Married.

McGowan-Ham—On Wednesday, 12th inst., near Greenville, Mr. M. L. McGowan and Miss Pheny Ham were married by Rev. Callas Little.

Don't You See?

Mr. Allen Warren, of Riverside Nursery, says the two-line local he put in the DAILY REFLECTOR, a few days ago, for 16 turkeys, brought people with 200 turkeys to him. A word to the wise, etc.

Look at Home.

We entirely agree with the Rocky Mount Evening News when it says: "Firmly establish your home industries and useful home enterprises by patronizing them. Promises to do so later on are encouraging but place no pie on the table to day."

Attention Masons.

A special communication of Greenville Lodge, No. 284, A. F. & A. M., has been called for Thursday night, Dec. 20th. All the members are requested to attend, as business of importance will demand their attention.

By order of the Worshipful Master. W. M. KING, W. M.

Nine on a Side.

Register of Deeds King had a rush to day from people anxious to get married, and issued license to nine couples, with one more expected later in the day. Those getting licenses were Wm. Baker and Mary Harris, B. F. H. Edwards and Florence Warren, J. H. Stocks and Lydia Carr, Fener Nelson and Luvenia Rouse, E. E. Hathaway and Winiford Webb, David Spain and Mary Galloway, Edward Mills and Ada M. Mills, Jerry Person and Maggie Edward W. C. Hines and Viney Daniel.

PARMELE ITEMS.

December 17th, 1894.

G. J. Cherry returned from Norfolk yesterday.

Messrs. T. F. Whitley and R. R. Branch spent Sunday in Grindool.

Miss Annie Craft, of Roper, is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Powell.

Jas. A. McIver has been sick for the past week, but is nearly well again.

Misses Cena Cherry and Marie Brown spent Friday afternoon and night here.

Misses Bertie and Minnie McNaughton, of Everetts, spent today in Parmele.

Rev. Mr. Guthrie, late of Laurinburg, spent to day in Parmele with Rev. Mr. Hines.

Rolla the "Royal Entertainer" gave very enjoyable concerts in Powell's Hall Friday and Saturday nights.

Parmele is still booming, three large dwellings are just being completed, and material is being hauled for others.

This has been another lively day on the tobacco market.

D. J. WHICHARD, Editor.

Subscription 25 cents per Month.

Entered as second-class mail matter.

The estate of the late Mr. E. M. Short, who was killed by the explosion of his mill at Washington, is valued at $120,000.

Rocky Mount has a very bright daily paper, the Evening News, published by Messrs. Parker & Wayman. Their paper shows them to be hustlers through and through.

The Penny Press came out in enlarged size this morning, with the editorship charged from Master Lee Rawls to Mr. W. S. Christian. It has caught something of the spirit of the REFLECTOR and follows along our line of mentioning some of Greenville's industries and business men. Greenville deserves all that can be said along this line.

When Judge Bynum dissolved the injunction in the mandamus proceedings before him in the Bernard-Woodard case, the State Board of Canvassers accordingly issued a certificate to Mr. Woodard as Solicitor. A Raleigh correspondent says that Mr. Woodard declines to accept the certificate thus given and wrote Gov. Carr a letter to that effect. Mr. Woodard knew that the legal points in the case were all in his favor, but in the course of his letter says: "I have held office under clear title for four years and could not consent to hold it longer under a commission issued on a mere technicality or even tainted with a suspicion of technical invalidity, but prefer to surrender the commission."

Some Nice Things the Press Brethren Are Saying That the Home Folks Will Take Pleasure in Reading.

The DAILY REFLECTOR has made its appearance. We wish it success—Greenville Penny Press.

The Greenville DAILY REFLECTOR'S initial number came to time Monday evening and is promised for a month certain, with fair prospects of being a permanency. We wish it every success.—Greenville Index.

The Greenville REFLECTOR has started a small daily. It is a neat and newsy. We wish it success.—Kinston Free Press.

We have received several copies of the DAILY REFLECTOR, published at Greenville, N. C., by D. J. Whichard. It is a bright four page, newsy little daily. Long may she wave is the sincere wish of the Messenger.—Washington Messenger.

The Greenville DAILY REFLECTOR is a small but newsy paper and editor Whichard says if it meets the success it ought to will be enlarged. Greenville ought to give it a hearty support.—Charlotte Democrat.

Editor Whichard of Greenville is now getting out a daily issue of the REFLECTOR. Its first appearance was last Monday. It is neat and newsy and we wish it success. A daily paper in Greenville shows enterprise which we hope will be sustained.—Scotland Neck Democrat.

WILEY BROWN,

The Legend of the Beautiful Hand

There was a dispute among three ladies as to which had the most beautiful hand. One sat by a stream and dipped her hand in the water and held it up; another plucked strawberries until the ends of her fingers were pink; and another gathered violets until her hands were fragrant. An old, haggard woman passing by asked "Who will give me a gift, for I am poor?" All three denied her; but another who sat near, unwashed in the stream, unstained with fruit, unadorned with flowers, gave her a little gift and satisfied the poor woman. And then she asked them what was the dispute, and they told her, and lifted up before her their beautiful hands. "Beautiful, indeed," said she when she saw them. But when they asked her which was the most beautiful, she said, "It is not the hand that is washed clean in the brook, it is not the hand that is tipped with red, it is not the hand that is garlanded with fragrant flowers, but the hand that gives to the poor is the most beautiful." As she said these words her wrinkles fled, her staff was thrown away, and she stood before them an angel from Heaven with authority to decide the question in dispute. And that decision has stood the test of all time.

Stub Ends of Thought.

Work fast reaches rest first.

It's a cold day that can't get colder.

It isn't the long sermons that reach to heaven.

A ton of complaining won't raise a pound of relief.

A handful of sunshine can knock out a carload of clouds.

Waited for opportunities are usually more or less frazzled at the edges.

A man doesn't stand around with his hands in his pockets if there's money in them.

If a man can see good in anything, don't try to show him that there may be something else visible.

Build up your business by putting an advertisement in the DAILY REFLECTOR.

Money appropriated by Congress for the support of the Life Saving Service is an investment in which Uncle Sam should find just cause for satisfaction. Almost four thousand shipwrecked persons were rescued by the life-savers during the last year, while of the $10,000,000 represented in the ships aided in distress, $8,000,000 was saved.

LOCAL RELECTIONS.

Cotton 4½ to-day.

Just one week to Christmas.

Come see my Christmas goods Everything cheap. James Long

It has been decidedly colder to-day.

Endless variety Toys, Dolls Fireworks, Fruits, Candies, etc. at James Long's.

A marriage in town to-morrow morning.

Great reductions for the Holiday trade in Men's Youth and Boys Clothing at C. T. Munford's.

Fresh meat plentiful in market. It is selling at 6 cents.

Granulated Sugar 5 cents a pound, and Seedless Raisins at Old Brick Store.

Turkeys seem to be quite abundant this season and sell at 5 cents a pound.

Oranges, Apples, Candies, Cheese, Butter, Crackers and Canned Goods, at L. V. Bradshaw's.

This has been a good day with the merchants, they all seemed to be busy.

Beautiful line Neck Wear, nice Christmas presents, at Munford's.

The sidewalk in front of the Old Brick Store was alive with turkeys to-day.

Anything you want for Christmas can be had at James Long's.

There will be an entertainment at Carolina Christian College, Ayden, on Thursday night, 20th.

The business man who hustles and pays strict attention to his advertisement in the newspaper, is the one that is "getting there."

A large gray wolf skin was on exhibition at Lang's store to-day. It was sent from Montana by Mr. J. W. Forbes to his sister, Mrs. E. E. Hart, of Ayden.

A good advertisement is the best solicitor. It appeals to the people who may want what it tells about, but does not intrude upon people who care nothing about the thing.

A colored man was killed at Pantego, Monday afternoon, by a limb falling on him.

Lovelace Cherry, for imbibing too much bad liquor, paid $1 and costs in Mayor Fleming's court, yesterday.

Shelburn's store is decorated beautifully. The people were out in full last night looking at his display.

Cotton has been coming in town freely to-day. There has been little change in the market for several days.

This morning Mr. Allen Warren shipped 14 turkeys that weighed 172 pounds. That was a fine lot of fowls.

Mr. H. Sheppard is having lumber placed on a lot near the depot for the purpose of building a storage warehouse.

To-morrow's weekly edition of REFLECTOR will contain the financial statement of the finances of county for the past year.

Capt. Hawks waved a sweet smile at us as he passed by this morning. He had a better looking train than yesterday.
