Students Elect New Officials

SGA Leaders Gain Practical Experience

Now that election time is here, attention is drawn to the SGA and just what the organization should accomplish. The student handbook offers us the SGA story.

The SGA was first organized here in November, 1920. The organization has been in continuous operation since that time, and it has rendered a "worthy service both to the students and to the College."

There is more to the SGA than the experience gained in managing student affairs and in working with other persons on the many committees connected with governmental problems, as important as these may be. Each year the student legislature has complete control in spending the $80,000.00 income from the student activity fee.

Through student government all groups get fair, equal representation in all matters. It can assume, however, only such official administrative duties and responsibilities as are delegated to it by the President of the College and other administrative officers with their approval. The Board of Trustees at a meeting in May, 1945, passed a resolution reaffirming the responsibilities of the college administrative officers with respect to student government. The resolution reads as follows:

The President of East Carolina College, the administrative officers, and the entire staff are charged with the responsibilities of conducting the affairs of the College in the interest of the people of North Carolina in accordance with the best educational principles and practices of colleges of its kind.

Music Student Places First

Emily Vinson, senior student of piano and first-place winner in the recent Student Competition of the National Federation of Music Clubs at Wake Forest, will participate during the spring, summer and early fall, in a number of music competitions held in various parts of the nation and will also be presented in concerts.

In competitive events, Emily will play May 6 in the International Bach Festival in Washington, D. C.; May 7 in the Chopin Competition in New York City; in June in the Young Artists' Contest of the Hebrew Association of New York City; and in September in the Van Cliburn International Competition in Fort Worth, Texas.

During the 1960-1961 season Emily was soloist with the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra.

Spring Carnival Plans Underway

Plans are in the making for the College Union's Spring Carnival to be held April 11 in the College Union.

All booth spaces have been taken with 27 different organizations and clubs participating in various types of activities.

A sub-committee of the Special Projects Committee of the College Union Student Board is in the process of buying prizes and gifts for the event. EC souvenirs, stuffed animals, tennis rackets, golf balls, cards, and records are some of the items already purchased.

Presidential hopefuls Giles Hopkins and Tom Mallison discuss the problems of running for an office. Candidates Present Views

Mallison, Hopkins Discuss Proposed Platforms, Policies

Interviewed By BILL GRIFFIN

(Editor's note: In an attempt to help the students become familiar with the candidates for SGA President, a staff member interviewed Tom Mallison and Giles Hopkins asking them questions concerning their platforms and their plans for the SGA if elected to office. The questions and answers are printed below.)

AN INTERVIEW WITH TOM MALLISON, CANDIDATE FOR SGA PRESIDENT

Q—You have predicted that "the next President of the SGA will face a wide range of problems which were swept under the rug by the previous administration." What are some of these problems, and why were they "swept under the rug?"

A—One item that was swept under the rug, but managed to survive in the end, was the foreign film series. This was voted down this year after being passed last year. Also, many of the campaign promises of Strother have failed to materialize. We were promised more phones and a Phi Beta Kappa chapter, to mention only two. Neither ever came. Also, next year the entrance requirements will be higher. Students who are admitted will need something more than what we now offer in the way of a challenge. We can have a new parking lot in the rear of Wright Building if we just ask for it. These are some of the problems.

Q—You promise to launch a "wide range of new and expanded government programs" if elected. What are some of these programs?

A—There is a need for a more effective I.D. card system. As it now stands, they are practically worthless. I would also like to see a continuation of the lecture series and the foreign film series. A new system of selecting cheerleaders seems to be needed.

Q—To quote from your platform, "Now that EC is a big school, we the students, should strive to create a big school atmosphere." What is a "big school atmosphere" and how can it be created?

A—Well, the administration admits we are a big school, so let's act like one. Ridiculous as it may sound, I have heard of girls in the dorms being called down to the house mother so she could measure the length of their skirts. This and other things in this area are ridiculous. This is not a finishing school. Also, the students have shown appreciation of what culture we have exposed them to, so let's have more of it. Then there is the cut system which I believe should be re-evaluated.

Q—You say that the rules concerning alcoholic beverages should be abolished. How can we do this?

A—In the presence of the State Student Legislature, Dr. Leo W. Jenkins said that he favored student opposition to the administration if done in a sensible and tasteful manner. This is the type of problem that requires that opposition. No problem is impossible to solve if mediation is used.

Q—You say that you will "attempt to work with the ad-

EC's Own Election Need 'Torches'

We could list the obligations that students have when elections are on the college agenda, as they are this Thursday, but it would be of little or no use.

We could say, "As a student, it is your privilege to vote this Thursday." Of what possible use would that be? Then we could cite examples of the apathy of voters on this campus, but the same is true of any campus and of the whole nation. When national elections are scheduled, every billboard, car bumper and newspaper has ads or signs reading, "The citizens committee urges you to vote. Vote as you please, but please vote!" We also hear constantly about our American heritage, the right to vote.

Maybe if our watchwords for voting at EC were, "Remember the Bond Issue," we might get a few results. That was one time when the students were stirred enough to write letters and urge voters to cast a ballot.

Another old cliché we might use now would be, "Practice what you preach." How would it look to North Carolina citizens if only one-third of the EC students vote in their own election when practically the entire enrollment sent letters, post cards, and carried torches to bring voters to the polls?

We might apply what Brother Dave said in his interview concerning advice to college students, "No, I don't have any advice for them. They know what to do, and I believe this is the time to do it." Granted this quotation is taken out of context, but doesn't it offer us a fresh viewpoint for the whole situation of voting and accepting responsibility?

Taking all these things into consideration will enable us to decide whether or not we are going to vote and after we have made this decision, we can at least decide who we are supporting in the election. If we think we are just a minority on campus who do not vote, then we are wrong. In a recent campus-wide voting on constitutional changes only twenty-five students turned up at the polls.

We know what to do . . . vote. The time to vote is Thursday. Forget the high-sounding ideas and let's think of ourselves, not our heritage or responsibility to the school. Think of the responsibility to ourselves. It's the last plea we have to offer.

Philosophy Gets Laughs

At last we have some "hard sayings" to "dwell upon." For those who could hear Brother Dave, he presented quite a few laughs filled with philosophical thoughts. He is not a rebel; he advocates no violence. He believes in everything; how could he be against anything? Perhaps we might seriously consider a few of his "hard sayings" and apply them here at EC.

Once again we are indebted to the SGA Entertainment Committee for providing us with an entertaining show. Bill Hanna and his Quintet did a fine job of intermission and introduction material. After the show, we noticed several students crowded around the stage to ask for special requests.

Collegians Select World's Most Beautiful Woman

President John F. Kennedy and Elizabeth Taylor were named as the world's most attractive personalities by collegians in a nationwide poll conducted by, and revealed in, the current issue of CAMPUS ILLUSTRATED, the national magazine of the college community. Male collegians were united in stating that Miss Taylor is "the most beautiful woman in the world." Coeds termed the President "a man among men."

"Beauty, charm and simplicity" were the adjectives most used in describing Jacqueline Kennedy, the second choice of college men. The President's "lady" far outdistanced another "lady," third-place holder, Grace Kelly, who was termed "the epitome of social grace and poise."

The nation's coeds made Paul Newman an easy second-place winner because the girls felt "the eyes (Newman's) have it." Still on the optical kick, coeds named Rock Hudson to third place he has "that come hither look."

Completing the coeds' top ten list are John Gavin, Cary Grant, Robert Kennedy, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Nelson Rockefeller, John Wayne and Peter Lawford.

Kim Novak, Gina Lollobrigida, Sandra Dee, Debbie Reynolds, Julie London, Sophia Loren and Brigitte Bardot complete the male college student's top ten choices.

Student Body Sleeping?

Student Apathy Evident In Campus Activities

By BILL GRIFFIN

The most outstanding aspect of EC is the apathy of the student body. This has been said many times before with no apparent effect, and I have no reason to believe that this plea will not also fall on ears made deaf by indifference.

The majority of the people on this campus are exactly the same type who, because of lack of energy or enthusiasm or both, are ruled over, and dictated to by Castro's and Khrushchev's of the past and present.

In most groups, even if there is not a great supply of workers, one can find numerous talkers. Even this, which would be some consolation, is not true of the student body here.

We have what we consider to be a democratic form of government on this campus in the S.G.A. Yet when it comes time to elect officers and representatives for this body, the candidates nearly outnumber the voters. This is not to say, of course, that there are throngs of candidates. On the contrary, the lack of interest is also reflected in this area. In the upcoming election, there is at least one office of importance in which the candidate is unopposed. We have no right to protest to any action taken by a group without question and, in cases, without opposition. On the other hand, a protest of this type is highly unlikely from a group as complacent as this.

The S.G.A. is not the epitome of indifference that is cited. The response to the election which you are now making is another. Granted, many of us there is hardly anything to protest to. Because this is a student election, this too is the fault of the student body in general. We can hardly be expected to have a publication of which you are proud with only a handful of students participating. At present, we are in great need of writers and typists; but regardless of the which we may issue the response is the same — nil.

Perhaps there is a valid reason for the apathy that is so evident at EC, but no one seems to be able to find that reason or to find another way help remedy the situation.

Perhaps some day something will happen to shock the student body out of the deep slumber in which it now rests, or perhaps it will continue to sleep with no apparent effects. I doubt, however, that can.

Simpler To Accept Than Understand

Coeds Chic, But Impossible

By MONTY MILLS

College campuses are full of contradictory co-eds, and ours, too, falls into the same lot—EC's co-eds assert one opinion and in actuality voice just the opposite.

But, gentlemen, you must remember, it is a woman's prerogative to change her mind—and given half a chance, that is exactly what she will do. Before you try to figure her out, a task that requires great courage and stamina, take into consideration that all females are bonded together by this exclusive right. So, why not just accept us the way we are, after all, wouldn't it be simpler?

Fashion-Conscious Females Sport Dirty Sneakers
Today's co-ed is chic, well-groomed in every way; she pays particular attention to popular fashion trends and in almost every way she is proof of her fashion-consciousness. Yet, she hoofs around campus in dirty sneakers, typifying a fashion that she feels carries the "seal of approval" in anybody's book. This may be a contradiction of the symbol of fashion that she is supposed to uphold, but let's face it—a quarter-mile hike from the gym to Austin Building in 10 minutes flat can produce a lot of calloused feet. And with beach season coming up, who wants callouses, certainly not the girls. Sneakers, padding the foot, beats any other popular footwear when it comes to pounding the concrete everyday.

Denies Seeking A Mrs. Degree

She doesn't want to get married but is looking for a husband. She feels too badly, girls, the boys looking for wives, even though she, too, won't admit it. She goes to the night before an exam and stays up the remainder of the night cramming, but then it was marriage-shy boy that took her out. After all, an Mrs. degree is legal, and it pays to stay on the side of the law.

Lives In Cluttered Castle

Her room is a cluttered mess. Her hair is never out of place and her slip never shows. Our modern contemporaries, neat to perfection, could never and seldom do, keep their rooms in the best shape.

Striking Combination

She is a child yet she is very much a woman—she is today's co-ed and tomorrow's housewife, mother, career girl and influence of the American opinion. And until something can be invented to take our place, which is an impossibility, I think that she'll be very well.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"AT LEAST I'VE GOT TO BE POLITE TO HIM—HE'S THE OTHER END OF MY CURVE."

Fraternity Greeted 'Colonel John'

UVA—According to reports from the University of Virginia, one patriotically-inclined social fraternity of the University community felt that it should take action to lend moral support to this country's first astronaut to orbit the earth.

The fraternity placed a banner on its roof Tuesday with a banner bearing the greeting "Hello, John."

There has yet been no confirmation from Mercury Control that Lt. Col. Glenn saw the awe-inspiring salutation. Nevertheless, "it's the thought that counts."

Formes SGA Historian Vies For Top Position

Giles Hopkins, candidate for SGA President hails from Concord and has attended EC three years. Giles, taking a major in social studies and a minor in geography, plans to enter the teaching profession after graduation.

He has served in the capacity of president of his fraternity, Sigma Phi Epsilon, two years and vice president one year. This past year he held a seat on the Senate as SGA historian. Giles' committee work in the SGA includes Budget Committee, Coat-of-Arms Committee Chairman, and Homecoming Committee.

Giles admits that sports have been fading away as one of his primary interests since entering college. "I'm always interested in dancing to good music and just talking to people, sometimes telling 'war' stories," commented Giles.

"For the SGA to function as it should, it needs student support. In this election I would like to see at least 3,000 EC students vote. Only then would the SGA be a true representative of the student body," Giles stated in regard to Thursday's election.

Mallison, Hopkins Interviews

A—It hasn't always been done conscientiously. This ties in with the previous question. We are representatives of the students and not agents of the administration.

Q—Why do you want to be president of the SGA?

A—This is a long story, but, briefly: I am from Greenville. I attended kindergarten and the first and second grades at Wahl-Coates school here on campus. I have seen this school grow from the time that they chained the entrances at night. I have witnessed the building of Flanagan, Rawl, and Garret Buildings. All this growth was the result of leadership of which I hope to become a part.

Q—Do you think that EC is ready to call itself a big school and take on the responsibility that such a statement would carry with it?

A—By all means—with responsible leadership a student body is willing to carry its share of the load.

Q—Do you think that the SGA is an efficient and/or effective body?

A—At times it's both, and at times it's neither.

AN INTERVIEW WITH GILES HOPKINS, CANDIDATE FOR SGA PRESIDENT

Q—Your platform states that you advocate changes in the constitution of the SGA. What changes do you have in mind and why?

A—I have in mind the by-laws mainly. There are, at present, contradictions in the by-laws and the constitution itself. Also, I would like to see an increase in the number of votes on the floor of the Senate. This would have to come about through constitutional changes.

Q—Your platform also states that you wish to reform and reorganize the SGA. What do you have in mind in this area?

A—Actually, I emphasize reorganization rather than reform. I believe that the SGA committees could be reorganized to represent the student body more fully.

Q—I understand that you believe cheerleaders should be elected by popular vote. What would be the advantage of this?

A—There would be more competition for positions on the cheerleading squad. Granted, it might turn into a popularity contest, but perhaps that would be an advantage. At least the students would be led at athletic events by people of their own choosing.

Q—You have said that you would like to cooperate with the women students in an attempt to revise some of the regulations concerning them. What regulations do you refer to, and how would you change them?

A—Specifically, I am concerned with the regulations concerning curfews and late permission. Any attempt to revise these regulations would, however, have to be initiated by the female students. I would do my utmost to aid them in any way I could, either as President of the SGA or as an individual.

Q—I believe you also favor determining the entertainers to appear on campus by popular vote. Why?

A—Actually I would like to see the students choose their entertainment, but through a poll more than a popular vote to give the students a preference.

Q—You also advocate the elimination of the point system. What are your reasons for this?

A—This came up in the SGA but was tabled. I believe that the only qualification for holding any office should be a "C" average. If a person can be president of several organizations and still maintain a "C" average, I think this is good.

Q—Why do you want to be president of the SGA?

A—I believe that as President I could do more to reorganize the SGA and revise the constitution, which I consider our most pressing problem.

Q—Do you think EC is ready to call itself a big school and take on the responsibility that such a statement would carry with it?

A—I don't actually know what a big school is. However, I believe that we can and will eventually be able to call ourselves a big school in relation to area school when we are ready to carry the responsibility it involves.

Q—Do you think that the SGA is an efficient and/or effective body?

A—It's effective to a large extent, but could be made more efficient through revision of the constitution and reorganization of the SGA.

Q—Is there anything you would like to say that has not been dealt with in this interview?

A—I don't believe we've said anything about the cultural aspects of EC. I would like to see an expansion of the foreign film series and all other cultural aspects of the college. Also, I would like to see greater participation of the students in the SGA. We can grow only if the students so desire.

Libby Glover, now a member of the Woman's Judiciary, is seeking the office of Chairman in the upcoming election.

Another hopeful candidate in the student body election is Georgia Ann Hooks, who is running for the office of Chairman of Woman's Judiciary.

Committee Chairman Seeks Presidential Post

Tommy Mallison, an aspirant for the presidency of SGA is a resident of Greenville. Tommy, a registered Democrat, is a junior with a double major in political science.

A brother in the Kappa Alpha order, he is also a member of the Young Democrats' Club.

His interests include listening to music, personal contacts with the purpose of exchanging ideals, and even reading the dictionary.

Tommy has participated in the administration of the SGA as Freshman Senator, Sophomore Senator, and Vice President of Summer School, 1961. Tommy, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, is also on the Budget Committee, Homecoming Committee, and the Discipline Committee.

His comment concerning the election was: "It has been pointed out by President Kennedy that the U. S. is on the move. Governor Sanford says N. C. is on the move. So it is up to the students to see that EC stays on the move."

Musicians Play In Area Contest

The annual State-Eastern Band Contest for Senior High Schools brought to EC on March 17 approximately 1,200 student musicians from eastern counties in the state.

Competing for ratings in four groups representing various levels of performance, Groups II through V, were 18 bands from senior high schools in this section of the state.

Each band entered in the contest performed a march and two concert selections. Ratings ranged from superior to fair.

Bands participating in Saturday's contest came from senior high schools in Benson, Swansboro, Millbrook, Four Oaks, Camp Lejeune, Apex, Rocky Mount, Robersonville, Lumberton, Plymouth, Dunn, Wilson, Jacksonville, Clinton, Elizabeth City, Greenville, New Bern, and Washington.

Dr. Edmund Durham of the Music Department was in charge of local arrangements for the contest. Sponsor of the event was the N. C. Music Association.

Typing Contest Scheduled This Month

More than 300 juniors and seniors and thirteen teachers from a large number of high schools in North Carolina will meet here this weekend, March 23-24, for the third Home Economics Weekend to be sponsored by the Department of Home Economics at the college.

Miss Ruth Lambie, chairman of Home Economics Weekend, stated that response to the invitation to attend has been enthusiastic, and acceptances are still being received.

Program for the weekend, arranged by students and faculty members of the Home Economics Department, includes a play, "College Visit," which concerns a variety of careers in home economics upon completion of a four-year college preparation.

President Leo W. Jenkins of East Carolina will be the keynote speaker at the Saturday luncheon in the South Dining Hall. Tickets for the luncheon are priced at $1.00.

Cline Leads Defense

Single-Wing Formation Shines Intra-Squad Team Ties 18-18

By MORRIE SIMPSON

The Annual Purple and Gold football game ended in a 18-18 deadlock, as the two teams employed the single-wing formation now in use here at East Carolina. The first quarter of this game featured bruising defensive play on the part of both teams. Neither team could muster up a threat in the first quarter, but early in the second period, the Gold team took advantage of a mix up in signals and scored the first two points of the ballgame on a safety.

After that it looked as if the Gold team was not to be stopped. The next time they got the ball, Vince Eiduke passed 47 yards to Richard Huneycutt and fullback Bill Bailey crashed over from the one-yard line for the score. Eiduke passed to Huneycutt for the 2 point conversion and a 10 point Gold lead.

The Purple team took the opening kick-off of the second half and scored on the third play from scrimmage on a 48 yard run by Tom Michel. The Purple team scored again in the closing minutes of the third quarter on a 3 yard plunge by tailback Bill Cline.

In the fourth quarter, the Gold team took advantage of a pass interception by Eiduke, and Bailey scored his second touchdown of the day on a three yard smash. Tolly passed to Spivey for the conversion which sent the Gold into a 18 to 12 lead.

With five minutes left in the game, Larry Rudisill returned a punt 27 yards to set up the final Purple score. Bill Cline carried the ball in from one yard out, but the Purple's extra point attempt was no good and the game ended in an 18-18 tie.

Bill Cline led the offense for the Purple team with 135 yards in 20 carries. He also scored two touchdowns to tie for scoring honors with Bill Bailey.

Veterans Earl Sweet and Richard Huneycutt were standouts on defense for the Gold, while Captain David Smith and Bobby Gardner headed up the line wall for the Purple.

Maurice Allen, Bobbie and Ralph Kinsey did the back work. Pete Thorell, one of the regulars at this post, was out with a bad knee.

Several of the top players including guard Skipper missed the contest. Several other top men were injured early in the game, one being tackle Mickey McDiarmid who suffered a dislocated shoulder.

Commenting on the game, Stasavich said that the players are taking to the single wing with apparent enthusiasm. The quarterbacks "called the play pretty well, but I'll have to see the films for the blocking."

Saturday's game was the 16th practice. They'll work more days this week to complete their NCAA total of 20, within the limit.

Bucs Play Yale Here; Light Cut Expected

The 1962 Pirate Nine, defending National N.A.I.A. Baseball Champs, meet Yale University in a two-day encounter here at EC March 21-22.

At present, the team consists of 29 players, but one more light cut is expected and should come off this week, as the team shapes up for Yale.

Tickets for the Spring Musical, "Guys and Dolls," will be available in the College Union daily, March 20-23. To receive a ticket students must show an I. D. and activity card. Each person can receive only one ticket and he must pick up his own ticket. Students are requested to obtain tickets before the nights of the performances.

WWWS-AM, campus radio, announces a change in its station format for Spring Quarter. AM broadcasting, designed for "enjoyable listening", is on the air each week from Sunday through Friday.

A GOOD TRADITION DOES NOT CHANGE

In this world of speed and space, we are so often tempted to change for the sake of change. Yet a classic is timeless... like the traditional look and soft shoulder tailoring of the College Hall clothes we feature.

This season, we continue this tradition. We bring you our own exclusive innovations in fabric and fit... subtle refinements in suits and jackets that augment the authority of our authentic styles... all, of course, within the soft shoulder framework. That is why the clothing you see in our store has the inherent good taste in fabric and look that marks the wearer as the man to watch... naturally.
