Minors Vote In Primary With Choice '68 Tomorrow

By RITA L. BEST
Features Editor

Want a chance to vote in the 1968 Presidential primaries? Choice '68 offers every ECU student the chance to vote for the Presidential candidate of his choice.

Never in the history of our nation have so many college students become so indirectly involved with the major issues of the day. Yet, due to a large extent of isolation caused by an age limit, few have had the opportunity to express their political views in a unified, coherent manner.

Choice '68 gives students under 21 years of age an opportunity to express their opinion as to whom they would like for the President of '68," explained Steve Sharpe, SEA Legislator, who is campus coordinator for Choice '68.

Voting will be held on April 24 in the lobbies of the University Union and of Wright Building. Balloting will be done with use of a punch card ballot. The basic data on the ballot shows the voter's age and party, whether he is a foreign student, his first, second, and third choices for president among 13 listed candidates plus write-ins; the course of action which he believes the US should pursue in regard to her military forces in Vietnam; the course of action which she should pursue regarding the bombing of North Vietnam; and the area of government spending which should receive highest priority to meet the urban crisis.

Although ECU will have 2,000 votes in the Presidential primary, about two million ballots from the other 1,500 participating colleges and universities and colleges will comprise the total tabulations for Choice '68.

At the campus polling places, students will push out perforations on the cards to indicate their preferences. These punched cards go to branch offices of the Univac Information Services Division in Chicago, Los Angeles, and Silver Spring, Md., where the punch card ballots will be converted into three reels holding the entire primary data on about 3,600,000 feet of tape. The computer then tabulates complete returns.

After the primary, a detailed report on all aspects of Choice '68, including further analyses of the returns, will be published.

Choice '68 has been endorsed by such candidates for President as Richard Nixon, Nelson Rockefeller, and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Choice '68 is a thoroughly worthwhile exercise," commended Richard Nixon. "It enables the largely disfranchised student to make a political impact with his views on the great issues and his references among the candidates. It enables the American student community as a whole to make an impact upon the electorate that will choose the next President."

The new importance is that Choice '68 will be the first primary in which Robert Kennedy and Eugene McCarthy meet head on.

Kennedy and McCarthy will not only be battling to see which, if either, can win the democratic struggle in the Choice '68 balloting, but also which can expect the most support from the college ranks throughout the rest of the campaigning.

The answer to the later question could provide the answer to the question of who will represent the Democrats on the November ballot.

The Choice '68 election could answer some questions about the Republican race too. For the first time, Richard Nixon will face opposition from the right and the left. On the other there is Nelson Rockefeller, John Lindsay and others.

All in all, Choice '68 looks to be worth voting in and worth studying.

Johnny Rivers, well-known recording artist, will perform for East Carolina students Saturday afternoon in a free concert on the mall. Tickets will not be required for the show.

Meymandi Speaks April 24 On 'Community Psychiatry'

"Community Psychiatry — The Third Revolution" is the topic of a talk which Dr. Assad Meymandi, director of the Cumberland County Mental Health Center, Fayetteville, will make Wednesday, April 24, in Old Austin Auditorium at 8 p.m.

The "father" of the on-going center at Fayetteville, the citizens of that town recently honored him by naming him recipient of the 1968

Young Man of the Year Distinguished Service Award. His book "The First Two Hundred Days" relates in layman's language his involvement and experiences in the establishment of the only complete mental health center in North Carolina.

A native of Kerman, Iran, Dr. Meymandi was awarded the scientific medal by the Iranian Department of Education in recognition of top scholastic rating in high school during his premedical education at Arizona State University. He served as president of the student body government of the university.

He received his medical education at George Washington University School of Medicine, Washington, D.C. and served his psychiatric internship at Saint Elizabeth Hospital, Youngstown, Ohio. From 1963 until 1966 he was resident psychiatrist at Dorothea Dix Hospital, Raleigh. He assumed his duties as Director of Cumberland County Mental Health Center on July 1, 1966.

Recognized in the field of mental health, Dr. Meymandi holds membership in the Beta Beta Beta Biological Honorary Fraternity, Phi Ki Meical Fraternity, and is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He was a recipient of the Lederle Laboratory Medical Student Fellowship Award, National Scholarship Foundation of New York award and numerous grants from agencies in the related field.

Associate editor of THE NORTH CAROLINA JOURNAL OF MENTAL HEALTH, he is also author of a weekly column, "You and Your Mental Health," which appears in the Fayetteville Observer and is scheduled for national syndication.

Sign-Up At Home And Vote Away

You don't have to go home to vote. A student can vote in the election next fall and in the primaries this summer in the place of his residence by registering to vote in his home town. Or he may vote in Pitt County if he signs an affidavit to remain in Greenville or Pitt County after graduation. If he leaves however, he is liable to prosecution for perjury.

Absentee ballot rules are defined by individual counties. If you are in doubt about the particular rules of your county or city you should contact the Chairman of your County Board of Elections.

Ferrante And Teicher Head Off Jamboree

Ferrante and Teicher, one of America's leading two-piano teams, will be the first concert of Pirate Jamboree.

How does a two-piano team come about? It is not something that can simply come about easily. Both pianists must fit together like fingers in a glove. It is not a matter of both performers playing the same notes together, there is seldom any duplication, but rather they must complement each other and support and expand each other's ideas. This in essence explains the abilities of Ferrante and Teicher.

The team started out at Manhattan's Julliard School of Music where they both child prodigies registered when they were six. During their years at Julliard, they studied under the same teachers, learning the fundamentals of piano. In the beginning, they only did duets at one piano. Later they realized how much more could be done with two pianos.

Upon graduation from Julliard, they began their concert tours. For twelve years, they struggled along with little recognition. Their fame started to grow in 1960 when they recorded the theme from the movie "The Apartment." In the first three weeks alone, "The Apartment" sold 750,000 records. "Exodus" followed an Ferrante and Teicher were on the plain of recognition they occupy today.

Today, nearly every jukebox in the nation features popular singles by Ferrante and Teicher. They have sold over 20 million records and have won eleven gold record awards.

They no longer give "concerts" in the usual sense, but what they do offer is a highly professional show, employing their own lighting director, audio experts, wardrobe manager, and even a comedy writer. They perform in about 100 or more dates each season all over the United States, Canada, and in Europe.

They have appeared on every major television network program from Ed Sullivan and Dean Martin to the Hollywood Palace and Bell Telephone Hour.

The concert will be held Friday, April 26 at 8:15 p.m. at Minges Coliseum. Tickets are available this week in the Central Ticket Office with a 50 cents service charge per ticket.

Assistant Dean of Men Bob Miller.

Miller Leaves For Research Job

Robert Miller, assistant dean of men, plans to resign from his position at East Carolina to become market research analyst of the Sunoco Co. in Hartsville, S.C.

Miller has served as the assistant dean since July 1, 1967 when the legislature created the position. Before this time, he had served as a graduate assistant to Dean Mallory while he studied for his M.A. degree in education in guidance.

Miller received his A.B. degree in business from East Carolina in 1965. After his graduation, he worked as sales service director of the Sunoco construction products division in Hartsville, S.C.

The Sunoco Co. is concerned with the production of fiber products. Miller's new job will be to investigate and solve the problems and faults of the materials produced.

Several people are under consideration to replace Miller. No decision has been made yet.

Asked if he wanted to comment on his stay at ECU, Miller replied that his resigning left him with mixed emotions. He said he felt that East Carolina had given him more than he could have ever given to East Carolina.

Ferrante and Teicher, whose piano renditions range from classical music to pops, will appear in Minges Coliseum Friday night at eight. Tickets for the performance may be picked up at the Central Ticket Office. All reports indicate a rush on tickets, so get there as soon as possible to assure a seat.

Wait Until Tomorrow . . .

The first half of Spring Quarter is over, and East Carolina students are heading into the last leg of the 1967-68 academic year.

This mid-point of the third and final quarter is characterized by the coming of Spring to the Greenville area, and brings with it a multitude of activities for the student in the remaining five school weeks.

Ferrante and Teicher, Johnny Rivers, crew races, track meets, baseball games, Azalea Festival, Greek Week, and graduation all loom big on the horizon for the upcoming five weeks, not to mention beach parties, picnics, and other activities not listed on the campus calendar.

All these things will combine to make the remaining five weeks rather hectic ones for students, as the already fast pace of classes increases to meet the pressures of completing work in the small amount of time left.

All too often we as students allow the coming of warm weather and the many joys it brings to replace our energy and sense of achievement with lethargy and apathy, causing us to revert to the old fallacy of "wait until tomorrow." And in the space of five weeks, tomorrows are very scarce commodities.

Student Participation

Applications to participate in the East Carolina delegation to the National Model House of Representatives in New York next fall are now being accepted in the Student Government offices, affording an example of what students can do for the nation, the school, and themselves.

Members of the delegation will receive the opportunity to take an active part in the governmental process, working with the real problems of today.

To some the entire concept of a "model" form of a governmental structure bear an aura of absurdity, but to those who have taken the time to fully investigate the process it presents a logical and productive opportunity to help deal with the things wrong in America today.

The very nature of this being a body composed of college students lends credence to the idea of improvement coming from the group, for legislators realize that those participating are both responsible people and future voters. Very often the changes proposed by such student legislative bodies are later incorporated in the legislation of the actual delegations they are modeled after.

However, such activities by the SGA here have other value. The East Carolina representatives to this kind of organization have performed at an excellent level in the past, surpassing the work of the delegations from even the so-called prestige schools. As a result, much national acclaim has been awarded to this campus, bringing with it an increase in the prestige of East Carolina.

Many of the students on this campus fail to connect such a boost in prestige with their own personal lives. Failure to do so is a serious fallacy, because any increase in the prestige of an institution of higher learning results in an increase in the prestige of those who compose it. Therefore, the work done by those who are willing to invest their time and interest in these functions can have a definite social and even financial effect on every member of this student body.

This kind of extra-curricular activity also affords a chance to become involved in important functions both on and off the campus. Work in this phase, or any other phase, of college activity is an excellent breeding ground for the intangible but necessary quality of leadership. Every student here can make some contribution to this campus, not to mention himself, if he is only willing to become involved.

Apathy is the only excuse for non-participation, not only in such work, but in poor voting turn-outs and the "no-care" attitudes of many people toward bettering life on this campus . . . and apathy solves nothing.

'Sass'

Dear Editor,

Last Friday afternoon my fiancee and I were sitting in the TV room of Garrett watching TV between classes. I must admit that I did commit the sin of resting my arm on the couch behind her while we were watching TV. Well, while we were sitting there the housemother popped in to see if everything was in order. After looking us over for two minutes she said, "Don't you think it's too early in the day for love-making?" Well, being a healthy boy I replied, "No." That really started things hopping. I tried to explain that we were just watching TV. But she just could not believe that. She even threatened to take my ID card if I gave her any more "Sass."

Action such as this towards a couple just watching TV is really unbelievable! What would happen if someone kissed in the dorm? I hate to think about it!

Now that we are a University why can't we have real counselors in the girls dorms instead of primitive housemothers.

Sincerely,
Jimmy Durham

Reiner For President

To the Men of the Hill:

As incumbent editor of THE HILL, and corresponding secretary, I have had the opportunity to serve the Men's Residence Council in its most constructive year of existence. Although the MRC has experienced difficulties; its gains have been significant: a laundromat, dances, TGIS Weekend, rule revision, etc. To continue the success of the past and to improve in the years ahead, I am seeking the office of President in the April 25 election. I feel my qualifications are gained through active involvement in all major activities, projects, and Executive Council work. I solicit your vote to aid me in continuing to promote the MRC and its activities.

Respectfully submitted,
Riley E. Reiner

Carros For CS

To the Men of the Hill:

As a candidate for the office of communications secretary of the MRC, I wish to solicit your vote on April 25. Having worked at radio station WECU for three quarters, I feel that I have the qualifications to communicate with all the students of ECU and to make known the ideas and accomplishments of the MRC.

During the past year the MRC has made contributions to the betterment of ECU: dances, TGIS weekend, a new laundromat, etc., and in order to carry on this success, qualified personnel are needed to represent the men on the hill and to serve our school.

I believe I am qualified to serve as communications secretary, and once again I solicit your vote on April 25.

Thank you,
Respectfully,
Johnny Carros

Range For Treasurer

To the Men of The Hill:

As a freshman I have been trying to learn the ropes of university life. I have not always found the going easy, but it has been enjoyable. I have become a participating member of the WECU Radio Staff. I now want to broaden my field of interest by being of service to East Carolina University and particularly to the men of the "Hill".

I feel that as a business major, my courses will coincide with my duties as treasurer and vice versa.

Your vote on April 25 would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
Roy (Grant) Range

Masters For Secretary

To the Men of the Hill:

I, Norman Masters, am seeking the office of recording secretary of the Men's Residence Council. The person who occupies the position of recording secretary should be alert, conscientious, and dependable. He should be able to take notes well and accurately so that he may later produce well-organized and precise reports.

Having had previous experience as typist and correspondence editor of THE REBEL, I feel that I am qualified for this office. And since I am a business administrator major, I understand the importance of maintaining precise and accurate records. Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

Thank you.

Respectfully yours,
Norman Masters, Jr.

Hall For VP

To the Men of the Hill:

As incumbent vice president of the Men's Residence Council, I offer as my qualifications for a second term of office the experience and know-how I have gained during the past year. I can promise you nothing more than my best efforts on behalf of the men of the "Hill." In an organization such as the MRC, this is all any candidate can promise.

No matter how hard a representative body works to achieve a set of goals, unless it has the backing of those it is designed to represent, it can accomplish next to nothing. As candidate for vice president, I ask not only for your backing but also for a more vigorous backing of the MRC in the upcoming election and in the year to follow.

Respectfully submitted,
Stephen J. Hall

This, That, and The Other

American Justice?

Walt Whittemore

Would anyone care to say that we don't, in fact, live in a police state? Unfortunately, I believe that anyone reading the national, state, and local news reports—assuming they do ponder, to some extent, over their somewhat censored findings—would notice the similarities in the methods employed by the "goon-squads" of totalitarian nations and certain agencies of our American democracy.

This small fact might be bearable to even the most idealistic of us. When, however, some college administrators begin behaving in a manner usually associated with Hitler's Gestapo or Stalin's secret police, it becomes times to worry. It has apparently been that time-to-worry at ECU for longer than most of us know or realize.

The unfortunate aspect to remember, as in the case of Nazi Germany and all the numerous other authoritarian states, is that many procedures are allowed by the letter of the law which, in actuality, transgress the ideal behind the same law.

One example of the irregularities of our campus authorities is an incident which occurred early this quarter. It involved the campus police and a freshman co-ed.

As the co-ed was returning to her dorm to meet a 7 o'clock deadline, she was stopped by a uniformed campus police officer and a man in civilian clothes. They proceeded to question and harass her to such an extent that she was reduced to a weeping, nervous wreck. When she had regained her composure, and at the insistence of Dean White's office, she demanded an explanation. Instead of one, however, she received an apology and instructions to forget the incident as an "honest mistake."

Some consolation considering her state during the interim! Another example concerned two members of the faculty and two students. Although they have only been directly approached by officials on a few occasions, the frequency with which campus police officers have appeared "on" their rear bumpers and making U-turns in their driveways has not contributed to their activities. Whether or not these individuals are guilty of any clandestine activities is not important. What IS important is the astounding fact that "mental warfare" is not limited to Communist torture chambers or police "grilling sessions," but it employed right here on our campus in a modified form.

A final case involves two male students and one co-ed. By virtue of some rather dubious methods—also known as breaking-an-entering—the co-ed was discovered in the men's home after her dorm's closing hours. The girl's parentage might be coincidental and insignificant—her father is a prominent state official—but she received nominal punishment while the men were shortly thereafter suspended—without any chance to defend themselves in a hearing—for suspicion of some type of dealings with marijuana.

Perhaps a rule exists allowing suspensions for suspicion-of-something-or-other, but how just is that? And, where does the ideal of American justice and democracy allow for this type of action?

It might be argued that the school's "image" is more sacred than a few insignificant individuals. However, the powers-that-be appear to have forgotten one small detail. These insignificant individuals, and all of those others who have felt the same effects, are ambassadors for ECU and they will do more damage for our "image" than could be imagined. Besides, do the ends actually justify the means?

EC Urges NC Urban Department At Annual Planning Conference

Four East Carolina students, urban planning minors in the Geography Department, attended the 11th Annual North Carolina Planning Conference, held at the Institute of Government at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill on April 17 and 18. The four students were Jim Laumann, Bill Diuguid, Gary Gaddy, and Buddy Blackburn.

Of primary interest to the four students was the workshop on the 18 on a "Department of Urban Affairs: Needed in North Carolina?" East Carolina introduced and pushed through a bill establishing a Department of Urban Affairs in North Carolina at the 1968 State Student Legislature.

Beyle Outlines Program

Dr. Thad L. Beyle of the Dept. of Political Science at Chapel Hill led the proponents of the bill by stating that in order for North Carolina to have good comprehensive planning a Department of Urban Affairs was essential and would act as a co-ordinator, communicator, and a planner in seeing that the right agency does the right job for the various municipalities across the state. He also stated that in 1959 there were no such departments anywhere in the nation, but by 1967, 16 states had established departments of this type and were experiencing success with their operation. Many city managers and county planning agencies spoke in favor of this proposed bill.

Green Questions Feasibility

Dr. Paul Green Jr. of the Institute at U.N.C.-Chapel Hill questioned the feasibility of the bill. He stated that there were some 85 agencies connected with planning in the state and there was no way all these would be consolidated under one Department. Since Dr. Green will draft this bill for the 1969 General Assembly, he asked the planners to state more explicitly and define what they wanted. George J. Monaghan, a prominent North Carolina planner, stated that what was needed was "an act of faith rather than an act of definition" in setting up guidelines for this proposed legislation. At this time, Bill Diuguid of East Carolina presented the bill that was passed by the State Legislature and spoke on the problems the East Carolina delegation at the mock legislature faced in bringing about passage of the bill.

East Carolina University has one of the six undergraduate urban planning programs in the nation and the largest in the Southeast. The planning section of the Geography Department is under the supervision and instruction of C. James Duingan, who will be completing his doctorate work in Geography this summer.

Graduate English Club Prepares Experimental Spring Programs

Plans have been made for some experimental programs in preparation for a Graduate English Club which will formally be organized next fall if the initial programs are successful. Programs for this quarter are scheduled as follows:

Friday, May 3: Dr. Bryan Fulmer will discuss Coleridge and Organicism with reference to particular passages from Biographia Literaria.

Friday, May 17: Dr. Blanche Watrous of the Anthropology Department will discuss folklore in its relationship to literature.

The meeting will be held in Room 206 of the Student Union building. Coffee will be served at 7:00 p.m., and the program will begin at 7:30.

All graduate students are urged to attend, and a special invitation is extended to interested faculty members. The meetings will also be open to undergraduate English majors and people from other departments who may be interested.

The meetings are an excellent opportunity for undergraduate English majors to become familiar with graduate study and, also, to become more familiar with the profession they have chosen.

Q. DO MINUTE FLAWS ALWAYS AFFECT A DIAMOND'S BEAUTY?

A. If there are obvious flaws, both beauty and value are affected. However, if there are only a few tiny flaws, and it takes 10-power magnification to see them, it lowers the price—but it does not affect the beauty or durability of the diamond. Obviously, with such delicate factors of judgement, you need the knowledgeable and conscientious help of a fine jeweler. As members of the American Gem Society, we are able to offer this training and assurance to you. Stop in soon to see our fine diamond collection and learn more about the proper grading of gems.

State Wolfpack Hands EC 4th Loss As Bucs Bat Out

North Carolina State University handed the Bucs their 4th straight loss of the season as they erupted for six runs in the seventh inning en route to a 7-3 victory Saturday.

For the Wolfpack, Joe Frye went the distance, giving up eight hits, striking out nine, and walking two. Frye was also the batting star for the Wolfpack as he homered twice, driving in three runs. Batting honors, however, went to the Bucs' Jim Snyder. The big rightfielder clouted two home runs and a double to go three for four.

Dennis Burke went only the first four innings as Coach Smith want- ed to use several pitchers. Burke left with a 1-0 lead as a result of Snyder's first homer in the fourth inning and Mitchell Hughes came on to face the Wolfpack.

After six innings, it was still 1-0, but that ended abruptly as State scored six times for a 6-1 lead and went through three Buc pitchers before Vince Colbert finally got the side out.

With one out in the seventh, Francis Combs reached on an er- ror and Frye unloaded the first of his two homers for a 2-1 Wolfpack lead.

Clem Huffsman walked and that was all for Hughes as Ron Hastings replaced him. Two hits and two runs later, John Weaver replaced the departed Hastings. Two hits and still no outs later, Weaver went to the showers. With the score 5-1, and runners on first and second, Colbert was summoned from the bullpen. A wild pitch moved the runners up and then a passed ball let in the sixth and final run of the inning.

East Carolina scored once in their half of the seventh on one of the weirdest plays of the year. Dave Winchester singled and went to third on an error as Roy Taylor reached first. Taylor then advanced on a wild pitch as Winchester held at third.

Frye went into his windup, and Taylor took off for third only to see Winchester starting back in wonderment. Colbert ended the problem by hitting a slow bouncer to third, allowing Winchester to score as the State third baseman wondered what to do. Taylor, after seeing Winchester on third, had started back to second and was caught in a rundown as Colbert reached second.

Each team added a run in the eighth as Frye hit his second homer for the Pack and Snyder his second for the Bucs.

The Bucs next encounter David- son in a twinbill today at 1:30 p.m. in Southern Conference action.

Football Squad Finishes Practice For Purple-Gold Game Saturday

Spring practice for the East Carolina football squad goes into its final week as Coach Clarence Stasa- schke and his staff prepare for the Purple-Gold game this Saturday.

The offense moved well as Stas- schke commented, "the whole offense was surprisingly good, in the two-hour scrimmage held on Saturday after- noon.

Fella Rhodes saw action at tailback, as the coaching staff is still looking for Neil Hughes' suc- cessor. Rhodes looked good both running and passing and is expect- ed to see action there in the Purple- Gold game.

Dennis Young and Billy Wight- man, who have been alternating at tailback for most of the spring, also did well in the scrimmage. Young scored two touchdowns on runs of 15 and 60 yards, while Wightman threw a scoring pass to Butch Colson covering 26 yards. Col- son scored another touchdown on a two yard plunge.

The practice was considered the best of the spring drills as several players were cited for their play.

Mike Boaz and Billy Wightman looked good in the defensive sec- ondary. Paul Weathersbee, a veter- an, and two freshmen, Mike Baker and Walter Adams, looked good at linebacker.

The defense took the ball away from the offense four times on two pass interceptions and two fumbles but was unable to maintain con- stant defensive pressure.

The team will have two practices this week before the Purple-Gold game on Saturday at 2:00 p.m. All proceeds for the game will go to the Fellowship of Christian Ath- letes chapter in Greenville.

Pirate Crew Team Wins Over RPI

The Buc varsity crew team lowered the mark for the mile and a quarter course made by the University of Virginia two weeks ago as both varsity and jayvee crews won easily over Richmond Professional Institute.

The two wins raised the Bucs mark to 7-7 on the season.

The jayvees took the first race in a time of 7:58, winning by two lengths over the RPI team.

The varsity then proceeded to whip the RPI varsity by five lengths while eclipsing the course record by 11 seconds in a time of 7:10. The Richmond crew came in at 7:35.

One of the main reasons for the record setting time, according to Coach Vic Pezzulla, was the improvement of stoker Dave Reynaud.

"I knew all along Dave had it in him and he finally came up with the kind of performance we've been looking for."
