

Visibility is important. As we prepare to open the Dr. Jesse R. Peel LGBTQ Center at ECU next semester, we will have a queer space proudly displayed in the new student center. I try to live my life in a similar way by representing the LGBTQ+ community in the different roles I have on campus. By being my true self, I live my life on display for others to see that being gay isn't something that should be tolerated; it should be celebrated!

Colin Johnson
Pronouns: He/Him/His
Junior, Health Services Management