Misplaced support

This weekend thousands of ECU alumni are going to pour into Greenville. Saturday morning they will see a flashy parade for Homecoming and later sit in the "golden" bleachers of Ficklen Coliseum to give their avid support to the ECU football team. Then, they will go home and, when asked to donate to this university, tradition predicts their money will be sent directly to the Athletic Dept.

If these alumni really want to help this university, they will think again and consider the various parts of ECU which cannot run to the Reserve Funds for money and which need outside financial support far more than the thriving athletics.

For example...

The ECU Drama Dept. building is nothing short of a disaster area. It was an elementary school originally and, therefore, scenery for plays, as well as the metal work, has to be done around old, rusty cafeteria ovens, sinks and pipes. And because this building is so old, the wiring is faulty, the ceilings are caving in and the ventilation around the electric equipment is grossly inadequate.

In McGinnis Auditorium, where the Playhouse performances are held, the grid area consists of old planks with large spaces between them. But the entire auditorium is in such poor condition that Summer Theater was discontinued years ago.

The English and Mathematics Depts. are housed in a drafty, timeworn structure known as Austin. It is a flu machine year round with windows that won't half close and cracking walls. As one of the largest departments on campus, the English Dept., at least, deserves better.

The university radio station, WECU desperately needs to go FM if it is to be any more than a campus joke. But WECU needs $5,000 just to apply for an FM license from the Federal Communications Commission. The SGA does not have the funds this year to allot to the station for this. The only way WECU is going to be able to go FM, and thus reach students and residents off-campus, is if it receives some sort of outside funding.

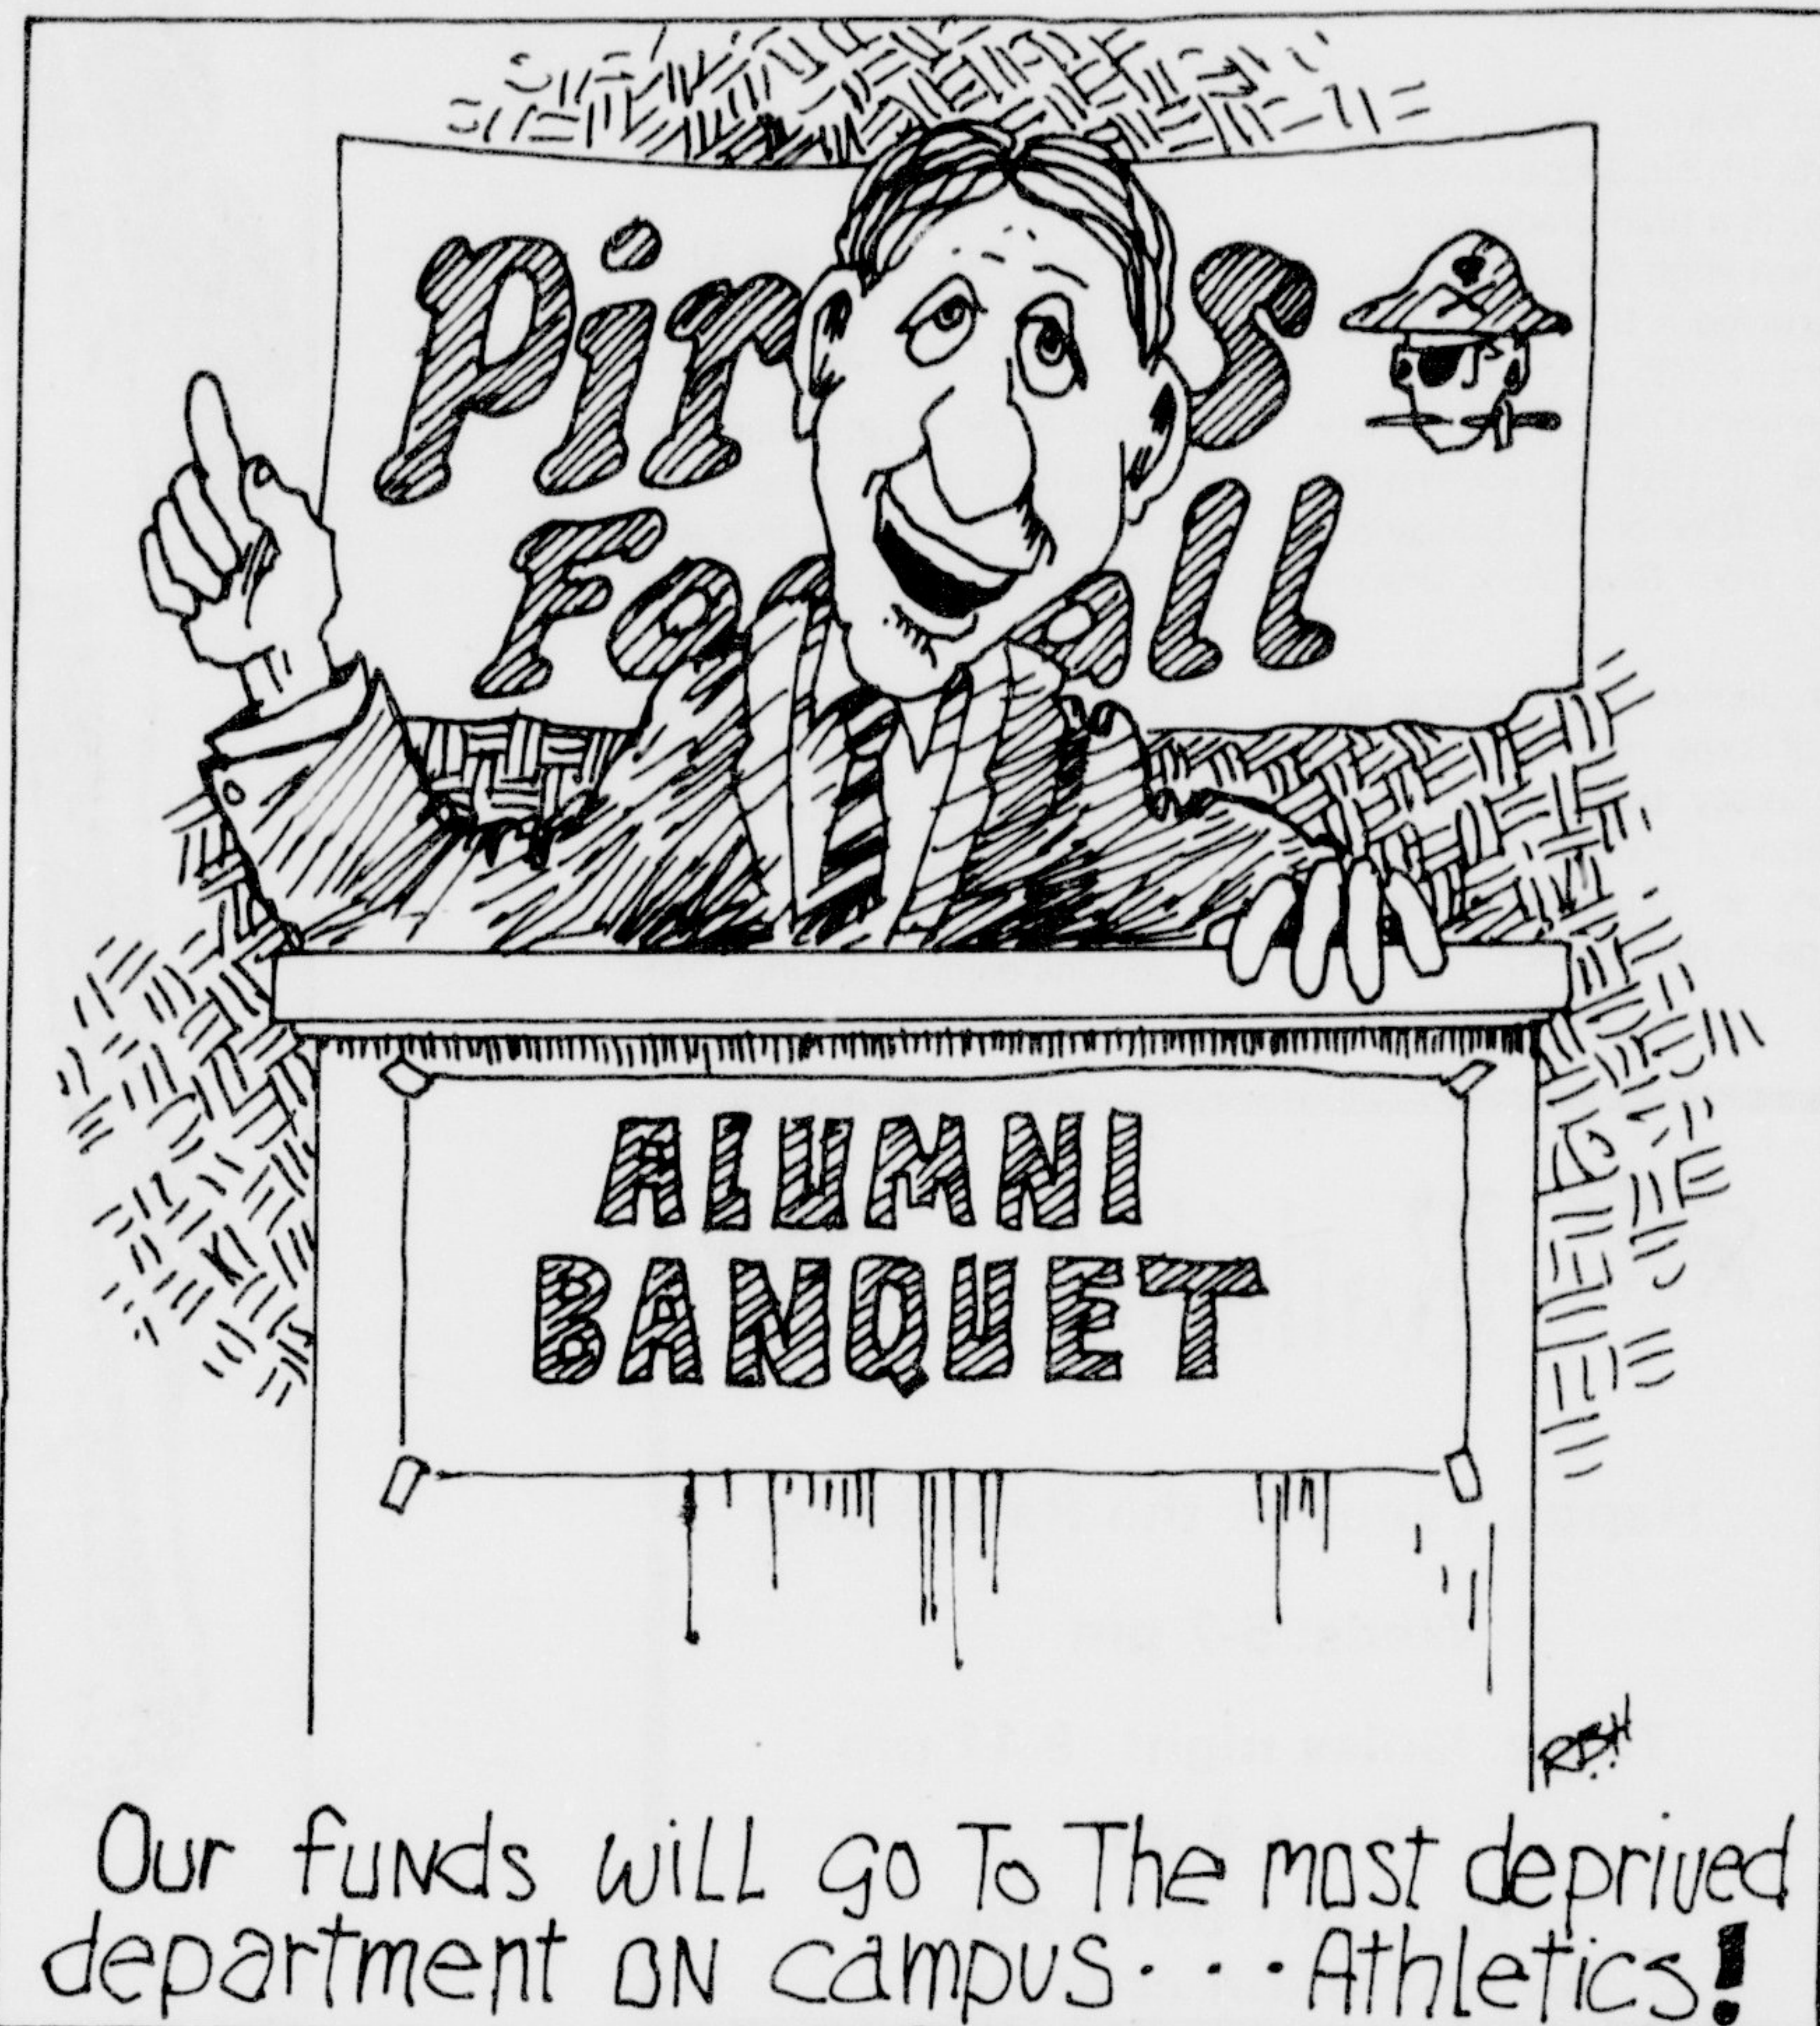

The cheerleaders for ECU football and basketball are now being funded mainly by the Student Union and the SGA. Both of these organizations need that money—a total of $2,783—for programs which benefit the entire student body and not just two sports. The Athletic Dept. says it cannot afford to support the cheerleaders by itself. If this is true, the cheerleaders' funds are going to have to come from outside sources, such as alumni cheerleaders or sports oriented alumni in general.

ECU has recently opened a School of Medicine. This School could bring more interest and respect for ECU than ever before, provided it is able to grow and support more than 28 students as this year. But a med school is expensive.

The Academic Scholarships were depleted this year so that money could pay for the expansion of ECU's Student's Supply Store. This was a disgrace to ECU as well as an embarrassment for the ECU students. Athletic scholarships, on the other hand, have not been touched. Obviously, athletic scholarships are more important to the administration than academic scholarships. The only way this can be righted is with alumni money supporting academics.

These are only a few examples of places for ECU alumni money to go instead of athletics. Unfortunately, sports are far more publicized around the country than a university's academic reputation. The state has shown its prejudice for athletics by recently appropriating money for intramural field lighting instead of a much needed overpass across Tenth Street at College Hill Drive. Therefore, ECU cannot easily go to the State of North Carolina for help in expanding its academic excellence.

City Council candidates endorsed

To FOUNTAINHEAD:

We would like to express our appreciation and support for two incumbent City Council candidates who we feel have made it clear through their past performance in office that they do in fact consider our University Community to be a very important part of Greenville. These two candidates are Mayor Pro-Tem Millie McGrath and Councilman Rev. William E. Hadden, Jr.

Mrs. McGrath and Rev. Hadden have remained close to the University by actively participating in many University functions and also by serving on committees such as the joint ECU-City Parking Committee where they have been instrumental in improving working relations between the City and the ECU Traffic and Parking Control Department.

We feel that Millie McGrath and Bill Hadden will continue to stand fast behind their convictions and will support East Carolina University on the Greenville City Council. We encourage you to join with us and help re-elect these two fine candidates to the City Council on October 11, 1977.

Greeks plan festivities for Homecoming weekend

Needless to say, Homecoming is one of the biggest events of the year at ECU. Homecoming this year will be extra special with the theme, "Milestones of East Carolina: A Tribute to Dr. Leo W. Jenkins."

Greeks at ECU will play a major role in this year's Homecoming activities, by sponsoring events such as the homecoming parade, presentation of various awards for the floats, houses, and dormitory decorations along with the Homecoming Pirate elections.

Homecoming Day festivities will begin with the parade which starts in front of Rose High School at 10 a.m. There will be bands from all over the state along with floats from fraternities and sororities at East Carolina. Several fraternities and sororities are decorating their houses for the house decoration contest.

The Alpha Delta Pi Sorority began its Homecoming activities this week with the sisters decorating a float for the parade. A brunch will be held at the house Saturday morning prior to the parade for all alumni and friends.

The Kappa Delta Sorority has also begun work on their Homecoming float for the parade. The Kappa Delta's will also hold a party for their alumni after the football game.

the game, a dinner will be held followed by a party with "Wide Open" providing the musical entertainment.

A breakfast honoring alumni will be served at the house Sunday morning.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity will have a keg party Friday night, and will finish touching up their float. Saturday, there will be a cocktail party and buffet luncheon with alumni prior to gametime. Following the game, there will be a pig-pickin' and band party. A champagne breakfast will be held Sunday morning.

Homecoming festivities for Kappa Alpha Fraternity begin Friday night with a dinner party, followed later by final float preparation accompanied by a cocktail party. After the game Saturday, there will be a cocktail party in honor of KA alumni. Saturday night, "The Showmen" will perform at the band party.

Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity will welcome Phi Tau alumni with a party Friday night. Saturday a post-game dinner will be followed by another party Saturday night. Finally, there will be a breakfast Sunday morning.

Every fraternity and sorority has some sort of activity planned during the Homecoming weekend, not only for their members and their dates, but for ECU.

The highlight of the weekend of course is the game with Southern Illinois.

To retire in the spring

Dr. Jenkins plays huge role in ECU growth

DR. LEO W. JENKINS will step down as ECU chancellor in the spring of 1978.

By MICHAEL FUTCH
Trends Editor

The 1977-78 ECU school year will be regarded as just one in four for many.

But the current school year undeniably marks the end of a dynamic era for ECU.

ECU Chancellor Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, 64, will be retiring from his position in the spring of 1978.

Jenkins role in the growth of the university is unquestionable. Since the beginning of his tenure with ECU in 1947, the school's enrollment has markedly increased from 1,605 students to a current estimation of 12,000 on-campus students. Including the off-campus students enrolled in the extension program, an estimated 26,000 are affiliated with ECU.

"Being a party to the school's growth has been my greatest achievement," said Jenkins in a recent interview.

Jenkins, a New Jersey native, came to Greenville and accepted the position of Dean after holding several educational positions in his home state. Jenkins held the position of Dean from 1947 to 1960 with, then, East Carolina Teacher's College.

Jenkins became school President in 1960 and held the position until 1972. In that same year, Jenkins became ECU Chancellor. The school received university status in 1967.

Had Jenkins never come to ECU, it would be difficult to say just how far the school would have progressed. Certainly not to the extent that it has with him. In 1947 the school budget was approximately $1.9 million; today the school budget looms over $35 million.

"The growth potential was there right after World War I," said Jenkins. "Greenville is the focal point of this region. More and more people are going to want to come here."

Academically, ECU has made great strides in the 30-year period

Jenkins has been associated with the school.

"We are now fully credited in the various departments of the school," Jenkins said. "We are one of only two schools in North Carolina credited with a M.B.A. in Business.

"ECU has a high reputation for its teaching certification program. And our art and music programs have national reputation."

The number of possible school majors has jumped from 20 in 1947, to 174 in 1977. The number of school departments has increased from 14 in 1947, to the current level of nine professional schools and 17 academic departments.

"We have tried to satisfy the need of our citizenry at ECU," said Jenkins. "The institution has been regionally and people oriented."

Jenkins cited the new Medical School, the correctional services, and the education for the deaf as examples of this attempt at meeting the needs of the people.

As to unfulfilled goals, Jenkins was dismayed over jobs and salaries.

"I haven't brought faculty salaries up to what I had hoped to achieve, due to inflation over the past 30 years," said Jenkins. "I am also concerned over the lack of employment opportunities for graduating students."

Jenkins has been a steady and dependable workhorse since his initiation with the school in 1947. He is one of four faculty members on campus still active from that year.

When asked about his health, Jenkins said he was merely growing old like everyone else. Jenkins suffered a mild heart attack in July.

After his retirement, Jenkins plans to live in Atlantic Beach. He has discussed a future position in education with N.C. Governor Jim Hunt.

ECU has undergone tremendous growth since 1947. Much of this expansion owes credit to Jenkins. His leadership will be missed.

ECU has lengthy history

The 1977-78 school year marks the 70th Anniversary of East Carolina University. Opening with only 213 students, ECU's student body has grown to over 12,000.

The ground-breaking ceremony was held July 2, 1907. East Carolina Teachers Training School opened October 5, 1909 with Robert H. Wright as president.

During the next 25 years, under the leadership of Dr. Wright, the school advanced from a two-year normal school to a four-year college offering both bachelor and master degrees.

In 1920 the name was changed to East Carolina Teachers College and in 1967 under the leadership of Dr. Leo Jenkins the school was given University status.

Tribute to Jenkins

"Milestones of East Carolina University: A Tribute to Leo Jenkins" is the theme of this year's annual Homecoming Weekend at East Carolina University, Oct. 7-9.

The weekend is highlighted by the homecoming football game, ECU vs. Southern Illinois at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, and the homecoming parade down Fifth Street between Elm and Reade Streets at 10 Saturday morning.

Concerts, films and alumni gatherings are also featured.

From 5 to 7 p.m., after the football game, alumni and their guests may attend a "Keg" social at the Greenville Moose Lodge. Music will be provided by "The Monitors". Tickets are $1 per person.

Film offerings during Homecoming Weekend are "Silent Movie" at 6 and 10 p.m., and "Thunderball" at 5:50 and 9:50. All films will be shown in the Mendenhall Student Center Theatre.

"When told I had cancer of the larynx, my reaction was: what good is a lawyer without a voice?"

"That was nine years ago. In less than two months after the operation, I was back at work and talking. Sure, with a different voice. But still talking. Today, I do everything I did before. Even try cases in court. And, believe me, that takes a lot of talking.

"All of this is thanks to early detection, effective treatment made possible through advances in cancer research, and an overpowering will to talk again. Not to mention the extremely beneficial voice training program offered by the American Cancer Society.

"I've won my battle. But the battle against cancer goes on. So, please, have regular checkups. And give to the American Cancer Society. We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime."

Intramurals

Council changes rules

An Intramural Council meeting was held last Thursday and some new rule changes were made in regards to team rosters. A student advisory board was also formed.

The meeting decided to make the number of persons that could be on a roster a greater amount. From now on, team rosters will be limited to two times the number of people needed to field a team plus five. Only twice the number of people will be allowed to be used to play in a game.

For example, in football a majority of 17 persons may sign up to play on the roster, but only 12 will be allowed to play or be present to play. That is, only 12 of the 17 persons signed up to play flag football would be allowed to suit up for the game. Other sports affected and their new limits are: volleyball 17, basketball 15, softball 25, team handball 19, water basketball 17, and iceball 21.

This rule change will be effective Sept. 30, 1977.

Also discussed and formed at the meeting was a Student Advisory Board to the Intramural department. This board will meet periodically with the Intramural Director and his administrative assistants to help give input into the program.

On the board are five representatives. One representative will be present on the board from the women's dorms, the men's dorms, the fraternities, the sororities, and the club sports. This board will represent the intramural athletic body in conjunction with the Intramural administration.

Registration for several fall sports is fast approaching, so let's bring you up to date on these dates. Registration for Team Handball will begin on Mon., Oct. 17 and run through Thurs., Oct. 20. Play will begin on Oct. 25. Registration for Men's and Women's Track and Field will run on Oct. 10 and 11 and the meet will be held at the Bunting Track and Field on Wed., Oct. 12 beginning 4 p.m. Teams or individuals may participate. Soccer registration will begin on Oct. 10 and run through Oct. 12 and play will begin on Oct. 18 next to Ficklen Stadium.

Soccer intramurals will be held for both men and women this year and some changes have been made in the playing fields to make to competition less rigorous and more enjoyable for both. The fields have been made smaller by reducing both the length and width to that of a football field. The games will be played on three football fields on the intramural fields.

Soccer games, once football playoffs subside, will also be played under the new intramural lights on the two lighted fields. It is hoped that the smaller fields will increase scoring and decrease fatigue, while playing under the lights will make playing soccer more enjoyable to the participants.

With soccer being moved up to fall semester this season, that means that Team Handball, Volleyball and Soccer will all be going on at the same time this fall and winter. Hopefully, it will not create any scheduling problems but if some should occur notify the intramural office and they will see what they can do.

All three sports in the President's Cup point standings for the men and the Participation Cup points for women. In men's competition; volleyball is a major sport, soccer is an intermediate sport and team handball is a minor point sport. Teams will be allowed to play a soccer game if they have nine players present for the game, but 11 players will constitute a legal team. 27 players may be used on the roster, but only 22 may be on hand for the game ready to play.

Flag football in both men's and women's areas is winding down and the playoffs are expected to begin late next week. In the women's league, the top teams are the Cotten Bunnies in the Flag division, the Sigmas in the sorority division, and the Green Steam in the Foot Division. All are unbeaten with the Greene Steam and Cotten Bunnies owning 6-0 marks, and the Sigmas owning a 4-0 mark. Play continues this week.

In men's play, Kappa Alpha is the only remaining unbeaten fraternity team and holds down first-place. Kappa Sigma and Lambda Chi Alpha are tied for second, with the Tekes a close third. In the independent league there is a logjam for first between four teams. Tied with 6-1 records are the Sadaharu Ohs, the Albanians, the Time Ins and the Bogue-A-Dykes. The Sadaharu Ohs helped create the logjam by knocking off the Bogue-A-Dykes.

In the club division, the two top teams are from the same organization. The Rugby Ruggers and Rugby Leathernuts meet Thursday in a battle for the first-place spot. Both are 6-0 so far this season. In the dorm league, the Scott Time Outs and the Aycock Top-of-the-Roost, both unbeaten, meet on Monday in a division matchup. One or both of the teams are expected to reach the Dorm Finals.

Four enter ECU Hall of Fame during Homecoming game

By WOODY PEELE
Daily Reflector Sports Editor

Three former ECU athletes and one of the school's coaching greats will be inducted into the ECU Sports Hall of Fame during ceremonies at the Southern III. game on Oct. 8 in Greenville, N.C.

John W. (Jack) Young Jr., who played on the first winning football team at ECU, and was also on the basketball team, will join Roger Thrift, who played in the years following World War II, and Kevin Moran, a lineman under Clarence Stasavich in going into the Hall of Fame.

With them will be Earl Smith, who was a three-sport athlete at East Carolina, then became a coach in football, basketball and baseball before retiring from the coaching ranks.

The four will join 15 others already inducted into the Hall of Fame during the first three years of its history.

The induction ceremony will be a part of the Homecoming activities.

Young, a native of Mountain Grove, Va., moved to western North Carolina at an early age, and was a football and basketball star in high school. After attending a prep school for one year, he dropped out of school to work, but continued his athletic career as a semi-pro player in basketball. He returned to college at Brevard in 1938, and played varsity basketball there, being named to the All-State junior college team.

He also was a tackle on the football team.

In 1940, he transferred to East Carolina as a non-scholarship student, playing tackle on the first EC football team to have a winning season. He also played on the only unbeaten and untied team in the school's history during the 1941 season. Both years, he also competed on the basketball team, when the Pirates fielded one of its strongest teams ever.

After service in the U.S. Navy, Young became Recreation Director in Ahsokie, and served as the high school's coach. He was named principal of Ahsokie High School in 1963, and since 1967, has served as the president of Roanoke-Chowan Technical Institute.

Roger G. Thrift, a native of Carrboro, graduated from Chapel Hill High School and originally entered the University of North Carolina.

But he transferred from there to EC, finishing his collegiate career at Greenville in 1949.

During his years at East Carolina, he was a quarterback on the football team, setting a number of school records which stood for a number of years before failing.

Following his graduation, he began a distinguished high school coaching career which ended this past year. He coached in Murfreesboro, Williamston, Sanford, and served the last ten years at New Bern, where he still is athletic director. His 1957 team at Williamston won a state title, and two of his basketball teams have been the state consolation champs. He also spent four years as an assistant at Davidson College.

Moran, a native of Manchester, N.H. was an All-Southern Conference lineman for the Pirates under Clarence Stasavich. In 1967, he was awarded the Jacobs Blocking Trophy for the Southern Conference, one of two Pirates to have gained the award. He was also a co-captain in 1967, his senior year.

After playing for several years with the Norfolk Neptunes, he joined the city of Norfolk, Va., as a probation officer. He is the chief of Juvenile and Adult Court Services for the city; he is currently on leave, working on his

Ruggers lose 32-14

The ECU Rugby club lost its home opener this weekend to Duke University, 32-14. ECU led the match for 50 of the 70 minutes of play, but the last 10 minutes proved to be fatal to ECU. During this time Duke scored 24 points to ECU's 4.

In the first half Duke opened the scoring with a 10-yard run by Jay Johnston, the conversion kick being wide to the right. ECU quickly came back with a 10-yard run by Rhett Raynor which put the ball on the goal, where there was a scrum down which ECU won. Joe Shanahan took it over to score, the conversion kick was no good and the score was tied 4-4.

ECU remained at Duke's end of the field for much of the remainder of the half due to the efforts of the ECU scrum, led by hooker Chris Iherman. The ECU scrum lost only 1 scrum down during the entire 1st half.

ECU scored again in the first half when George Baitty covered his own pop-kick in the end zone. The kick after by Baitty was good and ECU led 10-4.

Duke scored with one minute left in the half but missed the point after. The score at the half was ECU 10-Duke 8.

In the second half, ECU maintained its domination of the Scrum Downs in the early going and kept Duke on the defensive. Duke, however, was the first to score in the half on a long run by Joel Stambaugh. The point after was no good and Duke led 12-10.

Both teams stalemated each other until there were 10 minutes left. It was during this period that Duke broke the game open. Duke scored on a 15-yard run by Bob Morris. The conversion kick was good and Duke led 18-10. Three minutes later Stambaugh dashed for 12 yards to score, the conversion kick was missed and it was Duke 22-10. Duke scored twice more on runs by Mike Thomas and John Bass with one of the conversion kicks being good. Duke now led 32-10.

ECU mustered itself with one minute left and Matt Delbridge scored on a 5-yard run with an assist from Rhett Raynor. The kick was no good thus making the final score Duke 32-ECU 14.

In the "B" match, ECU defeated Duke by a score of 13-8.

In the first half neither team was able to score until there were only 5 minutes left in the half. ECU's Charlie Brownlow scored on a 25-yard run, the conversion kick was missed and ECU led 4-0. Duke scored with a 10-yard run by Mike Thomas with only 20 seconds left in the half, the kick was missed.

In the second half ECU scored first on a 5-yard plunge by Chris Bouldin, the kick by Shanahan was good and ECU led 10-4. Duke scored minutes later to make it

He graduated from East Carolina in 1939, after a career which saw him letter in three sports, baseball, football and basketball. Following a professional career, he became a high school coach in La Grange, Burlington, Gastonia and Littleton.

During World War II, he served in the U.S. Navy, and returned to East Carolina in 1945 as basketball coach.

He moved to Campbell in 1946, serving as coach of the football, basketball and baseball teams. Then, in 1953, he returned to East Carolina to become assistant coach in those three sports until 1958.

He became head basketball coach in 1959, and then switched over to baseball in 1963.

Smith's teams won three Southern Conference championships and tied for another. On four occasions, he took teams to the NCAA Regionals, and prior to becoming a member of the NCAA, his 1963 team was third in the nation in the NAIA ranks.

Smith has coached a number of players who went on to the professional ranks, among them still active Tommy Toms, ace reliever with the Phoenix club of the triple A Pacific Coast League, an affiliate of the San Francisco Giants.

Smith's basketball teams never posted a losing season, and only once during his baseball career did his team fail to have a winning season.

10-8 but missed the conversion kick. ECU closed its scoring with a 20-yard field goal by Shanahan, making the final score ECU 13-Duke 8.

ECU coach Mike Golder was pleased with his teams performance despite the lopsided score. "In both games", he said "our scrummies did their jobs very well, we rucked and mauled better than we have before and we were fairly effective in our line-outs." He also cited several areas which needed work. "We need to concentrate more on where we are passing the ball instead of throwing it up for grabs. We had several scoring opportunities lost because of bad passes. We also need to work more on our conditioning because those last ten minutes of the match destroyed us, we were tired and they weren't. That's all there is to it. We will be in shape for Greensboro this weekend," Golder stated.

ECU's next match will be this Sunday Oct. 9th at 2:00 against the Greensboro RFC. The match will be played behind the Allied Health building, so come on out and support the ECU Rugby Team.
