Students Stow Away Homecoming Memories

By KATY PRIDGEN

Saturday morning began with a bang when the 1966 Homecoming Parade took place under the direction of Frank Rice, Bob Blake and assistants. The procession began the two mile route at the Carolina Grill and began disbanding at the intersection of Meade and Fifth Streets.

The floats and their escorts continued on to Ficklen Stadium where they were on display until 6:00 pm Sunday.

The parade was headed by the motor police who were followed by the Marching Pirates.

The Marching Pirates foretold our victory when they entertained the spectators with "Dixie" and their interpretation of "E.C. Victory."

Following the Marching Pirates were our own campus police.

Leading the dignitaries were Senator Sam Ervin and E.C. President Leo W. Jenkins. Congressman Walter Jones appeared in the parade at two places. His car continued with the other dignitaries through the parade route while Congressman Jones, who missed his car, rode on the Pi Kappa Alpha firetruck with the Pika's.

The military was well represented in the parade by the Second Marine Aircraft Wing Band from Cherry Point. The AFROTC Drill team were excellent. Also participating were the AFROTC Cadet Group and the Angel Flight.

The Gymnastics Club had a fascinating unit. Club members did various antics on the street while others performed on the float.

The Kappa Alpha float was really in the swing of things with "marching" Pirates preceding the float. The K. A.'s, "The Emerging Pirates," took first place in the fraternity division.

The Alpha Omicron Pi float, "E. C. U. Planning and Growing," took first place in the sorority division. WECC Radio's float, "Flower of the East," carried away first prize in the organization's division.

Sigma Phi Epsilon was given first place for its house display, "How ECU Can Emerge."

The Rose High Band, the Washington High School Band, the Eppes High School Band, and the Cheerleaders kept the parade swinging with their great variety of music and the cheers.

Following the parade everyone migrated to Ficklen Stadium where a great Pirate victory of 40-7 over Davidson and a new total offense record of 516 yards set a triumphant mood for Homecoming 1966.

Halftime at the game was topped with the crowning of Cheryl Lee Murdock, from Umstead, as Homecoming Queen.

To end the Homecoming festivities the Four Seasons played a second concert Saturday night in the gym.

Cheryl Murdock Captures Crown

For Cheryl Lee Murdock the hectic Homecoming week reached a surprising climax as she was crowned the 1966 Homecoming Queen at Ficklen Stadium Saturday afternoon. Cheryl, a pretty brunette from Morehead City, North Carolina is a Student Counselor from Umstead Hall. She is a Primary Education major and plans to teach either the third or fourth grade. Last summer was spent as a camp counselor and she hopes to do the same again this summer.

Since she has lived near the water all her life, Cheryl has developed a great interest in all types of water sports. All is not play for Cheryl, however. Last year she was on the Honor Roll.

"I love it here!" Cheryl replied when asked what she thought about East Carolina.

When asked what she thought of Homecoming Cheryl replied, "I thought it went off quite well." She also said she would love to go through it all again.

Four Seasons Wow EC For Homecoming Activities

By SHARRON HUBBARD

The Four Seasons, presented in concert last Friday and Saturday nights as part of the Homecoming festivities have been together for seven years. According to Tommy DeVito, oldest member of the group at 33, the group started out as a combo made up of neighborhood boys: DeVito, Joe Long, Bob Gaudia, and Frankie Valli. They started out kidding around, but soon became really serious about their music.

The Four Seasons played under a variety of names. The Wonder Whos is the name they use to record one of their 1965 hits, Don't Think Twice However, the name The Four Seasons was decided upon by the group because they auditioned in a club called the Four Seasons. The name "stuck" and became quite well known because of such hits as "Sherry," "Rag Doll," "Dawn," "Bye Bye Baby," "Let's Hang On," etc. Last year, three of the top 100 songs of '65 were Four Seasons originals.

The style of the Four Seasons was arrived at quite by accident. During rehearsals, Frankie Valli would begin to "cut up, singing like a girl" in that high pitched voice. Those who heard him liked the way it sounded. So Frankie began a new trend in popular music. More of the Four Seasons will be heard soon with the release of a couple of new albums. There is also the possibility of an album of Cole Porter music done in "Season's" style.

When asked how they liked playing for a college audience, the Four Seasons agreed — they like it much better than playing in night clubs. "We enjoy doing a show more — no waiters running around making noise to distract the people. . . A college group gives more attention to us. After all, they're the kids who grew up with the group and our kind of music," says DeVito. The Four Seasons agreed about the ECC audience, too. They rated us as "one of the best, well-behaved, fantastic bunch."

In case a few of the girls are wondering, here are some "personal things" about the Seasons.

Tommy DeVito is the oldest of the group at age 33. He is the lead baritone and guitarist. He is an avid golfer. His favorite song is "Dawn," and his pet peeve is "goofing on stage." He loves girls, the only thing he likes better than a girl is "more girls."

Joe Long comes next at age 26. He's the bass singer and guitarist. He loves the ECC audience and thinks it is "marvelous, great, and as enthusiastic as any audience the Four Seasons have played before." He played baseball in high school. His favorite song is "I've Got You Under My Skin." He goes for "food, money, girls and more girls." His pet peeve is "singing out of tune."

Frankie Valli is next to the youngest at age 25. His life is centered around his favorite thing — music. He hates it when he makes mistakes he shouldn't make. He sings that famous high pitched lead that started off as a joke and landed the Four Seasons on top of the Charts.

Bob Gaudia is the youngest member of the group, being 24 years old. He's the song-writing organ player. His favorite songs are "Rag Doll" and "I've Got You Under My Skin." His biggest dislike is mix ups in flight connections.

That is the Fall of the '66 edition of the Four Seasons!

Building Plans Include Two Additional Dorms

Building plans for the 1966-67 school year include a new science building, home economics building, heating plant, and two additional dorms. Also, extensive building plans for the near future have been formulated.

The proposed science building, 110,000 square feet of classrooms, laboratories, and offices, will be devoted to the departments of biology and physics. Approval of the plans for the $2,100,000 structure by the state engineer and Federal Government is expected within the next few weeks. The area between the Rawl Building and the gymnasium will serve as the future site.

An $825,000 addition to the nursing school building still under construction will be started this year. This new addition, about the same size as the nursing school building, will be the new home of the Home Economics Department.

The end of this year should see the ground breaking of two much needed dorms. Modeled after its neighbor, the new girls' dorm will be built next to the New Dorm. The proposed mens' dorm will be identical to the mens' New Dorm. Also, a new $300,000 heating plant will be added this year.

Mr. F. C. Duncan, Vice-President and Business Manager of ECC has stated that the administration will ask the 1967 Legislature for $27,496,000 for building purposes. As approval of this cannot be made before May or June of next year, future building plans are tentative. However, Mr. Duncan did reveal that these plans include a new elementary training school, 4 new classroom buildings, 3 new dormitories, an apartment building for married students, an addition to the main cafeteria, and some more tennis courts.

Several buildings now under construction are nearing completion. The nursing school building will be finished June of next year and the completion date for the new gymnasium has been set for August 1, 1967. Located near the athletic field, the building will house classrooms, offices, a swimming pool, a diving pool, and gym seating 6,500 basketball fans. The Music Building is now finished but a faulty steam pipe is delaying its occupancy. The Music Department hopes to move in within the next two or three weeks.

Freedom . . .

"Freedom of speech is the right of a man, any man and every man, to have an opinion and to express that opinion whenever and however he pleases. Although constitutionally endowed with this freedom, man is inclined not to have his own opinions but to live with the opinion of the majority or of the authority adopted as his own and to conform and be the same."

Freedom of the press often moves in the same drift as freedom of speech. Recently the EAST CAROLINIAN has been criticized for some of the comments found on its editorial page.

Too often, as with any paper, it is easy to make favorable comment on everything and become just like the man who expresses only the opinions of the authority adopted as his own, thus conforming to that authority. When the press, just as an individual man, comes out and criticizes adversely, there is often dissent from the authoritative side receiving the criticism.

Constructive criticism is always in the best interests of the majority. And an editorial page that criticizes with only a constructive aim in mind should be a welcome change.

In the case of the EAST CAROLINIAN, we plan to criticize anything that is for the benefit of the entire student body. In news reporting and certain feature articles, we will be as objective as possible. The editorial page, however, will remain a page for voicing student opinions and campus issues as cited by student editorialists.

Editorial freedom of opinion and freedom of expression is necessary to the life of any campus newspaper. Defense of this position rests on four grounds:

First, any opinion that is forced to remain unheard may be true. For a paper to deny this opinion is to assume its infallibility.

Secondly, though the silenced opinion may be in error, it may contain some truth. Since most opinions are rarely the whole truth, only by expression of editorial viewpoints and uncovering of adverse opinions is the remainder of the truth given any chance to be discovered.

Thirdly, if the opinion is not only true, but the whole truth, and if it is not vigorously and earnestly contested, it will be held by the reader in the manner of a prejudice with little comprehension or feeling of its rational grounds.

And fourthly, if this acceptance is accomplished, the meaning of the doctrine will be in danger of being lost and deprived of its vital effect on the character of those accepting it.

Opinions should be voiced. What happens when opinions are not allowed to be expressed editorially?

Is not the reader as well as the writer deprived of one of the most treasured rights of mankind. The silencing of an opinion can deprive freedom from the individual.

If an opinion is right and yet is kept silent, then students are deprived of the opportunity of exchanging error for truth. If the opinion was wrong, then the student loses what might be termed an equal benefit, for the student then gains the clearer perception and livelier impression of truth by its collision with error.

Selective Service Test . . .

First on the list of every male college student today is the ever threatening prospect of being drafted. As the war in Vietnam continues, students find themselves placing even greater emphasis on their draft status classification.

Last Spring the Selective Service System introduced to college students everywhere a test for determining college draft deferment. The Selective Service College Qualification Test was taken by students all over the country with a requirement that each student make a grade of 70 in order to be safe from the draft.

Once again the Selective Service is administering tests at more than 500 testing centers throughout the U.S. on November 18 and 19. At this same time the Selective Service Qualification Test will be administered here at East Carolina.

On campus Thursday afternoon, October 13, from 2 to 4 p.m. in Wright Auditorium will be two Selective Service men to distribute application blanks for the test and answer any questions that students may have concerning the test. This will be the only time that students who haven't taken the test will have the opportunity to ask questions regarding the test's significance in their own particular situation.

Any registrant may apply to take the test if he is enrolled in a college or is a high school senior or graduate and has not previously taken the test. A student takes the test only once since the Selective Service feels that only one test is necessary to predict a student's ability to do college work.

Application blanks which students pick up in Wright Auditorium on Thursday must be mailed promptly to educational testing service, Princeton, N. J., in a pre-addressed envelope obtainable with the application or from any local draft board.

All applications for the test must be postmarked no later than October 21 as applications mailed after that date will not be processed.

All male students here at East Carolina who have not taken the Selective Service Qualification Test should contact draft officials in Wright Thursday to be sure that they are thoroughly familiar with the necessary preparations for taking the test.

Each student is responsible for making his own deadlines and must decide for himself whether or not the test will benefit his particular situation.

IT'S ALL GREEK

Editor:

Comments have been made about the way that election results were tabulated by the SGA elections committee. I will be the first to agree that the process could have been more efficient. I think Marvin Smith, chairman of the committee, will agree that the job could have been done better. However there are many circumstances which held Marvin back from doing a better job (eg. he was appointed to the position without prior experience and he also was appointed at a late date). However, my purpose here is not to criticize or defend Marvin.

It is rather to thank him for the willingness to aid WECC, campus radio, in getting election results to the students in the dorms as soon as they were available. Without his help we would have failed miserably in informing the students of the election results. For anyone else who may criticize Marvin, or for that matter anyone else on campus, I suggest that you volunteer to join the group or individual you are criticizing and offer helpful suggestions rather than lambasting them with worthless folderol.

Sincerely yours,
Geoff Church

Dear Editor,

I have been a student at East Carolina for two years and no one takes greater pride in the college than I.

However, I have one complaint and that is the horrible food that we, the men on the "Hill," are served not to mention the ridiculous prices that are attached.

For example on Sunday, October 2, fifteen minutes after the cafeteria had been opened for lunch, I sat down and began to eat a wonderful dinner of cold corn and spaghetti.

The only dish that I enjoyed was the ice cream that I had for dessert. Luckily the personnel had not tried to improve it.

A student without a car is almost compelled to eat in the cafeteria unless he walks to Hardee's every day.

Maybe I am the only student that disapproves of the "Food" that is served, but I hate to spend money for anything that isn't worth the price.

Sincerely,
A Disgusted Student
Aycock Hall

Dear Editor:

Attention: Mr. Reid Overcash

Please allow me to try to answer some of your questions concerning the Mens Residence Council. First, the MRC President did not request a salary scale, 25 per cent or otherwise! Second, I agree, the SGA President probably is overpaid at $8.00 per year (almost a full scholarship). Third, the reason you have heard no rumors "concerning the SGA calling the MRC administration a 'bunch of fools'" is because you have your facts wrong and backwards which leads me to wonder from where you obtained your information!

As for your suggestion that the SGA "make a decision on the MRC action," may I remind you that the SGA has no authority to make such a decision, real or otherwise.

From The Belfry

Alpha Beta Chi

By John Stone

Greenville always picks the best times to institute some new policy or to enforce some old one. Anyone who tried to purchase a bottle this past week-end knows exactly what I am talking about.

I was greeted at the door by a man in uniform who stated in a very strong voice, "O K buddy, let's see your I D card!"

Well, I thought to myself, what in hell's name does the Salvation Army want to see my ID card for. Upon taking a second look, I realized that it was not the Salvation Army after all but instead was the noble ABC officer.

Not being old enough to legally buy booze, I quickly looked around in amazement, then turned to the officer and said, "Oh, please excuse me, I must be in the wrong place. A friend told me that this was the new Alpha Beta Chi house and they were having a rush this week-end. Some friend. Just wait till I see him Monday."

The officer seemed as if he believed me. Most officers will believe anything that you tell them anyway. At any rate, I spent the entire week-end without a drop, as I am sure many others did. This is going to be a long year. Later girls' hours and no booze. Will the student body ever win?

The Four Seasons were simply marvelous. Without doubt, this is one of the better performances that we have had on campus in a good while. I'd like to extend my thanks to Dean Alexander and the entertainment committee for bringing them to the campus. You deserve a gold medal. This is the type of performance that the student body likes. This is what we need more of.

I've noticed that the paper is presenting a lizard of the week award now. I can't believe that there have been two editions and the SGA President still hasn't received it.

Something must be wrong. Maybe the election committee better look into this situation. I'd vote for him and I have many friends who would also. Besides, who is the Phantom who selects the recipient anyway?

The Editor of THE BUCCANER has been worried because I have not mentioned him in the past several articles.

Well, have no fear my friend. Just as soon as I can get something on you, the spot light will be yours. Maybe something will happen at that big convention up in Philadelphia. I'm sure that the student body would love to know what the delegates do at these big EXPENSIVE affairs.

Who is THE USTORIA MAN? Only the little boy in the blue shirt knows.

Concerning your suggestion that the SGA might be "too busy to answer every little whim," you should read the front page of last Tuesday's edition of the East Carolinian which states "Sniteman sets MRC Records Straight." Perhaps this will answer your suggestion that the SGA is too busy! Keep in mind however, his (Sniteman's) report is still wrong concerning the MRC committees, president's speeches, etc. There was only one speech and it was published!

Mr. Overcash, as for the boos you say were directed towards me at the football game, am I to understand that if this incident did in fact occur, that you condone this type of student? I also must wonder how you were able to determine from some distance and by sound, to whom these voices did belong. Positively to men living on the "Hill." Apparently you are psychic — or in need of mental repair?

I hope you represent the men of Aycock Residence Hall in the SGA more effectively than you have so far done. I welcome the opportunity to discuss the MRC and SGA with you at your convenience.

Sincerely,
Bill Moore

We here at East Carolina are very proud of our campus. We are also proud of our free election. But how proud are we of the cluttered up bulletin boards after the elections. Is this not littering? If we are college students we should be able to finish every job we start.

So please clear the bulletin boards.

The Spirit Of 1776?

Lizard Bill Moore and D. A. R. Mascot . . .

By DUNCAN STOUT
 Curses and unthinkable Damnations! There is no hesitation in presenting this week's Lizard of the Week award. Once again our little sunny haven of Faustus and Byrons and refuge of the Meek and the Beautiful has been penetrated by a vile sounding Super Hisser!
 Curses to Bill Moore and the other nasty rascals of the Men's Residence Council for taking George Washington from the D.A.R. and raising that 1776 myth of standing up and stating what you believe.
 We're not sure about all this talk of 25 per cent of a budget for salaries and 10' by 15' offices (the lovely plush or little less than lovely plush varieties) but haven't we got enough problems?
 What about air pollution? Or Gunther Sachs and Brigitte Bardot?
 Have you forgotten about Hubert Humphrey and the crises of the American Dairy Association? Or how about clothing for the naked animals or tassel loafers?
 Come, come, men! Why this silly concern for democracy and independent thought.
 After all we're one big happy family aren't we?
 (Curses, curses, curses.)

The War On Mini-Skirts!

By ROD RITCHEL
 The Collegiate Press Service
 The mini-skirts were blamed for economic crises in three Western nations September 28, as a University of Toronto debate team unanimously defeated the resolution "Shorter Skirts Are A Threat to Democracy."
 Speaking for the ayes, David Mos-sop, a "panty man," blamed mini-skirts for economic crises in "the three great democracies, Britain, Canada, and the U.S." Mossop cited a British ditch-digger, distracted by the skirts, whose productivity fell from 25 to 15 shovelfuls a minute. He called on Prime Minister Wilson to "freeze the hem-line rather freeze the prices."
 He said that because of the mini-skirt the cancellation of medicare in Canada will breed a new disease —sexual frustration.
 "The next mini-skirt you see, tear it down," he ordered.
 Bernie Bomers of the nays defended mini-skirts on grounds that "they are an institution of the people, for the people, and by the people."

 He said that skirts are democratic because "like democracy, they help to release energy."
 Stan Emerson of the ayes accused Bomers of trying to "hem and skirt" the issue with a "diarrhea of words and constipation of thought." "Mini-skirts are a threat to motherhood," he said.
 He said that, while equality is one of the cornerstones of democracy,
 "mini-skirts emphasize the differences between the sexes" — to which one engineer shouted, "vive la difference."
 "Mini-skirts discriminate against older women," Bomers said. "There is much to be said in praise of older women."
 Citing the Keynesian principle that "the gross national product varies inversely with the hemline" he said that the mini-skirts destroy a stable economy. "More than 72 per cent of Canadian industries reported a high rate of absenteeism among mini-skirt wearers suffering from colds.
 This caused more imports of aspirin from the U.S., thus adversely affecting the balance of payments."
 Cheers! on by Skulemen, Susan Whorsh said democracy rests on the right to dissent. "Mini-skirts have brought about this dissent between the ayes and the nays; therefore they must be democratic," she said.
 Ron Thompson defended Miss Whorsh, "the Canadian woman," by saying the gross national product varies directly with natural resources. "People are natural resources; mini-skirts encourage more people; therefore, mini-skirts increase the gross national product."
