WELCOME ALUMNI

Here It Comes! Homecoming 1965

By DONNA ROBERSON

For everyone it comes only once a year. The time is now, and it is Homecoming 1965!

For hundreds of alumni, it is a long-awaited visit to East Carolina, an alma mater which has been and is constantly changing — changing so that to many people it is like a stranger.

For students here, Homecoming is a schedule of events which vies for top place among other weekend-long activities of the year. Homecoming brings the shock that Fall Quarter is almost over.

For Linda Daniels, Homecoming Queen of 1964, it is memories of last year and crowning a new beauty to reign over the festivities.

The special guest for this Homecoming will be North Carolina Senator B. Everette Jordan, who will crown the 1965 Homecoming Queen.

As is always true, this year will be even better than last year. The parade, the entertainment, and the half-time show are centered around the theme "Roaring through the Twenties." Old Model-T cars will be part of the parade. "Sebastian and the House Rockers" will wear appropriate costumes.

For the first time there are two nights of concert. The internationally famous "Platters" are being featured. Guests of kings and presidents, their yearly itinerary reads like a world atlas.

The program of these "fabulous five" will be an encore of their hits — "The Great Pretender," "Twilight Time," "Only You," "My Prayer," and "Heaven on Earth," to name a few.

Special recognition is due the various committees who have worked to make Homecoming a reality. The committees and their chairmen are as follows: Parade, Steve Snite-man; Luncheon, Jean Joyner; Dance, Sylvia Howell and Gus Lammond; Decorations, Jo Anne House and Jim Barefoot; Bonfire, Scotty Scott; Football Half-time, Bob Kerlin; Publicity, Clara Katsias; Queen, Lelia Carter and Dave Raynor. These committees, headed by Joan Powell, have been working for this weekend since last spring.

Everything is set — and the word is GO!

Pirates Play Lenoir Rhyne; Bears Support 5-2 Record

By DANNY SAIEED

The East Carolina Pirates play their homecoming game on Saturday, November 6 at 2 p.m. against Lenoir Rhyne in Ficklen Memorial Stadium. So far this season the Pirates have a 5-1 record losing only to Furman.

Clarence Stasavich, head coach of the Pirates, stated the probable lineup is for offense: End, Grimes and Odem; Tackle, McRae and Cobb; Guard, Moran; Center, Crew; Tailback, Richardson; Fullback, Alexander; Blocking back, Norman Swindell; and Wingback, Grant.

For the defensive team: Ends, Schwarz and McPhaul; Tackles, Schwarz and DeGrange; Guards, Andrews and Cannon; Linebacker, Glaetli; Rover, Bullard; Halfback, Hicks and Hughes; and Safety, Ellis.

Coach Stasavich commented, "Our defense is good, scoring like we did last year — about 25 points a game." Bill Bailey, Neil Linker, and Thomas Grant will all play in Saturday's game after recovering from injuries received in the game against Northeast Louisiana.

Lenoir Rhyne is leading the Carolinas Conference with a 4-0 record. The Bears overall record is 5 wins and 2 losses against Wofford and Fredrick College.

Hanley Rainter, head coach at Lenoir Rhyne has a young, but experienced team this year. In all, the Bears had 19 lettermen returning this year with at least two experienced men to return to most positions. Among these returnees, Painter has only two returning Seniors.

The 19 lettermen that returned this year are Herb Arteaga, End; David Elsler, End; Bo Forehand, End; Terry Shankle, End; Ed Joyner, Tackler; Richare McGhee, Guard; Jim Signon, Guard; Ed Walke, Guard; Henry Graham, Center; Larry Helms, Senter; Charlie Heye, Wingback.

Parade Displays 18 Floats

By DIANE EGNOR

The Homecoming parade this year promises to be one of the best ever seen at East Carolina College.

The theme "Roaring Thru the Twenties" is well represented by the use of twelve antique cars donated by various car clubs for the parade.

There will be 90 units in all including eighteen floats representing 6 organizations, 8 Fraternities, and 4 Sororities.

The floats will be judged prior to the parade, and also during the course of the parade by five prominent people from the Greenville area. Trophies will be given for the best float in each division.

There will be a number of cars containing dignitaries, who include Leo Jenkins, President of ECC; Senator Everette Jordan; Vice President, and Mrs. Robert Holt; F. D. Duncan, Business Manager; Mr. & Mrs. Rudolph Alexander; Mr. & Mrs. James Mallory; and a good many other prominent faculty members. Also riding will be Miss Linda Daniels, 1964 Homecoming Queen; Lester Ridenhouse, President of Alumni; and Janice Hardison, Director of Alumni.

The parade starts at 10 a.m. Saturday, and marches through town ending up at Fifth Street. So let's all get out and support the team and help ECC "roar" to victory.

Office Of The President

Dear Alumni and Visitors:

All of us look forward to Homecoming for it is an occasion that affords us an opportunity to visit again with our many friends. I want to welcome the thousands of loyal Pirate boosters who will be joining our alumni this weekend. To the partisan friends of Lenoir Rhyne we extend our heartfelt welcome.

It is our hope that the teams from East Carolina and Lenoir Rhyne will continue their rivalry for many years to come. On the football field East Carolina College and Lenoir Rhyne are strong rivals. Off the field they are partners with the other fine colleges in North Carolina in an endeavor to make our nation stronger through athletics. East Carolina College is proud to join with Lenoir Rhyne and our other great institutions of higher learning in developing an athletic and academic environment that will provide increasing opportunities for the legions of young men and women who will be attending these institutions.

We are proud of the increasing interest shown by our alumni in our many activities. Numbers of fine students have come to us upon the recommendation of our alumni. These former students are in effect our best salesmen, and I can assure them that all of us are doing everything in our power to justify the many splendid reports being made throughout the state and nation regarding our growth here at East Carolina.

Again, welcome and may your visits be more frequent.

Sincerely,

Leo W. Jenkins, President

A Welcome . . .

Homecoming is, each and every year, a special time for the students of East Carolina College. It is a time to receive into our community persons who have come and gone. . . persons who have special interests in our institution. . . and persons of good will, who work and wish for our success in the process of learning.

Homecoming 1965, is of greater importance to the students of this college. This means that the school has progressed not only to another point in time but with each succeeding year at East Carolina, to a greater stature in the world about ourselves.

The student body is indebted to the many persons who have made Homecoming 1965 possible. And we are indeed pleased that another year at this school is underway with such success.

We wish to extend a warm welcome to visitors in our surroundings this weekend, in hopes that you will enjoy your stay, make new friends, and return soon.

A 'New' College Student . . .

"WHEN one spends too much time traveling, one becomes at last a stranger at home. . ." Rene Descartes' words must contain truth for many persons in many situations. But, on an occasion such as a homecoming at college, these words contain a special meaning.

These words, for many persons, mean that the students and the atmosphere of college life have changed. Upon one's returning, there may be little relationship to the old alma mater. There is a "new" college life in the making.

Shaggy hair, beards, pickets and riots are the noticed forms and the radical forms of this new college life. But these forms of expression do not make up the bulk and blood of the "new" college life.

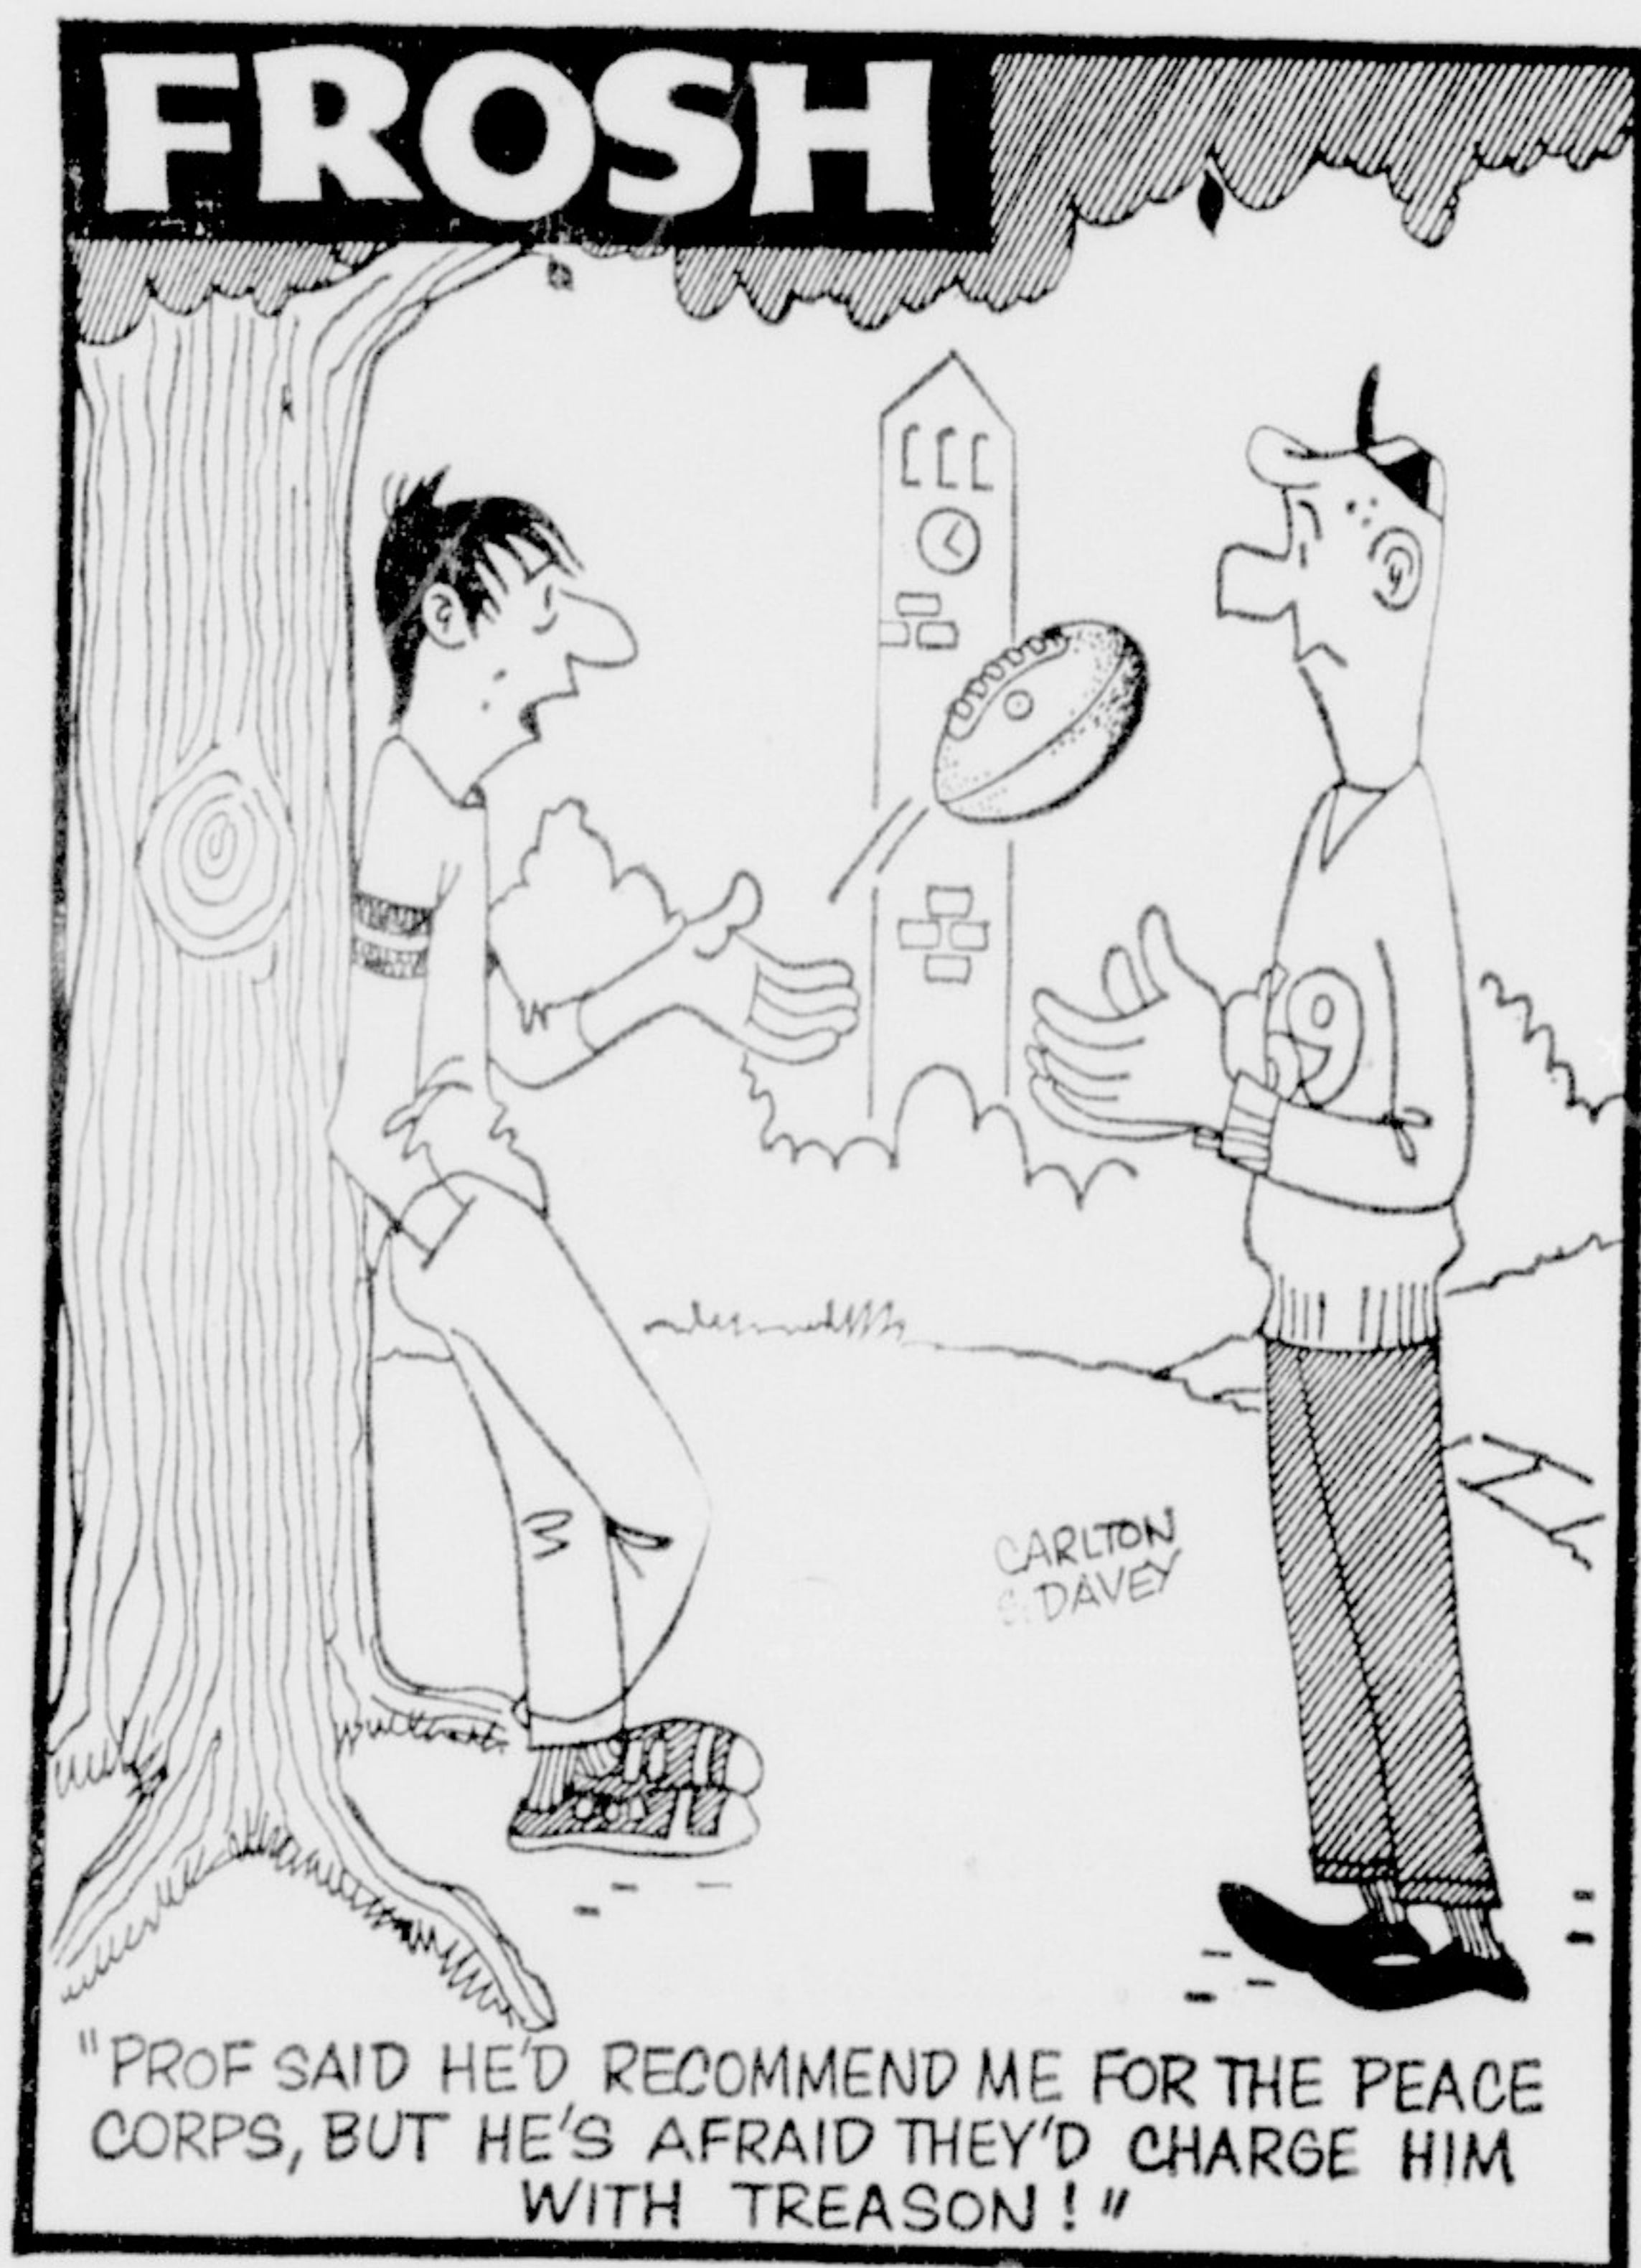

The new college life is not composed of "ninety-nine percent perspiration and one percent inspiration. . . but the final one percent has transformed itself into straight thinking. Logic is the goal of the serious "new" college student. It is not astounding to the student of the "new" college life that he suddenly discovers that two and two equals four. . . but why. This is what the student is constantly asking himself and the world in which he exists.

Questioning his environment with the word "why" is not unique in the "new" college life. It is true, however, that the college students of this generation have realized that they as individuals and as a group have a voice.

This newly discovered voice is played with at times, much as if students were children with new toys. This is unfortunate. But soon, the students of the "new" college life will fit their newly found voice into its proper perspective and use it with skill.

There are many times, however, that college students of this generation have used their voices with superb skill. The students of the "new" college life have led the way to the equality of all races in the United States. And the United States has thus led the world in inter-relationships of races within a single nation. On many occasions it was the student voice that spoke of the racial situation with the most clarity and truth.

The world's eyes constantly receive images from its youth. Often the image received has been a true image and conversely, oft times the image has been false. But, no matter what image was made by the students of the "new" college life, on the minds of the more mature citizens of the world, an impression was made and action on many occasions has been spontaneous. The student voice is the most widely heard and one of the most heeded voices on this good Earth.

When the government recently ordered federal registrars into South Carolina they probably also braced themselves for a verbal lashing from Senator Strom Thurmond. But another palmetto state politico beat Thurmond to the punch. The Rev. I. D. Newman informed Washington that Negroes in his state need no outside help in registering to vote.

Are American's Communists?

Dear Attorney General Katzenbach:

The Associated Press on October 13, 1965, stated, concerning the demonstrations, speeches and teach-ins against our war in Vietnam, that you had said:

Whenever you have a situation in which people are saying things similar to what is being said by Peking, you are likely to find some Communists involved in it.

If so, they appear in good company. Many American citizens abhor our part in the war in Vietnam and participated in the recent demonstrations sponsored by the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). Yes, Mr. Katzenbach, there may have been some Communists among them and even some Democrats, some Republicans and some Socialists involved; also some Catholics, some Jews and some Protestants and some ministers, some priests and some rabbis may have been involved.

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK

"A just war must serve an end whose good outweighs the evils war involves; its methods must be national and legitimate; and it must offer the cause of justice a reasonable chance of victory. Those who question of the Vietnam war on such grounds can certainly be answered."

This month's "Perceptive Ability of a Tree Stump Award" goes to former Governor Luther Hodges. Speaking to Tarheel Democrats last week in Asheville, he attributed the resurgence of the Ku Klux Klan in North Carolina to "Goldwaterism."

This could only be in reference to the GOP nominee's Civil Rights position. Yet, Hodges must know that there are fourteen prominent Democrats in North Carolina who have also taken a similar position on the subject: our governor, two senators, and eleven congressmen. Conclusion: we want to set aside partisan politics and view the situation realistically — North Carolina Democrats have spread at least fourteen times as much "Goldwaterism," as Goldwater did.

Liberal Logic Dept. For years the present Vice President of the United States has been a relentless advocate of mass foreign aid regardless of our rising debt and depleting gold reserves at home. Two weeks ago in a speech defending our present domestic spending he posed this question: "If we can support foreign countries why can't we take care of our own?" — round and round we go!

Incentive for what? Columnist Paul Harvey recently made this observation. Our government allows the hardworking taxpayer, $600 a year to rear a legitimate child — while the Welfare Dept. will give an individual $800 a year to take care of an illegitimate child.

The United States and certain allies have agreed to sell nuclear reactors to Communist bloc nations. The State Department says that these reactors must be used only for peaceful purposes. We know that and our allies know that but . . .

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

Last Wednesday night, a strange thing happened to me. Since it could happen to any male on campus, I thought you should be warned.

Last Wednesday, at 8:20 p.m., I went to the gymnasium to take my weekly swim. I humbly donned my swimming trunks, took the required shower, and meekly climbed the spiral staircase to the pool. As I opened the door to the pool, I noticed that only one other male was in the pool. Several mermaids were happily thrashing about under the glowing lights. Being of sound mind (although I am an ex-Marine), I joyfully surveyed the situation and prepared to plunge in. However, no sooner had I approached the edge of the pool than I felt my blood freeze. A voice that would make a D. I. tremble said, "Hold it boy!" I looked up and saw a delicate 6'3" female amazon glowering at me. "You can't swim for six more minutes," she bellowed. You can understand that I agreed with her wholeheartedly. Seeing my terror, this misguided Medusa then decided to press her luck. As softly as she could she screamed, "You'll have to leave the pool area. You can't wait by the edge. Go on!" I bravely stood up on all fours and said — nothing. What can you say to such overwhelming rhetoric?

I have investigated the situation, and have discovered that males are not permitted in the pool for the first hour on Wednesdays. Stupid little old me! I just didn't read the carefully prepared bulletin board. This bulletin board positively guarantees every student at least five minutes in the pool each quarter. What self-respecting, decent, flag-waving student could ask for more? After all, the physical education department has certainly been doing its job. Just look at the football team. Unfortunately, as I do not have hair on the palms of my hands (figuratively speaking, of course), I can't enjoy the benefits of many of nature's animals. But, I would like to go swimming now and then. Perhaps, if it isn't too much trouble, the head of the pool could open it up a few minutes on Mondays, Fridays, and Saturdays for the benefit of the men and women who make up the minor part of ECC known fictitiously as the "student body" Amen.

The Platters Give Double Treat

Platters Celebrate Tenth Anniversary

By BILL ANTHONY

Homecoming entertainment will be highlighted by the appearance of "The Platters" Friday night at 7 and Saturday night at 8:15 in Memorial Gymnasium.

The internationally famous "Platters" have traveled to almost every country in the world and is one of the most traveled vocal groups in show business. Since their 1955 recording of Buck Ram's "Only You," the group has skyrocketed to fame and fortune.

B'ds poured in from the best of American itineraries and after the second smash, "The Great Pretender" (another Buck Ram song) they found themselves with the Billboard Triple Crown Award, a movie role in the first Rock 'n Roll movie, "Rock Around the Clock" and the beginning of a hectic global schedule.

With such hits as "You've Got the Magic Touch," "You'll Never Know" and "I'm Sorry," they went on to produce NINE Gold Records, and a still popular million-seller album, "Encore of Golden Hits." That they are one of the most enduringly popular groups can not be denied.

Celebrating their 10th year in show business, The Platters have just released their latest Mercury LP - Anniversary Album. It contains some of their great tunes of the past, and in honor of their anniversary their old friend, Buck Ram has produced a special original for them—"Anniversary."

The quintet has made only two replacements during the ten years it has performed. They have replaced Tony Williams with Sonny Turner, and more recently, Zola Taylor has been replaced by Barbara Randolph.

Barbara is a petite, lovely, and glittering personality, who captures audiences with her talent and sparkle.

Born and schooled in Los Angeles, California, she is an only child and the product of a show business family. Her mother, Lillian Randolph, has performed in "The Great Gildersleeve," "The Beulah Show," and "The Amos 'n Andy Show." Her aunt has played Louise in the Danny Thomas Show for the past ten years. And her uncle, Steve Gibson, is famed as the leader of the "Red Caps."

Barbara herself had already achieved wide acclaim, having toured lavish clubs and hotels in this country and the far east (Japan, Okinawa, Formosa, etc.). She has also proven herself as an actress in MGM's movie, Bright Road, and in several television shows.

Sonny (Charles Arnold) Turner comes from Cleveland, Ohio. He is the group's first tenor. A graduate of the amateur contests, he has been in various areas of show business since the age of 14. As a single he toured many of the popular clubs in Canada where he was quite popular. He later returned to the U. S. A. to make some nightclub and television appearances before joining the Platters.

Paul Robi, the group's baritone, hails from New Orleans, Louisiana. A nine-year piano student, he worked as a single in clubs before joining the Platters. He writes songs, arranges, and is generally a showman with finesse. He is also a proficient interior decorator, and during the rare in-active moments of The Platters, he directs his talent toward glamorizing his home. Paul has a flair for emcee work and acts as spokesman for the group.

Herbert Reed, the bass man, is small of stature but big of voice. He has a great sense of humor; he impersonates famous people, and his whistling could put a lark to shame. A native of Kansas City, Missouri, he once sang with the famous "Wings Over Jordan" choir. He reads a great deal.

David Lynch does the lead in most of the group's "jump numbers." He is fond of dancing and equally fond of food. With his money, he says he would like to buy a restaurant some day.

IT'S ALL GREEK

Time Draws Close For Festivites

All Greek organizations on the campus will be participating in homecoming activities in one way or another this weekend. Many fraternities and sororities have been busy for the last week preparing floats and yard decorations.

Others have sponsors for homecoming queen and other beauty titles in the running for homecoming titles.

The Tri Sigmas are busy preparing for the festivities at 803 E. 5th Street. Hopefully, the mass of lumber and chicken wire clustering the front yard will turn into a yard decoration. With the Homecoming Theme "Roaring thru the Twenties" the Sigmas will be saluting the "Grand Ole Era of Prohibition".

The traditional brunch and come party will welcome alumnae, dates, and guests at parade time, 10 o'clock, on Saturday. Music will be provided by the "Playboys".

The AOPi's are busy preparing for float competition in an effort to once again capture the first place trophy they won last year.

Sigma Chi Alpha's will be having a party on Saturday night at Badkins's featuring the Empalas.

Lambda Chi's have a homecoming party planned for Saturday night also with music by the Weejuns. The fraternity claims to host more alumni than any other fraternity on campus and will have a weekend of alumni activities planned, including the organizational meeting on Saturday of their Alumni Association.

Delta Zetas have been busy for over a week with their homecoming salutes including both a yard decoration and a float.

Phi Kappa Tau's will probably come up with some type of participation in the parade celebrating the end of Woman Hater Week.

Chi Omegas have an Alumni Breakfast planned for Sunday morning in honor of returning sisters.

These activities represent only a few of the "goings on" at ECC this weekend within the Greek system. Similar parties, parade competition, and yard decorations will be presented by individual fraternal organizations the campus over.

Theta Chi's and friends enjoy socializing while working on float for homecoming parade.

Alpha Xi Delta Extends Thanks

Appreciation to participants and congratulations to winners in the Alpha Xi All-Sing were extended this week by members of Alpha Xi Delta.

A special thanks was given to the judges, the master of ceremonies, Bill Deal, radio station WECC, and any others who were instrumental in the production of the All-Sing.

Because of the over-crowding in Austin, the sisters are planning to secure Wright Building for next year's production of the show.

The All-Sing has increased in popularity each year since its innovation and is fast becoming one of the highlights of the Greek Society on the ECC campus. It is a general consensus of all fraternal groups that the Alpha Xi's should be commended on the All-Sing success and its contribution to inter-fraternal relations across the campus.

The Royal Winnipeg Ballet Company will be appearing in Wright Auditorium Tuesday, Nov. 9, at 8:15 p.m. Tickets are available in the Central Ticket Office in Wright Building.

'Phi Tau Hates Women?'

By LINDA EVANS

Phi Kappa Tau's have continued with their success from last year in Woman Hater Week. The new innovation as a build-up to homecoming weekend has made a big hit on campus and will be justly continued as an annual affair.

The week prior to homecoming has been set aside by the Phi Tau brothers as a time in which no one will speak to women. None of the brothers will be clean shaven during the period as another offense to the campus coeds.

The brother who is caught speaking to women accumulates points and at the end of the week, the brother with the most points and the second runner-up are hung from one of the trees on the mall and subjected to flying tomatoes, eggs and any other objects of the kind.

At the beginning of the week this year, the brothers visited all sorority houses during the night and planted signs depicting their thoughts on the subject of women in the lawns. Blue and white toilet tissue was strung from the houses and trees as an added delight for the women residents.

The Phi Tau fraternity house is considered "off limits" during the week. Surrounded by a barricade of barbed wire, the house itself is covered with signs declaring "To Hell With Women," "Who Needs 'Em", and "Phi Tau Hates Women."

A cage is situated on the premises for the capture of any coed brave enough to venture in the vicinity.

The week usually ends on Thursday around 6 o'clock when the beards come off and the Phi Taus resume their normal activities which to a great extent include the women previously sworn off.

Chi Omega's find it necessary to employ the services of a man for rough work in building float for homecoming.

ALPHA XI DELTA
Alpha Xi Sandy Britt is one of the finalists for Homecoming Queen. Nettie Gard, Greek Editor for the year, was a delegate to San Francisco for the College Press Convention.

Appreciation was extended by the Alpha Xi's to the Phi Kappas and the Phi Tau's for recent socials.

AOPi
The sisters of Alpha Omicron Pi enjoyed a visit last week from two National Traveling Secretaries. They were Karen Peeler and Wendie Noxlin.

The AOPi's are now the proud holders of the title of champions in the sorority division in volleyball. They also came in second at the Lambda Chi Field Day.

SIGMA CHI ALPHA
Sandy McLennan, a Delta Zeta, will be representing the Sigma Chi festivities this weekend.

ALPHA DELTA PI
Mrs. Russell Allen, Grand Vice-president of Collegiate Chapters for Alpha Delta Pi, is visiting the ECC chapter of the sorority this week. She arrived on Wednesday and left on Friday. Mrs. Allen was accompanied by her husband.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON
During the Bloodmobile visit, some twenty Sig Epp brothers and pledges gave blood. In the future the bloodmobile visit will be a major project for the brothers. They are also taking an active interest in the United Fund Campaign this month.

Sportwise, the Sig Epps now boast a 4-1 record in intramural volleyball defeating the Phi Epsilon Kappas and losing a close third game to Phi Kappa Phi.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA
The Pi Kappa Alphas entertained the Sigmas at a social Wednesday night.

Marching Pirates Salute Old South

East Carolina's popular 146-piece band, the Marching Pirates, is preparing for a colorful halftime show for spectators attending the EC's homecoming football game, scheduled Saturday at 2 p.m., the football team will square off in the Rhyne College of Hickory Creek Stadium. The Marching Pirates' halftime show is scheduled for 3 o'clock.

Using the 1965 homecoming theme, "Roaring Through the Twenties," the band, under the direction of George W. Knight Jr. and Herbert L. Carter, will present a program geared around college activities in the 1920's.

Led by drum major Marc Duggens of Whiteville and head majorette Frankie Lamm of Greenville, the band members represent 38 counties in North Carolina and states of Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia.

Making its second Homecoming appearance is EC's Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Clyde Hiss. The glee club will sing Dixie while the Marching Pirates form the Confederate flag. The men's Glee Club will end halftime activities by singing our Alma Mater.

Pirates Meet Bears In Battle Of Single Wings

By RANDY RYAN
Sports Editor

(Ed. Note — I have begun a program of exchange between newspapers of pre-game stories about the various teams East Carolina will face. This is the first such story by Sports Editor Butch Scott of the Lenoir Rhyne. I will give the East Carolina side of the story.)

The Pirates meet the Bears of Lenoir Rhyne Saturday in high gear, coming off their smashing 45-0 victory over Northeast Louisiana last week. Dave Alexander comes into the game as both the total offensive leader and scoring leader in the Southern Conference.

Everything seems to be in top shape for the Pirates as they prepare for the homecoming game. Injured Bill Bailey, Neel Linker, and Tom Grant, will be ready for action if needed. The Pirates have shown a great improvement in each game beginning with Louisville, when two dominant figures began to emerge. George Richardson came into his own when he filled in for the injured Bailey at Louisville, and he seems to get better every week. End Rufin Odom wasn't even a starter prior to the Louisville game but has suddenly blossomed out into the Pirate's star receiver.

Richardson & Odom

Richardson played a great game along with Alexander last week, rolling up 103 yards on the ground to lead the Pirates, and hurling for 114 yards in the air. Taking charge three weeks ago at the tailback position, George looks like a sure bet to hold the spot even with Bailey's return, which leaves Stas with the delightful problem of having two fine tailbacks. Richardson was the Southern Conference Back of The Week last week for his performance against The Citadel. Odom caught 6 passes for 111 yards last week to increase his offensive total to 18 passes caught for 266 yards. He caught 6 passes the week before against The Citadel also.

Alexander Leader

Dave Alexander jumped into the scoring lead with his three touchdowns to put him at the head of the department with 60 points. Last year Dave set the conference scoring record unofficially with 96 points. Alexander also grabbed off the total offense lead with 86 yards on the ground and 117 yards in the air. He now leads the conference with 1044 yards, three more than his season total for last year. Once again Alexander will be used as the basic offensive weapon of the Stavich Single Wing.

Defense Jells

The defense came into its own against Northeast and it looks like they will be tough to beat from here on in. The secondary should contain the Bear's passing attack and the line will have an advantage over Lenoir Rhyne.

The big question will be, how will the Lenoir Rhyne single wing affect the Pirates. Usually the Bears have played teams unfamiliar with the single wing and thus gain an advantage by their opponents' unfamiliarity with how the offense operates. But now we face a team that understands the offense of the single wing and knows how to defend it. There may be a surprise in store for the Pirates but I think they will make the homecoming complete with their sixth victory of the season.

George Richardson, Dave Alexander, and Norm Swindell combine in the backfield that gained 452 yards last week. They will start off Saturday.

Homecoming Foes Primed For Upset

By BUTCH SCOTT

The upset-minded Lenoir Rhyne Bears will roll into Ficklen Stadium Saturday afternoon with high expectations of darkening East Carolina's homecoming.

The Bears boast an undefeated 4-0 record in Carolinas Conference play, while over-all Lenoir Rhyne has a 4-2 mark. The toughest opponents seem to be behind the Bears, with only Elon and Catawba remaining on the schedule.

Saturday's contest marks the fourth meeting of the Bears and the Pirates since Clarence Stavich left Lenoir Rhyne to become head coach at ECC. The Pirates hold a slight 2-1 edge over Coach Hanley Painter's charges since Painter took over the head coaching reins in 1962.

Lenoir Rhyne employs a potent single-wing attack with numerous running and passing plays. Wayne Bell, a 205-pound fullback, is the workhorse of the Bear backfield. Besides leading the conference in rushing, Bell has tallied for 54 points in six outings and has punted for an average of 40.3 yards-per-kick. Bell adds excellent passing to his many abilities, making him the most versatile man in the backfield. Wingback Charlie Heve is quick and has good balance. Heve is the kick-off and punt return specialist and shares the punting duties with a 40.6 yard average.

End Neel McGeachy is the most popular Bear receiver. The 180-pound senior has hauled in 17 aerials for 390 yards and 3 touchdowns. The forward wall will be considerably weakened with the loss of guard Jim Sigmon who is out for the season with a broken jaw.

The L. R. defensive unit has been the key to the team's success as it has thwarted the opponent's offensive attack. Tackles Ed Joyner and Eric Vivian have been the most consistently outstanding linemen. A 210-pound junior, Vivian merited all-conference last season as a fullback and has continued his stellar performances at defensive tackle. In brief appearances at fullback this season, Vivian has blasted out an average of 5 yards-per-carry. Joyner has fortified the right side of the line with his hard and aggressive play. The 205-pound sophomore also handles the kick-off chore.

The defensive secondary is headed by junior Mike Campbell, who has the ability to make many timely interceptions. Campbell is also one of the leading ground gainers at his wingback position. Neel McGeachy and freshman Kelly Rudisill round out the secondary.

With only four seniors on the squad, Lenoir Rhyne will offer a young, aggressive team that will give the Pirates plenty of trouble.

James Apple picks:
Florida St. over Wake Forest
Duke over N. C. State
East Carolina over Lenoir Rhyne
Davidson over Leigh
Virginia over South Carolina
Maryland over Navy
William and Mary over The Citadel
Georgia Washington over Furman
Alabama over LSU
Tennessee over Georgia Tech
VMI over Richmond
West Virginia over Virginia Tech
Notre Dame over Pitt

This past week in Kenan Stadium Danny Talbott topped the old offensive record in a single game for the Tar Heels. Talbott's total offense totaled 313 yards bettering the total set by Charlie Justice in 1948. Both marks were set while playing Georgia but Carolina did not fare too well in this contest as they were defeated by a score of 47-35.

Baby Bucs Seek Winning Season...

By RANDY RYAN

The East Carolina Baby Bucs close out their season Saturday against the University of Richmond freshman. After a slow start the Baby Bucs have come on strong to thrash their last two opponents, Davidson 39-6, and Newport News Apprentice 48-7. Now with a record of 2-2, the Pirates travel to Richmond for the game that will decide whether or not they will have a winning season.

Little has been written about the Baby Bucs this year, but the boys deserve recognition for the fine job they have done. These boys are the stars of the Pirates of tomorrow, the ones who will fill in for the graduating seniors who won't be around next year. The club is playing some fine football now, it just took two games for the team to jell as a unit and mature as a team. Any freshman club faces this problem of throwing new men together from all over the state.

The leaders have put up a strong showing in both defense and offense as witnessed by the statistics in the last two games. Against Davidson the team gained 413 yards of total offense and against Apprentice they rolled up 435 yards of total offense. The team needs only one more touchdown to break the season scoring record of 92 points. They now have 87 points.

The offensive leaders on the Baby Bucs have followed in the Pirate tradition of a strong fullback and a tailback who can both pass and run with skill. Allen Hall, the power driving fullback of the Baby Bucs has rushed for 170 yards in the last two games. Tailback Mike Bridges had 167 yards of total offense against Newport News and tailback Dennis Young shared the credit for the victory with 98 yards through the air on completing 6 out of 10 passes.

Bucs Have Good Receivers

The Baby Bucs are loaded with good receivers, with Bob Withrow leading the pack with 10 passes for 212 yards and two touchdowns. End Jimmy Atkins has snagged 15 passes for a total of 202 yards and a touchdown. Blocking back Charlie Overton has caught 7 passes for 105 yards and a touchdown while tight end Johnny Johnson gained 83 yards on 8 catches.

While the Bucs have a strong offense, much of the credit for the last two victories must also go to the defense. In the last two games the defense has intercepted 3 passes. Dave Meadows leads the Pirates in interceptions with three and Jeff Wayne has two, one for a touchdown on the return. Mitchell McIntosh has an interception and Jim Floe has one which he returned for 31 yards. Floe has been doing an outstanding job as the rover.

The defense has done an excellent job in containing the opposition and forcing the backs into mistakes. The defense took the ball away from the opposition 13 times on interceptions and fumbles in the last two games.

The Richmond freshmen have played one game so far, a 28-20 loss to V.M.I. The Spiders are tough though, especially since they are playing at home on Parent's Day. The Baby Bucs are now a different team and as Coach Henry Vansant, the man responsible for molding the boys into a strong unit with polish and precision, says "The boys now have pride in themselves, they want to play football and have put aside the secondary things in order to make themselves a ball club with confidence and pride in their ability."

Starting Lineups for Richmond Game, 2:00 p.m. Saturday.
