Ayden Notes.

AYDEN, N. C., Jan 26.—A heavy rain storm visited this section last night. No damage reported.

A tri-weekly mail route has been established between Ayden and Redalia to take effect March 4th.

Our town was full of drummers yesterday, among them being that clever fellow J. B. Bell, with Paul D. Howard, of Norfolk. He was jovial as ever.

THE LEGISLATURE.

THURSDAY.

The principal new bills introduced in the Legislature to-day were as follows: To prevent any save chartered companies from doing business in North Carolina; to improve the public roads by convict labor; to equalize taxation; to encourage the study of civil government in the public schools; to abolish days of grace to limit to the punishment of petty larceny; to award the public printing and binding to the lowest bidder. There was a prolonged and heated debate in the House on an election case from Granville county.

The Fusionists on the Elections Committee all signed the majority report in favor of Crews, the fusionist contestant, and while the Democratic minority contended for the rights of Lyon, the sitting member, Crews was seated by a strict party vote of 59 to 38. This is the fourth Democrat unseated in the House. The case all go one way.

Narrow Escape.

Mr. W. E. Belcher went out in the country on horse back Friday night. While riding along the road the horse stumbled and fell, throwing Mr. Belcher off and falling over on him. Fortunately he escaped with no injury except being considerably bruised.

Pitt Takes the Lead.

Mr. W. J. Jackson, of this county, has received a check for $100 as a premium for selling the best 200 pounds of tobacco raised last year from Royster's Orinoco guano. Mr. Jackson sold 229 pounds at the Eastern Warehouse for $218.54. Pitt county has won this premium for three years. Mr. Jackson also had some fine tobacco on exhibition at the last State fair and won three premiums on it.

Subscription 25 cents per month.

Entered as second-class mail matter.

The REFLECTOR has received from Hon. R. B. Lacy, Commissioner, the eighth annual report of the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the State for the year 1894.

Washington officials report that for four months past there have been more emigrants from this country to Europe than immigrants to us. That is good, and we hope the emigration will continue. There is more European scum in the United States than we have any use for.

The high-handed measures resorted to by the Fusionist in the Legislature to insert Democrats and fill their places by Populists deserves the condemnation of every man who has any respect for justice and law, and unless we are mistaken they are receiving this condemnation pretty generally. Nobody ever met which was more regardless of every established custom of Legislation.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(Special Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25, 1895. Secretary Gresham will submit some very interesting documents to Congress in response to the resolution adopted by the House, calling for information concerning the expenses of the Behring Sea commission, appointed by President Harrison, and the cost to the United States of carrying out the joint treaty between the United States, Great Britain and Germany to maintain the government of Samoa. These documents will show that members and supporters of the Harrison administration are in no position to criticize the foreign policy of the present or any other administration.

Senator Jones, of Arkansas, introduced his financial bill in the Senate this week just as an ordinary bill is introduced, although he had hoped that it might have had the endorsement of the finance committee before it was formally brought to the attention of the Senate. The bill authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to issue in his discretion bonds at 3 per cent, up to $500,000,000; provides that the tax on national bank currency shall be one fourth of one per cent, and that they may issue currency up to the par value of the bonds deposited by them; also, for the unlimited coinage of silver, the government to retain as seigniorage the difference between the market value of the bullion and the face value of the money coined. Senator Smith, of New Jersey, also introduced a financial bill, which merely provides for the issue of bonds and the establishment of a non-partisan monetary commission, to investigate and report to Congress next December. There is no apparent change in the financial situation in the House, which has lately been looking to the Senate, if not for guidance, at least for a pointer.

The income tax won easily in its first legal contest. Judge Hagner, sitting in the equity branch of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, refused to grant an injunction asked for to prevent the collection of the income tax, and decided the tax to be valid. Appeal was noted.

The Long-Handled Dipper.

Among the last letters written by Dr. Holmes was one to Charles Follen Adams, acknowledging the receipt of his dialect poem: "Dot Long-Handled Dipper," in which the genial autocrat said: "I thank you for the fresh draft from this long-handled tin dipper which you have made a rival to the 'Old Oaken Bucket.' Some of my best drinks when I was a boy of fifteen at Andover were from a cocoanut dipper, but that was not destined to immortality like the more fortunate receptacles. I have always had a great liking for Yawcob and his young hopeful, and I hope they will long continue to make the world happier by their domestic history and family portraits."

Happenings Here and There Over the State

Mr. A. A. Baker, of New Jersey, dropped dead while hunting near Newbern on Thursday.

The Herald tells of a drunken colored man being killed in Salisbury. An engine run over him and literally tore his limbs in pieces. The man lived three hours after the accident.

The Statesville Landmark reports the finding of the dead body of a colored man hid in a clump of bushes in Iredell county. The man's skull was crushed. He had been missing since Dec 24th.

Mrs. M. B. Brown, of Washington, has presented her home to the King's Daughters of the State to be used as an orphanage for imbecile children. The legislature will be asked to make an appropriation to such an orphanage.

Deputy Revenue Collector J. H. Shelburn and his posse of three men had quite an experience with moonshiners the other day. They hired a carriage at Oxford and drove out in the country in search of an illicit distillery. Some part of the carriage broke and they obtained another vehicle and drove on. When they returned to where they had left the carriage standing in the road they found that moonshiners or their sympathizers had with axes cut the carriage to pieces and reduced it to kindling wood. The wheels were hung up a tree.

The whipping post seems to be coming to the front. A bill has been introduced in the New York Legislature to establish it in that State, and in Tennessee a bill has been introduced allowing jurors to substitute whipping in lieu of imprisonment and fines for persons convicted of petty larceny.

Marriage Licenses.

This week Register of Deeds King issued licenses to six couples, four white and two colored. The whites are Henry James and Anna Worsley, Joe J. Harris and Sudie Little, W. J. Moore and Lucy C. Brown, McD Horton and Lillie Askew. The colored are Elias Washington and Ellen Blount, Joseph Gray and Ellen Cooper.

Robbery.

Friday night some one entered the store of J. R. Cory by breaking open the rear door and stole a lot of goods. Mr. Cory tells us the thief got three pair of pants, a pair of shoes, some shirts and underwear, two pocket knives, and what small change was left in the money drawer, the goods and money amounting to about $15. Other goods were left scattered over the show cases, the thief seeming to want only men's wearing apparel and money.

But didn't it rain last night!

There will be a masquerade party in Germania hall Tuesday night.

Buy Cotton Seed Meal at the Old Brick Store.

The rain Friday night washed up some of the sewer bridges around town.

Fine stock of Shoes just in at J. L. Starkey & Co's.

The horse auction today attracted a large crowd to Tucker & Edwards' stables. Several good animals were sold.

My new spring samples for custom made suits just in, call and see them. Fit guaranteed. FRANK WILSON.

Friday night's rain seems to have been general. People from various sections of the county say it was tremendous.

Bring your cotton seed to Henry Sheppard, and buy your Meal and Hulls. Car load of each just arrived for sale cheap.

Kinston and Scotland Neck are both talking of building tobacco warehouses. Greenville better begin to hustle and get a factory.

The wind Friday night blew down a tree on Mr. H. C. Edwards bar room. A few broken shingles was the only damage to the building.

In some way the report has gotten out that Mrs. Lucy Bernard would discontinue her school in March. She says this is a mistake, the school will go on through the session.
