LITTLE BITS

Cream of Local News Boiled Down for Busy Folks.

J. L. Starkey & Co's is the place for Fruits, Candies and Cigars.

The people have been here to day, great crowds of them.

Come see my Christmas goods Everything cheap. James Long

It will be dark nights Christmas and turkeys had better roost high.

Beautiful line Neck Wear, nice Christmas presents, at Munford's.

Reserved seats for the Opera "The Merry Milkmaids" on sale at Wooten's drug store

Get your cigars for Christmas from J. L. Starkey & Co. *

The warehouses have closed until after New Year and the tobacco boys will take a holiday.

Don't forget the Furniture & Racket Store when you are looking for presents.

Yesterday Mrs. L. Griffin received a very large rock fish, something unusual for the time of year. It was sent from Washington by Mr. E. T. Stewart.

We have a beautiful line of Lounges and Plush Chairs for holiday presents.

J. B. CHERRY & Co.

Behind the Masque.

The masquerade party given by Mrs. Lucy Bernard's school last night, was an enjoyable affair and a very pleasant evening was spent. The following are the participants and the characters they assumed:

Baby Mine—Bessie White; Lady in Pink—Zelle White; Indian Queen—Cottie Hearne; Pale Face—Emma Harris; Spirit of the Woods—Lottie Blow; Sisters of Charity—Hortense Williams, Hennie Sheppard and Gertrude Williams; Daisy Bell—Olive Daniel; Lady of Vence—Sophia Jarvis; City Girl—Essie Murray; Red Riding Hood—Blanche Flanagan, Ada Wooten and Alice Blow; Daughter of America—Lorraine Horne; Blue Domino—Nellie Lawrence; Pink Domino—Lena Matthews; Diana Beeswax—Dot Flanagan; A Country Maiden—Fannie Blow; Hannah Snider—Minnie Quinn; Little Blue Bell—Hattie Smith; Constella—Mary Blow; Shepherdess—Mary Higgs Nun—Lizzie Jones, Lillie Baker; Ghost—Nannie Bagwell; Queen of Hearts—Sarah Hooker; Flower Girl—Ed Foley; Sailor—H. N. Snuggs; Police—Robert Cox; Chimney Sweep—Charlie Dancy; Unknown—Louis Skinner; Printer's Devil—Hal Williams; Who are you—Ashley Wilson; Indian Chief—C. B. Whichard; City Dude—Jarvis Sugg; Shiptown Boy—Paul Baker; Peter Snooks—Edward Matthews; Nobody's Boy—Lee Rawls; County School Girl—David James; Washerwoman—Jesse Smith.

The exhaust pipe to Gorman's steam prizery makes an ugly mud hole on the sidewalk. Change it, Pat, so folks won't get their feet wet in passing.

Many of the tobacco boys had themselves put on pasteboard in a group yesterday. They are a jolly, good looking set of boys, and the girls will say we are a good judge, too.

DELIGHTFUL MUSICALS.

The entertainment at the Female Seminary on last night was one of the best ever given in Greenville. From beginning to end it was a splendid success and reflected the highest credit on not only the participants but also on Prof. Goode and his most efficient corps of teachers. We wish space could be had to day to comment upon each select, for every part was perfect and faultlessly rendered, but as it is we will have to be content with giving the excellent programme which was as follows:

PART I.

1. Hail to the Winter King—Chorus.
2. Christmas Welcome—Primary Class.
3. Piano Duet—Thunder and Lightning Polka—Struas—Misses Moye and M. Moore.

Three Falkland Items.

We are glad to know Mrs. John S. Harris is improving from her recent sickness.

Our people will have a Christmas tree in the Presbyterian church here Christmas night.

Hurrah! for Christmas and a merry one to all.

Around Ayden.

Dr. Loftin, of Grifton, was in town yesterday on business.

Dr. Dixon and J. B. Pierce made a business trip to Greenville yesterday.

Mr. Herbert Hardee has moved his family here and taken a position with Mr. J. H. Cobb.

The students of the C. C. College gave a pleasant entertainment at the College Thursday night.

Hand your subscription for the DAILY REFLECTOR to the carriers. It gives lots of news for 25 cents a month.

Take Warning.

No matter how hard a man may struggle to do right there is always some sneaking scoundrel, some loathsome reptile, some pimple in the face of nature, some wart on the hand of destiny, trying to drag him down.

Many a man fails not for the lack of merit but for the lack of appreciation by his fellow man. Great hearts are full of sympathy, and show us a man that does not require the sympathy and support of his fellow man.

Failure in life is not always loss of capital in a luckless business venture. Such things are accidents that are apt to be met with by all.

Failure in life is loss of self-respect, loss of confidence in one's own character. When you see a fellow man falling, take him by the hand and help him up, when you see a man climbing, cheer him on, that he may reach and stand upon the summit of success.

The Chief Expense

The Savannah News says the greatest expense on a farm is the feed bill for men and animals and when the South produces its own corn and meat the profits of middle men and the cost of transportation of provisions from the West will be added to the profits of Southern farmers. What then remains above the cost of production of the amount received for the cotton, rice and tobacco crops will be profit, and will not have to go to pay provision bills. This is all very true and the sooner the fact is realized and the course here laid down followed the better off, and more independent the Southern farmer will be.
