

Since I was 12 years old, I have worked in church as a pianist. After being removed from my position as pianist at 19 for being gay, I found a loving and welcoming congregation that allows me to be who I am and do what I love. I want to share similar support for those who may feel like they are wrong for being who they are and are constantly judged and ridiculed for it. My goal is show that God loves you regardless of you who are, what you do, or who you love and to bring people of my generation back

Cory Ryan Whaley
Pronouns: He/Him/His
Senior, Music Education