There were ten couples in attendance. Immediately after the marriage the bridal party went to the house of the groom where an elegant supper awaited them. The bride and groom were the recipients of many handsome and valuable presents.

A box car of the freight train jumped the track in Washington last night. No damage.

THE LEGISLATURE.

SATURDAY.

The chief new bills introduced in the Legislature to day were: To give the Farmers' Alliance the same privileges regarding insurance as are possessed by other benevolent associations; to incorporate the Charlotte and Mecklenburg railway; to require examinations of all public school teachers; to regulate the appropriation to the University; to restore Mitchell county to the Ninth Congressional District; to provide for the distribution of all the school funds by the State boards of education among all the counties upon the basis of school population; to allow punitive and not actual damages in cases of railway accidents.

Bills passed: To so amend the charter of the Farmers' Stock Mutual Insurance Company, of Greensboro', as to allow it to have a separate branch in each county; to allow the Murfreesboro' railway to extend its main line to the Chowan river; to better protect drinking water from pollution, and to equip the new female building at the insane asylum here.

Bills requiring railways to redeem unused excursion-tickets and to provide for musical instruction in public schools were tabled. The same fate befell a resolution favoring the election of senators by the people.

The event of the day was the discussion of a bill to provide that of the three members of the township school-boards one should be a female. The discussion attracted a large audience. It was the first proposition of the kind ever made in this State. It was tabled by a vote of 24 to 18.

The movement of New England cotton mills to the South continues in spite of the warnings and protest of the newspapers in that section.

Let us hope and pray for a 50 per cent. reduction in acreage and a 5,000,000 bale crop of cotton this year. It would be one of the greatest blessings that could come to the South.

The progress of Christianity in Japan is one of the marvels of modern church history. The first five years of faithful Christian struggle produced one convert. In 1872 was organized the first evangelical church of eleven members. Now there are 365 churches with a membership of 35,534.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

Happenings Here and There Over the State.

Two barracks at the Davis Military school, Winston, have been destroyed by fire.

Mayor Link, of Durham, died suddenly Saturday morning, while riding to the depot to depart on a train.

Randolph county reports the champion hog raiser. A man there killed a hog two and a half years old that weighed thirty pounds.

The Atlantic Coast Line will build another bridge across Roanoke river at Weldon. The new engines this company uses are too heavy for the Seaboard bridge over which they pass.

The University appropriation bill before the Legislature provides that $5,000 of the present appropriation shall expire after next June, and $5,000 more one year later, leaving $10,000 as the annual appropriation.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

Sin nearly always begins with a look.

A loafer is never satisfied with his wages.

If you are not made better by giving, double your gift.

The easiest thing for a fool to do is to tell how little he knows.

The man who hates light is always afraid of his own shadow.

When people have only a little religion they are apt to be ashamed of it.

Angels weep on the day that a young man begins to spend more money than he can make.

Some fiddlers can play a tune on one string, but it never makes anybody want to dance.

A hypocrite feels better satisfied with himself every time he sees a good man make a misstep.

You can generally tell how much love there is in a man's heart by the way he opens his mouth.

Prospering in a wordly way is very apt to make men stop praying that they may be pure in heart.

There are people who never heard any music that suits them, except when they are playing first fiddle.

One of the first covenants that every young man ought to make with himself is that he will never run in debt.

CHANGED HIS MIND.

Wanted to Be Shot Until a Pistol Was Pointed at Him.

Herman K. Abraham, an eccentric second-hand clothes dealer of the Heights, rang the bell at the county jail the other morning, and when the door was opened, forced his way in regardless of remonstrances.

"What do you want?" asked Keeper Eltringham.

"I want to die; shoot me," said Abraham, throwing open his coat.

"Well, go and die," replied Eltringham, testily, "but don't do it here. This isn't a morgue."

"But I don't want to kill myself," said Abraham; "I want some one to do it for me."

"Do you want me to do the job?" asked Eltringham, as he opened a drawer in a big desk and took out a revolver.

"Yes, aim right here," replied Abraham, placing his hand over his heart.

"Don't you want to say a prayer before you die?"

"No, I did that home. I am ready to go."

Eltringham pointed the revolver at Abraham's breast, but when the latter saw the gleam of the weapon he changed his mind and put himself outside the door at a bound. He was still running at the top of his speed when he turned into Oakland avenue and disappeared.

Had Faith in His Father.

The faith which children have in their parents is not often better illustrated than by a story which was told recently by a fond relative of an almost precocious boy. He is about three years of age, and his fond mamma thought that it was about time that she impressed upon his infantile mind some one of the first lessons in Christianity. This took the form of a prayer, which she repeated while the boy lisped the words after her. It happened by chance that the head of the house was absent from home, and among the petitions for special blessings was this: "Please, God, bring papa safely home." With all the dignity which can be crowded into the being of a three-year-old boy and a precocious one at that, Master Robert stood up and said proudly: "My papa can come home his self." There were no more prayers that night.—Brooklyn Eagle.
