Arrested.

Ben Williams, a colored restaurant keeper, was arrested Sunday on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretense. Ben went to an oysterman at the river and ordered seven gallons of oysters, telling the boatman to come on up to his shop for the money. He went up, and upon arriving there Ben told him he had no money to pay the bill. This led to the warrant being issued. The case was called before Squire B. S. Sheppard, today, and Ben submitted, paying for the oysters and the costs in the case.

Anything you want for Christmas can be had at James Long's.

Took a Tumble.

On last Saturday night as the Hotel Macon bus was returning from the depot, and just as it got in front of Mr. Wiley Brown's residence of Dickerson avenue, the coupling pin broke and threw one of the front wheels under the bus, and toppled it over on its side in the ditch. The horses took fright and ran off. There was but one passenger, Mr. W. W. Shaw, and he was thrown violently on the side, receiving only a few bruises. The driver Henry Lewis, and a small colored boy did not get off so easy. The driver was thrown to the ground and the bus came very near falling on him. He received several severe licks on the head and his left arm and shoulder badly hurt. The colored boy was pitched about six feet and had one of his fingers broke and several bad cuts on his head. It was fortunate no one was killed.

Too Bad! Too Bad!

When the train came in this morning it struck us that something looked very much out of fix, and catching jolly Engineer Smith in tears and clever Capt. Hawks all down in the mouth we stepped up to the latter to inquire if anybody was dead or if he had been paying some election bets. "No, But just look at that train! The company has taken away my nice cars and given me those you see."

In place of the former handsome first class coach was one not near so good, while for the second class coach was substituted a very old combination car. As it now is the mail and express car is the best looking part of the train. That's too bad! We hope the company will put the nice cars back at once. Certainly travel is heavy enough on this road for it to be given as good cars as are going.

The Wilmington Review is 18 years old and a good one. The DAILY REFLECTOR sends congratulations and wishes it 18 more years of prosperity.

The Henderson Gold Leaf is thirteen years old. Thad Manning gets up a paper of which his town ought to be very proud. It is a credit to the profession.

The Mt. Airy Granite quarry sent off a slice of stone, in a perfectly straight line, 210 feet long, 10 feet wide, and 2 feet 8 inches thick, containing about 5,600 cubic feet, about 466 tons, making 23 car loads of 20 tons each. This is the largest stone ever quarried in the world. Beat North Carolina if you can.

The President after an extended conference with Secretary Carlisle and Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller, issued an order putting storekeepers, gaugers, and clerks in offices of collectors of internal revenue in the classified civil service. This increases the list of persons who are thus protected by the civil service by about 2,600.

The outlook points to another bond issue. Saturday's papers reported the gold reserve had again gone below the limit, with still further drafts likely to be made at once upon it. The bond issuing has become more frequent than the people admire, and Congress should hurry the enactment of some financial measure that will bring about desired relief.

On the motion in the Senate to take up the free-sugar bill, Senators Hunton and Jarvis were among those recorded in the affirmative; or, in other words, they wanted the Senate to go ahead in the effort to make the sweet article even cheaper to the people.

Senators Daniel and Ransom did not vote and no explanation of their pairs were made.

The mandamus proceedings against the State canvassing Board in the case of C. M. Bernard against John E. Woodard came up before Judge Bynum in Raleigh on last Friday. The case was ably argued by Judge Whitaker for Mr. Bernard and Col. Tinsdale for Mr. Seawell, his election depending upon the result of these proceedings, and by F. S. Spruill and C. B. Aycock for Mr. Woodard. Judge Bynum dissolved the injunction stating that the case was in the wrong court, and that he had no authority to compel the Board to examine as to fraud in the returns. This decision enables the State Board of Canvassers to complete their work and adjourn. Notice of appeal was given by the contestants.

There is a great deal of talk about women broadening their sphere. There is no doubt about that. Look at the largeness of the sleeves they are now wearing, bless 'em.

Because the principals of the Mt. Olive and Pikeville schools voted the Democratic ticket at the recent election, the Populist patrons of both schools have withdrawn their children, informing the principals that hereafter they must look for their support from the Democrats. We are also informed that they are treating their pastors, who voted the Democratic ticket, in like manner and are actually withholding the amounts pledged to their support. What are we coming to, and whither are we drifting? -Goldsboro Headlight.

What is known as the Farmers and Merchants' Co operative Association has been formed in Hale county, Ala. with J. W. Pellard, president, and R. A. White, secretary. The object of the association is to encourage and promote the raising at home of everything the farmers and people generally need. This kind of a society might be formed in many other sections and be of great advantage.

An exchange says that there isn't as much reason for being neighborly as there used to be. People these times can rent dishes of a crockery store when they give a party and undertakers furnish chairs for a funeral. There isn't much left to borrow except spoons and trouble.

Out in Oregon there is a Mr. Tongue who desires to go to the United States Senate. We thought the last session developed the fact that there was too much of this thing there now.

The fortune of the Rothschilds is estimated at $2,000,000,000.

Senator Ransom contributed $50.00 to the relief fund being raised for the benefit of the sufferers by the fire in Marion, N. C.

Judge W. N. Mebane took the train this morning for his home. His term on the bench has been short, his only courts being two weeks in Nash and two weeks in Pitt. He made good impressions in these counties and many would have been glad had the result at the last election been different, so he and the other Democratic Judges could have continued on the Bench.

The season of holiday trading and purchase has already begun. Many of the stores have their stocks displayed and shrewd buyers are making their purchases now. Isn't this a good time to give the REFLECTOR your advertising?

The editor is whole footed for Christmas. On Saturday his aunt, Mrs. W. R. Whichard, sent over a fine fat turkey to make a companion dish for Christmas dinner to the ham she recently sent. Our thanks are bigger than type can express

Saturday evening about dark as Allen Brown, colored, had a load of wood standing in front of the REFLECTOR office, along came a two mule wagon and locked wheels with Allen's cart and turned cart, wood, mule and all in a confused jumble in the middle of the street. Allen said the driver had plenty of room to get by. The driver of the wagon said Allen should keep out of the middle of the street. That settled it.
