

INSIDE

Editorials.....4
Style.....13
Sports.....17
Classifieds.....6

STYLE

Laureen Kirsch talks about the Student Union — see STYLE, page 13.

SPORTS

Florida State crushes Pirates at Ficklen Stadium in Buc's home opener — see SPORTS, page 17.

The East Carolinian

Serving the East Carolina campus community since 1925.

Vol. 62 No. 6

Tuesday, September 15, 1987

Greenville, NC

22 Pages

Circulation 12,000

Democratic presidential hopefuls Joseph Biden, Al Gore and Paul Simon applaud, acknowledging the welcome of fellow candidate Jesse Jackson to the Chapel Hill presidential forum. Hundreds of students turned out for the debate held in UNC's Dean Dome Friday.

Debate focuses on upgrading schools

By CLAY DEANHARDT
Managing Editor

CHAPEL HILL — Presidential candidates from both parties participating in Friday's debate on education here in the Dean Smith Center all agreed that improvements needed to be made in the educational system in the United States.

That's about where the agreement ended.

Seven Democrats — Bruce Babbitt, former governor of Arizona; Delaware Sen. Joe Biden; Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis; U.S. Rep. Richard Gephardt of Missouri; U.S. Rep. Al Gore of Tennessee; the Rev. Jesse Jackson, and Illinois Sen. Paul Simon — took part in the morning forum and afterwards declared schoolchildren the only real winners.

Democrats also took the opportunity to blast President Reagan's educational policy and Sec. of Education William Bennett, who was in the audience.

Gephardt talked about being a role model for school children as president. "With this president (Reagan), we have one who talks about law and order and puts the constitution to the shredder," he said.

All seven candidates said more money should be spent on education, and each said the first place they would look for it would be in the defense budget.

"It's a priority issue. We can cut the military budget without cutting our defenses," Jackson said. "Two of four cents (in defense projects) can be used to reinvest in this country and reinvest in our children's lives."

"With 11 billion dollars, my friends, we could do more for defense in the long term of this country if we invested that money in education (as opposed to weapons)," Simon said.

Dukakis said he was not in favor of the federal government's tying monetary aid to colleges to a promise from the college to try and keep fees low. He noted that many states, including his own, were having great success keeping tuition rates low on a state-wide level.

Babbitt said he wanted to broaden student aid. "We ought to tie loan forgiveness in," he said. Babbitt said graduates who take public service jobs such as teaching should have their loans erased, thus providing an incentive for well educated people to take sometimes comparatively low-paying public service jobs.

After the debate, some of the candidates were asked about the possible taxing of student grants, scholarships and assistantships under the Tax Reform Act of 1986.

"I think we've got to stop looking so much at scholarship and loans and start looking at how people can put money aside at an earlier point in a child's life so the money's there for education," Gephardt said. He went on to refer to a proposed Michigan plan where the state guarantees in-state tuition for youths whose parents set aside a sum of money before the child became 3-years-old.

"It doesn't make a lot of sense if you're giving someone a scholarship, and you want them to pay it back, to cause that to be taxed, and we ought to take a look at that," he said.

Simon noted that he cast one of only three dissenting votes in the Senate on the tax bill. "That tax bill was a disaster," he said. "And we should not be taxing those scholarships or graduates and assistantships."

The Republican forum Friday afternoon pitted U.S. Rep. Jack Kemp against former Delaware Gov. Pete DuPont. Conspicuously absent were those considered by most to be the front-runners for the Republican nomination in 1988, Vice President

See JACK, page 2

ECU News Bureau

Committee pushes for earth science

(ECU News Bureau) — A state-wide committee of science, industry and education leaders has organized to support the new earth science curriculum in North Carolina's public schools, vowing to make it a model for the nation.

"We as a group of volunteers wish to provide immediate and long-term support to establish the earth science curriculum in North Carolina as a model to be emulated by states across the country," says Dr. Charles Q. Brown of East Carolina University.

Brown, who co-chairs the 40-member support group, is professor and chair of the Geology department at ECU and is president of the Southeastern Section, National Association of Geology Teachers.

"Earth science is the most interdisciplinary of the sciences," Brown says. "Most problems that man faces are interdisciplinary in nature and because of this fact, earth science is an extremely valuable element in the science curricula in the public schools."

Earth science, which includes such studies as geology, oceanography, astronomy, meteorology and others has been added recently as an elective to the science curriculum in high schools in North Carolina.

The governor's science advisor, Earl Mac Cormac, is scheduled to keynote the first meeting of the new Education and Industry Committee for Earth Science in North Carolina with an address, "Earth, Geometry and Dimension." The initial meeting is scheduled at the N.C. State University Faculty Club in Raleigh Sept. 17, beginning at 9 a.m.

Co-chairing the committee is Fred Allen of Raleigh, executive director of the N.C. Aggregates

Association.

Brown said the agenda includes organization of committees on earth science-public relations, staffing and teacher certification and on curriculum development and implementation in two sections, K-8 and 9-12.

Fred Beyer, science supervisor of Cumberland County public schools, will speak on the status of earth science teaching and Bill Spooner, consultant of the N.C. Department of Public Instruction, will speak on the history of earth science education in the public schools in North Carolina.

Brown said the group's goals are to promote increased understanding of earth science among North Carolina citizens, to promote the preparation of qualified earth science teachers, to promote emphasis on the teaching of earth science concepts at all educational levels and to promote the inclusion of a substantive earth science course in all secondary schools.

SGA looks after ECU-NCSU relations

By TIM HAMPTON
Staff Writer

The Student Government Association created a committee with the intent of formulating an ECU student statement concerning the Carter-Finley rampage in the first meeting of the legislature Monday.

"It's better to go in depth on this case," said Olav Osland, a day representative, "to develop a statement which reflects the responsibility of the students."

After ECU's 32-14 Saturday victory over rival NCSU, some over-zealous fans erupted onto the field and caused an estimated $7,200 damage. Several fights ensued and a NCSU campus policeman was injured in the altercation.

In addition to 7 legislators, the committee will consist of a student judiciary board member, an executive board member and a faculty member to address a response to N.C. State. The special committee will meet on Wednesday and will hopefully produce a statement by next week, Osland said in an interview after the meeting.

"Some have expressed the willingness to set up a fund raising drive," said Scott Thomas, SGA president.

Possible reparations for the damages made to Carter-Finley stadium may come in the form of proceeds from a proposed SGA fundraiser, Thomas said in an interview. Other legislators, speaking to a reporter after the meeting, eluded to the possibility of SGA funds being used to repay NCSU for a portion of the damages.

"The main issue here is that the chancellor as well as the president of ECU have made statements and now is time for the students," said legislator Bennet Eckert, the speaker of the legislature.

Eckert, who was nominated to the speaker position Monday, held the same position last year.

In other business at the meeting:

"Thomas vowed to expand the responsibilities of the student welfare committee to address the needs of students on campus. The committee will initiate a campus beautification program along with other campus related issues, Thomas said.

"SGA Treasurer Chris Holland said he expects a jump in the government's appropriation figures as soon as student fees are totaled. Holland says the budget appropriations are usually low this time of year.

The new Student Government Association legislators are sworn in before getting to work Monday.

Scientists receive grants

(ECU News Bureau) — Researchers at East Carolina University will study the ecology of the Albemarle and Pamlico Sounds region in a series of projects aimed at improving water quality in coastal North Carolina.

Two marine scientists and a maritime sociologist have received grants totaling $100,000 to study swamps and aquatic vegetation and to collect data on population in and around the state's two largest inland water basins. The research grants are provided by the Environmental Protection Agency through the North Carolina Department of Natural Resources and Community Development.

Dr. Mark M. Brinson, a marine biologist, will study the function and value of swamps that join the Albemarle and Pamlico Sounds. Brinson says that the major concern in his study is the ability of the wetlands to recolonize after timber harvest, their role in water quality maintenance and their value as fish and wildlife habitat. The study will take five years.

Another ECU biologist, Dr. Graham J. Davis, will look at the distribution and management potential for submersed aquatic vegetation which serves as breeding ground and food for fish. Davis said that the vegetation has disappeared in some places in recent years and sometimes undesirable species have taken over. His study will include transplanting the most desirable kinds of vegetation into the Pamlico River.

In addition to the biological research, Dr. Paul D. Tschetter, a sociologist, will collect data on the population in the Albemarle and Pamlico region. This project will develop a data bank of information about the permanent, temporary and seasonal populations in the 33 coastal North Carolina counties.

INSIDE

Editorials.....4
Style.....13
Sports.....17
Classifieds.....6

STYLE

Laureen Kirsch talks about the Student Union — see STYLE, page 13.

SPORTS

Florida State crushes Pirates at Ficklen Stadium in Buc's home opener — see SPORTS, page 17.

The East Carolinian

Serving the East Carolina campus community since 1925.

Vol. 62 No. 6

Tuesday, September 15, 1987

Greenville, NC

22 Pages

Circulation 12,000

Democratic presidential hopefuls Joseph Biden, Al Gore and Paul Simon applaud, acknowledging the welcome of fellow candidate Jesse Jackson to the Chapel Hill presidential forum. Hundreds of students turned out for the debate held in UNC's Dean Dome Friday.

Debate focuses on upgrading schools

By CLAY DEANHARDT
Managing Editor

CHAPEL HILL — Presidential candidates from both parties participating in Friday's debate on education here in the Dean Smith Center all agreed that improvements needed to be made in the educational system in the United States.

That's about where the agreement ended.

Seven Democrats — Bruce Babbitt, former governor of Arizona; Delaware Sen. Joe Biden; Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis; U.S. Rep. Richard Gephardt of Missouri; U.S. Rep. Al Gore of Tennessee; the Rev. Jesse Jackson, and Illinois Sen. Paul Simon — took part in the morning forum and afterwards declared schoolchildren the only real winners.

Democrats also took the opportunity to blast President Reagan's educational policy and Sec. of Education William Bennett, who was in the audience.

Gephardt talked about being a role model for school children as president. "With this president (Reagan), we have one who talks about law and order and puts the constitution to the shredder," he said.

All seven candidates said more money should be spent on education, and each said the first place they would look for it would be in the defense budget.

"It's a priority issue. We can cut the military budget without cutting our defenses," Jackson said. "Two of four cents (in defense projects) can be used to reinvest in this country and reinvest in our children's lives."

"With 11 billion dollars, my friends, we could do more for defense in the long term of this country if we invested that money in education (as opposed to weapons)," Simon said.

Dukakis said he was not in favor of the federal government's tying monetary aid to colleges to a promise from the college to try and keep fees low. He noted that many states, including his own, were having great success keeping tuition rates low on a state-wide level.

Babbitt said he wanted to broaden student aid. "We ought to tie loan forgiveness in," he said. Babbitt said graduates who take public service jobs such as teaching should have their loans erased, thus providing an incentive for well educated people to take sometimes comparatively low-paying public service jobs.

After the debate, some of the candidates were asked about the possible taxing of student grants, scholarships and assistantships under the Tax Reform Act of 1986.

"I think we've got to stop looking so much at scholarship and loans and start looking at how people can put money aside at an earlier point in a child's life so the money's there for education," Gephardt said. He went on to refer to a proposed Michigan plan where the state guarantees in-state tuition for youths whose parents set aside a sum of money before the child became 3-years-old.

"It doesn't make a lot of sense if you're giving someone a scholarship, and you want them to pay it back, to cause that to be taxed, and we ought to take a look at that," he said.

Simon noted that he cast one of only three dissenting votes in the Senate on the tax bill. "That tax bill was a disaster," he said. "And we should not be taxing those scholarships or graduates and assistantships."

The Republican forum Friday afternoon pitted U.S. Rep. Jack Kemp against former Delaware Gov. Pete DuPont. Conspicuously absent were those considered by most to be the front-runners for the Republican nomination in 1988, Vice President

See JACK, page 2

ECU News Bureau

Committee pushes for earth science

(ECU News Bureau) — A statewide committee of science, industry and education leaders has organized to support the new earth science curriculum in North Carolina's public schools, vowing to make it a model for the nation.

"We as a group of volunteers wish to provide immediate and long-term support to establish the earth science curriculum in North Carolina as a model to be emulated by states across the country," says Dr. Charles Q. Brown of East Carolina University.

Brown, who co-chairs the 40-member support group, is professor and chair of the Geology department at ECU and is president of the Southeastern Section, National Association of Geology Teachers.

"Earth science is the most interdisciplinary of the sciences," Brown says. "Most problems that man faces are interdisciplinary in nature and because of this fact, earth science is an extremely valuable element in the science curricula in the public schools."

Earth science, which includes such studies as geology, oceanography, astronomy, meteorology and others has been added recently as an elective to the science curriculum in high schools in North Carolina.

The governor's science advisor, Earl Mac Cormac, is scheduled to keynote the first meeting of the new Education and Industry Committee for Earth Science in North Carolina with an address, "Earth, Geometry and Dimension." The initial meeting is scheduled at the N.C. State University Faculty Club in Raleigh Sept. 17, beginning at 9 a.m.

Co-chairing the committee is Fred Allen of Raleigh, executive director of the N.C. Aggregates

Association.

Brown said the agenda includes organization of committees on earth science-public relations, staffing and teacher certification and on curriculum development and implementation in two sections, K-8 and 9-12.

Fred Beyer, science supervisor of Cumberland County public schools, will speak on the status of earth science teaching and Bill Spooner, consultant of the N.C. Department of Public Instruction, will speak on the history of earth science education in the public schools in North Carolina.

Brown said the group's goals are to promote increased understanding of earth science among North Carolina citizens, to promote the preparation of qualified earth science teachers, to promote emphasis on the teaching of earth science concepts at all educational levels and to promote the inclusion of a substantive earth science course in all secondary schools.

SGA looks after ECU-NCSU relations

By TIM HAMPTON
Staff Writer

The Student Government Association created a committee with the intent of formulating an ECU student statement concerning the Carter-Finley rampage in the first meeting of the legislature Monday.

"It's better to go in depth on this case," said Olav Osland, a day representative, "to develop a statement which reflects the responsibility of the students."

After ECU's 32-14 Saturday victory over rival NCSU, some over-zealous fans erupted onto the field and caused an estimated $7,200 damage. Several fights ensued and a NCSU campus policeman was injured in the altercation.

In addition to 7 legislators, the committee will consist of a student judiciary board member, an executive board member and a faculty member to address a response to N.C. State. The special committee will meet on Wednesday and will hopefully produce a statement by next week, Osland said in an interview after the meeting.

"Some have expressed the willingness to set up a fund raising drive," said Scott Thomas, SGA president.

Possible reparations for the damages made to Carter-Finley stadium may come in the form of proceeds from a proposed SGA fundraiser, Thomas said in an interview. Other legislators, speaking to a reporter after the meeting, eluded to the possibility of SGA funds being used to repay NCSU for a portion of the damages.

"The main issue here is that the chancellor as well as the president of ECU have made statements and now is time for the students," said legislator Bennet Eckert, the speaker of the legislature.

Eckert, who was nominated to the speaker position Monday, held the same position last year. In other business at the meeting:

"Thomas vowed to expand the responsibilities of the student welfare committee to address the needs of students on campus. The committee will initiate a campus beautification program along with other campus related issues, Thomas said.

"SGA Treasurer Chris Holland said he expects a jump in the government's appropriation figures as soon as student fees are totaled. Holland says the budget appropriations are usually low this time of year.

The new Student Government Association legislators are sworn in before getting to work Monday.

Scientists receive grants

(ECU News Bureau) — Researchers at East Carolina University will study the ecology of the Albemarle and Pamlico Sounds region in a series of projects aimed at improving water quality in coastal North Carolina.

Two marine scientists and a maritime sociologist have received grants totaling $100,000 to study swamps and aquatic vegetation and to collect data on population in and around the state's two largest inland water basins. The research grants are provided by the Environmental Protection Agency through the North Carolina Department of Natural Resources and Community Development.

Dr. Mark M. Brinson, a marine biologist, will study the function and value of swamps that join the Albemarle and Pamlico Sounds. Brinson says that the major concern in his study is the ability of the wetlands to recolonize after timber harvest, their role in water quality maintenance and their value as fish and wildlife habitat. The study will take five years.

Another ECU biologist, Dr. Graham J. Davis, will look at the distribution and management potential for submersed aquatic vegetation which serves as breeding ground and food for fish. Davis said that the vegetation has disappeared in some places in recent years and sometimes undesirable species have taken over. His study will include transplanting the most desirable kinds of vegetation into the Pamlico River.

In addition to the biological research, Dr. Paul D. Tschetter, a sociologist, will collect data on the population in the Albemarle and Pamlico region. This project will develop a data bank of information about the permanent, temporary and seasonal populations in the 33 coastal North Carolina counties.

Democrats celebrate the life of their party

HIGH POINT, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina Democrats gathered in a renovated warehouse Saturday to celebrate the renewal of their party and hear four of their presidential candidates expound on education, defense and the economy.

Sen. Terry Sanford, D-N.C., who conceived the idea for the Funfair as a celebration of Democratic Victories in 1986, told a forum for the presidential candidates that "just a few years ago, folks were saying the Democratic Party was dead. Do you believe that?"

The crowd of party faithful responded with a rousing "no" and waved American flags.

The challenge facing Democrats, Sanford said, is "how do we move from the twilight of the Reagan years into the sunshine of Democratic progress once again."

The seven Democratic candidates have been dubbed "the Seven Dwarfs" because of their similarities, but Sanford said they were better described as "seven blocks of granite immovable in their principals" or as "seven pillars of wisdom — they know whereof they speak."

Attending the forum, held at the Market Center in downtown High Point, were former Arizona Gov. Bruce Babbitt, Rep. Richard Gephardt of Missouri, Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee and the Rev. Jesse Jackson. Sen. Joe Biden of Delaware and Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis were expected at festivities after the forum, and Sen. Paul Simon of Illinois could not attend because of his daughter's wedding.

Hodding Carter, a commentator for ABC-TV and spokesman for the Carter administration, said the 1988 election would be the first election without an incumbent in 20 years and would follow "eight long years" of a Republican presidency.

More importantly, he said, it comes at a time when the country has never been as divided between "those who have never had it so good and those who have never had it so bad since the Great Depression." He said the Reagan administration's goal seems to be to "comfort the comfortable and afflict the afflicted."

The candidates were asked how they would improve education in light of cuts by the Reagan administration.

Jackson said that the national attitude about education needed to be changed and that education was not a social program "but our first line of defense."

He also said the nation needs a real commitment to vocational education and education for the handicapped. "I would rather have Roosevelt in a wheelchair than Reagan on a horse," he said. Jackson said parents must become partners in their children's education, and children must demand more of themselves by saying no to drugs, alcohol and unwanted pregnancies.

"A democracy does not guarantee success, but it does guarantee opportunity," he said.

Gephardt said his goal was that the United States have the best educated people in the world by the year 2000. He said school systems that produce better students should be given more money. And finally, he said, the president must send a message of the right values.

Babbitt said he would begin by firing Secretary of Education William Bennett, and by concentrating more on preschool education. He said the student loan program should be expanded to include every student who needs it.

The nation needs a president who emphasizes to parents their role in education, he said. "That's how we can revolutionize education," he said.

Gore said he would "restore the federal government as a full partner" in the educational process and set clear goals, such as 100 percent literacy by the year 2000. He also urged accountability and responsibility for teachers.

Race conflicts flare up

AMHERST, MA (CPS) — One of the most notorious of last school year's nationwide campus racial incidents came to a close Sept. 2 when the University of Massachusetts suspended three students involved in a black-white student brawl.

UMass officials also issued a "special message" to incoming freshmen that racism among students won't be tolerated.

Two weeks before, students from 17 different campuses met at the University of Michigan to explore ways to combat an apparent resurgence of racial tensions at scores of colleges.

During the 1986-87 school year, racial incidents occurred at the University of Maryland-Baltimore County, The Citadel, Southern California, Michigan State, Columbia, Michigan, Baylor, Tulane, Tennessee, North Dakota, Oklahoma State, Texas-San Antonio, Cleveland State and Northern Illinois, among other campuses.

The outbreaks — which followed two school years in which the number of minority-majority student conflicts increased — led the new group formed at Michigan, the United Coalition Against Racism, to resolve to publish anti-racism statements similar to the one UMass distributed to freshmen last week. UMass announced it has not "forgotten or put the issue behind," said spokesman James Langley.

The school will train its 400-member dorm staff to enforce civility, and Afro-American Studies Professor Julius Lester is developing courses about the history of racism.

The last week of August, the local district attorney's office charged five white students with assault and rioting and a sixth with rioting following the last game of the 1986 World Series.

After the New York Mets defeated the Boston Red Sox in the final game of the series last October, a black sophomore from New York was severely beaten by white students who rooted for the Red Sox. The students charged in the incident pleaded no contest. Three of the students involved in the brawl are banned from campus for the academic year, and two others were given deferred suspensions.

UMass officials plan to beef up campus security during the week of Oct. 27, the anniversary of last year's incident. "There could be some reaction to the event," said Larry Moneta, associate director for residence education. "We may have some trouble."

Jack Kemp calls for a return to basics

Continued from page 1

George Bush and Robert Dole. Kemp and DuPont both said the absent Republicans were the real losers in the debate, and DuPont went as far as to accuse them of weakening the Republican cause. He said his party lost Senate seats in 1986 because it ducked issues, and that Dole, Bush and others had better face the issues in 1988.

DuPont said there are two things wrong with education. First, he said, it's not good enough. "Mediocrity is not good enough in America," he said.

Secondly, he said the quality of education lies in competition. He and Kemp both stressed the idea of tax credits for private education and creating stronger competition between public and private schools.

Kemp called for a return to the ABC's — accountability, basics and character — in the classroom. He called for classrooms to return to traditional American values and for a return to the basics, especially English, in education.

He also said there was too much emphasis on style, not substance, among today's educators.

Both DuPont and Kemp tried to divorce themselves from the educational cutbacks associated with the Reagan administration.

"I would not have pushed for that size ($12 billion) cut," Kemp said.

PARTY ANIMALS

830-1823

Balloons Delivered in Costumes

Gorilla - Grams
Gator - Grams
Penguin for Hire

BEAU'S

Night Club
presents

WEDNESDAY NIGHT THE LADIES ZOO!

The Pony Bar

with the Coldest Pony Bottles in Town!

Just .75 each!

With .25 Draft Beer and .50 Wine!

$1.25 Domestic, $1.50 Premiums.

$1 Schnapps and Tequila Shots.

Featuring The Jammie JEFF DIAMOND!

Spinning the Hottest Dance Music in Eastern N.C.

So, c'mon out and get you some Jungle Love from The Zoo at Eastern N.C.'s No. 1 Smokin' NightClub, Beau's...of course!! Doors open at 9 o'clock. 18 yr. olds are welcome.

Phone: 756-6401

Located in the Carolina East Centre.

The East Carolinian

Serving the East Carolina campus community since 1925

James F. J. McKee, Director of Advertising

Advertising Representatives

Anne Leigh Mallory James Russo Shari Clemens

Pete Fernald Maria Bell

DISPLAY ADVERTISING

MONTHLY RATES

0-49 Columns inches.....	$4.25
50-99.....	4.15
100-149.....	4.05
150-199.....	3.95
200-249.....	3.85
250 and above.....	3.75

COLOR ADVERTISING RATES

(Charge in Addition to Regular Space Rate)
One color and black.....$90.00
Two colors and black.....155.00

Inserts

5,000 or less.....	.06 each
5,001-10,000.....	.055 each
10,001-12,000.....	.05 each

BUSINESS HOURS:

Monday - Friday

10:00-5:00 P.M.

PHONES.....	757-6366
	757-6557
	757-6558
	757-6309

WELCOME BACK ECU students!

IN OIL OR WATER
Kroger Tuna
6.5 Oz. Can
39¢
LIMIT 2 WITH $10 ADD'L PURCHASE

ASSORTED FLAVORS
Big K Soft Drinks
2 Ltr. NRB
49¢

KROGER
All Meat Wieners
12 Oz. Pkg
99¢

PREMIUM QUALITY
2-PLY PAPER
Swansoft Towels..... Roll 39¢

RED, RIPE
Salad Tomatoes... Lb. 58¢

KROGER
HOTDOG OR Hamburger Buns.... 12 Ct. Pkgs $1

GOLDEN, RIPE
Dole Bananas
Lb. 33¢

ICE CREAM
Heath Bars
6 Ct. Box
$1.59

ASSORTED TOPPINGS
Jeni's Pizza
10 Oz. Pkg
99¢

WISHBONE (INCLUDES 2 BREAST, 2 DRUMS, 2 THIGHS, 2 WINGS AND 6 ROLLS)

8-Pc. Fried Chicken
Ea. $3.99

REGISTER TO WIN
A PAIR OF TICKETS
TO PIRATE FOOTBALL!
2-Pairs to be given away for each home game

KROGER
CHEESE FOOD
American Singles
12 Oz. Pkg
99¢

Bienvenidos Amigos

Open 7 days for Lunch & Dinner

HUNGRY PIRATE SPECIAL
SERVED 2-5 DAILY

$2.95

DINNER SPECIALS $5.95
INCLUDES DESSERT
SERVED SUN. THRU THURS
AFTER 5 PM

LUNCH SPECIALS $3.95
SERVED MON.-FRI.
11 AM TILL 3 PM

Home and Prices Effective thru Sat. September 13, 1987.
Copyright 1987 Kroger Sav-on. Quantity Rights Reserved. None Sold To Dealers.
Copyright 1986 Kroger Sav-on. Quantity Rights Reserved. None Sold To Dealers.

Kroger Sav-on Feel the Difference...
Go Krogering

OPEN 24 HOURS EVERYDAY
600 Greenville Blvd. - Greenville

How to avoid

What is stress and depression and what can be done to avoid them? Stress is your body's response to any demand. A certain amount of stress may be helpful, for example, by helping you get a paper written on time or by doing well in a competition. Too much stress can make you uncomfortable and can shorten your life.

Health Column

By MARY ELESIA-ADAMS

Signs of stress include aches — especially headaches, neck aches, and backaches — "nervous stomach," diarrhea, chest pains, grouchiness, eating and drinking too much or too little, inability to sit still or concentrate, insomnia, and having vague fears about known or unknown events.

Sleep at least 6-8 hours. Sleep helps the body itself. Exercise, such as walking, running, and swimming, reduces tension and mental alertness. Your reaction to stress increases feelings of tension, down on sugar, salt, food, and caffeine.

Spend time alone. Give yourself a chance and focus on your friends as sounding off daily experience can be relaxing at the same time. Courses in time stress reduction benefit from the help they can help you live back into peace. Depression is a balance, feelings of emptiness or loneliness and may cause

Spangler asks

(AP) — University of North Carolina System President C.D. Spangler, harshly criticizing the current curriculum, says the state should lengthen the school year, make the Scholastic Aptitude test mandatory and tighten high school graduation requirements. "Let's turn around before we dupe another generation into thinking they're getting an education when they're really just putting in time," Spangler said Wednesday.

"We walk the wrong road for students in the lower socioeconomic strata," he said at a luncheon to welcome Charlotte's new school superintendent, Peter Relic. Relic and state Board of Education Chairman Jere Drummond reacted to Spangler's proposals with interest but without promises of support.

Spangler told more than 100 Charlotte business and community leaders that vocational education may not adequately prepare students for employment. "The most valuable employees are not skilled laborers with the tools," he said. "Students spend their precious years learning skills use a decade out."

He urged education to make high school requirements more identical to requirements to be in 1990 at University of North Carolina system schools. Every student required to complete several subjects, specific courses such as Algebra II and a language. He criticized the state-approved courses in seventh through high school, saying many of the courses were "line" courses such as math courses designed to meet the math requirement for students and

He also called for pay for the mandatory Scholastic Aptitude test.

The Student Union Speaks
Pres

GW
IN CON

Sunday, Sept. 2

Central Ca

Rain Location.

ATTIC
The Comedy Zone
WED WED
THURSDAY
AAE
FRIDAY
CHAIRMAN
OF THE BOARD
SATURDAY
JESSE BOLT
*See Thurs. paper for coupon

Beef 'n' Shaf
Corner of 5th and Reade St.
758-1857
Floats Burgers Soft Ice Cream Ask Cones
All Burgers Are 1-4 lbs.
Pure Beef, Ground Beef
Daily From Overton
Bring this ad for 10% off any sandwich selection

GROG'S
THANK YOU ECU FOR MAKING US NO. 1 FOR THE SUMMER OF '87!
Thursday
GROG'S 6th Anniversary
T-Shirt and "Grog's" On Discount All Night!

Rafter
Presents
Wednesday Night
The First Of Its Kind Dances
LADIES NIGHT
Ladies Only 8-10 PM
Guys Admitted in at All 18 Year Olds
WELCOME!
25¢ Open Tuesday - Sunday
DRAFT $1.00 Wine Coolers
Top 40 Dance Rock

Democrats celebrate the life of their party

HIGH POINT, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina Democrats gathered in a renovated warehouse Saturday to celebrate the renewal of their party and hear four of their presidential candidates expound on education, defense and the economy.

Sen. Terry Sanford, D-N.C., who conceived the idea for the Funfair as a celebration of Democratic Victories in 1986, told a forum for the presidential candidates that "just a few years ago, folks were saying the Democratic Party was dead. Do you believe that?"

The crowd of party faithful responded with a rousing "no" and waved American flags.

The challenge facing Democrats, Sanford said, is "how do we move from the twilight of the Reagan years into the sunshine of Democratic progress once again."

The seven Democratic candidates have been dubbed "the Seven Dwarfs" because of their similarities, but Sanford said they were better described as "seven blocks of granite immovable in their principals" or as "seven pillars of wisdom — they know whereof they speak."

Attending the forum, held at the Market Center in downtown High Point, were former Arizona Gov. Bruce Babbitt, Rep. Richard Gephardt of Missouri, Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee and the Rev. Jesse Jackson. Sen. Joe Biden of Delaware and Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis were expected at festivities after the forum, and Sen. Paul Simon of Illinois could not attend because of his daughter's wedding.

Hodding Carter, a commentator for ABC-TV and spokesman for the State Department during the Carter administration, said the 1988 election would be the first election without an incumbent in 20 years and would follow "eight long years" of a Republican presidency.

More importantly, he said, it comes at a time when the country has never been as divided between "those who have never had it so good and those who have never had it so bad since the Great Depression." He said the Reagan administration's goal seems to be to "comfort the comfortable and afflict the afflicted."

The candidates were asked how they would improve education in light of cuts by the Reagan administration.

Jackson said that the national attitude about education needed to be changed and that education was not a social program "but our first line of defense."

He also said the nation needs a real commitment to vocational education and education for the handicapped. "I would rather have Roosevelt in a wheelchair than Reagan on a horse," he said.

Jackson said parents must become partners in their children's education, and children must demand more of themselves by saying no to drugs, alcohol and unwanted pregnancies.

"A democracy does not guarantee success, but it does guarantee opportunity," he said.

Gephardt said his goal was that the United States have the best educated people in the world by the year 2000. He said school systems that produce better students should be given more money. And finally, he said, the president must send a message of the right values.

Babbitt said he would begin by firing Secretary of Education

William Bennett, and by concentrating more on preschool education. He said the student loan program should be expanded to include every student who needs it.

The nation needs a president who emphasizes to parents their role in education, he said. "That's how we can revolutionize education," he said.

Gore said he would "restore the federal government as a full partner" in the educational process and set clear goals, such as 100 percent literacy by the year 2000. He also urged accountability and responsibility for teachers.

Race conflicts flare up

AMHERST, MA (CP) — One of the most notorious of last school year's nationwide campus racial incidents came to a close Sept. 2 when the University of Massachusetts suspended three students involved in a black-white student brawl.

UMass officials also issued a "special message" to incoming freshmen that racism among students won't be tolerated.

Two weeks before, students from 17 different campuses met at the University of Michigan to explore ways to combat an apparent resurgence of racial tensions at scores of colleges.

During the 1986-87 school year, racial incidents occurred at the University of Maryland-Baltimore County, The Citadel, Southern California, Michigan State, Columbia, Michigan, Baylor, Tulane, Tennessee, North Dakota, Oklahoma State, Texas-San Antonio, Cleveland State and Northern Illinois, among other campuses.

The outbreaks — which followed two school years in which the number of minority-majority student conflicts increased — led the new group formed at Michigan, the United Coalition Against Racism, to resolve to publish anti-racism statements similar to the one UMass distributed to freshmen last week.

UMass announced it has not "forgotten or put the issue behind," said spokesman James Langley.

The school will train its 400-member dorm staff to enforce civility, and Afro-American Studies Professor Julius Lester is developing courses about the history of racism.

The last week of August, the local district attorney's office charged five white students with assault and rioting and a sixth with rioting following the last game of the 1986 World Series.

After the New York Mets defeated the Boston Red Sox in the final game of the series last October, a black sophomore from New York was severely beaten by white students who rooted for the Red Sox. The students charged in the incident pleaded no contest. Three of the students involved in the brawl are banned from campus for the academic year, and two others were given deferred suspensions.

UMass officials plan to beef up campus security during the week of Oct. 27, the anniversary of last year's incident. "There could be some reaction to the event," said Larry Moneta, associate director for residence education. "We may have some trouble."

Jack Kemp calls for a return to basics

Continued from page 1

George Bush and Robert Dole. Kemp and DuPont both said the absent Republicans were the real losers in the debate, and DuPont went as far as to accuse them of weakening the Republican cause. He said his party lost Senate seats in 1986 because it ducked issues, and that Dole, Bush and others had better face the issues in 1988.

DuPont said there are two things wrong with education. First, he said, it's not good enough. "Mediocrity is not good enough in America," he said.

Secondly, he said the quality of education lies in competition. He and Kemp both stressed the idea of tax credits for private education and creating stronger competition between public and private schools.

Kemp called for a return to the ABC's — accountability, basics and character — in the classroom. He called for classrooms to return to traditional American values and for a return to the basics, especially English, in education.

He also said there was too much emphasis on style, not substance, among today's educators.

Both DuPont and Kemp tried to divorce themselves from the educational cutbacks associated with the Reagan administration.

"I would not have pushed for that size ($12 billion) cut," Kemp said.

PARTY ANIMALS

830-1823

Balloons Delivered in Costumes
Gorilla - Grams
Gator - Grams
Penguin for Hire

BEAU'S
Night Club
presents
WEDNESDAY NIGHT
THE LADIES ZOO!
The Pony Bar

The East Carolinian

Serving the East Carolina campus community since 1925

James F. J. McKee, Director of Advertising

Advertising Representatives

Anne Leigh Mallory James Russo Shari Clemens

Pete Fernald Maria Bell

DISPLAY ADVERTISING

MONTHLY RATES

0-49 Column inches.....	$4.25
50-99.....	4.15
100-149.....	4.05
150-199.....	3.95
200-249.....	3.85
250 and above.....	3.75

COLOR ADVERTISING RATES

(Charge in Addition to Regular Space Rate)
One color and black.....	$90.00
Two colors and black.....	155.00

Inserts

5,000 or less.....	.06 each
5,001-10,000.....	.055 each
10,001-12,000.....	.05 each

BUSINESS HOURS:

Monday - Friday

10:00-5:00 P.M.

PHONES..... 757-6366

757-6557 757-6366

757-6558 757-6309

WELCOME BACK ECU students!

ASSORTED FLAVORS Big K Soft Drinks 49¢

KROGER All Meat Wieners 99¢

CHUNK LIGHT TUNA 39¢

PREMIUM QUALITY 2-PLY PAPER Swansoft Towels 39¢

RED, RIPE Salad Tomatoes 58¢

KROGER HOTDOG OR Hamburger Buns 2 $1

GOLDEN, RIPE Dole Bananas 33¢

ICE CREAM Heath Bars $1.59

ASSORTED TOPPINGS Jeno's Pizza 99¢

WISHBONE (INCLUDES 2 BREAST, 2 DRUMS, 2 THIGHS, 2 WINGS AND 6 ROLLS) 8-Pc. Fried Chicken $3.99

REGISTER TO WIN A PAIR OF TICKETS TO PIRATE FOOTBALL! 2-Pairs to be given away for each home game

KROGER CHEESE FOOD American Singles 99¢

CHICO'S Mexican Restaurant

Bienvenidos Amigos

Open 7 days for Lunch & Dinner

HUNGRY PIRATE SPECIAL SERVED 2-5 DAILY $2.95

DINNER SPECIALS $5.95 INCLUDES DESSERT SERVED SUN. THRU THURS AFTER 5 PM

LUNCH SPECIALS $3.95 SERVED MON.-FRI. 11 AM TILL 3 PM

Kroger Sav-on

Feel the Difference... Go Krogering

OPEN 24 HOURS EVERYDAY 600 Greenville Blvd. - Greenville

How to avoid

What is stress and depression and what can be done to avoid them?

Stress is your body's response to any demand. A certain amount of stress may be helpful, for example, by helping you get a paper written on time or by doing well in a competition. Too much stress can make you uncomfortable and can shorten your life.

Health Column

By MARY ELESIA-ADAMS

Signs of stress include aches — especially headaches, neck aches, and backaches — "nervous stomach," diarrhea, chest pains, grouching, eating and drinking too much or too little, inability to sit still or concentrate, insomnia, and having vague fears about known or unknown events.

Sleep at least 6-8 hours.

Spend time alone. Give yourself a chance to relax. Exercise. Running, swimming, tennis, mental alertness, your reaction to increases feelings down on sugar, food, and caffeine.

Spend time alone. Give yourself a chance to relax. Exercise. Running, swimming, tennis, mental alertness, your reaction to increases feelings down on sugar, food, and caffeine.

Depression is a balance; feelings of pointment or loneliness and may cause

Spangler asks

(AP) — University of North Carolina System President C.D. Spangler, harshly criticizing the current curriculum, says the state should lengthen the school year, make the Scholastic Aptitude test mandatory and tighten high school graduation requirements.

"Let's turn around before we dupe another generation into thinking they're getting an education when they're really just putting in time," Spangler said Wednesday.

"We walk the wrong road for students in the lower socioeconomic strata," he said at a luncheon to welcome Charlotte's new school superintendent, Peter Relic. Relic and state Board of Education Chairman Jere Drummond reacted to Spangler's proposals with interest but without promises of support.

Spangler told more than 100 Charlotte business and community leaders that vocational education may not adequately prepare students for employment.

The most valuable employees are not skilled laborers with the state. "Students spend their precious years learning skills use a decade out."

He urged education to make high school requirements more rigorous — identical to requirements to be in 1990 at University of North Carolina system schools.

Every student required to complete several subjects, specific courses such as Algebra II and a language. He criticized the state-approved curriculum in seventh through high school, saying many of the courses were "line" courses such as math courses designed to meet the math requirement for students and

He also called for the mandatory Scholastic

The Student Union Speeches

GW
IN CON

Sunday, Sept. 2

Central Ca

Rain Location

ATTIC

The Comedy Zone

WED WED

THURSDAY

AAE

FRIDAY

CHAIRMAN

OF THE BOARD

SATURDAY

JESSE BOLT

*See Thurs. paper for coupon

Beef 'n' Shaf

Corner of 5th and Reade St.

758-1857

Floats Burgers

Soft Ice Cream Ask

Cones

All Burgers Are 1-4-10

Pure Beef, Ground Beef

Daily From Overton

Bring this ad for 10% off any sandwich selection

THANK YOU ECU FOR MAKING US NO. 1 FOR THE SUMMER OF '87!

Thursday

GROG'S 6th Anniversary

T-Shirt and "Grog's" On Discount All Night!

The First Of Its Kind: DOLBY DIGITAL

LADIES NIGHT

Guys Admitted in all

WELCOME!

25¢ Open Tuesday - Sunday

DRAFT $1.00 Wine

Top 40 Dance - Rock

air party

Babbitt said he would begin by firing Secretary of Education William Bennett, and by concentrating more on preschool education. He said the student loan program should be expanded to include every student who needs it.

The nation needs a president who emphasizes to parents their role in education, he said. "That's how we can revolutionize education," he said.

Gore said he would "restore the federal government as a full partner" in the educational process and set clear goals, such as 100 percent literacy by the year 2000. He also urged accountability and responsibility for teachers.

East Carolinian

The East Carolina campus community since 1925
J. McKee, Director of Advertising
Advertising Representatives
Mallory James Russo Shan Clemens

DISPLAY ADVERTISING

MONTHLY RATES
1/2 column inches.....	$4.25
1/4 column inches.....	4.15
1/8 column inches.....	4.05
1/16 column inches.....	3.95
1/32 column inches.....	3.85
1/64 column inches.....	3.75

COLOR ADVERTISING RATES

In Addition to Regular Space Rate)

Color and black.....	$90.00
Color and black.....	155.00

Inserts
5,000 or less.....	.06 each
5,001-10,000.....	.055 each
10,001-12,000.....	.05 each

BUSINESS HOURS:
Monday - Friday
10:00-5:00 P.M.

757-6557 757-6366
757-6558 757-6309

KROGER
All Meat
Wiener
99¢
12 Oz. Pkg.

KROGER
HOTDOG OR
Hamburger
Buns ..... 2 ..... $1
12 Ct. Pkgs.

ASSORTED TOPPINGS
Jeno's
Pizza
99¢
10 Oz. Pkg.

KROGER
CHEESE FOOD
American
Singles
99¢
12 Oz. Pkg.

OPEN 24 HOURS EVERYDAY
600 Greenville Blvd. - Greenville

How to avoid stress, depression

What is stress and depression and what can be done to avoid them?

Stress is your body's response to any demand. A certain amount of stress may be helpful, for example, by helping you get a paper written on time or by doing well in a competition. Too much stress can make you uncomfortable and can shorten your life.

Health Column

By MARY ELESIA-ADAMS

Signs of stress include aches — especially headaches, neck aches, and backaches — "nervous stomach," diarrhea, chest pains, grouchiness, eating and drinking too much or too little, inability to sit still or concentrate, insomnia, and having vague fears about known or unknown events.

Sleep at least 6-8 hours a night; sleep helps the body to restore itself. Exercise such as swimming, running, and aerobics reduces tension and increases mental alertness. Diet influences your reaction to stress; caffeine increases feelings of anxiety. Cut down on sugar, salt, alcohol, junk food, and caffeine.

Spend time alone each day to give yourself a chance to unwind and focus on yourself. Use your friends as sounding boards; sharing daily experiences with them can be relaxing and helpful at the same time. Consider taking courses in time management or stress reduction. All of us can benefit from these programs; they can help us put our busy lives back into perspective.

Depression is a mood disturbance; feelings of sadness, disappointment or loneliness are present and may cause the depressed person to withdraw from people and activities and develop physical discomfort such as aches, pains, fatigue, poor digestion, weight loss or gain, and sleep disturbances. The person also loses the ability to enjoy life.

Depression can occur as the result of a loss — death of a loved one, the loss of a relationship or the loss of an object or dream of a major emotional meaning. Depression may also occur without a recognizable cause.

Some feelings of depression are "normal" or common; there is no need to feel weak or ashamed. Most depressed people do not attempt suicide, however, all talk of suicide should be taken seriously. Help should be obtained immediately.

If you or someone you know is feeling down and blue, here are a few suggestions:

- see a physician for a complete checkup.
- talk things over with an understanding friend.
- examine your feelings to figure out what's troubling you and what you can do.
- take a break for a favorite activity. Have some fun!
- get some exercise.
- avoid extra stress.
- DO NOT ignore him/her.
- DO NOT try to "cheer up" the person.
- DO NOT criticize or shame, since feelings of depression can't be helped.
- DO NOT sympathize and claim to feel the same way.
- TRY NOT to get angry with the depressed person.
- Recommend that he talk with a close friend, campus minister, counseling center or student health service staff member.

Spangler asks for tougher standards

(AP) — University of North Carolina System President C.D. Spangler, harshly criticizing the current curriculum, says the state should lengthen the school year, make the Scholastic Aptitude test mandatory and tighten high school graduation requirements.

"Let's turn around before we dupe another generation into thinking they're getting an education when they're really just putting in time," Spangler said Wednesday.

"We walk the wrong road for students in the lower socioeconomic strata," he said at a luncheon to welcome Charlotte's new school superintendent, Peter Relic. Relic and state Board of Education Chairman Jere Drummond reacted to Spangler's proposals with interest but without promises of support.

Spangler told more than 100 Charlotte business and community leaders that vocational education may not adequately prepare students for employment.

"The most valuable employees are not skilled laborers, but employees with the ability to learn," he said. "Students should not spend their precious high school years learning skills no one will use a decade out."

He urged education leaders to make high school graduation requirements much more rigorous — identical to admission requirements to be implemented in 1990 at University of North Carolina system schools.

Every student would be required to complete 12 courses in several subjects, including some specific courses such as Algebra I, Algebra II and a lab science.

He criticized the number of state-approved courses offered in seventh through 12th grades, saying many of the more than 400 courses were "bottom-of-the-line" courses such as "rinky-dink math courses designed to make the math requirement painless for students and teachers."

He also called for the state to pay for the mandatory Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test and SAT for all high school students.

Those tests of verbal and mathematical ability, used widely in college admissions, would provide a measure of how well individual schools were educating students, he said.

He cited equity as one reason to offer the tests — equity for students with neither the money nor encouragement to take SAT preparatory courses.

Finally, he advocated extending the school day and school year to compete with nations that have longer school years for children.

Spangler unsuccessfully made that proposal when he was N.C. Board of Education chairman several years ago. "I got in big trouble ... for trying to do this before the time was right," he said. "I think the time is nearing right now."

Drummond described Spangler's proposals as "challenging."

"I've jotted them down and we

Justice gives Reagan low rank

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall puts President Reagan at the bottom in a ranking of U.S. presidents because the justice says Reagan has allowed an erosion of civil rights.

"I don't care whether he's the president, the governor, the mayor, the sheriff," Marshall said in an interview to be broadcast Sunday on WUSA-TV. "Whoever calls the shots determines whether we have integration, segregation or decency. That starts exactly with the president."

Marshall, 79, predicted that Harry Truman "will come out on top" in the judgment of history, but that Reagan ranks with Herbert Hoover and Woodrow Wilson among the worst presidents ever.

"Honestly, I think he's down there with Hoover and that group, and Wilson, when we didn't have a chance," said Marshall, the first black on the Supreme Court.

Marshall's remarks will air in a one-hour documentary called "Searching for Justice: Three American Stories."

NEW! BLUEPRINTING SERVICES

AT

- BLUE PRINTS while you wait
- COPIES from blueprints up to 36" wide
- TRACINGS from blueprints or from copies

758-2400

Fast Copies for Fast Times

Located in Downtown Greenville next to Chicos Restaurant in the Georgetown Shops

THERE ARE TWO SIDES TO BECOMING A NURSE IN THE ARMY.

on the right means you command respect as an Army officer. If you're earning a BSN, write: Army Nurse Opportunities, P.O. Box 7713, Clifton, NJ 07015. Or call toll free 1-800-USA-ARMY.

ARMY NURSE CORPS. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

Rush Phi Kappa Tau

- ★ Increased Academic Performance
- ★ Greater Social Development
- ★ Strong Intramural Achievements

A WAY OF LIFE!

ΦKT

TUESDAY
SEPTEMBER 15
SUB NIGHT

WEDNESDAY
SEPTEMBER 16
Meet the Brothers and Little Sisters of ΦKT

For More Information Or A Ride,
Call 757-1319.
409 ELIZABETH STREET

The Student Union Special Concerts Committee
Presents:

GWAR

IN CONCERT

Sunday, Sept. 20th - 3:00 p.m.

Central Campus Mall

Rain Location: Hendrix Theatre

ATTIC
The COMEDY ZONE
WED WED
THURSDAY
AAE
FRIDAY
CHAIRMAN
OF THE BOARD
SATURDAY
JESSE BOLT
*See Thurs. paper for coupon

Beef 'n' Shakes
HOURS
Open 'Til
11pm S-Wed
3am Th-Sat
Corner of 5th and Reade St.
758-1857
Floats
Soft Ice Cream
Cones
The Best
Burgers in Town.
Ask Anyone!
All Burgers Are 1-4 lb.
Pure Beef, Ground Fresh,
Daily From Overton's.
Bring this ad for 10% OFF any sandwich selection!

CHICOS
Mexican Restaurant
ALL ABC Permits
DAILY LUNCHEON SPECIALS
$3.95 Mon-Fri 11am-3pm
The "Steamroller" is back by popular demand.
Mark Johnson-Every Thursday
beginning at 10 pm. $1 Admission
In the Fiesta Room. Join us for Drinks and Appetizers. Must be 21 or older.
521 Colanthe
Georgetown Shops

WONG HALL
CORRIGAN'S
133 EAST 5TH STREET
GREENVILLE, S.C. 27634
(919) 758-3114
Thursday Sept. 17th
The Freedom of Expression
Saturday Sept. 19th
Lahva and Leftin
SPECIALS 7 NIGHTS A WEEK
MEMBERSHIP SPECIAL
Ladies $2.00
Gents $5.00

★★★★★
Voted No.1
Hamburger
In Pitt County
Philly CheeseSteaks
Shrimp Burgers
Hot Dogs
and more .....
Corner of 5th & Reade
Downtown Greenville
New Hours
Fri. 10:30AM-10:30PM
Mon-Sat

Elbo
Wed.-Ladies Night
Plus The Elbo
Male Dancers
Tall Cans and Coolers
65 All Night
Every Night!
Fri. 4-7 FREE Adm.
FOR ALL!
Sun. LADIES FREE

CHINATOWN
EXPRESS
218 E. 5th St.
(University Arcade)
757-1183
Dinner Combo Special
4:00-10:30
3.39
Two entree
One Eggroll
Fried Rice or Lo Mein Soup
Fortune Cookie

GROG'S
THANK YOU ECU FOR MAKING US NO.1 FOR
THE SUMMER OF '87!
Thursday
GROG'S 6th Anniversary
T-Shirt and "Grog's"
On Discount All Night!

Rafters
Presents
Wednesday
Night
"The First Of Its Kind Downtown!"
LADIES NIGHT
Ladies Only 8:30-10:30
Guys Admitted in at 10:30
All 18 YEAR OLDS ARE WELCOME!
25¢ Open Tuesday - Sunday.
DRAFT $1.00 Wine 25¢
Coolers DRAFT
Top 40 Dance - Rock 'n Roll

SUB STATION II
Every Tuesday Is College Night
7 p.m.-11 p.m.
99¢ SUBS
Your Choice of Pepperoni, Salami and Cheese
Turkey and Cheese
Ham, Turkey and Cheese
Ham and Cheese
Bologna and Cheese
Ham, Salami and Cheese
Not Valid On Deliveries
60 Oz. Pitchers $1.99
11 a.m.-11 p.m.
215 E. 4th St.
752-2183

Sports Pad
LIVE THE EXPERIENCE....
POOL-DARTS-FOOD
ROCK 'N ROLL
11 AM - Until Downtown Greenville
757-3658

Introducing
the ALL NEW
ROSINA'S
PIZZA and
SUBS
303 E. 5th Street - Greenville, NC 27601
Hours: 11am Daily
Mon-Sat-Sun 4-1am
LUNCH SPECIAL
2 Slices (1 top) and 12 oz. Drink
Everyday $1.99 'til 4pm
FRI-Med. Pizza (2 top) and Pitcher of Drink
$6.99
SAT-Dollar Day
$1 Off Any Size Pizza
SUN-Buy Large 16" Pizza
Get 2 Free 16 oz. Cokes

SUSIE'S
TREEHOUSE
123 E. 5th St.
758-6678
Tuesday-LADIES NIGHT
DAILY SPECIALS!
NOT A Private Club!

KAREN'S
FROZEN
YOGURT
25¢ OFF
with this Ad Good with any purchase
exp: Sept. 30, 1987
(Across from China Town)
218 E. 5th Street

The East Carolinian

Serving the East Carolina campus community since 1925

DANIEL MAURER, General Manager
CLAY DEANHARDT, Managing Editor
JIMMY MCKEE, Director of Advertising
ANTHONY MARTIN, Business/Credit Manager
MEG NEEDHAM, Circulation Manager
MIKE UPCHURCH, Production Manager
NORWOOD MCDOWELL, Art Director

September 15, 1987

OPINION

Page 4

Bad press

ECU viewed negatively

Public attacks against ECU have been the norm rather than the exception in recent weeks, and the university's image is teetering on the brink of disaster.

That shouldn't be the case, as the university has a fine program of athletics and academics. Graduates from ECU can stand proud and match their knowledge with graduates from any other school in the state and from most in the country.

The degree, the diploma that hangs on the office wall, however, is getting a little tarnished in the eyes of many.

The trend started over the summer, when the university repealed the work permits because so many students were cheating on them, thus violating the honor code. Instead of expelling a large part of the student population (a possible result of such serious honor code violations as lying on official documents) the administration decided the petitions had outlived their usefulness, and so abolished them.

Then, in the first week of school, a present and three former members of the Pirate basketball squad were arrested on charges of theft. Enough said.

The next weekend was Biltmore Street, and an unauthorized block party was broken up by the Greenville police. The students involved charge the police with using excessive force; the police say the party was getting out of hand. There is an ongoing investigation into the matter.

And finally there was the Wolfpack Wipeout. First our football team did it to theirs, and then some fans did it to the field. Not only was it an embarrassment and a disgrace, but it opened the floodgate for written and verbal harassment of the university.

Traditionally the media and others outside of the immediate area have lambasted the university whenever even the slightest thing went wrong, while tending to ignore discrepancies at North Carolina State and UNC-Chapel Hill. This is because ECU, in improving both its academics and its athletics, is challenging the two prima donna universities and their place in the state. The fact that ECU wants a share of the recognition it deserves is unbelievable to state and media officials.

Therefore when we breath wrong, we come under attack. Take for example the News and Observer's coverage of the State incident. It was called a riot, and we were the bullies for creating $7,000 damage. As one person pointed out, when State basketball fans did $100,000 in damage in 1983, it was called a celebration.

The difference? They're State, and we're ECU.

Don't get us wrong. The wrongful treatment ECU often gets in the press does not justify the State incident. That was inexcusable and juvenile at best. It does, however, raise some serious questions as to bias in high places.

It also provides today's students with a challenge. In the minds of many it seems that for every small step ECU takes forward, events like those of recent weeks are giant leaps backward. Students, administrators, alumni, fans and faculty need to be aware of this. We have to be on our best behavior, simply because different standards seem to apply to us. It may not be fair, but that's the way life goes.

Until the attitude towards ECU changes (and it will), we need to work together to put the university's best foot forward on all occasions. We must not only be as good as State, Chapel Hill, Duke and others, we must be better.

The incidents over the last few weeks are going to be hard to live down. They happened, and we are going to have to live with that. It's time now to regroup, re-evaluate and move forward into the future. Actions like those of the last few weeks must no longer be tolerated, and the students need to serve as a self-policing force to see that they don't.

Your futures, the value of your degree and the way you are perceived are all up to you. It's a heavy responsibility, and mistakes can carry dire consequences.

Reach for dreams

In this, the age of conservatism and the me generation, it is seldom that a person is willing to take risks (legal that is) to make a dream come true. So seldom, in fact, that it's notable when someone does.

Harold Joyner and Doug Robertson are both recent graduates of ECU. While they were here, each distinguished himself in different ways. Joyner was the news editor for The East Carolinian, and he also worked for a time with the Daily Reflector as a reporter. Robertson was a staff writer here and worked with the ECU News Bureau.

When they graduated, they had a dream — they wanted to bring a newspaper to the city of Greenville. Thus, the Greenville Morning Herald was born.

It was a valiant attempt at giving Greenville something new and fresh. Working mostly on guts, long hours and very little money, the two men produced the Greenville weekly with help from friends and students, mostly on a volunteer basis, bringing it to our doors each Saturday morning. They almost made it work.

Almost. The Greenville Morning Herald published for the last time on August 29. Later that week, the dream came to an end.

The decision came as a surprise to those of us that had been watching the Herald from the beginning. Things appeared to be looking up, and advertising seemed to be increasing. Ultimately it appeared the decision was made to cut losses before Joyner and Robertson were in over their heads.

It was a valiant attempt, and noteworthy that two ECU graduates had the courage to face up against a well-established daily and the barrage of "ad magazines," which do nothing but pack advertisements into 12 small pages.

Alumni respond to State

To the editor:

As a current member of the ECU Alumni Association Board of Directors and a member of the Pirate Club since graduating in 1975, I was saddened to see an exciting ECU-N.C. State game end with the destruction of property at Carter-Finley Stadium.

Our football players gave a spectacular effort to win the game. Coach Art Baker and his staff did an outstanding job preparing the team. We have a dedicated and hard-working personnel in our athletic department and Pirate Club. The efforts of these individuals and the reputation of ECU was severely tarnished by the actions of those involved in destroying the fence, shrubbery and goalpost at the stadium.

To the students directly involved in this incident, I personally challenge you to do as I have and write letters of apology to N.C. State Chancellor Poulton, Athletic Director Valvano and Coach Sheridan. I further challenge you to enclose, as I have, a check for $25 with your letter to Poulton to cover your share of the cost of repairs. As you sign your name to this check, I suggest you thank God that you are not paying a fine to a court of law or going to jail.

East Carolina is a great university. She will give you every opportunity to prepare for your life's work and to be of service to others. If this letter applies to you, I hope you can recognize that you made a mistake. I further hope that you have the integrity to admit it and apologize. Write those letters today, and enclose that $25 check. You and ECU will be better off as a result.

David H. Englert
Class of 1975

Lost war

To the editor:

A letter to Athletic Director Ken Karr:

I must express my shock, embarrassment and disappointment at the manner in which some ECU supporters behaved at the end of the State-ECU game September 5. I feel sure that the athletic department, administration, faculty, alumni and most students share my feelings.

It is hard to believe that this disgraceful occurrence could have happened a second time. What a shame to mar such a great performance and victory by our team.

The one ACC institution that I consider most respectful of our ambitions and goals must now look for assurance that we can return to Carter-Finley Stadium and behave with the same class as our team showed.

I do hope that you and your department will take appropriate action to make sure that no ECU supporter crosses that fence or hedge at Carter-Finley Stadium unauthorized ever again. I only hope that North Carolina State University will be kind enough to give us another chance. It will be a shame for such a great rivalry and sports spectacle to end because of a few.

The greatest basketball tournament in America (The Dixie Classic) ended because of a few. Will the greatest football game in North Carolina end because of a few?

If I ever see ECU supporters behave again as I witnessed Saturday, I must seriously consider withdrawal from the Pirate Club. I can not and will not be involved in any program at ECU that does not uphold the reputation, prestige and goals of our great University.

Proper and enthusiastic support of the Pirates is a must; but destruction and defacement of property, personal injury and boorish behavior must not and can not be a part of East Carolina University.

We won the battle, but we may have lost the war.

Donald H. Smith
Class of 1957

Show class

To the editor:

After being a witness to the mayhem that followed the State-ECU game September 5, I certainly hope the students and/or the individuals responsible can somehow be identified and dealt with accordingly. Having graduated from ECU, I could not help but be totally embarrassed by the whole incident.

We're on the verge of losing a great in-state football series that has been very good for ECU. Please convey to the students via the paper that the behavior of that night hardly reflects the image ECU needs to have hanging over its head. While all the people on the field were not students, I can't help but believe that the majority were. It's quite embarrassing to be apologizing for our fan's behavior instead of talking about what a great game it was for ECU.

Let's all continue to support the ECU football team, but let's do it with some class. We have a fine school and team. Let's not tarnish both by our idiot actions.

Nat Riddick
Alumnus

Mad as hell

To the editor:

An open letter to the ECU students who participated in the riot after the ECU/NCSU game: I am mad...mad as hell... I sat there in the stands and watched what should have been a great football victory go down the tubes. I watched a small number jeopardize the future of an event which has become a tradition for ECU alumni everywhere. Our group alone had people from Florida, New Jersey and South Carolina.

Next time, if there is one, think about what you are doing and have the courage to stop. Think about the rest of us that want to be proud to be from ECU.

Gene McFarland
Class of 75

No students

To the editor:

The performance of the team, coaches, band and thousands of mature ECU fans was overshadowed September 5 by a band of immature, alcohol abusing East Carolina students in Raleigh.

I suggest the following steps to correct the situation:

1. Require the ECU Student Government Association to cancel a previously budgeted event and use the money to pay for the damage at Carter-Finley Stadium.
2. In the future, sell all N.C. State tickets allotted to ECU to Pirate Club members and offer none to students.
3. Have the ECU administration announce prior to the next game that any student caught damaging property at the N.C. State game or any other game will be permanently expelled from ECU.
4. Increase the security force for the State-ECU game and issue orders to use night sticks on the knuckles of anyone who lays a hand on the fence or goal posts.
5. Change the starting time of the 1988 State-ECU game to noon to reduce the time available for alcohol abuse.

John Osborne
Class of 1969

Campus Spectrum rules

In addition to the "Campus Forum" section of the editorial page, The East Carolinian features the "Campus Spectrum." This is an opinion column by guest writers from the student body and faculty. The columns printed in the "Campus Spectrum" will contain current topics of concern to the campus, community or nation.

The columns are restricted in content only with regard to rules of grammar and decency. Persons submitting columns must be willing to accept by-line credit for their efforts, as no entries from ghost writers will be published.

Persons interested in participating or seeking further information may contact the managing editor of The East Carolinian at 757-6366, or stop by our offices on the second floor of the Publications Building.

Government protects

By FAREED ZAKARIA
The New Republic

Graduation is over and the cap and gown are back at the rental agency. Supporting yourself in the "real world" is suddenly a pressing concern. The financial picture is even more threatening thanks to the student loans you took advantage of, which now have to be paid back.

Life would be much easier without those monthly loan payments. Is there any way just to forget about them? There is. Go work for the government.

Student loans are like any other loans. A delinquent debtor receives a series of threatening "last warning" letters from the bank or lending agency. If this doesn't work, the bank asks a court to garnish the debtor's wages — requiring the employer to transfer part of the debtor's paycheck directly to the bank.

But under the doctrine of "sovereign immunity," the government cannot be hauled into court unless it specifically gives its consent. In practice, that means that government employees' wages cannot be garnished for bad debts unless Congress specifically passes a statute authorizing it. Surprisingly, although members of Congress have occasionally introduced such bills, none has ever passed into law.

This legislative delinquency is especially absurd since student loans are generally guaranteed by the federal government, which bears the cost when borrowers don't pay up. In effect, "sovereign immunity" is preventing the government from collecting money owed to it by its own employees.

The student loan program (Guaranteed Student Loans, Federally Insured Student Loans, National Direct Student Loans) is big money. Student loans guaranteed by the U.S. government total almost $45 billion.

Twelve percent of those who received loans have defaulted; 9.6 percent are "hard-core defaulters," persisting even after collection attempts. These are both unusually high default rates, compared with other bank loans.

One reason, of course, is that banks have less incentive to pursue defaulters when the government has guaranteed repayment, including interest, in any event. (And if the lender recovers any, part of the loan, the government has ante-rebate 70 percent student loans.)

The Department of Education has pursued its aggressively. It set up a program, which is now being phased out, to help delinquent borrowers by paying off their loans with income tax refunds.

There are also defaulters who are not so lucky. They are hurt by the government's million-dollar-a-half fine for each time a delinquent borrower is sent to court.

As for federal department officials who file suits with the courts, then they pay their own bills, holding part of the employee's salary. Of course, the government will off the banks' loans its own money, but it avoids it by collecting employees' wages.

You wonder why the government doesn't directly in the loans are a dog for banks' normal profits for various fees, even to themselves the middlemen money and red.

The Education argues that it is administer such more likely to particular "pre-direct government cost-effective" the apparent budget deficit.

At present, on the government's side, the collection of $45 billion lent be part of the

Individual thought

Like a circle in a rectangle, each to be unique. Individual thought of expression.

Express yourself in The East Carolinian. Positions are now open for editors, writers, production manager and artists...

The experience, the friends, the beat.

Team effort.

THEY'RE HERE

Back By Popular Demand

Tuesday

Special

No.

6oz. BEE limited

$2.9

Includes FREE Potato FREE Sauce

West Side Sizz

2903 E. 10th Street
758-2712

Government protects salary

By FAREED ZAKARIA
The New Republic

Graduation is over and the cap and gown are back at the rental agency. Supporting yourself in the "real world" is suddenly a pressing concern. The financial picture is even more threatening thanks to the student loans you took advantage of, which now have to be paid back.

Life would be much easier without those monthly loan payments. Is there any way just to forget about them? There is. Go work for the government.

Student loans are like any other loans. A delinquent debtor receives a series of threatening "last warning" letters from the bank or lending agency. If this doesn't work, the bank asks a court to garnish the debtor's wages — requiring the employer to transfer part of the debtor's paycheck directly to the bank.

But under the doctrine of "sovereign immunity," the government cannot be hauled into court unless it specifically gives its consent. In practice, that means that government employees' wages cannot be garnished for bad debts unless Congress specifically passes a statute authorizing it. Surprisingly, although members of Congress have occasionally introduced such bills, none has ever passed into law.

This legislative delinquency is especially absurd since student loans are generally guaranteed by the federal government, which bears the cost when borrowers don't pay up. In effect, "sovereign immunity" is preventing the government from collecting money owed to it by its own employees.

The student loan program (Guaranteed Student Loans, Federally Insured Student Loans, National Direct Student Loans) is big money. Student loans guaranteed by the U.S. government total almost $45 billion.

Twelve percent of those who received loans have defaulted; 9.6 percent are "hard-core defaulters," persisting even after collection attempts. These are both unusually high default rates, compared with other bank loans.

One reason, of course, is that banks have less incentive to pursue defaulters when the government has guaranteed repayment, including interest, in any event. (And if the lender recovers any part of the loan after the government has anted up, it only has to rebate 70 percent.) In all, overdue student loans now total $4.4 billion.

The Department of Education under Secretary William Bennett has pursued loan collection very aggressively. In 1985 the department set up an "IRS Offset" program, which subtracts outstanding loan payments — sometimes over $20,000 — from the debtor's income tax refunds.

There are also plans to make defaulters pay for collection costs and to have loan delinquency hurt their credit ratings. Last year the department collected $229 million on defaulted loans the government had paid off, two-and-a-half times as much as it collected in 1984 or 1985, and four times as much as in 1982.

As for federal employees, the department claims to be creating files that will match employees' names with those of loan defaulters. Then the government can pay itself back directly by withholding part of the delinquent employee's salary — a Federal Employee Offset program.

Of course, this means that the government will first have to pay off the banks and take over the loans itself. This additional and needless bureaucracy could be avoided if Congress would simply pass a law allowing the courts to collect loans from federal employees' wages.

You wonder why the government doesn't make these loans directly in the first place? Student loans are a wonderful boondoggle for banks, which get their normal profits from the loan, plus various fees, at no risk whatsoever to themselves. Cutting out the middleman would save money and red tape.

The Education Department argues that it is not equipped to administer such a program. But a more likely explanation for this particular "privatization" is that direct government loans—even if cost-effective—would increase the apparent size of the federal budget deficit.

At present, all that shows up on the government's books are the outlays made to cover defaults and collection costs. If the government made the loans directly, that $45 billion lent to students would be part of the national debt.

Individual thought.

Like a circle in a rectangle, each of us has to be unique. Individual thought. Freedom of expression.

Express yourself in The East Carolinian. Positions are now open for editors, staff writers, production manager and layout artists...

The experience, the friends, they can't be beat.

Team effort.

Apply today

THEY'RE HERE Back By Popular Demand

Tuesday Special

No. 3
6oz. BEEF TIPS limited time

$2.99

Includes:
FREE Potato Bar &
FREE Sundae Bar

Western Sizzlin.

2903 E. 10th Street
758-2712

OPINION — Everyone's got one. Some people die for th

Other people already have, so that we can express ours.

MAKE use of your right to have an opinion. Let people know what you think. Write to the Campus Forum and the Campus Spectrum.

THE EAST CAROLINIAN is devoted to giving everyone a chance to have their voices heard. Write today. We also are conducting a search for the best writers on campus to write editorial columns about campus issues. Apply today in our offices.

WE BUILT A PROUD NEW FEELING

SAV-A-CENTER

FOOD MARKETS
The freshest way to Save

The wisest investment you'll ever make for your family begins with only . . .

FUNK & WAGNALLS
NEW ENCYCLOPEDIA
Latest Edition

Volume 1
only . . .

9¢

Volumes 2-29
only $4.99 ea.

STOP PLAIN • SELF-RISING
Red Band Flour
5 lb. bag 58¢
Limit One With An Additional $10 Or More Purchase

STOP PURE CANE
A&P Sugar
5 lb. bag 98¢
Limit One With An Additional $10 Or More Purchase

STOP THIN TRIM GRAIN FED BEEF
20-26 LB. AVG. • CUT FREE Whole Bottom Round
lb. 1.29

STOP FLAV. O-RICH
1/2% Milk
gal. jug 1.49
LIMIT ONE WITH ADD. $10 OR MORE PURCH.
ASP BRAND 1/2 OR

STOP LIMIT 1 W/ $10. OR MORE PUR. • BEAN COFFEE
Eight O'Clock
1 lb. bag 1.88

STOP FAMILY PACK FRESH
Fryer Breast
lb. 1.19

STOP LIMIT ONE WITH ADD. $10 OR MORE PURCH.
ASP BRAND 1/2 OR
Crisco Shortening
3 lb. can 1.68

STOP LIMIT ONE WITH ADD. $10 OR MORE PURCH.
KRAFT QT 99 OR
Duke's Mayonnaise
qt. 78¢

STOP THIN TRIM GRAIN FED BEEF
TOP BONELESS
Sirloin Steaks
lb. 2.69

STOP LOOK-FIT
Ice Milk
1/2 gal. ctn. 99¢

STOP LIMIT ONE WITH ADD. $10 OR MORE PURCH.
Del Monte Catsup
32 oz. btl. 68¢

STOP THIN TRIM BOTTOM OR BONELESS
Rump Roast
lb. 1.99

SELECTED CAKES
Pepperidge Farm 12 oz. pkg. 1.89

MARGARINE QUARTERS
Parkay 2 1 lb. pkg. 79¢

ASSORTED
Kleenex Tissue 175 ct. box 89¢

ORE-IDA MINI GOLD
Cob Corn 5 ct. pkg. 99¢

LIGHT N' LIVELY SELECTED
Fruit Yogurt 2 8 oz. pkg. 79¢

THIN • THICK
Huggies Diapers 20 ct. pkg. 9.89

MRS. SMITH REG. • DUTCH (26 OZ.)
Apple Pie 20 oz. pkg. 1.89

GREAT LAKES
Mild Cheddar 8 oz. pkg. 1.19

BONUS PACK • MACARONI & CHEESE
Kraft Dinner 2 8 oz. pkg. 89¢

GOLDEN DRINKLES
Ore-Ida 5 lb. bag 2.99

KRAFT REGULAR • EXTRA THICK
Velveta Slices 12 oz. pkg. 1.69

NEW OSCAR MAYER MEAT (BEEF $1.99)
Bun Size Wieners 12 oz. pkg. 1.69

STOP PEPPERONI • SAUSAGE
HAMBURGER
Red Baron Pizza
9 ea. 1.99

STOP CALIFORNIA
Jumbo Honeydews
ea. 99¢

STOP NEW CROP GOLDEN
Delicious Apples
3 lb. bag 99¢

STOP PEPSI
2 LITER BOTTLE
$1.09

RED RIPE
Salad Tomatoes 10 oz. pkg. 49¢

CALIFORNIA GROWN
Celery Hearts 8 ea. 99¢

STOP PARKAY
Margarine Quarters
1 lb. pkg. 19¢
Limit One Per Shopper With An Additional $10 Or More Purchase

STOP ASP GRADE A
Large Eggs
doz. 19¢
Limit One Per Shopper With An Additional $10 Or More Purchase

STOP AMERICAN EXPRESS
Money Orders
25¢

DOUBLE COUPONS

SEE STORE
FOR DETAILS

INSERT STORE HOURS
AND ADDRESSES HERE

PRICES EFFECTIVE SUN., SEPT. 13, THRU SAT., SEPT. 19, 1987. QUANTITY RIGHTS RESERVED

Prices Good In Greenville, N.C. At 703 Greenville Blvd.
Open 24 Hours • Open Mon. 7 a.m. • Closed Sat. 11 p.m. • Open Sun. 7 a.m.-11 p.m.

d to State

Next time, if there is one, think about what you are doing and have the courage to stop. Think about the rest of us that want to be proud to be from ECU.

Gene McFarland
Class of 75

No students

To the editor:

The performance of the team, coaches, band and thousands of mature ECU fans was overshadowed September 5 by a band of immature, alcohol abusing East Carolina students in Raleigh.

I suggest the following steps to correct the situation:

1. Require the ECU Student Government Association to cancel a previously budgeted event and use the money to pay for the damage at Carter-Finley Stadium.

2. In the future, sell all N.C. State tickets allotted to ECU to Pirate Club members and offer none to students.

3. Have the ECU administration announce prior to the next game that any student caught damaging property at the N.C. State game or any other game will be permanently expelled from ECU.

4. Increase the security force for the State-ECU game and issue orders to use night sticks on the knuckles of anyone who lays a hand on the fence or goal posts.

5. Change the starting time of the 1988 State-ECU game to noon to reduce the time available for alcohol abuse.

John Osborne
Class of 1969

Campus Spectrum rules

In addition to the "Campus Forum" section of the editorial page, The East Carolinian features the "Campus Spectrum." This is an opinion column by guest writers from the student body and faculty. The columns printed in the "Campus Spectrum" will contain current topics of concern to the campus, community or nation.

The columns are restricted in content only with regard to rules of grammar and decency. Persons submitting columns must be willing to accept by-line credit for their efforts, as no entries from ghost writers will be published.

Persons interested in participating or seeking further information may contact the managing editor of The East Carolinian at 757-6366, or stop by our offices on the second floor of the Publications Building.

Forum

Government protects salary

By FAREED ZAKARIA
The New Republic

Graduation is over and the cap and gown are back at the rental agency. Supporting yourself in the "real world" is suddenly a pressing concern. The financial picture is even more threatening thanks to the student loans you took advantage of, which now have to be paid back.

Life would be much easier without these monthly loan payments. Is there any way just to forget about them? There is. Go work for the government.

Student loans are like any other loans. A delinquent debtor receives a series of threatening "last warning" letters from the bank or lending agency. If this doesn't work, the bank asks a court to garnish the debtor's wages — requiring the employer to transfer part of the debtor's paycheck directly to the bank.

But under the doctrine of "sovereign immunity," the government cannot be hauled into court unless it specifically gives its consent. In practice, that means that government employees' wages cannot be garnished for bad debts unless Congress specifically passes a statute authorizing it. Surprisingly, although members of Congress have occasionally introduced such bills, none has ever passed into law.

This legislative delinquency is especially absurd since student loans are generally guaranteed by the federal government, which bears the cost when borrowers don't pay up. In effect, "sovereign immunity" is preventing the government from collecting money owed to it by its own employees.

The student loan program (Guaranteed Student Loans, Federally Insured Student Loans, National Direct Student Loans) is big money. Student loans guaranteed by the U.S. government total almost $45 billion.

Twelve percent of those who received loans have defaulted; 9.6 percent are "hard-core defaulters," persisting even after collection attempts. These are both unusually high default rates, compared with other bank loans.

One reason, of course, is that banks have less incentive to pursue defaulters when the government has guaranteed repayment, including interest, in any event. (And if the lender recovers any part of the loan after the government has anted up, it only has to rebate 70 percent.) In all, overdue student loans now total $4.4 billion.

The Department of Education under Secretary William Bennett has pursued loan collection very aggressively. In 1985 the department set up an "IRS Offset" program, which subtracts outstanding loan payments — sometimes over $20,000 — from the debtor's income tax refunds.

There are also plans to make defaulters pay for collection costs and to have loan delinquency hurt their credit ratings. Last year the department collected $229 million on defaulted loans the government had paid off, two-and-a-half times as much as it collected in 1984 or 1985, and four times as much as in 1982.

As for federal employees, the department claims to be creating files that will match employees' names with those of loan defaulters. Then the government can pay itself back directly by withholding part of the delinquent employee's salary—a Federal Employee Offset program.

Of course, this means that the government will first have to pay off the banks and take over the loans itself. This additional and needless bureaucracy could be avoided if Congress would simply pass a law allowing the courts to collect loans from federal employees' wages.

You wonder why the government doesn't make these loans directly in the first place? Student loans are a wonderful boondoggle for banks, which get their normal profits from the loan, plus various fees, at no risk whatsoever to themselves. Cutting out the middleman would save money and red tape.

The Education Department argues that it is not equipped to administer such a program. But a more likely explanation for this particular "privatization" is that direct government loans—even if cost-effective—would increase the apparent size of the federal budget deficit.

At present, all that shows up on the government's books are the outlays made to cover defaults and collection costs. If the government made the loans directly, that $45 billion lent to students would be part of the national debt.

Individual thought.

Like a circle in a rectangle, each of us has to be unique. Individual thought. Freedom of expression. Express yourself in The East Carolinian. Positions are now open for editors, staff writers, production manager and layout artists...

The experience, the friends, they can't be beat.

Team effort.

Apply today

THEY'RE HERE

Back By Popular Demand

Tuesday Special

No. 3
6oz. BEEF TIPS
limited time
$2.99

Includes:
FREE Potato Bar &
FREE Sundae Bar

Western Sizzlin.

2903 E. 10th Street
758-2712

OPINION — Everyone's got one. Some people die for them.

Other people already have, so that we can express ours.

MAKE use of your right to have an opinion. Let people know what you think. Write to the Campus Forum and the Campus Spectrum.

THE EAST CAROLINIAN is devoted to giving everyone a chance to have their voices heard. Write today. We also are conducting a search for the best writers on campus to write editorial columns about campus issues. Apply today in our offices.

WE BUILT A PROUD NEW FEELING

SAV-A-CENTER
FOOD MARKETS
The freshest way to Save

The wisest investment you'll ever make for your family begins with only . . .

FUNK & WAGNALLS
NEW ENCYCLOPEDIA
Latest Edition

Volume 1
only . . .

9¢

Volumes 2-29
only $4.99 ea.

FREE
2 Volume Matching DICTIONARY
With Volumes 2 & 3 of the Encyclopedia

STOP
PLAIN • SELF-RISING
Red Baron Flour
5 lb. bag 58¢
Limit One With An Additional $10 Or More Purchase

STOP
FLAV-O-RICH
1/2% Milk
gal jug 1.49
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CRISCO
Shortening
3 lb. can 1.68
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
LOOK-FIT
Ice Milk
1/2 gal. ctn. 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
SELECTED Cakes
Pepperidge Farm
17 oz. pkg. 1.89
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
ORE IDA MINI GOLD
Cob Corn
5 lb. bag 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
GOLDEN CRINKLES
Ore-Ida
5 lb. bag 2.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
PEPPERONI • SAUSAGE
Red Baron Pizza
9 ea. 1.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
RED RIPE
Salad Tomatoes
10 oz. pkg. 49¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CRISP CALIFORNIA GREEN
Leaf Lettuce
bch. 69¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CALIFORNIA
Firm Carrots
1 lb. bag 39¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
LOCALLY GROWN
Green Onions
3 bchs. 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
PARKAY
Margarine Quarters
1 lb. (4 qts) 19¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
KRAFT REGULAR • EXTRA THICK
Velveeta Slices
12 oz. pkg. 1.69
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
KRAFT
BBQ Sauce
18 oz. jar 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
NEW CROP GOLDEN
Delicious Apples
3 lb. bag 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FRESH ATLANTIC
Whole Flounder
lb. 2.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
AMERICAN EXPRESS
Money Orders
25¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
LIMIT 1 W/ $10 OR MORE PURCHASE • BEAN COFFEE
Eight O'Clock
1 lb. bag 1.88
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
KRAFT
Duke's Mayonnaise
1 qt. jar 78¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE
Del Monte Catsup
32 oz. btl. 68¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
ASSORTED
Kleenex Tissue
175 ct. box 89¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN • THICK
Huggies Diapers
20 ct. pack 9.89
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
BONUS PACK • MACARONI & CHEESE
Kraft Dinner
2 11.5 oz. pkgs. 89¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FAMILY PACK FRESH
Fryer Thighs
lb. 79¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CALIFORNIA GROWN
Celery Hearts
#8 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FRESH CELLO
Red Radishes
4 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FLORIDA
Tangy Limes
8 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
SELECT MEDIUM
Yellow Onions
3 lb. bag 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
A&P GRADE A
Large Eggs
doz. 19¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
TRIM GRAIN FED BEEF
Whole Round
lb. 2.29
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM GRAIN FED BEEF
Sirloin Steaks
lb. 2.69
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM BOTTOM OR BONELESS
Rump Roast
lb. 1.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
NEW OSCAR MAYER MEAT
Bun Size Wieners
12 oz. pkg. 1.69
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM BOTTOM BONELESS
Round Steaks
lb. 1.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CAROLINA PRIDE (BEEF $1.19)
Meat Bologna
10 oz. pkg. 1.09
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
KRAFT
BBQ Sauce
18 oz. jar 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FAMILY PACK FRESH
Fryer Thighs
lb. 79¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CALIFORNIA GROWN
Celery Hearts
#8 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FRESH CELLO
Red Radishes
4 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FLORIDA
Tangy Limes
8 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
SELECT MEDIUM
Yellow Onions
3 lb. bag 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
A&P GRADE A
Large Eggs
doz. 19¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
TRIM GRAIN FED BEEF
Whole Round
lb. 2.29
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM GRAIN FED BEEF
Sirloin Steaks
lb. 2.69
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM BOTTOM OR BONELESS
Rump Roast
lb. 1.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
NEW OSCAR MAYER MEAT
Bun Size Wieners
12 oz. pkg. 1.69
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM BOTTOM BONELESS
Round Steaks
lb. 1.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CAROLINA PRIDE (BEEF $1.19)
Meat Bologna
10 oz. pkg. 1.09
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
KRAFT
BBQ Sauce
18 oz. jar 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FAMILY PACK FRESH
Fryer Thighs
lb. 79¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CALIFORNIA GROWN
Celery Hearts
#8 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FRESH CELLO
Red Radishes
4 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FLORIDA
Tangy Limes
8 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
SELECT MEDIUM
Yellow Onions
3 lb. bag 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
A&P GRADE A
Large Eggs
doz. 19¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
TRIM GRAIN FED BEEF
Whole Round
lb. 2.29
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM GRAIN FED BEEF
Sirloin Steaks
lb. 2.69
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM BOTTOM OR BONELESS
Rump Roast
lb. 1.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
NEW OSCAR MAYER MEAT
Bun Size Wieners
12 oz. pkg. 1.69
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM BOTTOM BONELESS
Round Steaks
lb. 1.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CAROLINA PRIDE (BEEF $1.19)
Meat Bologna
10 oz. pkg. 1.09
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
KRAFT
BBQ Sauce
18 oz. jar 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FAMILY PACK FRESH
Fryer Thighs
lb. 79¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CALIFORNIA GROWN
Celery Hearts
#8 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FRESH CELLO
Red Radishes
4 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FLORIDA
Tangy Limes
8 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
SELECT MEDIUM
Yellow Onions
3 lb. bag 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
A&P GRADE A
Large Eggs
doz. 19¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
TRIM GRAIN FED BEEF
Whole Round
lb. 2.29
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM GRAIN FED BEEF
Sirloin Steaks
lb. 2.69
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM BOTTOM OR BONELESS
Rump Roast
lb. 1.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
NEW OSCAR MAYER MEAT
Bun Size Wieners
12 oz. pkg. 1.69
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM BOTTOM BONELESS
Round Steaks
lb. 1.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CAROLINA PRIDE (BEEF $1.19)
Meat Bologna
10 oz. pkg. 1.09
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
KRAFT
BBQ Sauce
18 oz. jar 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FAMILY PACK FRESH
Fryer Thighs
lb. 79¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CALIFORNIA GROWN
Celery Hearts
#8 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FRESH CELLO
Red Radishes
4 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FLORIDA
Tangy Limes
8 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
SELECT MEDIUM
Yellow Onions
3 lb. bag 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
A&P GRADE A
Large Eggs
doz. 19¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
TRIM GRAIN FED BEEF
Whole Round
lb. 2.29
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM GRAIN FED BEEF
Sirloin Steaks
lb. 2.69
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM BOTTOM OR BONELESS
Rump Roast
lb. 1.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
NEW OSCAR MAYER MEAT
Bun Size Wieners
12 oz. pkg. 1.69
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM BOTTOM BONELESS
Round Steaks
lb. 1.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CAROLINA PRIDE (BEEF $1.19)
Meat Bologna
10 oz. pkg. 1.09
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
KRAFT
BBQ Sauce
18 oz. jar 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FAMILY PACK FRESH
Fryer Thighs
lb. 79¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CALIFORNIA GROWN
Celery Hearts
#8 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FRESH CELLO
Red Radishes
4 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FLORIDA
Tangy Limes
8 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
SELECT MEDIUM
Yellow Onions
3 lb. bag 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
A&P GRADE A
Large Eggs
doz. 19¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
TRIM GRAIN FED BEEF
Whole Round
lb. 2.29
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM GRAIN FED BEEF
Sirloin Steaks
lb. 2.69
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM BOTTOM OR BONELESS
Rump Roast
lb. 1.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
NEW OSCAR MAYER MEAT
Bun Size Wieners
12 oz. pkg. 1.69
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
THIN TRIM BOTTOM BONELESS
Round Steaks
lb. 1.99
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CAROLINA PRIDE (BEEF $1.19)
Meat Bologna
10 oz. pkg. 1.09
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
KRAFT
BBQ Sauce
18 oz. jar 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FAMILY PACK FRESH
Fryer Thighs
lb. 79¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
CALIFORNIA GROWN
Celery Hearts
#8 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FRESH CELLO
Red Radishes
4 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
FLORIDA
Tangy Limes
8 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
SELECT MEDIUM
Yellow Onions
3 lb. bag 99¢
LIMIT ONE WITH ADDITIONAL $10 OR MORE PURCHASE

STOP
A&P GRADE A

Classifieds

HELP WANTED

HELP WANTED: Waitress. Apply at Franks III, Stanton Sq. Shopping Center next to Food Lion. 1/2 mile behind hospital.

ATTENTION: Beau's needs bartenders (male or female, 18 yrs. or older) and DJ's (w/ own music). Call for appointment: 756-6401.

ROOMMATE WANTED: for 2 BR apartment at Cypress Gardens on E. 10th St. Fully furnished. A/C, dishwasher. $155.00 a mo. and 1/2 utilities. Call Jennifer, 757-3984 or leave message.

TUTOR needed for Acct. 2521 and DSCI 2223. Please call Lori at 752-7396 and leave message.

DESK CLERKS: The Holiday INN in Greenville is accepting applications for positions at front desk. Experience preferred, excellent starting pay. Must apply in person, no phone calls please.

NOW HIRING: Hanks Homemade Ice Cream is currently hiring delivery personnel. Must have own car. Bring your own enthusiasm and a smile and apply today at Hanks, 321 E. 10th St. Beside Wendy's.

SOCCER COACHES and Referees needed on Tuesdays and Thursdays. $5.00 per hour. Contact Carol or Alice with Pitt County Schools at 830-4200.

BRODY'S FOR MEN has full time and part time sales associates positions for enthusiastic, fashion forward individuals. Retail clothing experience is required. Better than average starting salary. Apply in person, Brody's Personnel Director, Carolina East Mall, M-W 2-4 p.m.

BRODY'S has part-time sales associates positions for enthusiastic, outgoing individuals who enjoy working with young contemporary Junior Fashions. Good salary. Apply in person, Brody's Personnel Director, Carolina East Mall, M-W, 2-4 p.m.

MACKENZIE SECURITY is seeking students to work as part-time weekend security guards. Good Pay! Must have dependable transportation to work. MUST have telephone. MUST NOT have police record. Apply in person at 1127 South Evans Street, 758-2174.

MASSAGES NEEDED: immediately for full time and part time in Greenville and Fayetteville. Excellent Pay. Apply in person. Misty Blue's — Highway 43 South. Call 746-9997.

FOR RENT

ROOMMATE NEEDED now through December. Duplex close to campus. $132.50 a month. 1/2 util. No deposit. 758-6722.

ROOMMATE NEEDED (M/F): Private room avail. Tar River Ests. Call Sandy or Lisa 758-6950.

ONE BEDROOM SPECIAL: Tar River Estates. $150 off 1st month rent when signing a 12 month lease or the option to sign a 9 month lease. 1400 Willow St. #1. 752-4225.

TIRED OF YOUR ROOMMATE? Call your daddy then call me. One bedroom condo at Kingsdell Towers. Priced to sell. Call Bob Rains at Caldwell Banker/W.C. Blount and Associates. 756-3000 days or 355-2394 nights.

ROOMMATE NEEDED: to share a 2 bedroom apt. 5 blocks from campus. Private room $120/mo. and 1/2 utilities. Call 758-7990 between 2:30 and 4:30 daily.

RINGOLD TOWERS: Apts. for rent—furnished. Contact Hollie Simonowich at 752-2865.

ROOMMATE NEEDED: to share 2 bedroom apt. 5 blocks from campus. Private room $120/mo. and 1/2 utilities. Call 752-2310 between 2:30 and 4:30 daily.

ROOMMATE NEEDED: to share a 2 bedroom apt. 5 blocks from campus. Private room $120/mo. and 1/2 utilities. Call 752-2310 between 2:30 and 4:30 daily.

FOR SALE

PEUGEOT PIPELINE CRUISER for sale, black, in good condition. 758-6654.

ELECTROLYSIS (permanent removal of unwanted hair) Big Barbara Ventes. People who understand electrolysis will not wax, tweeze or use electronic tweezers or any other temporary method. Isn't it time to try the permanent method. Call 830-0962 for free consultation.

ECU - California Tanning Today for the Best TAN in TOWN—Quality Tanning with Special Discounts JUST FOR YOU! 608 Suite A, Arlington Blvd. 355-7858.

ECU - Want to keep that bronze you worked all summer to get? Visit California Tanning Today & see the difference! Experience the Best TAN in Town—Special Discounts JUST FOR YOU! 355-7858.

GOVERNMENT HOMES: Delinquent tax property. Repossessions. 805-687-6000 Ext. L-1166.

NEED TYPING? Call Cindy - 757-0398. Call anytime after 5:00 p.m. Low rates include: proofreading, spelling and grammatical corrections; professional service. 10 years experience. IBM Typing.

FOR SALE: Dorm refrigerator. Sears 2.5 Cubic ft., excellent condition, asking $85, call Holly, daytime - 551-2772.

CARS SELL for $155 (average)! Also surplus jeeps, trucks, etc. Now Available Your area. Info 805-687-6000 Ext. S-77.

DISK JOCKIE: The imitations are simply that. TRASHMAN DJ service. Golden grooves/body movers, new wax, new wave, top 40, any mixer, social, Bar Mitzpha, pool party, etc. contact 752-3587. Having a party and need a DJ?

WORD PROCESSING AND PHOTOCOPYING SERVICES: We offer typing and photocopying services. We also sell software and computer diskettes. 24 hours in and out. Guaranteed typing on paper up to 20 hand written pages. SDF Professional Computer Services, 106 East 3rd Street (Beside Cubbies) Greenville, N.C. 752-3694.

PICK UP AND DELIVERY of term papers, theses, resumes to be typed. IBM wordprocessing by professional with 13 years experience. Letter Quality print and professional editing. Call Nanette in Grifton at 1-524-5241. Cheap call the best service!

NEED A DJ for your next party? Play top 40 and dance. I'll beat Morgan or any other DJ's price. Call Mark at 752-4251.

IS IT TRUE You Can Buy Jeeps for $44 through the U.S. government? Get the facts today! Call 1-312-742-1142 Ext. 5271.

PERSONALS

INTER VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP: Please join US! Wednesday Nights in Spigitt 129 at 7:00 p.m. Fun, Fellowship, Food, Teaching.

STRIPPERS - STRIPPERS - PI KAPPA PHI RUSH: Tues. night, Sept. 15th at the Rotary Club. Also see 180 proof for some kick-ass Rock and Roll.

ATTENTION all partygoers. Thanks for making our Sack the Pack party a success. We had a blast. Sigma Tau Gamma.

ATTENTION all perspective pledges. Tonight Sigma Tau Gamma is having Casino Night. Come on out and get into the action. You may even win a prize.

ZBT LITTLE SISTERS: Congratulations to our new officers: V.P. Krista Burnette, Secretary Stacy Kahn, and Pledge Trainers Julie Dawkins and Amy Tharrington. LETS make this one a good one! N.P.

PIKA'S: Shoulder-to-shoulder on a bus with Pika's and AZD's. Laughter and good times were sure to be. We weren't surprised, when we had the time of our lives. So Thank you Pika's - We Love You! Love, the AZD's.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON: Happy Hour every Wed. night at Tequila Bar. Come Party w/ the Sig Eps.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI: Happy Hour every Thursday at Tequila Bar. Come Party w/ the Alpha Sigs.

CONGRATULATIONS to Chi Omega's New Pledges! We love ya! The Sisters of Chi Omega.

TO ALL 1987 RUSH COUNSELORS: Ya'll are great! You really did a terrific job and I hope we can all get together soon & visit Sub Station II. Thanks for everything. -Shari

CAM & PAULA: Congratulations on a terrific job during Rush. We're all so proud of you. Love, your sisters and new pledges.

ATTENTION ALL STUDENTS! The Student Union's Travel Committee is meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 16 at 4 p.m. at Mendenhall Student Center. Everyone is welcome so get involved with travel. Call 757-6611 for the room.

EVERYONE, BASKETBALL BLOWOUT to support the Ronald McDonald House—be around the Student Store Sept. 23-25. You may win $100! Sponsored by Panhellenic and IFC.

AZD: Congratulations to the new pledges of Alpha Xi Delta's Beta NU Pledge class.

ZTA's: Pref Nite was a blast from what we remember. Congratulations to the Zeta Pledges, welcome to Greek life. Thursday nite was a taste of things to come when you party with the men of Theta Chi.

GUYS, who could of asked for more, let's do it again real soon - and by the way "Good job on the floor!" Love, The Sigmas.

KA's: We could definitely say that on Sept. 3rd we surely did it up right, for the Sigmas and KA's reunited again for the most awesome pre nite. With the best pledges and great group of.

KA's and LAMBDA CHI's: Thanks for the most memorable trip to the State game. We had a great time! Love, The Sigmas.

CONGRATULATIONS to the following new pledges of Sigma Sigma Sigma: Nicole Adams, Janie Barr, Dana Bennett, Lisa Bianci, Shelly Brady, Angie Camp, Kristen Chambers, Laura Dupree, Elizabeth Ellis, Mary Jo Gondek, Noeue Hogan, Katherine Horne, Susanna Hudson, Jenkie Joyce, Kimberly Kayes, Kathy Kinley, Leah Lassiter, Blair Matthews, Mia McCoy, Nancy Midgett, Dawn Miller, Dotty Pivec, Kelly Pleasants, Katherine Porter, Stephanie Quinn, Verdery Ransome, Kathryn Ray, April Rumley, Daryl Schiano, Kathryn Sepenzis, Kelly Sloan, Stacey Stone, Lisa Trendennick, and Lisa Wells. We love you!! The Sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma.

TO THE BLONDE BABE in 303 RINGGOLD: You are terrific, I've been watching you - But what is your name? YSA.

RHONDA: Thanks for all of your support. I'm here if you need anything. Proud to be an Alpha Phi (pledge)! Love ya, Sarah.

HAYES - You are a MANIAC! These last couple of weeks have been great at the House. Keep that ball rolling! Proud of Ya Little Bro. SEMA!.

ATTENTION ALL MALES: Don't Forget, Tonight is Sub night at the Phi Tau House. Come by tomorrow night to see the Best Little Sister organizations left on campus.

ZBT RUSH: Check out the Smallest Fraternity on campus, tonight and Wednesday 8:00-11:00.

ZBT RUSH: Tonight at Rosina's Pizza and Wednesday at 2401 E. 3rd Street, Apt. D 8:00-11:00.

ZBT LITTLE SISTER RUSH: Meet the Little Sisters of ZBT Thursday night 8:00-11:00 at 2401 E. 3rd Street, Apt. D.

ZETAS: Thanks for a job well done during rush. A special thanks to Kim, Wendy, Sally, Elena, Joyce, Scotta, Melanie, Tonia, Ann, Kris K. and Jodi. You all did a great job! Marica, your best little sister. Love you all. You ALL Are The Best! ZLAM, CRINA.

DELTA ZETA: A little late but definitely not forgotten. Hey Alpha Sigs - Party till we didn't recall wasn't hard to do but now that it's all over we're psyched to do it again with you! Shred it right, boys!

DID YOU READ ART'S PERSONAL? If so, call the Central Ticket Office at 757-6611, ext. 266, for a chance to win free tickets for the N.C. Shakespeare Festival production of A Midsummer Night's Dream. Be sure to mention one of the characters in the ad, and leave your name and phone number. All entries must be in by 6:00 p.m. Tuesday, September 22nd. The Drawing will be held at 9:00 a.m. Wednesday, September 23rd. You need not be present to win.

ART IS DESPERATELY SEEKING SOLUTION! Hermia is supposed to marry Demetrius, but she wants to marry Lysander. On the other hand, Helena has the hots for Demetrius, but he desires Hermia. The whole thing is all "Plucked" up. What will I do? Meet me at Wright Auditorium for A Midsummer Night's Dream, Wednesday, September 23rd, at 8 p.m. signed, 100% Natural "Art".

ALPHA OMICRON PI: Congratulations to the new pledges of Alpha Omicron Pi. We love you! The sisters of Alpha Omicron Pi.

HAPPY HOUR: Come join the Sigmas and everybody else at Pantana Boobies Tues. Sept. 15. Free nacho bar and $1.00 Schnapp!

KAPPA ALPHA PSI would like to sincerely thank all students who participated in last weekend's activities at the W.I.I. and the Cultural Center. The Nupes.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI little sister rush September 22 and 23. Be there!

THE OMEGA PSI PHI Fraternity, Inc. will have a party at the Cultural Center on Friday, Sept. 18 from 9:00 p.m. to 2:00 a.m.

See CLASSIFIEDS, Page 7

YES!

There is an Apostolic Church near Campus
One Block diagonally behind the Crows Nest!
Greenville United Pentecostal Church
ACTS 2:38
Pastor: Ron Lappin 757-1834

Cooperative Education

Would you like to spend the winter and spring in Florida? Walt Disney World, the leader in the entertainment industry, will be on campus to recruit students for spring semester. Students from all majors are encouraged to participate. Merchandise, food and attractions, among other positions, are available. Representatives will be at ECU on Sept. 29 and 30. Contact the office of Cooperative Education in the Rawl Building for further details.

Baptist Student Union

The BSU invites you to worship with us every Thurs. evening at 7 p.m. Also, on Mondays we offer a home-cooked meal starting at 5:30 p.m. for the cost of $2. It's a time of fellowship and fun. It is an informal type worship—so come as you are!

Phi Sigma Pi

Do you have a 3.30 or higher overall GPA and have completed between 32 and 96 credit hours? Then Phi Sigma Pi National Honor (co-ed) Fraternity could be for you. Come to our Smoker on Sept. 22 at 7:30 p.m. in room 118 of the Biology building.

Coral Reef Dive Club

Contact Rob or Glenn at 752-4399 for information about joining the Coral Reef Dive Club.

Student Homecoming Committee

Nominations for Homecoming Queen 1987 are now being accepted. Organizations should send their candidates name and phone number to Leslie Colson, Student Homecoming Committee, Taylor/Slaughter Alumni Center, ECU Campus.

Business Students

AMA speaker Mark Rosenberg, Founder of East Coast Creative Design in Rawl/Browning Room Sept. 15th, 3:30 (Tues.).

Gospel Choir

The ECU Gospel Choir will host a talent show on Sept. 15, at 7:00 p.m. in Jenkins Auditorium. Admission is $1 and will support the choir.

Classified

Continued from page 6

LACROSSE: There will be a players meeting today for all interested in playing fall Lacrosse. Memorial Gym downstairs at 4:00. If you can't attend, call Chris 757-0305.

DELTA ZETA: We would like to wish our Beta Pi Pledges good luck on a raging semester! Lorraine Andre, Maggie Cornwell, Jennifer Carpenter, Karen Cope, Kristen Eakes, Trish Frazier, Tricia Gough, Jennifer Journeagan, Melinda Lentine, Kathie Melale, Marnie McKee, Charlotte Moffitt, Robin Morrison, Karen Prevost, Melanie Queen, Lizzy Rand, Melissa Richardson, Stephanie Ryan, Tanva Smythe, Laurie Sodano, Diane Spencer, Lori Stephenson, Shelley Summer, Kathie Ulrich, and Melinda Walker. We're excited about having each one of you as our future sisters.

KAPPA SIGS: What a night! Need We Say More? Thanks for a memorable pre nite! Love, The sisters and pledges of Alpha Omicron Pi.

KELLY WALKER: We just wanted to let you know that you did a remarkable job with rush and we appreciate your patience with all of us. We love you! The Sigmas.

FREE: All you need is Phi Rush Beach, the house, Sam's Party, Dress for it.

PI KAPPA PHI: Come out to the Drive and get a Roll with ECU's proof, who made 7th Annual Toga.

LOST: Guy's car, call 752-7253. AKA.

HOLD OUT for Little Sister.

ATTENTION: All Your 1985-86 year picked up at the Publications Building.

HAPPY HOUR: and everybody's Sept. 15. Free Schnapp!

NORTHSIDE SEA

All Types of Fresh Sea

Scallops

Softshell Crabs

Crab Legs

All Sizes of Shrimp

10% discount on any seafood with ECU-I.D. and this cou

108 East Gum Road

(Turn right off North

Green Street, 1 mile past

Bridge by East Coast Roofing)

Hillcrest Lane

Memorial Drive 756-

FALL Leagues Are Forming!

Bowl One Game and Re Another Game FREE This Coupon.

Limit 1 Coupon Per Pe

"CLIVE BARKER PROVES HE'S THE NEW HORROR KING OF MOVIEMAKERS"
—Bill Harris, At The Movies

"THE BEST SLAM-BANG, NO-HOLDS-BARRER, SCARE-THE-...-OUT-OF-YOU HORROR MOVIE FOR QUITE A WHILE."
—Screen International

"I HAVE SEEN THE FUTURE OF HORROR AND HIS NAME IS CLIVE BARKER."
—Stephen King

HELLRAISER

He'll tear your soul apart.

NEW WORLD PICTURES IN ASSOCIATION WITH CINEMARQUE ENTERTAINMENT BV PRESENTS
A FILM FUTURES PRODUCTION A FILM BY CLIVE BARKER HELLRAISER STARRING ANDREW ROBINSON
CLARE HIGGINS AND INTRODUCING ASHLEY LAURENCE MUSIC BY CHRISTOPHER YOUNG EXECUTIVE PRODUCERS DAVID SAUNDERS CHRISTOPHER WEBSTER AND MARK ARMSTRONG PRODUCER CHRISTOPHER FIGG WRITTEN AND DIRECTED BY CLIVE BARKER

RESTRICTED
CINECISE
NEW WORLD PICTURES

STARTS EVERYWHERE FRIDAY, SEPT. 18

KΣ

KΣ

The Kappa Sigma Fraternity Welcomes The New Pirates To East Carolina University

The East Carolina University Chapter of The Kappa Sigma Fraternity Provides An Excellent Opportunity For Athletic, Leadership, and Scholastic Advancement

* Also Famous For The Biggest and Best Parties On Campus *

Sept., 14th - 16th at 9:00 p.m. Come by and see the finest house on campus.

Located 700 East 10th Street, Beside Darryl's

RUSH KE STYLE IN THE FALL

KΣ

KΣ

Announcements

ONDE BARE IN 303
You are terrific, I've been
But what is your name?

anks for all of your sup-
you need anything. Proud
Phi (pledge)! Love ya, are a MANIAC! These last ks have been great at the at ball rolling! Proud of Ya
AI!

ALL MALES - Don't For-Sub night at the Phi Tau to tomorrow night to see sister organizations left on back out the Smallest Frasion, tonight and Wednes-tonight at Rosina's Pizza

2401 E. 3rd Street, Apt.

SISTER RUSH: Meet the
EST Thursday night 8:00-
3rd Street, Apt. D

for a job well done during
thanks to Kim, Wendy,
Scott, Melanie, Tonia,
Bodi. You all did a great the best little sister. I love
LL. Are The BEST! ZLAM.

A little late but definitely Alpha Sigs - Partying
all night long! We're so happy we're psyched to do it. Shared it right, boys!

YES!

There is an Apostolic Church
near Campus
The Block diagonally behind the
Crows Nest!

Greenville United Pentecostal Church
ACTS 2:38
Pastor: Ron Lappin 757-1834

KΣ
Sigma Fraternity
The New Pirates
To
East
Carolina
University

a University Chapter of
na Fraternity Provides
portunity For Athletic,
Scholastic Advancement

us For The Biggest
ties On Campus *

16th at 9:00 p.m.
see the finest house
campus.

th Street, Beside Darryl's

LE IN THE FALL

KΣ

DID YOU READ ART'S PERSONALS?
If so, call the Central Ticket Office at 757-6611, ext. 266, for a chance to win free tickets for the N.C. Shakespeare Festival production of A Midsummer Night's Dream. Be sure to mention one of the characters in the ad, and leave your name and phone number. All entries must be in by 6:00 p.m. Tuesday, September 22nd.
The Drawing will be held at 9:00 a.m.
Wednesday, September 23rd. You need not be present to win.

ART IS DESPERATELY SEEKING SOLUTION! Hermia is supposed to marry Demetrius, but she wants to marry Lysander. On the other hand, Helena has the hots for Demetrius, but he desires Hermia. The whole thing is all "Packed" up. What will I do? Meet me at Wright Auditorium for A Midsummer Night's Dream, Wednesday, September 23rd, at 8 p.m. signed, 100% Natural "Art".

ALPHA OMICRON PI: Congratulations to the new pledges of Alpha Omicron Pi.
We love you! The sisters of Alpha Omicron Pi.

HAPPY HOUR: Come join the Sigmas
and everybody else at Pantana Bobs Tues.,
Sept. 15. Free nacho bar and $1.00
Schnapps!

KAPPA ALPHA PSI would like to sincerely thank all students who participated in last weekend's activities at the Wiz II and the Cultural Center. The Nupes.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI little sister rush
September 22 and 23. Be there!

THE OMEGA PSI PHI Fraternity, Inc. will have a party at the Cultural Center on Friday, Sept. 18 from 9:00 p.m. to 2:00 a.m.

See CLASSIFIEDS, Page 7

Cooperative Education

Would you like to spend the winter and spring in Florida? Walt Disney World, the leader in the entertainment industry, will be on campus to recruit students for spring semester. Students from all majors are encouraged to participate. Merchandise, food and attractions, among other positions, are available. Representatives will be at ECU on Sept. 29 and 30. Contact the office of Cooperative Education in the Rawl Building for further details.

Baptist Student Union

The BSU invites you to worship with us every Thurs. evening at 7 p.m. Also, on Mondays we offer a home-cooked meal starting at 5:30 p.m. for the cost of $2. It's a time of fellowship and fun. It is an informal type worship—so come as you are!

Phi Sigma Pi

Do you have a 3.30 or higher overall
G.P.A. and have completed between 32 and 96 credit hours? Then Phi Sigma Pi National Honor (co-ed) Fraternity could be for you. Come to our Smoker on Sept.
22 at 7:30 p.m. in room 103 of the Biology building.

Coral Reef Dive Club

Contact Rob or Glenn at 752-4399 for information about joining the Coral Reef Dive Club.

Student Homecoming Committee

Nominations for Homecoming Queen
1987 are now being accepted. Organizations should send their candidates name and phone number to Leslie Council - Student Homecoming Committee, Taylor/Slaughter Alumni Center, ECU Campus.

Business Students

AMA speaker Mark Rosenberg
Founder of East Coast Creative Design in Rawl Browning Room Sept. 15th, 3:30
(Tues.).

Gospel Choir

The ECU Gospel Choir will host a talent show on Sept. 15, at 7:00 p.m. in Jenkins Auditorium. Admission is $1 and will support the choir.

Alpha Phi Alpha

The brothers of the Eta Nu Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc. invite all students to THE JAM of the year Thurs.
Sept. 17 at the Unlimited Touch Night Club, 1311 5th St. Freshmen and all students with ECU i.d. admitted for $1, 10 p.m. to 2 a.m.

National Teachers Exam

The National Teacher Examinations —
Core Battery Tests — will be offered at ECU on Sat., Oct. 24, 1987. Application blankets may be obtained from the Testing Center, Room 105, Speight Building. ECU and must be postmarked no later than Sept. 10, 1987.

Intramural Services

Two central campus, one west campus, and one graduate student needed to be Campus representatives for the Intramural Advisory Council. Apply at 204 Memorial or contact Nancy Mize at 757-6397.

Earth Sciences

Sigma Gamma Epsilon presents "Depositional Environments of Miocene Sediments from the North Carolina Continental Shelf," by Dr. Scott W. Snyder, Dept. of Geology, East Carolina University, on Sept. 17, at 3:00 p.m. in Graham Bldg. rm.
301.

Phi Beta Sigma

There will be an interest meeting at 7:00 p.m. in Room 221 Mendenhall Student Center on Thursday Sept. 17, 1987.

Campus Crusade for Christ
"Prime Time" is sponsored by Campus Crusade for Christ. These meetings of fellowship will occur every Thurs. evening at 7:00 p.m. in Brewster C-103.

Andre' Kole

Andre' Kole, a world renowned illusionist, will appear in Wright Auditorium
Sept. 29th at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are on sale at Mendenhall - $2 for students, $5 for non-students.

Gospel Choir

The cut-off date for membership to the ECU Gospel Choir is Sept. 22.

Classifieds

Continued from page 6

LACROSSE: There will be a players meeting today for all interested in playing Lacrosse. Memorial Gym downstairs at 4:00. If you cannot attend, call Chris, 757-0305.

DELTA ZETA: We would like to wish our Beta Pi Pledges good luck on a raging semester! Lorraine Andre, Maggie
Cornwall, Jennifer Carpenter, Karen
Cope, Kirsten Eakes, Trish Frazier, Tricia
Gough, Jennifer Jonegan, Melinda
Lentini, Kathie McIale, Narmes McKee,
Charlotte Moffitt, Robin Morrison, Karen
Prevost, Melanie Queen, Lizzy Rand,
Melissa Richardson, Stephanie Ryan,
Tanya Smythe, Laurie Sodano, Diane
Spencer, Lori Stephenson, Shelley
Sumner, Kathie Ulrich, and Melinda
Walker. We're excited about having each one of you as our future sisters.

KAPPA SIGS: What a night! Need We Say More? Thanks for a memorable pref night! Love, The sisters and pledges of Alpha Omicron Pi.

KELLY WALKER: We just wanted to let you know that you did a remarkable job with rush and we appreciate your patience with all of us. We love you! The Sigmas.

SHEILA: The Producers will be playing our song at the Attic Fri. night. Meet me at the 5th St. entrance at 10:00. S.H.E.

KAPPA SIGS: What a night! Need we say more? Thanks for an eventful pref night! Let's do it again soon. The sisters and pledges of Alpha Omicron Pi.

FREE: All you can eat seafood!! Phi Kappa Phi Rush Beach Night Sept. 16th, 7:30 at the house. Same location as the Toga Party. Dress for the Beach.

PI KAPPA PHI Rush Tues., Sept. 15th -
Come out to the Rotary Club on Rotary Drive and get a straight shot of Rock and Roll with ECU's Hottest new band - 180 proof, who made their appearance at the 7th Annual Toga Party. Starts at 7:30

LOST: Guy's class ring. If found, Please call 752-7253. Ask for Paris. Reward.

HOLD OUT for the Best! Rush Alpha Sig Little Sister.

ATTENTION All Seniors & Juniors!
Your 1985-86 yearbook is here and can be picked up at the Buccaneer Office in the Publications Building.

HAPPY HOUR: Come join the Sigmas
and everybody else at Pantana Bobs Tues.,
Sept. 15. Free nacho bar and $1.00
Schnapps!

NORTHSIDE SEAFOOD

All Types of Fresh Seafood!

Scallops
Softshell Crabs
Crab Legs
All Sizes of Shrimp

10% discount on any seafood item with ECU-I.D. and this coupon.

108 East Gum Road
(Turn right off North
Green Street - 1 mile past bridge by East Coast Roasting)

Hillcrest Lanes

Memorial Drive 756-2020

FALL Leagues Are Now Forming!

Bowl One Game and Receive Another Game FREE With This Coupon.

Limit 1 Coupon Per Person.

Assertiveness Training

Three-part workshop offered to students at no cost by the University Counselling Center. September 17, 24 & Oct. 1.
All three sessions will be conducted from 3-4 p.m. in 312 Wright Building. Call the Counseling Center at 757-6661 for Registration.

Pre-Physical Therapy

Any sophomore (or higher) wanting to make application to the Physical Therapy program for May 1988 must go to the P.T.
Department (Allied Health-Bldg. Building) to confirm eligibility to apply. Contact the P.T. Dept. by mid September to receive the P.T. admission packet and application for the Allied Health Professions Admission Test. Completed admission packet must be returned by Nov. 1, 1987. Application deadline for the AHPAT is October 16, 1987.

Intermediate Education

The first meeting for intermediate education majors - grades 4-6 - will be Mon.
Sept. 21 in Speight R312 at 4:30 p.m.

Paddling Club

The ECU Paddling Club will hold its first instructional session for canoe and kayak in Memorial Gym Pool at 9:00 p.m.
Tuesday, Sept. 15, 1987. Bring your bathing suit and a $1 fee. Regular member dues of $5 will be collected at this meeting.

WESEL

The Methodist Student Center will sponsor all you can eat meals on Wednesdays. The meal is $2 at the door and $1.50
Tuesday, Sept. 15, 1987. Bring your bathing suit and a $1 fee. Regular member dues of $5 will be collected at this meeting.

University Unions

Tickets for the Madrigal Dinners to be held December 2-5 at 7:00 p.m. in Mendenhall Student Center. The tickets are $10 for ECU students and $16 for others.
Call the central ticket office at 757-6611,
Ext. 266 for more information.

ECU Hillel

Jewish students are invited to attend the opening get together on Thurs. September 17th, at 8:15 p.m. Food will be served. Call Cantor Michael Weissner at 830-1138 for information. The event will be held at 1420 E. 14th St.

Resume Help

Career Planning and Placement is sponsoring a resume help session on Wednesday, Sept. 16 at 3:00 p.m. and Thursday, September 17 at 4:00 p.m. The first 20 to come in will receive workbooks and work sheets.

Student Unions

The Student Union Productions
Committee will hold its first meeting Sept.
15 at 5:30 p.m. in room 242 of Mendenhall Student Center. New students are encouraged attend.

Pre-Professional Health

The first meeting of the Pre-Professional Health Alliance will sponsor Ms.
Gwendolyn Lee from the Center for Student Opportunities. Refreshments will be served.

S.E.D.

The Students for Economic Democracy will be in front of the Student Store on Sept. 14-16 to enlist the help of ECU students to stop the appointment of Robert Bork and the allocation of funds to the Contras.

Interviewing Workshops

The Career Planning and Placement Service will offer one hour sessions for interviewing skills. These sessions will be held in the Career Planning room at 3:00 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 15 and 2:00 p.m. on Thursday Sept. 17 at the Bloxton House.

Phi Eta Sigma

Phi Eta Sigma freshman honor society will hold its first meeting Wed. Sept. 16 at 6:00 p.m. in Mendenhall Student Center in Room 8-B. Contact Diane Everhart at 752-9121 for more information.

Surf Club

The ECU Surf Club will hold an important meeting Tues. Sept. 15 in the multi-purpose room on the 1st floor of Mendenhall Student Center. Team trials, local in-time and to be discussed. All members must bring insurance to be eligible.

Phi Beta Lambda

Phi Beta Lambda will hold its first meeting on Wed. Sept. 16 in Rawl Bldg.
rm. 302 at 3:00 p.m. All Business and Business Education majors are invited to attend.

BACCHUS

BACCHUS (Boosting Alcohol consciousness Concerning the Health of University Students) will hold a membership drive Thurs., Sept. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in Mendenhall rm. 8F.

Minority Pre-Med.

All minority Pre-Med. students are invited to attend a welcome reception on Thurs. Sept. 17, 1987, at 6:00 p.m. at the School of Medicine, Brody 2w40. Transportation provided from Mendenhall
5:30, 5:45, 6:00, 6:15 p.m. For more information Call 551-2085, or 551-2500.

Nursing Students

Orders for nursing pins must be placed in the Student Store no later than Sept. 18, 1987 to receive your pin by Dec.

Continuing Education

The following courses are offered for the fall semester: Intro to Wordstar, 10/17;
Lotus 1-2-3 Functions and Formulas,
10/24; Guitar Unlimited, 11/3; Advance
Macros for Lotus 1-2-3, 12/5; Scuba, 12/
28; Skin Diving and Snorkeling, 12/28;
Hawaii 1988 Vacation/Scuba Dive. For more information contact the office of Continuing Education, Erwin Hall, 757-6143.

AFROTC/Red Cross

The AFROTC and the Red Cross will sponsor a blood drive Sept. 16-17 from 12:00-6:00. Rm. 244 Mendenhall Student Center. Give the gift of life.

Coral Reef Dive Club

General meeting Thurs. 9/17 at 7 p.m. in the Multi-purpose room at Mendenhall. Anyone interested is urged to attend.
Upcoming dives to be discussed.

ECU Lacrosse

There is a players meeting today at 4:00 in Memorial Gym (downstairs). If you cannot attend, contact Chris at 757-0305.

Sophomores

Attend summer camp in Fort Knox,
Kentucky to become eligible to compete for a two-year Army ROTC scholarship.
The six-week camp pays approx. $800, is an officer in the United States Army. For more information, call 757-6967 or contact Captain Mitchell at the ECU Military Science Department - room 319 Erwin Hall.

The G.O.P.

Pete DuPont (left) and Jack Kemp discuss a point during the presidential candidate's debate on education
Friday in Chapel Hill.

Both men strongly supported tuition tax credits for private schools and endorsed a return to traditional values and educational basics in the classroom.

Both also said the absence of George Bush and Robert Dole hurt the Republican party and the candidacy of the two.

PHOTO BY CLAY DEANHARDT

If only typewriters let you proofread your work before they printed it on the page.

What a mess!

You've just proofread your term paper and it's got typos, spelling errors and misplaced paragraphs.

Now, you can't hand in a paper like this.

So no matter how tired you are, you've got to retype the entire thing.

That is, unless you typed it on a Videowriter.*

The Videowriter solves all your typing problems.

Take the most obvious one:
typos.

On an ordinary typewriter it would mean a bottle of white-out and a frustrating interruption.

On a Videowriter
it just means pressing the key marked "delete." That's all. Because you type your work on a screen before you print it on a page.

It edits.

And how about those bigger problems like wanting to rearrange paragraphs?

On an ordinary typewriter you have to "cut and paste" them.

On a Videowriter you only have to press the key marked "move" and then indicate the area you want it moved to. It's that simple.

It spells.

What happens when you're typing and you come to a word you can't spell?

On an ordinary typewriter you have to stop typing, find a dictionary and look it up.

Not so on a Videowriter. Spelling problems can be corrected simply by pressing the key marked "spell."

It counts words.

If you've ever had a teacher tell you to write a thousand word essay, you know what a pain it is trying to count your words.

On an ordinary typewriter you have to do it with your finger.

But on a Videowriter you can press a mere two buttons and it does the counting for you.

It makes multiple copies.

From time to time you want a copy of what you've typed, right?

Well, if you use a Videowriter you won't have to go to the school library to look for a copier machine.

All you'll have to look for is the button marked "print." Press it and the Videowriter will make another original.

And because your work is automatically stored on a standard

3 1/2" floppy disk, you can make those copies whenever you want.

It obviously does a lot more than type.

That's because the word processing features just go on and on.

What's more, we sell the Videowriter* Word Processor for around the price of a good electronic typewriter.

And that's quite a bargain when you consider the amount of time it'll save you. Time you can spend doing the work for your other classes.

You would do that, wouldn't you?

Videowriter* is a registered trademark of North American Philips Consumer Electronics Corp.

MAGNAVOX
Smart. Very smart.

Announcements

Cooperative Education

Would you like to spend the winter and spring in Florida? Walt Disney World, the leader in the entertainment industry, will be on campus to recruit students for spring semester. Students from all majors are encouraged to participate. Merchandise, food and attractions, among other positions, are available. Representatives will be at ECU on Sept. 29 and 30. Contact the office of Cooperative Education in the Rawl Building for further details.

Baptist Student Union

The BSU invites you to worship with us every Thurs. evening at 7 p.m. Also, on Mondays we offer a home-cooked meal starting at 5:30 p.m. for the cost of $2. It's a time of fellowship and fun. It is an informal type worship—so come as you are!

Phi Sigma Pi

Do you have a 3.30 or higher overall GPA and have completed between 32 and 96 credit hours? Then Phi Sigma Pi National Honor (co-ed) Fraternity could be for you. Come to our Smoker on Sept. 22 at 7:30 p.m. in room 103 of the Biology building.

Coral Reef Dive Club

Contact Rob or Glenn at 752-4399 for information about joining the Coral Reef Dive Club.

Student Homecoming Committee

Nominations for Homecoming Queen 1987 are now being accepted. Organizations should send their candidates name and phone number to Leslie Council, Student Homecoming Committee, Taylor/Slaughter Alumni Center, ECU Campus.

Business Students

AMA speaker Mark Rosenberg, Founder of East Coast Creative Design in Rawl Browning Room Sept. 15th, 3:30 (Tues.).

Gospel Choir

The ECU Gospel Choir will host a talent show on Sept. 15, at 7:00 p.m. in Jenkins Auditorium. Admission is $1 and will support the choir.

Alpha Phi Alpha

The brothers of the Eta Nu Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc. invite all students to THE JAM of the year Thurs. Sept. 17 at the Unlimited Touch Night Club, 1311 5th St. Freshmen and all students with ECU i.d. admitted for $1, 10 p.m. to 2 a.m.

National Teachers Exam

The National Teacher Examinations—Core Battery Tests—will be offered at ECU on Sat., Oct. 24, 1987. Application blanks may be obtained from the Testing Center, Room 105, Speight Building. ECU must be postmarked no later than Sept. 10, 1987.

Intramural Services

Two central campus, one west campus, and one graduate student needed to be Campus representatives for the Intramural Advisory Council. Apply at 204 Memorial or contact Nancy Mize at 757-6397.

Earth Sciences

Sigma Gamma Epsilon presents "Depositional Environments of Miocene Sediments from the North Carolina Continental Shelf," by Dr. Scott W. Snyder, Dept. of Geology, East Carolina University, on Sept. 17, at 3:00 p.m. in Graham Bldg. rm. 301.

Phi Beta Sigma

There will be an interest meeting at 7:00 p.m. in Room 221 Mendenhall Student Center on Thursday Sept. 17, 1987.

Campus Crusade for Christ

"Prime Time" is sponsored by Campus Crusade for Christ. These meetings of fellowship will occur every Thurs. evening at 7:00 p.m. in Brewster C-103.

Andre Krole

Andre Krole, a world renowned illusionist will appear in Wright Auditorium Sept. 29th at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are on sale at Mendenhall - $2 for students, $5 for non-students.

Gospel Choir

The cut-off date for membership to the ECU Gospel Choir is Sept. 22.

Assertiveness Training

Three-part workshop offered to students at no cost by the University Counseling Center, September 17, 24 & Oct. 1. All three sessions will be conducted from 3-4 p.m. in 312 Wright Building. Call the Counseling Center at 757-6661 for Registration.

Pre-Physical Therapy

Any sophomore (or higher) wanting to make application to the Physical Therapy program for May 1988 must go to the P.T. Department (Allied Health-Bldg. Building) to confirm eligibility to apply. Contact the P.T. Dept. by mid September to receive the P.T. admission packet and application for the Allied Health Professions Admission Test. Completed admission packet must be returned by Nov. 1, 1987. Application deadline for the AHPAT is October 16, 1987.

Intermediate Education

The first meeting for intermediate education majors - grades 4-6 - will be Mon. Sept. 21 in Speight R312 at 3:30 p.m.

Paddling Club

The ECU Paddling Club will hold its first instructional session for canoe and kayak in Memorial Gym Pool at 9:00 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 15, 1987. Bring your bathing suit and a $1 fee. Regular member dues of $5 will be collected at this meeting.

WEESL

The Methodist Student Center will sponsor all you can eat meals on Wed. nights. The meal is $2 at the door and $1.50 in advance. A short program will follow the meal. Sponsored by Presbyterian and Methodist Campus Ministries. Call 758-2030 for more information.

University Unions

Tickets for the Madrigal Dinners to be held December 2-5 at 7:00 p.m. in Mendenhall Student Center. The tickets are $10 for ECU students and $16 for others. Call the central ticket office at 757-6611, Ext. 266 for more information.

ECU Hillel

Jewish students are invited to attend the opening get together on Thurs. September 17th, at 8:15 p.m. Food will be served. Call Cantor Michael Weisser at 830-1138 for information. The event will be held at 1420 E. 14th St.

Resume Help

Career Planning and Placement is sponsoring a resume help session on Wednesday, Sept. 16 at 3:00 p.m. and Thursday, September 17 at 4:00 p.m. The first 20 to come in will receive workbooks and work sheets.

Student Unions

The Student Union Productions Committee will hold its first meeting Sept. 15 at 5:30 p.m. in room 242 of Mendenhall Student Center. New students are encouraged to attend.

Pre-Professional Health

The first meeting of the Pre-Professional Health Alliance will sponsor Ms. Gwendolyn Lee from the Center for Student Opportunities. Refreshments will be served.

S.E.D.

The Students for Economic Democracy will be in front of the Student Store on Sept. 14-16 to enlist the help of ECU students to stop the appointment of Robert Bork and the allocation of funds to the Contras.

Interviewing Workshops

The Career Planning and Placement Service will offer one hour sessions for interviewing skills. These sessions will be held in the Career Planning room at 3:00 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 15 and 2:00 p.m. on Thursday Sept. 17 at the Bloxton House.

Phi Eta Sigma

Phi Eta Sigma freshman honor society will hold its first meeting Wed. Sept. 16 at 6:00 p.m. in Mendenhall Student Center in Room 8-B. Contact Diane Everhart at 752-9121 for more information.

Surf Club

The ECU Surf Club will hold an important meeting Tues. Sept. 15 in the multi-purpose room on the 1st floor of Mendenhall Student Center. Team trials, location and time to be discussed. All members must bring insurance to be eligible.

Phi Beta Lambda

Phi Beta Lambda will hold its first meeting on Wed. Sept. 16 in Rawl Bldg. rm. 302 at 3:00 p.m. All Business and Business Education majors are invited to attend.

BACCHUS

BACCHUS (Boosting Alcohol consciousness Concerning the Health of University Students) will hold a membership drive Thurs. Sept. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in Mendenhall rm. 8F.

Minority Pre-Med.

All minority Pre-Med students are invited to attend a welcome reception on Thurs. Sept. 17, 1987, at 6:00 p.m. at the School of Medicine, Brody 2w40. Transportation provided from Mendenhall 5:30, 5:45, 6:00, 6:15 p.m. For more information Call 551-2085, or 551-2500.

Nursing Students

Orders for nursing pins must be placed in the Student Store no later than Sept. 18, 1987 to receive your pin by Dec.

Continuing Education

The following courses are offered for the fall semester: Intro to Wordstar, 10/17; Lotus 1-2-3 Functions and Formulas, 10/24; Guitar Unlimited, 11/3; Advanced Macros for Lotus 1-2-3, 12/5; Scuba, 12/28; Skin Diving and Snorkeling, 12/28; Hawaii 1988 Vacation/Scuba Dive. For more information contact the office of Continuing Education, Erwin Hall, 757-6143.

AFROTC/Red Cross

The AFROTC and the Red Cross will sponsor a blood drive Sept. 16-17 from 12:00-6:00. Rm. 244 Mendenhall Student Center. Give the gift of life.

Coral Reef Dive Club

General meeting Thurs. 9/17 at 7 p.m. in the Multi-purpose room at Mendenhall. Anyone interested is urged to attend. Upcoming dives to be discussed.

ECU Lacrosse

There is a players meeting today at 4:00 in Memorial Gym (downstairs). If you cannot attend, contact Chris at 757-0305.

Sophomores

Attend summer camp in Fort Knox, Kentucky to become eligible to compete for a two-year Army ROTC scholarship. The six-week camp pays approx. $800, is the first step to earning a commission as an officer in the United States Army. For more information, call 757-6967 or contact Captain Mitchell at the ECU Military Science Department - room 319 Erwin Hall.

The G.O.P.

Pete DuPont (left) and Jack Kemp discuss a point during the presidential candidate's debate on education Friday in Chapel Hill.

Both men strongly supported tuition tax credits for private schools and endorsed a return to traditional values and educational basics in the classroom.

Both also said the absence of George Bush and Robert Dole hurt the Republican party and the candidacy of the two.

PHOTO BY CLAY DEANMAST

Classifieds

Continued from page 6

LACROSSE: There will be a players meeting today for all interested in playing fall Lacrosse. Memorial Gym downstairs at 4:00-4:45. If you cannot attend, call Chris, 757-0305.

DELTA ZETA: We would like to wish our Beta Pi Pledges good luck on a raging semester! Lorraine Andre, Maggie Cornwell, Jennifer Carpenter, Karen Cope, Kirsten Eakes, Trish Frazier, Inga Gough, Jennifer Journeay, Melinda Lentine, Kathie McHale, Marney McKee, Charlotte Moffitt, Robin Morrison, Karen Prevost, Melanie Queen, Lizzy Rand, Melissa Richardson, Stephanie Ryan, Tanya Smythe, Laurie Sodano, Diane Spencer, Lori Stephenson, Shelley Sumner, Kathie Ulrich, and Melinda Walker. We're excited about having each one of you as our future sisters.

KAPPA SIGS: What a night! Need We Say More? Thanks for a memorable pre night! Love, The sisters and pledges of Alpha Omicron Pi.

KELLY WALKER: We just wanted to let you know that you did a remarkable job with rush and we appreciate your patience with all of us. We love you! The Sigmas.

SHEILA - The Producers will be playing our song at the Attn. Fr. night. Meet me at the 5th St. entrance at 10:00 S.H.E.

KAPPA SIGS: What a night! Need we say more? Thanks for an eventful pre night. Let's do it again soon. The sisters and pledges of Alpha Omicron Pi.

FREE - All you can eat seafood!! Pi Kappa Phi Rush Beach Night Sept. 16th, 7:30 at the house. Same location as the Toga Party. Dress for the Beach.

PI KAPPA PHI Rush Tues. Sept. 15th - Come out to the Rotary Club on Rotary Drive and get a straight shot of Rock and Roll with ECU's Hottest new band - 180 proof, who made their appearance at the 7th Annual Toga Party. Starts at 7:30.

LOST - Guy's class ring. If found, Please call 752-7253. Ask for Paris. Reward.

HOLD OUT for the Best! Rush Alpha Sig Little Sister.

ATTENTION All Seniors & Juniors! Your 1985-86 yearbook is here and can be picked up at the Buccaneer Office in the Publications Building.

HAPPY HOUR: Come join the Sigmas and everybody else at Pantana Bobs Tues., Sept. 15. Free nacho bar and $1.00 Schnapps!

NORTHSIDE SEAFOOD

All Types of Fresh Seafood!

Scallops
Softshell Crabs
Crab Legs
All Sizes of Shrimp

10% discount on any seafood item with ECU-I.D. and this coupon.

108 East Gum Road
(Turn right off North
Green Street, 1 mile past bridge by East Coast Roofing)

Hillcrest Lanes

Memorial Drive 756-2020

FALL Leagues Are Now Forming!

Bowl One Game and Receive Another Game FREE With This Coupon.

Limit 1 Coupon Per Person.

If only typewriters let you proofread your work before they printed it on the page.

What a mess! You've just proofread your term paper and it's got typos, spelling errors and misplaced paragraphs.

Now, you can't hand in a paper like this. So no matter how tired you are, you've got to retype the entire thing.

That is, unless you typed it on a Videowriter.*

The Videowriter solves all your typing problems.

Take the most obvious one: typos.

On an ordinary typewriter it would mean a bottle of white-out and a frustrating interruption.

On a Videowriter it just means pressing the key marked "delete." That's all. Because you type your work on a screen before you print it on a page.

It edits.

And how about those bigger problems like wanting to rearrange paragraphs? On an ordinary typewriter you have to "cut and paste" them.

On a Videowriter you only have to press the key marked "move" and then indicate the area you want it moved to. It's that simple.

It spells.

What happens when you're typing and you come to a word you can't spell?

On an ordinary typewriter you have to stop typing, find a dictionary and look it up.

Not so on a Videowriter. Spelling problems can be corrected simply by pressing the key marked "spell."

It counts words.

If you've ever had a teacher tell you to write a thousand word essay, you know what a pain it is trying to count your words.

On an ordinary typewriter you have to do it with your finger.

But on a Videowriter you can press a mere two buttons and it does the counting for you.

It makes multiple copies.

From time to time you want a copy of what you've typed, right?

Well, if you use a Videowriter you won't have to go to the school library to look for a copier machine.

All you'll have to look for is the button marked "print." Press it and the Videowriter will make another original.

And because your work is automatically stored on a standard 3 1/2" floppy disk, you can make those copies whenever you want.

It obviously does a lot more than type.

That's because the word processing features just go on and on.

What's more, we sell the Videowriter* Word Processor for around the price of a good electronic typewriter.

And that's quite a bargain when you consider the amount of time it'll save you. Time you can spend doing the work for your other classes.

You would do that, wouldn't you?

Videowriter* is a registered trademark of North American Philips Consumer Electronics Corp.

MAGNAVOX
Smart. Very smart.

ONDE BARE IN 303
You are terrific. I've been
But what is your name?

links for all of your sup-
you need anything. Proud
Phi (pledge)! Love ya.
are a MANIAC! These last has been great at the ball rolling! Proud of Ya AI).

ALL MALES - Don't For-club night at the Phi Tau tomorrow night to see ter organizations left on

Book out the Smallest Fration tonight and Wednes-night at Rosina's Pizzeria

2401 E. 3rd Street, Apt. D

SISTER RUSH: Meet the
Tues. 8:00-9:00 p.m.
Street Apt. D

for a job well done during
thanks to Kim, Wendy,
Scott, Melanie, Tom, &
odi. You all did a great the best little sister. Have
Are The Best! ZLAM.

See CLASSIFIEDS, Page 7

There is an Apostolic Church
near Campus
The Block diagonally behind the
Crows Nest!
Greenville United Pentecostal Church
ACTS 2:38
Pastor: Ron Lappin 757-1834

KΣ
Sigma Fraternity
The New Pirates
To
East
Carolina
University

a University Chapter of
na Fraternity Provides
portunity For Athletic,
Scholastic Advancement

us For The Biggest
ties On Campus *

16th at 9:00 p.m.
see the finest house
campus.

0th Street, Beside Darryl's

LE IN THE FALL

KΣ

College student disenrolled because of job

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — The University of Rochester, bowing to pressure from the Eastman Kodak Company, "disenrolled" a student who worked for the Fuji Photo Film Company because he would have shared business classes with Kodak employees.

Kodak, whose corporate headquarters are in Rochester, is one of the university's largest corporate benefactors.

While campus officials said they kicked Tsuneko Sakai out of the classes to allow 90-some students from Kodak to "share freely" ideas in the courses, critics of the decision say it seriously compromises Rochester's autonomy, chills academic discussion, and makes an American campus into the conference room of a corporation.

"A university is not a place for secrecy," contended Jonathan Knight of the American Association of University Professors, which monitors academic freedom at the nation's colleges and universities.

"This implies that it's okay for you to do background checks on students before you let them in your class."

"It's an old story in American education," said Knight. "Wealthy, powerful benefactors bring pressure upon universities and colleges. It's manifested in all sorts of ways, but I've never heard of a situation involving a student who was accepted and then dismissed."

Sakai, a Japanese student who worked for Fuji, Kodak's main rival in the film and camera business, enrolled in Rochester's William E. Simon Graduate School of Business Administration earlier this year.

When Kodak officials learned Sakai planned to attend courses, they "persuaded the university to disenroll" him, said UR spokeswoman Jan Fitzpatrick.

Rochester then arranged for Sakai to attend the Massachusetts Institute of Technology this fall, she said.

"Kodak was very concerned that, in a classroom setting where students are encouraged to discuss real-life problems, a student from a direct competitor would pose a real threat to proprietary information," Fitzpatrick explained.

Rochester officials feared Sakai's presence would inhibit classroom discussion, Fitzpatrick said.

In a prepared statement, UR President Dennis O'Brien said he'd acted to avoid compromising "the integrity of the classroom, in which students share freely their own understanding of the subject matter gained through their own experience."

"This is truly an extraordinary case," O'Brien stated. "The objection to the individual was not a matter of ideology or normal business rivalry. It was based on the judgement that his presence at the school could present an immediate and material threat to the legitimate proprietary interests of the Kodak Company."

"In a business so fiercely competitive, even a casual conversation could result in the competitor receiving sensitive information," Fitzpatrick added.

"We didn't tell the university what to do," said Kodak spokesman Ron Roberts. "But we felt it was best to express our concerns."

Both Kodak and Rochester say the company's financial gifts to the university were not discussed during the month-long conversations about Sakai's future at the university.

Yet "money is always hanging over their heads," said Susan Calhoun of the Washington D.C.-based Council on Foundations, which tracks corporate donations.

Kodak contributed $600,000 to the University of Rochester last year, Fitzpatrick said, and "certainly is one of the most important donors to the university."

Kodak's contributions were not a "direct factor" in the decision to disenroll Sakai, Fitzpatrick said. "But because Kodak has been so generous, the university felt obliged to give a serious listening to Kodak's fears."

Nevertheless, Fitzpatrick maintained, "This decision does not represent some kind of a policy or set any precedent for the future. We're an open institution. We'll continue to observe an open attitude in our admissions policy."

Dr. Mark Frankel of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, however, said Rochester's decision to disenroll Sakai is "absurd."

"If obtaining information is his motive," said Frankel of Sakai, "there's no reason he couldn't get it without attending class."

I'm not sure why Kodak employees would be afraid of dropping information in the classroom," Frankel said.

Executives privy to sensitive corporate information, he said, should be smart enough to realize what information is sensitive and how to keep that within the company. "I'm bothered by their paranoia."

"I think the issue here is the autonomy and independence of the institution," Knight said of Rochester. "Who they may admit for study is now influenced by an external agent. The university becomes part of that external agent."

"The problem for the university," he continued, "is not the role of Kodak but its own self-conception of what should happen in the classroom. There's supposed to be frank discussion. The classroom is the one place you expect people to be candid. The student isn't the one creating the chilling effect, the university is."

"Is the university," asked Knight, "trying to protect its students, or is it trying to protect its relationship with Kodak?"

ACLU call

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration remains optimistic about Robert H. Bork's ability to win confirmation to the Supreme Court despite dire predictions from members of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

White House Chief of Staff Howard H. Baker Jr. said Sunday the 60-year-old Bork is a "distinguished jurist who is widely supported, and I'm hopeful will be confirmed. I think will be confirmed by the U.S. Senate."

Hearings on the nomination got under way Tuesday morning after two months in which conservative and liberal groups have waged an ideological struggle through news conferences, studies and letter-writing campaigns.

As the battleground moves to the place where it counts — the Senate Judiciary Committee —

Democrats on nominee to replace Lewis F. Powell. "I think that that is undement, and I think has a battle a certainly nobody can predict will or will not. Sen. Howard Ohio said Sun "Meet the Pre

Another me committee, S Conconi, D-A undecided on. "As a judge well, even that with some of judgment," D ABC-TV's "T David Brinkley

AIDS creates dile

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — A small number of the 500 hemophiliacs treated at a center in Chapel Hill have been or are reluctant to tell their sexual partners that they have been exposed to the virus that can cause AIDS, opening up a dilemma for their doctors.

"From an ethical point of view, it's clear that the partner needs to know, has a right to know, just as the hemophiliac has a right to know then he's been exposed to the virus," said Dr. Gilbert White, associate director of the Comprehensive Hemophilia Diagnostic Treatment Center at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

"At the same time, legally, there is such a thing as confidentiality," he said. "That is part of their medical record. So it's an invasion of privacy to go out and tell his sexual partner that he's positive. I'm not sure we can do that or not."

Because of contaminated blood years ago, hundreds of hemophiliacs now treated at the UNC School of Medicine could be infected with the AIDS virus.

At least five wives now have tested positive for the AIDS virus. One girlfriend of a hemophiliac also was infected during the months that the patient agonized over whether to tell his lover about his AIDS status, the Greensboro News & Record reported.

The Chapel Hill center for hemophiliacs and largest. O philiacs treated developed AIDS virus. Hemophiliacs protein deficiency blood from clo require regular massive amount much as a galli lutionary proce that concentra dried gallons of eral tablespoon acs new indepe

But by 1978, reached the nally — a disc made until 19 more years tr treatment pro blood products By then, tho philiacs were AIDS virus. Ma

Currently, W push AIDS-inf acs to notify s even though t several relat nages.

"The fact th wives come in AIDS) means t some inroads. I haven't found ally resistant (ers)."

"There is a hemophiliacs feel that it won

Pat Robertson beats George Bush in presidential straw vote

AMES, Iowa (AP) — GOP activists split over the impact of Pat Robertson's win and Vice President George Bush's third-place showing in a straw vote, but agreed the TV evangelist showed he's a force in the party's presidential fight.

"I was impressed," said George Wittgraf, Bush's Iowa campaign manager. "There was a lot of hard work and a lot of discipline. He is a serious candidate and this is another indication of the seriousness of his candidacy."

"He got a lot of respect tonight from the other candidates," Steve Roberts, a Des Moines lawyer active in Senate Republican leader Bob Dole's campaign, added after Saturday night's poll of thousands of contributors at a fund-raiser.

Beverly Tauke, a spokeswoman for Dole, called the straw poll results a defeat for Bush, because as vice president, he had more to lose than other contenders. Their comments came after seven GOP presidential hopefuls paraded before party activists in what was billed as the first time the candidates have met on an equal footing. State Republican officials conducted a straw poll among Iowans who paid $25 to the party.

Robertson got 33.6 percent of the votes cast, outdistancing Dole's 24.9 percent and Bush's 22.4 percent. Rep. Jack Kemp of New York was favored by 13.5 percent and former Delaware Gov. Pierre du Pont by 4.1 percent.

Former Secretary of State Alexander Haig, the only hopeful who didn't attend, and little-known candidates Ben Fernandez and Kate Heslop each got less than 1 percent.

GOP officials said 5,700 tickets were sold for the event and roughly 4,200 ballots cast.

"I think the Robertson people have shown tonight that they're going to be there at the caucuses February 8 regardless of the weather and that's the most significant thing tonight," said Iowa Republican Chairman Michael Mahaffey.

Those neighborhood caucuses will mark an important early test of GOP presidential strength.

Some argued Robertson has yet to demonstrate that his appeal extends beyond evangelical Christians.

"I'm still doubtful Mr. Robertson can develop an appeal among traditional Republican voters," said Charlie Black, a Kemp spokesman.

Robertson's supporters made their presence known at the Iowa State University coliseum. When he was introduced, a band sounded the theme from "Rocky" and white-shirted backers tossed straw hats and tiny airplanes as a real airplane circled the basketball arena towing a banner of support.

Nearly 3,000 of the tickets were sold in the final two days before the event, and the state party netted about $80,000, Mahaffey said.

A beaming Robertson met with reporters after the event, and scoffed at suggestions he can't win.

He cited, in addition to Iowa's early successes in Michigan caucuses to choose national convention delegates, and in the selection of state party officials in South Carolina and state convention delegates in Florida.

"I've won four out of four and if that isn't electable I don't know what is," Robertson said.

FOUR FOR FREE

Jazzercise

Bring this coupon in by 10/1/87 and receive four fun Jazzercise classes. Good for first visit only. Call 756-8302 or 1-800-422-TRIM.

CLASS SCHEDULE

TU/TH/SAT 9:15 A.M. Jaycee Park Auditorium
TU/TH 5:45 P.M. Elmhurst School
*Child care available at TU/TH Classes

CLIFF'S

Seafood House and Oyster Bar

Washington Highway (N.C. 33 Ext.) Greenville, North Carolina
Phone 752-3172

WELCOME BACK E.C.U. STUDENTS
Mon. thru Thurs. Night

Popcorn Shrimp $3.45

COMING ATTRACTIONS

Wednesday
September 16th at 8:00 p.m.
Movie:

RADIO DAYS

September 17-20 at 8:00 p.m.
Movie:

THE COLOR OF MONEY

Special Concerts Presents

"GWAR"

In Concert On The Mall
Sunday, September 20, 1987
3:00 p.m.

Rain Site: Hendrix Theatre

For more information, contact the Student Union at 757-6611, ext. 210.

SACK A PACK

of savings

ANIMAL HOUSE

Bring in this coupon and get 15% off purchase. VALID THRU 9-30-87

27858

THE FUEL DOC

Located at 2130 Greenville Blvd.
only

ANNIVERSARY SALE - SEPT. 11-20

SPECIALS THROUGHOUT THE STORE
CHECK US OUT FOR ALL OF YOUR PARTY NEEDS.

$1.09

REG. $1.39 BAG

2-Liter PEPSI® PRODUCTS 89¢

Mt. Dew, Sunkist, Diet Pepsi, Pepsi Free, & Sugar Free Pepsi Free

NUTTY BUDDY ICE CREAM CONE 3 for $1.00 reg. 50¢ each

RACK RO

BRANDED

Greenville Buyer's Ma

Memorial Drive

OPEN MON-SAT 10-9
SUNDAY 1-6

Wedn

is our

Ladies

Ladies Only 50¢ A
9:30 til 10:30 The

PL

65¢ Talls & 10

Guys in at 10:30

Tue. & Thu

65¢ Talls & 10

se of job

however, said on to disenroll information is his of Sakai, he couldn't get the class.

The problem for the university," he continued, "is not the role of Kodak but its own self-conception of what should happen in the classroom. There's supposed to be frank discussion. The classroom is the one place you expect people to be candid. The student isn't the one creating the chilling effect, the university is."

"Is the university," asked Knight, "trying to protect its students, or is it trying to protect its relationship with Kodak?"

FOUR FOR FREE

Jazzercise

Bring this coupon in by 10/1/87 and receive four free Jazzercise classes. Good for first visit only. Call 756-8302 or 1-800-422-THIM

CLASS SCHEDULE

TU/TH SAT 9:15 A.M. Jaycee Park Auditorium
TU/TH 5:45 P.M. Elmhurst School
Child care available at TU/TH Classes

CLIFF'S

House and Oyster Bar

333 E. 33rd St., Greenville, North Carolina
Phone 752-3172

BACK E.C.U. STUDENTS
Mon. thru Thurs. Night

pcorn
rimp $3.45

TRACTIONS

day
at 8:00 p.m. e:

DAYS

at 8:00 p.m. e:

OF MONEY

ts Presents

AR"

n The Mall ber 20, 1987
m.

rix Theatre

on, contact the 7-6611, ext. 210.

the Underground gathering place

ACLU calls Bork's philosophy radical

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration remains optimistic about Robert H. Bork's ability to win confirmation to the Supreme Court despite dire predictions from members of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

White House Chief of Staff Howard H. Baker Jr. said Sunday the 60-year-old Bork is a "distinguished jurist who is widely supported, and I'm hopeful will be confirmed, I think will be confirmed by the U.S. Senate."

Hearings on the nomination get under way Tuesday morning after two months in which conservative and liberal groups have waged an ideological struggle through news conferences, studies and letter-writing campaigns.

As the battleground moves to the place where it counts — the Senate Judiciary Committee —

Democrats on the panel say the nominee to replace retired Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr. faces an uphill battle.

"I think there are many votes that are undecided at this moment, and I think that Judge Bork has a battle ahead of him, that certainly nobody at this moment can predict with certainty that he will or will not be confirmed," Sen. Howard Metzenbaum of Ohio said Sunday on NBC-TV's "Meet the Press."

Another member of the Senate committee, Sen. Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., said he was undecided on Bork.

"As a judge he's done fairly well, even though I may disagree with some of his decisions, in my judgment," DeConcini said on ABC-TV's "This Week With David Brinkley." "But prior to that, some of his writings and some of his decisions are very disturbing...."

More than 100 potential witnesses have asked to testify in support or opposition to Bork during the scheduled two-week hearings. Abortion, pornography, the rights of women and racial minorities and legal protection for criminal suspects are just some of the issues to be raised in questions awaiting the first witness — Bork.

Sen. Arlen Specter, R-Pa., an undecided member of the committee, said on the ABC program that he would question the nominee about the court's authority to rule on such issues.

Bork, a federal appeals court judge since 1982 and before that an outspoken law professor, has produced volumes of speeches, magazine articles and legal opinions that help illuminate his views.

"That's what academic writing is supposed to be about — daring and speculative and provocative, trying out ideas," Bork said in an interview with Time magazine published Sunday.

But the writings also provide a ready target for opponents hoping to convince wavering senators that he is an extremist.

"We're opposing Judge Bork for a set of reasons which we can find in no other nominee in recent years," Ira Glasser, president of the American Civil Liberties Union, said on the ABC program. "His writings and speeches have consistently suggested that the role of the court is illegitimate; that the court should not be deciding what rights people have according to the Bill of Rights; that local government should be deciding."

The Justice Department, in a 213-page report released this weekend, responded to the criticisms of Bork, saying opponents of the nominee are misleading the public by portraying the nominee "as biased and close-minded."

The ACLU, in a statement issued Sunday, said the Justice Department report was a "misleading effort to divert attention from his radical philosophy."

Government pays student loans

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CPS) — Despite an aggressive campaign to track down people who aren't repaying their student loans, the federal government will have to pay off $1.5 billion worth of defaulted Guaranteed Student Loans during the 1988 fiscal year, the Office of Management and Budget estimated August 27.

The amount represents a 25 percent increase over the current fiscal year, which ends Sept. 30.

The payoffs — made to the banks that actually lent the money to the students — typically happen when the banks are unable to collect the money.

U.S. Dept. of Education officials note the $1.5 billion they're paying off in bad loans consumes more than half its $2.8 billion loan program budget.

The problem, said department spokeswoman Victoria Tripp, is that defaulters think "the federal government is an easy touch."

But Mary Preston of the United States Student Association said "that's a pretty simple analysis."

Economic hardships, poor student financial counseling and rigid loan procedures force some borrowers to default on their student loans, Preston said.

"There are definitely abuses, but a lot of people are having a lot of trouble paying back loans," Preston said. "The government needs to work with them."

"We've tried in every way we can," Tripp replied.

The government, she said, recently instituted an income-contingent program that reorganizes loan payments based on a borrower's income. Borrowers with certain low-paying careers, such as teachers in poor regions, will have their debts "forgiven" if they qualify.

The program, however, currently is only in a pilot stage, and prospective problems with it kept the vast majority of campuses from applying to join the pilot program.

To recoup some of its losses, Tripp said Washington will try "to send the signal that the federal government is no longer an easy touch."

The Internal Revenue Service

still is withholding tax refunds from defaulters, a move that's netted more than $135 million in '85 and '86, Tripp said.

The Education Dept. also is employing collection agencies "aggressively," tying student loan defaults to borrower credit ratings and passing collection costs on to defaulters.

Defaulters employed by the federal government also have their salaries garnished, Tripp said.

American-made aerosol products are now environmentally safe because chlorofluorocarbons, thought to endanger the ozone, are no longer used as propellants, according to the Aerosol Packaging Council.

AIDS creates dilemma for doctors

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — A small number of the 500 hemophiliacs treated at a center in Chapel Hill have been or are reluctant to tell their sexual partners to the virus that can cause AIDS, opening up a dilemma for their doctors.

"From an ethical point of view, it's clear that the partner needs to know, has a right to know, just as the hemophiliac has a right to know then he's been exposed to the virus," said Dr. Gilbert White, associate director of the Comprehensive Hemophilia Diagnostic Treatment Center at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

"At the same time, legally, there is such a thing as confidentiality," he said. "That is part of their medical record. So it's an invasion of privacy to go out and tell his sexual partner that he's positive. I'm not sure we can do that or not."

Because of contaminated blood years ago, hundreds of hemophiliacs now treated at the UNC School of Medicine could be infected with the AIDS virus.

At least five wives now have tested positive for the AIDS virus. One girlfriend of a hemophiliac also was infected during the months that the patient agonized over whether to tell his lover about his AIDS status, the Greensboro News & Record reported.

The Chapel Hill center for hemophiliacs is the nation's second largest. Of the 500 hemophiliacs treated there, five to 10 developed AIDS and more than 200 have tested positive for the AIDS virus.

Hemophiliacs — born with a protein deficiency that prevents blood from clotting normally — require regular transfusions and massive amounts of plasma, as much as a gallon at a time. A revolutionary process in the late 1960s that concentrated and freeze-dried gallons of plasma into several tablespoons gave hemophiliacs new independence.

But by 1978, the AIDS virus had reached the nation's blood supply — a discovery that wasn't made until 1981. It took three more years to develop a heat-treatment process for donated blood products.

By then, thousands of hemophiliacs were exposed to the AIDS virus. Many are now dying.

Currently, White and his staff push AIDS-infected hemophiliacs to notify sexual partners — even though that has shattered several relationships and marriages.

"The fact that we have had 50 wives come in (to be tested for AIDS) means that we're making some inroads. It's frustrating. We haven't found anyone that is totally resistant (to informing others)."

"There is a small group of hemophiliacs who continue to feel that it won't make a difference or that it will interfere with their personal lives if everyone they come in contact with is told," White says. "The most common reason is, 'I've been having sex with my husband for seven years since the virus was introduced and I'm negative. What's the harm of another year or two? Maybe we're special. Maybe we'll never get it.'"

By the time some lovers are told of the risk and some couples realize the danger and begin to use condoms, it is too late, White says.

But White has seen the dark side of honesty.

Three years ago, a high-school senior and hemophiliac in a small rural North Carolina town was diagnosed as having AIDS. The student's last wish was to finish high school and get his diploma, White says.

"Well, the school system wouldn't let him go to classes," he recalls. "After a great deal of pressure from us, the school system then said, 'We'll let a tutor come in.' A lot of times, that tutor would just leave things at the door and walk away, wouldn't go into the house."

White says the student was allowed to graduate but wasn't allowed to join his class at the ceremony.

"He had to stand behind a curtain. When they called his name, he came out, received his diploma, and had to walk behind the curtain."

RACK ROOM

BRANDED SHOES

TAKE AN

Greenville Buyer's Market

E-X-T-R-A

Memorial Drive

10% OFF

OPEN MON-SAT 10-9

OUR EVERYDAY LOW PRICE

SUNDAY 1-6

(EXCEPT AIGNER, NIKE AND REEBOK)

Wednesday

is our special

Ladies Nite

Ladies Only 50¢ Admission 'til 10:30

9:30 til 10:30 The Elbo Male Dancers

Plus

65¢ Talls & 10¢ Draft All Night

Guys in at 10:30 Admission $1.50

Tue. & Thur. Draft Nite

65¢ Talls & 10¢ Draft All Night

FALL INTO SHAPE

1 YEAR
$59

LIMITED TIME ONLY
(offer ends Thursday Sept. 17th)

- Women only
- Hourly classes
- Soothing Sauna
- Relaxing Whirlpool
- Private Lockers
- Modern Equipment

CALL 756-1592
for appointment

Coastal Fitness Center

301 Plaza Drive
(Behind Taco Bell
Across from Western Auto)

Talks begin for Iran-Iraq war cease-fire

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar, arriving in Baghdad after high-level talks in Tehran, said he was "neither pessimistic nor optimistic" about negotiations for a cease-fire in the Iran-Iraq war.

Iranian President Ali Khamenei told the diplomat Sunday that Iran would not embrace a U.N. Security Council cease-fire resolution unless Iraq was branded the aggressor.

An Iraqi official said earlier in the day that his country would escalate the 7-year-old war if Iran does not accept the resolution. The United States has said it will seek an international arms embargo against Iran if Perez de Cuellar's mission is not successful.

"So far I am neither pessimistic nor optimistic," the U.N. leader told reporters Sunday at Baghdad's airport.

The 67-year-old Peruvian said he had had "very important discussions on various aspects of the resolution" in his two days of talks with Iranian leaders, adding that the discussions dealt exclusively with the implementation of the resolution.

He would not elaborate, saying he would convey the results of his mission to the Security Council on Thursday.

The official Iraqi News Agency, monitored in Cyprus, said Iraq's ruling Revolutionary Command Council declared after a Saturday night meeting that Iraq will abide by the resolution "provided Iran declares a clear-cut stand in support of the call."

An Iraqi official, who spoke on condition he not be identified further, said Iraq would not permit Iran to stall.

"Either they accept the resolution in full or they face a more severe war in which we will use weapons we have not deployed yet," he said in an interview. He did not elaborate.

Iran and Iraq have not reported any attacks in the Persian Gulf since Thursday, the day before Perez de Cuellar arrived in Tehran. However, both sides reported ground fighting and artillery shelling of border towns during the weekend.

In addition to meeting with Khamenei, Perez de Cuellar also talked in Tehran with Prime Minister Hussein Musavi, Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Velayati and the powerful Parliament speaker, Hashemi Rafsanjani.

Tehran Radio quoted Khamenei as telling the U.N. leader that Iran has been "dissatisfied with decisions made by the Security Council" but that "considering your good intentions, we hope that this trip will be fruitful."

The radio, monitored in Cyprus, did not say whether Khamenei conveyed Tehran's final word on the cease-fire resolution.

The broadcast quoted Khamenei as saying "no peace-seeking group has objected to the Nuremberg trials" of top Nazi leaders after Germany's defeat in World War II, so branding Iraq the instigator of the Iran-Iraq war would be "acceptable to the world."

Poll results

Political views should not decide supreme court

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite sharp reactions to Robert A. Bork's conservative views, a majority of Americans believe a nominee's political leanings shouldn't be used to decide whether he should join the Supreme Court, according to a Media General-Associated Press poll.

Bork's conservative views on civil rights and abortion have led an array of civil rights and feminist groups to oppose his nomination. But in the Media General-AP poll, 52 percent said a candidate's legal background, not his politics, should be the basis of any decision to confirm or deny a nomination.

Only 31 percent of the 1,223 adult Americans in the nationwide telephone poll said a candidate's political leanings should be the basis of the decision.

President Reagan's nomination of the 60-year-old Bork will be taken up by the Senate Judiciary Committee beginning today.

Of Bork, a federal appeals court judge in the District of Columbia, respondents were asked, "do you have a favorable opinion about him, an unfavorable opinion, or don't you know enough about him at this time to have an opinion?" Seventeen percent had a favorable opinion, 13 percent an unfavorable opinion, and 70 percent had no opinion.

Bork was in the national spotlight on Oct. 20, 1973, when, as solicitor general, he fired Watergate special prosecutor Archibald Cox on orders of President Richard Nixon after higher-ranking Justice Department officials refused.

The poll results indicated that most Americans also know very little about the justices of the Supreme Court.

Among the sitting justices, only Chief Justice William Rehnquist and Justice Sandra Day O'Connor had at least a third of respondents voicing an opinion about them. About two-thirds said they did not know enough about Rehnquist to have an opinion about him.

WORKING STUDENTS:

When you fill out your Form W-4 or W-4A, "Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate," remember: If you can be claimed on your parent's or another person's tax return, you generally cannot be exempt from income tax withholding. To get it right, read the instructions that came with your Form W-4 or W-4A.

TAX TIP
A Public Service of the IRS

New Tax Law TIP

To help you understand the new tax law, the IRS has two new publications. Publication 920 explains changes affecting individuals and Publication 921 explains changes affecting businesses. Both are free. Ask for one at any IRS office or call the IRS Tax Forms number in your phone book.

TAX TIP
A Public Service of the IRS

Dairy backers reheat pizza war

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional supporters of the dairy industry are churning up a storm over frozen pizzas that use so-called cheese substitutes instead of the real thing.

They want to slap an "imitation" label, or something similar, on packages of pizza containing substitutes such as the protein derivative casein and other products that are almost, but not quite, cheese.

"Should consumers be informed about what they are buying or not?" Sen. Robert W. Kasten Jr., R-Wis., said last week at a House hearing as the long-running "pizza war" heated up again.

For the senator from America's Dairyland, there could be only one answer. And that answer, he said, was his Truth in Frozen Pizza Labeling Act of 1987. It would require manufacturers to indicate the use of cheese substitutes in large letters alongside their brand name.

That measure and a similar House version sponsored by Rep. Charles Stenholm, D-Texas, are giving the $700 million frozen pizza industry an acute case of legislative indigestion.

But the industry, which consumes a substantial amount of wheat, has found some sympathetic ears on Capitol Hill and among consumer advocates.

Rep. Dan Glickman, D-Kan., chairman of the House Agriculture Committee's wheat, soybeans and feed grains subcommittee, told representatives of the dairy industry he thought the plan could boomerang.

He suggested that pizza makers using real cheese might be required to post the cholesterol levels of their products on the packages.

Before you choose a long distance service, take a close look.

You may be thinking about choosing one of the newer carriers over AT&T in order to save money.

Think again. Since January 1987, AT&T's rates have dropped more than 15% for direct-dialed out-of-state calls. So they're lower than you probably realize. For information on specific rates, you can call us at 1 800 222-0300.

And AT&T offers clear long distance connections, operator assistance, 24-hour customer service, and immediate credit for wrong numbers. Plus, you can use AT&T to call from anywhere to anywhere, all over the United States and to over 250 countries.

You might be surprised at how good a value AT&T really is. So before you choose a long distance company, pick up the phone.

AT&T
The right choice.

Shevardnadze

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze, arriving in Washington "with a degree of optimism," says a decision on another superpower summit meeting depends on the outcome of the talks he opens Tuesday with President Reagan and Secretary of State George P. Shultz.

"We have come here to roll up our sleeves and work," Shevardnadze said on his arrival Sunday from Moscow aboard a special Aeroflot flight. "We have a number of problems to discuss, to consider."

The white-haired Soviet official brought with him a letter for Reagan from Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev. Without disclosing the letter's contents, Shevardnadze told reporters "as for the summit, everything will depend on the results of our work here."

He was scheduled to take Monday off to rest and prepare before seeing Reagan and Shultz today. The talks with Shultz will continue through Thursday and may be extended to next week.

Size of car improves repair cost, says insu

WASHINGTON (AP) — Motorists with large or mid-sized cars face less chance of injury and lower repair costs, but even cars of roughly the same size sometimes provide widely different levels of protection, according to an insurance industry study.

The study, reflecting accident claims, suggested that occupants of many small cars have a 30 to 70 percent greater than average chance of injury. It said the probability of injury is often twice as great in small cars as in large sedans, vans and station wagons.

The study by the Highway Loss Data Institute, a research group affiliated with the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, compares the frequency of injury claims and both the frequency and cost of vehicle damage claims filed on 1984-86 model cars.

Historical driver characteristics are taken into account when making the comparison, officials said.

According to the study, models with the best combined injury and collision loss record were the Pontiac Parisienne and Oldsmobile Custom Cruiser, both large station wagons, and the two-door Mercury Grand Marquis sedan.

The cars with the worst result when both injury and collision damage is taken into account were the Mitsubishi Mirage and Nissan Pulsar, both small two-door vehicles.

The performance ranged from "substantially average" to "double the best expected group said."

"Even among same size cars and vehicles, widely," it said. It cited more than claim frequency, small, four-door models the same damage.

The injury percent better than the Pontiac Grand Marquis Custom Cruiser, all large, about 60 percent average for a trum, Hyundai subaru Mirage.

The best result was damage to the Chevrolet van, the four-door and two-door Marquis, all half of which average. Cars with collision damage two-door Mercedes, Porsche, Volkswagen, which had Reagan officials have anticipated the talks to end.

Size of car improves repair cost, says insu

WASHINGTON (AP) — Motorists with large or mid-sized cars face less chance of injury and lower repair costs, but even cars of roughly the same size sometimes provide widely different levels of protection, according to an insurance industry study.

The study, reflecting accident claims, suggested that occupants of many small cars have a 30 to 70 percent greater than average chance of injury. It said the probability of injury is often twice as great in small cars as in large sedans, vans and station wagons.

The study by the Highway Loss Data Institute, a research group affiliated with the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, compares the frequency of injury claims and both the frequency and cost of vehicle damage claims filed on 1984-86 model cars.

Historical driver characteristics are taken into account when making the comparison, officials said.

According to the study, models with the best combined injury and collision loss record were the Pontiac Parisienne and Oldsmobile Custom Cruiser, both large station wagons, and the two-door Mercury Grand Marquis sedan.

The cars with the worst result when both injury and collision damage is taken into account were the Mitsubishi Mirage and Nissan Pulsar, both small two-

You a

East C

When: Septemb
Where: Menden
Multi Pu
Time: 7:00 p.m.

Please try

Talks begin for Iran-Iraq war cease-fire

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar, arriving in Baghdad after high-level talks in Tehran, said he was "neither pessimistic nor optimistic" about negotiations for a cease-fire in the Iran-Iraq war.

Iranian President Ali Khamenei told the diplomat Sunday that Iran would not embrace a U.N. Security Council cease-fire resolution unless Iraq was branded

the aggressor.

An Iraqi official said earlier in the day that his country would escalate the 7-year-old war if Iran does not accept the resolution. The United States has said it will seek an international arms embargo against Iran if Perez de Cuellar's mission is not successful.

"So far I am neither pessimistic nor optimistic," the U.N. leader told reporters Sunday at Baghdad's airport.

The 67-year-old Peruvian said he had had "very important discussions on various aspects of the resolution" in his two days of talks with Iranian leaders, adding that the discussions dealt exclusively with the implementation of the resolution.

He would not elaborate, saying he would convey the results of his mission to the Security Council on Thursday.

The official Iraqi News Agency, monitored in Cyprus, said Iraq's ruling Revolutionary Command Council declared after a Saturday night meeting that Iraq will abide by the resolution "provided Iran declares a clear-cut stand in support of the call."

An Iraqi official, who spoke on condition he not be identified further, said Iraq would not permit Iran to stall.

"Either they accept the resolution in full or they face a more severe war in which we will use weapons we have not deployed yet," he said in an interview. He did not elaborate.

Iran and Iraq have not reported any attacks in the Persian Gulf since Thursday, the day before Perez de Cuellar arrived in Tehran. However, both sides reported ground fighting and artillery shelling of border towns during the weekend.

In addition to meeting with Khamenei, Perez de Cuellar also talked in Tehran with Prime Minister Hussein Musavi, Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Velayati and the powerful Parliament speaker, Hashemi Rafsanjani.

Tehran Radio quoted Khamenei as telling the U.N. leader that Iran has been "dissatisfied with decisions made by the Security Council" but that "considering your good intentions, we hope that this trip will be fruitful."

The radio, monitored in Cyprus, did not say whether Khamenei conveyed Tehran's final word on the cease-fire resolution.

The broadcast quoted Khamenei as saying "no peace-seeking group has objected to the Nuremberg trials" of top Nazi leaders after Germany's defeat in World War II, so branding Iraq the instigator of the Iran-Iraq war would be "acceptable to the world."

Poll results

Political views should not decide supreme court

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite sharp reactions to Robert A. Bork's conservative views, a majority of Americans believe a nominee's political leanings shouldn't be used to decide whether he should join the Supreme Court, according to a Media General-Associated Press poll.

Bork's conservative views on civil rights and abortion have led an array of civil rights and feminist groups to oppose his nomination. But in the Media General-AP poll, 52 percent said a candidate's legal background, not his politics, should be the basis of any decision to confirm or deny a nomination.

Only 31 percent of the 1,223 adult Americans in the nationwide telephone poll said a candidate's political leanings should be the basis of the decision.

President Reagan's nomination of the 60-year-old Bork will be taken up by the Senate Judiciary Committee beginning today.

Of Bork, a federal appeals court judge in the District of Columbia, respondents were asked, "do you have a favorable opinion about him, an unfavorable opinion, or don't you know enough about him at this time to have an opinion?" Seventeen percent had a favorable opinion, 13 percent an unfavorable opinion, and 70 percent had no opinion.

Bork was in the national spotlight on Oct. 20, 1973, when, as solicitor general, he fired Watergate special prosecutor Archibald Cox on orders of President Richard Nixon after higher-ranking Justice Department officials refused.

The poll results indicated that most Americans also know very little about the justices of the Supreme Court.

Among the sitting justices, only Chief Justice William Rehnquist and Justice Sandra Day O'Connor had at least a third of respondents voicing an opinion about them. About two-thirds said they did not know enough about Rehnquist to have an opinion about him.

Twenty-three percent had a favorable opinion of him, 9 percent had an unfavorable, and 68 percent had no opinion. O'Connor received a favorable opinion from 34 percent, while 4 percent had an unfavorable opinion and 62 percent had no opinion.

Twenty-two percent thought the court was too liberal, while 21 percent said it was too conservative. Forty percent thought it was neither too liberal or too conservative.

Younger people were more likely than older people to think the court was too conservative. Republicans were more likely than Democrats to say the court was too liberal.

And respondents were split over whether Supreme Court justices should be appointed or elected: 47 percent thought the present system of presidential appointments was best, while 47 percent would prefer justices to be elected by the public.

The poll was a random, scientific sampling of 1,223 adults across the country August 7-17. As with all sample surveys, the results of Media General-AP telephone polls can vary from the opinions of all Americans because of chance variation in the sample.

For a poll based on about 1,200 interviews, the results are subject to an error margin of 3 percentage points either way because of chance variations in the sample.

Dairy backers reheat pizza war

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional supporters of the dairy industry are churning up a storm over frozen pizzas that use so-called cheese substitutes instead of the real thing.

They want to slap an "imitation" label, or something similar, on packages of pizza containing substitutes such as the protein derivative casein and other products that are almost, but not quite, cheese.

"Should consumers be informed about what they are buying or not?" Sen. Robert W. Kasten Jr., R-Wis., said last week at a House hearing as the long-running "pizza war" heated up again.

For the senator from America's Dairyland, there could be only one answer. And that answer, he said, was his Truth in Frozen Pizza Labeling Act of 1987. It would require manufacturers to indicate the use of cheese substitutes in large letters alongside their brand name.

That measure and a similar House version sponsored by Rep. Charles Stenholm, D-Texas, are giving the $700 million frozen pizza industry an acute case of legislative indigestion.

But the industry, which consumes a substantial amount of wheat, has found some sympathetic ears in Capitol Hill and among consumer advocates.

Rep. Dan Glickman, D-Kan., chairman of the House Agriculture Committee's wheat, soybeans and feed grains subcommittee, told representatives of the dairy industry he thought the plan could boomerang.

He suggested that pizza makers using real cheese might be required to post the cholesterol levels of their products on the packages.

Before you choose a long distance service, take a close look.

You may be thinking about choosing one of the newer carriers over AT&T in order to save money.

Think again. Since January 1987, AT&T's rates have dropped more than 15% for direct-dialed out-of-state calls. So they're lower than you probably realize. For information on specific rates, you can call us at 1 800 222-0300.

And AT&T offers clear long distance connections, operator assistance, 24-hour customer service, and immediate credit for wrong numbers. Plus, you can use AT&T to call from anywhere to anywhere, all over the United States and to over 250 countries.

You might be surprised at how good a value AT&T really is. So before you choose a long distance company, pick up the phone.

AT&T
The right choice.

Shevardnadze

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze, arriving in Washington "with a degree of optimism," says a decision on another superpower summit meeting depends on the outcome of the talks he opens Tuesday with President Reagan and Secretary of State George P. Shultz.

"We have come here to roll up our sleeves and work," Shevardnadze said on his arrival Sunday from Moscow aboard a special Aeroflot flight. "We have a number of problems to discuss, to consider."

The white-haired Soviet official brought with him a letter for Mikhail S. Gorbachev. Without disclosing the letter's contents, Shevardnadze told reporters "as for the summit, everything will depend on the results of our work here."

He was scheduled to take Monday off to rest and prepare before seeing Reagan and Shultz today. The talks with Shultz will continue through Thursday and may be extended to next week.

Size of car improves repair cost, says insu

WASHINGTON (AP) — Motorists with large or mid-sized cars face less chance of injury and lower repair costs, but even cars of roughly the same size sometimes provide widely different levels of protection, according to an insurance industry study.

The study, reflecting accident claims, suggested that occupants of many small cars have a 30 to 70 percent greater than average chance of injury. It said the probability of injury is often twice as great in small cars as in large sedans, vans and station wagons.

The study by the Highway Loss Data Institute, a research group affiliated with the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, compares the frequency of injury claims and both the frequency and cost of vehicle damage claims filed on 1984-86 model cars.

Historical driver characteristics are taken into account when making the comparison, officials said.

According to the study, models with the best combined injury and collision loss record were the Pontiac Parisienne and Oldsmobile Custom Cruiser, both large station wagons, and the two-door Mercury Grand Marquis sedan.

The cars with the worst result when both injury and collision damage is taken into account were the Mitsubishi Mirage and Nissan Pulsar, both small two-

door vehicles.

The poorly ranged wide, "substantially average" or injury and "double the best experience group said."

"Even among same size cars and vehicles, widely," he said. It cited more than claim frequency small, four-door the same do-

The injury percent better the Pontiac Grand Marquis Custom Cruiser, all large, about 60 percent average for trum, Hyundai subaru Mirage.

The best station damage to the Chevrolet van, the four-door Marquis, all half of wide average. Cars lision damage two-door M Porsche 94 Volkswagen which had

WORKING STUDENTS:

When you fill out your Form W-4 or W-4A, "Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate," remember: If you can be claimed on your parent's or another person's tax return, you generally cannot be exempt from income tax withholding. To get it right, read the instructions that came with your Form W-4 or W-4A.

New Tax Law

To help you understand the new tax law, the IRS has two new publications. Publication 920 explains changes affecting individuals and Publication 921 explains changes affecting businesses. Both are free. Ask for one at any IRS office or call the IRS Tax Forms number in your phone book.

You a

When: Septemb
Where: Menden
Multi P
Time: 7:00 p.m.

Please try

ase-fire

not reported Persian Gulf day before arrived in both sides fighting and border towns fighting with

with Prime Minister Velayati (Parliament) Khamenei leader that decisions made by the Security Council" but that "considering your good intentions, we hope that this trip will be fruitful."

The radio, monitored in Cyprus, did not say whether Khamenei conveyed Tehran's final word on the cease-fire resolution.

The broadcast quoted Khamenei as saying "no peace-seeking group has objected to the Nuremberg trials" of top Nazi leaders after Germany's defeat in World War II, so branding Iraq the instigator of the Iran-Iraq war would be "acceptable to the world."

at pizza war

But the industry, which consumes a substantial amount of wheat, has found some sympathetic ears on Capitol Hill and among consumer advocates.

Rep. Dan Glickman, D-Kan., chairman of the House Agriculture Committee's wheat, soybeans and feed grains subcommittee, told representatives of the dairy industry he thought the plan could boomerang.

He suggested that pizza makers using real cheese might be required to post the cholesterol levels of their products on the packages.

distance

You may be thinking about choosing one of the newer carriers over AT&T in order to save money.

Think again.

Since January 1987 AT&T's rates have dropped more than 50% for direct-dialed out-of-state calls. So they're lower than you probably realize. For information on specific rates, you can call us at 1-800-222-0300.

And AT&T offers clear long distance connections, operator assistance, 24-hour customer service, and immediate credit for wrong numbers. Plus you can use AT&T to call from anywhere to anywhere, all over the United States and to over 100 countries.

You might be surprised at how good a value AT&T really is. So before you choose a long distance company, pick the phone.

AT&T

the right choice.

Shevardnadze arrives for summit meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze, arriving in Washington "with a degree of optimism," says a decision on another superpower summit meeting depends on the outcome of the talks he opens Tuesday with President Reagan and Secretary of State George P. Shultz.

"We have come here to roll up our sleeves and work," Shevardnadze said on his arrival Sunday from Moscow aboard a special Aeroflot flight. "We have a number of problems to discuss, to consider."

The white-haired Soviet official brought with him a letter from Reagan from Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev. Without disclosing the letter's contents, Shevardnadze told reporters "as for the summit, everything will depend on the results of our work here."

He was scheduled to take Monday off to rest and prepare before seeing Reagan and Shultz today. The talks with Shultz will continue through Thursday and may be extended to next week.

Size of car improves chances of injury and repair cost, says insurance industry study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Motorists with large or mid-sized cars face less chance of injury and lower repair costs, but even cars of roughly the same size sometimes provide widely different levels of protection, according to an insurance industry study.

The study, reflecting accident claims, suggested that occupants of many small cars have a 30 to 70 percent greater than average chance of injury. It said the probability of injury is often twice as great in small cars as in large sedans, vans and station wagons.

The study by the Highway Loss Data Institute, a research group affiliated with the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, compares the frequency of injury claims and both the frequency and cost of vehicle damage claims filed on 1984-86 model cars.

Historical driver characteristics are taken into account when making the comparison, officials said.

According to the study, models with the best combined injury and collision loss record were the Pontiac Parisienne and Oldsmobile Custom Cruiser, both large station wagons, and the two-door Mercury Grand Marquis sedan.

The cars with the worst result when both injury and collision damage is taken into account were the Mitsubishi Mirage and Nissan Pulsar, both small two-when they both attend the special U.N. General Assembly session in New York.

"We have come with a degree of optimism, I would say cautious optimism, maybe," Shevardnadze, speaking in Russian through an interpreter, said in a brief airport news conference.

Referring to work on a treaty to ban U.S. and Soviet intermediate-range missiles, the foreign minister said, "We have made very substantial progress, but a great deal of work remains."

Reagan and Gorbachev agreed at their first meeting in Geneva in November 1985 to hold successive summits the next two years in Washington and in Moscow.

Instead, they met in Reykjavik, Iceland, last October, and Gorbachev has not responded to the president's invitation to visit America this year.

Reagan administration officials have not pressed the Soviet leader for a response, but some anticipated it might come during the talks to be held with Shevardnadze.

The Soviet foreign minister said differences remained over warheads. On top of that, he said, procedures for verifying destruction of the U.S. and Soviet rockets as well as the pace still must be resolved.

Shevardnadze apparently referred to a Soviet demand that U.S. warheads on 72 West German Pershing 1A missiles, and other warheads stored at home, be included in the treaty.

However, Shevardnadze also declared, "We have come in a businesslike spirit, and in a working spirit, and with a degree of optimism."

Similarly, Shultz said Sunday on CBS-TV's "Face the Nation" program that despite a public squabble, there was little difference between the two sides on how to dispose of the withdrawn missiles.

Asked if he and Shevardnadze would wrap up the pact, Shultz replied: "I don't know if we will or not."

Earlier, officials on both sides seemed to go out of their way to lower expectations of any breakthrough during Shevardnadze's visit.

Veteran Soviet negotiator Viktor P. Karpov hinted in an interview with the Soviet news agency Tass on Saturday that Shevardnadze would take a rigid stance in the final phase of the treaty negotiations.

Shevardnadze said in a prepared statement that an accord on intermediate-range rockets "would produce a powerful momentum" to reduce longerrange weapons as well. But he stressed that Moscow was insisting on "strict compliance" with the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty.

Gorbachev and other Soviet officials contend Reagan's "Star Wars" plan to develop a space-based shield against missiles is in conflict with the treaty. Presidential adviser Edward L. Rowley last week accused the Soviets of holding cuts in strategic forces "hostage to demands that we

One researcher expressed caution about the product.

There could be dangers associated with the heat element, said Paul Middendorf, a research scientist at the Georgia Institute of Technology. "We don't know what else is going to be given off. Once you put plastics in there you have to be concerned about the compounds in the plastics."

Tire makers recommend against the use of only plugs to repair holes in tires. Armstrong Tire Co. says the only safe tire repair is a vulcanized inside patch. Plugs, it says, are only temporary repairs.

The cigarette contains "substantially less tobacco" than a standard cigarette. Researchers at Reynolds have worked for three years on the project, code-named "Operation Black Hole."

Industry observers say the cigarette will contain a small amount of tobacco, but will rely on steam to deliver its taste to the "smoker." The Atlanta Journal and The Atlanta Constitution reported in their combined Sunday editions.

A short, heat-producing element is at the tip of the cigarette. When lighted, the element heats an "aerosol forming mate-

Interested in Christian Fellowship? (Call 355-3500)

JUDSON H. BLOUNT, III
ATTORNEY AT LAW

DWI and Traffic Offenses

Suite 12, Lee Building
111 East Third Street
Greenville, NC 27835

Telephone: (919) 758-8555

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

a lifetime experience

ECU's Largest Fraternity
Chancellor Cup Champs 3 Years Running

2nd Highest G.P.A.
240 Chapters Nationally
2 Houses and a Party Room
$90,000 in Scholarships Awarded Annually

Located at the corner of 5th and Summit.

NEED A RIDE!

757-0487 830-9646
757-0305 830-9647

Sept. 15th and 16th - Sorority Nights - 7-11 p.m.

"The House With The Heart"

You are cordially invited to attend a

"Rush Reception"
sponsored by the Black Sororities at

East Carolina University

When: September 20, 1987

Where: Mendenhall Student Center
Multi Purpose Room

Time: 7:00 p.m.

Please try to attend!

RUSH PI KAPPA PHI

Sure A Fraternity is Surrounded by Alot of Fun!

There are Great Benefits besides The Social Aspects of Being a Pi Kappa Phi.

PI KAPPA PHI FRATERNITY FACT SHEET

Pi Kappa Phi Facts
 106 chapters
 15 colonies
 50,240 initiated members
 Fastest growing fraternity in the country
 83 years old - founded December 10, 1904 at the College of Charleston
 The only National Fraternity who has created and supports its own national service project - PUSH
 Has a $500,000 headquarters building located in Charlotte, N.C.
 Convention - Supreme Chapter - every odd year
 Leadership School - Pi Kappa College - every even year
 A mid-year leadership conference (AVATW)
 Nine area conclaves
 Solicitation of alumni support totalling $200,000 last year
 Has over 45 regional alumni associations
 A quarterly magazine - The Star and Lamp
 Has a National Council made up of 7 of Pi Kappa Phi's distinguished alumni

Examples of Some Famous Pi Kappa Phi's
 Howard Baker - Chief of Staff to President Ronald Reagan
 Gaylord Nelson - Former United States Senator
 Jim Edwards - Secretary of Energy under President Reagan, former Governor of South Carolina
 Thomas Wolfe - Author
 Joe Sewell - Baseball Hall of Fame
 Randy Owen - Country music award winner, "Alabama" band
 Alan C. Sundberg - Chief Justice, Florida Supreme Court
 Phillip M. Crane - Congressman, United States House of Representatives (R. IL)

Pi Kappa Phi sends you this invitation to become a distinguished member of the Beta Phi Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity!

Monday - "WE COME TO YOU NIGHT"
 Meet the Brothers at Mendenhall Student Center
 Tuesday - Party with the Band from the Toga Party with TTKO's own 180 Proof!
 -ALSO

Come see EXOTIC FEMALE STRIPPERS!
 All at the Rotary Club (next to AOTT's house)

Wednesday "Beach Party"
 At the House (by the lake) with ALL YOU CAN EAT SHRIMP!

CALL FOR A FREE RIDE- 757-1281
FRESHMEN WELCOME!
 All nights are from 7:00 'till 11:00 p.m.

TOGA

Kirsch leads Student Union in university programming

By CHRIS MITCHELL
Staff Writer

Student Government Association. Student Union. To many students both organizations may seem interchangeable. Laureen Kirsch, Student Union president, quickly points out the big difference.

"Programming — the Student Union brings ECU students a variety of programs and events — from a Thanksgiving trip to New York to Anita Baker in concert."

While the SGA determines regulations governing students, the Student Union voices the students' needs in entertainment. ECU's Student Union involves eleven committees covering various alternatives: films, concerts, debates, trips, minority arts, special events and others. Each committee has a chairperson, secretary and public relations person. The entire Student Union is headed by a president and vice-president, and everything is student-run.

Laureen stresses, "Students may not be aware of just how much of a real company the Student Union is. We have budgets to follow; we adhere to business protocol in all dealings."

For instance, in order to get Anita Baker's show, no one in administration negotiated with her manager; an employee of the Student Union dealt directly with Baker's manager. The fee? $60,000.

"We definitely operate on the business level," Laureen insists. "We have the funds, we negotiate, we deliver."

Kirsch is quick to point out the one area where administration must come in — contracts. Students cannot sign contracts; administration handles those only. Other similarities to big business include an eight to ten hour day, five days a week. But in terms of financial compensation, Student Union workers veer away from standard business practice.

"The president and vice-president each receive $200 a month — the only paid Student Union employees. But working for the Student Union does pay in other ways.

"Working for the Student Union means some of the best experiences for those wanting to round out their educations. Variety in academics looks great on a resume, but anyone who applies himself in this organization develops marketable skills any employer would recognize immediately.

"All of us here gain experience in developing leadership abilities, delegating authority, communicating effectively as well as working with budgets and public relations."

As in most organizations, problems figure into the Student Union. Laureen cites only one major problem — student apathy. Many students choose not to involve themselves with any student organization, resulting in weaker groups.

"It would be great to never worry about vacancies. A diversified and intensely active Student Union makes for a stronger

Laureen Kirsch is the president of the ECU Student Union.

ECU."

A few minor problems include finding time for academics, but the committees will not allow any members to use the Student Union as an excuse for poor grades. All members must maintain a 2.0 average with a 2.5 for president, vice-president and chairpersons. Laureen confides most maintain a GPA well above the requirement and that the Student Union may well hold the highest average GPA of any student organization.

"Overall, students can expect a lot this year from us. Towards homecoming we hope to have the Fixx perform and to hold an outdoor beach music concert. Within the next few months we'll be offering trips to New York, Hawaii, the Bahamas and London, in addition to special events."

Poetry Forum gives chance to be heard

By CHIPPY BONEHEAD
Staff Writer

Back in the dark ages of higher education, closet poets had to rely on sympathetic English professors and surly roommates for an evaluation of their work. Since the mid-1960s though, ECU has had the Poetry Forum to cater to future Robert Frosts by creating a workshop atmosphere without the formalities of an English class.

And tonight the Poetry Forum begins its 1987 season with a meeting at 8 p.m. in Mendenhall 248. Anyone who has a poem — student, faculty, Greenville citizen — is invited to attend. Just make sure you bring at least 8-10 copies of your work.

The purpose of the forum is to have a workshop where amateur poets can get together and read, write and criticize each other's work. "This is a lot more informal," says forum head Dr. Peter Makuck, sizing up the difference between the Forum and a regular poetry class. "People who come a lot are the ones who might not have time for a course at school."

Participants can get suggestions on how to better their poems or perhaps be directed to poets whose style might help overcome a structural problem. And, of course, the forum provides a place just to get some feedback on a poem.

Makuck says the membership is "fluid," meaning members come when they have a poem and want to have it read. But there are members who form a core group and come to most of the meetings. At any given meeting, 8-18 people show up.

Begun around 20 years ago by Makuck's predecessor, Vernon Ward, the forum is still going strong. In 1978, when Ward retired, Makuck took over. The organization is still a place where students, faculty and townspeople can showcase their work.

The forum has a constitution with the SGA and is sponsored financially by them. The English department gets credit for supplying a forum director. Forum funds are used to get nationally recognized poets to come to ECU and give free readings and workshops.

The Poetry Forum does not have a literary magazine of its own, but Makuck noted that many writers from the forum have been published in ECU's "Rebel."

Although the forum is an informal organization and not a class, many students who take poetry workshops join it. It isn't limited to those outside the English department.

Due to a scheduling conflict, this week's meeting will be tonight, but after this week, the regular forum schedule of the first and third Thursday of the month will be continued for the rest of the semester.

Theater Arts has five productions for '87-'88

Theater Department Release

The Department of Theatre Arts at ECU will present five productions in the McGinnis Theatre. The 1987-88 season is comprised of a collection of four Broadway plays and an evening of dance choreography by the dance faculty of ECU.

Jerome Kern's "Leave it to Jane," opens the season Oct. 7, with additional performances Oct. 8, 9, 10 and 12.

Originally "Leave it to Jane" was one of the series of Korn-Bolton-Wodehouse precedent setting musical comedies that came to be known as the Princess Musicals, in reference to the theater where they were presented. This series is noted for having helped to inject a new note of informality, charm and effervescence into American musicals.

The action is set on the campus of a small mid-western college in the 1920s and concerns the efforts of the campus belle, Jane, to lure an All-American football star away from a rival team to play for her own school. In the course of lots of razzmatazz proceeding, some of Jerome Kern's most memorable melodies are sung and danced.

On November 18-21, the seasons second offering, "Lovers and Other Strangers," will be presented. "Lovers," Renee Taylor and Joseph Bologna's first Broadway success, will run November 18-21, 1987. The play is a collection of comedies that deal with love and marriage and the very human reaction to both.

Taylor and Bologna were married three years before writing this delightful comedy. By their own admittance, their life together provided the basis for the comic insights into courtship, love, and marriage that they put into "Lovers."

"Lovers" is real. You know the characters, you'll feel genial towards them because you'll be laughing as you recognize your friends, relatives and maybe yourself.

Lillian Hellman's adaption of Jean Anouilh's "The Lark" will run February 10-13. This story of Joan of Arc was called by Life Magazine, "American Theatre At Its Best."

"The Lark" is not merely a story — it is a sensitive recollection of the life of Joan of Arc. It begins with the trial, and as Joan's testimony unfolds, the play goes back in time to uncover the various stages of her journey through history toward martyrdom. It is a titanic story, full of human anguish and spiritual wonder.

Appearing fourth in the season is Ted Tally's "Terra Nova" March 28-31. The play focuses on Captain Robert Falcon Scott's ill fated expedition to the bottom of the world, Antarctica.

Scott had trekked to the South Pole only to find that he had lost out as it discovered to the Norwegian, Ronald Amundsen. Tally has alternated scenes of Scott and his men at various stages of their ordeal, with others in which Scott conducts remembered or imaginary dialogues with his wife, and with Amundsen, who acts as a combination goad, temptor and alter ego. "Terra Nova" balances the old story of courage, suffering, and fortitude against the modern questioning of values that got Scott and his men into such a terminal mess.

The final production of the season is the "East Carolina Dance Theater" April 15-19. The program, which showcases modern, ballet, and jazz choreography by members of the ECU dance faculty is a perennial favorite of the Playhouse season. Performances, which feature the professionally-oriented students in the ECU dance department, are generally sold out several days before the event.

All performances will take place in the McGinnis Theatre in the Messick Theatre Arts Center, corner of Fifth and Eastern Streets.

All performances begin promptly at 8:15 p.m.

Season tickets for all five productions are $20.00 and will be available beginning September 8. Subscription rates will be applicable until October 12. Single tickets may be purchased for each show one week prior to each opening at the cost of $10 for "Leave it to Jane," and $5 for all other productions. Students may purchase single tickets for "Leave it to Jane" for $8, and $4 all other productions.

All tickets may be charged on VISA or MASTERCARD by telephoning the box office 757-6390; by mail order to General Manager, Department of Theatre Arts, East Carolina University, Greenville, NC 27858-4353; or in person at Room 108, Messick Theatre Arts Center through October 1, and thereafter at the McGinnis Theatre box office 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on performance days.

The Department of Theatre Arts is a division of ECU's College of Arts and Sciences.

Tips on dorm cooking offered to those tired of cafeteria life and fast food

By LAURA SALAZAR
Staff Writer

Hunger pangsecho in unison as the student tries to cram for a History of Furniture Making exam. His roommate also joins in with a version of "Two all beef patties special sauce, lettuce, cheese, pickles, onions on a sesame seed bun."

Does this scene occur frequently in your dorm room? If so, you are not alone in your role as a Chef Tell wannabee.

So your parents insisted on giving you the money to be on the meal plan. They visited the campus and had a taste of college cafeterias' delicious re-creations of the last supper.

Most college students dread going to cafeterias to eat. In addition to questionable tasting food, they offer long lines, salad that looks like someone sucked the living daylight out of it, hot dogs that even Mikey wouldn't eat, and saladbars that look like they have 101 varieties of bacteria rather than 101 delicious selections.

An alternative to eating at cafeterias is cooking in the dorm room.

Addie Gore, home economics extension agent for the North Carolina Extension Service, offered the following advice to help college cooks:

- Keep milk and other dairy products 7 days after the indicated expiration date.

- Don't buy dented can foods because they could give you botulism.

- If frozen foods seem soft and contain ice crystals, don't buy them. Ice crystals indicate that foods are old.

- 8 ounce canned foods are more expensive, but this serving size eliminates left-overs.

- Make sure to thoroughly clean cooking utensils with hot, soapy water.

Announcement

The N.C. Shakespeare Festival production of "A Midsummer's Night Dream" is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 23, in Wright Auditorium. For more information, call the Central Ticket Office at 757-6611.

Mia Farrow stars in the latest film by Woody Allen, 'Radio Days.' It will show at Hendrix Theater Wednesday at 8 p.m.

PEPPY POP CORN

3-1/2 quarts popped corn	1 envelope Italian salad dressing mix
1/4 cup margarine, melted	2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Preheat oven to 300 degrees fahrenheit. Spread popcorn in a 13X9 inch baking pan. In a small saucepan, mix margarine, dressing mix and Parmesan cheese. Pour over popcorn; toss to mix well. Bake 10 minutes. Serve at once. Makes about 3-1/2 quarts. Variation: Substitute one individual serving size envelope of dry onion soup mix for the Italian dressing and Parmesan cheese.

(Prepared by Rachel Kinlaw, extension food specialist)

Kirsch leads Student Union in university programming

By CHRIS MITCHELL
Staff Writer

Student Government Association. Student Union. To many students both organizations may seem interchangeable. Laureen Kirsch, Student Union president, quickly points out the big difference.

"Programming — the Student Union brings ECU students a variety of programs and events — from a Thanksgiving trip to New York to Anita Baker in concert." While the SGA determines regulations governing students, the Student Union voices the students' needs in entertainment. ECU's Student Union involves eleven committees covering various alternatives: films, concerts, debates, trips, minority arts, special events and others. Each committee has a chairperson, secretary and public relations person. The entire Student Union is headed by a president and vice-president, and everything is student run.

Laureen stresses, "Students may not be aware of just how much of a real company the Student Union is. We have budgets to follow; we adhere to business protocol in all dealings."

For instance, in order to get Anita Baker's show, no one in administration negotiated with her manager; an employee of the Student Union dealt directly with Baker's manager. The fee? $60,000.

"We definitely operate on the business level," Laureen insists. "We have the funds, we negotiate, we deliver."

Kirsch is quick to point out the one area where administration must come in — contracts. Students cannot sign contracts; administration handles those only. Other similarities to big business include an eight to ten hour day, five days a week. But in terms of financial compensation, Student Union workers veer away from standard business practice.

"The president and vice-president each receive $200 a month — the only paid Student Union employees. But working for the Student Union does pay in other ways.

"Working for the Student Union means some of the best experiences for those wanting to round out their educations. Variety in academics looks great on a resume, but anyone who applies himself in this organization develops marketable skills any employer would recognize immediately.

"All of us here gain experience in developing leadership abilities, delegating authority, communicating effectively as well as working with budgets and public relations."

As in most organizations, problems figure into the Student Union. Laureen cites only one major problem — student apathy. Many students choose not to involve themselves with any student organization, resulting in weaker groups.

"It would be great to never worry about vacancies. A diversified and intensely active Student Union makes for a stronger

Laureen Kirsch is the president of the ECU Student Union.

ECU."

A few minor problems include finding time for academics, but the committees will not allow any members to use the Student Union as an excuse for poor grades. All members must maintain a 2.0 average with a 2.5 for president, vice-president and chairpersons. Laureen confides most maintain a GPA well above the requirement and that the Student Union may well hold the highest average GPA of any student organization.

"Overall, students can expect a lot this year from us. Towards homecoming we hope to have the Fixx perform and to hold an outdoor beach music concert. Within the next few months we'll be offering trips to New York, Hawaii, the Bahamas and London, in addition to special events."

Poetry Forum gives chance to be heard

By CHIPPY BONEHEAD
Staff Writer

Back in the dark ages of higher education, closet poets had to rely on sympathetic English professors and surly roommates for an evaluation of their work. Since the mid-1960s though, ECU has had the Poetry Forum to cater to future Robert Frosts by creating a workshop atmosphere without the formalities of an English class.

And tonight the Poetry Forum begins its 1987 season with a meeting at 8 p.m. in Mendenhall 248. Anyone who has a poem — student, faculty, Greenville citizen — is invited to attend. Just make sure you bring at least 8-10 copies of your work.

The purpose of the forum is to have a workshop where amateur poets can get together and read, write and criticize each other's work. "This is a lot more informal," says forum head Dr. Peter Makuck, sizing up the difference between the forum and a regular poetry class. "People who come a lot are the ones who might not have time for a course at school."

Participants can get suggestions on how to better their poems or perhaps be directed to poets whose style might help overcome a structural problem. And, of course, the forum provides a place just to get some feedback on a poem.

Makuck says the membership is "fluid," meaning members come when they have a poem and want to have it read. But there are members who form a core group and come to most of the meetings. At any given meeting, 8-18 people show up.

Begun around 20 years ago by Makuck's predecessor, Vernon Ward, the forum is still going strong. In 1978, when Ward retired, Makuck took over. The organization is still a place where students, faculty and townspeople can showcase their work.

The forum has a constitution with the SGA and is sponsored financially by them. The English department gets credit for supplying a forum director. Forum funds are used to get nationally recognized poets to come to ECU and give free readings and workshops.

The Poetry Forum does not have a literary magazine of its own, but Makuck noted that many writers from the forum have been published in ECU's "Rebel."

Although the forum is an informal organization and not a class, many students who take poetry workshops join it. It isn't limited to those outside the English department.

Due to a scheduling conflict, this week's meeting will be tonight, but after this week, the regular forum schedule of the first and third Thursday of the month will be continued for the rest of the semester.

Theater Arts has five productions for '87-'88

Theater Department Release

The Department of Theatre Arts at ECU will present five productions in the McGinnis Theatre. The 1987-88 season is comprised of a collection of four Broadway plays and an evening of dance choreography by the dance faculty of ECU.

Jerome Kern's "Leave it to Jane," opens the season Oct. 7, with additional performances Oct. 8, 9, 10 and 12.

Originally "Leave it to Jane" was one of the series of Kern-Bolton-Wodehouse precedent setting musical comedies that came to be known as the Princess Musicals, in reference to the theater where they were presented. This series is noted for having helped to inject a new note of informality, charm and effervescence into American musicals.

The action is set on the campus

of a small mid-western college in the 1920s and concerns the efforts of the campus belle, Jane, to lure an All-American football star away from a rival team to play for her own school. In the course of lots of razzmatazz proceeding, some of Jerome Kern's most memorable melodies are sung and danced.

On November 18-21, the seasons second offering, "Lovers and Other Strangers," will be presented. "Lovers," Renee Taylor and Joseph Bologna's first Broadway success, will run November 18-21, 1987. The play is a collection of comedies that deal with love and marriage and the very human reaction to both.

Taylor and Bologna were married three years before writing this delightful comedy. By their own admittance, their life together provided the basis for the comic insights into courtship, love, and marriage that they put into "Lovers."

"Lovers" is real. You know the characters, you'll feel genial towards them because you'll be laughing as you recognize your friends, relatives and maybe yourself.

Lillian Hellman's adaption of Joan Anouilh's "The Lark" will run February 10-13. This story of Joan of Arc was called by Life Magazine, "American Theatre At Its Best."

"The Lark" is not merely a story — it is a pensive recollection of the life of Joan of Arc. It begins with the trial, and as Joan's testimony unfolds, the play goes back in time to uncover the various stages of her journey through history toward martyrdom. It is a titanic story, full of human anguish and spiritual wonder.

Appearing fourth in the season is Ted Tally's "Terra Nova" March 28-31. The play focuses on Captain Robert Falcon Scott's ill fated expedition to the bottom of the world, Antarctica.

Scott had trekked to the South Pole only to find that he had lost out as its discoverer to the Norwegian, Ronald Amundsen. Tally has alternated scenes of Scott and his men at various stages of their ordeal, with others in which Scott conducts remembered or imaginary dialogues with his wife, and with Amundsen, who acts as a combination goad, temptor and alter ego. "Terra Nova" balances the old story of courage, suffering, and fortitude against the modern questioning of values that got Scott and his men into such a terminal mess.

The final production of the season is the "East Carolina Dance Theater" April 15-19. The program, which showcases modern, ballet, and jazz choreography by members of the ECU dance faculty is a perennial favorite of the Playhouse season. Performances, which feature the professionally-oriented students in the ECU dance department, are generally sold out several days before the event.

All performances will take place in the McGinnis Theatre in the Messick Theatre Arts Center, corner of Fifth and Eastern Streets.

All performances begin promptly at 8:15 p.m.

Season tickets for all five productions are $20.00 and will be available beginning September 8. Subscription rates will be applicable until October 12. Single tickets may be purchased for each show one week prior to each opening at the cost of $10 for "Leave it to Jane," and $5 for all other productions. Students may purchase single tickets for "Leave it to Jane" for $8, and $4 all other productions.

All tickets may be charged on VISA or MASTERCARD by telephoning the box office 757-6390; by mail order to General Manager, Department of Theatre Arts, East Carolina University, Greenville, NC 27858-4353; or in person at Room 108, Messick Theatre Arts Center through October 1, and thereafter at the McGinnis Theatre box office 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on performance days.

The Department of Theatre Arts is a division of ECU's College of Arts and Sciences.

Tips on dorm cooking offered to those tired of cafeteria life and fast food

By LAURA SALAZAR
Staff Writer

Hunger pangs echo in unison as the student tries to cram for a History of Furniture Making exam. His roommate also joins in with a version of "Two all beef patties special sauce, lettuce, cheese, pickles, onions on a sesame seed bun."

Does this scene occur frequently in your dorm room? If so, you are not alone in your role as a Chef Tell wannabee.

So your parents insisted on giving you the money to be on the meal plan. They visited the campus and had a taste of college cafeterias' delicious re-creations of the last supper.

Most college students dread going to cafeterias to eat. In addition to questionable tasting food, they offer long lines, salad that looks like someone sucked the living daylight out of it, hot dogs that even Mikey wouldn't eat, and saladbars that look like they have 101 varieties of bacteria rather than 101 delicious selections.

An alternative to eating at cafeterias is cooking in the dorm room.

Addie Gore, home economics extension agent for the North Carolina Extension Service, offered the following advice to help college cooks:

- Keep milk and other dairy products 7 days after the indicated expiration date.

- Don't buy dented can foods because they could give you botulism.

- If frozen foods seem soft and contain ice crystals, don't buy them. Ice crystals indicate that foods are old.

- 8 ounce canned foods are more expensive, but this serving size eliminates left-overs.

- Make sure to thoroughly clean cooking utensils with hot, soapy water.

Announcement

The N.C. Shakespeare Festival production of "A Midsummer's Night Dream" is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 23, in Wright Auditorium. For more information, call the Central Ticket Office at 757-6611.

Mia Farrow stars in the latest film by Woody Allen, 'Radio Days.' It will show at Hendrix Theater Wednesday at 8 p.m.

PEPPY POP CORN

3-1/2 quarts popped corn	1 envelope Italian salad dressing mix
1/4 cup margarine, melted	2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Preheat oven to 300 degrees fahrenheit. Spread popcorn in a 13X9 inch baking pan. In a small saucepan, mix margarine, dressing mix and Parmesan cheese. Pour over popcorn; toss to mix well. Bake 10 minutes. Serve at once. Makes about 3-1/2 quarts. Variation: Substitute one individual serving size envelope of dry onion soup mix for the Italian dressing and Parmesan cheese.

(Prepared by Rachel Kinlaw, extension food specialist)

FAMOUS PIZZA

FOR FAST PICK UP CALL AHEAD

101 E. 10th STREET AND EVANS STREET GREENVILLE, N.C.

YOU'VE TRIED ALL THE REST NOW TRY THE BEST

BUY A LARGE PIZZA WITH 2 TOPPINGS AND GET 2 PITCHERS FOR 99¢ (Not For Delivery)

Garlic Bread and Salad $3.95

WEDNESDAYS 45¢ DRAFT PIZZABURGER NIGHT 99¢

OUR MEAL DEAL $2.49

OR FAST, FREE DELIVERY ONE 757-1278 OR 757-0731

SUBS-SANDWICHES PASTA LASAGNA TRY OUR GREEK OR PIZZA BURGER

OR A SMALL PIZZA AND GET 2 DRINKS FREE

OR A SMALL OR LARGE SUB AND GET DRINK FREE

TURN KE

ing those eets for ess...

I go PIKE.

A ALPHA

ush 87

e ATTIC

y 7:00-9:00 p.m.

day 7:00-9:00 p.m.

ie comedy of Leroy Seabrooks, one of comedians on the Comedy Zone circuit.

752-9829

nformation

987-88 Season

NOVA

By Ted Tany March 26/31 1987

FAST CAROLINA DANCE THEATRE

Choreography by ECU Dance Faculty April 15, 16, 18, 19, 1987

A special offering of modern, ballet and jazz performed by the talented students in the University's renowned ECU dance program. This popular program draws to standing room only tickets to each year.

olina Playhouse

Manager

ina University

N.C. 27858-4353

nd me Season Tickets at $20.00 each = $ for Handling and Postage = $ 1.00

losed = $

T: Please Check one payable to East Carolina Playhouse in the Amount of $ my ☐ MasterCard ☐ VISA in the Amount of $

Exp. Date

OR, CHARGE BY PHONE: CALL (919) 757-6390

Producer says comedies lack social comment

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The trouble with television comedy today, laments writer-producer Mort Lachman, is that it isn't about anything. "I did 'All in the Family' for five years," he said. "I can't believe how strong and involved those shows were. They said things. They had an integrity I don't see now, a point of view I don't see now."

"M-A-S-H" was a comedy based on human needs and emotions. We have more shows now, but no muscle. The shows don't seem to be about anything. We're back to the days of Ozzie and Harriet, doing trivia.

Lachman is currently the executive producer of CBS' "Kate & Allie," overseeing the staff in

New York, where the show is produced, from here. He is a tall, thin man with a somewhat morose look, which sometimes seems to be the official expression of gag writers. His horn-rimmed glasses have earned him the nickname "The Owl."

He has a number of series under development, but he can only sell what the networks are buying. And what they are buying are shows that have scant social or political content. A few shows have a facade of importance, like a stage flat, but there's little of substance behind them.

He spent 28 years writing for Bob Hope. He wrote for 11 Academy Award shows and six Grammy shows. He co-wrote two movies, "Yours, Mine and Ours" and "Mixed Company." He has produced, directed or written such shows as "Baby, I'm Back," "One Day at a Time," "Archie Bunker's Place," "Sanford,"

"Gimme a Break." His honors include two Emmys, a Humanitas Award, a Golden Globe and a Peabody Award.

Lachman has also written gags for political candidates. He last wrote for George Bush in his 1984 race for vice president. But he would not be surprised if he's asked to participate in the next presidential campaign.

"I wrote some gags for Bob for a roast in Washington and Barry Goldwater heard him and called me for some material," he said. "I also wrote a speech for Robert Kennedy. After that, I did a lot of writing for politicians."

He wrote gags for many people at the Republican Convention in 1972. He also wrote for Spiro Agnew, Walter Mondale, Rosalynn Carter and columnist Jack Anderson. "Jack was great to write for," he said. "He knew every straight line in Washington. All I had to do was talk to him and I had all the gags I could use..."

New show challenges CBS

NEW YORK (AP) — True to its easygoing style, "CBS Sunday Morning" seems perfectly willing to shove over on its big, old overstuffed sofa and let another network program, NBC's new "Sunday Today," plop right down.

"Sunday Today," a version of "Today" with a different cast, makes its debut next weekend. It promises to be a tad bit more tidiness than its older, more sedate counterpart on CBS.

"We won't be quite that laid back," said "Today" executive producer Marty Ryan, who is also producer of "Sunday Today."

For my taste, just as a viewer, that's way too slow.

Is there room for another Sunday morning show? "Oh, sure there is," said affable "CBS Sunday Morning" host Charles Kuralt.

"I'm sure they will do a little livelier, more youthful program than we do. Ours is a more... well, we just decided to just do what we liked," he said in a recent interview. Perhaps in response to the impending arrival of "Sunday Today," "CBS Sunday Morning" has made minor changes, like adding more news and hiring wry observer William Geist, formerly of The New York Times. But the two shows promise to remain quite different in style.

"Sunday Today" will look a lot like "Today," though the anchors will sit casually on sofas rather than at a news desk. There will be news breaks on the hour.

Kuralt said he expected "Sunday Today" to run into the same problems "CBS Sunday Morning" did when it started — most affiliates air religious programming in the time period. But the audience, however small, is loyal, Kuralt said.

Ryan said, however, that "Sunday Today" is starting with about 106 stations compared to the 70 or so that "CBS Sunday Morning" had when it began eight years ago. The CBS show is now carried by 180 stations.

Ryan said he wants to capitalize on the success of "Today" while giving his new Sunday show a chance to develop a personality of its own.

For "Sunday Today," NBC has paired Boyd Matson, a lanky, droll Texan, and witty, glamorous Maria Shriver as co-anchors. Garinck Utley is resident news anchor. Local New York weatherman Al Roker performs meteorological duties, and "Today" sports correspondent Bill Macatee gets a bigger role on Sunday, since Ryan expects sports to loom large.

The "Sunday Today" cast and crew will have had two rehearsals by the time the show airs.

"We have a good idea of how to do it," Matson said in an interview.

For the second show, Matson will be in China with the rest of NBC News, so it will likely be

Hahn to pose

CHICAGO (AP) — Former church secretary Jessica Hahn, whose sexual encounter with Jim Bakker led to his ouster from his PTL ministry, bares her breasts in Playboy magazine's November issue, a newspaper says.

The magazine piece is titled "Jessica Hahn. Born Again. In words and pictures," the Sun-Times said Thursday.

"These pictures are a celebration of a new life for me. A new beginning," Hahn, 28, reportedly says in the magazine. "To do this is probably the most ironic, the most far-fetched idea for a church secretary."

The West Babylon, N.Y., woman will appear in a 10-page photo layout, Playboy spokeswoman Elizabeth Norris said Friday, refusing to say whether Hahn will be unclothed.

The report did not say what payment Hahn would receive. The issue is due on the newsstands Sept. 28.

Bakker left PTL last March after the 1980 sexual encounter was disclosed.

Welty wins honor

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Writer Eudora Welty is to be named a chevalier, or knight, of the Order of Arts and Letters, one of France's highest civilian honors.

"Isn't it wonderful? It all sounds so alluring," said Welty, 78, after the honor was announced by the French government Friday. A presentation is planned Oct. 18 in Jackson.

some weeks before the show's true rhythm emerges.

Matson, a globe-trotting NBC correspondent happy to settle down somewhat now that he's a "geriatric father" at 40, said he and Shriver haven't had a lot of time to work together — this summer she was doing a documentary on Roman Catholics in preparation for the pope's visit, and he was off for the birth of his daughter. But they had met before.

People in the news

Welty won a Pulitzer Prize for fiction for her 1972 novel, "The Optimist's Daughter," which has been published in France. Her 1942 novel, "The Robber Bridegroom," is being re-issued there. Previous recipients of the Chevalier de L'ordre d'Arts et Lettres medals include Tennessee Williams and Truman Capote.

Amos talks

PARSIPPANY, N.J. (AP) — Rags-to-riches cookie-maker Wally Amos, president and founder of Famous Amos Chocolate Chip Corp., says blacks must be committed to their dreams to make them come true.

"When you say 'I will,' nothing can stop you," Amos, who is black, said Friday in a luncheon speech to delegates at the New Jersey Black Issues Convention.

Surgery for gov.

MONTGOMERY (AP) — Former Gov. George C. Wallace, with a history of health problems stemming from a 1972 assassination attempt, will undergo cataract surgery next week as an outpatient, an aide says.

The procedure was expected to be "nothing major," aide Elvin Stanton said Friday.

Wallace, 68, has been paralyzed below the waist since he was shot while campaigning for the presidency.

New Davis flick

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. is in Brazil to film a role in a Paul Mazursky film titled "Moon Over Parador."

Davis plays a singer at Carnival in the fictitious Latin American country of Parador. The movie also stars Richard Dreyfuss as the country's dictator, and Brazil's Sonia Braga.

The film is being shot in the historic colonial town of Ouro Preto, 220 miles north of Rio de Janeiro.

Carson donates

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP) — "Tonight Show" host Johnny Carson has donated $650,000 to cap a fund drive for a cancer radiation unit at a hospital in his old hometown.

Carson made the donation to Lutheran Community Hospital in memory of his parents, H.L. and Ruth Carson.

The hospital's board voted to name the unit the Carson Regional Radiation Center after the talk show host's donation was announced Thursday.

Carson increased the amount of his gift several times to assure the drive's success, said Norfolk Daily News Publisher, Jerry Huse.

Pavarotti ill

CHICAGO (AP) — Tenor Luciano Pavarotti is suffering from bronchitis, and has withdrawn from the Chicago Lyric Opera's performance of Verdi's "Il Trovatore," the opera company's general director announced.

The Italian singer was to have performed the role of Manrico at the season premiere Sept. 18, and will be replaced by tenor Giuliano Ciannella, general director Ardis Krainik said Friday.

nant, unwed girl who decides to keep her baby.

Robbie Nevil's "C'est La Vie" won best video cinematography.

A founding member of the British group Genesis, Gabriel departed the pop group for a solo career as an avant-garde and more politically oriented rocker. Last year's hit "So" album, which includes "Sledgehammer," brought him back as a popular artist.

MTV

Continued from page 14
formance video for its "Livin' On A Prayer."

Janet Jackson's "Nasty" video won the best choreography award, with the statue going to choreographer Paula Abdul.

Madonna won best female video for her controversial "Papa Don't Preach" video about a preg-

Be a Zenith Data Systems Campus Rep... It beats being broke!

Now you can earn a FREE Zenith Data Systems PC, and even earn money...

All you have to do is become a ZDS Campus Sales Representative. With the help of your Educational Account Representative, we'll train you and give you valuable sales experience.

And, once you've sold 50 Zenith Data Systems PC's, we'll give you one of your own-absolutely FREE! Plus, you'll be eligible to start earning money for every sale you make.

You'll be selling some of the hottest PC's on the market...while acquiring some priceless business savvy.

It's a deal you can't beat.
See below to find out more:

Mr. Bob Kennedy
(404) 446-6170

ZENITH data systems
THE QUALITY GOES IN BEFORE THE NAME GOES ON

© 1987, Zenith Data Systems

Compromise leads to completion of mt. route

(AP) — A huge scale model of Grandfather Mountain and a top-gun engineer were what Conrad Wirth, the director of the National Park Service, brought to Raleigh for the televised debate in May 1962.

Hugh Morton, the canny owner of Grandfather Mountain, had no model and no engineer. On a whim, he brought along Arthur Smith, the popular country music performer from Charlotte.

The two sides were to argue whether the Blue Ridge Parkway should go over, under or around Morton's mountain. It was the eve of the critical hearing before the N.C. Highway Commission.

It was no contest. Morton quotes Smith as telling the television audience: "You know, when a man owns something and he loves it the way Hugh Morton loves Grandfather Mountain, it just don't seem right for a bureaucrat to come down here from Washington and take it away from him."

Morton, barely restraining a chuckle, recalls, "the switchboard lit up. Wirth didn't know what hit him."

The hearing followed the same script. And Morton handily won another public relations skirmish in the battle over the parkway route that spanned 40 years and involved a string of North Carolina governors. The sometimes bitter clash eventually begat the Linn Coves Viaduct, the sweeping bridge around Grandfather that will be dedicated by the Park Service Friday.

It is a monument to compromise. Morton and the Park Service will again shake hands during the ceremonies, but detente came relatively recently.

The struggle evolved into a slow pincers movement by the Park Service. Beginning in 1935, its bulldozers and stonemasons had been stitching together completed sections of the parkway and inching toward Grandfather from the north and the south.

They were commanded by Wirth, steady-as-she-goes bureaucrats with uncompromising visions of what the parkway should become.

They wanted the scenic road to lead across the crags of Grandfather and Samuel Weems, the parkway superintendent. Both ther and inspire the traveler to wonderment.

In the middle was Morton, who was most content when newspaper editorials portrayed him as a champion of free enterprise or a noble mountaineer defending his land.

He wanted the parkway to meander well below the mountain's peak and to inspire the traveler to visit his mile-high swinging bridge and other for-profit attractions.

The gauntlet had already been thrown years before on a June day in 1955 when Morton emerged from his office on Grandfather and collared a handful of engineers taking test borings for a tunnel through Pilot Ridge. It was at a point along the high route coveted by the Park Service.

Morton ordered them off his property.

Morton was already a thorn in the side of the Park Service. As the chairman of the N.C. Board of Conservation and Development, he had howled when the Park Service proposed a string of government-owned tourist accommodations along the parkway.

That would have competed with private enterprise, he said.

Then there were feuds over a proposal for parkway tolls (it would discourage tourism, Morton said) and even over a change in exit signs along the route. (They dropped all mention of private tourist accommodations, Morton fumed.)

In an interview last month, Morton said, "I don't have any doubt they were out to get me if they could. I guess I was public enemy No. 1 already."

The engineers had appeared on Grandfather because the Highway Commission had condemned 779 acres on the mountain for the parkway route. Since the parkway's inception, North Carolina and Virginia were responsible for acquiring right-of-way, which they then deeded to the Park Service.

Morton called Gov. Luther Hodges, whom he helped get elected, and pointed out that the state had already bought right-of-way for the parkway link.

And indeed it had.

In 1939, the Linville Improvement Co., a corporate name for Morton's family, sold 448 acres along eight miles of the old Yonahlossee Trail, a 19th century stagecoach toll road that evolved into U.S. 221 between Blowing Rock and Linville.

The state bought that right-of-way because at the time it wanted to project the timber and because it thought that was what the National Park Service wanted, according to letters from state engineers and the Park Service.

However, the letters indicate that the Park Service never approved what would become known as the low route around Grandfather.

The World War II years put the issue on the back burner. A shortage of money slowed parkway construction and doomed a private citizen's attempt in 1944 to raise funds to buy Grandfather Mountain and donate it to the government.

In 1952, Morton took sole ownership of the mountain and built the swinging bridge at the summit and the road leading to it.

Embarrassed at having condemned the right-of-way on the high route in 1955, the Highway Commission deeded it back to Morton immediately.

Morton recalled, "As soon as I was able to get to the state highway commission and explained this was totally beyond the law, they couldn't give it back to me quick enough."

That action seemed to galvanize the Park Service officials. To use the low route along U.S. 221, they said, would require repairing scars in the landscape along the crooked highway.

They wanted the high route because the parkway was conceived to flow across the top of the Blue Ridge, they said.

Morton argued that the high route would destroy the character of the "wild" mountain, would be too expensive to build and would be blocked by snow most of the winter.

The 1,700-foot tunnel the Park Service wanted through Pilot Ridge would be costly and dangerous, he said.

In 1964, Clark Stratton, the associate director of the Park Service, said, "to settle for a lower standard for this one gap would be like wearing a pair of old tennis shoes with a $65 suit." Remember, this was in 1964.

Morton countered that a high route would scar his mountain, which epitomized the ruggedness of the Appalachians.

"It would be like taking a switch-blade to the Mona Lisa," he said. As early as 1953 and again in 1955, the Highway Commission had suggested a compromise middle route. Morton said that was all right with him and if it didn't require more than 50 acres of his land, he would donate that.

But in a Park Service report on the compromise route, a regional director convinced Weems: "The added length, crossing ravines lower down where they are deeper which requires more walls and structures and the rougher topography, make it particularly objectionable."

It's important to understand that the terms high route, low route and middle route are relative.

According to a 1955 report by state and federal engineers, the highest point on the high route was at 4,500 feet, compared with 4,200 feet at the highest point on the low route.

Both were well below Grandfather's 5,964-foot peak.

and the proposed high route was 1-1/2 miles away from the peak, the report said.

No matter. The battle raged and grew hotter over the next 10 years.

Gov. Terry Sanford — whom Morton considers his staunchest ally in the fray — declared in 1962 that North Carolina "will not make any effort to acquire right-of-way for a higher route. We have no legal authority, of questionable legal authority."

During this period, most major newspapers in the state published editorials supporting Morton.

It was late 1953 before the Park Service officially rejected the compromise. Sanford promised to take the matter up with Stuart Udall, the secretary of the Interior and Wirth's superior. In April 1964, the buck finally stopped at Udall's desk after the Park Service declared the issue a stalemate.

In December 1964, the state, acting independently of the Park Service, returned to Morton 250 acres along the low route in exchange for 377 acres along a middle route.

Soon after taking office, Gov. Dan K. Moore took up the fight and before lobbying the Park Service for a middle or low route.

In 1965, Morton declared victory in a local newspaper and said, "The Park Service has given me the most magnificent on-the-job training in the art of dealing with entrenched bureaucracy that any businessman could hope for and I am genuinely and sincerely grateful for that."

In May 1966, the smoke cleared as Moore and Udall announced a compromise for the middle route.

The governor and Mildred the Bear were among the guests at a celebratory picnic in October 1968 at Grandfather Mountain. Moore ceremoniously deeded the new right-of-way to the Park Service. The guests then rode to nearby Beacon Heights for a groundbreaking of the final seven-mile link.

Wirth wasn't invited. He had been fired during a squabble with Udall. Weems, meanwhile, had been sent to Australia on loan to help that nation develop a parks system.

The departure of those men was the turning point, Morton said. "A lot of people, including Wirth, thought I was responsible for getting Wirth fired, but I wasn't," he said.

"He was such an arrogant person, and that got him in trouble. With Wirth gone, Weems didn't have his soul-mate to back him up and I think that broke the back of it."

"I've got admiration for Sam (Weems) though. He was conscientious. I think the parkway may be better because he was superintendent when he was."

Smith, Florida Pirates, 44-3,

By TIM CHANDLER
Sports Editor

Eighth-ranked Florida State, behind 244 yards rushing from sophomore tailback Sammie Smith, cruised to a 44-3 victory over East Carolina in football action Saturday night.

Smith, who missed the Seminoles' first game (a 40-16 victory over Texas Tech a week earlier) did not start the game. But, when he entered the game on Florida State's third possession of the evening he wasted little time getting yardage piled up. In fact, Smith delivered what ECU head coach Art Baker claimed to be the "killing blow" to the Pirate team in the second quarter.

With the Seminoles pinned back at their own 17-yard line following a 40-yard Craig Loston punt, Smith took a pitch out on the first play of the drive and rambled 83 yards for the touchdown boosting the Seminoles on top 13-3 with just over six minutes remaining in the first half.

"I thought that (Sammie) Smith's long touchdown run really took some of our steam away," said Baker. "We were still in the game at that time despite making numerous mistakes, but he broke our will some. He is an awesome runner. We definitely saw too much of him."

Florida State head coach Bobby Bowden agreed with Baker's assessment of Smith's run.

"The big swing in momentum came on the Sammie Smith run," said Bowden. "I really didn't expect him to play that way in the ballgame. He really hadn't looked very good in practice this week. I was really surprised at the day he had."

In addition to the 83-yard touchdown run, Smith also set up two more Florida State scores on runs of 52 yards and 13 yards.

In the early going, the momentum of the game seemed to be favoring the Pirates. Not only did the Seminoles fumble away the ball on their first possession, but an ecstatic crowd of 33,937, the third largest Ficklen Stadium crowd and the largest crowd ever to witness a game, braved the cold for the contest.

"The way with the crowd, I was in the game in the den."

Following the fumble, the State 49-yard first possession moved inside before quarterbacked on a 25-yard drive to the 10-yard line. The Seminoles scored a 3-3, with the half.

The key drive came from the Florida connected with Simpson on a gain of 26 yards for a 13-3 lead. The Pirates stalled the field goal.

A 35-yard LeRoy Butler good field goal, the Pirates' 13-10 lead in the third quarter.

After the down scare, the Pirates gave the Seminoles a 20-13 lead. The Pirates' 20-13 lead, again with a put Florida State round out the second quarter. The second quarter ended with the Seminoles leading 20-13.

IF YOU GET HAY FEVER OR ASTHMA IN THE FALL ...

•Free Allergy Examination
•Free Medicines

•Open to men and women ages 18 or older
•Free Skin Testing

Join Our Research Study
Department of Family Medicine
ECU School of Medicine
551-4614

Interested in Bible Study? (Call 355-3500)

GRACE CHURCH
Scott's Cleaners

Greenville's Only Premium Quality Cleaners Since 1935...

HAVE 2 SWEATERS OR SKIRTS CLEANED 3RD PAIR CLEANED FREE
Laundered Shirt Special 5 For $2.99

Expires October 31, 1987
CORNER OF 10TH & EVANS
Coupon must be presented with incoming order

Rush

KAPPA ALPHA

Dear Rushee . . .

As a fraternity rushee this fall at East Carolina University, you will have an important decision to make. You must choose the organization which you wish to join. A fraternity of men with whom you will live for the next four years, and whom you will call your brothers for the rest of your life. We at Kappa Alpha are sure that you will make a careful evaluation of the various aspects of fraternity life. And further more, we believe that you will agree that KA is the most unique and traditional of any college fraternity. We are looking forward to meeting you during rush, and wish you the best of luck in deciding on a fraternity and in your college career.

The Brothers of Gamma Rho
Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order

THE HOME OF SOUTHERN GENTLEMEN

RUSH
7:00-11:00
Each Night

TUESDAY
Open House
W/Lil' Sisters

WEDNESDAY
By Invitation Only

University Realty
"We'll do your homework"

JEAN HOPPER
BROKER OWNER
Res. 919 756-9142

Whether it's Ringgold Towers Condos or single family homes, we can find a place for you!

ECU soccer te

By GEORGE OSBORNE
Sports Writer

East Carolina, still looking for its first soccer win of the season, lost three straight conference matches last week.

Last Wednesday at William & Mary, the Pirates were shut-out 6-0 in their first conference game of the season.

Tim Larkin and John Tuttle scored early for the Tribe to give William & Mary a 2-0 halftime advantage.

Nearly two-thirds of the way through the second period William & Mary went on a four goal scoring spree. Mike Cummings got things started on a pass from Jans Cedergren at the 32:03 mark.

Jason Kantar a row to put final Indiana four minutes kicked one Kantar.

The ECU most of the m shots at goal.

"William & Mary one save all capitalizes on takes," head vey said. "C but William stronger team."

The Pirates against Geo losing to the Sweeper Larry Bennett was a key to the Pirate defense.

Photo by Elbert Kennard - ECU

mt. route

posed high route was away from the peak, said.

The battle raged and over the next 10 years, Sanford — whom Morton considers his staunchest ally — declared in 1962 that "Carolina will not fight to acquire right-of-way to a higher route. We will not fight to acquire right-of-way to a higher route. We will not fight to acquire right-of-way to a higher route."

period, most major in the state published supporting Morton.

In 1953 before the Park Service rejected the Sanford promised better up with Stuart County of the Interior superior. In April 1953, Morton finally stopped at the Park Service to issue a stalemate.

For 1964, the state, evidently of the Park Service to Morton 250 of the low route in exchange for 177 acres along a taking office. Gov. took up the fight by lobbying the Park Service to accept the middle or low route.

Morton declared victory in the newspaper and the Park Service has given him a magnificent on-the-job training in the art of dealing with entrenched bureaucracy that any businessman could hope for and I am genuinely and sincerely grateful for that."

In May 1966, the smoke cleared as Moore and Udall announced a compromise for the middle route.

The governor and Mildred the Bear were among the guests at a celebratory picnic in October 1968 at Grandfather Mountain. Moore ceremoniously decided the new right-of-way to the Park Service. The guests then rode to nearby Beacon Heights for a groundbreaking of the final seven-mile link.

Wirth wasn't invited. He had been fired during a squabble with Udall. Weems, meanwhile, had been sent to Australia on loan to help that nation develop a parks system.

The departure of those men was the turning point, Morton said. "A lot of people, including Wirth, thought I was responsible for getting Wirth fired, but I wasn't," he said.

"He was such an arrogant person, and that got him in trouble. With Wirth gone, Weems didn't have his soul-mate to back him up and I think that broke the back of it."

"I've got admiration for Sam (Weems) though. He was conscientious. I think the park way may be better because he was superintendent when he was."

IF YOU GET COLD FEVER OR ASTHMA THE FALL ...

•Open to men and women ages 18 or older
•Free Skin Testing

In Our Research Study
Department of Family Medicine
ECU School of Medicine
551-4614

ALPHA

Carolina University, you must choose the fraternity of men with whom you will call your brothers. Alpha are sure that you understand all aspects of fraternity life. We agree that KA is the most prestigious. We are looking for you the best of luck in your career.

Alpha Rho
Alpha Order

FRATERNITY GENTLEMEN

WEDNESDAY
By Invitation Only

THE EAST CAROLINIAN

Sports

SEPTEMBER 15, 1987 Page 17

Smith, Florida State roll past Pirates, 44-3, in home opener

By TIM CHANDLER
Sports Editor

Eighth-ranked Florida State, behind 244 yards rushing from sophomore tailback Sammie Smith, cruised to a 44-3 victory over East Carolina in football action Saturday night.

Smith, who missed the Seminoles' first game (a 40-16 victory over Texas Tech a week earlier) did not start the game. But, when he entered the game on Florida State's third possession of the evening, he wasted little time getting yardage piled up. In fact, Smith delivered what ECU head coach Art Baker claimed to be the "killing blow" to the Pirate team in the second quarter.

With the Seminoles pinned back at their own 17-yard line following a 40-yard Craig Loston punt, Smith took a pitch out on the first play of the drive and rambled 83 yards for the touchdown, boosting the Seminoles on top 13-3 with just over six minutes remaining in the first half.

"I thought that (Sammie) Smith's long touchdown run really took some of our steam away," said Baker. "We were still in the game at that time despite making numerous mistakes, but he broke our will some. He is an awesome runner. We definitely saw too much of him."

Florida State head coach Bobby Bowden agreed with Baker's assessment of Smith's run.

"The big swing in momentum came on the Sammie Smith run," said Bowden. "I really didn't expect him to play that way in the ballgame. He really hadn't looked very good in practice this week. I was really surprised at the day he had."

In addition to the 83-yard touchdown run, Smith also set up two more Florida State scores on runs of 52 yards and 13 yards.

In the early going, the momentum of the game seemed to be favoring the Pirates. Not only did the Seminoles fumble away the ball on their first possession, but an ecstatic crowd of 33,937, the third largest Ficklen Stadium crowd and the largest crowd ever to witness a Pirate home opener braved the dreary, rainy weather for the contest.

"The way the game started, with the crowd and their enthusiasm, I was really afraid about the game in the first half," said Bowden.

Following Ricky Torain's fumble recovery at the Florida State 49-yard line on the game's first possession, the Pirates quickly moved inside the Seminole 40 before quarterback Travis Hunter fumbled on a keeper at the Seminole 25-yard line. The fumble proved to be the first of 10 the Pirates would make in the contest, five of which were lost.

The Seminoles then drove 51 yards in nine plays to score the first points of the game on a Derek Schmidt 40-yard field goal with 7:04 remaining in the first quarter.

Not to be outdone, the Pirates took the ensuing kickoff and drove 74 yards in 15 plays to set Chuck Berleth up for a 23-yard field goal, which knotted the score, 3-3, with 14:58 remaining in the half.

The key play of the scoring drive came on a third and 11 play from the Florida State 34. Hunter connected with fullback Anthony Simpson on a screen pass and a gain of 26 yards to the Seminole eight-yard line. A fumble and a penalty for offsides against the Pirates stalled the drive forcing the field goal attempt.

A 35-yard kickoff return by LeRoy Butler gave the Seminoles good field position for another drive that netted a Schmidt field goal. The Seminoles drove 44 yards in 11 plays to set up a 36 yard field goal with 9:11 remaining in the first half.

After the 83-yard Smith touchdown scamper, the Pirates' Walter Wilson fumbled the kickoff giving the Seminoles possession at the Pirate 20-yard line. Four plays later, Schmidt split the uprights again with a 28-yard field goal to put Florida State on top, 16-3, and round out the first half scoring.

The second half was all Florida State as the Seminoles rolled up 28 unanswered points.

The first score of the second half followed a Hunter fumble at the Pirate 24-yard line. Four plays later, the Seminoles found the endzone when fullback Dayne Williams plowed over from two yards out. The PAT boosted the score to 23-3 with 6:23 remaining in the third quarter.

The Seminoles struck once more in the third quarter on a 59-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Danny McManus to wide receiver Randy White to make the score 30-3 following Schmidt's PAT.

Smith's 52-yard burst set up the next Florida State touchdown, which was scored by sophomore tailback Dexter Carter on a five-yard burst over the right side.

The final tally of the night for the Seminoles came on a 10-yard reverse bootleg by backup quarterback Chip Ferguson with 4:11 to play in the contest. The Ferguson score capped off a 13 play, 82 yard drive.

In all, the Seminoles piled up a total of 548 yards in total offense compared to only 222 for the Pirates. In the second half, the Pirates could only manage a total net of 83 yards on offense.

"We played an excellent football team and a team that I really believe ... will be ranked up near the top at the end of the season," Baker said Monday at his weekly press conference. "I said all week and now I am further convinced that they can challenge for the national championship with a few breaks."

Baker credited his defense with having played a good game, but said that the offense would definitely have to work on their turn-overs.

"Our defense gave us a great effort," said Baker. "We just kept them on the field too long after the first quarter. You cannot expect to be in a game against a team like Florida State when you put the football on the ground 10 times and have (one) interceptions. We will have to work hard to correct our poor execution."

The Good and the bad

Chuck Berleth (top photo) connects for a 23-yard field goal in ECU's 44-3 loss to Florida State Saturday. The field goal proved to be the only points of the night for the Pirates. Sammie Smith (bottom photo) is shown gaining some of his 244 yards.

(Photos by Jon Jordan - ECU Photo Lab)

Libretto back on grid squad

By TIM CHANDLER
Sports Editor

Charlie Libretto, who missed Saturday's ECU football game against Florida State, was reinstated on the Pirate squad Monday.

Libretto, a sophomore quarterback from Middleburg, Fla., had left the football team last Tuesday after reportedly being displeased with his position as backup quarterback. Last season, Libretto had been the starting quarterback in eight of the 11 ECU football games, however he was replaced as starter by red-shirt sophomore Travis Hunter after spring drills.

ECU head coach Art Baker told reporters in Raleigh last Wednesday that Libretto was having a difficult time accepting his demotion to second string. Baker went on to say that he had given Libretto until Friday (Sept. 11) to make a final decision.

"Charlie left the squad last Tuesday and came in quite upset about his particular situation and asked if he could have until Friday to make up his mind," Baker said Monday. "I gave him (Libretto) until Friday, but, at that time I told him that no matter what he decided, he would not dress out for the Florida State game."

"He did come back in Friday and asked to be reinstated," Baker continued. "He made an apology to the team today (Monday) and he will rejoin the football team today."

Baker said that at the time that Libretto left the team, third-string quarterback Brad Walsh was moved to second string. Baker went on to say that Walsh would remain as the second string signal caller until Libretto works his way back up.

"He'll join the team behind Brad Walsh and he'll just have to work his way up the ladder from there," Baker concluded.

During his freshman campaign last year, Libretto connected on 71 completions in 148 attempts for a 48 percent clip. He had one touchdown pass and six interceptions. For the year, Libretto totaled 833 yards through the air.

Probably the most memorable moment for Libretto during his freshman year came against Southern Mississippi. After coming off the bench with only 1:48 to play, Libretto led the Pirates on a 13-play, 80 yard drive, which was capped off with a eight-yard touchdown pass to Walter Wilson with only eight seconds remaining on the clock.

Weekend wrap-up

Men's Tennis at Old Dominion Invitational, Norfolk, Va.

Participating teams were Penn State, William & Mary, Old Dominion and East Carolina. The second day of play was cancelled due to rainy conditions. ECU's number-one singles player, John Melhorn, reached the semifinals of the "A" (or top) bracket by defeating John Mackey of Penn State, 6-4, 6-1. He then lost to Will Harvie of William & Mary, 5-7, 6-2, 6-2.

ECU plays Meredith College Wednesday at the ECU Courts (women, 3:00).

Pirate Notes

Women's Volleyball at Villanova

ECU fell to 1-1, losing to Villanova at Villanova, Pa., Saturday by scores of 15-13, 15-13, 15-9. The Pirates had opened the 1987 season at Minges Coliseum last Thursday by defeating North Carolina Wesleyan, 15-8, 15-8, 15-7. Sophomore setter Debbie Tate, a junior college transfer from Manatee Community College in Bradenton, Fla., led the Pirates in both hitting (4 for 7) and in setting (13 for 26). She also had four service aces and four digs against N.C. Wesleyan. Senior Kris McKay led ECU with 12 digs and five block assists in that match.

Cross Country Results from Pembroke Invitational

East Carolina's men's and women's cross country squads turned in very good performances this past weekend at the Pembroke Invitational in Pembroke, N.C.

Bibi Rosas once again led the women finishing fifth overall with a time of 19:55. Stephanie Ingram also finished in the top 10 placing ninth with 20:23 mark. Overall ECU's women finished third out of seven teams. The men placed sixth out of 11 teams in the overall competition. They were led by Matt Schweitzer, 18th, 28:19, and Mike McGehee, 22nd, 28:34.

Assistant Coach Mitch Craib was pleased with this weekend's results. "The women had a very nice run," Craib said. "They are a much improved team."

He added, "the men put in a solid performance led by two potentially excellent runners - Schweitzer and McGehee."

ECU soccer team drops to 0-3

By GEORGE OSBORNE
Sports Writer

East Carolina, still looking for its first soccer win of the season, lost three straight conference matches last week.

Last Wednesday at William & Mary, the Pirates were shut-out 6-0 in their first conference game of the season.

Tim Larkin and John Tuttle scored early for the Tribe to give William & Mary a 2-0 halftime advantage.

Nearly two-thirds of the way through the second period William & Mary went on a four goal scoring spree. Mike Cummings got things started on a pass from Jans Cedergren at the 32:03 mark.

Jason Kanter then scored two in a row to put the Tribe up 5-0. The final Indian goal came with just four minutes left when Joel Lewin kicked one in on an assist from Kanter.

The ECU offense was stalled most of the match taking only four shots at goal to William & Mary's 33. The Tribe's keeper had only one save all day.

"William & Mary was able to capitalize on our mental mistakes," head coach Charlie Harvey said. "Our guys gave 100%, but William & Mary was just a stronger team."

The Pirates fared no better against George Mason Saturday losing to the Patriots 7-1. Mason, Sweeper Larry Bennett was a key to the Pirate defense last weekend.

Photo by Elbert Kennard - ECU Sports Information

ranked in the pre-season top 20, was able to overpower ECU on offense taking 37 shots to ECU's eight.

Phillip Taplah and Mark Pulisic got first half goals for the Patriots to make it 2-0 at halftime.

GMU scored quickly in the second half when Sam Sumo kicked one to give the Patriots a 3-0 lead.

Two minutes later ECU mounted its only successful offensive drive of the day when Steve McCarthy streaked through the Mason defense and put one in to give ECU its only goal.

The Pirate defense, already weakened by soaring heat and humidity, was bombarded by the Mason offense. Larry Tabash and Gary Ellesar each scored a goal to put the Patriots out of sight at 5-1.

Bob Lilley put the final nails in the coffin scoring the last two GMU goals to make it a 7-1 final.

ECU brought an improved and coordinated offense to the field Sunday but could not find any breaks as they lost a 1-0 heart-breaker to James Madison.

Ricky Englefried, on an assist from Craig Baur, got the only Madison goal as the Pirate defense repeatedly turned back JMU advances.

Madison took 21 shots but only three were close giving ECU keeper Mac Kendall three saves.

ECU sweeper Larry Bennett kept the Madison offense off balance allowing seemingly being at two places at once on the defensive side of the field.

"Larry runs the show back there and he knows that if he wants to make an offensive move he can," Harvey said.

The Pirate offense took 19 shots but could not get one home having two near misses in the second half.

"I was very pleased with our performance today," Harvey said. "We need to build on the improvements that we have made though."

Sports Fact

George Blanda, the career leader in points scored in pro football, had 943 on points-after-touchdown and also 1,005 on field goals in his mark of 2,002 points

Fran Tarkenton played 18 seasons at quarterback for the Minnesota Vikings and New York Giants. His passes gained a record 47,003 yards.

A look at ACC action

(AP) - Maryland was confident in its Atlantic Coast Conference opener against Virginia, but nose guard Bob Arnold wanted to make sure his teammates stayed that way.

"We never thought we'd blow this game," Arnold said. "In our last huddle, everyone just said to make the big play. And they made the big play."

But it wasn't so much that Maryland's defense made the big play in its 21-19 victory over Virginia, but that the Cavalier offense didn't connect. Sophomore quarterback Shawn Moore scored a touchdown to get Virginia within the final margin, but Marcus Wilson couldn't handle Moore's pitch on the two-point conversion try and the Terrapins secured a league victory.

"Anytime you win a football game, I don't care against who or where, it's a great feeling," Maryland first-year coach Bob Krivak said. "There were a lot of things that could have happened, but they didn't."

Moore took the blame for the botched conversion attempt, but he said he wasn't too sure it would have worked anyway.

"It was a bad connection on the toss," he said. "I'm not so sure it would have worked if there'd been no fumble. Our tight end was supposed to seal their defensive end, but it didn't happen."

The Cavaliers rushed to 0-2 and Maryland evened its record at 1-1.

Elsewhere, No. 10 Clemson stopped Virginia Tech 22-10. Duke defeated Northwestern 31-16. Georgia Tech crushed The Citadel 51-12 and Wake Forest registered a 24-0 shutout of Richmond.

North Carolina took a 28-0 whipping from No. 1 Oklahoma and North Carolina State was downed 34-0 by No. 18 Pittsburgh.

After a first half in which Coach Danny Ford perceived his offense as sluggish, tailback Wesley McFadden rushed for two touchdowns in the second half to raise Clemson's record to 2-0. Ford's concern stemmed from the offense's failure to convert two interceptions in Virginia Tech territory into touchdowns.

Those turnovers led to a pair of David Treadwell field goals.

"Needless to say, our offense has got to get better," Ford said. "We had good field position early in the game, and we don't come out with except six points."

Duke's "Airball" promotion in 1987 has given quarterback Steve Slayden some impressive numbers. Against Northwestern, he was 18 of 35 for 269 yards, although he was intercepted four times. In the first half alone, Slayden was 15 of 28 for 295 yards, figures which led first-year coach Steve Spurrier to observe that the Duke offense could have produced more.

"It was a wild and crazy game with both teams having opportunities to score a lot of points," Spurrier said. "Our defensive guys hung in there and kept them out of the end zone. . . . That was probably the key to the ball game."

When the ball wasn't in the air, Roger Boone carried it 19 times for 117 yards and a touchdown as Duke climbed to 2-0.

Rick Strom passed for three touchdowns and 317 yards to give Ross his initial triumph as successor to Bill Curry. Strom threw a 49-yard touchdown pass to Malcolm King, a 34-yarder to Greg Lester and a 48-yard scoring pass to Robert Massey.

Darryl McGill rushed 28 times for 129 yards and one touchdown for Wake Forest. The rains might have been as much to blame as Dooley's traditional conservative offensive approach for Wake Forest's relatively low output. But Richmond contributed to the Wake Forest victory by committing 11 mistakes, four of which led to Demon Deacon scores.

"This was not pretty, but I'll take 'em every time," Dooley said. "Defensively, we couldn't have asked for more. They played well all night."

Georgia Tech was the last team to shut out the Tar Heels, that in a 31-0 defeat in 1985. Jamelle Holieway did the damage this time for Oklahoma, rushing for 170 yards and scoring all four Sooner touchdowns. Holieway offered an assessment of his opponents.

"Hey, in my mind, North Carolina's a top 20 team," he said. "They have an OK defense, but they just don't have a lot of team speed. But, man, they will hit you. They're as physical as Nebraska and Miami."

Prior to the loss at Pittsburgh, N.C. State hadn't been shut out since a 45-0 whipping at Virginia in 1984. It was the first shutout for a Dick Sheridan-coached team since his 1982 Furman team suffered a 17-0 loss to South Carolina State in the last game of that season.

Pitt gained 557 yards total offense, while the Wolfpack picked up 168, and more than a third of that came on Bobby Crumpler's 60-yard run in the second quarter.

"They just dominated the game," Sheridan said. "We really felt like we had a chance to win coming into the game. But they did to us what they wanted. I was a little surprised that they were as good as they were."

Next week features two conference games, N.C. State at Wake Forest and North Carolina at Georgia Tech. Outside the ACC, Maryland hosts West Virginia, Duke is at home to Vanderbilt and Clemson stays in Death Valley to take on Georgia. Virginia is at home to Virginia Tech.

SIT BACK, RELAX

You've just advertised in The East Carolinian

Buccaneer Babes Selections

The Athletic Department is selecting outstanding ECU coeds to assist the coaches in recruiting scholarship athletes:

For more information and interviews contact the following person:

Susan Gurganus, Recruiting Secretary - Football
757-6034

Gamecocks roll to second win in a row

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) - South Carolina has swallowed its two-game appetizer whole. Now the Gamecocks, who before the season talked of winning the national championship, will find out whether they can eat with the big boys or choke in trying.

South Carolina opened the year with a 27-3 victory over Appalachian State and followed that Saturday evening with a 31-6 triumph over Western Carolina. Both opponents are members of the NCAA Division I-AA Southern Conference. Not exactly tough tests for the 1-A independent Gamecocks.

But the tests are now in the offering.

After taking this week off, the undefeated Gamecocks are at No. 20 Georgia on Sept. 26 and at second-ranked Nebraska the next week. Any questions about how good the Gamecocks are should be answered after those two games.

"I think we did what we wanted in the first two games in a sense, but we'll have to work harder now because we're getting into the meat of our schedule," wide receiver Danny Smith said. "We're going to have to work harder and get better in the next couple of weeks."

Smith did just fine against the Catamounts. The 6-foot-3, 209-pound senior hauled in two of quarterback Todd Ellis' three touchdown passes on a rainy night at Williams-Brice Stadium, where 24 hours earlier Pope John Paul II spoke during his five-hour visit to the state capital.

"We just went out there with the idea of getting the job done," he said. "The touchdowns came off play action with the defense sagging."

Smith caught a 28-yard TD pass with 4:16 left in the first period to cap an 11-play, 90-yard drive to make it 7-0.

After Western Carolina place-kicker Kirk Roach was wide right on a 47-yard field goal, South Carolina then drove 70 yards on eight plays to up its lead to 14-0 when Smith leaped high to grab a 23-yard TD pass from Ellis with 4:40 left in the half.

Moments later, tailback Carlton Terry fumbled after being hit by South Carolina linebacker Derrick Little. End Shed Diggs recovered at the Catamount 40.

Two plays later, Ellis tossed a 37-yard TD pass to wingback Sterling Sharpe with 1:46 to go. Sharpe has now caught at least one pass in 24 straight games. Fred Zeigler holds the record of 29 from 1967 to 1969.

Ellis completed 17 of 34 passes for 245 yards but also had four passes intercepted. Ellis has now thrown for more than 200 yards in all but one of the 13 games he's started, but he felt his performance was not what it should be.

"I'm not particularly happy," Ellis said. "I need to learn to relax more. My passes were not that crisp."

The Catamounts avoided being shut out when Roach kicked a 32-yard field goal with 24 seconds left in the half following an interception by linebacker Billy Shepard.

South Carolina all but sealed the victory when Little intercepted a pass by Todd Cottrell on the first play of the second half and returned it 22 yards to the Western Carolina 8. Three plays later, Green bulldozed over from 2 yards out for his fourth TD of the season to give the Gamecocks a 28-3 lead with 13:32 left.

Green finished with a career-high 104 yards, including 96 in the first half. He played sparingly in the third period and not at all in the fourth after straining his knee near the end of the second quarter.

The 6-foot-2, 205-pound sophomore, whose best previous rushing effort was last year against Virginia when he rushed for 81 yards, is the first player to

See USC page 31

AP top 10

(AP) - For many college football teams, playing at Michigan and Penn State is intimidating and usually a matter of survival.

But both Notre Dame and Alabama flourished in those surroundings on Saturday.

Opening their 100th season, the 16th-ranked Fighting Irish woke up some echoes with a shockingly easy 26-7 victory over the ninth-ranked Wolverines before 106,098 fans at Ann Arbor. The 19th-ranked Crimson Tide, meanwhile, scored a 24-13 win over the defending national champion Nittany Lions, rated No. 11, while 85,619 looked on at University Park.

Elsewhere in the Top Ten, No. 1 Oklahoma beat North Carolina 28-0; No. 2 Nebraska defeated No. 3 UCLA 42-33; No. 4 Auburn routed Kansas 49-0; No. 5 Ohio

Strike de

WASHINGTON (AP) - As a strike deadline approaches, the National Football League Players Association and team owners are still talking tough. But the sides say they are willing to compromise.

Management and the union planned to meet today in an effort to work toward replacing the collective bargaining agreement that expired Aug. 31.

NFLPA executive director Gene Upshaw said on Friday that, unless management is willing to bend, "nothing would be accomplished in these meetings."

He accused the league's owners of using a "take it or leave it" approach to the talks, which stalled Sept. 3 when the union insisted on guarantees for its player representatives. After reading a proposed contract submitted by management on Monday, the NFLPA on Tuesday set a strike deadline of Sept. 22.

"I'm willing to do anything that seems reasonable if we can bring this to a fast conclusion," Upshaw said. "So far, everything I've done has been met with resistance. The tactic the NFL has undertaken is plain and simple union-busting."

"Compromise is inherent in our proposal," countered Jack Donlan, chief negotiator for the Management Council. "One of the ways to avoid a strike is to negotiate and we've had continued difficulty getting the union to the bargaining table."

Donlan said the proposal submitted by management on Monday came about because of the union's unwillingness to continue the talks.

"They left us no choice," Donlan said. "It wasn't take it or leave it, but a way to stimulate the intensive bargaining we need to avoid a strike."

Upshaw said he met with AFL-CIO officials Friday morning to discuss putting together a plan that would provide for support of the union in the event of a walk-out.

The owners have also made preparations for a possible walk-out. In addition to financial arrangements, management on Thursday voted unanimously to continue operations by using non-striking players and free agents in order to field teams.

Upshaw ridiculed the owners' plan.

"If these guys are quality players, why weren't they on the team in the first place?" Upshaw said. "And what will they call the thing they hold in San Diego at the end of the year, the Scab Bowl instead of the Super Bowl?"

Donlan defended the decision. "In 1982, a 57-day strike had a devastating effect on the NFL," he said. "The players, owners and fans suffered. No one thinks this is a perfect solution, but the owners are committed to take a new course to disengage the cycle of a strike every time there are negotiations."

Upshaw said the course of negotiations is not entirely centered on union's demands for "total" agency of guarantees for player representatives.

"Quite candidly, I feel all the issues are negotiable," he said. "We can get the job done and avoid a strike, but

DELTA SIGMA PHI ...ONE STEP AHEAD

DELTA SIGMA PHIFRATERNITY IS AN ORGANIZATION WORTH EXPLORING. WINNER OF THE MOST IMPROVED FRATERNITY AWARD FOR THE '86-'87 SCHOOL YEAR BY THE INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL, DELTA SIGMA PHI OFFERS A SOLID BROTHERHOOD, SPORTS AND CHARITY INVOLVEMENT, AS WELL AS A WHOLE LOT OF PARTIES. IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN RUSHING A FRATERNITY THIS FALL, LOOK AROUND AND LOCATE YOUR OPTIONS. THEN COME BY THE DELTA HOUSE. YOU WILL FIND SOMETHING TRULY WORTH EXPERIENCING.

RUSH TUE & WED 7-11:00

510 EAST 10TH ST.

757-0313

AP top 10 results for weekend highlighted

(AP) - For many college football teams, playing at Michigan and Penn State is intimidating and usually a matter of survival.

But both Notre Dame and Alabama flourished in those surroundings on Saturday.

Opening their 100th season, the 16th-ranked Fighting Irish woke up some echoes with a shockingly easy 26-7 victory over the ninth-ranked Wolverines before 106,098 fans at Ann Arbor. The 19th-ranked Crimson Tide, meanwhile, scored a 24-13 win over the defending national champion Nittany Lions, rated No. 11, while 85,619 looked on at University Park.

Elsewhere in the Top Ten, No. 1 Oklahoma beat North Carolina 28-0; No. 2 Nebraska defeated No. 3 UCLA 42-33; No. 4 Auburn routed Kansas 49-0; No. 5 Ohio

State beat West Virginia 24-3; No. 6 Louisiana State downed Fullerton State 56-12; No. 8 Florida State defeated East Carolina 44-3; and No. 10 Clemson beat Virginia Tech 22-10.

In the Second Ten, No. 12 Washington stopped Purdue 28-10; No. 13 Arkansas trimmed Mississippi 31-10; No. 14 Tennessee beat Mississippi State 38-10; No. 15 Arizona State topped Illinois 21-7; No. 18 Pittsburgh defeated North Carolina State 34-0; and No. 20 Georgia beat Oregon State 41-7.

Quarterback Terry Andrysiak was the big man for Norte Dame, completing 11 of 15 passes for 137 yards, including an 11-yard touchdown pass to flanker Tim Brown.

Notre Dame's victory avenged a 24-23 loss to Michigan last year in South Bend.

The Wolverines turned the ball over seven times, the most since losing the ball seven times to Minnesota in 1960.

The victory gave a starting boost to the Irish, a longtime power trying to reverse last season's disappointing 5-6 record. It was the first opening home loss for Coach Bo Schembechler since he took over the Wolverines in 1969, breaking a 17-0-1 string.

At University Park, Bobby Humphrey rushed 36 times for 220 yards, scored on a 73-yard run and set up another score by throwing a 57-yard pass to lead Alabama over Penn State.

The defeat was the first in 23 regular-season games for Penn State and snapped the Nittany Lions' 13-game winning streak.

Humphrey's 73-yard run got the Crimson Tide off to a 7-0 lead in the first period and they never lost the lead.

No. 1 Oklahoma 28, North Carolina 0.

Quarterback Jamelle Holieway scored four touchdowns and rushed for 170 yards to lead Oklahoma to its second victory in two decisions. The Sooners broke the game open with 21 points in the second quarter after a scoreless first period.

No. 2 Nebraska 42, No. 3 UCLA 33.

Steve Taylor threw five touchdown passes to set a Nebraska record and match the Big Eight record set by Ralph Miller of Kansas against Washburn in 1938. Miller is currently the basketball coach at Oregon State.

The Cornhuskers managed to overcome four fumbles and an off day by their running game to beat the Bruins.

No. 4 Auburn 49, Kansas 0.

Quarterback Jeff Burger passed for 185 yards and two touchdowns to lead Auburn over Kansas. The Tigers scored the first three times they had the ball.

No. 5 Ohio St. 24, West Virginia 3.

Ohio State, which led 10-0 2:18 into the game, forced eight turnovers, including three interceptions by William White and two by Chris Spielman. White raced 29 yards with one interception.

No. 6 LSU 56, Fullerton St. 12.

Quarterback Tom Hodson passed for 230 yards and three touchdowns for LSU. Stan Lambert accounted for all of Fullerton State's scoring with field goals of 49, 42, 41, and 32 yards.

No. 8 Florida St. 44, East Carolina 3.

Sammie Smith rushed for 244 yards and scored on an 83-yard run to lead the Seminoles. He gained 166 yards in the second quarter alone. Smith's rushing total was exceeded only by Greg Allen's school record of 322 set in 1981 against Western Carolina.

No. 10 Clemson 22, Virginia Tech 10.

Wesley McFadden rushed 21 times for 226 yards, including touchdown runs of 89 and 44 yards for Clemson. Frank Boomer suffered his first defeat as Virginia Tech coach.

Strike deadline nears

WASHINGTON (AP) - As a strike deadline approaches, the National Football League Players Association and team owners are still talking tough. But the sides say they are willing to compromise.

Management and the union planned to meet today in an effort to work toward replacing the collective bargaining agreement that expired Aug. 31.

NFLPA executive director Gene Upshaw said on Friday that, unless management is willing to bend, "nothing would be accomplished in these meetings."

He accused the league's owners of using a "take it or leave it" approach to the talks, which stalled Sept. 3 when the union insisted on guarantees for its player representatives. After reading a proposed contract submitted by management on Monday, the NFLPA on Tuesday set a strike deadline of Sept. 22.

"I'm willing to do anything that seems reasonable if we can bring this to a fast conclusion," Upshaw said. "So far, everything I've done has been met with resistance. The tactic the NFL has undertaken is plain and simple union-busting."

"Compromise is inherent in our proposal," countered Jack Donlan, chief negotiator for the Management Council. "One of the ways to avoid a strike is to negotiate and we've had continued difficulty getting the union to the bargaining table."

Donlan said the proposal submitted by management on Monday came about because of the union's unwillingness to continue the talks.

"They left us no choice," Donlan said. "It wasn't take it or leave it, but a way to stimulate the intensive bargaining we need to avoid a strike."

Upshaw said he met with AFL-CIO officials Friday morning to discuss putting together a plan that would provide for support of the union in the event of a walk-out.

The owners have also made preparations for a possible walk-out. In addition to financial arrangements, management on Thursday voted unanimously to continue operations by using non-striking players and free agents in order to field teams.

Upshaw ridiculed the owners' plan.

"If these guys are quality players, why weren't they on the team in the first place," Upshaw said. "And what will they call the thing they hold in San Diego at the end of the year, the Scab Bowl instead of the Super Bowl?"

Donlan defended the decision. "In 1982, a 57-day strike had a devastating effect on the NFL," he said. "The players, owners and fans suffered. No one thinks this is a perfect solution, but the owners are committed to take a new course to disengage the cycle of a strike every time there are negotiations."

Upshaw said the course of negotiations is not entirely centered upon union's demands for "total" free agency of guarantees for player representatives.

"Quite candidly, I feel all the issues are negotiable," he said.

Said Donlan, "We can get the job done and avoid a strike, but only if we get back to the bargaining table."

Upshaw, too, said he was anxious to get back to talking about the issues. But he claimed nothing would be accomplished unless the owners become more sympathetic to the union's cause.

WORKING STUDENTS:

When you fill out your Form W-4 or W-4A, "Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate," remember: If you can be claimed on your parent's or another person's tax return, you generally cannot be exempt from income tax withholding. To get it right, read the instructions that came with your Form W-4 or W-4A.

A Public Service of the IRS

ECU HILLEL WELCOME YOU!
ATTENTION JEWISH STUDENTS
PLEASE ATTEND OUR OPENING GET-TOGETHER

FREE MEET/GREET/EAT FREE
at 1420 E. 14th St.
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17
8:15 p.m.
Call 830-1138 for info/directions/ride/etc.

Whatever the assignment, Pilot has the formula for writing comfort and precision. Pilot's Better Ball Point Pen, in medium and fine points, lets you breeze through long note-taking sessions. In fact, we've made writer's fatigue a thing of the past! This crystal barreled veteran of the campus has a ribbed finger grip for continuous control and is perfectly balanced for effortless writing. Best of all, you'll never throw it out because it's refillable.

The perfect teammate to the Better Ball Point Pen is Pilot's Pencil. 0.5mm mechanical pencil. It has a continuous lead feed system and a cushion tip that helps eliminate the frustration of lead breakage. The Pencil's jumbo eraser does the job cleanly while the ribbed grip offers the same comfort as the Better Ball Point Pen.

Pick up the Pilot Team at your campus bookstore today...The Better Ball Point Pen and The Pencil.

PILOT STUDENT STORES

Wright Building

Owned and Operated by East Carolina University.

DON'T WAIT FOR SNOW

Get Ready For Ski Season Now!

GORDON'S
Golf and Ski
Shop
264 Bypass
(Next to Greenville TV and Appliance)
756-1003

CAMPUS GIRL SCOUTS

NEEDS YOU!

For more information call:
Katie Monahan, President
752-8960
Nancy Ludwig, Advisor
758-6701

Parties • Helping Other Troops • Horseback Riding

Making New Friends • Camping • Public Service Work

RUSH

Sept. 15th and 16th (7-11p.m.)

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

422 W. 5th St.

757-3516

"The Phoenix TAKE FLIGHT"
Be A Part Of It!!

CK,

East Carolinian

Babes

S

CU coeds
dilett:

Interviews

erson:

tary - Football

A PHI P AHEAD

NER OF THE MOST IMPROVED
COUNCIL, DELTA SIGMA PHI
AS A WHOLE LOT OF PARTIES.
ROUND AND LOCATE YOUR
LY WORTH EXPERIENCING.

-11:00

757-0313

SMU coping without football

DALLAS, TX (CPS) — Two weeks after taking office, the new president of Southern Methodist University finally talked about the sports scandals that have made SMU into a synonym for all of what's wrong with intercollegiate athletics.

The scandal, president A. Kenneth Pye said Aug. 29, has as much to do with education at SMU "as what's happening in the Persian Gulf."

Pye, who observers thought would announce dramatic new athletic reforms, spoke during a dark time in college sports.

About the time Pye assumed office, the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) suspended athletes from Ohio State, Pittsburgh and Alabama for allegedly taking money from sports agents.

During the last several years, athletes have been involved in a seemingly endless string of drug problems, crimes, classroom cheating, transcript fixings and other unsavory incidents.

In response, the American Council on Education (ACE) organized a group of college presidents to work for reform, and several states — Ohio, Michigan, California and, last week, Texas — have passed laws to punish sports agents and campus sports boosters who violate NCAA rules.

More ominously for campus sports, in July a Media General-Associated Press poll found that half of all Americans believe intercollegiate athletics are "overemphasized" in U.S. education.

"College graduates were far more likely to say that sports are overemphasized in college than those with less of an education," said Media General researcher Dorothy Cook of the poll of 1,304 adults.

"What the public is demanding," observed Sheldon Steinbach of the ACE, "is more stringent rules, and most schools are responding on their own."

Steinbach cited Virginia Tech, which this summer passed tough new regulations of athletes' and boosters' behavior after being punished for violating NCAA recruiting rules, as setting a valuable new standard for campus rules.

"College sports are definitely moving toward more regulations," added Marc Dreyfuss of the Institute for Trends Research in Wilmington, N.C.

Nothing — not the June, 1986, cocaine-related death of University of Maryland basketball star Len Bias, the revelations that several Georgia athletes were given special academic treatment or the firing of a New Mexico coach for altering some athletes' transcripts — seemed to sour public opinion as much as the SMU scandal.

"Public reaction to the SMU scandal," Dreyfuss said, "was very important."

Last year, the NCAA found SMU boosters gave $61,000 in illicit payments to 13 football players, "loaned" them cars and apartments, and then tried to cover it all up.

Texas Gov. Bill Clements, moreover, apparently knew about and approved the payments while he served on SMU's Board of Governors.

The NCAA, in turn, imposed a "death penalty" on the school, barring it from playing football this year and most of 1988.

"Yes," said SMU athletic department spokesman Paul Ridings, "we're hopeful that past mistakes won't be repeated. There will be no special admissions for any athlete who does not meet SMU's requirements, and there will be no more payments."

Still, observers were waiting anxiously to hear what Pye — a Duke professor who took the SMU job after the scandal forced out former SMU president, L. Donald Shields, as well as SMU's football coach and athletic director in the last year — would do about sports.

His answer in his Aug. 29 speech to SMU's freshmen: essentially ignore the past offenses.

Pye made a "plea for assistance" to SMU freshmen to help recruit promising athletes for SMU from their old high schools, a switch from the high-pressure recruiting of high school seniors by boosters.

Pye also promised he will soon unveil a 10-point program for improving academics at the school.

IMAGINE THAT!

Advertising with The East Carolinian

Buccaneer

East Carolina University's Yearbook

is looking for a few good staff members with experience in Writing & Photography

Applications can be picked up at the Buccaneer Office, located on the 2nd floor in the Publication's Building.

NOW OPEN!

Jiffy Lube....

The newest concept in car care maintenance is now open in Greenville!

Here's what we do in 10 minutes, no appointment necessary!!!

1. We change your oil with a major brand!
2. We install a new oil filter!
3. We lubricate the whole chassis!
4. We check and fill transmission fluid!
5. We check and fill differential fluid!
6. We check and fill brake fluid!
7. We check and fill power steering fluid!
8. We check and fill window washer fluid!
9. We check and fill battery!
10. We check the air filter!
11. We check the wiper blades!
12. We inflate the tires to proper pressure!
13. We vacuum the interior!
14. We even wash your windows!

PLUS a FREE Car Wash with Full Service!

$2.00 OFF
FULL SERVICE
(WITH COUPON)
Reg. $21.95

COUPON GOOD SEPT. 30th, 1987.

95¢
JIFFY CAR WASH
(WITH COUPON)

COUPON GOOD SEPT. 30th, 1987.

HOURS
Monday thru Friday
7:30 a.m. 'til 6:30 p.m.
Sat. 7:30 a.m. 'til 5:00 p.m.

"East Carolina's Answer To The Oil Change Problem"

126 Greenville Blvd.
Greenville
(Across from Golden Corral Steak House)

ZBT Little Sister Rush

Come join us Thursday

Sept. 17th from

8 - 11 p.m.

at 2401 East Third
Street Apt. D

For a ride or info call:
752-3682 or 830-0524

don't forget to rush...

LAMBDA-CHI-ALPHA

tues ----- pizza&subs
wed ----- oysters on the 1
2

Williams pace

(AP) - Doug Williams, who took one snap from center in an NFL game last year, discovered that being a backup quarterback can have its rewards.

"It was great to be in control," Williams said after throwing two touchdown passes as the Washington Redskins defeated the Philadelphia Eagles 34-24 Sunday. "It was the same old feeling that it used to be."

Jay Schroeder, who played all but one offensive down for the Redskins in 1986, played only the first five minutes of the season opener before leaving with a sprained right shoulder.

Williams, the subject of numerous trade queries during the off-season from teams looking for a starting quarterback, came in to complete 17 of 27 passes for 272 yards, including scoring plays of 39 and 6 yards to Art Monk.

In other NFL openers, it was the New York Jets 31, Buffalo 28; New Orleans 28, Cleveland 21; Houston 20, Los Angeles Rams 16; Cincinnati 23, Indianapolis 21; New England 28, Miami 21; Kansas City 20, San Diego 13; Pittsburgh 30, San Francisco 17; Tampa Bay 48, Atlanta 10; St. Louis 24, Dallas 13; Minnesota 34, Detroit 19; Los Angeles Raiders 20, Green Bay 0; and Denver 40, Seattle 17.

Eight of the 13 openers Sunday

USC triumph

Continued from page 18

go over 100 yards since Anthony Smith had 145 yards a year ago in South Carolina's 45-24 victory over Western Carolina.

Roach kicked a 28-yard field goal with 4:46 left in the third period for the Catamounts' other points before 66,653 — about 6,000 more than saw the pope Friday night at the 72,400-seat stadium.

Freshman Collin Mackie kicked a 47-yard field goal with 5:55 remaining for the final points of the game.

The loss was Western saw player handshake drawing to some cities.

The play strike deal agreement negotiation.

The Redskins on the field when Williams took the snap.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams passes to Steve Delaney for a touchdown.

Williams paces Redskin rally

(AP) - Doug Williams, who took one snap from center in an NFL game last year, discovered that being a backup quarterback can have its rewards.

"It was great to be in control," Williams said after throwing two touchdown passes as the Washington Redskins defeated the Philadelphia Eagles 34-24 Sunday. "It was the same old feeling that it used to be."

Jay Schroeder, who played all but one offensive down for the Redskins in 1986, played only the first five minutes of the season opener before leaving with a sprained right shoulder.

Williams, the subject of numerous trade queries during the off-season from teams looking for a starting quarterback, came in to complete 17 of 27 passes for 272 yards, including scoring plays of 39 and 6 yards to Art Monk.

In other NFL openers, it was the New York Jets 31, Buffalo 28; New Orleans 28, Cleveland 21; Houston 20, Los Angeles Rams 16; Cincinnati 23, Indianapolis 21; New England 28, Miami 21; Kansas City 20, San Diego 13; Pittsburgh 30, San Francisco 17; Tampa Bay 48, Atlanta 10; St. Louis 24, Dallas 13; Minnesota 34, Detroit 19; Los Angeles Raiders 20, Green Bay 0; and Denver 40, Seattle 17.

Eight of the 13 openers Sunday

saw players exchange solidarity handshakes before the game, drawing loud boos from fans in some cities.

The players union has set a strike deadline of Sept. 22 if no agreement is reached in contract negotiations with the owners.

The Redskins snapped a 24-24 tie on the first play of fourth quarter when Williams passed 39 yards to Monk.

Williams had two other long passes to set up a field goal and another touchdown.

Buccaneers 48, Falcons 10: Steve DeBerg, who threw seven interceptions in the first game of the 1986 season when Tampa Bay was 2-14 for the second straight year, passed for 333 yards and a team-record five touchdowns in the Buccaneers rout of Atlanta.

DeBerg, who completed 24 of 34 passes and was intercepted only once, directed first-half scoring drives of 91, 76 and 80 yards before Rick Woods returned an interception 42 yards to set up Tampa Bay's fourth touchdown.

Steelers 30, 49ers 17: Pittsburgh shut down San Francisco's running game and intercepted three passes by Joe Montana.

Rookie cornerback Delton Hall gave Steelers the lead with a 50-yard fumble recovery return in the first quarter. Mark Malone, who completed just nine of 33 passes, made it 14-3 in the second period with a 2-yard scoring toss to Preston Goard.

Monatana completed 34 of 49 passes for 316 yards, but the 49ers managed only 47 yards rushing.

Cardinals 24, Cowboys 13: St. Louis, stifled by the Dallas defense for 58 minutes, scored three touchdowns in the final two minutes to win its first home opener in 12 years.

Neil Lomax found Roy Green for 16 - and 22 - yard touchdown passes in a span of 65 seconds to give the Cardinals a 17-13 lead, and Earl Ferrell ran 15 yards for the clinching score with 19 seconds left.

It was only the second loss in 23 season openers for the Cowboys.

Patriots 28, Dolphins 21: New England beat Miami with the help of a two-touchdown burst in a 50-second span of the third quarter.

Tony Collins' 7-yard run, his second touchdown of the game, tied the score 21-21. Then Dan Marino threw a short pass to Bruce Hardy, who deflected the ball into the hands of Ronnie Lippett, and he ran 20 yards untouched to his first NFL touchdown with 7:52 left in the third period.

Marino, who missed most of the preseason with a dislocated finger, threw three scoring passes before leaving with an eye injury with 2:22 left in the game. Backup quarterback Don Strock led the Dolphins to the Patriots' 3-yard line with five seconds left, but his pass into the end zone was incomplete.

Oilers 20, Rams 16: Houston scored 17 points in the final 7:28 to beat Los Angeles.

The Rams had a 16-3 lead before Warren Moon passed 3 yards to Jamie Williams, then added a 59-yarder to Ernest Givins, who caught a short pass over the middle and sprinted to the end zone with 2:59 left, giving Houston its first lead, 17-16.

USC triumphs

Continued from page 18

go over 100 yards since Anthony Smith had 145 yards a year ago in South Carolina's 45-24 victory over Western Carolina.

Roach kicked a 28-yard field goal with 4:46 left in the third period for the Catamounts' other points before 66,653 - about 6,000 more than saw the pope Friday night at the 72,400-seat stadium.

Freshman Collin Mackie kicked a 47-yard field goal with 5:55 remaining for the final points of the game.

The loss was Western

Carolina's second in a row to a South Carolina team. Last week, the Catamounts lost to Clemson 43-0. But Coach Bob Waters isn't going to get into comparing the two bitter rivals.

"They are two good football teams," Waters said. "They are totally different teams."

As for his team, Waters said he felt the score didn't indicate how the Catamounts played.

"I saw some good things and some positive things," he said. "We could have folded at the half. We were outmanned, and South Carolina has some very good football players."

Hank's Homemade Ice Cream

321 East 10th Street (next to Wendy's)

*VOTED The BEST ICE CREAM in the USA*

CALL
758-0000
6:00-11:00 p.m.
DAILY

DELIVERS

CALL
758-0000
6:00-11:00 p.m.
DAILY

Featured On:

MIDDAY
WITH-TV 7

-ICE CREAM FLAVORS- (VARY DAILY)

Banana Nut
Butter Pecan
Chocolate
Chocolate Malt
Cocoanut Almond Cream
Coffee Chocolate Chip
Chocolate Pecan

*Egg Nog
French Vanilla
*Maple Walnut
Mint Chocolate Chip
Coffee
Peanut Butter

*Peppermint Crunch
*Pumpkin
*Strawberry
Sweet Cream
Vanilla
Vanilla Malt

Vanilla Chocolate Chip
-SORBETS-
Champagne
Lemon-Lime
Orange
Strawberry
*When in season

Sundaes

•Mini.....2.19
•Large.....2.99
Your choice ice cream plus hot fudge, butter, scotch, or fruit topping, whipped cream, or marshmallow, nuts or candy sprinkles.

Banana Split

•Banana, plus 3 scoops of ice cream, plus hot fudge, butter, scotch, and fruit, plus marshmallow and whipped cream, plus nuts and candy!

$3.59

Drinks

•Milk Shake.....2.29
•Malt.....2.39
•Rootbeer Float.....1.99
•Buccaneer Blizzard.....2.29
•Pepsi, Diet Pepsi, Slice
Mt. Dew......60 .70
•Hot Coffee......50
•Hot Chocolate......60

Cups-n-Cones

•Regular.....1.09
•Large.....1.99
Your choice: sugar or plain cone
•Waffle Cones......50
•Pint.....2.89
•Quart.....4.75
•Hot Fudge pint.....3.29
•Hot Fudge 1/2 pint.....1.79

Ice Cream Cakes

•Your choice:
Vanilla and Chocolate
Strawberry and Vanilla
Chocolate and Peanut Butter
Oreo Cookie and Vanilla
(all with Oreo Cookie center)

8" round - serves 8-10 people - 10.99
10" round - serves 14-16 people - 14.99

PERSONALIZED FREE

Blend-in's

Large ice cream with:
•1 item blend-in.....2.29
•2 item blend-in.....2.49
•3 item blend-in.....2.69
•Blend-in with topping.....2.69
•Blend-in sundae.....3.39

Blend-in Items

M&M's
M&M's peanut
Reese's Pieces
Junior Mints
Oreo Cookies
Butterfingers
Malted Milk Balls
Heath Bar
Coconut
Cherries
Strawberry's
Pineapple
Banana's

Mud Pie.....9.99
Black Bottom Pie.....9.99

Free Delivery on orders over $7.00. $1.00 charge on orders under $7.00

FREE DELIVERY WITH THIS COUPON $1.00 VALUE expires 9-22-87

Little Sister Rush
Join us Thursday
Sept. 17th from
8 - 11 p.m.
at 2401 East Third
Street Apt. D

For a ride or info call:
752-3682 or 830-0524

A-CHI-ALPHA

-----pizza&subs
-----oysters on the 1/2

5 7-1367 A X A

TKE
World's Largest Fraternity

RUSH

Tau Kappa Epsilon

THE

Subs &

Tuesday

TKE RUSH Wednesday (Third Night)
Rush times 7:00-11:00

951 E. 10th Street

For more information
757-3042

Williams paces Redskin rally

(AP) - Doug Williams, who took one snap from center in an NFL game last year, discovered that being a backup quarterback can have its rewards.

"It was great to be in control," Williams said after throwing two touchdown passes as the Washington Redskins defeated the Philadelphia Eagles 34-24 Sunday. "It was the same old feeling that it used to be."

Jay Schroeder, who played all but one offensive down for the Redskins in 1986, played only the first five minutes of the season opener before leaving with a sprained right shoulder.

Williams, the subject of numerous trade queries during the off-season from teams looking for a starting quarterback, came in to complete 17 of 27 passes for 272 yards, including scoring plays of 39 and 6 yards to Art Monk.

In other NFL openers, it was the New York Jets 31, Buffalo 28; New Orleans 28, Cleveland 21; Houston 20, Los Angeles Rams 16; Cincinnati 23, Indianapolis 21; New England 28, Miami 21; Kansas City 20, San Diego 13; Pittsburgh 30, San Francisco 17; Tampa Bay 48, Atlanta 10; St. Louis 24, Dallas 13; Minnesota 34, Detroit 19; Los Angeles Raiders 20, Green Bay 0; and Denver 40, Seattle 17.

Eight of the 13 openers Sunday

saw players exchange solidarity handshakes before the game, drawing loud boos from fans in some cities.

The players union has set a strike deadline of Sept. 22 if no agreement is reached in contract negotiations with the owners.

The Redskins snapped a 24-24 tie on the first play of fourth quarter when Williams passed 39 yards to Monk.

Williams had two other long passes to set up a field goal and another touchdown.

Buccaneers 48, Falcons 10: Steve DeBerg, who threw seven interceptions in the first game of the 1986 season when Tampa Bay was 2-14 for the second straight year, passed for 333 yards and a team-record five touchdowns in the Buccaneers rout of Atlanta.

DeBerg, who completed 24 of 34 passes and was intercepted only once, directed first-half scoring drives of 91, 76 and 80 yards before Rick Woods returned an interception 42 yards to set up Tampa Bay's fourth touchdown.

Steelers 30, 49ers 17: Pittsburgh shut down San Francisco's running game and intercepted three passes by Joe Montana.

Rookie cornerback Delton Hall gave Steelers the lead with a 50-yard fumble recovery return in the first quarter. Mark Malone, who completed just nine of 33 passes, made it 14-3 in the second period with a 2-yard scoring toss to Preston Gothard.

Monatana completed 34 of 49 passes for 316 yards, but the 49ers managed only 47 yards rushing.

Cardinals 24, Cowboys 13: St. Louis, stifled by the Dallas defense for 58 minutes, scored three touchdowns in the final two minutes to win its first home opener in 12 years.

Neil Lomax found Roy Green for 16 - and 22 - yard touchdown passes in a span of 65 seconds to give the Cardinals a 17-13 lead, and Earl Ferrell ran 15 yards for the clinching score with 19 seconds left.

It was only the second loss in 23 season openers for the Cowboys.

Patriots 28, Dolphins 21: New England beat Miami with the help of a two-touchdown burst in a 50-second span of the third quarter.

Tony Collins' 7-yard run, his second touchdown of the game, tied the score 21-21. Then Dan Marino threw a short pass to Bruce Hardy, who deflected the ball into the hands of Ronnie Lippett, and he ran 20 yards untouched to his first NFL touchdown with 7:52 left in the third period.

Marino, who missed most of the preseason with a dislocated finger, threw three scoring passes before leaving with an eye injury with 2:22 left in the game. Backup quarterback Don Strock led the Dolphins to the Patriots' 3-yard line with five seconds left, but his pass into the end zone was incomplete.

Oilers 20, Rams 16: Houston scored 17 points in the final 7:28 to beat Los Angeles.

The Rams had a 16-3 lead before Warren Moon passed 3 yards to Jamie Williams, then added a 59-yarder to Ernest Givins, who caught a short pass over the middle and sprinted to the end zone with 2:59 left, giving Houston its first lead, 17-16.

USC triumphs

Continued from page 18

go over 100 yards since Anthony Smith had 145 yards a year ago in South Carolina's 45-24 victory over Western Carolina.

Roach kicked a 28-yard field goal with 4:46 left in the third period for the Catamounts' other points before 66,653 - about 6,000 more than saw the pope Friday night at the 72,400-seat stadium.

Freshman Collin Mackie kicked a 47-yard field goal with 5:55 remaining for the final points of the game.

The loss was Western

Carolina's second in a row to a South Carolina team. Last week, the Catamounts lost to Clemson 43-0. But Coach Bob Waters isn't going to get into comparing the two bitter rivals.

"They are two good football teams," Waters said. "They are totally different teams."

As for his team, Waters said he felt the score didn't indicate how the Catamounts played.

"I saw some good things and some positive things," he said. "We could have folded at the half. We were outmanned, and South Carolina has some very good football players."

CLIP-N-SAVE THIS MENU

Hank's Homemade Ice Cream

321 East 10th Street (next to Wendy's)

*VOTED The BEST ICE CREAM in the USA***

CALL
758-0000
6:00-11:00 p.m.
DAILY

DELIVERS

CALL
758-0000
6:00-11:00 p.m.
DAILY

Featured On:

-ICE CREAM FLAVORS- (VARY DAILY)

Banana Nut Butter Pecan Chocolate Chocolate Malt Coconut Almond Cream Coffee Chocolate Chip Chocolate Pecan	*Egg Nog French Vanilla *Maple Walnut Mint Chocolate Chip Coffee Peanut Butter	*Peppermint Crunch *Pumpkin Strawberry Sweet Cream Vanilla Vanilla Malt	Vanilla Chocolate Chip SORBETS- Champagne Lemon-Lime Orange Strawberry *When in season
---	--	---	---

Sundaes

•Mini ..... 2.19
•Large ..... 2.99

Your choice ice cream plus Hot fudge, butter, scotch, or fruit topping, whipped cream or marshmallow, nuts or candy sprinkles.

Banana Split

*Banana, plus 3 scoops of ice cream, plus hot fudge, butter, scotch, and fruit, plus marshmallow and whipped cream, plus nuts and candy!

$3.59

Drinks

•Milk Shake ..... 2.29
•Malt ..... 2.39
•Rootbeer Float ..... 1.99
•Buccaneer Blizzard ..... 2.29
•Pepsi, Diet Pepsi, Slice
Mt. Dew ..... 60.70
Hot Coffee ..... 50
Hot Chocolate ..... 60

Cups-n-Cones

•Regular ..... 1.09
•Large ..... 1.99
Your choice: sugar or plain cone

•Waffle Cones ..... 50
•Pint ..... 2.89
•Quart ..... 4.75
•Hot Fudge pint ..... 3.29
•Hot Fudge 1/2 pint ..... 1.79

Ice Cream Cakes

*Your choice:
Vanilla and Chocolate
Strawberry and Vanilla
Chocolate and Peanut Butter
Oreo Cookie and Vanilla
(all with Oreo Cookie center)

8" round - serves 8-10 people: 10.99
10" round - serves 14-16 people: 14.99

PERSONALIZED FREE

Blend-in's

Large ice cream with:

•1 item blend-in ..... 2.29
•2 item blend-in ..... 2.49
•3 item blend-in ..... 2.69

•Blend-in with topping ..... 2.69
•Blend-in sundae ..... 3.39

Blend-in Items

M&M's	Heath Bar
M&M's peanut	Coconut
Reese's Pieces	Cherries
Reese's Cups	Strawberry's
Junior Mints	Pineapple
Oreo Cookies	Banana's
Butterfingers
Malted Milk Balls

Mud Pie ..... 9.99
Black Bottom Pie ..... 9.99

Free Delivery on orders over $7.00. $1.00 charge on orders under $7.00

FREE DELIVERY WITH THIS COUPON $1.00 VALUE expires 9-22-87

CLIP-N-SAVE THIS MENU

Pirates

87

Little Sister Rush

Join us Thursday

Sept. 17th from

8 - 11 p.m.

at 2401 East Third

Street Apt. D

1898

For a ride or info call:

752-3682 or 830-0524

A-CHI-ALPHA

pizza & subs

oysters on the

1
2

5 7-1367 A X A

eternity

T

World's Large

RUSH

Tau Kappa Epsilon

THE

Subs & Tuesday

TKE RUSH Wednesday (Third Night)

Rush times 7:00-11:00

951 E. 10th Street

For more information 757-3042

THE DEPARTMENT OF INTRAMURAL - RECREATIONAL SERVICES

(Paid advertisement)

The Department of Intramural-Recreational Services offers a wide variety of services and programs for faculty, staff and students of East Carolina University. These programs include: intramural sports, club sports, informal recreation, aerobic/fitness classes, physical fitness activities, outdoor recreation equipment rentals and trips plus an equipment check out center. "Where fun is #1", tells the story of recreational services around the East Carolina campus and serves as the motto for the Department of Intramural-Recreational Services. Become familiar with the program and participate rather than spectate. For more information regarding the Department, drop by room 204 Memorial Gym or call 757-6387.

SEPTEMBER SPORT SPECTACULAR

The Intramural Sport fall program started with a bang in 1987 as over 125 teams registered for the ever popular flag football race for the all campus title. Pollsters have chosen the following squads as this year's teams to beat in both the men's and women's A and B divisions:

Women's Division	Men's Division
1. Entores	1. Funk Brothers
2. Pi Kappa K Mart	2. Milwaukee East
3. Alpha Phi	3. Lake Boys
4. ROT-Coe	4. Sigma Phi Epsilon

The gridiron action will continue through the month on locations adjacent to Ficklen Stadium. The powerful Pirates in purple and gold will not be the only pigskin powers on campus this year. Action starts daily at 3:00 p.m. and will continue throughout the evening.

Intramural co-rec softball will be in full swing Monday, September 16 as fourteen teams take to the diamonds in search of Intramural gold. The top three teams in the co-rec pre season poll are as follows:

1. The Executioners
2. The Fried City Gang
3. The Naturals

Games will be played on the Allied Health Fields Monday through Wednesday from 4:00-7:00 p.m. Come out and catch the mixed slug-gers in action.

HowDo I...

Find the Intramural-Recreational Services Offices?

The main office of the Department of Intramural-Recreational Services is located in 204 Memorial Gymnasium, and is open Monday - Friday from 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. Memorial Gymnasium is located on 10th Street, adjacent to the Brewster Building.

Know when the recreation facilities are open?

Call Intra-Action, 757-6562, for around-the-clock information on facility availability and operational hours; or stop by our office to pick up a pocket calendar that indicates the hours for each facility.

Use the weight rooms?

Bring your validated East Carolina University ID card to either Memorial Gymnasium or Minges Coliseum weight rooms during scheduled informal recreation hours.

Join an intramural team?

Check the pocket calendar for registration dates, gather up your friends to form a team, or come by the office to be placed on an existing team.

Swim at the pools?

Present your validated East Carolina University ID card to the life guards at either Memorial pool or Minges pool during scheduled informal recreation hours.

Reserve a racquetball court?

Call 757-6911, or sign up in person at the Memorial Gymnasium Equipment Room. Courts may be reserved in person from 11:30 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. and by phone from 12 noon - 3:00 p.m.

Join an aerobics class?

Either sign up in advance in room 204 Memorial Gymnasium during registration dates or bring your validated East Carolina University ID card, plus one dollar, to any scheduled class.

Check out sports equipment?

Come over to the Equipment Room, located in room 115 Memorial Gymnasium, and bring your validated East Carolina University ID card.

Join an East Carolina University Club Sport?

Call 757-6387 for specific information related to the Club Sport that interests you, or come by the office for additional information.

Join the Pepsi Physical Fitness Club or Aerobics Challenge Program?

Stop by our office to register for the program(s) and set your goals for walking, running, swimming or cycling. Upon completion of your goal, you will receive the appropriate award.

Apply for a job with the Department of Intramural-Recreational Services? Come by 204 Memorial Gymnasium on weekdays between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. and complete an application form.

Get permission for spouses and/or dependents to use the facilities?

Mendenhall Student Center makes photo ID cards. This ID card will entitle your spouse or dependent to use the University recreational facilities.

Have fun and avoid boredom?

Become involved in one or more of the many varied programs offered by the Department of Intramural-Recreational Services.

For Physical Fitness Fanatics

Do you feel overweight, out of shape and unfit? The Physical Fitness division of the IRS can get you back on the right track to a more beautiful YOU. An array of special programs and fitness classes have been developed to shape up faculty, staff and students of East Carolina. Aerobic fitness classes have already begun for the first session so don't miss second session registration October 13-16.

You can still enjoy several fitness programs such as the Pepsi Physical Fitness Club, Exercise W.I.S.E., Swim Conditioning, and Weight Training Clinics. The Pepsi Physical Fitness Club offers six choices of self-directed exercises on a challenge basis. Participants may choose from jogging, swimming, walking, biking, pushing (wheel-chairs), or a combination of these activities. YOU select the activity, work out on your own, record the distance and receive an award for your accomplishments. Registration and mileage participation forms are available in room 204

INTR-ACTION HOTLINE 757-6562

Around the clock information, facility availability, operational hours and sport schedules.

East Carolina University Department of Intramural-Recreational Services Division of Intramural Sports Fall 1987 Calendar

Event	Registration/Meeting	Officials Clinics
Co-Rec Almost Anything Goes	08/31 11 AM - 6 PM MG104-A
Flag Football	09/08 11 AM - 6 PM MG104-A	09/01 8 PM
*Co-Rec Softball	09/08 5 PM Brew D-103	09/08 6 PM
*Tennis Singles	09/09 5 PM Brew D-103
*Co-Rec Cageball	09/23 6 PM Brew D-103
Home Run Derby	09/30 3:30 - 6 PM Varsity Fld.
*Racquetball Singles	09/30 5 PM Brew D-103
*Co-Rec Water Basketball	10/07 6 PM Brew D-103	10/08 8 PM
*1-On-1 Basketball	10/07 7 PM Brew D-103
*Swim Meet	10/08 7 PM Bio 102
Challenge Day	10/14 11 AM - 6 PM MG 104-A
Volleyball	10/21 11 AM - 6 PM MG 104-A	10/12 8 PM
Soccer	10/21 11 AM - 6 PM MG 104-A	10/12 6 PM
*Co-Rec Football	10/28 7 PM Brew D-103	10/27 8 PM
Bowling	10/28 11 AM - 6 PM MG 104-A
*Co-Rec Basketball	10/28 8 PM Brew D-103	10/29 8 PM
*3-On-3 Basketball	11/04 6 PM Brew D-103	11/05 8 PM
*Turkey Trot	11/18 6 PM Brew D-103
*Indoor Soccer	11/24 6 PM Brew D-103

Registration and Attendance at Team Captains Meetings are Mandatory!

*Registration at these meeting is required to ensure participation.

**Call 757-6387 for specific information.

Intramural-Recreational Representatives Meeting - Tuesday, September 22, 5 PM, Bio 102

Outdoor Recreation First In Adventure

The Department of Intramural-Recreational Services invites you to take an adventure of a lifetime through the Outdoor Recreation Center located in room 113 Memorial Gym. Outdoorsmen may enjoy a scenic bike ride through the outskirts of Greenville; a canoe trip along the rivers of North Carolina; a sailing excursion along the coast; a windsurfing or hang gliding trip along the Outer Banks or a quiet horseback riding adventure - all brought to you by the ORC (Outdoor Recreation Center).

These adventure trips and a variety of specialized clinics have been designed for all faculty, staff and students of the University. If you would rather design your own weekend fun, the ORC can supply you with all the equipment you may need through its equipment checkout center. A nominal fee is required for rentals. The ORC supplies the equipment, you supply the fun!

Upcoming adventure trips and their registration deadlines are as follows:

Activity	Registration
Canoe Trip	9/8-9/15
Sailing	9/14-9/21
Kayaking Clinic	9/14-9/21
Bike Hike	9/14-9/21

The Outdoor Recreation Center is open Monday & Friday, 1:30-5:30 p.m.; Tuesday & Thursday, 3:30 p.m.-5:30 p.m.

Almost Anything Goes

You've seen it on billboards plastered around campus, you've heard it in the news, you've wondered what it is! Well, it's finally here - Intramural Almost Anything Goes will be held Thursday, September 17 at the bottom of College Hill. Still not sure what it's all about? Well, here's a brief outlook of the events taking place from 3:00-7:00 p.m.

Bud Light "All American" - Six men/women players race to the finish in what some may call an unusual fall wardrobe.

Big Bad Bud Relay - Care to look like a fool in front of over 200 spectators? Participants can't afford not to.

Thread the Needle - You can be tied together with three men and women of your choice. Only campus heels and hearty souls need apply.

Fill'er Up - Participants cups will runneth over with laughter and a little of the 'wet stuff'.

And the Keg Rolls On - And you thought you were disoriented after the football game Saturday night!

O'Memurals Had a Farm - Watch participants crack up in this animal farm event.

Still confused? Find out all you missed after the event, or take part in this years Almost Anything Goes sponsored by Bud Light/Jeffrey's Beer and Wine. All participants will receive a FREE t-shirt while first through fourth place finishers will receive individual trophies. All the action and hilarity begins this Thursday at the bottom of College Hill.

Intramural Where Fun Is #1

Informal Recreation

Memorial Gymnasium

Mon.-Fri.	12:00 noon - 1:30 p.m.
Mon.-Fri.	4:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.
Fri.	3:00 p.m. - 7:00 p.m.
Sat.	11:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.
Sun.	12:00 noon - 5:00 p.m.

Equipment Check-out

Mon.-Thurs.	10:00 a.m. - 9:00 p.m.
Fri.	10:00 a.m. - 7:00 p.m.
Sat.	11:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.
Sun.	12:00 noon - 5:00 p.m.

Weight Rooms

Mon.-Thurs.	10:00 a.m. - 9:00 p.m.
Fri.	10:00 a.m. - 7:00 p.m.
Sat.	11:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.
Sun.	12:00 noon - 5:00 p.m.

Minges

Mon.-Thurs.	3:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.
Fri.	3:00 p.m. - 7:00 p.m.
Sun.	12:00 noon - 5:00 p.m.

Swimming Pools

Mon.-Fri.	7:00 a.m. - 8:00 a.m.
Mon.-Fri.	12:00 noon - 1:30 p.m.
Mon. & Wed.	3:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.
Tues. & Thurs.	4:00 p.m. - 5:30 p.m.
Fri.	6:30 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.
Sat.	3:00 p.m. - 7:00 p.m.
Sat.	11:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Minges

Mon.-Wed.-Fri.	8:00 p.m. - 10:00 p.m.
Sun.	12:00 noon - 5:00 p.m.

Racquetball Courts

Reservations can be made in person at 115 Memorial Gym or by calling 757-6911. Court reservations are made one day in advance Monday-Thursday. Reservations are made on Friday for Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Courts may be reserved in person from 11:30 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. and 12 noon - 3:00 p.m. by phone.

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY
DEPARTMENT OF INTRAMURAL-RECREATIONAL SERVICES
"Where fun is #1"

CO-REC CAGEBALL

REGISTRATION
September 23
6:00pm
Brewster D-103

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL: 757-6387

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY
DEPARTMENT OF INTRAMURAL-RECREATIONAL SERVICES

BIKE

HIKE

GRIMESLAND SEINE BEACH 16.5 MILE ROUTE

Registration: Sept. 14-21
Event Date: Sept. 27
204 Memorial Gym