

The East Carolinian

Serving the East Carolina campus community since 1925

Vol. 59 No. 18

Thursday October 25, 1984

Greenville, N.C.

14 Pages

Circulation 12,000

Gov. James B. Hunt, Jr., spoke to staff members at the ECU School of Medicine and Pitt Memorial Hospital while visiting Greenville Tuesday.

Hunt Campaigns At ECU, Discusses Tobacco At Rally

(UPI) — While making a campaign swing through eastern North Carolina Tuesday, Gov. James Hunt pledged to push for laws to rescue the state's beleaguered tobacco industry and accused Sen. Jesse Helms of failing to stand up for farmers.

Both Helms and Hunt wooed voters in North Carolina's tobacco country. Helms, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, told farmers Congress will kill the tobacco and peanut programs unless he is elected to a third term.

Hunt proposed a four-point tobacco program and charged that Helms has done nothing to help farmers.

"My opponent says farmers ought to vote for him because he is chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee. Yet I haven't heard him propose a single new idea about how to save our tobacco program," Hunt told farmers in a Greenville tobacco warehouse.

"The real question in this race is not which candidate can best maintain the status quo. The status quo is killing our farmers," Hunt said.

Hunt proposed that the federal government reduce its tobacco stockpile by offering discounts to companies that buy tobacco collected from previous seasons.

Under the tobacco program, the Flue-cured Tobacco Stabilization Corp. buys tobacco from farmers who cannot sell their crop for the minimum price.

The federally financed agency now has stockpiled nearly $1.5 billion worth of tobacco, chiefly because rising foreign imports have cut into the domestic market. Farmers pay storage and interest charges on the stockpiled tobacco.

"I suggest that for every pound of tobacco companies buy from 1982 and 1983 crops, they be given a pound of pre-1983 tobacco, with the Commodity Credit Corp. absorbing the losses,"

Hunt said.

"The two programs of greatest interest to the most North Carolinians — tobacco and peanuts — both of those programs will be killed if North Carolina loses its chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee," Helms said.

Hunt also visited the ECU School of Medicine Pitt Memorial Hospital where he talked with staff and patients. "I would like to see organized recognition of medical services," he said, adding that he was "pleased" to see the medical school serving eastern North Carolina.

Hunt spent several hours in the Greenville area, speaking to senior citizens at the Holiday Inn. A large number of med school staff members turned out to greet him, along with Dr. William Laopus, dean of the School of Medicine. He toured the facilities briefly.

Art Damaged By Vandals

By JENNIFER JENDRASIAK
News Editor

An incident of vandalism last weekend which caused approximately $10,000 worth of damage in the Jenkins Fine Arts Building has caused evening access to the building to be limited.

According to Gene McAbee of the Department of Public Safety, the vandalism was reported at 2:40 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 20. One sculpture worth $7,500 was destroyed, as were a number of smaller sculptures. In addition, a glass case on the 2nd floor was turned over and shattered and a case on the 1st floor was broken.

McAbee said three juveniles were found in the building at the time the vandalism was discovered but can't be connected with the incident. He added that anyone with information should contact the Department of Public Safety.

As a response to the vandalism, Edward Levine, dean of the School of Art, has ordered the building locked between 1 and 7 a.m. Monday through Friday, and between midnight and 7 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday. The building had been left open all night for the past several years.

"We want to try to curtail this kind of activity," he said. "We've had sporadic vandalism for the last couple of months and the faculty members don't recall ever having so much."

The destruction, Levine said, "is very difficult to understand." Norman Keller, a faculty member, owned the $7,500 sculpture. "I'd been working on it for over 10 years and had just finished it this summer," he said.

"A good piece of my life was tied up in that stone."

The sculpture was marble and weighed approximately 900 lbs., Keller said. In addition, five students' works were destroyed. "Every stone in the process of being carved by students was broken," he said.

Keller said it must have taken "quite some time" to destroy the works. "Whoever did it racked up a healthy destruction binge."

"It seems like every Homecoming weekend we get a great increase in vandalism at the School of Art," Keller added. He said this act of vandalism was "the straw that broke the camel's back" and everyone in the school will end up suffering because of it.

"It ends up affecting 750 students," he said. "I hope the police manage to pin this thing."

ECU Capital Requests Approved By UNC Board

By G. J. RIDEOUT
Managing Editor

The UNC Board of Governors approved capital improvement requests for ECU totaling $19 million in a Friday meeting at Chapel Hill. The total operation and capital improvement budget for the entire 16-member system is a record $1 billion. The budget requests now go to the Advisory Budget Commission which makes recommendations to the General Assembly, scheduled to convene in February 1985.

The major item for ECU is a sports medicine/physical education facility with a projected cost of $8 million. The facility would be the first major expansion of the sports facilities in 17 years. Chancellor John M. Howell said the new building would take the pressure off of other sports buildings.

Howell expects to have an expanding sports medicine program at ECU in the future. The medical facilities already here makes this area ideal for such a program, Howell said.

Other requests made by the Board of Governors include a biotechnology lab, with a cost of $1.9 million and a building to house a nuclear magnetic resonance machine at a cost of close to $1 million. These two items, upon approval, will be built with funds from the medical family practice plan. The NMR building requires special construction materials.

Another item for ECU includes a birthing center at the School of Medicine, which carries a price of $1.25 million. The present center is overcrowded, according to Howell.

Howell is optimistic about getting the items approved by the Board of Governors passed by the General Assembly. He feels they are basically needed.

Major renovations requested by ECU for the 1985-87 capital improvement funds are:

Memorial gymnasium, $3.8 million for improvement of facilities.

Graham building (geology), $1.35 million for updating of the facilities.

Old Cafeteria building, $595,000 for repairs.

The Board of Governors also approved a 7 percent faculty salary increase. Howell says the board hopes to correct the imbalance that occurred last year when the General Assembly gave public school teachers 5 percent more money than university teachers.

Almost All Counties Represented In Fall Enrollment Of 13,827

ECU News Bureau

Except for four small mountain counties, every county in the state of North Carolina is represented in ECU's student body this fall.

And there are ECU students from 46 of the 50 states plus the District of Columbia, the Canal Zone and Puerto Rico.

The 156 foreign students on campus come from 45 different countries.

As usual, the bulk of ECU's student enrollment — 67.8 percent of the in-state total of 11,364 students — comes from eastern North Carolina, counties lying to the east of Interstate 95, according to figures compiled by Registrar Gilbert Moore.

Leading the list is Pitt County with 2,109 students followed by Wake with 958 and Lenoir with 478. Cumberland and Wayne counties also have more than 400 students each at ECU. Two populous Piedmont counties, Mecklenburg with 338 and Guilford with 330, ranked in the top 10 in-state counties for ECU students this year.

Overall, the fall semester enrollment is 13,827. Of this number 2,307 are from out-of-state, Moore said.

The only four in-state counties not represented this year are Alleghany, Cherokee, Graham and Yancey.

Easy Rider

JENNIFER JENDRASIAK — ECU Photo Lab

The students who own motorcycles definitely have one advantage to those who own cars: being able to find a parking space that is not a mile away from the classroom. However, chances are great that this will change in February.

College Presidents' Jobs Difficult, Stressful, Constrained

(CPS) — "The American college and university presidency is in trouble," a new study reports.

Things are so bad, the study says, that qualified applicants don't want to become college presidents, and, in some cases, incumbent presidents want to get out of their jobs.

The study, conducted by the Commission on Strengthening Presidential Leadership, warns the president's job has become too difficult, stressful and constrained at many institutions.

Colleges have "unnecessarily and unwisely" diminished the power of their presidents in the past 20 years through increased government controls and meddling by faculty and governing boards, the study says.

The study adds the problems are driving away the top academic officials most qualified for the job.

"Institutions must ask 'how can we make the presidency attractive to qualified applicants,'" suggests Nancy Axelrod, spokeswoman for the commission's sponsor, the Association of Governing Boards of Colleges and Universities.

"Presidential search committees cannot simply sit back and wait for applications," she adds. "They must carefully seek out candidates who qualify for the position."

But only about half of the nation's best-qualified academic officers want to become a college president, the study claims.

And while finding presidential applicants is frustrating, retaining qualified presidents is often harder.

Presidents are stymied by federal and state controls, particularly "sunshine" laws requiring that they conduct official college business in open meetings, the report asserts.

Increased faculty influence in hiring teachers and governing board intervention in daily decision-making also discourages presidents.

"The power of a governing board and how it relates to the president in many cases reduces the power of the president," maintains Larisa Wanserski, an AGB spokesman.

Governing board actions can "isolate (a president) from the public, making it hard for him or her to make decisions," Wanserski says.

The beleaguered presidents often react by resigning.

During any two-year period, the study reveals, about 30 percent of the nation's college presidents are leaving or thinking of leaving their positions. A fourth of them are dissatisfied with their jobs.

The average president stays at a college seven years, Wanserski says, not enough time to implement long-term plans for an institution.

"Colleges need to look at the position and make it as attractive and desirable as it once was," she asserts.

To do it, the study recommends governing boards review their provisions for presidential support yearly, evaluate their president in "ways that do not encourage organized attacks upon them and do not unduly embarrass...or weaken them," and make changes necessary to attract and retain suitable presidents.

Boards should scrutinize presidential qualifications as well as the office itself, suggests Debra McCarthy of Higher Education Administrative Referral Service, which helps track down presidential candidates for colleges.

"There's a time for everything," she contends. "What was needed in a president 15 or 20 years ago was fine for that time. Now, it's time for something else."

McCarthy says most colleges are looking for presidents with administrative experience rather than strictly academic background.

"Some say there's more emphasis on managerial ability," agrees Axelrod. "The managerial part has become more important for administration and fundraising, but academic background is still important, too."

In particular, the study says each president "has a responsibility for maintaining and/or creating an effective presidency — particularly, but by no means exclusively, in relation to the board."

Colleges gradually have diminished their president's role to try to guarantee their own survival, the study concludes.

Announcements

Omega Psi Phi
Is recognizing all black students who have accumulated a gpa of 3.0 or above. You will be given a certificate of achievement during our achievement day awards ceremony on Nov. 18 at 3:00. If you have the qualifications write Omega Psi Phi, P.O. Box 3014, Greenville, N.C. 27834.

S.A.M.
The Society for Advancement of Management would like to remind all members of our car wash — Saturday, Oct. 27 from 10 — 2, at the Trade Station — corner of 14 st. and 264 bypass. Everyone — let us wash your car cheap, and help support the S.A.M. Only 1.50 at time of wash.

Alpha Sigma Phi
The little sisters of Alpha Sigma Phi would like to say thanks for another successful homecoming and champagne breakfast — start resting up for next year everyone. Brothers and little sisters be creative at the halloween party — Saturday night. We would like to remind all girls interested in little sister just that they are invited and encouraged to attend. We can all get to know each other. See you there.

Prime Time
Campus Crusade for Christ is sponsoring "Prime Time" this Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Jenkins Aids — Art Bldg. Please join us for fun, fellowship and bible study. We are looking forward to meeting you.

ASPA
The American Society for Personnel Administration will hold a meeting on Tues. Oct. 30 at 4:00 p.m. in Wendenhall Student Center Multipurpose room. New members are welcome. Refreshments will be served.

NCSL
The ECU delegation of the NC Student Legislature will meet again on Mon. Oct. 29 in Mendenhall Rm. 247 at 7:00 p.m. We're planning lots of fun projects and we need everyone there to help set up committees. Info on the organization is readily available to everyone. Just call James 754 — 5667 or Sandi 756 — 8669 or Trish 758 — 7814.

NCSL
Don't forget our "ragin' and — of — the — weekend happy hour" at the Blue Moon at 8:00 Sunday.

Free Throw Contest
There will be a free throw contest held for all you expert hoopsters November 13. This intramural sponsored event will be held in Memorial Gym. To register call room 204 Memorial gym or call 757-6387. Participate rather than spectate.

Omega Psi Phi
The brothers of Omega Psi Phi frat. Inc. would like to announce a halloween costume party — Wendenhall Multi-Purpose room Wednesday Oct. 31. Prizes will be raffied at 8:00 p.m. 12 a.m. Best costume wins 25.00, 2nd and 3rd cash prizes also. Free refreshments.

Pi Kappa Phi
Little sisters and Lili's pledges are reminded about the wild the piama party this Friday night with the brothers. It's lock out from 8:10 men we let the guys in. Pledges should bring their pledge books if possible. Also remember that Saturday is P.U.S.H. Soultiation Day. Come out to the house and wear your jersey.

Pi Kappa Phi
Alright Pi Kappa Phi this is the weekend tonight. Social with the Alpha Phi's. Friday our wild piama party with the little sisters and Saturday our woodcut. P.U.S.H. Soultiation and chill and beer dinner. Also brothers dinner from the pledges is tonight at 6:30. Formal brotherhood this Monday is 7:00 p.m. at the house.

something new
Looking for something new to do this Friday? The Baptist Student Union will be holding its fall social this Friday at 8 p.m. Admission is only $1.00 and there will be refreshments (and a lot of dancing) available. Bring a friend and join us at the B.S.U. on 10th at 8:00 to Wednesday's Friday night. We'll be looking for you!

Kappa Alpha Psi
The brothers of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity Inc. will be sponsoring a happy hour from 9:30 p.m. until 12:00 a.m. FREE BEER until 12:00! Come out and party with the Nupes!

NAACP
The NAACP urges students who have not obtained absentee ballots to do so before Nov. 1. Absentee ballot request cards will be available at the information desk in Mendenhall student center.

APO
Alpha Phi Omega is requesting all brothers to attend meetings. We need you! All brothers not participating and paying fees by Oct. 25 will be asked to appear before the executive board. APO would also like to congratulate the following persons on receiving bids to pledge this semester: Robert Bomey, Leanne Butrum, Sandre Caskey, Donna Davis, Jimmie Hackett, Keith Hall, Kim Holtzman, Vivian Joyner, Ricky Lewis, Angela Richardson.

Residence Life
The Department of Residence Life is now accepting applications from students who wish to apply for Resident Advisor positions. Students need to have the following qualifications: (1) to be a full time student (2) to have a minimum grade point average of 2.2 (3) to have a clear judicial record (4) to have a time schedule that is free of other commitments that conflict with work. (5) to have lived in a residence hall environment (6) must reside in residence hall during employment. Application deadline for employment for Spring 1985 is November 1, 1984. If interested in applying for a position, applications are available in 214 Whitchard and any Residence Hall Office.

Know about O.T.?
This Thursday at 7:00pm in Mendenhall's multipurpose room is your big chance to find out about O.T. (Occupational Therapy) and to talk to students who are already in the program. Anyone who is interested is welcome! Look for our ad in today's paper. P.S. There's an O.T. club meeting Tue. at 5:45 in rm. 203 Allied Health, and you're invited.

College Repub
College Republicans will hold a special meeting tonight at 5:00 in room 241 of Mendenhall.

ISA
ISA - Halloween Party. Everybody is invited!!! Saturday, Oct. 27 at the International House. Costume contest. Come and join us, you may win the prize.

Videl Game Benefit
The March of Dimes with the assistance of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority are sponsoring a video game benefit on October 28, 1984. The benefit will be held at Bally's Aladdin's Castle in the Carolina East Mall from 2-4 p.m. The admission fee is $1.00, and $5.00 for high score competition. Division 1 - Ages 8-12, Division 11 - ages 13-18, Division 111 - ages 19 over. Prizes will be awarded and gift certificates will be given from Aladdin's Castle and the Student Supply Store. All proceeds go to the March of Dimes.

RUGBY
2 home matches this weekend. ECU rugby club will be hosting Campbell University and the U.S. Marine Corps team from Camp Lejeune. The games start at 2:00 pm. Saturday, Oct. 27. Everybody's gonna be there. Sacrifices will be made.

Surfing Contest
The 1984 ECU Invitational Surfing Contest will be held this Saturday at the Islander Motel in Emerald Isle, N.C. Competition will begin at 9:00 am sharp and last until about 2:00 in the afternoon. Several schools are expected to compete including arch rival UNC-W. Come out and enjoy the sun and fun!

Surfing
There is a meeting Thursday at 8:30 in the Mendenhall Coffeehouse. The video of Hawaii's North Shore should be available for the meeting. Team t-shirts will be in and sold first come, first serve at the meeting. Don't forget the big contest this Saturday at Emerald Isle. Contact Johnny Ghee at 758-6667 if you want to participate.

Grand Prize
Grand Prize: $200. 1st annual Lambda Chi Alpha at Bally's Wet T-shirt contest. Thursday Oct. 25 at 8:00. Interested contestants contact Lambda Chi Alpha at 752-6159 by Weds. at 12:00.

Happy Hour
The 1984 pledge class of Delta Sigma Phi will be holding happy hour at the Blue Moon Cafe on Saturday Oct. 27 from 9pm to 1am. Happy hour prices. Come party with the best!

Students for IKE
Anyone who is interested in information concerning 4th district congressman Ike Andrews please contact Jeff Cloninger (ECU Coordinator) 752-5198.

Gamma Beta Phi
Gamma Beta Phi will meet on Thursday Oct. 25 in Brewster C-103 at 7:00. This is a very important meeting. Make every effort to be there.

NASA
Interested in international policy and regulations affecting high technology exporting? If so, this position may be for you. NASA will be interviewing on campus in November for Spring 1985. Contact the Cooperative Education Office, 313 Rawl Building as soon as possible.

Sigma Nu
Come on down to the Sigma Nu little sister happy hour at Grumpy's Thurs. Oct. 25, 9:00 until. Door Prizes and lots of fun! Only $1.00 admission. See ya there!

Catholic Students
Sunday Mass is celebrated at 11:30 am in the Biology lecture Hall (rm. 103) and at 9:00 pm. at the Newman center, 953 E. 10th st. For information call Fr. Terry 752-4216.

CO-REC Basketball
Registration for intramural Co-Rec basketball will begin on Oct. 29 and end Oct. 30. To register come by room 204 Memorial Gym between the hours of 8:00 am. and 5:00pm. For more information call 757-6387. Participate rather than spectate.

Snow ski
Snow ski during christmas break. Any persons interested in snowing December 30 through January 4 at Snowshoe, W.V. should call Jo Saunders at 757-6000 to get your name on the list for the trip. Beginners to hotohogs are welcome — ski instructor is available for all levels of ability. Price depends on ski package. Space for housing on slopes and transportation is limited. You are invited to come by Memorial gym 108 on Oct. 30 at 4:00 p.m. To register, see the slides and talk skiing! A $5.00 deposit at this time will reserve your space.

Track meet
Register for the intramural track meet on Oct. 22 through the 25th. The meet will be held on Oct. 30. The team captains meeting will be held on the 29th at 7:00 pm. in the biology building room 103. To sign up come by room 204 Memorial gym or for more information call 757-6387.

Scuba Diving
Thanksgiving vacation - Dive Cozumel, Mexico. 8 Days. 7 nights on the beautiful Yucatan Peninsula. Drift diving on the Palancar reef will be one of the most exciting experiences. From Raleigh, price including air fare, meals, lodging and diving $820.00. Special price for non-divers $720.00. Air travel provided by Mexicana and Eastern. For registrations and further information call Ray Scharf, Dir. of Acquiatics 757-6441.

Helmsbusters
Students interested in joining the students for Jim Hunt should please contact Scott Thomas at 752-1793 or David Brooks at 752-5198.

Student Union
The Student Union Recreation Committee will meet on Monday, October 29, 1984, at 3:00 pm. in room 242 of Mendenhall Student Center. All members and interested students are urged to attend.

Halloween costume
Halloween costume contest to be held from 4:00 - 5:00 pm on Oct. 31 in the multi-purpose room at Mendenhall. Cash prizes will be awarded. Tickets are $1.00 and may be picked up at Mendenhall or at the office at the Methodist Student Center. Sponsored by Wesley Foundation.

WANTED

"General Manager"

THE EAST CAROLINIAN is now accepting applications for the General Manager's position through November 2nd. Interested persons should apply on the second floor of the Publication building, located across from Joyner Library.

This is an excellent opportunity to work with a quality staff while gaining valuable experience in a wide realm of business applications.

Minority Student
Minority Student Organization formerly souls will have a meeting Thursday, Oct. 25 out 4:30 pm. It will be held in room 242 at Mendenhall. We urge all minority students to come out and Participate!!!

PPHA
PPHA will hold a scheduled meeting Thursday, Oct. 25, 1984 at 5:45 pm. in room 221 Mendenhall Student Center. All members and prospective members please make plans to attend.

Delta Sigma Phi
There will be a mandatory meeting for all brothers, little sisters, and pledges this Sunday, Oct. 28th, at 8:00 pm. at the house. See you there!!!

Health Careers Day
Nurses, Medical Techs, Physical Therapists, Occupational Therapists, Social Workers, and SLP majors. Representatives from various hospitals and health agencies will be on campus to talk with you about employment possibilities. Different organizations will be here on the following dates: November 2, Nursing Building, 9:30 - 12:30pm.; November 5, Allied Health Building 1:30 - 4:30pm. Mark your calendar and tell another friend about this in case they do not see the announcement.

Hats
Wool and Cotton Socks
Laurel Burch Earrings
Handmade Wool Sweaters

Specializing in Natural Fiber Clothing for Women

116 E. 5th St. Mon-Sat 10:00-5:30
Next Door to Book Barn 757-3944

Canon
AE-1
PROGRAM

Nobody else makes fine photography this simple.

- Programmed automation — just focus and shoot!
- Shutter-priority automation plus manual mode
- Fully automatic flash with optional Speedlite 188A
- Optional Power Winders A2, A and Motor Drive MA available for rapid sequence shooting
- Includes Canon U.S.A. Inc. one-year limited warranty/registration card

Speedlite 188A and Motor Drive MA shown optional $219.95

art & camera shop
518 SOUTH COTANCHE STREET
GREENVILLE, N.C. 27834
752-0888

If Killian's Irish Red is a ten, German beer is a nein.

Now don't get us wrong. The Germans make some pretty fine beers. But none of them slow-roast their malt like we do.

So no German beer can boast the color, the character, the rich, incredibly smooth taste of Killian's Red Ale.

So the next time you're about to order your favorite German beer, try a Killian's Red, instead.

And go from a nein to a ten.

KILLIAN'S RED
INSTEAD

©1984 Adolph Coors Company, Golden, Colorado 80401. Brewer of Fine Quality Beers Since 1873.

WAZ and the Southern Flue-Cured Tobacco Festival, Inc. Presents

*First Annual Flue-Cured Tobacco
Auction Convention*

Saturday, October 27, 1984
CAROLINA OPRY HOUSE
GREENVILLE, NC

— Gates Open at 10:30 a.m. —
— Show Begins at 12 Noon —

Featuring Special Entertainment By:

- The Bill Lyerly Band, playing music from their two albums "Prodigal Son" and "Higher Ground".
- The Green Grass Cloggers, high step-in' and swingin'.
- The Too Wet To Plow String Band, a down-home band playing all-time favorites.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

- Bring your lounge chairs and blankets.
- Food and Beer will be available
- RAIN LOCATION: Farmers Warehouse North Greene Street Greenville, North Carolina
- TICKET LOCATIONS: Rainbow Records in Kinston, New Bern, Havelock and Morehead City Apple Records in Greenville Carolina Opry House in Greenville

Adults - $5.00 Children Under 12 - $1.00

Competition In:

FIDDLIN'
1st Place	Adult $150.00
Runner-Up	$100.00
Junior Division
1st Place	$ 50.00
Runner-Up	Merchandise
BANJO
1st Place	$ 50.00
Runner-Up	Merchandise
FLAT PICKIN' GUITAR
1st Place	$ 50.00
Runner-Up	Merchandise
BLUE GRASS BAND
1st Place	$100.00
Runner-Up	Merchandise
HORSESHOE PITCHING CONTEST
12:00-4:00 p.m.
Two (2) horseshoe pitching playing fields will be set up. Copies of the rules will be available on the day of the Fiddler's Convention. Registration is limited. You may pre-register by filling out and mailing in the attached Registration Form. Depending on the number of entries, we are planning a men's, women's and junior division. Prizes will be awarded. This event will not be held in the event of inclement weather.

For Further information and to register contact:

Lynn Caverly Jobs
Cured Tobacco Festival, Inc.
Greenville, NC 27835-7366
(919) 757-1604

Theft, T

Crime Column

Former Pre

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (UPI) — Former President Jimmy Carter praised Gov. James Hunt and criticized conservative religious leaders for siding with Sen. Jesse Helms in North Carolina's Senate campaign.

"I object very strongly to the mixing of politics and religion and believe that the separation of church and state ought to be absolute," said Carter, who visited the University of North Carolina with his daughter Amy Tuesday.

"I think it's a serious mistake that has been done in recent times with the Jerry Falwell right-wing evangelical television movement on the one hand aligned with the Republican Party on the

United Way Campaign At Book Store

By ELAINE PERRY
Staff Writer

Students interested in becoming involved with a community service will have their chance with the United Way. "The United Way is a source of essential help for the less fortunate in our community. It provides dignity and affords basic human needs for those who cannot help themselves," said ECU Chancellor John Howell.

The United Way is currently in the process of its annual fund drive. Mimi Quick, the United Way chairman for main campus, along with SGA President John Rainey and Vice President Mike McPartland have come up with a way to get the students involved in the project.

On Tuesday, Oct. 30, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., there will be a one-day campaign for students. A table will be set up in front of the Student Supply Store for students to give contributions to the drive. United Way literature will be available.

Quick said she "has found students to be concerned with the needs of others." She added that she feels students would like to get involved with the organization. "Sharing a part of what you do have with people who have less provides a chance to show you care," she said.

The campaign will end on Nov. 1, however, contributions will not be refused after that date. Seventy-two percent of the total ECU goal of $35,000 has been met. The main campus goal is $23,000, while the goal for the School of Medicine is $12,000. The med school has collected 71 percent of its goal, while the main campus has collected approximately 75 percent.

Quick said she feels the amount collected is "very good for this point in the campaign." Several schools and departments have exceeded their goals, she said. However, several schools have not yet reported their totals.

"I feel confident that the goal will be achieved," Quick said, adding that support is important to the overall contributions and a successful campaign.

WANTED

-Typesetters -
Needed Immediately
At The East Carolinian

Apply at 2 Floor
Old South Building.

Theft, Trespassing Increase At Homecoming

Crime Column

Campus Public Safety Officers experienced a busy Homecoming weekend with several arrests for trespassing and traffic offenses. The number of reported larcenies and vandalism was up from the previous week.

Crimes for Oct. 17-23 were:
 Oct. 17, 2 p.m. — a bicycle was reported stolen from the front of Belk dorm. 4:55 p.m. — a vehicle parked south of Belk dorm was damaged as a result of a break-in.
 Oct. 18, 12:30 a.m. — Brian

Russell Hart of Jones dorm was arrested for DWI. 4:46 p.m. — Gina Freeman of Mt. Judea, Arkansas was arrested for selling magazine subscriptions without a permit in Aycock dorm. 7:10 p.m. — A bicycle was reported stolen from the northeast corner of Belk dorm. 8 p.m. — June Thomas of Slay dorm was arrested for damage to personal property.

Blvd. A stolen bicycle and a wheel from a second bicycle were recovered; the suspect escaped. The owner of the unregistered bicycle has not been identified. 2:50 a.m. — an incident of extensive vandalism was reported in Jenkins Art Building. 7:12 p.m. — a wallet was reported stolen from a vehicle parked in the day student parking area at 10th St. and College Hill Drive.

was reported stolen from the bathroom on the 10th floor of White dorm.

Oct. 22, 6:55 a.m. — a breaking and entering and larceny from a vehicle was reported in the 5th and Reade St. freshmen lot. 1:30 p.m. — A bicycle was reported stolen from between Garrett dorm and Jenkins Art Building. 10:30 p.m. — four Marines from Camp Lejeune were arrested for trespassing in White dorm.

Oct. 23, 1:46 a.m. — A vehicle was found vandalized in the 5th and Reade St. freshmen lot.

Former President Praises Hunt

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (UPI) — Former President Jimmy Carter praised Gov. James Hunt and criticized conservative religious leaders for siding with Sen. Jesse Helms in North Carolina's Senate campaign. "I object very strongly to the mixing of politics and religion and believe that the separation of church and state ought to be absolute," said Carter, who visited the University of North Carolina with his daughter Amy Tuesday. "I think it's a serious mistake what has been done in recent times with the Jerry Falwell right-wing evangelical television movement on the one hand aligned with the Republican Party on the other," he said. "This breakdown is not good for our country, and I predict that it is a transient phenomenon." At a news conference, Carter criticized Helms' stance on the Panama Canal treaty, which the two-term conservative opposed as a "giveaway," and said Helms' view was "typical" of his judgements. "I think Jim Hunt is one of the finest public servants I have ever known in my life and will make a great U.S. senator," Carter said. "I think Sen. Helms is just the opposite." Carter's comments were greeted by applause from a crowd of more than 450 people at the campus of the University of North Carolina. Carter visited the university to deliver the 1984 Weil Lecture on American Citizenship.

The former president declined to predict whether President Reagan or Democratic presidential nominee Walter Mondale, Carter's vice president, would win North Carolina or the rest of the South.

"I think it would be a mistake for anyone to say the South is being written off either because Reagan is taking it for granted or because Mondale has given up on it," he said.

United Way Campaign At Book Store

By ELAINE PERRY
 Staff Writer

Students interested in becoming involved with a community service will have their chance with the United Way. "The United Way is a source of essential help for the less fortunate in our community. It provides dignity and affords basic human needs for those who cannot help themselves," said ECU Chancellor John Howell.

The United Way is currently in the process of its annual fund drive. Mimi Quick, the United Way chairman for main campus, along with SGA President John Rainey and Vice President Mike McPartland have come up with a way to get the students involved in the project.

On Tuesday, Oct. 30, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., there will be a one-day campaign for students. A table will be set up in front of the Student Supply Store for students to give contributions to the drive. United Way literature will be available.

Quick said she "has found students to be concerned with the needs of others." She added that she feels students would like to get involved with the organization. "Sharing a part of what you do have with people who have less provides a chance to show you care," she said.

The campaign will end on Nov. 1, however, contributions will not be refused after that date. Seventy-two percent of the total ECU goal of $35,000 has been met. The main campus goal is $23,000, while the goal for the School of Medicine is $12,000. The med school has collected 71 percent of its goal, while the main campus has collected approximately 75 percent.

Quick said she feels the amount collected is "very good for this point in the campaign." Several schools and departments have exceeded their goals, she said. However, several schools have not yet reported their totals.

"I feel confident that the goal will be achieved," Quick said, adding that support is important to the overall contributions and a successful campaign.

Amy Carter Eyes UNC-CH

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (UPI) — Amy Carter, the freckled-faced daughter of former President Jimmy Carter, is taking a close look at the University of North Carolina to decide whether she wants to become a Tar Heel next fall.

While Carter visited with university officials and held a news conference Tuesday, Amy quietly strolled around campus escorted by a student guide, a security guard and several reporters. The reporters were asked not to talk to the 17-year-old high school senior.

"It hasn't exactly been a typical day on campus," said Judith McLaurin, secretary to the University's chancellor.

Amy, wearing a sweatshirt and baggy jeans, visited Morehead Planetarium and Observatory and peeked into an astronomy lab class then stopped to feed birds at the school's arboretum.

WHY RENT ?

For less than dorm or apartment rent you could:

1. Buy your own home
2. Enjoy peace and privacy
3. Invest in the future

STOP BY AND SEE HOW!!

626 W. Greenville Blvd. 756-5434

5TH STREET IMPORT SERVICE

WE REPAIR TOYOTA, HONDA, VW, FIAT, PORSCHE, VOLVO, DATSUN, LOTUS, MERCEDES, BMW, AUDI AND OTHERS

EXPERT WORKMANSHIP

DIAL 758-1534

1007 E. 5TH GREENVILLE

LOCATED ON MUMFORD ROAD ACROSS FROM G'VILLE UTILITIES OPERATION CENTER

Sponsored By Greenville Jaycees

Oct. 26 Thru 31 7:00 TO 11 PM

WANTED

-Typesetters-

Needed Immediately

At The East Carolinian

Apply at 2 Floor Old South Building.

SPRING BREAK

Help us sponsor your Ft. Lauderdale trip and you go for free!

(800) 368-2006 TOLL FREE

BLUE MOON CAFE

Now Delivering Limited Area Sun.-Thurs. 5pm to 10pm

Call 752-1294

ABORTIONS UP TO 12th WEEK OF PREGNANCY
 $185 Abortion from 13 to 18 weeks at additional cost. Pregnancy Test, Birth Control, and Problem Pregnancy Counseling. For further information call 832-0535 (Toll Free Number 1-800-532-5384) between 9A.M and 5P.M. weekdays.
RALEIGH WOMEN'S HEALTH ORGANIZATIONS
 917 West Morgan St. Raleigh, NC

Wash Pub

 2510 E. 10th St. Next To Pizza Hut

KINGSTON PLACE

The most exclusive address in Greenville. Completely furnished and accessorized with the finest interior appointments and exceptional amenities for the serious student.

It's a very special condominium community. Private, convenient, and available now for rent or purchase.

Rent: $150.00 per month per student (75¢ more per day than the dorm)

Purchase: Under $60,000 about 1/2 the price per square foot than the other student condominiums.

Please stop by our office at 2820 E. 10th St. anytime between 9am-6pm Mon.-Fri. 10am-5pm Sat.

Call for an evening or Sunday appointment.

Call 757-1971 for more information or a ride

ALL units are 2 bedrooms, 2 and 2 1/2 baths. 1088 square feet, 2 floor plans available.

now accep- Manager's Interested floor of across from quality staff business ap-

10:00-5:30 757-3944

on In:

Adult $150.00
 $100.00

Junior Division $ 50.00
 Merchandise

$ 50.00
 Merchandise

IN GUITAR $ 50.00
 Merchandise

SS BAND $100.00
 Merchandise

PITCHING CONTEST
 2:00-4:00 p.m.

shoe pitching playing fields
 p. Copies of the rules will be the day of the Fiddler's Constration is limited. You may by filling out and mailing in Registration Form. Depend-number of entries, we are plan-women's and junior division. awarded. This event will not event of inclement weather.

information and to register contact:

verly Jobs
 obacco Festival, Inc.
 e, NC 27835-7366
 -1604

er 12 - $1.00

The East Carolinian

Serving the East Carolina campus community since 1925

C. HUNTER FISHER, General Manager
GREG RIDEOUT, Managing Editor

JENNIFER JENDRASIAK, News Editor
RANDY MEWS, Sports Editor
TINA MAROSCHAK, Features Editor
BILL AUSTIN, Circulation Manager

J.T. PIETRZAK, Director of Advertising
ANTHONY MARTIN, Business Manager
TOM NORTON, Credit Manager
MIKE MAYO, Advertising Technician

October 25, 1984

OPINION

Page 4

Push Forward

Scholars Program Begins New Era

A university exists as an environment for learning and research. It is a place where young adults learn to think; a place for them to mature and grow academically. Academia is where scholars investigate the problems and concerns of our times. ECU strives to be such a place.

The struggle has been long. Not more than 20 years ago we were still considered a teachers college; we were not a place where the best students came to study, nor were we the campus where professors hovered on the cutting edge of discovery in their fields. We were ECTC and ECC. Now we are a university, and one that is on the go.

With the announcement last Friday of a major, $1 million scholarship program, ECU is seeking to become a major institution of higher learning. We have undertaken an effort to bring the best and the brightest to Greenville, where they will be offered the best we have — honors programs, studies abroad, seminar-size classes. We seek these types of people to say to the world, "Hey, we're here to stay."

The entrance in fall 1985 of five university scholars will mean several things. One, that no longer can Duke or Carolina have dibs on the state's brightest high schoolers. We may not be able to offer them quite as much, but ECU can offer the chance for five youngsters to set the mark by which others are judged. And as the quality of ECU students rises each year because of these people, so will the reputation of this university.

Two, if we are to seek the best, our professors must do their best. You must fulfill all aspects of being an academic: teaching, research and service. To be slack in one is to cheat the university, the students and yourself. We have some professors who today excel in all three. But, at the ECU of tomorrow that our chancellor and trustees envision, more and more of the faculty must sit firmly in this category.

Three, admissions standards must be tougher. Our average SAT scores now are among the lowest in the UNC system; they are somewhere in the 800 range. Nothing less than 1000 will do for the ECU of tomorrow. The students that the university scholars program seeks demand this.

We are making headway. With this program, which Chancellor Howell calls the highlight of his tenure, we march onward. On the backs of the Monitor discovery and the wings of the soaring School of Medicine, we add each day a new achievement. We must continue to do so.

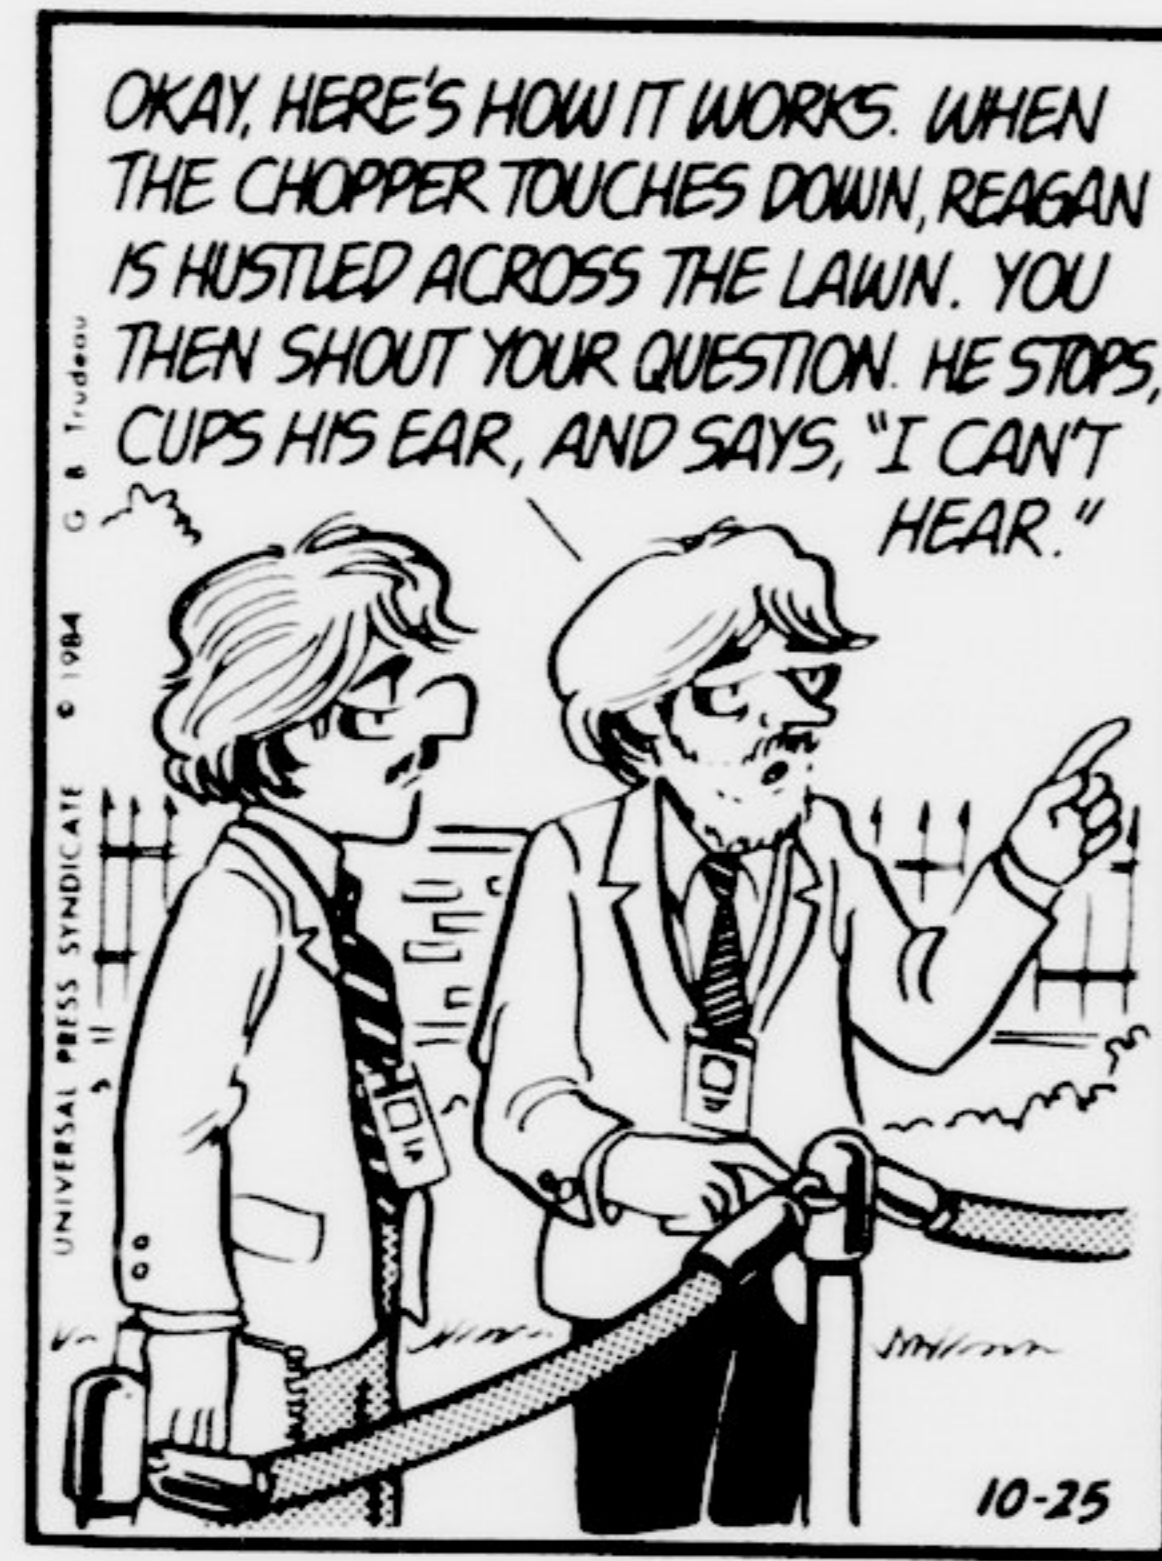

Soon, because of the efforts of past, present and future administrations, we will be an institution with nationwide recognition. East Carolina University will be a part of the nation's life.

Here's something by Walter Lippmann, a prominent political commentator of the 20th century, for President Reagan to mull over.

In a modern executive state, the chief executive office must be elective. But as heredity, prescription, consecration, rank and hierarchy are dissolved by the acids of modernity, the executives become totally dependent on election. They have no status and no tenure which reinforce their consciences, which invest them with power to withstand the tides of popular opinion and to defend the public interest.

Doonesbury

BY GARRY TRUDEAU

Campus Forum

Mick LaSalle Lauds Helms

I was drifting to sleep, waiting for my woman to walk in with breakfast. But when she came through the door, she was wearing my robe and reading my copy of the Sunday News.

"I'm sorry, Michael. I swear I'll get your breakfast, but... I started reading this. I know you lived there for awhile. Do you know anything about the Senate race in North Carolina?"

"I yawned. 'Since when are you interested in politics, baby?'"

"I'm not, but — it says here that this guy Jim Hunt is leading Jesse Helms in the polls by 10 points."

"I sprang up and smacked her across the mouth. 'Don't you even say that!'" I growled.

"No, really, it's true!" she said, blinking back tears. "Look!"

I looked. Then turned around and put my fist through the paneling.

The rest of the morning was shot. "I'm going back down there," I finally said.

I guess the thought of that was too much for her. "Oh great, Michael!" she sort of sobbed and screamed at the same time. "Desert us New York girls again!"

I shook my head. "What else can I do? Jesse Helms is the only honest guy in the Senate; he's one of the finest men in a state of fine people; he's the only politician in this country that you could also call 'a statesman'." I can't let him lose to Jim Hunt: some crooked pretty-boy wheeler-dealer wimp. All Hunt wants is to become president someday, and meanwhile he ain't even qualified to be senator.

She was on the ground now, pulling at the cuffs of my pajamas. "So say that. But don't go! Put it in writing! You're a writer! I got the address of that... paper you used to write for... Do anything, but just don't leave... Send a letter to that... East Carolinian!"

I thought about it for a couple of minutes. She was hyper-ventilating by now. I picked her up by her underarms and plopped her on the bed. I took one of the silk neckties from the bed post and handed it to her. She blew her nose in it.

"All right, you win, stop blubbering," I said. "Maybe it would be the best for all concerned. Go get me the portable and some paper."

Mick LaSalle
(Al Agate)
Alumnus

Brown Explains

I am a member of the Brown University group, "Students for Suicide Tablets." Much of the publicity has distorted our message by emphasizing the word "suicide." For example, a New York Times headline read, "Students to Vote on Suicide." It is important that our ideas be understood.

Our referendum, which passed by a 60 percent majority and is not binding on the university, requests that "suicide tablets be stocked at Brown's health services for optional student use in the event of a nuclear war." This is not a suicidal or defeatist approach to the threat of nuclear war. It is aimed at dispelling the notion that we could survive such a holocaust. Hoping for survival is dangerous because it makes the idea of nuclear war more acceptable, and thus increases the chances that it could occur.

Many Brown students voted for the referendum to express their fear and despair in a purely symbolic way. Others actually want Brown to stockpile the pills, because they consider the threat of nuclear war a very real one. Would the idea of suicide seem so bizarre if you were dying a slow, painful death from radiation sickness? Would it be dangerous to stockpile poison on a college campus? Well, the chemistry building at Brown is already chock-full of deadly substances, including cyanide, that could be used by some unbalanced person to harm himself or others. Suicide pills could be secured in a vault. By stockpiling real pills, we would emphasize that nuclear war is a real threat. The missiles sure are real.

Is stockpiling suicide pills tantamount to accepting nuclear war? Hardly. Who wants to kill himself? By equating nuclear war with suicide, we are urging people to stop it. What can be done? Well, a mutual, verifiable freeze on the production of nuclear weapons would be a start. Reagan's strategy of "negotiation from strength" has accomplished nothing. If we increase our stockpile of nuclear weapons, why would the Soviet Union want to decrease theirs? Reagan claims that he has brought America back from a position of weakness to one of strength. This is misleading. The United States has never been strategically weaker than the Soviet Union. We have been at parity with each other since the '60s, when we lost our strategic superiority.

But arms control is not enough. Even if both sides cut their stockpile of nuclear warheads by half, there would still be enough firepower with which to destroy ourselves. Better relations with Moscow are essential. This means more than simply meeting with the Soviets. It entails, among other things, a re-evaluation of our position in the world vis-a-vis the Soviet Union and the Third World. Should we continue to confuse internal, polar revolutions with Soviet expansionism? Why did the administration smother (for six months) a government report stating that the Soviets are not controlling Nicaragua? Our dogmatic, inflexible approach to leftist governments is, ironically, pushing these countries towards the Soviet Union and developing new opportunities for a conflict that could go nuclear.

These ideas are not new, and they are only some of the ways in which to avoid nuclear war. But the Reagan administration has done nothing in this direction. The purpose of requesting suicide pills for use after a nuclear war is to show the urgency of the problem, to show that students are afraid, that they consider nuclear war a distinct possibility in their future, and that they consider such a war unendurable. The government must discard "defensive" Star Wars weapons projects and dubious civil defense plans. We must act now, before a war is started, to prevent nuclear suicide.

James R. Knebelman, '85
Brown University

Helms Assailed

In response to Cynthia Mills' letter, I would like to offer some thoughts and, also, facts. In her letter blasting David Brooks, she invalidly claims that he is "a victim of liberal indoctrination" just because of his criticisms of Jesse Helms. It seems to me that Mills has been indoctrinated by Helms' favorite pastime, labeling most opposition Democrats as liberals. This was evident in one of the Hunt-Helms debates, where Helms labeled Hunt a "Mondale liberal." Facts show Gov. Hunt's record and his future Senate plans widely disprove the liberal label.

I have to agree with Ms. Mills about character assassination sometimes by the press, but I question her claim when she stated that

Helms is not a racist and a bigot. It is a fact that Helms remains a steadfast critic of the Voting Rights Act and has led the fight against a national holiday in recognition of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., claiming Dr. King had "communist sympathies." Also, Helms stated in 1968 that "crime rates and irresponsibility among Negroes are facts of life which must be faced."

In reference to equal rights among women, Jesse Helms has voted against the Equal Rights Amendment. Being the steadfast critic of abortion, he even voted to deny counseling, medical and legal services to rape victims and opposed restoring the Social Security minimum benefits, where four out of five recipients are poor, elderly women. In reference to education, Helms has consistently voted against college loans for students, the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, vocational education, and even educational programs for the handicapped and Head Start budgets. In speaking about public education Helms retorted, "I ain't got no dog in that fight." (September 1983)

The facts mentioned here are there, in ink, and are only a part of Jesse Helms' unfair and dirty politics. Though I respect Ms. Mills' opinion, I do not see how Jesse Helms has helped, or will help, North Carolina citizens. I am referring to the minority, elderly, handicapped, and other portions of the populations who have been hurt by Jesse Helms. Quoting Cynthia Mills, "...if you really want to know about the conservative ideals of Sen. Helms and many others, read something besides the News and Observer." I quite agree, just read Sen. Jesse Helms' voting record in the U.S. Senate.

Ricky Lewis
Junior, Med Tech

Hardy Ha Ha

I'm writing in reference to Sandy Hardy's letter, which you published Oct. 18, concerning the furor over the issue of a debate between the Young Democrats and the College Republicans. I am affiliated with neither of these organizations but have known and respected Mr. Hardy and his fine family for many years. Hence, I was appalled at Hardy's mention of the Young Democrats' use of "slander" being so closely followed by his reference to the YD's as a "messy organization." Is this a double standard?

Later in his letter, Hardy challenges the Young Democrats to an arm wrestling match. This is exactly the sort of empty rhetoric and silly one-liners used by President Reagan and his administration to "laugh off" issues that could prove to be an embarrassment to the Republicans.

I also found Hardy's suggestion that the debate is none of The East Carolinian's business most improper. What is the business of a newspaper in a free society if not to cover issues pertinent to its readership?

Finally, what is a "subliminal threat?" I'm sure Vice President Bush will let you use one of his many dictionaries if you need.

Webb Spilman
Sophomore

Forum Rules

The East Carolinian welcomes letters expressing all points of view. Mail or drop them by our office in the Publications Building, across from the entrance of Joyner Library.

Pitt County

By LESLIE TODD
ECU News Bureau

An unusual tract of forest land highly valued by ECU scientists for its environmental diversity will remain open for use as an outdoor classroom thanks to the generosity of a retired Winterville school teacher.

Mrs. Reed Parker Ellis, who grew up not far from the wooded property east of Falkland, recently renewed a lease agreement with ECU that allows faculty and students to use the property for laboratory exercises, field demonstrations and individual research projects.

For a token payment of one dollar per year, ECU biologists can continue to explore the relatively unspoiled forest which boasts some unusual plants, including mountain laurel and galax, rarely seen in this part of North Carolina.

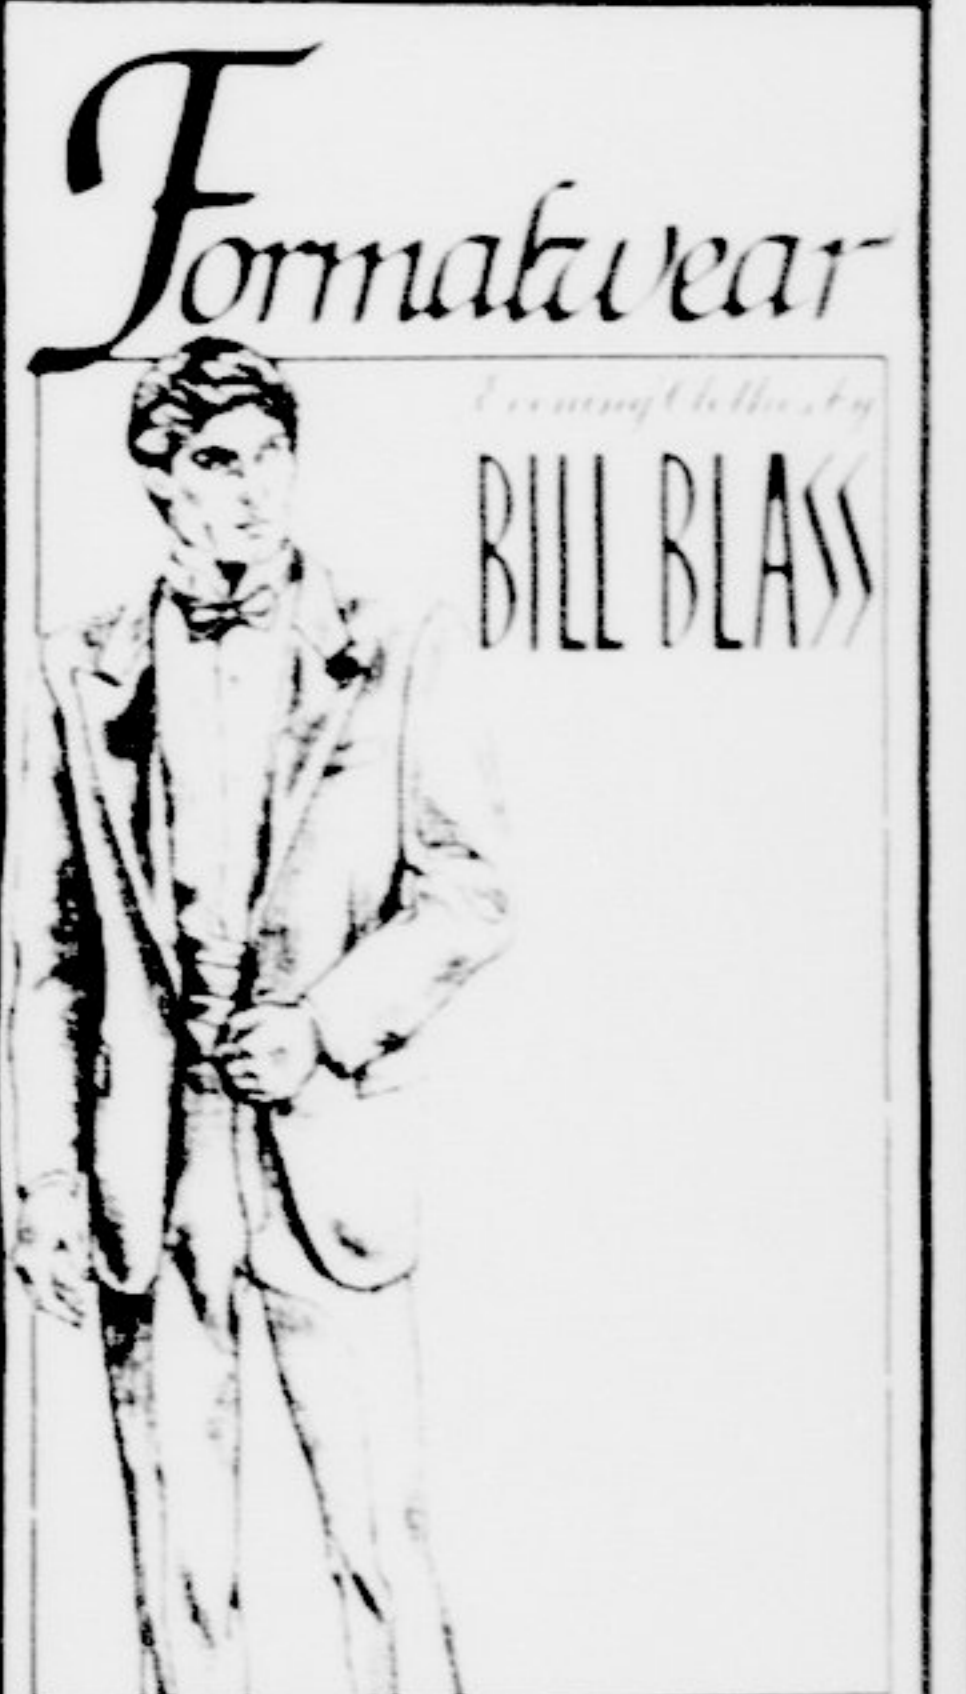

"My husband and I have always enjoyed the things of nature, and we like the idea that the property can be preserved and used for study," said Mrs. Ellis, who still visits the site to enjoy the springtime flowers.

The 100-acre tract was purchased by her father in 1918 from descendants of Robert Williams, Jr., a Pitt County doctor and farmer who served in the North Carolina Assembly in the late 1700's and early 1800's. Never cleared for farming, the property has long been a favorite spot for family outings. As a child, Mrs. Ellis joined groups of local residents who gathered there to pick wildflowers.

Absentee Ballots

Absentee Ballots can be notarized by the following people at ECU:

- Mary Moore
207 Mendenhall
- Nora Case
221 Spilman
- Mrs. Van Henderson
Joyner Library
- Ralph Scott
Joyner Library
- Pauline Matthews
ECU Credit Union
- Patricia Norman
104 Ragsdale
- Sandra Hall
Financial Aid Office
- Denise Newborn
Personnel Office
- Nina Blount
319 Beik
- Sheila Bland
Brody AD56
- Linda Ingalls
Brody I N 16

Up-to-the-minute styling for the Man of the Hour.

The pearl grey tuxedo features softly-peaked lapels, impeccably-cut trousers and the exquisite tailoring that makes Bill Blass a master of American style. Since it's your turn to celebrate, why not do it with designer flair?

Sharpes
Carolina East Center
756-6736

Pitt County Forest Is Unique Classroom

By LESLIE TODD
ECU News Bureau

An unusual tract of forest land highly valued by ECU scientists for its environmental diversity will remain open for use as an outdoor classroom thanks to the generosity of a retired Winterville school teacher.

Mrs. Reed Parker Ellis, who grew up not far from the wooded property east of Falkland, recently renewed a lease agreement with ECU that allows faculty and students to use the property for laboratory exercises, field demonstrations and individual research projects.

For a token payment of one dollar per year, ECU biologists can continue to explore the relatively unspoiled forest which boasts some unusual plants, including mountain laurel and galax, rarely seen in this part of North Carolina.

"My husband and I have always enjoyed the things of nature, and we like the idea that the property can be preserved and used for study," said Mrs. Ellis, who still visits the site to enjoy the springtime flowers.

The 100-acre tract was purchased by her father in 1918 from descendants of Robert Williams Jr., a Pitt County doctor and farmer who served in the North Carolina Assembly in the late 1700's and early 1800's. Never cleared for farming, the property has long been a favorite spot for family outings. As a child, Mrs. Ellis joined groups of local residents who gathered there to pick wildflowers.

According to ECU biologist Dr. Vince Bellis, a variety of natural features and a lack of destructive logging activity in recent decades make the Ellis property locally unique and of great value for environmental studies.

"One special beauty of this property is that it has been logged selectively and at a number of different times rather than simply clear-cut," said Bellis. "This gives students an opportunity to observe both young and relatively mature forest environments within a short distance of each other. They can see everything from young pines on the edge of the property to huge beech trees in the ravines that are 150 to 200 years old."

From a botanist's point of view, some of the most interesting areas on the property are steep, north-facing ravines where constant shade and seeping springs create a cool, moist environment. Here grow dense stands of mountain laurel and galax, plants that are normally associated with the cool climate of the Blue Ridge mountains. The ravines also provide an ideal environment for certain mosses, ferns and liverworts not commonly found in the Pitt County area.

"The presence of these small pockets of plants and animals outside their normal range invites some interesting scientific questions," says Bellis. "How and when did they first become established here? Are the individuals found here genetically different from those in the major areas of distribution?"

ECU scientists identify three distinct forest environments on the Ellis property. The higher elevations are dominated by a mixture of loblolly pines and hardwoods including several types of oak, two types of hickory, sweetgum, dogwood, sourwood, American holly and sassafras.

A lower elevation hardwood forest contains many of these same trees but certain species such as white oak, holly and ironwood become more abundant. Black walnut and mulberry appear at this level with mountain laurel, tulip trees and American beech being abundant on the north-facing ravines.

The lowest elevations are found along the floodplain of Otter Creek, a year-round stream fed by spring waters that meanders along for several miles before flowing into the Tar River. Bald cypress, river birch, basswood, and possum haw are some of the species that characterize this low-lying area.

According to Mark Brinson, director of graduate studies in biology at ECU, the property has been used as an outdoor laboratory for ecology classes for well over 10 years. Common field exercises include statistical sampling methods, soil studies, leaf fall and leaf decomposition studies, and vegetation analysis. Field trips to the area number about five or six each semester.

Other courses to utilize the Ellis property include field botany, field zoology, mycology (the study of fungi), and environmental biology. At least one graduate level thesis has been prepared using research performed on the property.

"This area is unparalleled in Pitt County for its community of several distinct forest types that are in a relatively advanced state of ecological development," comments Brinson in a memorandum describing the property. "Future access to this gem of natural beauty is highly valued by the biology faculty and is considered an irreplaceable component of quality education at ECU."

Otter Creek is part of the forest near Falkland utilized by ECU students to study subjects such as biology and botany.

Helms

...old movies fun...
...as never good...
...with bogie...
...of course...
...I was on...
...stage as...
...an actor!

...reference to equal rights among...
...Jesse Helms has voted...
...Equal Rights Amendment...
...the steadfast critic of...
...he even voted to deny...
...medical and legal services...
...and opposed restoring...
...Social Security minimum...
...benefits where four out of five...
...recipients are poor, elderly women. In...
...reference to education, Helms has...
...consistently voted against college...
...for students, the Elementary...
...and Secondary Education Act, voca-...
...tional education, and even educa-...
...tional programs for the handicapped...
...and Head Start budgets. In speaking...
...about public education Helms...
...stated 'I don't see no dog in that...
...game' (September 1983).

...The Helms mentioned here are there...
...and are only a part of Jesse...
...and dirty politics...
...I respect Mr. Mills' opinion...
...to see how Jesse Helms has...
...it will help, North Carolina...
...I am referring to the minori-...
...tarily handicapped, and other...
...of the populations who have...
...been hurt by Jesse Helms. Quoting...
...Jesse Mills, "if you really want...
...to know about the conservative ideals...
...of Sen. Helms and many others, read...
...something besides the News and...
...Observer." I quite agree, just read...
...Sen. Jesse Helms' voting record in the...
...U.S. Senate.

...Lucky Lewis...
...Junior, Med Tech

Hardy Ha Ha

I'm writing in reference to Sandy Hardy's letter, which you published Oct. 18, concerning the furor over the issue of a debate between the Young Democrats and the College Republicans. I am affiliated with neither of these organizations but have known and respected Mr. Hardy and his fine family for many years. Hence, I was appalled at Hardy's mention of the Young Democrats' use of "slander" being so closely followed by his reference to the YD's as a "measles organization." Is this a double standard?

Later in his letter, Hardy challenges the Young Democrats to an arm wrestling match. This is exactly the sort of empty rhetoric and silly one-liners used by President Reagan and his administration to "laugh off" issues that could prove to be an embarrassment to the Republicans.

I also found Hardy's suggestion that the debate is none of The East Carolinian's business most improper. What is the business of a newspaper in a free society if not to cover issues pertinent to its readership?

Finally, what is a "subliminal threat?" I'm sure Vice President Bush will let you use one of his many dictionaries if you need.

Webb Spilman
Sophomore

Forum Rules

The East Carolinian welcomes letters expressing all points of view. Mail or drop them by our office in the Publications Building, across from the entrance of Joyner Library.

Absentee Ballots

Absentee Ballots can be notarized by the following people at ECU:

- Mary Moore
207 Mendenhall
- Nora Case
224 Spilman
- Mrs. Van Henderson
Joyner Library
- Ralph Scott
Joyner Library
- Pauline Matthews
ECU Credit Union
- Patricia Norman
104 Ragdale
- Sandra Hall
Financial Aid Office
- Denise Mewborn
Personnel Office
- Nina Blount
319 Bell
- Sheila Bland
Brody AD56
- Linda Ingalls
Brody 1 N 16

Check Out The Library

"Come Play The Indian This Fall"

Students Welcome

Weekday's $5.00
Weekends $7.00

Indian Trails Country Club
Grifton, NC

Formatewear

Presenting Bill Blass

Up-to-the-minute styling for the Man of the Hour.

The pearl grey tuxedo features softly-peaked lapels, impeccably-cut trousers and the exquisite tailoring that makes Bill Blass a master of American style. Since it's your turn to celebrate, why not do it with designer flair?

Sharpes
Carolina East Center
756-6736

SHONEY'S FISHERMAN'S BUFFET

ALL-YOU-CAN-EAT!

Help Yourself To

- ★ FISH FILLETS Battered 'n Seasoned From 3 Favorite Shoney's Recipes
- ★ Baked FISH FILLETS
- ★ Hot Vegetables, including Fried Okra
- ★ Seafood Chowder
- ★ French Fries
- ★ Hushpuppies

Only $4.99

EVERY FRIDAY 5 PM — 9 PM

$5.99 with Salad & Fruit Bar
Special Children's Prices

SHONEY'S 205 Greenville Blvd., Greenville, NC 27834 756-2186

Advertise

GORDON'S Golf, Ski & Tennis

SUPER- Pre Season Ski Package Deals Rossignol, Olin, Hart as low as $295.00

Package includes skis, boots, poles, bindings, mounting & waxing.

ALL WINTER APPAREL 20% OFF thru Oct. 31st.

We have new and used skis

756-1003

12pm-7pm Mon-Sat.

Located beside Parkers Barb-Q on Trade St.

Bring In This Coupon & Save An Additional 5% on Skis & Apparel thru Oct. 31st.

NOW OPENING GOURMET INTERNATIONAL'S GOURMET COFFEE SHOP

"The Best Way to Start Your Day"

(Also Served Iced Tea & Coffee)

Gourmet International

752-3411 117 E. Fifth St.
Spice of Life Mini Mall

Carolina Opry House

Presents

60's & 70's Rock & Roll Revue

THE Spontanes

FEATURING HARLEY HOGG AND THE ROCKERS And Enjoy

Free Beer ALL Night (unlimited kegs!!)

Bring your favorite mug

Need a ride? Call us at 758-5570

Private Club - All ABC Permits

Tobacco Talks At Rural Rally

By JENNIFER JENDRSIAK
News Editor

Politicians depend a lot on style. And style varies with the audience. When you're Gov. James Hunt, you're in eastern North Carolina, the place is a tractor dealership and the subject is tobacco, well, the style is down-home and rural.

Tuesday's Democratic rally at Waller Tractor in Winterville was aimed at farmers in general, but specifically at tobacco farmers. Take a warehouse full of 500 farmers and a gaggle of politicians and you've got the friendly atmosphere of a political rally, country style.

Those attending the rally warmed up with plates of barbecue and slaw and some good foot-stomping fiddle music. But the real warming-up credit lies with the politicians themselves, the guys who really depend on these people for votes.

One by one, they got up on the trailer which served as the stage, spouting colloquialisms in Southern accents that could be cut with a knife and in the process doing a lot of cutting on each other.

The point was, the politicians wanted to show that they were paisanos. And the farmers wanted to feel that they really were. So there were a lot of jokes about people's farms, and the size of their feet and whose wife was really the man of the house. And the audience loved it.

And as each successive representative or congressman stepped on the stage, they pulled the crowd along, addressing their concerns, drawing out their responses and making them laugh and feel at home.

Jim Hunt showed a different style. Gone was the convoluted rhetoric of B-1 bombers and Central American policy. What counted was the cash crop, the tobacco. And Hunt talked prices and price supports. He addressed farming as a capital-intensive operation. He talked to the people about what they wanted to hear.

In a state like North Carolina, there are many interests and concerns. To get the voters, you've got to pinpoint these. To talk tobacco, a congenial atmosphere and straight talk are necessities. That's exactly what it was at Tuesday's rally.

WINTER BREAK

Help us sponsor your school's winter break ski trip and ski free!

(800) 368-2006 TOLL FREE

This 14-foot-tall puppet was one of several featured in a Wednesday puppet show as part of an ECU commemoration of Central America Week.

SAVE 20%
By shopping our Downtown store
Izod, Sero, Robert Bruce, Hubbard, Woolrich, Golden Vee, Botany, Churchill Downs

Steinbeck's
MEN'S SHOP
427 S. Evans St.

Med Student From Grenada Speaks Today

By HAROLD JOYNER
Assistant News Editor

ECU is participating in a nationwide Student Liberation Day today as proclaimed by President Reagan, according to Dennis Kilcoyne, campus coordinator for the event.

Kilcoyne invited a medical student from Grenada, who was rescued in the invasion last year. Through the efforts of the SGA and United Students of America, Mark Soloman will visit ECU today and present a non-partisan view of his experience. Soloman will be in Brewster C103 from 2-4 p.m., and students will be encouraged to voice opinions on the incident, Kilcoyne said.

"The only reason the SGA helped fund this event," Kilcoyne said, "was because of the non-partisan nature of Soloman's visit. He wants to educate the students on the experience and hear their views on it."

Another medical student who was involved in the Grenada invasion recently wrote to The East Carolinian and expressed his views on Student Liberation Day. Morty Weissfelner of St. George's University School of Medicine said, "the liberation of the Reagan Administration came at a terrible cost: dozens of young American, Cuban and Grenadian lives. Instead of celebrating the liberation of students, their actions only encourage the decimation of students. The publicity from their rallies...encourages the worst tendencies of our government to believe it will be politically acceptable to send us off to war."

"If the organizers behind 'Student Liberation Days' mean to suggest through their mindless celebration of the invasion of Grenada that students support military adventures... I suggest they ask their students first."

Kilcoyne responded to Weissfelner's letter by saying, "It is true a lot of other universities are holding rallies across the United States today, but the coordinators of this program felt it would be best if we obtained an individual who would remain non-partisan on the Grenada issue and simply educate the students on his experience."

ALANO'S PIZZA & SUBS
752-3861
We're Red HOT!

30 Minutes or FREE NEW HOURS
MON-THUR 4:00pm till 2:00am
FRI-SAT 11:30am till 1:00am
SUN 11:30am till 1:00am

coupon
30 Minute Delivery or your pizza is FREE with this coupon (Must have coupon) (Must be in correct room)

JOIN US FOR LUNCH

PERSONAL PAN PIZZA
READY IN 5 MINUTES. GUARANTEED.

All the goodness of Pizza Hut® Pan Pizza...in a personal size! Each freshly made, then baked in its own pan and served piping hot. Ready in just 5 minutes—or your next one's free!

Monday through Saturday, 11 am to 4 pm.
5-minute guarantee applies 11:30 AM to 1:30 PM on orders of five or less per table or three or less per carryout customer.

Pizza Hut
2601 East 10th Street
Greenville, N.C.

PLAZA SHELL
COMPLETE AUTOMOTIVE SERVICE

810 Greenville Blvd.
756-9221 - 24 HRS
24 hour Towing Service
U-Haul Rentals Available

We've Got A HOWL Of A Look For You!

...with wigs, spray on hair colors, hats, ears, tails, whips, make-up kits, costumes, masks and much more!

We Make Halloween Special

422 Arlington Blvd. 756-6670
AT BARRE, LTD.

ATTENTION ECU STUDENTS
Get Your Spring Semester Application in NOW!

Pirates Landing — offers a new concept in student housing

$170.00/per month (including utilities)
$150.00/per month for 1 year leases.

Rooms
• Furnished
• Refrigerator
• Fully carpeted

Complex
• Sun Deck
• Gazebo
• Outdoor Grills

Common Area
• 2 large bathrooms
• Storage closet
• Kitchenette & Microwave

Convenient & Economical
• Two Blocks from Campus & Downtown
• Utilities Included in Rent
• Energy Efficient
• Laundry Facilities on Site

• Free Maid Service
• Cable TV Available
• Central Heat & Air

REMCO EAST INC • P.O. Box 6026 • Greenville, NC 27834 • 919-758-6061

OPPORTUNITY

"Production Manager"

THE EAST CAROLINIAN is now accepting applications through October 26th for the Production Manager's position. All interested persons are encouraged to apply. Don't pass up this opportunity to gain valuable experience and work for Eastern North Carolina's number one college newspaper.

Stop by the Publication building located across from Joyner Library. Experience preferred, but not necessary.

CREEPSHOW

The Most Fun You'll Ever Have BEING SCARED!

FRIDAY-SATURDAY 11:15 PM
Come As A CREEP In Costume and Get IN For Half Admission Price.

PLITT
CAROLINA EAST CENTER
756-1449

'Anyth

By DAN MAURER
Assistant Features Editor

With a combination of side-splitting humor and lavish dance numbers, the McGinnis Theatre's production of Anything Goes brought a capacity crowd to their feet. The audience remained in stitches while being awestruck by the productions overwhelming grandeur.

The story, set in the 1930s, revolves around Billy Crocker (played by Paris Pete), a young stockbroker who sails a transatlantic liner to stop Hope (Mary Kate Cunningham), the girl he loves, from marrying another man. Sound a little off the wall? It gets better when Billy borrows a ticket and passport from a not-too-well-know gangster named Moonface, played by Tim Davidson. As fate would have it, these credentials belong to none other than public enemy number one, Snake Eyes Johnson.

It doesn't stop there. The story is complicated even further with the appearance of a "hot" night club performer named Reno Sweeney, played by Janice Schreiber, whose wild ways set the ship on its ear.

Pete gives an exceptional performance as the impetuous Crocker. He has a fine singing voice that proves itself in such songs as "It's Delovely" and "All Through The Night," but it's his comedic talents that make the character memorable. While Pete never has the funniest lines, he does tend to be the focal point

Author

In Rock 'N' Roll Confidential, Penny Stallings shows what she did for the Hollywood world she gives us a frank, witty, sometimes tirade portrayal of the stars — complete whole assortment of little known facts. It will be published by Little, Brown on $14.95, pb.

In Rock 'N' Roll Confidential, Stallings dreds of rock stars and illustrates their photographs — many of them never before us the stars as they appeared in their past their nose jobs, dye jobs and other changes ("star look") and recounts their lives. Checkers put in time as a chicken plucker fashions that created the unique images of Elvis's do as "5 inches of hot buttered clones who imitated them. She profiles those who helped catapult the stars to fame and late greats whose careers were cut short and careless blunders. She records the life of Ono is a sorceress who kept John Lennon 20 years through the use of hypnosis. (like Alice Cooper's School's Out while because of the inflammable bikini panties and the evolution of rock 'n' roll movies.

Penny Stallings takes the less conventional but more complete route to explain the subtly and entertainingly transforms the aging rock stars into a social and cultural cyclopedic work of witty, sly scholarship regardless of age will read, enjoy and

Det. George Albertine shows what sartorial

Production Manager"

ST CAROLINIAN is now accep-tions through October 26th for the Manager's position. All interested encouraged to apply. Don't pass trinity to gain valuable experience for Eastern North Carolina's college newspaper.

Building located across from Joyner Library.
No phone necessary.

KEEPSHOW

Come As A CREEP In Costume and Get IN For Half Admission Price.

PLITT
OLINA EAST CENTER
756-1449

...with wigs, spray on hair nails, hats, ears, whips, make-up costumes, masks and much more!

Special
ARRE, LTD.

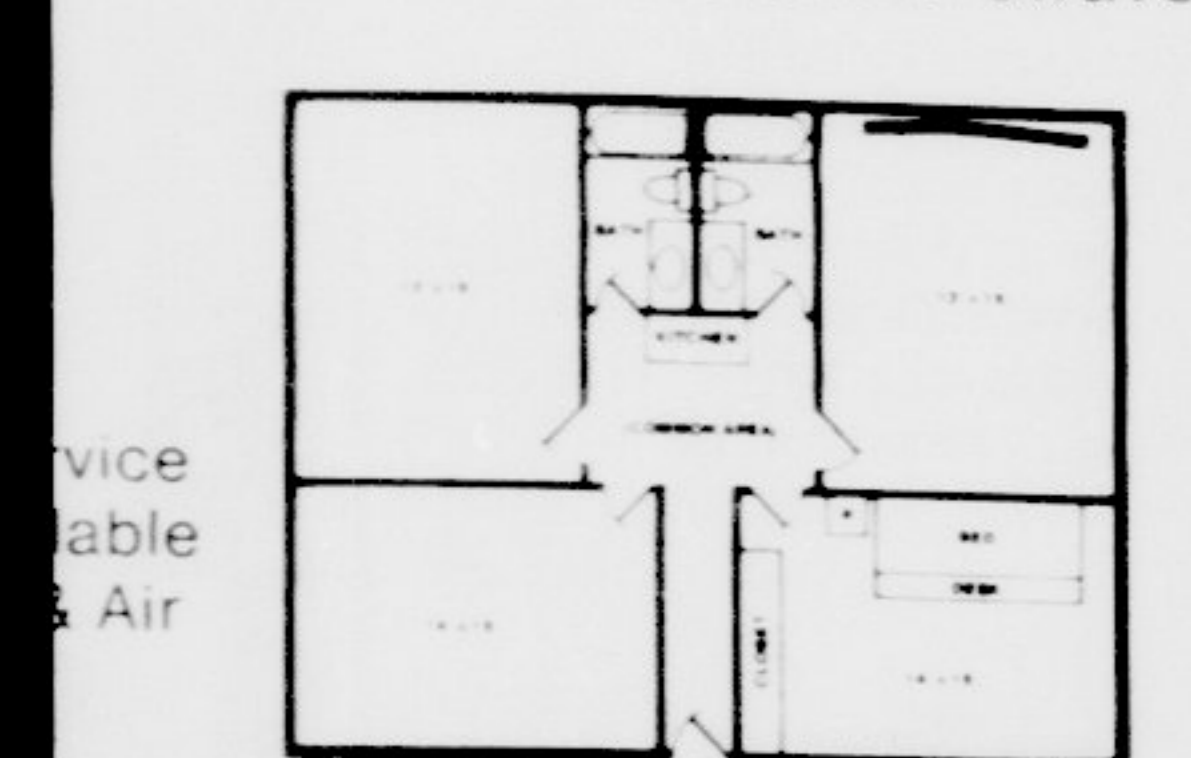

STUDENTS
Application in NOW!

New concept in student housing ilities)

ases.

Common Area
• 2 large bathrooms
• Storage closet
• Kitchenette & Microwave

ice ble
s Air

ile. NC 27834 • 919-758-6061

Style

THE EAST CAROLINIAN

OCTOBER 25, 1984 Page 7

'Anything Goes' Fanciful And Fun

By DAN MAURER
Assistant Features Editor

With a combination of side-splitting humor and lavish dance numbers, the McGinnis Theatre's production of Anything Goes brought a capacity crowd to their feet. The audience remained in stitches while being awestruck by the productions overwhelming grandeur.

The story, set in the 1930s, revolves around Billy Crocker (played by Paris Pete), a young stockbroker who sails a transatlantic liner to stop Hope (Mary Kate Cunningham), the girl he loves, from marrying another man. Sound a little off the wall? It gets better when Billy borrows a ticket and passport from a not-too-well-know gangster named Moonface, played by Tim Davidson. As fate would have it, these credentials belong to none other than public enemy number one, Snake Eyes Johnson.

It doesn't stop there. The story is complicated even further with the appearance of a "hot" night club performer named Reno Sweeney, played by Janice Schreiber, whose wild ways set the ship on its ear.

Pete gives an exceptional performance as the impetuous Crocker. He has a fine singing voice that proves itself in such songs as "It's Delovely" and "All Through The Night," but it's his comedic talents that make the character memorable. While Pete never has the funniest lines, he does tend to be the focal point in most of the production's comical scenes, and from there he seems to orchestrate the humor. While Pete may set the tempo, it's Davidson's excellent character-acting that sets the tone. His hilarious portrayal of the pathetic but lovable gangster comes ever so close to stealing the show. Dressed as a parson and sporting an authentic Brooklyn accent, Davidson and his antics keep the audience entertained.

As for the show's leading ladies, they are unbeatable. Schreiber hands in a performance Ethel Mermen would be proud of. Her strong voice seems to hit home with the audiences and helps add depth to the character. Cunningham is wonderful as the pretty Ms. Hope. Her beautiful voice is

The show's mainstay is its lavish dance numbers. The show's dancers, led by Jennifer Paulson (who also played Davidson's sidekick Bonnie), performed wonderfully choreographed routines reminiscent of the '30s. Probably the most spectacular aspect of the production was the flashy, sequenced costumes designed by Keith Lewis.

Anything Goes will be performed Oct. 25-27 and 29. Reserved seat tickets are available at the McGinnis Theatre Box Office from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. Reservations may be made by calling 757-6390.

Sonja Hodges, Jennifer Paulson and Monica Smith (from left to right) in the title number from the Production of Anything Goes.

Author Profiles Rock's Legends

In Rock 'N' Roll Confidential, Penny Stallings does for the music world what she did for the Hollywood scene in Flesh and Fantasy — she gives us a frank, witty, sometimes cynical, but always affectionate portrayal of the stars — complete with gossip, trivia and a whole assortment of little known facts. Rock 'N' Roll Confidential will be published by Little, Brown on Oct. 31st, ($24.95, cloth; $14.95, pb).

In Rock 'N' Roll Confidential, Stallings traces the legends of hundreds of rock stars and illustrates their ups and downs with 1,000 photographs — many of them never before published. She shows us the stars as they appeared in their parents' scrapbooks (before their nose jobs, dye jobs and other changes created their own unique "star look") and recounts their days of struggle (Chubby Checkers put in time as a chicken plucker). Stallings catalogues the fashions that created the unique images (Time magazine described Elvis's do as "5 inches of hot buttered yak wool"), and the rock clones who imitated them. She profiles the moguls and managers who helped catapult the stars to fame and includes a roll call of the late greats whose careers were cut short through tragic accidents and careless blunders. She records the great rock rumors (Yoko Ono is a sorceress who kept John Lennon under her spell for over 20 years through the use of hypnosis), the banned record albums (like Alice Cooper's School's Out which the FTC quarantined because of the inflammable bikini panties that adorned the album), and the evolution of rock 'n' roll movies.

Penny Stallings takes the less conventional, slightly irreverent but more complete route to explain the phenomenon or rock, and subtly and entertainingly transforms the gossip and trivia surrounding the rock stars into a social and cultural document. This encyclopedic work of witty, silly scholarship is a book all rock fans, regardless of age will read, enjoy and trade trivia about.

1. Who came closest to deposing Elvis as the king of rock 'n' roll?
2. According to a Village Voice critic, who has the worst teeth in rock 'n' roll?
3. This rock star had nightmares about losing his hair.
4. Which record label is "the Sound of Young America"?
5. He gave up an opportunity to play for the Philadelphia Phillies in order to become a rock star.
6. This rock 'n' roll personality's record collection features discount classical albums purchased through TV ads.
7. This rock star was the model for Bob Dylan's "Don't Look Back," "Like A Rolling Stone," "Vision of Johanna," and "Just Like A Woman."
8. This recording star was unable to sing for four years due to a nose job.
9. Which of these cross-over stars has never released a rock 'n' roll record — A. Ted Knight B. Regis Philbin C. Muhammed Ali D. Henry Winkler E. Goldie Hawn F. Richard Chamberlin G. Farrah Fawcett
10. This fashion trend has withstood the test of time for over 30 years.
11. This rocker has made the greatest impact on black hairstyles.

12. In "Go Your Own Way," which two members of the band are Fleetwood Mac singing about?
13. Who holds the record for the most banned and bowdlerized album covers?
14. Which synthetic pop group can be called the biggest con job in all of rock 'n' roll?

- | | |
|--------------------|--|
| 1. Jerry Lee Lewis | 9. Henry Winkler |
| 2. Bob Dylan | 10. shades |
| 3. Jimi Hendrix | 11. Stevie Wonder |
| 4. Motown Records | 12. Lin Insay Buckingham
& Stevie Nicks |
| 5. Conway Twitty | 13. Rolling Stones |
| 6. Dick Clark | 14. The Monkees |
| 7. Joan Baez | |
| 8. Connie Francis | |

Men's Fashions Consistent During The '80s

(UPI) — Reliable clothes continue as the staple of menswear, says an authority on masculine clothing.

"I used to predict a major change — that men would give up suits," said Charles Hix. "I said there would be more casual dress for the office. But I recant."

"Society will not let the man out of that uniform." Segments of that "uniform" include neckties and hats. "I predicted, too, that the necktie would go," said Hix in an interview. "I no longer think so."

"Hats? They have become optional; you don't see them worn as a must. But bald men love hats for an obvious reason. 'I see a lot of men turning to caps and to berets."

"With women back in hats again, who knows but what men will do the same."

Hix, 42, has written extensively through the years on menswear. His latest offering is the book, Man Alive! Dressing The Free Way, (Simon and Schuster, $17.95).

"Not every job entails wearing a suit and tie," said Hix. "But in many occupations if you don't you'll be at a disadvantage."

"Thus a man who does not dress to the high expectations of others is not perceived as totally reliable. And being reliable is a very critical issue in the business world."

Hix, in his book, discusses some of the symbols of reliable dress, or what he calls the "security system."

He mentions details on a suit jacket. "Lapels today mean absolutely nothing," he writes. "Many of a suit's buttons are still there purely for meaningless show. Some pockets are sewn shut, never to carry anything."

"And what is more illogical than a necktie, a piece of cloth morbidly akin to a noose?"

"Creased trousers are another affront to logic because they cannot be maintained except as an exercise in futility."

The section on reliable clothes is just one in the Hix book. He discusses off-duty garb, earthy clothes, sporty clothes, clothes that are smart, crisp, easy, and powerful.

Hix showed up for the interview in non-reliable clothes (by, say, Wall Street standards) of pullover sweater, sports shirt, gray slacks and no tie.

"I thought of suit and tie for the interview," he said. "Then I thought, no, I won't be a hypocrite. It's a hot and humid day, she will understand."

The Hix book is lavish with photographs, the work of Stephen AuCoin.

"You've got a lot of nearly nude men in the pictures," I said. "Those are to get attention," said Hix, who includes a whole section titled "Sexy."

"Actually it's an effort to get men to think of clothing in a different sense. They forget that women like to look at attractive men. Men used to turn off at this idea. But not anymore."

"If we're adept (as our own designers) we can augment our appeal. If we're inept we can diminish it. Don't flub it."

OK for the attention-getting photographs, but what about using some realistic figures instead of all those professional models who look like young gods.

"Chubbies don't look good in clothes," he said. "I believe men, as well as women, have got to work themselves into decent shape. And I don't see unattractive looking women in those women's fashion magazines!"

Hix, a native of Northville, Mich., a Detroit suburb, graduated from the University of Michigan with Phi Beta Kappa key and awards for creative writing.

His previous books on menswear are Looking Good and Dressing Right. He also wrote Working Out, a shape-up guide for men.

Society generally demands that clothes for the job be reliable and also wants men attentive to their appearance. "Let's face it," said Hix, "There are men who have absolutely no interest in clothes. I won't reach them. And I'm not expecting to affect the dress of the David Rockefeller's of this world, the men who have succeeded already at everything."

"I hope to reach the younger group, from the late teens to the early 40s. And if you think a lot of men aren't interested in clothes, look around you at the men's shops, the department store sections devoted strictly to menswear, a lot of it designer stuff."

"You don't think all that is show, do you? Stores aren't going to give space to something that won't sell."

Det. George Albertine shows what sartorial prowess is all about.

Survey Categorizes Sex Types

(UPI) — "There is no such thing as normalcy" regarding sexual behavior in America because there is a smorgasbord of different styles, a survey showed yesterday.

The results, part of which will be published in Sunday's Parade Magazine, came from the responses of 1,100 males and females, 18 to 60, a group said to represent a cross-section of the U.S. population.

"The big surprise in this study is how our sexual behaviors cluster, and that there is no such thing as normalcy and that no one style predominates," said Dr. Carol C. Flax, a sex therapist and researcher who helped design the survey.

Earl Ubell, Parade's health editor and co-designer of the report, said, "Men's and women's patterns of sexual activity are...remarkably similar." Ubell said eight different combinations of sexual styles are possible, but they all have three components: life satisfaction, sensuality and eroticism. The report described the sex styles as follows:

— Pansexual. Twenty percent of those surveyed take sex in all forms, "are very sensual and are aroused by traditional foreplay." Men and women in this category enjoy "pornography, erotic fantasies, oral sex, and anal sex."

— Satisfied erotic. "More than twice as many men as women comprised the 12 percent who make up this sexual style, and 20 percent of them have had some homosexual experience." This grouping is similar to pansexuals, except "they scored low on the sensuality trait."

— Unsatisfied erotic. "The men and women of this group, 13 percent of the sample, take sex wherever they can get it but they are more likely to masturbate..."

Frustrated and seeking arousal by any means, they want sex frequently but cannot get it."

— Lonely erotic. "People who have had homosexual experience also congregate in this style, 12 percent of those surveyed, and men outnumber women by more than two to one. These are lonesome people who respond more to sexual image...than to their sexual partner."

— Satisfied sensualist. "These people are happy with their sex lives, their partners and themselves. Most are married, and they comprise 11 percent of the sample."

— Unsatisfied sensualist.

"Generally, sex is not important to those of this sexual style, who are very unhappy in many aspects of their lives." This group was eight percent of the sample.

— Sexually conservative. "The overwhelming majority of this style 11 percent of the total, are married. Although sex is not central to their lives, they are otherwise happy."

— Nonsexual. "Thirteen percent of the respondents fall into this category. They score low on all three behavior traits and are very unhappy with their lives and bodies. These people have no interest in sex."

Phi Mu Alpha Brothers Present Special Concert

Tonight at 7:30 p.m. the brothers of the Zeta Psi chapter of Phi Mu Alpha will present a recital of American music in the A.J. Fletcher Recital Hall. This program is the first of many campus-wide activities the chapter will undertake this year to encourage and promote "the highest standards of creativity, performance, education and research in music in America."

In addition to Thursday's recital, the brothers hope to introduce a service on Valentine's Day, similar to the well known singing telegram whereby they will deliver a "message" anywhere on campus. All proceeds will go to a scholarship in the School of Music.

Tonight's program will include various solo and ensemble performances by the members of the Phi Mu Alpha choir and their probationary members. Admission is free and everyone is invited to attend.

Hicks

(UPI) — Every ex-movie star — Rock Hudson in "Dynasty," Elliott Gould in a sitcom, and Jane Wyman in a soap — knows TV is where the action is.

For every movie part, there are a dozen TV roles. The tube is a warm security blanket, a financial bonanza, a career extender. Most fading stars and newcomers would give their eye teeth for a

Classifieds

SALE

BROKE? Xmas is just around the corner. Wind Chimes as a gift is right for you. High Quality, inexpensive and made in Greenville. Orders being taken now. 758-7997.

FUJI DEL REY like new — Shimano power shifters, crank, derailleurs — new specialized tires — Christophe toe clips/straps — $225. call Connie 752-1472.

PIANO FOR SALE: Wanted responsible party to assume small monthly payments on spinet/console piano. Can be seen locally. Write (include phone number) Credit Manager, P.O. Box 521, Beckemeyer, IL 62219.

MISC

LOST: Pink Pursette containing eye contacts. Lost in or around Spright Building. Please call 758-6740 — reward offered.

REBEL WRITING CONTEST: deadline is Oct. 29 — Monday. Bring entries by Rebel or Media Board offices by 5 p.m. Prizes awarded!

PERSONAL

YANKEE: Congratulations to my favorite bartender. Here comes the green blonde.

F.P.: your Southern part of Heaven makes me feel celestial... Until the next total eclipse.

CAK: Got to get that beeper. So far you're doing pretty casual. You'll be the best MD from MD ever. Love GJR.

TONY: Pirates are Purple. Bears are Red. Peni Loves Tony and Lucy Loves Fred. Happy Seventh anniversary. Love ya Today and Always. Peni.

HEY BEAV: Wally told your mom about the dirty books in the club house. Let's beat the heck out of him. Love ya, Myrtle.

MIKE, MIKE AND THE REST OF THE SIG EPS — THANKS FOR FANTASTIC HOME COMING! LOVE, KATHY AND ELIZABETH.

CAPTAIN: After the roof and not laying in the park, I'm looking forward to balling. I mean going to the ball. Here's to your first. F.P.

NANCY HOMA: The Phi Taus hope you are feeling better. Come See Us Soon.

MISSY CAYTON: Congratulations on Homecoming Queen 1984-85. You're looking great! The Phi Taus.

IF THIS IS IT: Get a real... F1 Lauderdale. Hey RB where'd you go for fall break Alaska? Hey Kredel there's a drop off, sunscreen, major motion out of order, get out of town. Hey Rick who sings this, let's do bingers. I can't physically do this. It'sville, to kill ya. The Button. I gotta burp. Missing you party till you puke, get a real fraternity. We have a real sorority. I'm tired of babysitting, suitcase of Busch, tourists, gumbie, sure enjoyed the space center. You'll should have gone. Have you ever been to world? Life's a beach, chch. Had a great time. We love yens. Mary Lou Homshit and chunkbuster.

HAPPY HOUR: Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Sigma Sigma are having a happy hour on Tuesday, Oct. 23 at 9 p.m. Come party with us.

JENNY G. — A.P.O. NEEDS YOU! THE BROTHERS.

THANKS: To everybody in Jarvis who came out to help with the float. Special thanks to Travis for the trailer and everybody in House Council, especially "cardboard committee."

WANTED

STEREO: System problem? Absolutely "no charge" for repair estimates at the Tech Shop. Call 758-1984. "Nineteen Eighty" We thought you'd like to know.

Visual Arts Forum Holds Annual Beaux Arts Ball

By TINA MAROSCHAK
Features Editor

Interested in seeing some of the most unique Halloween costumes in Greenville? On Wednesday, Oct. 31, the Visual Arts Forum will sponsor the 10th annual Beaux Arts Ball at the new Attic.

The ball, which began in 1974 as a minor event for mostly art students, has grown tremendously to include students of other majors as well. One student said that as far as costumes go, the event is a very "untraditional masquerade ball."

Costumes are mandatory and prizes will be given away for the three best ones. The first prize winner will receive $65 in cash and a $40 gift certificate from the Art & Camera Shop. The second prize winner will receive a $40 gift certificate from the Art & Camera Shop and dinner for two at Chicos. The third prize winner will receive a $20 gift certificate from the Art & Camera Shop and dinner for two at the Olde Towne Inn.

Admission is $3.50 in advance and $4.50 at the door. Tickets are available in Messick, room 106, Apple Records, and at the Student Organization Booth in Mendenhall (on Oct. 29 and 30).

Doors open at 9 p.m. and the Pressure Boys will provide entertainment for the evening.

SUPPORT THE PIRATES!

ADVERTISE

TARLANDING SEAFOOD

Featuring The Finest Fresh Seafood. Where QUALITY Makes The DIFFERENCE.™

105 Airport Road 758-0327

House of Hats

Men's Fashion Hats and Accessories

758-3025

495 Evans St. Downtown Mall

Kroger Sav-on

OPEN 24 HOURS EVERYDAY
600 Greenville Blvd. - Greenville

REGULAR OR LIGHT Coors Beer 12 Oz. Cans 6$249

ASSORTED FLAVORS Big K Soft Drinks 12 Oz Can 10¢

WHITE ScottTissue Bath Tissue 4 Roll Pkg. $169

X-DRY, PINK, COLD DUCK, BRUT SPUMANTE OR J. Roget Champagne 3/4 LTR. Btl. 2 $5

DELI Boiled Ham 5 LB. $299

A BEWITCHING Black Cat Cake Ea. $399

CALIFORNIA Fresh Cauliflower Hd. 99¢

KROGER Sandwich Bread 24 Oz. Loaf 39¢

Coca Cola 2 LTR. N.R.B. $129 SAVE 30¢

KROGER Instant Coffee 10 Oz. Jar $229

HOLLY FARMS CUT UP MIXED FRYER PARTS OR GRADE A Whole Fryers Lb. 39¢

GREAT FOR JACK-O-LANTERNS Halloween Pumpkins Ea. 99¢

WANTED

STEREO: System problem? Absolutely "no charge" for repair estimates at the Tech Shop. Call 758-1984. "Nineteen Eighty" We thought you'd like to know.

Hicks Heads For The Limelight

(UPI) — Every ex-movie star — Rock Hudson in "Dynasty," Elliott Gould in a sitcom, and Jane Wyman in a soap — knows TV is where the action is.

For every movie part, there are a dozen TV roles. The tube is a warm security blanket, a financial bonanza, a career extender. Most fading stars and newcomers would give their eye teeth for a successful series, or a succession of TV movies with those huge audiences out there loving them.

It takes guts and perhaps a touch of lunacy for a performer, especially a relatively new face, to turn away from TV to concentrate on the fickle movie business.

Steve McQueen gambled and won when he quit Wanted Dead or Alive. Jim Garner enjoyed success in movies after leaving TV, but eventually he returned to the tube.

Two years ago Catherine Hicks turned up her pretty tip tilted nose and walked away from TV to try her luck with movies.

Catherine who? Hicks, Catherine Hicks; who played the title role in the ABC TV movie Marilyn: The Untold Story, a video biography of Marilyn Monroe. Catherine also may be remembered for the failed TV series Tucker's Witch.

God knows Catherine was not a household name when she decided to drop TV, especially when offers were pouring in for new series and TV films. To the public she was just another pretty blonde. But producers and Hollywood insiders detected and indefinable something in her personality, the way she photographed, the spunky underlying character that spelled stardom. Catherine recognized it in herself somehow and took the plunge.

For two years she was absent from the tube. The assumption in some quarters was that she had been just another cutie caught up in Hollywood's revolving door. But no, Catherine is starring in two movies currently showing: Garbo Talks, and The Razor's Edge. She co-stars, moreover, with Ryan O'Neal in Fever about to shoot in Las Vegas.

A smiling Catherine still isn't sure how success came so quickly. "At the time I didn't think it was a particularly difficult decision to quit TV," she said. "I had done Marilyn, Valley of the Dolls, and Tucker's Witch and it was time to move on to something else.

"Looking back, I guess it took a lot of faith and belief in miracles. I was optimistic about getting good roles in movies, although I realized that 75 percent of acting parts today are in TV."

"I was visiting my old school, Notre Dame, last summer (1983) when my agent called and told me to fly to New York to see (Director) John Byrun and (Comedian) Bill Murray who was going to star in The Razor's Edge."

"They had talked to hundreds of actresses in New York, Hollywood, and London. But I didn't know that. I wasn't awed by Bill because I'd never heard of him. After an hour of talk, Bill said I was the one he wanted."

When The Razor's Edge was completed, Catherine returned to Hollywood and spent three months refusing TV offers. Out of the blue, Director Sidney Lumet, impressed with a reading she had done for him months earlier for The Verdict called from New York.

Back she went to read with Anne Bancroft for Garbo Talks. Zap! Catherine had her second movie role, which she completed last May.

There followed another four months of unemployment and determination not to give in to the blandishments of the terrible tube.

Then, voila, along came the "fever" offer with O'Neal. Curiously, Catherine was better paid in TV. And she lives with the insecurity that she may never work in another feature film as long as she lives.

"Doing a TV series was a pleasant surprise," she said. "I liked working every day, coming home tired on Friday evenings like everyone else in the world. I don't like sitting around for months waiting for movies."

"But movies are unexplored territory for me. It takes a different kind of acting. Movies magnify so that the demand for truthfulness is much greater. Movies are scarier, too. The time, talent and money and effort are all put together. There's more demand for excellence."

"But the real reason I prefer movies is there's more magic in them."

Classifieds

SALE

BROKE? Xmas is just around the corner. Wind Chimes as a gift is right for you. High Quality, inexpensive and made in Greenville. Orders being taken now. 758-7997.

FUJI DEL REY: like new — Shimano power shifters, crank, derailleurs — new specialized tires — Christophe toe clips/straps — $225. call Connie 752-1472.

PIANO FOR SALE: Wanted responsible party to assume small monthly payments on spine/console piano. Can be seen locally. Write: (include phone number) Credit Manager, P.O. Box 521, Beckemeyer, IL 62219.

MISC

LOST: Pink Pursette containing eye contacts. Lost in or around Speight Building. Please call 758-6740 — reward offered.

REBEL WRITING CONTEST: deadline is Oct. 29 — Monday. Bring entries by Rebel or Media Board offices by 5 p.m. Prizes awarded!!

PERSONAL

YANKEE: Congratulations to my favorite bartender. Here comes the green blonde.

F.P.: your Southern part of Heaven makes me feel celestial... Until the next total eclipse.

CAK: Got to get that beeper. So far you're doing pretty casual. You'll be the best MD from MD ever. Love GJR.

TONY: Pirates are Purple. Bears are Red. Peni Loves Tony and Lucy Loves Fred. Happy Seventh anniversary. Love ya Today and Always. Peni.

HEY BEAV: Wally told your mom about the dirty books in the club house. Let's beat the heck out of him. Love ya, Myrtle.

MIKE, MIKE AND THE REST OF THE SIG EPS — THANKS FOR FANTASTIC HOMECOMING! LOVE, KATHY AND ELIZABETH.

CAPTAIN: After the roof and not laying in the park, I'm looking forward to balling. I mean going to the ball. Here's to your first. F.P.

NANCY HOMA: The Phi Taus hope you are feeling better. Come See Us Soon.

MISSY CAYTON: Congratulations on Homecoming Queen 1984-85. You're looking great! The Phi Taus.

IF THIS IS IT: Get a real.. Ft. Lauderdale. Hey RB where'd you go for fall break Alaska? Hey Kredel there's a drop off, sunscreen, major motion, our of order, get out of town, Hey Rick who sings this, let's do bingers, I can't physically do this, fitzville, te kill ya, The Button, I gotta burp! Missing you, party till you puke, get a real fraternity We have a real sorority, I'm tired of babysitting, suitcase of Busch, tourists, gumbie, sure enjoyed the space center. Ya'll should have gone. Have you ever been to seaworld? Life's a beach, ch-ch, Had a great time. We love yens. Mary Lou Homoshit and chunkbuster.

HAPPY HOUR: Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Sigma Sigma are having a happy hour on Tuesday, Oct. 23 at 9 p.m. Come party with us.

JENNY G. — A.P.O. NEEDS YOU! THE BROTHERS.

THANKS: To everybody in Jarvis who came out to help with the float. Special thanks to Travis for the trailer and everybody in House Council (especially "cardboard committee")

WANTED

STEREO: System problem? Absolutely "no charge" for repair estimates at the Tech Shop. Call 757-"Nineteen Eighty" We thought you'd like to know.

PROFESSIONAL TYPIST: With 15 years wants fulltime typing at home. IBM typewriter. Call 756-3660.

PROFESSIONAL TYPING SERVICE: experience, quality work, IBM selective typewriter. Lanie Shive, 758-5301

PROFESSIONAL TYPING SERVICE: All typing needs. 758-5488/758-8241

TRAVEL FIELD OPPORTUNITY: Gain valuable marketing experience while earning money. Campus representative needed immediately for spring break trip to Florida. Contact Bill Ryan at 1-800-282-6221

TYPING NEEDED: If you need someone to type papers of any kind for you at reasonable rates, please call 756-8934 after 5:30 p.m.

$60 PER HUNDRED PAID for processing mail at home! Information, send self-addressed, stamped envelope. Associates, Box 95, Roselle, N.J. 07203

CAMPUS REPS NEEDED: Ski Free — position involves marketing and selling quality ski and beach trips on campus. Earn free trips and high commissions. Call Summit Tours 1-800-325-0439

PEOPLE TO BUY LIQUOR: Pi Kappa Phi fraternity will soliciting in front of all ABC stores Saturday for their national philanthropy P.U.S.H. (Play Units for Severly Handicapped) — Won't you please help the Pi Kappas give a handicapped child a P.U.S.H.

Apply now in Room 234 of Mendenhall Student Center to be on the day representative on the Student Union Board of Directors.

The responsibilities of the members of the Board of Directors include:

- Selecting the Student Union President
- Approving committee chairpersons
- Approving the Student Union Budget
- Setting policy for the Student Union

DEADLINE TO APPLY: Friday, November 1, 1984

Just Arrived In Paperback!

Pet Sematary
by Stephen King

"The Most Frightening Book
King Has Ever Written."

Available At

Central Book and News

Greenville Square
Shopping Center

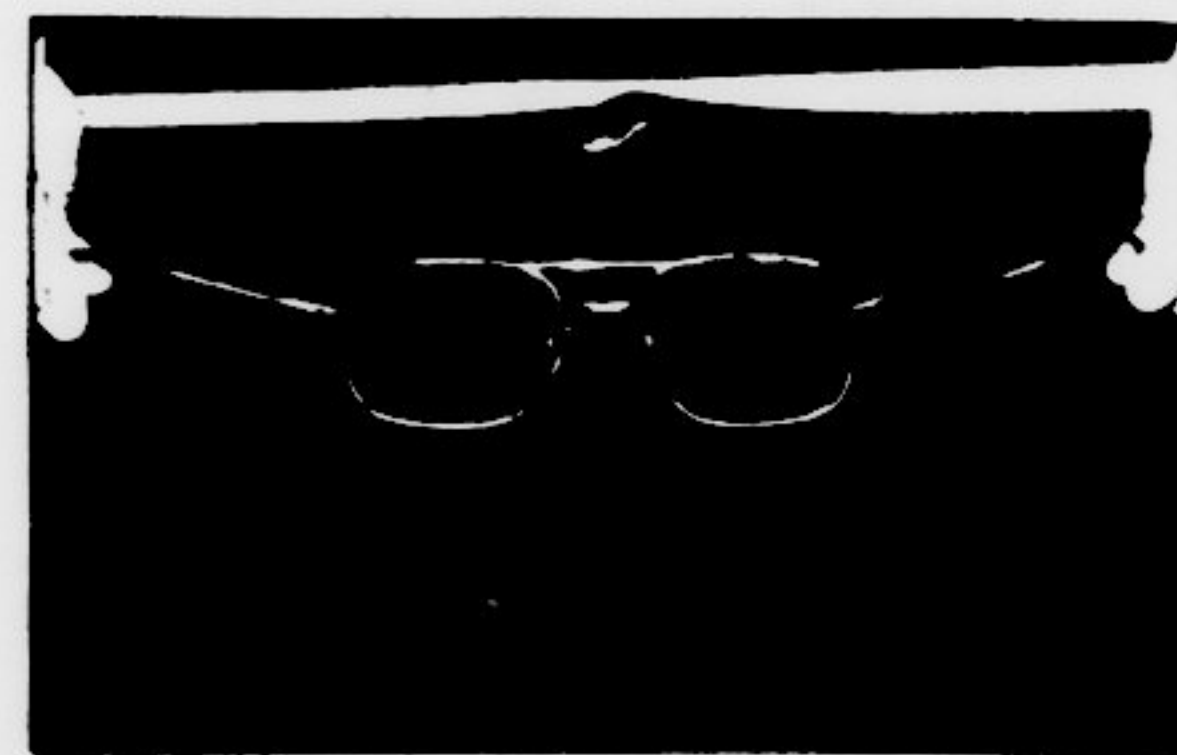

Open 7 Days
A Week
9:30-9:30

Winterville J.C.'s
presents
8th Annual Haunted House
Oct. 27-31st
7:30 pm-until Nightly
Thurs. ECU Night
reduced Admission w/ID.
Located: 2 1/2 miles east of Winterville on State Rd. 1709 watch for signs.

"LOWEST PRICES IN TOWN"
One Year
Warranty

Against Factory Defects On All Parts Of The Frame

Spring Hinge Frames

Metal Spring Hinge FRAMES by L'AMY
With Single Vision Lenses $54⁹⁵ Complete
With Line Bifocals $64⁹⁵ Complete (Cataract lenses not included)

Glass or Plastic Lenses Powers Of Plus Or Minus 4 Diopters
(Tinted Extra) (No Other Coupon Applicable)
THIS AD MUST ACCOMPANY OFFER: Ends Nov. 2, 1984

25% OFF All Non-prescription Ray Ban Sunglasses

315 Parkway
Commonwealth
Phone 752-1448

Call Us For An Eye Examination
With The Doctor Or Your Optician
GREENVILLE STORE ONLY
Other Locations in Greenville, Spartanburg
& Wilson Across From Doctors Park

PAPA KATZ

Your Adult Entertainment Center

Saturday Night
Best in Beach and Top 40
Happy Hour 8-11 2 for 1
Free Admission

Wednesday Night
Ladies Lockout
Halloween Costume Contest

Free Wine & Beer
Highballs 50¢
For Ladies 8:30-10:00

Men Admitted at 10:00

Best Costume
Lady's 1st Prize $50
Men's 1st Prize $50

Prizes will be given away at 12 midnight

Papa Katz Is A Private Club
For Members & Guests
We Have All ABC Permits

10th St. Ext. At Riverbluff Rd.

Brothers Concert

nd stature of music in life.
dition to Thursday's e brothers hope to in-service on Valentine's lar to the well known telegram whereby they over a "message" on campus. All proto a scholarship in
of Music.
s program will include and ensemble per-by the members of the alpha choir and their members. Admis-
and everyone is in-end.

CHILDREN ANYTIME $1.50

MOVIES

7-11:59-20

ort -PG

7-10:00-9:15

er Girl -R

s of Desire

TED X

KROGER

Sandwich Bread
39¢

KROGER

Instant Coffee
$2.29

PLEASE

UP

GRADE A

S

¢

PLEASE

ousing

IS

ave

99¢

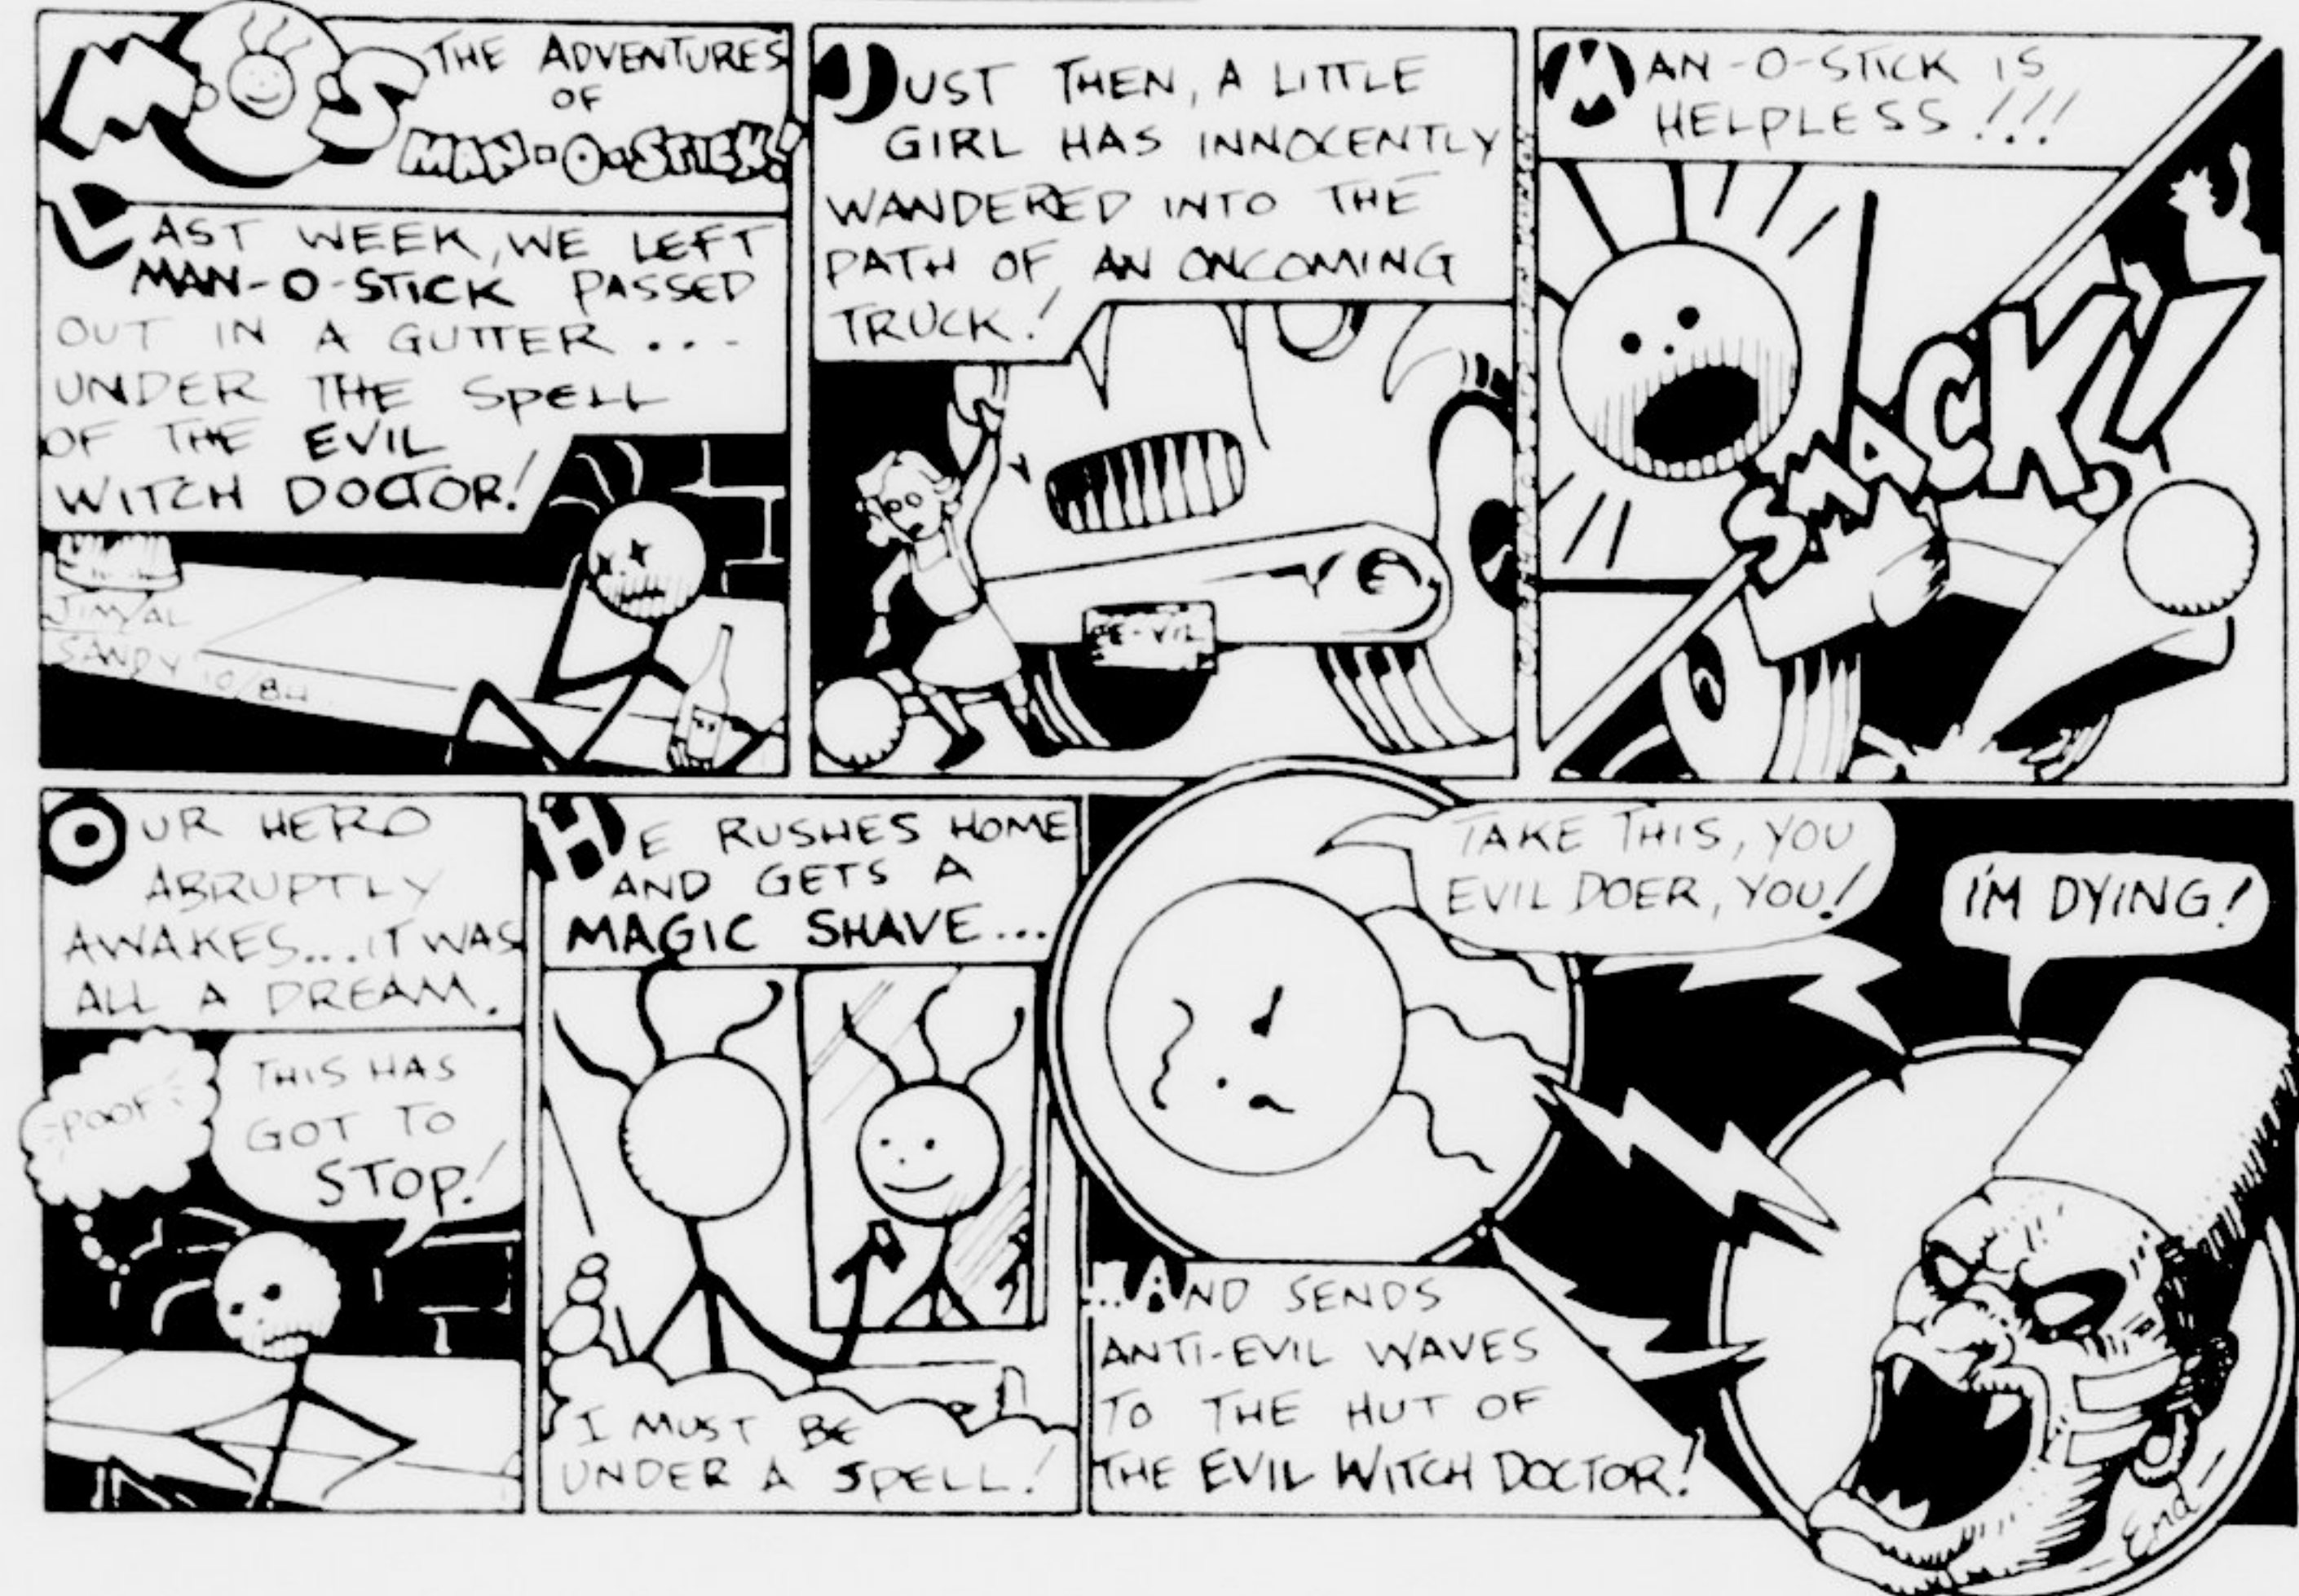

GREAT FOR

CK-O-LANTERNS

alloween

pumpkins

99¢

Corrections

In the Oct. 23 issue of The East Carolinian Renee Roberson, 2nd runner up during last weekend's homecoming festivities, was incorrectly identified as Crystal Fray. We deeply regret the error.

Also, Marvis Martin's performance was postponed until March 13, 1985 at 8 p.m. in Wright Auditorium. We apologize for the inconvenience.

TRAVEL WITH QUIXOTE

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAY SKIING
 Wintergreen - 3 days...$121 per person (quad)
 Two bedroom condominium with lift ticket
 Use of indoor pool and hot tubs
 Meet your friends on slopes over Xmas holidays
 Call for FREE brochure
DON'T FORGET Piedmont: Airline's new 50% off college student fares
 Call for booking requirements.
Call or come by: QUIXOTE TRAVELS, INC.
 319 Cotanche St.
 Greenville, NC 27834
 Phone 757-0234

Dance Auditions

Dance auditions for the East Carolina Dance Theatre have been scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 5 and 6, in the Messick Theatre Arts Center. The auditions will begin at 6:30 p.m. each evening in Dance Studio 114.

Each year the East Carolina Dance Theatre produces a concert representing ballet, jazz and modern styles. The pieces are choreographed by members of the Dance Faculty in the ECU Department of Theatre Arts, and for the past nine years the concerts have played to "standing room only" audiences.

According to Dance Coordinator Patricia Weeks, "Dancers should be warmed up and ready to dance by 6:30 p.m. All those who wish to audition should wear leotards and footloose tights, and if they have them, should bring ballet, pointe and/or jazz shoes." Some auditions will also be in bare feet. The call-back date and time will be announced at the audition. ECU students, staff, faculty, and local residents are all invited to audition.

The Dance Theatre concert is scheduled for Feb. 20-23 in the McGinnis Theatre at 8:15 p.m. For further information, call 757-6390.

JAYCEES HAUNTED HOUSE
 MUMFORD ROAD (Across From Gville Utilities Operation Center)
 Oct. 26 thru 31 7:00pm to 11pm
 Sponsored By Greenville Jaycees

IF YOU ARE BRAVE ENUF - COME ALONE

YOU'LL BE AFRAID TO WALK HOME! we bet you can't take it!

THE ATTIC

Thur. & Fri. Oct. 25 & 26
SIDEWINDER

Sat. Oct. 27th
PKM

Soul Quartet Moving Up

By DAVID WITHERINGTON

I can't understand why the Neville Brothers, the New Orleans soul quartet, aren't the superstars they deserve to be. Since their fine debut album failed to generate sales, they have suffered incessantly from poor promotion.

Today, the Nevilles biggest success comes from their live set, usually played before local crowds. Luckily, Black Top Records had the faith to sign the brothers to a new contract in time to capture one of these sets on vinyl. Neville-ization recorded at a New Orleans night club called Tipitinas, features a variety of the bands immense talent. The album has a "back-to-the-basics" sound, opting to spotlight the Nevilles vocal talents instead of the overproduced syncopation that infiltrates so many of the recent soul hits. Maybe that's why the Neville Brothers aren't popular. Their records are too close to real emotion for the general record-buying public.

While well-known as fine vocalists, I think the Nevilles have been underrated as musicians. Charles Neville displays his skills in "Caravan" with a memorable soprano saxophone solo. Brother Art's piercing keyboards shine throughout the records, and Cyril's powerhouse drumming provides the backbone for all the tunes.

As I've said before, these boys need no introduction as vocalists. Art Neville's crooning style can rival the best of them as "All These Things" brings to mind the Frank Sinatra ballads of the '50s. As always Cyril's raw, gritty vocals tear at your heart song after song. On the Little Willie John classic "Fever," the brothers combine their voices for incredible results. The smoothness of art in the passion of Cyril forms a chemistry that tingles the spine.

The most curious thing about the album is that Aaron Nevill's vocals have been underplayed. In the past, he was the undisputed leader of the group. Here, his solos are the weakest of the bunch. Aaron destroys his own priceless performance with a subdued, mundane reading of "Tell It Like It Is."

But, alas, this is a minor discrepancy. The Neville Brothers have travelled a long road since the '60s in their quest for commercial success, and sadly, to no avail.

While Neville-ization may not be the perfect soul album, the Neville Brothers leave most of their contemporaries in the dust when it comes to sincerity. And that's the meaning of soul.

SALE OF THE YEAR FINAL DAYS

SALE ENDS OCTOBER 31st SO HURRY!

SPECIAL SAVINGS FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS

THE S.O.S. BAND
JUST THE WAY YOU LIKE IT including
 Just The Way You Like It/Weekend Girl
 No One's Gonna Love You/Break Up
 Feeling

5.99
 CASSETTE OR LP

BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN
BORN IN THE U.S.A.
 including
 Dancing In The Dark/Cover Me
 I'm On Fire/No Surrender
 Bobby Jean

5.99
 CASSETTE OR LP

DAVID BOWIE
TONIGHT including
 REBORN MAN

5.99
 CASSETTE OR LP

TWISTED SISTER
STAY HUNGRY

5.99 Includes I Wanna Rock We're Not Gonna Take It
 CASSETTE OR LP

THE TIME
Ice Cream Castle

5.99
 CASSETTE OR LP

HUEY LEWIS AND THE NEWS SPORTS
 including
 Heart And Soul
 The Heart Of Rock And Roll
 I Want A New Drug/Thin Line

5.99
 CASSETTE OR LP

SANYO MG7
 CASSETTE PLAYER
 W/ HEADPHONES
19⁹⁹
 reg. 24⁹⁹

TOSHIBA RT-S651
 SLIM LINE ROOM BOX
116⁹⁹
 reg. 129⁹⁹

SANYO MG-15A
 MINI CASSETTE PLAYER
24⁹⁹
 reg. 29⁹⁹

BRING IN YOUR CURRENT VALID COLLEGE I.D. AND GET ANY 8.98 LIST CASSETTE OR LP FOR ONLY 6.99 THROUGH OCTOBER 31ST!!!

SALE ON MAXELL VIDEO TAPES
 L-750 39⁹⁹
 T-120 39⁹⁹

Record Bar
 RECORDS, TAPES & A LITTLE BIT MORE.

SALE ON MAXELL AUDIO TAPES
 UDXLII-C90 29⁹⁹
 L-C90 14⁹⁹

THE PLAZA / CAROLINA EAST MALL

Tailback Jimmy Walden (36) had an average last Saturday, but fullback Bubba Bunn...

Bradley's

By RICK MCCORMAC

Mike Bradley shot a impressive round total of 214 in last weekend's John Ryan Memorial Golf Tournament, which is the lowest total in a three day tournament for a ECU golfer since 1976.

"I was pleased with the way I played," Bradley said. "The course was in good shape and the greens weren't too slow or fast. If you look at the team totals many of the scores were good."

According to ECU golf coach Bob Helmick, Bradley's 214 total could have been lower. "Mike Bradley had two birdies the first day and five each of the last two days, yet he finished one shot over par," Helmick said.

"Michael is playing well."

Bunn Switzer Rips ETSU

By SCOTT COOPER

Junior fullback Bubba Bunn had only rushed for 116 yards in his entire career prior to ECU's homecoming game, but he ripped the East Tennessee State defense for 161 yards and two touchdowns on just 14 carries last Saturday.

Bubba's performance sparked the Pirate squad to a 24-6 victory over the Division I-AA 19th ranked Buccaneers. "He had a heck of a game," said Robert Barrow, ECU's running back coach. "We knew he had the ability, and he showed super effort."

Bubba scored ECU's first touchdown in the second quarter on a 29-yard burst up the middle, while getting the Pirates' final TD on a 42-yard gallop with just over a minute left to play. "We just wanted to run the clock out, but Bubba made a great effort and scored," Coach Emory stated. "There's no question in my mind about Bubba Bunn being the player of the game."

When asked about his performance Saturday, Bunn said he was glad to get the chance to play and to contribute to the team. "I was very pleased to do so well, it really gave me a chance to prove myself."

Although Bunn had an outstanding game, he gave a lot of credit to the offensive line. "When you can get into the secondary without even being touched, you're going to have a big day," Bunn remarked.

"He's strong, he's quick, he shows good balance and good foot agility," ECU offensive coordinator Don Murray said. "He can do things as the great backs can."

A lot of Bunn's agility comes from the fact that he was a tailback only one week before the East Tennessee State game. He made the switch to fill in for injured starter Reggie Branch. "I wanted to do a decent job there," Bubba said. "I didn't want us to lose the game because of the fullback spot."

QUIXOTE
 DAY SKIING
 Season (quad)
 Lift ticket
 Christmas holidays
 The new 50% off college
 Booking requirements:
LEVELS, INC.
 319 Cotanche St.
 Greenville, NC 27834
 Phone 757-0234
LEVELS, INC.

NIC
 Sat. Oct 27th
PKM

R
 FOR STUDENTS

E
 NEWS

D
 NEWS

15A
 NEWS

9
 NEWS

Sports

THE EAST CAROLINIAN

OCTOBER 25, 1984 Page 11

6-0 South Carolina Awaits Pirates

ECU Faces Toughest Yet

By RANDY MEWS
Sports Editor

STANLEY LEARY

Tailback Jimmy Walden (36) had an impressive five-yard per carry average last Saturday, but fullback Bubba Bunn did it all.

ECU head football coach Ed Emory said his team's meeting with ninth ranked South Carolina this weekend will be the toughest game of the year for his young squad.

"South Carolina is off their best start in the school's history," Emory said in his weekly press conference. "I think they're one of the best teams in the country."

What impresses Emory most about the Gamecocks is they're a team molded by spirit and enthusiasm, not individual stars. "South Carolina is playing the way we did last year (8-3)," Emory said. "They're playing the game of football the way it should be played."

Emory said he doesn't know of another team in the country that plays with as much vigor and excitement as USC, and said playing in front of 76,000 people at USC's Williams-Brice won't help matters.

Last year at about this time

ECU (nationally ranked in several publications) faced fifth ranked Florida in front of approximately 78,000 people, but Emory said the circumstances are a bit different for this weekend's game.

Emory said teamwork is the biggest difference between last year's team and the one this year. "Last year we had team unity," he said. "Everybody played together, and everybody knew how to work for one common goal — victory."

The philosophy is simple. Last year before the Florida game ECU was 5-1 and one of the best teams in the country — and that's how they played. This year's team isn't enjoying the same success as a year ago, so their desire is not at such a high level.

Although Emory doesn't exude the same confidence as he did about last year's team, he was pleased with the victory against East Tennessee State in last weekend's homecoming game.

"The best thing I can say about homecoming is that we won," Emory said. "All the practices and all the scrimmages don't mean a thing unless you can put it all together on a Saturday afternoon."

Bubba Bunn romped for a career high 161 yards and two touchdowns to lead the ground attack for the Pirates against ETSU, although he had only rushed for 114 career yards prior to Saturday's contest.

Last week in practice, Bunn made the transition from tailback to fullback to accommodate an injury to starter Reggie Branch, and now the possibility exists that he will start against the Gamecocks.

Emory also utilized the talents of quarterbacks Ron Jones and Darrell Speed, and for the first time this season, they both had good games. The two combined to complete seven of 10 passes for 101 yards and a touchdown.

Ricky Nichols, who was responsible for ECU's only touchdown reception (46 yards from Jones), also had a good game as he moved up to sixth place on the all-time ECU reception list.

Although several players performed well for the Pirates, it was the 19th ranked Division I-AA Buccaneers that dominated play throughout the game. They executed 83 plays compared to 50 for ECU, they were ahead in first downs 24-9 and they had possession of the ball for 17 more minutes than the Pirates.

Emory said those statistics concerned him, and that his team must improve this Saturday. "We let them get down near the goal line too many times. If we do that against South Carolina, they're going to blow us out."

The Gamecocks, under second-year coach Joe Morrison, team with Washington and Brigham Young as the only unbeaten and untied teams in the nation at 6-0. Oklahoma and Texas are next with no losses and one tie.

Unfortunately, it doesn't look as if the Pirates are going to be able to put an end to the Cocks' winning streak. Game time is set for 1:30 p.m. in Columbia, S.C.

Bradley's 214 Low Pirate Score Since 1976

By RICK McCORMAC
Staff Writer

Mike Bradley shot a three-round total of 214 in last weekend's John Ryan Memorial Golf Tournament, which is the lowest total in a three day tournament for a ECU golfer since 1976.

"I was pleased with the way I played," Bradley said. "The course was in good shape and the greens weren't too slow or fast. If you look at the team totals many of the scores were good."

According to ECU golf coach Bob Helmick, Bradley's 214 total could have been lower. "Mike Bradley had two birdies the first day and five each of the last two days, yet he finished one shot over par," Helmick said.

"Michael is playing well enough to be doing better, but he is young and is still making minor mental errors that keep him from

Mike Bradley being under par. While Bradley realizes he could have done better, he was not disappointed with his performance. "If you had told me before the tournament that I was going to make 12 birdies, I would have thought that I would finish in the top three or maybe even win the tournament," Bradley said.

"I bogeyed the first hole all three days, so I was always down and working hard to get strokes back," Bradley continued.

Bradley cited the second round as possibly the key to his fifth place finish. "I was three over par after 12 holes, but I kept my patience and worked hard and made three birdies to come in at even par," Bradley said.

Bradley was a CO-MVP last year as a freshman, and has improved tremendously this season as his score of 214 is seven shots better than either of his two tournaments at Duke last year.

With this being the last tournament of the fall season, Bradley is looking forward to playing in the Gator Bowl Invitational in Dec. at Ponte Verde, Fla.

"The Gator Bowl is a new tournament, and is played on one of the finest golf layouts in the country," Bradley said. "The scores will be higher because the course is so tough, but I'm looking forward to playing."

Also in the future for Bradley and the rest of the Pirate golfers is the spring season in which the ECAC South and NCAA tournaments are played.

"I'm looking looking forward to the spring. This is my second year and I want to do as much as possible to help the team," Bradley proclaimed. "I have some rough edges still, but I have a lot of time between now and the spring to work on my game."

"In the spring, Michael will be under par for at least one tournament, and he may even win a tournament," Helmick said. "I feel he is capable of being as good a golfer as ECU has produced in the past ten years."

Bradley began playing golf when he was ten or eleven, and taught himself how to play. "I tend to play more on feel, it just comes to me naturally," Bradley said.

The PGA tour possibly lies in the future for Bradley, but he remains realistic about his chances. "There are so many good players on the pro tour, that it's a longshot of making it.

"I plan to enjoy my college career, and see what happens — if the opportunity presents itself, I plan to give it a shot, but if I don't make it I won't be too disappointed because I realize how hard it is."

One of the most difficult things about being a member of the golf team is that coach Helmick requires all team members to have a 2.0 grade point average. "It's not easy to miss so much school and stay caught up in your classes. You just have to work hard and try to get caught up," Bradley said.

"I enjoy golf and it's big part of my life — but it's not the only thing. If I do bad in a golf tournament it's not the end of the world."

Bunn Switches To Tailback, Rips ETSU For 161 Yards

By SCOTT COOPER
Staff Writer

Junior fullback Bubba Bunn had only rushed for 116 yards in his entire career prior to ECU's homecoming game, but he ripped the East Tennessee State defense for 161 yards and two touchdowns on just 14 carries last Saturday.

Bubba's performance sparked the Pirate squad to a 24-6 victory over the Division I-AA 19th ranked Buccaneers. "He had a heck of a game," said Robt Barrow, ECU's running back coach. "We knew he had the ability, and he showed super effort."

Bubba scored ECU's first touchdown in the second quarter on a 29-yard burst up the middle, while getting the Pirates' final TD on a 42-yard gallop with just over a minute left to play. "We just wanted to run the clock out, but Bubba made a great effort and scored," Coach Emory stated. "There's no question in my mind about Bubba Bunn being the player of the game."

When asked about his performance Saturday, Bunn said he was glad to get the chance to play and to contribute to the team. "I was very pleased to do so well, it really gave me a chance to prove myself."

Although Bunn had an outstanding game, he gave a lot of credit to the offensive line. "When you can get into the secondary without even being touched, you're going to have a big day," Bunn remarked.

"He's strong, he's quick, he shows good balance and good foot agility," ECU offensive coordinator Don Murray said. "He can do things as the great backs can."

A lot of Bunn's agility comes from the fact that he was a tailback only one week before the East Tennessee State game. He made the switch to fill in for injured starter Reggie Branch. "I wanted to do a decent job there," Bubba said. "I didn't want us to lose the game because of the fullback spot."

Bubba said that the switch to fullback wasn't that hard. "It's still a running back position, and I have confidence being back there."

"Bubba is big and strong and can play both tailback as well as fullback," Coach Barrow remarked.

Bubba says that fullback is a tough position because of the blocking responsibilities. "You've got to get in there and block those big guys on the defensive line." However, the tailback position is not an easy one either. "There's more running involved in the tailback spot, and you usually carry the ball more also," Bubba said. "I don't have a preference to either position, I just have a love for being a running back."

"He's had some academic and other problems over the last two years, but he has come on to contribute to the team," Coach Emory commented.

"I let football get too big in my life," Bubba said. "Football will fall into place, studying doesn't — you have to put out that added effort."

Not playing much might be difficult for some people, but not Bubba Bunn. "It takes a special type of person — to not play much — and to keep such a positive frame of mind," Coach Barrow explained. "He's shown a great attitude all year long."

Bubba works out on the weights twice a week. In addition, he studies films to ready himself for his new fullback position. He expressed that football at the collegiate level is much more competitive. "It's like a big race every day," Bunn said. "You've got to learn to become a real good practice player."

The 5'11", 206-pound fullback had an impressive athletic career at Goldsboro High School. Besides being Goldsboro's all-time leading rusher, he was a three-time conference champ in wrestling and was an all-conference selection in track for three straight years. However, Bubba thought it would be best to stick with one sport at the college level.

Being a highly sought after high school player, Bubba was recruited by some top college powers such as Clemson, N.C. State, Colorado and UNC. Bubba chose ECU because "it is a program on the move and Coach Emory has such a positive attitude. Every year the program here was getting bigger and bigger, and I wanted to be a part of the growth at ECU."

Looking to next week's game at South Carolina, Bubba feels ECU can hold its own against the top ten team. "I'm real optimistic," Bubba said. "We have to let it all hang out and play to our best ability."

Bubba has two sisters and two brothers. His older brother Danny played football at UNC a few years ago. "He helped me deal with the pressure and politics of college football," Bubba said. Moreover, Bubba's biggest inspiration comes from his mother. She raised the five children as a single parent. "She was a mother and a father to us," Bubba said. "She has always served as an inspiration for me — she's the greatest person in my life."

In the future, Pirate fans will see a lot more exciting running from Bubba Bunn. "Bubba will continue to improve and get more and more playing time," Coach Don Murray exclaimed. "He was merely waiting his turn to show Pirate fans what he's capable of doing."

"I knew he had the potential, so I wasn't surprised to see what he did (last Saturday)," commented Essray Taliaferro — teammate and good friend of Bunn.

According to Barrow, the Pirate coaching staff is expecting to use Bunn a lot more in the future — so it should be no surprise for Pirate fans to one day see number 27 make his mark in Pirate football history.

Bubba Bunn (27) more than doubled his career rushing yardage against East Tennessee State in last Saturday's homecoming contest carrying the ball 14 times for 161 yards.

MICHAEL SMITH — ECU Photo Lab

Pirates Prepare For Red Hot Gamecocks

Winning at Home: Both victories for East Carolina during the 1984 season have been in Ficklen Stadium. There was a 34-27 win over Georgia Southern on Sept. 22 and last week's victory over East Tennessee State.

The two triumphs upped the Pirate's record in Ficklen over the last three years to an impressive 10-1 (.909). ECU's only loss at home since the 1981 season was a 17-0 setback at the hands of the Temple Owls on Sept. 8, 1984.

The Pirates have one home game remaining in 1984 — Nov. 10 against Southern Miss.

On the Road Again: Saturday's 1:30 p.m. kickoff with the South Carolina Gamecocks in Williams-Brice Stadium will mark the sixth road game for ECU this season. The Pirates, an impressive 7-6 on the road over the last two seasons, have yet to win a game in an opponent's stadium this season.

ECU is 0-5 on the road in 1984 and face one more road contest after the Gamecocks — the Pirates travel to Southwestern Louisiana on Nov. 3. This is the third straight season that the Pirates have faced the task of seven games away from home, but that will change in 1985. For the first time since the 1981 season ECU will play five home games, facing Miami-Florida, South Carolina, Tulsa, Temple, and a team to be announced.

Bunn Arrives: With the fullback position hurting a little entering last week's Homecoming game with East Tennessee State, junior Bubba Bunn decided to ease the pain a bit.

Starter Reggie Branch and backups Anthony Simpson and Bobby Clair were nursing ankle injuries, so Bunn was moved from tailback to fullback last week during practice.

What Bunn responded with was 161 yards rushing on 14 carries and two touchdowns on runs of 29 and 42 yards. The effort earned the junior from Goldsboro ECAC Player of the Week honors.

The effort was the best by an ECU back since Tony Baker rushed for 135 yards in ECU's 40-6 victory over William and Mary on Nov. 12, 1983. In that game Baker also rushed for two touchdowns. Entering the game, Bunn had only rushed for 116 yards on 26 carries in his previous two seasons with the Pirates.

Blanked: East Tennessee State's two field goals last week marked the first time this season that the Pirates defense kept an opponent out of the end zone. The effort marked the first time the ECU defense has accomplished that feat since holding Missouri of the Big Eight Conference to two field goals during last year's victory in Columbia, Mo.

Second Quarter Blues Snapped: The Pirates' two touchdowns in the second quarter of last week's victory marked the first time this season that ECU had scored a touchdown during that quarter.

Prior to Bubba Bunn's 29-yard scoring run and quarterback Ron Jones' 46-yard scoring pass to flanker Ricky Nichols, the Pirates' sole offensive output in the second quarter had been two Jeff Heath field goals against Georgia Southern and Tulsa.

The touchdowns were the first scored by ECU in that period since the William and Mary game last season.

Efficient Passing: Sophomore Darrell Speed and freshman Ron Jones combined to complete 7-of-10 passes for 101 yards last week for an impressive 70 percent completion rate. Speed, who started the game, was 4-of-6 while Jones came in off the bench and connected on three of his four attempts, including a 46-yard scoring strike to Ricky Nichols in the second quarter.

The two-quarterbacks system was the second straight week Head Coach Ed Emory has used his two young quarterbacks in the same game. The same occurred during ECU's 31-20 loss to Tulsa on Oct. 13.

Alone at the Top: With their 6-0 record, the South Carolina

Gamecocks stand alone at the top of the NCAA Division I-A independents list. The Gamecocks are the only major Division I-A independent that remains unbeaten and untied. In fact, the Gamecocks, under second-year Head Coach Joe Morrison, team with Washington and Brigham Young as the nation's only unbeaten and untied Division I-A schools. Oklahoma and Texas are next with no losses and one tie.

Home Sweet Home: Incredibly, Saturday's game with ECU will mark the Gamecocks' sixth home game this season. South Carolina did not make a road trip until last week's 36-32 victory over Notre Dame in South Bend, Ind., which was televised live by ESPN.

6-0 is a Record: South Carolina has never won six games in a row to start a season in the school's history. The closest the Gamecocks have come is a 6-1 final season record during the 1920 season. In 1928, the Gamecocks ran off five straight wins only to finish with two losses, two ties and just one victory in their last five games.

Nichols Continues to Move Up: With his three receptions for 60 yards against ETSU last week, senior flanker Ricky Nichols continued his climb in the ECU record book.

He now has 54 career receptions to his credit, moving him into sixth place on the all-time school reception list, just four short of fifth place Tim Dameron (1970-72).

Morrison Successful: South Carolina Head Coach Joe Morrison has turned the Gamecocks around in just his second season.

Morrison, who arrived in Columbia in 1983 from New Mexico, where he guided the Lobos to a 10-1 mark in 1982, has compiled an impressive 11-6 record in his two seasons with the Gamecocks.

With six victories in six games, the Gamecocks are guaranteed of their first winning season since 1981, when the Gamecocks posted a 6-5 record under Head Coach Jim Carlen.

Your No. 1 Choice

THE NO. 1 SIZZLIN SIRLOIN

MON - TUE
For Only
$3.99
FLAMEKIST STEAKS

Western Sizzlin
THE ORIGINAL FAMILY STEAK HOUSE

DON'T MISS OUT!

SUBWAY
Sandwiches & Salads

Get The Fresh Alternative

3rd Anniversary Sale
Buy Any Footlong Sub
Get The Second One FREE

Saturday Nov. 3, 1984
11am-5pm

758-7979

!Delivery Coming Soon!

Malpass Muffler

2616 E. TENTH ST. 758-7676

Your One Stop Automotive Service Center.

We stock a complete line of automotive parts and accessories in our parts dept.

FILENS SPECIAL OCCASIONS

CHAMPAGNE FOR WEDDINGS
WINE & CHEESE PARTIES

THE USE OF OUR GLASSES FREE

OVER 550 WINES
WINE TASTINGS
GOURMET FOODS
IMPORTED CHEESES
PARTY AND CHEESE TRAYS
COFFEE BEANS
IMPORTED TEAS

WE WOULD LOVE TO HELP YOU WITH YOUR OCCASION

CUSTOM MADE BASKETS FOR ANY SPECIAL OCCASION

WE DELIVER

756-1889
GREENVILLE SQ. GREENVILLE

FREE
Potato Bar at
Western Sizzlin

THERE ARE TWO SIDES TO BECOMING A NURSE IN THE ARMY.

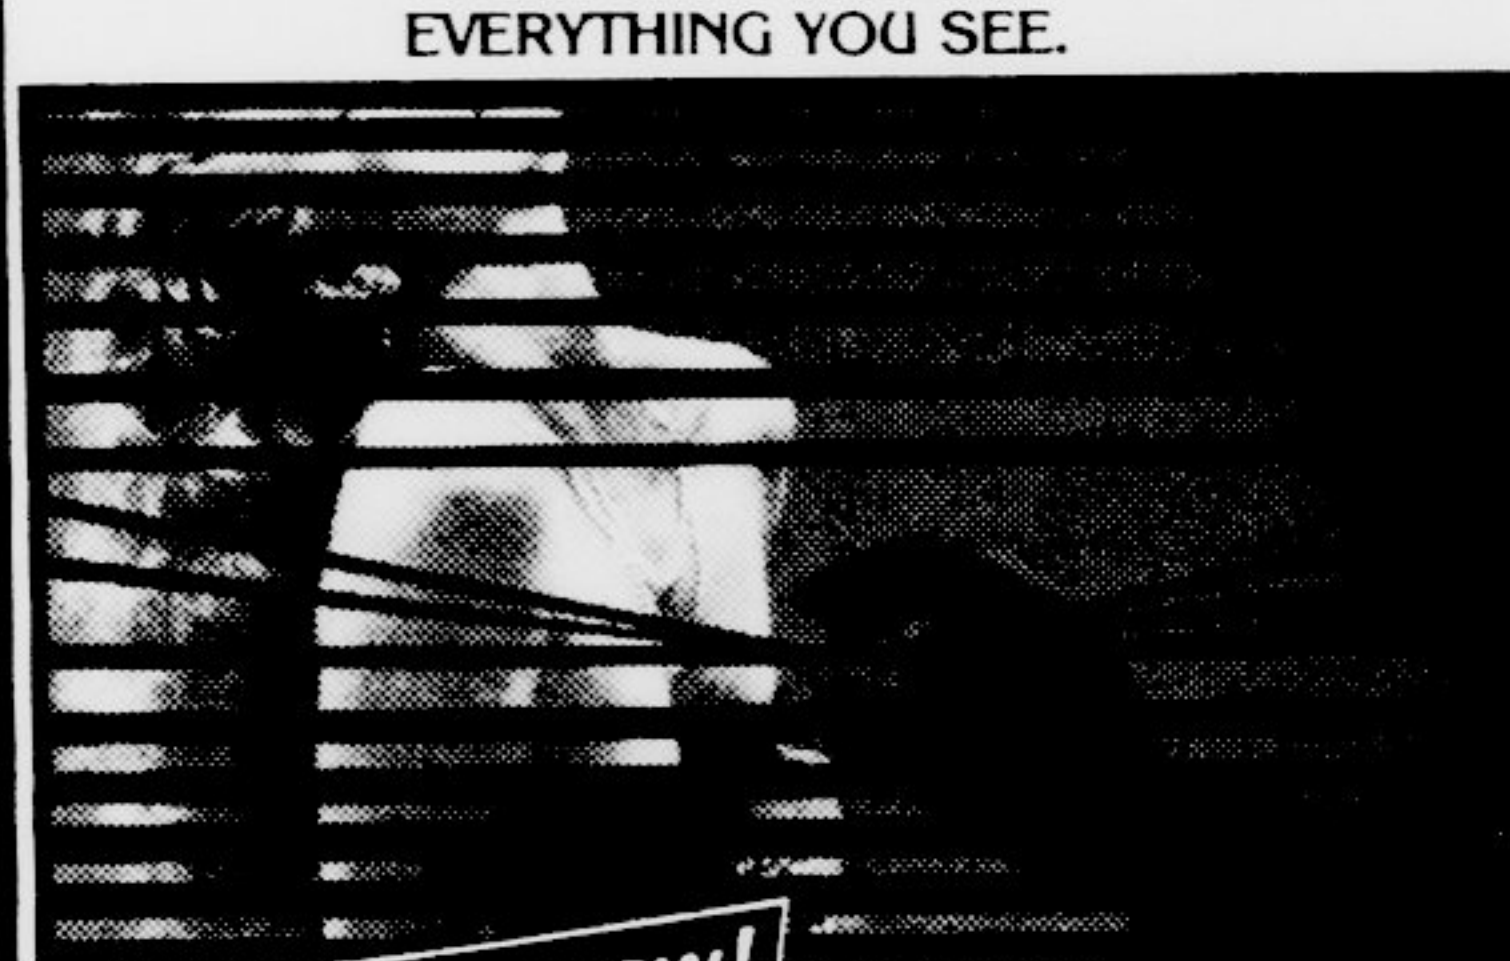

And they're both represented by the insignia you wear as a member of the Army Nurse Corps. The caduceus on the left means you're part of a health care system in which educational and career advancement are the rule, not the exception. The gold bar on the right means you command respect as an Army officer. If you're earning a BSN, write: Army Nurse Opportunities, P.O. Box 7713, Clifton, NJ 07015.

ARMY NURSE CORPS. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

STEWART & EVERETT THEATRES

YOU CAN'T BELIEVE EVERYTHING YOU SEE.

Starts Tomorrow!

A Brian De Palma Film
BODY DOUBLE

Week Days - 3:00-7:00-9:05
Sat. & Sun. - 2:50-4:55-7:00-9:05

$2.00
TIL 5:30 P.M.
SAT. & SUN.

Plaza cinema 1-2-3
756-0088
PLAZA SHOPPING CENTER

Starts TOMORROW!

If you can handle more than one hundred jolts of one hundred percent pure terror, then you might be ready for "Terror in the Aisles."

TERROR IN THE AISLES
It's a cut above the rest.

WEEKDAYS 3:00-7:05-9:00
SAT. & SUN. 3:30-5:20-7:05-9

THE ENTERTAINMENT PLACE

Scott's

GRAND OPENING

Greenville
Date: Oct. 25-27, 1984

Let us be... The Mirror of Your Mind

SAVE to 30%

Our Commitment To You is Simple . . .

To offer you quality men's and women's sportswear that reflects the way you feel. To introduce you to our store's personal service come in and take advantage of our exciting Grand Opening Sale and Save up to 30%. Scott's — Washington Square Mall and now at The Plaza in Greenville.

Save:
15% on all $10-50 purchases
20% on all $51-100 purchases
30% on all $101-up purchases

The

ECU at SOUTH CAROLINA CLEMSON at N.C. STATE MARYLAND at DUKE UNC at MEMPHIS STATE WM. MARY at WAKE TENNESSEE at GA. TECH SMU at TEXAS GEORGIA at KENTUCKY UCLA at ARIZONA ST. PENN ST. at WEST VA. VA. TECH at TEMPLE AUBURN at MISS ST. NOTRE DAME at LSU ARIZONA at WASHINGTON ILLINOIS at MICHIGAN RUTGERS at BOSTON COLLEGE MISS at VANDERBILT NAVY at PITT

Powers St

Last Week

Scott Powers 14-4
Sad Sam 13-5
Randy Mews 16-2
Tina Maroschak 12
Jennifer Jendrasiak 11-7
Greg Rideout 13-5

Scott Powers has taken three game lead over Sad Sam with Randy Mews pulling within four games with just few weeks left.

PET VILLAGE

We Carry of Dog, Cat
Gold

Master Card and V is available.

NORTHWESTERN

As the need for sleep grows, Northwestern offers you a satisfying Doctor of Chiropractic.

Committed to his research for over 40 comprehensive chiropractic distinguished dedicated teaching staff.

If you would like to complete the admissions office to visit or collect at 290 or collect at

Please send me more info Northwestern College of Chiropractic

Name _____
Address _____
City _____
Phone _____

SEND TO: Northwestern College of Chiropractic Admissions Office, 2501 Bloomington, Minnesota 55425 1-800-328-8322 Extension school reception list, just four short of fifth place Tim Dameron (1970-72).

Gamecocks

Morrison Successful: South Carolina Head Coach Joe Morrison has turned the Gamecocks around in just his second season.

Morrison, who arrived in Columbia in 1983 from New Mexico, where he guided the Lobos to a 10-1 mark in 1982, has compiled an impressive 11-6 record in his two seasons with the Gamecocks.

With six victories in six games, the Gamecocks are guaranteed of their first winning season since 1981, when the Gamecocks posted a 6-5 record under Head Coach Jim Carlen.

The Experts Pick This Week's Winners

POWERS	SAD SAM	MEWS	MAROSCHAK	JENDRSIAK	RIDEOUT
ECU at SOUTH CAROLINA CLEMSON at N.C. STATE MARYLAND at DUKE UNC at MEMPHIS STATE WM. MARY at WAKE TENNESSEE at GA. TECH SMU at TEXAS GEORGIA at KENTUCKY UCLA at ARIZONA ST. PENN ST. at WEST VA. VA. TECH at TEMPLE AUBURN at MISS ST. NOTRE DAME at LSU ARIZONA at WASHINGTON ILLINOIS at MICHIGAN RUTGERS at BOSTON COLL. OLE MISS at VANDERBILT NAVY at PITT	USC Clemson Maryland Memphis St. Wake Tennessee Texas Georgia UCLA West Va. Va. Tech Auburn LSU Washington Michigan Boston Coll Vanderbilt Pitt	USC Clemson Maryland Memphis St. Wake Tennessee Texas Georgia ASU Penn St. Va. Tech Auburn LSU Washington Michigan Boston Coll Vanderbilt Pitt	USC Clemson Maryland UNC Wake Tennessee Texas Georgia UCLA West Va. Va. Tech Auburn LSU Washington Illinois Boston Coll Ole Miss Navy	USC Clemson Maryland UNC Wake Ga. Tech Texas Georgia UCLA Penn St. Va. Tech Auburn LSU Washington Illinois Boston Coll Ole Miss Pitt	USC Clemson Maryland UNC Wake Ga. Tech Texas Georgia UCLA West Va. Temple Auburn LSU Washington Michigan Boston Coll Vanderbilt Navy

MISS OUT!

WAY'S
Sausages & Salads

...Alternative

...Sausage Sale

...Hot Long Sub

...and One FREE

Nov. 3, 1984

...5pm

758-7979

...Coming Soon!

Powers Stretches Lead

	Last Week	Overall	Pct.	Games Behind
Scott Powers	14-4	70-36	.660	—
Sad Sam	13-5	67-39	.632	3
Randy Mews	16-2	66-40	.622	4
Tina Maroschak	12-6	64-42	.604	6
Jennifer Jendrsiak	11-7	61-45	.575	9
Greg Rideout	13-5	60-46	.566	10

Scott Powers has taken a three game lead over Sad Sam, with Randy Mews pulling to within four games with just a few weeks left.

Can Powers hold on, or will somebody come from back in the pack to unseat him. Check next week to find out what will happen.

PET VILLAGE

DONNA EDWARDS
Owner

We Carry A Complete Line of Dog, Cat, and Fish Supplies

Gold Fish 4/ $1.00

Master Card and Visa are accepted and financing is available.

511 EVANS ST.
GREENVILLE, N.C. 27834
PHONE 756-9222

PROFESSIONAL CAREER AS DOCTOR OF CHIROPRACTIC

NORTHWESTERN COLLEGE OF CHIROPRACTIC

As the need for specialized health care continues to grow, Northwestern College of Chiropractic can help you enter a satisfying career taking care of people as a Doctor of Chiropractic.

Committed to high standards in education and research for over 40 years, Northwestern offers you comprehensive chiropractic training on a modern campus distinguished for its excellent facilities and dedicated teaching staff.

If you would like to know how Northwestern College of Chiropractic can help you achieve your career goals, complete the form below or call the admissions office. TOLL FREE at 1-800-328-8322. Extension 290 or collect at (612) 888-4777.

Please send me more information on Northwestern College of Chiropractic.

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____
Phone _____ Years of college experience _____

SEND TO: Northwestern College of Chiropractic, Admissions Office, 2501 West 84th Street, Bloomington, Minnesota 55431 320 1-800-328-8322, Extension 290; collect at (612) 888-4777

GOES TO THE ARMY.

...my officer. If you're ... P.O. Box 7713.

YOU CAN BE

SAVE to 30%

...ment ple...

...and women's sportswear

...To introduce you to ...come in and take

...Grand Opening Sale and

...Washington Square Mall

...ville.

The Plaza

Szechuan Garden

"Specializing In Chinese Gourmet Cuisine"

Luncheon Specials of the Day $2.75

Sunday Buffet (all you can eat) $3.95

DINNER SPECIALS

SHRIMP w/vegetable $6.95

JUMBO SCALLOPS w/vegetable $6.95

Specials come with: Hot & sour soup, Fried Rice & Hot Tea

100 E. 10th St.
757-1818

Mon.-Thurs. 11:30-9:30
FRI. 11:30-10:30
SAT. 5:00-10:30
SUN. 12:00-9:30

TAKE OUT ORDERS

TAPSCOTT DESIGNS

has moved to

The Plaza

Home Accessories and Specialty Gift Shoppe

IT'S... IT'S BACK!!

THE RECORD BAR

MONSTER METAL SALE

BACK AND HEAVIER THAN EVER

METALLICA Ride The Lightning	DIO The Last In Line	IRON MAIDEN Powerslave	KISS Animalize
TOKYO BLADE Night of The Blade	BLACKFOOT Vertical Smiles	QUEENSRYCHE The Warning
MERCYFUL FATE Don't Break The Oath	DOKKEN Tooth & Nail	important

6.99 CASSETTE OR LP

Record Bar

Through October 31st at Pitt Plaza & Carolina East Mall

Jordan Looked On To Revive Chicago Bulls

CHICAGO (UPI) — Every couple of years, an NBA rookie comes along who is expected to lead his franchise out of losing doldrums toward a berth in the playoffs.

Sometimes the rookie can do it: a Lew Alcindor with Milwaukee, a Larry Bird with Boston.

The Chicago Bulls are looking at Michael Jordan, the 6-foot-6 Olympic hero and North Carolina All-America, as a savior of the franchise.

The Bulls have not only been second class NBA citizens as far as their record has been concerned — they haven't made the playoffs in seven seasons — but they have grown out of favor in victory-starved Chicago.

Attendance dipped to around 5,000 a game last year as the Bulls' mediocre play — they dipped to 29-53 — failed to create the kind of interest that the Chicago Cubs had done in baseball.

"We realized that when we drafted Michael Jordan, we were not drafting for our major need which was a center," said

General Manager Rod Thorn. "But when you have a player of his ability available in the draft, you take him."

Jordan, who will play both guard and forward in the pros, will be counted on to score points; set up plays; play defense and, possibly most important of all, dazzle fans back into the Chicago stadium.

"The thing people have to understand is that this is not just Michael Jordan's team," says Jordan, the No. 3 choice in the June NBA collegiate draft. "This is a team. I just want to fit in and contribute."

But during the pre-season exhibition campaign, Jordan showed the flashes of brilliance that millions saw at the Los Angeles Olympics and during his stellar three-year career with the Tar Heels.

Just whether Jordan's abilities will be able to turn the franchise into a winner or start drawing fans back to the stadium remains a major question. The club did have Reggie Theus, who also was a stylish player capable of rousing a crowd, for several years but Theus couldn't turn the club into a winner or hometown favorite and was traded to Kansas City.

Jordan, who turned down a chance to play a senior year with Coach Dean Smith at UNC to enter his name in the draft, does have the style and exciting moves to thrill a crowd but it may not be enough to turn the club into an instant winner.

"I don't think there is any question that Michael Jordan is one of the most exciting players to come into the NBA in years," said Coach Kevin Loughery. "We understand that there are other things we are going to have to improve on, however, if we are to be a winner."

Jordan, who signed a reported seven year, multimillion dollar contract in September, actually will be playing a position that may be the Bulls' strongest. The club already has guards Quintin Dailey, Ennis Whatley and Ronnie Lester — all former No. 1 draft choices.

Loughery has considered teaming Dailey, the team's sixth man last year, with Jordan to capitalize on both players' scoring ability. But he still faces problems getting a frontcourt supporting cast for his talented guard tandem.

Chicago still has journeyman Dave Corzine at center but did move to give him relief by trading promising guard Mitchell Wiggins to Houston for veteran center Caldwell Jones.

"The group we have this year seems to be together as a team," Corzine notes. "I like that feeling. It's something that goes hand-in-hand with a winning season."

The team's leading scorer last year, forward Orlando Woolridge, also returns for a fourth season. But the major question mark is the other forward spot.

Jordan, college basketball's player of the year last year, could conceivably play some in the frontcourt but his style and size dictate that he remain in the backcourt.

The Bulls, who have never won an NBA championship, have been in and out of negotiations with forward David Greenwood since the end of last season. Greenwood was eligible to become a free agent but hasn't signed with another club. Realizing his market value may have diminished, the club reportedly reduced its original offer to Greenwood in recent weeks.

Regardless of his surrounding cast, Jordan will draw attention in other NBA cities because of his Olympic success. He is also prepared for the rigors of NBA traveling and the possibility of consistent losing.

"If I survived the Olympics and Bobby Knight," Jordan says of his USA team coach, "then I'll be ready for anything."

Soccer Gets Underway

By JEANNETTE ROTH Staff Writer

Now that flag football is over, intramural teams have taken to the fields again to kick around with soccer.

Although these round ball matches have just begun, there are a few teams who have already come out on top. These are the starting favorites:

Men's Independent: The Bones, Omni, Nads.

Residence Hall women: Umstead Jockettes, Sorority: Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Fraternity: Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Both women's Independent and men's Residence Hall divisions seem to be up for grabs at this early date.

Co-Rec flag football is well underway as teams battle it out for top honors on the gridiron. At this point, it looks as though the favorite Third Regiment will chalk up another championship. Teams picked to dethrone the troop are: KA Rebels, Spoilers, Chaos, Love Brokers.

While many of you were lying in bed dreaming of a Pirate football victory, there were a number of brave souls running anywhere from 2.5 to 5.0 miles homecoming morning. These participants ran in the intramural Cross Campus Run. Sixty men entered the 2.5 mile race and 13 females. Congratulations are in order to all who participated and especially to ECU student Greg Richardson who won the 2.5 mile event with a time of 14:24, and Kathy Handy who boasted a time of 19:36 to lead the women.

In the 5.0 mile race, Bill White in the Alumni division captured first place honors out of 23 male participants with a time of 28:06. Jeannie Stes, first of only five female participants blew by with a time of 34:42. All the races were tight with the victors crossing the tape only seconds before the chasers passed by.

Co-Rec basketball begins Nov. 5 but registration starts next week.

UNC Back Wins Honor

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI) — North Carolina tailback William Humes, who scored the winning touchdown in the Tar Heels' win over North Carolina State, was named the Atlantic Coast Conference's offensive back of the week Monday.

Humes rushed for 156 yards on 27 carries, scored three times and ran for a two-point conversion in his first start for North Carolina. On the Tar Heels' 74-yard winning drive, the sophomore from Asheville, N.C. carried on eight of 13 plays.

Halloween Costume Contest

1st Prize:
Free Meal Plan

2nd Prize:
Marsh's T-shirt

8:00pm to 9:00pm
50¢ Draft until 1:00am
Serving Food All Night
Long To Sober You Up!

Blue Moon Cafe
Open till 3am Fri & Sat.
205 E. 5th St.

(for members only)

Halloween Special

Horror & Sci-Fi Flicks

2 for $5.00

SUNSHINE VIDEO, INC.

Mon-Thur. 10:30-7:00
Fri-Sat. 10:00-8:00

214 Arlington Blvd.
756-4392

The "Best" Rental Prices in Greenville

$19.95 A MONTH

2905 E. 10th St.
758-9102

TELERENT TV

TELERENT also rents ...

- VCR's
- Home Stereos
- Color Consoles

"WHEN I HIT A DRY SPELL, THESE ARE THE ONLY WORDS I CAN THINK OF."

—MICKEY SPILLANE
FAMOUS MYSTERY WRITER

Lite Beer from Miller

EVERYTHING YOU ALWAYS WANTED
IN A BEER. AND LESS.

© 1984 Miller Brewing Co., Milwaukee, Wisc.