Scripture lesson: 123rd Psalm

There will be a "very important" meeting of the Lanier and Poe Societies in this auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight. I do not mean to say anything to you young folks to make you interested in these debates, because we have visible and audible manifestations this morning that you are interested. I am glad it was called to my attention. I am quite sure you are going to enjoy this debate tonight. I hope the best team wins--and I am a little inclined to think that that is both of them.

The D's and Seniors have been invited by the Superintendent of city schools to attend the cantata in the city high school auditorium at five o'clock Sunday afternoon. I am quite sure you will enjoy this cantata.

I want to talk to you a few minutes about your Easter vacation. Of course, I know you are not interested ??????? The Easter vacation begins on Thursday, at 12:30, April 2, according to the catalog. But it really begins at 12:25. Since the catalog was printed our schedule of periods has been changed, and of course the vacation begins at the end of the last morning period. You are supposed to be here and be ready for work at 8:15 instead of 8:30 on Thursday morning, April 9. Of course, if you finish your work we do not want to make you stay here till 12:25. You may go home as soon as you finish your work on April 2. But the vacation period does not begin until April 2. Some girl will say "I have only one or two recitations and will just cut them and go earlier". This particular vacation is worked out by the college and the Student Government Association. In other words, it is our scheme, yours and the college's. Dr. Meadows has charge of the schedule, conferring with me about it and then conferring with the president of the Student Government Association. You are a party to it. If the president of the Student Government Association, and she is your representative, thinks that the tentative schedule made out by Dr. Meadows is not what the students will like she has just as much right to object as I have. That being the case, we expect you to do your part. The Easter holidays have been worked out with you every year. If I had my way about it and wanted to be a czar I wouldn't let you have the holidays Easter; you would have them at the end of the winter quarter. But there is a strong sentiment on the part of the student body to have their holidays at Easter, and I am perfectly willing--more than perfectly willing--absolutely back of it.

I hope you are going to have a most enjoyable debate tonight and a most enjoyable Easter holiday when it comes.
