EC Pres. Orders Suspension Of Sigma Nu & Pika Frats

Repeated violation of campus and fraternity rules led to Thursday's indefinite suspension of East Carolina College chapters of Pi Kappa Alpha and Sigma Nu national fraternities.

The suspension, ordered Thursday afternoon by President Leo W. Jenkins, gives the two chapters until Monday to vacate their fraternity houses — Sigma Nu at 411 W. Fifth St. and PiKA at 47 E. Fifth St.

It also carries a stipulation that neither fraternity may be considered for renewal of chapter status at East Carolina before the fall of 1967.

The EC Sigma Nu Eta Beta chapter had 45 members and the PiKAs numbered 53. Each fraternity house had some 20 residents who can be accommodated elsewhere, according to college sources.

Dr. Jenkins told the local chapters of their suspension Thursday and immediately notified national headquarters of PiKA and Sigma Nu via telegram.

He said the suspensions were made necessary by the chapters' "gross violation" of mutual college-fraternity standards.

That included, he said, "major infractions" of rules and regulations, including "drinking and excessive misconduct."

Dean of Men James B. Mallory said the action "is a culmination of many incidents which have occurred during the past few years."

A spokesman for the campus fraternities' self-government organization, Inter-Fraternity Council President Woody Hogg of Williamsburg, Va., said IFC leaders "deeply regret that this had to happen, but we do stand behind the administration."

In a statement explaining the suspension action, Dr. Jenkins said:

"I am a firm believer in the value of fraternity life and I am very proud of our fraternity system. We have for many years, functioned under the policy of expecting all extracurricular organizations to live within the rules and regulations of their respective organizations.

In many cases, these regulations are adopted by the members of such organizations. When any group elects to disregard its own set of standards of conduct, as well as those required by the college, we have no alternative other than to request their suspension. We have been obliged to do this in the case of Sigma Nu and of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity."

Dean Mallory said, "The action and behavior of these two fraternities have been in gross disregard of established policies as set forth by the Inter-Fraternity Council and East Carolina College. We deeply regret the necessity of such stringent action but it is in the best interest of the college and our fraternity system on campus."

Suspension of the Sigma Nu and PiKA fraternities leaves East Carolina with eight social fraternities, including seven chapters and one colony. They are Alpha Epsilon Pi, Kappa Alpha Order, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Kappa Tau, Pi Kappa Pi, Sigma Chi Alpha (colony of Sigma Phi Epsilon and Theta Chi.

EC Poetry Forum Attends Workshop

Members of the East Carolina Poetry Forum read at the Writers Workshop meeting in Raleigh, Tuesday, March 1.

They were invited by Sam Ragan, executive news editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, to appear as guest readers of the Writers Workshop at Erdahl-Cloyd Union on the N. C. State University campus.

Heading the delegation of poets were Forum director, Dr. Walter Blackstock, and the assistant director, Vernon A. Ward. Dr. Blackstock and Ward are members of the EC English faculty.

Reading with the directors were Robert Daniel Cowley, Carol Ann Hallman, Robert Mann, Michael Poesy, Robert Rand, and Tina Zarembo.

An audience of approximately 75 persons heard Forum members read their poems. Constructive and complimentary criticism was offered to individual poets from members of the workshop.

ROGER WILLIAMS

Distinctive Concert Pianist Performs Before Students

Roger Williams, the famed "Mr. Piano" who has broken attendance records all over the United States and Canada, will appear in a one-night performance in Memorial Gymnasium on Thursday at 8:15 p.m.

The Kapp recording artist, who first rose to fame ten years ago with the three-million seller, "Autumn Leaves," has averaged one million album sales every year since.

Although he takes time to do a limited amount of appearances on television, Roger Williams' first loves are recordings and personal appearances. Like many of his contemporary performers, "Mr. Piano" loves a live audience. "Maybe some of my off-beat humor would do better with some sound track laughter," says Williams "but give me the warmth of a great audience—there's no substitute."

Before leaving his home "which isn't easy, with a lovely wife and three children," he comments, to make one of his annual tours, Williams trains very much as he did when he was a lightweight boxing champion in the Navy. In his personal gymnasium, he carries on a vigorous "physical fitness" program, even to becoming an apt pupil in Judo and Karate.

"Many of my tours take me as many as ten thousand miles in a very few weeks," says Williams. "This is hard work, and I do have a concert to play—sometimes two—nearly every night. Believe me, you have to be fit!" The program must pay off, too—he is proud of his record of having missed only one concert in his career—and that was because he was "grounded" in a snow storm in the midwest.

Roger Williams, a favorite of three U.S. Presidents, is also the most versatile and distinctive concert pianist in the world.

Although his versatility ranges from the early classic styles to progressive jazz, it is Roger Williams' own inimitable style and arrangements that won him his legion of fans and continues to attract new devotees with each new recording.

More than one million of his Kapp record albums are bought each year in the United States. He is categorically the world's bestselling pianist on records, popular or classical.

Williams is also known as "The Pianist of Presidents" by virtue of the fact that Harry Truman, Dwight Eisenhower, and the late John F. Kennedy all extolled his music.

Roger Williams studied music at Drake University, Idaho State University, and the Juilliard School of Music. He holds the degree of Doctor of Music. He studied jazz piano under Teddy Wilson and Leonard Tristano.

The son of a Lutheran minister, his home town is Des Moines, Iowa.

David Serrins Directs Symphony Orchestra

The East Carolina Symphony Orchestra, conducted by David Serrins, presented its annual concerto program Sunday, February 20 at 3:30 p.m. in Wright Auditorium.

The program presented five soloists chosen from competitive auditions by the School of Music: Georgia Mizesko, Soprano; Roger Stephens, Baritone; Douglas Medlin, Saxophone; Leon Stephen Cox, Trombone; and Frank Contreras, Piano.

Paul Topper of the School of Music faculty was concertmaster, and Sarah Womack was assistant concertmaster.

The program opened with the Overture from "Mignon" by Thomas, performed by the orchestra. Then followed three vocal selections. Miss Mizesko sang the popular "Un bel di, vedremo" from Puccini's opera "Madam Butterfly." Mr. Stephens sang the Prologue from Leoncavallo's "I Pagliacci," and both sang a duet from the same number.

On the second half of the program, Mr. Medlin played Glazunov's "Concerto in E Flat for Saxophone and String Orchestra." Following Mr. Medlin, Mr. Cox played the "Maestoso" and "Agitato" movements from Bloch's "Symphony for Trombone and Orchestra." Closing the program Mr. Contreras played the "Allegro non troppo" movement from Brahms' "Concerto No. 2 in B flat major, Op. 83."

SGA Announces Spring Elections

Constitutional Amendments election will be held tomorrow from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. (See Page 6).

Spring Elections will be held Thursday, March 24, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The schedule for spring elections will run as follows:

Positions for which you may file:

Student Government Association: President: Qualifications: must have been in attendance as a student at East Carolina for at least three consecutive quarters preceding his election and shall have completed 96 quarter hours by the end of the quarter in which he or she is elected, and have and maintain a "C" average.

Vice President: Qualifications: must meet the same requirements as the President.

Secretary: Qualifications: must have and maintain a "C" average.

Bill Moore Addresses IDC Accuses SGA And 'Party'

The Inter-Dormitory Council met on March 3 at 9:00 p.m. with Freddie Goins presiding. This meeting was highlighted by a speech by Bill Moore, parliamentarian. Following is the text of Moore's speech:

Members of the Interdormitory Council, I would speak with you for a few moments this evening concerning the recent political party upheaval that has borne itself to our campus in the past weeks, and our part in this upheaval (if any).

There seem to be several conflicting factions concerned with this new so-called party system: one faction is composed of members of our present "great society" administration in the S.G.A. and hopeful new suckling incumbents. Another faction of this political party falicism is composed of radical, pious asses who under the auspicious guidance of a certain comptroller of the S.G.A. treasury who hopes to increase their hold on our Student Government until it is composed of nothing but convention seekers, "frat" pins, and overstuffed egos to whom the average "Joe Student" is only a necessary evil to be reckoned with at election time. . . . It is to this end that our new political party structure is working. . . .

The I.D.C. constitutes the only other organized force of consideration on this campus. The fraternity's and sorority's are split due to personalities and the Day Students are handicapped in that they still have no centralized mode of communication and thus prevails "the Hill," where we have a (could be) composite vote of 1,500 men and by next year 2,000.

These prospective parties realize this fact and they are therefore coming out with new representation ideas and other programs to appeal to you—the man on the "Hill"—But most important they are trying to separate and de-unify the I.D.C.—a first step in disorganizing our large block vote. This is being done be-

Reapportionment . . .

Tomorrow you'll have the opportunity to initiate or ban a new system of government for East Carolina.

You can either vote for or against the Student Party Reapportionment Bill. The important thing is that you do vote and that you exercise an adequate voice in your own government.

The S P Reapportionment Amendment in its simplicity is a justifiable and flexible plan.

The idea that representation should be based on place of residence and not on class, as previously based, makes it possible for both dormitory and off campus students to have equal representation in the Legislature. The key factor involved in representation according to area population is whether or not the majority of the student body will take part in this plan and elect the representatives that most adequately serves its individual needs best.

If this Reapportionment Plan does pass by a significant vote in tomorrow's election, the student body will have taken a great step toward making EC's Student Government an activity personal to each individual. Certainly having representation according to population and place of residence will put each student in a favorable position to know exactly who and where those people representing him will reside.

You may ask if it is not possible for one group or population sector to control the majority of the votes within our Student Legislature. The answer is both no and yes. If the individual student is not apathetic and is concerned enough to vote for the legislators which best represent him, then the proposed plan of reapportionment can be one of equality. However, if students do not take the Reapportionment Plan seriously and do not take interest in who they elect as legislators then it is possible for one group to gain control and influence the Legislature.

You can vote "yes" or "no" for this proposed S P Reapportionment Bill tomorrow. Chances are if you put this plan into action, you will have set a precedent that should serve as a challenge to each member of our student body.

The choice is yours. Make your own decisions and personal evaluations of this plan. If you don't vote, no one is going to care or be concerned as to what your opinion was.

Letter To The Editor

'Gross Violation'

In suspending the charters of two campus houses, the administration of East Carolina College gave two reasons for its action: first, it charged that they were in "gross violation" of college and fraternity standards, including "major infractions" of rules governing drinking and misconduct; and second, that the action "is a culmination of many incidents which have occurred during the past few years." The first of these charges is exaggerated and the second illogical.

One "gross violation" of college and fraternity standards was that beer cans in profusion were found by administrative officials on the ground floor of the houses. This is against the rules, since all drinking is supposed to be confined to the basement level; and the houses were in disorder, but not "shambles," as was reported. The houses had not had the opportunity to police their respective areas when the administrative officials arrived unexpectedly, many of the members were still in the process of unpacking and a few still had not returned from quarter break. Thus the houses were necessarily in disorder. College and fraternity standards were unquestionably violated, but the charge of "gross violation" is exaggerated, since it is obvious that the violation was not as "gross" as it was made to sound. The rule that was violated, the confining drinking in fraternity houses to the basement, is an imprudent rule to begin with, as it forces drinking underground, both denotatively and connotatively. This may be compared to the rule requiring a policeman's presence at a gathering of ten or more people. More than ten people live in most fraternity houses, making it technically necessary for each house to have its own full-time policeman. The rule about underground drinking would probably not be in existence if the fraternity system were allowed to govern itself, as it should and as it does at most schools.

The second reason given by the administration is unreasonable and unjust. Is the culmination point of the "many incidents which have occurred during the past few years" an arbitrary numerical one where a log is kept of beer blast offenses until a certain number accrues at which time the charter is suspended? Or is the culmination point a moral one where a fraternity's morality is kept under apathetic surveillance for a long period of time and suddenly its charter suspended as a sort of retroactive punishment? A punishment for now and "old time's sake"? In either case, why have a "culmination" point? Why not censure, correct, rebuke, reprimand, threaten, or mildly punish the transgressors before they reach the "culmination" point, at which time punishment apparently cannot be milder than annihilation of the transgressors?

Neither of the reasons given by the administration seems to justify the bizarre and flagrant action it has taken in the case, the ramifications of which are yet to be seen. First, the administration has revealed its hand. The administration has labeled itself through its action as one of excitability, one that acts before it evaluates consequences. Further the administration has labeled itself as one of discrimination, since it singled out only two of the ten fraternities on campus for its unexpected visit. Since it singles out fraternities or punishment when their members make trouble, why not single out other extracurricular organizations, like the football team, for example, when their members make trouble? Finally, the administration has labeled itself as one of indiscretion, since it attempts to sensationalize matters to the extent that they receive not only front page coverage by the local paper but also statewide and regional focus.

Ramifications of the excitable administration's extravaganza will also affect the school and its entire vicinity. No institution profits by derogatory propaganda, nor does its locale. The attention drawn to the whole unfortunate situation will provide another obstacle for the school to pass in its effort to improve itself, as it is obvious that the opponents of the school will use any scandal available as reasons why the school should not grow qualitatively and quantitatively. The locale of the school will also be hurt, because the school is one of the most vital assets of the entire section. And both the school and its locale will be affected by the loss of two organizations which have been leaders in drives for charity and aid for needy people, attributes which are stifled and forgotten when matters of a more spectacular nature are available.

But ramifications will be hardest felt, of course, by the two fraternities, who really know the injustice of the whole affair. Just as untidiness is no justification for destroying a house, neither is the breach of what-is-to-be-gone-with-a-ridiculous-rule a justifiable reason to annihilate two fraternities, which not only destroys the many years of hard work it took to build them, but also thousands of dollars.

D'stastefully yours,
James K. Apple

A News Analysis

Wheeling And Dealing Brands

By John Phelan

Would you believe that the Presidential Election is still two years away. No! Well considering the actions and statements of some of the likely candidates for the office of vice president, you would think that they were running for election in the fall and not the Congressmen.

Hubert Humphrey, the Vice President, and Robert Kennedy, the senator from New York, along with the members of Congress have been indulging in what the press has termed the "Great Debate" on the subject of Vietnam.

Young Edward Kennedy, the senator from Massachusetts has also made his presence felt. He has made what may turn out to be the wisest choice of issues among the three most prominent candidates. He has chosen to stay out of the controversy evolving around the military and political questions arising from the conflict in South Viet Nam and has instead advocated the "tried and true" issue of Humanitarianism.

What could be safer? What could be more universal in its appeal? What could be more appropriate since it parallels LBJ's "Great Society" idea.

It is generally accepted knowledge among those familiar with the President and various White House circles that Lyndon Johnson would not be above ditching Humphrey if (1) the Vice President continues to lose favor with the voters as reported by public opinion polls; (2) more popular or political opportuned candidate should appear; (3) and at the same time offer an opportunity to destroy Robert Kennedy by nominating his younger brother Edward.

This is the brand of wheeling and dealing that Johnson is noted for, but only time and events will tell since the Democratic Nominating Convention is still two years away and LBJ is too shrewd a politician to show his hand at this early date.

LETTERS

To the Editor:

Filing began yesterday for the five major offices of the Student Government Association. Filing will continue through next Monday, March 14, at 5:00 p.m. The five major offices are President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Historian. Every position is very important and I feel it necessary that the students find and select the best qualified person to fill each of the positions.

For those students who are considering running for office, I urge you to consider the following:

1) The East Carolina College Student Government Association is at the very top in the nation in the amount of money that it appropriates each year (approximately $200,000 this past year).

2) The East Carolina Student Government Association has office space that is equalled by very few Student Governments in the nation.

3) The salaries of the East Carolina College Student Government Officers are at the very top in the Nation: President, $800.00; Vice-President, $400.00; Treasurer, $650.00; Secretary, $250.00; Historian, $750.00. These salaries are for a period of nine months.

4) The Student Government Association has in its employment two full time employees, an executive secretary, and a photographer.

5) The Student Government Association has four major publications each year: THE REBEL, THE BUCANEER, THE EAST CAROLINIAN, and THE KEY.

6) The Student Government Association directs the entertainment program for East Carolina by offering: campus movies, foreign movies, popular entertainment, fine arts series, playhouse productions, and lectures.

7) With the exceptions of the IDC court, the Women's House Councils, and the Women's Judiciary, all student courts are maintained by the Student Government Association.

8) The Student Government Association is in charge of Homecoming, ring sales, Parents' Day, photo ID cards, campus elections, freshman orientation program, and the establishment of any programs that will benefit the students.

On a more personal basis, if you are running for an office, you must be willing to sacrifice your time to work for the students. If you are elected you will find that you will have less time for your studies. You must learn to delegate your time providing adequate time to both Student Government work and your academic studies. You will have the great responsibility of representing the students at all times. Often you will have to travel to other schools or special conferences; this will also take time. You will be the link between the students, administration, and faculty. This is a position that is often difficult, but which is necessary and interesting.

The benefits gained from participation in Student Government are numerous. The continued contact with the many people you meet will be an experience that will prove an asset for the remainder of your life.

Employers are always very interested to know of your extra-curricular activities in college. This experience may someday get you a job; this has happened to many of our past Student Government officers.

I urge you to look at what Student Government is on our campus, look at the sacrifices, look at the benefits, and then decide if you are interested and willing. If so, we will be glad to see you; just come by the Student Government Offices on the third floor of New Wright Building Annex and sign up. If you have any questions I will be glad to try to answer them for you.

Let's have a good election . . . and make Student Government even stronger than it is.

Eddie Greene

Association

Quite recently a piece of sculpture was donated by a student to be exhibited on the campus of East Carolina College. Obviously, some student does not appreciate the fine arts and decided that it was his obligation to demolish this piece of sculpture and rid society of such a burden.

The piece of sculpture not only represented a fine piece of art work, but also several hours of hard work on the part of the student. Are the morals of students so low at East Carolina that they were not taught to respect the property of others? I think the answer to this question is "only a few and these people should be dealt with firmly and prosecuted to the extent of dismissal from school if and when they are revealed."

—Sara Morse

What does it take to make East Carolina students grow up? A young man in the art department spent long hours of time and energy to make a sculpture which he later presented to the college to be displayed in front of the cafeteria. Such a piece of work had an aesthetic value which cannot be measured by time and by monetary means. Then some aggressive numbskull went out one night and smattered the sculpture into pieces. The offender needs to be dealt with by no mild means.

Jenkinses Meet The Press

First Family Relates Personal Experiences

By JANET ANDERSON and DICKIE DAVES

Friday the 13th of May, 1950, was not an unlucky day in the life of Dr. Leo W. Jenkins who on that date was inaugurated as the sixth president of East Carolina College.

On that date the Jenkinses became the first family of ECC. Dr. and Mrs. Jenkins have six children—James, Jeffery, Jack, Suzanne, Patricia, and Sallie Jean.

In a recent candid interview with the first family, four of the children and Dr. and Mrs. Jenkins related many interesting facets of their personal lives. James, the eldest, who is a student at Duke, and Jeffery, a senior basketball player at Rose High, were not at home during the interview.

Jack, a third grader, is interested in astronomy, football, and basketball. Sallie Jean, a sixth grader, would like to become a member of the Peace Corps. Fourteen year old Patty likes to listen to records and plans to attend EC. Suzanne, a junior at Rose High, likes to play girls' basketball. She hopes to become an elementary teacher. Although they like living in a college town, the kids do not like being singled out as the President's children.

Mrs. Jenkins related that she also liked living in a college community. She feels that Greenville and East Carolina offer an environment unmatched by any other community.

she has lived in. Both she and Dr. Jenkins met while teaching school in New Jersey. Mrs. Jenkins, who is a special initiate of Chi Omega social sorority feels that fraternities and sororities make a definite contribution to East Carolina campus life.

Mrs. Jenkins' favorite hobbies are gardening and cooking Norwegian dishes for her family.

Dr. Jenkins is a graduate of Rutgers University, B.S. Degree; Columbia University, M.A. Degree; New York University, Ed.D. Degree, and has also done graduate work at Duke University.

"Dr. Jenkins had a most commendable military service record serving as Major in the U. S. Marine Corps. In addition to being head of this institution, he has served as a member in the Reserve of United States Information Agency, Atomic Energy Advisory Committee, President of the North Carolina Association of Academic Deans, and Delegate of the White House Conference on Education. Dr. Jenkins also holds honors, memberships, and offices in some twenty-five other civic and educational organizations. He is an author, orator, active church member, and a devoted family man."

Dr. Jenkins' hobbies are painting and golf. He considers both "very relaxing."

200 Science Students Attend EC Symposium

About 200 science students and their teachers from 12 counties in eastern North Carolina attended a Science Symposium at East Carolina College Saturday.

Sponsored jointly by ECC and the Eastern N. C. Section of the American Chemical Society, the symposium began at 8:30 a.m. with registration and continued until about 3:00 p.m.

The five featured speakers were Fred Bell, Langley Research Center, Hampton, Va.; Dr. Howard Thompson Jr., Duke University School of Medicine, Durham; Dr. Ellis Smith, DuPont, Kinston; John Ashley, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill; and F. Milam Johnson, ECC mathematics department.

Dr. Joseph N. LeConte, ECC chemistry professor and chairman of Saturday's event, said the symposium theme was "New Frontiers in Science." Topics covered included "the spacemobile," biomedicine, analog computers, and digital computers.

Dr. Charles W. Reynolds, director of the ECC Division of Science, opened the morning session with an introductory talk.

Also taking part in the symposium program were members of the ECC chapter of Chi Beta Phi national honorary science fraternity.

Director Of CU Attends Sessions

Cynthia Mendenhall, Director of College Union activities at East Carolina College, is scheduled to attend an international college union conference in New Orleans, La., March 20-23.

She will participate in various sessions of the fifty-second annual conference of the Association of College Unions-International (ACU-I) as a member of the ACU-I committees on arts and nominations.

the Music World of Jerry Williams

Walt Disney has entertained people all over the world and I'm sure he will continue to do so for many years. Children from all over the world are friends with Disney's characters and the entertainment he has provided. They can also thrill to the wonders of his musical creations.

It's A Small World is a Disneyland LP the youngsters will love, featuring the Disneyland Boy's Choir, singing 18 favorite folk songs children know and love. Under the direction of Paul Salamunovich, they sing folk songs of many foreign countries. For example, the album features "Frere Jacques" from France, "Sukiyaka" from Japan, "Santa Lucia" from Italy, "Children's Prayer" from Germany, and many more. Children will love it.

Disney's The Stories of Hans Christian Andersen is another favorite. Narrated by Robie Lester, with music by Camarata, the album features the story of "The Emperor's New Clothes," "The Little Match Girl," "The Steadfast Tin Soldier," and "The Shepherdess and The Chimney Sweep." These four stories have been favorites of children all around the world and translated and printed in practically every known language.

Also, Disney's series on great men of science has been very popular. Third in the series is Professor Julius Sumner Miller Relating Stories of Ben Franklin. This recording tells much about Franklin's discoveries. Professor Miller, affectionately called the "Piper of Science," is a gifted talent who entrances audiences of all ages.

Columbia Hits

"Gonna Make Him My Baby" is a new song by a new Columbia artist. Watch out for pretty April Young. Her release has the "beat to hit" with the swingin' generation.

Day and Knight also are newly signed with Columbia. Their single, "I'm Gonna Love You Tomorrow" has the "in" beat and the group has a style like that of Sonny and Cher. It's sure to be a big one. We can expect more from this pair.

Bobbe Norris, nominated by New York's CUE MAGAZINE, as a Candidate for Fame, has a big single for Columbia. "Put Your Little Foot Right Out" is her first but it won't be her last. This will hit with all ages. Bobbe (subject of a feature in this column soon) is managed by Norman Rosemont, who handles Robert Goulet, Vic Damone and Allen and Rossi.

Highly successful songwriter, Van McCoy has been signed to an exclusive contract as a vocalist, by Columbia Records. He has written hits for Chad and Jeremy, the Shirelles, Barbra Lewis, Nancy Wilson, The Drifters and many others. "Butterfly," McCoy's debut recording will be an instant hit with deejays all over the nation. This vocalist sounds like Mathis, with that "come alive" feeling in his work. Columbia hit the jackpot when they signed Van McCoy.

O'Jays On Imperial

The five young men who answer to the name of The O'Jays all hail from Canton, Ohio. First pacted by King Records, they recorded "Lonely Rain," under the name The Mascots. Then came "Miracles." Later they signed with Imperial Records and the release that brought them national prominence was "Lonely Drifter." Their "Lipstick Traces" was a big hit in this area last summer. Since 1964 they've had their own band, the J's Men and you're sure to see more action from the O'Jays on Imperial.

A World Wide Hit

Jerry Nelson, a former deejay, now records for World Wide Records. Jerry's recording "Easy Come Easy Go" was an instant hit in Birmingham, Montgomery and Atlanta. Radio and TV personality, Slim Short, says Jerry's style and voice are like that of the late great Jim Reeves. Also, Doyle Taylor, once manager and lead singer for the Cavaliers Quartet, of Norfolk, says Jerry is releasing a new number soon.

Mail your cards and letters to THE MUSIC WORLD OF JERRY WILLIAMS 908 Main Street for Feb. record drawings. You could win a hit single or LP.

Science Department Selects New Chairman

Dr. Floyd E. Mattheis, science faculty member since September, 1960, has been appointed new chairman of the college's science education department.

He will take his new position next fall when the present chairman, Dr. Austin D. Bond, retires after 16 years on the faculty.

The promotion of Dr. Mattheis and the coming retirement of Dr. Bond were announced by President Leo W. Jenkins.

He and Dr. Robert W. Williams, dean of the School of Arts and Sciences, praised the work of Dr. Bond since he joined the faculty in September 1950 and said they look forward to the leadership of Dr. Mattheis in the department.

The science education department is one of four in the Division of Natural Science.

When Dr. Mattheis takes over in September, his department is scheduled to have six faculty members.

Dr. Mattheis is a native of Ellendale, N. Dak. He has degrees from the University of North Dakota at Ellendale (BS) and from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (MEd) (EdD). He has also attended the universities of New Mexico and North Dakota at Grand Forks.

When Dr. Bond retires he will end a teaching career that spans nearly a half-century. He taught in the public schools of his native state, Washington, for five years, 1921-'26, and

EC Faculty Members Take Part In Program

Two East Carolina faculty members took part on the program Monday at the Southern Physical Education Association in Louisville, Ky.

Dr. Edgar W. Hooks Jr., who joined the ECC faculty last September, presented a paper entitled "A Comprehensive Knowledge Test in Selected Physical Education Activities for College Men." Dr. Hooks is serving as secretary of the association's Men's Athletic Section.

Dr. Joseph Edmund Welch, a faculty member here since 1963, presided at the meeting of the research section. As sectional chairman, Dr. Welch arranged the program.

Other ECC faculty members, all in the department of health and physical education department at the college, were Dr. Thomas J. Martin and Dr. Thomas L. Paul.

in the Dalton Schools of New York City for two, 1926-'28.

He then became head of the biology department of Alfred, (N. Y.) University in 1929 and held that post until 1937. After receiving his PhD degree Dr. Bond taught for a year at Kent (Ohio) State University (1941) and later went to Nebraska State College at Peru for four years as professor and division head before coming to East Carolina in the fall of 1960.

Dr. Bond, a native of Chehalis, Wash., has a diploma from Western Washington State College and three degrees from Columbia University in New York (BS) (MA) (PhD).

A textbook author, he got an early start in science education publications by writing articles and book reviews for the journal, Science Education, during his years as a college student. Since then he has written a series of 14 elementary science textbooks and teachers' guides.

Gamma Beta Phi Initiates Members

Twenty-three students are new members of the campus chapter of Gamma Beta Phi Society, an organization dedicated to scholarship, leadership and citizenship.

The new members were initiated in a candlelight ceremony conducted by the local president, Danny Hardee, and held in the College Union.

To qualify for membership a student must achieve and maintain a grade average of at least C-plus and display the qualities of leadership and citizenship.

A relatively new organization at East Carolina, the Lambda Chapter of Gamma Beta Phi was formed here last spring.

Officers of the 23-member pledge class just initiated were Sue Jones, president; Loretta Brickhouse, secretary; and Rebecca Langley, treasurer.

The new members include: Margaret Davis, Everett Willis, Agnes Dozier, Daisy Lewis, Ellen Rogerson, Joan Jones, Martha Humphrey, Charles Mock, Brenda Massey, Eva Gooding, Percy Winslow Jr., Frances Rimmer, Sondra Windom, Carrie Flye, Carleen Hjortsvang, Melvyn Baker, Julia Aiken, Francis Scott, and Alyce Gardner.

Austrian, British Universities Offer Summer Scholarships

The Institute of International Education announces that a limited number of scholarships for 1966 summer study are being offered to qualified Americans by two Austrian and four British universities. All programs are administered by the IIE.

The historic University of Vienna will hold a special summer session at its St. Wolfgang campus in Strobl, Austria, from July 17 to August 27. Courses available to students will include law, political science and liberal arts courses and German language courses. The St. Wolfgang program is open to candidates who have completed two or more years of college and will cost approximately $340, which includes a $20.00 registration fee. An optional four-day trip to Vienna at a small additional charge is also available.

The aim of the Salzburg summer school at Salzburg-Klessheim, sponsored by the Austro-American Society, is to provide students with an opportunity to learn the German language and to acquire a first-hand knowledge of Austrian culture and foreign policy. Although most courses (in art, music, poetry, economics and politics) will be taught in English, attendance at one of several German language courses will be mandatory.

Total cost for the Salzburg program will be $315; $295 to cover room, board and tuition, plus a $20 registration fee. Applicants for the six-week session (from July 3 to August 14) must be between the ages of 18 and 40 and must have completed at least one year of college.

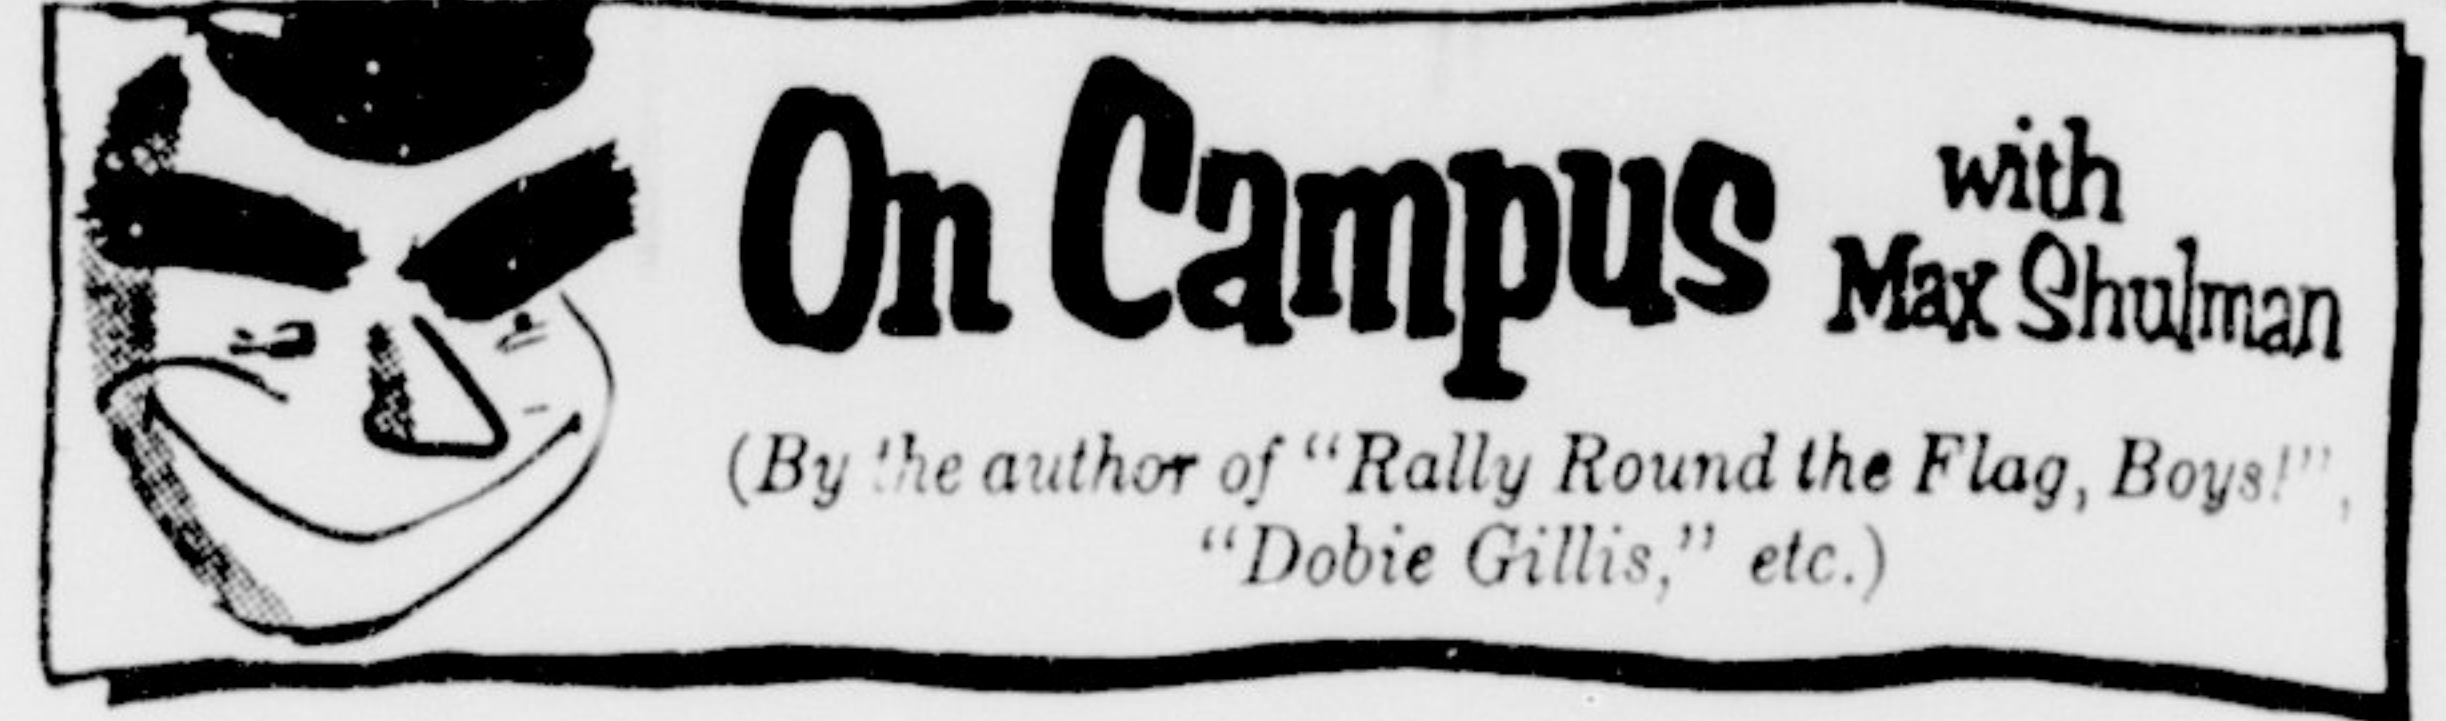

High-point of the two Austrian summer sessions will be the opportunity for students to attend the famed Salzburg Music Festival. Tickets to an opera and a play are included in the schools' fees.

Summer school opportunities in Great Britain include a choice of subjects and historical periods, with study to be carried out at the appropriate university concerned. The study of Shakespeare and Elizabethan drama will be offered at Stratford-upon-Avon by the University of Birmingham; the history literature and arts of England from 1870 to the present will be taught at the University of London; and British history, philosophy and literature from 1688 to 1832 at the University of Edinburgh in Scotland.

The Universities of Birmingham, Oxford, and Edinburgh hold their sessions from July 4 to August 12; the University of London, from July 11 to August 19. Fees, which include room, board and tuition, will be $296. Courses for all four university summer sessions are designed for graduate students, but undergraduates who will have completed their junior year by the time the summer school opens may apply. Further information and applications for these Austrian and British summer sessions may be obtained from the Counseling Division, Institute of International Education, 809 United Nations Plaza, New York, N. Y. 10017. Completed scholarship applications to the British schools must be received at the Institute by March 1; applications for admission by March 31, 1966. Austrian scholarship applications must be received by March 1; admission applications by May 1, 1966. Travel arrangements to and from Europe are the responsibility of each student.

WAKE ME WHEN IT'S OVER

The trouble with early morning classes is that you're too sleepy. At late morning classes you're too hungry. At early afternoon classes you're too logy. At late afternoon classes you're too hungry again. The fact is—and we might as well face it—there is no good time of day to take a class.

What shall we do then? Abandon our colleges to the ivy? I say no! I say America did not become the hope of mankind and the world's largest producer of butterfats and tallow by running away from a fight!

If you're always too hungry or too sleepy for class, then let's hold classes when you're not too hungry or sleepy; namely, while you're eating or sleeping.

Classes while eating are a simple matter. Just have a lecture while the eaters eat. But watch out for noisy foods. I mean who can hear a lecturer lecture when everybody is crunching celery or matzo or like that? Serve quiet stuff—like anchovy paste on a doughnut, or steaming bowls of lamb fat.

Now let us turn to the problem of learning while sleeping. First, can it be done?

Yes, it can. Psychologists have proved that the brain is definitely able to assimilate information during sleep. Take, for instance, a recent experiment conducted by a leading Eastern university (Stanford). A small tape recorder was placed under the pillow of the subject, a freshman named Wrobert Wright. When Wrobert was fast asleep, the recorder was turned on. Softly, all through the night, it repeated three statements in Wrobert's slumbering ear:

1. Herbert Spencer lived to the age of 109 and is called "The Founder of English Eclectic Philosophy."
2. The banana plant is not a tree but a large perennial herb.
3. The Archduke Ferdinand was assassinated in 1914 at Sarajevo by a young nationalist named Mjilas Cvetnik, who has been called "The Trigger of World War I."

When Wrobert awoke in the morning, the psychologists said to him, "Herbert Spencer lived to the age of 109. What is he called?"

Wrobert promptly answered, "Perennial Herb."

Next they asked him, "What has Mjilas Cvetnik been called?"

Wrobert replied, "Perennial Serb."

Finally they said, "Is the banana plant a tree?"

"To be honest," said Wrobert, "I don't know too much about bananas. But if you gents want any information about razor blades, I'm your man."

"Well," said the psychologists, "can you tell us a blade that shaves closely and cleanly without nicking, pricking, scratching, scraping, scoring, gouging, grinding, flaying or flensing?"

"Yes, I can," said Wrobert. "Personna® Stainless Steel Blades. Not only does Personna give you a true luxury shave, but it gives you heaps and gobs and bushels and barrels of true luxury shaves—each one nearly as truly luxurious as the first."

"Land's sake!" said the psychologists.

"Moreover," said Wrobert, "Personna is available not only in the Double Edge style blade, but also in the Injector style blade."

"Great balls of fire!" said the psychologists.

"So why don't you rush to your dealer and get some Personnas at once?" said Wrobert.

"We will," said the psychologists, twinkling, "but there is something we have to do first."

Whereupon they awarded Wrobert an honorary L.L.B. (Lover of Luxury Blades) degree, and then, linking arms, they sang and danced and bobbed for apples till the campfire had turned to embers.

Honor Council

Women's Honor Council

Meeting: Monday, February 21, 1966

The charge of the defendant was cheating, in that the defendant plagiarized parts of a research paper for English 2.

After due deliberation the Council returned a verdict of guilty.

The recommendation of the Council is as follows an automatic F in the course, and one quarter of suspended suspension. Suspended suspension is defined by the Women's Honor Council as a period of time during which the party may not appear before any East Carolina judicial body, with the exception of the dormitory house without automatic suspension for the remainder of that quarter and the succeeding quarter.

ART

The chairman of the graphics department in the School of Art, Donald Sexauer, is a purchase award winner in the Bradely National Print Show in Peoria, Illinois.

The exhibition, which opened Wednesday and continues through Monday, April 11, has two Sexauer prints, "Ride Through November" and "Gathering."

The East Carolina printmaker won his award for "Ride through November." It will become part of the art center's permanent collection.

Sexauer has exhibited his prints and won prizes in several states since he joined the ECC faculty in 1960. In January, Sexauer's "Peace Bird" was shown in the 47th annual Print Exhibition sponsored by the Society of American Graphic Arts in New York. The print was also shown in the 141st annual exhibition of the National Academy of Design.

Before coming to Greenville, he earned degrees from Edinboro (Pa.) State College (BS) and Kent (Ohio) State University (MA).

EDUCATION

Dr. Gilbert G. Ragland, coordinator of special education in the East Carolina School of Education, was at Marshall University in Huntington, West Virginia, Monday to help with a seminar on special education.

Dr. Ragland was a consultant in the area of learning disabilities of mentally retarded children.

Barbee, Umberger Present Recitals

Two seniors in the School of Music gave an instrumental recital Monday night in Old Austin Auditorium.

Ann Regan Barbee of Jacksonville and Mildred Umberger of Wytheville, Virginia, played selections by Bach, Brahms, Hindemith and Mozart. Miss Barbee is a clarinetist. Miss Umberger plays the euphonium, similar to a tenor tuba.

Miss Barbee, a student of George W. Knight, played part of a Bach sonata, a Mozart concerto and a Brahms sonata.

A student of John T. Rhem, Miss Umberger played "Endure! Endure!" by Bach, a Mozart concerto, and Hindemith sonata.

The recital is a requirement for the Bachelor of Music degree for which both seniors are candidates.

Miss Barbee is an officer of the Marching Pirates, the Symphonic Band, and Sigma Alpha Iota music fraternity for women students. She is copy editor of the REBEL, campus literary quarterly.

Miss Umberger plays in three campus bands and is vice president of one of them the Symphonic Band. She is chaplain of Sigma Alpha Iota.

Construction Begins

Construction has begun on Mingos Coliseum, East Carolina College's new gymnasium. Spring 1967 is the target date for completion of the two and one-half million dollar structure. The building will include a swimming pool, hand ball courts, classrooms, and a 6200 capacity field-house. Use of the present gymnasium will be given to female students for their athletic activities.

Notices

In addition to other stated catalogue requirements, candidates for teaching degrees must take the National Teachers' Examination (NTE) to fulfill graduation requirements. (Effective Spring 1966 and thereafter).

NTE Exams will be given March 19, 1966. Deadline for making application for the March 19 Exam is February 18, 1966. Worth E. Baker, Registrar

Philosophy Society Inducts New Members

The East Carolina chapter of Phi Sigma Tau national honor society for philosophy has initiated two new members.

They are Marsha Deese of Badin and William White of Chesapeake, Va. They were initiated following a dinner meeting at the Candlewick Inn last weekend.

Miss Deese, a senior English major, read a paper titled "The Problem of the One and the Many as Found in the Parmenides of Plato." A critique of it was given by Richard Leggett of Kinston, president of the society.

White, a senior philosophy major, read his paper called "Problem of Knowledge in the Theaetetus of Plato." Barry Gillen of Greenville, a society member, commented on White's paper.

To qualify for membership, Miss Deese and White completed 60 quarter hours of college level courses for membership, nine quarter hours of philosophy course with a grade average above B and ranked in the top 35 per cent of their class.

Summer Theater Conducts Tryouts

The professional East Carolina College Summer Theater held auditions for its 1966 season in Winston-Salem on Saturday, March 5.

Producer-Director Edgar R. Loessin conducted tryouts for actors, singers, dancers, and instrumentalists at the North Carolina School of Arts Theater.

He had openings for 16 singers and 12 dancers in addition to the lead roles for the coming season. He was also interviewing applicants for the theater's 16-piece orchestra and for backstage technicians.

Most performers hired will have contracts for the entire nine-week season, but some will be cast for single productions.

On the 1966 schedule are four musicals, "Kismet," "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off," "Sound of Music" and "Finian's Rainbow"; and two non-musical comedies, "Mary, Mary" and "Never Too Late."

Rehearsals start June 13, the first show opens June 27, and the season ends August 13.

Reapportionment Bill Receives Party Support

The Student Party pledged its fullest support to getting the proposed "Reapportionment Amendment" passed by the student body and urged that all students vote "yes" on the amendment at the Central Committee Meeting, Thursday.

The newly-formed party is prepared for a full week of activity as it prepares to announce its slate of candidates and its platform this week.

The "Reapportionment Amendment" says that representation should be based on place of residence and not on class as previously based.

The amendment goes on to say that each dormitory of from 100 to 350 full-time students shall elect one representative and that each dormitory containing from 351 to 600 persons shall elect two representatives and so on.

Day student representation shall be equal to the average number of dormitory students represented by each dormitory representative divided into the total number of day students.

The amendment goes on to state that each representative at the time of their election shall have a "C" average; be a full-time student at East Carolina and be in good standing at EC.

Student Party Treasurer, Steve Moore said after the meeting that "the passage of this amendment will be of great value to the students at EC since each representative will be more truly representative and that each representative will be in closer contact with the students he represents."

The reapportionment bill seemed to rise out of the dispute between the Executive branch and the Legislative branch of the SGA.

Some time ago, President Eddie

Greene tore into the Legislature by calling it a "recommendation legislature" and saying that it had actually done little.

House Speaker Bill Deal, came back with a "what have you done" statement of his own.

At this point all was quiet until the Student Party came forth with its plan of reapportionment. This bill created more conflict as the Spring Elections came closer.

The first bill introduced by the SP had flaws which were caught by SP members after it had been presented. The Party had some 600 signatures of students who desired the bill's passage. But the Legislature rejected the bill.

Not only did the Legislature reject the first bill, but also downed the correcting of flaws which the Student Party presented.

With two strikes against them, the Student Party then came forth with a third proposed amendment which then clearly passed the Legislature.

Also, on the agenda for the Student Party this week will be the formal presentation of its slate of officers and its platform. These events will be covered in Thursday's edition of the EAST CAROLINIAN.

MBS Correspondent Spence Talks On Vietnam March 9th

Vietnam war correspondent Craig Spence of the Mutual Broadcasting System is scheduled to lecture on campus tomorrow night. The program, sponsored by the Student Government Association, is scheduled at 8:00 p.m. in Old Austin Auditorium. Tickets are issued free to students and faculty, and are available to the general public for $2.00 each at the Central Ticket Office in Wright Auditorium. Spence, a veteran New England newsman and special correspondent for MBS, recently returned from Vietnam where he interviewed leaders, flew on actual missions, and accompanied troops into combat as a reporter. In his eight years of news reporting and interviewing, Spence has been expelled from Cuba and has filed from Bombay, Calcutta, Kan-alai, Athens, and Saigon for the Motor network. He was also radio-television press secretary to former Governor Endicott Peabody of Massachusetts and served as press secretary to the Speaker of the House of Representatives of Massachusetts. A graduate of Boston University, Spence makes his home in Boston. Spence has toured all of South Vietnam, from the steaming rice paddies of the Mekong Delta to the storm-swept South China Sea along the 17th parallel with the U.S. Coast Guard while filing feature reports for Motor News. He has flown Air-Control Missions and B-57 bombing and strafing raids under Viet Cong fire, and he joined the Rangers on their Eagle Flights into Viet Cong held villages, setting up ambush traps with the Australians in war Zone "D", traveling with U.S. Marines on Operations in Da Nang and spending nights with special forces.

As a veteran war correspondent Craig Spence is well qualified to judge and report what he has seen in Vietnam. Many conflicting stories have been written about the war in Vietnam as they were in Cuba and Korea. Spence evaluates how the "story" has been reported and contrasts it with a reporter's knowledge of the day-to-day drama in that troubled land. He also tells of the Guerrilla Gap and how all of America's sophisticated weaponry seems impotent when faced by a highly trained and deeply motivated guerrilla force in Vietnam.

Moore Speaks...

 cause they realize the threat to their political futures as shown by the fact that the "hill" has put two S.G.A. Presidents in office in the past 3 years.

As a means to accomplish this de-unification these "parties" have invited many of you (as council members and not for yourselves) to join with them and help wave their flag of mass hypocrisy. This disturbing fact is that many of you are following these well placed words in a supposed hope of finding political rapport (I assume).

I would remind you that you are responsible to the men who elected you and I would suggest you consider the possible consequences before you leap upon these false, self-seeking "party bandwagons."

I charge you to ask yourselves 3 questions before you adhere to any "party" system: First, are you being asked to join the "party" for what the "party" feels you can personally contribute or rather, are you being asked to join for your position as an I.D.C. member. You can test this (as I did) by disagreeing with the ideas of the "party" founders—you will most certainly not be asked to attend any future "party" meetings. I call your attention to a recent article concerning the "Student Party" in the EAST CAROLINIAN, "...the student party is open to all students..." but later in the same article it states "...the party was made of all the students if they desired & that it will be only student interest & desire that the student party will attempt to promote." What students & what desires?

Second, where does your first responsibility lie? With the men you represent or with ideals set forth by men with higher political aspirations who are using you and your office as a stepping stone to accomplish these ends.

And, third, and last, ask yourselves this, what will happen to the "Hill" after the elections are over and your party wins—will you still be an interested I.D.C. member—or will you be a "party" patse. Also what will happen to your "party." Political parties only major function is at election time, what can these self-seeking groups offer you through the year? Some of you may hold an office, of course, but most certainly our new president will not stock the S.G.A. with only "party" members for this would be in direct contrast to the real function of the Student Government, that being to represent all the students on a fair basis. We have the rare-avis (sic) opportunity to make the "Hill" really liveable and not just existable. Shall we lose this opportunity to improve our own fraternal relations in lieu of an imposed "party" system of dubious ideals and members who seek personal gain at our expense.

It is up to you. Will you be the one responsible for our de-unification or will you stand your ground and help us place our own men in the S.G.A. and thus represent the views of many rather than the "yes man" attitude of a few?

I have heard it said by certain present members of this party that the 2 past presidents of the S.G.A. that the "Hill" put into office were the worst that East Carolina College has ever had. These 2 dormitory men were not associated with a fraternity or a "party." Are we then to assume that only fraternity men and "party" men are qualified to hold and maintain a post in the S.G.A.?

These views that I have presented before you this evening are in no sense of the word intended to be taken as "anti-Greek," and neither are they intended to represent the so-called "Independent views." Rather I ask you to consider the charges I have raised and your responsibility as an Inter-dormitory Council member responsible to the men who elected you.

After the speech a question was raised. "Who controls this party and does it caucus to determine its leaders." Moore answered, "Quoting from this same issue, 'There will be a control group of persons who will be the ones responsible in this party.' "Also," Moore continued, "They do not caucus because a major factor for admission to the 'party' is to be liked by and of the same political opinions as Steve Spiteman (the party leader)."

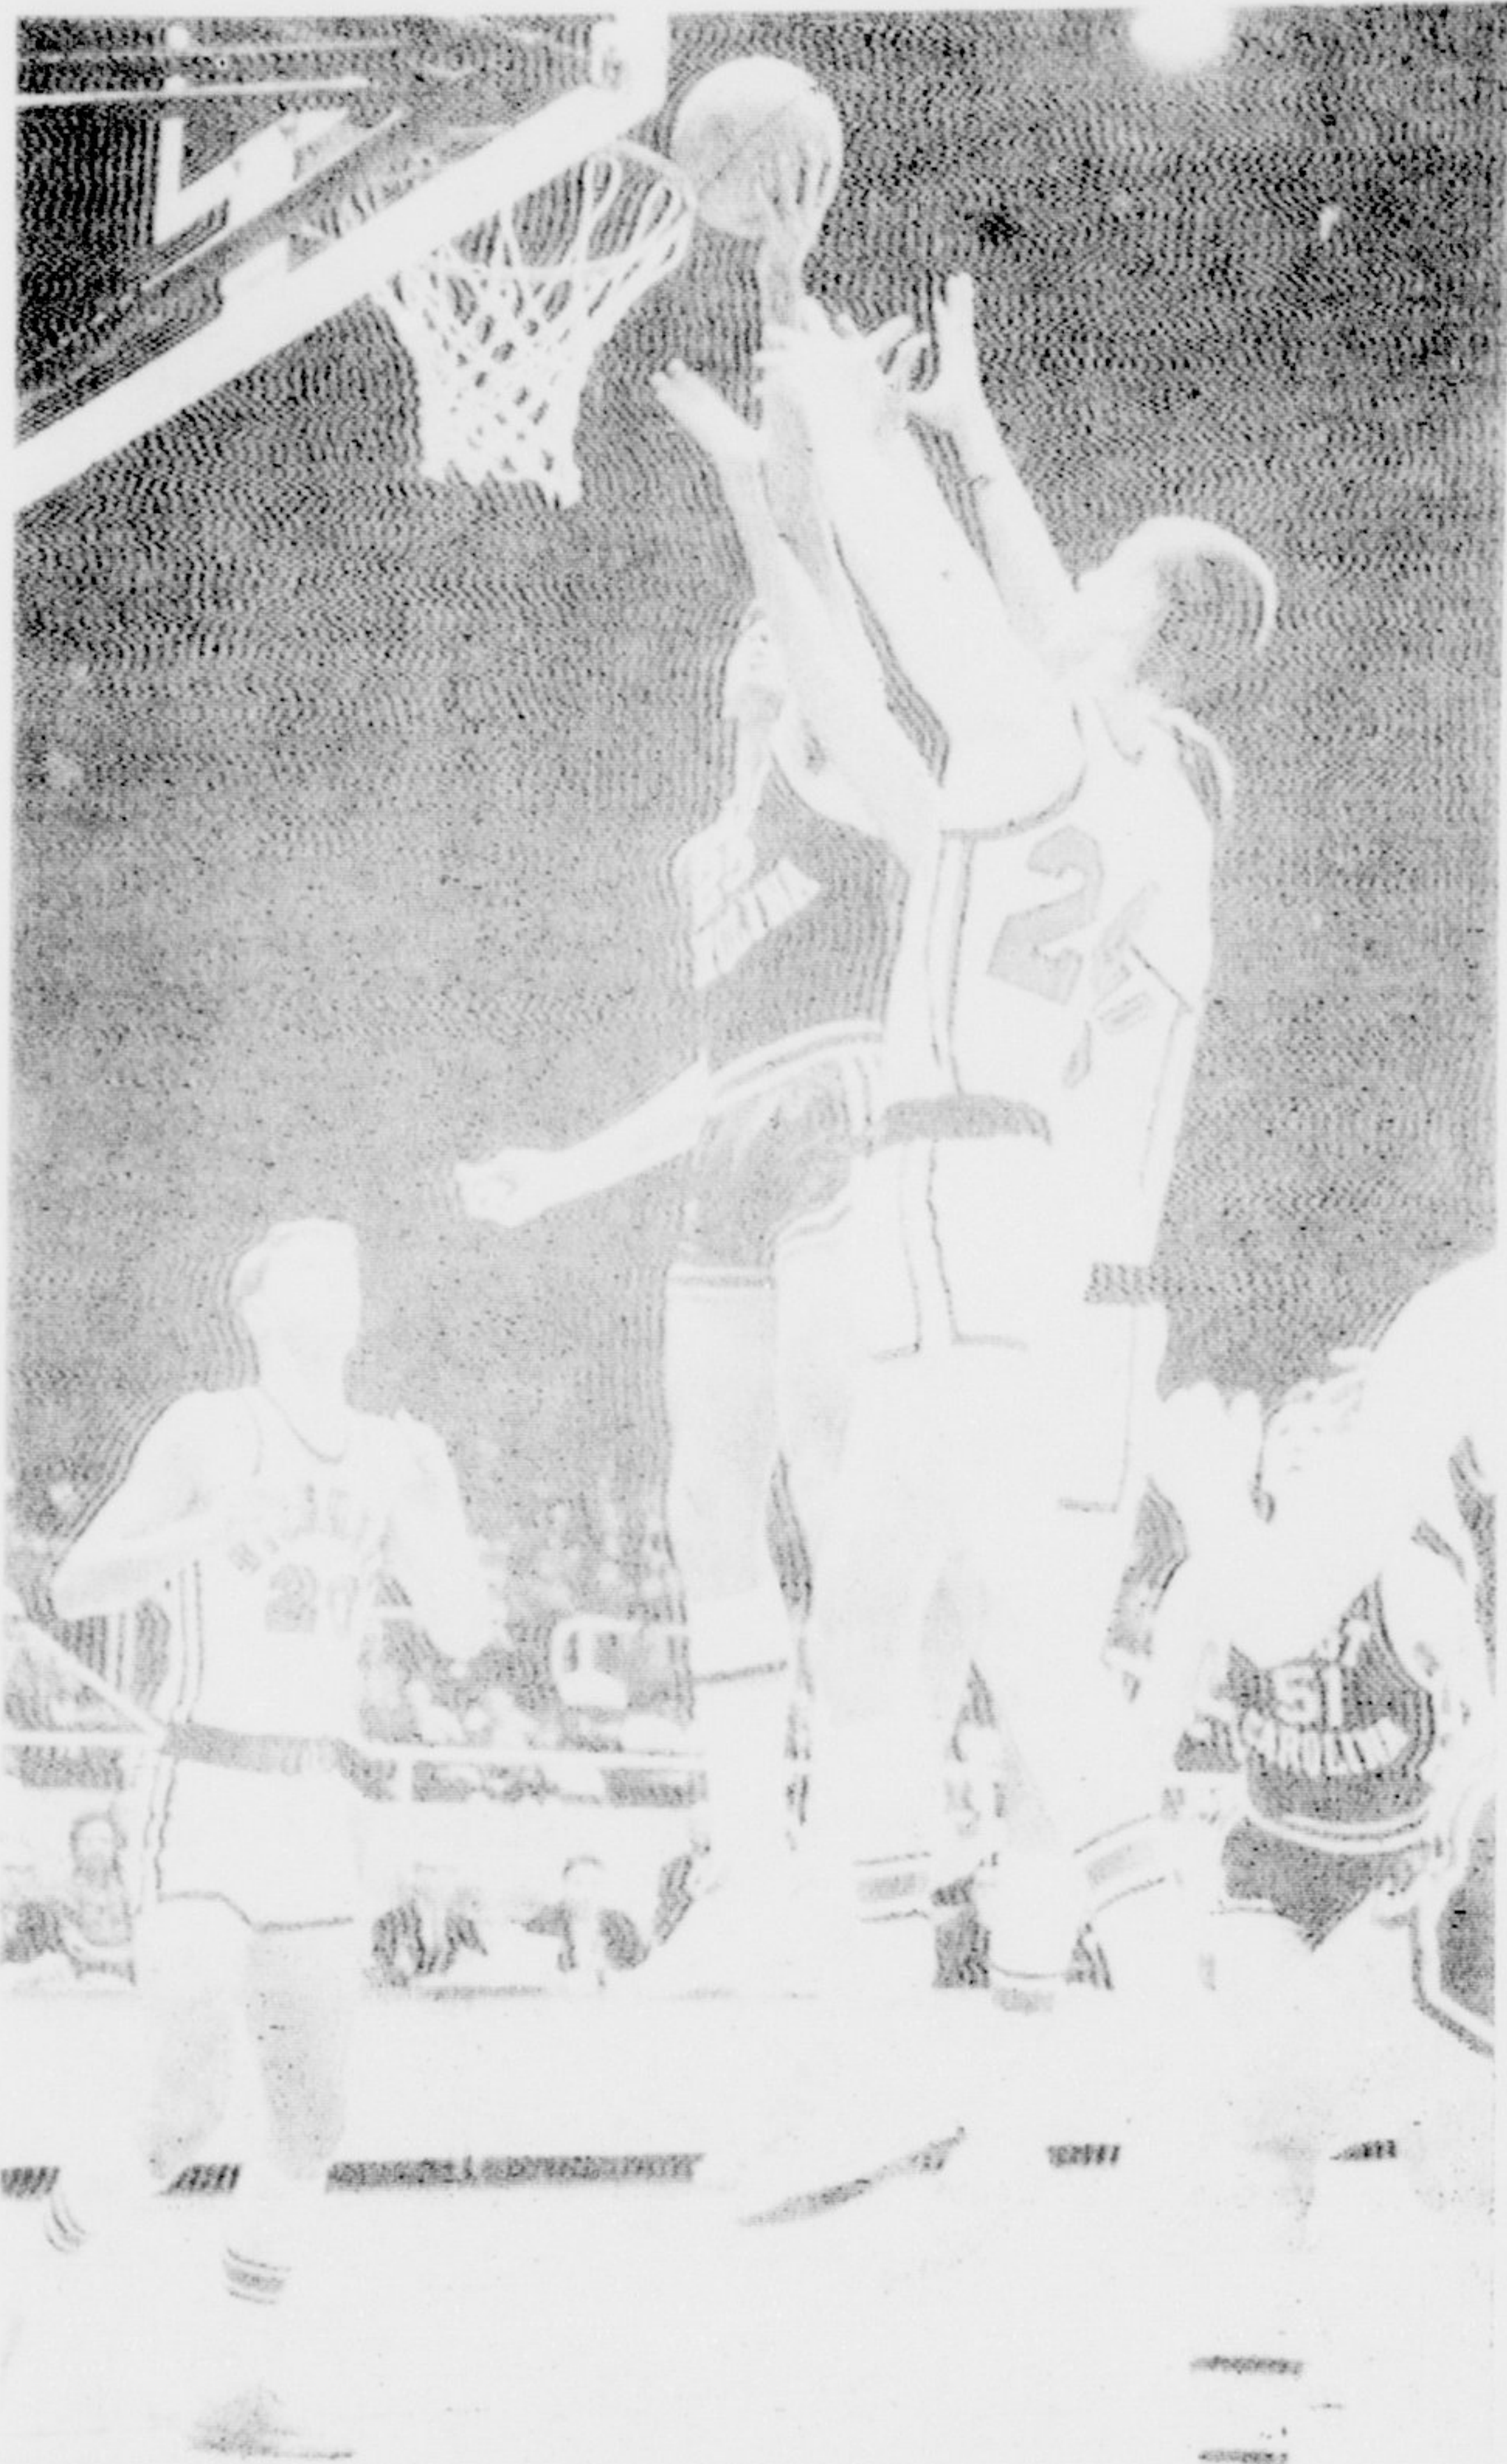

Also, during the meeting, Bill Moore made a motion to set a permanent time for reconvening the IDC. An amendment was added that the meeting take place at 7:00 p.m. every other Monday night. The motion with amendment was carried. A motion was made by Jim Dudley stating that the social committee of the IDC should start planning another IDC dance for late April. The motion was carried.

At the February 14 meeting of the IDC, Bruce Biggs, president of the IDC resigned because he would no longer be living in the dormitory. Freddie Goins, vice-president will succeed Biggs.

Also at that meeting the Treasurer's report was given, showing $1,221.25 in the treasury.

Wildcats Capture Conference Title

Bucs Falls To Richmond Spiders

Two more points for EC, but they were not enough as the Pirates were edged out of a victory by the Richmond Spiders Game 1: East Carolina vs. Richmond.

From the beginning the first half was remarkable shooting exhibition. Shooting percentage for the half was awe inspiring. As was the case all season, the Spiders were led by their terrific guard combo of Welsh and Moates. EC was led by Captain Bobby Kinnard. The fact that the Bucs were only two points off the pace at half-time, despite the Spider marksmanship, turned many heads on press row.

A glue-like Pirate full court press took its toll in the second stanza as the Pirates took the lead several times. However, a series of controversial officiating calls gave Richmond ball possession and a 74 all score with 2:06 to play. They held the ball for one shot and made it good with 5 seconds showing. Time ran out before the Bucs could organize. They left the court swallowing their toughest loss of the year. The touch and go ball game had to end the way it did. A calmer finish would have been out of place. Game 2: Davidson vs. Citadel.

An outmanned Citadel squad made it interesting for 10 minutes. After that Davidson made it a rout with Snyder and Knowles leading the way. The 'Cats were not polished, however, as Coach Driesell obviously was holding his charges down from reaching an early peak. Game 3: West Virginia vs. VMI.

In the first half it was all West Virginia as super Keydet Schmauss was off his game. In the second half the story was reversed. Schmauss single-handedly cut a 26 point margin to 6 points before fouling out. This 200 per cent effort fell short but it earned Schmauss all Tournament honors in the process.

Game 4: William and Mary vs. Furman.

Sloppy but close, covers this game quite well. Fouls and numerous turnovers marred the contest which saw William and Mary take a 73-73 win over a mildly inspired Furman five.

Round 2
Game Davidson vs. Richmond.

Despite a cold hand Richmond appeared ready to make a game of it in the first half. The second half was another story. Davidson found the range and the Spiders couldn't buy a basket for the next 12 minutes.

With 7:20 to play Dick Snyder applied the Coup-de-grace with a terrific effort, he put in an underhanded, backward, twisting hook from behind the board! From there only the final score was unknown. It ended with Richmond shooting only 31 per cent, less than half their percentage against EC.

Game 2: Davidson vs. West Virginia.

Friday's nightcap was a lack-luster affair. West Virginia clung tenaciously to a slim lead throughout the game as their superior manpower wore down the Indians. The Mounties broke it open for keeps in the last 8 minutes and the stage was set for the anticipated finale with Davidson.

Finals
Davidson vs. West Virginia

The Mountameers started hot, slowed, got hot again, and slowed once more. During the second half, the damage was done. The difference was established and the 'Cats refused to choke as some hoped and many expected. Rodney Knowles (Greenville product) led the first half drive with 10 points and 6 key rebounds, with Snyder showing his usual greatness.

A determined drive in the second half by West Virginia came close but not close enough as the Davidson lads played them all even, which was good enough in view of their eleven point half-time ledge.

The 1965-66 Wildcats had done what their more glittering predecessors couldn't do. They were Southern Conference champions to questions asked.

Frosh Swimmers Set Four Records

By MIKE CONLEY

Ten freshman records fell as the East Carolina frosh swimming team finished seventh among schools from throughout the Southeast at an invitational championship at Athens, Georgia. Four new freestyle records were set: 22.7 in the 50 yard freestyle by Eric Orrell, 1:54.8 in the 200 yard freestyle by John Sutar, and 5:23.5 in the 50 yard freestyle and 19:09.5 in the 1650 yard freestyle by Jim Manchester. John Sutar also broke the 200 yard backstroke record with 2:08.5. Bill Laferty posted three new marks: 4:47 in the 400 yard individual medley, 5:56.7 and 2:10.5 in the 100 and 200 yard butterfly. The relay team of Sutar, Moynihan, Orrell, and Manchester bettered two freestyle relay records. Their 3:24.8 in the 400 yard freestyle is only a tenth of a second of the EC varsity record, and their 77:44.8 in the 800 yard freestyle is better than 10 seconds below the varsity.

Coach Joel Shanabrough led the team to a 6-1 record including wins over Citadel, rec and Wingate with their only loss coming from an All-American laden Carolina frosh team. Coach Shanabrough is looking forward to the strength his swimmers will provide the varsity next year.

Chicago — Minnie Mimoso of the Chicago White Sox was hit by pitched balls 23 times during the 1966 season to establish an American league record.

New York — Byron Nelson finished in the money in 113 consecutive professional golfers association tournaments during the 1940's.

Jersey City, N. J. — The Jersey Jets of the Atlantic Coast professional football league won 21 of their first 24 games under the leadership of Coach Nick Cutro.

Victory Over VMI Tankmen Gives EC Perfect SC Year

By MIKE CONLEY

Finishing their Southern Conference dual meets undefeated, East Carolina's swimmers won a conference championship warm up meet with VMI, 59-44. The Pirates won the first five events, holding a 31-11 lead after the diving. Capturing nine out of twelve first places, East Carolina had three double winners: Mike Hamilton in the 200 and 500 yard freestyle, Larry Hewes in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle, and Owen Paris in the 400 yard individual medley and the 20 yard breaststroke. The other EC winners were Mike Tomberlin in the 200 yard backstroke, Dick Tobin in the diving, and the relay team of Mike Tomberlin, Tom Houghton, Don Snyder, and Lane Jorgensen in the 400 yard medley relay. VMI went into the meet undefeated in Southern Conference competition.

Results of the meet:

400 yd. medley relay: ECC (Tomberlin, Houghton, Snyder, Jorgensen); VMI (Dick Goodall, Hoskot, Fink, Todd); 4:01.4.

200 yd. freestyle: Hamilton, ECC; Doug Goodall, VMI; Hedquist, VMI; 1:54.7.

50 yd. freestyle: Hewes, ECC; Ramsey, VMI; Constantine, VMI; 23.5.

400 yd. individual medley: Paris, ECC; Meybin, VMI; Cygan, ECC; 4:53.8.

Diving: Tobin, ECC; Donahue, ECC; 254.85 points.

200 yd. butterfly: Hoskot, VMI; Snyder, ECC; Fink, VMI; 2:16.7.

100 yd. freestyle: Hewes, ECC; Jorgensen, ECC; Todd, VMI; 1:51.6.

200 backstroke: Tomberline, ECC; Dick Goodall, VMI; Beaulieu, VMI; 2:12.7.

500 yd. freestyle: Hamilton, ECC; Goodall, VMI; Hedquist, VMI; 5:29.9.

200 yd. breaststroke: Paris, ECC; Meybin, VMI; Snyder, ECC; 2:32.9.

200 yd. individual medley: Hoskot, VMI; Beaulieu, VMI; Cygan, ECC; 2:17.1.

400 yd. freestyle relay: VMI (Ramsey, Todd, Goodall, Goodall); ECC (Jorgensen, Copeland, Dinsen, Tobin); 3:33.6.

St. Louis — Jim Bottomley of the St. Louis Cardinals drove in 12 runs in one game during the 1924 season to set a major league record that still stands.

Seaboard Scrapings

Tournament Observations

By Mike York

—Whoever heard of a tournament without an upset? This writer saw one in Charlotte a few days back. For the first time in nine years the first four seeds survived the first round. The favored Wildcats and Mountaineers went to the finals with pre-tourney pick Davidson surviving.

—The best game in this year's tournament? Game No. 1—East Carolina vs. Richmond. It was the only game that matched the best effort of both teams. Only the outcome was disappointing.

—The most impressive group of fans in Charlotte was without doubt those fine people in the West Virginia contingent. They were more organized than their counterparts from Davidson only a one-half hour drive away. They backed the Pirates to the hilt and were very audible in doing so. One group of non-students annually wear colorful striped coats with a different conference team on each stripe. YEP! The coats were all made over again this year to include EC. The West Virginia people love to win, but their basketball tradition has taught them to lose with dignity. A lesson in "sports fanning" was to be learned from them.

—The most unselfish player in the tournament? Ron Williams of West Virginia. His uncanny passing was a marvel to behold. Against VMI Williams set a tournament record for most assists with 11.

—Watch Richmond in next year's action. They graduate only one, repeat one, ballplayer from the entire squad. Coach Lewis Mills has steadily improved his won-lost record in each of his three seasons thus far.

—Tom Green, the skinny Spider who sank the clincher against EC went on a weight gaining program last summer. The result? ... he lost six pounds.

—Speaking of Green's shot, Richmond's Batts went up with ball closely, very closely, provoking offensive goal tending cries. "I was right under the basket with him (Batts)," said Charlie Alford. "He went up and tipped the ball in ... it would have been in anyway, but he still touched the ball. The films will show it."

—Rumor Roundup: Davidson assistant Warren Mitchell, "retired" Bones McKinney, High Point's volatile Tom Quinn, State assistant Charlie Bryant, all have been mentioned in print for the vacant Pirate basketball helm. Just to spice it up, I'll throw in Vic Bubas, Boston Celtic's Red Auerbach, Kentucky's immortal Adolph Rupp, and that wild Irish thron Frank McGuire.

—Suggestion—Make early plans to follow the Bucs to Charlotte next year. We were the only team with no cheerleaders, organized crowd, etc. Of course exams got in the way and it couldn't be helped. The trip is a real ball and well worth the effort. Exams just couldn't fall the same way next year, pray.

Coed Upsets Feelings OF Ivy League Editor

NEW HAVEN, Conn., (CPS)—The Yale Daily News, which loses all composure every time a female wends her way into a Yale dining hall, has erupted over the announcement that a woman will hold the number two position on the Harvard Crimson for the first time.

"Her appointment is just another part of the feminine conspiracy to end the male sex," John Rothchild, the new managing editor of the news, declared. Linda McVeigh, his new counterpart at the Crimson, Rothchild has challenged Linda to a game of jacks, reasoning that "this would be her only weak point. If I challenged her in wrestling or drinking, she would probably beat me."

Miss McVeigh has agreed to the challenge and has also said she would compete with Rothchild in tennis, headline writing or news writing.

"You see," Rothchild commented, "she's already trying to usurp my role again."

An opening in the Richmond defense allows an East Carolina player to attempt a shot.
