

Speech by:

ROBERT MORGAN
Attorney General of North Carolina
Rotary Club
Fayetteville, North Carolina
August 23, 1971

I am very pleased to be with you today and to have a chance to talk with a group of people who are so highly respected in their community and so active in the many civic activities here in the Fayetteville area. I always welcome a chance to visit with you individually or as an organization and to share with you some of my ideas about how we can make government more effective and responsive to the people.