Died.

Mr. E. A. Bland, of Grifton was in town to-day and tells us that Mrs. Mary Quinerly, widow of the late ex Sheriff W. A. Quinerly, died there last night. She had a yellow chill on Monday. Mrs. Quinerly made a great many friends in Greenville during the years she lived here, and they learn with regret of her death.

HUNG HIMSELF.

MR. JACKOWFSKY COMMITS SUICIDE.

His Wife Finds Him Hanging to the Door Knob.

(Special to Reflector.)

WASHINGTON, N. C., Dec 13.—Mr. L. E. Jackowfsky, the tailor, committed suicide here this morning by hanging himself to the door knob. His wife found him in a dying condition and immediately summoned a physician, but too late. He died a few minutes past 8 o'clock.

Mr. Jackowfsky formerly lived in Greenville and moved here from your town.

Four Tobacco Items.

Five car loads of tobacco and cotton were shipped from here to-day.

The breaks at the warehouses yesterday and to-day were large and the offerings showed up much better than they have for for some time.

From the present outlook the tobacco crop will be largely increased in this section next year. In raising fine tobacco there is always good money but in a poor nondescript crop there is money out.

Mr. Viotor, of Richmond, Va., was on the breaks yesterday and as he was being introduced to the boys he good humoredly said "My name is 'Veto' and I put a veto on the high prices you are paying for tobacco."

Agent Moore has a large force of hands at work to-day grading up and improving the yard around the depot and making better drain ways. Now if the town will improve Dickerson Avenue the street to the depot would be much better.

We are indebted to Rev. Irl R. Hicks, of St. Louis, editor of Word and Works, for a copy of his almanac for 1895. It gives the best and most accurate weather forecasts of any publication in existence.

Notice has been given that application will be made to the next Legislature to amend the charter of the town of Greenville. Several other towns are on the catalogue to be given a similar dose. This will be one of the evils resulting from a fusion Legislature.

Tobacco shipments from Greenville have grown so large that agent Moore tells us his present warehouse does not afford sufficient room for handling it in connection with the other immense quantities of freight. He is trying to get the railroad company to build another warehouse to be used for tobacco delivery. The increased acreage and growing tobacco business makes this additional ware room a necessity and we hope it will be built at once.

An unofficial list of the members elect to the 54th Congress has been compiled by the Clerk of the House. The list is corrected up to December 5th, and gives the Republicans 244 members, the Democrats 104, and the Populists 6. In the present Congress there are 219 Democrats, 123 Republicans and 12 Populists.

It will be seen that North Carolina furnishes half of the Populists in the next Congress, and they have only half as many in the next Congress as in this. It seems they were defeated as well as the Democrats.

The Scotland Neck Democrat has entered upon its eleventh volume. The Democrat is one of our cleverest, brightest and best exchanges.

A BIG RAILROAD DEAL.

Northern Capitalists to Build a New System of Southern Lines.

A Baltimore special to the Philadelphia Times says:

The sale of the Richmond, Petersburg and Carolina railroad to a syndicate composed of New York, Philadelphia, and Washington capitalists, is part of a scheme for a new system of southern railroads. Under the terms of sale the purchasers are to pay and deliver to the city of Petersburg $100,000 of the first mortgage bonds of the railroad at par to bear interest from July 1, 1895, and to be issued at the rate of $20,000 for each mile of railroad proposed to be built. The work of construction is to be begun before January 1, 1895, and the road is to be completed to its terminus by July 1, 1896.

The system of roads it is proposed to build will consist of the Baltimore and Southern, in Maryland; the Baltimore, Richmond and Southern, in Virginia, and the completion of the Richmond, Petersburg and Carolina road to Warren Plains, in North Carolina, a distance of 285 miles. At Warren Plains this proposed trunk line will connect with other southern roads. The cost of the entire system will be in the neighborhood of $6,000,000.

There are people who make it a rule never to get to church early because they do not wish to be bored by listening to these "notices." It is a tiresome thing to have to hear chapter after chapter of these notices, many of which have already appeared in the daily papers until one becomes fatigued at looking at them. Very often the patience of the people, as well as that of the pastor, is exhausted by this dismal overture. Many a good sermon has been ruined by the practice.—Richmond Dispatch.

Every pastor nowadays becomes a bulletin-board every Sunday morning just before taking his text, and, for several minutes, sometimes a half hour, he reels off announcement after announcement of forthcoming events. Some of the announcements are often first-class advertisements in black faced type, top of column, alongside or preceding sermon and sound somewhat ridiculous. A good reward is awaiting the man who will invent a good substitute for this very ancient custom.—The Danville Register.

Are not the rich truly unfortunate? But who ever prays for them? The poor will be remembered to day throughout the land, but few will present the wealthy at a throne of grace. They need the prayers of those who have the ear of Heaven; their possessions will never lead them nearer to righteousness, but the use they make of their wealth may make them perfect. Jesus "beholding him, loved" the young man who wanted to be perfect yet was unwilling to do that alone which would make him perfect. Love the poor, pray for them, help them, there is equal good reason why good men should love, pray for, and help the rich. They need spiritual blessings even as the poor need temporal.

After all, the heart is the life. If the heart be right the life will be right. If the heart goes out in love for one's fellowmen, thither will the treasure flow also. The Scriptures are plain. None need "die disgraced," for they that use their riches aright will never be rich save in good works.—Gastonia Gazette.

DIFFICULTY AT KINSTON.

Tuesday a big racket was made in Mr. Leslie Dawson's store. Mr. N. J. Rouse, a leading attorney of Kinston, was cut and badly bruised by the Dawson brothers. He was cut on his legs in two places and his face and arm were badly bruised. His injuries are painful but not dangerous.

It seems, from the best than we can learn, that Mess. N. J. Rouse and W. D. Pollock have obtained judgment against Mr. Leslie Dawson for a northern creditor. The case that was being tried before Clerk Bright was of supplemental proceedings, investigating the ownership of property. Miss Sadie Dawson, daughter of Mr. Levi Dawson, was a witness in the case, and at her request (feeling a delicacy about going to the court house) her evidence was taken in Mr. Leslie Dawson's store. Mr. Levi Dawson and his sons were excluded from the court while her evidence was taken. After she had given in her evidence and signed the report of it she went out to where her father and brothers were. In a very short time Mr. Levi Dawson came in and went towards Mr. Rouse, cursing him and saying he (Mr. Rouse) had insulted his daughter. Mess. A. J. Loftin and D. E. Perry, who were attorneys for the Dawsons, told Mr. Dawson that it was a mistake, that the examination had been conducted as courteously as could be, but this failed to quiet matters. The Dawson brothers attacked Mr. Rouse with knives and a pistol, but the pistol failed to fire.

At the hearing before Mayor Hill, as examination was waived by the Dawsons, no testimony was taken, but Mr. Levi Dawson made a statement to the effect that his daughter had told him when she came out from the examination that Mr. Rouse had insulted her and she could not protect herself, and that he told her he would protect her, and then followed the difficulty. He said he and Mr. Rouse struck at each other about the same time. Mr. Rouse was not able to attend the hearing, so he could make no statement.—Kinston Free Press.
