Julliard School of Music as piano majors and, after a brief period of concertizing, returned there as faculty members teaching theory and composition. In 1947 they resigned and since then have devoted full time to concert work.

The Ferrante and Teicher "Flip Their Lids" program here will open with Richard Rodgers' "Slaughter on Fifth Avenue" and will close with Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue." Between these numbers they will entertain with such numbers as de Falla's "Ritual Fire Dance," Ravel's "Bolero," Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 2," highlights from "My Fair Lady," theme from "The Apartment," and "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing."

The "pops" concerts are staged for the enjoyment of students and are so well attended that few tickets are available. For the Ferrante program, only 100 tickets are offered for sale at $3.00 each. They may be obtained from the SGA from 10 to 11 a.m. or by telephoning the office at PL 2-6101, Extension 271.

BSU Elects Patrick As New President

George Patrick has been elected to succeed Mary Lee Nicholson as president of the Baptist Student Union.

With a membership of approximately 1500 students, the Baptist Student Union is the largest denominational group here.

Before his election as BSU president, George was co-chairman of the Enlistment Committee of the organization. He is also a member of the Phi Kappa Tau social fraternity and of the Men's Glee Club.

Jean Lasater

Lasater Reigns As Queen Of Carolinas Conference Tournament

Chosen queen of this year's Carolinas Conference basketball tournament in Lexington, February 21-24, is Miss Jean Lasater, a 20-year-old brunette senior.

Jean's previous beauty titles include Homecoming Queen this year, the 1961 EC Azalea Princess, and last year's Lambda Chi Crescent Girl.

She is one of 37 seniors to appear in the national publication "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." Jean has served as a college marshall, has been included on the college honor roll, and is secretary of Fleming Hall.

Miss Lasater is a member of Chi Omega social sorority and a primary education major.

Announcement of her selection from among girls at colleges in the conference was made by Robert Bruton of the Lexington Central YMCA.

AD Pi Elects Pledge Officers

The winter pledge class of Alpha Delta Pi elected officers last Monday.

Lesley Kent was chosen president; Pat Boyd, secretary; Kay Yearby, project chairman; Mary May, scholarship chairman; Judy Wagstaff, Song chairman; and Camille Billings, reporter.

These officers will serve until the spring rushees are pledged.

Otte's Final Shots Decide Pirate Victory

By DON BREWER

East Carolina's Pirates defeated their big rival, Atlantic Christian's Bulldogs, Saturday night at Wilson, in one of the most exciting games of the season.

The Pirates quickly jumped into the lead at the first of the game with a quick 2-0 score. This was short lived as AC tied the game and slowly forged ahead. The half-time score was 33-27 with the Bulldogs out front.

In the second half, Coach Earl Smith switched the Pirates into a man-to-man defense. AC elected to play a possession type game and gradually increased their lead.

With the clock showing 14:12 in the second half, the Bulldogs had their biggest lead at 46-32. At this point, the Pirates caught fire and began another of their exciting comebacks. In the next seven minutes, EC outscored AC 17-3 and tied the game on two free throws by Co-captain Charlie Lewis with 7:19 remaining. From there on it was a nip-and-tuck affair, AC being led by the driving lay-ups of Jack Hussey and the Pirates led by the free throws of Benny Bowes and Lacy West and the sweeping hook shots of Bill Otte.

At the 1:50 mark, Otte was fouled and dropped in two free throws and gave EC its final margin in 61-60. The ball exchanged hands several times and with 3 seconds remaining Hussey shot from the right of the circle. The ball fell short and as the players scrambled for the ball, the final horn sounded.

The win gave East Carolina a 11-6 mark in the Carolinas Conference and undisputed position of third place in the tournament seedings. The game with Guilford last night counts in the final standings but not in the tournament pairings.

The Pirates had four men hitting in double figures. Bill Otte was high man with 19. He was followed by freshman Bill Brogden with 12 and Lacy West and Charlie Lewis both with 10. Atlantic Christian was paced by Ray Smith with 19 and Jack Hussey with 15.

The Pirates leave this week for Lexington, where they will participate in the Carolinas Conference Tournament to be held February 21-24.

Ange Places Among Top Eight Bowlers At Regional Rolloffs

In singles competition at the University of Virginia, EC's Felton Ange placed among the top eight bowlers participating in the regional rollofs of the Intercollegiate Bowling Tournament sponsored by the Association of College Unions, February 15-17.

The U. of Virginia's CU team was hosts to ten schools representing five states sending teams to the regional rollofs at Charttesville, Tennessee, with teams from the U. of Tennessee, U. of Chattanooga, Vanderbilt, and Carson-Newman College, had the largest delegation attending the Intercollegiate Tournament. Teams were also present from the U. of Florida, U. of Georgia, Bellarmine College in Kentucky, and two Tarheel teams from EC and N. C.

In over-all tournament competition, Bellarmine College, the U. of Georgia, and the U. of Florida took first, second, and third place honors respectively. Some fifty players saw action in the three divisional rollofs.

EC's five-man team, composed of Charles Holland, Felton Ange, Ancel Hotsclaw, Neil Dorsey, and Max Scruggs, defeated Carson-Newman College in the best three-out-of-three in team competition.

In doubles play, Scruggs and Hotsclaw placed 18th out of the 25 possible winning slots, and Holland and Ange placed 19th.

Ange, selected among the top bowlers in tournament play on the basis of the highest number of pinfalls, will be an alternate in the National Intercollegiate Bowling Tournament in Des Moines, Iowa next quarter. College Union teams from ten districts will be competing for championship honors at the National Tournament.

College Union Forms New Pinochle Club

Because of numerous requests the CU is making plans to organize a regular session of Pinochle. A club can be formed only if enough players are interested to make themselves known.

Interested players should contact the College Union office to discuss and sign up for this program.
