IBM Machines Undergo Testing

Beginning this week, Room 204 of EC's Administration Building will house seven new IBM machines, provided by the International Business Machines Corporation of New York City.

These machines will go through a series of simulated tests this summer and will be used for registration purposes next fall.

Each student will go to his advisor for pre-registration and fill out the usual three schedule cards listing the courses he wishes to take the next quarter. These trial course cards will be sent to the Registrar's office, where they will be arranged in order. Seniors will be registered first; juniors, second; sophomores, third; and freshmen, last. An IBM card will be punched for each course requested by each student, and these cards will be used to print the official class schedules.

Three weeks prior to the close of the quarter, the student will receive a class schedule indicating the description, time, and location of each of the courses he requested. If a student pays his enrollment fees prior to the close of the quarter, and no course changes are required, he will have nothing to do on registration day, and may simply report to the classes indicated on his class schedule.

The mad mingle in Wright Auditorium that accompanies each new quarter will be completely eliminated for pre-registered students, as a result of letting the IBM machines do the work of registration. The IBM equipment will also be used in getting grades out and will enable a student to receive his grades about one week after his last class meeting.

These machines will be rented at the rate of $920.00 per month, less a 20% education contribution provided by the IBM Corporation. East Carolina's new IBM machines will be the same type of IBM equipment which is used by State, UNC, and Duke University.

Glee Clubs Announce Final Presentation

The East Carolina College Men's Glee Club and Women's Glee Club will climax their year's activities with a joint concert May 9, at 8:15 p.m. in Wright Auditorium.

Directed by Mr. Charles Stevens, the Men's Glee Club will help celebrate the Civil War Centennial by singing a group of songs from that period, including the stirring "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and the South's beloved "Dixie."

Directed by Miss Beatrix Chauncey, the Women's Glee Club will include two numbers as well as several lighter numbers in their presentation.

Accompanists for the presentation are Rose Lindsay and Ted Gossett.

'Buc Goat'

The man with his ears draped in records is none other than Jerry Winberry, station manager for WWWS-AM radio on campus. There has been some question as to the validity of calling Jerry a "beauty," but with the title of "the ugliest man on campus," bestowed upon him at the CU carnival, Jerry does quite well with his new title, "Buc Goat."

'Genius' Of Alto Sax Plays Here Tomorrow

Earl Bostic, the internationally famed Saxophone stylist, will bring his band to a concert in Wright Aud., at 2 p.m., Saturday, beginning the chain of events for IFC Weekend. Bostic is heralded as one of the world's most outstanding virtuossos of the Alto Sax and the Clarinet.

As a Saxophone stylist, Bostic has been compared to musicians like Johnny Hodges of the Duke Ellington Band, Coleman Hawkins, Illinois Jacquet, and the great Benny Carter. As a Clarinetist, he is also ranked among the greats. Last year, Bostic was acclaimed as one of the top recording stars of King Records. He has been offered as high as $25,000 to record for other companies. Bostic has recorded several million-sellers.

He was rated one of the most prolific of the artists at the Playboy Magazine Jazz Festival in Chicago, and the music and jazz critics acclaimed him a "genius of the alto sax." Bostic's recordings include jazz, and new arrangements of familiar standards.

Unheard Voices

NSA Offers Unity, Services, Benefits

We are the college youth of America. We are constantly speaking about our voice in current affairs and how we are never heard or recognized. Why are we not heard?

It is our own fault that we cry our mad cries and are never answered. There is a national organization which sees to it that college students are heard and that they are given every right. Our only remaining question is why are we not members of this organization? It is quite evident that we should be members.

What does this National Student Association offer us? It falls into three main categories, special services, political recognition, and college unity. NSA supports a full-time student staff who, to be employed, must take a year's leave of absence from college. Offices are located in Philadelphia, Atlanta, and San Francisco. NSA operates on a $500,000 budget yearly. The organization is recipient of money from the Ford Foundation, and the Carnegie and Rockefeller Foundations. It is the largest student association in the world and is condoned by the US college professor, president, and dean's associations.

In North Carolina member schools include Davidson, UNC, Duke, State, W. C. Salem, Queens, A. C., and Western Carolina. We could name each member school and the school would be recognized as one of our leading educational institutions such as Hollins, Sweet Briar, Randolph Macon, and Mary Washington. Colleges which once withdrew from NSA are now seeking readmission. Harvard is one of these schools, UVA another.

NSA brings benefits to the member colleges down to the individual student level. Through NSA we can give each student a 25% discount on all text books, providing it is cleared by the college. NSA offers accident insurance at a discount to students. News releases are furnished to the newspapers. A student discount is given at Howard Johnson motor lodges for traveling students. Through NSA a student can take a trip to Bermuda for one week with a total cost of $135.00. NSA offers also along the line of student travel a complete tour service, free to member schools. Each year travel scholarships are awarded to students from member schools. International press conferences are sponsored by the NSA and full scholarships are awarded to hundreds of newspaper editors.

To the college itself, NSA will furnish foreign films, radio and T.V. tapes ranging from Shakespeare to current events, and information concerning how student government can best serve the student. NSA conducts workshops to better train our campus leaders for the role they take in college life. We will receive political recognition through NSA. It is the students' political voice and is the only college government organization that has a seat on the US Presidential advisory committee on education. At EC we spend a great deal of money on our entertainment series. NSA can get the same entertainment for us at a 10% discount.

We must not be the only ones who wish to support NSA. Twenty-four parts of its twenty-five part budget comes from donations. NSA is growing and becoming stronger each year as more schools enter. The American college students are uniting through NSA.

We have enumerated the many things that NSA can do for us. It appears that the only thing we can do for NSA is to become members and work for the common good of all college students. Why shouldn't we?

At Monday night's SGA meeting the question will be raised as to whether or not we should become members. The meeting will be on both radio and TV and as always any student has the right to voice his opinion on this topic.

Let's do as President Jenkins suggested at the regional NSA conference, "Let's make the world a better place to live." We can't accomplish this alone, here in Greenville, North Carolina. Perhaps we can through NSA.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"FRANKLY ELLEN, I DIDN'T KNOW YOU SORORITY GIRLS WERE SO SENSITIVE ABOUT BEING SEEN WITH AN 'INDEPENDENT'!"

Letter Questions Censorship

Will Anyone Listen If Students Do Speak?

Letter To The Editor:

Mr. Bill Griffin, in his article, "Student Apathy Evident In Campus Activities," seems to be under the impression that all of the students, or at least the great majority of them, are content with things as they are on campus. Then, I feel it necessary that he find out that we are not all content with things as they are, and we would like to see some changes made. But, unfortunately, the students at EC have very little, if anything, to say about what is and what is not permitted. We did not make this system under which we are obliged to live; we inherited it with all of its defects, backward ways and whatever else goes along with it.

Mr. Griffin also stated that there are very few talkers on campus. He may be right, but from my own experience I must disagree with him. I, myself, am a talker, and I happen to know quite a few other students who talk and who are concerned with the situation on our campus. However, we are not quite ready to completely revolt against the present system. We feel and think it is a terrible system, but not that terrible. So, we talk and are concerned with the situation on campus. We hope it will improve. If we can, we will do our part to make it improve; but we won't beat our heads against the administration wall.

There is one thing about which I am very concerned. If the students attempt to express their views openly through this paper, will they be heard. When I say "the students" I mean all of the students, not just a certain group. I have heard several people say that the material for the East Carolinian is very heavily censored. This censorship, so I am told, prevents publication of any article which does not conform to what is considered proper by those who control this paper. In other words, will this paper grant the more liberal students the right to speak through this paper, or does it withhold this right from us? Is there real freedom of the press and speech for all the students to speak their minds? Or are only those who conform allowed to speak?

The reason for my concern is simply this: I have heard a rumor from a fairly reliable source that several people have attempted to express their views through this medium and have been hushed up for failure to conform; and there abounds on campus the idea that it isn't worth the effort to speak because, if you don't conform or fit the pattern, you won't be heard anyway. Some students feel that to go to work and write out a piece expressing their views, only to have it condemned before it is even heard by the readers, is too much!

If this rumor is true then please, at least, don't talk about apathetic students and then refuse them the right to be heard. What else can they be but apathetic? If the rumor I heard concerning censorship is wrong, then I apologize. However, I would like this paper to print a denial of this rumor and state for the benefit of our doubtful students whether or not there is freedom of the press for all students at EC, or is it freedom of the press just a superficial pretense at EC?

Parking Meters At Greensprings

By MONTY MILLS

The twenty-six letters of the alphabet may be transposed 620,448,401,733,239,438,384 times. This bit of information itself seems rather dreary, but somehow it sticks in my mind, proving or disproving the claim can become quite time consuming. Transposing these twenty-six letters, I finally came up with a column, or anyway, a transposition.

Back In '45

Looking through some yellowed pages of predecessors to the twice-weekly East Carolinian, I came across the student lament that EC has no adequate parking space. Back in '45, automobiles were considerably smaller than today's models, and even then finding places to leave them was quite a headache. Perhaps, if every one were to switch to compact cars we would alleviate the traffic situation. Or as a second alternative parking meters could be installed at Greensprings Park and from there students could commute a campus via car pools.

Early Morning Lift

Not to be belittling the cafeteria, but have you ever noticed how strong the coffee is? For a quick early morning lift, cafeteria coffee is the perfect solution. It kind of jars your senses, and if that cold, cold shower didn't wake you up the java will. You stay awake just to see if you can think of something revengeful to get even.

administration, the S.G.A., our parents, the politicians who control the finances of this college, or anyone in particular will like what we say, but if this paper will let us, there are some of us who will speak. If we say the wrong things, then you will be able to criticize us and show us up for the fools we really are.

But until we feel that there is a real chance of being heard, we will continue to talk. We won't talk too loud, but we will talk. We will continue to speak our minds openly only in the close confines of our own small group where there is real freedom of speech and tolerance for the other man's ideas. After all we do not care to bring down the wrath of the Gods upon us.

An Apathetic Student,

THE BRAMBLEBUSH

By BILL GRIFFIN

I've been looking through the old files of the East Carolinian and discovered that there was once a columnist writing for us who had an uncanny knack for writing material that was consistently interesting and unusually funny as heck - that was Billy Arnold. Maybe some of the old-timers remember him. Here's a poem of his that appeared in the February 19, 1959, edition:

The day doesn't pass that somebody
Doesn't come up to me and say,
Why you're the most wonderful person
I've ever known.

And I say,
I know it; my mother was a
Full-blooded Chinese bandit.
And they say, No!

And I say,
Yes. And God was my co-pilot.
And they say, No!

And I say,
Yeah, and he didn't even fly half the time;
he was too busy worrying about the sheeps and goats and all.

Well, so much for the good old days.

Someone once remarked concerning the students of EC, "They're interested only in things they can drink, drive, or go out with." This is humorous but false, I hope.

Summer Theatre At Carolina Beach

EC Extension Offers Drama Workshop

Through the Extension Division, East Carolina College will offer experience in the Summer Theatre School at Carolina Beach Playhouse between July 20 and August 18.

There will be two courses taught which may be applied to a major in drama and speech which is now being offered here. These courses are Stagecraft, which carries two quarter hours credit, and will be taught July 20-August 2, and Literature for the Theatre, which carries three quarter hours credit and will be taught August 3-16.

Those wishing to enroll in the school may request an application blank from the Extension Division, Box 307, East Carolina College. Students wishing to work with the playhouse should indicate this when they apply for admission to the school. Tuition costs are $8 per quarter. Rooms may be rented through the Chamber of Commerce, Carolina Beach, N. C.

Dr. J. A. Withey, who will teach the courses and act as director of the company requests that students interested in the program, either as members of the company or as apprentices, contact him for an interview. His office hours are 11-1 Tuesday and Thursday.

Buccaneer Adopts New Procedure For Organizations

The BUCCANEER staff, with the approval of the Publications Board at the April 27 meeting, has adopted a new procedure for organizational representation in order to increase the number of pages in the 1963 yearbook.

In order to plan organizational layouts for the 1963 yearbook, letters explaining the new method of representation for organizations not receiving SGA appropriations are being sent to presidents of each fraternity and sorority and each religious organization and club.

By increasing the number of pages, an effort will be made to include organizations on a full page consisting of an entire group picture, officers picture, and an activity picture, along with a more descriptive write-up.

Only those organizations acknowledging this procedure will be included in the yearbook.

Any president of a campus organization who did not receive a letter by today, should contact the BUCCANEER office immediately, second floor, Wright Building, or call extension 265.

Texas University Requires Commencement Attendance

AUSTIN, Texas (UPS) — The University of Texas is now requiring all graduating students to attend commencement exercises unless excused by their respective deans.

In a letter sent to all deans and directors, University President Joseph R. Smiley, asked that all students be notified that their attendance at the June Commencement exercises is expected and that excuses must be presented in writing. Deans are to pass on the validity of excuses.

According to the Dean of the College of engineering, W. W. Hagerty, the University is not alone in requiring attendance. He cited the Universities of Delaware, Michigan, and Minnesota as examples.

Dr. Smiley's letter to deans and directors said: "Maximum attendance by faculty and graduating students . . . is both fitting and proper. It is my hope . . . that your full cooperation in this matter will result in substantial increase in the attendance of graduating students and increase the meaningfulness of the commencement exercises."

an excuse" to "I certainly plan to the family wants a big wedding."

Student response ranged from "go," but the general response seemed to be unconcerned or favorable. The major complaint by students is the long wait for many of them between the end of examinations and commencement.

Regional LSA Elects Officers

The Southeastern Lutheran Student Association Little Ashram Regional meeting was held at Blue Ridge Assembly, Black Mountain, N. C., April 27-29.

Officers for the 1962-1963 school year were elected. EC students elected were Carolyn Heavner, area chairman of "Frontiers," national LSA magazine, and Helen Kallio, Editor for area articles in "North Carolina Lutheran," state church magazine.

Discussions were conducted on the unghettoed gospel and Christian work inside and outside of the church.

from Virginia to Florida . . . at the meeting. . . were Carolyn Heavner, area chairman, and Miss Frances Daniels, secretary for the new term. Nixon and Mrs. Eagan are members of the Education Department faculty and Miss Daniels is a member of the faculty of the School of Business.

William Phelps

Phelps Receives Carnegie Medal For Heroism

A 28-year-old senior received one of 26 bronze medals and cash awards presented at the spring meeting of the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission in Pittsburgh, Pa., April 25.

William E. Phelps of Windsor, physical education major, was cited with the medal and a $500 cash award for his rescuing an 11-year-old boy and his attempted rescue of the boy's father in the surf off Nags Head last August.

Phelps and another Tar Heel, John Lorren of Raleigh, were among the recipients from 13 states and Ontario who received the 26 medals and a total of $11,250 in cash awards and two pensions during the Pittsburgh meeting. The commission, established by industrialist and philanthropist Andrew Carnegie in 1904, recognizes outstanding acts of heroism each year.

NCEA Honors Professor At Dinner Meeting

The college unit of the North Carolina Education Association honored Dr. Frank Fuller, recently elected NCEA vice president and long-time professor in the Education Department, at a dinner Saturday evening, April 28.

New officers of the NCEA college unit were elected at the close of the meeting.

Dr. Robert L. Holt, dean of instruction at the college, and Dr. Richard S. Spear, professor of education, spoke of Dr. Fuller's professional, civic, and community service and noted his contributions to the NCEA.

Speaking of the objectives of the United Forces for Education, in which the NCEA has a part, Dr. Fuller observed the need for more attention to the problems of higher education. North Carolina's progress in support of education and the leadership of Governor Sanford in this area have attracted the attention of school administrators across the nation, Fuller declared, as he reported on some recent experiences at a conference he attended in Chicago.

Dr. Clifford Nixon was elected president of the College NCEA organization; Mrs. Elsie Eagan, vice president; and Miss Frances Daniels, secretary for the new term. Nixon and Mrs. Eagan are members of the Education Department faculty and Miss Daniels is a member of the faculty of the School of Business.

Ladu Discusses Changes In Language Teaching

Mrs. Tora Ladu, state supervisor of foreign languages in North Carolina public schools, pointed up some of the changes that are taking place across the nation in the teaching of foreign languages at a workshop here last Saturday.

Sixty teachers of French, German, Spanish, and Latin attended the workshop, which was sponsored by the Department of Foreign Languages of the college.

Mrs. Ladu reviewed the highlights of two recently held national foreign languages conferences which she had attended. Most of the changes now taking place in instruction in this area, she said, are in line with what schools in North Carolina are emphasizing and putting into practice in the state program of quality education.

Group discussions and laboratory demonstrations directed by the foreign language faculty members were also included on the program of the workshop.

California U. Opens Speech Area For Outdoor Meetings

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPS) — The University of California's "free speech" area in the plaza of the Student Union was officially opened by university officials April 11.

The idea for the area grew out of dissatisfaction with the policy of requiring 48 hours notice of student rallies and protest demonstrations in the Dwinelle Plaza area, which has been the usual place for student groups to hold outdoor meetings.

The new area was chosen because meetings there will not interfere with classes. No notice is required of meetings scheduled for the plaza.

The area was officially opened by University Chancellor Edward W. Strong, who answered questions from the audience.

Q. "Does the recognition of Hyde Park (the name which has been used for the free speech area) mean other areas are not free speech areas?"

A. "No, but it is hoped that a tradition will be set up to hold mass debates in this area, which won't obstruct traffic or classes."

Q. "Can card-carrying Communists speak in this Hyde Park?"

A. "Any student who is Communist may speak here. There are no card-carrying Communists on the faculty."

The area also had its first impromptu speaker, when a freshman jumped on to the speakers' bench and launched into an argument against nuclear testing. He said afterward that "I wasn't planning to say anything today. I was just listening to the speakers opening the free speech area though, and when I saw the microphone was open, I decided to use it."

Impromptu speeches continued throughout the afternoon.

In the meantime, a suit has been filed against the University of California by students at its Riverside campus to contest the university's ban on Communist speakers.

The action was announced April 11 by six students at Riverside, who said they plan to file suit in Superior Court soon. The suit is aimed at a recently reaffirmed policy set by the University Board of Regents prohibiting known Communists from being invited to speak on University grounds.

Newberry, Teachey To Sing In Colorado Opera Company

Bill Newberry and Jerald Teachey have been chosen to sing in the Central City Opera Productions this summer in Central City, Colorado.

Both Newberry and Teachey are voice majors in the EC Music Department and are members of the Opera Theater of the college. They were recently heard in the Opera Theater's production of Gounod's "Faust."

Central City is an old, deserted mining town in western Colorado. The city is closed during the winter months but comes alive when the opera house opens in the summer. Artists from the Metropolitan Opera Company and the New York City Opera Company perform in more than fifty performances during the season. The opera house will be packed "house" and "out of the house" during the summer.

Parker Receives Study Scholarship

Franklin Parker was selected as having the highest grade point average in the college last year. He was awarded a study scholarship for the summer.

Mr. Parker will spend the summer at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He will study for his master's degree in the school of education.

The honor society of the college plans to hold a group meeting at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Miss Parker is a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

This is the second year a scholarship was given to a major this year. Last year, the name Ann Parkerson was given a scholarship for the summer.

Former Medical Missionary To Speak On Paraguay, Mexico Experiences

Dr. Franklin Fowler, former medical missionary to Paraguay and Mexico, will speak at the Campus Baptist Center Wednesday, May 9, 7:30 p.m.

At this informal gathering, Dr. Fowler will relate personal experiences from his work, discuss opportunities which may be open to medical personnel on the mission fields, and describe procedures which people would follow to lead them to a goal of service in some remote area in need.

His appearance at EC is the final stop in a tour of schools of nursing in North Carolina sponsored by the Department of Student Work of the Baptist State Convention.

Dr. Fowler is now medical consultant for the Southern Baptist

Foreign Mission Board; and, as such, his responsibilities include looking after the health of missionaries, working with the Board's three-area secretaries in the development of medical projects overseas, helping medical personnel arrange for advanced study while on furlough, and giving guidance in the purchasing of equipment and supplies for medical installation.

Warren, Bullock Visit VA Hospital

Dean Eva Warren and Mrs. Louise Bullock of the School of Nursing attended the Joint Affiliate Committee Meeting Friday, April 27, at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Oteen, N. C.

"As a result of the meeting," Dean Warren stated, "it is anticipated that the EC School of Nursing students will spend a summer session in 1963 at the V. A. Hospital in Oteen to study clinical facilities."

Symphonic Band Presents Annual Spring Concert

The EC Symphonic Band, in its annual spring concert yesterday, presented a series of numbers chosen for both musical excellence and popular appeal. Herbert Carter directed the program.

Opening selection was "Overture for Band" by Dr. Martin Mailman, composer in residence at EC. The work is a 1962 composition by Dr. Mailman and is one of several of his works performed at the college during the present school year.

Vincent Persichetti, well known teacher, composer, and author, who was a guest at the college during the recent N. C. Contemporary Composers Festival, was represented by his "Symphony for Band." Also included on the program was the "Good Friday Spell" from Wagner's "Parsifal" and "Jupiter" from Gustav Holst's "The Planets."

Don Gillis' "Tulsa, A Symphonic Portrait in Oil," closed the program. The four sections of the work depict the land before the white man came, the settlement of the country, the bringing in of an oil well, and, as finale, a jovial celebration including a shirt-tail parade and a square dance.

Frick Presents Senior Exhibit

Sculpture and other work in art by Wayne Thomas Frick is now being exhibited in the Kate Lewis Gallery, Rawls building.

Mr. Frick's primary interest in art lies in the field of sculpture where he has experimented with abstract and semi-abstract forms. His exhibition includes eight examples of work in this field, as well as paintings, drawings, tapestries, and prints.

His senior exhibition was prepared under the direction of Wesley V. Crawley and Dr. Wellington B. Gray of the college art department. It will be open to the public through May 5.

The Judging Committee, made up of selected faculty members from each department, will award the League of Knowledge Trophy to that senior who shows outstanding qualifications as a campus leader, who has an unblemished academic record, and who has an overall B average on all work.

'Impact Areas' Now Under Education Department Study

WASHINGTON, D. C. (UPS) — Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Abraham Ribicoff has set off a controversy with his announcement that Federal Aid to "impacted areas" may be cut off in areas which continue to practice segregation in schools.

On March 30, 1962, Ribicoff announced two impending actions in testimony before a special House Education Subcommittee.

As of September, 1963, the government will no longer regard as "suitable" for Federal grants segregated schools for children whose parents live and work on Federal military installations.

And, a Federal test suit is contemplated to challenge segregation in school districts receiving aid under the "impacted areas" program.

The announcement marks a departure from previous policy of both the Kennedy and Eisenhower administration. In the past, the executive branch has maintained that it did not have the authority for such action.

As was expected, the response in the South was immediate and adverse. However, an unexpected adverse response also came from the Justice Department. The following, a special report to University Press Service on the Justice Department stand, is dated April 17.

The Justice Department wants Congress to hold off legislation that would withhold Federal funds from segregated schools while it tries more direct action.

Burke Marshall, the Assistant Attorney General in charge of civil rights cases, says that "unless no other course is available, I question whether the withholding of funds is best adapted to achieving the desired results."

Marshall told the committee that the Justice Department does favor legislation to require school districts to achieve "first step" desegregation by a certain time. In fact, he said, congressional action implementing the 1954 Supreme Court decision "would be most helpful if there is to be significant progress in guaranteeing hundreds of thousands of children their constitutional rights."

COLE'S CORNER

By DAN RAY

Saint Andrews plays the EC golf team today at the Greenville County Club, and tomorrow the Catawba baseball team will play the Buc nine. The tennis team will play the Citadel here Saturday, and our track team will travel to Wilson for a meet with Atlantic Christian College.

Monday will see the baseball team playing the Deacons of Wake Forest and the golf team playing Elon and Guilford in a tri-meet affair in Greensboro.

Making The Moves?

As everyone can plainly see, EC is taking large strides towards expanding the Big Four to the Big Five, and this naturally includes the area of sports.

The football team is in an independent conference, waiting to fulfill its requirements for the Southern Conference. The baseball team, National N.A.I.A. champs last year, is scheduling more games with large schools such as this year's games with UNC, Wake Forest, and W & L. The tennis team meets stiff competition from such schools as Michigan State, N. C. State, Wake Forest, and Fort Eustis. The golf team is holding its own and has provided good matches for its opponents this year.

Practice — Where?

The Tennis, Football, Golf, and Baseball teams have a place to practice in order to provide the competition expected of an up-and-coming college.

How many here at EC know that the EC Track Team had to run around the stadium bleachers in order to get in shape for lack of a track on which to practice?

At the beginning of the season, there were approximately five men out for each event; but by the time the equipment could be issued, many had become discouraged and quit. After all, who ever heard of a track team, especially at a college level, without a track? We have men walking around campus who hold high school and state records and could no doubt be a definite asset to our athletic program, but they see no point in belonging to a track team without a track. Oh, there is a track. Thanks to the track coach and a college worker, the team got a makeshift track out near the proposed stadium site. They got this track four days before the meet with William and Mary, and the results showed improvement over their previous performances. EC went to Atlantic Christian with twice the team and lost by one point because of no place to practice.

Under the present conditions, the distance runners don't have a proper track on which to practice and pace themselves. It is because of this lack that we have only one shot put man and one 880 man who, incidentally, also runs the one mile and two mile events. There are only two hurdlers to handle both the high and low hurdles.

As you can see, because of the absence of a suitable track, the distance events cannot hope to be up to par. To cite an example, let's take the William & Mary track meet. EC didn't place in the 880, the mile, the two mile, and the low hurdles.

This in itself is enough evidence to convince any on-looker that there is need for a big move in this area before we knock on the door of the Big Four. You only run as fast as you can bring up the rear.

Stepping into one for another boost to his batting average is Merrill Bynum. Bynum, throws and swings at the plate with his right side. Blessed with powerful arms, he is a valuable asset to the team both at the plate and in rightfield, his regular position. Merrill is currently batting .339.

Nat Green Pitches Shutout As Pirates Wallop ACC 6-0

East Carolina defeated Atlantic Christian 6-0 as Nathan Green pitched a five hit shutout. Green's performance at the mound was exceptional as he struck out five and walked four. Two of the five hits Green allowed were infield hits in the first inning; and the other three hits were scattered, each in a different inning.

Bobby Joyce, Pirate centerfielder, had his finest day at the plate hitting 4 for 4. He scored two runs and drove in one. Spencer Gaylord, Carlton Barnes, Merrill Bynum, and Charlie Johnson each contributed two hits to the Buc attack. Johnson led the RBI department with two.

The Pirates opened their scoring in the top of the third when Bobby Joyce started things off with a bunt single. He advanced to second on Nathan Greene's sacrifice. Gaylord and Barnes singled to load the bases, and Lacy West drove in the first run on a fielder's choice. Bynum walked to load the bases again, and Kidd also walked to force in the second run. Charlie Johnson singled to right to drive in two more runs.

In the top of the sixth, Junior Green opened the inning with a triple off the left field wall at the 350 mark. Bobby Joyce followed with a double to right center driving in Junior Green. Gaylord singled to drive home Joyce for the final run. With the win over ACC, the Bucs brought their season's record to 9-7 and their conference record to 5-3. The Pirates' next game will be played at Guy Smith Stadium Saturday against Catawba. A three day road trip will follow the game Saturday night. The Bucs leave to travel to Wake Forest for a game Monday, a game with High Point Tuesday, and a game with Elm Wednesday.

Buc Netmen Win 46th Consecutive Conference Tilt

The Buc tennis team won their 46th straight conference match when they downed High Point 7-0. The Pirate netmen won all of the events in gaining their victory. In the singles division, Tanner topped Henry Tonn 6-4, 6-1, Dunn downed Wayne Furman 6-4, 7-5. Bain Shaw won over Craig Ford 6-0, 6-1, Mike Star over Ken Foddrell 6-1, 6-1, and Jerry Muecke over Paul Smith 6-0, 6-1.

EC also took all of the doubles events as Tanner and Dunn took Tonn and Ford 6-1, 6-4 and the combination of Shaw and Starr took Furman and Smith 6-3, 6-1.
