Great reductions for the Holiday trade in Men's Youth and Boys Clothing at C. T. Munford's.

HOW IT OCCURRED.

Fuller Particulars of the Jackowsky Suicide.

Since publishing the special from Washington, yesterday, about Mr. Jackowsky hanging himself to a door knob, so many have asked us how on earth could a man hang himself to a door knob, that we wired this morning for fuller particulars. Our correspondent sent the following:

Mr. Jackowsky took a piece of braid used for binding coats, tied it to the door knob, looped it around his neck and fell backward with his hands behind him, strangling himself to death. The piece of braid reached about a foot from the knob to his neck.

Jackowsky had been crazed for several days from hard drinking. He was buried this morning in Oakdale cemetery.

Steward's Meeting.

The Board of Stewards of the Methodist church, consisting of L. H. Pender, G. E. Harris, T. J. Jarvis, James Brown, C. T. Munford, J. R. Moye, A. L. Blow, and A. B. Ellington held their first meeting for the new conference year last night. L. H. Pender, was elected chairman, and A. B. Ellington, secretary and treasurer. The pastor's salary was continued the same as last year, $900. The first church conference will be held on Sunday, 23rd inst.

AYDEN ITEMS.

A great deal has been written about majorities received by Democrats elected to the next House, and there is quite a controversy as to who received the largest increase when the size of the vote is considered. Mr. Woodard, of North Carolina, seems to be ahead of the list, as his plurality at the recent election was about 5,300, or something like 3,300 greater than two years ago. It has been generally supposed that the Second North Carolina District has a majority of negro voters in it. That is erroneous. According to the census returns there are fully 1,200 more white voters in the district than colored. It used to be a "black district," but the confines were changed four years ago. Ex Congressman Cheatham, who expects to contest Mr. Woodard's seat, is said to be banking on proving there are more negroes than whites in the district, and therefore he ought to have been elected.

He Got His Receipt.

"What are you waiting for?" said a Cherokee lawyer to an Indian who had paid him money. "Receipt," said the Indian. "A receipt? What do you know about a receipt? Can you understand the nature of a receipt?" "Tell me the nature of one and I will give it to you," replied the young lawyer.

"Suppose maybe me die; me go to heaven; me find the gates locked; me see Postle Peter; he say, 'What you want?' Me say, 'Want to get in.' 'You pay A that money? What me do?' I hab no receipt; hab to hunt all over hell to find you."

He got his receipt.

J. C. L. Harris, in a letter to the Washington Post outlines the most important measures that the next Legislature will act upon. He gives the following as the probable legislation: Change of county government, new election law, doing away with challenging on day of election, using one ticket, polls to keep open as long as there is anybody to vote, only poll holders to be appointed who can read readily, city charters to be amended, no appropriation to the university, no appropriation for the State Guard, a new oyster law, and an amended school law.

Now the question is, can Mr. Harris control the incoming legislation and have such bills passed as he desires? We will see in the near future. He says that we will have faster again in 1896 and that it will be much stronger than it was at the last election. This remains to be seen too, and we are not much inclined to the belief that Mr. Harris has prophetic powers.

A FEW STATE ITEMS.

Kinston Free Press—Mr. Geo. White killed five wild turkeys at one shot near Pollocksville, Jones county.

Lincoln and Johnston counties have settled their taxes with the State Treasurer being the first to pay in full. The Sheriff of Lincoln got his receipt just two hours before Johnston's official arrived. The latter has been first to settle for several years.

The Wilmington, Charlotte and Conway River Railway, fifty miles long, from Conway, S. C. to Charlotte, N. C., and to Little N. C., has been bought by B. F. Newberry for the Atlantic Coast Line for $5,000 cash and becomes a part of the latter system.

Working the Roads.

The Board of Directors of the county of Durham, having in charge the working of the roads, makes a report for the three months ending December 1st, that shows the work has been done with a saving to the county where the convicts were used. In cash value it is represented as follows: The convict labor, at 65 cents a day, upon which amount board is deducted, for the three months named, amounted to $1,544.09. The total expenses, including clothing and feed for convicts, guards and keeping up tools, were $755.30, leaving a money due to the credit of the county of $778.79. This looks as if the convict system of working will pay where it is managed right.—Durham Sun.

North Carolina must not fail to be well represented in its tobacco exhibits in the great show of 1895 at Atlanta. It is a positive fact that the best, finest, brightest and richest tobacco grown on this continent is produced in North Carolina. If the best farmers of the best tobacco growing counties will send their very best samples to Atlanta and the committee to judge deals fairly, North Carolina will get the prize or whatever is offered. Do not neglect to send the richest, most only bright and finest gold leaf raised this year. Do not neglect this opportunity but improve it. Advertise the State. It will be a fine occasion and a great exhibit. The North will be at Atlanta.—Wilmington Messenger.

The Supreme Court of North Carolina has rendered a very important decision with reference to building and loan associations. It is held that when a mortgage is foreclosed that a stockholder does not forfeit his stock and that in a foreclosure credits should be given for payments upon stock; or, if this is not done and the mortgage is satisfied from the proceeds of a sale, the stock remains the property of the borrower.

HIS MIND UNBALANCED.

The Sad Fate of a Young Man who Came to Attend Conference.

The Durham Sun of the 12th inst., contained the following sad intelligence:

The Stewart Hotel has a very unpleasant guest, in fact, so much so, that he has to be guarded all the time to keep him from doing himself or others harm.

His name is James H. Barnhill, a young man about twenty six or twenty eight years of age, who came here last Friday, to attend the Conference, from Bethel, N. C. After his arrival he went immediately to the Stewart Hotel and registered, and has since then become insane. His people were notified but as yet no word has been received from them.

It is indeed a pathetic sight to see a young, intelligent, well educated man in his condition—away from home and friends, and more especially is it so in this case when one has become acquainted with his life's history, and the causes which led to his insanity. He was a poor boy and had an old mother and sister who looked to him for their support. He worked hard and educated himself, but studied so hard at school and since that his mind has become impaired. His mother and sister are still dependent upon him for their living.

Unless the authorities hear from his people by tomorrow morning he will be taken to his home, in Pitt county, and turned over to the sheriff.

Just before putting the DAILY REFLECTOR in press a telegram came to Sheriff King from Sheriff Ragsbee, of Durham, advising him that an officer having Mr. Barnhill in charge would reach Greenville on this evening's train.

J. S. Smith & Co. keep a complete stock of Family Groceries. Christmas buyers take notice.

Nearly every evening after supper parties of merry young people visit the stores to look at the holiday goods.

Hen fruit becomes a luxury when Christmas draws near—in other words the holidays puts up the price of eggs.

The next best thing to being a pretty girl and having delightful serenades is to live next door to one and get the benefit of the music anyway.

Quite a number of friends have called in to subscribe for the DAILY REFLECTOR. Let the good work continue. We hope for many more to come in every day.

Many a woman will put a number five foot in a number four shoe, and decorate the other end of her anatomy with a hat as big as a cart wheel.
