Housing plans should be made now

Wooten: dorms may face Fall waiting lists

By DOUG WHITE
Staff Writer

According to ECU Director of Housing Dan Wooten, the housing situation promises to be tight this fall.

"We expect the residence halls to be filled to capacity this fall. The dormitories have been filled for the past four years and at this time applications from new students are running slightly higher than last year," said Wooten.

"Assuming we have the same number of return students next year, we expect to have a waiting list by July or August."

Wooten said students should make their housing plans now in order to avoid a desperate situation next fall.

Model UN hosts VIP speaker

By DENNIS LEONARD

There are three primary fields of danger in international relations according to Dr. Harlan Cleveland when he spoke to ECU's first annual Atlantic Coast Model United Nations Security Conference here this past weekend.

"Arms Control, global environment, and a global fairness revolution are the three fields of primary danger we have to be concerned with in relation to international politics," said Cleveland.

Cleveland, former foreign policy maker for the late President John F. Kennedy, was the keynote speaker during ECU's first mock security council.

Cleveland based the crux of his speech on balance of powers throughout the world and future international political projections.

"The balance of power is based on the uncertainty of the other fellow," said Cleveland. "Generals have always been able to fight the last war through planning, but that would be impossible if a nuclear war occurred."

According to Cleveland, there is a stable stalemate between the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. because of the threat of nuclear attack.

Cleveland cited the reluctance of developing nations to aid their own poor as another major

"I would like to strongly urge students to make some arrangements for on or off campus living next year. Don't plan to come back in August and start looking for a place to stay, chances are you won't find one," said Wooten.

According to Wooten, no private rooms will be available if the halls are filled to capacity as expected.

Communications Board stalled for SGA elections

By DEBBIE JACKSON
Co-News Editor

The Communications Board which was to be finalized by Easter break will more than likely drag through April, according to SGA Vice-President Greg Pingston.

Pingston yesterday discussed what he views are the reasons for the slow progress being made by the Communications Board.

Pingston is chairman of the Board, which oversees student publications.

The Communications Board is composed of twelve voting members. They are the editors of the REBEL, FOUNTAINHEAD, BUCCANEER, and EBONY HERALD, the head photographer of the Photo Lab, the general manager of WECU, SGA Treasurer, Secretary of Minority Affairs, two appointments made by the SGA president, and two appointments made by the SGA Speaker of the Legislature.

The appointments made by the president and Speaker of the Legislature must be approved by the SGA Legislature.

The Board is responsible for the screening and approval of next year's publications heads.

According to Pingston, the Board became official on March 15 and a meeting was scheduled for the following day.

"The necessity of meeting, even though all of the members were not screened, was to appoint an EBONY HERALD editor."

Kenneth Campbell, the previous editor, resigned February 28, and Pingston as chairperson of the Board temporarily appointed Tim Jones to the position.

Pingston added that a quorum of seven was needed to hold the meeting.

"We thought that we had seven members, but the Secretary of Minority Affairs was student teaching in Plymouth."

According to Pingston, he found out that a quorum could not be reached on the day of the meeting.

"The next week we planned to meet on Thursday. By this time Ricky Price, SGA Speaker of the Legislature, had submitted two names to the Screenings Committee."

"They decided to table the approval of these people until after the elections because they thought it would be political in nature," said Pingston.

He added that Price was eager at the time to see his recommendations screened.

Pingston said that he did not expect the Screenings Committee to table Price's recommendations.

He noted that the committee's action did not appear to make sense because the Speaker of the Legislature's term runs until next fall.

Therefore, the recommendations should be the same whether screened now or after the elections.

Pingston called the tabling of the recommendations a political move.

"That's the problem with many people involved in the SGA. There is too much politics and not enough service for the students," said Pingston.

However, Price said that the committee did not want to make a selection so close to elections.

"After the elections the board membership will be full and we'll up.

"However, this overflow is never more than about 50 students, and no one will have three people in a room for the entire year," said Wooten.

When asked if room rent would go up, Wooten said, "Yes, the rent will go up from the present $390 a year to not more than $432 per year, probably somewhat less."

According to Wooten, the increase is due to possible action by the legislature to raise the salaries of state employees.

The counselors and housekeeping staff are paid out of money collected for room rent. Another factor is the rising cost of utilities.

"Again, I would like to encourage students to make plans now for next year. The new housing contracts will be available as of April 5."

Bright cites campaign policies

By CINDY BROOME
Assistant News Editor

Scott Bright, a Student Government Association (SGA) presidential candidate, believes that communication between the SGA and the students should be improved.

"I feel that communication has to be better," said Bright.

Bright feels that this problem could be solved by printing a complete schedule of SGA activities and meetings weekly in the FOUNTAINHEAD, asking legislators to set up office hours, and holding monthly question and answer sessions in the dorms.

"I'd like to see legislators have office hours. I'd be glad to share the president's office since space is limited."

"I feel that students should be kept informed so the SGA executive and legislators represent them like they should."

Bright believes that a lack of communication contributed to the BUCCANEER problem this year.

"If communication had been better, the BUCCANEER would not have been drastically cut like it was this year," said Bright.

"I think that a majority of the money that should have gone to the BUCCANEER went for the purchase of the two new buses for the transit system."

"The transportation system needed to be improved, but I

The politics of personality

Right behind just plain old apathy, probably the most obvious reason why nearly 80 per cent of the students on this campus regularly eschew the SGA ballot boxes is because the decisions made by their student government affect them only indirectly or not at all.

Doubtless, SGA services make a valuable contribution to campus life: transportation; communications, print and broadcasting; loan funds; refrigerators; legal advice and so forth. And, we feel that most students, even the piteously apathetic, silent majority, have been fairly satisfied with what they have been receiving for $8.50 per quarter each. If such were not the case, then voter turnout in these free elections would certainly have been higher than one-fifth of the electorate for the past several years.

Then, the following questions arise: Who comprises the voting 20 per cent and what do they look for in a candidate for SGA office?

Judging by the composition of our student government, probably the most "politically active" group on campus is the Greeks (fraternities and sororities). More than half the entire SGA Legislature and nearly all the day student representatives are Greeks, who are rewarded for their participation in student government by points given to their fraternities or sororities.

Very few of our representatives in SGA, the legislature and executive council, are elected because of their "platforms," but rather their personalities. Very rarely does the election of an individual student bring about positive changes in SGA, as innovative action comes from many persons—students, faculty and the administration—working together for a particular program.

Given these realities, which candidate would make the best SGA President? Although congenial, Scott Bright lacks the dedicated followers necessary when time comes to fill the presidential cabinet. Tim Sullivan has a following, but like him, it is infused with the notion that government is an instrument to be surreptitiously manipulated for imperium maximum. Recall the early autumn bout between SGA and the Student Union. The incumbent president's motto could easily be "no representation without detestation."

Neil Sessoms, with a well-organized and energetic campaign crew, is the candidate for students fed up with this year's murky political dealings and the alienation of those who dare to disagree. We endorse his candidacy, and look forward to a presidency without paranoia.

Sullivan opposition ignores past record

To FOUNTAINHEAD:

Robert M. Swaim, if you are so Almighty, and you do give us that impression, why aren't you running for office in SGA?

We think Tim Sullivan kept his promises from last year and we not only admire him but expect to put forth his best effort again for us the students. We believe that you being a freshman cannot judge how the conditions were around here last year. Tim Sullivan did improve the Transit system. Another route was added to the downtown area, which last year was part of the gold route. The busses are in better condition, but why don't you ask the students that live off campus and depend on the Student Transit system.

Tim Sullivan did cut his salary and says he will do so again. We believe him. We are sorry if your toes were stepped on, if you are lucky enough to be paid for the poor job of misleading reporting that you do.

Tim Sullivan also got us a seat on the City Council, which gave us much better relations within the Greenville community. A year ago we had no say in the community in which we live, and now we are the only University which has a seat on the City Council. Even though we lack voting power we can put our thoughts to the city, which is a giant step forward.

The facts are Tim Sullivan promised things would be done during his term in office and those promises were kept. We can only hope you show more intelligence in your future reporting Mr. Swaim. We also hope you vote this Wednesday for the candidate of your choice, but we are proud of our candidate TIM SULLIVAN.

For a good man,
Jayne K. Harling
Kevin Tyus

P.S. A copy of this letter is on file at the Attorney General's office and we would like to see it printed, even though it seems to be against the FOUNTAINHEAD's biased policy to print letters for Tim Sullivan.

Student Union Pres.-elect resents threats

To FOUNTAINHEAD:

As an individual who has long been concerned with the actions of government officials from the federal to the student level, I feel compelled to share the following information with the students of ECU.

I was selected Student Union President-Elect by the Student Union Board of Directors on Feb. 1, 1977. (The SGA Pres. is a member of that board.) A short while ago, Mr. Tim Sullivan, SGA President and candidate for reelection, invited me to his office. During the course of our conversation, Mr. Sullivan told me that if the Student Union as a whole or I as an individual were to openly oppose him in the SGA election, he would use his position on the board to see to it that my term of office was a most difficult one.

Obviously, the attitude shown in Mr. Sullivan's threat to me is not one which we would like to see in our elected officials. Ideally, we would expect our SGA president to place the interests of the entire student body above personal political gain. This is not the case with Mr. Sullivan. I write this letter for two purposes, to show the student body the "Watergate Style" conduct which characterizes Mr. Sullivan's administration and to serve notice on Mr. Sullivan that he is not dealing with a passive Student Union President who will succumb to his threats. In his campaign literature, Mr. Sullivan says that he has "stepped on some toes" this year. Yes, Mr. Sullivan, you have stepped on some toes, the toes of everyone who believes in honesty, decency, and fair play in their student Govt. Assoc.

Sincerely,
Dennis Ramsey

P.S. The above letter does not necessarily represent the viewpoint of the Student Union as a whole. It merely expresses my personal opinion.

Swaim letter petty

To FOUNTAINHEAD:

In reference to Robert Swaim's letter concerning Tim Sullivan; I tend to think Mr. Swaim has done everything he has found humanly possible to mar Tim Sullivan's name. The letter he wrote was both petty and showed exactly what Swaim's main bitch is. He is scared to death somebody else will get credit for what he's either done or helped to do.

Students give opinions of SGA candidates

Rev. Board member endorses coalition

I would like to inject my personal feelings into this upcoming SGA election. No one can underrate its importance. Therefore I want to pass the word to those of the student body whom I have not talked to.

The Student Government controls over $300 thousand of your money, and because of it I want the two best candidates to represent me. The present administration has been very impersonal, whereas Neil Sessoms and Reed Warren if rewarded with office could bring the ECU student body closer together with their enthusiasm.

Having been associated with the two candidates through classes, service projects, and dealing with publications; I feel they have both the qualifications and the adequate knowledge of the workings of the student government to do a good job.

Endorsed,
Hal Sharpe

A Student Review Board Member

Bright outlines SGA presidential platform

As a candidate for the office of SGA President, I would like to thank everyone who helped me with my campaign. I have met hundreds of students by going to the dormitories, speaking to classes, attending organizational meetings and meandering through fraternity and sorority houses. I have thoroughly enjoyed answering your questions and wished that I had more time for discussion, and in truth, to better answer your questions. Unfortunately, the time allotted for the campaign does not allow room for my meeting with each student personally. With this in mind I have printed 3600 copies of A Candidate's View and distributed them throughout the dorms and other areas of student habitation. This statement contains my views on the issues and provides the students with insight into my personal feelings on collegiate politics.

I felt that this type of material was necessary to make the best decision possible concerning a candidate. A candidate is more than a picture and a slogan.

The comparison of the platforms of the candidates is my greatest asset. I hope you will vote for me, but more fervently, I hope you will be as conscientious in your choice of candidates, as I am sincere in my desire to serve.

Scott Bright

Legislator will vote for Sessoms, Warren

As a dorm representative in the SGA this year I have been part of a timid legislature. Of course, it is our fault to an extent for this timidity. However, I feel it is the Executive's responsibility to initiate input from the entire legislature, not just a small group inside of it. To cure this problem I feel we need dynamic and more personable leadership, and this is where NEIL SESSOMS and REED WARREN come in. I feel these two, if elected, will not only create a better atmosphere in the legislature, but a more aware student body in general. People are always looking for charismatic leadership, and this year we have a chance to get this for our school. It's our choice. This time let's get it right.

Jeff Judy
Umstead Dorm Legislator

Payne details plans for term in office

With the election hours away, I would like to inform the students further of my platform for the office of Vice-President.

1). The Veep would serve as head of the Media Board, which will be a very powerful committee. I would not support independence of any publication rather I would work for a strong Media Board. With experience on the Appropriations Committee, I feel I am the most qualified candidate for this position.

2). We need better lighting on campus. To make our campus safe for all, new lights are necessary.

3). We have a good transit system now in use, but we need to expand it to include night routes. For those without cars or night classes, a night route would help them get around campus safely. With a route running from the hill to the library and Mendenhall to the high rise dorms, and out to Allied Health & Pitt Plaza, students can have better access of the campus and community.

4). The overhead walkway and the bike pass must not be forgotten. A lot of hard work has been put in these two projects, and I will be more than willing to continue the push for these projects.

When you go to the polls I hope you will take into consideration the platforms of the candidates, their past experience in Student Government and their willingness to work for the students. I want to be your Vice-President and your support will be deeply appreciated.

Tommy Joe Payne
Candidate for SGA
Vice-President

Lefler is responsible Secretary candidate

I would like to let people know about someone who should be SGA Secretary. She is Libby Lefler. Throughout this year I have watched her fulfill her responsibilities as SGA Dorm Representative to the fullest. Libby is not the type of person who begins any project half-heartedly or who loses her initial enthusiasm while halfway through. Libby is dedicated to what she feels is her responsibility and does not hesitate to fulfill her responsibility no matter how unpleasant a task. Knowing all of these qualifications and many more too numerous to mention, I therefore, fully and whole heartedly endorse Libby Lefler for SGA Secretary.

Sincerely,
Sophia Eleanor Wilson

IFC President supports Payne

On Wednesday all students (hopefully) will vote for their chosen candidates for Student Government Offices. One of those candidates is Tommy Joe Payne, for SGA Vice President. Tommy, in serving as a Day Student Legislator for the past seven months, has shown himself to be a dedicated, persevering and talented worker for the East Carolina student body.

Tommy is not afraid to meet the challenges imposed by the office he seeks. In fact, he has served on two of the most controversial committees of this past Administration, Appropriations and the BUCCANEER Special Task Force, and has demonstrated his ability to reason logically, communicate effectively and, above all, to be objective in order to get the job done.

Bill Brown
IFC President

Sullivan keeps door open to students

As a student at ECU, I personally wish to endorse Tim Sullivan for President of SGA. Before I met Tim, I had wondered if an ECU SGA President would really be concerned about students, their welfare, wishes, and gripes. And would, as is often stated: "have an open door." When personal complaints and a desire to be involved in raising funds for worthy projects prompted me to seek Tim out, I was happily surprised to find him willing and eager to meet students and help them with problems they might have or to direct them to proper channels.

I can assure you, if we re-elect Tim Sullivan, you will receive the same warmth, hospitable and helpful assistance I received. I do feel that FOUNTAINHEAD has given slanted coverage concerning Tim- obviously over personal disagreements- A charge of embezzling $25?!! Surely, they can do better than that.

Let's re-elect a good president who keeps promises!

Lois H. Simpson

Sullivan is one who gets things done

Tim Sullivan is not your typical politician. He gets things done...and keeps his promises.

All the typical lying, hypocritical, egotistical politicians- who use tricks, deceit and lies - work for our campus paper now.

What a twist that at ECU we have a "Watergate in Reverse" - the politicians will have to save us from the "journalists!"

Coalition provides honest leadership

I plan to vote for Neil Sessoms and his running mate Reed Warren. We should elect them because they are honest, this is a quality that, to a certain extent has been lacking with some SGA policy makers. If Neil is elected, the students will receive more attention than they have in the past. There will not be a self-centered domineering political coalition like we have seen this year.

If Neil Sessoms loses, then we all lose because our only hope is to oust the current political power structure and elect honest, trustworthy, and responsible students to SGA office.

One thing that is certain; if Neil Sessoms is elected there will be a BUCCANEER. We will not have the constant bickering and conflict between student government and the student union, publications, university administration and city government that has plagued us under the Sullivan regime.

So, please go to the polls and vote for the honest candidate; it's your government and your money that supports that government, don't throw it away.

Sincerely,
Sincerely, a concerned student

Sullivan campaign interrupts class

I have a complaint to make. This morning my class was rudely interrupted by Tim Sullivan. He appeared out of the blue and began his campaign techniques. Politics is one thing, but interrupting a class is another thing. What right does he have to take up class time when we pay our money to learn. There is a time and a place for everything and my chemistry is not the place!

National Women's Year marked

By JOYCE EVANS
Staff Writer

Pointing briefly to the small gold pin on her pantsuit top, Tennala Gross spoke of the significance of the emblem and the goal of the National Women's Year.

The pin, a Dove of Peace, includes the female biological symbol and the mathematical symbol for equality. It symbolizes the goals of the International Women's Year which are development, equality, and peace, according to Mrs. Gross.

Mrs. Gross was recently named one of 33 outstanding women in North Carolina selected to serve on the Committee to coordinate a conference for North Carolina women. This conference will help lay the ground work for the National Conference to be held in Houston in November.

International Women's Year was proclaimed in 1975 by the United Nations and a conference was held that year in Mexico City.

"Women came from all over the world and spoke of their frustrations and their ineptness in trying to become full persons in society," said Mrs. Gross.

A decade of development has passed since that first conference. Now Congress has appropriated money for a National Conference.

"A major purpose of the conference is to give the women of the United States an opportunity to identify the barriers which keep them from participating fully in all areas of life. It is particularly difficult for women to advance to positions of management and administration.

"Only about 2 per cent of them (women) are in business executive positions. They make up the large bulk of teachers, yet women are seldom superintendents of schools.

"Rarely do they get the highest level positions in any field," the assistant math professor continued.

Mrs. Gross is active in politics. She has just completed a term as president of the North Carolina Women's Political Caucus and belongs to the League of Women Voters and she strongly believes voting is an effective way to change things.

"We're trying to get a broad representation of women to come to our meetings," said Mrs. Gross.

The N.C. Coordinating Committee is divided into sub-committees to work on specific jobs. The members will coordinate their plans for the state conference which will be held in Winston-Salem June 17-19.

Mrs. Gross is on the committee which is trying to assess the role of women in politics and to see how they can enlarge that role.

Another purpose of the conference is to encourage women to change the way they feel about themselves.

Ms. Gross personally feels there are several reasons why women do not progress to their full capabilities.

One of these is the way women think of themselves and the way women think of other women.

"Hundreds of years of negative attitudes prevail," she said.

"Women considered most fortunate were those married to the richest men.

"Women who were not married were practically nonpersons.

"It wasn't that women were not willing to work outside the home, but they had no opportunities to develop salable skills so they obviously couldn't get jobs for which they had no training."

The laws have been predicated on the assumption that women were married to men who were supporting them, according to Mrs. Gross. "This is not always true," she said.

Mrs. Gross believes change will come through voting and changes in the attitudes of the people, especially women.

"We must overcome the barriers against women. We must accept people as people and not label them according to sex, race, and religion."

The first step is to make women aware of these barriers and that's why the conference is being held, according to Mrs. Gross.

would have bought just one bus.

"I feel the purchase of two buses at the same time strained the budget."

Bright said he would like to see that the next BUCCANEER is funded primarily by fees and advertising and not by subscriptions.

Bright also would like to see publications become independent. "It'll probably be in about five years before they can survive independently," said Bright.

Regarding WECU radio, Bright said, "I'd like to see WECU broadcast both on and off campus.

"This would help inform the day students."

Bright feels that it is unfair that women students have to show their I.D. cards in order to get into their dorms.

He also feels that it's unfair that women have to keep their doors open during visitation hours.

Concerning city transportation, Bright said, "Also I'd like to see Greenville and ECU get together and put a city bus stop on campus."

400 attend ceremony

New hospital dedication held

By WAYNE STEPHENSON
Staff Writer

Approximately 400 people were present for the Pitt County Memorial Hospital dedication ceremony last Saturday.

The ECU Medical School was included in the dedication.

The hospital was dedicated by Freeman Association, its architect, the chairmen of the Pitt County Commissioners and of the Pitt County Memorial Hospital Board of Trustees.

Gov. Jim Hunt, the dedication speaker, viewed the hospital and medical school as symbols of the eastern part of the state's increased involvement in the affairs of North Carolina.

"What I believe is that ECU and eastern North Carolina have always wanted to be a major part of the university system, and that has happened."

The 370 bed structure "stands as a monument to Pitt County ... and as an example that democracy works," said Hunt.

According to Hunt, those who said the medical school would never become a reality didn't know the people of ECU and Pitt County.

He added that the hospital was an accomplishment because people became involved and worked together.

Leo Jenkins, "that great dynamo," was thanked by Hunt for coming to eastern North Carolina.

Among those who attended the ceremony were U.S. Congressman Walter B. Jones and Dr. William Friday, President of the North Carolina University System.

Also attending were N.C. Senators Sam Bundy and Vernon White, and N.C. Representative George Roundtree. Dr. William E. Laupus, dean of the ECU Medical School, was also present.

Two former chairmen of the Pitt County Memorial Hospital Board of Trustees, Woodrow Wooten and Wilton R. Duke, cut the ribbon, ending the formal dedication service.

Music for the ceremony was provided by the ECU Wind Ensemble. The American Legion Post No. 39 took part in the flag-raising ceremonies.

problem with securing better international relations.

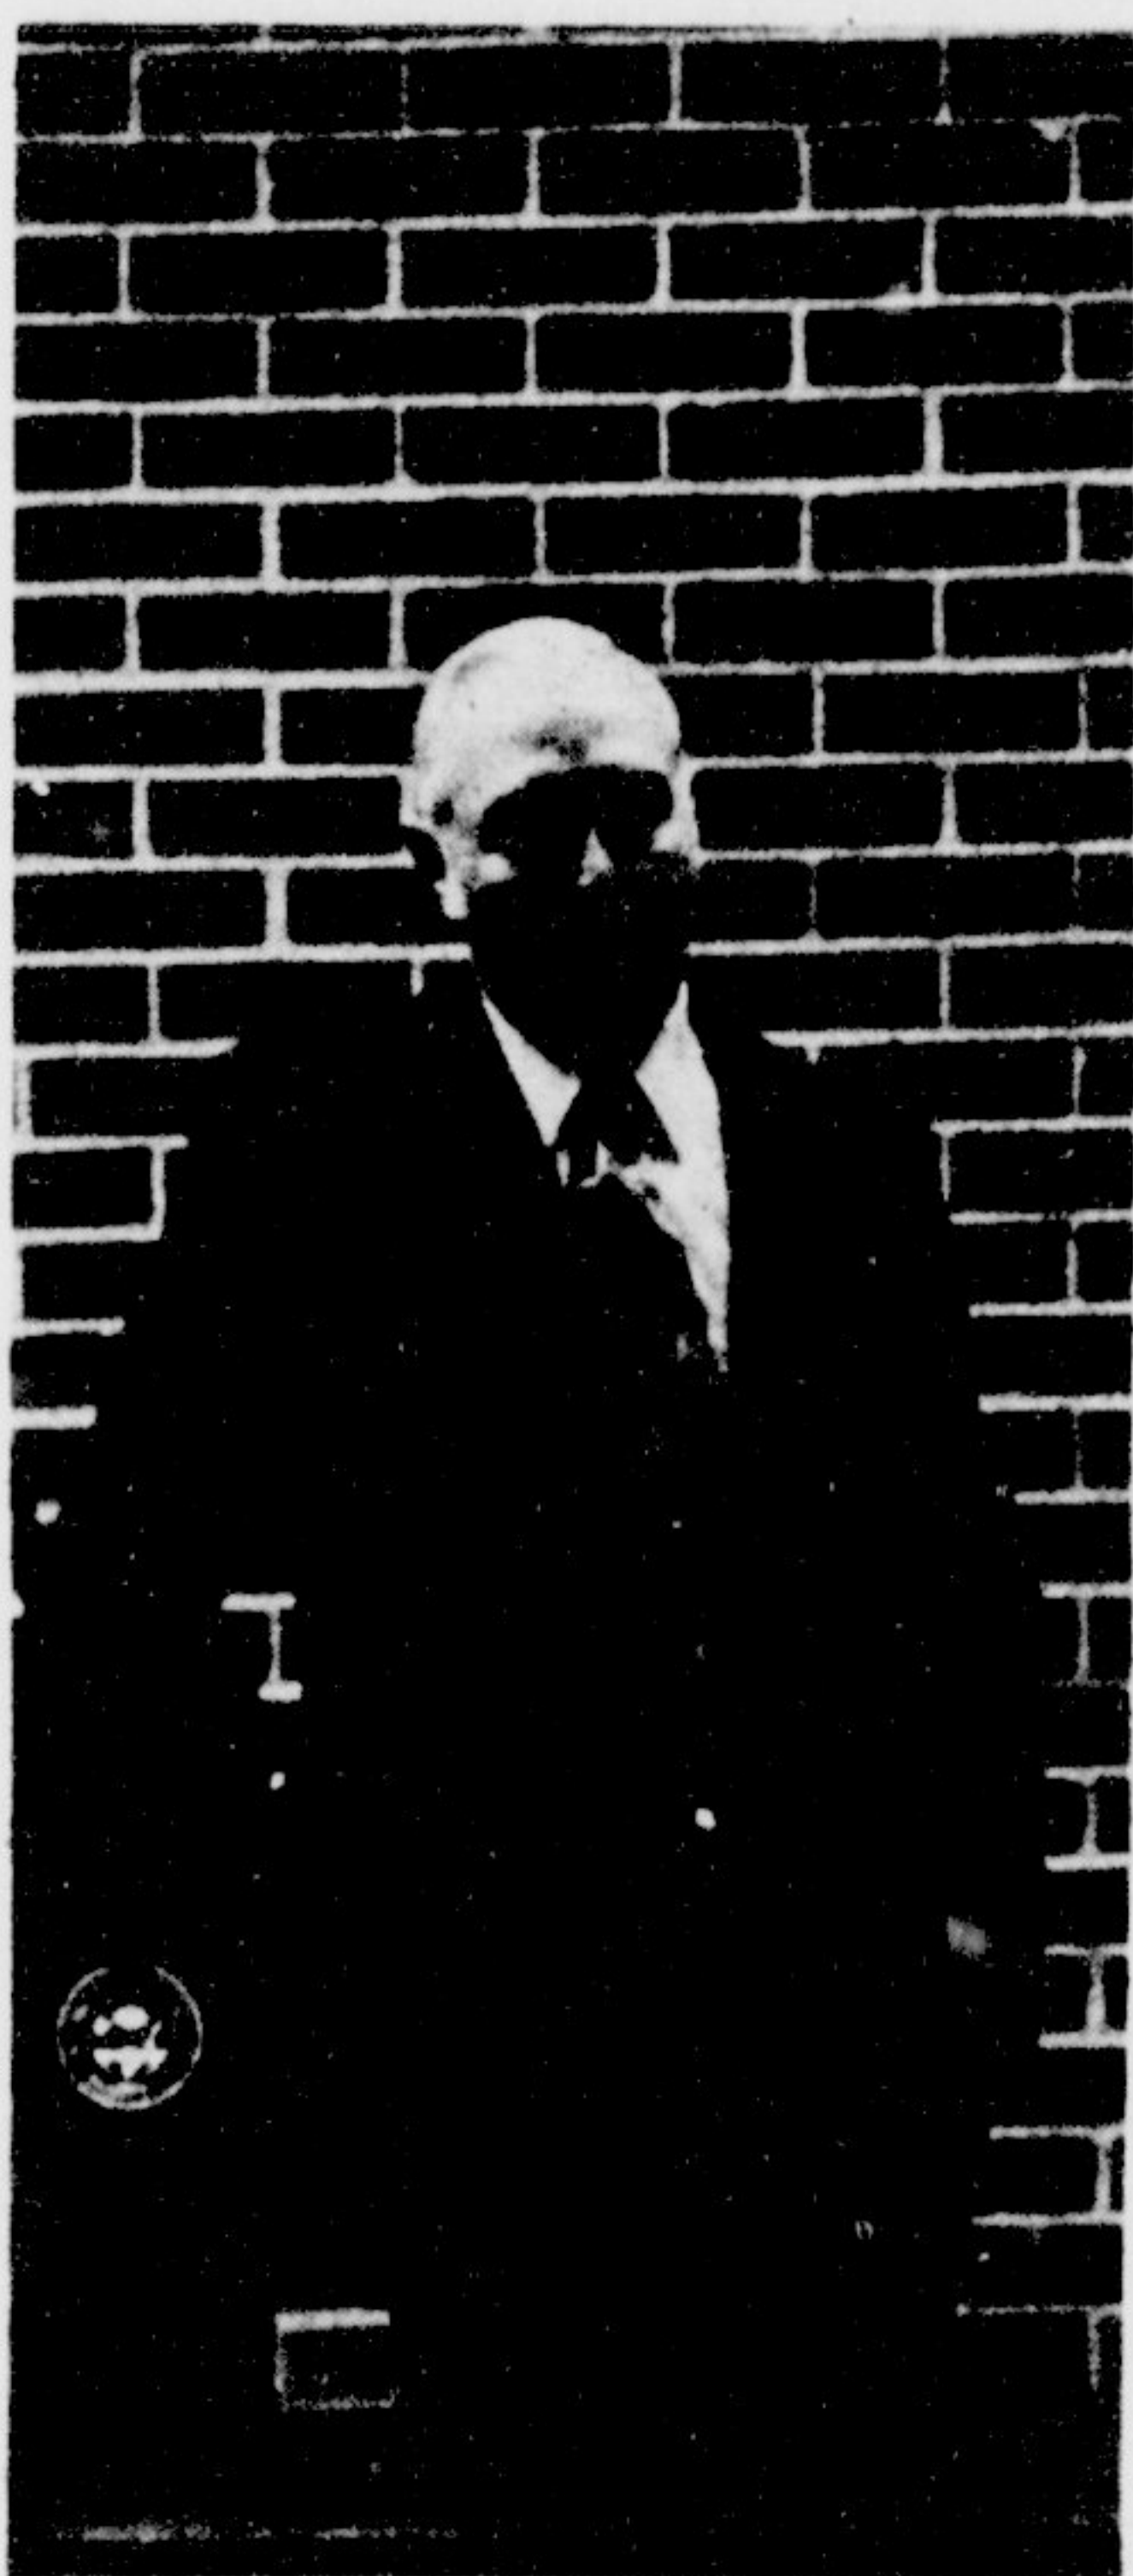

"Ninety-one per cent of Americans agreed that too much of our foreign assistance went to the leaders of poor countries, not to the people," said Cleveland.

Cleveland correlated the United Nations with the mentioned world problems by noting that one of the reasons for the UN's lack of action is voting in the Security Council.

"The practice of aping parliamentary procedure from the earlier days is more voting," said Cleveland. "The more voting, the more likely to question words instead of action."

According to Cleveland, President Jimmy Carter brings a new style of American diplomacy into the White House.

"It should be possible for the Carter administration to reduce arms, therefore securing the chance to bring about global harmony," stated Cleveland.

be in a better position to make the selections," he added.

Price said that he is backing the Screening Committee's decision.

According to Pingston, the next meeting of Communications Board is scheduled for the first week after Easter break.

He added that positions for FOUNTAINHEAD and EBONY HERALD editors will be screened first.

"Right now anybody interested in FOUNTAINHEAD editor's position should submit a registered letter to the Office of the Vice President stating their qualifications, their understanding of the Communications By-laws, and their understanding of the operations manual."

According to Pingston, once the new Vice President is selected and the screenings are completed, there should still be time for those people selected to learn the operation of their respective organizations.

"Because of the many delays, again for political reasons, the Communications Board and publications on campus have been hindered."

UN ambassador sees one route for Africa

(LNS)—When Andrew Young was named ambassador to the U.N., many wondered if the former civil rights activist and Congressional representative would support liberation struggles in southern Africa, and if he would come in conflict with the Carter administration.

No need to wonder, though, because Young revealed his thoughts as early as November of 1976, according to the March issue of Southern Africa magazine.

At a press conference in Chicago on November 17, a reporter asked Young: "Some foreign policy observers have said that the U.S. has two foreign policy options in southern Africa, one being neo-colonialism, the other, outright support of the minority government of South Africa. Could you comment?"

"I don't even see that many," replied Young. "I don't think the United States has but one option and that's neo-colonialism."

"As bad as that has been made to sound, neo-colonialism means that the multinational corporations will continue to have major influence in the development and productive capacities of the third world. And they are, whether we like it or not. I don't think any American administration—and I don't think any Africa administration—has yet been able to escape from that...the capital and technology happens to be in the hands of the people who are called neo-colonialists."

"The problems of Africa directly relate to the fact that their wealth is mineral wealth and nobody has the technology to extract that wealth other than the multinational corporations," continued Young.

"The multinational corporation is more pervasive in the world today than any military operation, or any government operation... (Third world countries) are going to have to learn how to control these corporations."

"Andrew Young is in fact giving the Trilateral position that everyone has to work with the multinationals and that there is no second choice," commented Bill Tabb of the Union for Radical Political Economics. (Formed in 1973 by David Rockefeller, the Trilateral Commission is a group of business representatives, politicians and academics from the U.S., Europe and Japan, who stress joint economic cooperation and planning between the three areas. Both Carter and Young were members of the Commission, as well as a majority of Carter's other top cabinet appointments.)

"In Angola, Gulf Oil fought as hard as they could to keep the Angolans from getting independent," continued Tabb. "The present government is dealing with Gulf on revolutionary terms. But in southern Africa, you're not talking about people independently choosing to work with the multinationals. You're talking about white racist regimes that stay in power with the help of the multinationals."

Young himself has inadvertently questioned whether "controlling" the multinationals is possible. During his press conference remarks, he referred to Kwame Nkrumah, the president of Ghana, who was deposed by a right wing military coup—with help from the CIA—in 1966. "...Ideologically we've looked on (neo-colonialism) as bad, largely out of the writings of Kwame Nkrumah," explained Young, "because it took him a little too long to...learn how to control (multinational) participation in his economy and that was his undoing."

Black activist Prexy Nesbit of the American Committee on Africa likened Young's comment to the role that Kenneth Clark, the well-known black educator, played in urging the Seagram Liquor company to invest in South Africa's "independent," said Nesbit, "to the degree that it shows a so-called black American leadership that is either under-informed or is willing to sacrifice poor workers in Africa and in America for the sake of enhancing the well being of an elite class."

Police kill student, spark riots

(LNS)—The police shooting of a militant student leader in Bologna, Italy on March 11 has sparked mass protests throughout Italy in recent days.

Francesco Lorusso, a 25-year old medical student and member of "Lotta Continua," a nationwide leftist organization, was shot and killed by police after they intervened in and aggravated a confrontation between Lotta Continua and a conservative student organization.

The killing of Lorusso sparked nationwide protests against police brutality, widespread unemployment and the austerity measures of the present government.

The demonstrators were reportedly mainly students, women and the unemployed.

On Saturday, March 12, 50-60,000 demonstrators headed by a large group of militant feminists were met by truckloads of police armed with automatic weapons, and dozens were wounded.

Militant protests also swept Bologna, Milan and Turin as well as Naples, Florence, Ravenna, Brescia, Padua, Palermo, and other cities, as tens of thousands participated in demonstrations throughout the country.

"Bologna has been in a state of siege since Friday evening (March 11)," reported Liberation, the French leftist daily, on March 14.

"On Sunday 4,000 police divided the city into sections, throwing tear gas grenades... On the campus, two armored tanks kept guard... About 50 people were arrested."

The same day, 23 police, armed with machine guns and bullet-proof vests, closed down the leftist radio station "Radio Alice," which had been transmitting minute-by-minute reports of the demonstrations.

That evening a meeting was held at the University of Rome on how to resist repression against leftist radio stations, according to Liberation.

In an attempt to control the protests, the Italian Interior Minister announced a ban on all demonstrations in the capital, with Prime Minister Giulio Andreotti urging the population to support the police against the "forces of lawlessness and hooliganism."

Hedda Gabler

Ibsen classic comes Wed.

East Carolina Playhouse will present its fourth major production of the 1976-77 season April 5-8 at 8:15 p.m. in McGinnis Auditorium. The presentation will be Henrik Ibsen's masterpiece about a domineering woman, "Hedda Gabler."

Within recent years "Hedda Gabler" has received revived interest with the advent of the feminist movement. Ibsen has often been singled out as the world's first playwright who treated women in a realistic fashion. Two other plays by Ibsen, "A Doll's House" and "Ghosts" have women as central characters.

The story of "Hedda Gabler" centers around the beautiful young woman for whom the play is entitled. Hedda was a privileged young lady coming from an aristocratic home. But she married a middle class university professor who provides her with social security but is not the object of her love. Hedda soon becomes bored with her common surroundings and entertains herself by playing with a pair of dueling pistols heired to her by her father. Then a former lover, Eilert Lovborg, appears on the scene and Hedda becomes fascinated with the possibility of molding his destiny. She wants to arrange his "glorious death." Hedda's efforts to dominate Lovborg's life end in a tragic twist of fate which always surprises audiences.

Tickets for "Hedda Gabler" are available at the McGinnis box office beginning March 29. ECU students receive reserved seat tickets free by presenting their I.D. and activity cards.

HEDDA GABLER [Barbara Richardson] is confronted by Eilert Lovborg [Martin Thompson] in a scene from the Playhouse production.

Artists Series to include Luboff, Canadian Brass

The East Carolina University Student Union Artists Series Committee announces its 1977-78 Artists Series. Six programs will be featured from September 1977 to April 1978. All performances are at 8:00 P.M.

Opening the Series on Sept. 21 is pianist RUTH LAREDO. She has been solo pianist with many major U.S. orchestras and has received national critical acclaim for her performances.

On Oct. 24, 1977, North Carolina audiences will encounter a totally unique concert experience, SHINICHI SUZUKI'S TALENT EDUCATION TOUR. Suzuki has achieved remarkable success in teaching young children to be fine violinists, through his method he calls "Talent Education." His young students from Japan have delighted audiences everywhere with their fine musicianship.

Flautist JEAN-PIERRE RAMPAL and harpsichordist ROBERT VERYRON-LACROIX have created a partnership that brings extraordinary insight into the music of the Eighteenth Century. They will be performing on February 16, 1978 on the ECU Artists Series program.

THE BUFFALO PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA, with Michael Tilson Thomas as conductor, will appear in concert on February 28, 1978. Under the dynamic leadership of Thomas, THE BUFFALO PHILHARMONIC has grown upward among the ranks of the nation's greatest orchestras.

On Wednesday, March 22,

1967, THE NORMAN LUBOFF CHOIR will perform with Norman Luboff as conductor. This nationally renowned group is able to sing a Bach chorale and a Beethoven tune with equal artistry and understanding. This highly versatile ensemble of singers is known for its uncommon and exciting programs.

THE CANADIAN BRASS is the final offering on the 1977-78 Artists Series. The group is composed of two trumpets, one French horn, a trombone and a tuba, all in the hands of virtuoso performers. The quintet plays a wide range of original music for brass as well as arrangements of Scott Joplin rags and Bach fugues and fantasies.

Season tickets can now be ordered for the 1977-78 Artists Series. Tickets for all six performances are $15 for the public, $10.00 for ECU faculty and staff and $5.00 for ECU students. Contact the ECU Central Ticket Office in Mendenhall Student Center for ordering information. The telephone number is 757-6611, ext. 266.

The number of season tickets to be sold is limited. All dates and programs are firm but subject to change.

SUZUKI TALENT Education Tour will be an Artists Series presentation in 1977-78.

'Airport '77' crashes

The disaster film is not a new genre. As early as the 1930's the plight of survivors was recognized cinematic. What is contemporary about the latest flock of these films (Poseiden Adventure, Earthquake, Towering Inferno) is that they combine suspense and monumental cost in an attempt to disguise weak plot and dialogue.

At best these films are flashy spectacles; at worst, they are a way to involve a great deal of actors in one film, giving each small parts, surrounding them with stereotypes, bulky props, and setting the whole thing on fire. Airport '77 is burning brightly.

The hijacking of a 747 is the white elephant center of attention in this film. It is, of course, the maiden flight of this million dollar albatross, and the boarding gives the audience an opportunity to meet the players: the drunk wife, rich society lady, pretty school child, blind piano player (avec une femme), diligent pilot, beautiful and panicky stewardess, and a brave citizen. The plane is hijacked, and the inexperienced pilot-hijacker crashes the plane into the one spot in the Atlantic Ocean that is 15 feet deep. The plane, slowly cracking, is running out of air. Can they survive?

Yes, and undoubtedly better than the audience. The star (Jack Lemmon) is the only player with a role sufficient for review.

He manages to save the plane and most aboard, all the while seducing, (for a bit less hectic period) the stewardess (Brenda Vaccaro). The best that can be said for acting is that the role did not call for any, and he did not offer any. The film contains talented performers the likes of Joseph Cotten and Christopher Lee. These actors, however, have less than eight lines apiece.

The film is composed of long photographic shots of the crew and panoramic murals of the luxury and subsequent destruction of the ship. The footage of the airplane when it is supposedly flying is ridiculous. It resembles an Aurora model throw across a kitchen table with shaving cream. The characters die or win, before the audience is given an opportunity to find them remotely interesting. The film is quick, cheap, gaudy and synthetic. It is the worst of the disaster films and there is none of the reasonable suspense of either the first "Airport," or the best of the lot, "Poseiden Adventure." Hint: Airport 79 will focus on the grounding of a nuclear submarine at Kennedy Airport. The suspense will lie in whether the crew realizes they are not at sea and opens the hatch for supplies. The total stars for Airports past present or future is one half. This dog is on T.V. in six months.

OTHER FLICKS

PLAZA TWO--Echoes of a Summer--Jody Foster ("Taxi Driver") is a little girl dying of leukemia who wishes that she weren't and could grow up and make babies. The film is intended to be tragedy, but the maudlin aspects of the plot and diabetic dialogue of the young girl and her father drag the film into base sentimentality. One star, for no spelling errors in the credits.

PLAZA ONE--Stay Hungry--Jeff Bridges (King Kong's cheerleader) and Sally Field (Flying Nun) play Southern stereotypes (he, a rich aristocrat; she a redneck floozie) while involving themselves with an Austrian Bodybuilding Champion. There are several absurd attempts at symbolism, and while the film is publicized as having musclemen as it's plot, they are extremely minor. I give this film one star.

Young artists compete in finals tomorrow

Mendenhall Student Center Theatre will be the scene of a recital featuring the runners-up from the first annual ECU Young Artists Competition. The recital is at 8:00 p.m. on Wednesday, March 30. The three performers will be featured in the categories of voice, piano, and instrumental. The runners-up were selected from nineteen finalists who competed in January.

Each of the runners-up will receive a cash award of $50.00. Beth Bell, winner of the Young Artists Competition and the $2.00 cash award, will be featured in a solo recital on Monday, May 2. Mendenhall Student Center, through its sponsorship of the program, is supporting the academic programs and student artists of ECU.

The Mendenhall Student Center Young Artists recitals are free admission concerts.

Abbey Simon shows his virtuosity at ECU

Internationally acclaimed pianist Abbey Simon will be performing in the Mendenhall Student Center Theatre at 8:00 p.m. on Wednesday, April 6. The concert is sponsored by the ECU Student Union Artists Series Committee.

Abbey Simon belongs to that select number of musicians who have successfully made the difficult transition from child prodigy to mature artist. Born in New York City, his unique talent showed up at an early age. At eight, he so impressed Josef Hofmann, who was then Director of the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, that he was immediately awarded a scholarship in composition at the Institute. A piano scholarship soon followed.

At nineteen, the young pianist won the coveted Walter W. Naumburg Foundation Award, and his New York debut was given at Town Hall under its sponsorship. Simon has also been honored with the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge Medal and a citation proclaiming him to be the outstanding American concert artist in Europe.

Abbey Simon's spectacular return to the United States in 1960, after having lived in Europe for ten years, made headlines in the music world and prompted The New York Times to say, "He left this country a skillful pianist. He has returned a master. He begins where most pianists leave off."

Since that memorable evening, one triumph has followed another, and Simon has played extensively in this country and abroad. Audiences from Paris to Bombay, from South Africa to South America, from New York, Boston, Chicago and Washington across the country to Dallas, Omaha and Los Angeles have seen Simon walk to the stage, sit on the specially built slanting chair of the late Josef Hofmann and proceed with a minimum of body motion to "dazzle and toss off the most fearsome difficulties with bravura and sweep."

Admission for Abbey Simon is $1.50 for ECU students and $4.00 for the public. Tickets are available at the ECU Central Ticket Office in Mendenhall Student Center. Call 757-6611, Ext. 266 for additional information.

Due to the increase in gold prices all ECU class rings will increase in price effective April 1, 1977. Plan to place your order prior to that date to save.

Travel-Adventure shows Soule's 'Yugoslavia' film

Noted film lecturer, Thayer Soule, will present his film "Yugoslavia" on Tuesday, April 5, at 8:00 p.m. in Mendenhall Student Center Theatre. Soule, who is returning to the University for a second consecutive year, will be appearing on the Travel-Adventure Film Series. The program is under the sponsorship of the Student Union Travel Committee.

Yugoslavia has existed only since 1918. Before that time it was a jumble of Kingdoms and principalities continually exposed to conflict, and oppressed by occupying powers. In a review of its history, the film shows how the reign was divided very early between Rome and Constantinople. The effects are still visible today.

In Yugoslavia 85 percent of the farmland is in private hands. Visitors are amazed at the prosperity and the ease with which Yugoslavia trades with both East and West, borrowing the best of each. Paved roads, modern hotels, and new restaurants appear overnight.

With guaranteed sun and warm, clean water, Dalmatia attracts millions of tourists each year, mainly from western Europe, but Americans are coming in increasing numbers. In addition to the famed Dalmatian Coast, the film shows the original farm of Lipizzaner horses of Vienna, a hydrofoil trip on the Danube, and the Plitvice Lakes, one of the loveliest spots in Europe.

Thayer Soule is recognized as a leader in his field. Internationally known for his brilliant photography and unmatched narration, Soule appears regularly in all parts of the country, with a record of twenty-six years for the National Geographic Society.

Tickets for the travelogue are priced at $1.00 for the public and may be purchased from the ECU Central Ticket Office. Admission for ECU students will be by ID and Activity Cards, and by MSC Membership Card for ECU faculty and staff.

YUGOSLAVIAN GRANDMA MOSES, Zuzana Chalupova, will be included in Thayer Soule's 'Yugoslavia' film.

Movie academy sponsors student contest

LOS ANGELES--The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences and the Academy Foundation have issued the annual call for entries in the Student Film Awards competition to film students at colleges and universities across the country. The program, which is co-sponsored by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., was established four years ago to encourage excellence in student filmmaking, according to Academy President Walter Mirisch.

To be eligible for participation, a film must have been completed after April 15, 1976, in a student-teacher relationship within the curriculum of an accredited college or university. Films will be judged on originality, entertainment, and the resourcefulness of the filmmaker, and production quality, without regard to cost of production or subject matter.

Entries will be reviewed in preliminary judging conducted by nine regional committees composed of students, faculty, local film journalists or critics. Regional juries will not consider films submitted by schools outside their regions, and will have sole responsibility for determining final selections to be submitted for national competition.

Regional winning films will be screened by the Academy's membership of leading film industry professionals. The national awards will be presented on May 15, 1977, at Academy headquarters in Beverly Hills, Calif. Cash awards of $1,000 will be given in each of four categories: dramatic, animated, documentary and experimental. Up to two additional merit awards of $500 each also may be awarded in these categories. An honorary award of $750 may be awarded at the Academy's discretion.

Intramurals

by JOHN EVANS

Reserve tennis courts

The Intramural Department has announced that, as of April 11, all tennis courts must be reserved for use in the Memorial Gym Equipment Room.

All courts at Minges and on College Hill Drive will now be available to ECU students only and use periods will be divided into 90 minutes each. The courts at Minges will be open from 6 to 10:30 p.m. during the week and from 7 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. on the weekends. As of yet these courts are not lighted, but by the time the new policy goes into effect all the courts at Minges will be lighted, giving students extra playing time in the evening.

The courts at College Hill Drive will be open from 3 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. during the week and from 7 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. on weekends. To reserve time on a court, one will have to go by the Memorial Gym Equipment room in advance of using the court and reserve a time during the week. In event that a court has not been reserved for a certain time, it will be used on a first come, first play basis.

At first this policy may seem as if it is preventing the students from using the courts, but in the long run it is hoped that it will give more students a chance to use the courts while at the same time preventing non-students from using the university courts.

The intramural staff would also like to remind all ECU students that the tennis courts on Elm St. are closely observed by the Greenville Rec Department and that students could be prosecuted for trespassing on these courts. A rough deal, sure, but that's the way it comes down.

While all registrations for tennis courts will have to be made through the Intramural Equipment Office in Memorial Gym, the staff has also decided to have all Handball Court registrations handled through that office, too. The policy will remain the same as in the past, but students are to go to the Equipment Room in Memorial, instead of to the Intramural Office itself.

The Equipment Room is located downstairs in Memorial on the main hall next to the Gymnastics room and across the hall from the Weight room. This policy will go into effect on April 11.

Registration for Innertube Water Basketball runs through Thursday and all ECU students and faculty are encouraged to participate in this wet, but wonderful activity. Teams must have three men and three women to compete, but a roster may contain more names than the minimum number. Five teams will be needed to compete and competition will begin on April 4 and end just prior to Spring Examinations.

The Intramural Soccer championships will be held this week with the Championship Final to be played on Wednesday at 4 p.m. In Monday's semifinals Pi Kappa Phi met Aycock Dorm and Sigma Nu competed against Tau Kappa Epsilon. The Kappa Sigmas and the Rugby Clubbers already qualified for the finals with playoff victories last week.

The Tekes and the Rugby Clubbers are favored to meet in the finals.

The team championship in last week's Wrestling tournament went to Scott Dorm. Individual champions and their weight classes were: Phil Whited at 125, Teddie Caudle at 134, Brad Middleton at 142, Eddie Caudle at 150, Brad Slocum at 158, Bobby Williams at 167, Steve Satterwaite at 177, Monte Hutchins at 190 and Judd Larrimore in the Unlimited Division.

Softball has begun in both men's and women's leagues and the Time Outs in the men's division and Hypertension in the Women's division got off to a big start in protecting their roles as pre-season favorites. The Time Outs opened with 18-0 win and Hypertension won two games by scores of 26-0 and 36-1.

ECU sluggers inconsistent

East Carolina's baseball team continued to be plagued by inconsistency as the Pirates went 3-2 over the past five days. Included in the games were a split with Maryland, a sweep over VMI, and a single game loss to Elon College.

Maryland came to ECU Tuesday; and shut the Bucs out 3-0. The Pirates managed only two hits against the stiff Terrapin pitching and defense.

On Wednesday, the Pirates gained their revenge with a dramatic 3-2, ninth inning victory.

East Carolina lost its sixth game of the season to a stubborn Elon College team, 5-3, in a game played here on Friday. Reports of the game were not in at press time.

Staying in the cozy confines of Harrington Field, the Pirates opened their final Southern Conference season by stomping VMI 8-0 and 3-0 in a Saturday doubleheader.

In the first game, Pirate star Mickey Britt teamed up with Styons to pick up his third victory of the year, against no losses. Allowing only one hit, a seventh-inning infield single, he posted his usual impressive performance.

The second game saw Larry Daughtridge pitch his way out of several jams to preserve a 3-0 shutout and his second victory of the year for the Pirates. Now 9-6 overall, and 2-0 in conference play, the Pirates are slated to host the Spiders of Richmond in a doubleheader here Thursday.

Henry Hostettler provided ECU's sole victory as the Davidson Wildcats raced by the Pirates 8-1 in Southern Conference Tennis action Friday. Playing number five singles, Hostettler soundly defeated Davidson's Brian Cooper and ran his record to 6-1 on the year. The Pirates as a team are now 0-2 in the Southern Conference and 3-4 overall.

Commenting after the match, Pirate coach Randy Randolph noted that "the match was closer than the score indicated." He also said that the team had played well, but that Davidson's experience was the deciding factor. The Wildcats are now 3-0 in the Southern Conference and 13-7 overall.

ECU will be at home against Atlantic Christian Monday, followed by away matches with N.C. State Tuesday, and Guilford

$1500 in prizes awarded in Greenville Bicycle Classic

By KIP SLOAN
Staff Writer

Greenville staged its first major bicycle race this Sunday, as over 150 entrants competed in seven races covering the north end of downtown.

The races, jointly sponsored by the Greenville Jaycees, Miller Brewery Company, and local merchants, attracted riders from as far away as Maryland to compete for more than $1500 worth of trophies, prizes, and beer—lots of beer.

The first events of the day were held for the women and veterans, with Kathleen Craig of the Tidewater Bicycle Association outprinting Debbie, Melton (Carolina Cyclers) to the line.

Bob Sloop (N.C. State Bicycle Club) won the veteran race against a field of three.

The Junior race was the next to get under way. This class is second only to the Senior I and II race in speed, with the age group of the riders limited to 15-17 yrs. Juniors must race with a restricted high gear of 94" (a 52 tooth chain ring on the crank, with a 15 tooth rear sprocket) to protect them from possible knee injuries before their bone structures fully mature.

In the 50 lap event, Billy Pearlman (Hearts) won the sprint, followed closely by Ronnie Hinson (TVS) and Chris Creezy (National Capitol Velo Club). The only other North Carolina rider to place in the top ten was Sam Bright (Hearts).

The serious racing took a break after the Junior event, as fraternities and sororities completed for cases of beer.

A novice race was held at this point, with all ages and bicycles allowed to ride. Twelve riders circled in smooth progression for a few laps, then Danny Starr (Greenville All Stars) put it to the field to secure first. Jamie Pines took second, with FOUNTAIN-HEAD's own Jim Elliott earning third.

The largest field of the day, the senior III and IV class were the next to come to the line.

These riders, age 18-39, are usually first or second year competitors who aren't quite ready to ride against the best in the nation.

Most of the riders who stay with racing do move up to the Senior II class, while others are bicycle enthusiasts who enjoy only occasional racing along with riding.

Unfortunately, this is one of the most dangerous races, as many riders show inexperience and poor bike handling resulting in crashes. Other accidents happen as a result of mechanical failure or maladjustment.

Common to this is "rolling" a tire off a rim by hard cornering, as racing tires are attached to the rims by careful application of a special glue. Many of the crashes during the races were due to improperly mounted tires, or the presence of more than one rider in the same line in the same corner at the same time.

The fifth-plus field rolled away at 2:00 for a 40 lap, 24 mile race. Within ten laps, a twenty man pack pulled away from the stragglers and set the pace for the remaining laps.

The field thinned as riders crashed or dropped out, and the pace increased again. Three prime laps were held during the race (a prime is a prize given to the winner of a lap declared a prime, which keeps the pace high throughout the race).

Kevin Lee (NCVC) took the sprint for the first prime lap (winning a case of beer), with Ross Vorbehnn and Ed Ogden taking the next two primes.

Gillman happy with recruiting

By STEVE WHEELER
Staff Writer

Larry Gillman, new head basketball coach at East Carolina, has some positive thoughts on recruiting of blue-chip in-state basketball players.

Gillman, back in Greenville last week after recruiting the national junior college tournament in Hutchinson, Kansas, said the top-notch Eastern North Carolina athlete has too often in the past opted East Carolina for Carolina or other Atlantic Coast Conference schools.

"Phil Ford (Rocky Mount) and John Virgil (Elm City) leave eastern North Carolina and go to Carolina," Gillman said. "And look at Cedric Maxwell (Kinston). He may lead a team not even recognized in the past to the national title.

There are even more than those on the surface. Rod Griffin of Fairmont is at Wake Forest and was named the most valuable player in the ACC this season. Mike Evans of Goldsboro is one of the Big Eight's top scorers at Kansas State. Albert Spencer of nearby Washington left last fall for Oral Roberts to continue his college career.

Graduating seniors of this year include six blue-chip prospects. George Devone of Hobbton is one of the top big men in the state at 6-8. He has mobility around the basket and shoots well. Donnie Perkins of nearby North Pitt was listed among everybody's top 100 list of the nation's top prospects. He has averaged over 20 points a game for his career as well as being the top assist man on the team all four years.

Three players from Goldsboro area are also highly sought-after. Warren Alston and Ronnie Holliday led Goldsboro's Cougars to the top ranking in the eastern half of the state. Michael Oliver led Southern Wayne and is probably the top point guard prospect in the state. Roger Carr, a 6-5, 220-pound forward from Garland, is likened to Wake Forest's Rod Griffen.

East Carolina has already signed Devone to a conference letter-of-intent, which means no other Southern Conference team can claim him. But, with the national signing day a few days away, Devone could do a 180 and opt for some other team. UNC-Charlotte, is recruiting Devone heavily and he could select them to sign with.

"We intend to do a thorough job with in-state recruiting," Gillman said. "We have to be successful. Too many of the Ford's and Maxwell's have been getting away from East Carolina. We have to go after the best North Carolina kids just as State or Carolina do."

When asked about the 11 present East Carolina players returning next year, Gillman said, "I've never met a nicer group of kids in my life. They have a super attitude and their ability and intelligence are hard to match. We've had some good talks with them and think they can do the job."

The Pirates will be returning to the 12 players from last season. Herb Gray, a freshman, leads the group as he was the second leading scorer with 11.5 a game and third leading rebounder at six a game. Jim Ramsey, also a freshman, followed Gray closely with 11.3 per game and was the team's assist leader. Sophomore Greg Cornelius was the second leading rebounder with about seven retrieves per game.

Sophomore Louis Crosby was the fourth leading scorer at 7.2 per game, while Cornelius and zone-breaker Herb Krusen scored at a 6.4 clip. Add in Kyle Powers, Billy Dineen, Don Whitaker, Ty Edwards and Dean Hartley and the Pirates return intact except for Larry Hunt. Wade Henkel, a part-time starter in 1975-76, will also return. Henkel sat out this year with an injury.

Gillman also likes the Pirates' schedule for next season. ECU will begin by traveling to Bloomington, Ind. for a match-up with 1976 national champ Indiana.

"We want to go up there and play a tough team and beat them before 18,000 of their own fans. We play them one at the time and Indiana is next."

Gillman is an energetic man with a lot of new ideas for East Carolina. He wants to succeed, just as each of you students want ACC caliber basketball at ECU. Maybe together you can do it.

Henry Hostettler provided ECU's sole victory as the Davidson Wildcats raced by the Pirates 8-1 in Southern Conference Tennis action Friday. Playing number five singles, Hostettler soundly defeated Davidson's Brian Cooper and ran his record to 6-1 on the year. The Pirates as a team are now 0-2 in the Southern Conference and 3-4 overall.

Commenting after the match, Pirate coach Randy Randolph noted that "the match was closer than the score indicated." He also said that the team had played well, but that Davidson's experience was the deciding factor. The Wildcats are now 3-0 in the Southern Conference and 13-7 overall.

ECU will be at home against Atlantic Christian Monday, followed by away matches with N.C. State Tuesday, and Guilford College Wednesday.

$1500 in prizes awarded in Greenville Bicycle Classic

By KIP SLOAN
Staff Writer

Greenville staged its first major bicycle race this Sunday, as over 150 entrants competed in seven races covering the north end of downtown.

The races, jointly sponsored by the Greenville Jaycees, Miller Brewery Company, and local merchants, attracted riders from as far away as Maryland to compete for more than $1500 worth of trophies, prizes, and beer—lots of beer.

The first events of the day were held for the women and veterans, with Kathleen Craig of the Tidewater Bicycle Association outspringing Debbie, Melton (Carolina Cyclers) to the line.

Bob Sloop (N.C. State Bicycle Club) won the veteran race against a field of three.

The Junior race was the next to get under way. This class is second only to the Senior I and II race in speed, with the age group of the riders limited to 15-17 yrs. Juniors must race with a restricted high gear of 94" (a 52 tooth chain ring on the crank, with a 15 tooth rear sprocket) to protect them from possible knee injuries before their bone structures fully mature.

In the 50 lap event, Billy Pearlman (Hearts) won the sprint, followed closely by Ronnie Hinson (TVS) and Chris Creesy (National Capitol Velo Club). The only other North Carolina rider to place in the top ten was Sam Bright (Hearts).

The serious racing took a break after the Junior event, as fraternities and sororities completed for cases of beer.

A novice race was held at this point, with all ages and bicycles allowed to ride. Twelve riders circled in smooth progression for a few laps, then Danny Starr (Greenville All Stars) put it to the field to secure first. Jamie Pines took second, with FOUNTAIN-HEAD's own Jim Elliott earning third.

The largest field of the day, the senior III and IV class were the next to come to the line.

These riders, age 18-39, are usually first or second year competitors who aren't quite ready to ride against the best in the nation.

Most of the riders who stay with racing do move up to the Senior II class, while others are bicycle enthusiasts who enjoy only occasional racing along with riding.

Unfortunately, this is one of the most dangerous races, as many riders show inexperience and poor bike handling resulting in crashes. Other accidents happen as a result of mechanical failure or maladjustment.

Common to this is "rolling" a tire off a rim by hard cornering, as racing tires are attached to the rims by careful application of a special glue. Many of the crashes during the races were due to improperly mounted tires, or the presence of more than one rider in the same line in the same corner at the same time.

The fifth-plus field rolled away at 2:00 for a 40 lap, 24 mile race. Within ten laps, a twenty man pack pulled away from the stragglers and set the pace for the remaining laps.

The field thinned as riders crashed or dropped out, and the pace increased again. Three prime laps were held during the race (a prime is a prize given to the winner of a lap declared a prime, which keeps the pace high throughout the race).

Kevin Lee (NCVC) took the sprint for the first prime lap (winning a case of beer), with Ross Vorbehn and Ed Ogden taking the next two primes.

Gillman happy with recruiting

By STEVE WHEELER
Staff Writer

Larry Gillman, new head basketball coach at East Carolina, has some positive thoughts on recruiting of blue-chip in-state basketball players.

Gillman, back in Greenville last week after recruiting the national junior college tournament in Hutchinson, Kansas, said the top-notch Eastern North Carolina athlete has too often in the past opted East Carolina for Carolina or other Atlantic Coast Conference schools.

"Phil Ford (Rocky Mount) and John Virgil (Elm City) leave eastern North Carolina and go to Carolina," Gillman said. "And look at Cedric Maxwell (Kinston). He may lead a team not even recognized in the past to the national title.

There are even more than those on the surface. Rod Griffin of Fairmont is at Wake Forest and was named the most valuable player in the ACC this season. Mike Evans of Goldsboro is one of the Big Eight's top scorers at Kansas State. Albert Spencer of nearby Washington left last fall for Oral Roberts to continue his college career.

Graduating seniors of this year include six blue-chip prospects. George Devone of Hobbton is one of the top big men in the state at 6-8. He has mobility around the basket and shoots well. Donnie Perkins of nearby North Pitt was listed among everybody's top 100 list of the nation's top prospects. He has averaged over 20 points a game for his career as well as being the top assist man on the team all four years.

Three players from Goldsboro area are also highly sought-after. Warren Alston and Ronnie Holliway led Goldsboro's Cougars to the top ranking in the eastern half of the state. Michael Oliver led Southern Wayne and is probably the top point guard prospect in the state. Roger Carr, a 6-5, 220-pound forward from Garland, is likened to Wake Forest's Rod Griffen.

East Carolina has already signed Devone to a conference letter-of-intent, which means no other Southern Conference team can claim him. But, with the national signing day a few days away, Devone could do a 180 and opt for some other team. UNC-Charlotte, is recruiting Devone heavily and he could select them to sign with.

successful. Too many of the Ford's and Maxwell's have been getting away from East Carolina. We have to go after the best North Carolina kids just as State or Carolina do."

When asked about the 11 present East Carolina players returning next year, Gillman said, "I've never met a nicer group of kids in my life. They have a super attitude and their ability and intelligence are hard to match. We've had some good talks with them and think they can do the job."

The Pirates will be returning to the 12 players from last season. Herb Gray, a freshman, leads the group as he was the second leading scorer with 11.5 a game and third leading rebounder at six a game. Jim Ramsey, also a freshman, followed Gray closely with 11.3 per game and was the team's assist leader. Sophomore Greg Cornelius was the second leading rebounder with about seven retrieves per game.

Sophomore Louis Crosby was the fourth leading scorer at 7.2 per game, while Cornelius and zone-breaker Herb Krusen scored at a 6.4 clip. Add in Kyle Powers, Billy Dineen, Don Whitaker, Ty Edwards and Dean Hartley and the Pirates return intact except for Larry Hunt. Wade Henkel, a part-time starter in 1975-76, will also return. Henkel sat out this year with an injury.

Gillman also likes the Pirates' schedule for next season. ECU will begin by traveling to Bloomington, Ind. for a match-up with 1976 national champ Indiana.

"We want to go up there and play a tough team and beat them before 18,000 of their own fans. We play them one at the time and Indiana is next."

Gillman is an energetic man with a lot of new ideas for East Carolina. He wants to succeed, just as each of you students want ACC caliber basketball at ECU. Maybe together you can do it.

Bobby Phillips wins biggest race of the day

At the bell lap, the reduced pack took positions and began hunting for wheels to draft. Out of the last corner, Ray Barbehann (NCVC) took the lead and held it to the line. Joe Deaton (CRCA) took second, followed by Dave Wilson, Steve Garrison, and David Baer.

The last and biggest race of the day, the 75 kilometer Senior I and II race, contained an impressive field of riders. Several North Carolina teams were represented including Hearts (based in Chapel Hill), N.C. State Bicycle Club, Carolina Cyclers, and one entry from the newly formed Greenville All-Stars.

As the 45 starters completed their first lap, it became apparent that the roadmen were going to keep a fast pace and attempt to "burn off" the sprinters and slower riders.

In a race of this sort, tactics become extremely important, especially the drafting effect.

Above 20 mph, more than 90 per cent of a racer's energy is expended against air resistance, with the effect becoming greater at higher speeds.

A slow rider can keep up in a fast race by following close to the leaders and saving energy.

The roadracers, generally used to longer races, attempt to accelerate suddenly to open "gaps" where the "wheelsuckers" are left without a draft, and consequently drop from the lead pack.

After eight laps, the first breakaway of the afternoon got clear of the field and built a twenty second lead. The four man break contained Dicky Dunn (four times state champion, National "B" team), Bill Humphreys (present state champion), Mac Cannon, and a NCVC rider.

Although the break group was strong, the size and speed of the pack began to close the gap after 20 laps, and eventually the break was caught.

The new lead pack of twenty contained the "dangerous" sprinters, Bobby Phillips (CRCA) and Richard Barnett (NCVC). As the prime laps rolled around, it was apparent that these two had returned to the pack, but Phillips was finally clear and comfortably set. He maintained his lead and coasted to a five second win over the pack.

The field sprint was taken by Jim Bradford (NCVC), with teammate Barnett at his side for third.

First for North Carolina riders was Phil Tomlin (Carolina Cyclers) in 7th, Curtis Mills (Hearts) 9th, and Haron Stevenson (CRCA) 10th. Greenville's own Stedman Ayers (known better as Chicken) took 15th in a fine race.

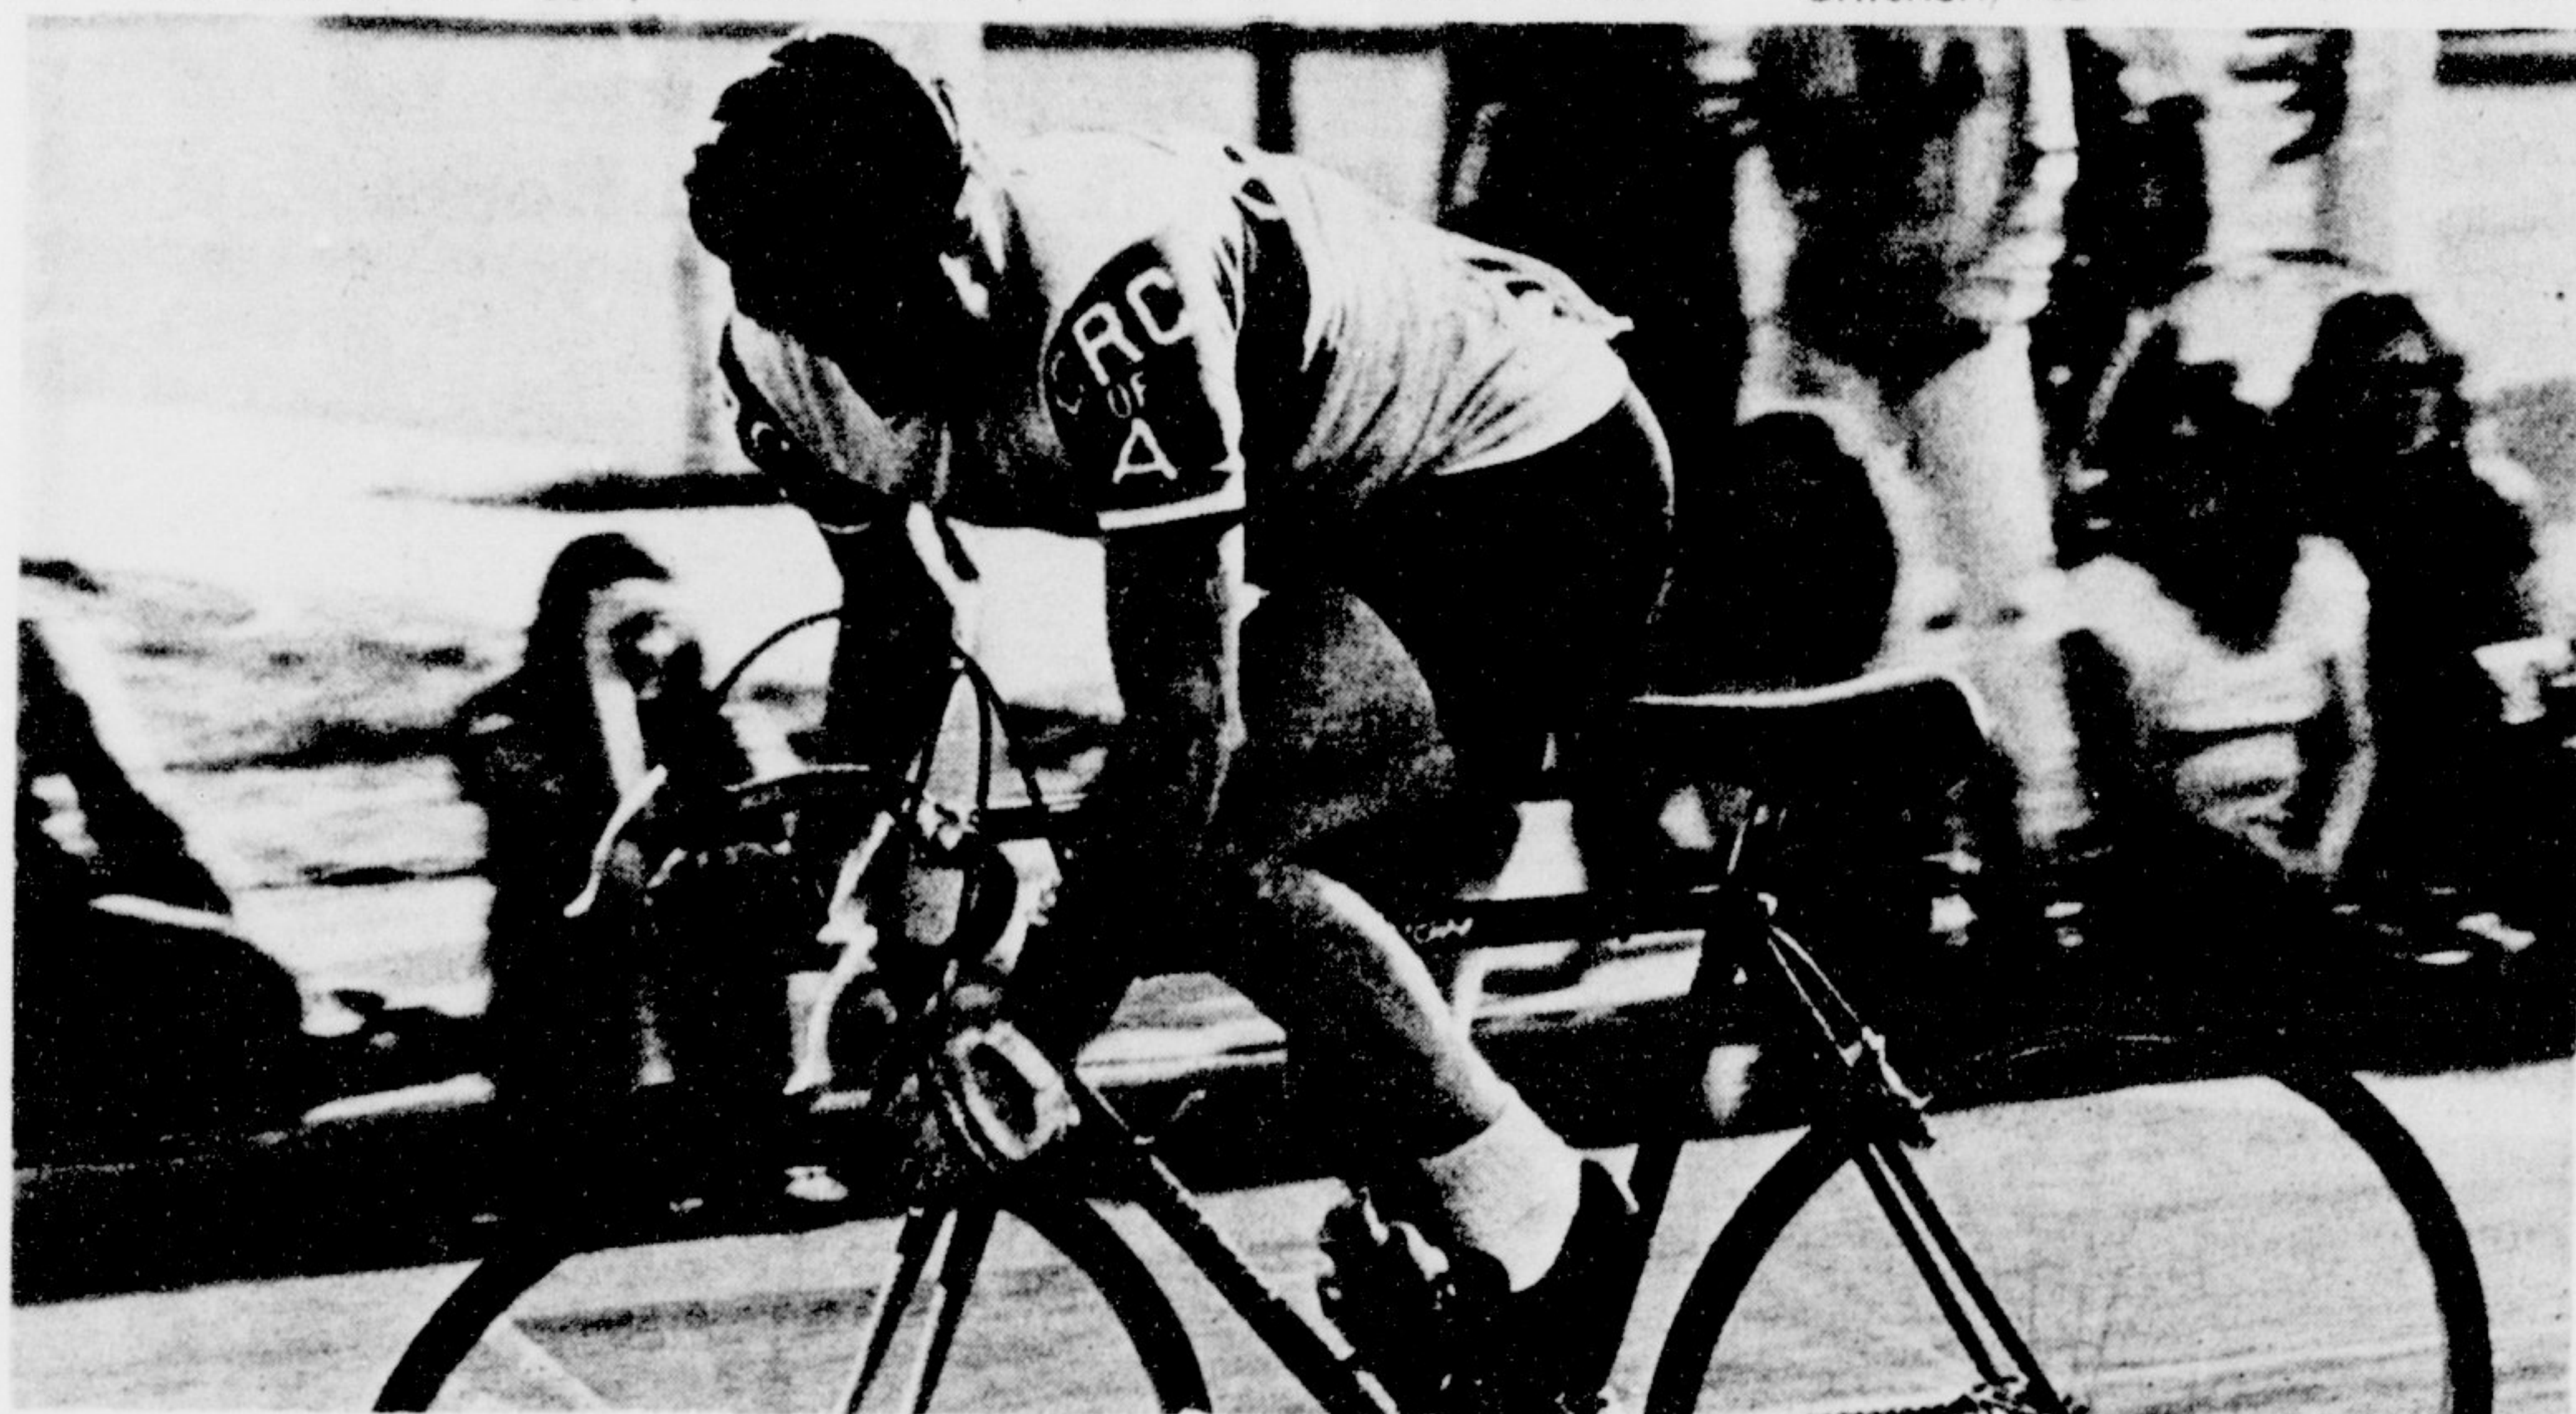

Missing from the placings was Dicky Dunn: on the last lap he collided with another rider, receiving abrasions and a scratched bike.

Phillips was exuberant with the victory. "I'm so tired of getting second and third places last year, and am really happy to have won. I didn't care who went with me before the sprint, I just wanted to go for a win." This is Phillip's fourth race this year and his first season win.

The Miller Brewery Co. continued their fine support for the racers, as the competitors received their awards at a food and drink banquet at a local club.

The race, the organization, and the entire event were very well held, and the event will become an annual affair for Greenville.

BOBBY PHILLIPS is seen here in the prime lap of the Senior I & II division race. He took first place in this race.

Pirates 2nd in Cup race

At the two-thirds mark of the 1976-77 sports year, William and Mary continues to lead in the race for the Southern Conference Commissioner's Cup.

With all winter sports completed, the Indians have won titles thus far in soccer and wrestling, and have accumulated a total of 36 points. They have also finished second in cross country, football and track and fourth in basketball, rifle and swimming.

Second place is a tie between Appalachian State and East Carolina each with 31 points. ASU has finished first in rifle while the Pirates have captured championships in football, swimming and indoor track.

Fourth place belongs to VMI

29 points followed by Furman - 23 1/2 and The Citadel - 14 1/2 points.

William and Mary is the defending champion.
