

partial

- I, A definition of education based upon the idea that "Nothing makes a nerve center grow like normal stimuli that come to it." (Lindley July 17, 1907)
- II) It is the duty of Secondary education to give equal opportunity to all. Definition of Equal opportunity.
- III) It is not practical to attempt ^{separate} individual instruction for each individual. How then are we to group them, by Mental Conditions, race or sex?
- IV) There is sufficient difference in the sexes to justify making the divisions here in the Secondary Schools.
- V) Our secondary Education has been + is masculine. It is time for girls to come into the inheritance that is theirs simply because they are girls. Mr. Vassar's views
- VI) The aim of a girl's school or of the instruction of girls in Secondary education. a) To help them to become home-makers. b) To prepare for college. c) To prepare for teaching. d) To prepare for clerical positions (business course) e) Trades schools.
- VII) We do not undervalue the humanities