Thursday High: 72 Low: 49 Friday High: 64 Low: 48 Inline Survey WCW wrestler Loti prepares for two events in Greenville. Do you think the sororities ban on funding alcoholic See page 12 parties will be effective? www.tec.ecu.edu THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1999 VOLUME 74, ISSUE 33 ~ Student Online kiosks serve as information centers raises said Paul Gipson, head of web developmen. One Card gains schedules, financial aid status, and anything these machines provide us with knowledge in Computing and Information Systems. having to do with ECU. about ECU and surrounding areas. access to cyber stations

$100,000

John Pittman reaches unprecedented goal

SUSANNE MILENKEVICH STAFF WRITER

ohn Pittman recently surpassed the 100,000 mark in raising money for the iniversity through the telefund office. Pittman responded to an advertisement hree years ago from the telefund office ooking for people to call ECU alumni to sk for monetary support for the universiy. He has been working there ever since, naking phone calls and more recently, upervising.

"I wouldn't have been able to do it with ut the competition, especially Crystal Vhittington. We really worked off of each ther," Pittman said.

The money received is given to certain cademic departments or student life prorams on campus that the donor chooses to elp the development of each division.

"Alumni are excited about receiving the alls," said Carolyn Harmon, annual fund lirector. "They are pleased to be talking to tudents on campus who can bring them to ouch with ECU since many have been way for a while." Pittman is the first student employee to aise over $100,000 through the telefund ampaigns. "I think it is extremely significant from he standpoint that the mark is unprecelented," said Brian Hardy, annual fund ssistant director. "$100,000 is obviously a ignificant amount of money, and it speaks olumes about his (John's) dedication to he university." Pittman said that by working in the elefeund office, he developed a loyalty to he university.

TOMMY YARBOROUGH STAFF WRITER

What are those large electronic boxes at Mendenhall, The Wright Place, the Computing Center, or The Galley at Jones Residence Hall? They are ECU online kiosk machines.

Similar to what you would see in a large mall,

"Basically," according to Bobby Tuggle, webmaster for the Media Board, "the kiosks are a source of information for students, faculty and visitors about ECU when on campus. The kiosks give ECU students information about calender events, such as Barefoot on the mall, concerts, varsity sports schedules, facts about ECU, the Student Store online, and even the East Carolinian online."

Other applications included within the kiosks are adviser information, course grades, unofficial transcripts, registration

"We are also going to conduct a survey on more of the student needs in the near future,"

"We are also going to conduct a survey on more of the student needs

in the near future,"

Paul Gipson head of Web Development

Gipson also mentioned that more kiosks will be added, including one called Cybercafe, which, among other things, will enable students to play games interactively with students from other schools.

So next time one of these machines are seen, stick the ECU One-Card into the slot and check it out. It could save some time walking around campus, and help students find coveted information. If there are any suggestions, ideas or concerns about the web kiosk, feel free to email Gipson at gipson@mail.ecu.edu or call 328-6401.

"It is a good place to work and to meet riends," Pittman said.

ECU is one of only three schools in the tate that has this kind of program to raise noney. UNC-Chapel Hill and NC State re the other two.

Sophomore Tina Johnson and sophomore business major Rob Servativs use the online kiosk at the Wright Place. PHOTO BY MICHAEL SMITH

New building design completed

Science and Technology, largest structure on campus

2.12

next year's session in August or September.

The science and technology building will be 259,000 square feet, only second in size next to the ECU School of Medicine Brody Building which is 476,329 square

Flanagan Building.

The science and technology building will be located between 10th Street and the General Classrooms building, partially set on Faculty Way.

According to Flye, the beauty of placing

Demarco loses back pay

SUSANNE MILENKEVICH STAFF WRITER

'he design phase for ECU's new science nd technology building was recently comleted.

The new building will be the largest and semester. nost expensive on the main campus.

"We are at the end of the design phase nd are getting ready to start the construcon design," said Bruce Flye, director of acility Planning.

A leading reason for this project is an and offices icrease in enrollment in chemistry and for idustrial technology. Currently the Chemistry lanagan Building houses the schools, but Department was recently identified as one of the two and orst academic facilities in the UNC sys-School of Industry

The project is expected to cost over $52 villion which will be provided by the Technology ieneral Assembly. ECU does not expect to which are ceive the state money until the end of currently in the feet, Flye said.

n

"This one is probably a little more complex than the Brody building," with more sophisticated laboratories, said Flye. Construction is expected to take about 2 1/2 years, and should, at the earliest, be the facility on the road is that it will not disturb many trees in the arboretum bordering 10th Street. The new building will use existing trees in the area to form an "integral" part of the design.

View of the recently completed plans for the new Science and Technology building. PHOTO COURTESY OF FACILITY SERVICES

ASSISTANT NEWS EDITOR

PETER DAWYOT

Ruling based on bad behavior

In a recent hearing, a stunned Sal Demarco lost the rights of a former ruling which granted him back pay of unemployment benefits from ECU.

Employment Security The Commission voted 3-2 to deny the benefits to the fired professor after reviewing the case stating that the ruling was based on the "totality" of bad behaviors which the former professor demonstrated through the final stages of his career at ECU.

Demarco has seen many incidents in which he feels he was set up in his actions. He has made claims that slips and articles have been continuously placed into his personal files claiming that he had done numerous acts which he was never reprimanded for or even confronted about until the university had brought charges against him.

Former ECU professor Sal Demarco turned down by EEOC. FILE PHOTO

"They were laying a paper trail on me so that they could argue that there is a pattern of misconduct," Demarco said.

After losing his rights to collect unemployment benefits from the school, Demarco became worried that he may have to return money received from the states unemployment benefits commission. The ESC however, decided that Demarco did not have to return that money which totals over $8,000.

SEE DEMARCO, PAGE 2

CONSERVATIVE GROUP CHALLENGING N.C. COLLEGES ON AFFIRMATIVE ACTION

Awary 28, 1999

RALEIGH (AP) _ Colleges that continue to use racial considerations as a factor in admissions are on shaky legal ground, a conservative think-tank said Tuesday.

"They should be getting legal advice that they can be sued if they do not change their policies," said John Hood, president of the John Locke Foundation.ztor Dick Robinson, assistant to the president for legal affairs.

Minister, dean lectures on Christianity and culture

news

"The Great Disappointment" is Leonard addresses the title that some historians use to refer to the public's reaction to relirole of spirituality gion when prophecies of the second coming of Jesus in the year 1844

"Why can't people simply have a generalized spirituality apart from rituals?"

which Leonard responded that he felt that religious behavior was by nature ritualistic. "He was very open-minded in his responses despite the fact that he was personally affiliated with the Baptist church," Knight said. She also felt that overall his responses were "too ambiguous" and that he tended to "skirt around issues."

Another student who attended the lecture, sophomore Joey Zawasky, said that he too felt that it

Who said you couldn't find a meal for a $1 anymore?

Beginning Wednesday, January 20th, at the First Pentecostal Holiness Church in Greenville, you can join us for a time of food, fun and fellowshin. Every Wednesday at 5:45PM we will be serving a meal - and it's only a BUCK! All college students are welcome. After the meal we will have Cutting Edge Youth Church to feed your soul. So come and bring a friend! We're located off Evans Street on 100 Plaza Drive - behind Overton's Sports Center or call 756-3315. Don't have a buck, COME ANYWAY! We'll see you there!

3 Thursday, Ja

NEW

LOCATION

Sp

FOR MO

MAS

Sun

Wed

ALL

Fr. Paul Vaeth

AS

D G

Oľ

Thi

The East Carolinian

Don't wait until graduation to start your career!

ALLEE offers everything you need to start building a solid career. Our top-selling product line is as innovative as our entrepreneurial environment. Add to that our fresh approach to doing and generating business, and you can look forward to a bright future ! We have full-time openings available, and offer a variety of work schedules to fit your needs.

SUSPECTS ROBBED TO SUPPORT THEM-SELVES DURING COLLEGE

Calif. (AP) -- Two college students allegedly robbed two local businesses at gunpoint in hopes of stealing enough so they wouldn't have to work while attending school.

Anthony Louis Cristofani, a senior philosophy major, and freshman Emma Rose Freeman, a promising writer, were arrested Friday and could be expelled from the University of California, Santa Cruz.

They are charged with robbing a hair salon Jan. 16 and a Costco warehouse store in Santa Cruz five days later. An elementary school teaching aide, Craig Dickson,

Dr. Bill Leonard, dean of the Wake Forest University Divinity School and Baptist minister, came to ECU on Monday as part of the seventh annual Jarvis Lecture on Christianity and Culture in order to address the role of spirituality in the lives of Americans

LASON MERRILL

STAFF WRITER

Leonard's lecture, "Spirituality in America: Faith or Fad?" was originally published as an article of the same name in the periodical "Religion and American Culture." The focus of Leonard's lecture was the increasing dominance of spirituality in Americans' spiritual interest to what he called "The Great Disappointment of 1844.

> Demarco continued from page 1

"I was relieved, since this is money which I have been in using to pay for my lawyers bills," Demarco said.

Al McSurely, Demarco's attorney, was a little unsure of the definitive final ruling on the issue without having the final ruling in hand.

"At this point we really don't

Katie Knight sophomore

went unfulfilled; droves of people gave up their faith when they felt it brought them nothing.

Although the audience that came to hear Leonard speak was predominantly comprised of older members of the community, there were a number of ECU students in attendance.

One student, sophomore Katie Knight, asked Leonard, "Why can't people simply have a generalized spirituality apart from rituals?" to was "difficult to pinpoint Leonard's position on certain issues," such as Leonard's opinion about whether pluralism was a positive or negative phenomenon.

Although several inquisitors tried to persuade Leonard to comment on what he felt were the implications of the growth of spirituality and pluralism in America, Leonard stated that he merely wished to "illustrate some specifics in the phenomenon of spirituality in America," as opposed to passing judgment on other people's actions and motives in an increasingly spiritual and pluralistic society.

If you're interested in an outstanding opportunity in Customer Service, Retail or Outside Sales, visit AUTE at our

JOB FAIR Thursday, February 4,1999 12pm-7pm at the ALLTEL Call Center 103 E. Arlington Blvd, Greenville

Our management team will be on hand to answer your questions and talk with you one-on-one about your career potential with us. If you cannot attend, please send your resume directly to: ALLTEL Communications, Inc. Atten: Employment Center, 10100 Sardis Crossing Dr., Charlotte, NC 28270. Fax: 704/845-7422; E-mail: NC_ Employment@ALLTEL.com Equal Opportunity Employer M/F/D/V. Please visit our website at www.alltel.com

TICKETS GENERAL PUBLIC $9 and $8 FEBRUARY 4 - 9, 1999CHILDREN $6 and $5 ECU FACULTY/STAFF S8 and S7 MCGINNIS THEATRE . EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY ECU STUDENTS $6 and $5 TO CHARGE TICKETS, CALL 252-328-6829. ance EAS

illegedly drove the getaway car.

SADDAM VOWS REVENGE, BUT URGES PATIENCE

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) _ President Saddam Hussein vowed Tuesday to retaliate for the damage and casualties that U.S. warplanes inflicted on the city of Basra, the official Iraqi News Agency reported.

Saddam urged the Iraqi people to be patient in the battle against the United States, saying that eventually victory will be on Iraq's side.

"Your blood will not go in vain," he said in an address carried by INA.

Iraqi officials says 11 people were killed and 59 wounded when missiles hit in and around Basra, 350 kilometers (230 miles) south of Baghdad.

U.S. officials said one missile know the details of what they said," McSurely said.

Demarco has speculation as to if the commission even actually had much review of the case without being biased. Demarco went on to add that since the deciding vote was from an alumni of ECU, it is possible that he may have been set up.

University attorney Ben Irons seems to think things were won from a reasonable point and fair standard.

" I have had no contact with any member of the commission," Irons said."I would not question the fairness of the committee. "

Correction: An error appeared in the Jan. 26 issue of TEC. The ECU Panhellenic Council governs sororities only.

presents 75 00 No 1 G E oin us Healthcare is a growing and and get a head start on a rewarding career. exciting career field. As a volunteer, you can get a head fired at Iraqi air defense units that were threatening American aircraft may have gone astray and killed civilians. But they said the results of the attack were still being investigated.

INA said Saddam's speech was directed to the citizens of Basra. In the three-page address, he told the city's nearly one million people, who were hard hit by the 1980-1988 Iran-Iraq War and the 1991 Gulf War, that they were "his beloved and brothers."

"Be patient, our beloved and brothers, victory will be with those who are patient," said Saddam.

The Iraqi president lashed out at Arab leaders, saying they have opened their "ears to listen only to the voice of the devil" _ meaning the United States _ and closed their minds to "the voice of right."

"Your blood will blossom ... in the tree of freedom, resistance and victory," Saddam said.

COME APPLY FOR A JOB WITH US AT THE EAST CAROLINIAN ON THE SECOND FLOOR OF THE STUDE.NT PUBLICATIONS BUILDING start by learning job skills and gaining experience while you help people in need. With more than 100 volunteer areas to choose from, there's sure to be a position that fits your interests. Call Pitt County

Memorial Hospital Volunteer

Services at 816-4491 today.

You'll be glad you did.

www.uhseast.com

Carolina includes Pitt County Memorial Hospital, East Carolina University School of Medicille, private practice physicians, community hospitals and other health affiliates

3 Thursday, January 28, 1999

you can ednesday at CK! All nave Cutting ing a friend! ehind

East Carolinian

u there!

uation er!

ilding a solid ative as our h approach to forward to a le, and offer a eds. ding Retail bur

WELCOME Spring Semester Students!!

NEWMAN CATHOLIC STUDENT CENTER

LOCATION: 953 E. 10TH ST. (BOTTOM OF COLLEGE HILL AT EAST END OF CAMPUS)

ION MONE INTONIATION, I LEASE CALL 05 / 5/ 1 / 1

MASS SCHEDULE: Sun:11:30am and 8:30pm Wed: 5:30pm

Thursday, Jan.28

news

Religious Arts-The East Carolina Religious Arts Festival gets under way at the School of Music and runs through Saturday. Evening performance events will be held at Memorial Baptist Church. An organ and trumpet recitals scheduled for 8 p.m. Contact: Jeanette Fishell, 328-6851

Safety on Job Sites-the ECU Center for Applied Technology will hold a health and safety seminar from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Willis Building. The topic of this gram about the National Quilt Exhibition-on display in ECU's Gray Gallery-will be held at 5 p.m. in the auditorium of the Jenkins Humanities Center. The quilts are on display at the School of Art through Feb. 13.

news briefs

Friday, Jan.29

Concert-The FolkArts Society of Greenville will sponsor a concert with guitarist Del Ray at the Willis Building at 7:30 p.m. Ray's style combines blues, jazz, and hillbilly boogie.

and vocal selections. Advance ticket purchase or advance pickup of free student tickets is encouraged.

Saturday, Jan.30

Basketball-The Pirates will play the Tribe from William and Mary at 7 p.m. at Minges Coliseum. This game is billed as Faculty and Staff Appreciation Night. Faculty and staff may purchase up to five tickets for $5 each.

Performing Arts-A performing trio composed of pianist Joseph Kalichstein violinist Jaime Laredo L and cellist Sharon Robinson will perform chamber works by Haydn, Beethoven and Shostakovich at 8 p.m. in Wright Auditorium. Call 328-4788 or long distance at 1-800-ECU-ARTS.

99 Center nville

estions and talk f you cannot 🗼 nunications, Inc. arlotte, NC LTEL.com Equal (ETS and $8 and $5 and $7 and $5 8-6829.

ALL MASSES ARE AT THE CENTER Fr. Paul Vaeth Chaplain & Campus Minister - For more information about these and other programs, call or visit daily between 8:30am and 11pm.

12 PRICE

MINGS.

TONITE & EVERY THURS. NITE

* AFTER 9PM DINE IN ONLY

AS ALWAYS, NO COVER CHARGE!

$1.99 Hi-Balls!

$1.75 Heinekens!

$2.75 Pink Margaritas!

Every Thursday!

seminar is "Respiratory Protection." Contact Mark Friend, Center for Applied ECU Technology, 328-6708

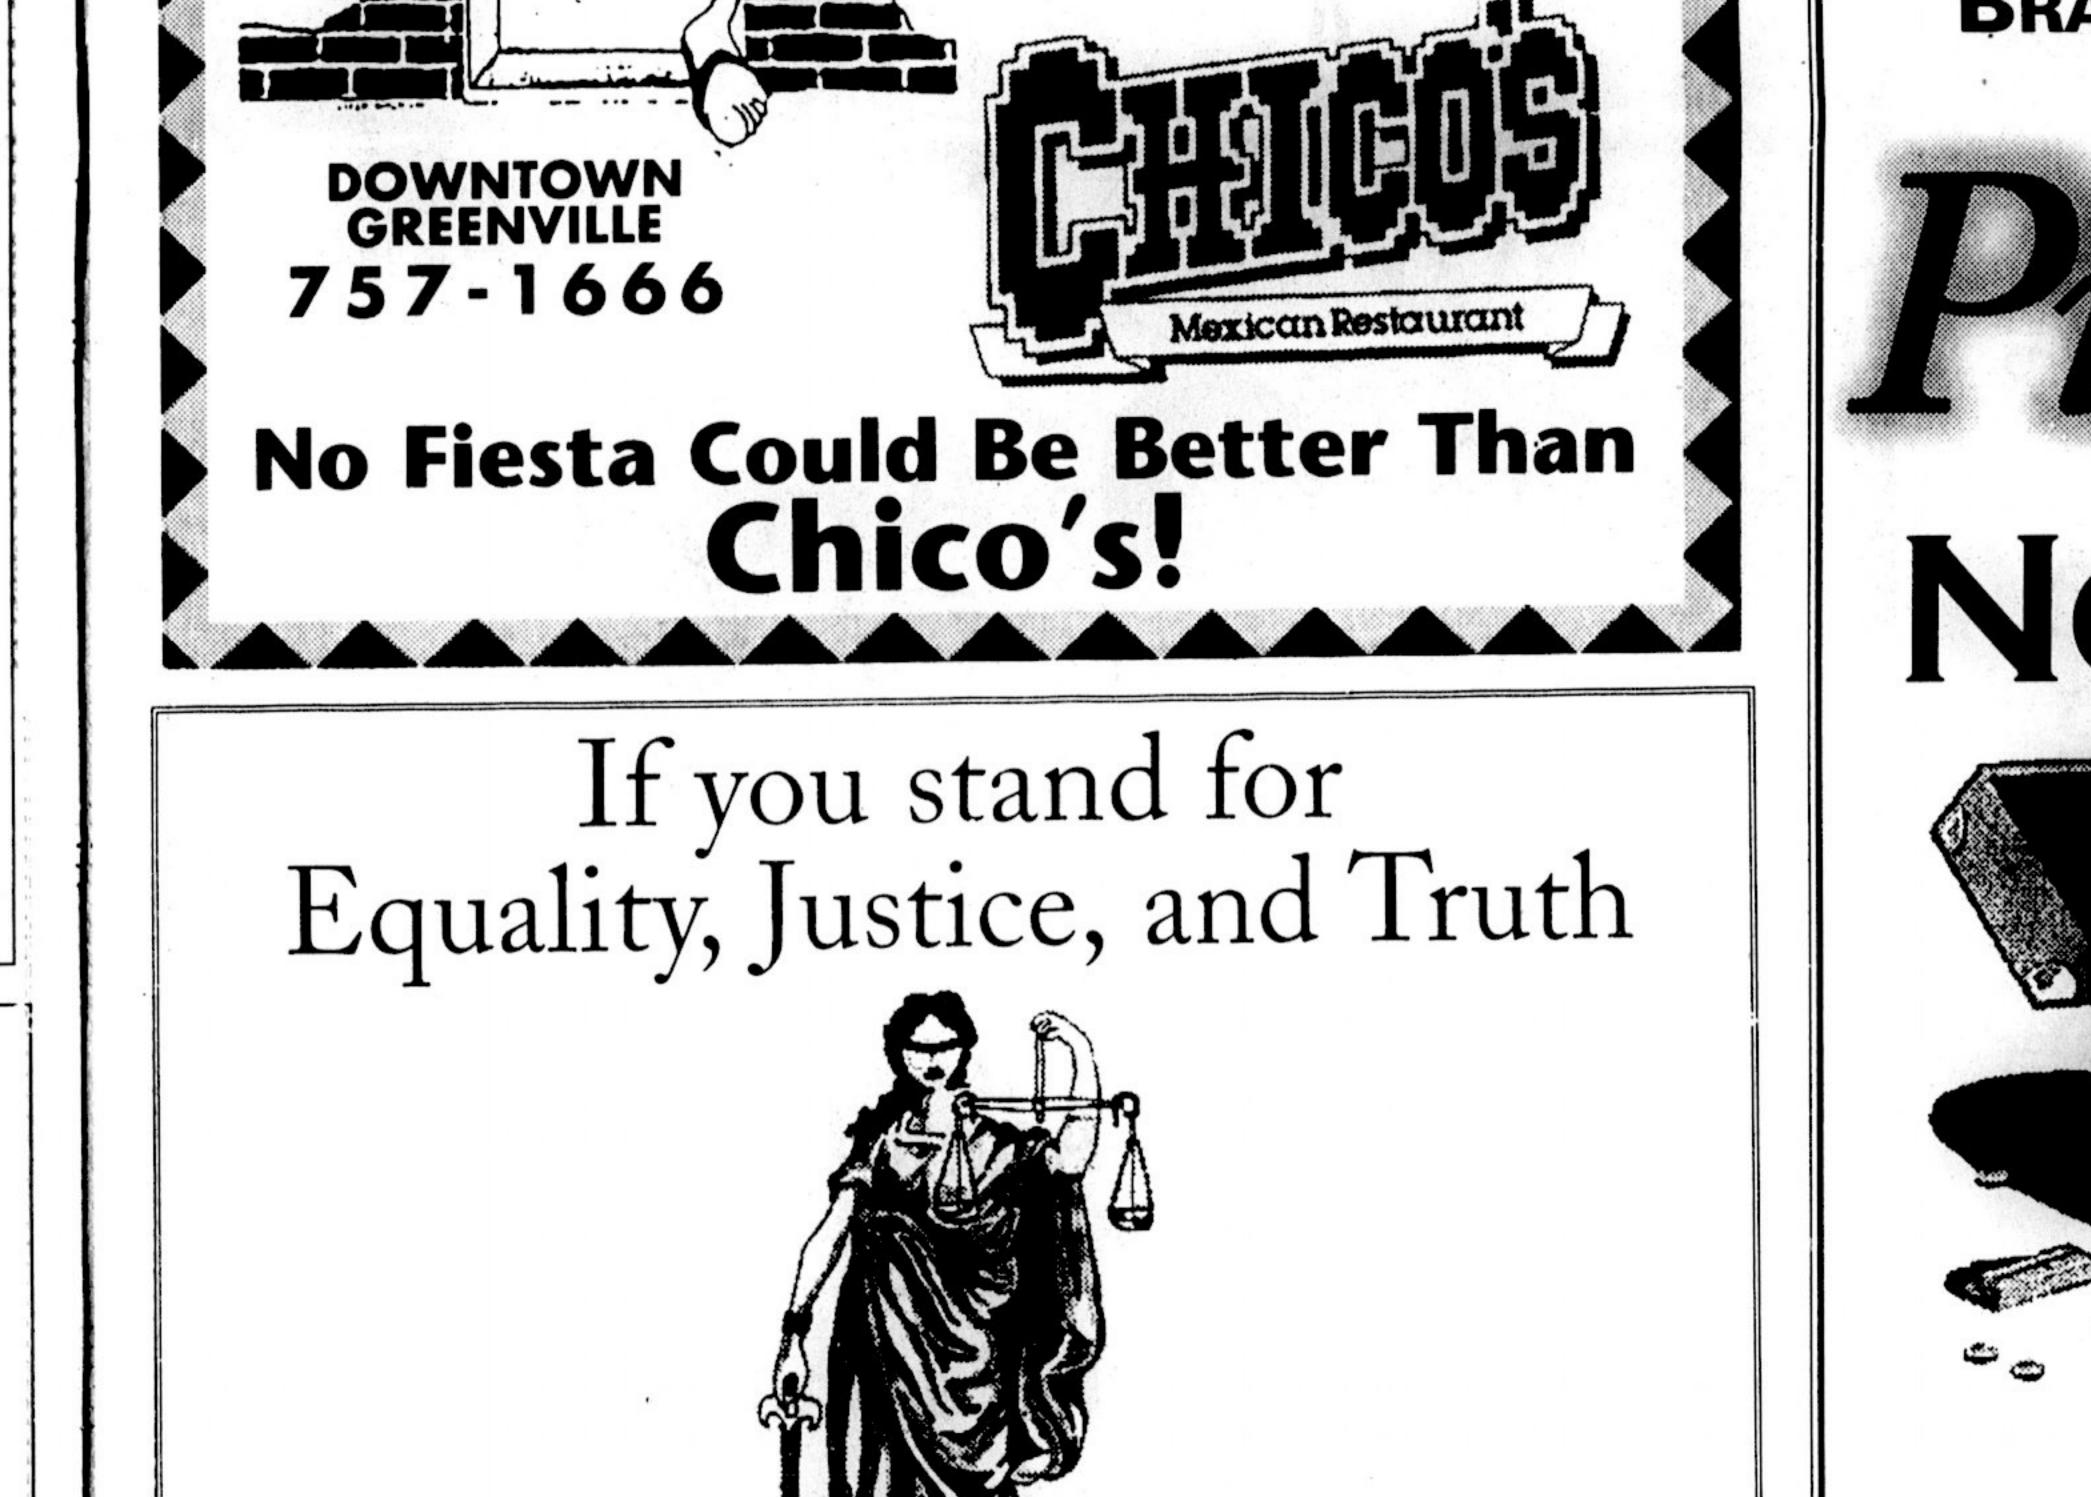

All About Quilts-A lecture pro-

Jazz-ECU's popular Jazz at Night program gets under way at Mendenhall Student Center at 8 p.m. ECU student musicians along with faculty jazz professor Carroll Dashiell will perform instrumental

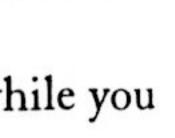

It seemed like a good idea ... at the time. Laser Removal of Tattoos SOO per session Aesthetic Plastic Surgery, PA Howard G. Datokins, Jr. M.D., F.A.C.S Board Certified Plastic Surgeon www.hdawkins.com 752-1406

BRAND NEW LUXURY APARTMENTS

NOW LEASING 5/752-9995

kills and t a head

F

ng and

As a

With

eer areas

's sure to s your ounty

olunteer

today.

alth affiliate

ECU wants you to serve on a Student Judicial Board

This is your opportunity to serve your fellow students and gain valuable experience making solid, well-thought-out decisions.

Requirements include:

•Minimum 2.0 GPA overall •Must be in good standing with the university Must have good decision making skills •Commitment to a fair and just judicial process

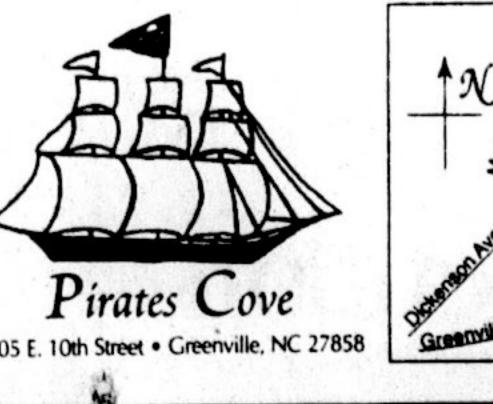

Information can be picked up at 201 Whichard or Student Government Offices, 2nd floor MSC. Applications are available beginning Thurs., Jan. 21 and end Mon. Feb. 8, by 5pm.

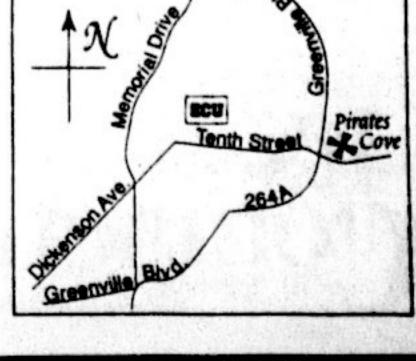

*UTILITIES INCLUDED *FULLY FURNISHED *PRIVATE BATHROOM

4 Bedroom / 4 Bathroom Individual Leasing Roommate Matching Designer Interiors State of the Art Amenities

FREE CABLE FREE COMPUTER LAB FREE MONITORED ALARM ECU BUS LINE

Pope arrives in St. Louis after triumphant visit to Mexico

ST. LOUIS (AP) _ Pope John Paul II arrived in St. Louis today for his fifth visit to the U.S. mainland and immediately compared America's old battles over racism and slavery to new ones over abortion and euthanasia. "America faces a similar time of trial," he said.

leavery 28, 1999

Recalling the U.S. Supreme Court's 1857 Dred Scott decision, which reduced slaves to property, the pope said there is today "a culture that seeks to declare entire groups of human beings ... considered 'unuseful' to be outside the boundaries of legal protection."

At the airport ceremony _ the

The pope was greeted by President Clinton. "For 20 years you have lifted our spirits and touched our hearts," Clinton said. "For 20 years you have challenged of us to think of life not in terms of what we acquire for ourselves but in terms of what we give of ourselves."

The president quoted a Polish phrase that means, "May you live a hundred years and more." And he added: "May you continue working and teaching and lighting the way. ... Welcome to the United States." Then the pope and the president met privately in a hangar, while Hillary Rodham Clinton greeted cardinals assembled for the pope's visit.

and economic sanctions against Cuba and Iraq, and on Monday the Vatican condemned an American missile attack on Iraq. In a statement, spokesman Joaquin Navarro-Valls said the bombing "confirms once again" the pope's view that military measures "don't resolve problems in themselves, rather they aggravate them."

news

The differences shouldn't dampen the pope's welcome for the visit. As many as 600,000 people were expected to turn out; more than 530,000 Catholics live in the St. Louis area.

When the papal plane landed at Lambert Airport, young people waiting at the Kiel Center to join the pope in a youth rally this

It's TOURNAMENT TIME!

The East Carolinian

Res

Exc

Wavy

or De

Sou

Price

You could represent ECU at Regional Competitions in

BILLIARDS BOWLING CHESS TABLE TENNIS

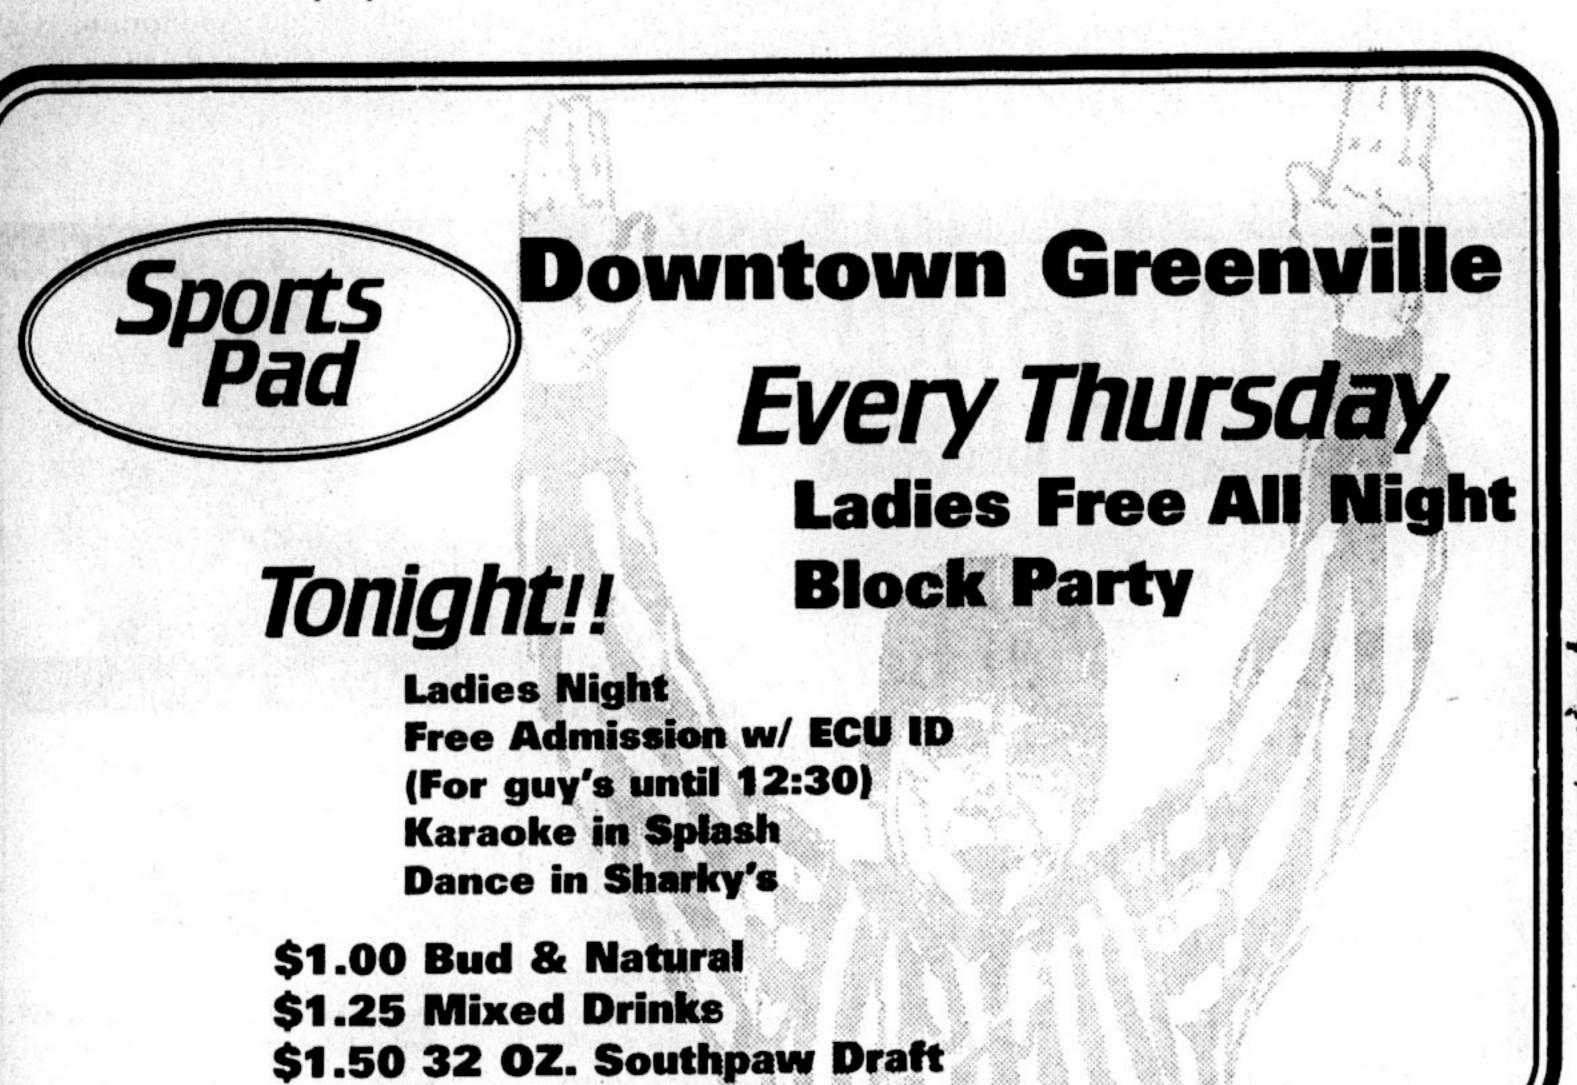

Tournament winners will be awarded trophies and the opportunity to represent ECU at regional competitions to be held at Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, Va., February 19-21, 1999. All expenses paid by Mendenhall Student Center.

ARE YOU THE BEST?

If you think you could be, we want to give you the opportunity to find out!

start of a 30-hour stay in St. Louis, following his triumphant five-day trip to Mexico _ he also called upon Americans to ``open wide your hearts'' to less fortunate people.

The pope has criticized U.S. pol-evening reacted with a rousing icy on the death penalty, abortion cheer.

Billiards (Nine-Ball)

Tue., Feb. 2 6:00 p.m. Mendenhall Billiards Center (Men's and Women's Divisions)

Wed., Feb. 3

FEBRUARY

Wed., Feb. 3 6:00 p.m. Mendenhall Student Center Multi-Purpose Room

Table Tennis

Thur., Jan. 28 6:00 p.m. Mendenhall Multi-Purpose Room (Men's & Women's Singles/Team Divisions)

Bowling

Mon., Feb. 1 6:00 p.m.

Men's and Women's Divisions

9 PM - 2 AM

Mendenhall Bowling Center

The Outer Limitz

There is a $2.00 registration fee for each tournament. Registration forms are available at the Mendenhall Information Desk, the Billiards Center, and THE OUTER LIMITZ Bowling Center located on the ground floor of Mendenhall Student Center, as well as at the Main Desk of the Student Recreation Center. Call the Student Activities Office, 757-4711, for more information

 $\mathbf{M}(\mathbf{A})(\mathbf{R})(\mathbf{D})(\mathbf{I})$

12, 1999

ECU Men's Lacrosse Club Interested...Practice

The ECU Men's Lacrosse Club team is looking for new players. Join us at an information and season opening meeting.

Starting

Soon

For more information, Ben Kley and Chris Burgress at 752-9806, or contact the Recreational Services at 328-6387 MENDENHALL STUDENT CENTER Fun Flicks Video Karaoke Salsa and Merengue Dance DJ Dance w/ J. Arthur Loo-Zee-Anna Laser Tag Bourbon Street Bingo Lady Luck Casino King Cake

Interest meeting January, 28th 9:00 pm SRC Room 202

Glow Bowling Cajun/Buffet King and Queen It's the next best thing to being down in the French Quarter on Bourbon Street. We're bringing the best of Mardi Gras to ECU for a night of gambling, food, and fun. Students may attend for free by using their valid ECU One Card. One adult guest will be admitted with a guest pass. Student and guest must enter together. Guest passes will be available beginning Monday, February 8 through Friday, February 12, 1999, at the Central Ticket Office from 8:30am to 6pm and Todd Dining Hall Meal Plan Office from 9am to 5pm. On February 12, guest passes will be available at the Student Recreation Center from 5pm to 10pm.

14.5 oz Restaurant

Style or Bite Size

Tostitos

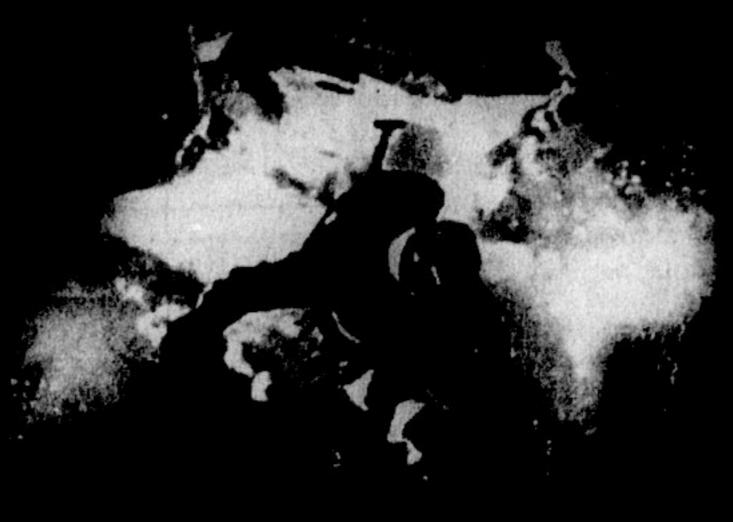

The Best Is What Were All About!

tudent Pub Buildin represent nd out!

est Carolinian

s in

ng Center of the mation

AM

ER

0

2

8

ST	UDY#

east thearolinian

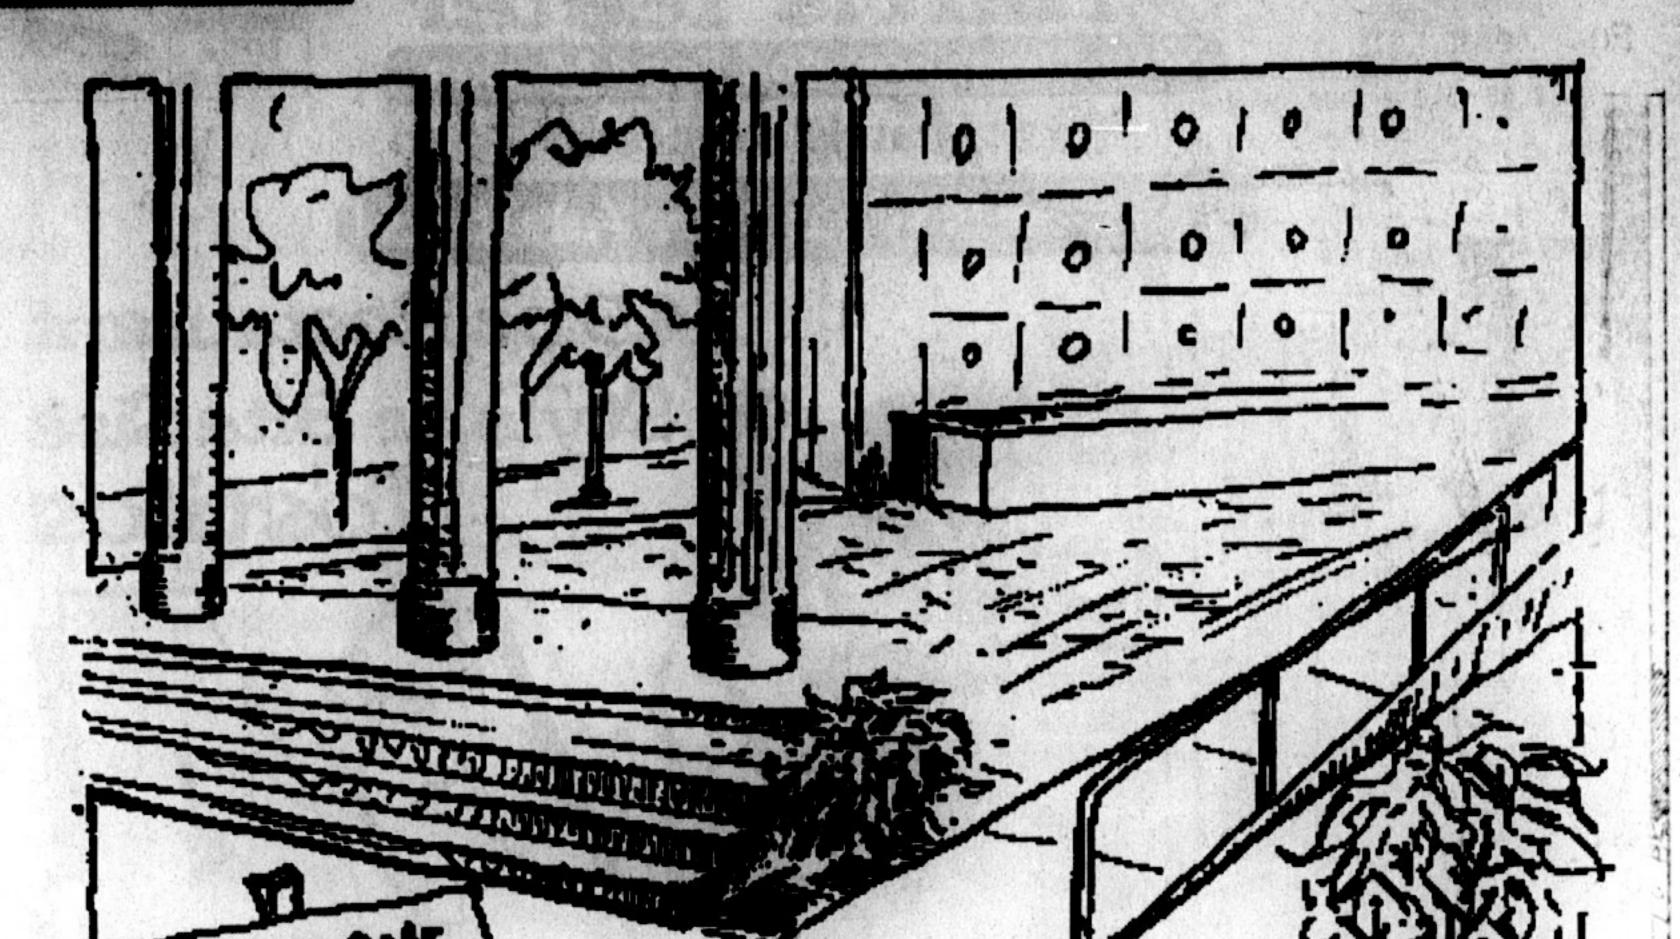

AMY L. ROYSTER Editor AMANDA G. AUSTIN Managing Editor

AMY SHERIDAN News Editor PETER DAWYOT Assistant News Editor NINA DRY Features Editor EMILY LITTLE Head Copy Editor

MARIO SCHERHAUFER Sports Editor TRACY HAIRR Assistant Sports Editor CHRIS KNOTTS Staff Illustrator ROBERT MOORE Layout Designer

STEPHANIE WHITLOCK Ad Design Manager JANET RESPESS Advertising Manager RUSS BLACKBURN Layout Designer BOBBY TUGGLE Webmast

1925, the East Carolinian publishes 11,000 copies every Tuesday and Thursday. The lead editorial in each edition is the ntion in turn by Editorial Board members . The East Carolinian welcomes letters to the editor, limited to with The East Carolinian reserves the right to edit or reject letters for publication. All letters must be signed. addressed to: Opinion editor, The East Carolinian, Student Publications Building, ECU, Greenville, 27858-4353. For information, call 252.328.6366.

011MEW

Everyone knows that technology is paving the way for more accessible information. An incredible fact, though, is that so many ECU students are either unfamiliar with what's been made available or simply don't know how to use all the new computer systems.

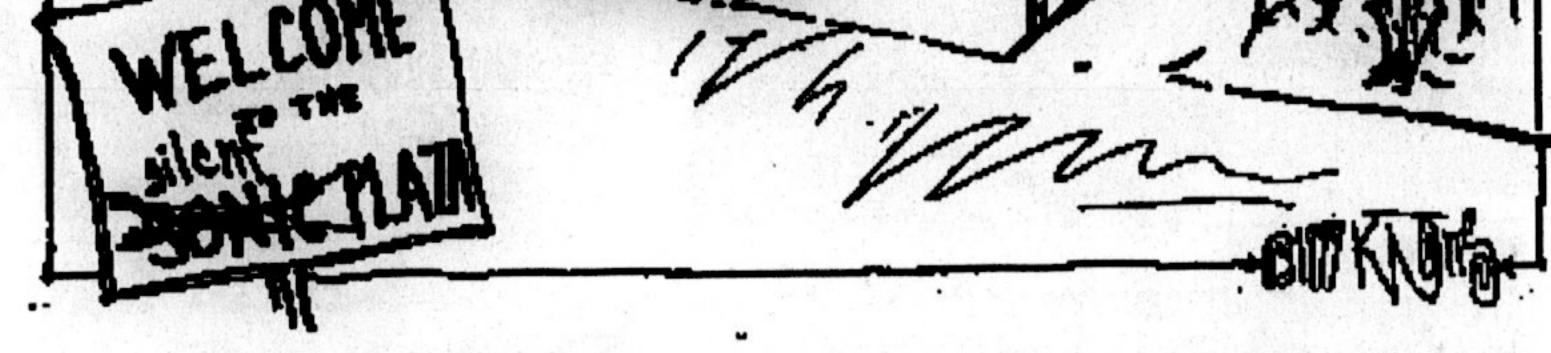

The online kiosks, often misinterpreted to be money machines, located at The Wright Place, the Computing Center, Mendenhall and The Galley, are the latest example of this type of advancement.

All kinds of information can be received by just slipping in your ECU One-Card. It's possible to pull up your financial aid status, registration schedules, and even research into the school's history.

The applications are diverse, but the impact is simple. Now anyone who's on campus, whether it's to teach a class, go to a class, or check out the sights, can find out answers to his or her questions fast.

This is especially advantageous to freshmen and transfer students who are least acquainted with the campus and all the school's events. But these kiosks can also benefit those who have been here a while by the services they provide in convenient locations.

Overall, this is certainly a project that adds meaning to "Pirate Pride." Sure, there may be some quirks that students still find agitating, but this is a stepping stone toward increasing fun and decreasing the time it often takes to get information.

OPINION Columnist

ODIDIAION

Marvelle Sullivan Tobacco an excuse to collect

It is not the government's job to care what an individual does in regard to his or her health and then regulate based on that concern.

Cigarette-smoking, manufacturing, pricing, taxing, and every other imaginable appendage has caused quite a few political debates, lawsuits and anti-smoking campaigns over the past few years. Even though it seemed that Clinton was viciously throwing tobacco in the spotlight and that a lot of the rhetoric was ridiculously singling out tobacco as the primary ill of society, it was all excused by most as a governmental attempt to promote the public's while alleviating the health supposedly enormous financial burden cigarette smoking had placed on the government's health care programs. After the last few months' events, it should be crystal clear that cigarette smoking is no longer a health issue to our government, but an attempt to raise money for exorbitant spending programs. The 45 cent increase in December was the result of a settlement between the cigarette manufacturers and state and local governments. The $260 billion settlement is to be paid over 25 years, and is to serve as a contribution to the costs of the effects of smoking which the state claims is an overwhelming portion of its health care budget. This is turn buy the domestic versions, indeed a questionable claim by the states who now want to funnel the money into programs that have nothing to do with health care or smoking. In fact, some sates are debating on how they'll even spend that much money. I thought they needed it because smoking was such a strain on their budget! I guess it isn't. It probably never was.

To make matters worse, the federal government saw the money given to the states and wanted a piece of the action because, after all, they pay for half the health care in this country. As it is, the federal government receives 24 cents off government would heavily tax fast food, alcohol and caffeine. It is no secret that the government places taxes on imported goods so we'll in manipulating the therefore purchases through consumer's regulation. The tobacco action, though, is different because it is a blatant political stab and an underhanded move by our government, in particular Clinton and his followers.

The East Carolinian

This issue is infuriating not just because of the financial aspect, but Clinton purposely because demonized tobacco, not really because of the health effects but because he could collect money and a few public relations points. It is no coincidence that tobacco is a staple of the Southern economy, which is not an avid supporter of Clinton's values and politics. Admittedly, cigarettes aren't exactly an ingredient for a long life filled with good health. This is a fact of which we are all quite aware. The administration's demonization of cigarettes under the guise of health prevention and promotion has got to stop. Clinton and the others need to admit tobacco rhetorc is meant to collect money without stepping on supporter toes. Then they need to pick on something else and leave the tobacco companies alone.

Four Seat

I REAL

COMESI

W

What's important to remember is that these kiosks, or any other form of helpful technology, is only profitable if it's used. So be sure to pull out your One-Card next time you're around a kiosk and discover all that it uncovers for you.

OPINION Columnist

Lasers point to cheap fun

The little red dot is virtually harmless. The places that laser pointers are most commonly used, outside the business world, are at sporting events and movies.

Those little red dots finally made sómebody mad. Laser pointers have been outlawed in Greenville, and I bought mine the same day they passed the law. Outlawed may be a strong word for what has really happened. All over the United States many local governments have started to pass laws against the sale of laser pointers to minors. How sid is it to be under 18? You can't vote, drink, smoke or even buy laser pointers.

violation. As harmless as they seem, misguided use can make laser pointers potentially dangerous. Direct eye exposure can cause irreversible damage to the retina. Many police officers feel that the little red dot can be potentially dangerous because it is the same as a laser sight. This can cause the same problem as the realistic looking water guns; the officers shoot a child accidentally thinking their own lives are in danger.

I think that the laser pointers are more of a nuisance than an actual problem. Most people dislike laser pointers on them because in the movies where the little red dot lands the bullet is sure to follow. I think most people believe too much in what these movies depict. Unless you have reason to believe somebody wants to kill you - then you may be justified. The little red dot is virtually harmless. The places that laser pointers are most commonly used, outside the Most of the laws make it illegal business world, are at sporting events and movies. In the past year virtually every televised basketball game and wrestling event I have seen, has had a dot on somebody's' face. People have good aim and a steady hand too, I've seen some basketball players at the free throw line with a motionless dot on their heads for at least ten seconds. This is not as easy to do as it seems. Of course this is funny for a couple of minutes, but becomes tiresome and annoying. Especially at the movie theater. That is the one thing at the movies that really upsets me. Once or twice on the screen is fine, but the continuous dot roaming the screen is really annoying. There is no reason to have the dot on the screen for the whole movie.

These new toys are cheap, useful and are fun to play with. I do think that some people have gone overboard using the little red dot to annoy everybody, but passing laws is a little excessive. For safety reasons I can see some regulations, but a hefty fine and jail? That's a bit absurd. If laser pointer owners use their toys in a respectful way I think that most people don't have a problem with them. For the most part people enjoy the occasional dot on the forehead of a professor or actor on the screen. I know I do, that's why I went and bought mine.

every pack of cigarettes sold. That amount is schedule to rise to 39 cents in 2002. Nevertheless, Clinton has just proposed a new 55 cent tax on cigarettes. Is this tax to help pay for health care or to curb smoking?

No. The administration says the new tax would be for all the programs and spending Clinton wants, but doesn't want to put in the budget. It's absolutely absurd and quite shameless.

Even on the off-chance that all these taxes and tax proposals were a sincere attempt to curb smoking, it is not the government's job to care what an individual does in regard to his or her health and then regulate based on that concern. If health was a legitimate concern, then the states would sue and the the federal

Stephen Kleinschmit

OPINION Columnist

False advertising frustrating percent off," and found that there was only one rack of old t-shirts with such catchy phrases as "Can't touch this" or "I'm not as think as It's crap like this that keeps you drunk I am." I apologize to those stores because I must have more people from going to innocently misunderstood what "everything in the store is fifty percent off" means. After all, it's pretty easy to misinterpret.

Certain tobacco shops advertise tobacco "water pipes," "funnels" and "whipped cream chargers." They will ask you to leave if you call them by what they really are - bongs, beer bongs and nitrous whippets. They have old Army gas masks attached to water pipes. Is this the responsible way to smoke four-footer to enjoy a nice batch of Bugler? And has anybody ever seen anyone make their own whipped cream? I guess they'll just have to keep on stocking those tobacco crack pipes.

The bookstores advertise that they have the lowest possible prices. I went to U.B.E to find a book for a geography class that I am taking. Last semester I checked the

P T Н

C

P

Z

-

1

ø

C

to sell laser pointers to minors and to point the beam on people's faces. Fines range up to $500 and jail terms up to 90 days for the

"We believe that everyone-even dissenting voices-has a right to be heard and respected and that to find the common good we must begin by acknowledging our deepest differences.

-Jan yondra Public school official, 1996 people will lie right to your face when it comes to advertising, particularly certain places here in Greenville that seem to have no honesty at all.

am constantly amazed at how college.

During this past year, I shopped at the mall several times and went into stores with banners that said "Everything in the store fifty tobacco? Does anybody hit a glass

LETTER to the Editor

price and it was a little over $20. This semester it was $35. The same small, spiral bound book almost doubled in price in less than a month. It's crap like this that keeps more people from going to college.

IFC president: resist stereotypes, rush

It's that time of year again. This is the time of the year when Greek men are recruiting new members for their organizations, otherwise known as rush. There are 18 fraternities on ECU's campus and, I urge each and everyone of the male students to go by as many houses this week as possible to see if fratemity life is for them.

Most of you may see banners hanging from trees or numerous fratemity men coming up to you and inviting you to their houses, but you really do not understand all that is involved in this recruitment week. First of all, if you do visit a house during this week, it in no way binds you to join that house, or any house for that matter.

Some of you may only have seen the "Animal House" type image in fraternity living, and that is keeping you away. If you just come and visit these houses you will realize that this is not true. If you are looking for that type of group, I urge you to look elsewhere because we are not interested in recruiting people that are just in it for the alcohol. We all enjoy having a good time but realize that an education is the main reason we are here.

Here are facts that you may not know about fraternity men: eighty percent of Fortune 500 executives are fraternity men. Seventy-six percent of current United States senators and congressmen are fraternity men. All but three United States presidents since 1825 have been fraternity men. Even on ECU's campus, the majority of leaders are affiliated with the Greek system. So if you are interested in making the most of your four years here at ECU, I am asking you to throw away your stereotypes, and I am giving you a personal invitation to visit any or all 18 of our fraternities at ECU. If you have any questions, please call the IFC office at 328-4706.

Brian Tuck IFC President

conomy, which is orter of Clinton's igarettes aren't ent for a long life alth. This is a fact quite aware. The demonization of e guise of health motion has got to the others need to torc is meant to hout stepping on hen they need to alone.

••

ting nice batch of nybody ever their own ss they'll just ocking those dvertise that est possible B.E to find a lass that I am tle over $20. 35. The same book almost less than a nis that keeps ng to college.

-

-

11

y

6

7

I checked the

s, rush

ngressmen are All but three dents since 1825 y men. Even on he majority of ated with the So if you are ng the most of e at ECU, I am row away your am giving you a to visit any or all s at ECU. If you , please call the 706.

FOR THE STARS Campus Living Sweepstakes. Mark your calendar now for Return to Campus Living Sign-Up February 15–19. All sign-up participants become eligi-Z ble to win one of eight great sweepstakes prizes.

Don't miss out on a campus living package that's 0 out of this world! 0

> If you receive a winning Wish Upon a Star game card, be sure to claim your prize. Stop by any Neighborhood Service Office, the University Housing Services office on the ground floor of Jones Residence Hall, or the Campus Dining Services office in Todd Dining Hall to claim your prize. NG

UNIVERSITY HOUSING AND CAMPUS DINING SERVICES . TELEPHONE: ECU-HOME; ECU-FOOD U.P. 99-140

SIGN-UP

LIVARD, MITED, IUDALLU, AND RINWN GLASS PIPES

学がななないで

N 200 Fine Fine

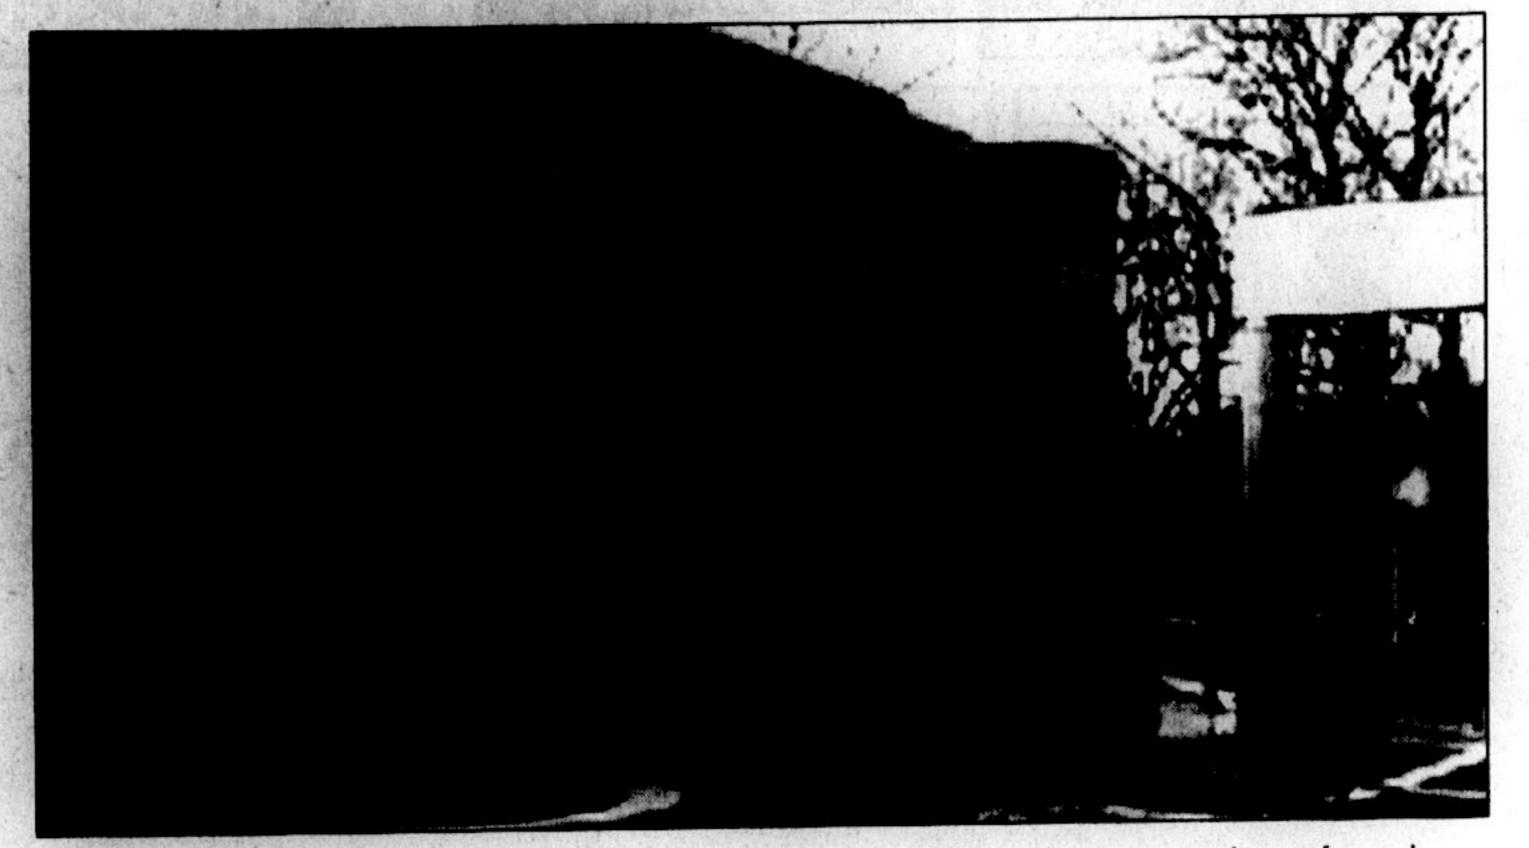

MON-SAT 12NOON-8PM

505 5. EVANS 51. 561-1413

and a destand a desta

features

Joyner's additions benefits students

New Book assists students before graduation time

Author provides career advice

NINA M. DRY FEATURES EDITOR

experience."

Luscher said a career is not about finding a job, but serving a underclassmen, especially freshneed.

You said. Until Wait "Don't Graduate!" is not a book about job hunting," Luscher said. "It is about what students must do long before tion day.

"This book is really ideal for men and sophomores," Luscher

The East Carolinian

Luscher was inspired to write this book during a period when he himself was unemployed, trying to provide for his family. He said he had to go through the process of

Editions to Joyner Library are soon to provide students with more readily available resources and space for work. FILE PHOTO

Facilities to improve quality of resources

Thursday, January 28, 1989

ERICA SIKES STAFF WRITER

It's the Greenville. The scenery is an inspiration for any term paper due the next day. It's the Joyner Library, and for the frequent visitors to this place, there is good news. Those of you who have yet to set foot in there, listen up.

For the past few months, Joyner Library has been under construction and there have been improveinstalling shelving and furniture. The transition of 1.3 million books began last semester. The building will remain open during the renovations.

The new facilities will include more space for existing services, new computers and a new copy center.

access.

"One obvious addition will be quietest place in the 80 new workstations," said Peter McCracken, a reference librarian. "There will be more electronic resources and space for students to write papers."

> According to Vamer, these workstations will have Word programs and Netscape Internet

There will also be 36 new study groups consisting of about nine nal committees examining the possibility of extended hours," Vamer said.

This has been a request because of the increasing demand on Internet services and because of Joyner Library's new status as 'a

"There will be more electronic resources and space for students to write papers."

Peter McCracken reference librarian

Doctoral Two Research University Library. The possibility of 24 hour access to the first floor will be input and the committee's decito end sometime before Spring Break. The new building will be dedicated on Founder's Day,

March 8. Those unfamiliar with the library's abundance of

The renovations are expected

sion.

As college students, our main priorities include completing four years of higher education, and obtaining a great paying job once we graduate. For some this might sound like an impossible feat, but there's a new book out that makes the career search more feasible.

Author Keith F. Luscher has written "Don't Wait Until You Graduate! How to 'Jumpstart' Your Career While Still in School." Sure, there are many career guides available to assist students with completing their resumes, cover letters and even tips for their first job interviews, but Luscher's book takes on a different aspect. "The books I've seen focus on the vehicles of job hunting," Luscher said. "Those elements aren't as important as how people know your talent [and] personali-

According to Luscher, no one can describe and tell about themselves in a single page. Building careers and connections is a longterm process.

"No one is assured of anything in today's economy, which alone is reason to start working as soon as possible," Luscher said. "It is vital for students to make building relationships, service and professional work a cornerstone of their college

"I hope students gain a clear understanding that there are plenty of small steps students can take today that can have a huge impact on their life

tomorrow peace of mind

knowing that opportunities [in the form of needs] exist everywhere, reassurance in that networking is not just another game of cold calling and business card passing, and a new self understanding."

Keith Luscher

Author of "Don't Wait Until You Graduate!"

the job hunt begins."

"Don't Wait Until You Graduate!" shows students how to build an impressive resume by tapping into business and volunteer opportunities long before graduanetworking.

"When I was in college I was always worried about what I was going to do," Luscher said. "So many resources available appeared to focus more on procedures and tricks, while missing what I gradually learned to be at the heart of real career development: identifying needs and filling them and building strong relationships in the process. Besides understanding the concept of filling a need, Luscher has other issues that he hopes the readers of his book learn.

"I hope students gain a clear, understanding that there are plenty. of small steps students can take today that can have a huge impact on their life tomorrow peace of mind knowing that opportunities [in the form of needs] exist every where, reassurance in that network ing is not just another game of cold calling and business card passing, and a new self understanding," Luscher said.

Today Luscher is a creative director at a consulting firm for non-profit organizations worldwide, is an editor for Network News and has been helping students recognize and achieve their career goals through public speeches at a variety of student and education basec organizations.

Computerized Engine Dia New PCV Filter New Air Filter New Spark Plugs WITH THIS Ęe ear

þea

9 Thursday, Jar

Start y

Office

officer

compl

~~~~

BRAKES and

3211 S. Mem

353-62

Mon.-Fri. 7:3

Sat. 8-1

BRAKE SPE

$49.9

Install New Disc Brake Pads C Some Foreign Cars, Trucks & Inspect Master Cylinders & Br

Test Drive Vehicle Semi Metallic Pads Additional INCLUDES LIFETIME WARRAN

WITH THIS COUPON - EXP

30/60/9

from

Includes:

Maintenance Tune-

Add Fluid as Needed

ments made to benefit students. The renovations have been completed in three parts, according to the Director of Academic Library Services, Carroll Vamer.

"The first two parts, which included the construction of the new library and the Sonic Plaza, have been completed," Vamer said.

The third part, the actual renovating of the west wing is under way. The construction is complete and workers are in the process of Organizations give back to community

PHILLIP GILFUS

STAFF WRITER

Let it never be said that ECU does not give back to the community.

people according to subject.

"[With] more group study rooms all over the library, looking for places to work will be easier," said Deborah Stanley, a reference librarian. "There is also more space where we can bring back government collections, documents and older books and journals that were in storage."

resources should definitely check According to Vamer, Joyner's out the new facilities. hours of operation could possibly change.

"There are currently two inter-

Campus clubs benefit area

determined by student and faculty

Web site ideal for students

Animalhouse.com offers many services

> PHILLIP GILFUS STAFF WRITER

from Ken Starr to one-night stands. Users need to only type in their city and state for a complete local weather forecast.

"Shots!" is a section for trivia buffs. Here they can find out that ivory soap only floats by accident and that 68 percent of college students get "trashed" at least once a year.

"Over 250,000 college members have signed up as members [of the web page]," Rudnick said. "The site welcomes over 300,000 unique visitors a week."

Over 50 on-line radio stations

"Since the web site's launch less than two months ago, animalhouse.com has continued to satisfy the needs and wants of college students from coast to

"Work/biz" provides job assistance, including resume building tips and interview suggestions. The site also includes information on jobs, job hunting, career stages, negotiating, promotions, and changing careers, as well as links to business sites.

A lifestyle section has information on health issues, horoscopes, recipes, personal ads, technology articles. "Love Buzz" has articles, advice and anecdotes about relationships and sex.

"Area" offers up-to-date details on 4,000 destinations and travelrelated happenings worldwide. The site also includes information about travel and tips on hotel accommodations, moving and sports opportunities.

Animalhouse.com also provides an on-line mall. A customer can purchase such items as music, movies, computers and condoms with the point and click of a mouse button.

Music news and free music sam-work with local schools by helping provide tutors.

The Ambassadors have an annual membership drive. In order to be a member one must have at least a 2.5 GPA. The Ambassadors currently meet every Wednesday in the Mendenhall Student Center.

Another major service organization at ECU is Alpha Phi Omega. Rechartered 16 years ago, this coed

"We believe in providing service to the community and service to the nation," said Jason Wimmer, president of Alpha Phi Omega. "We accept any service project that comes along."

goods by the year 2000. At this club is going strong.

time, Alpha Phi has managed to collect 1,000 cans. This food is scheduled to be distributed before the holidays to the Ronald McDonald House, Children's Miracle Network and other charities. Most of the cans were collected through membership pledges, but they hope to place collection boxes on campus and around the community.

"We try to get out in the community as much as possible. We work a lot with the American Cancer Society and area nursing

Look out, American Online, there might be some competition on the horizon. The web page http://animalhouse.com offers a wide variety of information, online services, and forums for college students across the nation.

The web site is open to anyone, but only members receive full access. Membership is free and offers e-mail, daily contests and assistance in building personal web page.

The first section to explore, "News and Views," keep students THU FKI SAI NEX TUES

Take

pas

Cor

10%

OPEN EV

OR MAK

Che

Many service clubs and organizations on campus provide charity to Greenville and the surrounding areas. Students and faculty have found a way to take time off from school and work to help make lives better for people in the area.

One such club is the East Carolina Ambassadors. This group is an extension of the ECU Alumni Organization. The current 50 members of this club help with all alumni functions and also act as official representatives of the university.

The Ambassadors are visible at many activities at ECU. They serve as ushers at concerts and spring and fall commencements. They also work during open houses answering visitors questions along with other various jobs.

In the community, the have adopted Ambassadors Biltmore Street and help keep it clean. They have also started to "We try to get out in the community as much as possible.

We work a lot with the American Cancer Society and

area nursing homes."

Jason Wimmer President of Alpha Phi Omega

The current big project for Alpha Phi Omega is the 2000 Goal Project, created by former President George Bush and retired General Colin Powell. This project involves collecting 2,000 canned Center room 109 or call 328-4796.

homes." said Wimmer.

Currently, Alpha Phi Omega includes 32 active members, seven advisors and 15 recently-inducted pledges.

East Carolina Friends is a campus organization that tries to reach out to the youth in Greenville. They provide children who need attention or someone to talk to after school with a "big brother" or "big sister." By sending out applications to surrounding schools, East Carolina Friends finds kids to play games with, go to the movies with or to just have a good time with. The members work mostly on a one-to-one basis. Anyone who is interested in this program should see Linda Mooney at Brewster 409A.

For more information on all other organizations on campus, stop by Mendenhall Student up to date about current events and allows them to post their opinions on the Internet using newspapers linked to the site, including USA Today and Daily Variety. E-Zine, an on-line magazine containing articles about entertainment, fashion, lifestyle, literature, music and wellness, is also available. The College Press Exchange also offers a campus news area that includes stories from over 1,600 colleges and universities across the nation.

"Since the web site's launch less than two months ago, animalhouse.com has continued to satisfy the needs and wants of college students from coast to coast," said Stephanie Rudnick of Edelman Worldwide, the company which produces the site.

Students are encouraged to speak their minds in a forum called "BackTalk," where issues range coast."

Stephanie Rudnick Edelman Worldwide

are broadcasted on the site, including stations from Western Carolina and UNC-CH. Soon the page will include the animalhouse.com radio station, airing live and on line. It will play alternative rock, and listeners are encouraged to submit their requests to the virtual DJs.

"This site intends to offer insider information on campus life," said Stacey Johnes, also from Edelman Worldwide.

Campus news, college surveys, U Magazine and the animalhouse.com newsletter all inform students about the happenings of various colleges and universities.

ples are convenient for anyone to download, as well as movie previews and local television sched ules.

There is easy access to a chat area. Here six rooms are available for use, as long as chatters follow the "house rules." Information on soap operas, movie release dates and reviews are also on the site.

For all the Sony Playstation and Nintendo 64 junkies out there, the "Games" section provides an abundance of information about arcade games, reviews, shareware, news and preview.

So far over 250,000 college students have signed up as members, and that number is expected to grow with the number of services the site offers.

"The average stay at animalhouse.com consists of about 21 minutes." Johnes said.

9 Thursday, January 28, 1999

e East Carolinian

ents e

eally ideal for pecially freshres," Luscher pired to write eriod when he loyed, trying to ily. He said he the process of

R TRAINING SCHOOL

Start your career off on the right foot by enrolling in the Air Force Officer Training School. There you will become a commissioned officer in just 12 weeks. From the start you'll enjoy great pay, complete medical and dental care, 30 days of vacation each year, plus the opportunity to travel and see the world. To discover how high a career in the Air Force can take you, call 1-800-423-USAF, or visit our website at www.airforce.com

NE ACCEPT COMPETITOR'S COUPONS At Intersection Of Greenville Blvd. & Memorial Drive

Between Carolina Motors & Dodge Convenience Store Official NC Inspection Station

DiMaggio watches report on his death during dream

features

(AP) - Nobody was more surprised than Joe DiMaggio when he saw a television report that he had died. "He was livid," his lawyer and neighbor Morris Engelberg said

NBC ran another crawl about 20 minutes later, saying its previous report was inaccurate. The network later said a technician in the New York control room inadvertently sent the item.

covering the

that treated the 84-year-old Hall Famer during his 99-day hospital stay disputed the Daily News report.

"He is progressing nicely since his discharge from Memorial Regional Hospital one week ago,"

Dr. Earl Barron said in a statement to The Associated Press. "Over the weekend, his physical therapy has progressed to the point that he is walking. Reports of his condition

SEE DIMAGGIO, PAGE10

Engelberg, who lives next door

worsening are not true."

WEST NEW YORK, N.J. (AP) -In crime as well as law enforcement, timing, it seems, is everything.

Thief has no luck

Remberto Oliver found that out Tuesday as he broke into an apartment where police were already inside, questioning someone else about another crime, police said. "While the guys were inside, someone decided to commit a burglary," Capt. Richard Maggi said. "He pried open the door, and lo and behold, our detectives were inside already." Officers were investigating the theft of meat and other items from the La Primera del Yayabo Meat Market, in which someone broke into an adjacent building and used a sledge hammer to bash a hole through the wall into the market. The entire meat case was wiped out, and hundreds of dollars worth of beef, pork and chicken were stolen. Detectives developed information that a possible suspect lived in an apartment on 60th Street. While they were there, questioning Rafael Guevara, they noticed someone prying the apartment door open. In walked Oliver, right into the arms of waiting detectives. He was charged with burglary. Police say he picked the apartment at random.

college I was ut what I was cher said. "So ilable appeared procedures and g what I graduthe heart of real nt: identifying m and building in the process. inding the cond, Luscher has hopes the readts gain a clear. there are plenty. dents can take a huge impact prrow peace of t opportunities ds] exist every in that network er game of cold ss card passing, inderstanding," is a creative ulting firm for ions worldwide, work News and students recogneir career goals ches at a variety ducation basec

Monday.

"Then I made him laugh. I said, 'Joe, we must be in heaven togeth-

The two were watching a tape of "Gunfight at the OK Corral" -DiMaggio's favorite Western - at the baseball great's home in Hollywood, Fla., on Sunday.

They happened to stop the tape just when the report appeared as a "crawl" across the screen during "Dateline NBC."

NBC was trying to speak with, DiMaggio family to apologize but hadn't reached anyone yet, spokeswoman Alex Constantinopole said Monday.

DiMaggio, recovering from pneumonia and lung cancer surgery on Oct. 12, already was upset by a story in the New York Daily News that described him as bedridden and in grave condition.

The lead doctor on the team

Chick-fil-a billboard cow recovered on interstate

LAKE MARY, Fla. (AP) - Police found a black-and-white fiberglass cow that was stolen from a Chickfil-A billboard on Interstate 4.

Aside from missing an ear, the cow was in good shape when found in an open pasture Thursday, officials said.

Last week someone pried the

LISTEN TO WZMB 91.3

THE ONLY REAL "NEW MUSIC"

cow from the billboard, where it was bolted to a railing.

The 125-pound cow stands 6feet high, is 10-feet long and 4-feet wide. The thief left behind another cow, the one painting the fast-food chain's "Eat Mor Chikin" slogan.

Seminole County Sheriff's spokeswoman Deanna Brown said authorities haven't yet found the person who stole the Holstein, which was valued at $8,000.

"We're relieved that our cow has been safely found," said Marsha Dickinson, marketing director for Central Florida Chick-fil-A.

The cow was expected to return to its perch on the billboard Friday, Dickinson said.

ents

vides job assisesume building uggestions. The information on career stages, motions, and well as links to on has informaies, horoscopes, ads, technology zz" has articles, otes about rela-

o-to-date details ons and travelgs worldwide. des information tips on hotel moving and m also provides customer can ems as music, and condoms click of a mouse

free music samit for anyone to as movie preelevision sched

$8 field fee

$2 CO_ fee

access to a chat ns are available chatters follow Information on e release dates o on the site. Playstation and es out there, the rovides an abunon about arcade hareware, news

000 college stuup as members, is expected to nber of services stay at animalts of about 21 aid.

BLAST! $5 mask rental $5 gun rental $6 for 100 paintballs Take Hwy 33 West from Greenville, 8 miles past the airport. Turn right at the Belvoir Cornerstop, on to Porter Rd. Go 2.5 miles and turn left at the yellow signs. Park in front of our Army tent.

10% Student Discount Call OPEN EVERY SAT & SUN, 11:00AM TILL 5:30PM 754-8267 Check/your phone book for coupons WWW.ECPB.COM

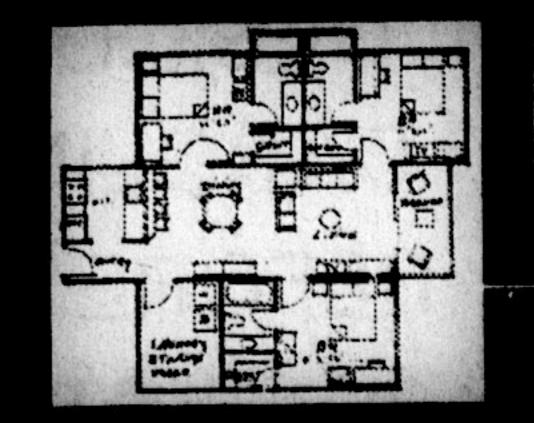

MAKE THE MISTAKE OF NOT DISCUSSING THIS WITH YOUR PARENTS!!

SEE THEM NOW!!

NEW CONDOMINIUMS FOR SALE (SPECIAL FINANCING AVAILABLE)

3 BEDROOMS 3 BATHROOMS 3 WALK-IN CLOSET NEAR CAMPUS

UNIT PLAN

FREE 1-800-440-5378 FOR ADDITIONAL INFORMATION CALL

U Thursday, January 28, 1999

True Millennium begins in 2001

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Maybe you had nodded off by then, but toward the end of his State of the Union address President Clinton made a blooper.

"Barely more than 300 days from now," he said, "we will cross that bridge into the new millennium." Even the leader of the free world can't get it straight.

The hoopla surrounding Jan. 1, 2000, which has swept up everyone from cruise organizers to religious zealots to heads of state, ignores one simple fact: Jan. 1, 2000, is not the start of the millennium.

"You can make a commonsense case for celebrating 2000 because of all the zeros," said Steven J. Dick, an astronomer and historian at the U.S. Naval

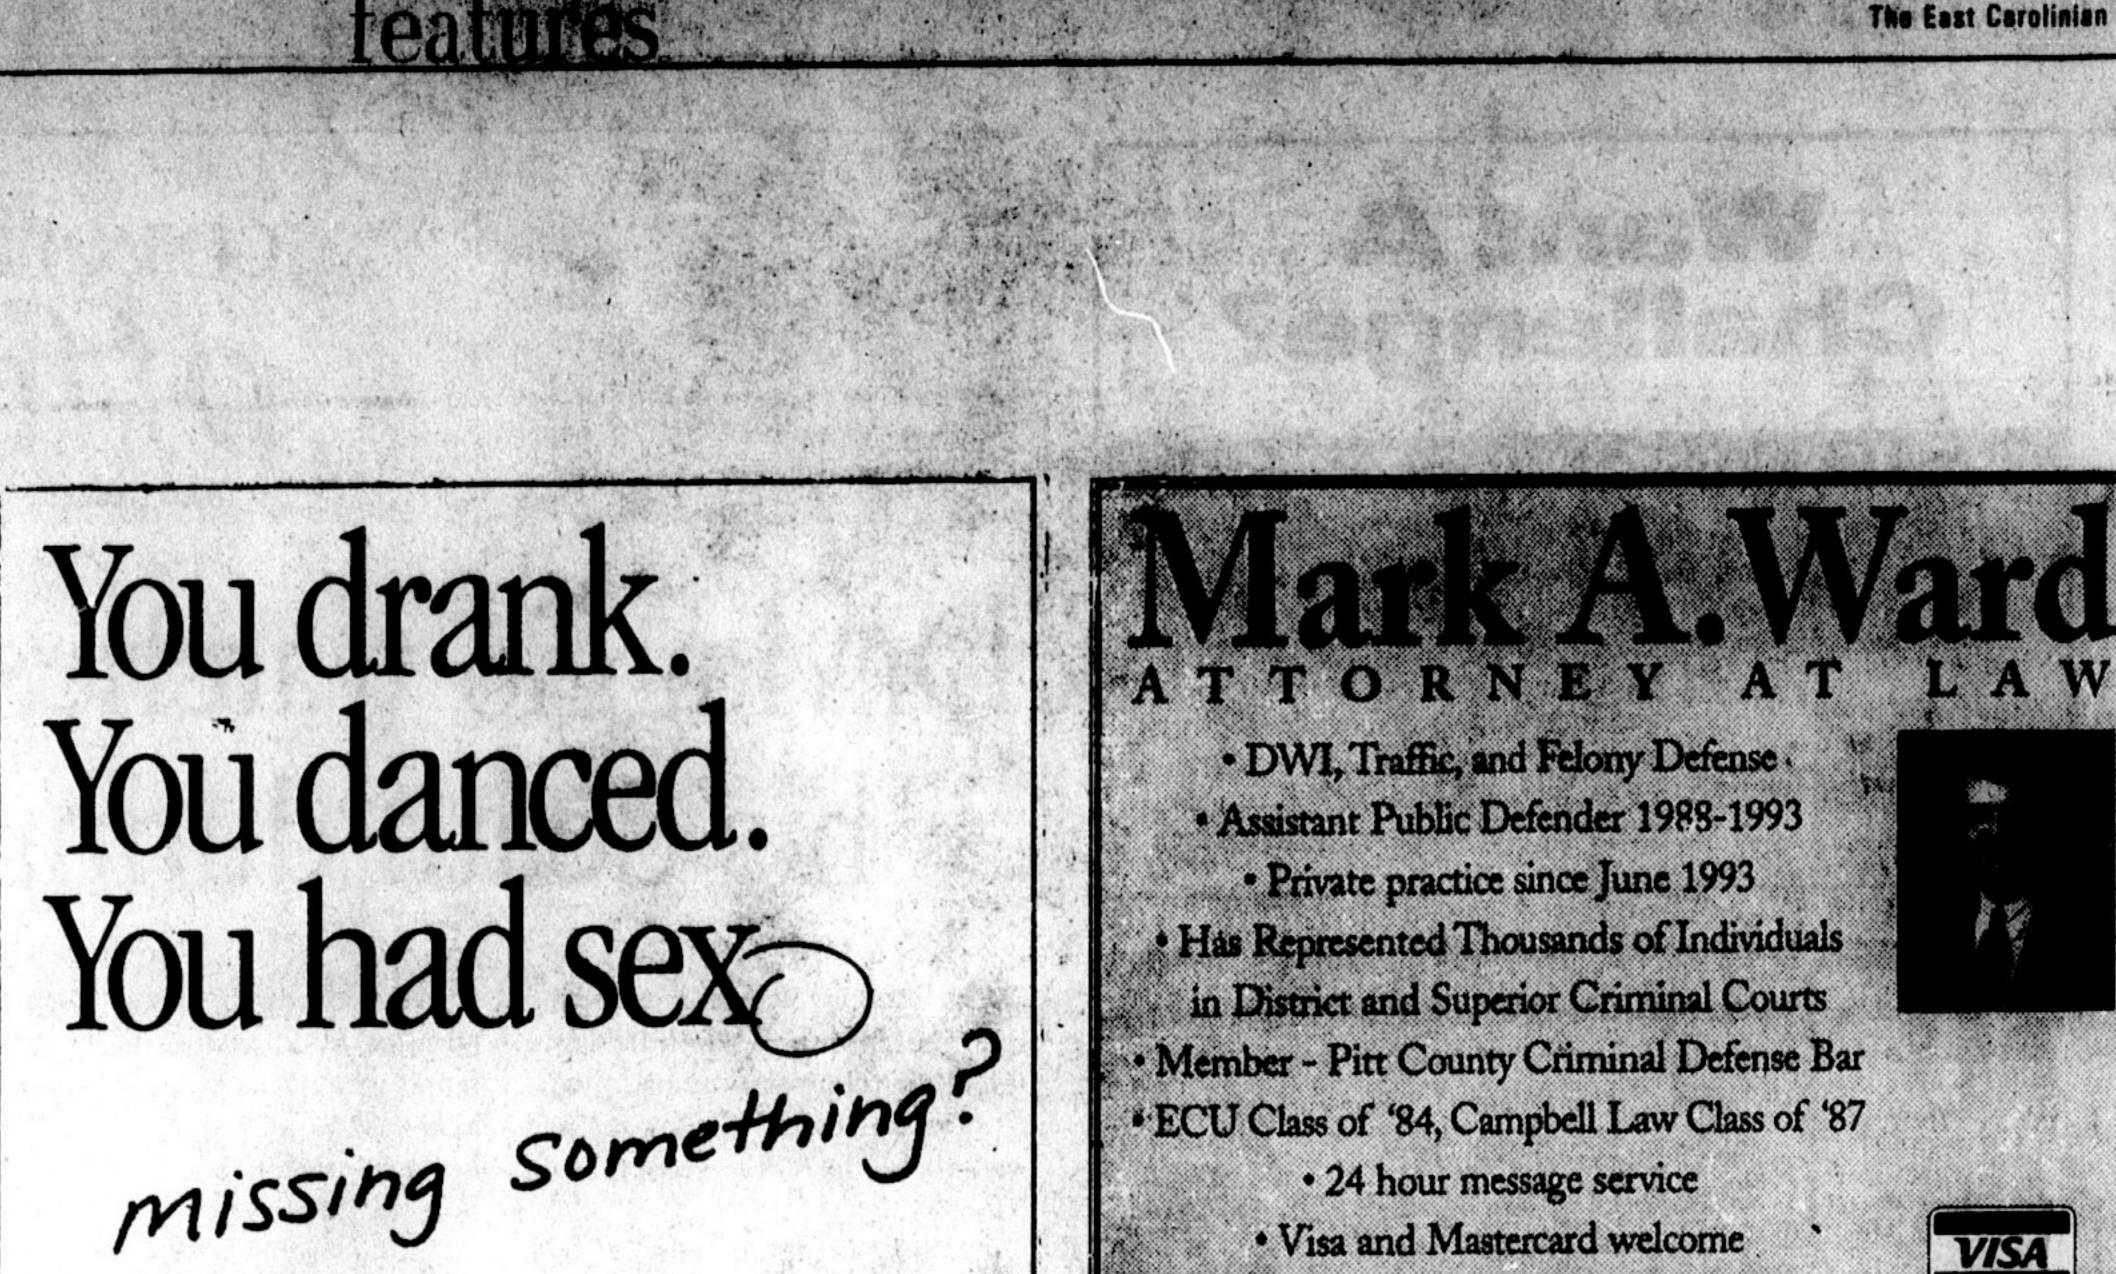

"We're just inundated with calls from people arguing on both sides," Dick said.

The scholar responsible for the confusion is one Dionysius Exiguus, a sixth-century monk who devised the calendar now in use throughout the world.

Dionysius Exiguus ("Dennis the Short") was a Roman. Romans did not have the concept of zero. So when he devised the calendar, he started with the year one.

"You have to go through the year 10 for a decade, you have to go through the year 100 for a century, and you have to go through the year 1000 for a millennium," Dick said, who was watching the other night when Clinton made his gaffe. "We all cringed," he said.

navel: lap We competi

Get

vebro

11 Thursday, Ja

Large sel and do

Tuesday-TI

Exton

Su

that doesn't change the fact that the millennium starts in 2001."

is the keeper of the Master Clock of the United States, has become, by default, the referee for the great millennial debate.

Millennium Council, "He's obviously referring to the

DiMaggio

to DiMaggio and visits him at least once a day, called the newspaper report "absurd."

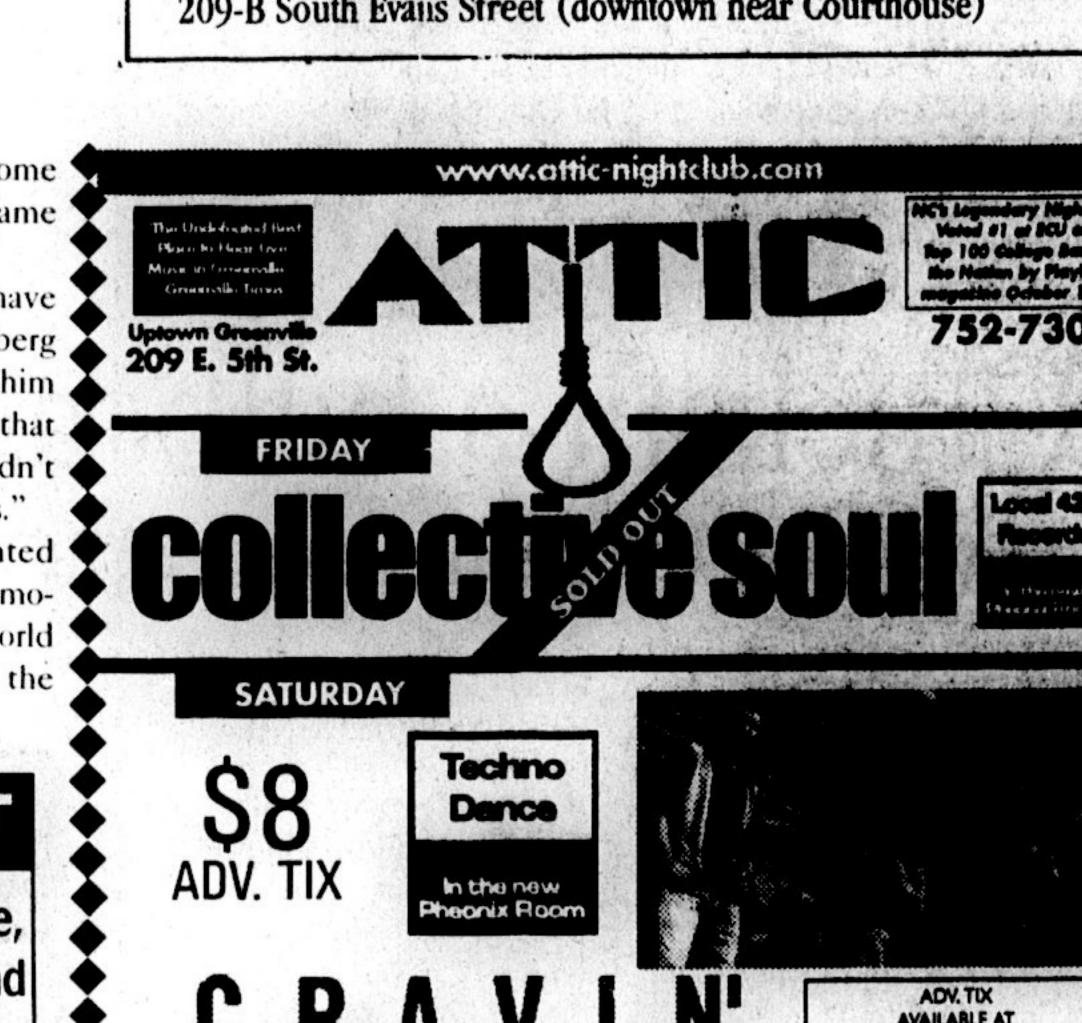

apy," Engelberg said. "And he will be at opening day."

Yankees owner against the Detroit Tigers.

said. "My first goal was to have him get out of the hospital, and that happened. A lot of people didn't think it would. He's miraculous."

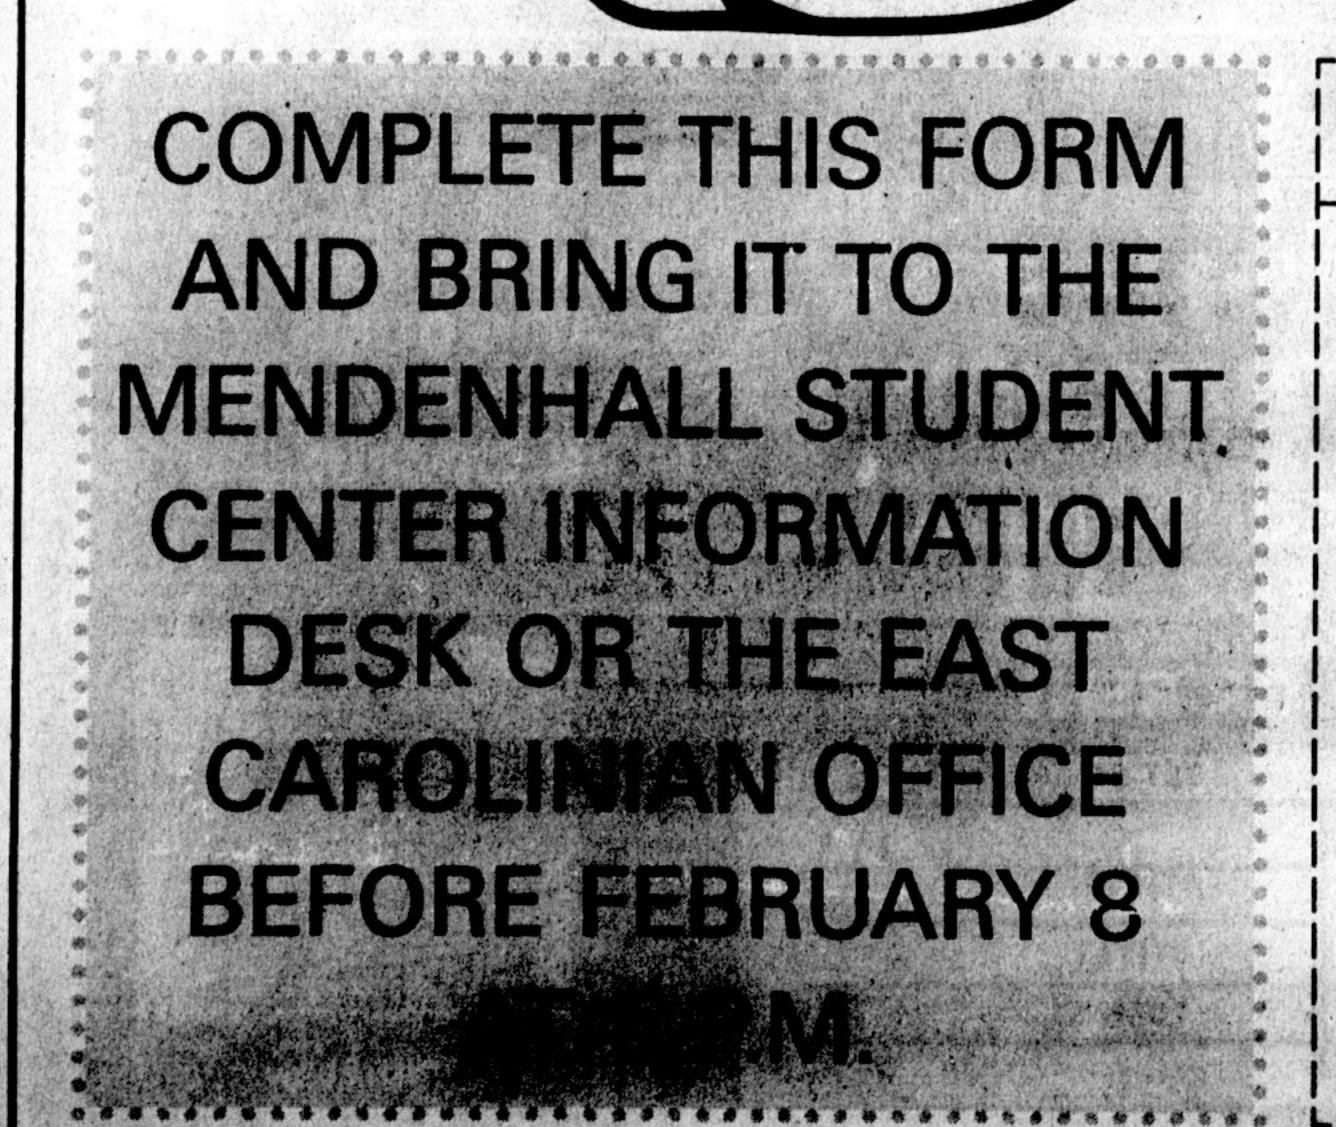

DiMaggio to throw out the ceremo-

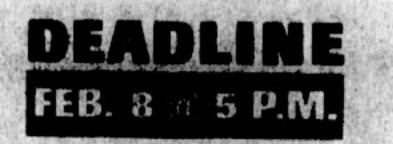

Ad

| 1.1.2.2.2.1 전 1.1.2.2.2.2.2.2.2.2.2.2.2.2.2.2.2.2.2.2 | Contraction of the second | and and a second se | _ ID#      | ( and the second s |
|-------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ONLY FIRST NAMES                                      | OB LNITIAL                | R MAY BE U                                                                                                     |            | S T N A NA E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| ONLY FIRST NAMES                                      |                           |                                                                                                                | SED. NO LA | SINAME                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|                                                       | 2 3                       | 4                                                                                                              | 5          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 7                                                     | 8 9                       | 10                                                                                                             | 11         | 97. 157. told sty                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 13                                                    | 14                        | 5 16                                                                                                           | 17         | Constant States                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

Messages may be rejected/edited on besis of decency. Only first pames or initials may he used. The paper reserves the nort to add or and an ad vescel is deemed objectionable, inappropriate, obscene of mislesting. No purchase is necessary to enter the contest.

ast Carolinian

cepted

t's

11 Thursday, January 28, 1999

TUESDAY: Lingenie Night WEDNESDAY: Amateur Night S "A Touch Of Class' Silver Bullet 756-6278 Dancens THURSDAY: Mm Country & Western Night Male Dancers Available For Bachelorette Parties FRI. & SAT: Silver Bullet

3 musicians.

3 instruments.

1 gorgeous sound.

features

Millennium continued from page 10

idea that popular sentiment is looking to the year 2000 as the start of the millennium."

In a handbook to be distributed to cities that want to be designated Millennium Communities, the White House council has included a section clarifying the "chronological quandary."

"Our instincts tell us to celebrate on December 31, 1999," it says. "But logic says that every millennium is made up of 1,000 years. ... The third millennium begins on January 1, 2001."

White House millennium events began in 1997 and will continue through Jan. 1, 2001, straddling the gap between emotion and logic. The Vatican in Rome, which is expecting a crush of visitors for Christianity's third millennium, has also sidestepped the question of the great event's timing, scheduling observances from December 1999 to January 2001.

And in Philadelphia, where a Millennium Clock on the cast side of City Hall is counting down the seconds to the "faux" millennium. the celebration will run a full 18 months, wrapping up with a City Hall bash on Jan. 1, 2001, the real millennium.

Is anyone really going to let the facts get in the way of a good party this New Year's Eve? Hardly. Plush venues all over the world are planning mega-bashes for Dec. 31, 1999, from cruises along the international date line to parties at the Eiffel Tower.

The Naval Observatory will celebrate the millennium by reviving the tradition of dropping a "time ball" at midnight (a la Times Square) from a staff atop its main building.

Exotic Dancers Doors open: 7:30 pm • Stage Time: 9:00 pm

The observatory will drop the ball twice: once on Dec. 31, 1999, and again a year later. "We realize the popular sentiment," Dick said, chuckling.

"And here at the observatory, we're going to celebrate 2000 and 2001."

Money found in mail

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) – A number of rural residents were at once amazed and puzzled when they found $100 bills in their mailboxes - some as many as three.

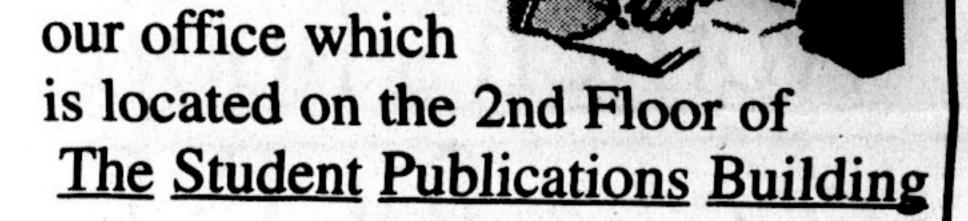

"I was very surprised," said Paul Dennis, who found two in his put it in the mailboxes.

One resident reported the finds to the Pima County Sheriff's Department.

Sgt. Brad Foust, a spokesman, said officers had no idea why the money was left or who might have

Write a Letter to the Editor and let your view be heard!

252.328.4788 or 1.800.ECU.ARTS; Deaf/speech impaired access 252.328.4736 Student discount tickets will be available with ECU One Card Bring all letters to at the Central Ticket Office until 6pm on the day of the event, providing tickets remain. All tickets at the door are full-price.

|                           |                    | a de la dela dela dela dela dela dela de |                                                 |        | 7:00-9:00 PM                       | SRC Forum  | Free |
|---------------------------|--------------------|------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|--------|------------------------------------|------------|------|
|                           |                    | record!                                  |                                                 |        | Ower Dance3:00- 5:00 PM | SRC | Free |
|                           | JUII               |                                          | a starter of                                    | Carnor | 0.00 0.00 1 101                    |            |      |
|                           | to the she opposed |                                          |                                                 |        |                                    |            |      |
| Join us nextsponsors: | t year for the 200 |                                          | Congratulationsto theGrand Prize Winner |        |                                    |            |      |
| sponsors:                 | •                  | •                                        | to theFrand Prize Winner                    |        |                                    |            |      |
|                           | •                  | •                                        | to theFrand Prize Winner                    |        |                                    |            |      |
| sponsors:                 | •                  | •                                        | to theFrand Prize Winner                    |        |                                    |            |      |

Sports

12 Thursday, January 28, 1999

Dunk and Jaynes take command of Pirate court

Basketball's senior leadership influences team

> BLAINE DENIUS STAFF WRITER

and Dunk have proven themselves both on and off the court and have continued the tradition of pride and excellence in Pirate athletics.

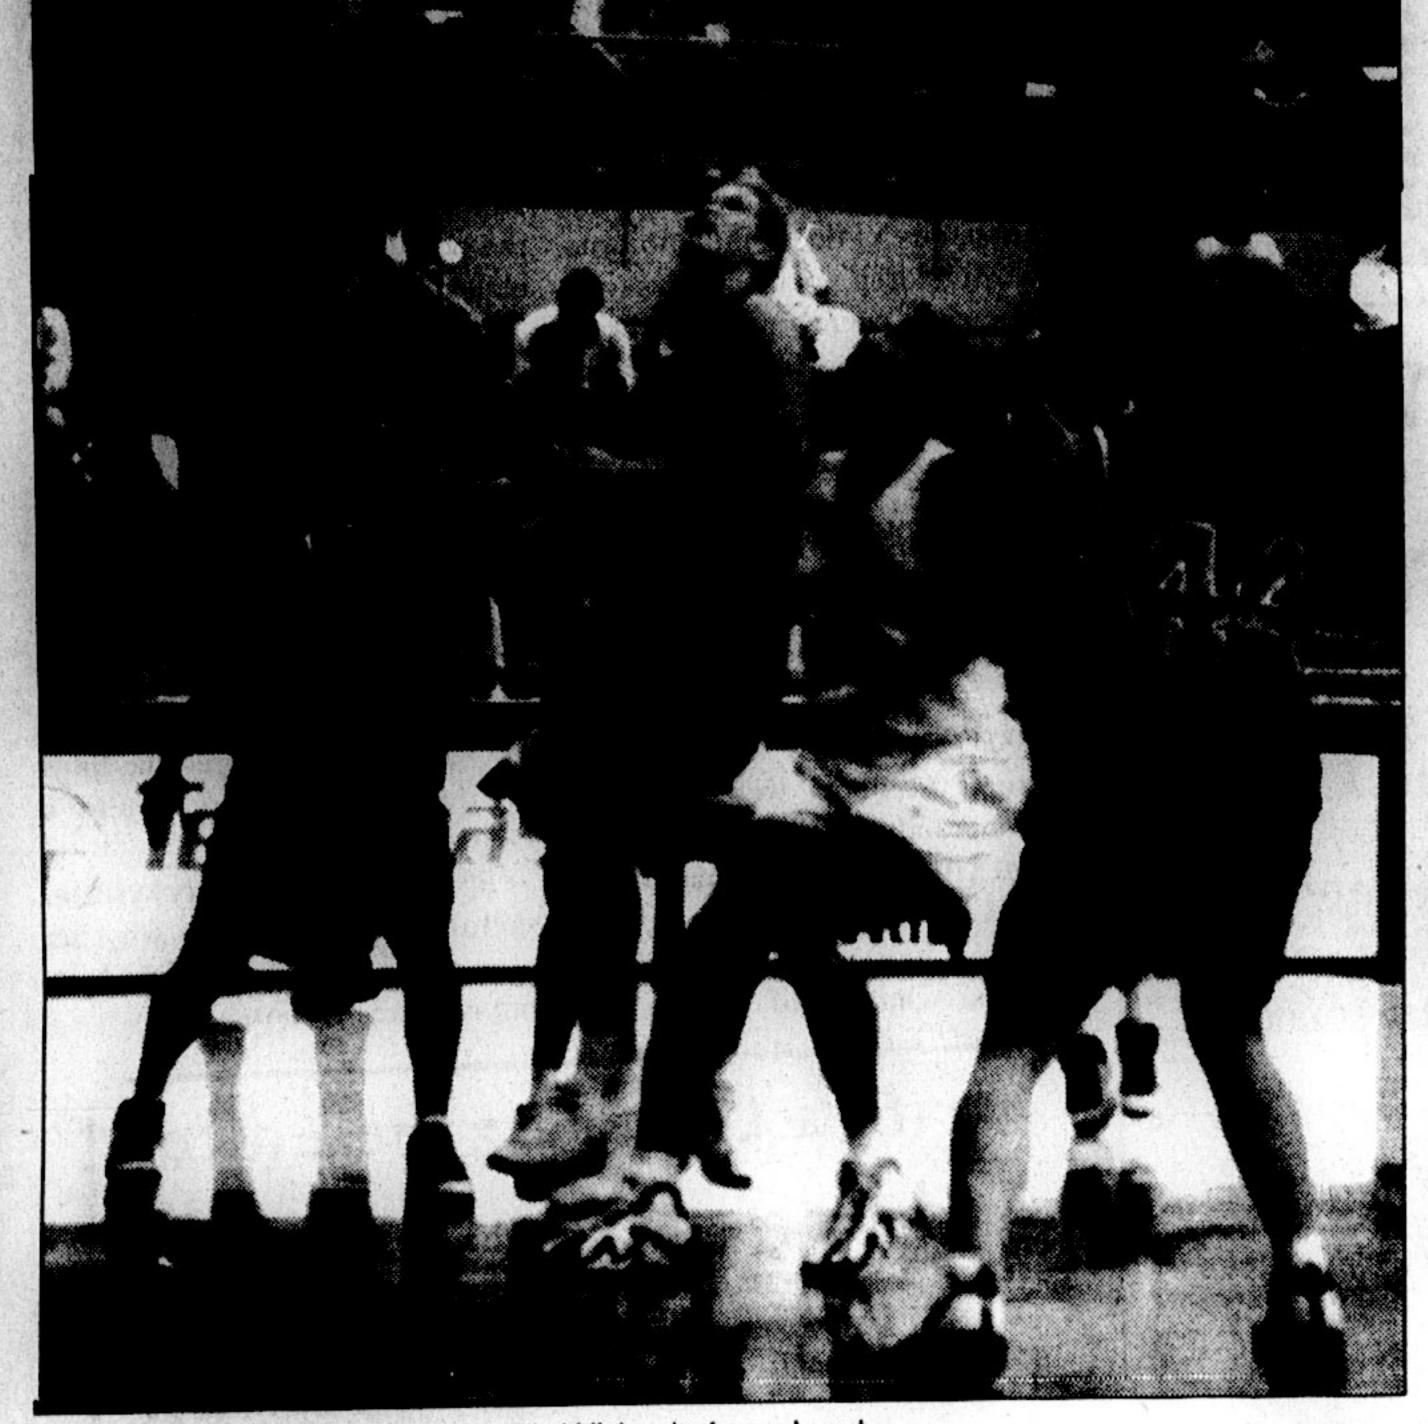

Dunk is a multi talented athlete from Ayden, N.C. who was born with a basketball in one hand and a football in the other. A gifted athlete, Dunk was a superstar at Ayden-Grifton High School averaging 27.5 points over the last 10 games of his senior year.

"All I ever had around growing up was a basketball," Dunk said. "I grew up

"My family has always been there for me and they really pushed me athletically," Dunk said. "Playing close to home where my family can come see me is the main reason I came back."

The East Carolinian

Many athletes have influenced Dunk throughout his career including former ECU players Tony Parham and Othello Meadows, who both helped Dunk find a home on the Pirate team. A hero to millions, Michael Jordan also influenced Dunk and showed him a level of excellence to strive for.

Senior Beth Jaynes (middle) waits for a rebound. FILE PHOTO

If you lead them, they will follow. Point guard Alico Dunk and center Beth Jaynes are both lone seniors on their respective basketball teams and show intelligence and courage in the leadership roles they have taken this season. Senior athletes must often perform additional responsibilities and set positive examples for younger players. Jaynes playing football and basketball, but I really didn't think I was big enough for football."

Dunk's family has always been central to his personal and athletic life. After completing a successful freshman year at the University of Tennessee, his family ties played a key role in bringing him to the Greenville area and to ECU.

"Everybody looks up to Michael Jordan," Dunk said. "He set the standard for playing basketball and I really respect him.

Dunk's positive attitude, dependability and leadership has drawn the respect of players and coaches alike. Assistant

SEE BASKETBALL, PAGE 13

|                                       |                                       | California de Calebra              | all and the to a             |                                                |                                   |                                              |                        |                                 |                            |                                       |
|---------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|------------------------------------|------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|------------------------|---------------------------------|----------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| Alico Du                              | ınk's Cai                             | eer Statist                        | tics                         |                                                |                                   | D Station                                    |                        | 18.98                           |                            |                                       |
| YEAR1994-951996-971997-98 | G-GS27-1027-127-26 | FG-FGA23-7021-8043-107 | Pct..329.263.402 | (3-pt.) FG-FGA2-115-2916-53 | FT-FTA24-4323-3528-47 | RebAvg.51-1.937-1.460-2.2 | Ast.645678 | Stl.253329   | Bik.222 | Pts.avg72-2.70-2.6130-4.8 |
| totals                                | 81-37                                 | 87-257                             | .339                         | 23-93                                          | 75-125                            | 148-1.8                                      | :198                   | 87                              | 8                          | 272-3.4                               |
| Alico DuPoints                    |                                       | eer Highs                          | 14 vs                        |                                                | St. Joseph's                      | s, 11/25/97                                  |                        |                                 |                            |                                       |
| Rehounds.                             | an shiri                              |                                    |                              |                                                | Miss. State,                      | , 2/18/95 & 5                                | vs. UNC                | Ashevill                        | e, 12/20                   | 0/97                                  |
| Assists:                              | ••••••                                |                                    | 7 VS                         | •••••                                          | LSU, 2/4/95St. Joseph's       | s. 11/25/97                                  | 4                      | antonine poGalego de Sector |                            |                                       |
| FG Attempt                            |                                       |                                    | 8vs                          | · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·          | UNC Ashev                         | 1112, 11/22/31                               | & St. Jos              | seph's 1                        | 1/25/97                    |                                       |
| 3-of field a                          | oals made:                            |                                    | 3 vs                         |                                                | UNC Asnev                         | nie, 11/22/97                                |                        |                                 |                            |                                       |
| 3-pt field a                          | oals attempte                         | d:                                 | 7 vs                         |                                                | UNC Ashev                         | 1110, 11/22/51                               |                        |                                 |                            | i light                               |
|                                       |                                       |                                    |                              | S. alland S. A.A.                              | San Although T                    | Mar Parate                                   |                        |                                 |                            | 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 |

Source: ECU Sports Information Department

Mister All-American looks for title

CHEM 11

Physiolo

Here

Call o

Deadline

CI

2800 E. 10th S

Eastgate Shop

Across From H Behind Stain G

Mon.- Fri. 9-6

Walk-ins Any

1,2 &

Home

Bedroo

Apartm

'Equal Housing

Second half blackouts blamed for losses

> ERIC COUCH SENIOR WRITER

The Lady Pirates lost their last two conference games, but now have a chance to redeem themselves against James Madison.

In the game against George Mason, ECU did not shoot well and it really cost them. The Lady Pirates managed to shoot only 39 percent from the floor and only 17 percent from the three-point line.

After taking a 39-28 lead into halftime, GMU did not allow ECU to score for an entire five the women's basketball team got a bucket, it was freshman Allison Trapp with the hot hand, which turned to add up to 16 points. Point guard Waynetta Veney also added 13 points of her own, but it was the players of GMU that had four different players scoring in double figures.

Two days later, the same problem seemed to torment ECU in the match up with American University. Just as GMU had hurt the Pirates in the second half, it was American who outscored ECU 19-6 in the first nine minutes of the second half. This seemed to be a big problem during the last few games and the Lady Pirates have been addressing this in practice.

SEE WOMENS BASKETBALL, PAGE 13

Ingram among school's all-time best

STEPHEN SCHRAMM SENIOR WRITER

In only two years of collegiate competition junior Darrick Ingram has placed himself among the greatest track athletes in ECU's illustrious history of the sport.

Ingram enters this season as the two time defending CAA 200 meter champion and two-time All-American in the 400 and 4x400 meter relay. This year Ingram has his sights set much higher.

"Right now, my goal is to win the national championship and win in the Penn Relays," Ingram said.

Head men's track coach Bill Carson attributes Ingram's success to his "gifts", speed and size.

"He's almost 6'5" and very fast and he's got an element of toughness," Carson said.

Ingram's development into a national caliber runner can also be attributed to his mindset.

"He's a great motivator and he works hard and shows great determination," said teammate Britt Cox.

"He was more of a 200 meter runner coming out of high school, but when we saw his size, we pushed him more towards the 400,"

When Ingram came to ECU as a

Darrick Ingram

File Photo

play more in the quarter. His toughness, his speed and his size makes him very good in the quar-

after arriving in college, Ingram also had to change the focus and

In addition to changing events

ter," Carson said.

intensity of his training.

runner,

JUNIOR From: Lumberton N.C. High school: Lumberton High School Career Highlights:

All-American in the 4x400 meter relay CAA Champion in the 200 meters CAA Champion in the 400 meters Named Conference Most Valueble Performer

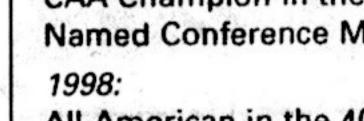

All-American in the 400 meters All-American in the 4x400 meter relay CAA Champion in the 200 meters

"In high school speed can take you a long way. In college everybody's got speed. So to become faster you've got to train more. It's more intense training and more weights," Ingram said. The size and toughness comes into

> All of Ingram's work almost resulted in the ultimate reward last

> > SEE TRACK. PAGE 15

Loti promotes

lanky 200 meter Carson began to feel his Source: ECU Sports Information gifts were not being used to their fullest. "He was more of a 200 meter runner coming out of high school, · but when we saw his size, we pushed him more towards the 400.

Ultimate frisbee drafts new players

Team members enjoy perks of travel, fun

BLAINE DENIUS STAFF WRITER

Football, basketball, and soccer all rolled into one high-flying, heartpounding sport is what ultimate frisbee is all about.

Both the ECU men's and women's ultimate frisbee club teams are having successful seasons and are looking for new players to join their journey to the National Championship. Throughout Feb. individuals interested in playing this exciting new sport are invited to come out and practice with the teams.

Ultimate frisbee not only provides the opportunity to play a rapidly growing and challenging sport, but offers players the chance to travel and meet people while staying in excellent physical condition. Both the men's and women's $40. teams compete in tournaments up and down the East Coast in an attempt to reach the National Championships, which are held in Boulder, Colorado this year.

ECU Recreational Services, an organization that is funded by students' fees, assists club teams financially. According to SRC coordinator Gray Hodges, the men's ultimate frisbee team was allocated $3,220 for the spring semester while the women's team received $2,240 respectively for their traveling expenses this year.

"Each club team comes up with a budget and we will then look at it," Hodges said. "But each club also does fund raising on its own and each club also charges particular dues which helps them with some of their Costs."

According to the men's team president Jeff Wilhelm, the club charges each new member of the team a one-time due between $35-

"Twenty dollars goes straight to "The new recruit will also receive a nice jersey, a warm up sweater and a frisbee for his money"

Jeff Wilhelm Men's team president Ulumate Irisbee

Ultimate Players Association, which is the governing body of college ultimate frisbee," Wilhelm said. "The new recruit will also receive a nice jersey, a warm up sweater and a frisbee for his money.

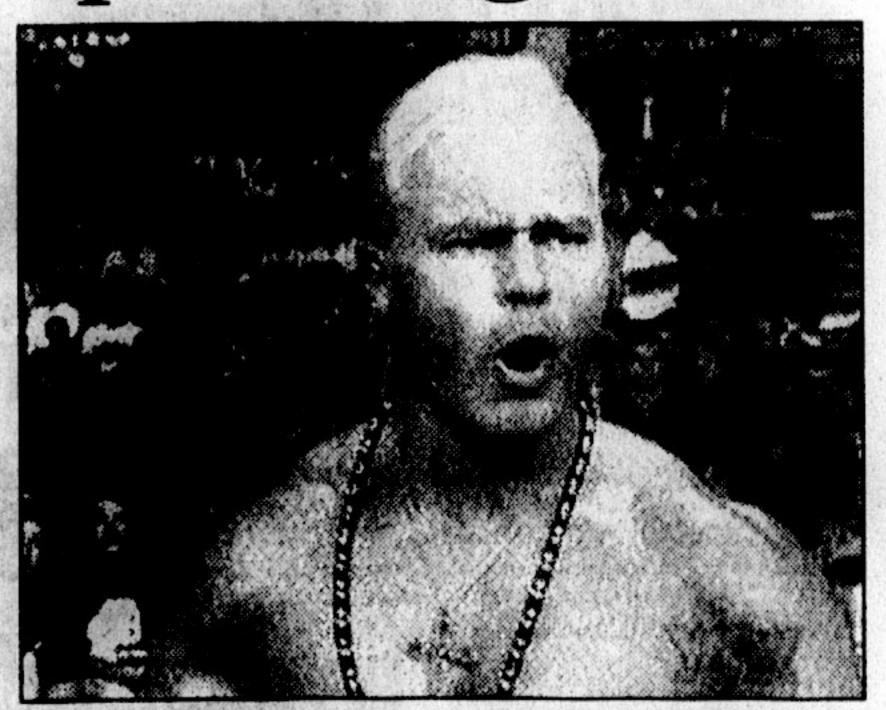

"We also host another ultimate tournament again this spring with more than 20 teams which will additionally help our budget. As a matter of fact, we will have a great budget this semester and we will be able to spend some money on social gatherings and we will give out some free, printed T-shirts." Wilhelm said new recruits will have the chance to work one-onone with seasoned frisbee players to prepare for tournament play beginning in March.

"During the spring we will work with the new players on the game, the throws and physical conditioning," Wilhelm said. "Then in March we will start to go to a lot of tournaments."

Wilhelm believes the team is ready for new players and current team members will work hard to get everyone ready for action.

SEE ULITIMATE FRISBEE, PAGE 13

upcoming event

WCW wrestler Loti prepares to rumble. STAFF REPORT WCW wrestler Loti, an ECU alumnus, returns to Greenville this

Aycock Elementary at 7:00 p.m. The wrestler is also promoting an upcoming SCWA event to be held in Greenville March 25. weekend for an NWA match at

13 Thursday, January 28, 1999

Best Kept Secret

sports

Basketbal continued from page 12

men's basketball coach Barry Sanderson says Dunk has definitely been the team leader and has come out and worked hard everyday.

"There isn't anyone who comes in contact with Dunk who doesn't like and respect him," Sanderson said. "He is such a good person and good guys are fun to coach." According to Dunk, he tries to lead the team and make sure everyone is giving 100 percent. Dunk has made his job look easy while adjusting to the pressure felt as a lone senior player.

"I feel the pressure of everyone looking up to me," Dunk said. "I just try to be a role model to the young guys and lead by example." Jaynes always gets the job done

N.C. where she crushed many school records. She became the school's all-time leading scorer and also holds the record for most points in a single season.

"My parents have always been supportive," Jaynes said. "My dad first started me out and coached my fourth-grade little league team."

Jaynes has learned a lot about herself as a person and an athlete through her career at ECU. She has always tried to challenge herself and work to reach the next level.

"I have learned to manage my time well and to push myself," Jaynes said. "No matter how hard and is a scoring threat you work you can always push as well. yourself that extra mile."

Jaynes has learned some of her aggressive attitude from one of her heroes of the game, Charles Barkley. She respects Barkley's no

Jaynes is somewhat a wise guy and the atmoskeeps loose and phere relaxed.

"Beth is mean and she likes to punish her opponents on the floor," Gibson said. "She is also playing with a lot more confidence this year." Jaynes has played many key roles for this year's team. She is a leader, provides a strong rebounding presence in the paint,

"I'm not the vocal type. I try to lead by example," Jaynes said. "It's weird being the only senior,

"We are really conducive to getting new recruits on the team," Wilhelm said. "The new guys will get lots of personal attention. We can really bring their game around if they will stay focused." Candace Voight, president of the women's club emphasizes the love of the sport and the fun team members have. "It is a new sport and you don't need a lot of experience to learn," Voight said. "We want everyone to have fun and grow as a team. It's just really fun." The challenge, excitement and unique character of the sport of ultimate frisbee has caused it to spread to college campuses throughout the United States and Canada. "I encourage anyone to give us a call and try out the sport," said Mike Wiegan, a veteran frisbee player. "Whatever you want you can achieve on this team and we are going to have a lot of fun." New players who join the men's or women's frisbee teams should also be prepared for success since both clubs have a tradition of winning and competing nationally. "We have made Nationals nine out of the last 12 years and we really want to step it up this season," Wilhelm said. "Winning is something we are used to." The men's and women's clubs will be accepting recruits throughout Feb. Anyone interested in playing this popular new sport can attend an official meeting on Feb. 4 at 5 p.m. in the Student Recreation Center or contact Jeff Wilhelm at 752-3492.

but I really enjoy it." nonsense attitude and how he will go out there and do whatever he accomplishments, has to.

Jaynes has much to Head coach Dee Gibson sees some of Barkley's killer instinct in be proud of. Jaynes' style of play. Gibson says

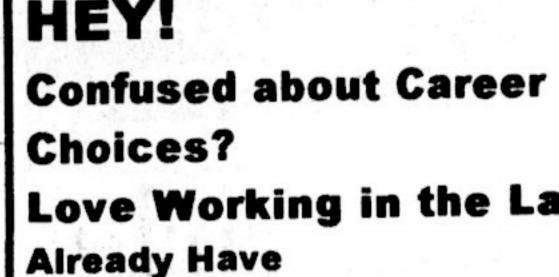

With so many

and the state of the section of

Alico Dunk gives 100 percent with a free throw. FILE PHOTO

|         | Career S       |                                                                                                                | 20 20A                                                                                                          | FT.FTA                                                                                                                                                                                                              | PCT                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | REB                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | AVG                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | BS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | PTS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | AVG                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|---------|----------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|         |                | the second s | and the first of the second | 16-26                                                                                                                                                                                                               | .615                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 47                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 2.0                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 12                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 61                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 2.5                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|         |                |                                                                                                                | 2005 (11 11 12 13 16 16 16 16 16 16 16 16 16 16 16 16 16                                                        | 38-56                                                                                                                                                                                                               | .679                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 68                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 2.3                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 11                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 110                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 3.8                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 29-0    | 57-140         | .383                                                                                                           | 0-5                                                                                                             | 50-82                                                                                                                                                                                                               | .610                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 85                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 3.3                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 14                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 164                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 6.3                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 79-5    | 115-282        | .417                                                                                                           | 1-6                                                                                                             | 104-164                                                                                                                                                                                                             | .635                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 200                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 2.5                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 37                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 335                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 4.2                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|         |                |                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|         |                |                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | man /1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 2.10.9                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|         |                | Sec. Sec. 1                                                                                                    | 4 VS                                                                                                            | . WYAKE FUI                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 102111                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 2-2-911                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | anu va                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 5. T UI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | inan (i                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| aute ma | ah             | - 10 mar 2                                                                                                     | /(01                                                                                                            | 0) VS. UNC                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 1000                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | as and a                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|         | *              | 1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.                                                                       | 4 VS                                                                                                            | . Davidsons. VCU (1-7-                                                                                                                                                                                          | 112-20                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 301                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 1. A.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 1. 6. 6. 8                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | S. S. A. C.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|         |                |                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                 | IN A REPORT OF A                                                                                                    | and the set of the set |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 47 0                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | and the second                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | The second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|         | 79-5Single | 24-0 22-5229-0 36-8126-5 57-14079-5 115-282Single-Game                                         | 24-0 22-52 .42329-0 36-81 .44426-5 57-140 .38379-5 115-282 .417Single-Game Caree                | 24-0       22-52       .423       1-1         29-0       36-81       .444       0-0         26-5       57-140       .383       0-5         79-5       115-282       .417       1-6         Single-Game Career Highs | 24-0       22-52       .423       1-1       16-26         29-0       36-81       .444       0-0       38-56         26-5       57-140       .383       0-5       50-82         79-5       115-282       .417       1-6       104-164         Single-Game Career Highs                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 24-0       22-52       .423       1-1       16-26       .615         29-0       36-81       .444       0-0       38-56       .679         26-5       57-140       .383       0-5       50-82       .610         79-5       115-282       .417       1-6       104-164       .635         Single-Game Career Highs | G-GS       FG-FGA       FCF       SF-STA       16-26       .615       47         29-0       36-81       .444       0-0       38-56       .679       68         26-5       57-140       .383       0-5       50-82       .610       85         79-5       115-282       .417       1-6       104-164       .635       200         Single-Game Career Highs         15 vs. UNCC (11-29-97)         10 vs. VCI (1-16-98) | G-GS       FG-FGA       FCT       31-31-4       16-26       .615       47       2.0         29-0       36-81       .444       0-0       38-56       .679       68       2.3         26-5       57-140       .383       0-5       50-82       .610       85       3.3         79-5       115-282       .417       1-6       104-164       .635       200       2.5         Single-Game Career Highs | G-GS       HG-HGA       PC1       sr-srA       HG-MA       PC1       sr-srA       PC1       PC1 <th< td=""><td>G-GS       FG-FGA       PC1       3P-3PA       P1FTA       F01       102       2.0       12       61         24-0       22-52       .423       1-1       16-26       .615       47       2.0       12       61         29-0       36-81       .444       0-0       38-56       .679       68       2.3       11       110         26-5       57-140       .383       0-5       50-82       .610       85       3.3       14       164         79-5       115-282       .417       1-6       104-164       .635       200       2.5       37       335         Single-Game Career Highs      </td></th<> | G-GS       FG-FGA       PC1       3P-3PA       P1FTA       F01       102       2.0       12       61         24-0       22-52       .423       1-1       16-26       .615       47       2.0       12       61         29-0       36-81       .444       0-0       38-56       .679       68       2.3       11       110         26-5       57-140       .383       0-5       50-82       .610       85       3.3       14       164         79-5       115-282       .417       1-6       104-164       .635       200       2.5       37       335         Single-Game Career Highs |

Love Working in the Lab?

Cincinnati players may sue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A former University of Cincinnati damages. basketball player may proceed with

He wants at least $175,000 in Tonya Ivory, Williams' godmother, said the lawsuit will be play basketball elsewhere.

The Ohio attorney general, representing the university, argued that there was no precedent in Ohio for a student athlete to sue his university for a violation of an NCAA eligibility rule. The NCAA ultimately suspended Williams for all but the final six games of the 1997-98 regular season in October 1997 after the university completed an eight-month investigation into the basketball program.

tle

chool

/97

Carolinian

been there for me athletical-

close to home

e see me is the luenced Dunk

luding former

m and Othello

d Dunk find a

A hero to mil-so influenced level of excel-

AGE 13

r relay le Performer

r relay

speed can take college every-So to become train more. It's ning and more aid.

s work almost nate reward last

PAGE 15

S

nt

CHEM 1150, 1160? Anatomy & Physiology, Microbiology

Find out about Here's a Suggestion! CLINICAL LABORATORY SCIENCE Call or Come to the Department Office for more information-ROOM 308 BELK BUILDING 328-4426

Deadline for applications for Fall 1999 is Feb 1,1999

his lawsuit accusing the school of damaging his reputation with a lengthy investigation of his athletic eligibility, a judge ruled.

Charles Williams, a point guard from Los Angeles, says he wants to clear his name.

The Ohio attorney general's office asked the Ohio Court of Claims to throw out Williams' lawsuit, but Judge Fred Shoemaker notified Williams' lawyer by mail Monday that Williams can go ahead with the lawsuit against the state school.

Shoemaker heard arguments by lawyers for both sides in October. Williams sued in May, accusing the university of breach of contract, defamation, negligence, negligent supervision, civil conspiracy and intentional infliction of emotional distress.

allowed toproceed on all the allegations except a negligence claim that the judge threw out.

James Wesner, the university's general counsel, was away from his office when called for a response this morning.

The dispute resulted from the university's investigation into Williams' eloigibility to play for the school. It grew into a general investigation of Cincinnati's basketball program that resulted in the team being placed on probation for two vears.

Williams was withheld from competition starting Feb. 26, 1997, and never played again for the Cincinnati Bearcats. He argued that the university had made him a fall guy for its problems, and that the probe damaged his ability to

Williams, who started 25 games of the 1996-97 season, was found to have received extra academic benefits during the summer of 1996 that violated NCAA rules.

In addition, Williams received a round-trip airline ticket, a ticket to a Cincinnati Bengals football game and meals from a university professor that were deemed improper extra benefits.

Denver prepares for rowdy crowd

DENVER (AP) — City officials are planning another celebration if the Denver Broncos win the Super Bowl Sunday. And Denver police officials say they are ready to bring out the tear gas in the event if things get out of hand after the game, such as last year's riotous celebrations.

That will bring a swift police response, including tear gas, Will said.

After the Broncos beat the Green Bay Packers in last year's Super Bowl, out-of-control partiers milled through the streets of Lower Downtown, swinging from street lights, lighting bonfires and tipping over parked cars. Andrew Hudson, spokesman for Mayor Wellington Webb, said such actions leave the city "with a black Officials said they believe a rela- the streets.

details in the later to the test of test of the test of test o tively small number of people were responsible for problems.

"Most law-abiding people found the people that were doing that pretty disgusting," Hudson said. "It's idiotic. It's that kind of behavior that is going to get people hurt and get people arrested." City Councilwoman Debbie Ortega said officials are encouraging residents to watch the game at home. Police also plan to close streets, if necessary, and may redbag parking meters to keep cars off

Lt. Judy Will told Lower Downtown residents that police officials believe drunken, rowdy fans will again try to tear up the town if the Broncos beat the eye.' Atlanta Falcons.

| Order vour Super Bo          | owl Party Platters NOW!                                               |
|------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 50 wings                     | 16.95                                                                 |
| 100 wings                    | 33.95                                                                 |
| vennie nlatter               | 19.95rty then let us supply your party!                           |
| Profess                      | Dr Located in Winn-Dixie                                              |
| 355-2946 OKEating & Drin | Market Place oncorner of GreenvilleBlvd. & ArtingtonBlvd. |
|                              | Sundayn 31, 19996:18p.m.                                      | y at 7:00 p.m. also promoting WA event to be March 25.

"We're working on stepping up "and playing both halves of the <sup>9</sup>game," junior Danielle Melvin 'said. "We are a young team and we have been working on being more consistent."

contest against In 'American, the Eagles had a 23 point lead, but the Pirates were able to chop that lead down to 12, <sup>o</sup> but that is as close as they got. b Vency was the high scorer for b the Pirates with 21 points. Again, "Trapp tacked on 14 points while senior forward Beth Jaynes added

" 11 points.

DiMaggio's condition improves

(AP) - One of Joe DiMaggio's doctors said the New York Yankees great is making progress in his recovery from lung cancer surgery and postoperative infections that nearly killed him.

"He is progressing nicely since his discharge from Memorial Regional Hospital one week ago," Dr. Earl Barron said in a statement faxed to The Associated Press on Monday. "Over the weekend, his physical therapy has progressed to the point that he is walking. Reports of his condition worsening are not true." DiMaggio also was recovering from the shock of seeing a report on television that he had died.

"He was livid," his lawyer and neighbor, Morris Engelberg, said Monday. "Then I made him laugh. I said, 'Joe, we must be in heaven together."

The two were watching television at DiMaggio's home in Hollywood, Fla., when the report appeared as a message across the screen during the Dateline NBC program Sunday. NBC said a technician in the network's New York City control room had inadvertently sent the report.

George owner Yankees Steinbrenner said last week when DiMaggio was discharged from the hospital that DiMaggio will toss out

Duke, FSU play in Jacksonville the Jacksonville area." JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) _ Duke went ahead with a plan to Jacksonville.

Jacksonville

game.

The teams will meet Oct. 2 at Alltel Stadium, the home of Jacksonville is about three hours away from Florida expected to make about $1 million for selling their home

The Blue Devils are

"I know as a former college nothing like the thrill of playing in football player that there is and Columbia House.

Part time job

Fabulous earnings

Choose your own hours

Seattle, WA

♦ 8-10 hours per week

State's home in Tallahassee.

Tuesday to move its 1999 home football game against Florida State former Goldsmith said the Blue Devils

Duke earned $1 million to play its 1995 game against the Seminoles in Orlando. Afterward, Duke coach Fred the Gator Bowl, the annual "I know as a former college football player that there Florida-Georgia game and the would never move another home

"It's an area that loves great college football and one that I'm quite familiar with," Franks said. "I'm excited about this opportunity and certainly encouraged our athletic director to schedule this game in an important area for our alumni and fans," Franks said.

The East Carolinian

15 Thursday,

FRO

2 OUTDC

LAZ

CA

Ce

the

Mu

Phe

A

H

Stude

SAILBO

HOME

Home of Florida State's second-largest alumni club, Jacksonville has been trying for years to bring the Seminoles to the 73,000-seat Alltel Stadium. Their last appearance was in 1989, when they lost 30-26 to a Southern Mississippi team led by Brett Favre.

is nothing like the thrill of playing in a pro stadium." Joe Alleva Duke Athletics Director

After this game, the Lady Pirates had a team meeting to decide what they can do better and how they can do it. They will be looking to improve when they - meet JMU this Friday.

Head coach Dee Gibson is looking for the Pirates to change - their attitudes on the floor.

"We have got to come ready to play, " Gibson said. It's nothing physical, it's our mentality that we're trying to change. It's all about attitude."

In the last meeting with JMU, the Pirates won the contest 70-61. There were many things that the Pirates did well, but one thing that was not so good was rebound-' ing.

"They were killing us on the offensive boards," Melvin said.

"We've been on the road a lot," senior center Beth Jaynes said. "Some people are injured. We basically have been playing with only eight players in those games."

The Lady Pirates will try for a sweep when they travel to Harrisonburg, Va. to take on James Madison at 7 p.m.

the first ball when they open their home schedule April 9.

Blue Devils, Tar Heels meet again

(AP)— DURHAM, N.C. Ordinarily, they would have every reason to be complacent.

After all, the Duke Blue Devils are ranked No. 2 in the country.

They have a winning margin of 26.3 points a game and seven straight double-digit victories in the Atlantic Coast Conference. But this is no ordinary stretch. Duke faces three top-10 teams in 13 days, and next up is No. 10 North Carolina on Wednesday night. And nothing is ever ordinary when these schools meet.

"It's a lot," Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski said. "We knew this stretch would be a chance for our team to grow because we'll be playing such big games."

The Blue Devils (19-1, 7-0 ACC) are coming off a 92-88 overtime victory against No. 9 St. John's on Sunday at Madison Square Garden and had only two days to get ready for the Tar Heels (17-4, 5-

Duke, riding a 14-game winning streak, will travel to N.C. State on Saturday for its final game in Reynolds Coliseum before playing host to No. 4 Maryland on Feb. 3.

SEE DUKE, PAGE 15

a pro stadium," said Duke athletic director Joe Alleva. "This game game. But two months ago Goldsmith will allow our kids to experience was fired, replaced by former that next year. The game is also Florida assistant Carl Franks. He good for the ACC in expanding our and Allevax quickly began considpresence in the state of Florida and ering another move. in solidifying our recruiting base in

Jaguars.

Be sure and catch the latest production by James Chapman "Black Man Rising," "Woman with Wings," "Our Young Black Men are Dying and No One Seems to Care".)

Tuesday, February 2, 1999 at 8:00pm Hendrix Theatre-Mendenhall Student Center East Carolina University

An emotionally gripping drama that examines the difficulty of confronting issues and love for self and others.

Advance Ticket Prices: Public - $3.00 ECU Student - Free when valid ECU ID is presented

st Carolinian

ille

ves great colthat I'm quite ks said. "I'm portunity and our athletic this game in an important area for our alumni and fans," Franks said.

Home of Florida State's second-largest alumni club, Jacksonville has been trying for years to bring the 000-seat Alltel st appearance they lost 30-26

ssippi team led

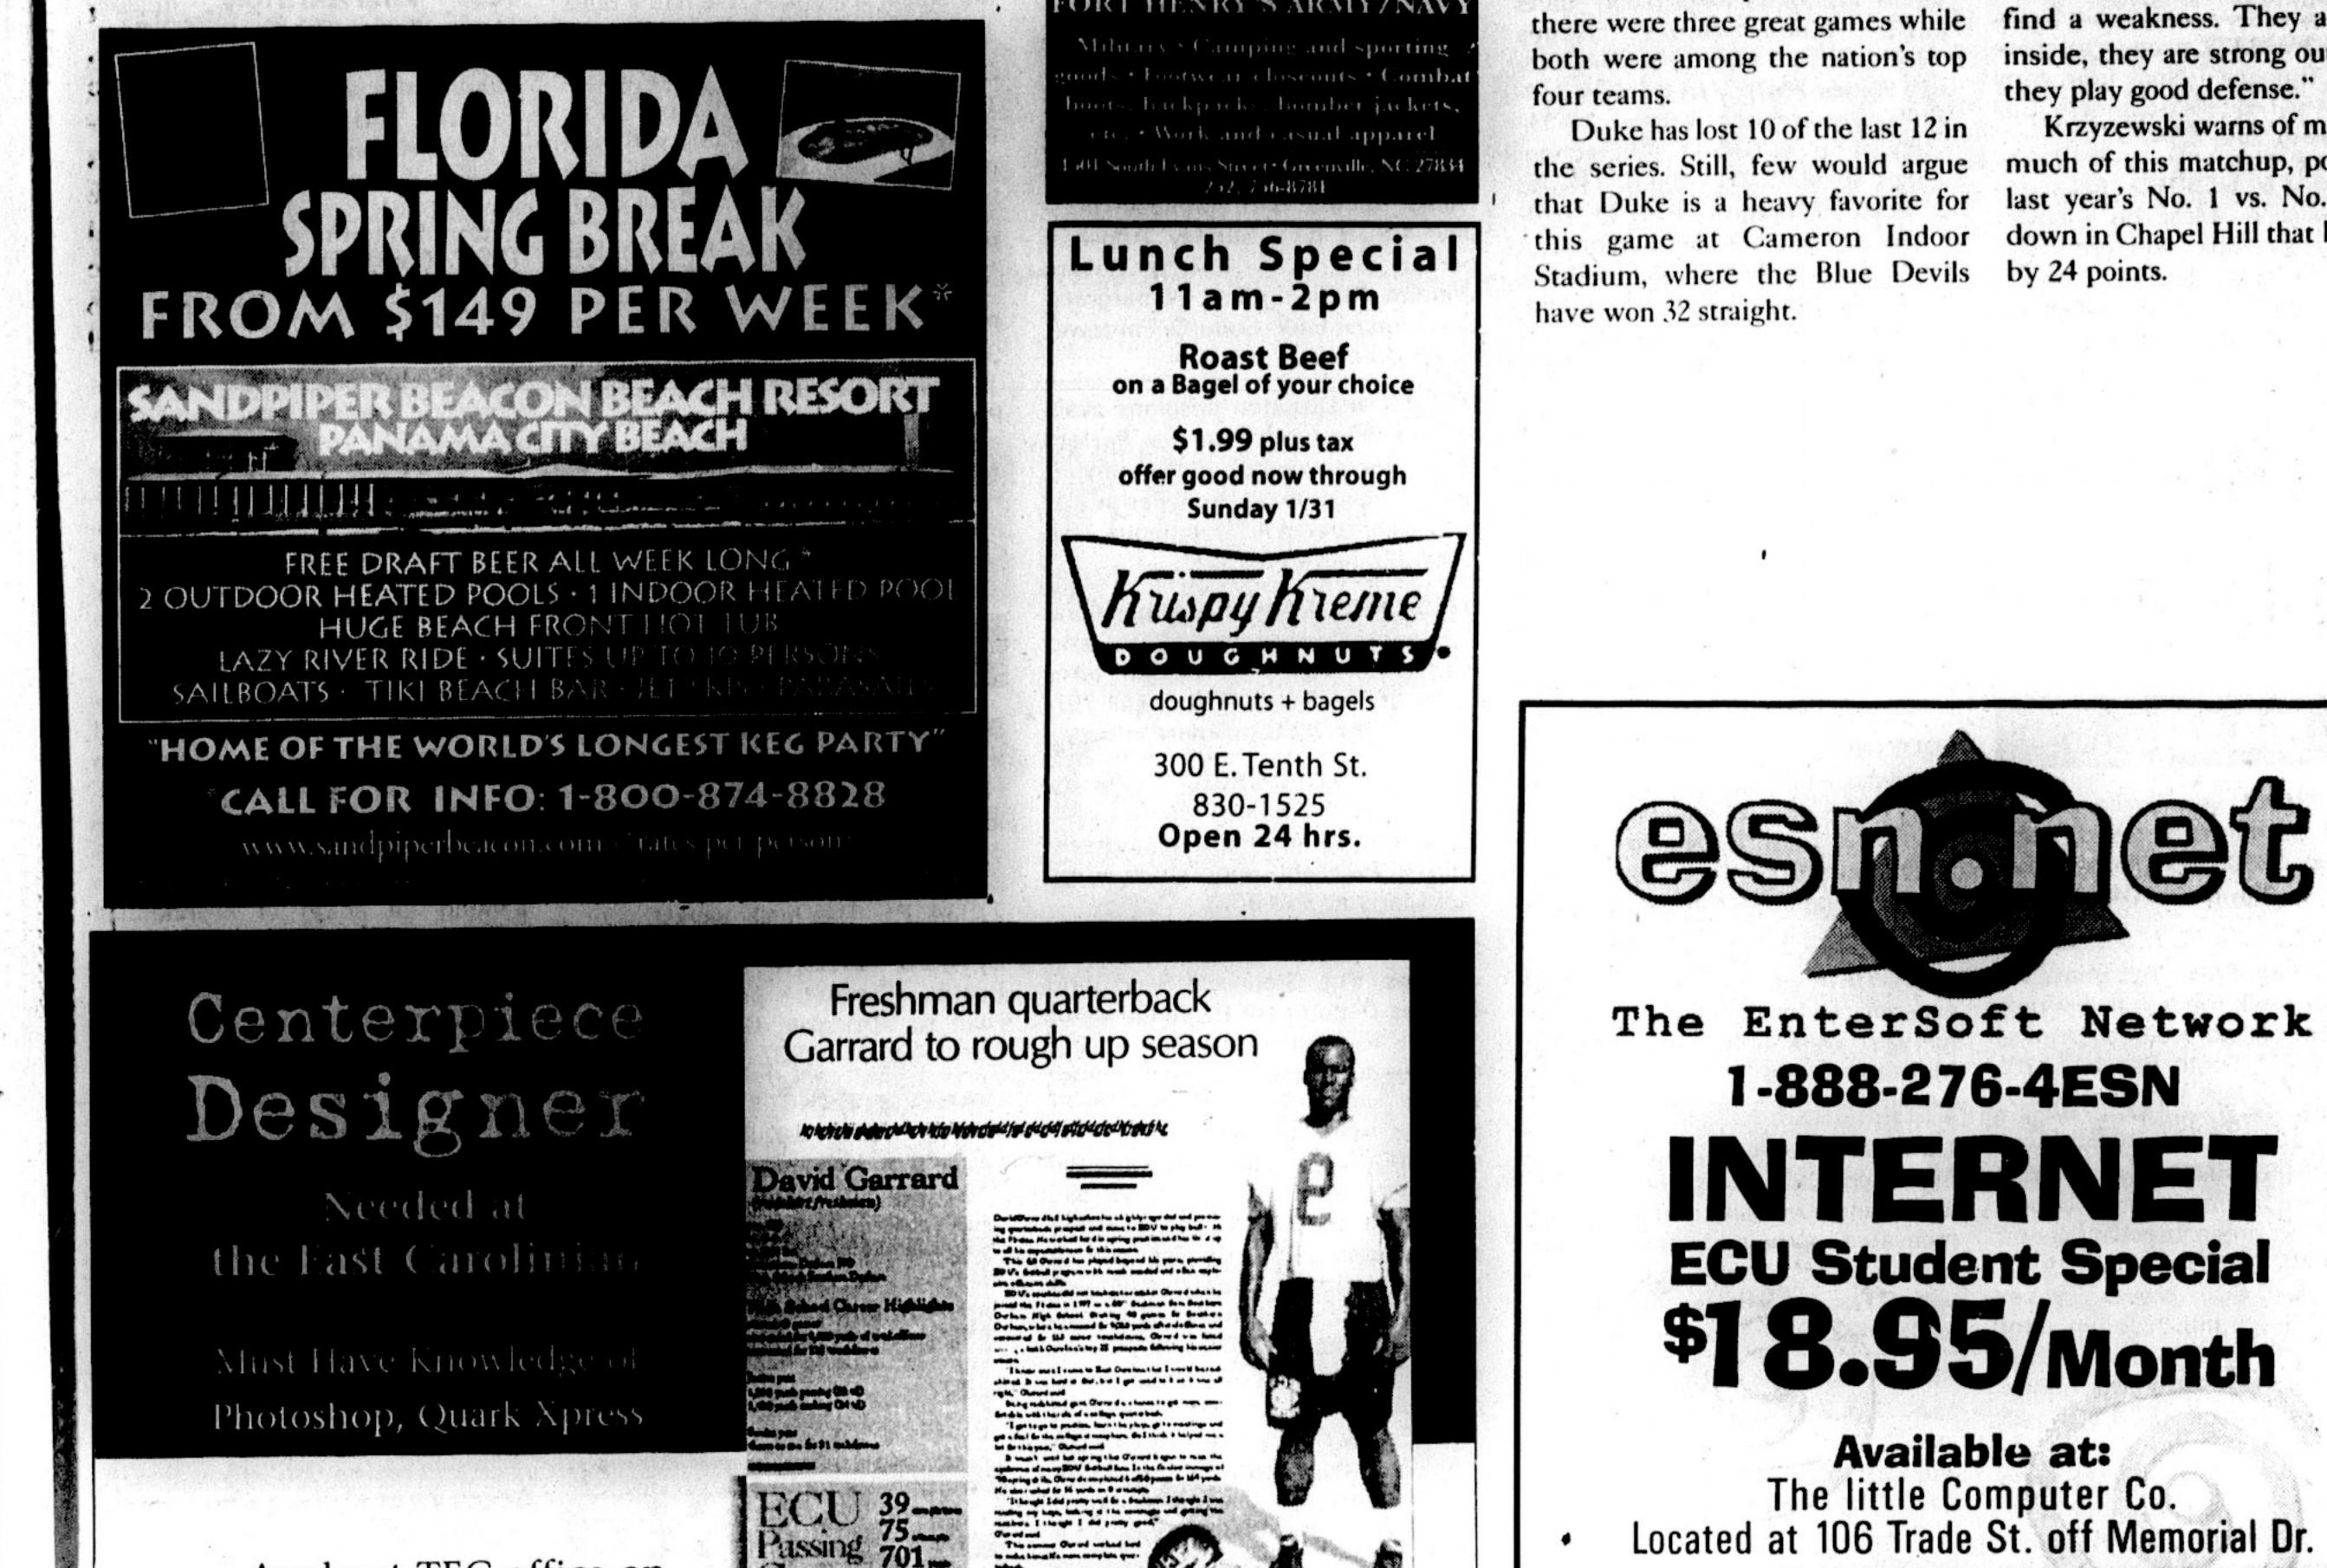

IAL

eme

UTS

15 Thursday, January 28, 1999

Just browsing? www.tec.ecu.edu

I dad a bet ada & de be bet rena me in bollow despects I would

Stats 3-

sports

Duke continued from page 14

"Coach wanted us to play the best teams, so when postseason came we are already acclimated to teams as talented as us," Duke captain Trajan Langdon said.

This will be the 21st time since 1985 that Duke and North Carolina will play each other, with both ranked in the top 10. Last season

"This is a game where we have to keep going whether we get blown out or whether it's a close game," North Carolina coach Bill Guthridge said. "We have to be ready for our next game, too, because it's how you do in the regular season that gets you into the NCAA tournament.

"I don't know of any advantages that we have," Guthridge added. "We have made good improvement these last three games, but in studying Duke it's really hard to find a weakness. They are strong inside, they are strong outside and they play good defense."

Krzyzewski warns of making too much of this matchup, pointing to last year's No. 1 vs. No. 2 showdown in Chapel Hill that Duke lost by 24 points.

season, a national championship. Ingram was in the NCAA's in the 400 when disaster struck.

"I was in the last 100 meters and I stepped on the line twice and was disqualified. I was diseppointed at the time and I am still kind of disappointed. But when I think about it, I made it to the finals, made All-American and finished sixth in the country and that makes me proud," Ingram said.

This season, Ingram will not only be competing against his opponents, he will also be competing against history. "He already compares favorably to some of the other great runners we've had over the years and he's got two years left. He could leave the school as the most awarded athlete in school history," Carson said. Ingram is within reach of breaking the school record for most All-American honors which is currently held by former ECU track Brian Irvin and his six All-American honors. "We've had a lot of great track athletes here and even an Olympian, that would mean a lot to me," Ingram said.

the second floor of the Student Publications Building

Apply at TEC office on

Unlimited Access • 100% Digital, 100% 56K • No Busies

(behind Outback Steakhouse)

252-355-9105

00

classifieds

16 Thursday, January 28, 1999

A CHIMAN STATE

FOR RENT

NAGS HEAD, NC-Get your group together early. Relatively new house in excellent condition; fully furnished; washer & dryer; dishwasher; central A/C: available May 1 through August 31; sleeps 8-$2200.00 per month. 757-850-1532

WESLEY COMMONS South: $100 off deposit: 2 bedroom, 1 bath apt. free water/sewer, washer/dryer hook-ups, 6 blocks from campus. Available now $440. Call 758-1921.

GLADIOLUS GARDENS One, two, and three bedroom apartments. Free cable. Located on 10th Street. Call Wainright Property Management LLC 756-6209.

LANGSTON PARK Apartments: $100 off deposit: 2 bedroom, 1 bath apt. free water/sewer, all appliances, washer/dryer hook-ups, over 900 sq.ft. Available now $425. Call 758-1921.

ROOMMATE WANTED

ROOMMATE MALE/FEMALE Needed to share apt. close to campus, student preferred. Must be responsible & clean & like pets. Total expenses per month will not exceed $270. 752-0009.

ROOMMATE WANTED, preferably female to share beautiful new 3 bedroom house on ECU bus route. Inexpensive rent. Call us toll-free @ 1-800-624-8154 or 758-8710.

M/F ROOMMATE needed to share large 3 BR house 1 block from campus. Rent + 1/3 bills per month. Call Chris/Lisa at 754-8094.

ROOMMATE NEEDED to share small mansion. Must be friendly, honest, responsible and not mind smokers or cats. Hardwood floors, fireplaces, spacious room, bar, washer/dryer, fountains, and 2 acre estate. Deposit required. $200 per month and 1/4 utilities. Call Chris 752-6947.

SERVICES

ABRACADABRA NAILS now open! $25 full set, $15 fills, $10 manicures. Call 329-7235, or visit our http://www.angelwebsite fire.com\nc\AbracadabraNails.

HELP WANTED

GREENVILLE REC. & Parks Spring Tennis Programs Registration starts 2/23. Youth: Novice 1(ages 6&7)M/W 5-5:45p 3/8-4/14. Novice !!(ages 7&8) T/TH 5-5:45p 3/9-4/15. Afterschool1(ages 10-14) M/W 4-5p 3/8-4/14. Afterschool II(ages 15-18) T/Th 4-5 p 3/9-4/15. Jr Boys Team(ages 11-14) M-Th 4-5:30p 3/1-4/22. Adult: Beginner M/W 6-7p 3/8-4/14. Beginner II T/Th 7-8p 3/9-4/15. Morning beginner M/W 9-10a 3/8-4/14. Intermediate 1 M/W 7-8p 3/8-4/14. Intermediate II T/Th 6-7p 3/9-4/14. Morning intermediate M/W 10-11a 3/8-4/14. Call 329-4559.

HELP WANTED

MODELS FOR portfolio. Reputable, artistic, amateur photographer seeking slim young women for portfolio photos. References available. Send note, photo (if available), address, and phone for immediate reply. Paul Hronjak, 4413 Pinehurst Drive, Wilson, NC 27896.

1999 INTERNSHIPS! Don't get a summer job... Run a summer business. www.tuitionpainters.com. tuipaint@bellsouth.net or 800-393-4521.

WANTED: PAYING $6.50 an hour plus bonuses for qualified telemarketers. No Friday or Saturday work. Hours: 5:30-9 p.m. Monday-Thursday; 4:30-8 p.m. Sunday. Apply in person 5-9 p.m. Energy Savers Windows & Siding, Inc., Wintergreen Commercial Park, Suite O, Firetower Road, Greenville.

GREEK PERSONALS

THANKS TO all the sisters for a great rush. Love, Pi Delta

CONGRATULATIONS TO the Omicron Pledge Class...Nikki Baker, Katie Humphrey, Alicia Barnes, Margarette Duncan, Mary Wright, and Neille Walker. We love you! The sisters of Pi Delta

ALPHA OMICRON Pi, thanks for the social last Friday. We had a blast and can't wait to do it again. Love, Pi Lambda Phi

TO THE brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha, everyone had a great time with you guys, as usual. Can't wait until next time! Love, the sisters of Delta Zeta PI DELTA would like to wish IFC Good Luck with rush.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The East Carolinian

SPRING BREAK 99! Cancun' Nassau ' Jamaica 'Mazatlan ' Acapulco * Bahamas Cruise * Florida* Florida * South Padre. Travel Free and make lots of Cash! Top reps are offered full-time staff jobs. Lowest price Guaranteed. Call now for details! www.classtravel.com 800/838-6411

TEST PREPARATION: Tuesday 11a.m.-12p.m.. The Center for Counseling and Student Development is offering this workshop on Tuesday, February 2nd, and Monday, February 8th. If you are interested in this workshop, please contact the Center at 328-6661.

TEST ANXIETY: Tuesday 11a.m.-12p.m.. The Center for Counseling

WALK TO ECU. 1 bedroom apt. $285/month. Available now. Tanglewood Apts., 125 Avery St. in Greenville - 5 blocks from campus. 758-6596.

BEECH STREET Villas - Three bedroom, two bath apartments, close to campus, with laundry room, stove, refrigerator, and dishwasher. Call Wainright Property Management LLC 756-6209.

FOR RENT: 1 bedroom, 1 bath apt. $275.00 per month, free water/sewer, range, refrig. pets OK. Call 758-1921 ask for Ken.

CONDO FOR Rent: 2000 sq.ft. condo, newly renovated, 3 bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths, washer/dryer hook-up. Available immediately. 752-1899 daytime, 561-2203 pager # nights.

CANNON COURT Two bedroom, 1/2 bath townhouse. Includes stove, refrigerator, dishwasher, washer/dryer hook-up, on ECU bus route. Call Wainright Property Management LLC, 756-6209.

ROOMMATE NEEDED to share a huge, beautiful house one block from campus. Washer/dryer, big vard, icemaker, cable, 4 bedrooms, 3 baths, kitchen, dining room and 2 dens. 758-2048.

BALL PYTHON, very docile, 1 1/2 years old, 55 gal. tank, stand, complete setup, $130 OBO. Please leave message for Kevin 323-0408, 757-1087.

AAA! Spring Break Panama City $129! Boardwalk room with kitchen near clubs! 7 parties-free drinks! Daytona $149! South Beach $129! Cocoa Beach $149! springbreaktravel.com 1-800-678-6386

NEW APARTMENT? Need furniture? I have a cream futon couch ($125), hunter green loveseat (sleeps 2 $200.00), papasan chair with cushion ($40.00), brown rocker chair ($30.00), white halogen floor lamp ($20.00), double box springs and mattress set ($70.00), hunter green baker's rack ($20.00). All items are less than two years old and are in great condition. Selling furniture due to marriage. Call to inquire or make offer!!! Contact Kristen at 355-4808 during any hours. If no answer, please leave message.

FREE RADIO + $1250. Fundraiser open to student groups & organizations. Earn $3-$5 per Visa/MC app. We supply all materials at no cost. Call for info or visit our website. Qualified callers receive a Free Baby Boom Box. 1-800-932-0528 x 65. www.ocmconcepts.com

LOOKING FOR a part-time job? Help wanted at Szechual Express, in the Food Court at the Plaza Mall. Day hours from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.; night hours from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. Apply in person. No phone calls, please.

PART-TIME work for two: one semiexperienced for house cleaning; one for yard work and medium lifting. Minimum wage + 25¢. 756-2027 evenings.

LEASING AGENT -Large property mgmt. co. specializing in luxury college student housing is seeking selfmotivated, outgoing leasing consultants. Part or full-time. Training provided. Fax cover letter and resume to 352-472-1819, attention Rebecca.

SPRING BREAK 99! Cancun' Nassau * Jamaica. Travel free and make lots of Cash! Top reps are offered onsite staff jobs. All-inclusive deals, 32 hours Free Drinks. Special Discounts up to$100 per person. Lowest price

DRIVER & Dispatch positions available at Restaurant Runners. Perfect hours for students. Clean driving record imperative, knowledge o Greenville streets advantageous. Call 756-5527, leave message.

STUDENTS WANTED, all positions (bartenders, doormen, JD's, and managers). Apply in person after 5p.m. at The Sports Pad or call 757-3881 or 757-3658 for more info.

MALE QUADRIPLEGIC needs assistance with bathing, dressing, lifting and transportation, a.m. hours required. Excellent opportunity. Contact Marty at 353-9074.

SPRING YOUTH indoor soccer coaches. The Greenville Recreation & Parks Department is recruiting for 12 to 16 part-time youth soccer coaches for the spring youth indoor soccer program. Applicants must possess some knowledge of the soccer skills and have the ability and patience to work with youth. Applicants must be able to coach young people ages 5-18, in soccer fundamentals. Hours are from 3 p.m. until 7 p.m. with some night and weekend coaching. Flexible with hours according to class schedules. This program will run from Mid March to April. Salary rates start at $5.15 per hour. For more information, please call Ben James, Michael Daly, or Judd Crumpler at 329-4550 after

PI DELTA, it was business as usual Saturday night. The Pajama Jammy Jam was fabulous. Love, Pi Lambda Phi

THANKS FOR the jammie jam, Pi Lambda Phi! We had a blast. Love, the sisters and new members of Pi Delta $$$ MAKE money fast!$$$ At home, easy work, excellent pay. We will send you free details! Send us a long self-addressed stamped envelope to: ACE Financial Publications, 3306 Brookline Ct., Greenville, NC 27834. P.S. This really works!

SPRING BREAK Panama City Beach. • Summit • Luxury condos. Next to Spinnaker. Owner discount rates, 404-355-9637.

WANTED: TICKETS for Collective Soul at Attic on January 29th. Need up to five. Will pay extra. 252-975-7968. leave message anytime

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * A #1 SPRING BREAK... HOURS & HOURS OF FREE DRINKS Earn 2 FREE Trips & $888851 'ancun, Jamaica, Florida, Barbados, Babama Lowest Prices / Best Meal Plan 1-800-426-77107 www.sonsplashtuars.com

Bahamas Party

Cruise

and Student Development is offering this workshop on Tuesday February 9nd. If you are interested in this workshop, please contact the Center at 328-6661.

ACADEMIC MOTIVATION: Tuesday 3:30-4:30. The Center for Counseling and Student Development is offering this workshop on Tuesday February 2nd. If you are interested in this workshop, please contact the Center at 328-6661.

AT THE REQUEST of students and staff, Parking and Transportation Services has established a new motorcycle parking area near Mendenhall Student center. The area is located in the southeast corner of the parking lot south of Mendenhall Student Center

PI DELTA will be holding Open Bids on February 2. For more information, call 321-4787 or 754-2161.

PSI CHI - All interested psychology majors, with an overall GPA of 3.00 or above, are welcome to attend our first meeting of the semester, Wednesday, February 3rd at 5 p.m. in the Psi Chi Library, Rawl 302. Hope to see you!

HEALTHY LIVING: Start the new year right by learning long term, healthy habits for weight control. Meets weekly throughout the semester, open to all. Call 328-6387 for price and registration information. NOON TRACK Attack returns to the SRC on Jan. 25. Rewards and incentives better than ever! Contact the Dept. of Recreational Services (328-6387) for information. BOWLING REGISTRATION Meeting: Anyone interested in participating in intramural bowling must attend the registration meeting on Tues. Jan. 26 at 5p.m. in MSC room 244. Registration will be held Wednesday, Jan. 27 at the Student Recreation Center. RACQUETBALL TOURNEY; Anyone interested in playing in the racquetball tourney must enter by Wed. Jan. 27 at 5p.m. in the Student Recreation Center main office.

-WESLEY COMMONS SOUTH : 1or 2 bedrooms, 1 bath, range, refrigerator, free water/sewer, washer/dryer hookups, laundry facilities, 5 blocks from campus, ECU bus services.

-LANGSTON PARK: 2 bedrooms, 1 bath, range, refrigerator, dishwasher free water/sewer, approx. 900 sq. ft. washer/dryer hookups, central heat/air, 6 blocks from campus.

Other Apartments Also Available -All Properties have 24 hr. emergency maintenance-758-1921

PINEBROOK APARTMENTS, 1-2 BRs available, water, sewer, cable included. Reduced Deposits November, December. On-site maintenance, management, ECU bus line. 9-12 month lease, pets allowed. 758-4015

FOR RENT: six bedroom, 3 1/2 bath, fenced-in yard, pets OK, corner of 4th and Oak St. Contact Betsy @ 329-8558.

STANCILL DRIVE, 2 bedroom, bathroom, brick duplex, central heat/air, near ECU. $425 month, pets extra with fee. Call 353-2717.

SUBLEASE REEDY Branch across from Papa John's on 10th Street, 800 sq.ft., 2BR, $395/month, 'Low Utilities*, walk to ECU, bus route, W/D, plenty of parking, $100 off deposit, ASAP, call 329-7010

FREE 1ST month rent. Players Club. Sublease 4 bedroom townhouse with washer/dryer and own personCUSTOM PRINTED T-shirts. Profession printers since 1981. Competitive rates. Free shipping. Full art department. We accept digital files in most formats. 800-272-2066 cultureworks.com

TWO BOOKCASES, adjustable shelves; coffee table; student desk. All in good shape. All together $150. Bookcases $30 apiece, table $35, desk $75 OBO. 752-5899, leave message.

LARGE, BARELY used minifrig for $60 OBO. Large microwave $40 OBO. Great for the dorm or office. Call 353-6351.

REFRIGERATOR FOR sale: new large dorm size fridge with built-in freezer used only one month. Call 412-1975.

AMC/JEEP GRAND Wagoneer 1983 powerful V8. Power windows, locks, seats, etc. This truck is huge, fun. Perfect college vehicle. Will last forever. Call Chris, 752-9038.

JUST IN time for Valentine's! Engagement ring, never used, 1.1 carat marguis cut. Have appraisal. Serious inquiries only please. 758-2887, ask for Todd.

SERVICES

AAA! SPRING Break Bahamas Party Cruise! 5 nights $279! Includes guaranteed. Call now for details! www.classtravel.com 800-838-6411

HAVE LITERARY Talent? Help Expressions Magazine produce its February double-issue. Submit ideas on or related to minority love and/or history to: xpressyoself@hotmail.com Today!

PHOTOGRAPHERS WANTED: Very fun work. Flexible part-time hours (mostly evenings & weekends) Must have outgoing personality and reliable transportation. Own 35mm SLR camera a plus, but not essential. No experience necessary. We train. $7.00+ per hour. Call Tosha at 800-722-7033.

CHILDCARE WANTED for 2-yr.-old boy. TTh 9-12 or MW 2-5. Patience, a sense of humor, and self-transportation are a plus. $7 per hour. 355-1928.

OFFICE ASSISTANTS needed. Apply at The East Carolinian, 8-5 Monday-Friday.

TAKING APPLICATIONS for substitutes and full-time teaching positions. For more information call Harmony Child Care at 756-6229. License #7455138

EARN EXTRA Cash!!! Make your own hours!! Responsible students to market/manage Citibank promotions on campus. Free giveaways! Earn $400+/ week. Call Ann at 1-800-950-8472 ext. 118.

PIANO PLAYER for small church. For details, call 756-3730 before 9

2p.m.

PART-TIME JOBS AVAILABLE. Joan's Fashions, a local Women's Clothing Store, is now hiring. Employees are needed for Saturdays and weekdays between 10AM and 6PM, with a particular need for employees on Tuesdays and Thursdays (mornings and early afternoons). The positions are for between 7 and 20 hours per week, depending on your schedule and on business needs. The jobs are within walking distance of the university and the hours are flexible. Pay is commensurate with your experience and job performance and is supplemented by an employee discount. Apply in person to Store Manager, Joan's Fashions, 423 S. Evans Street, Greenville (on the Downtown Mall).

IN-LINE Hockey Coaches. The Greenville Recreation & Parks Department is recruiting individuals with some background knowledge with in-line hockey or ice hockey. Applicants will be responsible for coaching youth in-line hockey leagues at the Jaycee Park. Some weekend work required.Salary rates range from $5.15 to 6.50 per hour. Starting date is February 1999. For more information, please call Ben James, Michael Daly, or Judd Crumpler at 329-4550 after 2PM.

FULL OR part-time wait staff wanted at Lupton's Seafood. Call Bruce Lupton at 752-4174.

Spring Break Travel was 1 of 6 small businesses in the US in 1998 to be recognized for outstanding ethics by Council of Better Business Bureaus! $279 Panama $119 City - Boardwalk, Holiday Inn Sunspree & More $439 amaica

$399

Spring Break Travel-Our 12th Year!

1-800-678-6386

ADVERTISE IN THE CLASSSIFIEDS.

2

See

Advertise in The East Carolinian classifieds

for 25 or fewer words/additional words 5¢ each

for 25 or fewer words/additional words 5¢ each

Must present a valid ECU I.D. to qualify. The East Carolinian reserves the right to refuse fhis rate for any ad deemed to be non-student or business al bathroom for only $240 plus 1/4 utilities. Pool. basketball, volleyball, tennis courts and gym. Call Derek for more details at 355-4370

RINGGOLD TOWERS

Now Taking Leases for

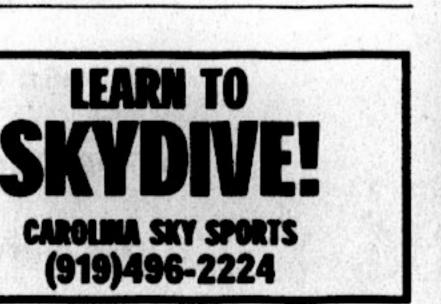

1 bedroom, 2 bedroom &

Efficiency Apartments.

CALL 752-2865

meals & parties! Awesome beaches, nightlife! Departs from Florida! Cancun & Jamaica $399! springbreaktravel.com 1-800-678-6386

PRE-PAID Phone cards, 106 minutes for $10. 216 minutes for $20. For more information or to purchase, call Kristy at 328-8426.

FOR YOUR MAN'S VALENTINE GIFT!

GIVE QUALITY, CLASS, STYLE

CHECK OUT OUR FIRST

STORE WIDE SALE

Tommy, Nautica, Polo - ALL THE BEST!

Shirts, Pants, Jeans, Shoes, Etc.

On Enne St. Dayand Cubbics

Tuesday through Setunday

JENT SWAP SHOP

752-3066

10:00-5:00

ROOMMATE WANTED

ROOMMATE WANTED 3 bedroom located close to campus, $135/mo., 1/3 utilities, 1/2 phone. Call Jimmy at 752-9376 for more information.

ROOMMATE NEEDED to share 3 bedroom house on block from campus. Rent + 1/3 bills. Call Katie at 931-0348.

3 BEDROOM duplex, private driveway, yard, bedroom partially furnished. Private phone line to bedroom if preferred. Rent $275, includes cable. Call Joe 758-7826. Serious students!

GREEK PERSONALS

PI KAPPA Phi - we had fun at the social on Friday night. Thanks. Love, the sisters of Alpha Phi THETA CHI, the social last week was so much fun! Thanks for everything. Love, the sisters of Alpha Delta Pi #### related.

CLASSIFIED AD EXTRAS RATE . . .$1.00

add to above line rate for either BOLD or ALL CAPS type.

.All classified ads placed by individuals or campus groups must be prepaid. Classified ads placed by a business must be prepaid unless credit has been established. Cancelled ads can be removed from the paper ifnotification is made before the deadline, but no cash refunds are given. The Personals section of the classifieds is intended for non-commercial communication placed by individuals or campus groups. Business ads will not be placed in this section. All Personals are subject to editing for indecent or inflammatory language as determined by the editors.

CLASSIFIED AD DEADLINE 4 p.m. FRIDAY for the following TUESDAY'S issue for the following THURSDAY'S issue or as necessitated by other considerations.

The East Carolinian

EMENTS

9! Cancun' Nasatlan * Acapulco Florida' Florida ' Free and make eps are offered . Lowest price now for details! n 800/838-6411

TION: Tuesday Center for Coun-Development is hop on Tuesday, Monday, Februinterested in this ontact the Center

Tuesday 11a.m.for Counseling

oment is offering uesday February terested in this ontact the Center

VATION: Tues-Center for Coun-Development is hop on Tuesday are interested in ase contact the of students and Transportation ished a new moea near Menden-The area is locatst corner of the of Mendenhall olding Open Bids nore information, 4-2161.

ested psychology erall GPA of 3.00 me to attend our e semester, Wedd at 5 p.m. in the wl 302. Hope to : Start the new ning long term, weight control. oughout the se-Call 328-6387 for on information. ack returns to the Rewards and inan ever! Contact

February FREE PROGR

ACTIVITY FO MIN ACEPTIES INCLUDE: BASKETBALL 26 OUI UNINING

eational Services mation. TRATION Meet-

sted in participatpowling must ation meeting on .m. in MSC room vill be held Wedthe Student Re-

TOURNEY; Anplaying in the racust enter by Wed. h the Student Rein office.

E IN THE IFIEDS.

nian

. .$4.00 5¢ each

. .$2.00 5¢ each Carolinian r business sue ssue

tions.

Open 24 Hours a Day, 7 Days a Week. We'll Even Deliver Them To Your Door.

folume 1, Issue 13

Fountainhead Editor

Miccah Smith

The famed Kalichstein-Laredo-Robinson Trio will play at Wright Auditorium Friday as the first of this semester's S. Rudolph Alexander Performing Arts Series offerings.

The trio has toured Europe and the United States for 21 consecutive seasons since its 1977 White House debut at President Carter's inauguration. ECU students have a rare opportunity to see these world-class musicians perform some of the best-known and most popular chamber music ever written. "These are all internationally known artists," says Professor Charles Bath of the ECU School of Music. Pianist Joseph Kalichstein won the Leventritt Award in 1969, and has solo recordings on the RCA, Erato and Vanguard labels. Jaime Laredo's violin artistry has gained him such prestigious awards as the Deutsch Schallplatten Prize and Grammy. Cellist Sharon

Robinson gave her first concert at age seven, and has appeared with several major U.S symphonies, as well as the London Symphony and the English Chamber See inches, continued on page 7

Once performed for nobility, this chamber music is a rare treat...

fountainhead • 2nd Floor Student Publications Building Greenville, NC 27858 • Phone 328-6366 • Fax 328-6558 • Advertising 328-2000 • www.fountainhead.ecu.edu

Proved and the state of the providence of the state of the

in the observed of the second s

Movie Review

Varsity Blues presents real characters

No Limit strikes again

CD Review

same thing time in and time out. But the appearance of Busta Rhymes on 'Whacha Want, Whacha Need," gives that energy and crazed small Texas town where the movie is set. Every day is business as usual in this town...that is, until Friday night rolls around. No telephones are ringing and no birds are chirping. Everyone in town is at the West Canaan High School football game, where the home team, the Coyotes (pronounced Ki-yoats), has won twenty-three straight division titles. What the town doesn't know, however, is that Coach Kilmer's technique is rather unorthodox, what with the pain killers that he makes the players take and the steroids that he pumps into their already finely-toned bodies. All of this in conjunction with the good old "just shake it off, boy" medicine adds up to a disaster

See MOVIE REVIEW, continued on page 6

Sultry latin-sk packed the sta dance floor at spicy, danceab and salsa rhyt performance third gig in Ga The crowd pro Mandorico, w

Todd Tallmadge Senior Writer Mystikal

After recently guest-appearing on other No Limit Records albums like Mia X, Ghetto Commission and Gambino Family, Mystikal returns with his third album Ghetto Fabulous. We last heard him on Silkk the Shocker's "It Ain't My Fault" and Master P's summer hit "Make 'em Say...".

crazy rhymes that only Busta can. He helps add a different array of lyrics and beats that No Limit needs. Naughty By Nature comes at you on "Dirty South, Dirty Jerz." I was glad to hear from them, but I was a little disappointed overall by the song. I was looking for that hardness of lyrics that Naughty has but they didn't provide that this time. We last heard them over a year and a half ago with the joint "Mourn U Til I Join U," a tribute song to the late Tupac.

The smooth vocals of Snoop on the song "Ghetto Fabulous," and again with Silkk the Shocker on the song "Let's Go Do It," stand out above most of the others. Take those songs away, the album starts to run together. Take the vocals and the beats away from the songs and it all basically sounds the same. I have to be honest on this one. I went into the theater the other day knowing full well that Varsity Blues is an MTV movie. I had the feeling that this was going to be yet another teenybopper from television bringing his/her pretty face, and nothing else, to the silver screen. Now if you'll excuse me, I have to take a bite of this

Possible Ryans

: crow.

Varsity Blues, though not perfect, is a riproarin' football extravaganza that is sure to appease any sports movie fanatic. James Van Der Beek plays second-string quarterback Jonathan "Mox" Moxon with a fiery passion that you will probably never get to witness on any episode of "Dawson's Creek, the television series that he stars in.

Growing up is hard to do ....

 All "Mox" wants to do is to graduate and get into Brown University, with football as something to do for fun. The evermenacing Jon Voight plays Coach Bud Kilmer, basically the hero of the football-

Peasant's January 29

David Nelson Nelson has co own band offe

If you liked his platinum sophomore album, this new offering will not disappoint you. The beats are better and the lyrics are sharper than on his last album, Unpredictable, from 1997, but overall it is just another No Limit album.

I was kind of anticipating this album, but I was a little disappointed. The first single "That's the Ripper" is one of only a few songs that stand out on this album. The special guest appearances help keep the CD up and going but don't stand out above anything else at NLR. The normal No Limit crew (mastermind Master P, Silkk the Shocker, Mia X, Fiend, Mac, C-Murder, and Snoop Dogg) give the The format of No Limit Records is unique and stands alone. However, with this cd, they don't do anything for me. It's just another album from Executive Producer Master P. He seems to be putting a new cd out for the company every two weeks. They all sound alike.

The only difference is in Snoop's album because he brought those West Coast and G-Funk beats to No Limit. If you like No Limit Records, then this is one of their few "good" albums, but I would not recommend it. It's Your Place...

TO Take in a Free Movie JANUARY 28-31 AT 8 P.M. IN HENDRIX THEATRE

The Negotiator (R), an action-thriller starring Samuel L. Jackson and Kevin Spacey as two hot shot police negotiators will keep you on the edge of your seat. Your ECU One Card gets you and a guest in for free.

TO HEAR Some Cool Jazz FRIDAY, JANUARY 29 AT 8 P.M. IN MENDENHALL GREAT ROOM

Check out a cabaret-style performance that highlights the musical and vocal talents of several students and faculty. Carroll Dashiell and students from the ECU School of Music will perform. Your ECU One Card gets you two free tickets. TO WIN Cash SUNDAY, JANUARY 31 AT 6 P.M. AT MENDENHALL STUDENT CENTER Try your luck at Bingo Night. Play from 10-12 games of Bingo for the chance to win $120. You can't win if you don't play. ECU One Card required.

waiting to happen.

To Examine Issues

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 2 AT 8 P.M. IN HENDRIX THEATRE

Watch a provocative two-act play, Brotha, that explores the problems of inner-city life. The drama examines the difficulty of confronting issues of love for self and others through poetry, choral speaking, and controversial dialogue. Admission is free with your ECU One Card. tion and straig has two album Under the Mo

Tout a constant the set of the East Cardin Participant of the East Cardin Participant of the East Cardina Participant of the Card

Amy L. Royster Editor in Chief Heather Burgess Managing Editor Miccah Smith Editor Caleb Rose Assistant Editor Stephanic Whitlock Besigior Russ Blackburn Layert Janet Respess Advertising Manager Bobby Tuggle Webmaster Serving the ECU community since. 1925, the East Carolinian publishes 11,000 copies every Tuesday and Thuraday. 7,000 copies of the Fountainhead, our new arts and entertainment magazine, are published every wednesday. The lead editorial in each edition of the East Garolinian is the opinion of the Editorial Board. The East Carolinian welcomes letters to the editor, limited to 250 words, which may be edited for decency or brevity. The East Carolinian reserves the right to edit or reject letters for publication. All lifters must be signed. Letters should be addressed to: Opinion editor, The East Carolinian, Student Publications Building, ECU, Greenville; 27858-4353. For information, call 919.328.6366.

To Feed Your Soul Saturday, January 30 at 8 p.m. in Wright Auditorium

They're awesome. Pianist Joseph Kalichstein, cellist Sharon Robinson, and violinist Jaime Laredo will astound you with their musical virtuosity and flawless technique. Come and hear the trio perform the works of Haydn, Shostakovich, and Beethoven as part of the S. Rudolph Alexander Performing Arts Series. Advance student tickets are available at the Central Ticket Office for S7. All tickets at the door are $15. TO Seriously Party FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 12 AT 9 P.M. AT MENDENHALL STUDENT CENTER

It's the next best thing to being down on Bourbon Street. It's ECU's annual Mardi Gras bash. Gambling, food, dancing, bingo, video karaoke, laser tag, bowling, Cajun buffet, and more. Best of all, it's free! Your ECU One Card gets you in. If you want to bring an adult friend, pick up a guest pass Feb. 8-12 st. the Central Ticket Office (M-F 8:30am-6pm), the Todd Dining Hall Office (M-F 8am-5pm) and the Student Rec Center on Feb 12 from 5 am to 10 pm.

MSC Hours: Mon.-Thurs., 8 a.m.-11 p.m.; Fri., 8 a.m.-Midnight; Sat., Noon-Midnight; Sun., 1-11 p.m.

BandReview

Mandorico dishes out the hot stuff

Sultry latin-ska group Mandorico packed the stage and surrounding the slow-grooving album track "Familiar Places." The band displayed a rare combination of vocal harmonies, high energy-conga solos, hypnotic percussion, fabulous horns and a keen ability to feed on each other's talent and exultation all through the performance. After a break, Mandorico played a set that included songs from their new album, Familiar Places. Every song was crammed the dance floor with as many people as possible. "We all have severely different influences," said drummer Chris Fields. Percussionist Jesse Lauricella listed Los Fabulosos Cadillacs and DLG among his influences. April Howell, whose throaty vocals and bigger-than-life trombone sound whip the crowd into ecstasies, was once a member of North Carolina's Jumpstarts. Mandorico's wide variety of influences, experienced musicians, spontaneous creative forces and precise beats should secure the two-yearold band's future popularity.

ol foot-, the has won les. wever, is rather killers nd the r already n conshake it

.......

he

this rolls

ng and in town

lisaster

n page 6

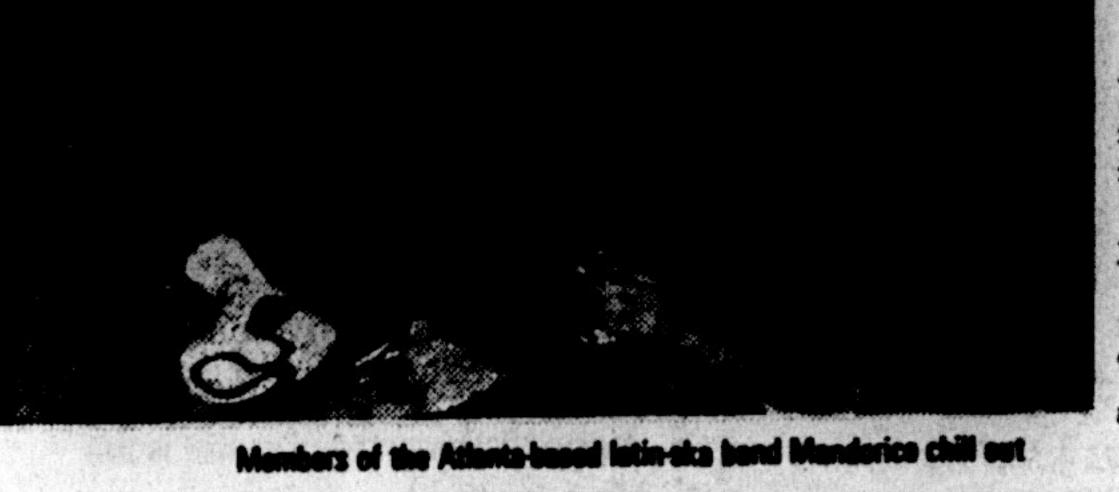

PAL

mes

win

RIX

dance floor at Peasant's with their spicy, danceable mix of ska, mambo and salsa rhythms. Their January 13 performance was the Atlanta band's third gig in Greenville. The crowd promptly embraced Mandorico, whose set opened with

BAND DREVIEWS FOR THIS WEEKEND

Peasant's January 29

David Nelson Band, featuring Bill Laymon of Jefferson Starship. Nelson has contributed to three Grateful Dead albums, and his own band offers a collage of rootsy jams, psychedelic improvisa-

Attic January 29

Collective Soul, a band that helped make the "alternative rock" category what it is today.

-Since topping the Billboard charts in May 1994 with "Shine," the tion and straight-up bluegrass. The band has toured extensively, has two albums and plans to release a third, called Visions Under the Moon.

"alterna-rock" band has cut three albums, further muddying the waters between "alternative" music and pop, but has not achieved a greater degree of fame. The sold-out show probably has something to do with the promotion of their unreleased fourth album, Dosage.

answers to Tuesday's East Carolinian Crossword

Become a member.

The Buccaneer I Still Know What You Did Last Caleb RoseChiefs, a struggling minor leagueAssistant Editorhockey team that is on the verge ofSlap Shotgoing out of business. The burden or going out of business. The burden of keeping the Chiefs together becomes Dunlap's number one goal and biggest headache.

Seeing as how

Video Review

Slap Shot stars the original Hansons

 Summer
 R

 Daily: 7:00, 9:30

 Sat-Sun: 1:45, 4:20, 7:00, 9:30

 Psycho
 R

 Daily: 7:15, 9:20

 Sat-Sun: 1:00, 3:05, 5:10, 7:15, 9:20

 Vampires
 R

 Daily: 7:00, 9:30

 Sat-Sun: 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30

 Carolina East 4

 A Bug's Life
 G

 Daily: 7:15, 9:20

 Sat-Sun: 1:00, 3:05, 5:10, 7:15, 9:20

 Sat-Sun: 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30

Carolina East 4 A Bug's Life Daily: 7:15, 9:20 Sat-Sun: 1:00, 3:05, 5:10, 7:15, 9:20 Enemy Of The State R Daily: 7:00, 9:45 Sat-Sun: 1:00, 4:00, 7:00, 9:45 Jack Frost PG Daily: 7:15 Sat-Sun: 3:05, 7:15 Mighty Joe Young PG Daily: 7:00, 9:40 Sat-Sun: 1:05, 4:00, 7:00, 9:40 The Water Boy PG-13 Daily: 9:20 Sat-Sun: 1:00, 5:10, 9:20 Carmike 12 A Civil Action PG-13 Daily: 1:15, 4:05, 7:00, 9:45 At First Sight PG-13 Daily: 1:00, 3:45, 7:00, 9:45 Gloria Daily: 2:00, 4:20, 7:00, 9:20 In Dreams Daily: 1:30, 4:00, 7:05, 9:25 Patch Adams PG-13 Daily: 1:30, 4:15, 7:00, 9:45 PG-13 Stepmom Daily: 1:15, 4:10, 7:05, 9:50 The Faculty Daily: 2:00, 4:20, 7:00, 9:20 The Prince Of Egypt PG Daily: 1:00, 3:05, 5:10, 7:15, 9:20 The Thin Red Line R Daily: 1:00, 4:30, 8:15 Varsity Blues R Daily: 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30 Virus Daily: 1:45, 4:15, 7:05, 9:20 You've Got Mail PG Daily: 1:00, 4:00, 7:00, 9:30

197 we're in the South, it's common to hear slanderous, terms being used to describe people who migrate down from the North. It has been said, "Yankees are no good for nothin"," and spoken with true Southern pride. However, one pride of the North that's worthy of praise is the sport hockey. Though it's marginally a Canadian sport consisting of many Canadians, it's played and respected in the US. Way back in good of 1977, a man by the name of George Roy Hill decided that it would be a good idea to document such a sport, and thus Slap Shot was created. Considering the time period, it was pretty wise to star Paul Newman as the lead role. His character, Reg

The film takes place in Johnstown, PA, which is a small steel town in the mid-west portion of the state. For reasons unknown, Hill decided to use Charlestown as the town name. When the Charlestown Steel Mill lays off a bunch of its workers, the attendance of the Chief's games plummet. The loss of fans causes a loss of money and forces the Chief's GM to negotiate and sell the team. The negotiations fail, but Dunlap convinces his teammates that this would be their last season in Charlestown because they were being sold to a buyer in Florida. Since it is their last season, Dunlap does everything in his power to ple watch it (like people who watch auto racing to see the wrecks). The Chiefs soon learn that violence sells, so they make it a point to be overly rough with their opponents. The use of violence opens the window for the true stars of the film, the Hanson Brothers.

The Hanson Brothers: a goalie's worst nightmare incarnate...

The Hanson Brothers were traded to the team at the beginning of the season and after sitting the bench for some time, were finally fans, and eventually a few arrests. The Hanson Brothers represent the true Canadian spirit of the sport. The violence produced by the Chiefs leads to an enormous following of fans and town support. In return for their antics, the Chiefs become the laughing stock of their league. The film ends with the team playing their last game by the "old time hockey rules." However, they snap in the end and give the fans

Dunlap, is the head coach as well as a teammate of the Charlestown

Violence is common in hockey; in fact it's the sole reason some peomake it the best.

given their chance. Their roughness leads to fights with opponents and one last hoo-rah brawl to end it all.

We are looking for fellow book lovers to read and review best sellers for a good cause. Each Semester we will donate these best sellers to the Ronald McDonald House where they will be available for the family members of terminally ill children to read.

If you would like to write a review please call Miccah at 328-6366

You have a chance to strengthen an important relationship which signals success for any long range dependability. Try to keep a tight arrests. esent the sport. by the us followort. In Chiefs of their n the team the "old er, they ne fans

Downtown

ARIES: (March 21-April 20)

Timing seems to be very good, so it's best to take advantage of promoting a business ideas or career advancement. Devote a majority of your efforts to job interests and you'll be amazed at just how much is accomplished

TAURUS: (April 21 - May 21)

Misleading news about those close to you may arise. Be on guard and make no decisions until you have all the facts straight. Self-interest will may produce actions that may be regretted later. You may have to deal with a few headstrong individuals, and an argument is inevitable.

VIRGO: (August 24 - September 23)

You may be in the mood to have things your own way, but it may not be the best of times to insist on it. Back off if someone seriously challenges you. Some inside information may make it possible to put a few extra dollars in your pocket, possibly real estate.

LIBRA: (September 24 - October 23)

rein on your temper and reactions to others. If you speak before you think, feelings may be hurt and explanations will be difficult.

AQUARIUS: (January 21 - February 19)

Your timing seems to be off, and it may be difficult to reach someone you've been trying to get ahold of. If you do, the conversation may not be what you expected. You may also have to readjust your thinking or reevaluate your goals, a major decision is close at hand.

PISCES: (February 20 - March 20)

Now is as good of time as any to learn to become thrifty. Think before you part your hard earned cash. You have a few far out ideas and opinions, and if pressed on others will only cause confusion and maybe hostility. Don't push your luck by saying or doing anything foolish.

28 Thursday

Conehead Buddah at Peasants Live Jazz at Staccato's Aggravators/Spazms/Dead Center at Backdoor

29 Friday

Collective Soul at The Attic David Nelson Band at Peasant's Cafe (Members of Jerry Garcia Band and New Riders of the Purple Sage)

30 Saturday Cravin' Melon at The Attic

nd it all.

motivate you, although you may be torn between wanting to excel in a particular matter, or share the spotlight.

GEMINI: (May 22 - June 21)

Travel is in the works, make sure to plan your itinerary carefully, creating some time for pleasure. You'll come up with an idea concerning business or relationship interests that may sound great, but don't expect everyone else to share your interest.

CANCER: (June 22 - July 23)

Your view of the immediate future

A few of your ideas are impractical, but that doesn't mean you need to give up completely on them. It's time to capitalize on your gregarious nature and push ahead with any projects involving your career path the more supporters you can gather, the better.

SCORPIO: (October 24 - November 22)

There may be an unexpected message coming your way that may momentarily throw you off balance both emotionally and financially. Make sure to keep the lines of communication open with family members. Financial advice is suggested regarding any new investments.

Birthday This Week: Everything seems to be such a big chore lately. It may be because you are physically and mentally rundown. Start taking better care of yourself and you'll discover a whole new you. There may be a lot of pressure on you at work, learn to delegate tasks and leave the work behind while you are at home.

Moon Boot Lover at Peasant's Cafe

10

31 Sunday

Open Mic night at Peasant's Cafe Super Bowl Party at The Courtyard Tavern

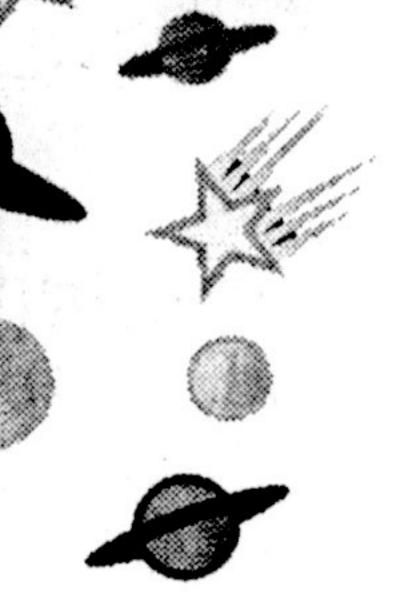

> 2 Tuesday Studio 54 night at the Attic Groove Riders at Boli's will benefit your ability to firm up romantic ties, and encourage supervisors at work to have added confidence in you. This dependability you portray inspires faith into those who surround you. Guard against poor judgement.

LEO: (July 24- August 23)

Try to modify your views, if necessary, to ensure peace on the homefront. Displaying a defensive attitude SAGITTARIUS: (November 23 - December 21)

If you use your imagination, there may be a delightful romantic surprise just around the corner for you. There may be confusion in regards to a social or romantic date that may cause frustration earlier in the week. Good vibes are developing for future career goals.

3 Wednesday Comedy Zone at The Attic

Miccah Smith Fountainhead Editor

98 WRAP-UP

1998 will be remembered as "The Year of the Untalented Woman." Any chick with a guitar, a piano, a short skirt, a sob story or hairy pits was guaranteed an audience, and I won't insult anyone by naming names. I'll just say that had it not been for my dedication to this newspaper, I myself could have cut a gold fecord. Tori Amos, Sunny Day Real Estate, Smashing Pumpkins, REM, Lorena McKinnett and PJ Harvey graced an otherwise glutted music market with new releases, and classic acts like Depeche Mode and KISS hit the tour circuit again. In movies, There's Something About Mary garnered the Gen-X market. Bruce Willis found more roles for his "sweaty guy with a snappy comeback" stock character. For instance, he was that hero guy in this summer's disaster movie Armageddon. But in the immortal words of David Spade, I liked it better...when it was called Deep Impact!

99 PREDICTIONS

Let's just get this first item out of the way right now. Gene Simmons and Marilyn Manson will meet face-to-face onstage in front of a raving mad audience somewhere in California. Simmons will thrash Manson's scrawny little androgynous self so thoroughly that no leftovers will remain for Prince or Elton John, both of whom will be waiting backstage. Hordes of banshee-like KISS Army ensigns will descend upon Manson's 13year-old scary kids like the Red Death. But maybe that's just wishful thinking ... Lillith Fair will become highly commercialized, bringing disenchantment, confusion and, ultimately, displacement to entire populations of patchouli-soaked women and sensitive men. Coffee-shop and art-teacher jobs will be virtually unavailable after these doleful masses attempt to reassimilate into the workforce.

But cheer up, folks! If my predictions are correct, we'll be getting a whole new batch of Bruce Willis movies this year too! Frankly, I can't wait to see him punch, kick and wisecrack his way to yet another American victory over those slimy commies/aliens/forces of nature! Bring it on!

MOVIE REVIEW, continued from page 2

The other shoe drops when Coach Kilmer forces Billy Bob (the big ole center) play even though he keeps passing out. The star quarterback gets his leg broken when he's sacked by numerous members of the opposing team. Enter "Mox", who naturally saves the game with a couple long passes and sly plays. This turns him into the town's new star, which of course begins to make him disregard all the things he loves, such as his girlfriend and his dreams of attending college. I'll not say anything more about the plot, but I feel like suggesting that this is not a movie for the young'uns. Drinking, cussing, sex, nudity, whipped cream bikinis, and all that other stuff that is associated with being adults are strewn throughout the film. Although the main story belongs to Van Der Beek and Voight, the movie really shows its heart when Billy Bob (Good Burger's Ron Lester) shows up on screen. He takes a role that would normally be portrayed as the funny fat guy and gives it an actual soul with feelings that can be hurt and a heart that can be broken with one sharp word. Some bad aspects of the movie are that the grown-ups are portrayed as clichéd rednecks that, despite there being a school right in town, speak like they have never set foot in one. Also, the soundtrack shows its MTV-ness a little

Caleb Rose Assistant Editor

98 WRAP-UP

The year 1998 had

Wrap-up continued on page 7

too much. Here is a movie set in the most rural part of Hickville, and everyone is listening to Green Day, Fastball, and the Foo Fighters? It just doesn't add up with me. But that's just nit-picky stuff that I have to throw in because I am, after all, a professional journalist. The movie is definitely worth your six bucks, and possibly even twelve.

Did you see news happen? Did you make news happen? Do you belong between our covers? Give us your story and appear in our next ad. Call eastcarolinian at 328-6366.

Wrap-up continued from page 6

some ups and downs as far as

music goes. The market was flooded with a several older bands pushing on and putting out new material. Aerosmith, for one, put out a live record which didn't sell too well, but they managed to snag a spot on the Armageddon soundtrack. Reunions were big thanks to Fleetwood Mac and Black Sabbath. Also there was a resurgence of pure, wellstructured rock 'n roll with albums by Fastball, the Rolling Stones and Hootie and the Blowfish. My favorite musical adventure of 1998 was the release of the Wilco and Billy Bragg collaboration Mermaid Avenue, a collection of unfinished Woody Guthrie songs set to Wilco and Bragg's musical arrangement. There were also downers though. For instance, Matchbox 20 decided to release more than one song on the radio so that it too could be played every five minutes for the next 3 years. Also, Edwin McCain released some more sappy rock to feed all of the NC college students. Probably the biggest downer of the year was the closed-mindedness of radio programmers.

1999, the big one. '99 will most likely be a big year for music as well. One word will sum it all up in my humble opinion: Prince. The man is legendary; he wrote a song that will probably top the charts for the second time with no alterations. That is sheer musical genius, folks. I also think 1999 will be a time of genre mixing. After all, VH-1 has been playing a few

the group!

I feel safer being just average-looking. That's about all that happened in 1998. There may have been a nationwide scandal in there or something, but who really cares about that sort of stuff?

99 PREDICTIONS

This should be a big year in music, as far as I can tell. The big deal, however, is going to be the movie business. Tom Cruise will be riding high with such blockbusters as Mission Impossible 2 and Stanley Kubrick's Eyes Wide Shut. Kevin Costner will seek to regain some of his lost talent in the Nick Sparks weeper Message in a Bottle. In literary news, Elmore Leonard will bring us a new novel featuring Chili Palmer, the main character from the book/movie Get Shorty. As for theater, Broadway may be testing the waters for a new show based on...you guessed it! Batman. Sounds like a magical night of drama to me. And finally, the Y2K problem. This is the virus that will threaten to crash all computers, kill your pet fish, make you wet your pants and forget your name for half an hour, and most importantly, make you fall desperately in love with Bill Gates. My advice: move to outer space before the big apple drops on December 31st.

Exhibit, continued from page 1

Orchestra. She has collaborated with Yo-Yo Ma and Itzhak Perlman, and has been featured on several recordings.

Friday's program will feature works by Hayden, Beethoven and Shostakovich, all written for chamber trios of piano, violin and cello. According to Professor Paul Tardif of the ECU School of Music, Hayden wrote the first music of this type. The cello functions as the bass, while the violin assumes a higher pitch for a balanced sound. "I think the piano provides a wonderful contrast to those other two instruments," says Charles Bath. "It's marvelous music to play and marvelous music to hear, because it's very intimate," says ECU School of Music Assistant Professor Joanne Bath. "All of the instruments are equally important." Chamber music requires much more than just talent and precision; an ability to adjust minutely to changes in the music played by other members of the group is absolutely essen-

1.8.10.1

Ryan Kennemur Senior Writer

98 WRAP-UP

Okay, I'm here to talk about that foul year of our Lord, 1998. I could think of a plethora of things that more or less made me ill, but let's not drone on about those things...such as the home of the largest group ovulation that they call the Lillith Fair, or the fact that Lollapallooza had such little interest that they didn't bother to have one. Or that the HORDE festival has turned into just another reason to go to an amphitheater and smoke pot. Indeed, those things need not be mentioned. And of course, there would be no real reason to talk about all those little movies that came out with the beautiful teenagers getting hacked up to bits in various ways, only to find out that...OH MY GOD! I never would have suspected it was the most obvious person in

14. Fear of Pop "In Love 13. Flat Duo Jets "Blues Wrapped Around Your Head" 12. Ghoti Hook "Walkin' on Sunshine" 11. Soul Coughing "Rolling" 10. Beck "Tropicalia" 9. Cake "Never There"

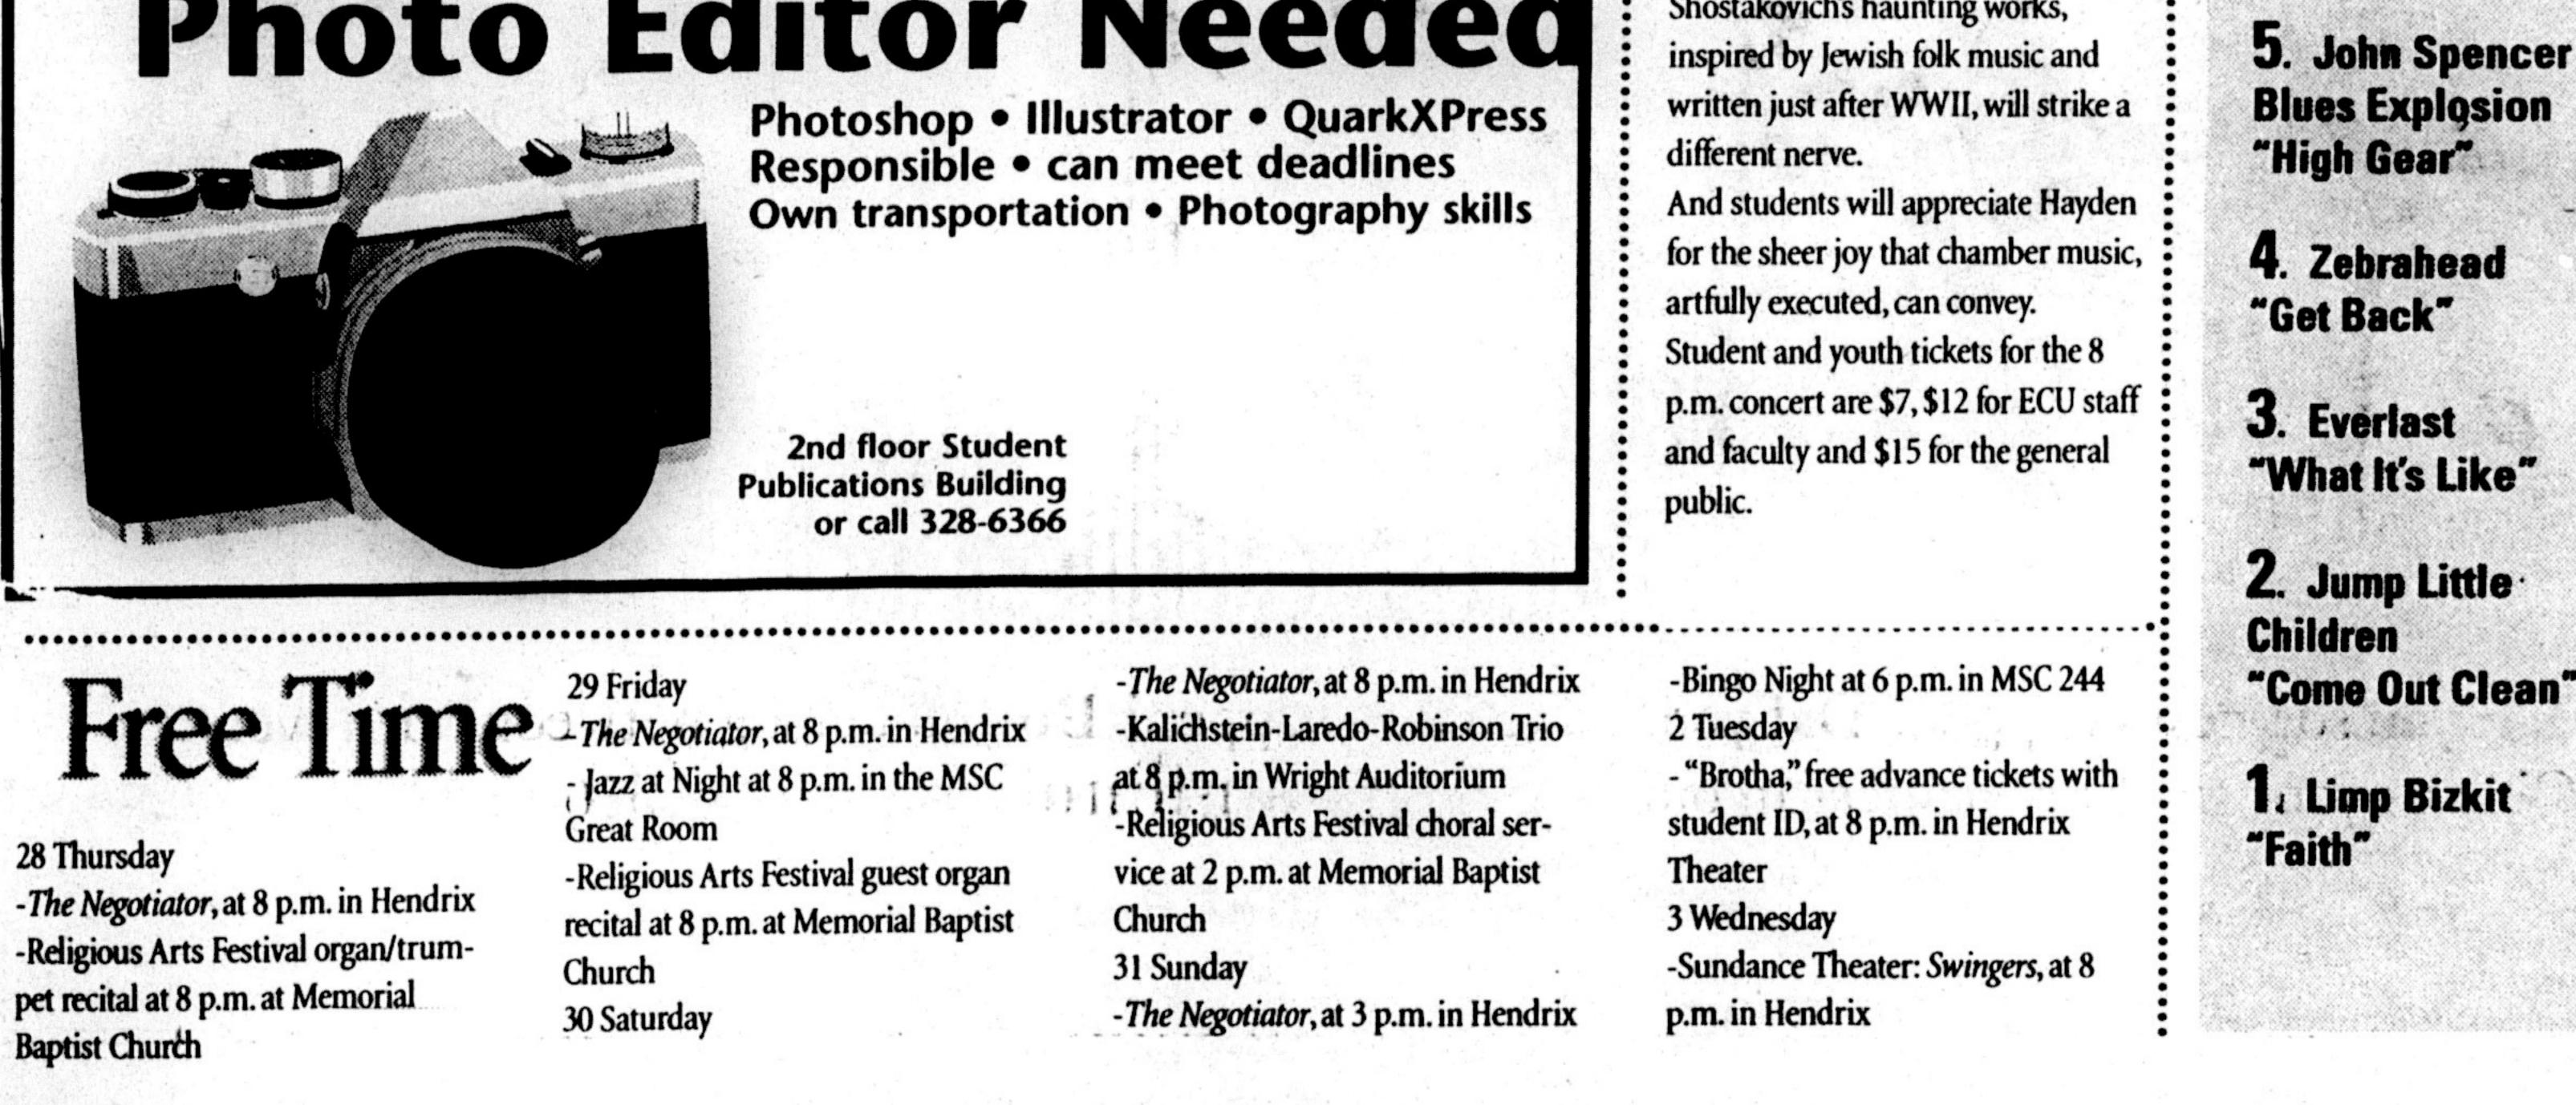

99 PREDICTIONS

tial in such a small ensemble. "It takes a lot of thinking on a lot of different levels to be able to play in a trio," says Joanne Bath, who compares trio music to "a conversation [among] three people." "Since all three people are equal, the three have to do a lot of compromising." Highlights of the evening will include Beethoven's "Archduke," which Charles Bath calls "one of the monuments of chamber music." Shostakovich's haunting works,

And students will appreciate Hayden for the sheer joy that chamber music, artfully executed, can convey. Student and youth tickets for the 8

Photo Editor Needed

Go to www.chrohouse.ecu.edu and click of the events calendar link. Then just enter your event onto our campus calendar. It's just that easy.

IC

And it's one more free service of the ECU Student Media.