He / Him / His
Director, Intercultural Affairs

“

As director of intercultural affairs at ECU, I have the privilege of working with an incredible team to make our department's vision a reality: 'creating inclusive and equitable communities where all persons confidently know and are known.' As a proud and active ally of the LGBTQ community, I'm honored to stand on the shoulders of all those who have committed their lives to justice, peace, and human rights—through the watershed, legacy-creating moment of Stonewall, to all other movements where communities struggle for justice. I stand with these trailblazers to live out these strong values.
