

Moore: Harmful effects of porno depend on the individual's use

By BILL HARRINGTON
Staff Writer

If pornography has any harmful effects on society as a whole, it is yet to be scientifically proven, according to several ECU professors.

The number of magazines portraying nudity and sex has been on the increase in this community over the last few years.

An ever increasing amount of exposure is given to the genitalia of both sexes in the supposedly "soft-core" publications such as Playboy and Penthouse. Concerned citizens wonder both where it will stop, and what effect this type of literature has on society.

"The effect of pornographic material depends on the individual who uses the material," said Dr. Charles Moore, ECU Behavioral scientist.

Moore said no proof exists to link pornography with sexual deviance or sex related crime.

ECU sociologist Dr. Martin Zusman agreed with Moore.

"There is absolutely no evidence that it (pornography) has a negative effect on society," said Zusman.

"This does not deny the fact that some individual may read pornography and commit a rape," he added.

According to Zusman, a large amount of exposure to pornographic material results in the user losing interest with the subject.

"What the studies show is that a massive amount of pornography eventually turns off a massive number of people," Zusman said.

This has proven to be the case in Denmark, a country where pornography and obscenity laws are much more liberal than in the U.S.

A claim often made by the producers of pornography is that it has an inherent therapeutic value. This has not been proven, said Dr. Moore.

"Therapeutically, the use of pornographic material to heighten sexual arousal is usually not indicated," said Moore.

"It's sometimes used as a treatment, but rarely so," he said.

"Masters and Johnson don't ever use explicit material like films as therapy."

Another claim is that the availability of pornographic materials acts as a safety valve for such persons as voyeurs.

This theory is not valid, according to Dr. Moore.

"I can't buy that," he said.

Both Moore and Zusman stressed the fact that they were commenting on the known scientific effect of pornography on society and not on any moral or legal consequences.

The legality of pornography and its corresponding legal definition involve complex questions

Moonpie Festival called huge success with 8,000 participating in activities

By DOUG WHITE
Staff Writer

According to Student Union President Barry Robinson, last week's Moonpie Festival was a huge success.

"The Moonpie Festival's success exceeded even our wildest expectations. Judging from preliminary estimates, approximately 8,000 participated in the various activities," said Robinson.

"We were very fortunate to receive the news coverage we did. Several area newspapers and television stations covered the events, and it was sent out over the UPI wire service.

"Because this year's festival was so successful, members of next year's Union have decided to continue presenting some sort of spring festival next year.

"I'm sorry to report we have no Moonpies left, but I would like to thank Chattanooga Bakeries for giving us 4,000 Moonpies free of charge," Robinson added.

Robinson said the only negative aspect of the festival was the rained-out "Happy the Man" concert on the mall.

"Briefly recapping the week's events, our own Bill Martin, chairperson of the Travel committee, won the Moonpie eating contest, and the ECU jazz band was selected as the official band of the Moonpie Festival."

Entertainment for the entire week cost approximately $2,000, with the Schlitz Movie Orgy being the most popular event.

"The concert on the mall would have been the most popular had it not been rained out. Other events included the Moonpie Olympics, a sculpture contest using Moonpies instead of conventional sculpting material, a Moonpie eating contest, and other assorted demented action."

Several letters were received from invited celebrities expressing their regret at being unable to attend, including Ted Kennedy, Ann Landers, the Carters, Barbara Jordan, and Bob Hope.

No answers were received from Pope Paul or Queen Elizabeth II.

"The purpose of the Moonpie Festival was to try and prolong the spirit of Easter break another week, and I think we fulfilled our promise of 'A Moonpie in Every Mouth,'" Robinson said.

FOUNTAINHEAD, EBONY HERALD

New editors discuss future plans, ideas

By CINDY BROOME
Assistant News Editor

Kim Johnson and Tim Jones were named FOUNTAINHEAD and EBONY HERALD editors, respectively, in a Communications Board meeting Wednesday, April 20.

Kim Johnson

Johnson, a first-quarter senior history major, plans to make some minor style changes, but nothing major.

"FOUNTAINHEAD has final-

ly acquired a professional appearance in layout and style, and I want to keep it that way," said Johnson.

"I think the paper this year has been the best yet. I hope we can keep the quality of the paper next year up to the point it is now."

Johnson, a member of the Society for Collegiate Journalists, is interested in expanding the feature writing of the paper.

"I don't think it's ever reached its potential. Good feature articles can add a lot of value and interest to a paper," she said.

Johnson plans to establish editorial conferences bi-weekly.

In these conferences, the editorial staff would discuss the paper's view on certain issues.

"I want my editorials to be the voice of the paper, and not just my own," Johnson said.

Concerning independence, Johnson said, "I'm very interested in looking into it."

Johnson also wants to hire more salaried staff writers.

"A set salary would provide incentive, as well as responsibility," she said.

Johnson said she doesn't think the paper can be increased to print three times a week.

"We just don't have the staff to do it," she said. "And I doubt there would be enough money for it, either."

The former co-news editor plans to keep salaries the same.

Tim Jones, a junior English major, has added a layout editor and changed feature editors in making changes on the EBONY HERALD staff.

"I'm trying to start an editorial page, and I'm encouraging

FG free flick

Billions of years ago the first living cell was spawned in the primordial waste of the ancient earth—or was it? There is actually a great deal of evidence indicating that life has not come about by a natural process of evolution, but by the special acts of a supernatural Creator. The film "Footprints in Stone" deals with one aspect of this evidence: fossilized man and dinosaur in the same rock formation! You can see this fascinating forty-five minute film next Tuesday, May 3rd, at 7 or 9 p.m. in Brewster B-102. "Footprints in Stone" is being sponsored by The Forever Generation, an ECU Christian fellowship group.

Red pin bowling

"Red Pin Bowling" is fun and exciting and it's here. Find out what everybody's talking about. At Mendenhall Student Center, on Friday and Saturday nights beginning at 6:00 p.m., you get the chance to bowl for a free game. Make a strike with the red pin as the head pin and you win. Also, Sunday night is "Moonlight Bowling" night. A free game is given away each hour between 8:00 p.m. and 11:00 p.m. Come early if you want to get a lane 'cause you can't afford to miss it!

Home Ec displays

A group of displays by senior students in the ECU Department of Housing and Management will be on view in ECU's Mendenhall Student Center, Thursday, April 28.

The displays, examples of housing class projects, include floor plans with furniture arrangements, textile samples, wall elevations, renderings and flow charts.

The public is invited to view the exhibition, which will be open from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the Mendenhall Multi-purpose Room.

Free billiards

If you have some time, Mendenhall Student Center has the game for you. Every person who plays billiards at the Billiards Center for two or more hours each week, Monday through Thursday, has a chance to win four free hours of playing time. Two numbers are drawn each week and eight free hours of billiards are given away. So, if you spend a lot of time playing billiards, don't forget to get your name in the pot; if you're usually an "hour-or-so" player, stick around for awhile and try for the prize; and, if you don't play very often here's your chance to win a lot of free practice time. Stop by the Billiards Center, get the details, and have some fun.

Talent show

The Gammettes of Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority will be sponsoring a Talent Show. All persons interested in displaying their talents should contact Joyce Mourning at 758-8831.

Free bowling

You can win eight free games of bowling. By being the champion of Mendenhall Student Center's Mini-Bowling Tournament you can walk away with it all. If you can bowl the highest 3-game score any time during one week, you will qualify for the roll-off on Monday, May 16. Four bowlers will qualify for the roll-off and one of them could be you! Drop by the Bowling Center for more details and while you're there, give it a try.

ILLUMINA

ECU's third annual Illumina Art Show and Competition is on display in the Mendenhall Student Center Gallery through April 29.

Ten categories are featured in this year's show, including painting, sculpture, photography and ceramics. One thousand dollars in prize money will be awarded, with $100 going to the Best-in-Show item.

Best entries in each of the ten categories will receive a $50 first prize, a $25 second prize and a $15 third prize. All entrants in the Illumina art show are currently enrolled ECU students.

The gallery, located on the second floor of Mendenhall Student Center is free and open to the public each day and evening.

Writing major in the making

By DEBBIE JACKSON
Co-News Editor

Members of the ECU English Department have been working all year to develop a much needed writing major to be included in the 1977-78 catalogue.

Unfortunately, the new B.A. Degree in English with a Concentration in Writing did not appear in the list of courses this spring, but it will be offered in the fall.

The writing program is designed for students who want to become professional writers.

Early in the Spring Quarter the university committees gave the final seal of approval to the new degree.

Soon after the action took place, student response was markedly enthusiastic, according to Dr. Sally Brett of the ECU English Department who chaired the development committee.

"The program hasn't been advertised and we're not in the 1977-78 catalogue, but still we have students showing up who want to enter the new degree program. They even call it by the correct full name, not 'Writing Program' as we do," remarked one professor.

According to Brett, the student interest was one of the primary reasons for the development of the degree.

"For many years numerous prospective students have asked me if we had a writing program in the English Department," said Dr. Erwin Hester, English Department Chairman.

"That and the fact that universities and colleges across the nation have reported high interest in and considerable success with such programs, prompted us to consider designing a degree in Writing," Hester added.

Students who enter the program will take an equal number (18 semester hours) of hours in writing and literature, in addition to the General College and language requirements for the A.B. degree, according to Brett.

There are nine writing courses, including an introductory and an advanced course in poetry, fiction and non-fiction writing, editing and abstracting, and writing for business and industry.

The ninth course is a practicum in which students gain academic credit for actual job experience in various fields of writing, said Brett.

Jones intends to broaden the news content, and cover more of the Greenville area.

The EBONY HERALD has not been hurt financially this year, according to Jones.

"As far as I know, there have been no budget cuts of the EBONY HERALD," said Jones.

"It seemed to operate pretty well on the money appropriated this year."

Jones, former news editor, would like to print twice a month.

He would also like to see the EBONY HERALD have an office, but since the EBONY HERALD uses FOUNTAINHEAD equipment, it might pose a problem.

Jones said he would like to print articles that relate to whites, also.

"Hopefully, at the end of my term, there will be more people with journalism experience," said Jones.

Jones said this has been their best year so far.

Paper needs professional

Hoping to insure its continued financial integrity, FOUNTAINHEAD wishes to commend the Student Government Association Legislature for its valuable legislation this year and beckons that branch of SGA to consider rationally a request from the student newspaper.

In October the legislature appropriated $56,710.00 to FOUNTAINHEAD for its operating expenses this year. SGA also approved the addition of a full-time professional secretary to the staff. Her job was to do routine secretarial work for the newspaper staff, set copy on the composing machine and act as receptionist for the other publications.

In January the student business manager of FOUNTAINHEAD resigned. At the time the collection of advertising revenues was running way behind normal. The Editorial Board of the paper determined that to hire another student business manager would probably only prolong our problems with non-payment from advertisers. Since there was no Communications Board in existence then, the paper secured the permission of the SGA Treasurer to shift with a savings to staff salaries the business duties to the full-time secretary.

The results have been tremendous. For the first time ever, we now have a staffer who can assure that bills, both ours and those of our advertisers, are paid on time. The paper has been able to budget its revenue much more wisely. And, that person is here during business hours to take messages and classified ads, which, by the way, are now free to ECU students.

At the next meeting of the legislature we will have introduced a bill calling for a shift within the FOUNTAINHEAD budget to maintain this position until next October when we will request a new budget. This immediate request calls for no new money from SGA, and its denial could end up costing the paper--and SGA--lost ad revenues amounting to hundreds of dollars.

With this line-item change FOUNTAINHEAD should be able to operate until October with no additional funds from student government. Subtract the nearly $30,000 in ad money we anticipate collecting and you end up with our net use of student fees for one full year--$26,710.

Students not first with 'kingpin' Sullivan

To FOUNTAINHEAD:

They call this democracy. No way. There are a few people who have run the student government at East Carolina during the past year and they don't want it to change.

Tim Sullivan, you say that your slogan is "Students First." Well the students voted your can out of office and you hate it. What are you, a damn power monger? The many people who have crossed your path this year would attest to that wholeheartedly.

Let us enlighten the students on your political dealings. Last summer, a hall advisor in Scott Dorm (the place you resided during summer school) approached you about the possibilities of the "hill boys" using a bus for a weekend trip to the beach. You asked him could he guarantee you the "hill vote" in the next election. Need I say more? You have proven that everything you do for some group or person is politically motivated.

Why did you fire John Jones last fall? Could it be that he was getting ready to bring charges up against you for the $26.98 you did not return to the student fund?

When FOUNTAINHEAD started questioning you on certain things you did politically earlier this year, you hired a hatchetman, Kent Johnson, to do your dirty work for you. Now, admit it, Johnson was not interested in international student affairs. If he was, he would not have resigned after you were beaten.

But, the Kingpin still has his allies in the SGA. Numero uno happens to be Ricky Price, Speaker of the Legislature. Price has run the legislature like a "kangaroo court" for the last two weeks. There is no democracy or parliamentary procedure being shown by the person who is thought of as being the leader of the legislature.

Kingpin, you appointed the elections committee which oversaw the elections. You did not want there to be any runoffs until you lost by five votes. Now you are the one crying foul."

And talk about campaign violations. The reason Sessoms and Warren won was because they went out and saw the students while you were interrupting classes with your visits.

We think the students of this university should find out which legislators are joining the Sullivan-Price party and vote their cans out of office next fall. You and all of your cohorts have wasted time you could have been using to make laws. That's what the legislature's job is.

Greg Pingston, last year's vice-president, put it best when he said that Ricky Price should resign to end the political hazing you have caused, Kingpin, so the legislature can start doing their job.

Sigma Nu claims uninvolved

To FOUNTAINHEAD:

I am writing this letter for one clear and simple reason, to emphasize Sigma Nu's Uninvolvement in SGA politics.

There are some 45 members of the SOCIAL Fraternity, Sigma Nu. Each is an individual and has varied interests. We have people that are or have been involved in varsity sports, intramurals, the Student Union, FOUNTAINHEAD, SGA, etc...

We have five members connected directly or indirectly with the SGA. Although some more people participated in the campaign, their participation ended election day.

Sigma Nu is a social fraternity and therefore functions as one, not as some political club.

I know everyone involved in the current controversy personally and feel the whole matter has degenerated to a childish scuffle.

I'm not interested in belittling either party involved, rather I wish to present a view of the current heretofore unknown, or dreadfully misunderstood. That is Sigma Nu (except for the five involved in SGA) is not involved whatsoever in the current SGA controversy or related matters.

The Sigma Nu's had rather be throwing water balloons at girls sunbathing in BIKINIS, than doing anything so childish as scuffling with the SGA. I invite anyone with any questions (preferably female) to stop by the house and we'll discuss them.

Trustees forsake minor money sports

To FOUNTAINHEAD:

I'm writing this letter in response to the recent action taken by the Ad Hoc Committee of the Board of Trustees. They voted this past weekend to abolish the varsity soccer program here at ECU. It seems that the Board of Trustees wants the fate of the soccer program to be the same as that of the lacrosse and crew programs. It seems to be the vogue to do away with the so called "minor sports" one by one.

When you look at the budget of the soccer program, one has to keep from laughing. Our budget

ECU means BIGNess

To FOUNTAINHEAD:

One continually hears that ECU is the third biggest school in the state and that Brewster building is one of the BIGGEST in the nation. And that the school is building a BIG name with its BIG football program and now they have to have a BIGGER stadium to seat BIGGER crowds. So they make a BIG hike in fees, and even worse cut funds for certain "small" sports on campus.

J.P. Swisher

is now only around $4,500 out of a total athletic budget of around $800,000. Most of this money is for traveling expenses. We are the only men's sport that does not give scholarship money. Our budget is only a drop in the bucket compared to the whole athletic budget.

You might even argue that we

Coaches get bonus, but no soccer

To FOUNTAINHEAD:

The Board of Trustees recently decided that East Carolina can no longer afford to field the world's most popular sport, soccer. Soccer is the fastest growing sport in America but just as the sport is growing our progressive sports program decides that we can do without it.

Our school can afford to give all the football coaches a Two Thousand dollar bonus each but we can't spend Five Thousand on soccer, it would be too big a strain on our budget.

I ask you the students can we really afford to be without a soccer team, can we afford to be the only major school in the state without soccer, can we go without the sport of the world? I don't think so. Please join in the fight to save soccer, let it be known how haven't done as well as other sports. This might be true but you have to look a little deeper. Two years ago our team was ranked 10th in the south. We also had the best team in the school's history. We did all this with little support from anyone.

you feel, raise hell, soccer can be saved yet if you the students are behind the team.

If you would like any more information about the death of our soccer program please contact Hall Bullock, 316 Umstead Dorm or call 752-8942. Your support will be greatly appreciated.

Scholarship Weekend planned for ECU

Approximately 100 high school juniors are expected to visit ECU this weekend.

Scholarship Weekend, April 30-May 2, will hopefully bring students to the highest level of academics to ECU, according to Dr. Charles Stevens, assistant dean in the ECU School of Music, who is in charge of the program.

"The purpose of the Weekend is to introduce them (the students) to ECU, both to the extracurricular activities and to academics," said Stevens.

He added that when the students send in their Student Response Forms they list three areas of interest. During the weekend they will have the opportunity to view these areas.

"These are students that are the highest level students in the state," he added.

All nominees have a Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT) score of at least 1100.

"We select 100 students from the state from approximately 800 nominations from counselors and principals."

Stevens said that many of the students who attend Scholarship Weekend later enroll at ECU.

"We feel that the direct success of the program doesn't depend only on how many students come here later, but also on the public relations that they take back to their high schools."

Stevens said that in past years the selected students were seniors and that this is the second year that only juniors were selected.

He added that the program is really too late in the year to benefit seniors, because most of them have decided on a college by this time.

ECU Scholarship Weekend is an annual function and is directed by a 31-member committee comprising faculty and staff members.

In addition, a League of Scholars, consisting of three ECU students has an active part in implementing the program. These students, for the most part, have attended the weekend in past years.

Events planned for the weekend include, recreational activities, tours, films, a jazz concert, class visitation and academic interest discussion groups.

Dr. Leo Jenkins, ECU Chancellor, will address a banquet Sunday evening.

PORNO

concerning freedom of expression and press and the Constitution's First Amendment.

"The Supreme Court has held that if something is defined as being obscene, then it is not protected by the First Amendment," said Dr. John East, ECU professor of political science.

Dr. East admitted there are problems involved in producing a legal definition of obscenity and pornography, but said this problem is secondary to the moral questions involved.

"The legal problems, though important, are not nearly as important as the effect on the morals of society," he said.

East said he believes that pornography should be more effectively controlled than it is.

"I think the line can be drawn, ought to be drawn, and personally, I think it should be more stringently drawn," he said.

Dr. East said he resents the way sex is portrayed in most pornographic materials.

"I'm not a prude on sex," he said. "I am opposed to the way fanatics destroy it and display it."

"I think pornography reduces the sexual function to that of an animal," he added.

"It is a key sign of uninhibited hedonism in society, in particular with regard to the American family," he concluded.

While scientific data proving a connection between moral changes in society due to exposure to pornography have not yet been conclusive, studies have shown that pornography apparently has no sociologically or psychologically ill effects on society.

Foreign Language Dept. sponsors annual festival

More than 2500 students from 40 high schools will be at ECU Friday, April 29, attending ECU's annual International Festival.

Sponsored by the ECU Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, the festival will feature seminars, illustrated lectures, meetings with ECU's own foreign students, a demonstration of French cooking, and competitions for high school students of the French, Spanish, German and Russian languages.

At 1:30 p.m., ECU Chancellor Leo Jenkins will open the festival's afternoon session in Mendenhall Theatre, and introduce the festival speaker, Wilbert C. Petty, Program Policy Officer for Africa, U.S. Information Agency, Washington, D.C.

Petty's topic is "Aspects of International Communication." His presentation will be followed by a lecture-performance of guitar music, given by Stan Bumgarner of Edgecombe Technical Institute, Tarboro.

Morning events include lectures on "Discovering the French-speaking World," by Dr. Monique Bras of N.C. Central University; "Composed Folk Music" by Dr. Clyde Hiss of the ECU School of Music; "The Art of Bullfighting" by Dr. Joseph A. Fernandez of the ECU Spanish language and literature faculty; "Living and Studying Abroad," by Dr. Robert Cramer, director of ECU's Costa Rica Study Program and a demonstration of French cookery, by Gunter Strumpf of the ECU language faculty.

Competitions include poetry contests, skit performances, display booths and talent contests involving the music and dance of several nations.

The visiting students will also be guests at the performance of a Spanish play presented by ECU Spanish language and literature students, and see several local musicians and dancers recreate art forms of various countries.

Performers are Billy and Sandra Stinson (guitar, Spanish and French songs), Patricia Sullivan (French songs), Jeffrey Krantz (German songs), Dolly Mitchum and Michael Lee (Mexican regional dance), Donna Whitley (Arabic dance) and the Eastern Cotillion Dance Studio.

COSTA RICA AND FRANCE are represented by Javier Blanco (left) and Josiane Bonnin, foreign scholarship students at East Carolina University, who will participate in the International Festival to be held Friday, April 29, at ECU. In addition to seminars and competitions in French, German, Russian and Spanish, a Greenville city and campus talent show will be presented at 11:00 a.m. in Wright Auditorium.

Formerly Rock 'n' Soul

Apple offers album bargains

By MICHAEL FUTCH
Assistant Trends Editor

Rock 'n' Soul Inc. of Greenville has recently undergone a name change.

Now Apple Records, the store has also added some relatively innovative offers for the record consumer.

"After four years of Rock 'n' Soul, I decided that the name was outdated," said Apple Records' owner "Frank" Ferree.

"At first I decided to specialize in rock and soul. But the disco scene has brought on a different record buying audience.

"The name Rock 'n' Soul was limiting us."

The store's name has no affiliations with the now defunct Beatles' company, Apple Corps Ltd.

"Apple Records gives a positive feeling," according to Ferree.

Ferree also said he liked the name Peaches, a record store chain based in Atlanta. For him, Apple Records has the same 'ring.'

Due to some misleading advertising on a local radio station, Ferree said many believed Apple Records was a new store.

"A lot of people still don't know about it," said Ferree. "But the reaction so far has been good."

Ferree said the changeover was also due to a lot of new things he wanted to try.

The discount Top 100 is one such innovation. Any album in the Top 100 (according to national charts) will be sold at a discount price. Albums which sell at a $6.98 list price, will be sold in the store for $4.99. Albums with a $7.98 list price, will be sold for $5.99.

"On special orders that we don't stock at a $6.98 list price, we will order and sell for $3.99," said Ferree.

Ferree said the Top 100 bargain was due to the recent rise in album prices.

"Since many companies have changed to a $7.98 list, and these albums are usually sold in stores at $6.99, people do a lot of thinking before the purchase," said Ferree.

Ferree cited the new Fleetwood Mac's "Rumours" as a good example of the rising record price dilemma which customers are faced with. He said the LP didn't sell very well until it was placed on sale for $5.49. And then he said it really sold.

Another store innovation is the album rental offer. Customers can rent an album for 24 hours for home recording. The cost for album rental is $2.00 for LP's up to a $9.98 list price and $3.00 for higher priced LP's. The album also has to be returned to the store in satisfactory condition.

Apple Records is also buying used albums. But Ferree said his decision upon buying the albums will be based upon whether or not he can sell it.

Apple Records had discontinued the Rock 'n' Soul free album for 12 LP receipts offer.

"We have cut out the free for 12 and replaced it with the discount Top 100," said Ferree.

"Although we're not offering the free for 12 anymore, we're giving 50 cents credit toward each receipt."

When asked what specific album has been his biggest seller, Ferree cited the 1975 "Fleetwood Mac." He said the new "Rumours" should do even better.

Ferree said Dan Fogelberg's "Souvenirs" has also been a big seller. But one of his most consistent albums has been Pure League's second LP, "Bustin' Out."

When asked what specific field has sold the most, Ferree said definitely rock.

"But more people are being turned on to jazz all the time," said Ferree.

So Frank Ferree and Apple Records is out to give the record customer the benefit of the doubt. With the soaring cost of the precious vinyl, what little can be saved is certainly appreciated.

"By having the discount Top 100, the store should have an increase in business," said Ferree.

"If people can't afford them, they're not going to buy them."

No yearbook?

Well, fellow ECU students, we can now claim the distinction of being part of one of the few (or maybe the only) institutes of higher education in the United States not to have a yearbook this year.

I'm the first one to favor innovations, and I know that some traditions are fast becoming archaic, empty skeletons. I don't think, however, that the BUCCANEER falls into this category.

But what do I know? I'm just a sentimental senior, who is soft-hearted enough to want a record of the memories of the year. I'll miss having the opportunity, ten or twenty or forty years from now, to look back at old photos of myself and my friends. I'll be sorry not to have written accounts of 1976-77 at ECU to refresh my memory. But what do I know?

NO PARTICIPATION

After all, there are indeed many of you who apparently don't consider a yearbook to be of any importance. That has been proven year after year, when participation in the free picture-taking drive has been minimal. Maybe it simply isn't "cool" to be involved in such antiquated drivel.

Apparently the faculty also caught on quickly to the gaucheness of making the effort to be included in the BUC. Faculty participation in individual picture taking was so minimal a few years ago, that the habit has been dropped completely. Who knows? Maybe the professors just don't want us to remember them years from now.

I do wonder what anthropologists in the next centuries will think when they note the incomplete series of ECU yearbooks. Perhaps they'll think that the 1976-77 academic year was canceled due to lack of interest. The sad part is that the non-existence of the BUC would not be the only indication of this lack of interest at ECU. (Check out voter turnout at elections, not to mention campus interest in many of the Union's activities.)

This is not to say that no one exhibited any interest in the welfare of this year's BUC. The original staff this year was very interested; interested and concerned enough to refuse to compromise the book the way SGA budgetary decisions would have required.

Susan Rogerson and company care. They've sat in dorm lobbies and offices trying to sell subscriptions, while students walked on, spending their money on more "worthwhile" causes like six-packs and nickel bags.

It is understandable that many students, including myself, would indeed resent paying for something that we all assume we'd already paid for, via student fees. The resentment must not have been very strong though, judging from the total lack of student response to the ridiculously low first budget passed by the SGA.

So, we can't blame the SGA for digging the BUC's grave. The lack of negative feedback on the students' part must be an indication that they, the students' representatives, were in fact keeping the customer satisfied.

By no means can we really blame the "photo lab thief" either. If business had gone on as usual at the BUC this year, the equipment theft wouldn't have that big an effect.

I still feel damned angry when I realize that I have somehow been deprived of a record of this, my last year at East Carolina. But what do I know? I'm just a sentimental fool who happens to feel affection and pride for this university.

Spring Poetry Festival. Sponsored jointly by the North Carolina Arts Council, the ECU Poetry Forum, and the North Carolina Poetry Society, the festival is designed to both entertain and educate people from ECU and the surrounding area in the art of poetry.

The program will begin Friday at 11:30 a.m. at the Ramada Inn, with a registration period. Registration fee is set at one dollar for students and four dollars for all others.

SEVERAL WORKSHOPS

Next will be a workshop at 1:00 p.m., entitled "Finding a Publisher." The workshop will be directed by Gerda Nischan, author of Red Sky in the Night. The program will outline the proper steps to be taken in having your poetry published, as well as some of the pitfalls to avoid.

A 2:00 p.m. workshop directed by Ruby Shackelford will examine "Mini-poems." Shackelford is a creative writing teacher in the ECU English Department.

At 3:00 p.m., Sam Ragan, the first North Carolina Secretary of Art Culture and History, will chair a seminar entitled "The essence of poetry." Ragan is President of the North Carolina Historical Association, as well as being editor and publisher of the Southern Pines Pilot.

EVENING EVENTS

At 8:00 Friday night, there will be a poetry reading by Samuel Hazo. Hazo, Director of the International Poetry Forum, is a respected and accomplished poet, with nine volumes of published verse to his credit. In addition, he has recently sold movie rights for his novel, The Very Fall of the Sun, to Eli Wallach. The Hazo reading will be held in the Carol Belk Auditorium of the Allied Health Building, across from Pitt Plaza.

SATURDAY ACTIVITIES

The festival will continue on Saturday, beginning with an 8:00 a.m. coffee hour at the Ramada Inn, hosted by Sam Ragan.

At 10:00, Dr. Peter Makuck will conduct a seminar "On teaching the writing of poetry." Makuck teaches poetry in the English Department of ECU.

The final workshop of the festival will be held at 11:00, and will be entitled "Getting along with your editor-publisher." The program will be directed by Charleen Swansea, publisher of Red Clay Books. Swansea, who has given a reading here at ECU, is a former poet-in-residence at Stanford University.

Pirates beat ACC, prepare for possible SC championship

By JEFF BROOKS
Assistant Sports Editor

East Carolina's rampaging Pirates defeated the Bulldogs of Atlantic Christian Monday as a prelude to their showdown with the Citadel this weekend in Charleston. Now 28 and 10 overall, the Pirates hope to take their first conference championship since 1967.

Monday's contest was to have been the first game of a doubleheader, but the second game was rained out. A capacity crowd turned out in Wilson to witness the second meeting of these two teams this season.

Larry Daughtridge went the route for the Pirates on the mound in picking up his sixth victory of the year against only three defeats. The Pirates, through Daughtridge, added yet another new record to their already lengthy list; Monday's game marked the 18th complete game of the year, breaking the old record of 17 set in 1974.

Sonny Wooten got the Pirates on the board in the top half of the second inning as he slammed his third homer of the year.

Leading 1-0, the Pirates exploded for three more runs in the fifth. Robert Brinkley singled and was advanced by Charlie Stevens' single. Jerry Carraway then moved both runners up with a sacrifice.

Pete Paradossi came through in the clutch as always, and singled both runners in. On the very next pitch Paradossi stole second, and when the pitcher threw wide to the plate, he went on to third. Billy Best, then the batter, forced an error as he got on base, scoring Paradossi from third. He died on base, but the Pirates now led, 4-0.

In the sixth, the Pirates added their fifth run of the ballgame as Wooten led off with a double and was singled to third by Raymie Styons. He scored when Brinkley reached base on a fielder's choice.

Atlantic Christian picked up two runs on three hits in their half of the sixth, before the big Pirate lineup came back up for their last cuts.

Billy Best tripled to start things off, unsettling Atlantic Christian's Stutts so much that he walked Pirate speedster Eddie Gates. Gates promptly stole second for his 23rd stolen base of the season.

Sonny Wooten came through with a solid single to right field to score both runners and make it a 7-2 game.

Daughtridge handcuffed the Bulldogs in the bottom of the seventh to wrap up victory number 28 of the year for the Pirates.

ECU now has only the weekend doubleheader with the Citadel remaining in the regular season. The Pirates can gain at least a tie for the conference championship with a split of the doubleheader, or could win it outright by sweeping both games from the Bulldogs.

Western Carolina, 13-2 in the conference was to play at Appalachian (4-9) Wednesday afternoon. If Western Carolina wins that game, then the Pirates will have to win both games from the Bulldogs to take the title, but should Appalachian defeat the Catamounts, then the Pirates will only have to defeat the Citadel once.

Women netters signed

The first ever grants-in-aid for women tennis players at ECU have been signed. Cynthia Averett, women's coach, has announced the signings of Debra Ann Spinazzola and Diane Keough to those grants.

Spinazzola is a high school all-America from Altonna, Pa., while Keough, a native of Vienna, Va., will transfer from Chowan Junior College.

Spinazzola has been playing number one singles for Altonna Area High School for the past four years and has compiled a 47-4 record. She was named Central Pennsylvania Most Valuable during 1974 and 1976. She was ranked number one in Central Pennsylvania for the 16-and-under age group in 1976 and is currently ranked number three in the 18-and-under division.

Keough was the star of the men's tennis team at Chowan as a freshman last year, compiling a 10-2 record against the men from the other junior colleges. She is currently a sophomore on the team. She attended George Marshall High School in Vienna, Va., playing number one on the women's team for three years. She went to the regional championship in Virginia all three years of high school.

NAIA power Atlantic Christian, but is shrugging aside the loss in looking ahead to the Southern Conference tournament.

Davidson is hosting the tournament, which will run from April 28-30th. The Pirates have never finished higher than fifth in the conference, but coming off of such a good season, the netters are confident of doing well.

The team will be led in singles by senior Mitch Pergerson and freshman Henry Hostetler. Pergerson, at the number four singles spot, sports a 10-8 record and the 1976 ECU tennis MVP is currently ranked second in the conference at that position.

Playing number five singles, Hostetler has compiled the best record on the team at 12-6 and, at one time, led the conference at that position. Both Hostetler and Pergerson should be highly seeded at the tournament.

In doubles, the Pirates will depend on Tom Durfee and Doug Getsinger, the number one doubles team. Durfee and Getsinger have a 10-8 record and were ranked second in the conference at one time. Jim Ratliff and Mitch Pergerson also had a good year, finishing with a 9-5 record.

First-year coach Randy Randolph led the team to a 9-9 record; the best for the Pirates in ten years. Randolph said he hoped "each man would play up to his potential at the tournament and do as well as he could."

The road to the top will be a rough one for the Pirates. Besides Appalachian, the team title will be contested by powerhouses Furman and Davidson.

The Mountaineers have players ranked either first or second in all six singles spots and are also number one in all three doubles.

Vying for the top singles title will be Appalachian's Davis Babb and Furman's Hap Core. Babb teams with number three player Dan Weant to provide the favored doubles team.

East Carolina's Pirates refused to die and finished a very surprising third in the Southern Conference golf tournament completed yesterday in Florence, South Carolina.

The Pirates, who shot an 1166 during the three day event, were led by Mike Buckmaster, who was seventh overall with a 228.

He was followed by Keith Hiller, who shot a 231, David Brogan with a 234 and Donnie Owens with a 236.

Individual medalist for the event was Kenny Gezell of Furman, who overtook teammate Bobby Bumgardner on the last day to win honors with a 216.

EQUIPMENT ROOM CHECKOUT SCHEDULE

Any full-time student at East Carolina is eligible to use the check out equipment at either Minges or Memorial Gyms by checking the equipment out from the Equipment Rooms in each complex.

All checked-out items will be due in the same day as they are checked out. There will be a late charge of $1.50 assessed for all equipment left out overnight plus an additional 25 cents for each day thereafter.

The hours for operation of the Equipment Rooms will be from 7:45 a.m. to 10:15 p.m. Monday through Thursday, from 7:45 a.m. to 9:15 p.m. on Friday and 9:00 a.m. to 9:15 p.m. on Saturdays. On Sunday, the equipment room will be open from 1 to 9:15 p.m.

HANDBALL AND TENNIS COURTS MUST BE RESERVED

With the Spring weather enticing us all outdoors it might be wise to remind you that the tennis courts at Minges and College Hill Drive must be reserved by students. In addition the indoor handball and racquetball courts in Minges Coliseum must also be reserved.

This can be done by going to the Memorial Gym Equipment Room in advance of the day that you wish to use the court and sign up for a free time.

Competitors in any of the Intramural Tennis play are reminded that they also have to sign up to play on these courts. The courts on Elm Street are available for use only to ECU students who pay Greenville city taxes, but they must be reserved at the Department of Recreation.

RUGBY CLUBBERS WIN SOCCER TITLE

The championship in the Intramural Soccer League was decided just before break as the Rugby Club scored a goal with two minutes left in overtime to defeat previously unbeaten Aycock Dorm, 2-1.

The championship game ended a successful first try at Intramural Soccer and it appears that the activity will be repeated as a sport in the Intramural curriculum next year.

KARATE CLUB WINS STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

The ECU Karate Club won the State championship held in Charlotte and Lumberton in early April. The ECU club was coached by Bill McDonalds and came away with 22 trophies.

Special recognition was given to four ECU students, Scott McMillian won first place in the Black Belt Middleweight Division, Al Fiore won the Light Heavyweight Blackbelt fighting division; Shirley Borton won the Form class in the women's white belt division, and Carla Carter won the Sparring.

The East Carolina Club will now represent North Carolina in the Southern Coast Championships to be held in Greenville, S.C. later this month.

MEN'S, WOMEN'S SOFTBALL

Softball play has entered its fourth week in men's play and the teams are beginning to spread out.

In men's play Marty Martinez still ranks the Belk Uglies as the Number One team, but I'll have to go with the Charley Manson Family. We both agree on the No. 2, 3 and 5 teams as the Scott DJ's, Tau Kappa Epsilon and FCA but the rest of the way we differ greatly.

Martinez's sentiments seem to be with the Dorms, but the Independent, Club and Fraternity leagues are loaded also.

In women's play there was a lot of action as Jerk's Rejects, Hypertension and Hits and Runs continued to roll along.

The Rejects stomped the Sunkist lemons, 24-1 and Hypertension beat the Bad News Bunch, 22-1, behind Ginny Roberts who had two triples, a home run and a double.

The top-ranked Hits and Runs did not play.

In sorority play Alpha Phi, Kappa Delta and Sigma Sigma Sigma remained headlocked as Kappa Delta topped Chi Omega, 12-3, and Alpha Phi dumped Delta Zeta, 13-6.

Garrett's Yardapes remained in the top five with a 10-4 win over Jarvis Wildcats and Donna's Demons ripped the Batwomen 15-11 as Donna Walker smacked two home runs.

The Mac Attackers beat the Umstead Coeds 13-2 as Salley Burch, Kathy Suggs, Linda McClellan and Denise Seagraves all blasted home runs.

Clement "A" lost its first game of the year, 6-5 to Fleming's Floozies despite Pam Shannonhouses' two hits.

Track team seeks final conference title

East Carolina's track team will be looking for its second consecutive Southern Conference track championship at Furman University in Greenville, S.C., this Friday and Saturday.

The Pirates won the 1976 title by a 187-134 margin over William and Mary, who had taken the crown for the previous nine years. The Pirates are the favorites for this meet, but will have to withstand strong bids by the host Paladins, William and Mary and VMI.

East Carolina returns as champions from seven of 1976's events. George Jackson won the long jump with a leap of 23'11 1/2" last year and has gone 24'3 1/4" this season. He should get strong challenges from VMI's Andre Gibson and Furman's Carl Anderson.

Herman McIntyre, East Carolina's nationally ranked triple jumper, has lost only three times all season, indoors and out. His jump of 52'6 1/2" at the State-Record Invitational is one of the ten best in the nation among collegiate jumpers. He lost the indoor title to VMI's Malcolm Grimes, as McIntyre, Grimes and Anderson all topped the conference record.

Robert Bailey is the top weight man for the Pirates. The freshman from Pfafftown, N.C., has thrown the discus 161'6 1/2" this season and was named the MVP in the field events at the Mountaineer Relays in Morgantown, W. Va., last weekend.

Other Pirates competing include: Ben Duckenfield, Tony McKoy and Jay Purdie in the 400 meter intermediate hurdles; Mike Hodge in the long and triple jump; Mike Harris in the shot, discus and hammer; Lafan Forbes in the javelin and hammer; Alston, James Rankins and Donnie Mack in the 100 and 200; Robert Franklin, Jay Purdie, Terry Perry James Freeman and James McCullough in the 400; Keith Uguhart, James Willett, Mel Duckenfield and Wayne Chaison in the 800; Lynn Phelps and Ray Moore in the 1,500; and Bobby Phillips in the 110 high hurdles.

Marvin Rankins captured the 120 yard high hurdles in the meet in 13.9. Just a sophomore, Rankins has gone 13.7 twice this season in the 110 meter hurdles and turned in a 13.81 electronically timed race just last week. That is one of the top electronic times in the nation this season.

Charlie Moss, who won last year in the 440 with a 48.5 clocking, has gone 48.0 this year, but will be pushed hard for the title by Furman's Ken Middleton and a host of his own teammates.

Carter Suggs, who has claimed the 100 title for the past two years, is getting back to top shape after early season injuries. He will have to go to win this year, as Otis Melvin and Larry Austin, both of ECU, and Western Carolina's John Burson have better times to date.

Calvin Alston won last year's 220 title with a 21.1 clocking and has had an outstanding season thus far this year. He has lost only to nationally ranked Jon Young of Tennessee and Olympians Harvey Gance and Calvin Dill.

Here's how you can get off to a sound financial start.

The Wachovia Grad Plan gives you a package of all the banking services you'll need, including:

- A Simple Interest Loan for a car or any major purchase.
- A Wachovia Free Way Account for no-service-charge checking.
- A Wachovia Ready ReservAccount. It backs up your checking account with a reserve of cash.
- A Master Charge Card.
- A Wachovia Banking Card (with Check Guarantee) that can be used at Teller II.
- Your own Wachovia Personal Banker.
- Newcomer information and relocation assistance.

How do you get it? Simple. If you're getting your degree this year, have accepted a full-time job with a salary of at least $7200, and are going to live or work in a North Carolina community, you may already qualify. So drop by your nearest Wachovia office and ask a Wachovia Personal Banker about the Grad Plan. Do it this week, and get a sound start on your financial future.

It's the Wachovia Grad Plan.
