Mr. Moody says the Legislature will probably adjourn by the 15th of February to which the people of North Carolina would say, amen.

Something must be going wrong at Raleigh, the Legislature has not turned out a Democrat and put in a Fusionist in two or three days.

There seems to be some delay in introducing the election law and the county government bill in the Legislature. It may be that some of the fellows won't agree.

It is now hoped that the Legislature will not disturb the State Guard further than to withdraw the five thousand dollars appropriated for the encampment.

Profanity.

Cowper wrote some lines about swearing, which it would be worth while for every one to learn:

"It chills my blood to hear the blest Supreme,
Rudely appealed to on every thrilling theme;

Maintain your rank, vulgarity despise—
To swear is neither brave nor wise."

"Some who would not swear by the name of God, think nothing of swearing 'By George,' or 'By jingo,' or by something else; others cry out, 'Good Gracious!' or 'Mercy on me!' and the like. These are the beginning of swearing. They are to profane swearing what acorns are to the oak.

Our Savior said when on earth: "Let your yea be yea, and your nay, nay; for whosoever is more than this, cometh of evil." This means that we should use plain, simple language. David had a short prayer to this point: "Set a watch; O, Lord! before my mouth; and keep the door of my lips."

The Piedmont Headlight, of Spartanburg, one of the "reform" papers of South Carolina, and, if we are not mistaken, an Alliance organ, has this paragraph in its last issue:

The national Alliance has certainly a jim-dandy president in Marion Butler, North Carolina. In order to get a seat in the Senate, he has made a trade with the Republicans to help them organize that body. We would like for Marion to tell us how he intends to mix Ocalaism with Republicanism? But it's offices and not principles, that these so-called People's leaders are after. Our farmers will never accomplish anything until they let leaders severely alone and begin to think for themselves.

If Col. Gantt, the editor of the Headlight, knew the Alliance leaders in North Carolina as we do, he would know that the reconciliation of Ocalaism and Republicanism is, to use a darkeyism, "the least of their studyment." They are just simply out for the dust, the are.—Charlotte Observer.

Mary M. Seely and Jason Hodges, of Provincetown, Cape Cod, were engaged to be married, for forty-three years. The engagement was broken last Thursday, because Jason pulled a corkscrew out of his pocket along with his handkerchief. Miss Seely says she is glad the discovery was made, because she had her suspicions for thirty-five years.—Orange (Va) Observer.

Time is money to busy people. Don't bother them. It is said that a big carpet manufacturer explained to some visitors that the reason he allowed nobody in the work-rooms was that every hand would be hindered at least five minutes and it amounted to a great deal in the aggregate. It is true of the individual as a great number of hands, that little hindrances count up considerable in the long run.

The Jackson, Miss., Clarion Ledger reports that one Mississippi farmer produced 300 bales of cotton on 300 acres at a cost of 2 1/2 cents per pound. That beats raising it in North Carolina.

The desire for popularity is to a certain extent a laudable ambition, but it is better to have some enemies and a conscience that will stand the search light of truth than to be popular at the expense of your self-respect.

If the government would put a stop to allowing $2,000 to every man who wants to contest his election, you would hereafter hear very little about contested election cases.

Cleaning Jewelry.

The care of jewelry is very simple. With the exception of pearls, it may be washed with warm water and any pure soap. It should then be put into boxwood sawdust to dry. If this is done it will not need to be polished. Boxwood sawdust is very fine, and will therefore not scratch what is put into it, and, moreover, it absorbs the moisture quickly, thus helping to give the jewels a high polish. Boxwood may be obtained from any dealer in jewelers supplies, or could be ordered through a jeweler. When you cannot get boxwood the jewels may be polished by rubbing hard with flannel or chamois. Unless you are sure that your pearls have never been cut and that they are without flaw do not run the risk of wetting. Brush the settings and let them go. Mourning jewelry is practically obsolete. Diamonds are permissible with everything but crape, and this concession has banished jet and onyx.—Philadelphia Ledger.

New Railway for London.

A railroad enterprise of considerable extent and importance, which has been held in check for many years by great conflicting interests, will soon be brought to completion in England. This is the extension of the Manchester, Sheffield & Lincolnshire railroad to London. More than twenty years have elapsed since the scheme was first broached, but it was not until last year that the necessary authorization of parliament could be obtained. The new road will be about one hundred miles

Married.

HUMBER-DAVIS.—A beautiful home wedding took place at Beaufort N. C., Thursday morning, Jan. 31st, at 4 o'clock, the contracting parties being Miss Lena C. Davis, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Davis, a young lady possessing highest accomplishments and a general favorite among a large circle of friends, and Mr. Robert L. Humber, a very popular young man of Greenville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. D. Moore, pastor of the Baptist church at Beaufort. The wedding march was played by Miss Lucile Davis.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served by Mr. and Mrs. Davis, and the bridal party left immediately by boat for Morehead City where they took the morning train for Greenville. They came by way of Goldsboro, Rocky Mount and Hobgood, and at the latter place were tendered a dinner and reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. White, the latter a sister of Mr. Humber. They arrived in Greenville on the evening train and supper was served to the party and some friends at the home of the groom.

The social circles of Greenville gain a charming addition in the person of Mrs. Humber and she is warmly welcomed to our town.
