PREFACE

Fourteen years ago, beginning in the fall of 1968, I began research on the McGlohon-McLawhorns families in Pitt County. Because I have a fulltime job, my time has been limited so that I have not had time for personal interviews with many people, which I would have liked to do. In 1969 and 1970 I sent letters requesting information from public records. It is therefore a genealogy, not a family history, which is derived from two of the three heads of families listed in the 1850 Federal Census for Pitt County.

SOME MCGLOHONS-MCLAWHORNS
AND WORTHINGTONS
OF PITT COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA

Since I decided not to publish the book because there did not seem to be enough interest, I have made this compromise by giving the genealogy up to the early twentieth century. In addition, I have added some Worthingtons information which would not have been in the book.

Some printed genealogies I have seen use one spelling of a surname throughout. Because of the variations in spelling, I have had to spell surnames—at least in twentieth century generations—the way that individuals spell them. If your surname is incorrectly spelled, I apologize. Otherwise, I have used the spelling from the records in which I found them. Especially in abstracting deeds, I have tried to use the spellings as found in the deeds. However, I am not sure that I followed this practice in my earliest research.

Leah McGlohon

Some of the given names are misspelled; but since there is no "correct" way to spell a proper name, I have included them the way I found them or the way they were given to me.

It is probably not possible to prepare a work of this nature without errors. I have found errors in all kinds of records. Sometimes I have found three different dates for the same person. Therefore, I offer this record as a starting point for anyone interested in doing further research of his own family, and trust that the errors are not too numerous.

I would like to thank everyone who helped in any way with the gathering of information for this booklet. The staff in the search room of the State Archives and History and the librarians in the genealogy room of the State Library in Raleigh were most helpful. Likewise, I found the personnel in the registers of deeds offices in the following county courthouses to be very pleasant and ready to help: Beaufort, Bertie, Chowan, Craven, Greene, Lenoir, Pitt, and Wayne. Especially am I thankful to Mrs. Elvira Allred and the other personnel in the Pitt County Register of Deeds Office, where I spent most of my time. I am also grateful to Miss Leah McGlohon, the Clerk of Court's Office in Pitt County.

Because I have a fulltime job, my time has been limited so that I have not had time for personal interviews with many people, which I would have liked to do. In 1969 and 1970 I sent letters requesting information from families of my line. However, most of the information in this record came from public records. It is therefore a genealogy, not a family history, and traces lineage from two of the three heads of families listed in the 1790 Federal Census for Pitt County.

THE NAME

When the author began her research on the family genealogy, she thought that she was going to find the correct spelling of the name, since there were variations of spelling in the family with which she claimed kinship. The story in her immediate family (Frederick McGlohon) was that Charles McLawhorn's family changed the spelling when one of the daughters went away to college. The story in Charles's family was that Fred changed it when he served in the North Carolina State Legislature as a representative from Pitt County.

It was not until after the Civil War period that many people could read and write; about seventy percent of the people in North Carolina were illiterate. Charles and Fred's parents could not read and write. Therefore, in those days it depended a great deal upon who was doing the writing as to how it was spelled. The same is still true today unless you spell it for whoever is writing.

However, LaRue McLawhorn Castelloe, daughter of Charles, said that the school diplomas from Winterville High School of the older children in her family have the name spelled "McGlohon." She also spelled the name that way when she went to East Carolina Teachers Training School and when she went to school at Greensboro. When she came home the first time for the holidays while she was at Greensboro, her father told her to change the way she was spelling the name on the records so that all the family would be spelling it alike. She thinks that Professor F. C. Nye, principal, was responsible for their names being spelled "McGlohon" at Winterville High School.

In 1880 Fred witnessed the will of his brother Joseph and signed his name "McGlohon." Joe's name in the will was spelled "McGlohorn." This record proves that Fred had spelled the name "McGlohon" before he served in the Legislature in 1893. Perhaps he had not always been consistent in the spelling until then, but he had spelled it that way before. His family Bible shows variations in spelling. For example, for his birth and marriage the name is spelled "Mcglowhorn" and "Mcglowhon" (perhaps "Mcglawhorn"). At Frederick T.'s birth in 1876, his name is spelled "McLohon"; but with Rosa E.'s birth in 1881, the name is consistently spelled "McGlohon."

Still another story of the spelling change (?) has been told to the writer. Rena McLawhorn Whitehurst related that Mary Ida McLawhorn, daughter of Lorenzo, went to Alabama to teach school. There she met another teacher who spelled her name McGlohon, and she brought the spelling back. Since Ida could not have been teaching before the late 1880's (born in 1872), she could not have been the first of the immediate family to spell it that way (see above).

Lucy Bett Abbott Hunsucker, granddaughter of Lorenzo, thinks that her family began spelling the Name McLawhorn when Lorenzo went into business with his brother Charles. Her grandmother Bett kept the books for Lorenzo and she began spelling it that way so that the names would be alike. Her mother, Annie, said that her father, Lorenzo, did not like an "r" in his name.

Since there have been so many spellings of the name, perhaps it was not that the spelling was changed, but that the way of spelling it became established differently in the families.

The author has found nothing thus far that satisfies her as to the origin of the name--whether Irish, Scotch, or Scotch Irish. Since the earliest records in Pitt County do not mention any previous locations for the first McGlohons or McLawhorns located in the records, one can only guess from whence they came. There had been no family tradition as to the origin passed along to the author. A Civics teacher in high school suggested that the name was Scotch Irish.

There are many Scotch and Irish names that look as though they could be the source of the name, but there are none in the various printed directories exactly like the earliest variations found in the records here. The author has seen at least four different coats of arms for the name, which seems to indicate that if you request a coat of arms, you will be sent one regardless of whether there was one for your family or not.

Assuming that the name was Scotch Irish, early in her research, the author wrote to the Chief Herald in Dublin, Ireland, requesting information on the name and giving both spellings: McGlohon and McLawhorn. She was sent an extract from Edward MacLysaght's More Irish Surnames, page 123, which listed the following surnames:

MacALOON - A variant of MacGloin, q. v.
 MacGLOIN, GLONE, GLOON, MacGiolla Eoin. Belongs to Tyrone and Donegal and is quite distinct from MacGlynn.
 (MAC) GLYNN, (Mac) GLENNON, GLENN, MacGLOIN.

An order for a coat of arms from the Sanson Institute of Heraldry in Boston, Massachusetts, brought only a coat of arms with no indication of the spelling of the name from which it came, but which was different from a coat of arms obtained from research by the Education Department of Holmes-Corey, Ltd., in Boston. This report was on the second surname as listed above from More Irish Surnames. The name was Irish patronymic: from Mac Giolla Eoin, a sept associated with Tyrone and Donegal. Spelling variants given were McGlone, McGloon, McGloin, Mac Glohon, MacGloon. The report stated: "the Gaelic language is difficult to pronounce and phonetic spellings of your name lead into many obscure forms which bear little resemblance to your name as you now spell it or to its original Gaelic spelling."

Another coat of arms was selected by Miss Louise Roberts, a heraldry artist from Lexington, South Carolina. She used the surname Mac Coghlan, O'Coughlan (Cohalan) from Edward MacLysaght's Irish Families, pages 82-83. To accompany the coat of arms, she wrote:

This name can be spelled McClogan, McCloghan, McCoughlan also. It was listed in 1629 as Sir John McGlohon. Mc or Mac means "son of." In this name it would mean "son of Glohon." They were mostly a peaceful sept. They contributed in ecclesiastical fields. Some members were bishops in the diocese near the end of the 16th century.

Several years ago the following article by a genealogist was printed in The News and Observer on the name "McLawhorn":

This name presents a problem as it can not be found in any available directories prior to 1790.

The 1790 census lists the spellings Glawhirn in Bertie County and Lawhorn in Cumberland County both in North Carolina and Laughorn in Bedford County, Virginia. These could be English place names acquired from once having lived at Laughern, Temple Laughern or on the bank of the River Laughern in Worcestershire. Laughern is from an Old cornish word lauern (fox). The Scottish prefix Mac (son of) could have been added by some of the above.

The same census lists the spellings McGlahon, McGlauh, McGlawhorn and McGlohon in North Carolina. These names are variant spellings of the Scottish name MacLabhrainn (son of Lauren--Lawrence in English). This name is pronounced MacLabhrain in Scotland and MacLaurin in England.

The spellings McGlawhorn and McLawhorn are found in North Carolina records at the present time.

A retired colonel from the United States Air Force, Jerry Dalton House (a descendant of Arthur McGlohon), has also been doing some research on the name. In 1945, while passing through a village near Siegon, Germany, he saw the name "Lawhorne" painted on a general store. He also noted several names of persons in northern Germany with the "horn" ending. From The Surnames of Scotland, page 534, he selected the name "Mac Laren-MacLaran"--which includes McLawran, 1715, "Son of Lawrence"; MacLawrin, McLarine, 1746--and noted that "aran" is generally pronounced as "horn"; for example, Strawhorn equals Strowarane or Strawarran.

He also learned that in 1690, there were 13 regiments of German and Danish troops stationed in Ireland. Some of the soldiers remained in Ireland after the fighting ended and married Irish girls. Many of them added the prefix "Mc" to their names.

It is doubtful that records are still available that would enable one to trace the name back to any of these surnames; however, the writer keeps hoping that some records will show up. In the meantime, descendants may choose whichever they like best. The author believes that the Pitt County McGlohons or McLawhorns are related to the first one found in North Carolina records--James McGlohon (Meglohon) in Chowan Precinct of Colonial Albemarle County.

Chapter 2

SOME EARLY MCGLOHONS
OF CHOWAN AND BERTIE

James McGlohon may have been in the Chowan Precinct as early as 1714. James Fleming and his wife Margaret sold to James Meglohan 150 acres of land for 3,000 pounds of tobacco on April 28, 1720. This information is included in a deed when James sold the land. On January 20, 1721, James Maglohan of Chowan Precinct sold to John Welch 150 acres on the southeast side of Blind Neck Branch, joining Stumpy Creek Swamp, Beach Swamp and a little dead pocoson. It was a part of two patents granted to James Fleming, deceased. One was for 600 acres granted on August 7, 1714, and sold by him to James Meglohan (DB C, p. 287). The deed was registered in the Chowan Court on August 24, 1722.

On June 8, 1721, James Meglohan of Chowan Precinct bought 490 acres for 27 pounds sterling money of Great Britain from Moses Foxworth and Martha, his wife, of Chowan Precinct. The land was located on the Indian Town Creek, joining the mouth of Mosses Swamp, the creek, and a pocoson. It was a patent granted to John Jackson on March 4, 1711/12, and by him allowed to elapse for want of being seated and planted and afterwards being granted to Robert Hicks on April 18, 1716. A. D. Cockburne and John Jordan witnessed the deed (DB C, p. 177). This deed was registered on November 11, 1721.

James sold this 490 acres to Francis Ellis on April 16, 1722, for 45 pounds. This deed gives James's occupation as a house carpenter. John Parker was witness to the deed (DB C, p. 290). It was also registered on August 24, 1722.

On July 17, 1723, James Meglohan bought 640 acres for 32 pounds sterling from John Bryan of Chowan Precinct. The land was located on the north side of "Weccacone"; joined that of Francis McLendon, Peter Parker, a branch, and the creek; and included all houses, orchards, etc. William Crawford and Jerem. Glohan were witnesses (DB C, p. 354).

At least seven other deeds were found in abstract in volumes 2-5 of Colonial Bertie County, North Carolina:

1. On February 9, 1726, James MacGlohon bought 317 acres for 25 pounds from William Curlee and his wife, Martha. The land was located on the west side of Canaan Swamp and adjoined that of Edward Bryan Sr. on "Ye Great Branch." Witnesses were Thomas Spiers and Conf. (?) Luten (DB B, p. 231).
2. James McGlohon gave an undetermined amount of land on Wiccacone Swamp and Round Pocoson to James McGlohon on December 5, 1727, "for love and affection I bear James McGlohon son of Jeremiah McGlohon." William Williford, Edward Mashborne, and John Early were witnesses (DB B, p. 372). Evidently James was his grandson.
3. On February 10, 1733, Jermiah McGlohon bought 100 acres at the lower side of an island on Loosing Swamp from John Glover and his wife, Mary, for 45 pounds. John Bryan and Lewis Bryan were witnesses (DB D, p. 89).

4. James Maglohon bought 200 acres on Wiccacon Swamp and Wiccacon Creek from Joseph Parker of Chowan Precinct for 40 pounds on May 15, 1734. The witnesses were John White Jr. and Nicholas Fairless (DB D, p. 82).
5. On August 5, 1734, Jeremiah Maglahon bought 100 acres on Loosing Swamp from William McHenry for 50 pounds. The land adjoined that of Robert Evans "along a concluded Line between Henry Bradley and Edward Tidmon..." John Thomas and John Mitchell witnessed the transaction (DB D, p. 142).
6. James McGlohon sold 317 acres for 20 pounds on February 12, 1738, to Elias Stallings of Chowan Precinct. This is identified as the land he bought on February 9, 1726 (No. 1 above). John Wynns and Samuel Allen were witnesses (DB E, p. 387). A son of James evidently married a daughter of Elias Stallings. Elias Stallings's will (Bertie County Wills, C. R. 10.801.1 at State Archives) names a grandson, John McGlauhon (or Mackglohon). The will was dated March 7, 1763.
7. On May 20, 1753, James McGlohon sold 140 acres on Wiccacon Creek to James McGlohon for 3 pounds. "Jeremiah McGlohon Son of Jerimiah MacGlohon deceased of Bertie County--to James McGlohon son of James McGlohon..." Joseph Perry and Thomas Yates were witnesses (DB G, p. 528). The heading of the abstract does not agree with the quote above. The heading as given is "JAMES MCGLOHON, son of Jerimah to JAMES MCGLOHON, son of James" (Vol. 5, p. 328).

James Maglohon was a jurat at the August Court in 1740 (Vol. 4, p. 226).

James Maglauhan Jr. and Malichi Maglauhan are on a 1733 list of early livestock owners of Bertie County. Malachi Maglohon is also on the 1735 list.

One James McGlohon made his will on July 4, 1750, and it was probated on September 4, 1750. His wife was named Margerit. The will mentions sons-in-law: Christopher Hollyman, William Roads, and Samuel Hollyman. Also, a daughter, Alce Meglohon, is named. Witnesses were Wm. Williford, Wm. Rasbuery, and J. Parly. It was proven before Gab. Johnston at Eden House (Grimes, Abstract of North Carolina Wills, p. 246).

There are some estate papers for a James McGlohon in the Bertie County Estate Papers at the State Archives in Raleigh. Two orphans are named in James's estate: John and Sarah. Edmund McGlohon became the administrator on January 25, 1758; and John Howell obtained a guardian bond for John on January 28, 1758. A court order to divide the estate equally between the two children was made on October 2, 175_ (date not clear). Although there was an inventory of the estate for 1750, this may not have been the same James as the one in the will above.

In the 1790 Census there were three by the surname listed in Bertie County: (1) William Glawhorn--1 male, 2 males under 16, 3 females, 2 free persons, and 1 slave; (2) Jno. McGlawhorn--1 male, 2 males under 16, 3 females, and 9 slaves; and (3) Wm. McGlawhorn--1 male, 2 males under 16, 4 females, 1 free person, and 1 slave. Of these, only John will be noted.

Most likely he was the same as the orphan son of James noted above. He died before February 10, 1801, because on that date William Turner was appointed guardian of Turner McGlauhon, orphan of John McGlauhon. He had two other minor children: James and Sarah. From the 1790 and 1800 Census records, it appears that he had four sons and three daughters. John's wife was named Sarah, and she might have been a Turner.

John was a captain in the Revolutionary War. He enlisted on November 28, 1776, and was appointed captain of the 7th Regiment in the North Carolina Brigade. He resigned October 12, 1777 (State Records, Vol. 16, p. 1114, and Vol. 10, p. 944). John lived in Windsor in the 1800 Census.

Hertford County was formed in 1759 from Chowan, Bertie, and Northampton Counties. The McGlohons (and other variations of the name in Hertford) were related to those of Bertie. The 1790 Census lists three: Elisha McGlauh, George McGlauh, and James McGlauh.

Because the same names appear in the early records of the Chowan Precinct and Bertie County that later appear in Pitt--such as Curlee, Jackson, Parker, etc.--the writer believes that descendants of the names migrated to Pitt. Also, the same McGlohon names reoccur here: James, George, John, Luke, etc.

JOHN MCGLOHON

The name of John McGlohon with various spellings is found in a number of eighteenth century records in North Carolina; but it is impossible to determine how many are the same person since a person living in one county might have owned land or have made transactions in another county. Also, deeds of land in one county are sometimes recorded in another county. In addition, during the period when new counties were being formed, the land in one county might later be in another county.

It is interesting to note that although there were Johns in Pitt and Johnston County records at the time, only two John's are listed in the 1790 Census: Jno. McGlawhorn in Bertie County and John Lawhorn in Fayette District, Cumberland County.

The earliest record of a John was found in the Beaufort and Hyde Precinct. A John Lawhon witnessed the will of Edward Cannon on June 10, 1729. Edward's sons were Edward; Dennis; William; Henry; David; and John, who received his father's plantation (Grimes, Abstract of North Carolina Wills, p. 62). Some of these same Cannon names appear later in Pitt County.

At a Council held at Newbern on April 4, 1745, John Lawhorn was on a list of petitions read for land warrants. John's petition was for 400 acres, and the last county named before the "do" (ditto) was Edgecombe County (Colonial Records, Vol. 4, p. 759). Although there is no record in the Land Grant Office of a land grant for John in Edgecombe County, there was a land grant to John Lawhon of Johnston County for 400 acres on April 20, 1745. Evidently this is the same John, who lived in Edgecombe for awhile and moved to Johnston County.

There are several deeds registered in the Edgecombe County records for John. Edgecombe County was formed from Bertie County in 1741. On February 14, 1745, John Lawhon was a witness to land sold by John Taylor of Edgecombe County to Thomas Horn of Edgecombe. The land, sold for 15 pounds current money of Virginia, was located on the south side of "Tosneott swamp" (DB 5, p. 452). Several days later, on February 26, 1745, John Lawhon Jr., along with Samuel Williams and Arthur Taylor, witnessed a deed transaction of land located on the south side of the Tar River "above Green's path" from Jacob Braswell of Edgecombe to Joseph John Clinch of Surry County, Virginia (DB 5, p. 523). Note that these deeds occurred shortly before John obtained the land grant in Johnston County on April 20, 1745.

The next record which was found in Edgecombe records states that John Lawhon of Johnston County sold to William Pridgeon (county not identified) on Sept. 21, 1751, for 5 pounds of Virginia currency 250 acres on the south side of Tar River, joining Michael D_____ and the river. The land is identified as "a grant to John Lawhon 20 Apr. 1745" (DB 4, p. 260). Although this deed was registered in the Edgecombe County Court Minutes of May 1752, the land was located in Johnston County, which was formed in 1746 from Craven County. Probably there was no court held in Johnston County before 1752, hence the registration in Edgecombe.

Only two other records of the name were found in Edgecombe records. A Charles Maclaughlan (the same name?) witnessed a deed of trust from Patrick McDowall of Edgecombe, merchant, to John Gibson of the City of Philadelphia, merchant, on September 3, 1766, for 650 acres near the Town of Tarborough (DB D, p. 97). The other was a will of Elizabeth Lohon on November 27, 1788, which was probated at the February Court of 1791, in which she left all of her estate to her friend and executor James Coker Jr.

It appears that none of this family remained in Edgecombe County very long, but their record continues in Johnston County until the present. On April 26, 1754, John Lawhon obtained a land grant of 503 acres of land on the south side of Neuse River and both sides of Swift Creek.

Milton Ray Lawhorn of Garner, North Carolina, compiled a book of the Johnston County Lawhorns entitled, Lawhon Family, 1742-1977, and Strickland Relations. He completely ignored any names spelled with "Mc." The name of William Lawhon, whose deed transactions he traces from Johnston and Dobbs to Wayne County is the William McGlohon in Wayne County in the 1790 Census. Dobbs County was formed from Johnston County in 1759, and Wayne County was formed in 1787. He very likely remained in the same general area. William Lawhon was the son of one of the John's.

There are a number of deed transactions for John Lawhorn in the Johnston County and Dobbs County records which Milton Ray has not noted in his book; but since no direct connection has been found between them and Pitt County, they are not included here either.

Craven-Pitt County

The earliest record of the name found in Craven County records is a deed to Mary Laughan. On May 7, 1742, George the Second granted Mary Laughan 100 acres of land in Craven County on the south side of Swift Creek between Henry Cannon's and Henry Smith's lands (Land Grant Book 5, p. 428, no. 547, Land Grant Office, Raleigh). In April 1750, Mary Laughon sold this land to Hugh Pugh for 11 pounds. There was then a yearly rent of 4 shillings to the king (Craven Co. DB 1, p. 395). Henry Cannon witnessed the deed.

This land later shows up in the Pitt County deed records. Hugh Pugh Jr. sold the land to John Burney on September 25, 1792, for 135 pounds (Pitt Co. DB M, p. 655). David Smith owned the adjoining land at this time. On September 15, 1801, Lewis Cox Bryan sold the 100 acres plus 50 acres to John Stokes for 375 pounds (DB P, p. 50). These deeds are noted to show that the land was located in present-day Pitt County.

No other records for Mary were found. It is not known whether she was a widow and died shortly after the time she sold the land, or moved on to some other place. She might have been the mother or wife of one of the Johns.

The Craven County Court Minutes for 1767 record an accounts sale of the estate of John McGlaughon, deceased. On Friday, July 10, 1767, an accounts sale of the estate was turned into the court by Richard Cogdell, Esq., late sheriff and ordered to be recorded (p. 39 of the Minutes, C. R. 028.301.11 at State Archives).

There was a Jno. McGlahon on the Beaufort County List of Taxables for 1755.

John Hodge Sr., Jno. McGlahon, Henry Hodges and two negroes were listed together as 3 whites and 2 blacks for a total of 5. This may have been the John of Craven and Pitt whose record follows. John Laughan was listed on the Craven County tax list for 1769 for one white tax. Three deeds for land have been located for John.

On July 3, 1762, John Mcglaughon bought 100 acres of land on the north side of Little Contentnea Creek for 20 pounds from Abel Deal of Craven County. This land joined that of Peter Manners, Levin Alderson, and a tract taken up and patented by Joseph Jackson on July 7, 1750. Since it was in King George III's reign, he had to pay the yearly quit rent of four shillings proclamation money (Craven Co. DB 11, p. 97).

On November 14, 1771, John Glawhon got a land grant in Craven County for 100 acres on the east side of Little Contentnea Creek joining Alderson's and Jackson's lands and "including his own improvement" (Land Grant Book 22, p. 348, in Land Grant Office, Raleigh).

On December 30, 1777, John Maglohorn of Craven County bought one plantation or tract of land containing 100 acres from Samuel Pope of Dobbs County for 60 pounds proclamation money. This land, which was a part of a patent formerly granted to Joseph Jackson, was on the north side of Little Contentnea Creek joining Thomas Philips's corner, John Rountree and Jeremiah Maglohorn were witnesses (Craven Co. DB 23, p. 55).

John Megahorn was on the tax list for Pitt County in 1786 for 300 acres of land, 3 white polls, and 1 horse. The three deeds noted above could account for the 300 acres of land on the tax list.

On March 24, 1787, John McGlohon bought a negro girl named Fan, 17 years old, for 42 pounds from Mary Cannon and Caleb Cannon. The negro was given to Mary by Jacob Blount, her uncle (Pitt Co., DB N, p. 95).

On June 9, 1789, John McGlohon bought goods for 20 pounds from George Trulock. The goods consisted of 1 feather bed and furniture, 1 linen wheel, 1 woolen wheel, 2 chests, and 6 pewter plates. Jeremiah McGlohon and Luke McGlohon were witnesses (Pitt Co. DB N, p. 95).

Who was the Luke who witnessed this deed? He could not have been George's son Luke. Was he John's son or John's brother? This is the only record of his name in the Pitt County records. It could not have been the Luke of Hertford County because his age in the 1850 Census was given as 58. Evidently, the Luke who witnessed the deed moved on or died. There is a Luke McGlauhorn listed in the Jefferson County, Georgia, Census for 1830, but his name was not found in the earlier census records for Georgia.

The 1786 tax list would indicate that John had two sons at least 16 years old, or at least two males other than himself in his household. However, a land grant for 98 acres, which George McGlohon bought on January 20, 1785, states that the land adjoined the lands of George McGlohon, Jeremiah McGlohon, and John McGlohon. The land was not surveyed until 1801 (Grant Book L, p. 105, Pitt Co.). Since John, George, and Jeremiah had land at this time, one wonders why John was the only one on the tax list. Also, no record was found as to how George and Jeremiah obtained the land. Perhaps the fact that the land was not surveyed until 1801 could account for the description that is given. At that time George had the land he bought from John in 1798.

According to one story heard, three brothers came over and settled in Craven County. Why do the legends always have three brothers? If Luke is included, and they were brothers, there would have been four. The writer believes that the family had an earlier colonial beginning in North Carolina than this generation. If they were brothers, they might have been sons of the John who died about 1767.

Two other land transactions were found for John in the Pitt County deeds. On April 27, 1798, he sold 200 acres for 100 pounds to Jeremiah McGlohon. The land was part of a patent formerly granted to Joseph Jackson Sr. William Broom and George McGlohon witnessed the transaction (DB O, p. 207). On the same day he sold 200 acres for 100 pounds to George McGlohon, and William Broom and Jeremiah McGlohon were witnesses (DB O, p. 215).

John died about 1800 or 1801. William Broom, executor for John McGlohon, deceased, sold David Clark two negroes for 280 pounds on May 5, 1801. Robert Cannon was the witness (DB O, p. 526). No other deeds for his estate were found, probably because he had sold all of it to George and Jeremiah. The executor's record was probably lost in the courthouse fire of 1858.

GEORGE MCGLOHON FAMILY (1582)

GEORGE MCGLOHON is the first ancestor of the writer who can be identified with certainty. Because John McGlohon sold the same amount of land to George and Jeremiah McGlohon for the same price on the same day (DB O, p. 207 and p. 215), George and Jeremiah may have been the sons of John. It is also possible that the three were brothers.

George's name first appears in Pitt County records for a land grant in 1785. In the 1790 Census his household consisted of three females; so he probably had two daughters at this time. From the census records it would appear that he was probably married twice and had 3 daughters and 6 sons--3 sons by the second wife. The oldest female in the 1810 Census was over 45 years old; the oldest in the 1820 Census was between 26 and 45. If he was married twice, his second wife was named MARY--identified in a deed to Thomas and a marriage record of Aaron. In the 1840 Census Mary Lawhorn was between 50 and 60 with one male 15-20 years old.

According to Mary McGlohon Smith's records of the family, Luke McGlohon's mother was a Stocks. George died about 1831; and Mary died August 7, 1844, if she is the Mary McLawhon (he consistently spelled the name this way in his records) on a list J. L. Jackson copied from an old notebook at Ed Harrington's near Grifton and Hanrahan. Mary might have been a Harrington and somehow related to Moses Harrington whose name is noted in some of the deeds.

A number of deed transactions were found for George in the Pitt County deed books and are abstracted.

Grant Book L, p. 105--On Jan. 20, 1785, George McGlohon bought 98 acres of land on the east side of Little Contentnea Creek adjoining the lands of George McGlohon, Jeremiah McGlohon, and John McGlohon (patent) from the State of North Carolina for 10 pounds. The land was not surveyed until Oct. 6, 1801. Sherw. Hines was the surveyor and Thomas Cannon and Caleb Cannon were chain-bearers.

DB N, p. 151--On Apr. 11, 1795, George Macglohon sold a 15-year-old negro girl named Minty to John Frizzle for 95 pounds. C. Jenkins and Jesse Rountree were witnesses.

DB O, p. 215--George McGlohon bought 200 acres from John McGlohon for 100 pounds on April 27, 1798. The land was located on the north side of Little Contentnea adjoining Joseph Jackson and Jeremiah McGlohon (patent) and was two patents formerly granted to John McGlohon. The witnesses were Wm. Broom and Jeremiah McGlohon.

DB O, p. 534--On Feb. 7, 1801, George McGlowhon bought a total of 375 acres (several tracts), formerly owned by John Curlee, from Thomas Cannon for 500 silver dollars. Located on the east side of the west prong of Swift Creek and Cypress Swamp, one of the tracts adjoined Thomas Braxton's and Paul Herrinton's lands; and another adjoined Paul Dail and Helens (Helling?) line. Caleb Cannon and John Stocks were witnesses.

DB P, p. 186--On Feb. 15, 1802, George McGlohon sold the 200 acres purchased from John McGlohon (Pat. 1771) to John Jackson for $700. Shadrack Jackson was the witness.

DB P, p. 412--George McGlohon bought a negro on Mar. 2, 1803, for 146 pounds from William Moye, administrator for David Clark. Hardy Johnson and Joel Moye witnessed the transaction.

DB Q, p. 90--On Oct. 4, 1803, George McGlawhon bought 41 acres for an undetermined amount from Thomas Cannon adjoining John Deal and John Curlee. John Stocks and Sherard Hines were witnesses.

DB Q, p. 91--In Jan. 1804 George McGlawhon bought from Thomas Braxton and Hemrick Braxton 50 acres adjoining Ephraim Herrington and Sherard Hines for $50.

DB S, p. 348--George McGlohon sold a negro on Aug. 15, 1811, to John Cannon for $150. Sarah Hines and Sherwood Hines were witnesses.

DB BB, p. 234--On Oct. 9, 1817, George McGlohon bought 12-1/2 acres on the east side of Swift Creek adjoining Ringold land and McGlohon's corner from James Ringold for 10 pounds. Sherw. Hines and John Ringold witnessed the transaction.

DB EE, p. 154--On Dec. 4, 1819, George Meglohon sold to "Looky Lohon, his son," 124 acres on the east side of Swift Creek and the north side of Cedar Swamp adjoining Jn. Helling for 100 pounds. William Rountree and David Knight were witnesses. (This was Luke.)

DB BB, p. 323--On Dec. 11, 1819, George Meglohon sold to John Meglohon, his son, 5 acres on the east side of Swift Creek and west side of "the great slash" adjoining Samuel Cannon, John Duts, and Ephraigm Herington for 120 pounds. William Rountree and Jonathan Mcglohon were witnesses. (This was probably 75 acres. See DB CC, p. 476.)

DB DD, p. 231--On Oct. 18, 1824, George gave to "my beloved son Thomas McGlohon" for natural love and affection a tract of land containing 100 acres on Swift Creek adjoining Moses Herrington and Cannon's corner. This land was part of the tract of land on which George lived. He excepted the use and privilege of the cleared land during his life and also during the life of his wife, Mary McGlohon. Moses Herrington and Noah Bedford were witnesses.

In 1975 a copy of an original deed concerning the estate of George McGlohon was obtained from Mrs. R. L. (Rachel) Lewis of 1302 Castle Street, Wilmington, North Carolina. The deed had been registered in Deed Book FF, page 318; but this book was lost in the 1858 fire of the Pitt County Courthouse. On Feb. 8, 1832, Sheriff James L. Clark sold at public auction 280 acres of land which had descended to the heirs of George McLaron, deceased, to Moses Herrington for $300. One third of the land was excepted during the lifetime of Mary McLaron, widow of George, as her dower. Those named in the deed were William English and his wife Eliza, Isaac Turner and his wife Fanny, Nancy McLaron, Luke McLaron, Thomas McLaron, and other heirs of George McLaron. (See Appendix A for a copy of the deed.) John is not named. He must have been dead at this time, or he might have moved away and thus was included in the "other heirs." The three younger sons would have been minors.

Definite proof of five of George's children is given in the deeds noted above. The deed to John names him as a son. The marriage record of Aaron McGlohon and Mary Frances Harris gives his parents as George and Mary. That leaves only Jeremiah and Harvey with no record of proof. J. L. Jackson's records name them as George's sons; and Bertha Dail Griffin, a granddaughter of Harvey, called Frederick McGlohon, grandson of Luke, "Cousin Fred."

The record of George's family follows:

I. ELIZA MCGLOHON--m. WILLIAM ENGLISH. The only English family in the 1850

- Census of Pitt County is an Elizabeth English, 57, the head of household No. 106. The age would be too young; however, ages are not always given correctly and sometimes are not easy to read. Elizabeth Craft, 30, and James Craft, 15, are listed in this household.
- II. FANNY MCGLOHON--m. ISAAC TURNER. No further record was found. They are not in the 1850 Census; however, there is a George Turner, 26, a laborer, who was living in house No. 141 with Josiah Willoughby, 24, a farmer.
- III. NANCY MCGLOHON--b. before 1800. She was named in the deed of sale of George's land above in 1832. On January 21, 1834, a Nancy McGlohon made a deed of gift to her son HENRY MCGLOHON of the following: "one feather bed and bedstead & furniture one chest one Iron pot one spider one fruter dish one do earthern one saw one woolen wheel & cards one note of hand against Luke McGlohon and Benjamin Stocks for $92.00 Interest from 1832 & one loom...with the exception...of the use of the above articles to myself during my natural life" (DB GG, p. 300). The deed was witnessed by C. J. Rountree and Caleb Cannon. If this is the same Nancy, she either was not married or married another McGlohon. Neither Nancy or Henry are in the 1850 Census of Pitt County, nor a previous census, as a head of a household. The Nancy of the deed could have been the widow of another related McGlohon.
- IV. JOHN MCGLOHON--In the 1820 Census his household consisted of 2 males under 10, 1 male 26-45, 1 female under 10, and 1 female 16-26. On Dec. 11, 1819, his father sold him 5 (?) acres of land for 120 pounds (DB BB, p. 323). On Jan. 31, 1823, the land (75 acres) of John McLahone, which was said to be mortgaged to Charles Jenkins, was sold by James Sheppard, sheriff, for $94.15 to pay debt to W. Hanrahan after John lost suit against him. The land adjoined Samuel Cannon, John Deal, and Ephraim Herrington (DB CC, p. 476). He witnessed a deed from Thomas McGlohon to Moses Harrington on Mar. 18, 1826. No further record was found. He either died or moved out of the county before the 1830 Census.
- V. LUKE MCGLOHON--d. May 1850 after 14 days of an unknown illness. The 1850 Mortality Schedule gave his age as 47; but the tombstone record says that he was about 60, which may be more nearly correct. He married MARY (MOLSEY) STOCKS (?). See the chapter on his family.
- VI. THOMAS MCGLOHON--b. about 1795 and died after 1881. His name might have been James Thomas. The name in the 1870 Census appears to be James. He married SARAH, who was 55 in the 1850 Census and died before the next census. She might have been a Kittrell. A John Allen Kitrell, 16, a laborer, was listed in their household in 1850 and might have been her relative.

Four deeds, plus one unrecorded one, were found for Thomas. However, there must have been others which have not been found, since these showed that he sold more than he received.

On Oct. 19, 1824, Thomas McGlohon was given 100 acres of land on Swift Creek adjoining Moses Herrington and Cannon's corner by his father (DB DD, p. 231).

On Jan. 5, 1826, Thomas McGlohorn sold 12 acres of land to Luke McGlohorn for $30. The land, situated on the south side of Cedar Swamp, was part of the land George deeded to Thomas. Moses Herington witnessed the transaction. This deed was never recorded. Mrs. R. L. Lewis of Wilmington had the original in 1975.

On Mar. 18, 1826, Thomas McGlohon sold 40 acres on the east side of the west prong of Swift Creek adjoining George McGlawhon, Herrington's corner, and Hillary Cannon to Moses Harrington for $125. Luke McGlohon and John McGlohon were witnesses (DB DD, p. 251).

Thomas McGlohon sold 47 acres--"...the tract of land whic I the Said Thomas Meglorhorne give in a deed intrust to Charles Green trustee dated the 26th day of May 1832 to Satisfy certain claims which the Said Moses Harrington held against me..."--on the east side of the west prong of Swift Creek adjoining the lands of Benjamin Tripp, Moses Harrington, and near the dwelling house of Marah Meglorhorn to Moses Harrington for $105 on Feb. 14, 1845. Joseph Ringgold and John W. Harper were witnesses (DB LL, p. 347).

On Mar. 10, 1881, Thomas McLawhorn and William M. Benson and his wife Martha Ann Benson sold to Isaac A. Sugg for $10 a tract of 100 acres adjoining E. C. Carmon, Craven Sumrell, John Pearce, Ben McLawhorn, Jerry McLawhorn, Biggs Herrington, Thomas McLawhorn and Martha Ann Benson, it "being 2/3s of the land known as the Thomas McLawhorn tract" (DB L4, p. 267).

- A. MARTHA ANN (PATSY) MCGLOHON--27 in 1850 Census; on Mar. 13, 1857, m. WILLIAM BENSON.
1. JOHN THOMAS BENSON--b. Mar. 1851; d. Mar. 26, 1923, bur. in country; on Feb. 5, 1880, m. MARY ANN MCLAWHORN (b. Apr. 1853; d. Sept. 27, 1925, bur. Family Cem.), dau. of Aaron McGlohon and Priscilla Worthington.

 - b. GEORGE BENSON--b. Mar. 1885.
 - c. Another child--d. y.
- B. PAULINA (SELINA?) MCGLOHON--24 in 1850 Census. She is listed in her father's household through 1870, but Thomas is listed alone in the 1880 Census.
- C. SARAH (SALLY) MCGLOHON--22 in 1850 Census. She is listed in her father's household through 1870.
- VII. JEREMIAH MCGLOHON--b. Oct. 29, 1818. On January 28, 1844, he married SUSAN ELIZABETH ELLIS (b. Jan. 28, 1824; d. May 1, 1899, bur. Sumrell-McLawhorn Cem., as named by St. Amand), the daughter of Eleazar Ellis and Nancy Bonner Blount. Jeremiah was active in the Hancock Baptist Church. Sometime between 1830 and 1840, the church split over the missions question; but the two groups used the same building until about 1867. In October 1852 "Jeremiah McLohon" was ordained as a deacon of the church, most probably the missionary faction. When the missionary faction was reconstituted in 1881, he was a member of the church, known as Antioch Baptist Church and located about one mile south of Winterville. The church was later moved into Winterville and renamed Winterville Missionary Baptist Church.

Since there were a number of Jeremiahs, it is somewhat difficult to distinguish who is who in the deed records; therefore, no attempt has been made to trace his deed transactions. However, he was a farmer and owned some land. He also served as a commissioner in Pitt County. He died on August 11, 1894, and was buried in the Sumrell-McLawhorn Cemetery on rural road No. 1112 west of Ayden. His name is spelled "McGlohon" on his tombstone. The record of Jeremiah and Susan's children follow.

Harvey was a farmer and owned land on Hencoop Swamp in Pitt County. In 1850 his property was valued at $118, and he owned one slave. No attempt has been made to trace all of his deed transactions, but on June 24, 1854, Harvey McGlohon bought 131 acres east of Hencoop Swamp and in the fork of the said swamp adjoining Rountree's corner, Jonathan McGlohon's land, and C. Rogers line for $275 from Menan Bwell (DB 00, p. 59). The land was known as Lot No. 2 in the division of the lands of James Powell, deceased. William Forrest and William B. Hartsfield witnessed the deed. He sold part of this land to Jonathan McGlohon. On July 17, 1869, Jonathan McGlohon Sr. sold to Jeremiah McGlohon Jr. 20 acres, "known as land that the said Johathan McGlohon sen. bought of Harvy Meglohon," (DB TT, p. 196). This Jonathan McGlohon was the son of Jeremiah McGlohon, who was perhaps the brother of George. The senior might have been attached to distinguish him from Johnathan, the son of Luke, since he did not have a son named Jonathan.

In 1876 the family moved from Pitt County and settled in Craven County near Vanceboro. Harvey and Nancy had 13 children.

Luke McGlohorn Cem.). If Rebecca died at age 45, the above tombstone record of her death must be wrong, since that would make her being born in 1854. She was 19 in the 1870 Census; that would make her birth date 1851. Since she was older than Mary Ann, 1851 would be more nearly correct.

LUKE MCGLOHON FAMILY

LUKE MCGLOHON was probably the fifth child of George McGlohon and _____ Stocks (?). It is difficult to determine whether he or Thomas was the elder since Luke died before the census records gave any ages by single years. He died in May 1850 after 14 days of an unknown illness. The 1850 Mortality Schedule gave his age as 47; but the tombstone record (Pitt County Gravestone Records, Vol. 2, p. 52) states that he was about 60. If 47 was his correct age, then Thomas was older.

He married MARY (MOLSEY) BRAXTON (?) probably early in 1821. According to Mary McGlohon Smith's records, Molsey was a Braxton, the daughter of Lacy Braxton and the sister of Council Braxton. However, on the death certificate of her daughter, Louisa McGlohon Byrd, her name is given as MARY STOCKS. Louisa's husband gave the information and should have known Mary's maiden name. If she was a Braxton and Council was her brother, the Hannah Braxton (aged 73) in the next household to Council in the 1850 Census might have been her mother.

The only record found of Lacy Braxton was as a free holder on the jury that made the division of the land for the dower of Elizabeth Stocks, widow of Benjamin Stocks, on Nov. 25, 1834 (DB GG, p. 350-51). He is not listed in any of the census records of Pitt County. John Braxton was also on the list of free holders. Elizabeth Stocks was the daughter of Noah Tison. Since the name of Benjamin Stocks appears in several records with Luke, it seems that they were probably related in some way.

Both Luke and Mary are buried in what some call the Byrd Cemetery (named Carroll-Cox by St. Amand) located on the road numbered 1131 southwest of Winterville. Since Luke's is the oldest known grave, it should be named the Luke McGlohon Cemetery. Hereafter, however, it will be referred to as the Byrd Cemetery. A C. C. Braxton and a C. C. Braxton Jr. are also buried in this cemetery; however, this was Christopher Columbus (Tip) Braxton.

Mary's tombstone record by St. Amand gives only the information that she died in September at the age of 73. She was 45 in the 1850 Census and 65 in the 1870 Census. Therefore, she was born about 1805 and died in September 1878.

A number of deed transactions were found for Luke and are abstracted:

DB DD-EE, p. 154--On Dec. 4, 1819, Luke ("Looky Lohon, his son") bought 124 acres on the east side of Swift Creek and the north side of Cedar Swamp adjoining Jn. Helling from George Meglohon for 100 pounds. William Rountree and David Kight were witnesses.

DB DD-EE, p. 156--On Jan. 22, 1821, Look McGlohon sold the 124 acres he bought from his father above to Cullen Tripp for 200 pounds. Witnesses were Spier Witherington and Ophinia Tripp.

On Jan. 5, 1826, Luke McGlohon, bought 12 acres of land from Thomas McGlohon for $30. The land, situated on the south side of Cedar Swamp, was part of the land George deeded to Thomas in 1824 (DB DD, p. 231). Moses Herington witnessed the transaction. This deed was never recorded. Mrs. R. L.

Lewis of Wilmington had the original in 1975.

DB GG, p. 301--On Jan. 15, 1833, Luke McGlohon bought from Benjamin Stocks 53 acres on the east side of Swift Creek adjoining the lands of Abram Cannon, John Stocks, and Joseph Ringgold for $188. Joseph Ringgold and Roderick Carroll were witnesses.

DB II, p. 269--On July 16, 1840, Luke McLaughorn mortgaged the 53 acres above ("one tract of land on which Luke McLawhorn now lives") plus 1 bay horse (15 years old), 1 sorrel mare (3 years old), 3 sows and 18 shoats, household and kitchen furniture. McK. W. H. Sumrell paid 10 shillings for the deed of trust for the benefit of Wm. Bernard, who had two notes against Luke for $64.78 and $20.65 on Mar. 27, 1839, and one note against Thomas McLaughorn for $86.90 on Mar. 23, 1835, for which Luke stood security. Samuel Bell witnessed the transaction. (Note: No record has been found as to what happened to the mortgage, whether it was paid off or defaulted. In any event, Luke was able to purchase more land in 1842.)

DB MM, p. 387--On Sept. 15, 1842, Luke McGlawhorn bought from James Ringgold 406 acres on the east side of the west prong of Swift Creek adjoining Arthur Tripp and Joseph Ringgold, Cedar Swamp, Hellings corner, Hardee Tripp, Benjamin Tripp, Phelix Braxton, Edith Tucker, Spier Wetherington, Roderick Carrol, and Luke McGlawhorn for $500. Alfred Stocks and Ira Evans were witnesses. (This deed was not registered until the May term of Court 1850, probably after Luke's death.)

DB MM, p. 465--On Dec. 21, 1850, Lewis McGlawhorn, administrator for Luke McGlawhorn, deceased, sold 284 acres to Benjamin Tripp for $401. This was the land Luke bought from Joseph Ringgold. Willie Nobles and J. C. Albritton were witnesses.

DB MM, p. 520--On Dec. 21, 1850, Lewis McGlawhorn, administrator of Luke McGlawhorn, deceased, exposed to public sale the estates right in the dower laid off to Mary McGlawhorn, widow, who was the last and highest bidder at $28.00. Simon P. Nobles witnessed the deed.

DB VV, p. 344--On Jan. 1, 1870, Mary McGlohorn gave to her daughters, Arcena McGlohon and Louiza McGlohon 70 acres adjoining G. B. Ellis, lines of Lacy McGlohon, B. F. Stocks, and Sarah Nelson.

Luke and Mary had at least eleven children--six sons and five daughters. Their records follow.

- B. JOHNATHAN MCGLOHON--b. about 1825 (25 in 1850 Census); d. about 1892. T. J. McLawhorn was appointed administrator for a Johnathan McLawhorn on Mar. 9, 1892 (Exr. Book 1, p. 389). He married SUSAN (SUKIE) WORTHINGTON, listed as 19 years old in the 1850 Census, daughter of Robert A. Worthington and Sarah (Sally).

Two deed transactions are noted. On May 12, 1881, Jonathan McGlawhorn bought 200 acres for $1,000 from Samuel Cory and his wife, George Ann S. Cory. The land, known as the Beddard land, was located on Long Branch on the south side of Tar River adjoining the land of Jerry Worthington (DB A4, p. 526). He defaulted on the payments of the mortgage; therefore, the land was sold at the courthouse on Apr. 5, 1884, to Harry Skinner for $1,300 (DB L4, p. 137). There may have been other deeds.

Johnathan and Sukie had at least five sons and five daughters. Their records follow:

Sheppard witnessed the transaction (DB 00, p. 604).
- On Jan. 27, 1862, he enlisted in the Civil War as a private in Company I, 44th Regiment. He died in the war. Louis McGlawhorn was appointed administrator (Book Exr-1, p. 64) of his estate on Feb. 15, 1873. E. NANCY MCGLOHON--b. about 1830 (20 in 1850 Census); d. in 1860's; m. LEWIS CANNON. Mary McGlohon Smith's records state that she married a White, but it was her daughter who married the White. The death certificate of Erastus Cannon gives his mother's name as Nancy McLawhorn.

Louis H. Mandarin in North Carolina Troops, 1861-1865: A Roster, gives the following account of the Civil War record of Lewis Cannon, who was in Company G, 8th Regiment:

Born in Pitt Co, where he resided as a laborer prior to enlisting in Pitt Co. at age 44, Aug. 28, 1861, for the war. Captured at Roanoke Island on Feb. 8, 1862, and paroled at Elizabeth City on Feb. 21, 1862. Exchanged in Aug. 1862. Present or accounted for until he deserted on Nov. 24, 1862. Rejoined the company on Jan. 29, 1863, but deserted again at Kinston on Feb. 7, 1864. Rejoined the company prior to June 1, 1864, when he was wounded in the left leg and captured at Cold Harbor, Va. Hospitalized at Washington, D. C., until released on July 5, 1865, after taking the Oath of Allegiance.

Evidently he died soon after he was released because his grandson, Richard Erastus Cannon, said that his grandfather died in the Civil War.

On Mar. 18, 1884, Arcena McGlohon, Benjamin Byrd, and his wife Louisa sold one acre of land adjoining the land of Richard McGlohon to Richard McGlohon and Amos G. Cox for $20. John C. Cox was the witness (DB G4, p. 86). When the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad Co. wanted to build a branch line through the area, Arcena sold a 135-foot right of way to the company for $1.00 and the privileges that having the railroad would bring (DB D5, p. 57, Feb. 28, 1890). On May 5, 1892, she sold her half undivided interest in the land to B. S. Byrd for $10 and an annual payment of $5 for life (DB G5, p. 496).

I. LUKE MCGLOHORN--b. Mar. 21, 1839; d. Aug. 9, 1911, bur. Luke McGlohorn Cem. (as named by St. Amand, but also called Manning Cem.) on rural road No. 1116 west of Bethany Free Will Baptist Church; C. S. A. Private in Company D, 3rd Regiment, enlisted July 15, 1862; m. 1st BETTIE A. E. (RITTY) MANNING (b. June 11, 1830; d. Nov. 22, 1898, bur. Luke McGlohorn Cem.), dau. of Linington and Andrilla Manning; m. 2nd, on Mar. 7, 1899, MARY C. WORTHINGTON SPEIGHT (49 when m.; d. Feb. 8, 1931, bur. Family Cem.), dau. of Gideon Worthington and Nancy Harper. Luke and Ritty had at least 4 children., but none lived to be very old. All were buried in the family cemetery.

Luke was a Free Will Baptist minister. In addition to the churches he served as pastor, he was active in the work of the conference. In the late 1890's and early 1900's, he served on the board of directors of the Free Will Baptist Press in Ayden.

In Luke's day many people did not believe in using musical instruments in the church. Annie McGlohon Abbott remembered attending Bethany Free Will Baptist Church, where Luke was a member, when she was a girl. Since Luke was a minister, he probably was able to attend services at his home church very seldom. In any event, Bethany had acquired an organ. When it was discovered that Luke was present on that occasion, some questioned whether the organ should be played. However, Cricket Dail decided to play it anyway. As soon as she began to play, according to Annie, Luke got up and went outside and stood under a tree until the service was over. He then moved his membership to Reedy Branch Church. Annie also remembered hearing her father, Lorenzo, say that his father, Lewis, would not allow him to play his fiddle in the house--that he had to go to the barn to play. Whether he did not believe in having musical instruments, or did not want to hear him practice his fiddle, is uncertain. It was probably the latter since he allowed him to have it.

LEWIS MCGLOHON FAMILY

LEWIS MCGLOHON, son of Luke McGlohon and Mary (Molsey) Stocks (?), was born December 29, 1821, and died October 27, 1901. About 1846 he married MARTHA ANN (PATSY) WORTHINGTON, daughter of Spier Worthington and Rebecca McGlohon (or Loving?). Patsy was born June 1, 1829, and died November 3, 1892.

Lewis was a farmer and lived in the area of Pitt County about one and one-half miles west of present-day Winterville on what is now rural road No. 1126. At first he must have lived on the north side of the road. LaRue McLawhorn Castelloe remembers her father's stating that he was born in a house up a lane north of the road. (See also DB Q4, p. 211.) When Lewis died, he was living in the house which still stands on the south side of the road; the lane which leads to the family cemetery is on the west side of the house.

Over the years Lewis and Martha bought or received around 900 acres of land, giving or selling all but one tract of 69 acres to their children. He began by buying 90 acres for $200 from Warren Tucker (DB LL, p. 484) on January 19, 1847. This land, the lot drawn by Warren in the division of his father's land, was near Gum Swamp and Reedy Branch and adjoined the Harmon corner (then Garris) and the William Tucker land (then Garris).

In the division of the lands of Spiers Wethington, deceased, on January 12, 1861, Lewis McLawhorn and Martha received Lot No. 1 (DB PP, p. 701). The lot consisted of two tracts of land--one consisting of 170 acres valued at $425 and adjoining the lands of Councill Braxton and Robert Withington; the second consisting of 80 acres valued at $500, known as the Tucker land, which was located on the run of Gum Swamp and the run of Reedy Branch. They were to receive $2.80 from Andrew Wethington and wife to make their lot a proportionate share in value.

On January 18, 1867, Martha McGlowhorn bought a parcel of land (no acreage given) bounded on the north by Nahum Garris and Henry Smith; on the east by Allen Fulford, Sally Harmon, and Nat Dial; and on the west by Nehemiah Garris for $1,025 from Allen Fulford (DB RR, p. 110). This appears to be the same land given to L. L. McLawhorn on December 26, 1882, by Lewis and Martha (DB H7, p. 192). No acreage was given in that deed, and the description of adjoining lands was the same.

Lewis and Martha gave each of their children 70 to 85 acres of land, all tracts valued at $450 at the time, to stand against their shares at the death of Lewis and Martha. They retained a life estate. Deeds of gift were found for all but Joseph and Clarissa. However, it is evident that they, too, were given land. In Joseph's will, he gave his son, Jerome F., "all my land known as part of the Spire Weathington land" (Will Book 2, p. 213). The deed of gift to Charles on December 26, 1882, indicates that Clarissa was also given land. The description of the land states that it was out of the "same tract of land as that given to Cleracy McLawhorn" (DB J5, p. 350).

In addition to those already noted, deeds of land received or sold outside the family are abstracted as follows:

1. Deed Book P3, p. 96--On Mar. 6, 1876, Louis McGlawhon bought from Mary Moyer 3 acres adjoining the land of James B. Garris and his own land for $20. John H. Smith and Fred McGlohon were witnesses.
2. Deed Book F3, p. 534--By order of Pitt Superior Court on July 1, 1876, Jeremiah Weathington, administrator of the estate of Susan Weathington, deceased, sold the land at public auction on August 1, 1876. Louis McGlawhorn was the highest bidder and paid $425 for 360 acres adjoining the lands of Augustus Braxton, James Hines, T. N. Manning, Caleb Tripp, and others. The date of the deed was Jan. 23, 1877. One acre was reserved for a graveyard. (Note: This is probably the graveyard in the field of Clarissa's farm--Eva Langston Edwards's in recent years.)
3. Deed Book D6, p. 458--The names of Lewis McGlawhorn and Patsy McGlawhon are on a list of forty or more names of those selling their interest, a 2/7's undivided interest, in "land lately belonging to Polly Brooks deceased" in 1879. The land, reputed to be 500 acres more or less, was situated on the west side of the prong of Swift Creek and adjoined the lands of Franklin Brooks heirs, Spier Worthington heirs, Amos Kinsaul, and Abram Cox.
4. Deed Book R3, p. 82--On Feb. 8, 1881, Lewis and Martha McGlohon and Lorenzo and Susan E. McGlohorn sold to Mary Dail 4.6 acres on the south side of Tar River near the Greenville and Kinston Road which was bounded by Braxton and Weatherington land. (Note: This may have been the tract Lewis and Martha gave to Lorenzo--DB L4, p. 360).
5. Deed Book H5, p. 438--On Jan. 9, 1889, Louis McLawhorn bought 65 acres adjoining the lands of Nehemiah Garris, Lewis McLawhorn, and others from James A. B. Garris and his wife Mary, W. G. Garris and his wife Julia F., and Nehemiah Garris and his wife Cynthia for $1,000.
6. Deed Book D5, p. 348--On Nov. 12, 1889, Louis and Martha McLawhorn sold a right of way to Wilmington and Weldon Rail Road Company for $1.00 and benefits to be derived from the building of the branch road.
7. Deed Book H5, p. 437 (also D7, p. 570)--On Feb. 5, 1891, Louis McLawhorn bought 2-1/2 acres, bounded on the north and east by his own land and on the south by the canal in reedy branch known as part of the Jonathan Harmon tract, from William and Nancy Moyer for $20.50. (Note: This deed was recorded twice, the second time on Nov. 6, 1901, after Lewis died.)
8. Deed Book G5, p. 567--On Jan. 16, 1893, Louis McLawhorn bought from Mary Moyer and William Moyer and his wife Nannie G. Moyer 25 acres on the west side of Swift Creek Swamp and the south side of reedy branch. It mentions the "middle of the bridge across the canal in reedy branch." He paid $300.25.
9. Deed Book K6, p. 24--On Jan. 11, 1898, Louis McLawhon sold 69 acres adjoining the lands of A. G. Cox, J. B. Carroll, and others to B. T. Cox for $900. It mentions the right of way to J. H. Smith's line.

10. Deed Book J6, p. 346--On Mar. 2, 1898, Lewis McLawhon bought 15 acres from B. E. Moye, administrator of George Moye, deceased, for $168.50. The land adjoined the lands of George Dail, F. McLawhon, Alonzo Moye, and others. A small tract on the opposite side of the road from the George Moye home place, it was subject to the widow's dower.

There was a law suit over 100 acres of the land that Lewis bought from Nancy's estate (DB F3, p. 534). Andrew J. and Susan Weatherington sold a parcel of land known as "part of the John Tripp land," which adjoined the lands of Richard Butts, Willis Wethington and others, containing 100 acres to Elizabeth Butts on January 1, 1870 (DB G, pp. 485-489). Levi A. Worthington was in possession of the land sometime in 1878. A civil action was brought by Lewis against Levi; and at the Fall Term, 1886, of Pitt Superior Court, the judgment was for Lewis. Levi appealed the case to the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court found no error in the judicial proceedings and affirmed the judgment. It was found that the description of the land of the deed Lewis had was "sufficiently definite to render it effectual, and parol testimony...competent to fit it to the land"; that the description of the land in the other deed was "too vague--certainly in the absence of any proof that any particular tract was known as 'part of the John Tripp land'"; and that "Judicial proceedings under which a sale is made cannot be collaterally assailed for irregularity" (North Carolina Reports, Vol. 98, p. 178; also Case 15,351 in N. C. Supreme Court Papers in the Archives at Raleigh).

Deeds found in which Lewis and Martha gave or sold land to, or bought from, their family are abstracted as follows:

1. Deed Book Q4, p. 211--On Feb. 19, 1875, they gave to son Frederick 70 acres on the west side of Swift Creek "beginning at the end of a lane between the said Lewis McLawhons and Fredrick McGlohons houses running ...to an ash on the run of reedy branch...to...the run of Gum Swamp."
2. Deed Book L4, p. 360--On Feb. 19, 1875, they gave to son Lorenzo a tract of land lying on the Contentnea Road and containing 85 acres. The land adjoined the lands of Braxton, William Norris, and Elbert Dail. The description states: "...from the beginning of the tract formerly belonging to Speir Worthington deceased."
3. Deed Book P9, p. 173--On Dec. 2, 1882, they gave Sallie Ann Smith 80 acres on the south side of Swift Creek bounded by the lands of Molsey McLawhorn, Alfred McLawhorn, and Louis McLawhorn. (It is interesting to note that the signatures recorded on this deed are spelled differently--Lewis McLawhorn and Martha McGlohon. Of course, they just made their marks.)
4. Deed Book H7, p. 192--On Dec. 26, 1882, they gave L.L. McLawhorn a parcel of land of undetermined acreage, which was probably the same land Martha bought from Allen Fulford (DB RR, p. 110) because it is described the same way.
5. Deed Book J5, p. 350--On Dec. 26, 1882, they gave 80 acres to Charles McLawhorn adjoining the lands of Augustus Braxton and others. It was out of "the same tract of land as that given to Cleracy McLawhorn."
6. Deed Book H5, p. 434--On June 4, 1887, Lewis McLawhorn sold 2-1/2 acres adjoining the lands of L. A. Worthington and Lewis McLawhorn to Lorenzo McLawhorn and his wife Elizabeth for $25.00.

7. Deed Book H5, p. 440--On June 4, 1887, Louis bought 74 acres, "known as Lovin land," adjoining the lands of Augustus Braxton and Caleb Tripp from Lorenzo and his wife for $100.
8. Deed Book J5, p. 362--On Feb. 11, 1891, Lewis and Martha sold 70 acres on Horsepen Branch to Charles for $275. It was described as "part of John Tripp land" and as adjoining the lands of Clarassa Langston, Caleb Tripp, and Alfred Forbes.
9. Deed Book S5, p. 6--On Feb. 11, 1891, Louis McGlorhorn sold 70 acres for $270 to Clarissa R. Langston. The land adjoined the lands of Charlie McLorhorn, Elias Dail, and others, also Horsepen Branch.
10. Deed Book C6, p. 206--On Feb. 27, 1892, Lewis and Martha sold Sallie A. Smith 25 acres adjoining the lands of Amos G. Cox and others for $25. It is described as "being all that part of the Lacy McGlohon land lying on the West side of the Coast Line Rail Road." (Lewis's name is spelled two ways in this deed--McLawhon and McGlohon.)
11. Deed Book A7, p. 310--On Oct. 18, 1901, Lewis McLawhorn sold 15 acres known as the George Moye land" to Elizabeth McLawhorn for $125. The land was bounded by the lands of L (unreadable) Manning, on the northwest by Alonzo Moye, on the south by George Dail, and on the east by Fred McLawhorn.

At the time of his death, other than the life estates noted in the deeds of gift to his children, Lewis owned about 90 acres of land. By his will he left 65 acres, "known as the Garris land," to his youngest son, Lewis L. McGlohorn (see Appendix B). All of his other lands, "known as the William and George Moye land," were to be sold and equally divided. Lewis L. was named executor of his estate. He sold the land at public auction to Lorenzo, the highest bidder at $585. Lorenzo transferred the bid to Mary M. McLawhorn who paid $585 for the 25 acres and was given the deed on Feb. 10, 1902 (DB H7, p. 507). Charles and Mary sold this land to John H. Smith on Nov. 18, 1902 (DB P7, p. 184).

There are a number of questions about these deeds. Evidently there must be some that have still not been found, either unrecorded or not indexed so that they can be easily found. For example, as administrator of Lacy McGlohon, Lewis sold 160 acres to Lorenzo on Feb. 15, 1873. Yet the deed in which Lewis and Martha sold Sallie A. Smith 25 acres explicitly states that it was "all part of the Lacy McGlohon land lying on the West side of the Coast Line Rail Road." The deed of gift of 80 acres to Sallie Ann also appears to be a part of the land. Lewis must have bought the land from Lorenzo, or Lorenzo might have been buying it for his father.

Although no record has been found of Lewis's serving in the Confederate Army during the Civil War, tradition passed down in the family is that he entered and served a short time before he was called home by the illness of his wife. His son Frederick, only about 16 at the time, became his substitute. Evidently he, too, served only a brief time because his name has not been found in the records either. Nevertheless, he was in long enough to obtain a sword, which, at the time of this writing, was in the home of his granddaughter, Mabel McGlohon Tucker.

As evidenced by the census records and the fact that his mark is recorded on the deeds, Lewis could not read and write. Neither could Martha.

It has been said that Lewis was a good nurse. Martha, it seems, suffered from ill health. She died of consumption on November 3, 1892, and was buried in the family cemetery on the farm. Lewis lived about nine years longer and died of cancer of the mouth and heart trouble on October 27, 1901, and was buried in the family cemetery.

It is uncertain just when the family cemetery was started. The oldest marked grave was that of Susan in 1863. However, the first person buried there, according to tradition, was a slave. The 1850 Census records that Lewis owned two slaves at that time: a 100-year-old male and a 12-year-old female. This male was probably the first one buried in the cemetery, and his grave is marked with a wooden marker. There are three wooden markers in the northeast corner of the cemetery--the other two for infants, according to Rena McLawhorn Whitehurst. In 1916 the cemetery was enclosed by an iron fence. The fence was replaced by a brick-pillar and iron fence in 1977.

Lewis and Martha had eight children: five boys and three girls. They are as follows:

 - f. ROSA ELIZABETH (BESSIE) MCGLOHON--b. Mar. 11, 1881; d. 1959, bur. McGlohon Cem.; on Nov. 1, 1896, m. JOSEPH LEONARD HOBGOOD (b. 1875; d. Nov. 25, 1936, bur. McGlohon Cem.), son of R. W. Hobgood and Mary of Granville Co.

June 19, 1890, in Mecklenburg Co., Va.; d. of a heart attack Oct. 1, 1977, bur. McGlohon Cem.), dau. of Henry Lee Forlines and Cordelia Frances (Delia) Cliborne. Her family moved to Pitt County and settled in the Winterville area in January, 1902.

Before he was married, Grover worked for a while for an express company, and then as a brakeman for the Atlantic Coast Line Rail Road. After their marriage, they settled in Ayden, living at first with his sister Mary Smith, and her family. Then they lived in two different houses on East Second Street.

In Ayden, Grover first worked as a clerk for J. R. Smith and Brother. For the remainder of his time there, he was a clerk-book-keeper for J. B. Pierce and Company. In 1930 the family moved to the J. R. Smith farm just outside of Ayden to the north, where they lived for about two years. In January, 1932, they moved to a farm about three and one-half miles south of Stokes which was owned by his uncle, Charles McLawhorn.

Suffering with asthma and high blood pressure much of his life, Grover was stricken with a stroke during the early hours of Wednesday morning and died on Friday night, October 31.

After all the boys were drafted into military service during World War II, the rest of the family moved to Winterville on December 29, 1942. Glynn, the oldest daughter, also served in the WAAC.

Through the years Kennie supplemented the family income by dressmaking, for which she was quite skilled. She said that the only time she ever sewed on Sunday was to make a shroud for someone who had died.

- h. LETHA CLEO MCGLOHON--b. Feb. 10, 1886; d. of a heart attack Mar. 23, 1932, bur. McGlohon Cem.; on Aug. 31, 1904, m. a widower, LUTHER C. FLETCHER (b. Feb. 11, 1871; d. June 19, 1933, bur. McGlohon Cem.) of Granville Co. Luther married Lula May Jenkins the third time and committed suicide in six weeks. Letha and Luther had no children; but Luther had one son, Alfred Fletcher, by his first wife, Ella Braxton.
- i. Infant daughter--Nov. 30, 1887, bur. McGlohon Cem.
- j. DOCTOR R. MCGLOHON--b. Aug. 23, 1889; d. Dec. 14, 1936, bur. McGlohon Cem., moved to Pinewood Memorial Park; on Jan. 31, 1912, m. NINA ESTER SMITH (b. Jan. 22, 1892; d. Oct. 17, 1967, bur. Pinewood Memorial Park), dau. of Henry Bryant (Major) Smith and Octavia Dail. Doctor was not named as a baby. The story is told that his parents could not agree on a name; so they decided to wait until he was old enough to name himself. Everyone called him Dock, so he took Doctor as his name. Evidently his parents ran out of names when they gave Grover three names. His marriage record has the initials "D. R."

- 2. LORENZO MCLAWHORN--b. Aug. 2, 1849; d. of a stroke on May 25, 1923, bur. McGlohon Cem.; on Oct. 15, 1870, m. SUSAN ELIZABETH KITTRELL (b. Mar. 28, 1855; d. Apr. 4, 1944, bur. McGlohon Cem.), dau. of Allen Kittrell and Martha Jane Stocks.

According to his daughter Annie, Lorenzo did not like an "r" in his name; therefore, since his male descendants used it, for this record the name is spelled with an "r." His tombstone has "McLawhon." Since Annie said that she spelled the name "McGlohon," that spelling has been used for her name.

Lorenzo was a farmer and acquired much land west of Winterville in the community of Renston, which was named for him. He also operated a saw mill and a store across the road from his home. Alf Harrington from Ayden worked in the store. When they needed a post office for the mail, they had to have a name. Lorenzo's wife, Bett, asked Alf to choose a name. He took the middle letters of Lorenzo's name, "Ren," and added "town" to form "Renston"; and Renston became the name of the post office. Although there is no post office there today, the community is still known as Renston.

Lorenzo served on the school committee of the White District No. 14, beginning in 1885.

Chapter 7

FREDERICK MCGLOHON

A Bridge Over the Past

(Note: A speech given at the Free Will Baptist Historical Society, which met at the Free Will Baptist Press in Ayden on November 17, 1976, slightly revised and enlarged.)

"The primary meaning of time is that there are persons who become bridges over the past and the future that you may walk in the present with meaning," says the Reverend Maxie Dunnam.

Several weeks ago as I was checking some books which were donated to the East Carolina University library, I ran across a book which had a very intriguing title, Dancing at My Funeral, which was written by Mr. Dunnam, a Methodist minister. We don't usually associate the word "dancing" with funerals, do we? And we are not here to talk about funerals this morning. Since Mr. Dunnam had no technical knowledge of dancing, nor was it a part of his culture, he used dancing as a symbol. Funerals are about death; dancing is about life. His trip is dancing at his funeral.

He tells about being haunted by his past--the fact that he grew up in poverty with feelings of not belonging; for example, when he went off to college. Therefore, he had to prove that he was something. That empty pattern of proving continued for many years.

On reading the book, you can learn how he became able to accept and appreciate his past. There were parts which he wanted to keep alive and there were parts which he wanted to bury. In this "funeral" process, he began to experience life with a freshness and a sense of purpose that he had not known before. He was dancing at his funeral--dancing when he had the courage to resist forces that would bury him and was somehow given the power to bury them instead.

There have been forces in our Free Will Baptist history that would have buried us as a church, but there have always been those who have had the courage to resist those forces. Today I would like to tell you a little about one of the bridges over the past and future so that we may walk in the present with meaning as the Free Will Baptist Church of 1976. That bridge is not only a bridge for the church, but is also a bridge for me personally since he was my grandfather. Actually, I know very little about him, either as a person or as a minister; but I have been able to learn a few things. There may have been some things about his life that we would like to bury; but there are many things that we would like to remember, things that would cause us to dance.

Frederick McGlohon (variously spelled McGlohorn, McLawhorn, etc., in records) was born on July 11, 1847. He was the eldest child of Lewis McGlohon and Martha Ann (called Patsy) Worthington. They, along with seven other children, lived on a farm about a mile and a half west of Winterville on state road No. 1126.

After Fred was married on November 28, 1866, to ELIZABETH ELLIS, daughter of George Bryan Ellis and Penelope Cox, his father gave him seventy acres of land to which he added others. There, on land adjoining his father's, he lived out his life as a farmer. His home still stands, and until about 1972 was occupied by a member of his family.

Fred and Elizabeth had thirteen children, but only eight lived to be grown. My father, Grover, was the middle one of the thirteen. The eight, in order of birth, were John Lewis McGlohon, Mary McGlohon Smith, Rosa Elizabeth (Bessie) McGlohon Hobgood, Lorenzo Grover Cleveland McGlohon, Letha Cleo McGlohon Fletcher, Doctor McGlohon, Norma Chandler McGlohon Forbes Hawkins, and Joseph Dixon McGlohon. Three sons and two daughters died young.

Elder J. M. Barfield, in an obituary published in the 1910 Central Conference Minutes, wrote the following about him:

In Sept. 1867 he joined the F. W. B. church at Reedy Branch, under the preaching of Eld. Henry Dixon, one of the old land marks.

He lived a consistent member of the church, and soon he felt divinely called to preach the Gospel, and do all he could for the Master. The church saw that he was apt to teach, and he was licensed in May 1875. On July 31st the same year the church ordered his ordination. He then went forth preaching the gospel, and holding the care of churches. Eld. Fred, as he was called, made an able pastor for the churches that he had care of, and they all prospered....

The writer has known him ever since he began preaching. He always went when called on to do religious service....

There are very few people still living who remember him. Although he died before my father and mother were married, my mother knew him but never had the opportunity to hear him preach. Since my father died when I was only eleven years old, what I know about him I learned from my mother.

I talked with one of his nieces, Mrs. Annie Abbott, who is 89 years old, a few days ago. She remembers him well and said that she heard him preach a number of times at Reedy Branch Church. When I asked her what kind of preacher he was, she said that he was a good one, that he took a text and stuck to it. In other words, he wasn't a rambling speaker.

What did ministers wear in the 19th century? I brought along a picture to show you. I had not given the subject any thought until Cousin Annie commented that Grandpa was a good looking man, that he and her father looked a lot alike. She added, however, that she never saw her father dressed up like her Uncle Fred--in a long-tailed black suit when he preached.

In my grandfather's day the church was also the center of the social life of the community. There was nowhere else to go. Churches usually had preaching services only once a month; and in the months that they had quarterly meetings at the church, there would be preaching on Friday night, Saturday morning, Saturday night, Sunday morning, and Sunday night. Most of the people walked to church. Those who had them drove horses and buggies. The services were much longer than ours are now. At least in the latter part of his ministry, the churches had Sunday School in the afternoons on the Sundays that they did not have preaching services.

"Elder Fed," as many people called him by dropping the "r," pastored a number of churches--among which were Reedy Branch, Bethany (1907/08), Elm Grove, Gum Swamp (1906), and Hickory Grove in Pitt County; and Saint's Delight and Spring Branch in Greene County. He had just been elected pastor of Spring Branch and had made only one appointment at the church when he died. He also helped to organize at least one church--Spring Branch in Pitt County, which was later moved into town and became the Ayden Free Will Baptist Church. My brother Fred said that he had been told that Grandpa had pastored one church for twenty-five years, and thought it was Howell Swamp. I have checked their church minutes on microfilm at the State Archives, which minutes begin at 1897; and he is not in those minutes from 1897-1909.

In addition to his pastoring churches, he still took an active part in his home church, Reedy Branch. On February 19, 1890, as a trustee for Reedy Branch Church, he bought an additional tract of land consisting of seventy yards square lying directly between the church and the new road for $50 from Francis M. and Nannie Little (DB A5, p. 342).

He was active in denominational work, serving as moderator, assistant moderator, and treasurer of the retired ministers' fund. It seems to have been the custom in those days to elect the moderator of the conference at the beginning of the session to serve for that session. Grandpa was the first moderator of the Central Conference after the division of the General Conference into the Central and Eastern Conferences. That session met at Malachi's Chapel in Tyrell County on November 5-7, 1896. He often preached the introductory sermon at the conferences and quarterly district union meetings. Many times he was elected on committees to investigate some charge brought against the Christian character of a brother minister.

Although he probably had very little formal education (most people didn't in those days), he was interested in education. He served on the school committee of District 15, beginning in 1885 (Minutes of the Pitt County Board of Education begin with this year). On February 4, 1886, he and Elizabeth sold to "the school committee of White District No. 15...for and in consideration of the sum of twenty dollars...one acre" of land (DB N4, p. 167). Rena McLawhorn Whitehurst has identified the school as the Woodland School.

A short time before his death, he was elected president of the Board of Trustees for the Free Will Baptist Theological Seminary in Ayden. He was also interested in the literature program of the denomination--serving on the Board of Managers, or Directors, of the Free Will Baptist Publishing Co. (now Free Will Baptist Press Foundation) at least as early as 1892, and as the authorized agent for subscriptions to the denominational paper in the 1880's and later.

In his thirty-four-year ministry he officiated at numerous marriages. In those days it was not uncommon for couples to run away to get married. The story is told that when a runaway couple would draw up before his door in their horse and buggy that Grandpa would call to them to throw their license in the yard and that he would begin the ceremony as he came out the door. This is probably an exaggeration, but it makes an interesting story.

Grandpa was also active in community affairs. He was elected as representative from Pitt County to the North Carolina Legislature in 1893. There he served on the Insane Asylum Committee and the Immigration Committee. His grandson, W. A. Forbes, who also served as representative for two terms (beginning in 1963), was quoted in The Daily Reflector as saying that Grandpa borrowed $85 in order to serve. When the Legislature was in session, he continued to pastor churches, driving his horse and buggy home on weekends to preach.

Going back to his youth, we note that he was a teenager during the Civil War. His father, Lewis, entered the Confederate Army, but served only a short time because his wife became ill. He was able to get out by providing a substitute. When Fred was about sixteen, he went to replace his father for a short time. Evidently both of their times were brief because I have not found their names in the records. However, two of Grandpa's uncles--Lacey and Charles--were killed and another one, Luke, was captured in the war. He was in long enough to obtain a sword, however. The sword is now in the possession of my sister, Mabel McGlohon Tucker.

On December 6, 1909, he finished his work on earth. He had been in bad health for several years but was able most of the time to preach. He had just returned by train from preaching at Hickory Grove Free Will Baptist Church and walked the mile or so home. While sitting in his chair on the porch on Monday evening, he was stricken with a stroke of apoplexy and died in a short time. His funeral was postponed several days so that my father, who worked on a train at that time, could get home. According to my mother, his body as a result had swollen so much that the wooden casket had to be taken out of the house through a window because of the narrow door.

He was buried in the family graveyard in the field of his father's farm where he was born. Masonic honors were accorded him at his funeral.

By his granddaughter,
Leah McGlohon

FREDERICK MCGLOHON

As previously noted, Frederick McGlohon was a farmer and a Free Will Baptist minister. In addition, he also sharpened saws. After giving the above speech, the writer was privileged to talk with Mrs. Melissa Braxton McLawhorn, who was then about 98 years old, about him. She remembered him well and said that he performed her marriage ceremony in 1901. At that time, according to her, he was pastoring Reedy Branch Church. She remembered his coming to their house when she was a child and spending a week at a time to sharpen the saws. Her father, C. C. Braxton, ran a saw mill just outside of Ayden to the northwest toward Winterville.

The following deed transactions of Fred and Elizabeth are abstracted:

1. Deed Book Q4, p. 211--On Feb. 19, 1975, Frederick was given 70 acres by his parents, Lewis and Martha.
2. Deed Book E3, p. 383--In 1876 Fred McLawhorn bought 1/2 of 79-1/2 acres for $100 from William J. Fulford, Elizabeth Harmon, William Henry and Elizabeth Henry. It was their entire interest in the land which formerly belonged to Jonathan Harmon and which adjoined the lands of Fred McGlawhorn, T. Orman Fulford, Mary Moye, Ringold and others.

3. Deed Book T3, p. 282--Elizabeth McGlohon bought 70 acres on the east side of Swift Creek and the north side of Cedar Swamp adjoining Nelson's corner from Thomas Letchworth for $483.65. John C. Cox witnessed the deed. (Note: The writer is not sure this is the same Elizabeth.)
4. Deed Book S3, p. 472--On Feb. 23, 1882, Frederick McLawhorn bought 25 acres for $50 from Andrew Joyner. The land adjoined the land heired by Tripp from his father, Hardy Tripp, and brother, Elias; Joseph Tripp; and Frederick McLawhorn.
5. Deed Book C4, p. 428--On Jan. 20, 1883, Fred McLawhon bought the entire interest of William H. White Jr. and his wife, Sarah, of Jones County in the lands of Locker Ringold for $75. The land adjoined the lands of Fred McLawhon, Orman Fulford, Polly Moye, and others.

9. Deed Book A5, p. 451--On Jan. 26, 1884, Fred McLorhorn and wife Elizabeth sold "all the land that I own on the north side of agreed line..." to Mary Moye for $1.00. The line was across the land known as the Harmon land.
10. Deed Book H5, p. 24--On Dec. 4, 1890, Fred McLawhorn bought at auction for $61 the land known as the James Ringgold land which adjoined the lands formerly owned by Richard Moye and Allen Kittrell, deceased, and others described in a deed from Wm. 13. Deed Book H6, p. 116--On Apr. 2, 1897, Fred McLawhon and Elizabeth sold 25 acres adjoining Louis McLawhorn and Will Moore to Lula S. McLawhorn for $200.

14. Deed Book K7, p. 338--G. B. Ellis gave Elizabeth 30 acres for "love and good will." It was described as 1/3 of the land known as Cedar Swamp and adjoined the lands of the heirs of the late J. C. Cox, J. B. Carroll, and others. W. C. Jackson witnessed the deed.
15. Deed Book J6, p. 415--Fred failed to pay purchase money for the two lots (see J6, p. 294 above; also Mortgage H6, p. 573) from W. H. Harris and his wife and C. A. White. F. G. James bid $25 for Elizabeth McLawhorn at the sale at public auction on Mar. 22, 1898.
16. Deed Book I7, p. 104--On Oct. 17, 1901, Fred McGlohon and Elizabeth mortgaged two lots in Ayden--one lot joining Edwards and one lot on main street (deeded to Elizabeth by W. H. Harris)--and a tract of land deeded to Elizabeth by Lewis McGlohon on the south side of the road in front of Fred McGlohon's house containing 15 acres (known as part of Moye land) to A. G. Cox for $300.
17. Deed Book A7, p. 310--On Oct. 18, 1901, Louis McLawhorn sold Elizabeth McLawhorn 15 acres known as the George Moye land for $125. The land adjoined L_____ Manning, Alonzo Moye, George Dail, and Fred McLawhorn.
18. Deed Book I7, p. 412--On Jan. 10, 1902, Fred and Elizabeth McLawhorn sold to J. L. McLawhorn 65 acres of land bounded on the north by Fred McLawhorn, on the west by Frog Level road, on the south by G. W. Dail and C. D. Hooks, and on the east by C. D. Hooks and Amos Shivers (by deed from W. J. Fulford, Book H5, pp. 46 and 47), also part of George Moye land, for $1250.
19. Deed Book L8, p. 235--On May 14, 1906, Charles McLawhorn, Lorenzo McLawhorn, L. L. McLawhorn, J. F. J. McLawhorn, Salann Smith, and Classie Langston sold Fred and Elizabeth their interests in the "Mary and Allie Mills land inherited through and by our mother Martha McLawhorn" for $300.

21. Deed Book T9, p. 417--On Feb. 9, 1910, Elizabeth McGlohon, widow, received her dower.
22. Deed Book Y-12, p. 468--On Aug. 11, 1919, Elizabeth McGlohon sold to J. D. McGlohon two parcels of land for $100. One was 15 acres deeded to Elizabeth by Lewis McGlohon (DB A7, p. 310, Oct. 18, 1901) and the other was a parcel of land conveyed to Elizabeth from Chas. D. Hooks, Nehemiah Garris, and W. R. W. Nobles--School Committee of Woodland District (DB J9, p. 238, May 15, 1901). Norma Forbes was the witness. See also Pitt County Map Book 1, p. 201.

No further deed was found in reference to the interest in the Polly (or Mary Mills Brooks land as noted in Nos. 19 and 20 above. It seems that Joseph L. and Bessie Hobgood lived on the land for a short time. Bryant Tripp purchased the interest of quite a few who claimed an interest in the land.

According to Deed Book D6, p. 458, the names of Lewis and Patsy are on a list of forty or more names of those selling their interest, a 2/7's undivided interest, in "land lately belonging to Polly Brooks deceased" in 1879; therefore, it appears that there was no interest remaining in the land.

For Fred and Elizabeth's children, see the chapter on the Lewis McGlohon family.

JEREMIAH MCGLOHON FAMILY

JEREMIAH MCGLOHON was probably the son of John McGlohon and probably born before 1765. In the 1790 Census he is listed alone as a head of a household; therefore, he probably married sometime after 1790. From the census records of Pitt County, it appears that he had at least two sons and three daughters. His name does not appear in the 1800 Census, but the 1810 Census lists 1 male over 45, 1 male 10-16, 1 male under 10, 1 female 26-45, 1 female 10-16, and 2 females 1-10. In the 1820 Census his household consisted of 1 male over 45, 1 male 16-20, 1 male 10-16, 1 female over 45, and 2 females 10-16. He is not listed in the 1830 Census.

J. L. Jackson recorded in his notes that according to tradition Jeremiah returned to Ireland. He did not give any source for the tradition. According to a biography of Jeremiah's great, great grandson--Daniel R. McGlohon--the family came from Scotland:

Hon. Daniel R. McGlohon..., a son of Richard McGlohon, grandson of Benjamin F. McGlohon, great grandson of Jonathan McGlohon, and a member of one of the Colonial families of the South, the American founder of which, a Scotchman, came to this country from Scotland and located in North Carolina at a very early day (North Carolina, Vol. IV, p. 204).

Here are two traditions of the family. This writer's opinion is that Jeremiah was probably born in North Carolina, that the family was here much earlier, and that he probably died before the 1830 Census year.

Jeremiah's wife's name was FANNY--probably Frances--(see deed below). There is a Francis McGlawhorn listed as head of a household in the 1830 Census. The household consisted of 1 female 30-40, 3 females 5-10, and 1 female under 5. If the ages given are correct, this is probably not Jeremiah's widow.

The earliest record found of a Jeremiah in this area is as a witness to a deed on Dec. 30, 1777, in which John Maglohorn of Craven County bought 100 acres from Samuel Pope of Dobbs County (Craven Co. DB 23, p. 55). If this is the same Jeremiah, he would have been quite young.

Although the land grant to George McGlohon on Jan. 20, 1785, states that the land adjoined that of Jeremiah McGlohon, the first deed transaction found for Jeremiah was on Feb. 12, 1794, when he entered a land grant for 8 acres on the north side of Contentnea Creek adjoining John McGlohon, John Jackson, and William Broom. The land was surveyed on Nov. 26, 1794, by Jesse Moye; and John McGlohon and George McGlohon were chain bearers (Grant Book

L, p. 8). He could have been living on the land before he made the land entry for a grant.

Other deed transactions are abstracted as follows:

Grant Book L, p. 87--On July 26, 1794, Jeremiah bought 100 acres on the northeast side of Little Contentnea Creek, "it being the third corner of a patent granted Joseph Jackson for four hundred acres of land bearing date July 7, 1750, McGlohons line of his 80 acre survey." The land also adjoined that of William Broom and Melus Broome, deceased. It was surveyed on Feb. 2, 1801, by Sherw. Hines. William Broome and James Powell were chain bearers. Note that this deed indicates that the first deed contained 80 acres, rather than 8.

DB O, p. 207--On Apr. 27, 1798, Jeremiah McGlohon bought from John McGlohon 200 acres on the north side of Little Contentnea Creek adjoining Thos. Phillip's corner--it being part of a patent formerly granted to Joseph Jackson Sr.--for 100 pounds. William Broom and George McGlohon witnessed the transaction.

DB Q, p. 364--On Feb. 4, 1806, Jeremiah McGlohon bought 40 acres on the south side of Hencoop Swamp and west side of Piney Pocoson from Spyre Broome of Greene County for 50 pounds. The land adjoined that of John Jackson and Wooten. William Broome and Nancy Broome were witnesses.

DB CC, p. 309--On Feb. 9, 1819, Jeremiah McGlawhorn Sr. gave to Jeremiah McGlawhorn Jr., his "beloved son," two parcels of land, each containing about 40 acres, at the death of him and his wife, Fanny McGlawhorn. One parcel was on the east side of Little Contentnea Creek adjoining the Rogers land and that of Jonathan McGlawhorn. The other was a small piece of land containing about 40 acres of piney land. Jona. Frizzle and White Bowden witnessed the transaction.

DB CC, p. 327--Also on Feb. 9, 1819, Jeremiah McGlawhorn gave to his son Jonathan McGlawhorn an undetermined number of acres at his death for "love and affection." The land, adjoining that of the Rogers land and Charles Jenkins, was on the east side of Little Contentnea Creek. Jonathan Frizzle and White Bowden also witnessed this deed.

DB DD, p. 396--On Feb. 29, 1828, Jeremiah McGlawhorn bought a negro girl about 3 years old named Hollon and a boy named Charles from John Jenkins, administrator for Benjamin F. Jenkins, who died Nov. 11, 1827, for $100.30. Jonathan McGlohon and Richard Wetherington were witnesses.

The above deeds give the names of Jeremiah's sons--Jonathan and Jeremiah Jr.; but the names of his daughters, with the exception of possibly one, are unknown. Their records follow.

- I. JONATHAN MCGLOHON--b. about 1798 (52 in 1850 Census); m. MARY RASPBERRY (b. about 1799 in Greene Co.--51 in 1850 Census--d. before the 1860 Census). Jonathan spent most of his life in Pitt County, "where he was a very large planter and slave owner, a private banker and a very wealthy man" (North Carolina, Vol. 4, p. 204). In 1850 he owned 17 slaves; and in 1860, 23 slaves. Sometime between 1850 and 1860 he must have lived in Greene County for awhile, according to some of the deeds below.

Since the early records of Greene County were lost in a fire, there is no record of what property, or how much, he might have owned in that county. His Pitt County deed transactions are abstracted as follows:

DB CC, p. 327--On Feb. 9, 1819, Jeremiah McGlawhorn gave to his son

Jonathan an undetermined number of acres on the east side of Little Contentnea Creek adjoining the Rogers land and that of Charles Jinkins. Jonathan Frizzle witnessed the transaction.

DB LL, p. 324--On Jan. 5, 1847, Jonathan McGlowhorne (also McGlohon in record) bought 190 acres on Hencoop Swamp on the east side of Little Contentnea Creek from Charles Rountree for $570. The land was part of two patents formerly granted to Benjamin Warren and adjoined that of Nancy Brown, James Powel, Thomas Ringgold, Enos Rogers, and Jeremiah Meglorhon. Caleb Cannon and David R. Wallace were witnesses.

DB MM, p. 21--On Apr. 10, 1848, Jonathan McGlorhorne bought 40 acres on the south side of Hencoop and west side of Piney Pocason from Jerry Wetherington for $30. The land adjoined the John Jinkins corner--the land which descended to him by the death of his father, Charles B. F. Jinkins--and Person Tutton's line (formerly Wooten line). It is identified as the land "formerly conveyed to Jeremiah McGlorhon by Speirs Broom then the said Jeremiah McGlorhorne conveyed the same to his Sun Jeremiah McGlorhorn and the said J. McGlorhorne then wills the said land to his relative Jerry Wetherington."

DB NN, p. 36--On Nov. 5, 1851, Jonathan McGlawhorn bought 150 acres on the north side of Little Contentnea Creek adjoining the Rountree land from Phoebe Wallace for $280. It is designated as "Lot No. 1 of the lands of James Powel decd."

DB NN, p. 243--On Jan. 24, 1853, Jonathan McGlohon sold Charles Rogers 32-1/2 acres on the east side of Little Contentnea Creek for $96. Caleb Cannon and Jesse Hart were witnesses.

DB NN, p. 251--On Jan. 24, 1853, Jonathan McGlohon bought from Charles Rogers 21-1/4 acres on the east side of Little Contentnea Creek adjoining his land and the Johnson and Irvin Jenkins lands. Caleb Cannon and Jesse Hart were witnesses.

DB QQ, p. 193--On June 3, 1858, Jonathan McGlohon of Greene Co. sold his son Jeremiah McGlohorn of Pitt Co. 196 acres adjoining John C. C. Jenkins, Rogers, and others for an undetermined amount. This was the land on Hencoop Swamp that Jonathan bought from Charles Rountree which was formerly called the Brown place. Jonath. R. Frizzle and Caleb Cannon were witnesses.

DB QQ, p. 206--On June 3, 1858, Jonathan McGlohon of Greene Co. sold his son Joseph of Pitt Co. two tracts of land--one containing 198 acres was adjoined on the west by John C. C. Jenkins and on the east by lands of A. A. Allen and others and another joining on the east containing 40 acres and formerly called Carr place--for $1.00 and love and affection. Jesse Hart and Jonathan R. Frizzle witnessed the transaction.

DB QQ, p. 211--On June 3, 1858, Jonathan McGlohon of Greene Co. sold his son Jesse R. McGlohon of Pitt Co. 150 acres on the east side of Hencoop Swamp adjoined on the north by lands of Jere. McGlohon and on the west by Myer Rice for $1.00 and love and affection. It was designated as the "land on which J. R. McGlohon now lives and formerly known as the old James Powell place." Jesse Hart and Caleb Cannon were witnesses.

DB QQ, p. 190--On Nov. 15, 1865, Jonathan Meglohon deeded to his son Samuel McGlohon 170 acres plus 21-1/2 acres that he bought from Charles Rogers for $1.00 and love and affection. He excepted a life estate. The land adjoined that of J. C. C. Jenkins and Mary W. McGlohon on the east by the main road and on the south by the land of H. Johnson and the Rountree land. It is identified as "the land that my father Jeremiah Meglohon gave me a deed for...the same being the land whereon I now live." Caleb Cannon and Charles Rogers witnessed the deed.

DB RR, p. 269--On Sept. 6, 1867, the deed above to Samuel was recorded again. The deed for a total of 191-1/4 acres, originally given on June 3, 1858, "during the late war...was lost or destroyed without registration" and was designated as "land whereon I reside with my said son." B. S. Sumrell and M. F. Sumrell were witnesses.

DB RR, p. 271--On Aug. 15, 1867, Joseph McLawhorn sold 150 acres on Hencoop Swamp adjoining Edward Carmon and others, Jeremiah McLawhorn Jr., and Harvey McLawhorn for $500. S. J. McLawhorn and Enoch McLawhorn were witnesses.

DB TT, p. 196--On July 17, 1869, Jonathan McGlohon Sr. sold to Jeremiah McGlohon Jr. 20 acres on Hencoop and a prong of Hencoop adjoining the lands of said J. McGlohon and Harvy McGlohon. It was a part of the land which Harvy bought from Menan P. Powell and sold to Jonathan. S. J. McLawhorn and Joseph McLawhorn witnessed the deed.

In his late years Jonathan resided with his son Samuel. He died about 1887. Allen Warren was appointed administrator of the estate of a Jonathan McLawhorn on Sept. 24, 1887 (Exr.-1, p. 280). Jonathan and Mary had six sons and seven daughters. Their records follow.

- II. JEREMIAH MCGLOHON JR.--b. after 1800 (under 10 in 1810 Census); d. before 1841. The only records found for him were deeds. He probably was not married since his property apparently went to nephews and a niece. Two deeds were found that appear to be from his estate. A deed recorded in DB II, page 380, gives the division of the lands of Jeremiah McGlawhorn between Benjamin F. McGlowhon and Irving and Dicey Jinkins, Lot No. 1, containing 80 acres valued at $425 and adjoining the lands of Charles Rountree and Jonathan McGlowhon, was assigned to Benjamin. Lot No. 2, containing 80 acres valued at $400, was assigned to Irvin Jinkins and his wife Dicey. Benjamin was to pay them $12.50. The deed indicates that the land was devised to them by the "last will and testament of Jeremiah McGlowhon." Shaderack Jackson and Charles Rogers witnessed the deed.

The second deed, already noted in Jonathan McGlohon's record above (DB MM, p. 21), gave his relative Jerry Wetherington (or Worthington) 40 acres of land. Since this second deed specifically refers to the will of the son Jeremiah, it would appear that the first also refers to Jeremiah Jr.

Jeremiah Jr. is not listed as head of a household in any of the census records. Although the division of land occurred in 1841, he might have died before 1830. His legatees would have been minors at that time.

- III. REBECCA MCGLOHON--If the Jerry Wetherington noted in the above deed was the son of Spier and Rebecca Witherington (or Worthington), then Rebecca was one of three daughters of Jeremiah and Fanny McGlohon. She was born about 1804 (46 in 1850 Census) and died in March 1870 of heart dropsy--the 1870 Mortality Schedule for Pitt County lists a Rebecca Wetherington, aged 55, who was a widow. The age would not be correct, but the age on the record could be wrong, or was misread.

Again, if Jerry Wetherington was the son of Spier and Rebecca, he would have been just about the right age to sell his land in 1848. In addition, he seems to have been the only Jerry Worthington in Pitt County at the time, although there was a Jeremiah in Craven County.

Although a number of people have thought that Spier's wife, Rebecca, was a Loving, no record of proof has been found as yet. Mary McGlohon Smith's notes give "Loving" in one place, which appears to have been erased; and in another place she says that Rebecca was the sister of Jonathan McGlohon, who lived on the creek.

Also, the tradition in many families was to name the first son for a grandfather. Spier Witherington was the son of Ambrose Witherington and Susanna Mills; therefore, if Rebecca was the daughter of Jeremiah McGlohon, it would fit the pattern that they named their first son Jeremiah for his maternal grandfather.

The evidence seems to indicate, then, that Rebecca was a McGlohon, the daughter of Jeremiah and Fanny McGlohon. See the next chapter.

Chapter 9

WORTHINGTON FAMILY

The Worthington name, as the McGlohon-McLawhorn name, has had many variations of spelling in the records. The most prevalent way of spelling it until probably the latter part of the nineteenth century was Witherington.

In a letter to Ronald Garris on May 24, 1982, Dr. J. B. Witherington, a doctor of internal medicine in Memphis, Tennessee, gave the following background of the name:

"Witherington is an English name going back to Celtic-Saxon days. Its original spelling was WYDDERENDUN, later WIDDRINGTON which included Lord Widdrington whose castle and estate grounds were at the North Sea near Tynemouth in Northumberland. Eventually the cognomen Witherington evolved. The early family in England was intensely loyal to the Scottish Stuarts and were banished to the colonies before and after the Jacobite rebellion.

"The first Witheringtons in our country were Nicholas & wife Eliz first in Maryland & then Surry Co., Va. At the same time Edw. Witherington (about 1675) recorded a will in Westmoreland Co., Va. His heir was a son Edward. Nicholas had no children. Also Richard Witherington, a Jacobite prisoner, sailed from Liverpool to Tidewater area Va. in 1716 on the ship Goodspeed. Shortly thereafter the name was recorded in Bertie and Hertford Counties N. C. and by 1730 John appeared on records in New Bern."

The John Witherington that he mentions was witness to a deed on November 6, 1730, in which John Carruthers of the Precinct of Craven bought 300 acres on the south side of Neuse River (Craven DB 1, p. 214). John Wetherington is mentioned in John Carruthers will as a son-in-law. He married Rocksalanah Carruthers Martin, widow of John Martin.

Sol Wetherington was among the purchasers of the "perishable estate" of Francis Hawks at his plantation on Bachelor's Creek on January 19, 1732 (Rice, Hassell, Hawks and Carruthers Families of North Carolina, p. 57). As this record shows, Solomon Witherington was in Craven County as early as John, and was probably his brother.

On May 29, 1733, Solomon Witherenton bought 150 acres on the south side of Bay River which was a part of 1,220 acres patented by Neal O'Neal (DB 2). John Brooks, Joseph Pleger, and Benjamin were witnesses.

On December 17, 1736, Solomon Witherington sold the 150 acres on the south of Bay River to John Martin. Francis Delamar and Benjamin Rice were witnesses.

On Sept. 22, 1742, John Carruthers sold 150 acres on the north side of Neuse River and upper side of Stoney Town Creek to Francis Stringer for 300 pounds current money. The land adjoined that of Solomon Witherington and John Witherington.

On November 10, 1744, Solomon Witherington received a patent for 100 acres "on a prong of Sams Branch near Bright's line...Thos. Ramseys corner ...to the Long Branch...John Wooten's...to Bond corner."

On May 29, 1745, Solomon Witherington bought land on Stony Town Creek which joined that of John Witherington. He sold the land in June of 1746 (From Dr. Witherington's notes).

Solloman, Thos. Robt. and Elizabeth Witherington were among the purchasers at the estate sale of William Witherington (C. R. 28.801.5 at State Archives). No date was given, but it was probably about 1761.

No further deeds are noted for Solomon; however, there were probably others that were not looked up. Solomon's will was proved in the April 1766 term of the Craven Inferior Court. Those named in the will are Thomas Witherinton, son; Mary Ramse, daughter; Elizabeth Hutus (or Lutus?), daughter; and Robard Witherinton. All the rest of his estate was left to his "well beloved wife Ann." Ann, Thomas, and Robard were named as executors. Robert Witherington (the Robard of the will) was one of the executors who proved the will.

This Robert was probably the author's ancestor; therefore the first Worthington ancestor in North Carolina was SOLOMON WITHERINGTON.

ROBERT WITHERINGTON DEEDS

Some of the deeds of Robert Witherington in the counties of Craven, Dobbs, and Lenoir follow as abstracted. You will note in the Pitt County deeds that our Robert ancestor is noted to be of Craven and Lenoir. The land involved was part of various counties at different dates.

As you read these, you should keep in mind the formation of the counties. Dobbs County was formed in 1758 from Johnston. Part of Craven was annexed to Dobbs in 1764. Wayne County was formed from Dobbs in 1779. Glasgow, which became Greene in 1799, and Lenoir were formed from Dobbs in 1791. Part of Craven was annexed to Lenoir County in 1798:

"Beginning on the river Neuse where the dividing line of the two counties crosses the same; thence running down the various courses of the river to the mouth of Stoneyton Creek; thence up the various courses of the mouth of Stoneyton creek to where the dividing line between the two counties crosses the same; thence along the same to the beginning on the river Neuse;..." (Corbitt, Formation of the North Carolina Counties, 1663-1943, pp. 136-137).

Part of Craven County was annexed to Lenoir County in 1804: "... all that part of the county of Craven lying in the fork of Neuse river and Great Contentney creek shall be, ...added to the county of Lenoir,..." (Corbitt, p. 137).

It is difficult to determine just which deeds belong to our Robert, since there was another Robert. From the witnesses noted, you may be able to tell those which definitely belong to our Robert.

Some of the deeds (probably all those of Dobbs County) are for the Robert R. Witherington who made a deed of gift to his son Ben Witherington in 1797. The gift was for two tracts of land: (1) 160 acres in Lenoir and partly in Glasgow (now Greene) on the north side of Neuse River "on Little Creek alias Mill run" adjoining that of Thomas Copeland that Robert bought from Richard Blackledge on June 1, 1764, and (2) 100 acres on the south side of Wheat Swamp adjoining that of Turner, Whitfield, and Beckton, which was a patent granted to Robert on Oct. 29, 1782.

This Robert died September 25, 1798. His wife was named Elizabeth. In addition to Benjamin, there were a daughter who married Isben Bond, a daughter who married Elisha Johnson, a daughter Eleanor, and a son Robert.

Abstracts of the deeds follow in chronological order:

A Robert Witherington is on a descriptive list of the men raised in the Dobbs Regiment of Militia to serve twelve months in the Continental service. The date of the act of the General Assembly at Halifax appears to be February 1781. Robert's age was given as 35. A member of Captain Hodges company, he was described as 5'5" with a dark complexion. He was a planter.

For some time after finding this record, the author thought that this was our ancestor; but a second look at the 1790 Census seemed to indicate that he was not. In the 1790 Census for the Newbern District, Craven County, Robert Wheathington's household consisted of 2 males over 16, 5 males under 16, 3 females, and 2 slaves. Samuel Branton was listed between his name and that of Ambrose.

On the other hand, in the 1790 Census for the Newbern District, Dobbs County, Robert Witherington's household consisted of 1 male over 16, 2 males under 16, 3 females, and 2 slaves. Since the two Roberts did not live very far from each other, although our Robert lived in Craven County, it is not impossible that the one living in Craven could have joined the Dobbs Militia. However, it was probably the one who lived in Dobbs County.

SOLOMON WITHERINGTON FAMILY

Four children are listed in Solomon Witherington's will (see p. 65):

- I. THOMAS WITHERINGTON.
- II. MARY WITHERINGTON--m. a RAMSEY, probably Thomas Ramsey. Thomas was a chain bearer for a grant to William Witherington in Dobbs Co. on Dec. 14, 1967.
- III. ELIZABETH WITHERINGTON--m. a Hutus? or Lutus? (unreadable), perhaps Loftin.
- IV. ROBERT WITHERINGTON--d. about 1819. In the January term, 1820, of Lenoir County Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, Abner Witherington obtained letters of administration of his estate (Spier Worthing Papers, ECU Manuscript Collection). There were seven children mentioned in the court case petitioning for the division of his estate. Two of the children, Robert and William were deceased, and their children were named. The 1790 Census, as already noted, has more people listed than this. There were possibly 6 sons and 2 daughters listed, and Ambrose already had a separate home (listed alone). Some might have died without children or moved on to another state before the case was entered. Another possibility is that all in the household were not children. The Isaac who witnessed deed No. 21 (p. 68) might have been a son.

According to Dr. Witherington's notes, Robert Wetherington and wife Sarah sold land in March 1782. Witnesses were Miles Hutchins and Cleaverly Wetherington. No further details of the deed were given. It seems, then, that Robert's wife was named SARAH.

In the Craven County Court Minutes of January 6, 1768, it was "Ordered that Robert Witherington serve as a Constable for the Ensuing Year in the Room (place of) Solomon Carmack" (C. R. 028.301.11, State Archives).

Robert was living in Lenoir County when he died. The area around Stoney Town Creek (now Stonington Creek), where he probably lived, was annexed to Lenoir County in 1804. Two of his children, Ambrose and Robert Jr., settled in Pitt County. His children, not necessarily in chronological order, follow:

- Mills*
- A. AMBROSE WITHERINGTON--b. Feb. 26, 1768; d. 1824; m. SUSANNA (SUSAN) MILLS (d. about 1846), dau. of Frederick Mills.
Spier Witherington was the administrator of Ambrose's estate. The administration papers are located in the Spier Worthington Papers in the ECU Manuscript Collection. Robert A. Weathington was the administrator of Susan's estate and sold a Negro girl, Silvy, to Spires Weathington on Jan. 2, 1947 (Spier Worthington Papers).

Ambrose Wheathington is in the 1790 Census of the Newbern District, Craven County. He is listed alone. On February 28, 1794, Ambrose Witherington made an agreement with John Allen of Craven County to tend and cultivate his land. After that crop was in, he must have moved to Pitt County. Abstracts of his Pitt County deeds follow:

1. DB N, p. 282--On Nov. 17, 1794, Ambrose Witherington bought

- 162 acres for 106 pounds from Thomas Hardee. It was formerly a 1774 patent of Wm. Whitfield. Abram Hardee and William Haddock were witnesses.
2. DB O, p. 195--On Dec. 2, 1797, Ambrose Wetherington bought 114 acres for 100 pounds from Daniel Macklin. The witness was Edward Smith.

Robert Weatherington and Abner Weatherington witnessed the transaction.

 9. DB AA, p. 317--On Aug. 18, 1816, Ambrose Withrington bought a Negro for $96 from William Mills. Thomas Griffin was the witness. (Note: William Mills was probably his brother-in-law).

 13. DB DD, p. 64--In 1824 Susan Weatherington, widow, received a dower of 65 acres adjoining Elizabeth Jones, Hardee Johnson, and Jesse Braxton from Ambrose Weatherington's estate.

The children of Ambrose and Susan follow:

1. FREDERICK WORTHINGTON--b. about 1796 (between June 21 and Nov. 20). He was still living at age 83 in the 1880 Census of Florida; m. LOVETT J. (LOVIE), who was born in N. C. about 1813. Between 1820 and 1830 they moved to Florida and settled near Quincy, where he was a farmer.

Spier was probably named for an uncle. Spiers Mills and Thomas Mills were chain bearers for a 300-acre land grant for Frederick Mills Sr. on Nov. 23, 1803, in Pitt County on the west side of the east prong of Swift Creek by warrant entered Dec. 15, 1801, and issued Dec. 13, 1804 (Land Grant Office, Book 120, p. 187). Sons were quite often the chain bearers when land was surveyed.

On Oct. 29, 1821, Speir Witherington bought 400 acres for $73 from James Sheppard, sheriff. The land was formerly owned by Frederick Mills Jr. and Frederick Mills. Witnesses were Wilks Brooks and Ams. Witherington (DB BB, p. 340).

Two other deeds deal with this same land: (1) On May 22, 1820, Peter Sugg, sheriff, sold Wilks Brooks 400 acres including the William Hardee and John Moyer tracts for $106.66. The former owners were Frederick Mills Jr. and his father, Frederick Mills Sr. Witnesses were James Bell and Ambros Witherington (DB BB, p. 350). (2) On Oct. 12, 1820, Spyers Witherington bought from Wilks Brooks, sheriff, 400 acres known by the name of the William Hardee tract and John Moyer tract for $147.14. Thomas Mills and A. Witherington witnessed the transaction (DB BB, p. 365. Note: Thomas Mills was probably an uncle.).

On Feb. 25, 1824, Speir Weatherington received 120 acres as security for $1200 from Allen Kittrell, Jethro Kittrell, and John Kittrell (DB CC, p. 391).

On Oct. 12, 1829, Spier Wetherington bought the right, titles, and interest that Frederick Wetherington had in the Negroes belonging to the estate of Ambrose Wetherington for $160. Moses Herington and T. Griffin were the witnesses (Spier Worthington Papers).

On Apr. 20, 1826, Spier Witherington bought from Allen Kittrell of Beaufort Co. 120 acres adjoining Ambrose Weatherington, Jesse Braxton, Isaac Baldree, Gideon Baldree, and Charles Jenkins, deceased. John Kittrell, father of Allen Kittrell, was the former owner. John Kittrell (Jr.) and Nathaniel Langley were witnesses.

On Mar. 3, 1828, Speir Witherington bought a Negro for $110.05 from John Jenkins, administrator. Former owners were Benjamin Jenkins, deceased, and Charles Jenkins, father of Benjamin. C. C. Jenkins and Jonathan Meglohon were witnesses.

On Dec. 9, 1833, Spier Witherington bought a Negro named Isaac, about 43, for $300 from George W. Jenkins. The witnesses were D. Sutton and Robert A. Witherington (Spier Worthington Papers).

On Apr. 17, 1838, Spire Witherington for $105 bought from Elisha Nicles and his wife Nancy 82 acres adjoining the land of Brinckley White, Elizabeth Wetherington, Spire W. and others on Hencoop Swamp (Spier Worthington Papers).

On Jan. 22, 1842, Speir Weatherington bought at public auction 146 acres for $96 from Walter Hanrahan, executor of James R. Hoyle who had a deed of trust Nov. 19, 1839, for the benefit of Thomas Hanrahan. The land adjoined that of Cullen Tripp, Council Braxton, and others. (This was the Frederick Loving Sr. land. See also DB II, p. 168; DB L, p. 260, and DB Q, p. 7. This is in DB KK, p. 422.)

On Jan. 2, 1847, Spiers Witherington bought one Negro girl named Silvy for $350.55 from Robt. A. Witherington, administrator of the estate of Susan (Spier Worthington Papers).

On Nov. 2, 1847, Spier Witherington bought from Samuel W. Webber and his wife Susanna, and Lucretia 85 acres for $170, "it being the lot of land set apart to Robert Witherington decd. and conveyed by him to Baldree, from Baldree to Ringgold, from Ringgold to Susanna Brown decd.--and descended at her death to Susanna, now the Susanna Webber & Lucretia Ann Arsenia Brown her two daughters" (Spier Worthington Papers).

On Dec. 18, 1849, Speirs Wetherington sold 100 acres for $200 to Jeremiah Wetherington adjoining the lands of Cullen Tripp and Council Braxton. It was a part of a patent formerly granted to John Wilson and was located on the west side of Swift Creek and west side of Horsepen Branch. Also included was a tract of 46 acres adjoining the lands of Council Braxton, John Tripp, Ringgold's corner, and James White's corner. John Herrington was the witness (DB MM, p. 378).

On Jan. 12, 1861, Spier's land was divided among his children (DB PP, p. 701). See page 38 for Lewis and Martha McGlohon's share.

There may have been other deeds. The writer does not remember whether she searched for all those between 1830 and 1860. See page 40 for a law suit involving some of Spier's land.
