ECU Tutorials Receive Record Student Response

By JAMES HORD

The ECU Tutorials held their opening meeting for fall recently at the South Greenville Elementary School Recreation Center. Approximately 55 students volunteered to be tutors to a group of underprivileged children who live in Kearney Park.

It was the largest turnout in the four year history of the organization, according to Carol Williams, coordinator of the Greenville Chapter.

"The essential purpose of the Tutorials," explained Rose Johnson, president, "is to help the underprivileged children of Greenville to adjust to academic life, school work, and to provide guidance in areas in which they need help."

"Most of the children are in the lower fourth of their class and need help in almost all areas," stated Carol Williams. "The service is given on a voluntary basis by concerned ECU students who are willing to devote two hours of their time each Tuesday night."

At the opening meeting, each tutor was assigned a child to work with throughout the coming year. Each Tuesday night, a tutor will go to the child's home and instruct him in the fundamentals of school-work, emotional adjustment, or any other particular problems that he may need help with. Most of the children are in grades 1-6.

Many of the children who showed up for the Tutorial service were shy, reticent, and somewhat afraid. A lot of them are from broken homes, or homes in which the father is away for extended periods of time.

Jimmy D. may be described as a typical example of one of the underprivileged children. He has four brothers and three sisters; his father lives in Baltimore. His mother works two jobs—one as a waitress, and the other as a sweeper in a factory.

Or take the case of Charles E. He is in the sixth grade, but could pass for a third grader because of his size. He talks very little around adults. In school, he is far behind the rest of his class.

These are the types of children that the Tutorials are trying to help. The service is recognized by the college, but is not sponsored by it. Membership is entirely voluntary, and all funds consist of donations.

The children being tutored live in Kearney Park, a government housing project. Transportation to and from the project is arranged by a Presbyterian Church bus, which departs from the CU each Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Martha Candler, a junior elementary-education major from Fayetteville, is well pleased with her student, sixth grader Angela Smith. So is Rose Johnson, president and in her third year with the service, who is tutoring cheerful Willie Barrett.

SPEAKER OF THE LEGISLATURE—Bill Richardson, one of the prominent leaders in the Student Party, was selected by the legislature Tuesday to serve as the speaker for the 1968-69 year. Richardson defeated University Party candidate Cherry Stokes for the office.

Denny, Greene Head Honor Council; Chairmen Promise Consistency

By NELDA LOWE

Two outstanding ECU Seniors were recently selected to serve as Co-chairmen of the 1968-69 Men's Honor Council. James Clifford Greene, Jr. and Charles Denny have been named to share the chairmanship.

The honor council, composed of four junior and three senior members, has original and referred jurisdiction over all male students concerning violations of the honor code. Jurisdiction extends over any cases which are serious enough to warrant suspension or expulsion of students.

Dean James Mallory considers the new co-chairmen "excellent leaders" and said, "their past experience in different capacities pertaining to the judiciary system makes them well qualified to serve in this capacity."

Denny, a senior math major from Concord, has been active in the SGA judicial system for the past two years as Attorney General for the honor council. He also served the Men's Judiciary as Attorney General and was a member of the Lecture Committee.

In evaluating the new council, Denny feels that the council has the "material to do the best job in a long time." He stated that the council has good, capable, experienced members of key importance in making sure that the council is effective.

"We're going to try harder than ever to be consistent," Denny said.

"Consistency on the council is to see that each student gets the same due process with all his rights upheld."

Senior political science major Jimmy Greene is from Raleigh and is active in many phases of campus life. This is his second year on the Honor Council and he served the honored people and past experience 1968 summer judiciary as chairman. Greene also serves as Secretary of Entertainment and is on the Popular Entertainment Committee.

The Phi Kappa Tau brother has been a delegate to the State Student Legislature for two years and is well qualified and experienced to fulfill his new duties properly.

Greene feels that the council should not be considered a punitive body only. He hopes it can help rather than punish the student whenever possible.

United Fund Gives Help To Needy Of Pitt County

By MARY ALLEN

The Pitt County United Fund campaign is now being conducted and will continue until October 25.

The United Fund is a community expressing its organized concern for the welfare of the community. Through one annual fund-raising effort, citizens contribute to a healthier and happier community in which to live and work. The United Fund is more than just another drive. It is a combined campaign.

Public spirited citizens representing all walks of life serve voluntarily and without pay in directing the United Fund. They approve all programs and policies, they staff all committees, and oversee all aspects of the year-round program of the local United Fund.

Each agency submits a request outlining services and stating its needs for the next operating year. A citizens committee studies the request, reviews the services of the agency along with the community needs, and on the basis of its detailed review, makes a recommendation to the Board of Directors which, in turn sets a goal representing minimum needs.

The United Fund is nothing more than a collection and distribution point for money going to various organizations who serve the people of Pitt County. Practically every penny a person gives will remain right here at home. A large amount of the contributions goes to the Salvation Army, Red Cross, Pitt County 4-H Clubs, Local Community Services, Association for the Blind, and Associations for Retarded Children.

Richardson Presides Over Legislature

Bill Richardson has been elected Speaker of the Legislature over Cherry Stokes, Summer SGA President. Voting was held at the opening meeting of the SGA Tuesday.

Richardson proposed a complete reorganization of the Rules Committee. This included setting up co-chairmen, dividing the work up more evenly among the members, and having them assist in policy-making matters.

Also, Richardson stated the requirements to be followed in the passing of new legislation. The criteria he established are: (1) How does it reflect the desires of your constituents, (2) How does it affect the University, and (3) how do you personally feel about the legislation.

Seconding speeches for Bill Richardson were made by Bill Mosler, Steve Sharpe, and Bob Robinson.

CHAIRS HONOR COUNCIL—Jimmy Greene, a senior veteran member of the Men's Honor Council, has been selected to share the chairmanship of that body this year with Charles Denny, who served last year as Attorney General.

13-Hour Silent Vigil Becomes Demonstration For Conscience

By BEV JONES

A thirteen-hour silent vigil for recognition of conscience is now in process on the mall.

Today Carl Duncan Stout, a former EC student, is standing trial in Richmond Federal District Court for refusing induction into the Armed Forces. The maximum penalty if convicted is five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

Sitting on the mall are persons silently affirming their convictions for the protection and encouragement of a free conscience; they are persons concerned about peace and understanding among men of all nations.

The vigil began at 10 a.m. with an invocation by Father Mulholland of St. Gabriel's Catholic Church.

Father Pat Houston of St. Paul's Episcopal Church will speak on "Conscience" at 7:30 p.m. this evening. The vigil will end in candlelight at 11 p.m. with a benediction by Randy Mishoe, Baptist student chaplain.

"My first thought of standing trial and imprisonment is that my conscience is free," reflected Stout. "I feel my refusal of induction into the Armed Services was just and necessary. My pacifism is not wholly religious and now I do not think I could accept classification as a religious conscientious objector by the Selective Service system. I accept imprisonment because I believe in the necessity of the freedom of every man's conscience regardless of the divisions of men in society. To honor the law though it is in itself not honorable gives time and place in this generation."

Present on campus today are representatives of the American Civil Liberties Union, the McCarthy for President Committee, student religious organizations, and students from Duke University and the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Draft counselors from the American Friends Service Committee have been available at the edges of the mall during the day. They will remain until 11 p.m.

Students, faculty, and other interested persons are urged to bring candles and join the silent vigil for several hours if not the full thirteen.

Peak Of Controversy

Two letters to the ECU Forum today deal with a topic that has reached a peak of controversy in the past two weeks.

Both castigate SGA president David Lloyd for the replacement of one SGA receptionist with a new person. Both charge that the appointment of a new receptionist was based on motives of political animosity. One uses the term "political rivalry" and the other "political paranoia."

Both letters, however, fail to consider one item of prima facie evidence in the case they have presented. Neither author sees fit to mention that the "dismissal" was made by the SGA president upon a motion of the executive council, and only after a meeting of that body on the matter.

It is not the policy of this newspaper to take sides in the political arena surrounding the SGA of East Carolina University. It is, however, the policy of this newspaper to assure the student body that the complete facts are presented to them in matters dealing with their Student Government Association.

The matter is, in effect, one that should concern the students of this university, for the actions of their elected officials have a direct bearing on them, as constituents.

The Editor fully realizes that the replacement of one receptionist with a new one is a matter that has vast potential for such concern. However, it can hardly be construed as one that vitally affects the lives of the students of this university, certainly not worthy of extreme measures.

As long as the political process remains active on this campus, there will arise policies and actions of the elected officers that provoke adverse reactions from certain segments of the student population. That is as it should be, for only in an atmosphere where dissent can be voiced in a responsible manner can a true democracy exist. However, it is the responsibility of those who choose to dissent to be willing to forsake their own party loyalties and uncover the true facts of the matter.

Whether or not the replacement of the receptionist was within the confines of power of the executive council is largely a matter of personal interpretation. Whether or not it was in good taste depends also on personal interpretation. However, since the executive council is responsible for the hiring of such full-time personnel, it strikes this Editor that it is also their prerogative to replace those persons.

The entire focus of this discussion by the opponents of the administration seems to be an attempt to remove the president from office through the use of the recall, a topic that has been discussed in conjunction with the replacement of the receptionist.

In order for this to take place, however, the proponents of this movement would have to attract the signatures of 15 per cent of the student body, which would be about 1,500 persons.

It seems highly unlikely that 1,500 students on this campus are greatly enough affected by the dismissal and replacement of one receptionist that such action would be feasible.

This is a matter that is highly wrought with political emotions, not just for one side, but for both. When the fire of political feeling is removed from the act, it is certain to strike the average student as quite insignificant in comparison to some of the major issues of the day.

Inefficient?

To the Editor:

Last week our illustrious President from his "executive desk" announced the hiring of the new S.-G.A. full-time secretary. However, he failed to mention the firing for "inefficiency" of the late secretary, Cheryl Meares.

Cheryl Meares was one of the most efficient secretaries S.G.A. has hired in the past four years. Many a night and weekend I saw Cheryl working in the S.G.A. office keeping up with official S.G.A. work and doing a great deal of unofficial work for the various presidents she has worked under.

For the record I think Cheryl should be complimented for her fine tenure of service with S.G.A. and as for our premature executive, I should hope he will soon recover from his political paranoia and get down to the business of unifying the rather sparse ranks of a slow moving S.G.A.

Bill Diuguid

Political Rivalry

To Mr. David Lloyd:

You have recently taken an action which has gone completely unexplained to the students of East Carolina University. Namely, just why was Cheryl Meares, the full-time SGA secretary, fired?

I have heard various rumors — that she was incompetent, that she ran an inefficient office, and others too absurd to mention. I know Cheryl, so I know that these rumors are just that — irresponsible rumors.

Rather, Mr. Lloyd, I am charging that her dismissal was politically inspired. Her husband, John Meares, is a former member of Student Party, and therefore, an enemy of yours. I charge that Mrs. Meares was dismissed because of animosity resulting from political rivalry and that you have grossly misused your powers as SGA President.

Campus Viewpoint

Computerized Roomies

By JAMES HORD
Editorials Editor

This is the first of a series of editorials dealing with campus affairs, national and international occurrences, advances in education and science, and various other events affecting the lives of students — written and interpreted from the viewpoint of a student.

I have been selected as Editorials Editor of the East Carolinian for the remainder of the school year. The purpose of the Editorial Editor is to express opinions, and state policies on matters pertaining to students.

The ECU Forum, located elsewhere on this page, is to be used by students to express their opinions on various matters, and to register dissent. Write us if you encounter any problems, inadequacies, or if you "just feel like you are getting the royal shaft." Publicity will be given to bona fide problems and solutions may be proffered. Also, guest editorials are permitted periodically.

SUNY at Stony Brook has an interesting set-up to aid freshmen in the assignment of roommates. They make use of a "Freshman Compatibility Form" which matches freshmen, to some degree, according to certain personality traits, interests, likes-dislikes, and several other factors.

The purpose of this is to make the best possible assignment of roommates and to facilitate adjustment of students in their first year of college. After all, it is usually the first year that "makes or breaks" a student.

Some examples of the present haphazard system of selection can be enumerated. Suppose a student is deeply interested in jazz or classical music — he may be assigned a roommate who insists on playing soul music for ten hours a day.

These charges need answering, Mr. Lloyd. And please, don't give us any mealy-mouthed chatter. The students of ECU are tired of being hoodwinked!

Sincerely,
Charles Berry

Cliques Of Athletes

Dear "Dedicated fraternity brother of a top fraternity on campus:"

I am writing this letter in answer to your letter which appeared in the September 26th ECU Forum. As you stated in your letter, you seem to feel that the Athletic Department of East Carolina was against athletes pledging social fraternities. Although some of our coaches probably discourage fraternity participation, they do this with just cause. Attending classes, athletic practices, and studying is time consuming enough for anyone.

Since you chose to remain anonymous, you appeared to lack the conviction or courage of your challenge. As an obvious non-athlete, it is understandable that you have never known the fellowship of sport or the feeling of brotherhood that these "cliques of athletes" enjoy. This is a real brotherhood and not a fabrication of one that comes from everyone in a group wearing the same pin. It is a brotherhood that welcomes all — rich, poor, black, white.

The fault does not seem to lie in the athletes, or even in the coaches, but in the fraternities. The stereotype that many East Carolina fraternity men have created for themselves is not one that would attract most of our athletes. What football player would want to hang around with the boys who wear their pants too high, and monopolize the CU tables all day? How do the fraternity men think the football team feels about their "third quarter exits from home football games?" Is this how you support athletics? Is a football game a social event or an athletic event? Is the parading of obscene banners in front of the stands the best support the East Carolina fraternities can offer our athletic teams?

I think our "dedicated fraternity brother of a top fraternity on campus" needs to look at himself and not at our fine Athletic Department.

Sincerely,
Kirk Voorhees
Lacrosse Coach

The WORD Speaks

By Bob Lindfelt

One of the most important things we must do in life is to decide whether we want an abundant, successful life or a mere mediocre day-to-day existence.

In John 10:10 we read: "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." If Jesus Christ came that we might have life and have it more abundantly, either He told the truth or He lied. If He lied to us at this point in the Word of God, then the best thing you and I could do would be to discard the BIBLE.

If it is not reliable here, how can we trust it anywhere else? But if Jesus told the truth — if He meant what he said and said what He meant when He declared He came that we might have life and have it more abundantly — then surely there must be keys, there must be signposts that will guide us into the understanding and the receiving of a more abundant life.

As I look about today at different people in the churches and in the communities, I fail to see an abundant life. You look out at the so called "secular world" and you see non-Christians manifesting more of an abundant life than the people of the church. "If Jesus Christ came that men and women might have life more abundantly, why is it that the Christian believers do not manifest an abundant life?"

In II Timothy 2:15, we find out how we can stand approved before God. "Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of truth." Evidently people have been wrongly dividing the Word of God. Wonder why we have over 2,000 denominations. With these denominations, we have 2,000 different "dividings" — wrong dividings. People should be able to go to a church expecting to get some answers, to get something they can work into their life to live the more abundant life. It is a shame it is the last place in the world they can go for truth.

There is only one place in Greenville that teaches the keys, and shows the signposts to people that they can open the BIBLE in its accuracy and greatness so it fits with a scientific acuteness and mathematical exactness so everybody can work the more abundant life in their own life.

Too hard to believe! Too fantastic! Come to the Way House, 2007 East Fifth Street, Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m.; October 13, and see for yourself.

"I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life."

This week notes a triumph for the S.G.A. In many respects this could be considered a small triumph yet one that is of great need to each of you. The first successful course evaluation went to the printers last Monday and is expected to be delivered to campus this coming Monday.

"The Course Guide '69" evaluates over 200 courses and approximately 125 professors who continually teach a particular course year after year. This evaluation and guide is in a very readable form which facilitates its use to you. There will be 7,000 copies printed, and these will be made available to you before pre-registration for winter quarter so that you may check and use the "Course Guide '69" as an experienced guide to which course you might like to take.

John Reynolds served as chairman of this special committee and many thanks and congratulations go out to him and his staff.

My office hours for this quarter are: Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10:00-12:00 and 3:00-4:00. On Tuesday and Thursday from 10:00-1:00 and from 2:00-4:00.

Please come to see me if I may be of any help.

The EAST CAROLINIAN will accept all notices of interest to the student body subject to the approval of the staff. Notices for the Tuesday issue must be in by 4 p.m. on Sunday; and by 1 p.m. Tuesday for Thursday issues.

Comedy And Action Romp Through Local Movie Scene

By ROY C. DICKS

Film fare for almost every taste is on hand for movie buffs this week, including comedy, music, action, and sex. For a starter, the Friday night free flick (Wright, 7 & 9 pm) combines comic farce with the popular music of Henry Mancini in presenting "The Great Race," starring Natalie Wood, Tony Curtis, and Jack Lemmon. It's the story of an automobile race from New York to Paris (complete with ocean crossing) in 1908. The two rival drivers are vying for the affection of a woman reporter who goes along on the race for a scoop.

Unless "Rosemary's Baby" is held over, "For The Love of Ivy" with Sidney Poitier is scheduled to start at the Plaza Cinema today and will play for a week. The Doris Day - Rock Hudson type of plot tells of a suburban family's maid who threatens to leave because she wants more out of life. The hippie son cons Sidney Poitier, who runs an illicit gambling casino on wheels, into going with Ivy with threats of exposing him. Witty dialogue and hilarious situations make for worthwhile entertainment.

At the Pitt Theatre today through Saturday is Walt Disney's famous classic "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Beginning Sunday, the 13th, Peter Lawford and Sammy Davis, Jr. will star in a mad, mod, colorful romp through London, "Salt and Pepper." On Wednesday the 16th, the one-and-only James Bond will be back in a double feature of two of his best, "From Russia With Love" and "Thunderball."

Due to rescheduling, "Villa Rides," previously announced as the current feature at the State Theater, has been replaced with "The Young Runaways." The film, which plays until Saturday the 12th, is another in the seemingly unending line of the hippie-motorcycle gang picture. "Sebastian," starring Dirk Bogarde and Susannah York, will play Sunday through Tuesday the 15th. The story is of a Pentagon decoding genius whose relationship with one of his female employees turns into scandal. The crude sex film "Carmen Baby" begins Wednesday the 16th with a special late show preview at 11:30 p.m. Saturday, the 12th.

A special treat is in store for music lovers Wednesday the 16th. The International Film presentation (Wright, 8 p.m.) will be the prize-winning musical fantasy "The Umbrellas of Cherbourg." The music is by the popular French film composer Michael Legrand. This beautiful color film stars Catherine Deneuve and Nino Castelnuovo. In it, a young girl, who works in her mother's umbrella shop, realizes that she is pregnant after her lover goes into military service. The girl marries an older man, and then the lover comes back.

For those with a TV, the NBC Saturday Night Movie will be the Beatles' delightful color frolic "Help!"

Counselor Education Receives $59,551 Grant

East Carolina has received a grant which allows more students to enroll in its masters' degree program in rehabilitation counselor education.

The grant of $59,551 provides 16 traineeships in the program for the 1968-69 school year.

The grant came from the Rehabilitation Services Administration of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Dr. Sheldon C. Downes is coordinator of the program in the counselor education department of the ECU School of Education.

East Carolina established the two-year MA program for rehabilitation counselors last fall for the two-fold purpose of bringing qualified new personnel into the field and upgrading persons already employed but not yet fully trained.

The program was developed with the specific intention of preparing counselors to work with the N. C. Division of Vocational Rehabilitation and the N. C. Commission for the Blind.

Baby Bucs Plan Successful Roust Of NC State Friday

The ECU varsity cross-country team topped off a busy weekend by outrunning the varsity of Florida on Monday. On Saturday, the Buc harriers came in second in the Daytona Beach Invitational meet.

Over in Daytona, Florida, the Bucs came in behind Eastern Kentucky, which is the NCAA small college champion. The Bucs finished ahead of Baptist College of Charleston, the University of Florida, Florida State University, and Memphis State University.

Eastern Kentucky was led by their All-American cross-country runner, Grant Colehour, who just recently returned from the U. S. Olympic training camp at Lake Tahoe, California. Colehour, who placed sixth in the Olympic trials at 10,000 meters, won the four mile Daytona race with a fast time of 20:08.

ECU's Don Jayroe, who finished third in 20:33, and Ken Voss, who finished sixth, were the only two Bucs to get into the Top Ten. Rounding out the rest of the Buc harriers were: Joe Day, 13th; Lannie Davis, 14th; Neill Ross, 15th; James Kidd, 20th; Greg McNeerney, 24th; John Osborne, 25th; and Steve Schappert, 33rd.

In the meet against a tough University of Florida team, the Buc harriers won handily as the fired-up Gators lost by 21 to 34.

ECU's Don Jayroe continued his winning ways as he finished the four mile course in first place with a very good time of 19:57. Ken Voss, Neill Ross, and Joe Day finished 3rd, 4th, and 5th respectively for the Bucs. James Kidd came in 8th to round out the Buc runners in the Top Ten.

The cross-country team, which has a 3-0 record thus far, will entertain Baptist College this Saturday at 2:00 p.m. The race starts and finishes next to the ECU baseball field.

EC Hosts Pro-Cagers' Duel; Bullets Clash With Hawks

JACK MARIN

EARL MONROE

The Atlanta Hawks may be without guard Len Wilkens who still is unsigned and the Los Angeles Lakers may be the next superteam of the National Basketball Association with the addition of Wilt the Stilt Chamberlain, but from pre-season play, the Hawks may have the strongest team in their history.

They started off by downing the Boston Celtics twice and their front line of Bill Bridges, Zelmo Beaty, Lou Hudson, Joe Caldwell and Paul Silas appears even stronger than last year.

If the Hawks didn't have enough power upfront, they've added 6-8 Dennis Hamilton who played with the Lakers last year and 6-7, 235 pound Dwight Waller from Tennessee State. Hamilton can hit from anywhere and Waller may be another Chet Walker.

If anything the Hawks are forward happy.

That brings up a happy problem for Coach Richie Guerin so the NBA Coach of the Year has switched both Lou Hudson and Joe Caldwell to the backcourt at least on a part-time basis.

His experiment has proved successful thus far but a big test will be against the Baltimore Bullets when the two teams clash here in Minges Coliseum Saturday night, October 12, at 8 p.m.

"If they can play well against Earl Monroe and Kevin Loughery, two of the fast guards in the league, we'll use them on the backline quite a bit," Guerin said. "Hudson and Caldwell can score on anyone, and they have improved their ball-handling, but I don't think their first four or five showings mean anything. Both of our guys were in real good shape while some of the boys they faced might have been a step slow.

The Bullets have improved their defense according to early pre-season reports. They have won three of their first four games with Monroe averaging 35 points a game.

Tickets are on sale in the Minges Coliseum ticket office.

Soccer Team's Hopes For Win Tumble With Pembroke Victory

By BUTCH LOLLIS

East Carolina's soccer team, aiming for its first winning season since its inception four years ago, got off on the wrong foot by losing to Pembroke College by 3-2.

The Braves kept their mark unblemished as they added their third straight win for a 3-0 record. In winning, the Braves scored in every quarter but the second quarter, while holding the Bucs scoreless for the first half.

Both teams battled hard in the early minutes with nobody scoring for either side. However, Pembroke's Larry Kelly broke the scoring ice with 12:30 left in the first quarter.

At the half, it was still 1-0 in favor of the Braves as the game turned into a defensive struggle.

As play resumed in the third quarter, Ihor Lukew scored for the Braves after only 55 seconds of play had elapsed to give Pembroke their biggest lead of the day at 2-0.

The Bucs battled back to narrow the gap to 2-1 as Tom Gillespie booted one in with 6:00 left in the period.

In the final quarter, the Bucs tied the game at 2-2 as Tim Mookus scored with 15:00 left in the game. For the next nine minutes, the two teams played on even terms until Lukew got his second score of the day with 6:00 left to make it 3-2 and give Pembroke the win.

The Bucs played well in losing to Pembroke, and will be aiming to even their record at the expense of The Citadel this Friday in Charleston, S. C. Their next home match will be against N. C. State on Monday, October 14, at 2:30.

Scoring:
Pembroke 1 0 1 1 - 3
E. Carolina 0 0 1 1 - 2
