'The Association' appear with Boyce and Hart for Pirate Jamboree Weekend, May 2-3

The Association and Boyce and Hart will appear in concert May 2 and 3 during ECU's annual Pirates Jamboree.

The Association concert will be Friday, May 2, at 8:15 p.m. at Minges Coliseum. Tickets will be available in the central ticket office on April 25 and April 28 through May 2 from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

There will be a $1 service charge for students, faculty, and staff. Admission for the public will be $3.

Boyce and Hart will appear in concert Saturday, May 3, at 8 p.m. on the University mall. The concert is free. In case of bad weather the concert will be in Minges Coliseum.

The Association has won six gold records: the singles

"Cherish," "Windy" and "Never My Love" and the albums "Along Comes the Association," "Insight Out" and "The Association's Greatest Hits." The group has also been awarded six Grammy nominations.

The Association have appeared on television on the Smothers Brothers Show, the Johnny Carson Show, the Andy Williams Show and Hollywood Palace.

They have also had live appearances at Cocoonut Grove and Ravinia Park in Chicago and Tanglewood in Massachusetts.

The group wrote the music for Paramount Pictures' "Goodbye Columbus." The title song, "Goodbye Columbus" has already been released and sales have been high. The movie will be released this month.

Boyce and Hart began their musical career as song writers rather than performers. Their first big hit, "Come a Little Bit Closer," was written for Jay and the Americans. It became the number one song in the country six weeks after it was released.

They have written songs for Dean Martin, Little Anthony, Tommy Sands and Chubby Checker. They wrote the theme song for Dick Clark's "Where the Action Is," for NBC's "Days of Our Lives" and for ABC's "Swinging Country."

As their reputation developed, they wrote songs for Paul Revere and the Raiders, Herman's Hermits, The Animals, The Ventures and Gary Lewis.

For the Monkees, they wrote such hits as "Last Train to Clarksville," "Vallerie," and "I Wanna Be Free."

In 1967 the group turned from songwriting to performing. Their first two singles, "Goodbye Baby" and "I

THE ASSOCIATION will appear in concert at Minges Coliseum Friday, May 2, at 8:15 p.m. as a featured part of the Pirate Jamboree Weekend.

Wonder What She's Doin' Tonight" were both hits. One of their most recent achievements is the title song for Columbia Pictures' "Where Angels Go Trouble Follows."

'The Rebel' Arts Festival opens at ECU Friday, April 25

Friday marks the beginning of the Eastern North Carolina Arts Festival sponsored by the "Rebel."

Registration will be 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday, April 25, in room 201 of Wright Auditorium. Late registration will be handled from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m., April 26 in room 215.

Wright Auditorium is the scene for the Symphonic Band Concert at 8:15 p.m., Friday. Admission is free.

The four areas of competition are poetry, short story, photography, and drawing or etching.

First place winners will be awarded $50 prizes, second place winners $20, and the winners will be published in "The Rebel." Entrants must attend the festival to qualify in the festival competition.

A registration fee of $3 must be paid by midnight April 25 if the entries are to be in competition. Entries will be accepted until the first day of the festival.

In the poetry competition, each entry will be limited to one short poem (15 lines or less) and one long poem.

Short story entries will be limited to one short story (1500-3500 words in length). Three typed copies of each short story or poem should be mailed to Eastern North Carolina Arts Festival, P.O. Box 2486, Greenville, N.C., 27834.

The photo essay entries will be not less than three and not more than seven photos. Each photo must be mounted on a hard-back paper of some sort, and bound together.

Drawings and etchings will be one article only. This must be mounted on hard-back paper and labeled with the name and address of the author.

"The Rebel" stresses that you should not send registration fee or entries unless you plan to attend the festival. The last day for registration is Friday, April 25, at midnight.

After the payment of the registration fee, and signing in at the desk, each entrant will be given a pass entitling him to attend the workshops on Saturday and Sunday, and the luncheon Sunday afternoon.

'Black Voices' is first in ECU Contemporary Arts Festival

A two-part evening of contemporary dance and drama will be one of the highlights of the 8th annual Contemporary Arts Festival which opened here yesterday.

The program, scheduled to run at 8:15 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, April 25 and 26, will feature new productions by the ECU Playhouse.

The first work, "Black Voices," is a staging of contemporary black writing, conceived and directed by ECU drama chairman Edgar R. Loessin. The play will trace the contemporary black view of life in America through the writings of Malcolm X., Dick Gregory, James Baldwin, Leroi Jones, Langston Hughes, and other black writers.

According to Loessin, "Nothing is more involved with the present scene than the black man's writing of his goals and needs in our society. We are working with a compilation of black thought, some being fictive in pur pose, some biography and a portion of work primarily social in content."

The second part of the program is an original contemporary jazz ballet by ECU choreographer Miss Mavis Ray titled "A Trip." In an underwater setting, the work is expressive of drug use and its effects, Miss Ray said.

North Carolina Symphony Ball at Minges Saturday night, Governor Scott expected

For the first time ever, one of the state's most important social events, the NC Symphony Ball, will be held on campus here Saturday night.

Highlighted by a performance of the NC Symphony Orchestra, the formal event at Minges Coliseum is expected to be attended by approximately 400 persons.

Originated by former Governor Terry Sanford, the ball has outgrown its former accommodations at the Governor's Mansion, the University of North Carolina and Southern Pines.

Accommodations for the popular ball have previously limited the number of persons attending the gala affair.

With ball invitations given by the governor and the first lady, persons will be attending the ball from throughout the state and from Ithaca, N.Y.

Dr. Leo Jenkins, co-chairman of the ball with Mrs. Arthur Tripp, will be master of ceremonies for the evening.

Governor Bob Scott will appear during the evening's planned program.

Ballroom dancing and a performance from a portion of "The Nutcracker Suite" by a ballet group from the NC School of Performing Arts are also included in the evening's activities.

Decorations for the coliseum featuring the theme of a North Carolina spring garden are being made by the campus School of Art.

Students have already made over 2,000 gaily-colored flowers and designed a three dimensional suspended ceiling for the coliseum.

A gourmet buffet will be catered by a professional, known for his service at the Governor's Mansion and other large events.

The caterer is harmonizing his menu color with the decorations for the ball, according to Mrs. Tripp.

"The ball is quite elaborate and will be beautiful," Mrs. Tripp commented.

A series of open houses have been planned for guests as they arrive here late Saturday afternoon.

Hosts and Hostesses for the special event are Mr. and Mrs. Ledyard Ross, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Little, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. David Evans Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Minges, Mr. and Mrs. I.J. Edwards, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Webb.

Mrs. Tripp stated that she felt it was of importance that the ball was moving into the east at one of the "state's newest universities."

"I feel that the response which we have received shows that there exists a statewide interest in the ball," she said.

African 'Fest' considered 'surprisingly successful' Drums, music and politics highlight event

Drums, music and politics were highlights of the African Cultural Festival held Thursday by the African Studies Committee.

Features lecturers were Dr. Western La Barre of Duke University who spoke on "Africa and New World Rhythms" and Dr. Ebenezer Akuetteh, a diplomat from Ghana, who spoke on the "Current Political Developments in Ghana."

The Festival was considered "surprisingly successful" by Dr. Blanche Watrous, professor of anthropology and Chairman of the African Studies Committee, with the greatest interest shown in Dr. La Barre's lecture and the film on African Drums.

According to Dr. Watrous, the Festival was designed to acquaint the student body with the proposed African Studies Minor to be offered here next Fall. The minor will feature courses such as Linguistics, Folklore, and African Political Systems as well as a proposed African Area Seminar.

The African Studies Committee was established by Dr. John M. Howell, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, after ECU was chosen, along with 14 other schools in the United States to offer an African Studies Program.

Proposed activities of the Committee include plans for the African Studies Minor, the repeat of the film on the music of Ghana, the addition of African Faculty members and a Symposium for next Spring which will feature Lectures by representatives from various countries in Africa.

'East Carolinian' interviews Lloyd concerning controversial UJC

Editor's note: "The East Carolinian" interviewed past Student Government President David Lloyd as to his opinions concerning the University Judicial Council, which has fallen into controversy recently. Here Lloyd presents his views on both the UJC and the present judicial system.

East Carolinian: "What are your opinions of the University Judicial Council?"

David Lloyd: "The idea of the University Judicial Council was brought to me by Dean Mallory about a month before I left office.

In my discussions with Dean Mallory and with SGA legislators, the purpose and jurisdiction of the U.J.C. was not, at that time, discussed in the same terms as is the present jurisdiction. In working with the legislators, in that this issue was introduced and acted upon by the Legislature during my administration, I have found that the feeling of the majority of student officials was for a "Special Council" which would expand the already established drug review board to review and determine the fitness of students to remain at ECU after they had been found guilty of a serious state or federal crime, such as drug abuse or other felony.

How is the present UJC different from the idea as it was originally presented to you?"

Mr. Lloyd: "The present UJC has original and final jurisdiction, subject to the discretion of the President of the University, on issues dealing with drug abuse and other "overt actions".

As I stated earlier, this was not to be one of a "trial court", but rather would review the question of whether a student who had been found guilty of drug abuse crimes or a felony was fit to remain a student at ECU. The original idea as an expansion of the old drug board, again, was not one of trial or findings of guilt or innocence of a particular student but rather after a student had been tried and found guilty by the normal student courts and/or city, state, or federal courts would be then to determine his fitness to remain at ECU."

East Carolinian: "In your opinion, has the newness of the present administration been a factor here?"

Lloyd: "Yes. Although I think that it is unfair to judge this administration at so early a date, I think the lack of experience of the new administration in dealing with serious student, administration, faculty inter-problems could definitely be one of the main reasons for lack of action of this issue."

East Carolinian: "With the situation as it is, what recommendations, if any, would you care to offer to the new administration?"

Lloyd: "Let me start by defining the situation as I see it. We have had student unrest dealing particularly with black students over the past two months and as a result of this unrest, four black students were arrested for disrupting University procedures.

These students were charged by the City of Greenville and are presently awaiting trial in the Greenville City Courts. Now this new University Judicial Council is trying these students as to their guilt or innocence in this issue in addition to their fitness to remain as students before their actual trial in the city court.

A great number of students who are active on campus and involved in student affairs are very upset and concerned about the legality and jurisdiction of this council in relationship to the SGA Constitution and in particular to the Student Bill of Rights. On the other hand there are other students on campus who feel very strongly in favor of the present situation and who would completely ignore the rights of individuals in regards to racial issues and who would jump at the first opportunity to deny the constitutional rights afforded each and every student.

As to what the Student Government could and should do, the first step would be to withdraw Student Government support from the University Judicial Council. This could very easily and quite legally be accomplished by withdrawing the appointment of students to this council, and not appointing or reappointing further members until the situation is studied completely by the SGA Executive and Legislative branches.

It is regrettable that four students are presently involved in a "trial" rather than a review of their fitness to remain here as students. By withdrawing student membership, the UJC then becomes inactive until new jurisdiction lines are established and until the real purpose of this board is actually established.

There will be a staff meeting of "The East Carolinian" tonight, 7 p.m. All salaried staff must attend. Any student who wishes to become a reporter should contact Chip Callaway, Bev Jones or Jimmy Teal before the meeting.

Federal financial aid reviewed

Various types of federally-funded programs offering financial assistance to students were reviewed at a workshop here last week.

Dr. Harold J. McGee, program officer of the Division of Student Financial Aid, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Charlottesville, Va., led the one-day study.

ECU hosted the event which drew attendance from twenty-one community colleges and technical institutes in North Carolina.

Dr. Leo W. Jenkins,

president, welcomed the visitors.

ECU personnel participating in the event were Robert M. Boudreaux, financial aid officer, Jesse B. Jones and W. L. Allen Jr., Dr. James H. Tucker, dean of student affairs, and James W. Butler of the Division of Student Affairs.

Among the project areas discussed were National Defense Student Loans, College Work-Study, and Educational Opportunity Grants. Many of the institutions have operated these Federal financial aid programs, with a few beginning their relations to the programs on July 1, 1969.

Davidson College 'Wildcats' steal Conference treasure from Pirates

Lowly Davidson College downed East Carolina to all but extinguish the Pirate's SC title hopes as the Wildcats split a doubleheader, losing 3-0 before winning by 3-2 in 10 innings to leave East Carolina with a 4-4 conference mark, in a state of shock, and just about out of the SC title race.

The second game loss left the Pirates with an 11-10 mark, which is the worst mark in recent years.

Ron Hastings fired a three-hitter at the Wildcats in the first game to register a 3-0 victory.

In the second game, Davidson won it on an unearned run in the tenth inning to prevail by 3-2.

Stan Sneed walked with the bases loaded in the bottom of the sixth to break a scoreless deadlock in the first game and give ECU a 1-0 lead. Stu Garrett then doubled in two more runs for the final 3-0 margin.

Davidson scored first in the second game to take a 1-0 lead, and after ECU tied the score on Carey Anderson's 350 foot home run in the fourth, the Wildcats pulled ahead on a single run in the sixth.

East Carolina used four hits in their seventh inning to tie the game on an error at 2-2.

The Wildcats then won it in the tenth on a single, a walk, and an error.

The Pirates got a runner to third in their half of the tenth with only one out, but they couldn't get a hit and the runner was left stranded.

East Carolina now gets some time off before playing at Richmond this Saturday and against VMI on Sunday for a doubleheader.

BLACKSBURG, Va.— The Lacrosse club took its second straight win of the season Saturday, with a 10-6 victory over Virginia Tech.

Trailing by 3-0 after the first period, the Pirates tied it up at the half, then outscored Tech, 4-3 in the third period. The Bucs picked up their final three goals in the final period.

Ron Williams and Pete Katzburg each had three goals for East Carolina, while Gary McCullough, Jim Merryman, Neil Kuip, and Don McCorkel each scored one.

McCullough had three assists, while Williams had one. East Carolina 0 3 4 3 -10 Virginia Tech 3 0 3 0 -6

LEXINGTON, Va.— East Carolina's golf team split a pair of matches here last week between Virginia Military Institute and Virginia Tech.

The Bucs downed conference foe VMI, 14-7, while losing to independent VPI, 17½-3½. Mike Schlueter, the Buc's number one golfer, missed the matches as he was playing a qualifying round for the Azalea Golf Tournament in Wilmington.

'Stas' optimism runs high, spring practice 'good show'

East Carolina's football team went through its first spring practice scrimmage under game conditions Saturday and the defense continued to shade the offense in overall performance.

However, the offense showed spurts of effectiveness on occasions and scored six touchdowns during three hours of head-knocking.

The Pirates will have two more practices—Monday and Wednesday—before closing out the spring drills with their annual Purple-Gold game Saturday at 2 p.m. in Ficklen Stadium.

"The passing attack wasn't quite what we had hoped for and we need to improve in our line blocking," Coach Clarence Stasavich said.

"The defense continues to show improvement and from the overall scrimmage situation the defense was somewhat superior to the offense," he added.

During the early part of the practice the offense moved the ball fairly well with the first unit going against the first unit defense. Butch Colson finally cracked it over from the one.

However, this was the only time during the 30 minutes the first two units battled that the offense made a deep penetration. And it wasn't until the third unit offense swung into action that the offense made any serious threatening moves.

On several occasions the offense pushed into scoring territory, but it took a scrambling 67-yard run by John Brothers to get a touchdown.

Rising sophomore Bill Wallace put the next score on the board on a one-yard plunge, and then Jack Patterson threw a short pass to wingback William Mitchell who zipped 40 yards for a score.

Late in the session, third string fullback Mike McGuirk pitched off to Brothers for a five-yard touchdown and Billy Wightman, first string tailback, went 46 yards for another score.

Defensively, Tommy Bullock intercepted two of the three passes the defense stole. The defense also recovered three fumbles.

Steve Wren and Mike Mills looked good in the defensive secondary, while linebackers Paul Weathersbee, David Glossin, Monty Kiernan, and Wes Rothrock were singled out.

"We still let them get out of the hole on us several times," defensive coach Bob Gantt said. "I thought we rushed the passer pretty well on the drop back passes, but we need to improve our pressure on the play passes."

Of the interior lineman, Coach Henry Vansant said Garland Ballard, "showed considerable improvement since our last scrimmage."

The local chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes will benefit from the gate receipts.

'Bucs' down Commonwealth, post 5-3 Crew record

The University of Virginia downed East Carolina, and the Bucs downed Virginia Commonwealth in a crew meet here Saturday. Virginia finished in 6:06.5, while EC finished in 6:09.5, and Virginia Commonwealth in 6:13.

The East Carolina time was the best yet of the season, despite the loss. They now post a 5-3 record.

The junior varsity finished third in its race.

The varsity boat was manned by Dennis Mountcastle, Brown Mims, Dick Fuller, Dave Williams, Hank Milligan, Bob Fuller, John Finley, Rick Logan, and Steve Mabel.

The next meet will be here this Thursday, against the University of Jacksonville on the Tar River course. The meet begins at 4 p.m.

WHY BUY YOUR DIAMOND FROM US? There are over 28,000 jewelers, retail and wholesale, who will be glad to sell you a diamond. First of all, we have successfully passed a diamond grading examination. Such knowledge enabled us to buy loose diamonds direct from the diamond cutter thereby eliminating the broker, manufacturer and wholesaler. Second, you the customer will be shown the exact quality and grade of the diamond you purchase. Last, because of our knowledge of diamond grading and market prices, we buy at the lowest price. The cost to our customer is actually BELOW the wholesale level. In fact, bring us the picture of any diamond jewelry you select from any wholesale catalog and we will duplicate it for less than the shown wholesale price. We have done this on many occasions. County clubs align forces for new fight

The newly re-organized County Clubs will meet tonight to align their forces for a state legislative fight to allow ECU to confer a doctorate degree.

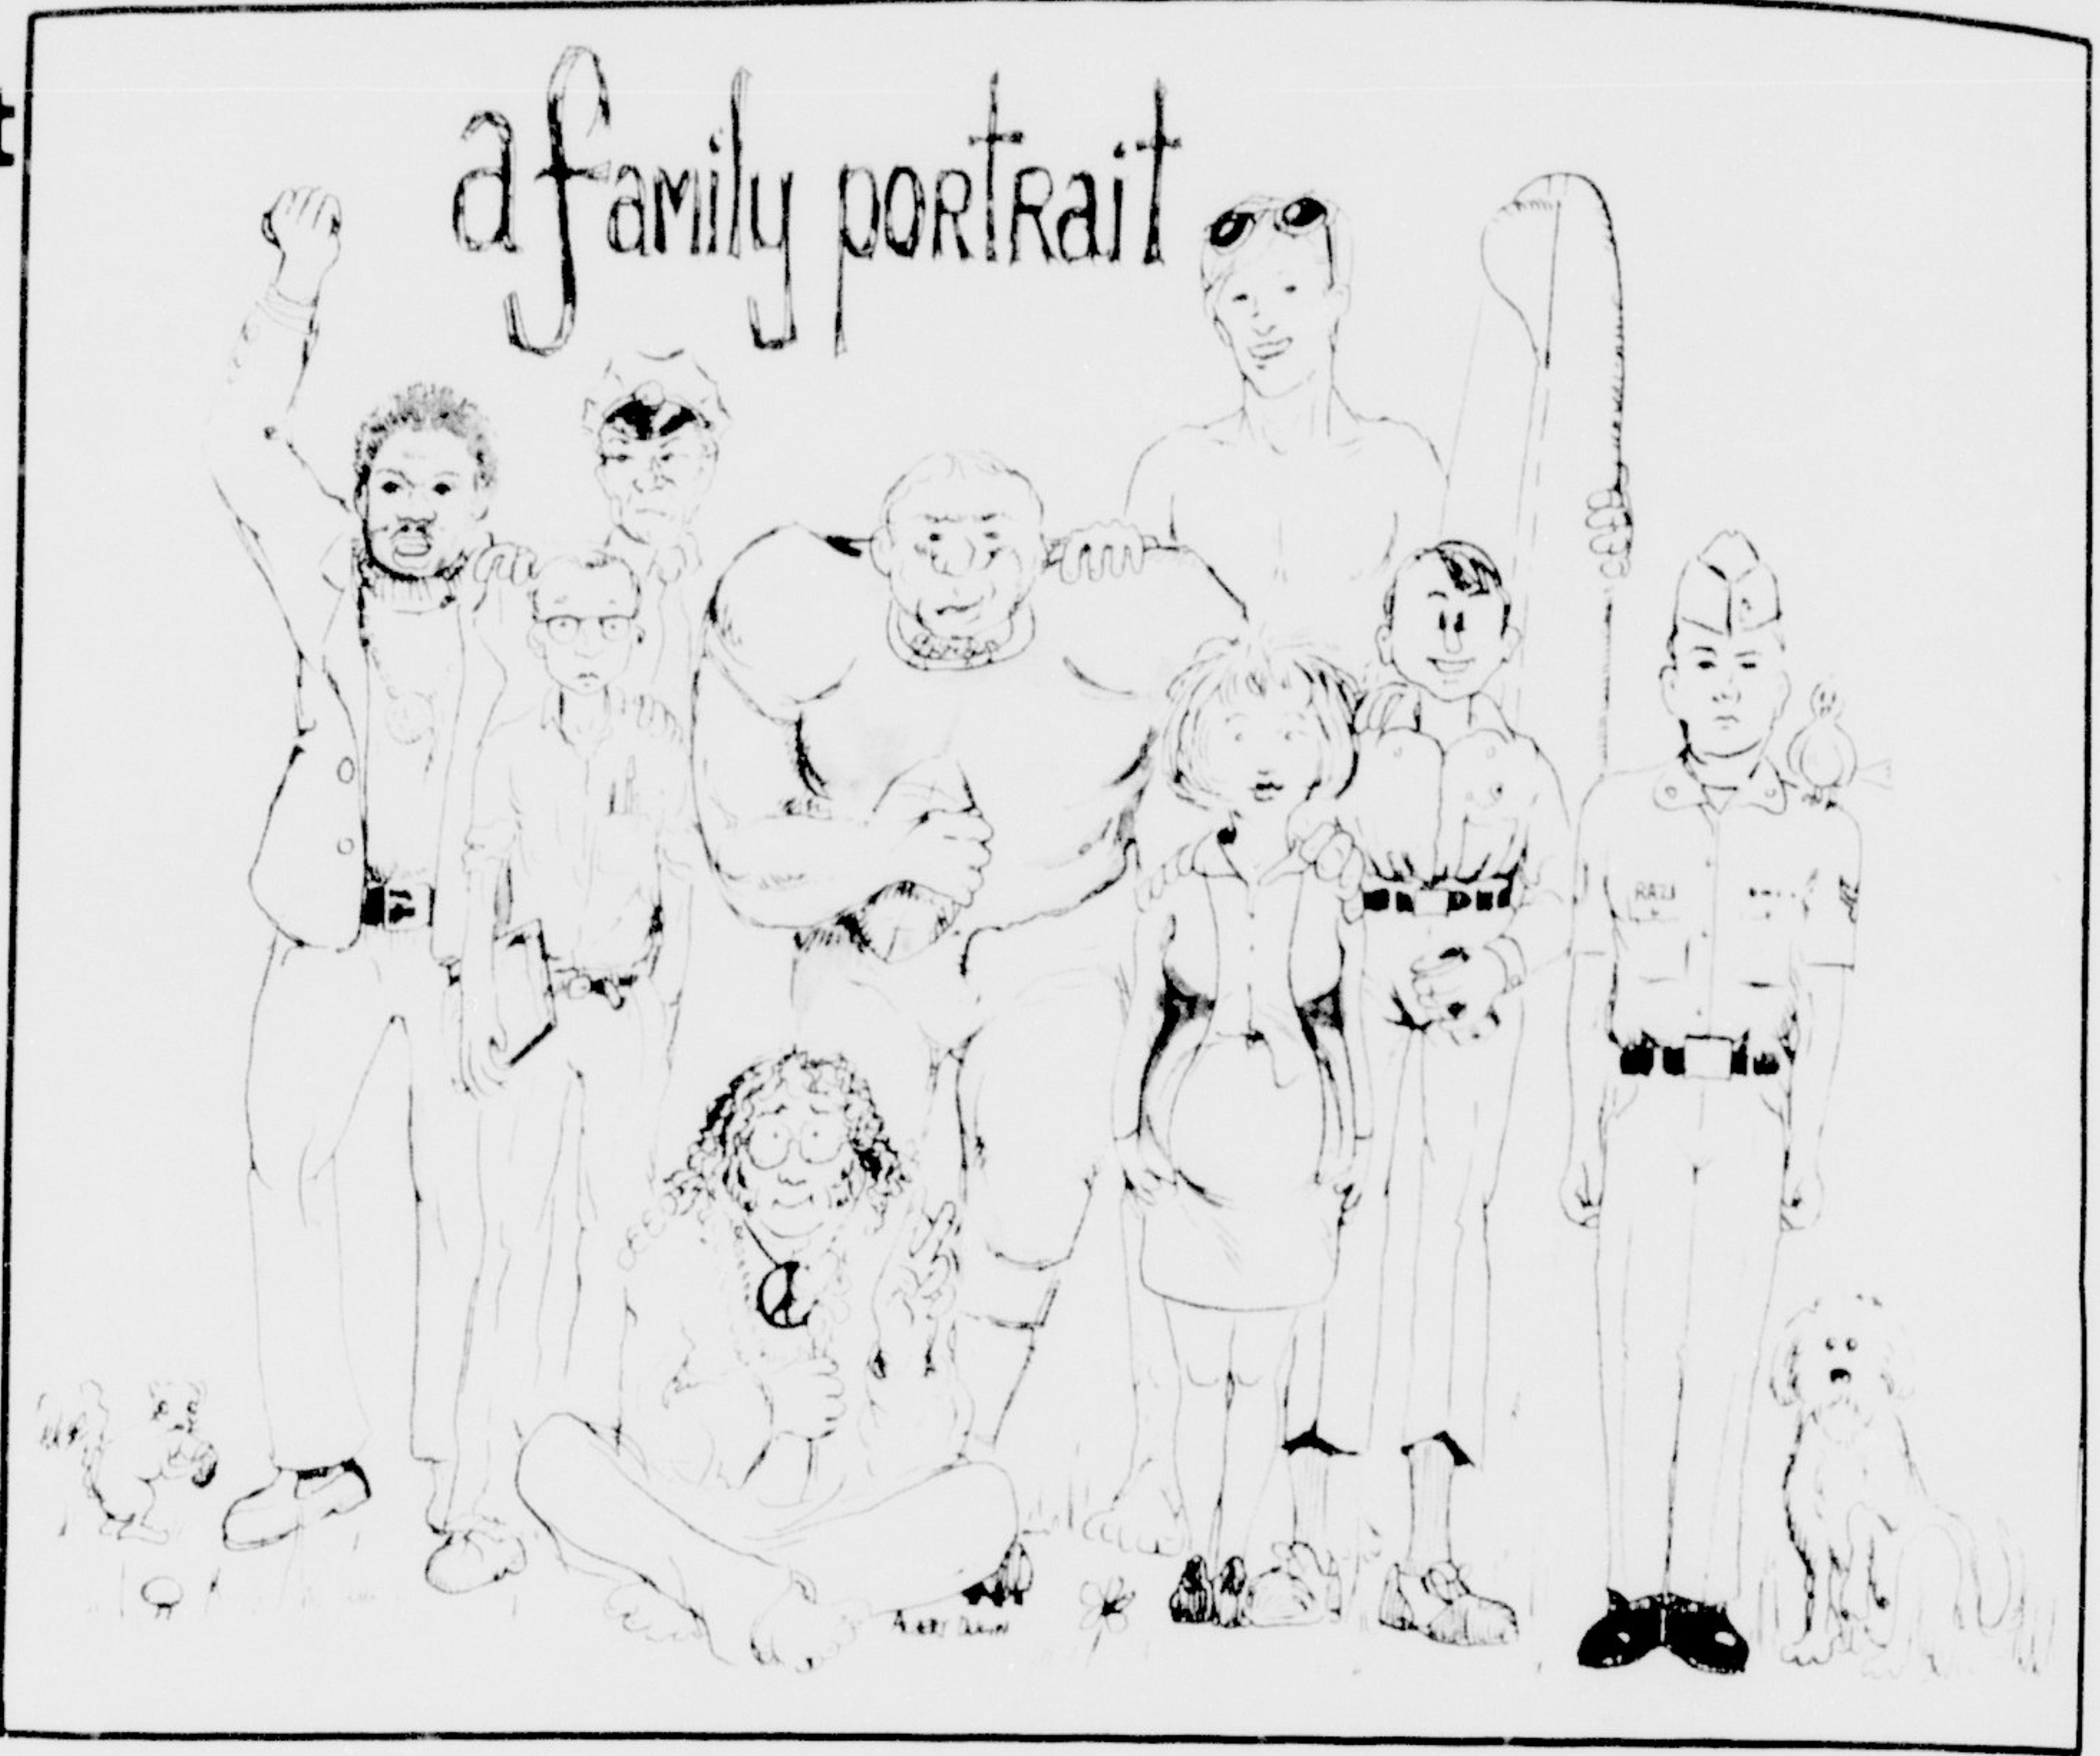

These clubs proved instrumental in the fight for University status two years ago and as Dr. Leo Jenkins put it, "I dare say that we would have never achieved University status had it not been for the support of our student body."

At a meeting last week, Jenkins told about 100 County Club organizers that there were two purposes in recruiting student help for this legislative battle. First he said that active student support will favorably impress legislators.

Secondly, Jenkins stressed the importance of student involvement in state and national politics. "I know as a fact that student support or objection to a bill has had great influence in the past and I feel that in this particular case, your voices and opinions are very important."

Jenkins should be applauded for his attempts to establish a doctorate degree and in his attempts to involve the student in this quest.

"The East Carolinian" urges all students to attend their respective county club meetings tonight at 8 p.m.

Bridge coverage gap on department news

A communications gap has developed between "The East Carolinian" and the academic departments on campus. So often, valuable news from our many departments is overlooked simply because the editors of the newspaper have not received any information about the event.

With the limited staff with which we are working, it is impossible to assign a reporter to each departmental chairman on campus. In fact, it is impossible to assign reporters whose sole job is to find out what is going on in the departments.

Thus, "The East Carolinian" would like to urge the departmental chairmen to keep us aware of news events in the respective departments. If possible, we would like to receive priority in the release of departmental news. In the past, "The East Carolinian" has often acted merely as a repeating device for campus news after its appearance in the "News and Observer" or in the "Daily Reflector."

Correcting this situation is one of our goals. We feel that students should receive campus news first through their campus newspapers.

Please inform our office of any news within the departments. By doing this, we can bridge the communications gap and give adequate coverage to the valuable news that is so often overlooked.

"The East Carolinian" would like to apologize for two blurbs that were printed in the last issue. The two sentences in question were originally intended to run in an April Fools issue which was not printed. Therefore, apologies go to Dean of Student Affairs James Tucker and to Student Government Association President John Schofield.

Dear Editor:

I am opposed to the transit system for 6 reasons.

1. The system serves Buccaneer Courts and Pitt Plaza— both private enterprises.
2. The same few students would use the system at the cost of the entire student body.
3. It serves only that portion of the day students who can afford the extra expense of Buccaneer courts. This system will enable the owners of Buccaneer courts to raise the rent because its greatest handicap has been overcome. If this system serves the students at Buccaneer courts it should go to every apartment and trailer court that houses an ECU student.
4. Most things that benefit only a portion of the population are paid for by that part which uses it. Example, roads are paid for by gasoline taxes. This is the way such a system should be paid for.
5. All this plan does is spread the cost of the system over the entire student body so that those who receive no benefits from the system pay just as much for it as others do. This is neither fair, honest nor equitable.
6. I watched the CU the day of the student opinion poll in hopes of casting my vote. I never found anything that resembled a place to vote on the issue. I also found that the chairman of the student polls committee was one of the top backers of the system; this gives me reason to doubt the accuracy of the poll.

To the Seniors: There will be a Senior Class meeting Tuesday, April 22, at 7 p.m. in Rawl Auditorium. On the agenda will be discussions about the Senior Class banquet and gift and a short talk by William Eyeran, Director of Alumni Affairs. The meeting will be kept as short as possible. Your class officers have worked hard to prepare for what we hope to be the best class banquet ever held at ECU. Our plans have been altered somewhat by the inability to obtain more funds from the SGA. A jazz combo will play at the banquet and at a dance afterward. Our speaker will be Robert T. Holding, Chairman of the Board of the First Citizens National Bank.

Everyone wishing to attend the banquet must sign up in the UU Lobby on April 23 24 from 9 until 5 p.m. You will be given an admission ticket when you sign up which must be presented to enter the banquet.

Dear Editor:

Recently the administration of the library hinted that Joyner might close on Friday nights because there are sometimes "more staff members than students in the library" at these times.

The "cause" is well noted, but the conclusion is bad.

Several factors come into play. First, I contend that instead of asking the legislature for an instant medical school, President Jenkins might ask for adequate library facilities first, then a med school later. Second, "adequate library facilities" includes open doors. It is rather frustrating to be run out of the library at 10 p.m., especially during exam week. After 10 p.m. there is nowhere to go. The Union closes at 10:30 p.m.; the "study hall" on the hill is supposed to close at 10:30 p.m. or thereabouts; the whole city closes at 11:30 p.m. So we men have nowhere to go except to our little cells on the hill, cells with walls so thin that we can hear the people next door swallowing their Cokes.

This brings us back to the library. There are sometimes more staff members than students in the library because the library is sometimes overstaffed. On "slow" nights, such as most Friday nights, there seems to be little need to have the whole building open; there seems to be no need for having one or two librarians at every desk during such periods. A more practical solution to the problem might be to have limited services (having the reference room and two librarians at the disposal of students: close the other rooms, cease other services, and send other employees home) after 9 p.m.

Stated simply, the library can keep longer hours without significantly increased operating budget by closing part of it earlier and leaving the rest open longer. Many other schools have adopted this policy.

Dear Editor,

One would never think of being flooded eight floors above sealevel. It seems due to lack of interest on the part of our faithful maintenance department, our one water fountain, broken since our return from Easter vacation, converted our dry, uneven floor into an instant swimming pool with adequate facilities for wading and diving, if desired.

The alarm was sounded as girls from seventh floor found they could take a shower without leaving their room— with cold water running from the ceiling light. With newspapers, towels and blankets, efforts were made to keep inch deep water out of some rooms, while others were bailed out with brooms, mops, waste baskets, and dustpans.

It is really great living in a dormitory of such a fine, growing institution of higher learning with the secure feeling that our dorms are not just thrown up and are give constant attention.
