

As individuals, we have been through profound transitions to become who we are today. We celebrate these ups and downs, realizing they make our love for one another stronger. Together we reach out to our larger community—celebrating Pride from Maine to North Carolina, volunteering at our local Montessori school, and promoting LGBTQ health in our respective communities. As we continue this work, our family will be our strength, the center of who we are, and what we come back home to each day.
